3 Issues Left Before Christmas

Procrastinating youngsters who have put off writing their letters to Santa Claus this year are reminded that there are only three more issues of The Wayne Herald before Christmas.

Any imaginative youths who want to get their letters off to Santa should get busy as soon as possible so their letters will appear in the newspaper before St. Nick begins making his rounds.

Some more of those notes to Santa appear inside this issue of the Herald.

'Tis the Season For Free Money

Tra-la-la-la-la

Berniece Fulton, a Wayne State College instructor, missed out on a free $250 at the Cash Night drawing Thursday in downtown Wayne. Her name was called at 8 p.m. but she was not in a participating store to claim the money.

Floyd Ibraeken, manager of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, said the drawing this Thursday night will be worth $300.

The $300 jackpot will be only a part of the money up for grabs this week in Wayne.

The third in a series of Christmas cash-give-aways is slated for Friday and is worth $50. Twenty numbers will be posted in the windows of participating stores at 2 p.m. The $50 prize will go to the person holding the number listed first.

If the person with the first number fails to stop forward in one of the stores or at the Chamber office by 8 p.m. Friday, then the prize money goes to the person holding the second number, and so on until there is a winner.

Drawings for $50 will also be held Dec. 21 and 22 and five drawings, each worth $500, will be held Dec. 23. All of these drawings will be won by tickets given with purchases in Wayne business firms.

Dixon Co. Veterans Needed for Meeting

Veterans living in Dixon County honorably discharged since Jan. 31, 1955, and now engaged in farming are being urged to attend a meeting at the Allen High School Wednesday evening for the purpose of forming a farm cooperative training program.

The program is scheduled to start at eight o'clock in the school auditorium.

Anybody wishing more information about the meeting should call Lyle Swanson in Allen at 635-2150.

Ag Group Elects Board Members

Five people were elected to a term of three years as directors of Wayne County Agricultural Society during the organization's 48th annual meeting last week.

Named to those three-year terms were William Peters, Walter Woods, Dick Sorenson, Marty Willers and Willis Meyer.

Officers elected to serve one-year terms were Leland Herman as president, Marty Willers as vice-president, Henry Lee as treasurer and Al Bahe as secretary-treasurer.

The group decided during the meeting to hold the 1971 Wayne County Fair on Aug. 5-7. To be given the contract for the midway will be the Dale Thomas show.

4-H Youths Get Achievement Awards

A half dozen young girls were cited for outstanding home economic projects achievements during the annual Wayne County last Wednesday night.

Recognition Night last week. The girls received trophies and lockets during the affair, held in the Wayne city auditorium.

Receiving trophies were Pat Dangberg for senior division home living, Jean Mann for senior clothing and Karla Miller for senior division foods.

Parents of the girls are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dangberg of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mann of Haskins and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Miller of Randolph.

Being awarded lockets by Harold Ingalls, county agent, and his assistant, Mrs. Ed Grono, were Winside youths Patti Holtgreve for junior division foods and Connie Cleveland for junior division home living.

Also awarded a locket was Janet Spittgerber of Waver for junior division clothing.

A breakdown of the first payment to the school shows $11,862 for incentive aid, $75,750 for equalization aid and $46,233 for foundation aid.

Information on the payments was given the school board during the group's regular monthly meeting last week.

Approved by the board for a one-month trial run was a dress code which was drawn up by a student faculty committee at Wayne High.

The dress code notes, "Any mode of dress or grooming for either boy or girl is acceptable at Wayne High School providing that it does not detract from the school's educational purposes, cause unnatural disturbances, or endanger health and safety."

Those students who participate in extra-curricular activities will see STATE AID, page 4.

Local School Gets $60,000 In State Aid

Warrants totaling $67,423.20 have been received by the Wayne-Carroll school district as the first half of its share of the state aid to public school districts.

The second half of the payment will be sent to school officials in April next year, bringing to about $135,000 the total paid the district from the state's general fund.

Last year the school received just over $122,000 from the state.

Bahe Named to Board Of Fair Expositions

"I never dreamed of it when I went," was the Al Bahe, Wayne, described his feelings upon being elected for a two-year term on the board of directors of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

Bahe was elected to the office during the first week of December while he was attending a meeting of the association in Chicago. He is the first Nebraskan to serve on the IAIE board since 1956 and is presently the only Nebraskan on the board.

Bahe is also currently serving as secretary of the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers and secretaries of the Greater Northeastern Nebraska Fair Circuit which consists of 14 counties. He is a past-president of both organizations.

For the past 24 years Bahe has served as secretary and manager of the Wayne County Agricultural Society. He has been a member of the State Fair Board for 18 years and is presently superintendent of lands.

Mother, Son Unhurt As Car Hits Bridge

A Wayne woman and her son escaped injury Wednesday morning after a car struck a bridge at the north edge of Wayne on Highway 15.

The Wayne County sheriff's office investigated the mishap and reported that Mrs. John A. Hebersdorf was northbound accompanied by her small son in the front seat of a 1969 Plymouth.

Officers said Mrs. Hebersdorf told them that a dog in the back seat jumped into the front seat of her small son. She reportedly grabbed for the dog and lost control of the car which skidded and struck the bridge.

Damage to the bridge was estimated to be $50 and the investigating officer said there was extensive damage to the front end of the auto.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

Unpopular But Necessary

Although the decision certainly won't set well with a large number of people, we are glad the city council in Wayne has decided to enforce the ordinance banning most of the burning within the city limits.

see fit. Yet, it is a step which the council realized had to be taken. It's just the step was taken now rather than put off to a later date.

