

Higher Electrical Bills Coming Soon

Residents of Wayne will pay a bigger electricity bill when they receive their bills in March, the result of a higher electricity rate voted into effect by the city council Tuesday night.

The new rate, adopted to help offset the higher fuel rates being charged the city, will mean an increase of between $1 and $2 for the average customer, according to city officials. There is no increase in the minimum charge of $1.40.

The new rates are effective with the February billing and will be noticed by residents when they receive that billing early in March.

Electrical rates in the city were last increased in late 1967. City Clerk Dan Sherry said the new rates will mean an increase in the monthly bills from seven to 15 per cent. He said the increase in the cost of fuel to run the local generating plant amounted to about 20 per cent.

The city council also took steps to help the Wayne Youth Club find a home.

The local club had several members present at the meeting to ask that the city consider helping set up a center where young people could gather in their spare time.

Council decided to have the building committee, composed of Darrel Fuelberth, Dick Bonister, and Ed Smith, see if a suitable building can be found in the business district.

Council also:

—Heard two proposals from the Nebraska Public Power District concerning power sharing between the city and the large electricity producer. Under the proposals the city would be guaranteed a source of electrical power if the local utility were unable to meet the local demand or were shut down for some.

The board named Sheriff Don Weible to continue as chairman of the board of health. Other board of health members include Dr. Roy Matson, also a named county physician, and Fred Riekers, superintendent of public instruction who replaces Mrs. Gladys Porter.

It was decided by the commissioners to set aside $500 in the 1971-72 budget, as is customary, to be used by the fair board in matching money with AR-Saben for new buildings and repairs at the county fairgrounds.

Weible said representatives from Consolidated Engineers, county road consultants, attended the meeting and explained the new road program set up by the last state legislature. Bob Nissen, county highway superintendent, reported plans are underway to formulate a six-year road program for the county.

The commissioners plan to meet regularly on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

HOW TO FILL A HOLE IN ONE

The doughnut is said to be the modern version of the Dutch fried cake—the oolok. Early settlers from Holland introduced the Dutch treat in the New World where it made food history. The little fried cake became so popular and the demand for it so great that doughnut and coffee shops sprang up in the colonies. From that day to the doughnuts and coffee have remained a top tip snack team and now clever homemakers fancy the "slurp" doughnut because filling a hole in one—or more—can rate family amies galore. Next time you have guests in for dessert and coffee serve up to prepare Butterworth Cream Doughnuts—just team up a package of pudding mix with doughnuts purchased at your favorite market.

BUTTERWORTH CREAM DOUGHNUTS
1/2 package butterworth pudding, 2 ounces, approximately 3/4 cup milk
1/4 cup heavy cream, whipped
4 doughnuts, plain
1 teaspoon shredded toasted almonds

Prepare butterworth pudding by combining with 1/2 cup milk and cooking according to directions on package. Chill and then fold in whipped cream. Slice doughnuts in half, horizontally. Spread 2 tablespoons butterworth mixture between halves of each doughnut. Top each doughnut with 2 tablespoons butterworth mixture and 1 teaspoon almonds. Chill before serving. Yield: 4 Butterworth-Cream Doughnuts.

Actor Urges All To Audition for Parts

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players," Actor Dick Gjonola, quotes Shakespeare to get his point across.

"Actors aren't the only ones who audition for parts. Every time a man interviews for a job or asks a girl for a date, he's auditioning."

Dick says that everyone can take a tip from successful actors who look the parts they play. An actor studies the situation and what is expected of him, and then grooms himself for the role. His performance is more convincing when his appearance suits the character he is playing.

"If you don't look your part in life, you have to work harder to prove yourself to others. Why start out having to prove yourself? Groom yourself to fit the image you want and others will accept you for what you are."

Dick believes that if you study who you are and what you want

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: Is there an extra charge when there is an autopsy?

ANSWER: In our experience we have never known a doctor to request an autopsy without being convinced of the need for one and Wiltse Mortuary never makes an extra charge when an autopsy has been performed. Because of autopsies, considerable knowledge has been gained in both the medical profession and in the law enforcement field. The American College of Pathologists is quoted as saying: "The high standards of American medicine are, and will continue to be, dependent to a large degree on the frequency and care with which autopsies are performed. The hospital, the pathologist and the jurist must agree to discharge their responsibilities on the highest professional standards, and to promote mutual trust, confidence and good will."

Meyer Has Company in Championship Circle

by Norvin Hansen
 Jim Meyer, Wayne High's stout entry in the 126-pound class, brought home his second tournament gold medal of the year by wrestling to three straight victories in Saturday's Invitational tournament at Blair.

Meyer's championship showing, plus the one turned in by Mark Belermann in the 132-pound division, helped Wayne to 59 points and second place in the tournament. Blair, with 81 points, placed first in the meet.

RAISED THREE TIMES: Wayne's Jim Meyer won a gold medal, his second of the year, by defeating all three opponents during Saturday's invitational tourney at Blair.

The victory for Meyer, a senior, keeps his winning season unblemished. He wrestled to a gold medal in Wayne's only other tourney action so far this year, the challenging Wahoo Invitational.

round were three Wayne entries: Rod Sievers at 155 pounds, 4-2 victim after winning by 13-0 and a pin; Steve Kamish at 185 pounds, pinned in first period after drawing a bye and gaining a 5-1 win; heavyweight Dave Johnson, 4-0 loser after winning by a pin and a 6-4 mark.

