Some of Wayne's business firms will be open for business Saturday and Sunday, according to Floyd Bracken, Chamber of Commerce manager. Civil Defense Book Ready for Residents

A recently completed manual titled "Wayne/Wayne County Emergency Operations Plan" provides information for residents regarding minimizing loss of life and property in the event of a major disaster.

T. P. Roberts, Wayne County Civil Defense director, notes that the plan is an attempt to outline the what, who, where and when of Civil Defense. He explained that to be of value, the plan must be generally understood by all the people and specifically understood by those who will have key responsibilities in disaster.

The manual states that the mission of Civil Defense is to coordinate existing governmental departments and agencies, as well as private entities, into a

Winside School Men Attend ETV Meeting

Supt. M. J. Masten and Elementary Principal Allen Schaefer of the Winside Public Schools were among 150 Nebraska school administrators attending a meeting in Hastings Wednesday of the Nebraska Council of Educational Television (NCEETV). Masten said John Prasch, superintendent of schools in Lincoln, presided at the sessions which included discussions of ETV programming and school participation.

Those attending the meeting were given a tour of the vocational technical school in Hastings with emphasis placed on the use of audiovisual aids throughout the teaching program. Northeast Nebraska people elected to the council's board of directors were Jim Ellis, Walk-Hill; Tom Brown, Plainview, and Ken Anderson, O'Neill.

Car, Pickup Collide

Two area drivers escaped injury when their vehicles collided at a rural intersection one mile south and five miles west of Carroll.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office investigated and said Judy L. Brader, Carroll, was westbound in a 1967 Chevrolet. She was reportedly turning left at the time her auto collided with a northbound 1969 Ford pickup driven by Donald Bauer, Randolph.

Cash Ready For Person With Luck

A rural Allen resident missed winning $300 in the weekly Cash Night drawing Thursday. Wilmer Benstead was not in a participating Wayne business firm at 8 p.m. when his name was called as the winner.

Since he was not present to win the prize, it will be increased to $350 for the next drawing slated Jan. 7. Drawings will not be held on Christmas Eve.

Eight Pay Fines

Wayne County Judge Luverna Hillton fined eight persons appearing in county court during the past few days.

$2,500 Is Up for Grabs Wednesday

By Merlin Wright

Two more area residents are going to discover the fun of winning $50 cash drawings in Wayne today (Monday) and Tuesday, as four others have in previous drawings; however, the big money, five $500 cash prizes, is to be given away Wednesday. Lists of 20 ticket numbers are to be posted in participating Wayne stores today and tomorrow for the $50 drawings and a list of 50 numbers will be posted at 2 p.m. for the big drawing Wednesday.

As in previous Christmas drawings, those having and turning in the top number listed on a particular day by 8 p.m. will be named the winner. Five percent of the five top numbers Wednesday will each win $500.

The five grand prize winners Wednesday, each with $500, will own what may be one of the largest Christmas gifts they have ever received. All of the cash prizes are compliments of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce merchants who want to express their appreciation to all those doing business in Wayne this year.

Those persons holding winning tickets in the four previous $50 drawings this year are Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mrs. Glen Biltz, Phyllis Mausebach and Mrs. Joe Corbit, all of Wayne.

Mrs. Corbit had the third ticket number posted in the drawing Friday, and consequently had the winning ticket. She said if anyone was going to turn in either the first or second number listed. As no one showed up with either the first or second numbers, Mrs. Corbit was declared the winner.

Mrs. Corbit said she found out that her own daughter, Mrs. Larry Gamble, Wayne, was holding the fourth ticket number, the next after hers on the winning list, which she thought was quite a coincidence.

Mrs. Corbit said how she thought she would win her winnings, Mrs. Corbit said it was easy to answer that since she had five grandchildren.

Old Santa Claus, in all of his traditional bright red and white finery, has been making the presentation of the Chamber of Commerce prize money to winners this year. Larry Chamberlin, a Wayne State College student, has used his colorful role to also assist in related Christmas activities in Wayne.

"THAT'S RIGHT," Santa says, confirming that Mrs. Joe Corbit, Wayne, is the winner of the $50 Christmas drawing Friday night. Two more $50 checks will be given away today (Monday) and Tuesday. The big drawing for five $500 prizes is slated Wednesday.

Allen Board Adopts New Dress Code

When students return to school at Allen they will have to observe a new dress code adopted recently by the Allen board of education.

The new code notes that "clothes should be decent, proper, and in good taste" in order to make a good impression of the school on others and to make for a better school.

The code for the boys in the school system calls for having sideburns trimmed at the bottom of the ear and keeping hair well groomed and not too long enough to lie over the ear or in the shirt collar.

Boys will not be permitted to wear any jewelry except for rings, watches and identification bracelets, and they can wear no slogans or symbols on their clothing except for the name of the school.

Girls at Allen will be permitted to wear pant suits.

Officials Honored

Wayne County courthouse personnel held an informal coffee hour at 3 p.m. Friday in honor of officers who will be leaving their posts in January.

