Hamilton Given 10-25 Years for Shooting Death

Richard Hamilton, 18, has been sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the Nebraska penitentiary as a result of the shooting death of John Smith in early May.

Hamilton pleaded guilty to a second-degree murder charge in connection with the shooting incident on the night of May 1 in front of the Allen home of the dead youth. Smith was 16 years old.

Hamilton had been charged with first-degree murder in the incident and he changed his innocent plea to that charge to the guilty one to the reduced charge the day the jury trial was to have opened on Oct. 5.

Hamilton, also of Allen, was sentenced Friday at the Dixon County courthouse at Ponca by Judge Joseph Marsh of South Sioux City.

Parents of Hamilton are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hamilton. Smith's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith.

Can We Make It?

Four area residents were killed in Wayne County traffic accidents during the first six months of 1970. Will motorists in Wayne County be able to continue driving in a manner that will keep the fatality record clean for the last six months of 1970? Bad weather and holiday traffic are ahead increasing the odds.

Five Motorists Hear That Sound Of C-r-u-n-c-h

An onlooking motorist driving through Wayne at mid-day Thursday might possibly have thought vehicles on the streets were playing bumper car. Wayne police investigated two accidents within one and a half hours involving five cars.

The first collision occurred around 10:50 a.m. in the 100 block on East Third Street. Louis Baker, Wayne, was driving east in a 1959 Chevrolet, police said, and was struck by a 1963 Pontiac driven by William Hammer, Wayne, who was backing out of a parking stall.

Then around 12:35 p.m. three vehicles collided just north of the intersection at Seventh and Main Streets. Officers said a 1969 Volkswagen driven by David Puppek, Lincoln, northbound on Main stopped behind an unidentified vehicle which was waiting to make a left hand turn into the 'L' after parking lot. Billie Adams, Wisner, stopped behind Puppek in a 1962 Chevrolet. Police said a 1965 Ford driven by Charles Schaeffer, Omaha, hit the Adams auto in the rear pushing it forward into the Puppek car.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. The suspense-filled mystery, directed by Ted Blendernier, takes place in New England in the 1880's and includes all the ingredients of thrill theatre.

Youths to Study Retardation Work

Young people in the Wayne area will be given a chance to learn what it is like to work in the field of mental retardation during a meeting scheduled for next Monday night, Nov. 16.

The meeting is the monthly one of the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children and is scheduled for West Elementary school in Wayne at eight o'clock.

There to tell of their experiences in working with people mentally retarded will be a member and the coordinator of the Summer Work Experience and Training program (SWEAT) in Nebraska. Funded nationally in 1966, SWEAT acquaints young people of high school and college age with the problem of mental retardation and gives them an opportunity to explore career options in the area at a time they are making decisions on what they want to do in life.

Two representatives of SWEAT will join three people from the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute in a panel discussion. A question and answer period will give anybody in the audience a chance to find out about areas not covered in the discussion.

Anybody in the area interested in the problem of mental retardation is invited to attend the meeting, according to Mrs. Kenneth Sitzman, a member of the new group. Mrs. Sitzman said she hopes a large group of young people attend the program since it is important that the state turn out a large group of young people with interests in this field.

Now funded local and state agencies, SWEAT is held annually every summer, usually in July and August. Young people in the program spend between eight and 10 weeks studying administrative aspects of the field. They also get a chance to establish personal contact with their state legislator in order to find out what the government is doing in the field of mental retardation. Every Friday the group reassembles for lectures, discussion and tours.

There are at least two weeks of supervised work assignments in such places as the Beatrice State Home, the Martin Luther Home and the Norfolk State Hospital. Case study assignments give some students the opportunity to receive training in research and writing while becoming acquainted with a retarded individual and his history.

To make the program as effective as possible, students are chosen for it on the basis of academic and leadership potential. They must have completed at least their sophomore year in high school and have not yet entered their junior year in college.

Harold Ingalls, Wayne County agent, then served as agent in Greeley County from 1942 to 1944. He was Sioux County agent from 1946 to 1951 before coming to Wayne County. Members of the Nebraska Co-operative Extension Service, gathered Wednesday for their annual conference, were challenged to join in an effort to "make Nebraska Extension Service the best in the United States."

Extension Director Dr. John L. Adams told the group that the state's Extension program ranks among the top six in the nation in qualifications of its professional staff members at the state, area and county levels. Looking ahead to Extension's Role and probable program emphases in the future, Adams pointed to an upgrading of Extension's position within the U. S. Department of Agriculture by Secretary Clifford M. Hardin.

People in the Carroll area are being offered an opportunity to take part in a Wayne-Carroll school board meeting Monday night when the board meets at the Carroll Elementary School.

The board is holding the meeting at the Carroll school instead of the high school in Wayne in order to give the school district residents around Carroll a chance to attend. It will also give the board an opportunity to look over the Carroll building to see if any repairs, or changes are needed.

Francis Haun, superintendent of the Wayne-Carroll system, invites any area residents to attend the 7:30 meeting if they wish.

The school board will have an informal supper at Marlene's Cafe in Carroll before the board meeting.

Winside School Music Boosters Elect Officers

A group of Winside parents met Tuesday evening at the Winside Elementary School library to organize the Winside Music Boosters Association.

