Officials in the Wayne-Carroll school system termed very gratifying the turnout for Monday evening's annual open house.

A total of about 300 people visited the middle school and the high school during the open house, held in conjunction with American Education Week.

The total of 300 who attended open house is close to 50 per cent of the total number of parents of school children living in the school district.

Classrooms in the two school buildings featured numerous displays, bulletin board set-ups and student projects for visitors to look over. Teachers were on hand to answer questions for parents and to show them the facilities of their classrooms.

Among the more popular attractions were the films of various classroom activities which were shown over a television set in the high school.

Although not a part of national American Education Week, teachers' conventions for all teachers in the state began today (Thursday). Students in the Wayne-Carroll school system were dismissed early Wednesday afternoon.

Cats' Foray Successful

The Wayne State Wildcats went a 'huntin' in Antelope country Saturday afternoon and bagged themselves a 24-0 win over touted Kearney State.

Complete results of that victory, which assures the Wildcats of at least a tie for the title in the newly revised Nebraska College Conference, can be found on the sports page of this issue of the Wayne Herald.

These five pretty Winside High School lasses make up the varsity cheerleading team for the Winside Wildcats this year. Charged with leading the Pep Club in yelling for their favorite team on the gridiron are, from left, Diane Morris, Jeanette Hansen, Mona Langenberg, Peggy Deack and Shelley Glass. Their enthusiasm has helped sharpen the Wildcats' claws during the football season.

Three Petitions Fail to Sway Council

Petitions turned in by residents in three areas of Wayne failed to persuade the city council to change the parking regulations in those areas.

The council voted at Tuesday evening's regular meeting to keep the present parking restrictions in the three sections of town after hearing recommendations from a council committee which had studied the areas.

Parts of the city affected: four blocks in the northwest part of the city (13th to 11th on Sherman and Sherman to Lincoln on 12th), one block in the central part (Eighth between Douglas and Lincoln) and one block in the southeast part (Clear born between Fourth and 11th).

The petition process of changing parking restrictions was agreed upon by the council as the best way to get the restrictions to fit the people who live in certain areas of the city. It's a fairly long process, involving circulating and signing petitions, presenting the petitions to the council and waiting for council approval on each individual request.

Council sent to committee two other petitions requesting changes in parking regulations—one in the Wayside Lane area and one on 13th from Douglas to Sherman.

Also discussed during the meeting was the traffic problem caused by cars turning into the Lil Duffer off Main Street. Council has received a suggestion that no cars be permitted to enter the business off Main.

The councilmen decided to have a committee study the problem and recommend what should be done at the next board meeting.

The problem with overflowing sewage tanks in the northeast corner of the city moved a step closer to possible solution during the meeting.

City Administrator Dan Sherry was given approval to present proposed sewer assessments to the property owners in the area to see if they would be willing to create a sewer district.

Two or three homes in the area have been dumping sewage into the ditch along the north end of Walnut Street, creating a health hazard in the area.

The city gave the home owners until Sept. 1 to clear up the problem, which has existed for several months.

In other action the council:

—inserted in the ordinance banning burning in the city a stipulation which would permit burning in approved incinerators. The ordinance will be voted on at the next board meeting.

—Decided to have the finance committee work with the city administrator in forming a policy covering handling of insufficient checks received by the city clerk.

—Approved a change on water

Community Chest Board To Spend Reserve Fund

There will not be a united fund drive in Wayne this year. That decision was made by the Community Chest board of directors during a meeting Tuesday.

Reason for that action, according to Jim Marsh, president, is the Chest has a $10,000 reserve fund consisting of monies left during the past few years after quotas to agencies were met. Marsh said the money belongs to the community and the directors felt that this year would be a good one in which to use the reserve fund due to economic conditions.

Marsh said the board has held several meetings this fall and attempted to unite all agencies into the Community Chest program. The efforts failed, however, as five or six national organizations disapproved participating in a united drive, although Marsh noted local representatives of those agencies were willing to cooperate.

Chest directors said they had offered to guarantee the national organizations the same quota of funds they received last year in Wayne when they held their separate drives if they would join in the Community Chest program.

Area residents escaped the predicted snowfall earlier this week and, although temperatures cooled off a bit from their 60 and 70 degree levels of last week, most folk were happy to put up with chilly weather rather than wade through snowdrifts.

Thone for Congress Dinner Set Tonight

Senator Carl Curtis will join Congressional candidate Charles Thone in Laurel Thursday at a "Charley Thone for Congress" dinner.

Watch Spirited Spooks

Sidewalks and streets will be filled with Halloween goblins, ghosts, skeletons, witches and other types of spirited spooks Saturday evening.

Motorists are reminded to use extreme caution since little spooks do not always look both ways before dashing excitedly into and across a street.

Some other hints on how to make this year's Halloween a safe one are contained in Myrtle Anderson's column on the society page of this issue of the Wayne Herald.

The area extension home economist cautions parents against several dangerous witchin' practices, including those which create fire hazards. Road about them. They may help you avoid an accident.

Nebraskans to Decide Red Hot Issue Tuesday

Approval of this amendment Nov. 3 would permit the Legislature to set requirements for and distribute state aid to parochial and other types of private schools.

Supporters contend that the state has a responsibility toward all children, regardless of the school attended. They also argue that private schools provide education of children in non-religious, state-approved subjects at a savings to local school districts, and, therefore, private

Holiday Promotion Starts Monday

Start collecting early and increase your chances of winning. That might well serve as the byword for this year's Christmas Cash Give-Away, retail promotion for the Wayne businessmen which officially gets underway Monday.

Over 50 businesses in the city will start offering numbered tickets to their customers that day to kick off the promotion, the first year for it in Wayne. Customers can start picking up the tickets so they will be able to check them to see if they match with the ones which will be posted after several cash drawings starting early in December.

Those cash drawings—a total of six for $50 each and five for $500 each—will take the place of the free new car which was given away during the holiday by Wayne merchants in past years.

The drawings for $50 each will be held Dec. 4, 11, 15, 18, 21 and 22. The drawings for $500 each will all be held on Dec. 23.

The numbers pulled out of the hat in the drawings will be posted in each participating store at 1 p.m. The person with the winning number will have until 8 that evening to collect the prize. If the person with that number fails to show up, the cash prize will go to the person holding the next number, and so on until all the numbers drawn are used up.

The numbers chosen in the $500 drawing will be posted at 2 p.m.

All employees of the stores in the city are eligible for the drawing. Only requirement is that a person must be at least 18 years of age.

Drug Doses Reduce Sickness in Calves

Fewer sick calves developed in new feeders receiving an antibiotic and sulfa drug in their feed, reports a specialist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

There were only 12 calves treated for shipping fever among the half receiving Aureo S-700 in their feed. Thirty-four were treated among those getting no medical treatment. The results were reported earlier this week by Walter Tolman, beef specialist at the University of Nebraska research facility.

Gains were more rapid with those getting the medication, too, Tolman said.

Gains from "off the truck" weights to "full" weights some three weeks later were 3.37 pounds daily with the medicated cattle, but only 2.70 for those getting the same feed with no medicine. This is only about a 10 pound difference, Tolman said.

To see if there is a lasting gain from the Aureo S-700 in the feed, the calves will be followed through the winter growing period during which rate of gain and feed efficiency can be related to starting treatment, he explained. Sometimes cattle making a slow start overcome the difference later, he said.

The ration for the calves was oatlage and a protein-mineral-vitamin supplement. Adding more grain to this ration made very little difference in gains or sickness, according to Tolman. Earlier tests showed an advantage in these regards when two pounds daily or more grain or grain and molasses was added to a ration of alfalfa hay or prairie hay and supplement for new calves.

Apparently, oatlage had enough grain in it to bring back the energy intake of these calves as much as needed, Tolman concluded.

Laurel Teacher Vies For NSEA Position

A Laurel High teacher-coach, Vince Bramer, is one of three people running for the single seat for District 3 on the board of directors for the Nebraska State Teachers' Association.

Also running for the post are Mrs. Lorine Smith of Pawnee and Mrs. Mary Speckhart of South Sioux City.

Bramer, head football coach at Laurel, has been at Laurel for six years. He came to Laurel from Shelby, where he was coach and business education instructor. A graduate of Kearney State, he received his graduate degree from Kansas State Teachers' College.

The vote for the one seat on the board of directors will be decided during the district convention at Norfolk this week.

Trick, Treatin' Startin' Tonight

Young people in Wayne and Laurel will be going from house to house on their annual "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" drives.

The drive in Wayne is being put on by members of the Future Homemakers of America organization at Wayne High. It will be held from 6:30 to 8 this evening (Thursday).

The local girls, who last year collected $157.35 in their drive, will be carrying an orange and black collection box and will present all donors with a pamphlet or a book marker which explains UNICEF.

The drive in Laurel, a non-denominational effort by high school students, is scheduled for Sunday evening, the day after Halloween. High school students will meet at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel before beginning the drive. Lunch will be served at the church after the drive.

UNICEF stands for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Last year's drive in Nebraska collected $33,293.

Help on the Way

Robert Swan, representative of the Norfolk Social Security office, will be in Wayne at the county courthouse next Thursday, Nov. 5, to help any area residents with problems they may be having with the government program.

The hours he will be at the courthouse will be from 9 to 11 a.m.

Swan noted that social security is not just for retired workers but is also for dependents, survivors and the severely disabled.

Coming Marine Party Includes Ceremonies

A cocktail hour, ham dinner and the usual ceremonies are planned for the Marine Corps Birthday Ball scheduled for Gen. El Rancho south of Wayne early next month.

The birthday celebration will be held the evening of Nov. 10, the birthday of the Marine Corps. According to Pat Griss of Wayne, one of the men who has been getting the celebration organized, the evening will begin at 6:30 with the cocktail hour. The supper will begin shortly before eight o'clock.

Tickets will be available at the door for $2.50. All Marines and their wives or dates are urged by Griss to turn out for the celebration, the first one of its kind in northeast Nebraska.

Youth Slightly Hurt

Lori Prenger, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Prenger of Wayne, received scrapes and bruises in a car-pedestrian accident at Seventh and Sherman Wednesday morning.

The young girl, a third grader at West Elementary, received the slight injuries when hit by a car driven by Mark Belermann, a student at Wayne High. The police report indicates the child ran into the right front door of the car while going to school about 8:30 a.m.

There was no crossing guard on duty at the time of the accident. The person usually directing the young students across the intersection had been given time off to attend a funeral, the police reported.