Trojan Wrestlers Drubbed in Dual

Steve Oswald and Kirk Gardner kept their winning streaks going as Wakefield's wrestling club suffered a 39-13 loss to a surprisingly strong Plainview squad Tuesday night at Wakefield.

Oswald, now with a record of four pins and three decisions, gained a 4-0 decision over his foe at 132 pounds. Gardner, now with six pins and one decision, gained a pin in 3-49 over his foe in the 167-pound class.

Also gaining a win in the action was Dave House with a pin in 48 seconds in the 98-pound division.

Losing their matches against their Plainview opponents:

- Devon Fisher at 195 pounds, 3-0; Dave Bodlak at 112, 3-1; Dave Carlson at 119, 5-0; Randy Jensen at 126, pin in 1:41; Bob Twite at 138, pin in 5:56; Jerel Schroeder at 145, pin in 5:22; Jack Sievers at 155, pin in 20.

Wakefield was forced to forfeit the 185-pound and heavyweight matches because unable to field wrestlers.

The Trojans, now 3-2 in dual action, travel to West Point Tuesday night.

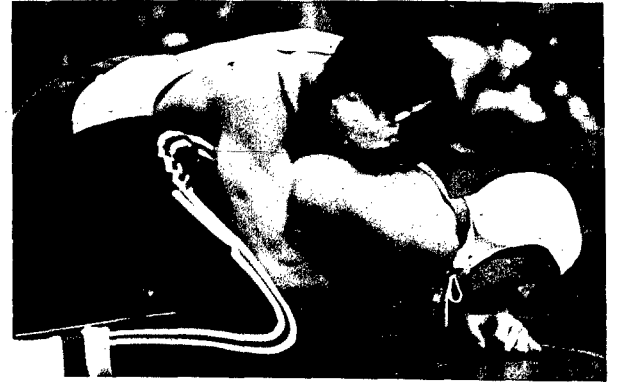

Meyer used pins in the first period, second period and a 5-2 decision to earn top honors at Blair. Belermann wrestled to a 6-5 decision and a second-period pin after drawing a bye in the opening round.

Belermann recorded the quickest fall, a 34-second showing.

The win against Neligh gives the Blue Devils 2-3 dual mark for the year. They make the long trip to Albion Friday night and go to O'Neill Tuesday night.

- Results of the dual with Neligh:
- 98—Scott Hall won by pin in 1:54.
 - 105—Dan Mery won by pin in 1:09.
 - 112—Darrill Albin lost by pin in 5:19.
 - 119—Harry Ruback won, 7-2.
 - 125—Jim Meyer won by pin in 1:07.
 - 132—Mark Belermann won by pin in 34.
 - 138—Glenn Hilbert lost, 5-0.
 - 145—Tom Hanger won, 1-10.
 - 155—Rod Sievers won by pin in 1:11.
 - 167—Jim Sievers lost, 6-0.
 - 185—Steve Kamish won by forfeit, no opponent.
 - Heavyweight—Dave Johnson won by pin in 1:46.

IN TROUBLE during the Blair invitational wrestling tournament held all day Saturday, is Wayne's Mark Belermann in the 132-pound class.

Athlete of the Week

Kirk Gardner
 By Norvin Hansen

Liable Kirk Gardner of the Wakefield High wrestling squad has certainly been proving that his trip to the state wrestling tournament at Lincoln a year ago as a freshman was no fluke.

His latest installment in that continuing story was the quick pin he registered over Stanton's Dan Davidson in the dual between the two teams last week. The five points young Gardner racked up for his team with that pin, registered in 29 seconds, were the deciding ones in the 28-23 win for the Trojans, upping their dual mark to 3-1.

The result is Kirk's being named the latest "Athlete of the Week" by the sports department at the Wayne Herald. It marks the second time this year he has gained that honor (he was named "Athlete" during football for his offensive-defensive showing against West Point High).

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gardner of Wakefield, Kirk had won all six of his matches going into this Tuesday's dual with Plainview. Five of them were by pins, the sixth by a lopsided 15-1 decision.

One of those pins and the decision came in the recent Battle Creek Invitational tournament where Gardner joined teammates Steve Oswald (132 pounds) and Bob Twite (138) in the championship circle. Oswald was the only other undefeated Trojan going into the dual with Plainview.

Kirk, who wrestles in the 167-pound division, lettered in football, wrestling and baseball as a freshman. This year he earned another letter in football where he served as defensive captain in charge of leading the shoe against opposing offensive units. Another letter in wrestling seems all but guaranteed before the season's halfway mark is reached.

Certainly one of the area's young athletes to keep an eye on, Kirk didn't just amble into the latest column. He had plenty of competition, including that provided by Laurie's Steve Erwin during the NENAC basketball tournament at Bloomfield and that provided by Wayne High grappler Jim Meyer as he continues his unbeaten ways.

Pool Records Fall in WSC Double Dual

Six pool records were broken as Wayne State hosted a double dual swimming meet Saturday at Mankato State and St. Cloud State of Minnesota.

