U. S. Census Bureau Lists 5,379 Residents in Wayne

The U.S. Census Bureau released official population figures to news media Thursday for most Nebraska communities. City officials in Wayne said Saturday they had not been notified of those official figures by the government bureau.

Wayne is listed as having a population tally of 5,379 in 1970 compared to 4,217 in the census 10 years ago. That increase in the last decade amounts to 27.6 percent.

The 5,379 figure, if correct, means Wayne is a first class city. John Addison, city attorney, said Saturday that if and when Wayne officially becomes a first class city, it may make it necessary for Wayne to have four wards and eight councilmen. The city presently has three wards and six councilmen.

Addison said a first class rating would likely make a few changes necessary in the statutes by which the city is governed. He indicated, however, that if Wayne officially becomes a first class city there is a possibility that it would not be necessary to go to a four-ward, eight-councilman government until the next election in 1972.

He emphasized that the city has not as yet received any information at all about its population status. "We haven't any official notification," he said.

Dan Sherry, city clerk, said it was his understanding that the U.S. Census Bureau was going to release the official population figures early this month, however, he pointed out that Wayne has received no such announcement as yet.

The 1970 census figures and percentage of increase or decrease as listed from an Omaha World-Herald report are as follows for area communities:

Town	1970	1960	% Chg.
Allen	309	350	-11.7

Those Are Cheerleaders?

Area residents will be able to see some funny antics, a basketball game and a group of highly talented cheerleaders in the annual March of Dimes benefit basketball game scheduled for the Wayne city auditorium Thursday night.

Scheduled to meet in that 8:30 battle are members of the Wayne Jayvees and the business fraternity at Wayne State College, Delta Sigma Pi.

Giving cheers to the fraternity team will be several young men decked out in women's clothing — a feature which last year provided the audience with plenty of laughs.

The benefit game a year ago resulted in about $60 being collected for the March of Dimes.

Injured Youth Taken to Omaha For Treatment

Two youths seriously injured in a one-car mishap north of Wayne early Jan. 3 remain hospitalized. Terry Macke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Macke of Wayne, was killed in the accident.

Danny Morrison, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morrison, Wayne, was transferred to the University Hospital in Omaha Saturday. The boy's doctor reports the youth's condition remains about the same. Morrison suffered spinal injuries.

Peggy Claussen, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Claussen was reported as doing quite well Saturday. She remains under treatment in the Wayne Hospital.

The accident happened when the car carrying the six youths hit a slick spot on Highway 15 slightly less than two miles north of Wayne. The vehicle left the road and was demolished as it rolled down the east embankment.

Film Is Scheduled For Band Boosters

Carroll Band Boosters will meet in the Carroll auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Monday) and will visit Germany via film.

Mr. and Mrs. Irv Jones of Carroll took a trip to Germany late last summer and will show pictures taken in that country.

Committee members in charge of arrangements include Mrs. Don Harmeier, chairman, Don Harmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hichtermeier, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Fenny, Mr. and Mrs. John Rees and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Owens.

Board Abandons Plans to Move ESU I to Wayne

The offices of Educational Service Unit I located in Wakefield will not be moved to Wayne as previously announced.

The 10-member board of ESU I considered moving the offices to Wayne, providing adequate space was available, to make it more convenient for people in the educational field to transact business.

Kenneth Olds, chairman, said the board voted in a meeting at Laurel Tuesday night to move the ESU I offices from the old grade school building in Wakefield to the former Federal Land Bank building on Main Street in that community.

Olds noted that office space available in Wayne at this time is not considered suitable for the unit's needs.

ESU I works throughout six northeast Nebraska counties including Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Thurston and Wayne, providing a program of supplementary services to schools. Harry Mills, Wakefield, is ESU I administrator.

Dinner Tickets Now on Sale

Tickets for the Wayne Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner later this month are available at several places in downtown Wayne or from several businessmen for those wishing to attend the affair.

The dinner is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 18, at the city auditorium. Featured speaker is Emmett J. Butler of Newton, Iowa, a nationally known public speaker.

Tickets can be purchased at either the State National Bank, First National Bank, Chamber of Commerce office or The Wayne Herald or from Les Lutt.

Emmett Butler

Butler, son of a county newspaper editor, makes dozens of speeches each year to a wide variety of groups. He was selected by the Iowa Development Commission to serve as master of ceremonies to introduce the governor and Lieutenant governor of Iowa and other dignitaries at "Sell Iowa" meetings with leading industrialists in Chicago, Minneapolis and New York.

Veterans Reminded To Return Surveys

The Veterans Administration last week reminded Nebraska recipients of monthly VA pension checks to promptly fill out, sign and carefully return their annual income questionnaires by Jan. 15 at the latest.

"The questionnaires request information on the amount of income the beneficiary received in 1970 and the amount expected in 1971. Since 1971 pension payments will be based on this information, it is important that questionnaires be filled out accurately and completely, signed and returned no later than the Jan. 15 deadline, according to the VA.

If they are not returned, beneficiaries will not only lose next year's benefits but may also be required to refund payments received in 1970.

Veterans and dependents in the Wayne area who need help with annual income questionnaires can contact the Wayne County veterans service officer, Chris Bargholz in Wayne.