Honored with gift certificates were Irv Davis, John T. Dressler, John Surber, Leona Balde, Gladys Porter and Marion Perry. About 35 attended the social hour.

25 Tree Varieties Available to Farmers

Nebraskans will have an annual opportunity to decorate the Nebraska landscape and protect the soil with home-grown seedling trees through the 1971 Clarke-McNary program.

Twenty-five varieties are available, ranging from red cedar, four varieties of pines, Russian olive and golden willow to many varieties of cherry and plum trees. There should be a tree for every need on the list.

Trees sold under the Clarke-McNary program are to be used for windbreaks and forest plantings and are not to be grown for sale with roots attached or grown as ornamentals. The potted trees are good choices for difficult sites and for landscape areas where high survival is essential.

All bare-root seedlings and transplants delivered will cost $9.74 per 100 trees. If picked up at falfses, they can be purchased for $8.72 per hundred. Potted greens will be sold for $8.20 in lots of 30, to be picked up at a specified location.

Orders will be accepted the first of the year. Order blanks and information folders will be available at the Wayne County Extension office or at the Northeast Station east of Concord.

The envelope will then be mailed or returned to the county director.

Bernard Nell has been elected president of the Allen volunteer fire department, moving up from the vice-president job he has held for the past year.

He is named to offices were Jerry Schroeder as vice-president, replacing Keith Keith Hill as secretary, replacing Don Harvey, and Clarence Jeffrey as treasurer. Jeffrey held the job of treasurer the past year.

Named chief-of-the-department was Bill Kjer. He replaces long time holder of that office, LeRoy Roberts.

Plans Set for '71 March of Dimes Drive

Twelve Wayne County March of Dimes campaign workers met in the Wiltse Mortuary Thursday evening to make plans for the 1971 fund drive slated to begin Jan. 14.

Iowan Wiltse, county director for the drive, explained the system that will be used in the campaign. He said envelopes will be delivered to someone in each block in towns and then passed from neighbor to neighbor until it returns to its starting point. The envelope will then be mailed or returned to the county director.

Wiltse noted that by using this system each home takes care of its own contribution and then helps out in the drive by passing the envelope along the same day. He said the rural campaign will be similar except the route will be marked on the envelope so the township chairman can keep a record of its movement.

The director explained that if each farm family will make a donation and pass the envelope on to the next name on the list, the campaign can be completed in about two weeks.

The teenagers in the county will also be working in the program. Wiltse said the young people will be asked to distribute and pick up the familiar canisters that will be placed in business places throughout the county.

Teenagers have already contributed about $300 to the campaign, Wiltse pointed out, through the sale of Spook Insurance at Halloween time. He said a special trip for these youths is being planned early next year. They will visit the birth defects center in Omaha.

Some of the workers in the county-wide March of Dimes drive are as follows: Tom McClain, treasurer; Claude Har-

Higher Monthly Light Bill in Offing

Publicly owned electric systems such as the one in Wayne will attempt to minimize the impact of rising fuel costs on the consumer because they operate for the benefit of the consumers they serve, says Norbert Brugger, superintendent of the Wayne electric utility.

Brugger said recently that sharp increases in prices of all fuels and increasing monopoly control of fuel sources in the United States may act to push electric rates higher in many parts of the nation.

He said that the sharp rise in prices for coal, natural gas and fuel oil may make it impossible to avoid rate increases. Fuel, he said, is a major factor in the cost of electricity, accounting for about 35 per cent of all operation and maintenance costs.

The country may soon witness the biggest wave of electric rate increases in the history of the electric industry, Brugger said, if present trends continue in fuel costs as well as costs of interest, materials and labor.

The prospect of increases in electric rates, according to the superintendent, would represent a marked reversal of previous trends which have seen a gradual decline in the unit cost of electricity for several decades. The cost of electricity to the residents of Wayne will probably go up shortly after the first of the year if an increase in fuel costs being requested by Peoples Natural Gas is okayed by the city council.

The council will probably hold a special meeting in the next few days to take up the subject of the requested gas rate increase. That increase, according to City Administrator Dan Sherry, would amount to just under 20 per cent. At least some of that increase will have to be passed on to the consumers, Sherry said.

The city council earlier this month okayed an increase of gas rates to residents in Wayne. The new rates, which go into effect with billings after Dec. 27. See LIGHT BILL, page 8

Local Mayor Picked For League Group

Kent Hall, mayor of Wayne, has been named to the legislative committee of the Nebraska League of Municipalities.

Hall, who took over as mayor of the city from Alfred Koplin earlier this year, will meet periodically with the other members on the committee to discuss bills before the state legislature which concern cities and towns across the state. About 15 men make up the committee, Hall said.

Named to the group by the president of the League, he met with the committee Wednesday afternoon in Grand Island to discuss legislation which will come before the state senators next session.

Skaters Get New Rink

Leonard Schwanko, city employee, works at filling the new skating rink on the south side of West Elementary in Wayne. The new rink, making two available to skating fans, is a joint project of the city and the Wayne-Carroll school system. The city spent a few hours last week filling the rink with water, letting it freeze and filling it again to get solid ice cover. The other skating rink is located west of the swimming pool.