An election of officers was held with the following results: Mrs. Marvin Kramer, president; Mrs. Vernon Miller, vice-president; Mrs. Don Langenberg, secretary, and Dean Janke, treasurer.

Allan Schlueter, band instructor, and Mrs. Barbara Fletcher, vocal instructor, both spoke briefly concerning ideas for the association.

The new officers noted that any parents may join whether or not their children belong to band or participate in music. Parents having children in band or the music department are automatically considered members.

The Music Boosters plan to meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school library to set a regular meeting date.

Serving luncheon were Mrs. John Bohm, Mrs. Vernon Miller, Mrs. Don Langenberg, Mrs. Robert Peterson and Mrs. Marvin Kramer.

Steven Martinella, Concord, was charged with reckless driving and was fined $25 and $5 costs.

Janet Gray, Omaha, was fined $10 and $7.50 costs for an insufficient fund check.

Beef Expert: Pasture Stalk Fields

Farmers in the Wayne area with recently picked corn fields standing idle should begin pasturing those fields for two good reasons, says Walter Tolman, area beef specialist at the Northeast Extension Center.

The fields provide valuable feed, he says, and by pasturing them the farmers will reduce the amount of corn left in the covered dish supper at the Woman's Club Room.

A Veterans' Day program will be presented at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in Winside at the high school through the cooperative efforts of the public schools, Winside Legion Post 252, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts.

George Reed from the Norfolk VFW will be the featured speaker along with several brief presentations by school students. The Winside High School band, under the direction of Allan J. Schlueter, and the mixed chorus, under the direction of Barbara Fletcher, will participate on the program.

Ronald Kramer, WIS principal, said students will be excused from school following the Veterans Day program around 11:30 a.m. He said buses will run for students returning home.

Kramer noted that the school cafeteria will be open for pupils wishing to eat at the school before boarding the bus to attend the Lewis and Clark football championship playoff in Wayne. He said buses will leave Winside for Wayne around 12:30 p.m. and emphasized that students are not obligated to ride the bus, but if they do they must also return to Winside by bus.

Allen Extends Sewer

Members of the town board at Allen have received FHA approval for a work order that will add 900 feet of sewer line to the new sewer system.

The additional 900 feet of sewer line will cost approximately $3,500 and will be installed beginning at a point from the Lutheran Church located on Highway 9 and running 900 feet south on the east side of the highway.

The entire new sewer system installation is now complete except for the 900 foot addition, best production, Tolman notes. Corn is low in protein, minerals and vitamins so these feed elements should be provided young cattle in stalk fields, according to the beef specialist. Stock cows have a low protein requirement and probably need only mineral and possibly Vitamin A supplementation until near calving time.

Early in the fall a field of alfalfa with frozen fall growth or broom waterways and field edges will often provide all the extra feed elements needed for calves or yearlings. If these are not available, supplying three or four pounds alfalfa hay daily or a pound mineral and possibly Vitamin A supplementation until near calving time.

Idaho Man Dies Near Wakefield

A 74-year-old Idaho man died around 9:30 a.m. Wednesday while driving at the junction of Highways 9 and 94 two miles north of Wakefield.

Joseph A. Bernard, Nampa, Idaho, a former Tilden resident, died of an apparent heart attack, authorities said.

Bernard reportedly been visiting in Sioux City and was on his way to Tilden. A witness said the auto was westbound and after stopping at a stop sign, pulled onto highway 9 to go south. The car made a wide right turn into a shallow ditch on the east side of the road.

Trooper M. Loecker, South Sioux City, investigated the accident assisted by Robert Mavis, Wakefield criminal investigator for the Nebraska State Patrol. Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Saturday in Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church at Tilden.

Former Wayne Man Gets Different Post

A former Wayne resident, Richard Boyce, has been named regional manager of the Ozark Airlines facility at Galesburg, Mo.

The son of Mrs. Alice Boyce of Wayne, he was formerly resident manager for Columbia/Jefferson City. He recently took over his new position after managing the company's Lake of the Ozarks facility for a few weeks to help start new service there.

Boyce, who started his airlines work at Sioux City in 1956, is a 14-year veteran of Ozark. He moved to St. Joseph in 1959 and later that year was named senior agent in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, before becoming resident manager of Ozark's Okmunga operation in 1963.

2 Loop Play-Offs Set Wednesday

Laurel will play Scribner and Randolph will play either Emerson-Hubbard or Homer in the two football conference play-offs scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

The Laurel game will be at Scribner to determine champion of the Husker Conference. The other game set for the Wayne State field, will determine king of the recently revised Lewis and Clark Conference. Who will face Randolph depended upon the outcome of the Homer-Walkhill game Saturday night.

Laurel knocked off O'Neill Friday night to close the season with a perfect 5-0 mark. Emerson-Hubbard rapped Allen as the first step toward that play-off. Both are slated for 1:30 p.m. Complete results of area football contests—including Wayne's rally for the win over Pierce—can be found on the sports page of this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786

Salute to Veterans

Wednesday is Veterans Day. As one recalls that WWI ended about 25 years ago and WWII ended approximately 25 years ago, one remembers that patriotism was not something to be glorified or to be immersed in cynicism. Liberty, the principles of self-government and the American economic and political systems were respected. Few doubted the destiny of our nation.

