Wayne Escapes Brunt of Blizzard

Wayne County residents considered themselves fortunate Monday morning as they started digging out of the snow and realizing the area had escaped the worst part of an early January blizzard. The storm's center swept across southern Nebraska and northern Kansas, accompanied the five to seven inches of snow that started covering the Wayne area Saturday night. The snow was generally light but increased in density Sunday and took on the appearance at times of an old-fashioned blizzard. Wind-whipped snow cut visibility to near zero at the height of the storm.

A city street department spokesman said wind hampered snow-clearing operations all day Sunday. He said there were drifts all over town and a five-foot drift on Pine Heights Road Sunday night. City crewmen completed clearing the streets Tuesday and were clearing snow from intersections Wednesday.

The storm made it necessary for all schools in Wayne and the surrounding area to cancel classes Monday, however most were back in operation Tuesday. Registration at Wayne State College was postponed for a day. Students registered Tuesday and Wednesday. Classes are slated to get underway today (Thursday).

The State Highway Department reported winds kept snow swept off most area highways and that the traffic flow Sunday was near normal. Highway 70 was closed for a brief time due to stalled trucks, but was opened again in about two hours. The highway department noted Highway 57 north of Carroll was blocked late Sunday night and opened Monday.

Cal Comstock, manager of Wayne County Public Power District, said "We were lucky," and noted that the storm caused no outages in the rural areas.

Norb Bruggner at the city light plant reported they had no outside breakages and only one or two normal calls about service problems not necessarily related to the storm.

The light plant, along with schools, the college and other businesses, is town on interruptible contracts with People's Natural Gas Company, went to alternate fuel supplies Sunday.

Bruggner pointed out that the firm from Norfolk taking care of Christmas decorations in Wayne had luckily taken them down Saturday before the severe weather.

Mike Smith, manager of Bell Telephone in Wayne, reported only routine problems which were not necessarily related to the weekend snow. "We were lucky," he said.

SWINGING NO MORE: The area's first big winter storm over the weekend stopped a lot of activity in the Wayne area, including playing on these swings near the West Elementary School in Wayne.

Francis Moul, a member of the political science department at Wayne State College, has won $50 for the idea he entered in a contest to improve state government.

Moul suggested that a state agency be assigned to mobilize college resources - faculty members, graduate students and equipment - and put them to work in solving problems in their region.

There were 102 suggestions in the contest, sponsored by State Sen. David H. Stahmer of Omaha. Stahmer offered $250 in prize money for the ideas and said he would try turning the best ones into reality.

The winning entry in the contest, worth $100, was turned in by two people, both suggesting that people in different areas report Nebraska's feelings regularly to government officials. Two other people earned $50 runner-up award, along with Moul.

Procuring Liquor For Minor Costs Woman $250

A Laurel woman was charged and found guilty in Wayne County court in the last few days of procuring alcoholic liquor for a minor.

Carol Blatnoff, Laurel, was fined $250, $5 costs and a 15-day jail sentence for procuring liquor for a minor. Judge Laverna Hilton suspended the jail sentence.

Margaret Lundstrom and Sylvia Elyon, both of Wayne, paid $10 fines and $5 in court costs on charges of allowing a dog to run at large.

Wayne Cold Storage, Wayne, and Dwight B. Stewart, Omaha, paid $10 fines and $5 in costs for illegal parking.

Gene Isom, Wayne, was fined $5 and $5 costs for violating the city's burning ordinance.

'Forgotten Ones' Theme for Annual Meet

The public is invited to attend the third annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Family-Community Affairs Council at the Community Auditorium at Laurel on Monday, Jan. 11.

The theme of the meeting is "People's Concern - The Forgotten Ones." Registration is at 9:30 a.m. and the meeting will close at 3:15 p.m.

The Reverend Rex Bevins, drug abuse consultant for the state health department, will be featured speaker in the morning program. Mrs. Lillie Mowbray of the Nebraska Association for Mentally Retarded Children will address the group in the afternoon on "Reaching the Educationally Handicapped in Your Community."

The program will also include a panel discussion moderated by the Rev. C. Paul Russell of Wayne.

Lot of Work Ahead

A lot of work is in store before an area workshop can be set up to help mentally retarded young people, members of the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children were told during a recent board meeting at Fremont.

The group was told by an expert in the field that the group will have to find a building location, line up contract work for those trained in the workshop, study the population centers and check on the available professional services of such people as doctors and druggists.

The NENARC, formed early last year, is working in order to help mentally retarded children and young people. The workshop idea would help retarded youths just out of school border to prepare them for some kind of employment.

Story Hour Starts Soon

Librarian Mrs. Harriet Keri has announced that story hour sessions will be held at the Wayne public library each Saturday at 2 p.m. beginning this week.

The hour-long sessions, keyed to the interests of pre-schoolers through 10-year-olds, will continue through April 4.

Assisting Mrs. Keri will be library assistants Jana Reeg, Karen Way, Dennis Eilmerer and Tom McDermott.

$350 No Ho-Hum Affair

With those numerous Christmas cash giveaways out of the way, the Wayne Chamber of Commerce can get back to giving away those weekly gifts in the Cash Night drawings each Thursday. And this week's prize - $350 - is no small sum.

Shoppers in the Wayne area can become eligible for the drawings merely by signing up and being present when the winning name is announced at eight o'clock in participating businesses. The person whose name is drawn must be present to collect the gift. No purchases are required to take part in the weekly affair.

Traffic Lights at 7th & Sherman Step Closer

Some time early this year - possibly yet in January - stop lights will be installed at the corner of Seventh and Sherman Streets in Wayne to make that intersection safer for the students who use it.

The Wayne city council last week approved a proposal by the Nebraska Department of Roads which provides for the state to install the two lights for the intersection and the city furnishing the poles, wire and labor to install them.

The two lights, which will be similar to those at Seventh and Main except that they will work only when actuated by pedestrians, will cost about $900. Installation costs will be about $1,000.

The city has been working for several months in an attempt to have the state install some type of safety device at the intersection.

Hearing Scheduled For Zoning Request

Planning Commission members set a date at their meeting Monday to hold a public hearing regarding a request for rezoning.

Wanda Owens, commission secretary, said Bob Allen submitted a request to rezone an area on South Douglas Street from industrial to residential zoning. She said the commission was informed that Allen may move the house at 214 West Third Street to a new location at 240 South Douglas Street.

The public hearing will be held at the next regular commission meeting on Feb. 1 at 8:30 p.m.

Buying, Improving Next Census Subject

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by representatives of the Bureau of the census in the Wayne area during January.

The questions are asked four times a year as part of a nationwide effort to collect information as a guide to federal agencies.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car or major appliance during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs during the last three months and any planned for the future.

Driver Loses License

A Wakefield youth, William E. Kramer, 22, was one of 132 people who lost their Nebraska driver's licenses during December under the 12-point revocation system, reports the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Also having his license revoked was Thomas Rooney, 25, of Hubbard.

Area Teachers Attend Annual NSEA Meeting

Four teachers from the Wayne area were among the 410 delegates to the 10th delegate assembly of the Nebraska Education Association at Kearney State College in December.

The group meets annually to set the policy of the 18,500-member NSEA for the coming year. Among major policy decisions considered were those on state aid in education, continuing contracts, professional negotiations and political action.

Attending the two-day affair from the local area were Mrs. Leona Moiler and Ken Carlson, both teachers in the Wayne-Carroll school system; Mrs. Joyce Darnon, general school teacher at District 69, and Mrs. Fannell Lynch, teacher at Winside High.

Free Tax Help Is Being Offered

Wayne area residents who would like to take advantage of free help in preparing their federal and state income tax returns can receive that assistance at Norfolk beginning this month.

The Internal Revenue Service and the Nebraska Department of Revenue are again combining their efforts to provide the help. Federal and state representatives will be available in their offices in 15 cities across the state through April 15 for anyone who wishes help in preparing their tax forms. After that date, the representatives will be available in those cities on certain designated dates.

Dates representatives will be available at the Federal Building at 125 S. Fourth St. in Norfolk: Jan. 11, 18 and 25; Feb. 1 and 16; March 1 and 15; April 5, 12 and 15. After April 15 they will be available the last Monday of each month.