Again, the decision to halt most of the burning being done in the city is not a popular one. But it had to be made and the council should receive support and encouragement for having made it. — N.H.H.

The Lesson of Scrooge

The employees of the city will receive a $10 gift certificate from the city as their Christmas present this year.

While discussing the subject at the council meeting last Tuesday night, one council member noted that even $10 seems awfully small this day and age. We agree with him. It seems to us that the people who work for the city day in and day out the year around should receive something a little more substantial than a $10 gift at Christmas time.

A Great Party

Whether your child laughs with a ho-ho, ha-ha, he-he or giggles, he surely had many times to laugh heartily during the Christmas party at the city auditorium Saturday.

With the help of donations from business firms, two Wayne State College Greek organizations sponsored the party. Kappa Delta Gamma Sorority and Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and its women's auxiliary, The Order of Dianas, united their ideas and workers to entertain hundreds of youngsters with games, skits, movies and old St. Nick.

Several thousand college-age youths are on the Wayne State College campus and many are preparing to teach school. They go to classes daily and carry a heavy load as they attempt to keep their grades up, work part-time, play a little, pay bills, and if married, carry on family life.

For some of those students to add more work to their already busy schedule, and invest a great many hours into throwing a huge Christmas party for youngsters they don't even know and may never see again, is a real demonstration of generosity and selflessness.

We believe every person who had a part in making the Christmas party a success deserves a verbal slap on the back. Christmas is a busy time of the year and extra activity and responsibility is something all too few people are willing to assume or accept.

The laughter of the children is all the remuneration the Greeks received and all they wanted. They have demonstrated the true spirit of Christmas. — M.M.W.

'Tis the season to be jolly, so let's talk about Christmas jocularities (that's the big word for this week) and some of the great experiences of the season. From some of the stories floating around town, it appears that a common problem in just about every home is that of putting up the Christmas tree. Selecting and putting up the tree is a job, but whose job is it?

Who is it in your house that first says, "Well, it's about time we get a tree, don't you think?" And of course the other half of the marriage doesn't think and replies, "Are we going to get a real one or an artificial job with removable limbs?" "Oh, let's get the real thing, hon, 'cause those commercial creations just miss the whole part of Christmas in the fragrance department. They don't smell good like a Christmas tree should."

The Christmas tree as we know it had its beginning in Germany around 1605, and nearly gets its everlasting in the front room each year. That is, of course, if you have as much trouble as some do in getting the needle-dropping beauty into an upright position. Some have gone away from the scene nearly barbed to death from a very stubborn tree.

After mama, papa and the kids go to the woods (now a commercial tree-selling concern) and disagree three times as to which tree gets a ride home in the back of the station wagon, then it is time to take it into the house. Getting a tree inside of one's dwelling isn't as simple as it sounds. Anybody can get a tree through the front door, but that just isn't the way to treat a holiday decoration. After spending between $8 and $10 for a Christmas tree, the only way to get it into the house is through the back door, through the porch, through the kitchen and dining room, through the recreation room and den — on through the — and finally into the front room. It's a treacherous tour of the house that — parts of it left in each room and — gives more something to do when she gets bored at Christmastime.

The next project is to separate the nuts. You must divide those live ones who live next door and want to help you decorate the tree from those you're going to hang on the tree itself. Then you get out the boxes of tinsel, stars, candy canes, spun glass, artificial snow and the blinking electric candles. With decorations of every sort and color strewn around the front room, the family comes in after supper and you announce that this is tree trimming night. Baby is going-going in the big chair while dazzled by all the trinkets. The 5-year-old twins are gracefully entwined in all of the electrical cord. Your 12-year-old is bored stiff and wants to watch the Monday night pro football game on the tube in the corner.

With the kids all occupied, mama and papa get the tree stand in place and papa starts his wrestling match with that many-limbed opponent. Mama and the twins are overwhelmed with awe as they see 175-pound papa get a confident arm hold on a stout 25-pound tree which seems to be exceptionally resistant. Papa growls and groans as he twists, pulls and lifts the mighty pine into an overhead spin. In triumph he holds the tree aloft, takes aim for the stand and — ploosh! — the tree is in the room, except junior, applauds at daddy's athletic ability, and all watch in utter horror as the green thing falls to the floor.

Round two. Papa pushes into the melon confident he can whip that tree, stumbles on the twin's electrical outlay and plunges headfirst into the embrace of the prickly boughs. Mama stands by as scorekeeper and rings a tiny bell to end round two a little early.

Round three. Getting himself disengaged from the tree's desperate hold, papa grabs his opponent with a few well chosen words trimmed in blue, and curses "a stupid tree." Baby becomes upset from the noise and turns on both lungs in tearful disgust. The TV commercial sings "'Tis the season to be jolly" and 12-year-old Junior, inspired by his hero on the 30-second line, grabs the large decorative piece meant for the tree's crowning pinnacle, dashes across the mid-room with

Sports Editor: Predictions Never Wrong

NEWSPAPER PEOPLE: Just like any other group of people who work in a certain field, have their own vocabulary they have developed over the years.

For example, a cutline is the information contained under a picture. A cut is some illustration such as a picture or a cartoon in an advertisement.

Copy, to newspaper people, means subject matter that is to be put into type. A head or a headline is the large type over a news story which often summarizes the story.

But now the Nebraska Press Association has come out with some new definitions to some very old terms used by the press. A lot of people will certainly agree with some of the following:

EDITOR: A man who untangles the syntax in your quotation, and spells your name wrong.