Wakefield High Parent-Teacher Conferences Set

Wakefield High School will hold parent-teacher conferences Wednesday in the school's library and study hall. Conferences are slated between 8:30 a.m. and noon; 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Parents are being encouraged to participate in the conferences, although no special invitations have been issued, according to Principal W. G. Schnoor. He said the following schedule has been suggested for all parents attending the conferences: Those with last names beginning with A or B come at 8:30 a.m.; letters C through G come at 9:30 a.m.; H through J come at 10:45 a.m.; K through O at 1 p.m.; P through S at 2 p.m. and those with last names starting with letters T through Z come at 3 p.m.

Schnoor emphasized that parents should see CONFERENCE, page 10

County Bond Sales $5,600 in September

Purchases of U. S. Saving Bonds in Wayne County during September amounted to $5,644, according to Icarus E. Lee, volunteer county chairman.

Sales for the nine-month period total $118,143 for just over 67 per cent of the county's yearly quota.

Sales in Cedar County amounted to $26,291. Total in that county for the nine months is $220,531 for 47.6 per cent of its total for the year.

Statewide sales for the month were $3,423,714, up by 17 per cent over last September and $2,987,570 for the nine-month period for 77.4 per cent of the state's yearly quota.

Nebraskans to Decide Red Hot Issue Tuesday

There is no doubt about it, proposed constitutional Amendment 12 is one of the hottest issues to be brought before Nebraska's voters for a long time.

Proponents of the proposed constitutional change which would give private and parochial schools a share of public tax money emphasize the serious financial crisis non-public schools are facing. However, opponents of the change hurriedly point out that the issue at stake is more than money. The First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution and the separation between church and state principle are both being threatened, they contend.

Nebraskans will decide the issue inside the privacy of voting booths Tuesday, but until that time the pros and cons of the amendment are certainly going to be discussed in every corner of the state.

The proposed amendment states: "Constitutional amendment to permit the Legislature to make grants for the benefit of students enrolled in non-public schools as reimbursement for the part of their tuition that is allocable to instruction in state-approved courses, which reimbursement shall not exceed one-third of the per student cost in the public school district in which the student resides nor shall any plan of reimbursement breach the separation of church and state required by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

Approval of this amendment Nov. 3 would permit the Legislature to set requirements for and distribute state aid to parochial and other types of private schools.

Supporters contend that the state has a responsibility toward all children, regardless of the school attended. They also argue that private schools provide education of children in non-religious, state-approved subjects at a savings to local school districts, and, therefore, private schools should share in the state funds to which the parents of these children contribute by paying sales and income taxes.

Closing of non-public schools would mean higher costs and higher taxes for public schools, according to the proponents.

Those in favor of the amendment also point out that parents have the right to send their children to the school of their choice without giving up taxes which they have paid in support of education.

See AMENDMENT 12, page 10

Drive to arrive - ALIVE!

Say Wedding Vows

Making their home in Wayne are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dendinger, who were married Oct. 17 in 11 a.m. rites at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Le Mars, Iowa. The Rev. Dean Walker, Le Mars, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Margaret Dill and Mrs. Ronald Kelley, Le Mars, sang, accompanied by Mr. S. E. Jaitt.

Ms. Dendinger, nee Linda Cook, is the daughter of Mrs. Clarence Krogman, Remsen, Iowa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dendinger, Laurel.

Given in marriage by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Krogman, the bride appeared in a white, floor length gown of daisy medallion embroidered satin, fashioned with long fitted sleeves, ending in bridal points, sheath skirt, and matching train caught to the gown at mid-back. Her tiered veil cascaded from a medallion trimmed pill box and she carried daisy pompons with fall colored straw flowers and baby breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dennis Schorg, Remsen, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Lanny McKeown, Sioux City, Pamela Schlueter, Hawarden, Iowa, and a sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lonnie Behmer, Norfolk. They were identically gowned in floor length fashions of navy crepe with sequin trim which featured A-line skirts and sequin cuffed bishop sleeves. They wore sequined navy pill boxes and carried bouquets of pompons similar to the bride's.

Best man was Terry West, Laurel, and groomsmen were James McKay, Laurel, John Cook, Remsen, Iowa, brother of the bride, and Russell Dill, Wayne. Michael Saunders and Nick Galavechia, both of Laurel, ushered. The men wore black tuxedos.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon for 170 and afterward a reception for about 200 guests were held at the Remsen VFW Hall. Dianne Case, Sioux City, registered guests and Mrs. James Hansen and Paula Halter, Le Mars, Iowa, arranged gifts. The bride's brother, Jim Cook and his music, played for the wedding dance held that evening at the Avalon Ball Room in Remsen.

Steam-Rollin' Cats Show Their Class

Back in September Wayne State football coaches talked optimistically.

Now they don't have to talk because their players have furnished the optimism where it counts — on the field. With a 5-1 record, the Wildcats are on the way to what can be the best Wayne mark since the 9-0 of 1949. They can match the 8-1 of 1949.

When's at stake in the remaining three games? Championship of the Nebraska College Conference will be the first goal with a victory over Peru State Saturday night at 7:30 in Memorial Stadium.

Beyond that, the possibility of a post-season game if the Wildcats not only win, but win big over Peru, then Southwest Minnesota State, and finally Hiram Scott. Post-season play could be in the NAIA Division II playoff for national championship or it could be in a bowl game.

Too early to think so big? Not at all, coaches say. There's a long hill to climb in NAIA ratings before Wayne can even be considered for a playoff bid, or any other post-season game.

The Wildcats surged quite a way up the hill Saturday when they humbled, 24-0, a Kearney State team ranked 15th in NAIA Division I. That's the division for the larger colleges. Wayne was ranked 20th in Division II, for smaller colleges.

The team and some 200 Wayne fans took special delight in the victory at Kearney, watched as it was by about 6,900 spectators, including 43 high school bands. It is an oddity that Wayne's three wins over Kearney in the past decade all were accomplished at Kearney. In fact, the Wayne home fans have not seen the Antelopes beaten here since 1954.

A few statistics provide some measure of Wayne's mastery over Kearney Saturday: 265 yards rushing to 52 for Kearney, and that 52 not included a 53-yard run by the top Antelope rusher, John Malovicika, who had been averaging 141, ranked ninth in the NAIA.

Another statistic: Wayne's 18 first downs to Kearney's four. The Antelopes did not gain a first down until mid-third quarter when a 23-yard pass put them in Wayne land for the first time. Only one other time did Kearney pass the 53-yard line on Malovicika's 53-yarder late in the game. Four plays later they were back on their own 10.

Stamm'n' Sam Singleton rushed for 103 yards to pursue All-American prospects and keep pro scout eyes in focus; his total fell below his previous 138-yard average, but he ran only 27 times, six below his average. Reason: seven Wildcats carried the ball instead of the usual three or four.

Among the seven was freshman quarterback Tim Denham, who took over late in the second quarter when starter Marty Going suffered a knee injury. In the fourth quarter he directed one touchdown drive, then another drive which foundered on a fumble at the one-foot line. Denham himself ran 53 yards on nine carries.

Going engineered two touchdowns in the first quarter, both on passes. He hit seven of 10. The first TD, on a seven-yard flip to end Reggie Yates, capped a nine-minute campaign from the opening kickoff. Halfway through the drive a roughing-the-kicker penalty against Kearney gave Wayne life after a punt.

Wayne's next possession took advantage of another Antelope fumble when a punt bounced off a Kearney player, and Yates pounced on the ball at the Kearney 23. Two plays later Going hit end Jon Roberts on a 21-yard scoring pass.

Dan Ernst kicked points on both touchdowns, then in the second quarter booted a 35-yard field goal. In the fourth period he added his 33rd straight extra point after Jerry Luedtke scored from a yard out.

ON TOP of it all after Wayne State's 24-0 win over Kearney Saturday is Coach Del Stollenberg. Hoisting him on his shoulders is Mike Houtihan, along with an unidentified fan.

NEN Harriers Earn Trip to Lincoln

Two northeast Nebraska schools — Crofton in Class B and Plainview in Class C — will send their cross country teams to Saturday's state meet in Lincoln as a result of their showings in the district cross country run at Wayne State over the weekend.

Crofton won the Class B event with a total of 21 points and Plainview came in third in Class C with a total of 49 points.

A total of 68 boys from the bigger schools and 53 from the smaller schools competed in the district run, held Saturday at Wayne State College.

Top time turned in over the two-mile course was the 10:17 of Fred Carnahan of Genoa among the Class C runners. Plainview's Lyle Lingenfelter turned in a 10:20 and Crofton's Bud Steffen turned in a 10:27 for top time among the Class B runners.

Representing the Class B schools from this district in Saturday's state affair will be Crofton, Plattsmouth, Scotts and Hooper. The four teams are one more than would ordinarily represent a district because two Class B schools, Plattsmouth and Nebraska City, had to compete in this district run after missing their own district meet.

Individuals who will be racing with other Class B representatives include Bud Steffen, Crofton, 10:27; Bill Sell, Nebraska City, 10:34; Curtis Henning, Crofton, 10:37; Dennis Strobel, Plattsmouth, 10:45; Ken Brooks, Columbus, 10:50; Lance Harold, Omaha Catholic, 10:54; Kerry Hochstein, Crofton, 11:03; and Bill Brooks, Columbus, 11:06.

Yankton JV Trips WSC

The Wayne State junior varsity football team met its first defeat, 29-10, Monday night at the hand of the Yankton College JV. Wayne took a 3-1 lead into the second quarter after Ben Lierema's 37-yard field goal. Then Yankton stormed to a 23-3 half lead, taking advantage of a Wayne fumble and a pass interception.

Mike Geyer scored the first touchdown on an eight-yard run. Don Edwards tallied from 21 yards out, and Jim Stewart took a Mark Ferdig pass for a 64-yard scoring play. Geyer kicked extra points on the second and third touchdowns and also kicked a 33-yard field goal.

Wayne scored in the fourth quarter on a freestyle play. Quarterback Jeff Olson passed to Steve Young in the end zone. Young got a head on the slippery ball but it bounced high, and Jim Leach scooped it in for the touchdown. Lierema's kick made the score 23-11.

Yankton reached the end zone again on a 19-yard run by Chuck Smith.

Rain and wind combined to make the whole game a rash of slipping and fumbling.

One more game on the JV schedule will take Wayne to Fremont Monday afternoon against Mt. and's junior varsity.