First Baby a Girl

It took five days before the first baby of 1971 was born at the Wayne Hospital.

The baby, a girl, was born to Mrs. Carroll Barnes at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon. She weighed six pounds and one-quarter ounce.

Wanted: Home for Youth Club

The Wayne Youth Club committee, made up of local junior and senior high school students, is continuing its search for buildings and rooms for the future youth club of Wayne. Anybody with available accommodations which could be rented cheaply should call the club's president, Tom McDermott.

The committee, which came into existence about a year ago, has held numerous meetings in its work to get a youth club in Wayne. The committee has had excellent response from young people in Wayne and attendance averages around 15 at each meeting, McDermott reports.

Coloring Winners Named

Six-year-old Jeffrey Loberg and 10-year-old Darci Janke turned in the winning entries in the annual Wayne Herald Christmas coloring contest.

The two youngsters, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loberg of Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Janke of Winside, won cash prizes of $5 each for their entries.

Jeffrey won the division for kids through the third grade, Darci the division for kids in grades four through eight.

Winning second place in the younger division was Heidi Munson, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Con Munson of Wakefield. Darci Janke, seven-year-old sister of Darci, took third. They earned cash prizes of $2 and $1.

Taking second in the division for older youths was Carl Schwartz, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Dillah Schwartz of Wayne. Winning third was Terry Lessmann, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daje Lessmann of Wayne. The two youths, who finished in the same order in the contest held last year, also received checks for $2 and $1.

Over 60 youngsters entered the contest this year, an increase of about a dozen over the 50 who entered last Christmas.

ONE YOUTH DIED and two were seriously injured in this wrecked auto two miles north of Wayne late Saturday night.

Year's First Traffic Death Recorded

The new year was only a few days old when the first traffic death occurred in the Wayne area.

Killed in a one-car mishap slightly less than two miles north of Wayne on Highway 15 late Saturday night was 15-year-old Terry Macke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Macke of Wayne.

Injured seriously were Danny Morrison, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morrison of Wayne, and Peggy Clausen, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Clausen. Peggy was listed in improved condition, Danny in fair condition at the Wayne Hospital Monday afternoon. Both are suffering from spinal injuries.

Treated for cuts and bruises as outpatients at the local hospital were three other youths: Rick Macke, 16, brother of the boy killed; Daniel Jensen, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jensen of Wayne, and Randy Willers, 18, son of Mrs. Isabel Willers of Concord.

The accident happened when the late model car registered to Mrs. Willers but being driven by Danny Morrison hit a slick spot on the highway as the group was heading toward Wayne. The car skidded off the road to the right, then skidded across the road and rolled down the east embankment, investigators officials reported.

The highways were beginning to be covered with snow as the weekend storm began moving into the Wayne area at the time of the accident.

The mishap occurred shortly before one o'clock Sunday morning.

Services for the dead youth, Terrance Dean Macke, were held Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. Pallbearers included James Maty, Joe Renner, Kirk Wacker, Gail Sperry, James Shulteis and Robert Sperry.

WH Students Hear About Morningside

Jim Walker, assistant director of admissions for Morningside College of Sioux City, met with students of Wayne High School on Tuesday.

He explained Morningside's academic and extra-curricular program to interested students.

Morningside College is a four-year private liberal arts college offering majors in 20 academic areas and a curriculum that emphasizes the individuality of the student. The college currently enrolls some 1,400 students from 25 states and several foreign countries.

Members of the local Bank Walton League plan to meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday above the fire hall.

Norris Weible, president, said a film will be shown for the program portion of the meeting.

School Tuition Battle Top Story During '70

School news, some controversial and some complimentary, were named the top news stories during 1970 by writers at The Wayne Herald.

Gaining the tag as the No. 1 story of the year was the legal battle surrounding the level of tuition set for students who are not residents of the Wayne-Carroll school district.

That story, which will probably be considered as one of the top Top Photos, Page 10 stories for 1971 since it still being fought out in the courts, is basically one of whether a school district has a right to set the tuition rate at a level at least as high as the per pupil cost of the preceding year. Those who are fighting the rate set by the local school board say it does not.

How the Wayne case comes out will have considerable influence on several other school districts across the state because similar battles are going on there.

Second most important story was the AA rating given to the local school district midway through the year.

The AA rating means that the local school district is one of the top 27 in the state, ranking with such schools as those at Alliance, Fremont, Kearney and Ralston.

(Regarding the coveted rating entails considerable work on part of the administrators, teachers and school board and considerable support by the taxpayers in a district.)

Third place in the running for the top 10 stories of last year was the success in obtaining the low-income elderly housing project for Wayne, a project which had been started many months before it was finally certain of being built here.

The elderly housing complex is currently under construction in the east part of Wayne between Fourth and Fifth Streets on Dearborn.

Sports, more specifically the great success enjoyed by a few of the area teams, grabbed fourth spot in the survey of the top stories.

Actually four-in-one, this story had its first installment early last year when the Wayne State College and the Laurel High basketball teams were enjoying so much success. Laurel managed to climb to the runner-up position in the state Class B basketball tournament.

South Viet Nam — Our Second Decade

The first day of 1971 was a sad day. It marked the beginning of the second decade of United States involvement in that quagmire called South Viet Nam.

And it was sad in another way. There are no assurances that the first day of 1981 will not mark the beginning of the second decade of United States involvement in another quagmire, that one called Cambodia or Laos or some combination of the two.

We have lost over 44,000 soldiers in that war since the first death occurred in late 1961. Over 233,000 have been wounded and maimed. We have helped ravage and despoil countless acres of land in that fertile and beautiful country. And we have helped kill countless human beings, both friend and foe, who once called that land their home.

And to what end? Is South Viet Nam any closer to being able to determine its own future than it was when we stepped into the war a decade ago? Are the South Vietnamese people any more willing to support the government we are helping keep in power? Have we made any progress in our effort to contain communism? Are our national interests any more secure today than they would be had we let the Vietnamese people determine their own kind of life?

The answer to each of these questions, we feel, is no. And that's the saddest part of it all. — N.H.

Shabbiness: America's Trademark?

We're constantly amazed at the sloppy and inferior quality of goods produced by workers in the United States. Seeing what happens to toys purchased at Christmas time only reinforces that feeling.

For instance:

—A small plastic duck made to paddle in the water while a child takes a bath had to be thrown away after being used three or four times because the water which was unable to drain out rusted the spring mechanism and caused it to break.

—Numerous small plastic cars chipped and broke when dropped to the floor from just a small distance.

—A miniature snowmobile operated by a spring became nearly useless after a few hours of play because the spring would push the car no more than three feet and the rubber tracks constantly rolled off.

These are just three examples of what seems to be more of a problem year after year. More important, the problem isn't confined to toys for children. It faces you almost everywhere you turn: ball point pens which are encased in plastic so weak it breaks after just minor use, canvas shoes which split and tear for no reason, electrical appliances which seem to work when they damn well please, new cars which must constantly be taken back to the dealer for repairs.

We don't know what to do about the problem except to point it out and express our disappointment. Faced with higher prices and decreased value of the dollar, people in this country must also put up with a rising shabbiness in the things they buy. And all too often, that shabbiness occurs in goods people can't do without. — N.H.

Not Much Action — Yet

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled Dec. 21 that 18-year-olds can vote in national elections but left it to the states to decide whether they should vote in local elections.

The Wayne County clerk's office said early this week that only 18-year-olds and two 19-year-olds had registered.

State and county officials see no purpose in pushing the registration of the more youthful voters since the national election in 1972 will be the first time they will be able to exercise their newly granted voting right.

As the 1972 election draws near, effort will undoubtedly be made to encourage everyone who needs to register to do so, including those 18, 19 and 20 years old.

Nebraskans in November approved a constitutional amendment giving 20-year-olds the voting right in local as well as national elections.

There is presently no need for 18-year-olds to be in a big hurry about registering, however that age group will want to register in time for the national election next year.

In previous editorials during the past two years we had advocated permitting the 18-year-old to vote. There are valid arguments both for and against the 18-year-old vote, but we believe the Supreme Court made a right decision in this case.