Seniors at Allen To Don Aprons Saturday Night

People in the Allen area looking for a good meal at a nominal charge might consider taking in the soup supper being planned by the senior class at Allen High School.

The soup supper is scheduled for Saturday in the high school auditorium with serving from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. On the menu: vegetable soup and chili, sandwiches, cake and pie.

Charge for the meal is 50 cents for grade school students, 75 cents for high school students and $1 for adults.

Sponsors for the class who are helping with arrangements for the supper are Mrs. Gwen Krueger and Ken Hjalvorsen.

College Will Host Bands Saturday

Wayne State College will host a Stage Band Clinic Saturday with bands from 10 senior and junior high schools and Wayne State participating.

Dr. Lee Mendyk, director of Wayne State's stage band and organizer of the first annual clinic, expects bands from Aurora, Emerson-Hubbard, Laurel, Norfolk Senior and Junior Highs, Rock County at Bassett, Verdigris, West Point and Wayne High.

Guest clinician will be Gerald Coates of the University of Northern Colorado, where he directs three jazz bands and is percussion instructor. He has played with the Stan Kenton and Henry Mancini orchestras and the Johnny Smith Quartet, taught in the Denver public schools, and taught percussion at National Stage Band Camps.

His Jazz Ensemble No. 1 at Northern Colorado is one of four university bands chosen from the United States to play at the International Jazz Festival this June in Montreux, Switzerland.

Each stage band will record two numbers on tape, with criticism by Coates. He also will rehearse each band and present a session on drumming technique.

Directors of the bands will perform, too, to study interpretation of various styles, rhythmic problems, techniques and new literature.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. in the Fine Arts Center with the first band playing at 8:30. Joining Wayne State as co-sponsors are Tom's Music House of Norfolk and the college's honor band organizations, Kappa Kappa Psi for bandsmen and Tau Beta Sigma for bandswomen.

Directors of the visiting bands are Michael Bulba, Aurora; Richard Dille, Emerson-Hubbard; Dan

Teachers to Meet at Allen

Teachers and administrators in Dixon County will meet at the Allen High School Wednesday night for the monthly meeting of the county education association. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30.

Milky Way Stars Subject of Show

Persons interested in learning more about the universe will have the opportunity to do just that by attending a showing of "The Milky Way Galaxy: Our Home in the Universe" at the Wayne State College planetarium.

Carl Rump, planetarium director, said the new show will first be shown at 3:30 p.m. Jan. 17. The program will be repeated in the following weeks at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and at 3:30 on Sunday afternoons.

Those planning to attend the celestial program should be present in the planetarium a little early as no one will be admitted after the show starts.

Rump said the public is invited. There is no charge for the show.

Laurel Man Fined $100

Donald Roth, Laurel, was one of four persons charged in the Wayne County Court late last week. Judge Luverna Hilton fined Roth $100 and court costs of $5 for driving while under the influence of alcoholic liquor or drug.

Scott McKenzie, Sioux Rapids, Iowa, was fined $10 and costs of $5 for illegal parking. Thomas L. Luth, Grand Island, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $5 on a similar charge.

Mrs. George Goblirsch, Wayne, was fined $5 and paid $5 costs for not having a sidewalk cleared of snow.

1970 Weather Wrote Its Own Story

Temperatures hit 90 degrees and over for 13 days in both June and July last year, whereas August had 12 days of over-90 degree readings.

The coolest nighttime temperature during the summer months in a given year closely follows the weather records for that year.

Temperatures in the county in 1970 ranged anywhere from a record low of 34 below zero Jan. 18 to the high of 102 degrees recorded July 28.

Compare those figures with the low of 22 below a year earlier on Jan. 3, 1969 and the 1969 high of 98 degrees July 14.

normal, however the moisture came at the wrong time to produce a record crop. Whereas June was the wettest month in 1969 with 6.95 inches of rain, last year it was September with its total of 6.96 inches that had that distinction.

Normal precipitation in August for this area is 3.25 inches but only .95 of an inch was recorded during that same period last year. Harold Ingalls, agriculture agent, said early farmers were able to produce and harvest only about half a crop due to the lack of moisture at the right time.

Ingalls pointed out Tuesday that "Moisture conditions are more favorable now for spring planting."

Not to be forgotten in the weather picture for 1970 were the tornado winds which moved across northeast Nebraska one midnight in mid-June.

The winds damaged farm homes, buildings, scattered hay, tore down trees and caused many residents to seek shelter. After doing considerable damage in and near Norfolk, the storm moved northeast across Wayne County destroying a variety of structures including a large barn on See WEATHER, page 5

Group to Appoint Commissioner

A vacancy on the Wayne County board of commissioners left by the recent death of George Stolz, (Carroll, is to be filled by appointment according to law.

Don Reed, county attorney, noted last week that the person appointed will serve two years, completing the four year term of the District II commissioner.

The appointment will be made by a committee consisting of the county attorney, clerk and treasurer as provided by law.

Reed said persons interested in applying for the $3,000 a year position should express that interest to the county clerk. The clerk, treasurer and county attorney will meet with all interested applicants for interviews today (Monday) in the commissioner's meeting room at the court house.

Reed said the committee hopes to appoint a commissioner following the interviews.