Near Disaster in the Dark

Sunset in Wayne County comes at an early hour during these short winter days. It means there are more hours of darkness than of light and consequently there is more chance of one having an accident.

Anyone acquainted with the flow of traffic knows that it is heavier in the late afternoon when people have left their jobs and are on their way home. Heavy traffic and darkness increases the chance of having an accident.

Not only are the days short but the volume of traffic increases daily as more people are on the road going (Christmas shopping and heading out on holiday trips.

Now let's add one more ingredient to the driving picture. To the short days and heavy traffic, let's add snow and ice on the streets and highways. Also add a dash of haste and take your choice of quarrelling children in the car or an otherwise emotionally upset driver and you have an excellent recipe for disaster in the dark.

There may be a slow moving vehicle on the highway that is not lit and well illuminated. Slush has dimmed the headlights. All of a sudden, without warning, you realize there is a tractor pulling a wagon ahead of you. There is an oncoming car and bright lights. Brakes squeal and if you're lucky you don't get killed.

In a recent incident in Wayne County, three cars and their passengers were piled in a heap because of an unlighted tractor standing on a new highway not officially opened. It was near disaster in the dark.

Between 600 and 700 people just like the one holding this paper, reading these lines, will have to be buried one week from today because they were slaughtered in holiday crashes.

There is no question but what each of us will die some day, but let's drive with care and not take that day off as long as possible. In other words, why make your car your casket? — MMW.

JUST WRIGHT

by Merlin Wright

Since this is the last time J. W. will be chatting with you via the column this year, until Jan. 11 to be exact, let's visit about a variety of items.

Newspaper employees, like everyone else, have put in a good year of work and management is going to let us take it a little easy until Jan. 4 when we get back into the saddle again on a full-time schedule. It means we're going to print only one paper each week for two weeks. There will not be a paper in your mail box on Dec. 28 or Jan. 4. You will have a paper, however, each Thursday. Now when your paper doesn't come on those two Mondays you'll know your reporters, advertising staff, make-up and pressmen, and other newspaper personnel are all going to be able to have Christmas and New Year's Day with their respective families.

J. W. wants to publicly thank those people who use the People's Natural Gas Company office for providing weather temperature records which we use in our weather story in the Thursday issue of the paper. We are indebted to Pat Gross at the Triangle Finance Company for providing area precipitation records, and we want to thank him for letting us bother him for those reports. We feel our readers appreciate the weather stories throughout the year so we want to give credit where credit is due.

Regardless of where you live there are undoubtedly a lot of Christmas lights and decorations marking the season. Some folks go in for decorating on a larger scale than others. The community of Laurel has an exceptionally large number of families that have used out-of-door decorations this year. We understand that any Laurel resident putting up out-of-door lighting will get a $5 deduction on their electricity bill. Other communities may want to try the idea.

Twice as many people are being killed on a yearly basis by drunken drivers as by murderers.

in the world to have him around so he could throw things if he liked.

The agonizing headache that stabs deep into a man's guts and the anger of death to give up the manhood you brought into the world through that son is beyond being captured by words.

Just remember that as you celebrate with your family there are others who cannot. It isn't your pit that is wanted by those who have lost their men in Viet Nam, but what is wanted is that you would become alive in the political affairs of this country and raise hell with the pussyfooters who are doing nothing to get our men home from Viet Nam. If Uncle Sam isn't going to declare war and go in for an all-out military victory, then let's get our noses out of that country and bring our men home.

Well, that is enough of my opinions on that subject for this time, but the man behind this typewriter has lost several good friends in that Viet Nam situation and it hurts way down deep. It is pretty hard to talk about "Peace on earth" when there are men taking your place in Viet Nam and getting their brains blown out. Whether or not you like that kind of language, it is the truth.

One thing is for sure, those men who have been lost in battle would surely want all the American kids, including their brothers and sisters, to have a joyous Christmas along with all the traditional music, decorations and trimmings. Those men in prisons and those still fighting have and are putting their lives on the line for their country, its ways and beliefs. Though they are a long way from the lights of the old home town, just knowing it's Christmas at home can help them recall some of the things for which they are fighting.

Our military men are hoping their effort to make a better world will prevent their own sons from having to experience similar battlefields.

For you folks who are a long way from your old home towns here in the Wayne Herald area, J. W. wants you to know that we have snow on the ground, kids sleigh-riding on the hills, colored Christmas lights all over the place and the U. S. Post Offices are loaded with mail to you.

Santa has been his kindly old self again this year and has made arrangements to be in every community. Little faces with big eyes have been looking into shop windows to sample some of the toys they'd like Santa to bring. As your friends and neighbors have been walking up and down the old main drag they have mentioned your name among others, wondering if you were going to be home for the holidays. Or are you going to be tied up with your festivities right where you are?