POLITICIAN COLUMNIST: A man who straitens out the world in 400 words today, and does it all over again from different premises tomorrow.

SPORTS EDITOR: A man who tells you who will win and tomorrow tells you why they didn't.

Voters in the Pender school district recently approved a $60,000 bond issue for the construction of an addition to the present school. Vote in the election was 195 for, 150 against.

About $55,000 will be used to build a two-story block and brick veneer building on the southeast corner of the auditorium and about $5,000 will be used to buy and install lockers.

The extensive remodeling job on the city offices in Winser is about finished, according to last week's Winser News-Chronicle.

Among the work being done is changing the former city clerk's office into a conference room for the mayor and the city council. Also, a brick veneer front replaces steel pillars and large window.

Taken from the "Over the Editor's Desk" column in the South Sioux City Star: "It happened in a South Sioux City grocery store shortly after the election. An elderly gentleman walked in and pulled a can of snuff. The lady checker said, 'That will be 32 cents plus 1 cent tax.' 'Tax,' the man said in utter amazement, 'I thought that fell that got elected took that off.'"

Msor Koch of Harrington apparently has a knack of getting his name into the newspaper around Christmas, reports the Cedar County News.

Last year he won the home lighting contest. This year he took a less pleasant route, stopping at the power sub by grabbing the blade instead of the switch.

Roger Lewis paid fines in the Randolph police court on three charges: unlawfully in a state of intoxication on the public streets, unlawfully resisting or abusing an officer in the exercise of his office and unlawfully making a U-turn at a street intersection posted against it. He paid a fine of $15 on each count, plus court costs of $4.85.

Joe Iack, editor of The Madison Star-Mail, said in last week's "The Way It Looks To Me" column that taxpayers should now take full advantage of what appears to be a full supply of teachers when negotiations on teachers' salaries begin.

Iack said that for years the school boards in the state have been forced to bid higher and higher to obtain teachers from the limited supply available. Now, he said, the taxpayers should be able to call the tune when negotiations begin.

Father Gene Abler of West Point included the following in his invocation at the V-V football banquet:

"Our men is our quarterback and you are our fans. Teach us to run the right patterns in our life and avoid getting blocked, so that we will truly make a touchdown one day through the heavenly gates, as the saints cheer us on from the sidelines. Amen."

Two workers at the Department of Trade Facilities at Neligh were killed recently when an oil tank exploded.

The two young men, Van Warner, 21, and Richard Sterling, 22, were apparently using a torch connected to a propane portable tank to heat the valve and pipe sticking out of the tank to allow them to get a bucket of the oil for use in road patching work. The explosion of the 12,000 gallon did considerable damage.

In awe looking at the final result of a "fun" evening, Junior sums it up for the whole family with "Isn't Christmas wonderful?"

Christmas really can be wonderful if there is a lot of love in the home. But without genuine affection, without the spirit of giving, without the glow of deep friendships, Christmas can be only an artificial commercial sparkle. You may light the fire of a candle but you must start a flame of expressed love and appreciation. In the spirit of the Babe of Bethlehem, to have any real meaning to Christmas or life itself.

Did your youngsters attend the Christmas party at the city auditorium in Wayne Saturday? Those Wayne State College youths really should be praised for all their work in making memories that youngsters will remember in years to come. Doing something for others is the only genuine way to make Christmas meaningful, and those college people were sure busy doing. The kids loved it and everyone seemed to have a good time.

Among the many things enjoyed at this time of year is good music. There is something about the ancient carols that impress the soul and something about the light-hearted contemporary jingles that brighten one's spirit. Do you have a good voice? If you don't consider yourself a good singer, you are probably like the rest of us who at least entertain ourselves at times when we are in around. Group singing is popular now as it always has been. Is your club or organization going to do any caroling this year? Whether you're singing solo or in a group, be sure to include "'Tis the season to be jolly, tra-la-la-la-la-la-la-la," and have fun with your tree.

The Little Pulpit

"For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. Hebrews 4:12 KJV.

Jan Sherry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sherry of Wayne, receives the highest Girl Scout honor available, the First Class award pin, from Mrs. Max Lundstrom, senior advisor of Troop 160, in a candlelight ceremony Tuesday afternoon at the United Presbyterian Church. Reception, hosted by Mrs. Orvid Owens and Mrs. Richard Lesh, followed the ceremony. Miss Sherry, who helps with the Wayne Brownie Scout Program, recently returned from a program aide workshop held in Columbus.

Jan Sherry Honored Tuesday

Jan Sherry, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sherry, was presented the First Class award, highest honor attainable in Girl Scouts Tuesday afternoon at a meeting at the United Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Max Lundstrom, senior advisor of Troop 160, conducted the candlelight ceremony.

Members of Troop 145 formed a Girl Scout circle and litged candles for each of the Ten Commandments. Miss Sherry litged the first candle and recited the Girl Scout promise and Mrs. Richard Lesh presented Jan the First Class pin. She received a corsage from Mrs. Orvid Owens.

First Class award is given girls who have finished four challenges: Active Citizenship, Social Dependability, Emergency Preparedness and Girl Scout Promise. Six proficiency badges from six atmospheres must also be completed.

Miss Sherry, who helps with the Brownie scout program in Wayne, attended a program aide workshop in Columbus Saturday. Mrs. Ed Stevens, Hartington, field advisor for the Prairie Hills Council, served coffee following the Tuesday afternoon program and Mrs. Robert Carhart, neighborhood chairman, served punch. Hostesses were Mrs. Lesh and Mrs. Owens, leader and assistant leader of Cadette Troop 145, Miss Sherry's former troop.

