Books, Boots Banned at WSC

Books and boots hit the dust Tuesday afternoon as the thermometer in Wayne climbed over 60 degrees. The Indian summer weather prompted a host of Wayne State students to kick off their shoes and boots, toss their books to the ground and take up a game of touch football.

Ban on Burning Will Be Enforced

The city council agreed Tuesday night to go ahead with enforcement of the ban on burning which the council recently adopted. The burning restriction affects all residents of the city except those with approved incinerators. A definition as to what is an approved incinerator will be obtained from state officials and a city official who will have the responsibility of checking on those incinerators will be named later. Several councilmen have been questioned by residents of the city following publication in the Wayne Herald of the ordinance banning burning within the city limits. Penalty for breaking the law can range up to a $100 fine. Council also took steps to get rid of the open sewage problem on the north end of Walnut Street in the northeast corner of the city. The process of setting up a sewer district was put in motion by the councilmen after learning that seven of the nine property owners in the area are willing to go along with such a district. Councilmen did their part in making the Christmas season a little brighter in Wayne again this year. They agreed to award gift certificates worth $25, $15 and $10 to the home owners with the best holiday lighting displays. The local Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the lighting project again this year. In other action the council: Approved giving $10 gifts to all city employees for Christmas this year. The gifts are an increase over the $5 gifts given out the past few years. Turned down a request to do away with the parking restrictions on the north side of Ninth Street between Lincoln and Pearl. The request came in the form of a petition signed by eight of the nine people living on the block. Approved the gas rate increase proposed by Peoples Natural Gas. The rate increase, which will go into effect later in December, will increase the bill to the average residential user from $139.72 to $156.40 a year. Okayed a $125 monthly rate to be charged to Wayne State College for use of the city landfill. A separate rate will be negotiated for use of the landfill by the food service at the college.

Pancakes, Syrup On Carroll Menu

Hundreds of sausages and large supplies of pancake flour, eggs, coffee and milk are being readied at Carroll for the annual Pancake Day feed scheduled from 4 to 8 p.m. Saturday in the village auditorium. Sponsored by the Carroll Community Club and served by the Legion Auxiliary, the pancake feed is held each year as a gesture of appreciation to all of Carroll's business customers. Dave Lahr, secretary of the Community Club, said both those men on the farm and in Carroll will join efforts to host the general public to the free pancake feed. Items on the traditional menu Saturday evening will include lots of hot pancakes, sausages, syrup, butter and coffee.

Contest Slated By Kiwanis Club For Home Decor

Wayne residents may win prizes again this Christmas in the annual Kiwanis Club home decoration contest. It is not necessary, according to a club spokesman, to make formal entry in the contest as judging will be done on all decorated homes in town that are lighted and on city electrical service. Judging will be done before Christmas and announcement of winners will be made in the Wayne Herald. Winners will receive gift certificates in the denominations of $25 for first place, $15 for second place and $10 for third place, to be applied toward the purchase of an electrical appliance. Homes will be judged according to originality, detail in the construction, use of color and general appearance.

Music Concert Set

The public is invited to the fall concert to be presented Monday evening at Allen High School. The concert, under the direction of Mrs. Keith Krueger, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Sunday Graduation For College Nears

Fall-term studies are nearing the end at Wayne State, with commencement scheduled Sunday afternoon at 3 in Plee Auditorium and final examinations for non-grading students starting Monday.

The idea of having commencement on Sunday was tried last April as a convenience to families and friends of graduates. The result was a huge crowd in Plee.

Weather

Dame Nature has thrown an extra blanket over northeast Nebraska so far this month and thereby kept pre-Christmas temperatures some warmer this year than last. Area thermometers got up over the 65-degree mark Tuesday afternoon. Temperatures for the past week and a year ago:

Burning in City Now Illegal

All burning within the city limits of Wayne is now prohibited. There will be a little something for everybody including Santa's ho-ho-ho at the second annual Christmas party slated Saturday at the Wayne City Auditorium if everything goes as scheduled. The old gentleman from the North Pole with his long whiskers appeared at the party last year and plans to make it again this time. Other events at the party include games, Christmas candy, carols, movie cartoons, a Christmas play or narration and lunch. Party activities are set to get started at 10 a.m. and will continue until 2 p.m. Sponsors of the affair are two Wayne State College Greek organizations, Kappa Delta Gamma Sorority and Tau Gamma Epsilon Fraternity and its women's auxiliary, The Order of Beta. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded to each grade level (kindergarten through sixth grade) for hiddies making the best Christmas drawings or posters.

Queen, Orphans Are Winners at WS

There were two winners at the Queen of the Green dance at Wayne State College—the queen and a Nebraska orphanage. Crowned Queen of the Green—of the freshman class, that is—was Roxie Anderson of Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson. Last year's Queen of the Green, Sheila Schreurs, crowned her successor after Dwight Eveland, president of the Student Union Board, introduced the six candidates. Students attending the annual dance Saturday night paid an unusual admission—a new toy. The result: more than 500 toys of wide variety. The Union Board also has invited Wayne area residents to join the project this week. Eveland, a senior from Omaha, 3721 Summit Street, said the Union Board will send the toys to a Nebraska orphanage.

Appointment of the Wakefield community leader was made this week by Mrs. James Mariett, 1971 March of Dimes campaign director for Dixon County. "The greatest gift a mother receives is perfect health for her child," Mrs. Busby said, "yet during the busy time it takes to read this story a mother will be denied that joy. Every other

Wakefield Quint Tackles Women

It may not be talked about very much by the Wakefield team losses, but the benefit basketball game set for Wakefield Saturday night is stirring up quite a bit of interest right now. Playing the Wakefield town team will be the Texas Cowgirls, a group of women who travel around the country handling plenty of deficits to upstart teams composed of men. Many sports fans may remember the Cowgirls as the team which played the preliminary games prior to the Harlem Globetrotters contests when that team was on the road a few years ago. Proceeds from the contest, scheduled for the elementary school auditorium, will go to help build the Sight Conservation Clinic being phased by Lions Clubs across the state.

Meeting Scheduled

Plus Pin, Flag Get Boost

A circular metal button with a plus sign and a decal featuring the American flag are currently becoming such popular give-away items that it is difficult to keep enough of a supply on hand to meet the demand, according to the manager of McDonald's in Wayne. Don Mangers, manager of the Wayne business, noted early this week that his company originated the "Plus" button project and then joined in the "Nebraskans Say America is Beautiful" program. He said that both the buttons and decals are very popular and are being given away by the dozen. The "Plus" button has taken on national prominence throughout the McDonald's stores and employees have a campaign of paying small fines if a clerk or manager forgets to wear the pin. The plus sign is a result of going from the negative (-) to See PLUS, FLAG, page 6

Attorneys for the plaintiffs in the non-resident high school tuition suit have filed their brief, a resume of arguments and points of law, with the State Supreme Court, Wayne County Attorney Don Reed, counsel for the Wayne County Board of Equalization, defendant, said Tuesday he plans to file the defendant's brief with that court around Dec. 27. Reed also noted that intervening school districts plan to file briefs soon. All arguments and points of law summarized in the briefs of the plaintiffs and defendants must be filed with the court. Then the briefs and oral arguments are considered by the court and a decision is made. Reed said the court will probably consider the briefs and listen to oral argument later this See SUIT, page 6

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: What are your duties as a funeral director?

ANSWER: Since the beginning of time close friends have been called upon at the time of death to carry out the necessary religious and legal requirements of burial. Our funeral establishment actually evolved from the need on the part of people to turn to someone thorough and qualified. Although our facilities have been continually updated throughout the years, our responsibility to function as a friend has remained constant. We are charged with arranging the details of a funeral, death certificates, Social Security and Veterans forms, newspaper notices, burial permits and cemetery forms are all routinely processed by us.

A funeral is essentially a religious ceremony. Because of this fact we must maintain a constant awareness of the funeral policies of all religious organizations. We furnish the place, the technical knowledge and the mobility required to assist the family and the clergy in the proper conduct of a funeral service.

Oven Tips For Better Baking
How the oven is used can make the difference between disappointment and joy in a holiday baking spree.

For even baking the heated air must circulate freely. Don't block air circulation with cookie sheets or other pans that are too big. (This is a common error with the small, upper ovens of eye-level ranges.)