Church bells are ringing for special services, and the children, as always, enjoy hearing over and over again about the Birth of the Christ Child. Choirs are busy rehearsing Christmas music that is bound to touch the inner soul of each member of each flock. In other words, everything is just about normal here at this season of the year.

Wherever you are, friend, may your enthusiasm for life outweigh your disappointments. May more of all that is good come your way in 1971. Take heart when you stub your toe and fall down knowing it happens to all the living. When success finds you, may it find you humble. Above all, let's get that Viet Nam situation settled so 1971 can really be a Happy New Year.

Take marbles. The Nebraska State Historical Society collections contain little written material about the game or its participants, though an occasional reference is made to it, most often in the school notes columns carried by weekly newspapers. However, tangible evidence that the game was widespread in Nebraska can be found in its large museum collections. The sport is much older than the state. Marbles have been recovered from the site of Fort Atkinson (1820-1827) in Washington County, Nebraska, by Society archeologists.

There is no definite accounting how the game started, though it is thought to have been imported to America by Hollanders who immigrated to Pennsylvania. It is still strongest in that area today. As the frontier moved westward, the game spread to the hinterlands. From the beginning boys baked their own marbles from clay into crockets, clayles, or commons, crude in appearance and most often a dun color, but occasionally blue or mottled. In the latter decades of the 19th Century when manufactured marbles were generally introduced, the game took on a sophistication it had not known earlier. Ball bearings from discarded machines—the dread steels—later became a part of the game. The steel was good for chipping or smashing an opponent's prized glassies, Chinas, or crocides.

A whole lexicon grew up around the game: Clay marbles, homemade or store-bought, had a variety of names, but in scorn were called cheapies (10 for a penny at the grocery); glazed clay marbles were pottries or two-fers (worth two cheapies); unglazed but painted marbles were chalkies; Chinas presented a better grade of glazed surface; glassies had many designations to describe their appearance—clearies, cat-eyes, smokies, to name a few; gemstones or their imitations (mimies) were the agates, onyxes,

The planes, flying from Phoenix to Alexandria, Minn., ran into dense fog five miles east of Walthill. The pilots returned to Walthill and circled the town in an attempt to get help in finding a landing strip.

Within minutes the town was alerted, the pilots were signaled by lights to follow a car to a place to land. The car guided the pilots to Pender where a group of cars lined the airport to light the field with their car lights.

Clinties—and if authentic were called rimbles and might cost 25¢ Marbles in general were known as megs or migs, and a large size Bull Durham tobacco sack with pucker string was a convenient receptacle for boys to carry them in.

A shooter was usually an agate or glassie; lagging, the act of tossing to a line to determine shooting order; dubs, hitting two or more marbles with one shot; lofting, bowling, fudging, explain themselves; for fair meant returning marbles won. Keeps often became the subject of heated community discussion. It was considered by many mothers to be wrong—gambling and against the moral code. Rural schools often forbade because the bigger eighth graders, relying on superior knowledge and experience, cleaned out the small fry and created hurt feelings if not long-standing animosities.

The game itself varied widely with the community, but three of the most common varieties were: (1) Black Snake, in which a series of holes were dug and marbles were shot from hole to hole. (2) Chasles, a sort of follow-the-leader arrangement which each player contributed a given number of marbles which were then arranged in a circle, oval or square; shooters took turns, the object being to knock marbles from the ring while leaving the shooter in the ring.

From marbles the English language itself has been enriched by such terms as knuckle down, slips don't count, fudging and for keeps.

Your Place in the Stars

By Tom McDermott

Much has been written and said about the development of Santa Claus and the particular Christmas customs of foreign lands. But little has ever been mentioned concerning the very real saint who started it all: Saint Nicholas. Like most saints, St. Nicholas is no exception when it comes to legends. When still a boy, according to popular legend, he made a pilgrimage to Egypt and Palestine and was imprisoned for some time. He returned to his home in Asia Minor still a young boy and was made bishop of Myra in Lycia in what is today Turkey during the early Fourth Century.

Known for his extreme kindness, Nicholas is said to have given packages to the poor during the night. However, the two favorite legends about him concern young people. According to the first, three boys who were murdered by a vile innkeeper and then salted and put in a vat were returned to life by Saint Nicholas. The second says that the saint secretly gave pieces of gold to the three daughters of a poor nobleman who could not afford a dowry for them.

He remained important in the East and in the Sixth Century Justinian dedicated a church at Constantinople to him. His popularity in the West came after the theft and subsequent removal of his bones from Turkey to Bari, a coastal city in southeastern Italy, by Italian merchants in 1087.

In pre-Protestant-England, Saint Nicholas' Feast Day (Dec. 6) was celebrated by the altar and choir boys of the church. They would elect a Boy Bishop, named Nicholas, who would reign until Dec. 28, Holy Innocents Day. In Belgium and the Netherlands his Feast Day is still observed. A man dressed in episcopal vestments with miter gives presents to the young.

Saint Nicholas is the patron saint of sailors, travelers, bakers, merchants and especially children. The name "Santa Claus" comes from the Dutch word for Saint Nicholas—Sinter Klaas. Today's Santa Claus of red garb and snow white beard is mostly a Protestant creation fostered by Americans until its spread to other lands. Merry Christmas!