It's Fancy Pants For Christmas '70

Jogging in the foreground, new pant styles will set the pace for Christmas and holiday events, and is expected to be one of the biggest fashion looks for the coming year. Pant ensembles in feminine, soft styles are providing the alternative to the long-sleeved issue, according to Mrs. Mabel Westberg, Senior Vice President and Fashion Director of Queen's Way to Fashion, Inc., leading direct selling fashion firm. Predictions are that pants will be walking circles around the tongue, and used for choicest occasions, such as the upcoming holidays. "This season," notes Mrs. Westberg, "women will opt for the newest pant styles, for comfort as well as style. Jump suits, pant suits, gauchito pants, knickers, culotte hose, lounge-wear and separates under and mid dresses will provide women with an alternative to harem pants of the varying lengths previously."

Jumpuits will be one of the most popular pant styles, the Fashion Director observes, offering an elegant yet casual look.

Designed in wools, silks, acetates and wet look materials, the jumpsuit becomes a big style, complemented by vests from the smallest balero top to ankle length tunic styles. It goes anywhere in many different textured fabrics and pant widths; worn as a hostess gown for at-home Christmas parties, evening outfit for New Year's Eve, or as an office ensemble on those cold, wintry days to come.

For those who lean towards a sporty, long hemline 100-c gaucho pants with high boots or matched opaque hose will still make the best of both worlds: skirt and pants.

"The pant suit is finding its way into the most fashionable events of the season," Mrs. Westberg adds, "and answers the lifestyle needs of the '71 woman."

WHS Stage Band Is Scheduled to Play For Basketball Tournament this Month

Band director Ron Dalton announced at Monday's meeting of the Wayne-Carroll High School Music Boosters Association, that the stage band would play during the basketball tournament at the college Dec. 29 and 30. Two-tye members attended the afternoon meeting at the bandroom.

Mrs. Al Ehlers reminded parents that the band students would be selling magazines again in January, and encouraged them to wait until then to order subscriptions.

Entertainment included a trumpet solo by David Anderson, accompanied by Jeri Manning, and a flute solo by Joyce Hain. Mrs. Merlin Kinney was chairman of the serving committee.

The January meeting will be held Monday, the 11th, rather than on the regular meeting date, at 2:30 p.m. in the bandroom.

Last week senior citizens were taken on a tour of the Fine Arts Building at Wayne State College by student Mrs. Betty Johnson. Enjoying the tour were Mrs. Florence Bastian, Mrs. Ann Nelson, Annie Centrup, Ed Johnson, Goldie Leonard, Mrs. Mary Kipper, Alice Beckenhauer, Mrs. Myrna Johnson and Mrs. Joseph Bull. The group visited various departments including sculpturing, painting, radio and television and enjoyed the lobby art display. Transportation was furnished by Mrs. Johnson.

Tuesday afternoon a group of seniors went Christmas caroling with director Mrs. Pajl Wright, Wakefield, who was assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Russell. Participating were Mrs. Emma Soules, Mrs. Katie Otte, Mrs. Marie Herrmann, Mrs. Lillian Kirschner, Mrs. Esther Larson and Mrs. Christine Dillon. The group sang for Mrs. Edwin Vahlkamp's special class at the Middle School, Dahl Retirement Center and Wayne Hospital.

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott

No doubt many people read the article about "Astrology 14" in a recent Time Magazine. The article concerned a book written by a Steven Schmidt, previously a little of nobody but destined for the better life. Schmidt came up with a theory that instead of 12 signs of the zodiac, there ought to be 14. The reason is that "astrologers have refused to recognize that there are actually 14 constellations in the Zodiac belt, not 12."

Schmidt (unheard of in astrology circles across the country) seems unaware that astrologers are aware that the original zodiac, of thousands of years, has moved because of the phenomenon called the precession of the equinoxes. As I have stressed, many astrologers compensate for this by using the constellations of the astronomical zodiac instead of the traditional one. Traditionalists stay put, apparently because they feel they are operating within a system that is correct.

But whatever the case is, a spherical geometry student could tell Schmidt that by compensating for the movement of the zodiac through the ages you DON'T add two more signs. This results in a zodiac with a nice bend almost dead center. Furthermore, by adding two more signs (the even named them: Cetus and Ophiuchus) half of the time the planets won't even be traversing through this new zodiac.

I think Schmidt has proven without a doubt that anyone who can write has an excellent chance of making money. If he can either play on people's gullibility or, as pornography has proven, senses, in this particular instance, I feel quite certain that people will purchase "Astrology 14."

I have received letters from people discontent with their own zodiac sign, as if it were some person. Specifically, a woman in Iowa described her horoscope in the sign of the zodiac through the ages you DON'T add two more signs. This hardly does justice to my true ethereal character aura. Now Libra would be better, cause I've taken pretty near 6 years of piano from the resident pianist at the local junior college, and to top this off, my husband Eldon (he's a Taurus) said, just the other night, "..."

Winside Man Buys Wayne I-H Store

Don Wacker, operator of the International Harvester dealership in Winside, will take over operation of the IH store in Wayne effective next Monday, Dec. 21. The new business will open officially on Monday, Jan. 4. Officials of the business announced the closing of the Wayne IH store earlier this month. They said in that announcement that the area can now best be served by a local, independent business-man.

Wacker, married and the father of three boys and one girl, will continue to operate the Winside store. A native of Winside, he will live in Winside for the present.