Pans should not be allowed to touch the side of the oven or touch each other; allow two inches for air to circulate between and around utensils, and allow as much space as possible between oven racks.

Lower racks and crinkles should be baked on racks located at the center position in the oven. Sponge, angel, chiffon and fruit cakes should be baked at the lower rack position.

Do not misuse aluminum foil. For a gas oven, cut a piece just a little larger than the pan and put it on a rack three or four inches below the pan. Do not let it completely cover a rack or block the openings provided for air circulation. In an electric oven, foil may be used on the oven bottom, but it should not touch the heating element.

Oven cleaners, particularly the spray type, can coat the thermostat sensing device so that it cannot sense the oven temperature accurately. If such a cleaner is used, be sure to follow label directions and carefully wipe any cleaner off the sensing bulb (metal tube) in the oven.

If cakes need to bake top-sided, the range may be sitting on an uneven floor. Use the leveling screws found on most ranges to adjust the position of the oven.

On automatic or clock-controlled ranges, reset the controls for manual use after automatic cooking or baking. Any time an oven won't heat, check these controls before calling the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kluge were guests Sunday afternoon of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kluge, Kerlanee, Mendota, and new baby Kaurene Hel, Milford.

Two Cage Losses Catch Predictors Nappin'

by Norvin Hansen

Few followers of area basketball would have ventured far enough out on a limb to predict those two routs last week—the 78-49 whipping of Winside by Ponca and the 81-59 defeat of Laurel by Norfolk Catholic.

Fighting only one starter of last year's team, Winside's Jim Winch had to rely on near perfect ball handling and mparge fouling to make up for some less-than-admirable shooting from the field to get by Wakefield Friday night, 40-35. At the same time Allen was knocking off Ponca, 52-49. On paper, the Winside-Allen game slated for Winside late-January looks like a nip and tuck affair. So what happens Saturday night? Ponca scores 26 points to Winside's nine in the first period on the way to an easy 78-49 win.

Friday night's shocking loss by Laurel served one useful purpose. It relieved the young cage club of a lot of pressure built up during a nearly perfect season last year when the Bears scratched their way to runner-up slot in the Class B state tournament.

A lot of people expected a tough contest for the Bears Friday night. Two starters on the bench with injuries, Steve Smith and George Schroeder, and regular Steve Erwin hampered with an ankle sprain were the primary reasons for those expectations.

But a 22-point loss wasn't even contemplated by the most astute fans. And that big a loss after a 34-25 lead for the Bears at intermission was even more remote.

There were two minor surprises in weekend basketball: Wayne edging a taller Blair club by one point, 55-54, and Allen getting by Coleridge by two, 56-54. Wayne's victory gets Don Johnson off to a good start. Johnson is new to the job of head cage boss this year, taking over from Dick Nelson. Allen's win was proof of what determination can do—the Eagles were down by 14 points early in the game but managed to squeeze past a crew which some think will be conference championship material this season.

Cautious predictions of Friday night's action: Laurel over Hartington Cedar Catholic, Allen over Homer, Wisner-Pfizer over Wakefield and Winside over Walthill. Saturday: Allen over Pender and Winside over Newcastle.

Delated congratulations go out to Steve Kamish, one of the star performers on this year's Wayne High football team. He received honorable mention as lineman on the Lincoln Journal's Class B all-state team. Kamish had 58 tackles, 38 assists for Allen Hansen this year to tie Chuck Weible for top defensive honors. Members of the select Journal group were Steve Erwin of Laurel at quarterback and Kim Thomas of Perce at tackle.

The tallest cager ever to wear a University of Nebraska at Omaha uniform is a person many Wayne sports buffs will probably remember. He's Merlin Renner, a 6-10 center out of Madison High. At Madison he earned all-state recognition, scoring 619 points his senior year. His game high at Madison: 49 points.

Supporters of the Wayne High wrestling team won't have to travel to Fremont tonight (Thursday) after all. That match with Bergan has been cancelled. In place of it will be a Randolph-Wayne contest at the high school auditorium. There will be no admission price to see what kind of team the Randolph school can field the first year in the sport. First action starts at 6:30.

Finally Coming Down

Those familiar wooden bleachers at the Wayne ball park have served many a baseball fan over the years. Now they are being replaced by new fiberglass seating. The city council decided at its meeting late in November to set aside $5,000 for the purpose of painting and fixing up the grandstand and replacing the wooden bleachers which have rotted extensively the past few years.

Appreciation Banquet

Eagles 'Hustle' to Win Over Coleridge

by Norvin Hansen

"We just plain outthusted them in the second half." That's the way Buster Yannon, head basketball coach at Allen High, explained the 56-54 come-from-behind win over Coleridge Saturday night.

The same thing happened just the evening before when the Eagles, also playing on their boards.

The Eagles, now with a 2-0 mark, take on the Homer Knights in a home game Friday. Saturday they travel to Pender.

Revived Ponca Quintet Drops Winside, 78-49

A hot shooting squad from Ponca High handed visiting Winside a convincing 78-49 defeat Saturday night. The loss was Winside's first in two outings this season.

Shooting at a blistering pace, the Indians coasted to 26-9 and 51-21 leads at the first two quarter-breaks.

Winside, beaten badly on the boards much of the contest, managed to outscore the hosts in the third frame to trail by 24 points, 64-49, going into the final frame.

The Wildcats, victors over visiting Wakefield an evening before, were bothered constantly by turnovers. They committed 25 before the night was out. Ponca had 13 turnovers, only two of them coming in the first half of play.

The Indians suffered a 52-49 loss at Allen in their opener Friday night.

Gary Soden came up with 25 points on nine field goals and an enviable seven-of-eight at the free throw line for scoring honors for the losing Winside quintet. Jon Behmer was the only other Wildcat to hit two figures. He had 15 points on three field goals and nine of 11 free throws.

Ponca put four men in double figures: Dwight Bortoff with 25, Steve Fomes with 14, Rick Jensen with 14 and Blair Lockwood with 11. Bortoff will be around next year to harass the Wildcats—he's only a 5-10 junior guard.

home floor, knocked over a Ponca quintet bent on chalking up a win in the season opener for both schools.

Allen, although playing without competent Brian Linafelter and Gary Troth, both seniors, was down by 20-12 at the end of the first quarter against Coleridge, but managed to limit the big Bulldog team to just six points in the second frame to pull to within one point at intermission, 26-25.

At one point in the second period the Eagles were down by 14 points, 26-12, before speedy Loren Reuter and John Warner helped them whittle away that margin.

Then, using Reuter's speed effectively, the Eagles kept close at the heels of the visitors until they were able to edge ahead by two late in the tth.

Reuter, although only 5-8, ended the night with 24 points and scoring laurels for both teams. Closest man to him were Coleridge's Fox with 17 and Frederichs with 16. Warner ended the night with an even dozen counters, followed by Jerome Roberts with 10.

Strong off the boards for the winning quint were Roberts with 19 and Warner with 11.

The Eagles hit poorly from the floor, making only 19 of 65 shots for a dismal 29 per cent. Ponca connected at a 39 per cent clip.

The Eagle reserves suffered a 39-33 loss. Three Allen cagers tied with eight points each for scoring honors: Allen's sophomore, Pete Snyder, and freshmen Charles Hank and Scott Von Minden. Von Minden with seven rebounds led off the

Balanced Scoring Leads Rec Quintet To City League Win

A fine display of balanced scoring aided Team IV to a slim 47-46 win over Team I in men's city recreation basketball action Monday night.

Steve Schram with a dozen counters led that scoring attack, followed by John Matson with 11, Dennis Spangler with 10 and Roger Lentz with nine. Harlan Fresse's 21 and Hank Over's 10 were top among the losers.

In other two games, Team IV smashed Team V, 72-50, behind the 32-point effort of Jim Florine and the 14-point effort of Brent Lessmann, and Team III walked by Team II, 74-45, as Don Koerber clicked for 18 and Ron Dalton for 17. High for the losers were Tom Dendinger with 25 and John Dorey with 17 for Team V. Ken Dahl with 16 for Team II.

Next A League action is Monday night at the city auditorium with Team III and VI playing at 7, I and V at 8 and II and IV at 9.