In dual scoring Mankato State defeated Wayne, 67-46, and St. Cloud, 62-54, while Wayne beat St. Cloud, 57-55.

Rich Draper, Wayne senior from Elkton, posted a pool record

Madison Frosh Nip Local Squad, 44-41

Madison High's freshman basketball club slipped by the local yeartlings, 44-41, in a road game Friday.

The Wayne squad, which will play Norfolk at the Wayne City Auditorium at 4 p.m. today (Thursday), managed to hit only 28 per cent from the field during Friday's loss.

Leading the scoring for the Wayne team was Jerry Jech with a dozen counters, Gordon Cook with eight and Todd Bigelow with seven. Scott Ehlers had six, Bill Schwartz and Randy Workman three each and Jeff Lamp two.

The Devils were hurt by the numerous fouls they committed—27 as four starters fouled out. Gordon Cook, with 15 rebounds, led the action under the boards for the losers.

of 1:58.2 in the 200-yard freestyle. The Wayne 400-yard freestyle relay team of Draper, Jim Shores, Fremont; Doug Kerkow, Omaha, and Bob Meredith, Chicago, swam a pool record 3:31.7.

Mankato's Jerry DeMers won both diving events with pool record point totals—290.50 in the one-meter and 247.85 in the three-meter. Kevin Polanski of Mankato matched up a new pool standard in the 200 butterfly at 2:17.4.

The other record belonged to Dave Woodward of St. Cloud, 2:29.9 in the 200 breaststroke. Double winners, besides DeMers, were Draper, who won the 500 freestyle in addition to the 200 freestyle; Polanski, the 200 individual medley and 200 butterfly; and Jim Sand of St. Cloud the 50 and 100 freestyle races.

Other event winners: Mankato the 400 individual medley, John Beltrama of Mankato the 1,000-yard freestyle, and Jeff Tweten of Mankato the 200 backstroke.

Wayne swimmers have two meets this week, with Concordia at Seward Wednesday night at 7; with Luther College of Decorah, Ia., Saturday afternoon at Wayne, 2 o'clock.

Area Cage Teams Back into Swing of Things

by Norvin Hansen
 All five area basketball teams are in action Friday night—Stanton at Wayne, Randolph at Allen, Tekamah-lerman at Wakefield, Winside at Osmond and Laurel at Neligh.

Only the Laurel, with four straight victories after a dismal beginning, has a winner mark at this juncture in the season—6-4. Records of the other squads: Allen, 3-4; Winside, 3-4; Wayne, 2-4; Wakefield, 1-6.

Advance estimates on their outcomes Friday night: Laurel will stretch its winning string to five, Allen will dip to 3-5, Winside will bounce back to even, Wayne will fall to 2-5 and Wakefield will drop to 1-7.

Saturday should see Elmwood knocking off host Wayne, Pender clipping visiting Wakefield and Laurel getting by visiting O'Neill St. Mary's. Tuesday's only game should see Winside moving to a 5-4 mark.

Fight fans in the Wayne area will be treated to a fine pro-am boxing card in Norfolk Monday evening. Included on the card are two fighters who took part in the recent smoker in Wayne: Neil Harrison of Norfolk and Garth Power of Creighton. Both fighters won at Wayne.

Main event will pit professionals Dick Pelster of Petersburg against Fred Jimenez of St. Paul, Minn. Also on the card, will be Dick's younger brother, Junior Pelster, against Junior Aldridge of Macy.

The card includes two professional fights, an eight-rounder, a six rounder and five amateur fights. Tickets are selling for $3.50 for ringside, $2.50 for general admission, $1.50 for students 12 and over, $1 for children through 11. Action starts at 8 p.m.

The following story about what it was like to play basketball before the big scorers came along is one of the favorites of Lyle Garvin of Wayne. Lyle Sargent, sports writer for the Omaha World-Herald, related the story in his column Tuesday.

The amusing incident happened back in 1934 when Dixon and Fordyce were squared off against each other in a district tournament at Hartington. Says Garvin: "It was my fourtune, or maybe misfortune, to play with the Dixon Irish who entered the tourney with an 0-14 record, never thinking we could face another team of our equal. Fordyce was also winless."

It so happened that the two well matched teams fought to a 9-9 tie after four quarters of play. One overtime period resulted in a 11-11 tie. Another overtime merely upped the tie to 13-13.

A sudden death overtime also failed to break the tie as both teams failed to score.

Because other games had to be made and the evening was running on, the tourney director and school coaches agreed that each team would shoot five free throws to break the tie. That even failed for two rounds—each team hit two of five both times. Finally, in the third round, Fordyce hit two, Dixon one. Fordyce was named the winner in the 19-18 affair, which Garvin says might well have been one of the longest basketball games ever played in Nebraska.

Fans of that popular girls' sport, volleyball, are reminded of the tourney schedule for 1:30 Saturday afternoon at Winside. The meet will pit teams from Winside, Wakefield, Battle Creek and Rosalie. Tickets are 50 cents each and are good for all games.

Visiting Chadron Offers Cats Their Big Chance

By Dick Manley
 "Wayne State caters are going to surprise some teams this season."

Remarks like this come from various observers who have watched the Wildcats closely and think they have the ability—just need more experience—to make it tough on some Nebraska College-Conference foes.