The new store, which will be called Wacker's, will sell and service IH trucks and farm machinery.

Laurel Bears Stay in Losing Slump

by Norvin Hansen

It's been a long time since the Laurel Bears have lost two cage contests in a row (actually three counting the loss to Cozad in the Class B finals last spring), and it's been even longer since those two losses have opened the season for the club.

But Friday night's 55-51 skinning at the hands of the Hartington Cedar Catholic Trojans makes Laurel's record 0-2 for the 1970-71 campaign. The defeat bettered both showings, hitting 19 of 59 for 32 per cent from the field and 18 of 29 from the line for 62 per cent.

Trailing by 41-40 going into the third period, Laurel saw the hosts pull ahead to a 50-41 lead with just over three minutes to go. Regg Swanson, a 6-3 senior, finally broke Laurel's scoring drought on a driving lay-up with just over two minutes to go after Steve Erwin came up with one of his several steals in the game. Score at 2:04: 51-43.

Laurel	15	12	13	11	=	51
Hartington	15	10	16	15	=	56

comes on the heels of the 81-59 whipping by Norfolk Catholic a week earlier.

The future doesn't look exceptionally bright for the quintet of Larry Moore; Tuesday night they host Wayne, a club which knocked off Blair in its debut, and Friday night they host Coleridge, a club which last year gave the Bears all they could ask for before falling.

Ragged shooting and mediocre defense were major factors in the Bear's defeat Friday to a team which had gone up against Bloomfield, Plainview and Plattsmouth without registering a win.

Paul McCoy, with several important plays late in the game, cut Hartington's lead to six, 53-47, with his lay-up with 58 seconds left to play; and then Steve Smith, high point man for Laurel, added a jumper after bringing the ball off the way down court to make it 54-49 with 25 seconds showing.

Smith, who collected the final Laurel basket, had 22 points, followed by McCoy with 12 and Erwin with 10.

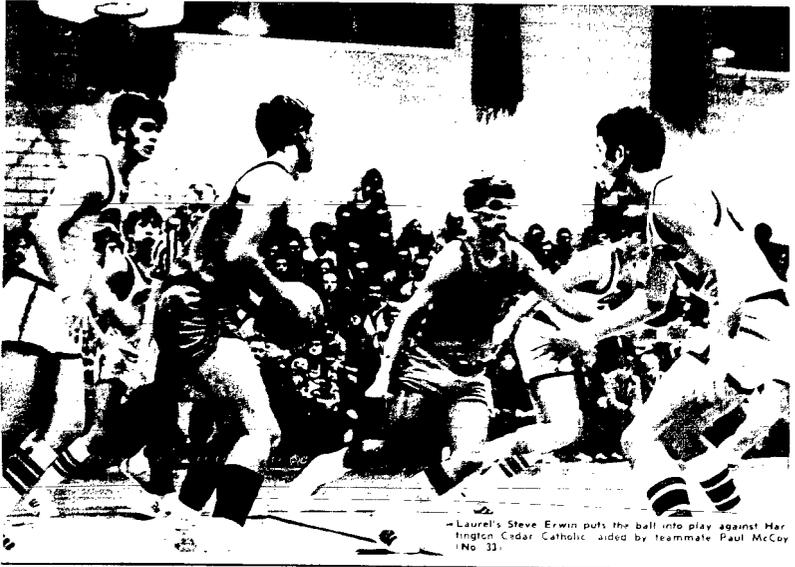

Hartington's smooth Dennis Kramer, a 6-5 senior, came up with 20 points for the only Trojan in two figures.

Laurel out rebounded the hosts, 43-37, behind the 11 rebounds of Erwin and the 11 of Smith.

This layup was good for two, adding to the total of 51 scored by the Laurel Bears Friday night in their loss to Hartington Cedar Catholic.

From the field the Bears connected on only 28 per cent of their shots—19 of 67—and from the free throw line they hit 50 per cent—13 of 26. The Trojans —Laurel's Steve Erwin puts the ball into play against Hartington Cedar Catholic, aided by teammate Paul McCoy (No. 31).

Winside Soph Shines Despite Loss

Greg Titterton, only a sophomore, turned in a fine performance despite Winside's cage loss to Walthill Friday night, 54-39, in a road game.

Young Titterton, a 5-11 forward for Jim Winch that night, one for one at the charity stripe.

The promising soph, grabbed the spotlight away from his seniors most of the second half after registering only two counters the first two periods.

In fact, his 13 points earned him high point honors during the contest, something that has been reserved for bigger Gary Soden in the Wildcats' first two outings. Soden, at 6-1 and a senior, counted an even dozen in the clash for the only other person on the Winside team to break into two figures.

But Titterton wasn't the only underclassman gaining praise from Winside's coach, Jeff Gilpin. Walthill's smooth sophomore, came up with 22 points for scoring honors on his team. Topping Gilpin's efforts were his numerous rebounds against his taller adversaries. He stands only 6-1 but carries center post because of his fine jumping ability.

Getting 13 points for Walthill was senior Ward Kline, a 6-1 forward.

Winside, victim of a cold streak, split last in the second period, dropped from a 14-10 first quarter deficit to trail by 24-17 at halftime. That's slanted away at their hosts' lead in the third frame to pull to within 10 points but were unable to cut the lead further.

Winside's coach's mood of the season so far, the Winside quintet hit 60 per cent of 17 of 31 field goal attempts for a 51m 24 per cent. Walthill clicked at a 43 per cent rate on 24 of 59 shots.