Yule Tide Trees And Treats

The most joyous season of the year is quickly approaching and while Santa is getting his toys and reindeer ready for Christmas Eve, busy mothers are preparing Christmas decorations to enhance the festivities at home. In addition to the tinsel Christmas tree and the traditional mistletoe, here's a delightful and easy idea for a centerpiece for the holiday table. Buy a sheet of styrofoam 1/2 inch thick, 24 x 12 inches. Pencil an outline of a tree on the styrofoam. Cut styrofoam into Christmas tree shape with a serrated edge knife using a sawing motion. Paint green, if desired, with green spray paint. Dry thoroughly before using. Arrange various shape pretzels in a pretty abstract design on the styrofoam, from small to large. To delight your family and friends before the holiday feast, use the remaining styrofoam to cut out small rounds for Christmas balls and stars to use as serving plates for tiny hors d'oeuvres. Here are two hors d'oeuvres guaranteed to spread Christmas cheer. CHEESE BALLS: For speared cheese balls, mix grated sharp cheddar cheese with mashed garlic to taste and enough beer to make a paste. Shape mixture into balls and spear on a pretzel stick just before serving. HAM ROLL-UPS: For ham roll-ups spread slices of boiled ham with mustard. Roll ham slice around slice of fat pretzel rods. Serve at once. These suggestions will help make this Christmas the merriest of all!

Blue Devils Nip Plainview, 60-56

Although they let a six-point lead dribble away in the closing moments of the game, Wayne High held on to post a 60-56 win over Plainview Friday night in a West Husker Conference contest.

The Blue Devils were three buckets ahead of the host crew with about three minutes to play and had to depend on players coming off the bench to hold that lead after Mike Creghton and Kyle Willis fouled out. Plainview quickly tied the score at 56-56 before Wayne finally scored a point.

Plainview's big Bob Lingenfelter was a constant source of trouble to the locals. The 6-8, 240-pounder pulled down about 27 rebounds and contributed 15 points in the losing effort. Wayne, still getting the kinks out after playing only three games so far this season, will go up against West Point High in the second game of the Wayne State College Christmas holiday tournament next week. The Blue Devils play at 6:45 on Tuesday, Dec. 29, after Laurel and Norfolk Catholic open the high school action with a 5:15 clash.

In Friday's reserve contest, Wayne emerged with a 49-44 win as balanced scoring proved successful for the young cagers. Roger Saul had nine points, Tom Kerstine and Larry Shupe eight each and Doug Sturm seven. Also hitting: Bob Nelson with five, Marty Hansen and Scott Niemann with three each and Rex Murray with one.

Leading the varsity to their win, a come-from-behind affair after the Devils went into the locker rooms behind by 22-25 at intermission, was senior Rod Cook with 16 points. Cook hit 10 of his points in the second half as Wayne finally caught and went ahead of the hosts. Also in two figures were Don Mau with a dozen and Mike Creghton with nine. Lonnie Hiltroft hit nine, Steve Petersen seven, Breck Giese four and Roger Saul two.

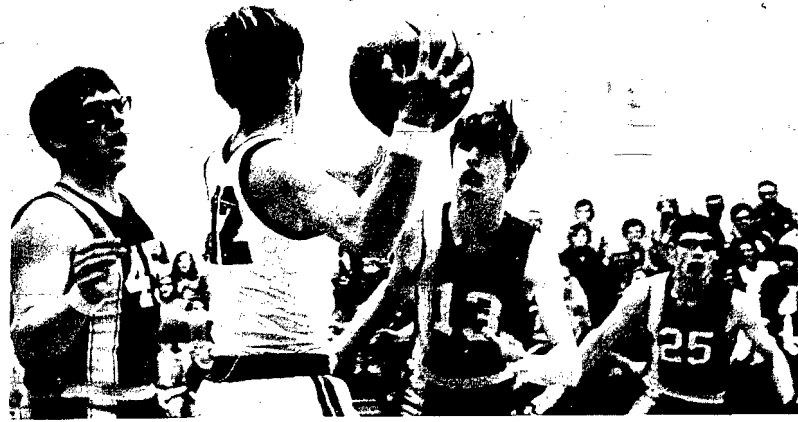

Ups in action under the boards were Mau with 14 rebounds, Kyle Willis with 10 and Petersen and Hiltroft with nine each.

BOXING IN Newcastle's Dave Wendt are Eagles John Warner (45) and Gary Troth (13) as Jerry Geiger moves in on the action.

Newcastle Dumps Allen Quintet, 81-75

Allen's varsity cage club nearly stretched out a win over host Newcastle Friday night in an East Lewis and Clark Conference tilt before finally falling to the once-victorious Raiders, 81-75.

The Eagles, now with a 2-3 record for the season, went into the rough-and-tumble final period with an advantage of three points, 63-60, and hacked out as much as a seven-point spread halfway through it.