A good test of this theory is due Friday night on the Rice court when Wayne entertains Chadron. The Eagles, 10-4 for the season, whipped Kearney's ambitious Antelopes, 89-80 in overtime, last Saturday. Kearney, 10-2 over-all, beat Peru Tuesday and Wayne last Thursday. Now the Antelopes are talking about winning their first NCC cage title since the league formed in 1945.

The Wayne-Chadron duel may help to show where NCC power lies. By the record, Chadron looks formidable with a couple of players averaging 21.2 each. Scott Jones and Rick Brown, and another, Dale Eastman, hitting 16.6. The Eagle team average is 82.6.

Wayne's top scorer, Dennis Stefkes, vaulted his pace to 16.5 with a 40-point burst Monday against Southern State at Swearingfield, S. D. That was the highest individual Wildcat score since Dean deBurr's school record 46, in 1966.

John Jermier, former head football coach at Wayne State, has been named to the new coaching staff at the University of Iowa, it was announced Tuesday. Jermier has been a defensive coach at Colorado State University the past two years.

In seven seasons at Wayne, starting in 1962, Jermier football teams had a 36-24 record, one conference title and one co-championship. Jermier was NAIA District coach of the year in 1964-65.

A native of Charles City, Iowa, he graduated from Coe College, coached at Postville, Iowa High School, then returned to Coe as an assistant coach before coming to Wayne. He earned a master's degree from the University of Iowa.

At Wayne he also coached baseball and won three NCC championships, one co-championship.

Iowa's new head coach, Frank Lauterbur, announced Jermier's selection Tuesday along with one other. Jermier's assignment will be coaching defensive ends and tackles.

Upland Hunting To End Sunday

Upland game bird hunters in the Wayne area will have to hang up their scatterguns for another year at sundown on Sunday, Jan. 17, as pheasant and quail seasons end across the state.

Sportsmen have been after this pair of tricky gamesters since Nov. 7, when seasons on both species opened statewide.

Final data on success of this year's hunt will be available six to eight weeks after the seasons close as results come in on a Game Commission survey. Cards will be sent to a five per cent sample of the state's hunters. The data obtained will probably be tabulated during February and should be available in March. Hunters receiving cards should cooperate by filling them out and returning them as soon as possible.

Nebraska's ringneck population was up about five per cent across the state, according to preseason population studies. The studies showed greatest ringneck potential in the general area south of the Platte River.

Data on opening weekend showed even greater improvement over 1969, however. Hunter success on the first two days of the 1970 season was up by 14 per cent over the first days of the 1969 hunt.

Complete statistics on the quail harvest opening weekend are not available, but a greater number of birds was on hand when the season opened, according to preseason-population studies.

BIG RED VIEW FROM THE WOV BOOTH
By RUSS BALDWIN
WOW Sports Editor

Thanks to the big snow in Nebraska, the Big Red in Miami finally received time to enjoy the sunshine and the ocean. Many people feel that when a team goes to a bowl game, especially in Miami, they have a ball.

We admit there are a lot worse places to train, but all is not fun and games. The teams are under a fairly rigid schedule. Not only do they hold daily practice sessions, but they are under constant observation by members of the press for interviews, pictures and general chit chat. They are under the constant scrutiny of the local residents and visitors who hang around just to have a look at the players. They have curfews at night, banquets and planned events in the day. Also, there is the constant mental pressure building up to the game itself.

Once the game is over they can relax. In the Huskers' case they still had a scheduled banquet to attend Saturday night, and were to fly out Sunday for Lincoln. However, thanks to the storm, they had an extra two days, following the awards banquet, to enjoy the sun and ocean without all of these other pressures and influences mentioned.

All season long, we had been saying that the Huskers were a team of which to be proud and that Husker fans certainly should be proud for the way they support their team. Now we say to the Husker coaching staff, the team and those thousands of fans — "Congratulations." They all have every right to be proud for the effort put forth this past season. Once again, the theory that nice guys finish last has been proven wrong.

This is our final column for this season. We hope you have enjoyed reading it as much as we have enjoyed preparing it. Until next year, thank you, happy new year and "Go Big Red."

Health Tips

Here is a health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association:

Do not be a victim of food poisoning. Holidays in Nebraska mean lots of good food, but leftover turkey and dressing, meats and creamy desserts can be prime sources of food poisoning if not handled properly.

Protect your leftovers from bacterial contamination by making sure food is not left standing in the open air any longer than necessary. Wrap it and place it in the refrigerator as soon as it is off the table. This is especially true of desserts with cream (fillings or toppings). These foods should also be kept refrigerated prior to serving. If you are not sure about leftover food, do not take a chance.

The symptoms and severity of food poisoning vary, but nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and diarrhea are among the very earliest symptoms which may appear from two to forty-eight hours after contaminated food is eaten.

If you should develop these symptoms, call your doctor.

Trophy List To Expand

Nebraska's list of hunters bagging outstanding big-game trophies should take on a number of new names soon as bucks bagged during the 1970 firearm-deer season become eligible for measurement by Game Commission scorers at several locations across the state.

Trophy racks taken last fall may be measured for inclusion in the State Trophy (Ration Record) Book with the expiration of a 60-day waiting period that allows for drying and shrinkage of the rack and cartilage in the skull.