The commissioners, Joe Wilson, Floyd Burt and the individual appointed, will meet for the first time Tuesday, as called for by state law.

NEN Cattle Feeders Face Big Challenge

Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders' Association and should again be the largest local feeders group in the nation, said John Servino of Waterbury, its president, in announcing a membership goal of 275 for 1971.

The association covers Wayne,

Thurston, Dakota and Dixon Counties and serves producers of cattle, hogs and sheep.

In cooperation with the Nebraska and the National Livestock Feeders Association the group has carried a strong program to benefit both livestock producers and meat consumers and has contributed to greatly improving Nebraska's economy, Servino stated.

A character by the name of Herkimer joins the Wayne Herald staff this week and will hereafter make his appearance weekly on the editorial page.

Herkimer will comment weekly on a subject of interest using a train of words that may at times lack an ounce or so of wit and a dash of hoped-for wisdom. Herkimer hopes to help you smile and thereby make The Wayne Herald a newspaper that is fun to be with. Herald staff member Merlin Wright is Herkimer's spokesman.

Are You Endangered?

Wayne area residents are urged to check to make sure there is water in the traps of the sewer lines leading from their sinks, toilets and basement drains.

Why? Because water in these traps keeps gases and fumes in the sewer lines from entering their homes or businesses. Simple sewer gas, the gas and fumes from the residue in sewer lines, is dangerous and can kill. Occasionally, something is dumped into a sewer line which gives off dangerous or deadly gases. Unless there is water in the trap of a sewer line close by, fumes from that substance could enter a house or store.

A small explosion in downtown Wayne the last day of 1970 emphasized the need for checking this possible danger source. In that case, fumes from gasoline seeped into a store basement and exploded. Without a doubt, that small explosion could have been much more damaging, even deadly.

Sewer lines which are used fairly frequently are probably not a source of danger since water remains in the traps over the periods the lines aren't used. However, lines which are seldom if ever used should be looked upon as possible dangers. We urge residents and store owners check to make sure that they have nothing to worry about. — N.L.H.

JUST WRIGHT

by Merlin Wright

Here we are well on the way into the new year and still chuckling over a story shared by a friend, a prominent Wayne State College faculty member.

He recalls the time when as a graduating senior in college he had to pretend fellow classmates were his students. It was his job as part of a final examination to teach the "children" a song called "Ding Dong Bell."

Our friend's teacher handed him a note after the exam. It said, "Hope you do not miss out on as much in life as you have in music."

Regardless of what one goes there are always interesting people. J.W. has a guardian son who was scheduled to report at the Army Induction Center in Omaha at 10 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 3. He had been sworn in earlier and was to leave Sunday for Fort Lewis, Wash. for basic training.

It was snowing lightly as we left Wayne early that morning and by the time our Malibu was poking its nose into Blair it was obvious the white stuff piled about five inches deep was going to get lots deeper.

After phoning the Army in Omaha that we would be late, we headed south of Blair on Highway 133 and started a whole new story we'll not soon forget.

Snow appeared to be coming at us in all directions and it seemed to be furious that we would even attempt to challenge its ferocity. We took a left turn off 133 and headed east toward 72nd Street at the north edge of Omaha.

Several of us stopped to help get a Volkswagen out of a snowdrift. We all felt it important since he was sitting crossways of the road right in front of us.

With the folks in the Volks on their way, we plowed merrily ahead; crested a hill, hit a huge drift, lost all visibility and the last this driver saw for awhile was a mailbox whizzing past the left window. We whipped the snaking action of the car and plowed east, then turned south on 72nd Street.

Red lights began to glare from the dashboard but there was no place to stop with any safety. We had already noticed several grown men playing the game of bumper car, unexpectedly of course, and didn't care to join the wrecking game.

When the right spot was sighted, we pulled off and took us under the hood only to be greeted by a solid pack of snow caked around the engine which was still running, but hot. J. W. has scooped driveways and sidewalks, but had never had the chance of scooping snow from beneath the hood of his car. After digging for awhile we found the little red generator, fan, power-steering unit and were happy to discover the engine was still there. Meanwhile the wind and snow lashed at our faces. A couple of guys slid up in a pickup and offered their help. In a few minutes the fan belt was back on and the little 200 horsepower tiger under the hood started right off and took us on into downtown Omaha even though it had to perk along on only about a quart or two of anti-freeze left in the radiator.

It was quite a sight as we drove east on Dodge as people were getting stuck everywhere while others ran into each other and abandoned their vehicles to head for shelter. But everybody was helping everybody else inasmuch as possible.

After checking in with the Army and getting rooms at a hotel we started visiting with others in similar situations. As we prepared for a 24-hour "sit in" with a blizzard raging outside, folk began to exchange tales of what they had been through trying to get to shelter.

About the only entertainment available was a TV in the lobby and eating in the hotel restaurant, Hotel Conant at 19th and Farnam is far from being the newest hotel in Omaha, but it would be difficult to exceed their courtesy.

The Army has lodged their inductees at the hotel for many years. There were several dozen young men there, marooned by the storm, waiting to go to basic training.