Gators Decision Wakefield

Wakefield, playing the host Tuesday night, suffered losses by the varsity and the reserves against Wisner-Pilger wrestlers in the season opener for both teams.

Wakefield managed just four victories in the varsity end of the meet. Gaining wins there were Miles Pearson at 105 pounds, 1:54 pin over Kevin Rathke; Steve Oswald at 132 pounds, 1:41 pin over Jim Record; Jerel Schroeder at 145 pounds, 5:08 pin over Ray Stuckensmidt, and Kirk Gardner at 167 pounds, 2:42 pin over Mark Lambert.

Losing their varsity matches were Dave Rouse, 98 pounds, 3:41 pin by Jack McGuire; Dave Bodlak, 112 pounds, 1:55 pin by Calvin Welchman; Dave Carlson, 119 pounds, 8:0 decision by Dick Welchman; Randy Jensen, 126 pounds, 3:07 pin by Roger Schweers; Bob Twite, 138 pounds, 11-2 decision to Hugh McGuire; Jack Stevers, 155 pounds, 1:23 pin by Jim Pollock. Wakefield forfeited in both the 185-pound and heavyweight classes because the Trojans were unable to field wrestlers.

Only Trojan winning his match in the reserve action was Bruce Lühr at 142 pounds. He came up with a 1:14 pin over Sam Renick.

The Trojans meet Leigh in a road trip Saturday, host Pender next Tuesday night.

Singleton, Wynn MVP Selections

Sam Singleton and Mike Wynn gained the honor of most valuable players on Wayne State College's 1970 football team, Coach Del Stolenberg said Tuesday.

Teammates elected Singleton, Wayne's all-time rushing champion, MVP on offense, and Wynn

MVP on defense for the second year.

Singleton, a senior from Elizabeth, N.J., concentrated on of-

Singleton

Wynn

Stolenberg said of Singleton, "He did everything a player can do except kick the ball in his four seasons. His career passing efforts totaled nine completions in 17 attempts for 216 yards, giving him a total offense of 3,219."

Stolenberg said of Singleton,

'Cat Grapplers Defeat Pender Tuesday Night

Windside's varsity wrestling crew shut out visiting Pender in all but three weight classes Tuesday night on the way to rolling up a 32-15 win over the visitors.

Wildcat Roger Anderson started the ball rolling for his squad when he came up with a 7-0 decision in the 126-pound weight class to score Windside's first points after losing three matches and gaining points on a win by forfeit to Dave Jaeger in the 105-pound class.

Making a sweep of the meet after the Anderson win—except for a 4-4 tie by Gaylen Stevens at 167 pounds—were:

Rob Langenberg, pin at 132 pounds; Dale Miller, pin at 138 pounds; Terry Jaeger, 14-1 decision at 145 pounds; Dean Krueger, 15-0 at 155 pounds; Larry Cleveland, 4-1 decision at 185 pounds, and Dennis Wade, 3-0 decision in the heavyweight class.

The confidence gained from that win will be carried over to next Thursday night's clash at Neligh.

"It will be hard to replace his talent and his durability too. Sam took a lot of punishment in the tailback position, carrying as often as he did, and with the opposition leaning on him."

Singleton's most notable statistic is the per-carry average of 4.5 yards on the staggering total of 658 rushes. He missed only one of Wayne's 37 games in four years—as a sophomore with a leg injury. As a junior he played fulltime defensive back in all nine games and tailback in six.

Wynn, a junior from Grand Island—where Stolenberg was his high school coach—rated the defensive MVP nod as a tackle. Defensive Line Coach Ralph Barclay said of Wynn, "He consistently did his job, and he often outplayed bigger opponents."

The 6-1 230-pounder got a big share of tackles and frequently did it in the enemy backfield, Barclay noted.

Both Singleton and Wynn were selected on All-Nebraska College teams.

Devil Grapplers Meet Cards Tonight

The Blue Devil grapplers, bruised from a loss to big Class B Blair last Thursday night by a 34-20 score, will get to take on an inexperienced Randolph Cardinal crew tonight (Thursday) in the high school auditorium.

The wrestlers had been scheduled to meet Fremont Bergan in an away meet tonight but that meet was cancelled by Fremont school officials as a disciplinary measure. The Randolph-Wayne affair was quickly arranged.

There will be no admission to tonight's contest. First action begins at 6:30.

Last Thursday at the city auditorium the Devils managed to pull off victories in only four weight classes in the varsity meet:

Darrell Hank's pin in the 112-pound class, Jim Meyer's pin in the 126-pound class, Rod Sievers pin in the 155-pound class and Dave Johnson's pin in the heavyweight class. All four pins came in the first period.

Losing to their Blair opponents: Scott Hall by pin at 98 pounds, Terry Pfeiffer by pin at 105 pounds, Barry Ruback by pin at 119 pounds, Mark Belermann by decision at 132 pounds, Ron Ring by decision at 138 pounds, Tony Pfueger by pin at 145 pounds, Jim Kenny by decision at 167 pounds and Lynn Gunderson by pin at 185 pounds.

Winning their matches in the reserve meet were Blaine Ruback, pin in 126-pound class; Jim Niemann, pin in 132; Brad Pfueger, pin in 145; Ken Otte, pin in 167; Steve Kamish, pin in 185. Tying his opponent at 3-3 was Chuck Kudrna in the 155-pound division.

After tonight's match the local squad will prepare for the Dec. 17 clash with Wisner-Pilger. The meet is at the Gator auditorium.

Cats' Win Satisfying

By Dick Manley

Coach Ron Jones wore a smile Tuesday night after the Wayne State Wildcats organized themselves into a 74-63 basketball win over Midland. They put together several scoring bursts and applied the defensive brakes most of the time.

"Could have beaten Northwestern playing like this," Jones declared. A week earlier the Wildcats had failed to put the pieces together often enough in a 75-57 loss to Northwestern.

Against Midland, the Cats balanced their game with four players scoring in double figures, from Dennis Siefer's 23 to Jerry Woodin's 10. And they shut off Midland scoring for nearly six minutes late in the first half.

The Warriors, however, made a tussle of it. They led most of the first 15 minutes before Wayne surged from a 22-14 deficit to a 25-24 lead. After a 32-27 intermission the Wildcats zipped to 42-29, only to see that lead evaporate as Midland gained a brief lead at 52-51.

Dana Trofholz hooked in six field goals within a few minutes to keep Wayne moving, and Siefer mastered the rebounding hassles to get four more fielders that put the Cats safely ahead.

Wayne will take a 2-1 record into a two-game trip this weekend, at Southwest Minnesota Friday and the University of Northern Iowa Saturday.

Athlete of the Week

Jerome Roberts

By Norvin Hansen

A shortened finger on his shooting hand, the result of a losing clash with a grass mower, hasn't bothered Allen High's big Jerome Roberts. In fact, he turned in two respectable enough showings for the Allen cage crew to earn recognition as the first "Athlete of the Week" of the winter sports season.

The 6-4 son of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Roberts of rural Allen, Jerome stuffed in 10 points and had a host of second half rebounds against Ponca in the Eagle opener Friday night, then turned around and matched his point production while bettering his rebound performance against Coleridge Saturday night.

The two showings for the senior helped the Eagles to wins in both squeakers—52-49 over Ponca and 56-54 over Coleridge.

Roberts lost the end of his index finger on his right hand when he and classmate Brain Linafelter were moving the football field before the Allen homecoming game in mid-October. The rugged athlete played in that contest despite the injury.

Buster Yannon, head coach in all sports at Allen, said he is very pleased with the way 200 pound center is performing on the basketball court. Yannon was concerned about whether Roberts would be too awkward to be of use, one of his problems a year ago, but that's not worrying him now.

"He's hustling a lot and has fair speed for his size," Yannon noted. Also pleasing, says Yannon, when Roberts goes up after the ball two, three and four times without giving up.

Outweighed by Ponca's big men Friday night, Roberts was boxed out of the inside action during the second half. But finally started getting inside during the second half and came off the boards with at least 15 caroms, his coach said. Against Coleridge the senior grabbed off 19 rebounds while playing against big 6-7 Jim Leapley. Roberts managed that foe nicely, said Yannon, and kept him from getting the ball and out from under the bucket much of the contest.