The waiting period also makes all antelope bagged during the 1970 firearm and archery seasons eligible, as well as deer taken by bowmen during the early part of their season. Deer and antelope bagged during previous seasons may also be included.

Official scorers are on hand at Game and Parks Commission district offices in Lincoln, North Platte, Alliance, Bassett and Norfolk. There is no charge for the measurement or inclusion in the state record book, but if the head meets the minimum standard and if the hunter wants his trophy included in the national records of the Boone and Crockett Club, he must pay the club's $10 entry fee.

The scoring system used for the Nebraska record book is identical to that used by the Boone and Crockett Club.

Hunters and shooters pour more than $1.5 billion per year into the nation's economy, according to the National Shooting Sports Foundation.

Auto Tags Go on Sale; Buying Pace Is Steady

Wayne County motorists have not been in any big rush to get their new 1971 auto license tags at the courthouse, according to Leon Meyer, treasurer. He indicated, however, that the buying pace had been steady.

Meyer said his office had sold about 450 sets of tags by Tuesday morning, or about 130 sets a day. The tags went on sale Jan. 7 and the treasurer noted that the flow of customers had been even except for a few lines. As yet there have been no long waiting lines.

Meyer emphasized that residents must bring or mail all copies of their 1971 motor vehicle tax statement, file also pointed out that renewal licenses cannot be issued unless applicants bring or send along the 1970 registration certificate for the vehicle.

By law the stickers are to be put on the lower left-hand corner of the 1969 license plates. Meyer said the new tags can be put on over last year's tags.

Tags for passenger cars cost $15.50; farm trucks one ton or less, $18.50 and $22.50 in excess of one ton; commercial licenses for three ton or less, $18.50; local license for six ton or less is also $18.50.

Residents need their 1971 tax statement, vehicle registration certificate and a check for the amount in order to get new tags. Camper units placed on pickup trucks require a separate application. Tax and license fee of $2.50 is being charged in addition to the tax and license fee on the pickup.

Deadline for picking up the new licenses is the end of February.

Law to Increase Vets' Pensions

Wayne County veterans may be interested in a new law recently signed by President Nixon which increases veteran's pensions.

Public Law 91-568 gives an average increase of 9.5 percent monthly on nonservice-connected pensions for veterans and their dependents and raises the income limitations by $300.

The new law boosts by 10 percent special allowances for pensioners requiring regular aid and care, such as in a nursing home, or permanently housebound because of disabilities.

The new bill is expected to cost $160 million in the next fiscal year and $184 million by the fifth year. Purpose of the law is to prevent pensioners from losing pensions, or having them reduced by last year's increase in Social Security.

Nixon also signed into law a bill providing GI Bill education and home loan benefits to the wives and children of war prisoners.

The national organization grades about 1,000 high school and college publications each year. Also on the staff were Jody Fulton, Jane Sharer, Jon Seymour, Amy Corryell, Janet Wacker, Duane Grosse, Mike Nuss, Bill Fletcher, Cathy Coan, Laurie Wolters, Linda Penn, Jim Johnson, Kathryn Hepburn, Roger Boyce, Ron Ring, Jean Pankratz and Bruce Kling.

Men work at it but finally reach the conclusion it's impossible to be healthy, wealthy, and wise all in one lifetime.

Girl Scouts Set '71 Cookie Sale

Five varieties of cookies will be offered in the 1971 Girl Scout cookie sale slated Feb. 5-15. Plans for the sale were made during a recent meeting of district cookie chairmen in a meeting at Fremont.

Mrs. Charles Denton of Wayne and Mrs. John Dinklage of Pender, both cookie chairmen in Girl Scout Neighborhood 16, which includes Wayne, Thurston and Pender, attended the planning meeting as did Mrs. Robert Carlant of Wayne.

The chairman report that due to rising costs in materials, packaging and labor it has been found necessary to sell the cookies in double quantity packs for $1.10 tax included.

The cookie selling slogan for the year is "Double Everything." Cookies to be sold include fudge, cream, chocolate and vanilla, cream, oat-taste, mints and savannahs.

Twenty-five cents from each sale will remain with the troop; thirty-three and a half cents will be used for developing and maintenance of Crossed Arrows Girl Scout Camp; one cent will be used to assist the girls in scouting and forty-seven and a half cents for cookies.

$400 Needs a Home

Surely you have dreamed of having extra cash to spend on either a luxury or necessity. How about $400? Would that help you out?

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce has a free $400 to give away at the Cash Night drawing tonight (Thursday). The lucky person whose name is drawn can claim the money shortly after 8 p.m. if he or she is in one of the local participating stores.

Dozens of people have won cash prizes in Wayne on Thursday night in past years. Each went home delighted. Luck may look your way tonight.

Children's Clinic Set

Services for Crippled Children will conduct an area clinic in Norfolk Jan. 23 in cooperation with the Elks Association and the staff of the County Division of Public Welfare.

The clinic will be held at the Elks Lodge. Registration is slated to begin at 7:30 a.m. and will close at 10:30 a.m. Doctors plan to start examinations at 8 a.m.

Mrs. Ethel Martelle, Wayne County welfare director, said the clinic is conducted primarily to examine new and active patients who have orthopedic problems and heart conditions.