We got acquainted with Roger Huetzig from Belden who was on his way to Fort Lewis, Wash. Bill Kaiser of Osmond and Russell Steffen of Charter Oak, Iowa, also joined the chow circle on several occasions during the two-day wait. We found out later these guys finally got out of Omaha via the airlines on Wednesday. It was nice to get a chance to rap with the younger generation and exchange ideas on numerous subjects concerning the old world.

Among the many people J. W. visited with was a sweet little old lady who was having a birthday, but she was having to celebrate in the hotel restaurant without any of her family. Several of us were telling her happy birthday when a waitress came to her table with a very small cake. On top of the cake giving a brilliant performance was a Fourth of July sparkler shooting sparks all over the place. Everyone, including the lady celebrating, enjoyed the thoughtfulness of the waitress and the unusual cake.

We ventured outside the hotel at one time to take a check on the car. J. W. could hardly believe the eerie scene. We waded knee-deep snow down Farnam and cars were abandoned everywhere. It was really something else.

The whole experience caused us to renew a list of the faith in our fellow man. It seems that in spite of how ornery man can be to man at times, when everyone was caught in the common problem of struggling with a storm, everyone was helping everyone else when possible.

Staff members at the hotel worked double shifts as did people at the telephone switchboards, radio stations and in other public services. Few complained. Pay is important in a man's job, however when a person knows he is working providing a vital link in a chain of survival, particularly providing public utilities, he will work until he drops. Not only did hundreds stick to their jobs but felt good about it rather than complaining. They knew they were helping others.

Any of the thousands caught in the center of the blizzard has a tale to tell about the willingness of other people to help. A storm doesn't stop the process of people dying and babies being born. We also found out that when facing trouble, the human family hasn't actually stopped having a lot of concern about each other. There was a lot of "getting involved." It is too bad it often takes an emergency to bring that great quality to the surface in many people.

J. W. has a couple of pictures he wants you to see. We plan on sharing them with you next week. One pic is of a cute dog that has a great time with an ordinary ball and the other photo is of a freak carousel.

Oh, yes. You probably noticed earlier that we have a new bracket heading up the column over there at the left. The little chef had worked for us for two years and asked for a vacation. We let him go and came up with this.

In our attempt to constantly make The Wayne Herald a more readable paper for you, we are hoping you'll out loose one of these days and share an incident or humorous story with us for the column. It is good to laugh at oneself occasionally and maybe your experience could brighten the day for somebody else having a hard time on the old trail of life.

The Cowboy Mayor

On file in the Nebraska State Historical Society Archives are many exploits of the frontiersmen and cowboys, but perhaps none of them have had such a flamboyant career as James C. Dahlman, the cowboy mayor of Omaha.

After living in western Nebraska for many years and in Omaha for only two, Dahlman made his bid for mayor of Nebraska's largest city in 1906. The opposition, at first, was formidable. Why, he is nothing but a cowboy, they pointed out. Dahlman, however, proved he was up to such an attack when at a rally he admitted, "I want to say to you people of Omaha, that I am still a cowboy." But then he warned, "If any of your grafters and crooks come at me when I'm Mayor, I'll rope and tie and brand 'em quicker than I ever roped and tied a steer, and that's some."

Dahlman gambled at the poker table was another objection by some of the more pious opposition. Dahlman, not a man to mince words, admitted it to one of his campaign audiences, "You bet I play poker, and if there is any man in the audience who ever sat in with me and didn't know he'd been in a poker game after he got through with me, I want him to stand up so I can see the color of his hair." In one successful attack his opponents suggested that Dahlman was not intelligent enough to write a veto message. The future mayor admitted that he had had little formal education, but promised that if a "crooked ordinance comes up, I'll write across it 'nothing doing' and that ought to be grammatical enough for you to understand."

Dahlman had turned what seemed to be liabilities into a political asset, and Omaha stood behind their colorful cowboy from the prairies, for they elected him seven times as their chief executive. What is more, Dahlman never stopped being a "cowboy" through his many terms. His office was always conducted in an informal manner and with typical folksy western hospitality, everybody was welcome. Nor was his fame limited to Omaha, for Will Rogers, the noted humorist from the "cow country" of Oklahoma, nicknamed Dahlman "Omaha's perpetual mayor." Dahlman served from 1909 until 1939 with the exception of three years.

Dear Editor:

Two recent releases of publicity by the Packers and Stockyards Administration have adversely affected the image of the Sioux City Stock Yards.

While both of the firms do business at the Sioux City Stock Yards, one of them was cited for transactions off the market, having nothing to do with the Sioux City operations. Ingwersen Brothers was cited on transactions whereby they purchased cattle in Montana to fill orders direct (not through the Sioux City Stock Yards) to feeder customers in South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa. In addition to a buying commission, they marked the cattle up to more than they paid the Montana sellers.

In the case of Wood Brothers, they allowed their president to buy cattle out of their alley without depositing the purchase price in the custodial account. This matter was discovered by audit by the Sioux City Livestock Exchange and resolved in May, 1970. While this was a violation of the Packers and Stockyards Act and a bad business practice, no slipper

I've had it with this old dryer. George! look at my nightgown... dried to a crisp. We've just got to switch to Gas. It can't over-dry—not with all those special settings for delicates and permanent-press. Besides, when a Gas dryer shuts off, it's off. Period. There's no lingering heat to scorch clothes. And Kay says hers works for less than a penny a load. Which won't exactly burn a hole in your pocket, eh George?