Paced by big Mel Cook, a 6-5 senior and probably the tallest player in the L&C loop this season, Newcastle fought back to take the lead at 76-75 with just under two minutes to play. A stall and several fouls, including a couple technicals against the Eagles, was just the formula for victory for the team which so far this year had only knocked off Emerson Sacred Heart.

The Allen quintet seemed to have just the recipe to beat the Raider in the first half: an effective fast break which took advantage of John Warner's passing ability and Loren Reuter's speed. That combo resulted in Reuter's picking up 28 of his 36 points in the first period, although Allen went into the dressing room behind by one point, 42-41, as the result of a chilly shooting spell early in the second frame.

Allen's formula for winning began falling apart in the second period as the Newcastle attack played a balanced scoring attack which ended up with all five starters hitting in double figures. Leading the pack was Cook with 23 and Dave Wendt with 22.

Trailing Reuter, a 5-8 senior member of the Allen team, were Jerome Roberts and Gary Troth, both with 16.

Roberts, given the job of handling Cook most of the game, pulled down 17 rebounds for a respectable showing under the boards. Roberts is 6-4.

Troth played his first game of the season Friday after watching the first four games from the sidelines because of sprained ankles.

Allen will take its 2-3 mark into the Christmas holiday tournament scheduled for Emerson-Hubbard on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 28-29. Also in that tourney are Wakefield and Pender. Next regular season action for the Eagles will be a home stand against Randolph on Jan. 15.

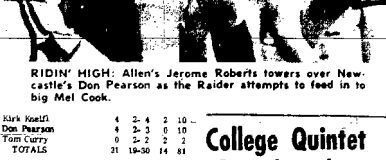

Allen lost the junior varsity contest in overtime, 31-28. The young Eagle club had a 22-12 lead over the hosts at one time before letting Newcastle battle back for a 27-27 tie with a shot from the top of the key at the buzzer. Peters led Allen's scoring with eight points.

In the volleyball contest, Allen lost two of the three sets.

College Quintet Clipped Friday At Aberdeen

The basketball Wildcats of Wayne State found the Wolves of Northern State typically tough Friday night at Aberdeen, S. D. Northern built a 17-2 lead in the first six minutes and finished 78-70.

The loss dropped Wayne to a 2-4 record before Saturday night's game with Augusta at Sioux Falls. Northern mounted to 7-2.

After a 44-25 half Northern moved ahead by 25 points, but Wayne surged close enough near the end to give the Wolves a scare.

Dennis Siefkes, Wayne's top scorer for the season, led the Wildcats with 16 against Northern while Jerry Woodin hit 12, Jim Merchel 11.

Thompson Helps Lyons Past Wakefield Quintet

Lyons, paced by the 26-point effort of smooth Steve Thompson, kept Wakefield without a win this season by handling the Trojans a 54-48 hitting Friday night.

The Trojans, who finally had a home stand when they went up against Walthill Saturday night, had their season mark fall to 0-3 with the loss.

Partridge Hunt Being Considered For Nebraska

New species of game birds potentially adaptable to Nebraska was the subject of a briefing by an official of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Foreign Game Bird Introduction Program at last week's meeting of the Game and Parks Commission.

The Game Commission has been considering introduction of several Asian game birds, especially partridges native to the Caspian and Black Sea areas. The official will probably be queried on the feasibility of stocking them here.

Factors considered important to game bird survival and those included in the Game Commission's studies include temperature range, humidity, elevation, soil, land use, rainfall and vegetation.

Through the comparison of habitat, the Commission came up with six species that might do well in parts of Nebraska that do not now support pheasants, quail or grouse, or with habitat that these species do not utilize fully. Last year the head of the Foreign Game Bird Introduction Program was granted permission to visit the USSR and he found that five of Nebraska's six proposed species showed promise. He was not allowed to visit the range of the sixth bird.

Introduction of new species has added greatly to Nebraska's hunting, as witnessed by two successful imports: the flag-necked pheasant and the Merriam's wild turkey.

Other transplants have failed, however, and it is hoped that the habitat study and consultation with the Fish and Wildlife Service experts will help increase chances of success in introducing new game birds.

Pilger Native Named To Research Council

A native of Pilger has been named to the Scientific Advisory Council of the American Seed Research Foundation.

Named to the post was Stuart O. Nelson, a University of Nebraska staff member and research investigations leader for the United States Department of Agriculture's Electromagnetic Radiation Investigations at the NE East Campus. He was appointed to the job by the ASRF president, Harold Arnold of Fresno, Calif.

The foundation was organized in 1959 to support research on U.S. and to encourage research exploring basic principles of seed behavior.

The Scientific Advisory Council, which consists of 12 members from Universities and 12 members from the American Seed Trade Association, assists in the selection of research proposals to be supported.

Nelson has conducted extensive research on the use of high-frequency electric fields and other forms of electromagnetic radiation to improve seed germination. It is a recognized authority on electrical properties of seed and grain and was cited by Northrup, King & Co. in 1968 for his research achievements.