Downs Antelope

Al Cramer of Wayne downed this buck antelope during a hunting trip to western Nebraska last month. Hunting with Cramer — and also bagging their antelope — were two other Wayne men, John Carhart and W. A. Brandenburg. Cramer made his permit pay off south of Harrison near the Colorado border.

Area Hunter 'Missing'

A northeast Nebraska hunter, Jerry L. Grover of Jackson, is listed by the Nebraska Game Commission as one of several lost hunters who have applied for 1970 firearm-deer permits but who have had their licenses returned to the Commission marked "address unknown."

Anybody knowing the correct address for Grover should contact the Game and Parks Commission, State Capitol, Lincoln 68509.

Meanwhile, several other northeast Nebraskans have knocked down their deer with bow and arrow, upping the number of deer taken to date to 400.

Latest to score: Howard Daniel and William E. Dillon, both of Stanton; James M. Lowrey, Gary L. House, Leroy J. Shippey, Robert M. Keown, Robert E. McCormick and Vaughn E. Gadel, all of Norfolk; Albert Saltgaver, Dakota City; Charles Garthright, South Sioux City; Dale H. Larson, Osmond; and Gary L. Worrell, Hooper.

Violet Kells of Sidney holds the state bow-and-arrow record for rock bass with a 2-pound fish taken from the Frenchman River near Imperial on May 28, 1966.

Bears Edge to 7th

Laurel's winning football team is the seventh best Class B team in Nebraska in the opinion of Conde Sargent, sportswriter for the Omaha World-Herald.

The Bears hold down that slot — one better than a week ago — following a 56-6 stripping of the Madison Dragon's last Friday night.

The Bears now have a 7-0 record and have only one still standing in their way of a perfect season (they played Wayne Wednesday night).

Top team in Class B — again — is Lincoln Plus X with a 5-1 mark. Runner-up is Blair with a 6-0 record.

The rest of the Class B list: Lexington (6-0), Columbus Scotts (7-0), Ord (6-1), Aurora (6-1), Laurel (7-0), Sidney (6-1), Auburn (7-0) and Seward (6-1).

WCS's Singleton Gains on Makovicka

That win over Kearney State by the Wayne State Wildcats last Saturday helped Wayne's Son Singleton edge a bit closer to rushing leader John Makovicka of Kearney.

Makovicka leads other rushers in the 11 colleges and universities in Nebraska who are members of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). His 818 yards in 132 carries (311.3 yards per game and 5.6 yards per carry) is slightly more than Singleton has racked up - 134 carries for 877 yards (135 per game, 4.1 per carry).

Singleton holds down second spot in the rushing department. Trailing him is Mike Sallier of Iowea.

As a team the Wildcats stand over the top in defense among the 11 schools, giving up a total of 1,227 yards (223 rushing, 794 passing) for an average yield of 245.4 yards. That earns them third place. Tops in defense is Hastings with 323 total yards (315 rushing, 907 passing) for a 161.6 average.

Wayne stands ninth in offense, gaining a total of 1,251 yards (916 rushing, 238 passing). The Wildcats from Kearney lead that department with 2,577 total yards

Campground Okayed

Wayne area sportsmen may be happy to hear that a federal grant-in-aid has been given Nebraska to assist the Game and Parks Commission in developing a new campground at the west Weigand area of Lewis and Clark Lake.

The new campground, to be built on land leased from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, will accommodate 100 units when ready.

One-half of the estimated $73,920 cost of the project will be paid with federal money from the Land and Water Conservation Fund, while Nebraska will foot the rest of the bill. Development will include roads, parking areas, camping spurs, pit toilets, beach change houses, a water system, picnic tables and fireplaces.

AAU Run Scheduled

Entry blanks for the Midwest AAU cross country meet are available from Coach Bob Hauver at Kearney State College.

The meet, which will be held at 10:30 on Saturday, is open to all Nebraska amateur athletes who have an AAU number. The four-mile run will be held on the Kearney Country Club course.

Athlete of the Week

Kirk Gardner

By Norvin Hansen

Seniors have monopolized this year's "Athlete of the Week" honors to date, but Wakefield's Kirk Gardner ends that streak.

Only a sophomore, Gardner joins the ranks of some of the top prep stars in northeast Nebraska. Main reason for his moving into that select group was the effort he turned in against the Trojans' grid 'em last Friday night.

A stocky addition to Coach Lyle Trullinger's squad - he packs 182 pounds into his 5-8 frame - Gardner turned in another fine defensive effort against the West Point team, coming up with a respectable number of stops despite being shifted to a different position than he usually plays. He usually fills the middle linebacker slot on defense.

Gardner's efforts on offense against West Point were almost up to par for him despite West Point's limiting Wakefield to less than 100 yards rushing. He carried the ball 11 times for an even 59 yards.

A good example of the sophomore's worth to Trullinger was evident in Wakefield's game against Oakland-Craig a week before the West Point contest. In that game, one of Gardner's best this year, he came up with a total of 22 tackles and 8 assists.

Defensive captain in charge of calling the shots when the opponents have control of the ball, young Gardner is currently tied with senior Rob Myvis in the number of stars he has accumulated for outstanding performances. Both Trojans have 14 stars to their credit.

Only the second sophomore to earn the "Athlete" tag (Laurel's George Schroeder did it in basketball last year), Gardner is one of the bright spots for the coaches at Wakefield. As a freshman he lettered in football, wrestling and baseball. And in wrestling he advanced all the way to the state wrestling tournament at Lincoln, losing out in the first round to the boy who eventually took second in his weight class.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gardner of Wakefield, Kirk has started and made the major share of every football game this year, continuing a record he began as a freshman when he started every game as a lineman.

How does his coach describe him? "He's real reliable." His opponents would probably be among the first to agree.

WS Harriers Offered R&R

Wayne State cross-country runners have two weeks of rest and practice ahead before the NAIA District meet Nov. 14 in Omaha after finishing third in the Nebraska College Conference meet Saturday at Peru.

Host Peru was the Saturday meet with 24 points, led by Jack Meyers in record time of 24:23 over the hilly five-mile course. Kearney scored 31, Wayne 68.

Paul Eason was Wayne's first finisher, placing ninth at 27:10, followed by Mike Oswald, 11th, Ron Keller, 18th; Ron Zurewski, 17th; John Wright, 18th, and Ron Kluck, 19th.

Wayne defeated Creighton University, 17 to 37, in a dual at Omaha Oct. 22, with Eason and Oswald tying for first a 23:29 over four miles. Keller and Wright gave Wayne a sweep of the first four places, and Kluck came in seventh.

In the Vaughton Invitational Oct. 17, Wayne placed third among eight teams, scoring 74 points. Southern State won on 29 points, and South Dakota Tech was second with 35. Dakota Wesleyan trailed Wayne with 83, Dordt with 115, and three other colleges did not score team points.

Eason led the Wayne crew with a tenth place finish.

Grappling Clinic Set

The sixth annual University of Nebraska at Omaha wrestling clinic will be held Saturday, Nov. 14 at the UN-O fieldhouse and will feature Tommy Evans, wrestling coach at the University of Oklahoma.

Evans, considered among the top three clinicians in the United States, was himself a three-time NCAA champion, a member of two U.S. Olympic teams, 1968 Olympic Coach, and coach of the past National Collegiate Champions. He has produced 15 NCAA champions, at least one for every year he has coached, and was honored as NCAA Coach of the Year.

The clinic will begin at 9 a.m. in the newly remodeled fieldhouse, and run till 6 p.m. The clinic will break in the afternoon, so those in attendance can take in the UN-O-Washburn football game at 1:30 p.m. at the UN-O stadium.

BIG RED VIEW FROM THE WOW BOOTH

By RUSS BALDWIN
WOW Sports Editor

It's no secret that representatives from all major and some minor bowls have been following the Cornhuskers around the country the past few weeks. This is commonplace this time of season, not only with NU, but with all teams in the top ten.

Last week a Dallas writer sent out a report that the Huskers were a prime candidate for the Cotton Bowl. Anxious fans in Nebraska were pleased and in some cases surprised. They shouldn't have been, nor should they be surprised with the statement that Nebraska is a prime candidate for every bowl.

If you think it over, it's only natural. First, the No. 1 ranked team, Ohio State, is Rose Bowl bound by contractual agreement. No. 2 ranked Texas is Cotton Bowl bound representing the Southwest Conference. Of course both these trips are contingent on the teams continuing to lead their conferences. That leaves the Nos. 3 and 4 ranked teams the top contenders for any of the bowls. Those teams now are Notre Dame and Nebraska and it is only natural that the bowl committees go after the best available. Speculating that both the Fighting Irish and Nebraska continue their winning ways, bids can be expected from the Orange, Sugar, Gator, Bluebonnet and the Cotton Bowl. The big question is which of these bowls will be getting an affirmative response from these two teams. Possibilities are interesting. Notre Dame might want another crack at Texas in the Cotton Bowl, yet they might decide to head for the land of oranges instead.

The Cornhuskers, I believe, will head for the bowl where they have opportunity to play a team that is ranked higher than they are. If there is one at that time. Folly, you say, that Nebraska could end up No. 1 prior to bowl time? Improbable, maybe, but not impossible. Arkansas could knock off Texas, and this past weekend Ohio State was on the ropes for three quarters and just might receive an upset along the way.

That leaves the men from South Bend. The remaining schedule Notre Dame playing Navy, Pitt, Georgia Tech and LSU. We foresee no problem for the Irish in that lineup. However, stranger things have happened in football.

Let's not leave Nebraska out of the upset possibility, either. The Huskers should win the rest, but Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas State and Oklahoma will have other ideas. The Huskers have the ability. No one can question the potential of the offense in each game. Those 65 points last Saturday indicate Nebraska has one of the most potent offenses in the country. The defense has made just a few mistakes this year, but has demonstrated that it is equal to almost any task when necessary. The Cowboys of Oklahoma State went nowhere statistically or on the scoreboard against the Blackshirts last weekend during the first half. The responsibility remaining then lies with the coaching staff and the leaders among the players.

It boils down to one word: pride. Seniors like Jerry Murtough, Dan Schneiss, Joe Orduna and Guy Ingles must pave the way to keep the desire, poise and momentum at the optimum level for the rest of the season. They have done this all year and there is no reason to believe that they can't continue.

Don't 'Dress to Kill' on Halloween

Don't "dress to kill" when out- fitting youngsters for Halloween, says Rollin Schneider, University of Nebraska extension safety specialist.