We hope that as the 1972 election becomes more of a reality that all 18 and 19-year-olds in Wayne County will register and exercise their new privilege. Those 20 years of age will also register, we hope, to participate in both local and national elections.

There is not, of course, a lot of action yet on the youth voting scene, but we believe there will be in due time. — M.M.W.

The First Fire in Neligh, Nebraska

Editors of small town newspapers in early day Nebraska were quite often forced to dig rather deeply for newsworthy items, files of papers of three years on file at the Nebraska State Historical Socety indicate. Thus, when an event of some imagined magnitude occurred, it was usually given space in the paper disproportionate to the significance of that event, as witnessed by the following account of the first fire in Neligh, which was headlined, "HOLOCAUST" in The Neligh Journal of April 18, 1877:

"Not being near so large a village as Chicago or Boston, of course Neligh cannot be expected to do things on near so large a scale. But Neligh has had a fire — its first fire by the way, and the particulars are substantially as follows:

"On last Thursday at about 11 o'clock smoke was observed issuing from a stable on the west side of town, a crowd soon assembled, but the flames had made such headway that nothing could be done. The stable was built of straw, and was the property of Ed Ringer.

The author of the article then points out that the loss of the stable itself probably could have arisen as a result of the fire, when he concluded: "Had the loss ended here it would have been a trivial matter, but a horse and a double set of harness were burned up in it. The horse was formerly the property of Whipple Nash but he had sold it to J. W. Getchell, or rather bargained it, as it was in the possession of Mr.

Nash at the time of the fire. They have compromised the matter, each losing half. This was certainly the better way, as it would have been an intricate point of law as to who owned the horse, as Mr. Getchell had paid some money upon the trade which was to give him the ownership of the animal."

The total loss to the stable owner, Mr. Ringer, is then described as follows: "The stable was valued at $3 dollars, no insurance. Whether this loss will force Mr. Ringer in bankruptcy or not is still a matter of conjecture. As he has traded horses twice a week, we are of the opinion that he will stand the shock."

Nobby's Farewell Address, Ball Open 1971 Legislature

LINCOLN — The 1971 Legislature is underway.

The senators convened, as instructed by the state constitution, at noon Tuesday. The Wednesday schedule includes a farewell address by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, 77. J. Exon's inauguration as governor highlights the Thursday agenda, with the inaugural ball in Lincoln's Pershing Auditorium as the chief social event of a busy week in the capitol.

That will account for three of the 90 legislative days allotted by an amendment passed by the voters in November for the 1971 session. A legislative day is one in which the lawmakers actually convene in the chamber.

The annual sessions a amendment placed limits of 90 legislative days on the sessions in odd-numbered years and 60 legislative days on the meetings in even-numbered years.

Already there is speculation the senators will stretch out the length of sessions by recessing more often — sometimes to hold all-day committee hearings.

The longest session on record was the 1969 marathon, which didn't adjourn until September 24. The 90th legislative day for that session was May 31 — which is when the 1971 meeting would have to break up if the same pace is kept.

Most observers believe adjournment probably will come in June, maybe in July.

The constitutional amendment does permit the lawmakers to carry over pending bills from an odd-numbered year to the next session. That means any legislation which hasn't been disposed of when this year's session is over still will be on the boards in January of 1972.

A record number of bills — 1,440 — were introduced during the 1969 session. The bill drafter's office reported last week the pace of senatorial requests for the preparation of legislation was behind the levels at a similar time two years ago, so the load on the floor this session may be lighter.

During the week leading up to his inauguration, Exon was busy lining up appointees for his new administration and reviewing agency budget requests.

Cuts recommended by budget analysts were made and they still didn't bring the total down to the levels Exon said he wanted, so the staff and the government started looking for more places to trim.

Exon said he hadn't yet determined precisely what his budget total target would be, but "it was clear" there still was a ways to go after the preliminary surgery.

Exon also spent part of his pre-inaugural days preparing his inaugural speech. He said he was receiving some help on the project, but the final draft would be his own.

Tiemann also was spending his final days in office preparing a speech. He did some of the work during a family vacation in Hawaii and didn't return to his office until Monday of this week.

Both Tiemann and Exon interrupted their activities for a trip to Miami and the Orange Bowl.

According to members of Tiemann's —Suggestions for tightening the state's expenditures for welfare.

—Hints on how he will attack a University of Nebraska budget request of $123 million in state tax funds which he described during the campaign as "way too high."

Coinciding with the Exon-for-Tiemann substitution in the state government line up will be the insertion of a new name on the roster as lieutenant governor. Republican Frank Marsh, after 18 years as secretary of state, was to be sworn in just before Democrat Exon takes his oath of office.

This could be the last bipartisan "partnership" in the executive ranks because an amendment endorsed by the voters in November requires that future governor-lieutenant governor elections be held with a "team" running for each party.

Wind Chill --- The Real Culprit

WIND SPEEDS GREATER THAN 40 MPH HAVE LITTLE ADDITIONAL CHILLING EFFECT.

Wind chill — a term which is both praised and condemned — is easily understood with the use of this chart. The Wind Chill Index, a term in use by the U. S. Weather Service since 1956, is simply an explanation of what most people know instinctively — that it's colder on a day when the wind is blowing than it is on a calm day. The index is an equation of Fahrenheit temperature, wind velocity and humidity. This chart gives the approximate wind chill for winter temperatures and indicates the ranges of which frostbite becomes an increasing problem.

Hospital District Planners Talk of Levies, Lawsuit

by Merlin Wright
Developments that may affect the current drive aimed toward forming a Logan Valley Hospital District include an adjustment of estimated costs and the outcome of a lawsuit now before the Nebraska Supreme Court. A spokesman for the Wayne Hospital Foundation, which is heading up the drive to secure signatures of at least 10 percent or more of the freeholders living in portions of Wayne, Dixon and Cedar Counties as a step toward forming a hospital district, noted Tuesday that earlier estimated cost figures for a new hospital were too high. Kenneth Olds, WIF secretary, pointed out Tuesday that a follow-up board member, Adon Jeffrey, had refigured projected mill levies requirements for the building of a district hospital. Jeffrey said that rather than two-and-a-half to four-and-a-half mill levies, figures used in previous estimates, he now believes a $1 million dollar hospital could be built in the proposed district for a cost of from one to two mills. He said he arrived at the figures using a $45 million valuation figure and figuring a 20-year loan.

Olds explained why there is no definite way of knowing the exact costs of a new hospital. He said after the district is a reality and a board of directors is appointed by the county commissioners, it is not possible to know the decisions those directors would make. He explained, however, that if the directors would make use of previous plans, it should be possible to build a new hospital for about $1 million. Bob Lund, president of the WIF, said, "We're talking of more than a new hospital owned and used by area residents. We are also talking about a facility that will attract physicians to this area." Lund went on to explain, "If nothing is done in the way of providing medical facilities in the near future, it appears that eventually the main medical facilities will be in Norfolk and Sioux City as they are continually able to attract physicians." Several WIF directors have emphasized that proposed plans for the hospital district and new hospital are extremely important to the area as it is forced to compete for physicians both now and in the future. Olds said if the area fails to build a new hospital and the present hospital in Wayne is closed, then "We would end up in the future with nothing in the way of facilities to attract and keep physicians." Lund pointed out Tuesday, "There has been an attempt by a few people to distort the facts about the proposed district and hospital, but we believe those in the area affected will tend to ignore the distortions and will find out for themselves what the hospital district plan actually involves." While petitions for signatures continue to be circulated to bring the matter of the hospital district before Wayne County commissioners, local sponsors of the hospital district drive are admittedly watching developments in a lawsuit which is now being appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court. The higher court has been asked to decide the legality of a hospital district in north-central Nebraska at Lynch. The case involves the Tri-County Hospital District which includes Boyd County and parts of Holt and Knox Counties. Twenty persons residing in that district questioned the constitutionality of the Nebraska local hospital district act. They took their suit to the Boyd County District Court. The judge ruled that the state law was constitutional. The 20 residents have appealed to the Supreme Court contending that the statutes under which the district was created unconstitutional. The increase to him over a year would be about $17.68.