SS Q & A

Q — I live out in the country. I don't have a car and I have to pay someone to bring me to town to see the social security representative. Could I take care of my social security business by telephone?

A — Yes, indeed. This is a good idea and we welcome it. Most of your social security business can be taken care of by phone. If we need your signature we will mail the form to you. A phone call saves your time and effort and is usually just as efficient. The phone number at the Norfolk Social Security office is 371-1595.

Q — I was getting social security as the wife of a retired worker until I went back to work. Now I have worked enough to get retirement benefits on my own record. Can I collect as both a wife and a retired person?

A — You cannot receive the combined total of both benefits. If the benefit on your own work is the higher benefit, then you will receive only that benefit. If your benefit, as a wife, is the higher benefit, you will receive the benefit on your own work plus the difference between this and the wife's benefit.

Dixon Officials Await Loan, Grant Decision

Village officials at Dixon are now waiting to hear from two federal agencies concerning applications the village has made for funds to help in the construction of a sanitary sewer system.

Applications for a loan and two grants have been filed with the Farmers Home Administration and the Federal Water Quality Administration.

Estimated cost of the project is about $60,000.

The lagoon for the sewer system, which would be similar to the one at Wayne, would be located southeast of the town.

Members of the town board had considered private financing to help with the project but decided against that avenue because the cost of hooking up and using the system would have to be so high many residents might not make use of it.

Estimated monthly cost for using the sewer as currently planned is about $3.

The FWA requires that 80 per cent of the potential users sign up before federal money can become available. There are approximately 80 potential users in Dixon. A survey within the next few days will determine what number of them would hook up to the system if it were built.

The FWA loan would be paid back by the village over a 40-year period.

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott

This week I would like to make two announcements that might be of interest to readers. The first is that a copy of Dane Rudhyar's "The Principles of Astrology" is now obtainable at the Wayne public library in paperback form. Rudhyar is a composer of a little repute whose biography can be read in any register.

The second announcement is that I have finished making an astrology slide program titled, "What About Astrology?" It consists of 120 slides and taped narration with background music. I would be more than happy to present this short (half hour) program to any group of 15 or more persons.

The program includes such topics as the history and fall of astrology (brought on partly because of its association with magic and the allied arts), the mechanics of making a horoscope chart, noted astrologers, who you don't want to be an ass to believe in astrology and scientific discoveries that clearly point out that "there might be something to" astrology.

Although I produced it, it is largely free of bias as I am perhaps more critical of today's astrology than otherwise. Remember, any interested group can contact me for a showing of "What About Astrology?"

Tax Deadline Nears

The deadline for final payment of 1970 estimated federal income tax is Jan. 15, according to Richard Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska. Some persons may have to make an amended estimate by then if their income changed substantially during the last quarter of 1970. Space to compute an amended estimate is provided on the worksheet contained in the estimated tax package received by taxpayers for 1970.

Others may have to file an original 1970 declaration on Form 1040-ES by Jan. 15 if they just met the filing requirements during the fourth quarter.

Payment of the last installment or the filing of an original or amended declaration otherwise due Jan. 15 is not required if the taxpayer files his 1970 income tax return and pays all of the tax due by Monday, Feb. 1, 1971.

Due dates are different for farmers, Vinal said. Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," furnished additional information on this subject and may be obtained free at IRS offices or by dropping a post card to the district director, Internal Revenue Service, Federal Office Building, 15th and Dodge Streets, Omaha, Nebraska 68102, or your county farm agent.

Filing Deadline for Farmers Is Jan. 15

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1970 gross income from farming should file their 1970 declaration of estimated federal income tax by January 15 on Form 1040-ES.

However, farmers do not have to file an estimate if they file their 1970 return and pay all the tax due by Monday, March 1, according to Richard Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska.

"Farmer's Tax Guide," IRS Publication 225, furnished information on this subject and may be obtained free from any IRS office or by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Federal Office Building, 15th and Dodge Streets, Omaha, Nebraska 68102, or your county farm agent.

Members of Knox County Feeders Association and some others have expressed an interest in joining the Northeast group on the study. They and any others interested are welcome, Hoals invited.

Stops at the Iowa Beef Processors facilities in Des Moines in the morning and at the Gustafson Bros. yards near Aurelia in the afternoon are planned. The tour is set for Feb. 3, with a Feb. 10 storm date.

Bus transportation is being arranged for anyone desiring it. Hoals stated, Bus pickup stops will be Dakota City, courthouse, 8:30 a.m.; Emerson, Mattison Implement Co., 9 a.m.; Wakefield, Chuck Wagon Hotel, 9:20 a.m.; Pender, Pender State Bank, 9:45 a.m. Return stops will be in the same order.

The bus fare will be about $6. It should be sent to Bob Hoals at Dakota City as a reservation or given to him at the annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association at Laurel Jan. 25. No other expense, except lunch, is expected.

Figures on costs of feeding several lots of cattle under confinement and rate of gains compared to feeding similar cattle in open lots will be available from IBP, which is conducting an experiment on its house in cooperation with the Iowa Extension Service. It is expected the related subjects of waste disposal and marketing will come up.