There is no half-way point when it comes to fire safety at Halloween time, says Schneider. Here are some life-saving tips from the National Fire Prevention Association (NFPA) that parents should keep in mind when planning costumes and decorations for children and their parties:

1. Be sure ready-made costumes, masks, wigs and beards carry a "flameproof" label. Safest disguises are "natural" masks of cosmetic make-up or charcoal applied directly to the skin. Avoid wigs and beards of fibrous "hair" and any which obscure the child's vision.
2. For home-made costumes, stay away from flimsy materials and outfits with yards and yards of material in baggy sleeves and billowing skirts. A touch of flame can start them burning.
3. Use a flashlight or an electric bulb—never a lighted candle—to illuminate a pumpkin. Don't set a candle-light pumpkin on a doorstep where it could be brushed by children's costumes or indoors in places where it could set fire to curtains or table decorations.

4. Be sure children understand they must stay away from any open fire or flame—bonfires and burning leaves outdoors, fireplaces and stoves indoors, and things like lighted matches and cigarette lighters.

For traffic safety and general accident prevention, Schneider advises, costumes should be short enough so children won't trip on them, and light enough in color to make them clearly visible to motorists. This year reflector strips can be sewn to clothing to blend into the fabric but will stand out when struck by headlights.

Finally, cautions Schneider, smaller children should be in charge of and in sight of a responsible older person at all times during their trick-or-treat rounds.

VA Asking Help In Filling Out Income Surveys

The Veterans Administration last week alerted two million veterans and dependents who get monthly VA pension checks that they will receive annual income questionnaires with their Nov. 1 checks.

The VA asks these pensioners to fill out the questionnaire accurately and completely. After signing it, the recipients should return the form promptly to VA—no later than Jan. 15, 1971.

C. W. Nixon, VA director, said that since 1971 pension payments will be based on submitted information, the questionnaires must be returned by the Jan. 15 deadline to insure non-interruption of pension checks.

Nixon said VA pension is paid to veterans totally and permanently disabled from non-service connected disabilities. Widows and children of deceased veterans may also be eligible for VA pension if they meet certain income limitations.

Tiemann, Exon, Walsh Featured on TV

Wayne area residents interested in learning more about the three candidates for governor of Nebraska should tune in to the Nebraska Educational Television Network Monday evening.

The "NETV Election Service 1970" series consists that evening when Norbert Tiemann, J.J. Exon and Albert C. Walsh face a panel of newsmen. The program, seventh in a series, will be aired at six o'clock.

According to Joel Fowler, senior producer of public affairs for the Nebraska Educational Television Network, the special "Political Party" program scheduled for election eve Monday at 8 p.m. will end the NETV pre-election coverage.

Invitations have been issued to all candidates for state and national office to attend the national election eve party in the rotunda of the State Capitol in Lincoln. Appearances of the candidates and their commentary will be part of the live television program.

Pre-recorded for the 6 p.m. broadcast at this time, the gubernatorial candidates are questioned by a press panel consisting of Dick Herman, state house reporter for the "Lincoln Journal"; Don Pieper, state house reporter for the "Omaha World Herald"; Ed Barnett, news director for radio station KLIN, Lincoln; Tom Murray, news director for WOW-TV, Omaha; Paul Williams, managing editor of "Omaha Sun" papers, and League of Women Voters representative Mrs. Janet Gauger of Lincoln.

"National Referendum," a special National Educational Television program produced in conjunction with the Gallup Poll organization, is scheduled to be seen during the "Political Party" broadcast.

Prominent journalists from across the country will gather in Washington to analyze referendum findings of a Gallup Poll, discuss the candidates and the issues in key political contests and the relationship between the issues and probable election results. They also will predict winners.

Members of the Nebraska High School Press Association will hold their 39th annual meeting at the University of Nebraska Center on Nov. 9.

Dr. Thomas Harding, executive secretary of NHPA and member of the University's School of Journalism faculty, said the all-day program will include discussions on journalistic careers and yearbook and newspaper clinics.

Awards will be presented to the outstanding high school yearbooks and newspapers in Nebraska. The entries are now being judged by journalism professors at Kansas State University and the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Last year more than 650 Nebraska high school journalism students attended the annual meeting and clinic.

As the Nov. 3 election draws near more voters are becoming interested in the proposed constitutional amendments to be decided upon and those names appearing on the ballots as candidates for offices.

Readers of The Wayne Herald will find both the amendments and sample ballots in this issue. Norris Wetlie, county clerk, said that prior to re-registration there were 1,244 Democrats and 2,825 Republicans registered in the county. He said there were three persons registered as American Party members and 147 as independents.

These tallies have changed slightly as 156 voters have re-registered or registered for the first time throughout the county. Wetlie said Tuesday afternoon that he had received 34 requests for absentee and disabled ballots.

'Use Swine to Clean Corn Fields'

Swine can be used to good advantage to glean fallen corn from fields with excessive ear drop caused by corn borers and snow, according to a University of Nebraska extension livestock specialist.

With the exception of small pigs weighing less than 50 lbs., all classes of swine can eat whole corn on cobs, says W. T. Ahlschwede.

Gobblers Fair Game

Hunters in Nebraska will tote their shotguns and bows to the northwest part of the state for a crack at a wild turkey on opening day Saturday.

This year, 1,700 permits were authorized for the fall hunt, and all 1,200 of the Round Top Unit licenses have been sold out for several weeks. As of Oct. 22, only a few of the Nibbrava Unit permits remained.

The 1970 turkey season runs through Nov. 15, overlapping the opening week end of the deer season and giving hunters a chance to double up with two big game trophies on the same trip.

Turkey hunters have the option of using a shotgun 10 through 20 gauge or a bow and arrow. Shooting hours are sunrise to sunset.

Last year, nearly 2,000 permits were issued in the two units, and hunters bagged 350 birds for a success ratio of 43 per cent.

Growing-finishing pigs are the best choices for harvesting the fallen grain. Gestating sows are a poor choice for gleaning because they tend to overeat and are more susceptible to toxins produced by molds likely to be found on the fallen corn.

The feed intake of pregnant sows needs to be controlled to assure the best uterine environment for the unborn litter and to prevent the sows from becoming overweight.

Large, fat sows have more difficulties at birth than smaller, leaner ones. Some molds found in decaying corn produce potent estrogenic compounds which interfere with normal reproductive cycles, warns Ahlschwede.

In order to effectively utilize down corn with swine, several requirements should be observed. Producers must provide adequate fencing, water, protein supplementation and shelter. Protein supplement should be hand fed daily at a rate equivalent

Amendment 12 -

education. They argue that the freedom of choice in education is limited by the higher costs associated with the exercise of this choice.

They also contend that continued competition between public and private schools improves the quality of education in both systems.

Larry DeForge, immediate past president of St. Mary's Catholic School board, said Tuesday, "If the amendment is passed, it can't help but save the taxpayer money any way you look at it."

The late President John F. Kennedy said, "I believe in an America where the separation of church and state is absolute where no church or church school is granted any public funds or political preference."

DeForge was asked if he thought Americans were changing their ideas on the hallowed concept. He said, "I don't see a lot. The Kennedys are a good Catholic family but Kennedys didn't realize the crisis the non-public schools were having financially. If we do not get financial assistance, I believe you will see very few parochial schools in the next five years. I believe John Kennedys would have worked out some program which public funds could be used had been alive today."

Opponents to Amendment 12 are saying that trying to give aid to non-religious courses is like giving food to a man and saying, "This is to feed your legs and feet, but not your hands or head." In other words, they feel it is impossible to give state aid to pupils attending a parochial school without thereby supporting that school and the religion it teaches.

Opponents argue that should the amendment pass, a multitude of non-public schools would be set up. They note that almost all type of school could be set up and be eligible for public funds. They feel that schools would be the idea. Parochial and other groups.

Arguments against passing the amendment include references to the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution which states, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion..." and that the U. S. Supreme Court has spelled out the meaning of that First Amendment with phrases such as, "No tax in an amount, large or small, can be levied to support any religious activities or institutions."

Opponents contend that more than one school system is not economically maintained. They say that particularly in rural communities the result may be two inferior school systems. Rising costs of education are pointed out and the existence of both private and public systems results in a duplication of facilities and services at a high cost to the public. It is argued that there would be no real hardship if private schools should close, since it would be less costly per pupil to support an system.

Those against passage of the amendment assert that those with children attending private schools are not the only taxpayers who do not receive direct benefits from their taxes; childless couples and single taxpayers also help finance the educational system.

Pro and cons for and against the amendment are not difficult to find in these days just prior to the election. Forces on each side of the question are waging last minute campaigns in the attempt to convince voters.

5 Accidents, 4 Thefts Fill Policemen's Blotter

Five auto accidents and four cases of theft have been reported and investigated by the Wayne Police Department during the past 10 days.

On Wednesday, Oct. 21, a 1968 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Shirley Stapp in the traffic lane for the traffic light to change at West Second and Main Streets. Her auto was struck in the left rear door by a 1970 Plymouth driven by William A. Ward, Sioux City, Iowa, who was backing from a parking stall, police said.

Donald Miller, Wayne, was backing a 1972 Oldsmobile out of a private driveway, Friday evening, officers reported, and struck a parked 1959 Mercury belonging to Raymond O'Conner, Sioux City, Iowa. The O'Conner auto was parked in the 400 block on Wilson Street and received damage estimated at $2,335.

Sunday afternoon shortly after 3 p.m. police investigated a collision which occurred along a 1375 Pontiac driven by Douglas Plakelman was following other traffic stopped for a stop sign at Seventh and Pearl Streets and was hit in the rear by a 1959 Ford driven by Dale Petersen. A 1953 Chevrolet driven by Donald Hamm was backing out of a parking stall around 4:20 p.m. today in the 400 block on West Fourth Street when in collision with an incoming 1934 Volkswagen driven by James Gray, Syracuse.

Tuesday afternoon around 2:30 p.m. a 1962 Ford driven by Roger Kay was backing from a parking place in the Wayne High School parking lot and caught the right front fender of a parked 1961 Volkswagen belonging to Max in Genette.

Wayne police also investigated the theft of a television set from Mrs. Hall at Wayne State College, a stolen wristwatch from a home in the 209 block on South Nebraska Street, a stolen tape player and 13 tapes from Mrs. Lauritsen's auto parked on the 301 block on Sherman Street, and a stolen stereo tape player from Mrs. Schulz's auto at 411 Sherman Street.

holder as part of his costume. What's a Halloween costume without a mask? Yet, that mask can be dangerous if it blocks your child's vision. Use your imagination to create a safer disguise. With water-soluble poster paint, your goblin, ghost or pirate will look genuinely ferocious—safely. And it washes off easily.