She noted, however, that a child with any crippling ailment or condition which may lead to crippling may be seen upon referral by the family doctor.

Nearly 10,000 full-blooded aborigines still live in Western Australia, more than half in the tropic north, where they labor as iron miners, irrigation workers and cowboys.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786

Weep with Those Who Weep

Parents raise their boys to manhood and then turn them over for Uncle Sam to use in the military service.

Americans acquainted with history need no convincing that our great country needs a military system. A country not willing to defend itself is not likely to last very long.

The big question today is whether or not America is defending itself by being in Viet Nam. If we are justified in being there, then there should have been a declaration of war and strategy planned for a victory. There has been no declaration of war in 10 years and no victory; however, more than 44,000 sons are dead.

To realize the horror of it all, imagine you personally had the job of killing 44,000 kids in their prime of life. Killing them one at a time and working eight hours a day, seven days a week, you would have to kill one a minute throughout a period of more than three months.

Killing 480 youths each day, you would slay 3,360 a week or 13,440 a month for three months and then have 800 more waiting for slaughter. Then of course you would have the job of informing their parents.

We are not, of course, murderers and would not personally kill more than 44,000 young men, but are we willing to be part of a group offering that youthful blood as a sacrifice?

Has the blood of those young men saved Viet Nam from Communism? Has America been saved from Communism by those 44,000 dying? Just what has their deaths accomplished?

Our nation, previously having a morality that condemned such action as that in Rome at one time when Christians were thrown to hungry lions, has changed a lot. We don't throw anyone into a lion's den but we do compel young men to die in Viet Nam without allowing them to have a victory.

Is your sleep or conscience bothered at all by the nighttime tears of parents who will never hear their son come home again? Or is there even time in your life to be bothered weeping with those who weep?

Attention is being drawn to physical pollution at a time when the pollution of our morality is even worse. —MMW.

Your Help Is Needed

Putting a newspaper together, like numerous other jobs, requires considerable team work.

The staff constantly attempts to make the Wayne Herald a newspaper that is not only easy to read, but also a paper that contains news of interest from every surrounding community.

Each of us, regardless of where we live, is usually more interested in what is going on right in our own hometown than elsewhere. Most of us get national and international news from the daily papers, radio and television, but we depend upon the local paper for local and area items of interest.

The Wayne Herald has correspondents in area communities who gather the local news but need your help.

You can imagine the task of gathering the news in your area. Imagine you are the correspondent for a newspaper. Would it be easier for everyone to call you when they had news, or would it be easier for you to call everyone? It is obvious that it makes the correspondent's job easier to have people call her when they have an item for the paper.

Most of us are aware that going across the street for a cup of coffee or even driving to a nearby town is no longer "news" as it once was. However, there are activities in every populated area that are of interest to many, and the information, if telephoned to the local news correspondent, would make a good news item.

The Wayne Herald's correspondents are looking forward to a good year in reporting the news from your area. Their job depends highly upon whether or not you provide them with items of interest.

One more thing. When you have called the correspondent about an item and it doesn't get into print for one reason or another, please contact The Herald in Wayne rather than the correspondent. We will be glad to visit with you about the matter. —MMW.

Out of Old

Nebraska

The Blizzard of 1888

On January 12, 1888, Nebraska was hit with what old-timers will tell you was the worst storm in the memory of man in this state. The territorial pioneers looked back on the winter of 1885-87, which began with a life-taking storm on December 1, as the most terrible they had spent in Nebraska. Likewise, the Easter storm of 1873 was talked about for years. The Blizzard of 1888, however, which covered the entire Plains area, seems to have been worse than either of these. Numerous accounts of severe winter storms are to be found in the literature of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

At least, the Blizzard of 1888 is the most celebrated snowstorm ever endured in Nebraska. Hundreds of reminiscences have been written about it. An organization known as the Blizzard Club, composed of men and women some of whom went through the storm, meets each year on January 12 to commemorate the event.

Although conditions differed somewhat in various parts of the state, most accounts agree that the early hours of the event of January 12 were unseasonably warm. Cattle were out in the fields. School children in some areas played outside during the noon recess. In some cases, men were reported to have worked out-of-doors in their shirt sleeves.

Then, the wind suddenly changed to the north, driving before it a great mass of thick, blinding snow. Men and animals allike were trapped in a freezing, white wasteland. The thermometer plummeted to 34 degrees below zero.

The storm lasted from 12 to 18 hours over most of the area, and was followed by minor local storms. The state was two weeks digging itself out. When the newspapers finally were able to assemble the details from isolated farms and ranches, it was evident that the loss of life and property sustained in the great blizzard was the greatest ever known in the West. Estimates as to the number who died in Nebraska ran as high as 100. In Dakota Territory, 109 lives were lost.

A particularly harrowing aspect of the storm was the fact that it caught so many school children away from home in tiny one-room school houses, with no food and little fuel. The heroism displayed by the teachers, school teachers, and their older pupils, in waiting for the younger children will always have a place in the annals of Nebraska.