Times have changed as we approach Veterans Day. There are now few Americans who consider it to be the thing to toss aside convictions or allegiance to principles and, rather than construct anything, attempt to destroy a little of everything. Pursuit of such a philosophy to its logical conclusion would be the abandonment of observation of all milestones in the nation's history.

If nothing matters, there is nothing to observe. If there is nothing to observe or believe in, then there is not much left but a vacuum. If there is nothing but vacuum, the reasoning goes, then why not destroy anything that gets in the way.

We hope that Americans will pay proper tribute Wednesday to all those valiant men who have assumed their responsibilities throughout the years in the military services.

There are many men loyal to the American flag who find they must carry on daily activities minus one or more members of their body. While some are marred physically, others carry mental and emotional wounds that will never heal. Such sacrifices, along with those who died, are beyond the call of duty and were made that the Republic might stand as one nation under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

Hundreds of area residents are veterans. We salute you, and all of those like you, on a day especially set aside for that purpose. — MMW

A Law Worth Noticing

Nebraskans advocating a "get tough" law policy might be interested in a state law that is about a year old. The law is in regard to the impounding of a vehicle in which a minor is arrested for a moment. Section 53-180.02 in the Nebraska Statutes provides law enforcement officers the authority to impound the motor vehicle in which a minor is arrested for being in possession of alcoholic liquor.

Let's consider the law for a moment. Suppose your teenager was driving your car when arrested on MIP charges. Would it mean that you would lose the use of your automobile until the matter was cleared up in court? Yes.

It doesn't make any difference whose car the teen is driving, even if it is Aunt Susie's, Uncle Charlie's or grandpa's, the car involved is impounded when there is sufficient evidence for the officer to arrest the youth as a minor in possession.

Any teenage male who has the idea he can declare his manhood by being in possession of alcohol and get away with it should first consider the high cost of being arrested for such a violation.

A youth convicted on MIP charges faces a court record, an unerasable mark on his driver's license, a question mark on his respect for law, a stiff fine, court costs and temporary loss of the car involved in the charge.

We have a great group of young people in Wayne and the surrounding area. It is hoped that minors will seriously consider the serious consequences if tempted to be in the possession of alcoholic liquor.

Being a minor in possession is no proof of manhood, but proof that maturity is yet a long way off. Ask someone who has convicted of the charge to see if he thinks it was worth it. — MMW

A New Look at Campus Unrest

Are the American colleges trying to educate everybody and in the process educating almost nobody?

Are there too many students in college who have no real business there but who are there for such unjustifiable reasons as satisfying the wishes of their parents or seeking a husband?

Are many of the confrontations on our campuses caused by students who love bricks and barricades more than books and learning?

Those questions are important questions if we hope to understand some of the things going on in America today. It may be that if those questions could be answered we would make a great stride toward healing some of the wounds the nation is now suffering from.

A man who should know about some of the things going on in our colleges has written what we think is one of the best articles on college unrest. That man is Marvin E. Stromer, former state legislator and currently director of the American Institute of Politics at Hiram Scott College in Scottsbluff. Excerpts of that article were printed in the Wednesday issue of the Omaha World-Herald. The newspaper article is printed in full elsewhere on this page. — N.H.

Carroll

Dear Editor: Since the elections are over and the boasting, bantering and criticizing of the politicians has ceased for a while, I feel that we should give some praise to some less celebrated public servants—the Wayne-Carroll school cooks. Recently the nation publicized National School Lunch Week but I wasn't aware of it until much later. It didn't cause big headlines nor bring much response, although this program, I think, is very important and necessary to our school children.

These efficient, conscientious women plan and prepare food each day for far more than just three or four children. And they try to satisfy the majority of their desires. Perhaps some children don't always like the menu of the day but do they like everything that their mother prepares for them at home?

I've often prepared what I thought was the most tasteful casserole or dessert known to the culinary art only to have the family reject it without even taking one single bite. But I was able to force my concoction past their one-track taste-buds. Occasionally, and I repeat, occasionally, they were amazed to find it was delicious once they actually had eaten it.

But the Wayne-Carroll cooks nor the teachers are able or allowed to force all the children in the schools to take all the things to contend with besides the children's likes or dislikes.

Because of bad rumors about the Wayne lunch program, we had reservations toward it when the children started to Wayne to school, but we soon discovered the rumors were completely false. My children think the school cooks make better than I do. Just plain old jello! And I've always considered myself a reasonably good cook.

Recently, when I served my children a lettuce salad, I was informed that at Wayne they were given a choice of salad dressings — roquefort, French, or thousand island. I told them they had a choice at home, too. With or without mayonnaise!

But these marvelous ladies have many other things to contend with besides the children's likes or dislikes.

They have to contend with state inspectors constantly checking for cleanliness; correctly balanced menus and insuring the usage of the right amount of government commodities. The cooks must keep a daily file of the exact ingredients used in each menu, the number of children served each day and the proportions they received.

I think we are very fortunate to have the Type A lunch program that we have available for our children in the Wayne-Carroll schools. This cannot be done by the cooks simply going to the cupboard or refrigerator at 11:00 a.m. and deciding what to toss together for lunch.