The Cats play host Tuesday night to one of the top contenders in the west and of the Lewis and Clark conference, the Coleridge Bulldogs. Saturday night they hosted Newcastle.

GI Bill On-the-Job Training Climbs

A record 117,000 veterans were enrolled in on-the-job training programs nationwide under the GI Bill in the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

C. C. Nixon, director, said the greatest growth rate occurred in technical and managerial training programs.

From statistical information provided by his VA central office in Washington, D. C., Nixon noted that training in service occupations, mostly firemen and policemen trainees, also had a "very high growth rate"—an increase of 153 per cent, from 7,158 in fiscal year 1969 to 18,089 last fiscal year.

Apprenticeship training attracted 76,177 veterans nationally, accounting for 65 per cent of all job trainees.

The director said the heaviest enrollment in apprenticeship training was in programs for structural work occupations, in which 44,293 trainees sought training as electrical workers, carpenters, plumbers, boiler-makers, steamfitters, brick and stone masons, etc. In the previous year, this total was 28,530.

College Quinter Clipped at SWM

Southwest Minnesota State dunned Wayne State, 65-55, in basketball Friday night at Marshall, Minn., gaining revenge from Wayne's double overtime win there last year.

The Wildcats had an early lead of 12-0 before a Golden Mustang surge put the hosts ahead to stay. Wayne scoring was unable to close the gap, and the top Wildcat, Dennis Sikes, hit only 12 points.

The loss made Wayne's record 2-2 before a Saturday night game at the University of Northern Iowa. Southwest Minnesota rose to 3-1 on the victory.

AH Eagles Drop Squeaker To Homer Friday, 48-46

Allen's varsity nearly duplicated the nip-and-tuck clash of the reserves before dropping a 48-46 cage contest with Homer at Allen Friday night.

The Eagles led their 2-1 mark on the line last Saturday against Pender in their first road game this year. Friday night they traveled to Newcastle before preparing for the Christmas holidays, teaming at 1 p.m.

Leading at 42-40 with just over ten minutes to go in the game, Allen was unable to take advantage of two quick turnovers by the visiting Knights. The Eagles had trailed several times in the contest but each time managed to fight back.

Allen took an 11-0 lead into the second period, but ended up in a 23-24 tie at halftime.

Having scoring difficulties throughout the evening (they hit only 32 per cent for the night), the Eagles had to depend on 5-8 senior Loren Reuter much of the time. He led his squad with 13 counters, followed by Jerome Roberts with nine and Duane Mitchell with eight.

Doug Hohenstein led Homer scoring with 28 points, almost all of them from inside as he used his 6-2 size well against the hosts.

In the reserve contest, Dave Retzlaff and Pete Seder had 11 points each as they helped Allen to a 32-31 double overtime lead. The two squads were tied at 45-45 at the end of regulation play, 32-27 at the end of first overtime.

Allen won the volleyball contests: 15-6, 3-15 and 11-11. High scorers: Roxanne Bloom with 13 and Lulu Tjeltveit with 10.

Hunt Season to Close

Waterfowl hunters wanting to take advantage of the rest of the duck and goose seasons had better start making plans, as closing dates both birds are rapidly approaching.

Goose hunting ends across Nebraska at sunset on Monday while duck hunting ends at sunset on Friday, Dec. 18, in that part of the state east of Highway 83. Duck hunting west of U. S. 83 continues until Jan. 7.

BOXERS OUT OF THE PAST: Almost 25 years ago Wayne State was fielding its first boxing team. The squad went up against a team from the Omaha Indian reservation at Macy. On that team were, from front row left: Wally Hea

WS-Macy Match Nears 25 Years Old

Nearly 25 years ago, early in January of 1947, the first Wayne State boxing team met a team from the Omaha Indian reservation at Macy in a benefit for the infantile paralysis fund. Supervising the team was Don Emery, athletic director at the college at that time. Emery was trying the sport on a trial basis. Gerald Ellison, former high school coach at Lyons and Pender, was the coach. Emery was quoted in a story in the Sioux City Journal right before the match with the Macy team as saying he was "sold" on boxing as a result of his ex-

Hunters' Safety Record Envious

Nebraska big game hunters have added yet another chapter to an impressive safety record, completing their 22nd year of hunting with high-powered rifles without a fatal gun accident afield.

In fact, Nebraska has never had a gun fatality afield involving either deer or antelope hunters, according to Willard B. Barbee, Game and Parks Commission director. Since the first deer season in 1945, more than 290,000 firearm-deer permits have been issued. And, some 18,377 rifle men have hunted antelope in Nebraska since the state's first pronghorn season in 1953.

Other states envy Nebraska's big-game safety record with envy. With several days of hunting remaining in this year's season, 11 New England deer hunters had filed in gun accidents afield, either through their own carelessness or through negligence of other hunters.

Nebraska's small-game and varmint hunters have not done as well in gun safes as their deer and antelope-hunting counterparts, however. During the first 11 months of 1970, 12 gun accidents involving hunters in the field were reported to the Game and Parks Commission. Five of these accidents were fatal.

Shotguns were involved in seven of the 12 accidents reported, while rifles were involved in four incidents and a handgun figured in the remaining case. Of the fatalities, shotguns were the most common violation among Nebraska hunters, carrying a loaded shotgun in a vehicle.

Also fined were two Norfolk hunters, Jerome Wagner and Charles Ziegenfuss. A Dakota City hunter, Edsel Drayner, received 30 days in jail on a charge of hunting in a closed season.