Mat Club Decisions Gators, 28-26

By Norvin Hansen
For a time it looked like the Wayne High wrestling crew was about to suffer one of its worst defeats since the sport began a few years ago, but then the veteran wrestlers came through to help the local club to a slim 28-26 win over a plucky Wisner-Pilger team.

Wayne lost the first four matches of the meet at the Gator auditorium Thursday night before reliable Jim Meyer registered a 1-52 pin over his opponent in the 126-pound class.

Going into Meyer's match, the Blue Devils were trailing the Gators by 18-0 after Scott Hall, Terry Pfeiffer, Harold Hank and Barry Rubeck walked off the mats bested by their hosts.

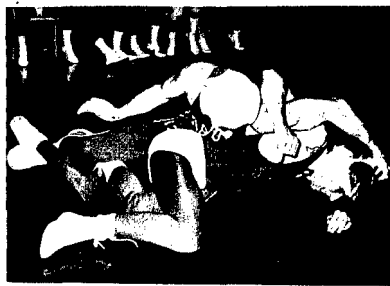

Wayne fought back to a 26-23 deficit with just the heavyweight division left to be decided. Dave Johnson brought the fans of their chairs and onto the floor when he pinned his foe in the second period.

Wayne's win gave the club a 1-1 mark to take into action at the Wahloo Invitational tournament held Saturday.

In Thursday's reserve action the locals posted a 41-10 over the Gators.

Winning in the reserve action: Tim Ross, 1-01 pin over Keith Rathke at 98 pounds; Rick Kay, -08 pin over Randy Hillier at 105; Dan Marr, 11-5 decision over Terry Kane at 112; Jim Nieman, 6-1 decision over Ken Dunner at 126; Kevin Doreey, decision over Jim Record at 132; Ron Ring, -40 pin over Rick Chace at 138; Ken Frahm, -04 pin over Roger Adam at 155; Ken Otte, -41 pin over Sam Rennek at 167; Lynn Gunderson, BILLY RUBECK of Wayne is atop Wisner-Pilger's Steve Friesz during 119-pound action in Thursday's meet.

Losing their reserve matches: Chuck Roland, 8-4 decision to Randy Chace at 119, and Al Temme, -56 pin by Rex Stucken-schmidt at 145.

Complete results of the varsity action:

95 - Scott Hall was pinned by Jack McGuire in 1:52.

105 - Terry Pfeiffer was pinned by Carl Weichman in 3:01.

112 - Harold Hank was pinned by Dick Weichman in 1:29.

Perrin Flips Foe Quickly As Winside Nips Neligh

Felix Perrin is readily adapting to at least one phase of school life at Winside High. The native of Islands in the South Pacific registered a pin in 33 seconds over his opponent Thursday night to set the stage for the Wildcats' 14-6 drubbing of host Neligh.

Winside earlier this year got by Pender and will take a 2-0 mark into the home stand against strong Stanton tonight (Monday). Wednesday the Cats travel to Logan View for an invitational meet against such powerhouses as defending Class C champion Valley and Fremont Bergan. The following Wednesday, Dec. 30, they travel to Howells for a holiday meet before a rest over the holiday season.

Perrin's fall was the fastest one registered. Others coming in the first period were Roger Anderson's in 1:10, Dean Krueger's in 1:49 and Terry Jaeger in 1:51.

Harold Simpson, coach of the Wildcats, hopes one of his strong wrestlers will be back in action for the tournament at Logan View. That wrestler is Larry Cleveland, out with an ankle injury suffered against Pender. Cleveland's ankle joint was popped open in his match and it had to be drained after it filled with fluid. He completes at the 185-pound level.

Only grapples to lose at Neligh: Doug Anderson, Roger's brother, by a 12-3 decision to Boyce Blaney at 112-pound level, and Brian Hoffman by a 7-0 decision to Larry Peters at 185-pound level.

Results of the meeting:

98 - Felix Perrin pinned John Fallsten in 3:33.

105 - Dave Jaeger won by forfeit, no opponent.

Bear Machine Churns to 73-60 Win

The Laurel High Bears played probably their finest game of the season in knocking off visiting Coleridge Friday evening, 73-60.

Fast-breaking and hitting from the field much better than in their previous three outings, the Bears had little trouble with the team which last year gave them fits before losing at Coleridge. Behind the 28-point display by Steve Erwin, Laurel rolled by a 38-24 lead at halftime after going ahead 23 to 15 at the end of the first quarter. The Bears continued their dominance in the third period, pumping in 20 points for a 58-43 advantage after three periods.

Laurel outclassed the visitors under both baskets, gaining 47 rebounds to Coleridge's 30. Erwin led in that department with 20. Regg Swanson had an even dozen.

Coleridge had four players in two figures: Marlin Kallin and Dave Fox with 15 each, Ed Kallin with 12 and Jim Leapley with 12.

The Bears play at Stanton Tuesday night in a West Husker Conference clash. After they prepare for another tilt against Norfolk Catholic, the club which defeated them in their opener this year. That tilt opens the high school division of the Wayne State Christmas holiday tournament on Tuesday, Dec. 29, at 5:15 p.m. in Rice Auditorium. The other two high school teams, Wayne and West Point, meet at 6:45 the same day.