My compliments to the cooks. Mrs. Jack Kavanagh could be and should be done for young people, but they never get busy and do their thing. Wiebelhaus has a group of six or seven young men interested in putting on the gloves and learning how to box. In fact, even though they don't have an official sponsor and no place to workout, the kids have been battling each other around during evenings at the fire hall. They got into the ring for the first time this season in matches at Morningstar Friday night.

Are you still with me? Ok. These fellows have been learning the art of boxing from another guy by the name of Tim Frankl who also is more interested in doing than talking. Wiebelhaus and Frankl need a place for their boxing team to workout. Are you still there? Would you have any possible idea at all as to who might have a place these boxing enthusiasts could use for training?

Why not tune in both channels of your thought waves and give the idea some thought, then get on one of those talking machines called a telephone and give either Wiebelhaus or Frankl a call. Those guys are more than anxious to see their team win a few trophies, but in order to do so they are going to have to have a place to practice. How about it? The team will appreciate your efforts as will their manager and trainer. Ah ha! You just thought of a place! Hurry and let them know.

Even a lot of the last leaves' those early morning hours to journey to the ground.

Out in back of our house, which is north of town, there were hickocks coated with a frost frosting glistening in the sun. They appeared to be sunbathing in a light winter coat.

At the edge of the driveway we have a big tree which hasn't as yet decided to let go of its brilliant rust-colored foliage. It stands there day after day as if almost too embarrassed to think about dropping its leaves in public. Surely one of these days there will be a shower of leaves that will fall on those trees across the roads in the woods to shame. When it comes to leaf-dropping, most trees grudgingly let loose a few at a time. Evidently this big tree is saving up and is going to let loose with everything at once. Trees are that much like people. No two act alike.

There was something especially fresh and good about Thursday morning. Not only was the sun shining after several days of rain and overcast skies, but the squirrels were chasing each other around and we saw two sparrows taking a good look into the end of an open pipe on a clothesline pole. Far overhead there were military men plowing through early-morning skies in a modern jet, dragging their trails behind them. Thursday was a good day. See JUST WRIGHT, page 10

'Will the Students Condemn When They Foot the Bill?'

American colleges are "trying to educate everybody and winding up educating practically nobody," according to Marvin E. Stromer.

In a paper prepared for a recent meeting of Nebraska and Iowa members of the Catholic Education Association in Omaha, Stromer writes:

"We have a mania for quantity. We seem to think that the more colleges we build and the more students we drag into them, the more educated our population will become. This is a fallacy." There are too many people in college now who have no business being there — "people who didn't come to cultivate their minds but came to please their parents, or to snag a husband or to avoid the draft," he writes.

Since the level of education all too often is geared to these students, he adds, many of them manage to survive and get their degrees without ever having known what it is to engage in intellectual activity.

Stromer also criticizes educators who "have lost sight of what education is all about." He writes:

"The capacity for discriminating thought, the ability to use language clearly and precisely, knowledge of western cultural heritage — today, in all too many cases, these are no longer prerequisites for a diploma.

"Instead, we have mass matriculation and social promotion, narrow vocationalism and watered-down humanities, permissiveness and preposterous priorities." Stromer, a native of Hastings, Nebr., is a former state senator and now a professor of political science at Hiram Scott College in Scottsbluff, Nebr. He earned his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Nebraska.

In his paper he writes that the nation is facing ominous problems and he does not blame serious young people for being fed up with "a diet of proms, pep rallies and pap." He adds:

"Too much of what is being offered them is trivial and banal and unchallenging. They are not amiss in dismissing much of their instruction as irrelevant. The only trouble is that they're not in a position to know what is relevant.

"Many are innocent of logic. Many know nothing of history. . . . So they ask for courses in astrology and Swahili and hard rock. They fall for every passing fad and cult."

Stromer believes that students today must develop "a tough-minded idealism, which does not expect instant solutions or total panaceas but which accepts the patient discipline essential for the achievement of realistic goals," and such idealism must be rooted in the wisdom of the past.

"Our educational institutions, for the most part, have failed to provide that rootage," he writes. "This is why we see among campus youth today an unwholesome and pitiful pseudo-idealism which understands little of discipline or sacrifice or patience, but which knows only how to mouth elegans and issue non-negotiable demands.

"Across the length and breadth of our troubled land, we see the temples of knowledge desecrated by violence and the threat of violence . . .

"Brickbats and barricades have become the benchmarks of a generation that never learned to love books."

Referring to the University of Michigan disturbance of last summer, he writes: "If I had been president of that university, any instructor who went on strike would have been dismissed permanently . . . because academic freedom does not incorporate the right to refuse to perform the duties one is hired to perform.

"And any student guilty of destroying property would have been expelled forthwith, and taken to court on charges of malicious vandalism."

Criticizing students who "condemn the materialism of those who foot the bills," Stromer wonders "if they will be any less materialistic than when it comes their turn to hope there will be a dollar or two left over after feeding their families and paying their taxes."

Whether students today excel in sensitivity and social conscience "remains to be seen," Stromer admits, but he recalls an essay for which William Sumner Graham opines that an individual's most important duty is to keep from being a burden on other people.

"After our young idealists have accomplished this," Stromer writes, "we may have an opportunity to observe how far their social sensitivity extends. Until they have accomplished it, they have not earned the right to condemn."