You can also use makeup to make that mask. Put on a layer of cold cream under the makeup so it will come off easily.

Costumes can be hazardous, too. Many costumes bought at the store are not fireproof; most are extremely flimsy. Shorten costumes that trail on the ground. It's too easy to trip and fall while dashing back and forth in the dark.

Costumes are safer than witches—at least on dark streets where motorists can see light costumes much more clearly. If your trick-or-treater insists on being Batman or a witch, sew strips of light-reflecting tape on the costume. A responsible adult should accompany any preschoolers at least.

Life preservers and other life saving devices are inexpensive items for home pool owners. However, they may prove to be the best investment of the summer should someone's life be saved.

It may be a man's world but it's certainly not that way in the water. Statistics show that nearly 85 per cent of all drowning victims are male.

by Myrtle Anderson

Miss Halloween Safe
 Watching season is here again, but don't let an exciting Halloween turn into a disaster for your child.

A saw-toothed jack-o-lantern grinning into the dark is a Halloween tradition. Unfortunately, that tradition can be a fire hazard.

Don't use a real lighted candle with plastic or cardboard pumpkins. Substitute a small flashlight fastened so the hot bulb is well away from the pumpkin side. In a real pumpkin, fasten candles securely in an upright position. Of course, never leave a lighted jack-o-lantern unattended. And, don't let your trick-or-treater carry a lighted candle in any

Spook Insurance Sales Help March of Dimes

Wayne residents are being called on by a new type of insurance agent during these days prior to Halloween.

High school students, sponsored by the National Foundation of the March of Dimes, are selling Halloween spook insurance which covers all minor vandalism to a resident's home or car. Policy owners are given a telephone number to call as the Sunday of their homes or cars have swapped windows, or should other things have happened on Halloween such as trash cans thrown onto the yard or turned over.

Louwan Wilse, county chairman for the March of Dimes, said early this week that high school students participating have formed a local Teen-Age Program (TAP), affiliated with the National Foundation of the March of Dimes. Proceeds from selling the spook insurance go to that agency.

Wilse said the TAPs program is being organized in the Wayne-Carroll school system. Selling the special holiday insurance is the first project. He said members of TAPs would be working out a future program where they will go to children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha and learn to care for invalid youngsters with the idea of later volunteering as baby sitters for parents with such children. This would allow those parents opportunity to occasionally get away from home.

College youths at Wayne State College are organizing a College-Age Program (CAP) through the fraternities, Wilse said. He noted that the fraternity men have volunteered to do the clean-up work Sunday guaranteed to spook insurance policyholders.

The TAPs program was organized in Winside earlier and chairman Wilse said the goal is to make the program statewide with monthly meeting held alternately between Winside and Wayne.

Dale Tumble is acting chairman of TAPs in Wayne and Don Carnes is acting sponsor.

Scout Pack 172 Adds Five Boys

Waynefield Cub Scout Pack 172 met Monday evening for ceremonies which included inducting five new members and presenting awards to three others.

The five new members, with father's name in parentheses, are Gary Marsh (Mervin), Timothy Neuhaus (Arvin), Jimmy Salimon (Gary), Bruce Ezkley (Richard), and Mark Schoppe (Harlan).

Tommy Preston (Sidney) and Larry Soderberg (Charles) received wolf badges along with a gold arrow and a silver arrow. Richard Ezkley (Richard) received a silver arrow under the wolf badge and a picture of an astronaut for recruiting a new member.

All Cub Scout parents and interested persons are invited to a meeting at the scout room in the high school building Friday at 7:30 p.m. Purpose of the meeting is to find volunteers willing to serve in the offices of den mother, Webelos leader and cub master.

Two Guests Attend Club

Mr. Adolph Laussen and Mrs. Theresa Baer were guests this week at the Monday Pitch Club which met in the Mrs. Lou Baker home, Monday afternoon. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Harry Beckler and Mrs. Baer. Mrs. Beckler will be hostess to the 2 p.m. meeting Nov. 9.

Pork Banquet Set Sunday

Area people attending Sunday night's Northwest Nebraska Pork Producers Association banquet at Wayne State will get a chance to learn something about agricultural problems in Spain.

Slated to talk on Spanish agriculture is Paul McIntosh of Norfolk, head of the Midland Land Development Corporation, an organization based at Madrid, Spain, which offers crop and livestock management services. McIntosh replaces the originally scheduled speaker, Stan Schelkopf, a Shickley hog and cattle producer, who will not be able to attend the banquet.

Included on the evening's program will be the handing out of numerous awards, including those to the person outside the hog industry who has helped promote swine production, to the top commercial hog producer and to the top hog breeder.

Also to be given out are the awards to the winners of the carcass and live show at the recent hog show at Laurel, and several awards from the women's pork organization.

A limited number of tickets, selling for $2.50 each, will be available at the door. Association officers are urging those planning to attend the dinner to buy their tickets in advance from any of the association directors.

An annual affair, the dinner attracted close to 200 people last year. About 150 people had purchased tickets for this year's dinner by the middle of this week.

The banquet, a smorgasbord affair, will get underway at 7 p.m. at the Student Union on the college campus.

The association covers Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston Counties.

Arrows used for hunting big game in Nebraska must have a sharp hunting head with a blade of from 7/16 inch to 3/4 inch radius; and a total cutting edge of at least 3 inches.

Total costs and fines amounted to $111.00.

City Council Moves Forward

Visitors to the Wayne city council meetings are now being offered copies of the night's agenda to help them keep track of what is being discussed and what has yet to come up before the councilmen.

The copies of the agenda should make many of the visitors feel a bit more comfortable and should help them follow the council's actions should they decide to stay for any length of time. Too often in the past would citizens leave council meetings not knowing that a particular subject was going to be discussed before the meeting ended. The handy agendas should help avoid that.

The council decided to make the agendas available as a step toward keeping the residents of the city as informed as possible about the actions of the council. Although only a small step in that direction, we feel the councilmen deserve a thank you for taking it.

The possibility of printing that agenda in The Wayne Herald just before council meetings has been considered as another method in keeping the public informed. Another possibility is starting a column in the newspaper written by councilmen and giving them a chance to speak out on various subjects.

Both of those possibilities sound interesting to us. Whether or not we decide to do either depends greatly upon what our readers think. If our readers would like to see both of those ideas become realities, we would be more than happy to oblige them. However, we can't make that decision until we get some idea about what our readers want. What about you? — NLH.

Teachers Off to School

Most schools in the area dismissed classes early Wednesday and while students have a two-day vacation today (Thursday) and tomorrow, the teachers are going back to school.

The value of workshops has been proven in every line of work. Whether it is an assembly of doctors, teachers, lawyers, farmers or ministers, workshops are beneficial in that new ideas can be shared and common problems discussed.

District III teachers are participating with teachers all over the state in trying something new this year. Local teachers are joining other District III teachers for a full day of sessions at Norfolk today, however the second day of conferences will find teachers scattering to various communities. For instance, after meeting in Norfolk today, all administrators will assemble tomorrow in Kearney; art and speech teachers will gather in Omaha; and those teaching music, English, homemaking, elementary math, special education, kindergarten, physical science and vocational agriculture will continue sessions in Norfolk. In previous years all sessions were held in one locality.

Anyone who has ever attended a professional workshop knows it means a lot of work. Workshops are not vacations.

It is just possible that the two days of conferences may be two of the most important days in a teacher's school year. That which is learned in the workshop is surely to be reflected on the local level in the classroom.

So during American Education Week, students are getting a break in class routines and the teachers are busy studying.

We feel the situation is likely to benefit all concerned. — MMW.

Stay in the Ring

We are glad to see that the Wayne city council is not throwing in the towel in its little battle to get the State Department of Roads to install some type of overhead signs at the intersection of Seventh and Main.

Few motorists who use the intersection regularly will dispute that something should be done to help guide the drivers into the proper lane for turning or for going straight through. The few who would argue the point should be given plenty of chances to reconsider once the snowfalls begin covering up the meager directional signals now present at the intersection.

We cannot agree with the traffic engineer for the state who recently wrote the council that overhead signs are not necessary because snow will cover the markings on the street only a few days each year. That engineer must hail from the deep South, for it would probably take an overtime in this area to point to the kind of winter he seems to have in mind.

Nor can we agree that the overhead signs would cost thousands of dollars. Some simple, large signs with arrows directing the drivers into their proper lanes shouldn't cost over a few hundred dollars.

The councilmen will probably be writing back and forth for some time in an attempt to get the traffic problem smoothed out. Without a doubt, they would be happy if you would sit down and write them a letter if you agree something should be done. Your letter might help them convince the state that a real problem does exist. — NLH.

Out of Old

Nebraska

Fort Hartsuff, Nebraska, was established in September, 1874, as a barrier against marauding Sioux and Pawnee in the North Loup Valley. One of the State's lesser known military posts, Ft. Hartsuff was constructed as a result of petitions for military protection by settlers in the area. The post was built at a site located by General E.O.C. Ord, after whom the town of Ord, Nebraska, is named and the Fort itself was named in honor of Major General George Hartsuff.

Despite its intended purpose of offering protection from hostile Indians, Ft. Hartsuff was the scene of little fighting. The most notable conflict was the so-called "Battle of the Blowout" on April 28, 1876. In this engagement a detachment of troops led by Lt. Charles Heyl attacked a small band of Sioux entrenched in a sand blowout some 20 miles from Ft. Hartsuff. In a charge upon the Indians, Sgt. Dougherty of the 23rd Infantry was killed and the Indians made good their escape. Lt. Heyl subsequently received the Congressional Medal of Honor for his conduct in this affair.