Topping off his performance against Coleridge was his cashing in on a one-and-one situation which put the Eagles ahead by four points, 56-52, late in the game.

 winter and hand down a decision in the spring.
 The suit filed early this year tied up 100 per cent of non-resident tuition funds in Wayne County until District Judge Merrill C. Warren ruled to release 65 per cent of the monies last summer. Wayne County had only enough money on hand to pay 54 per cent of the 65 per cent to the nine area schools affected.

 Seventh Street.
 Police investigated a collision around 12:11 a.m. Sunday in the 300 block on Main which involved four vehicles. Officers said John Schaefer, Marysville, Kan., was northbound on Main Street in a 1966 Ford and ran into a parked 1970 Chevrolet owned by John Fitzpatrick, Storm Lake, Iowa, causing an estimated $809 damage. The Fitzpatrick vehicle was pushed forward by the impact into a parked 1964 Chevrolet owned by Kenneth Hansen, Wayne. The Hansen auto was pushed forward into a parked 1968 Ford belonging to Dewayne Knudson of Newcastle.

 Another Sunday accident occurred around 1:38 p.m. when a 1967 Pontiac driven by Bob Barr, Wayne, was southbound on Nebraska Street and was in collision with a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Scott Fullbright, Clearwater, who was eastbound on Sixth Street, according to officers.
 A four-wheel trailer became unhooked from a truck while being pulled east on Third Street around 4:25 p.m. Tuesday by Brock Laws, Wayne, police reported, and struck a one-way street sign in the 600 block.

Plus, Flag -

 Store executives have promoted the idea of going from the negative to the positive and taking positive action, becoming optimistic and confident of today and the future said Mangers. The promotion is aimed toward improving everyone, their businesses and their country.
 A store bulletin notes, "I live in the finest country in the world, a nation which has done more for people and provided a better life for millions. This country has some faults and some problems, but it has always solved them and will continue to do so."
 Mangers says many young people are coming into the store asking for the buttons.
 The American flag decals originated in Nebraska and now, Mangers says, other states are copying the idea. Governor Norbert Tiemann informed President Nixon about the campaign. Nixon said in a letter to Tiemann that the campaign "expresses an enthusiasm and a conviction which I am sure the great majority of the citizens throughout the nation share. This splendid initiative on the part of the people of Nebraska is an example to all of us."

 Mangers said his firm ordered a large supply of decals. Clerks give the American flag decal, along with a "Plus" button, to interested customers.

peared incorrectly in the last issue of The Wayne Herald, lists schools filling non-resident tuition claims with the county for a total of 255 pupils, the 54 per cent of funds schools received last summer, the 11 per cent paid out last week, the 65 per cent limit schools may have until the court suit is settled, the 35 per cent that is being held and finally the total amount of each school's claim. (The total figures were correct in the Monday issue but two columns of figures were in error.) Figures have been rounded off to the nearest dollar.

Honey Sales High

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Russell of Allen, chairmen in Dixon County for the recent Honey Sunday drive, reported a very successful collection of funds this year. About 200 people in the county sold 1,020 jars of honey during the day in spite of the cold weather. A breakdown on the number of jars sold in each community in the county: 275 in Ponca and Newcastle, 210 in Wakefield, 60 in Dixon, 125 in Allen, 84 in Martinsburg, 48 in Concord and 39 in Waterbury. Dixon County's contribution to the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children, reports the Russells, was $719.05.

Census Survey Slated For Area Next Week

A number of households in the Wayne area will take part in a nationwide survey on employment and unemployment to be conducted next week by the Bureau of the Census, Guy A. Lutz, director of the Bureau's regional office in St. Paul announced.
 This survey is taken monthly by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor. The households interviewed are scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households throughout the United States.
 Statistics on conditions in the labor force, especially on the unemployed, are prime measures of economic conditions of the country. In October, for example, 11.5 million persons were employed and 4.3 million were unemployed, with a seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 5.6 per cent.
 Men and women in the sample households who have done hired farm work during 1970 will be asked to provide information about their work experience. These additional questions are asked in the monthly survey annually for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
 Facts about individuals collected in the survey are held confidential by law; the results can be published only as statistical totals.

Crack Down on Burning

A recently adopted city ordinance prohibits the burning of any garbage, rubbish, trash, waste or any other material within the city limits except in an approved incinerator within a residence or business building.

Vern Fatchild, Wayne chief of police, has noted that those violating the ordinance will not be given a warning ticket, but will be arrested. Persons violating the ordinance will be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction may be fined any sum not exceeding $100 for each offense.

The new ordinance explains that garbage, rubbish, trash and waste may be disposed by taking it to the city's dumping grounds and that such is not to be thrown or permitted to fall into the city's streets and alleys. Garbage is to be deposited in plastic or metal containers and disposed of by the owner, tenant or occupant of the premises, or by an authorized collector. Burning of leaves, paper, branches, sticks and Christmas trees within the city limits is prohibited by the ordinance, unless such burning takes place in an approved incinerator.

The ordinance speaks of an "approved incinerator within a residence or business building." This means materials may not be burned in a regular out-of-doors trash burner.

Residents having any questions about the new ordinance and its limitations may call the city clerk for clarification.

Wayne is but one of many cities passing this type of legislation after examining the problem of growing pollution and potential danger of open trash fires. —MMW

Interesting Hearing Coming

Anybody interested in the hearing on those proposed guidelines for sex education in Nebraska schools should tune in the Nebraska Educational Television Network Sunday evening at 5 p.m. The film will be shown again Monday evening at 7 p.m.

It may turn out interesting, that hearing on those guidelines. A committee assigned to study health-family life education came up with a majority and a minority report only recently. The majority recommended general guidelines for school districts interested in offering sex education to their students. The minority disagreed and suggested that the state board ban sex education in schools.

The minority apparently thinks sex will just go away if we avoid talking about it long enough. —NLH

Punch Boards

Remember those colorful boards that used to be around where the customer paid a small fee and punched out a circle on the board hoping to win a big prize? It seems as though punch boards are making the rounds again.

Donald R. Reed, Wayne County attorney, said early this week that a salesman of punch boards and other gaming devices was recently in Wayne County soliciting business. Reed said that except in rare circumstances, all such gaming devices are strictly prohibited by state law.

Violations of the state gaming laws will be prosecuted, Reed pointed out, when sufficient evidence is available to warrant such prosecution. He also emphasized that any evidence that such devices are in the possession of liquor licensees will be referred to the State Liquor Commission.

Maximum penalty upon conviction of the violation is a $500 fine or six months in jail, or both.

Reed has informed numerous businesses in the county about the punch boards and has invited questions concerning the matter to be directed to him.

We believe the county attorney will find the majority of Wayne County residents approving his get-tough policy in enforcing this particular law or any other. —MMW

Dear Editor: Words cannot express the appreciation we owe you for all the recognition you have given us this year in football and in all athletics for the past couple years. The time spent taking pictures, gathering statistics and other small but important aspects of athletics has helped our write-ups become eagerly awaited reading in the Wayne paper.

We especially wish to thank you for the weekly summaries of our games, the player of the week recognition and, most of all, the West Husker All-Star Team in which we placed seven players and for which I was named honorary coach. We look upon this as a great honor and are extremely grateful to you for taking your time to make this possible. My plaque and the boys' awards will be valued lifetime possessions.

Your hard work in gathering material on all area schools, I'm sure, has helped athletics in this area to improve. Once again, thank you and keep up the good work.

Much Discussed Milk Prices Go Into Effect on Monday

LINCOLN — A bullbait has been raised above the minimum prices for the wholesale and retail merchandising of milk.

The prices, established by the Nebraska Dairy Advisory Board under authority granted by the 1969 Legislature, are due to go into effect Dec. 14.

However, action was filed in Lancaster County District Court in Lincoln last week designed to prevent the implementation of the price lists determined by the board.

The court case was initiated by Goodrich Dairy Co. of Omaha, a consistent opponent of the dairy trade practices legislation. The firm fought the bill when it was in the Legislature, protested against it when the advisory board was holding its pre-price-setting hearings and filed the court action after the prices were established.

Also protesting the board's decision is Hinky-Dinky Supermarkets, which had opposed the measure when it was being considered by the state senators.