Councilmen also agreed to permit the city engineering firm to proceed to install a facility at the sewage lagoon which will measure the amount of waste going into it. The place of equipment will cost under $100 and will tell the city officials whether the lagoon is large enough as is or should be enlarged.

Bartels-Huetig Wedding Held Dec. 27 at Belden

Candelabrum and poinsettias appointed the altar of the Union Presbyterian Church, Belden, for the 3 p.m. wedding Dec. 27 of Jill Marie Bartels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold L. Bartels, Belden, to Warren Lynn Huetig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Huetig, Belden.

The Rev. Douglas Potter, Laurel, officiated at the double ring ceremony and a bridesmaid, Cathy Huetig, sang "God Gave Me You," and "One Hand, One Heart," accompanied by the bride's sister, Mrs. Francis Crowe, Stromsburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in an empire styled fashion of silk brocade featuring high, stand-up collar, long tapered sleeves, aisle wide train and Venise lace trim on collar and cuffs and edging the front panel. She carried a cascade of white carnations and red elf roses.

Maid of honor Dianne Stapleman, Norfolk, and bridesmaids Laurelee Bying, Atlantic, Iowa, and Cathy Huetig, Belden, were gowned in floor length fashions of wire red and hot pink velvet.

Best man was Jozef D. Huetig, brother of the bridegroom, from Omaha, and groomsmen were William L. Bartels, and Randy Bartels, Lincoln, Dennis Stapleman, Paul Huetig and Craig Bartels, all of Belden, ushered. Candles were lighted by Shirley Huetig, Belden, and Kimberlee Bying, Atlantic, Iowa, Shane and Shannon Crowe, Stromsburg, were ringbearer and flower girl.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bartels chose a metallic winter white dress fashioned with long sleeves. Mrs. Huetig wore a royal blue knit.

Arnold L. Bartels, Lincoln, Lewis Goodsell, St. Louis City, and Mrs. Wayne Fish, Harrington, served as hosts to the reception held following the ceremony. Charles Hiedel, Omaha, registered guests and Mrs. John Dale, Omaha, arranged gifts.

Mrs. LeRoy Bying and Becky Schroeder cut the cake and Mrs. Walt Huetig poured. Mrs. Dick Stapleman served punch. Waitresses were Mrs. Elert Jacobson, Mrs. Merle Kavanaugh, Mrs. Pete Pedersen, Mrs. Jim Kavanaugh, Mrs. Bill Smith, Mrs. Clarence Stapleman and Janie Pedersen.

The bride attended Nettleton Business College and is computer instructor at Omaha and has been employed at the First National Bank of Omaha. The bridegroom, who attended Radio Engineering Institute of Omaha, is presently serving with the United States Navy in Virginia where the couple will make their home at Virginia Beach.

NW Card Club Meets

NW Card Club met Wednesday in the Warren Austin home. Prizes at cards were won by Mrs. Alvin Willers, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Heeg and Carl Damme. No date has been set for the next meeting.

Former Wayne Girl December 26 Bride

A former Wayne girl, Deanna R. Behmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Behmer, Fremont, became the bride of Larry D. Reed, son of Mrs. Donna Reed and Robert Reed, Fremont, in 2 p.m. Dec. 25 rites at Trinity Lutheran Church, Fremont. The Rev. Donald Levenhagen officiated.

The bride, attended by her sister, Mrs. Jerome Fulberg, Omaha, who served as matron of honor, and Nan Dunker, Lincoln, a friend, appeared in an A-line gown of white, mini-trimmed tulle tulle, fashioned with embroidered bodice, empire waistline and cathedral length train which extended from the back skirt. Her French illusion veil was caught to a pearl accented white mist tulle, and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses and holly.

The attendants' dresses were empire styled fashions in red velvet, with white fur cuffs and small trains. They carried cascades of white poinsettias and holly.

Robert E. Reed, Fremont, was best man and groomsmen was Jeff Hanson, also of Fremont.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Valley View Country Club, Fremont.

The bride, a 1969 Fremont Senior High School graduate, attended the University of Nebraska at Lincoln one year and was employed at the United States National Bank of Omaha. The bridegroom, a 1968 Fremont High School graduate, is serving with the U. S. Navy as a third class gunfire control technician.

Susan Rhodes Married December 27

In a 3 p.m. ceremony Dec. 27 at the Pioneer Presbyterian Church, Chatfield, Minn., Susan Rhodes, Minneapolis, Minn., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rhodes, Wakefield, became the bride of Steven Bye, also of Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bye, Austin, Minn.

The Rev. Jerry Hawking, Chatfield, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Trumpet and French horn solos were by Donald Price and Rebecca Kinsman respectively.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in an empire styled gown of antique white crepe, fashioned with scoop-neckline and long, full sleeves, and accented with ecru lace trim. She carried yellow roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Deborah Rhodes, Wakefield, whose dress was of antique white and aqua crushed velvet. Bridesmaids Stephanie Dalley, and Sue Lawson, both of Chatfield, were identically gowned and all carried long stemmed yellow roses.

Perry Nelson, Minneapolis, was best man and groomsmen were Roger Snyder, Minneapolis, and Dennis Bye, Kasson, Minn. James Rhodes, Wakefield, and Chuck Armstrong, Minneapolis, ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rhodes chose a rose ball. Mrs. Bye wore a suit of navy blue and both had orchid corsages.

A reception for 135 guests was held at the church parlors following the ceremony. Frances Rhodes and Dorothy Boley cut and served the cake and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, poured. Betsy Rhodes and Karen Bergstrom served punch.

The bride, a graduate of Chatfield High School, attended Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., and is employed at the University of Minnesota. The bridegroom attended the University of Minnesota.

The couple are making their home at 1935 Bryant Avenue, South Minneapolis.

It's Fondue!
Did one of Santa's helpers leave a fondue pot under your Christmas tree this year? Put it to use right away.

Fondue can be a cheese dish, a dessert dip or meat fried in hot oil. It can be a snack, an appetizer, a meal or a dessert. Your fondue pot may be ceramic, enameled or metal. The heat source may be electricity, candle, canned heat or alcohol. For meat fondue, use a metal pot. Cook one-half to one inch cubes of sirloin, liver, chicken or try shrimp in one to one and one-half inches of hot oil in the pot. Heat the oil on a range top until hot enough to brown a bread cube in one minute. Carefully place pot on stand on table and ignite source of heat. Always treat the hot fondue pot with respect.

Spear cube of meat with a long handled fondue fork, dip into hot oil and cook until meat is crusty on outside and juicy and rare inside. Dip cooked meat into a sauce of your choice.

For a pleasing variety, balance the sauces among tomato, butter and the creamy types.

Another approach to the "dunking" supper is the cheese fondue. A smooth and evenly blended cheese takes practice, but a novice can still produce a perfect mixture if a few tricks of the trade are remembered. Use well-aged cheese. Add cheese gradually to tart heated wine. Lemon juice can make sweet wine tart. Be sure all cheese is melted before adding any more. Swiss cheese can be substituted for a milder flavor.

To eat this rich cheese sauce, one guest at a time spears a chunk of bread with his long-handled fork, dips, stirs and twirls the cheese around the bread before lifting it out. Then the next guest takes over, as the fondue must be stirred constantly.

To keep the cheese fondue from becoming too stringy or from separating, use low heat and don't let the wine boil. Fortunately, mistakes are easy to correct. If your fondue does get stringy or separates, reheat the cheese mixture, stir in a little warm water combined with a small amount of cornstarch and stir with a wire whisk until it's smooth again. If your fondue is too thick, thin it with preheated wine - don't use cold wine.

Your cooker has many uses so be creative. Heat and serve soup right at the table or use your cooker for hot dips. Serve them with corn chips or vegetable dippers. Hot, thickened meat mixtures can go directly from your fondue pot into pastry shells or sandwich buns.

Why not try Welsh Rarebit? Add cooked cubes of ham, chicken, turkey or dried beef to the cheese sauce and serve over hot corn bread or toast. It's a delicious way to serve leftover Christmas ham or turkey.