Others fined recently included Gary P. Tledden and Hickey Youbert, both of Norfolk, $10 and costs on a charge of trespassing.

Wisner-Pilger Pressing Successful Over Trojans

A tight press by the Wisner-Pilger Gators in the second half hurt a young Wakefield club Friday night. Result: the Trojans dropped their second game in two outings this season.

Ahead at 20-19 in intermission, Wakefield was unable to get the ball across the time line several times in the third frame and stuffed in 21 of 57 for 39 percent. Kovar will have several days to work with his club, which he noted looked very much improved over the showing at Winside in the season-opener, before he throws them up against Lyons Friday night in a road game. Saturday the Trojans host Walthill.

Wakefield 7 13 10 10 .. 40
Wisner-Pilger 7 12 21 14 .. 54 found themselves down 10 points, 40-30, going into the final period. More pressing in the final frame enabled the hosts to chalk up the 50-40 win.

Two showings by underclassmen on the Wakefield club probably give Frbie Kovar, now as head cage boss at Wakefield, hope for the future.

Turning in respectable performances were Pat Starzl, a 6-1 junior, and Dave Scheel, a 6-1 sophomore. Starzl, a transfer from Emerson, had a dozen points and Scheel, a transfer from Wayne, had 10 for the only two Trojans to hit two figures.

Wisner-Pilger scoring was led by junior forward Martin Holland with 16 and junior forward Mike McGilins with 14. Wakefield managed to hit only 13 field goals of 46 attempts for 28 percent. The Gators

2nd Task Tough One for WSC Wrestlers

Wayne State wrestlers faced a second stiff task over the weekend in the annual Northwest Missouri State Invitational Tournament at Maryville Friday and Saturday.

The tourney featured eight top teams of the Midwest—Wayne, Kansas State University, Upper Iowa, Westmar, Western Illinois, Eastern Iowa, Northwest Missouri and Northeast Missouri. Last year finished second, close behind North West.

Wayne suffered a disappointing dual loss to Morningside, 23-19, Tuesday night in the Wildcat home debut.

After giving up losses by pins in the first three matches, Wayne scrapped back to the decisive final match, the Maroons leading, 20-19, as the heavyweights squared off. Wayne's Lee Hall, usually a 177 or 190-pounder, yielded a 5-2 decision to Dave Reeder, who weighed in at 221 pounds.

Morningside gained the edge on pin victories—four of six. Wayne won by falls while Wayne posted one pin, three decisions and one win by forfeit. The forfeit went to 142-pounder Max Brannan, who last Saturday won first in the Invitational. In five wins there Brannan won two by falls—one in 46 seconds—and did not have a point scored against him. Ken Monroe placed second in the 177 meet at 177 pounds, John Yoder fourth at 167.

Results with Morningside: 118—Don Eggenburg, Morningside, pinned Bill Schmitzer in 4:28. 126—Hlec Nuss, Morningside, pinned Larry Schwank in 3:25. 134—Larry Behmos, Morningside, pinned Jim Mangino in 3:30. 142—Max Brannan, Wayne, won by forfeit. 150—Benny Mackes, Wayne, pinned Mike Pickford in 5:46. 158—Tom Luth, Wayne, de-cisioned Bill Brockson, 4-0. 167—Lindsay Eckerman, Morningside, pinned John Yoder, 6:05. 177—Ken Monroe, Wayne, de-cisioned Jerry Sherwood, 15-0. 190—Denny Reid, Wayne, de-cisioned Lee Hall, 5-2.

Former Wayne Pastor Hospitalized in Omaha

The wife and nine-year-old son of a former Wayne pastor died as a result of a two-car crash near Emerson, Iowa on Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. William Miller was killed and Joan, 9, died the following day. Joint funeral services were held in Plattsmouth, Nov. 30, with Rev. Charles Philippe of Grand Island officiating.

Still in University Hospital in Omaha with two broken arms, several broken ribs, and severe facial lacerations is Rev. Wm. C. Miller. Their other five children, Wanda, 6, Mrs. Betty Joy Bruce, Boyd and Harry received cuts and bruises.

The family was enroute from their home at Mercer, Mo., to Plattsmouth to spend Thanksgiving Day with Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Dorace Meyers, and her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pihon, also formerly of Wayne.

Rev. Miller's address is: Room 7411, University Hospital, Omaha.

FAMILY PARTY HELD
Immanuel Lutheran Layman's League annual Christmas Party was held Sunday evening at the church, with 100 present.

Christmas carols were sung and a Christmas gift exchange.

Mrs. Jerome Mackey gave a humorous reading.

Antony Buss played several piano selections and a tape recording of the Senior Citizens program at the city auditorium earlier that afternoon was played.

Post-lunch supper was served at 6:30 p.m.

On the program committee were Mrs. Ed Gadeken, Mrs. Jerome Mackey, Mrs. Jack Erwin and Mrs. Morris Ebmeler.

Employees of Shady Rest Lodge and their spouses, Mrs. and Mrs. Ted Jones were guests in the Vern Carlson home Sunday evening for a Christmas party.

Monday Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Olson took Lynette Olson to Mandamin, Iowa, where she joined friends for the return trip to Ozark Bible College at Joplin, Mo. She had spent Thanksgiving weekend at home. Sunday, Olga visited in the Marvin Klemm home, Akron, Iowa, and attended special church services there.

Mrs. Gertrude Valhank and Mrs. Pat Glassewer attended the regional meeting which was held at 1:30 p.m. to change, correct and update the Trainable Mentally Retarded Curriculum Guide developed by the participants last summer during a Trainable Mentally Retarded Institute.