Organizations representing welfare recipients also have protested the new prices and there has been talk in Omaha and Lincoln of boycotts of fresh milk if the minimum price list becomes effective.

The consumer organizations, however, didn't appear at the legislative or advisory board hearings.

Supporters of the legislation — including many of the state's largest dairy processors — argued before the senators and claim now that without the bill there would be further erosion of the dairy industry. This, they claim, would result in monopolies or near monopolies and the consumer would face much higher prices.

Milk producers — the farmers — generally have supported the law on the theory that it will prevent monopoly-caused price increases and a resulting decrease in milk consumption. Raw milk prices are controlled by the federal government and are not affected by the 1969 state law.

The advisory board said in a statement it is unhappy with all the criticism it is getting. The board members were only doing what the law required of them, they said.

They said the new prices will result in higher consumer costs for milk — but only because the costs of producing and setting milk have gone up. The board members said the law requires them to determine what it costs to produce and retail milk and then set minimum prices so individual dairies can't take advantage of their competitors and retail stores can't sell milk below cost to the disadvantage of their competition.

The board members said over-the-counter milk prices would have gone up anyway and that some of the present opponents of the board's prices are trying to blame the board for something which would have happened anyway.

The bill creating the board and assigning it the price-setting responsibility was LB 964 in the last legislature. It was introduced by Sens. L. M. Purbach of Crofton, Maurice A. Krumm of Aurora, Bill K. Bloom of Omaha, Thomas C. Kennedy of Newman Grove, Robert L. Clark of Sidney, Herb Nore of Geneva, Wayne L. Schirgers of Seward, Roland A. Luedtke of Lincoln, Lester Harsh of McCook and W. H. Hasebroeck of West Point.

The measure was assigned to the Agriculture Committee where it had a lengthy hearing in April. Dairy industry and retail spokesmen were on hand to support it. The opposition was offered chiefly by a spokesman for Safeway Stores.

The committee first voted to kill the measure, then reconsidered its action and sent it to the floor. An effort on the floor to kill it — on a motion made by Sen. George Svas of Omaha — failed and the proposal was moved through the legislative process to final reading.

There, it received a 27-16 passage endorsement.

The measure stiffened dairy trade practice statutes already in existence. Officials of the State Agriculture Department agreed that the earlier laws were difficult to administer and that the establishment of minimum prices would make it much easier to determine when a dairy or retailer was engaging in what the law described as "predatory practices."

The provisions of LB 964 included the creation of the advisory board. It has seven members, appointed by the governor. Two are dairy farmers, two are representatives of the processors, two are retailers (grocers) and one is a representative of the public (in this case, a Lincoln housewife).

The board is required under the law to determine the basic minimum costs of processing, delivering and selling (at retail) milk and milk products.

To assist in this, the board hired a Memphis, Tenn., cost accounting firm specializing in dairy work to survey the industry in Nebraska and arrive at average figures for milk processing costs in the four marketing areas determined by the board.

The wholesale milk prices eventually set by the board were based upon the basic processing costs determined by the McClain Co. study.

The board based its retail prices on the wholesale price, plus a mark-up of between 18 and 20 per cent to cover the grocer's costs of doing business.

Although the law didn't contemplate that the board-established prices would be the actual over-the-counter prices — only the minimums — the prices turned out to be higher than many stores were selling certain labels of milk and the price to the consumer will go up if the new list becomes effective.

In addition to establishing minimum prices, LB 964 also makes it illegal for dairies or retailers to engage in certain

Poor Well Production Can Be Cured

By Wayne Fisher

Iron bacteria and other slime-forming bacteria are often the cause of reduced well output. These bacteria can live in ground water by feeding on iron, organic material, carbonates and carbon dioxide, producing slime which does the most of the plugging as the result of their life cycle. Iron in solution is changed to a water insoluble form by the iron bacteria.

Treatment with chlorine and other bactericides has been found to be most effective for redeveloping wells where bacterial growth has plugged the aquifer. Unfortunately, this condition is difficult to cure permanently and periodic treatments must be made.

Measurement of output on the well or a check for the accumulation of the black slime on the interior of closed systems or "rust" accumulation on open systems will indicate whether re-growth of bacteria has begun.

The amount of chlorine carrier to apply is given in Table I. The amount of water in the well at the static (not having been pumped) water level can be found using Table II.

It is beneficial if the well can be filled so that the water level in the well is higher than the static level, forcing the solution back into the aquifer. The concentration of chlorine must be the same for this additional water as that calculated for the normal well capacity.

For domestic wells and in some cases irrigation wells this can be some known volume of storage which is released into the well. For domestic wells be sure that no residue contaminant

Carrier	Amount
5% Chlorine bleach	3 pints per 100 gallons
12-17% Chlorine solution	1 pint per 100 gallons
25-30% Chlorine powder	2/3 pound per 100 gallons
65-75% Powder or tablets	1/4 pound per 100 gallons

Diameter	Gallons for each foot depth
2 inches	0.163 gallons
3 inches	0.368 gallons
4 inches	0.554 gallons
5 inches	0.822 gallons
6 inches	1.174 gallons
8 inches	2.622 gallons
10 inches	4.099 gallons
12 inches	5.899 gallons
18 inches	13.3 gallons
20 inches	16.4 gallons
24 inches	23.6 gallons

such as oil or other chemicals are present in the storage container.

On many irrigation wells a pipe can be laid up grade from the well discharge. This pipe can be filled and held with a valve until the water level in the well returns to the static level. The chlorine can then be released into the well and the valve opened so that the extra water will flow back into the well.

The capacity of the pump tube as well as the gallons in the pipe can be calculated from Table II. An effort should be made to fill the well as much as reasonable but care should be taken not to exceed the total capacity of the full depth of the well.

The solution should be allowed to set in the well overnight or for 24 hours. A domestic well can then be pumped in a recirculating manner with a hose discharging in the well. An irrigation well should be surged by pumping until the water reaches flushed by a faucet discharging to a septic system. Lawns or crops may also be harmed by the high chlorine content and livestock will not be likely to accept the chlorine water even though it would not harm them. The amount of pumping required after the treatment will depend on the odor of the discharge. A faint odor will most likely be acceptable to livestock and indicate the water is safe for plants.

Water from domestic wells should be tested about two weeks after treatment to make sure that harmful biological contamination has not returned if the problem existed originally.

Trolley cars following route 3-T in Helsinki, Finland, have special charm for American tourists, National Geographic says. Three-T makes a figure eight through the city, passing many points of interest such as the cathedral, the parliament house, and several colorful markets. At each stop, a well modulated taped voice coming over the streetcar's sound system tells the traveler exactly what he is seeing—in English.

"I'm beginning to worry. This guy in front of me is the President of the plant!"

with the game even a cowjockey with the shrewdness and skill of Jimmy the Greek cannot long survive.

That $10 hedge loses as often as it makes. Two years ago a Nebraska feedlot lost it all, a million plus, with a so-called three-way "perfect hedge."

When the buttons popped, like Little Richard says, "it all hung out," plus when the fan was hit feeder cattle collapsed $20 a head in Kansas and Nebraska. Bankers were driving the gravel roads looking for a concrete culvert and double indemnity.

In December 1967 a California trader cornered the market and would not let the feeders "out." Yet upon taking deliveries, he sold by grade and steal (excuse me) yield. The recipient packer in turn sold his own inventory at a ridiculous $3 per hundredweight. Lower than the new cooler of meat at a profit.

At Omaha, in August 1970, a Colorado feeder delivered over 300 plus loads to a Texas feedlot operator. With no home. That delivery cost the national dressed market a $2 drop.

Futures may be a new home for those seeking jobs, but major regulation changes must be made before anyone is helped but the Franklin Avenue broker.

Although the Tony Lama boot and Stetson hat sales on the Exchange are terrific, hog bellies and cattle futures are currently not shining examples of mutual benefit for the industry.

Brokers have made fortunes manipulating and were fined but $30,000 by the Exchange. Recently, employees of a giant national commission company lost a reputed $900,000 bucking the board. Two years ago they merely matched pennies or tossed quarters to a line. Now they face possible prison terms.

Futures need help. They need new rules, new concepts, new blood. Or get out! Get out and leave cattlemen develop their own long-term destiny.

Why, incidentally, is the USDA involved in futures? Does this practice help guarantee cheap meat for consumers?