Make dessert toppings or sauces such as a chocolate fondue. You can serve toppings over waffles or pancakes or a sheet cake. Combine orange marmalade, apricot or peach preserves with butter and honey for another dessert fondue idea. Then, spear and dip pieces of fruit, mint, angel food cake, nuts or marshmallows into the sauce.

When working with thick sauces, marmalades or preserves, keep the heat low. It's easy if you have a cooker with a candle warmer. Since no cooking is involved, enough heat comes from the candle to keep the sauce warm.

Fondue cookery is one of the new ways to add interest and appeal to meals whether you're cooking for the family or for guests. Lucky you - if someone gave you this delightful gift.

People who Need Peoples, No. 446

I've had it with this old dryer. George! look at my nightgown... dried to a crisp. We've just gotta switch to Gas. It can't over-dry - not with all those special settings for delicacies and permanent-press. Besides, when a Gas dryer shuts off, it's off. Period. There's no lingering heat to scorch clothes. And Kay says hers works for less than a penny a load. Which won't exactly burn a hole in your pocket, eh George?

Linda Caver Winter Bride

In 3:30 p.m. rites at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne, Dec. 27, Linda J. Caver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Caver, Wayne, became the bride of Jerry R. Bauermeister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Bauermeister, Belden. The Rev. Donliver Peterson, Wayne, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Sallie Bergt, Wayne, sang "Song of Ruth" and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Norman Meyer, Wakefield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a self-fashioned, floor-length gown of empire styled white velvet, featuring daisy trim, tiered mantilla of daisies accented white nylon tulle was caught to a white velvet pillbox headpiece, and extended to the floor to form a train. She carried a cascade of white daisy mums, red roses and lily.

Maid of honor was Rebecca Bernthal, Wayne, and bridesmaid was Julie Bauermeister, Belden, sister of the bridegroom. Their street length dresses of deep red velvet were fashioned with empire waistlines, long, tapered sleeves and scoop necklines, and were trimmed with scallops and red tulle.

Best man was Donald Bauermeister, Norfolk, and groomsmen was Stanley Caver, Wayne, brother of the bride, Vernon Bauermeister and Bruce Johnson, both of Wayne, ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Caver chose a navy blue ball. Mrs. Bauermeister wore a royal blue ball and both had corsages of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bauermeister and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson served as hosts for the reception held following the ceremony. Helen Peters, Wayne, registered the 100 guests and Karen Wax, Wayne, and Annetta Olson, Newman Grove, arranged gifts. Mrs. Louie Koch, Norfolk, and Mrs. Ada Pool, Clarinda, Iowa, cut and served the cake and Mrs. Samuel Caver, Rapid City, S.D., poured. Mrs. Don Peters, Bismarck, served punch. Waitresses were Carolyn Glassmeyer, Lynette Goetsch and Christine Bernthal, St. Paul's Lutheran Church women served.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a rust colored double knit with a red rose corsage.

The bride, a 1967 Wayne High School graduate, and the bridegroom, a 1966 Belden High School graduate, are both December graduates of Wayne State College. The couple are making their home in Belden.

For a pleasing variety, balance the sauces among tomato, butter and the creamy types. Another approach to the "dunking" supper is the cheese fondue. A smooth and evenly blended cheese takes practice, but a novice can still produce a perfect mixture if a few tricks of the trade are remembered. Use well-aged cheese. Add cheese gradually to tart heated wine. Lemon juice can make sweet wine tart. Be sure all cheese is melted before adding any more. Swiss cheese can be substituted for a milder flavor.

To eat this rich cheese sauce, one guest at a time spears a chunk of bread with his long-handled fork, dips, stirs and twirls the cheese around the bread before lifting it out. Then the next guest takes over, as the fondue must be stirred constantly.

To keep the cheese fondue from becoming too stringy or from separating, use low heat and don't let the wine boil. Fortunately, mistakes are easy to correct. If your fondue does get stringy or separates, reheat the cheese mixture, stir in a little warm water combined with a small amount of cornstarch and stir with a wire whisk until it's smooth again. If your fondue is too thick, thin it with preheated wine - don't use cold wine.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Change. That's what it's all about this year. And that's what we mean by putting you first.

These are uneasy times. There are major concerns. About pollution. About safety. About the economy. About your hard-earned dollar. We know.

For the past 10 years Chevrolet research people have questioned thousands of people on every subject from rising taxes to the size of the glovebox in their cars.

We've found that price and maintenance costs, trade-in value and quality have become tremendously important.

Your car has to work. It has to last. And each new model must have more built-in value.

At Chevrolet, we understand. You want meaningful change. And our aim is to give that to you, as you'll see in the 1971 Chevrolets.

Caprice. The biggest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever. A complete change.

Bigger - in itself, nothing. But if it allows you to reach the distance between the front and rear wheels which we did, then you've got something.

You've got a smoother ride. The idea in the 1971 Caprice was to give you the looks and room for a six- or seven-thousand dollar car, without asking you to pay anywhere near that much for it. And above all, to build in as much dependability and security as possible.

So we changed the body structure for 1971, too. We made it stronger. And we made it quieter by putting a double layer of steel in the roof.

Caprice, as you can see below, is a lot of luxury at a Chevrolet price.

Vega. The littlest Chevy ever. It wasn't changed from anything.

Before building Vega, we read everything we could get our hands on about little cars. We talked to owners. We studied little cars up one side and down the other and, literally, tore them apart. We found out what made them tick, or why they didn't tick.

What ticked were gas economy and dependability. What didn't were underpowered engines, cramped quarters and getting blown around in the wind.

In our little Vega, everything ticks. It's not just another little car. You didn't want that. It's one little car that does everything well.

Plant Walnut This Year

Thousands of Nebraska farmers, particularly those in the eastern portion, have land well suited to walnut production.

Buyers like Nebraska walnut and are anxious to buy all the walnut legs we are able to produce. They are especially interested in high grade trees which are not only getting scarce in Nebraska but also all other walnut producing states as well.

It is a typical situation in Nebraska that the very best sites for walnut production are usually found along creeks or drainage ways and often are small in size and irregular in shape. Many such parcels of land do not grow anything of value now, but would fit walnut production perfectly. At the present price of walnut, a well formed walnut tree will gain in value from $1 to as much as $10 annually during a 60-year period. This wide range of yearly income per tree is largely due to the quality of each individual tree to which growth is being added.

It is difficult to evaluate the intended planting site when it is covered with snow. Coarse weeds and dense grasses should be destroyed in preparation of the site for walnut planting next spring. Weed growth after planting can be controlled best by use of chemicals applied to the land at time of planting.

Walnut seedlings will be available through the Clarke-McNary Program and can be ordered through county Extension offices after Jan. 1.

Services of an Extension forester are available to help evaluate sites and discuss details of establishing a walnut planting.

Fewer Accidents
We are safer than ever! — Back in the staggered days people complained about the reckless way drivers handled their horses and buggies, turning them over quite often and spilling passengers and baggage over the streets and through the woods.

Statistics show they had a reason to complain. In 1969, nearly 26 million horses traveled some 13 billion miles and 3,850 people were killed, 4,875 one death per 100,000 miles. Last year, 55,200 persons were killed in traffic accidents, but that is still only one person killed per 300,000 miles traveled.

'Profit Making Cow' Dairy Meet Subject

The "Profit Making Cow" is the topic to be discussed at a dairy meeting slated for Tuesday, Jan. 12, beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the Northeast Station at Concord.

Bill Michaud, Nebraska representative for Mid-West Breeders' Cooperative, will discuss "How to Breed the Profit Making Cow." Don Kubik, University of Nebraska Extension dairy specialist at the Station, will discuss "Caring for the Profit Making Cow." This discussion will center around production records and feeding on the narrowing milk to grain price ratio. All interested dairymen are invited to attend.

Livestock Leader to Speak to Feeders

Cattle feeders will hear Mel Kuska, outstanding Nebraska livestock organization leader, at the annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association in Laurel.

Kuska was recently honored by the Omaha and Lincoln Agribusiness Club for his work in the Nebraska and the National Feeders Associations. He is now serving as president of the Nebraska Livestock Foundation, which is entering into a major program of beef promotion and education.