Drugs, Sex Subjects Of Two TV Series

Two television series will be presented by the Nebraska Educational Television Network in cooperation with the Nebraska State Medical Association, its woman's auxiliary, and member groups of the Inter-Agency Health Planning Council.

The first series, titled "Drugs Use and Abuse," will be shown every Monday in January between the hours of 9 and 10 p.m. These four one-hour programs feature students, teachers, parents and experts discussing the drug problem from all points of view. A special phone-in question and answer session will be held during the Jan. 25 program, at which time viewers are invited to participate.

The second series, titled "Sons and Daughters," will be shown each Monday beginning Feb. 8 and concluding March 1 between the hours of 9 and 10 p.m. This is a series of four television programs designed to assist families in accepting the responsibility of sex education in the home. The March 4 program will include a phone-in question and answer session utilizing a panel to discuss and answer questions posed by those calling in.

Both series present basic information to better inform the viewer of current concepts in these areas.

Local Boxers Win in Friday Smoker

by Norvin Hansen

Local boxer Vaughn Korth used a happy share of determination to rally in the second and third rounds on his way to posting a technical knockout over his opponent in Friday night's third annual St. Mary's Men's Club boxing smoker at the Wayne city auditorium.

Korth, who gave away seven pounds to 133-pound Ron Stutsman of Lincoln, bored in on his foe in those two final rounds, racking up points and finally dazing his foe enough to halt the fight in 1:21 of the third.

About 500 people attended the event in spite of blowing snow which kept some boxers and officials from showing up.

In the main event, Wayne State student Tim Frankl of South Sioux City defeated Jerry Turgeon of Sioux Falls in their three-rounder.

Frankl, who lost in the finals of the national Golden Gloves tournament a year ago, went to the canvass in the second round but came back enough to convince the judges the match was his. Frankl weighed five pounds more than Turgeon, 137 to 132.

Amateur boxers from Lincoln, Norfolk, Creighton and Verdigre also fought during the night. Fighting their first fights of their careers, John Boddiger, 168, of Wayne State won a split decision over Doug Porter, 168,

Improved Norfolk Crew Defeats Devils, 39-18

by Norvin Hansen

Wayne High wrestlers managed only four victories, three of them by pins, while suffering a 39-18 loss to Class A Norfolk at Wayne Thursday night.

The Blue Devils, winners over the Norfolk club a year ago when the Panthers were new to the sport, had their dual mark dip to 1-3 with that loss as they continue with a challenging schedule.

Jim Meyer, Mark Beiermann, Tony Pflueger and Dave Johnson were the only varsity wrestlers able to win against the visiting Norfolk team.

Meyer, at 126 pounds, gained a pin in 1:20 of the third period over Carl Sanders to keep his winning streak intact. Beiermann, in the 132-pound class, pinned Don Nowomyn 23 seconds into the second period, and heavyweight Dave Johnson pinned Bruce Fullerton in 1:49 into the second period.

Tony Pflueger gained a 4-3 decision over Bob Eckhoff in the 145-pound class.

The Wayne team took part in an invitational tournament at Blair on Saturday. Tonight (Monday) the Devils host Neligh.

Oakland-Craig Dumps Trojans, 67-50, Friday

Wakefield, outplayed badly in the first half, dropped a 67-50 decision to Oakland-Craig in a road game Friday night.

The loss drops the Trojans' season mark to 1-6 as they prepare for Friday night's home stand against Tekamah-Herman.

Oakland, sporting a young and tall team, dumped in 18 points in the first period and 14 in the second while Wakefield could manage only eight in each to take a 22-16 lead into intermission.

Wakefield was put at a quick disadvantage when Pat Strahl, one of the Trojans' leading scoring threats, drew three fouls in the first period and was forced to stay on the bench the second period. He fouled out in the fourth period along with Dave Scheel.

Seniors Rick Hsiao and Dave Scheel had to carry the scoring load for the Trojans, pumping in 13 and 22 points respectively. Stanl, Scheel and George Hanson contributed all each.

Oakland-Craig's 6-3 junior Mark Anderson hit 20 points and 5-8 junior Kirby Larsen hit 14.

Bears Retain NENAC Title

Paul McCoy, a 5-11 senior career at Laurel High, sparked the Bears to another NENAC tournament trophy Thursday and Friday night, pumping in 23 points against Plainview in the semifinals and 19 against O'Neill High in the finals.

The Bears, playing their best ball of the season, dominated the journey from the start. They knocked off Crofton, 60-39, in Tuesday night's opening round. Bloomfield did away with Pierce the same night, 51-50.

McCoy, with help from Regg Swanson and Steve Erwin, helped the bears past Plainview, 58-46, and beat O'Neill, 75-42, as he turned in his best performances to date.

Erwin was by his side in Thursday's contest, hitting 20 points and pulling down 17 rebounds. Friday night Erwin, a 6-5 senior, had other things than scoring in mind (he hit 16) he had 27 rebounds, six blocked shots and seven steals to lead a revived Bear defense.

Swanson, senior at 6-3, had 13 rebounds against Plainview and six points, came back with 11 rebounds and 10 points in the finals.