Check For Lice

Winter is the time when growth of long hair affords lice better protection and close confinement transfers lice from one animal to another. Beef cattle heavily infested with lice, especially young calves, will not make proper gains and will begin to appear unthrifty.

Lice can make the difference between profit and loss in a wintering operation when feed costs are higher. Eighty per cent of the annual expense of keeping a beef animal occurs in winter. Lice are usually present if cattle have not been treated early in the fall and are found on cattle exposed since they last were sprayed.

If cattle show symptoms of lice it is recommended they be sprayed with a high pressure sprayer. It is advisable to select a clear day when there is little wind and the sun is shining.

USDA Reviews

Beef consumption will increase about a third by 1980 if current projections of population and per capita consumption are realized, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report that traces trends in the cattle feeding industry. USDA's Economic Research Service reviews cattle feeding, feeder production and some phases of cattle marketing to provide direction for needed research in this rapidly changing industry.

Less than half the beef consumed in the U. S. in 1950 was from fed cattle. By 1968, it was 70 per cent. The report says added production must come from expansion of the beef cow

Irrigation System Needs Planning

Early planning for a new irrigation system next year has several advantages, according to an Extension Irrigatorist at the University of Nebraska.

"It is important that a person wanting to establish an irrigation system should spend some time visiting other irrigators to get an idea of how each type of system might work on his farm," explains P. F. Fischbach.

"He should make an estimate of how much labor would be required for irrigation. Planning should start with location of the water supply, yield of the well and a sample of the water for a quality test. Then he can figure how many acres can be irrigated from this water source," says Fischbach.

Fischbach feels that one of the main advantages of planning now herd because, at present, nearly all available calves above replacement needs are already being fed.

The study notes these industry developments in recent years: Most feeder cattle are now acquired by direct purchase or from auction instead of through terminals; feeder cattle quality is better than in 1950; cattle enter feedlots lighter—500 to 700 pounds.

During the study year, 1969, farmer feeders operated 99 per cent of the feedlots but produced only 53 per cent of the fed cattle. The remaining one per cent of the feedlots were commercial—those able to handle at least 1,000 head—and produced 47 per cent of the cattle. The farmer feeder, though, was not thought to be on the way out.

Cattle feeding is a high-risk venture. Investments in facilities can run from a few thousand to several million dollars. Price fluctuations create uncertainties, only partially relieved by live cattle futures and contracts.

Marketing methods, ERS says, have shifted from 38 per cent of fed cattle going through terminals in 1955 to a primarily direct sales method. Slaughter plants have moved away from terminals to beef production areas.

for Irrigation

for irrigation that land grading or drainage work can be done early. If land is graded in fall or early winter, the freezing and thawing will break up compaction and the field can also be pre-irrigated if desired.

If a sprinkler system is selected the company can define it early so the operator can learn more how to operate the system and be ready next year when irrigation is needed, Fischbach says.

Advance planning will allow the irrigator to develop necessary surface drainage. A tailwater recovery system should also be developed at this time on surface irrigated fields.

If only a small acreage is planned, for irrigation next year, and more development is anticipated later, a pump and power unit suited for the total system should be selected, Fischbach advises.

The tidal current in San Francisco Bay reaches a peak of 10 million cubic feet a second, half again the flow of the Amazon.

There was a time when farmers and cattle feeders felt that their protection against bankruptcy and old age was either teaching, becoming a farm broadcaster, going to work for the USDA or selling insurance for the Farm Bureau. That view has not changed, but now they have added a new vocational outlet: becoming a marketing specialist or broker for commodity trading.

Oddly, these neophyte farm background brokers are an improvement compared to the Diamond Jim-Brady high flyers from the college dropout or used car salesman categories. Armed with big titles, an impressive desk and micro-mini skirted secretary, these dandies become corn specialists. Why not? They gained their qualifying experience from a corroded flask and their economic theories from financing cars at hidden compound interest.

Brokerage firms have sprung up everywhere. Imagine, a six cattle brokerage firms at the Omaha Stockyards trading a-la-Chicago-Merc. Meantime commission companies have shrunk some twenty odd firms. Omaha boys do a good job—better cattle-wise and more reliable than the dozens of mammoth firms that bleed the downtown trade.

Futures on any stockyard is like crop games in Los Vegas. Sometimes a personal conflict-of-interest arises. Can a commission salesman "pull" a market when playing the commodity "short"?

Consider a chain store beef buyer caught in the dilemma of forcing the trade if he runs a weekend special or a Chicago packer creating an artificial prime live steer top for three months to mitigate losses (yet losing a million incidentally).

Also, can an Indiana brokerage firm owning a gigantic hog buying firm control hog and corn prices by an excessive influence on the total markets?

Cattle futures aid has proven debatable even for commercial lots. While a $10 locked-in-hedge may entice a boot-wearing doctor, may even give the banker an extra-hour sleep, if one stays

Tractor Mishaps Get National Attention

How serious is the agricultural tractor accident picture in the United States?

This question will be answered soon by the Secretary of Transportation in a report to the Congress.

Rollin Schneider, Extension safety specialist at the University of Nebraska, explains that the secretary was authorized to prepare and submit a report to Congress no later than Jan. 1, 1971, on the extent, causes and means of agricultural tractor accidents on both public roads and farms. In addition, he should report:

—An estimate, based on the best statistical information available, of the number of deaths and injuries resulting annually from agricultural tractor accidents.

—An identification of the primary causes of agricultural tractor accidents including consideration of the hazards most likely to cause death or injury.

—Specific recommendations on means of preventing the occurrence of, and reducing the severity of, injuries resulting from agricultural tractor accidents.

Also, should include details on legislative proposals he thinks are needed. The secretary was also ordered to give careful consideration to the advisability of establishing uniform federal safety standards in the design and manufacture of all agricultural tractors sold in interstate commerce, requiring the installation on such tractors of safety devices and providing assistance to the states in setting up a uniform reporting system.

Schneider noted that a number of agencies have been asked to help in the preparation of information. Items that have been included are:

1. The accident reporting procedure that we now have relating to agricultural accidents.

2. Tractor safety standards that are now available for use in design of equipment.

3. The power take-off accident situation.

4. Tractor design from the earliest tractor to the most current model.

5. Training programs that are in use in the various states.

6. The pros and cons of licensing tractors.

7. The pros and cons of licensing operators of farm tractors.

8. Traffic laws and ordinances as they relate to the movement of agricultural equipment.

9. The tractor-motor vehicle crash problem.

10. User acceptance of safety devices now on tractors.

The specialist commented that many of the items to be reported on are not controversial; however, there is a lot of controversy on the thought of licensing and registering of farm tractors. This same controversy is evident in the licensing of the operator of the agricultural machine.

Toy Drive Off to Good Start

A pile of toys was the result of the unusual admission price to the Queen of the Green dance at Wayne State Saturday night. The toys will be given to a Nebraska orphanage to help brighten some youngsters' Christmas this year. The project to gather the toys was started by the college Student Union Board. Residents of Wayne and the area can contribute to the drive by leaving their toys at Ben Franklin, Coast-to-Coast, Gamble Store or Sherry's in Wayne. The toys will be picked up Friday. Playing with some of the many toys collected at Saturday's dance are, from left, Board President Dwight Eveland, Patti Dempster and Michelle Campbell.

National Farm Meet Held Last Week

Members of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee attended a national conference on farm programs for the 1970's in Washington, D. C., last week. The conference began Monday, lasted through Thursday.

It was called by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Farm Program Agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The members, Chairman Carl Stratton and members Warren Marsh and Lowell Hummel, will report back to the district directors in Nebraska in Lincoln today (Monday). Attending that meeting will be Gordon Nuernberger of Wayne, district director of the 11 counties in northeast Nebraska.

The district directors will then report to the county ASC committee, and the county executive directors. The Wayne County officials will meet in Norfolk

Savings Bond Sales

Total Over $5,000

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Wayne County during October amounted to $5,534, according to Henry E. Ley of Wayne, county chairman.

Ten-month sales of $123,683 brought the county to 70.4 per cent of quota for the year.