Area Churches, Ministers Facing Problems

by Merlin Wright

Area ministers are working an average 12-hour day, doing an increasing amount of counseling while facing the problem of mounting apathy among members, according to the results of a brief survey Tuesday.

Eight Wayne County pastors were invited to answer a series of questions related to current church programs and problems. The majority of the men said they average working between 13 and 12 hours a day, although they may be, and often are, called at anytime during a 24-hour period.

Counseling with individuals concerning personal problems is taking more of the minister's time now than it did even five years ago. A Wayne minister said his work in counseling has increased 25 per cent while another local clergyman estimated that 80 per cent of a pastor's time is now spent in conference with people having personal problems. Two of the eight ministers interviewed said they were spending approximately the same amount of time counseling now as they did five years ago.

In identifying major problems faced by churches today, four of the ministers said they believe that the apathy of church members stands out above other problems. Comments made by the preachers included "Members seem to find it difficult to look beyond their immediate needs," "I would say apathy among members in the greatest problem today since it seems many members are more interested in the Country Club, hunting, golfing, etc., than they are in the church," "Members seem to be satisfied just to have their names on the church rolls," and "I would say alcohol and moral conditions are the big problems. Secularism, materialism, indifference and the problem of reaching people for Christ were other problems mentioned. Each of the eight ministers were asked if the congregations they serve had young people leaving to study for ministry during the past two years. Seven ministers said not any of their youths had enrolled in minister-training schools during that period. The eighth clergyman said his congregation has a total of four studying for the ministry. Survey results show the various congregations have some type of program designed to encourage young men to enter the ministry.

There is an active place in the church for senior citizens or are there programs particularly for the elderly? One-half of the ministers stated their congregations had no special activities for older members of the church while the other ministers said they had a few activities, particularly for the older women.

All of the pastors reported having active programs for members in the middle-age range and youths. Five of the eight congregations are not carrying on active classes and activities for single people or college-age adults.

One of the personal problems confronting ministers today is finding time available to use for study and sermon preparation. Average length of sermons on Sunday mornings, according to the clergymen, is usually around 20 to 25 minutes. Preparing a message condensed to that length takes several hours.

Church buildings throughout the United States are generally of a better quality in 1970 than they have been in past years, according to articles appearing in denominational magazines. It appears, however, that as the number of finer buildings has been increasing, church membership on a national scale has been decreasing.

If the interview with eight Wayne County ministers is any indication of trends at all, it appears congregations are consuming ministerial services while sending few, if any, youths back into the ministry; demonstrating increasing apathy while emphasizing materialism; and are having an increasing number of individuals facing serious problems.

Not any one Wayne County congregation faces all these problems, but an analysis of the brief survey indicates area churches face a perplexing decade.

When snow covers the fields or most of the grain and the best of the stalk is gone, the cattle should be removed or extra feed such as silage or hay should be provided. ## College Gals Invading Man's Domain

College men, take note: a sorority of Wayne State co-eds is about to invade your territory—cars.

Theta Xi Omega, a sorority of business students, is participating in the Ford Motor Company's Pinto Project for the Academic Community. The project is a nationwide contest, with 160 colleges entered, to develop a marketing plan for the new Pinto multi-car.

Wayne's Theta Xi Omega may be the only all-girl organization entered, their sponsor, Mrs. Judy Baker, instructor in business, believes. So naturally, the Wayne co-eds—16 of them in the sorority—are plotting some sort of women's lib theme.

On Nov. 17 they will receive a Pinto (on loan) which they will use in road testing. In addition, they will develop a questionnaire for Wayne students and people in the community to get impressions of the car.

Rules of the contest allow each participating group to use a car for five weeks as a teaching and research aid, in any way they wish to prepare their project.

Dr. Orvid Owens, chairman of the business division, considers the project a good chance "to supplement classroom theory and concepts with the actual solution of real-life business problems."

The prizes at stake: $1,000 to the best project in each of 16 regions, $5,000 for best in the country.

Members of Theta Xi Omega are Phyllis Pfaff, Columbus, project chairman; Paula Telgren, Yelen Peters and Diana Janke, Wayne; Mary Rewinkel and Rhonda Anderson, Lyons; Denise Hansen, Winside; Kathy Karel, Howells; Dee Trepka, Crete; Carol (Micki) Tegeler, Madison; Merry Schurman, Nicholson; Ginger Taylor, Albion; Pat Schmidskamp, Adel, Ia.; Linda Forbes, Coleridge; Karen Kriz, Bloomfield; and Connie Van Die-men, South Sioux City.

Sponsors of the sorority are Mrs. Orvid Owens, Mrs. Charles McDermott and Miss Patricia Rhoades.

Leo Wortman, Wayne Ford dealer, is helping the girls with their plans.

DON MAU is isolated from the rest of his teammates while he waits a Pierce kick during the Blue Devils season finale Friday.

Devils Outclass Pierce, Season Predictors

by Norvin Hansen
The Wayne High Blue Devils surprised a lot of people this year, putting together a 7-2 mark during a year of massive re-building. Topping off that effort was a come-from-behind 28-19 win over strong Pierce Friday night.

The Wayne squad, with only Steve Kamish and Charlie Weible as regular starters off last year's team back for another fall under Coach Allen Hansen, dropped Creighton, dumped several times for losses by the Pierce rushers, flipped a pass to halfback Lonnie Hillott. The touchdown covering 24 yards, was followed by a pass to end Don Mau for the conversion.