Of all these the one who probably gained the most fame was Minnie Freeman of Mira Valley, Valley County. When the storm broke there were 13 children in her school. She led them together, single file, with herself at the head of the line, and ably assisted by the older pupils managed to get them to the nearest farmhouse. A popular song of the day, "Thirteen Were Saved," or "Nebraska's Fearless Maid," was written in commemoration of her achievement. A State Historical marker was recently erected in Valley County to commemorate this event.

Lots Royce, teaching near Plainview, attempted to get to a farm home with three small children. The children perished and she lost her limbs below the knees. Emma Shattuck, a teacher in Holt County, found refuge in a hay stack, where she remained from Thursday night until Sunday. She was so badly frozen that both limbs had to be amputated, and she later passed away. A relief fund was subscribed for these and other sufferers — both teachers and pupils.

1971 Legislature Sets Sail With Hasebrock At Helm

LINCOLN — With West Point Sen. William Hasebrock at the helm as speaker, the 1971 Legislature has set sail.

The first week was given over almost entirely to organizational matters and the inaugural ceremonies for Gov. J. J. Exon.

The tide of bills which will carry the legislators along on their 90-day journey did begin. There were 91 introduced last Wednesday, the first day any legislation was accepted in the hopper.

That was the same day Norbert T. Tiemann ended a candidate's governorship which ended sooner than he wanted it to. "Quite frankly," Tiemann said, "I hadn't intended to make a farewell address for another four years. Apparently I failed to make that point clear."

There were some senators who thought they picked up hints in that address that Tiemann had left the door open — at least a crack — for a political future. If they got that idea, the outgoing governor said, they were wrong.

Referring to the beating by nearly 50,000 votes Exon administered last fall, Tiemann said: "I don't believe I have any future in Nebraska politics."

The next day, Thursday, was Exon's. After his inauguration and speech to the Legislature in the afternoon, there was a public reception in his new offices, a champagne reception sponsored by the Democratic Party and the inaugural ball.

Friday was a working day for the new governor and the team of administrators he brought with him to the Statehouse.

The lawmakers also returned to their main activity.

Earlier in the week they had surprised Hasebrock by selecting him speaker. Hasebrock admitted Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton was the leading candidate in the four-man race for the Legislature's top job.

Burbach did hold the edge after the first ballot. He had 17 votes to Hasebrock's 15, while Sen. Herbert J. Pais of Gottenburg had nine and Sen. Harold D. Simpson of Lincoln had seven.

But Burbach didn't have a majority and a showdown between the two leaders was held. This time, Hasebrock, a 10-year veteran in the unicameral, was elected, 25-23.

There was another close race. Sen. Richard E. Proud of Omaha stood off a challenge by Scottbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter to win the chairmanship of the committee on committees, 26-22.

With that post goes a seat on the powerful executive board, Omaha, for the first time ever, wound up with two members — that of board. Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney was named the at-large member. Both Proud and Mahoney, however, said this didn't have any significance in terms of a metropolitan "take-over" of what historically has been a rural-oriented body.

Proud said his victory over Carpenter probably stemmed from a reluctance on the part of some senators to give the Scottbluff lawmaker additional "powers."

Terry Carpenter is the dominant figure during debates on this floor — already, Proud said.

The chairmanship of the executive board went to Sen. William F. Swanson of Lincoln, who was unopposed. Sen. Leslie Stull of Alliance was named vice-chairman. He won on one ballot over Sens. Ramey C. Whitney of Chappell and Don Elrod of Grand Island.

The executive board is the administrative arm of the Legislature and rule changes adopted last week gives the board members the added duty of serving as the reference committee. That means they decide which of the standing committees should hold hearings on proposed legislation.

The standing committee membership assignments were made the first day by Proud's committee on committees.

Burbach, who had lost the speaker's race earlier, wound up without a chairmanship. He had served five terms as chairman of the revenue committee, but Sen. Rudolf Kohes of Ord started campaigning for that post when Burbach announced he was available for election as speaker. Kohes was awarded the chairmanship.

Another five-term chairman was re-installed for a sixth. Sen. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings will head the budget committee again.

He and Carpenter were the only "hold-over" chairmen. Carpenter was named to head the government and military affairs committee.

David City Sen. Loran Schmit was chosen to succeed Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora as chairman of the agriculture committee.

The education chairmanship went to Elrod and Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha was picked to lead the banking committee.

Sen. Roland A. Luedtke of Lincoln took over as judiciary committee chairman and Omaha Sen. Harold T. Moylan was named to head the labor committee.

The urban affairs committee chairman is Lincoln's Simpson and C. W. Holmquist of Oakland is head of the public works committee.

One new committee was created for this session. Under the chairmanship of 20-year veteran George Syas of Omaha, it will handle bills dealing with constitutional amendments.

Absenteeism during the nine-month 1969 session was often criticized but there were no complaints about the turnout for the opening day of the 1971 meeting — despite subzero temperatures and leftover snowdrifts from the previous weekend's blizzard.

All but one of the 49 legislators was in his seat when the gavel fell to launch the 82nd session. Mrs. Ellen Craft was unable to get to Lincoln from North Platte — but everyone else was there.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Wayne County Chapter of the National Foundation - March of Dimes I want to thank both The Wayne Herald and Radio KTCI and your staffs for the help and interest in promoting the work of the March of Dimes, not only nationally, but on the county level.