In Dixon County, according to Chairman Robert Anderson, the sales in October totaled $9,717, bringing the 10-month total to $146,828 or 87.5 per cent of the quota. Cedar County reported October sales of $17,495, reports Vance Viengutz. That monthly total added to $238,026 the amount sold in the first four months this year. Percentage of quota reached in Cedar County so far is 53.5.

Statewide sales were $3,485,650 in October and $36,473,220 for the year, or 85.6 per cent of quota.

Increasing sales of Series E Bonds, which now pay a bonus of one-half per cent when held to maturity for five and one-half per cent overall, accounted for a gain of more than two and a half million dollars over the first 10 months of 1969.

What more can we say?

Not much. When you see on the chart above how the cost of natural gas from Peoples hasn't gone up like most everything else, it tells a pretty good story. A story about a lot of wonderful modern living you get at a very low price. And isn't it nice that natural gas from the Peoples people can do so many things for you. Very small cost, plus great versatility, equals one of today's (and yesterday's and tomorrow's) greatest values!

From Your Kitchen—Wrapped With Holiday Spirit

By Sherry Onken

As much a part of Christmas as holly, filled stockings and the fragrance of pine are favorite holiday treats from your kitchen. The treats you give at holiday time express your affection more than any other gift. And, you will enjoy their preparation as much as the delivering of these tasty treats.

Wrap your holiday offering with care to add even more charm to the gift. A decorated box or coffee can, cookies in a new flower pot, a woven straw basket, a wooden snack tray, or a shiny new baking sheet make festive containers for your gift. Tie the gift with a perky bow. Share your recipe by tucking it in with the finished product.

1 tablespoon cider vinegar
 1/2 cup milk
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
 1 cup margarine, softened
 1 cup sugar
 2 eggs, room temperature

HOLIDAY DATE FINGERS

1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1 (8 oz.) pkg. chopped dates
 1/4 cup chopped California walnuts
 2 tablespoons water
 3 drops green food color
 1 (3 1/2 oz.) pkg. flaked coconut
 3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 3 to 4 tablespoons milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Stir vinegar into milk; let stand. Combine flour, soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg. Cream 1/2 cup margarine and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add milk and dry ingredients, alternately, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Blend in vanilla; stir in chopped dates and chopped nuts. Spread in a greased and floured 10 x 15-inch jelly roll pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until done. Cool in pan. Meanwhile, combine water and food color in large jar. Add coconut; shake well to color. Turn onto wax paper to dry. Cream remaining 1/2 cup margarine and confectioners' sugar. Stir in milk and vanilla extract; beat until smooth. Spread on cooled cake; sprinkle with coconut; refrigerate. Makes 40 fingers.

CHRISTMAS CANDIED CRANBERRIES

4 cups granulated sugar
 1 cup water
 4 cups (1 lb.) fresh cranberries

Mix sugar and water in large skillet. Heat the mixture until sugar is dissolved. Stir in cranberries. Slowly bring mixture to a boil and remove from heat. Cool to lukewarm in the skillet. Occasionally coat the berries with syrup during cooling. Repeat this boiling cooling process three times. Drain most of syrup and place in plastic container for refrigerating. May be used as decorations, candied fruit to nibble on, to float in punches using syrup as color base, used in fruit cups or as an ice cream topping with syrup.

CRANBERRY NUT BREAD

2 cups flour
 1 cup sugar
 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1 teaspoon salt
 Juice and grated rind of 1 orange
 2 tablespoons melted margarine
 1 egg, well beaten
 1/2 cup chopped California walnuts
 2 cups fresh cranberries, cut in halves

Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, soda, and salt. Then combine orange juice, rind, melted margarine, and enough water to make 3/4 cup juices; stir in beaten egg. Pour this mixture into the dry ingredients, mixing just enough to dampen. Fold in halved cranberries and walnuts. Spoon into greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan spreading it evenly. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool.

These may look like ordinary chocolate snaps and fudge, but there's a touch of genius in both of these new recipes.

CHOCO-MINT SNAPPERS—Preheat oven to 350°F. Melt 1 pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's[®] Semi-Sweet, Mint-Flavored Chocolate Morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat. Combine 3/4 cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg in bowl and beat till creamy. Blend in melted chocolate, 1/4 cup corn syrup. Sift together 1 1/4 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon salt and stir in gradually. Shape dough into balls using 1 level tablespoon for each. Roll balls of dough in sugar (about 1/4 cup). Place 3" apart on ungreased cookie sheets. BAKE at: 350°F. TIME: 15 mins. Let stand a few mins. before removing from pan. Makes 3 dozen 3" cookies.

DOUBLE DELIGHT FUDGE—Combine 2 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 tsp. salt in saucepan. Bring to full rolling boil, over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Boil 6 mins. over moderate heat, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Stir in 1 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows, 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 1 tsp. vanilla and stir till marshmallows melt and mixture is well blended. To 2 cups hot mixture, add 1 pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's[®] Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels; stir till Morsels are melted and mixture is blended. Pour evenly into greased or aluminum foil-lined 8" square pan. To remaining hot mixture, add 1 pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's[®] Milk Chocolate Morsels; stir till Morsels are melted and mixture is blended. Spread evenly over Semi-Sweet mixture in pan.  ½ teaspoon baking soda
 ½ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 ½ teaspoon ground cloves
 ½ teaspoon ground ginger
 ½ cup molasses
 ½ cup melted margarine
 1 egg, beaten
 ½ cup raisins
 ½ cup plain or colored sugar,

Combine flour, sugar, soda, salt and spices. Add molasses and margarine to beaten egg. Add raisins to flour mixture and stir to coat raisins with flour. Add liquid to dry ingredients and stir with a spoon, then knead by hand until well blended. Roll dough into pieces the size of large marbles. To decorate, roll each piece in plain or colored sugar or multi-colored decoettes. Place on ungreased baking sheets and bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 6 to 7 dozen cookies.  1 tablespoon grated orange rind
 ½ teaspoon nutmeg

Chop figs, dates or raisins and combine with soda and hot coffee in small bowl; set aside to cool. Cream margarine, sugar, orange rind and nutmeg together until light and fluffy. Beat in egg. Combine flour with baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, mixing to a smooth batter. Stir in walnuts and cooled fig mixture. Turn into a greased and floured mold, 1½ to 2 quart capacity. Bake at 350 degrees, for 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tests done. Turn out onto serving plate. Let stand five minutes, then slowly spoon on Hot Sauce so cake absorbs sauce. Let stand until cool. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

HOT BRANDY SAUCE: Measure one cup granulated sugar, ½ cup orange juice, ½ cup brandy or sherry, one teaspoon cornstarch and a few grains of salt into a saucepan. Slowly bring to a boil; lower heat and simmer about ten minutes.

"The Charm of Christmas Holly"

by

Lucille J. Goodyear

The beautiful little holly trees sprang up in the footprints of the Christ Child—so says an old European legend. The beasts of the forest—in reverence—never touch these trees; men have called them "holy trees" and it is said that this is the origin of the word "holly".

Being one of our oldest plants it has a history that goes back millions of years. Through these centuries many legends and superstitions have developed around it. Perhaps most of the superstitions evolved from the ancient Roman beliefs which gave the plant great medicinal and magical powers. In addition to using the leaves and berries for many mysterious potions, the Romans also used it for decorating their homes during the festival of the Saturnalia. This was supposed to bring good fortune to the home, keeping away evil spirits.

This same custom was first frowned upon by the early Christians until they realized that their homes looked quite bare in contrast to those of the pagan Romans, and thus marked them as being Christians... eligible for a quick death. This ultimately led them to take up the pagan custom—purely as a means of self-preservation.

A German legend tells of the Christians designating the holly as a "holly tree" because the green of the leaves and the red of the berries symbolized Christ. The green—symbolic of everlasting life, and the red berries—for His bloodshed and death. The plant is called "Christdorn" in the belief that the holly was used to make the crown of thorns for Christ at the time of the Crucifixion.

Another legend associated with this plant is the story of Joseph of Arimathea who worked to convert heathens. While preaching to a group on Christmas Day, he dug his staff into the ground and it immediately burst into life and blossomed. A church was dedicated on the spot and the miraculous thorn of holly continued to grow, always blooming on Christmas Day.