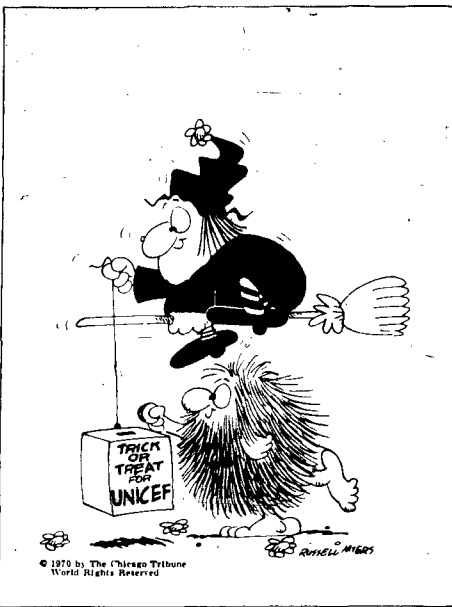

Of more significance than the military aspects of Ft. Hartsuff's history, was its role as a 19th Century "W.P.A." Many settlers in the North Loup Valley had been made destitute by the crop-moisture plague of 1874 and the construction of the Fort provided work for many who otherwise may have been forced to leave. The presence of the soldiers gave the settlers a sense of security, and the fort also became the center of social life for the area. In May of 1881, after the threat of Indian depredations had lessened, Ft. Hartsuff was abandoned by the military. Today, many of the original buildings still remain at the site between Ord and Burwell, and Ft. Hartsuff is being developed as a state park.

Although garrison life at a frontier military post was often dangerous, and sometimes monotonous, at least one soldier developed a sentimental attachment to Ft. Hartsuff. Asst. Surgeon George W. Towar kept a daily log of activities at the Fort as part of his official duties, and a copy of this journal is preserved on microfilm within the files of the State Archives, Nebraska State Historical Society. Reflecting on the abandonment of Ft. Hartsuff, Towar wrote:

"So goodbye Fort Hartsuff. You are superannuated. You are no longer wanted. But you have been a good home to many men, women and children during your brief life and you will be remembered with pleasure for many years by those whom you have sheltered. Some heroic deeds have been done by men who have lived in the shadow of your walls, and no stain has ever come to the old flag by any of your garrison. Many of those who have been privileged to gather around

Voters Are Urged to Use Crib Sheets on Election Day

LINCOLN — Crib sheets are legal on election day.

Nebraska law permits voters to take marked sample ballots or notes with them into the voting booths to remind them of decisions they have made while doing their pre-election homework.

This year, with 15 proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot, advance consideration will be helpful.

Allen J. Beermann, deputy secretary of state, says a voter with a marked sample ballot or notes can do his voting in a couple of minutes. A voter who hits the official ballot "roid" probably will spend 20 to 30 minutes in the booth. If he does any studying at all of the constitutional amendments.

Beermann and other election officials are concerned about the possibility of long lines next Tuesday unless voters do their homework in advance.

Sample ballots are being published this week in newspapers across the state.

The information on the amendments this year includes paragraphs showing the effect of a vote for or against the proposal. In the past, there has been criticism of propositions which required a vote to get rid of a current constitutional provision and an against vote to keep that provision in the constitution.

An example of that was the anti-income tax amendment which was on the 1968 ballot. If you voted for the amendment, it meant you were against the tax. A vote against the amendment was in support of the income tax.

There are similar situations this year, but they all are explained on the ballot.

Beermann also points out to voters they should vote on each of the three sections of Amendment No. 13. The three propositions under that number all concern the office of lieutenant governor and were advanced to the ballot by a single legislative bill.

But there are three separate questions to be decided by the voters.

Section A of that amendment eliminates the present constitutional duty of the lieutenant governor; to preside over the legislature.

If Section A carries, the lieutenant governor no longer would sit on the podium and conduct the unicameral's meetings — and cast a vote if there is a tie.

Section B would unite the offices of governor and lieutenant governor on the ballot. They would run as a party team and a single vote would be for both candidates. This is the system used now for president and vice-president. The candidates would be named through the primary election but once chosen would become a ticket.

If Section B falls, the governor and lieutenant governor would be selected separately as they are now.

Section C of Amendment No. 13 would make the lieutenant governor a full-time officer. Furthermore, it would permit the governor to have the lieutenant governor represent him on boards and commissions if he wished. Section C wouldn't become effective until 1975.

If Section C falls, the governor himself still would have to sit on the boards and commissions and the lieutenant governor would still be a part-time officer. Beermann said he has heard some voters indicate they thought they were supposed to choose from among the three "options" in Amendment 13. Not so, he said. Each portion of the amendment stands on its own and all, none or some of the individual sections may be approved by the voters.

For each of Amendment 13's three sections and all the other proposed constitutional amendments to be adopted, they need to be accepted by a majority of the voters. In addition, the votes for the amendment must equal at least 35 per cent of the total vote cast in the election.

That means, for example, that Amendment X could have a majority of votes for adoption, yet fail to be adopted because there weren't enough votes for it.

That almost happened a couple of years ago when the "for" votes for the highway revenue bond proposal equaled 37 per cent — or just barely enough.

The amendment causing the most campaigning so far is No. 12, which would permit payment of public funds as reimbursement for part of the tuition of students in non-public schools. The payments could cover only that portion of the non-public school curriculum costs allocable to instruction in state-approved courses.

Also attracting considerable attention during the campaign is Amendment No. 10, which would permit the Legislature to classify personal property and then exempt any classes it wishes from taxation.

Businesses with large inventories and some farm organizations are encouraging the passage of this amendment.

Among others generating public discussion this fall are amendments to change the legislative meetings to annual sessions

Constitutional amendment reducing age of majority to twenty years.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1970, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article VI, section 1 of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of twenty years and has resided within the state for six months and within the county and voting precinct for the terms provided by law shall be an elector."

Proposed Amendment No. 2

A vote FOR this proposal would require the Legislature to reapportion the Legislature to represent judicial districts every ten years, following the federal census. The districts would have to be approximately equal in population and established by a majority of the members of the Legislature.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would retain the present provision under which the Legislature may, but is not required to, reapportion the Supreme Court districts, and under which a two-thirds vote is necessary for any change.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1970, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article V, section 5, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 5. The Legislature shall divide the state into six contiguous and compact districts of approximately equal population, which shall be numbered from one to six, which shall be known as the Supreme Court judicial districts. The Legislature shall redistrict the state after each federal decennial census. In any such redistricting, county lines shall be followed, wherever practicable, but other established lines may be followed at the discretion of the Legislature.

Such districts shall not be changed without the concurrence of a majority whom shall be the Chief Justice. A majority of the judges shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. A majority of the members sitting shall have authority to preside in cases involving the constitutionality of an act of the Legislature. No legislative act shall be held unconstitutional except by the concurrence of five judges. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction in all cases relating to the revenue, civil cases in which the state is a party, mandamus, quo warranto, habeas corpus, election contests involving state officers other than members of the Legislature, and such appellate jurisdiction as may be provided by law. The Legislature may provide that any judge of the Supreme Court who has retired may be called upon for temporary duty by the Supreme Court. Whenever necessary for the prompt submission and determination of causes, the Supreme Court may appoint judges of the district court to act as associate judges of the Supreme Court, sufficient in number, with the judges of the Supreme Court, to constitute two divisions of the court of five judges in each division. Whenever judges of the district court are so acting the court shall sit in two divisions, and four of the judges thereof shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. Judges of the district court so appointed shall serve during the pleasure of the court, and shall have all the powers of judges of the Supreme Court. The Chief Justice shall make assignments of judges to the divisions of the court, and shall preside over the division of which he is a member, and designate the presiding judge of the other division. The judges of the Supreme Court, sitting without division, shall hear and determine all cases involving the constitutionality of a statute, and all appeals from conviction of homicide, and may review any decision rendered by a division of the court. In such cases, in the event of the disability or disqualification by interest or otherwise of any of the judges of the Supreme Court, the court may appoint judges of the district court to sit temporarily as judges of the Supreme Court, sufficient to constitute a full court of seven judges. Judges of the district court shall receive no additional salary by virtue of their appointment and service as herein provided, but they shall be reimbursed their necessary traveling and hotel expenses.

Proposed Amendment No. 3
A vote FOR this proposed amendment will make it unnecessary for all bills to be read in full before the vote on final passage is taken.

A vote AGAINST will retain the present requirement that all bills be read in full before the vote on final passage is taken.

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1970, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article III, section 14, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 14. Every bill and resolution shall be read by title when introduced, and a printed copy thereof provided for the use of each member, and the bill and all amendments thereto shall be printed before the vote is taken upon its final passage. No vote upon the final passage of any bill shall be taken until five legislative days after its introduction nor until it has been on file for final reading and passage for at least one legislative day. No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title. No law shall be amended unless the section or sections as amended and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed. The Lieutenant Governor, or the Speaker if acting as presiding officer, shall sign, in the presence of the Legislature while the same is in session and capable of transacting business, all bills and resolutions passed by the Legislature."

Proposed Amendment No. 4

A vote FOR this proposal would permit the Legislature to enact laws authorizing the Supreme Court to call upon retired judges of the Supreme or district courts for temporary duty. This would be similar to provisions now in effect for the federal courts, where retired judges are called upon to fill temporary vacancies caused by death, illness, or other reasons.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose the calling of retired judges for temporary duty.

No charter or charter amendment adopted under the provisions of this amendment shall be amended or repealed except by electoral vote. And no such charter or charter amendment shall diminish the tax rate for state purposes fixed by act of the Legislature, or interfere in any wise with the collection of state taxes."

A vote FOR this proposal would give the Nebraska Supreme Court administrative authority, over all other courts in the state, and will permit the Chief Justice to appoint an administrative director for the courts if he chooses to do so. It will permit the Legislature to establish such courts, inferior to the Supreme Court, or it "deems necessary and desirable the jurisdiction of those courts. It will permit the Legislature to abolish these courts, if it chooses to do so. It will permit the Legislature to establish a system of county courts in which one judge may serve two or more counties and in which a single county may have more than one county judge.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will oppose any change in the judicial article of the Constitution.