Later in the same frame Creighton intercepted a Pierce aerial and then took the ball over the goal to a keeper off tackle designed to set up the remaining seconds left in the game. Hansen saw his team take a 6-0 lead after two costly fumbles in the first quarter. The score came on Creighton's pass to halfback end Mike Finn covering 31 yards.

Pierce stormed to a 12-6 intermission lead with touchdowns in the closing moments of the second period, one on a four-yard run by Brent Tomasek and one on a Tom Schlieppenhack-Mark Laube pass covering 63 yards.

Plueger, the spark for the Wayne surge in the second half, came up with half of his team's contests to Laurel, ranked high by the state's daily newspapers, and to West Point Central Catholic, a Class C foe used to playing tough foes.

Wayne	6	0	6	16	28
Pierce	0	12	7	0	19

Thanks to Tony Plueger, said Hansen after the game, the Devils were able to rally from a 19-6 deficit in the third period. Plueger's big contribution came after Pierce drove from Wayne's 23 to the 11 after picking up a devil fumble. The excellent senior fullback turned on full steam on a trap play up the middle and raced 89 yards for the TD on the first play after his team took over on downs.

UP-N-OVER is quarterback Mike Creighton's philosophy during this offensive maneuver against Pierce Friday.

Singleton Drops to 2nd in Rushing

Wayne State's Sam Singleton remains in competition for rushing title among the colleges in the Nebraska district of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

He dropped out of first place left on the schedule. The effort erases Larry Jacobson's mark of 1,105 yards set in 1958.

Singleton had gained 877 yards this year in 203 carries for a 125.3 average and 87.7 per carry average. Makovicka had carried 188 times for 1,087 yards and 153.2 and 5.8 averages.

In team defense the Wayne State Wildcats dropped to fourth spot—147 yards rushing and 908 passing for a 1,453 total and 207.5 average per game. Leading in that department was Hastings with 462 yards rushing and 819 passing for a 1,281 total and 183 average.

held down eighth spot among the district kickers, booting the ball 29 times for 986 yards and a 34 average. Dick McFee of Hiram Scott was the top punter with 12 punts for 1,739 yards and a 41.3 average.

In passing Marty Goring of WSC was ninth with 355 yards in 27 completions out of 67 attempts. His average was 55.8 a game. Hastings' Gary Bendinger led the passers with 1,361 yards in 89 completions out of 171 attempts.

Wayne Boxers Enter Morningside Smoker

Five Wayne boxers went into the ring at a smoker held Friday night at the Nativity Parish Center in Morningside. Gary Weibelhaus, manager, said "The boys did real well considering it was their first fight of the year and the first time for three of them in the ring."

Singleton drops to 2nd in rushing into runner-up spot behind Kearney's John Makovicka after the game with Peru.

Makovicka set an all-time KSC rushing mark for one season—1,087 yards—with another game

Game Dads Seeking True Quail Hunters

True quail hunters, those who go out primarily after bobwhite, are a dedicated lot. But, they are overshadowed in this mixed-bag state where hunters are likely to down quail, pheasants, rabbits, squirrels and perhaps also ducks, all in the same day.

However, the dyed-in-the-wool quail hunter has been the object of a search by the game commission about this time every year, just as hunters are preparing to go afield. The Game Commission is seeking a list of quail hunters to provide information that will aid in quail management.

Hall of Fame Honor To Senior at LHS

Steve Erwin, only recently named one of the best 100 basketball players in the nation, has been picked for the KTVI Area Hall of Fame for his efforts on the football field.

Erwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Erwin of the Concord area and a senior at Laurel High, joins northeast Nebraskans Kim Thomas of Pierce and J. D. Alexander of Wisner-Pilger on the team.

Cancelled

Wayne State's junior varsity football game scheduled last Monday with the Midland JV at Fremont was cancelled. Midland reported shortage of players prevented fielding a team.

The Wayne JV record thus closes with wins over Midwestern and Morningside, a loss to Yanitor.

Cats End Season on Winning Note

The Winside Wildcats ended up with two winning records after blanking Wynot, 14-0, in Friday's final game of the season.

Miller was close behind with 118 yards in 18 totes.

Wade with three and five each. Catching passes from Soden were Dangberg with one for four and Miller with one for 13. Frevert snarled Scott Deck's lone completion for four yards.

The Cats completed the year with a 6-4 overall mark and a 3-2 West Lewis and Clark Conference mark. Bandalph won the west end of the loop and the right to play in Wednesday's playoff at Wayne State by calling the toss of a coin Thursday.

Bandalph and Coleridge had tied for loop honors with 4-0-1 marks. That play-off will be against Wynot.

Winside, depending heavily on substitutes Brad Dangberg and Dale Miller to fill the slots of injured Jon Behmer and Jerry Wacker, came up with touchdowns in the second and third frames while holding the visitors scoreless.

Winside nearly went ahead by another six points late in the final period when Gary Soden, senior quarterback for the club, pirated a Wynot pass and went 20 yards into the endzone. The play was called back on a clipping penalty.

Stevens ended the night with rushing honors for the Cats, gaining a fine 141 yards on 22 carries.