The most humorous tale is one of English and Scottish origin which proclaimed that whichever species of holly—male or female—was brought into the house first on Christmas Day—would designate whether the husband or wife would dominate the household for the coming year. Naturally the man of the house always tried to collect only the heavily spined leaves as they were the "he's"—while milady hopefully sought out the smooth "she" leaves.

Once the question of "who's boss" was settled the house would be decorated for the holidays, with holly sprigs used lavishly throughout. And holly that was left hanging after January 6 was considered unlucky, hence the old custom of burning the greens on or before the Epiphany.

Today there are about 300 different species of holly, but the English holly has always been a favorite, so named because at one time it was believed to grow only in the British Isles. Now it grows in all parts of the world, including the United States.

In South America the holly plant is called "mate" and is used for the making of a beverage similar to tea. The wood of the plant is highly prized as it is so very white and hard, being used to inlay decorative patterns on furniture wood surfaces. The white wood takes a dye very successfully and is often dyed black to be used for the keys of pianos, organs and accordions.

American holly, somewhat resembling the English variety, grows naturally from Massachusetts to Florida and may be found throughout much of the Mississippi Valley. It also grows successfully in the Pacific Northwest. In most areas it is commonly found growing as a shrub but it also grows to tree size, sometimes getting as high as 50 feet.

Sprays and wreaths of holly with their bright and shiny green leaves and eye-catching brilliantly red berries have long been a part of our Christmas season, the custom originating in early England. It is from these Medieval practices of hanging greens that we derive our present-day customs—including the holly wreath on the door which has come to be a favored hospitality symbol of Christmas.

SERVE A BUNCH AT BRUNCH

By Sandra Bloom
Farm & Home Food Consultant

Holiday time is party time! What a wonderful season to get friends together. Whatever the occasion, the atmosphere of the season seems to build up excitement and gives the hostess an opportunity to serve with a flair.

Served buffet style, a brunch is an ideal way to entertain a group of friends as it can be handled by the hostess with ease. The menu need not be heavy at this time of the day.

Get things off to a gay start with a sparkling punch chilled with a brightly frozen Della Robbia Wreath, an ice ring of colorful fruits. One of these tempting menus offers an orderly plan for your party.

TUNA RING WITH CREAMED EGGS

24 PREMIUM Saltine Crackers, finely rolled	2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 (7 oz.) cans tuna, drained and flaked	¾ cup chopped walnuts
¼ teaspoon salt	2 tablespoons margarine
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper	½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons lemon juice	2 eggs, lightly beaten
	¼ cup milk
	1 can condensed Cheddar cheese soup

Combine cracker crumbs, tuna, salt, pepper and lemon juice. Saute onions, peppers and walnuts in margarine for 5 minutes. Add to crumb mixture. Combine eggs, milk and soup. Stir into dry ingredients. Mix well. Turn into a generously greased 1-quart ring mold. Cover with foil. Set in a pan containing 1-inch hot water. Bake at 375 degrees for 50 to 55 minutes. Remove foil last 20 minutes of baking time. Let stand 5 minutes before inverting onto serving dish. Fill center with Creamed Hard-Cooked Eggs.

CREAMED HARD-COOKED EGGS: Prepare 1 (2-oz.) package white sauce mix according to package directions using half water and half milk to make a total of 1¼ cups. Stir in ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper. Remove from heat. Let stand several minutes. Gently stir in 6 hard-cooked eggs, cut in quarters. Makes 8 servings.

COTTAGE SPOON BREAD

1¾ cups milk	3 tablespoons margarine
½ cup corn meal	1 cup small curd cottage cheese
1 teaspoon salt	3 egg whites
1 tablespoon sugar
3 egg yolks

In a medium-size saucepan, scald milk. Add corn meal and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Mix in salt and sugar. Blend a small amount of hot corn meal mixture with egg yolks, then return to saucepan, mixing thoroughly. Stir in margarine and cottage cheese. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; then, fold corn meal mixture into them. Pour into casserole and bake for 35 minutes at 375 degrees. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

CANADIAN BACON LOG

2½-3 lbs. Canadian bacon 1-1 lb. can cranberry sauce

Add cranberry sauce to saucepan. Stir over low heat until cranberry sauce melts. Place Canadian bacon in baking pan. Spread cranberry sauce over bacon log. Bake at 375 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes.

FRUIT COMPOTE

Use the fresh fruits of the season. Brightly colored fruits add a flair to your compote of fruit which you might serve in a brandy snifter. Combine the meat of the orange and grapefruit, tangerines, purple and green grapes, unpeeled, sliced apples and pears.

WALNUT CHEESE 'N BACON LOAF

1 egg	¾ cup grated cheddar cheese
1 cup milk	6 strips crisp bacon, crumbled
1 tablespoon instant minced onion	¾ cup coarsely chopped California walnuts
Dash tabasco sauce
3 cups biscuit mix

Beat egg lightly. Add milk, onion and tabasco sauce; set aside. Combine biscuit mix and cheese. Add to first mixture, and mix to a stiff dough. Stir in bacon and walnuts. Turn into greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 2¼-inches. Bake at 350 degrees about 50 minutes, or until loaf tests done. Let stand five minutes, then turn out onto wire rack to cool. Makes one loaf.

Don't let a major, catastrophic illness or accident wipe you out financially! Read these facts now about...

How to collect up to $10,000 in extended benefits on top of your present hospital insurance

Now! Whether you are in the hospital or not, Americare® Major Medical Plan pays 80% of all eligible health care expenses over the deductible amount for which you qualify... pays as much as $10,000 in tax-free cash for doctor, hospital and other bills... even helps pay many "extended care" costs that regular hospital insurance may not cover at all.

Shut your eyes for a moment, and imagine yourself in this kind of catastrophic situation:

Yesterday you were well and happy, with no thought of an impending accident. Or, perhaps last week you felt some tiny twinge, yet did not connect it with coming health trouble.

Now suddenly you are in a hospital bed. Flat on your back. Perhaps being prepared for surgery. Perhaps under intensive care in a recovery room.

Your first thought, naturally, is: Will I be all right? Will I get well?

And next: How much is all this going to cost me? WILL MY HOSPITAL INSURANCE BE ENOUGH?

If you are faced with a long period of costly treatment and convalescence —and have only "regular" hospital insurance—the answer has to be NO.

That's because regular hospital insurance, the kind most families have, was designed to help pay for shorter hospital confinements. And as great a blessing as these plans are, most simply were not designed to provide for really long-term hospitalization, or the kind of extended care at home that usually goes with "catastrophic" illnesses or serious-injury accidents.

It is this long-term need—with expenses that can run into thousands of dollars—which American Republic's special Americare® Major Medical Plan was designed to fill. In simple terms, the Americare® Major Medical Plan starts where regular hospital insurance usually stops.

Yet, its cost, for qualified persons or families, is remarkably low—indeed, often LOWER than some forms of ordinary hospital insurance.

Excepting only the usual exclusions—and after the deductible amount for which you qualify—your Americare® Major Medical Plan PAYS 80% OF ELIGIBLE EXPENSES UP TO $10,000—for each separate accident or illness.

Eligible expenses covered under this Americare® Major Medical Plan:

- Hospital room, board and general nursing care—up to $36 per day (80% of $45).
- Medical or surgical diagnosis or treatment by a doctor, in or out of hospital.
- Anesthetics, and anesthetic administration.
- Drugs and medicines requiring doctor's prescription.
- Private duty nursing by a registered graduate nurse, when prescribed by a doctor.
- X-ray services and diagnostic laboratory procedures.
- Artificial limbs or eyes, casts, splints, trusses, braces, or crutches.
- Oxygen and equipment for its administration.
- Rental of a wheel chair, or hospital-type bed, for use at home.
- Professional ambulance service to or from local hospital.

You are covered for eligible expenses which result from any accident after the date your policy is issued, and as a result of any sickness that is first manifested more than 30 days from date of issue and which begins while the policy is in force. Unless, of course, such expenses result from war, mental disorder, attempted self-destruction, maternity, dental work, except as required because of injury to sound natural teeth, injury or sickness for which benefits are payable under any workmen's compensation, occupational disease or similar law; birth irregularities or cosmetic surgery unless occasioned by injury; eye refractions, eye glasses or the fitting thereof; hearing aids or the fitting thereof, or when services, supplies, or treatments are provided by or are covered under any federal, state or other governmental plan or law.