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1970, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article I, section 4, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 4. All persons have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences. No person shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship against his consent, and no preference shall be given by law to any religious society, nor shall any interference with the rights of conscience be permitted. No religious test shall be required as a qualification for office, nor shall any person be incompetent to be a witness on account of his religious belief; but nothing herein shall be construed to dispense with oaths and affirmations. Religion, morality, and knowledge, however, being essential to good government, it shall be the duty of the legislature to pass suitable laws to protect every religious denomination in the peaceable enjoyment of its own mode of public worship, and to encourage schools and the means of instruction, and in furtherance of such objectives the Legislature may make grants for the benefit of students enrolled in nonpublic schools as reimbursement for the part of their tuition that is allocable to instruction in state-approved courses; Provided, that such reimbursement shall not exceed one-third of the per student cost in the public school district in which the student resides nor shall any plan of reimbursement breach the separation of church and state required by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

The executive officers of the state shall be the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Attorney General, and the heads of such other executive departments as set forth herein or as may be established by law. The Legislature may provide for the placing of the above named officers as heads over such departments of the government as it may by law establish. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts and the Treasurer shall be chosen at the general election held in November, 1974, and in each alternate even-numbered year thereafter, for a term of four years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. In the general election one vote shall be cast jointly for the candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor nominated by the same party. The Governor shall be ineligible to the office of Governor for four years next after the expiration of two consecutive terms for which he was elected. The records, books, and papers of all executive officers shall be kept at the seat of government, and such officers, excepting the Lieutenant Governor and members of boards and commissions when the board or commission is the head of an executive department, shall reside during their respective terms of office. Officers in the executive department of the state shall perform such duties as may be provided by law. The heads of all executive departments established by law other than those to be elected as provided herein, shall be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of a majority of all members elected to the Legislature, but officers so appointed may be removed by the Governor. "Sec. 10. The general government of the University of Nebraska, the state colleges as now existing and such other state colleges as may be established by law, and all publicly-supported junior colleges, vocational technical schools and other institutions of higher education shall, under the direction of the Legislature, be vested in a board of nine trustees to be designated the Board of Trustees for Higher Education, who shall be elected from and by districts as herein provided. Their terms of office shall be for six years each. Their duties and powers shall be prescribed by law; and they shall receive no compensation, but may be reimbursed their actual expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.

The Legislature shall divide the state into nine compact trustee districts, of approximately equal population, which shall be numbered consecutively.

The Legislature shall redivide the state after each federal decennial census. Such districts shall not be changed except upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the Legislature. In any such redividing, county lines shall be followed whenever practicable, but other established lines may be followed at the discretion of the Legislature. Whenever the state is so redivided the members elected prior to the redividing shall continue in office, and the law providing for such redividing shall where necessary specify the newly established district which they shall represent for the balance of their term."

Proposed Amendment No. 13

A vote FOR this proposal would establish annual sessions of the Legislature, beginning in 1971. Sessions in odd-numbered years would be limited to ninety legislative days and in even-numbered years to sixty legislative days, unless extended by a vote of four-fifths of the members. Bills and resolutions not acted upon in a regular session in an odd-numbered year could be carried over to the next regular session in an even-numbered year.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose annual sessions and retain the present system under which the Legislature holds a regular session once every two years, with no constitutional limit on the length of the session.

Proposed Amendment No. 14

A vote FOR this proposal would establish a Board of Trustees for Higher Education, consisting of nine members elected from districts. The new board would replace the Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees for State Colleges. The new board would govern the University of Nebraska, the state colleges, and all publicly-supported junior colleges, vocational technical schools and other institutions of higher education.

Tiemann and Exxon both support Amendment 10.

Here's what you should know about its effect on your taxes.

- Q. What is Amendment 10?
A. Amendment #10 is a proposed constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to classify personal property for taxation purposes and to exempt such property as they deem fit from further taxation. The basic purpose of Amendment #10 is to allow Nebraska's legislature to complete the job of modernizing its tax base by eliminating, reducing or classifying more fairly the present personal property tax.
- Q. Didn't we already do away with the personal property tax?
A. NO. Nebraskans may have thought they ended personal property taxation when they voted for the sales and income tax but, in reality, only the state portion of this tax was repealed. Automobiles, farm equipment, livestock - to name only a few items - continue to be taxed as personal property.
- Q. Are personal property taxes difficult to administer?
A. YES. The personal property tax is difficult to administer because it is susceptible to both voluntary and involuntary evasion. In addition, assessment of personal property varies greatly from county to county further complicating the tests of fairness.
- Q. Will passage of Amendment #10 result in higher taxes?
A. NO. Passage of this constitutional amendment simply grants the legislature permission to evaluate and determine methods to make the existing tax base more equitable. Your "YES" vote for Amendment #10 means you are in favor of a fairer, more modern tax system.
- Q. Is the amount of personal property tax you pay a measure of your income or wealth?
A. NO. Many medium and low income persons pay relatively high personal property taxes. At the same time, many persons enjoying high incomes pay very low personal property taxes or, in many cases, no personal property taxes at all.
- Q. Does personal property taxation affect the expansion of new and existing business and industry?
A. YES. There are cases on record in Nebraska where industries have bypassed the state in favor of other locations because of more favorable tax situations. In addition, taxation of personal property such as machinery and inventories has deterred growth of some industries and businesses.
- Q. Is personal property taxation a fair method of taxation?
A. NO. The fact that you own a certain amount of personal property does not mean that you are able to pay taxes on it. Because of this, many states have already either modified or eliminated their personal property taxes.

VA Q & A

Q - If a veteran sells his home obtained under a GI loan and gets a release of liability from the Veterans Administration, will he be eligible for another GI loan at his new location?

A - No. The granting of a release of liability by the VA does not make the veteran eligible for restoration of his loan entitlement. This can be done only by having the lender release the VA as guarantor of the loan.

This is usually accomplished by requiring the new buyer to obtain his own financing on the home, thereby paying off the existing GI loan.

Proposed Amendment No. 1

A vote FOR this proposed amendment will lower the minimum voting age to 20 years.

A vote AGAINST will leave the minimum voting age at 21 years.

For Constitutional amendment reducing age of electors to twenty years.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 2

A vote FOR this proposal would require the Legislature to reapportion the Supreme Court judicial districts every ten years, following the federal census. The districts would have to be approximately equal in population and could be established by a majority of the members of the Legislature.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would retain the present provision under which the Legislature may, but is not required to, reapportion the Supreme Court districts, and under which a two-thirds vote is necessary for any change.

For Constitutional amendment providing for the redistricting of Supreme Court judicial districts.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 3

A vote FOR this proposed amendment will make it unnecessary for all bills to be read in full before the vote on final passage is taken.

A vote AGAINST will retain the present requirement that all bills be read in full before the vote on final passage is taken.

For Constitutional amendment eliminating the requirement of reading each bill at large before the Legislature before a final vote is taken.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 4

A vote FOR this proposal would permit the Legislature to enact laws authorizing the Supreme Court to call upon retired judges of the Supreme or district courts for temporary duty. This would be similar to provisions now in effect for the federal courts, where retired judges are called upon to fill temporary vacancies caused by death, illness, or other reasons.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose the calling of retired judges for temporary duty.

For Constitutional amendment providing that retired Supreme Court or district court judges may be called upon for temporary duty by the Supreme Court.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 5

A vote FOR this proposal would authorize the University of Nebraska, the state colleges, and the State Board of Education to issue revenue bonds to build, acquire, or improve dormitories and other housing facilities, athletic facilities, medical care facilities, and parking facilities. The bonds would be paid out of the revenue received from use of the facilities and would not be an obligation against state tax revenues. A vote FOR this proposal also would ratify revenue bonds previously issued for such purposes. While revenue bonds have been issued in the past, there are contentions that this cannot be done without specific constitutional authority.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose constitutional authority for the issuance of revenue bonds for the purposes described above.

For Constitutional amendment authorizing the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges, and the State Board of Education, when approved as the Legislature shall provide, to issue revenue bonds to provide housing facilities for students and faculty and other employees, and facilities for athletic purposes, medical care and physical development of students, student unions or centers, and parking, payable solely from revenue, fees, and other payments derived therefrom, authorizing the pledge of such revenue, fees, and other payments to the payment of such revenue bonds without appropriation by the Legislature, and ratifying and validating any such revenue bonds previously issued by such boards.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 6

A vote FOR this proposed amendment will remove the present constitutional limit on the property tax levy which a county may make (14.285 mills on assessed valuation) and which can now only be exceeded by a vote of the people. A vote for this amendment will also authorize the State Legislature to set the county mill levy limits.

A vote AGAINST would retain the present constitutional limit, as set forth above, on the property tax levy a county may make.

For Constitutional amendment to repeal the limitation on the county mill levy.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 7

A vote FOR this proposal would establish a Commission on Legislative Compensation consisting of seven members appointed by the Governor. This commission would meet every two years and would set the salaries and expenses to be paid to members of the Legislature.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would retain the present system under which each member of the Legislature receives a salary of four hundred dollars a month, the maximum fixed by the Constitution, and travel expenses for one trip to and from each regular or special session.

For Constitutional amendment to set the salary and expenses of members of the Legislature.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 8

A vote FOR this proposed amendment would increase from 5% to 10% the number of qualified electors required to petition the governing body of a home-rule city for an amendment to the home-rule charter or for the calling of a charter convention, and the 10% would be of the number of registered voters in the city at the last general state election rather than of the total vote for Governor in the city at the last gubernatorial election.

A vote AGAINST the amendment would leave the petition requirement at 5% of the total vote for Governor in the city at the last gubernatorial election.

For Constitutional amendment to change the number of electors to petition for the amendment of the charter of a home rule city or to call a charter convention.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 9

A vote FOR this proposal will give the Nebraska Supreme Court administrative authority over all other courts in the state, and will permit the Chief Justice to appoint an administrative director for the courts if he chooses to do so. It will permit the Legislature to establish such courts, inferior to the Supreme Court, as it deems necessary and to determine the jurisdiction of those courts. It will repeal the constitutional basis for justices of the peace and thus permit the Legislature to abolish these courts, if it chooses to do so. It will permit the Legislature to establish a system of county courts in which one judge may serve two or more counties and in which a single county may have more than one county judge.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will oppose any change in the judicial article of the Constitution.

For Constitutional amendment to eliminate justices of the peace as constitutional courts, to permit county court districts, to delete certain constitutional requirements relating to county courts and county judges, to vest general administrative authority over all courts in the Supreme Court, to provide for an administrative director of courts, to restrict the practice of law by judges, and to provide residence requirement for judges.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 10

A vote FOR this proposal would permit the Legislature to exempt all personal property from taxation, or to establish various classes of personal property and exempt some classes from taxation.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose granting the Legislature any additional authority to classify or exempt personal property from taxation.

For Constitutional amendment providing that the Legislature may classify personal property, and may exempt any of such classes or all personal property from taxation.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 11

A vote FOR this proposal would authorize the Legislature to determine what agency should be responsible for the investment of educational trust funds. It also would require approval by the Legislature of members appointed by the Governor to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would leave the responsibility for investment of educational trust funds with the Board of Educational Lands and Funds, under the direction of the Legislature, and would not require that board members be approved by the Legislature.

For Constitutional amendment to provide for investment of educational purposes as the Legislature shall provide by law, and for the approval by the Legislature of the members appointed to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 12

A vote FOR this proposal would permit the Legislature to make financial grants for the benefit of students enrolled in nonpublic schools. Such grants would provide reimbursement for the part of their tuition which can be allocated to state-approved courses, but could not exceed one-third of the per student cost in the public school district in which the student resided.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose permitting the Legislature to make financial grants for the benefit of students enrolled in nonpublic schools.