Also on the program is Dr. Walter Woods, beef researcher for the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, with a report of both current feeding development and on University studies in livestock waste control. Officers for 1971 will be elected. There will be a social hour and a dinner preceding the business meeting at the Wagon Wheel Steak House. The meeting is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 25.

January 20 meeting will be with Jennifer Willers.

Chance to Tour IBP Confinements

A tour of two carefully planned confinement set-ups in Iowa will give northeast Nebraska farmers a chance to learn more about an idea relatively new to this state — feeding cattle in confinement.

The tour is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 3, and will include stops at the Iowa Beef Processors' house with oxidation system to deodorize and reduce cattle waste at Denison and IBP's new feeding plant at Aurelia.

Chartered buses will stop at Wakefield, Emerson and Dakota (Iowa) on their way to the Iowa facilities.

The area agricultural engineer at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station east of Concord, Wayne Fisher, will be on the tour and will be available to advise on housing and problems in livestock waste management.

Reservations for bus transportation can be made at the Northeast Livestock Feeders annual meeting in Laurel on Jan. 25 or with Bob Boals of Dakota City.

1971 Estimates For Six Crops Being Surveyed

Several farmers in the Wayne area have received questionnaires sent out by the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics in connection with a special survey to help determine farmers' planting intentions for the 1971 growing season for six major crops.

The survey is part of USDA's Crop and Livestock Reporting Service efforts in conducting survey operations in 35 states. Mail questionnaires were sent out to some 16,000 farmers in Nebraska and about 275,000 farmers nationally.

Farmers were quizzed on 1971 acreage plans for corn, spring wheat, oats, barley, sorghum and soybeans. Estimates for those crops by states will be issued later in January.

A. V. Nordquist, statistician in charge of the Nebraska office, stated this special survey would not replace the annual planting intentions report issued in March. He said the January appraisal was scheduled to help farmers get an early season view of prospective acreages in light of new farm legislation. The survey findings will also aid USDA program planners adjust to the effects of the new provisions.

Nordquist urges all farmers receiving the special planting intentions survey questionnaire to read it thoroughly and answer all questions carefully. The postage-free questionnaire should be returned quickly. He points out the greater the response, the more reliable the estimates.

College Quintet Passes 4 Big Tests in Victory

Wayne State basketball Wildcats proved several things for themselves Tuesday night when they beat Southwest Minnesota State, The 79-63 decision in Rice Gym showed the Cats:

—They could come back from an early deficit (9-2 after four minutes).

—They could put offense and defense together and switch rapidly.

—They could break a stout defense to make the inside shot.

—And, furthermore, patience and pressure pay off.

When the score was 11-4 after five minutes, the Wildcats heard Coach Ron Jones say, "You're okay, be patient, work the pattern." And they did work it. They stepped up the pressure on Southwest's offense, and pretty soon the Mustangs were making mistakes.

Suddenly Wayne inched ahead, 12-11, with 13:30 left in the first half. They never trailed again. Southwest managed an 18-all tie and, in the second half, pulled within one or two points several times.

The Cats proved "something else to Coach Jones. He can depend on his bench. The fact is, almost anybody will come through. During the second half, most of the heroics were accomplished by players who haven't seen a lot of action — Jon Harvey, Dan Quinn, Dennis Brummer, Ron Jones.

Harvey pulled in a team-high 12 rebounds. Quinn, though hampered by muscle injury in his side, hit all five field goal tries. Brummer turned in some aggressive ball handling. Same for Jones.

Jim Merchel led Wayne scoring with 12, all in the first half. Dennis Siefkes hit 11, Quinn 11, Jerry Woodin 10, Harvey and Dana Troholz 8 each. Southwest's Mike Lang tallied 19, Bill Hadden 16. Wayne hit 55 per cent from the field, Southwest 46.

The win gave Wayne a 4-6 record and a psychological lift for

Muhammad Ali vs Smokin' Joe: Who'll Win?

Although a long-time fan of Muhammad Ali (even after he changed his convictions and his name), we're not exactly sure whether he's really ready to meet a younger Joe Frazier come March 8th in Madison Square Garden.

Deep down there's the suspicion that the huge earnings awaiting both fighters are the reason the fight is being scheduled so soon after Ali's return to the ring. Ali has already announced he will retire (this time on his own accord) after meeting Frazier for the heavyweight title. A person is left wondering whether he's really trying to duplicate Floyd Patterson's feat of regaining the heavyweight crown or whether he's willing to put everything on the line for his promised $2.5 million regardless of the outcome of the clash.

Although we hope Ali is able to take care of Frazier when they meet later this year, we aren't blind to the opposite outcome.

In fact, here's a choice morsel of verse concocted by an anonymous local scribe which we offer for what it may be worth:

I know why they call him "Smokin' Joe,"
Because he shou'ld laid low.
I said he would be out in five,
But I'm lucky I'm still alive.
He's twice as good as I'll ever be
And the Garden's seen the last of me!

Just let it be said that Muhammad Ali did more for the fight game when he was at his peak than a half-dozen Joe Fraziers.

Racing fans should get out their 1971 calendar and mark down the dates for thoroughbred racing at Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha. Those dates: April 30-July 5.

The Wayne State Wildcats missed their chance to win their own Christmas holiday tournament for the third year in a row last week when they fell to a fine club from Western New Mexico of Silver City, The Wildcats, facing a large task of rebuilding under Ron Jones this year, gained top rung in the four-team tourney the past two years under Dave Gunther. They also ended up winners in 1964 and 1961.

Laurel, in the high school division, also lost its bid for a third straight championship. The Bears won the tourney in 1968, the first year it included high school teams, and then repeated again last year, Norfolk Catholic, a squad which is going places come Class C district tournament time, eased by Laurel and West Point for that honor this season.

Speaking of that high school division action, Laurel knocked off Wayne, 50-47, without scoring a field goal in the last period.

The Bears got all seven of their points on free tosses as Wayne was forced to foul to break Laurel's stalling game. The Bears had 19 chances from the line in that period alone, nearly half of the 40 they had all evening.

Wayne managed to shut off Laurel's Steve Erwin, high scorer with 17 points, in that last period before he fouled out midway through.

Wayne's Kyle Willis shrugged off pressure in that last period, making four of five free shots for his point total in the game.

Fight fans are reminded of Friday's card at the Wayne city auditorium. The third annual smoker of the Wayne St. Mary's Men's Club, the smoker will start at eight o'clock. Tickets are available from either Gary Wiebehn or Verlin Glass for $1.50 or $2.50. About 15 matches are on the card.

Wildcat Mat Club 2nd at Howells Meet

A number of first-round losses probably kept the Winside High wrestling club from gaining top trophy in the Christmas holiday tournament at Howells last week.

Despite drawing six boys in the opening round of action, the Wildcats managed to rack up 75 points in the tourney, 10 fewer than champion Plainview. Clark finished third in the eight-team field with 60 points. Also competing: Fremont, Bergan, Niobrara, Spaulding Academy, Newman Grove and Howells.

Winside's Dave Jaeger at 105 pounds and heavyweight Dennis Wade gained championship medals in the tournament. Jaeger grappled to 6-1 and 10-3 decisions after drawing a bye in the first round. Wade, who also had a bye in the opening round, gained a 4-7 pin and a 4-0 decision on the way to his honor.

Earning second places were Roger Anderson at 126 pounds (3-01 pin, 3-55 pin, 6-4 defeat) and Terry Jaeger at 145 pounds (4-2 decision, 8-5 decision, 6-4 defeat). Both wrestlers lost their championship matches in the final minute — Anderson after being tied at 4-4 with 20 seconds left and Jaeger after being tied at 4-4 with 40 seconds left.

Winning third places for Winside: Rob Langenberg at 132 pounds (bye, 5-2 loss, 4-9 pin, 2-0 decision), Dale Miller at 138 (1-54 pin, 2-1 loss, 3-56 pin, 4-0 decision) and Bob Kenner at 155 (bye, 6-3 loss, 2-54 pin, 2-20 pin).

Fourth-place finishes went to Doug Lane in the 119-pound class and Larry Cleveland in the 185-pound class.

Harrington High will test Winside's 3-0 dual record in a meet tonight (Thursday) at Harrington.