Winside's Dale Miller, junior halfback, charges into two unidentified Wynot players on one of his many carries. Brad Dangberg (14), junior end, is rushing in to assist Miller.

Kuhl Pirates Destroy AH Eagles, 30-12

Quarterback Paul Kuhl rifled three touchdown passes in a row as a second-half blitz by the Emerson-Hubbard Pirates sent the visiting Allen Eagles home with a 30-12 loss to finish off their season.

Allen, added to two touchdowns by Loren Reuter in the opening two quarters, took a 12-0 lead into intermission and gave the Allen fans hopes of ending the season with a winning record.

Allen, 6 0 0 0 -- 12 Emerson-Hub. 0 0 8 22 -- 30

Kuhl's antics halted that, giving the eagles a 5-5 season mark and a 2-2 East Lewis and Clark Conference mark.

Reuter, who will end up as one of the top rushers in the L&C league this year, took advantage of some fine defensive efforts on the part of his teammates to put Allen into the lead.

In the first period Jerry Geiger, a 185-pound junior tackle slapped to the ground and then covered a Pirate punt on the E-11 five. Seconds later Reuter took it in from one yard out. Time left 4:24.

In the next period the Allen defense got another blocked punt, this one recovered by the Pirates on the E-11 but turned over Sidney (7-1), Auburn (8-0) and Ashland (7-1).

Scribner, winner of the East Husker Conference title, was tied with Springfield Plattewier for 10th spot on the Class C list. Both teams had 7-1 marks going into Friday's games.

Laurel is the "winningest" team in the state in one respect. The Bears had racked up an overwhelming 404 points while giving up only 59 on their first eight outings. Closest team to them as of last week was Columbus Scotus with 233 points to the opponents' 44. Laurel was the stingiest team in the state going into Friday's game, giving up only 26 points to their seven foes.

Laurel and Scribner square off Wednesday afternoon at Scribner for the Husker Conference title. Two years ago Scribner knocked off the Bears for the top trophy under identical circumstances.

O'Neill finally scored late in the game on a run of one yard by Brad Richter and a conversion run by Paul Mann.

Leading receivers in Laurel's aerial attack were senior halfback Sarha with 129 yards on five catches and junior end Schroeder with 107 on five. Smith caught one for 68 yards.

A host of Bears chucked up tackles and assists in the defensive display: Jim Kirchner with nine and five, Steve Anderson with nine and four, Kevin Wacker with eight and four, George Schroeder and Paul McCoy with eight and three each, and Regg Pearson, Jerry Sarha and Steve Erwin with seven and three each.

Rushing leaders for Laurel were Smith with 86 yards on nine jaunts and Erwin with 47 on six. Sarha picked up 26 yards in seven carries, Steve Burns 21 in six.

Bear Aerials, Defense Rips Visiting O'Neill

Laurel coupled a strong passing game with a stout defense to post a 42-8 win over visiting O'Neill Friday night.

The win gives the Bears a perfect 9-0 season mark going into Wednesday's 1:30 p.m. clash at Scribner to determine the true ruler of the Husker Conference.

Laurel moved to an 8-0 lead in the opening frame after Steve Smith raced 25 yards to the touchdown and Erwin hit George Schroeder for the points after.

An intercepted pass by the first period when Gary Soden, senior quarterback for the club, Stevens ended the night with six points in the third period and a 43-yard run by Smith in the fourth added six more.

WAKEFIELD'S Steve Oswald cuts sharply on his tote while Lyons defenders home in on him. The contest Friday finished off the season for the two East Husker foes.

Fumbles Cost Trojans Win Friday

Six costly fumbles plus a strong passing attack proved to be too much for the Wakefield Trojans Friday night as they dropped their season finale to Lyons, 32-20.

The Trojans, who entered the game with a 2-7 record, proved to be again a bit better statistically than the Lyons club (1-7), edging them out on total yardage, 143-136. But those six fumbles gave the needed points to Lyons.

The first touchdown came in the opening minutes of play for the Lyons club, as they capitalized on a fumbled Trojan punt. Although Lyons was unable to score directly from the fumble, it gave them good enough field position (inside the Trojan 20-yard line) to score the TD.

NEN Hunter Fined

A northeast Nebraska hunter was fined $10 and costs for hunting without a permit recently. Receiving the fine was Bruce Buss, 18, of Merce.

Wakefield's first touchdown of the second half of play came on a halfback pass from Lee Miner to Jerry Nicholson clicked for 51 yards and the six points. Gardner added the bonus points for the Trojans, making the score 18-14.

Gardner then went on to cap a long drive for the second Trojan scoring series, going over from the seven.

Final scoring of the game came in the fourth quarter when Lyons, leading 24-20, put together a Nelson-Thomsen pass play for 36-yards and the final six points. The conversion was good.

The first TD of the second half of action came on a fumble-Lyons' big defensive end Steve Thomsen snatching a Trojan fumble and carrying it 34 yards into the endzone.

Fumbles again set up the other two Lyons TD's, with Nelson and back Jeff Carle adding six more points each.

State's 'Winningest' Retains 7th Position

That 30-12 win the Laurel Bears recently chalked up against the Wayne High Blue Devils enabled them to retain a firm grasp on the No. 7 spot in last week's Omaha World-Herald ranking of Class B football teams in Nebraska.