The three tourney wins were a healthy thing for Laurel's season record—the Bears are now 6-4 for the year. They travel to Neigh St. Mary's Saturday night.

Steve Smith, a 6-0 senior for Laurel, had nine and seven points in the final two games of the tourney after being sidelined by a sprained ankle.

Laurel was master all three games, pulling down 141 rebounds to 110 to their opponents.

In Friday night's consolation game, Bloomfield dumped Plainview, 47-29, for a third place, Thursday night, Bloomfield fell to O'Neill, 53-52.

Coleridge defeated Hartington High in the consolation game for third place.

Forfeits Are No Barrier to Trojans

Despite being forced to forfeit the final two matches because they couldn't field wrestlers in those weights, the Wakefield Trojans managed a 28-23 win over visiting Stanton Wednesday night.

The win gave the Trojans a 3-1 dual match for the season. Their next action is against a strong Plainview club at home Tuesday night. Plainview moved to a perfect 4-0 record with a 25-19 win over Wayne last week.

The final match of the evening Wednesday night threw the meet to Wakefield. The hosts went into that match with a 23-13 lead but know they would have to give up 10 points in the two forfeits following it.

Kirk Gardner wasted little time in putting his teammates at ease. The young sophomore wrestler, in the 167-pound division, pinned his man in just 30 seconds, fastest pin of the night.

Also gaining pins were Dave Rouse in the 98-pound class, in 3:28, and Jack Slevers in the 155-pound class, in 5:48.

Results of the meet:

98 — Dave Rouse, Wakefield, pinned D. Kuester in 3:28.

105 — Devon Fisher, Wakefield, lost to Joel Pint, 5-1.

112 — Miles Pearson, Wakefield, lost to Warren Jensen, 13-0.

Volleyball Tourney Planned at Winside

Four area high school volleyball teams plan to take part in a girls' volleyball roundup tournament in the Winside High School gym beginning at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 16.

Jack Webb, WBS volleyball coach, said Winside will host teams from Battle Creek, Rosalia and Wakefield.

Tickets are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Only one ticket is needed to see all four games.

Wrestling Tourney Set at Winside HS

Winside High School plans to host an invitational wrestling tournament during the afternoon and evening of Jan. 26 in the school gym.

Wildcat grapplers will host teams from Handolph, Hartington, Howells, Leigh, Niobrara and Columbus Lakeview.

Cats' Domination of Kearney Ends

Like all winning streaks, Wayne State's basketball domination of Kearney Stated ended Thursday. After seven straight victories, the Wildcats fell to Kearney, 93-78 on the Antelope court.

NOW WHAT, COACH? Wakefield's Dave Carlson seems in a bit of a quandary as he wrestles with Stanton's Tom Breithreutz in last week's meet.

The hosts got most of their margin at the free throw line, hitting 27 of 39 attempts while barely outgaining Wayne from the field, 33 to 32. The Wildcats scored 14 of their 21 charity attempts.

Wayne's junior varsity salvaged something from the trip with a 74-63 win over the Antelope JV and remained undefeated in four games.

Both varsity and junior varsity will journey to Springfield, S.D., Monday night for return engagements with Southern State. Both Wayne teams beat the Pointers in the season opener here.

Coach Ron Jones said his Wildcats wanted to lose the tempo with Kearney—which had averaged 99 points, but "when you're behind you've got to play to score," Jones added.

The Wildcats had eight fouls called on them before the Antelopes were charged with their first, a major factor in the early strategy. Wayne ended with 26 fouls, Kearney with 16.

Dennis Siefkes led Wildcat scoring with 15, a fraction over his average, while Steve Hoffman posted 13, well over his 7-4 pace. Kearney had four scoring between 20 and 13. The Antelopes, now 9-1, had averaged 99 points a game. The Wayne record is 4-7.

Wayne's next home game will be Friday night against Chadron State.

Wayne police report the following drivers were involved in in-town accidents during the last three weeks. Drivers and the location of the accidents are as follows:

—Dec. 22. Dennis Beckman and Warren Creamer, both of Wayne, East Second and Main Streets.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) Can a child born before the end of the year be claimed as a dependent for the whole year?
A) Yes, as long as the dependency tests are met for the balance of the tax year in which the child was born.

Q) I didn't have a job when I moved here. Does that mean I won't be able to deduct my moving costs?
A) You may be able to deduct your moving expenses if you meet certain requirements. In fact, anyone moving to accept a new job as well as someone transferred to a new location by his present employer may qualify. The first requirement is that your new place of employment be at least 50 miles farther from your old home than your previous job was. The second requirement is that you be a full-time employee on your new job for

Q) What's the deadline for reporting the social security tax I withheld for my clean-woman?
A) File an estimated tax declaration, Form 1040-ES, as soon as you are paid by whatever date. This will reduce the penalty for underpayment of estimated tax. Form 1040-ES and instructions may be obtained from any IRS office.

Q) What's the filing date for farmers next year?
A) April 15. However, farmers who do not file limited tax declarations by January 15 should file their 1970 returns and pay the tax due by March 1, to avoid possible penalties for underpayment of estimated income tax.