Wildcat Mat Club 2nd at Howells Meet

The Wildcats host Battle Creek, winner of its own invitational tournament last week, on Monday evening.

Newcastle, HCC Lead Volleyball

Newcastle in the east division and Hartington Cedar Catholic in the west are current leaders of the Nebraska Volleyball Conference.

Newcastle leads a three-team race for the divisional title with a 3-0 mark. Behind that club are Laurel and Randolph, both with 2-0 marks. Allen stands in fourth place with a 2-2 record, followed by Winside (1-1), Emerson (1-2), Ponca (0-2) and Homer (0-3).

Trailing Cedar in the west are Pierce, Coleridge and Hartington High, all with 1-0 marks. Others in the race: Crofton (1-2), Osmond (0-1), Wymot (0-1) and Bloomfield (0-2).

Several games in the west end will be played the first two weeks this month, helping to clarify which are the teams to beat there.

Winside's 'Cats Nip Beemer Crew

Winside Wildcats dropped their game 59-50 against Rosalie in the Christmas holiday tournament at Rosalie but bounced back to defeat Beemer 47-37 in a consolation game during final rounds Dec. 30.

Winside's coach, Jim Welch, said Jim Beemer came up with 23 rebounds and was top scorer in the match with a total of 15 points. Kevin Everett was the next highest scorer with 11 points through the hoop.

The Wildcats ended the game with 18 field goals and hit 11 of 25 tosses, at the free throw line.

Dave Hass topped the scoring list for Beemer. He contributed a total of 16 points.

VEGETABLES, NOT VILLAINS

By Sandy Bloom
Farm & Home Food Consultant

Someone once likened a successful dinner to a theatrical production with all its many parts that contribute to hit revues. Thought must be given to the roles the various foods will play in the meal; plans are made for the proper lighting, music and background to set the atmosphere for the meal. One entrée usually stars and the remaining cast of foods is chosen to compliment it. Both harmony and contrast in design, color, shape, flavor and texture all play their part to make the overall meal a "smash hit." However, too often the villain in this production is the vegetable dish. The hostess who doesn't hesitate to serve flaming desserts, exotic hors d'oeuvres and gourmet main dishes is frequently at a loss in planning the vegetable. Often it takes only a piquant sauce, a crunchy topping or some subtle seasoning to elevate an everyday vegetable to the realm of stardom. Our recipes utilize the fresh flavor, distinctive color and texture appeal of California walnuts or tempting sauces to bring up the curtain on dishes that are bound to be a hit with family or friends. Try them all and keep the recipes handy for repeat performances.

TOMATOES PROVENCALE

6 large firm tomatoes      ¼ cup margarine, softened
Salt                              3 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 cup freshly-made fine bread crumbs      1 clove garlic, minced

Cut tomatoes crosswise into halves. Sprinkle cut surface with salt. Make 2 to 3 cuts, about ¼ inch deep, into tomatoes. Blend together bread crumbs, margarine, parsley and minced garlic. Spread over cut surface of tomatoes, gently pressing the mixture into the cuts. Broil slowly, about 30 minutes, or until tender and lightly browned. If desired, garnish with additional parsley. Makes 6 servings.

BRUSSEL SPROUTS WITH LORENZO DRESSING

2 pkgs. (10 oz.) frozen Brussels sprouts
2 pints (4 cups) cherry tomatoes, hulled or 4 large tomatoes quartered
2 medium onions, cut into rings
1 cup chili sauce
¼ cup white vinegar
¾ cup olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped watercress

Cook Brussel sprouts according to package directions. Drain; combine with tomatoes and onion rings. Chill. Combine remaining ingredients for dressing. Shake well or blend in electric blender. Chill. Serve over chilled vegetables. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BEETS WITH HORSE RADISH

- |                                       |                                   |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 can (2½ cups) sliced or diced beets | 3 tablespoons lemon juice         |
| 1 tablespoon cornstarch               | 1 tablespoon margarine            |
| ¼ cup light brown sugar               | 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish |
| ½ teaspoon salt                       |                                   |

Drain beets and reserve juice. Combine cornstarch, sugar, salt and lemon juice. Add beet juice and cook until thickened. Add margarine, horseradish and beets. Heat. Makes 4 servings.

WALNUT-MUSHROOM ASPARAGUS

- |  |                                    |
|--|------------------------------------|
| 4 small green onions, chopped                                    | ¼ cup toasted California walnuts   |
| 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms or 1 (4 oz.) can mushrooms, drained | Salt to taste                      |
| 3 tablespoons margarine  | 1½ pounds asparagus spears, cooked |
| 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento                                    |                                    |

Sauté onions and mushrooms in margarine until tender. Add pimiento, walnuts and salt to taste. Spoon over cooked asparagus spears that have been well drained.

GOLD FLECKED BEANS

- |                            |                          |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 can (1 lb.) green beans  | 2 tablespoons margarine  |
| 1 medium-size carrot       | 1 tablespoon lemon juice |
| ¼ cup finely chopped onion | Salt and pepper to taste |

Drain liquid from beans into saucepan; boil rapidly to evaporate to about ¼ cup. Pare and finely shred carrot. Add carrot and onion to liquid; boil about 5 minutes. Add beans, margarine and lemon juice; heat thoroughly. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 4 servings.

ARTICHOKES AU GRATIN

- |   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| 2 pkgs. (9 oz.) quick-frozen artichoke hearts | ¼ cup flour               |
| ¼ cup margarine                               | ½ cup artichoke liquid    |
| Dash of pepper                                | 1½ cups milk              |
| ¾ teaspoon salt                               | 1 egg, slightly beaten    |
| 1 teaspoon onion salt                         | ½ cup grated Swiss cheese |
| ¼ teaspoon dry mustard                        | 1 tablespoon bread crumbs |
|   | Paprika                   |

Cook artichoke hearts according to package directions. Drain, reserving ½ cup of liquid. Melt margarine in saucepan. Add pepper, salt, onion salt, mustard, and flour; stir until smooth. Gradually add artichoke liquid and milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat, add egg and half the grated cheese. Stir until blended. Place cooked artichoke hearts in a single layer in a 9-inch square, shallow casserole. Cover with sauce. Sprinkle remaining cheese, bread crumbs, and paprika over top. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

ELEGANT CARROTS

- |                              |                                  |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 6 medium-size carrots        | ½ cup cream                      |
| 2 tablespoons margarine      | 1 egg yolk                       |
| ¼ teaspoon salt              | 2 teaspoons lemon juice          |
| 1 teaspoon brown sugar       | ½ cup toasted California walnuts |
| ½ cup chicken broth or water |                                  |

Pare carrots and cut them into slices or 2-inch sticks. Combine with margarine, salt, sugar and broth or water. Cover tightly and simmer until tender. Mix cream and egg yolk until blended; stir into carrots and the remaining cooking liquid. Heat, then blend in lemon juice and walnuts. Makes 6 servings.

BAKE BARS, SAVE TIME

By Betty Curren

Time is often at a premium in the lives of today's busy home-makers. Busy cooks find that bar cookies are great time-savers because they enable them to avoid successive baking called for with individual cookies such as the drop or cut-out types. We've included a number of versatile treats, perfect to serve with coffee, for snacks for your family or for that sweet ending to the meal. These bars all keep and travel well which makes them ideal to bake for gifts or bazaars. Many bar-type recipes, such as brownies, may be baked and then frozen for use at a later date. For ease in freezing, bake in foil-lined pans and when cool, slip the whole painful out. Wrap them securely in additional foil before storing in the freezer. It is best to cut them into bars after defrosting rather than before freezing.

SCOTCH PEBBLE BARS

2 cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
¾ cup softened margarine
1 cup rolled oats

Combine flour and salt; set aside. Combine brown sugar and margarine; beat till creamy. Add flour mixture and rolled oats. Blend till mixture is well combined. Press into greased 15 x 10 x 1-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare topping.