Ed Doeschers were among guests in the Everett Hank home Friday evening for the hostess' birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Starzl, Creighton, were dinner guests Sunday of Doeschers.

Public Notices

Every government official or board that handles public moneys, should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

A Letter, A Church, A Family and Christmas

by Marlin Wright

Boxes, shoes, socks, mittens, caps, pajamas and about every other type of new and used clothing were strewn around the front room of the Salem Lutheran Church parsonage at Wakefield Wednesday afternoon and it was all because of a letter.

A letter addressed "Pastor of Church, Wakefield, Nebraska" arrived at the Wakefield Post Office in mid-November and carried a return address from Stinnett, Kentucky. The letter was dropped into the Salem Lutheran Church mail and was opened and read by the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Johnson.

A lady living in the small hamlet of Stinnett, Ky., a community located in the Appalachian Mountains, wrote, "Dear Pastor, would you or your members like to exchange used clothes, shoes, toys, candy and such for some of our nice evergreens such as holly, mistletoe, pine and others?"

The writer went on to say that she is 25 years old and has a 26-year-old husband, a four-year-old girl and two-year-old son. She said work for her husband was scarce this winter. She gave the sizes of clothes they could use and closed saying, "If you're interested, write soon. Anything will be greatly appreciated."

The letter arrived in the minister's home on Saturday and Mrs. Johnson noted that her husband's sermon for the next day was based on the text in Matthew 25:35-36 (KJV). "For I was an hungry, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: naked, and ye clothed me:

HOLDING HOLLY from Kentucky are from left, Mrs. Alden Johnson, Mrs. Ron Harding and Mrs. Art Holman. The holly, sent by a Kentucky family in exchange for clothing, will be placed in the Salem Lutheran Church, Wakefield.

I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me."

The letter was read to the congregation. As a result, Mrs. Johnson wrote the Kentucky family and said the church would be glad to exchange clothing items and toys for the greens. She also enclosed postage money for the greens.

The Kentucky letter was printed in the parish paper giving the sizes of clothes needed. Anyone wanting to contribute clothing to the family was asked to have it in to the church parsonage by Tuesday.

Another letter arrived from Kentucky saying, "I'm mailing you a box of holly and pine. I here (farm just gardens) and freeze-can their food for winter. My husband roofs houses in the summer, but in the winter he doesn't have any to do, due to the weather. Our baby has rheumatoid arthritis and we have a hard time with him, but he's doing very well at the present. He doesn't have anything in his blood to fight infections, therefore he gets ear infections and pneumonia quite often.

"I hope you enjoy the greens. I'll write you when the package arrives. Thanks for everything." As the call went out to the Salem Lutheran congregation, people responded generously. Mrs. Johnson said, "There was a stream of people coming with gifts. It was really wonderful." The Christian Action committee of the Lutheran Church Women volunteered to meet at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon and pack those things contributed which included undershirts, overalls, sleepers, shoes, socks, mittens, jackets, sweaters, caps, dresses, slacks, blouses, purses, pajamas, slippers, ties, sport coats, earmuffs, toys, books, puzzles and candy.

Gifts, some new, some used, were carefully packed in the ladies into seven large boxes, as bus hands cut gas (Christmas paper and wrapped packages, the ladies explained their ideas as to what Christmas really means. One noted that "Christmas is love," while another observed, "The name of our committee is Christian Action and I guess that is why or how." The pastor's wife nodded her head in agreement noting, "This whole affair is a personal thing. The letter we received was hand written, not mimeographed, and in answering we had to say yes or no."

There was no doubt at all but what the answer from the Salem Lutheran congregation was a huge yes.

Helping other people is nothing new for the Lutheran Church Women as those ladies made 114 blankets, quilts and coverings last year which were sent to various missions around the world. The ladies completed the packing job Wednesday with the idea of getting the boxes mailed Thursday, but due to a railroad strike the mailing was delayed a day or two.

Before the striking railroad men were ordered back to work it appeared even Santa was going to be affected as far as mail to Kentucky was concerned. But who knows, had the strike continued, perhaps Rudolph, reindeer, and even Santa could have been summoned and

4 Area Youths Bound for Bowl

Two youths from Wayne and two from Carroll will be among the 180 University of Nebraska bandsmen who will be making the trip to the Orange Bowl for their televised appearance New Year's night.

To be taking part in the variety of activities in connection with the Cornhusker football team's Orange Bowl appearance will be Phil Kelton and Bruce Ring, both of Wayne, and Mark Johnson and Mike Olson, both of Carroll.

Kelton, a graduate student in computer science, plays trombone, and Ring, a pre-medicine major, plays trumpet. Johnson, an electrical engineering major, and Olson, a business major, both play trumpet in the band.

After a short visit home, the bandsmen, twirler Diane Tange-man, and Director Jack Seldner

Group Sets Date For Annual Meet

Twenty members of the Northeast Station Association, representing an 11-county area, met in Wayne Monday night to plan for the Association's annual meeting slated for March 9.

Harold Ingalls, agriculture agent, said guests at the meeting included Howard Ottosen, director of the Nebraska Experimental Station, and his associate, Robert Kleits, both of Lincoln.

The meeting in March will be held in the Wayne auditorium and include morning and afternoon sessions with a luncheon at noon.

Ingalls said the annual affair will be open to the public and the program content will probably include problems related to feeding pollution.

ALWAYS THINK POSITIVE — and, who knows, JUST MAYBE things will work out for you.