Feeder Short Course Changed to March

A short course geared to the larger commercial cattle feeder (feeding 1,000 or more cattle each year) has been scheduled for March 5-6, it was announced this week. The two-day conference was not held Jan. 4-5 as originally planned because a severe snowstorm and bad road conditions prevented both speakers and feeders from attending. Dr. Wm. Taylor, University of Nebraska Extension livestock specialist in charge of the short course, said the location has been shifted to the Villager Convention Center at 5200 "O" St., Lincoln. It is planned to present the original program intact, with scheduled speakers in March, he said. The short course will focus on the rapid changes taking place in our dynamic beef feeding industry and the implications these changes have for the larger farmer and commercial feeder in Nebraska," Guyer said.

A number of feeders are also being asked to participate in the program, the NU Extension beef specialist said. They will discuss topics such as where to buy feeder cattle and new ideas in feedlot design.

Ak-Sar-Ben Sets Sights High Again

Ak-Sar-Ben kicked off its 1971 membership drive Tuesday with a meeting at Ak-Sar-Ben for more than 650 volunteer membership workers. The workers have been divided into 16 teams headed by the Governors and Councilors of Ak-Sar-Ben.

J. Allan Dravner, chairman of the 1971 Drive, announced that Ak-Sar-Ben has again set a goal of 50,000 members. Last year's membership totaled 53,361. The cost is $12 and entitles the members to three free shows featuring top names in the entertainment field, two free variety shows for the entire family and two reduced-price tickets to the Ice Skating, April 1-11, and the World Championship Rodeo, September 24-October 2.

In addition, members are offered a season race pass for two to the races or tickets to the annual Coronation or Ball.

Two of the three member shows have been announced. The first will be Myron Floren directing the Lawrence Welk TV All-Stars. This show will include 19 of the principals of the Welk show along with the Welk orchestra. Mr. Welk will not be with the show.

The second show, direct from Nashville, will be the Festival of Music with Chet Atkins, Boots Randolph and Floyd Cramer. These outstanding instrumentalists will provide a cross-country sound to delight people of all ages.

A third member show will be the Ak-Sar-Ben Super Star Special and is under negotiation. It will be announced shortly.

Here is the tentative 1971 Ak-Sar-Ben schedule:

April 6-11, Ice Follies; April 30-July 5, thoroughbred races; July 12-16, first family show; July 19-23, Myron Floren directing Lawrence Welk TV All-Stars; Aug. 9-13, Ak-Sar-Ben Super-Star Special; Aug. 16-20, second family show; Aug. 23-27, Festival of Music with Chet Atkins, Boots Randolph, Floyd Cramer; Sept. 24-Oct. 2, rodeo and livestock show; Oct. 22-23, coronation and ball.

SMV Law Popular

The law dealing with SMV—slow moving vehicles—has become a part of 26 states and five provinces of Canada, says Rollin Schneider, University of Nebraska Extension safety specialist.

Nebraska's law requires that the emblem be used on all equipment designed to go less than 25 mph. This covers all farm equipment and most construction equipment. The law states that it should not be used on equipment designed to go faster than 25 mph.

Nebraska's law also says that the emblem needs to be used only on state highways. That requires the use of the emblem only on 10,000 miles of the state's 110,000 miles of roads.

The emblem should be placed

Cattle Feeding Trends Spotlighted

A projection that Nebraska's cattle feeding may increase 67 percent during the next decade lends special interest to an upcoming two-part presentation on the Nebraska Educational Television Network, entitled "Beef Up for the 70's." A surge in interest in beef cattle feeding has been accompanied by the distinct possibility that fewer feeder cattle from the Southwest (principally Oklahoma and Texas) will be available for Nebraska feedlots. "Beef Up for the 70's," dealing with trends and developments in cattle feeding, will be shown on Jan. 21 and March 4 from 8 to 9:30 p.m. CST.

Both shows will contain 45 minutes of color film presentation, followed by 45 minutes of questions and answers. The first show will feature new concepts in feedlot design, waste management and financing; the second will concentrate on newer methods of grain processing and handling new cattle.

Nebraska feedlots handled approximately 3.6 million cattle in 1970. The state may finish six million head in 1980 if current projections prove accurate.

WS Action Group Seeks Solution to Pollution

The worldwide environmental crisis has spawned an action group at Wayne State College that is combining the resources of college students and Wayne residents to seek practical solutions to problems of pollution. The group, the Environmental Action Committee, grew out of an experimental class at WSC first semester, a multidisciplinary class called Environmental Crisis. Three faculty members, a chemist, biologist and political scientist, headed a staff of faculty lecturers and outside speakers for nearly 120 registered students.

At the end of the semester, in December, 35 class members worked to organize EAC to bring practical answers to problems they had explored throughout the course.

A meeting of all WSC students and Wayne residents interested in the work was held in the Student Union office shop Thursday night. Proposed anti-pollution projects were explained.

Some of those projects, in brief, are:—A demonstration of non-polluting detergents in the grocery stores of Wayne, and handing out of leaflets explaining the danger of high-phosphate detergents and showing lists of which detergents are lowest in phosphates. Grocery stores are cooperating in this project, and are stocking new, non-polluting detergents.

—A door-to-door campaign in Wayne by pairs of WSC students, with leaflets for housewives, showing how they can cut down on environmental pollution through ordinary household practices.

—Work toward a spring environmental fair in Wayne, to