The Bears took an 8-0 season into Friday's season finale at home against O'Neill. They have already clinched the titles in the West Husker and the Northeast Nebraska Athletic Conferences.

Still firmly entrenched in first place in the Class B Ratings is Lincoln Plus X with a 5-2 mark. Lexington (7-0-1) holds a second place and Columbus Scotus (8-0) holds third. The rest of the list: Ord (6-2), Aurora (7-1), Blair (6-1), Laurel (8-0).

Laurel's Moore Choice for Clinic At Kearney State

Larry Moore, one of the most successful basketball coaches in the state, will headline the first Kearney State College game Clinic Saturday.

Also helping out during the all-day clinic will be Byron Loeschner, North Platte game mentor, and Don Morgan, Cambridge coach. The three men will discuss "Free Wheeling Off the Fast Break" along with HSC Coaches Jerry Hueser and Dr. Doyle Pyfe during the clinic. Following a noon luncheon, those attending the clinic will take in the Kearney-Northern State football contest.

The clinic is free for coaches, players and fans. Moore, a 1961 graduate of Kearney, has racked up a record of 98 wins and 14 defeats in his nine-year stint at Laurel. During his career he has taken the Bears to the state tournament once (last year when they lost to undefeated Cozad in the finals in the Class B meet) and has guided them to 15 tournament and conference championships. His 1968-69 team lost just one game—the regional play-off. All together, the three coaches have a hefty 301-84 record. Further information on the clinic can be obtained by contacting Coach Hueser.

thing and everyone in the area knew it. We jumped in the Lizzy about 9 a.m. Thursday morning and drove to Wakefield and Allen. Having lived in this area more than 20 years J. W. has known for a long time that there are lots and lots of great people living around here, but they are especially nice when the sun is out and they can breathe in a lot of that invigorating fall air. As we drove along the highway it was interesting to note that all of nature seemed to be taking advantage of the warmer weather. For instance, in one pen there were several hogs busy grunting away their contentment as they lay in a row basking in the sun.

After chatting with folks in Allen we drove west through the hills to Dixon. Golle-e-e if you haven't been through that part of the country, go take a look one of these nice days. Some of you hunters probably did that very thing Saturday hunting pheasants. After visiting with several of the friendly people at Dixon we drove into Concord and on out to the Northeast Station. Have you ever been there?

We visited with Darold Beckenhauer and Paul Kerr who were busy operating a mini-threshing machine testing the various effects of atrazine on sorghum. They too were taking advantage of the pleasant temperatures and finishing up that particular job. Paul is learning how to fly and the kind of weather we had Thursday makes a man want to drop everything and make like a bird over the countryside. We hope he was able to get in a little flying time after working hours.

From the Northeast Station we drove to Wayne for lunch and checked back into the office for a roll or two of film, then headed west to Carroll. You folk at Carroll are soon going to have that new sewer system all installed and working. Guess there is still considerable work yet, but won't it be nice when it's finished.

From Carroll we drove on down to Windside noting that crewmen are beginning to get the new concrete surfacing finished on Highway 98.

We visited numerous people in Windside. The music department of the high school there is taking full advantage of the stage and auditorium in the new elementary building and plans to present the musical "Oklahoma" in a few weeks. Crews were hard at work rehearsing Thursday. Looks like a good show. Mark those dates on Nov. 20 and 21.

From Windside we drove on west to Hoskins. Everybody we visited with Thursday had a big smile and was in good spirits. Lots of sunshine does help a person's mood. We had a dish of ice cream with strawberries on it in the Hans Asmus kitchen. There are a lot of friendly folks in Hoskins.

In fact, this whole area is that way, you know it? Oh sure, there are a few frowning frogs in this neck of the north-east Nebraska who never crack a smile, crack a joke or say hello, but they apparently have enough misery without our being unkind, so we might as well smile at them too. Some folks are only happy when they are miserable, but if that's the way they like it we sure wouldn't want to upset them by making them smile.

Hoskins is not only friendly, but it's a village that is really on the ball. One of the things quite noticeable is the number of people who take pride in their homes and yards. Well, we left there and headed back home to Wayne. After a quick bite to eat we took the camera and snapped some pictures at several places including the Wayne High School where the cast of "The Innocents" was putting final touches on their production slated Nov. 13 and 14. Those Thespians are real troopers and from what little we saw of the rehearsal, we are sure you will want to plan on seeing the play. It is a mystery with lots of haunting details.

What is the good of a good thing if no one knows about it? Thursday was a good thing and the best thing was re-discovering what a great thing we north-east Nebraskans have going for us in the way of land and people.

'That Was Good Insurance'

Mona Langenberg and Jane Witt were two of the Windside High School students working Sunday to pay off Halloween Spook Insurance sold as a March of Dimes project. The Teen-Age Program (TAPS) sold insurance policies which guaranteed the owner that any mess left by spooks Saturday night would be cleaned up. Teens in both Windside and Wayne sold the insurance. Clean up operations in Wayne (below) were handled by fraternity men. Members of the Beta Sigma Chi fraternity on this wash job are, from left to right, Ron Deitloff (hidden), Dave Roberts, Don Brenning, Dan Roberts and Jerry Carstensen. The project netted about $200 for the March of Dimes.