For Constitutional amendment to permit the Legislature to make grants for the benefit of students enrolled in nonpublic schools as reimbursement for the part of their tuition that is allocable to instruction in state-approved courses, which reimbursement shall not exceed one-third of the per student cost in the public school district in which the student resides nor shall any plan of reimbursement breach the separation of church and state required by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.
 Against

Proposed Amendments No. 13

A vote FOR this proposal will favor the election, beginning in 1974, of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor as a team, with a single vote being cast for the candidates of the same political party, as is now done for President and Vice-President of the United States. It also will make the Lieutenant Governor, beginning in 1975, a full-time officer performing such duties as are delegated by the Governor. It will eliminate the Lieutenant Governor's duty to preside over the Legislature.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will oppose any change in the present system, in which the Governor and Lieutenant Governor are elected independently, the Lieutenant Governor's position is part-time, and he is required to preside over the Legislature.

For Constitutional amendment to eliminate the Lieutenant Governor as the presiding officer of the Legislature and to eliminate his right to vote in case of a tie.
 Against

For Constitutional amendment to authorize the election of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor from the same political party by one vote cast jointly.
 Against

For Constitutional amendment providing that the Lieutenant Governor shall serve on boards and commissions in lieu of the Governor, shall perform such duties as may be delegated him by the Governor, and after January 1, 1975, he shall devote his full time to the duties of his office.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 14

A vote FOR this proposal would establish a Board of Trustees for Higher Education, consisting of nine members elected from districts. The new board would replace the Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees for State Colleges. The new board would govern the University of Nebraska, the state colleges, and all publicly-supported junior colleges, vocational technical schools and other institutions of higher education.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would retain the present system under which the University of Nebraska is governed by the Board of Regents, the state colleges by the Board of Trustees of State Colleges, and junior colleges and vocational technical schools by local boards.

For Constitutional amendment to provide that the general government of the University of Nebraska, the state colleges, and publicly-supported junior colleges, vocational technical schools and other institutions of higher education shall be vested in a nine-member Board of Trustees of Higher Education.
 Against

Proposed Amendment No. 15

A vote FOR this proposal would establish annual sessions of the Legislature, beginning in 1977. Sessions in odd-numbered years would be limited to ninety legislative days and in even-numbered years to sixty legislative days, unless extended by a vote of four-fifths of the members. Bills and resolutions not acted upon in a regular session in an odd-numbered year could be carried over to the next regular session in an even-numbered year.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose annual sessions and retain the present system under which the Legislature holds a regular session once every two years, with no constitutional limit on the length of the session.

For Constitutional amendment to provide for annual sessions of the Legislature limited to ninety legislative days in odd-numbered years and sixty legislative days in even-numbered years unless extended by a four-fifths vote of all members elected to the Legislature and to provide that bills and resolutions being considered upon adjournment of a regular session held in an odd-numbered year may be considered at the next regular session.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Newspaper headlines on Oct. 16 echoed a chaotic world: Kidnappings in Canada, Angela Davis sympathy groups, Terrorist bombing.

All headlines were spectacles. Similar headlines would appear over and over, day after day, until names and events became unimportant.

Also flashed was a secondary report of the notice of the closing of the Chicago Stockyards on Feb. 1, 1971. Next day, forgotten by the press.

Mom, that closure will have more direct influence on the livestock people of the world than all these shattering headlines combined. Since the conception of the livestock business few specific moments have changed the entire industry. If unremembered, it'll be an unreplaceable disaster.

The Chicago Stockyards gave a legalistic 90-day notice of permanent closure.

Direct results — and I mean immediate — a 50 to 75¢ downward price shift, after their slow Friday open, draggy on slightly over 4,000 cattle.

For 100 years Chicago cattle buyers were leaders. They waited for no one. They were paces. At times Chicago Koshers cattle fluctuated two or three dollars a hundred above all other prime and choice outlets (in April 1957 prices fluctuated above choice $7). To Chicagoans, a 4-H Champion needed 180 more days of feed, and a college professor a shovel plus 10 years of practical experience.

Loud, rough Chicago morning sessions were not drop-the-hankie faculty meetings. Buyers backed their opinion by bidding, not by theory. Their mistakes hurt personally, not some reputation breeder.

For 100 years the Chicago report made the price trend of the nation. Major companies referred all prices to the Chicago basis. Today, still the beef brokerage center, Chicago often handled 40,000 head on a Monday with less price change than a river terminal today loses on 7,000 head.

What happened?
Complacent attitudes. Antiquatedness. Decentralization. Poor management. Public relations as distant as city bankers. Impolite cafeteria help. A cold distant aloofness, then an insulting backlash. Then add to these William Wood Prince.

Prince was once the cover-boy rage of "The Saturday Evening Post," the feature article of "Fortune." I remember Prince walking and riding the yards in regal style. Adopted heir in adulthood to a $300 million estate, Prince could have been a prime asset, the leader of the livestock industry. To me, now he stands alone, last in line for honors.

Few have done so little with so much in a short 20 years. At least Nero could fiddle.

He took over the presidency and chamber of the board of both Armour and the Chicago Stockyards. Both were top runners. Now, a subsidiary to a bus company and a future truck terminal industrial complex. An unqualified Prince took over both because he wanted the jobs. He owned the stock, had the voting strength. For both, a down-hill ride, on sore feet, a disaster to cattlemen.

Chicago meant a central point for premium selling top quality cattle. Reachable by the Missouri River feeder, it gave shippers this excellent Koshers outlet.

Unfortunately, by February those specialty buyers will scatter to the four winds. Blown soon to Indianapolis, Peoria, Atkinson or even Omaha or Sioux City. Without a pushing competitor, top tickets will sag. Let the ceiling sag, the floor gets wet with every downpour.

No other yards had such an effect on the national beef picture. Despite all the feedlots of the U. S., not a dozen New York wholesalers quote their prices, their millions-of-head activities.

But let Chicago draw 1,900 surplus, say 2,300 head on a Friday, the national market flips-flops four bits.

Chicago once stood proud. Hosted from presidents to Lillian Russell. Withstood Mrs. O'Leary's fire and the Democratic convention.

Chicago once stood proud. Hosted from presidents to Lillian Russell. Withstood Mrs. O'Leary's fire and the Democratic convention.

"I've been trick'n treated all year. Treated to bad weather and blight, and tricked by government statistical reports."

Cattlemen lose — the corporation profits. Sincere outside efforts were made to purchase, to lease anything. But individually, Prince has a computer for an adviser. Capital gain is more important than capital principal.

Inherited his fortune, made during a century, from farmers. The industry deserved at least a lease or a purchase of a small section. But not total dissolution. There were still people willing to give full effort.

Many commission men and buyers still want to operate.

High labor cost did not destroy the yards. The weekly paychecks of the yard employees will not exceed $100 the next two months.

Prince started the Chicago downfall with decentralizing Armour.

His only eternal hope is that Saint Peter isn't hooked on cattle. Especially the Black Angus, the Koshers kind.

Yard & Garden Hints
Here are some pointers from Wayne Whitney, University of Nebraska extension horticulturist. Your tender roses need a protective mulch to bring them through the winter successfully.

Most winter injury to roses comes from the alternate freezing and thawing of the soil during warm spells in late winter, but this problem can be minimized by proper application of a good winter mulch around the plants, Whitney says. A mulch will prevent the soil from freezing too deep and will also act as an insulator to keep it that way.

At least 12 inches of mulch is needed to protect tender roses from the rigors of winter in Nebraska. The best mulches are kinds that do not tend to pack down too tightly. Saw dust, fine garden soils of vermiculite make excellent mulches.

If leaves are used for mulching, place them in a cylinder made of hardware cloth or chicken wire mesh to hold them together. Make the cylinder 18 to 18 inches in diameter for individual plants. If the roses are planted in a bed, extend the enclosure eight to 10 inches beyond the outer limits of the plant plot. A plastic covering is advisable if leaves are used.

Whitney suggests waiting until the soil has partially frozen before applying the mulch. Too early application of the mulch may result in as much damage to the plants as no mulch at all.

Apply the mulch after the roses have been exposed to temperatures of about 25 degrees for several days and have dropped their leaves.

Nippy fall weather is an excellent time to get the garden plot in shape for spring.

Carrots, beets and parsnips won't be hurt by a light frost. In fact, parsnips can be left in the ground all winter for use in early spring.

Any plant refuse that has had insect disease infection should be destroyed. The clean-up, coupled with the collection of any unharvested vegetable will leave the garden in fine shape for next year's planting.

Apply and turn under organic matter such as barnyard manure or compost and level the soil surface rough to allow maximum water penetration next spring.

Cut peonies slightly below the soil line and discard the foliage this fall. This helps prevent diseases that might overwinter on the stems. Mulch fall planted roots. If plants were diseased this last year, plant to spray them with a fungicide such as zinc neol spring.

Rake leaves that begin falling this month and save to use as mulch around shrubs to improve the soil texture in flower beds. If you burn leaves or truck them off, you remove valuable soil-building material. Make a compost pile somewhere in a non-conspicuous area of the yard.

Bull's 4-H Club members met Saturday afternoon in the Marvin Kleensang home to dismantle an old corn picker donated by M. Kleensang. They will sell the iron and proceeds will go to the National 4-H Center. Leaders are Harold Wittler and Willard Brummels.

Kiwanis Club Plans

For Year Discussed

Wayne Kiwanis Club committees met following a noon luncheon in the Woman's Club room Monday and worked out program plans for the coming months.
Jim Hummel, club president, recently distributed questionnaires to club members asking for ideas that might be put to use to stimulate interest and growth in Kiwanis.
Results of the questionnaires, Hummel said, included 15 suggestions for improving attendance, 14 ideas for fund-raising projects, and 21 ideas as to service projects that the club might sponsor.
The questionnaires will now be analyzed and the ideas suggested will be considered by an appropriate club committee as plans are made for the work year ahead.

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: Does "medical payment" coverage on an auto insurance policy include funeral expenses?

ANSWER: With certain exceptions payments of $500 to $1000 for funeral expenses are included in "medical payment" in auto insurance policies. These payments are made to the name of those insured or resident relatives of the household if death results within a year to any one of them injured in an auto accident. In addition, other persons not related but riding with his permission and in his care are also insured.