In the reserve contest, Laurel posted a 47-23 win as Chuck Hirschman led his team to the win with 10 counters.

Frosty Morning

Fog and freezing temperatures caused Jack Frost to cover Wayne County with frost-like weather Tuesday morning. A Wayne Herald photographer captured some of the natural grandeur of a fence row north of the city about the time the sun was coming up.

VA Q & A - Q. Presently, I receive a Veterans Administration pension under the "old law." Could I change from the "old law" to the "new law" and then back to the "old law" later? A. No, once you change from the "old law" to the "new law," you cannot later change back to the "old law." However, the VA will help you determine whether it is to your advantage to be under the "old law" or "new law."

Frank Merry Christmas and Happy New Year! Nory

Workmen at Lun were busy last week extending the new community sewer service another 900 feet to the south along the highway on the east edge of the village. The extension will permit another four residents to hook up to the sewer. Three had been signed up for the service last week. The sanitary sewer system, a project long in the planning stages for the village, was finally completed this summer.

Thieves Harass Local Residents

Thieves continue to harass local residents and businessmen. Police were informed Thursday that a typewriter was taken from the Wiltsie Mortuary office at 401 Main Street. That same day officers were told that both the American and Nebraska flags were stolen from the flag pole at the National Guard Armory on East Seventh Street.

Other items on the police blotter late last week included four auto wrecks.

Del Stoltenberg stopped his 1967 Mercury to pick up a passenger around 2:20 p.m. Wednesday in the 900 block on Pearl Street when a 1964 Ford driven by Delaine Tropka, Crete, came over a hill, officers said, and collided with the Mercury.

Police said a 1967 Rambler driven by John Hall, Gildren, Iowa, stopped for a traffic light on Second and Main Streets Thursday. A 1968 Ford driven by Amber Truby, Wakefield, stopped behind the Hall auto and then reported that her foot slipped off the brake pedal causing the auto to move forward hitting the car ahead.

Police investigated two additional accidents occurring Thursday. Mrs. Roland Victor, Wayne, was attempting to move a 1965 Chevrolet from a parking stall in the 200 block on Main Street around 4:20 p.m. and broke a turn signal lens on a parked 1965 Ford owned by Merle Ring, officers said. They also reported that a 1968 Dodge driven by Delwin Meyer, Columbus, was westbound in the 100 block on West Seventh Street. Meyer lost control of the vehicle, police said, due to ice on the street and struck a light pole on the northeast corner of the intersection.

members to contact whenever an organization is in need of a program or program material.

He emphasized that for every $2 contributed in Wayne County, 50 cents goes directly for scientific research, 75 cents goes to operate birth defect centers and other programs designed to help those already born and afflicted with serious birth defects, and 75 cents remains in Wayne County as direct help to babies and children born with birth defects.

The National Foundation of the March of Dimes is now promoting the reubella vaccine program for all children through the ages of 12 years. A separate reubella count will be taken in Wayne and Winside through the TAPS program to give the National Foundation some idea as to where mass inoculations have taken place and where there may be need for more such programs.

Women monarchs of the past had nothing on today's women when it came to bathing. The fastidious and great 17th Century Queen Elizabeth could bathe only once a month due to the scarceness of soap.

Winside Pupils Plan Program of Christmas Music

Winside Public School students will present a 2 p.m. Christmas program Tuesday in the auditorium of the new elementary building.

Pupils in grades one through eight will participate in the program as will the junior band and the high school mixed chorus. Principal Ronald Kramer said the public is cordially invited to the afternoon performance. He said it is hoped that by having the program in the afternoon it will avoid conflicting with commitments many families have during the evening.

Elementary pupils plan to sing such Christmas music as "Jingle Bells," "Deck the Halls," and "Go Tell It To A Mountain."

The seventh grade girls' glee and an eighth grade chorus will also sing seasonal songs. Members of the high school mixed chorus will sing "Glad Tidings Bringing" and "Hush, My Babe." The high school girls' chorus will sing "Tiny King" and "Christmas Stands for Love." The junior band will present "Santa's Holiday."

Kramer noted that Santa would make his appearance on Wednesday, the last day before Christmas vacation, during the elementary school's class parties. He said that school activities will end at 2 p.m. Wednesday for Christmas vacation with school buses running at that time. Classes will not meet again until Jan. 4.

Employment Help

A representative of the Norfolk employment service will be in the Chamber of Commerce office in Wayne on two dates during the month of January to help any area residents find employment.

The representative, I. M. Wicks, will be in the office on Jan. 13 and 27, both Wednesdays. The telephone at the CC office is 375-2240 for anybody who might like to call him rather than stop in.

Alien Reporting Nearly at Hand

R. C. Williams of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service announced last week that the period within which aliens must report their addresses is almost at hand.

The month of January has been set for the address reporting period. All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the Government during that period. Williams said that forms with which to make the report will be available at all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January.

He urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.