TOPPING:

1 6-oz. pkg. Butterscotch morsels
¼ cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons margarine
1 tablespoon water
¼ teaspoon water
2 cups chopped California walnuts

Combine all ingredients except walnuts and stir over hot (not boiling) water till butterscotch melts and mixture is smooth. Add walnuts and stir to blend. Spoon over top of baked cookie mixture and spread evenly. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Cut into 2 x 1-inch bars while warm. Makes 75 bars.

WALNUT BRICKLE BARS

1¼ cups sifted flour
1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup margarine
2 eggs
½ cup brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mace or nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup chopped California walnuts

Combine 1¼ cups flour with ½ cup sugar and margarine and blend to fine crumbs. Pack into bottom of greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes, until edges are lightly browned. Beat eggs with remaining ½ cup granulated sugar and brown sugar until light. Combine the 2 tablespoons flour with baking powder, salt and spice. Blend into egg-sugar mixture, along with vanilla and orange peel. Stir in ¾ cup walnuts. Turn into baking pan over hot baked layer, and sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup walnuts. Bake about 20 minutes longer, until set on top and lightly browned. Cool in pan, and cut into bars.

FUDGE CAKE BROWNIES

- |                                |                                  |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 3 oz. unsweetened chocolate    | 1 cup flour                      |
| ½ cup margarine                | ¼ teaspoon salt                  |
| 1 can Sweetened Condensed Milk | 1 teaspoon vanilla extract       |
| 2 eggs                         | 1 cup chopped California walnuts |

In the top of double boiler over hot water, blend chocolate and margarine. Remove from heat; stir in sweetened condensed milk. Beat in eggs; one at a time. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add to chocolate mixture; stirring well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Fold in chopped nuts. Spread mixture in a well-greased 13 × 9 × 2-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Cut into squares. Makes 24 brownies.

CHOCOLATE MORSEL SQUARES

- |   |                                |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 2 cups (about 24 crackers) firmly packed fine graham cracker crumbs | ½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts |
| 1 cup (6 oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate morsels                     | 1 can sweetened condensed milk |

In large bowl, blend dry ingredients together. Stir in sweetened condensed milk. Turn into greased 8 × 8 × 2-inch pan, lined with wax paper or aluminum foil. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes. Remove from pan immediately. Peel off paper. Cool on wire rack. Cut into squares. Makes 16, 2-inch squares.

APRICOT-COCONUT COOKIE BARS

- |                          |                                     |
|--------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| ½ cup softened margarine | 1 can sweetened condensed milk      |
| ¼ cup sugar              | 1½ cups (3½ oz. can) flaked coconut |
| 1½ cups flour            | 1 cup finely chopped dried apricots |
| ½ teaspoon baking powder |                                     |
| ¼ teaspoon salt          |                                     |
| 2 eggs, well beaten      |                                     |

In Medium-size bowl, combine margarine, sugar and 1 cup flour. With pastry blender, cut ingredients together until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Press pastry evenly on bottom and 1 inch up sides of greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Remove from oven; set aside.

In a mixing bowl, combine baking powder, salt and remaining flour. Stir in eggs, sweetened condensed milk, coconut and apricots; mix well. Spread mixture evenly over baked pastry. Return to oven. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes longer, or until top is firm. Cool in pan. Makes about 20 bars.

WALNUT RAISIN APPLESASSIES

- |                         |                                  |
|-------------------------|----------------------------------|
| ½ cup margarine         | ½ teaspoon baking powder         |
| ½ cup unsweetened cocoa | ½ teaspoon salt                  |
| 1 cup granulated sugar  | ¼ teaspoon baking soda           |
| 2 eggs, beaten lightly  | 1 cup chopped California walnuts |
| ¾ cup applesauce        | ½ cup seedless raisins           |
| 1 cup all-purpose flour |                                  |

Melt margarine. Add cocoa, and mix well. Stir in sugar, eggs and applesauce. Combine flour with baking powder, salt and soda. Stir into first mixture. Reserve about ¼ cup walnuts for top of bars. Stir remaining walnuts and raisins into batter. Turn into greased 9-inch square pan and sprinkle with reserved walnuts. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pan. Cut into bars. Makes about 18 bars.

Diamond

If you're the kind of cook who gets tired of the same old drop cookies, you'll make these Brown Sugar Cookies with Diamond Walnuts.

We know you love to bake things from scratch.

So get busy. Treat your family to the old-fashioned taste of brown sugar.

And Diamond Walnuts. Just for old times' sake.

BROWN SUGAR DROP COOKIES

- |                                  |   |
|----------------------------------|---|
| 1 egg                            | ¼ tsp. soda                                   |
| 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed | ¼ tsp. salt                                   |
| 1 tsp. vanilla                   | 1½ cups Diamond Walnuts, chopped medium fine. |
| ½ cup unsifted all-purpose flour |   |

In small mixer bowl beat egg till it is light and fluffy (about 3 min. at high speed).

Add sugar and vanilla and stir till smooth. Quickly stir in flour, soda and salt. Blend in walnuts chopped medium fine. By teaspoonfuls, drop onto greased and floured cookie sheet 2 inches apart. Bake at 350° F., 7-9 min. Or just till cookies start to brown at edge. Do not overbake. Remove immediately to cooling rack. Makes about 4 dozen 2-inch cookies.

Send for the 88-page Diamond Walnut recipe booklet. Just mail 50¢, along with your name and address to Diamond Walnuts, Dept. R, Box 4057, Clinton, Ia. 52732.

When you plan your next visit to an art museum—come to Chicago's Sherman House

Downtown hotel turned cultural? Not quite, but we do have a great new work of art.

Henri Arasz did a sculpture for our lobby. And when he creates—he doesn't kid around. We ended up—with a wall. But not just any wall. Some people call it the Great Wall of Sherman House. Why not come see why? And while you're there, stop in at any of our Nightspots—the College Inn, Well of the Sea, The Scuttlebutt, The Celtic Inn and the Dome.

So come to Sherman House for entertainment and fun. And we'll throw in a little culture at no extra cost!

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS by Bill Stokes

What a lot of us need is a book on how to keep from doing it yourself, advises The Cannelton (Ind.) Tuesday News.

The Review of Plymouth, Wis., says, "All marriages are happy — it's the living together afterwards that causes all the trouble."

The non-return bottle was invented by a neighbor of ours, says The Sisseton (S.D.) Courier.

"A government bureau must be where they keep our shirts," says the Sibley (Iowa) Tribune.

The following poem comes from the Paxton (Ill.) Record:

School days, school days,
Dear old flout-the-rule days;
Heckling and rioting, throwing bricks,
Dodging the cops with their big nightsticks.
You were my queen in jeans (go-go)
I was your barefoot, long-haired beau;
We scrawled on the wall,
"Hell, no we won't go,
When we were a couple of kids.

There is very little traffic congestion on the straight and narrow path, advises the Wayne County Press of Fairfield, Illinois.

The Belvidere (Ill.) Daily Republican reports that a man's heart weighs about 11 ounces and a woman's about nine ounces, which should settle once and for all the old argument about which of the sexes has the most heart.

The Pioneer Review of Philip, S.D. says, "A bright eye may indicate curiosity; and a black eye, too much curiosity."

"If you'll recall carefully," says The New Ulm (Minn.) Daily Journal, "the most interesting person at the party last night was the fellow who listened to YOU all evening."

"To err is human; to really foul things up requires a computer," comments the Review-Journal of New Ulm, Minn.

The Jamestown (N.D.) Sun says, "Women love the simpler things in life: men."

A filing cabinet is a system for losing things alphabetically, according to the Mason County Democrat of Havana, Ill.

The Review of Plymouth, Wis., advises: "Modern girls detest those four letter words, especially wash, iron, cook, bake and dust."

"There are two kinds of cleverness," says the Holt County Independent of O'Neill, Neb. "First there is the cleverness of thinking of a bright remark in time to say it, and then there is the cleverness of deciding to keep your mouth closed anyway."

The O'Brien County Bell of Primghar, Iowa, reports a study which shows that 89 percent of college graduates drink beer, wine or liquor, while the percentage for those whose education ended with grade school is 46.

The figures say something about quenching the thirst for knowledge, but we're not sure what.

"About the only way a woman can get domestic help nowadays is to marry it," says the Sturgis (S.D.) Tribune.