Since its foundation the March of Dimes has found the cure for polio, its prime target. But in doing so it opened the doors to a far greater cause of suffering in young people, birth defects.

With its efforts now concentrated on finding the causes and cures of birth defects, as well as helping those already afflicted, we are all hoping to see the day when we do not have to read about the 250,000 births with defects and the nearly 200,000 deaths from same.

There are over 100 Birth Defect Centers in the United States right now, with one located in Omaha. These centers are only possible through direct gifts of the people and the dedication of the medical personnel that give of their time to staff the center.

Did you know that from a $2 gift to the March of Dimes that 50¢ goes directly to the Research Foundation to continue its work in finding the causes of birth defects. And that 75¢ goes to support the birth defect centers across the United States. And that 75¢ STAYS IN WAYNE COUNTY.

The local chapter can help families right here with medical and financial help for children with birth defects.

The college group helping clean up after Halloween and volunteering to have a benefit basketball game with the Jaycees. The adults who have volunteered to help from a county level right down to the rural townships.

I am sure that every resident in Wayne County will help in his own special way. We ask that when the "Pass The Envelope" arrives at your home or farm that you follow the instructions. Please make your contribution, sign your name and pass the envelope on (in town to your neighbor — in the country to the next place on the list). When the envelope arrives back to the first name on the list, just put it in the mail or return it to any bank in the county. We would like to complete our annual drive from Jan. 14th to Jan. 31st.

Again, our thanks to the news media for its fine support of what I feel is one of the greatest organizations in our country helping young people.

Royden Wiltse, Director Wayne County March of Dimes Wayne, Nebraska

Dear Editor:

When are teachers supposed to teach? The following is in reference to a school in the immediate area. It was called to my attention that during the next five weeks there are athletic events scheduled on 20 of 25 school days — including four such events scheduled during the week of semester tests.

How do administrators justify this type of rationalization? To add to the damage, school is scheduled to be dismissed early in a number of cases to accommodate these athletic events.

As a concerned citizen, I ask you, when are students supposed to study and when are teachers supposed to teach? Are the academics no longer important in the education of our children? Are schools supposed to be set up as entertainment centers, for it seems that the academics no longer receive priority. After all, our taxes are going for teachers' salaries and I have found, through my conversations with many teachers, that they want to teach and are fed up with unfinished assignments and interrupted or cancelled classes.

Please let it be understood that I am not against sports, for I fully realize the importance of an athletic program as part of our educational system. My only complaint is that it has gone overboard and is jeopardizing the other very important facets of education. Administrators, check your schedules. Have you gone overboard, too?

IRS Q. & A. —

Q) My daughter was honored as the best student in her graduating class and was given a $100 savings bond. Is this taxable?

A) If she won the bond for her overall educational record, then it probably is not taxable. Prizes are taxable if the winner had to perform a specific act such as writing an essay or do a project.

The general rule is that prizes given in recognition of past accomplishments in educational fields are not taxable if the recipient is selected without action on his part and is not expected to render future services as a condition of receiving the award. The same rule applies for prizes in religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, literary or civic fields.

Men Tell Club Of Devil's Nest Building, Work

Representatives of Golden Valley Land Corporation located in Phoenix, explained the development of Devil's Nest to Wayne Kiwanis Club members following a noon luncheon Monday in the Woman's Club Room.

Dennis Cox, Mike McKay and Keith Brock, told the club about some of the developments scheduled for Devil's Nest this year and over the next five-year period.

The trio said approximately 1,900 acres of land make up the area presently being planned at Devil's Nest. It will include recreational facilities for all family members for use throughout the year.

Cox noted that the ski slope, now a half mile, will be lengthened to a mile and feature a snow-making machine. There will also be a chair-lift to return skiers to the top of the slope, he said.

An information center has already been constructed. Cox pointed out, and he said the building will later be sold as a home when the information center is moved into permanent quarters later this year.

Kiwanians were told that the company developing the recreational area plans to plant 110,000 trees in a beautification project directed by Mel Steen, former head of the Nebraska Game Commission.

Recreational programs planned for Devil's Nest include golf, fishing, hiking, horseback riding, swimming, boating and skiing.

Cox noted that only recently plans have been made to include a grass airstrip near the area. He indicated that an all-weather hardtop runway would likely be developed in the future.

The speakers said there are three million people living within 300 miles of Devil's Nest. They expect most of the lots and building sites to be purchased by people living within that 300 mile radius.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Rupert Asterford threw a load of scrub into the center seat of the car, wedged his way under the steering wheel and said, "Why does Maria have this doggone seat so close?" Never considering his own eight-inch expansion since high school, he gave himself new breathing space, stepped on the starter, backed out of the garage and said, "What the devil does she want now?"

There stood Maria — no coat, only 12 above, waving her arms to stop the car.

"Rup, where do you think you're going dressed like that?"

"To meet the Internal Revenue guy at the lawyer's office."

"Internal Revenue — like that? Get in here and change those clothes. You look like a millionaire! We filed for a refund. Ever see the Salvation Army Jingle Christmas bells in full dress uniform? Aren't those the $100 boots that the peasant hunter sent you? And I see you borrowed the boy's wide white tie and Christmas shirt. You change, NOW."

One hour later Rup, dressed in coveralls, self-consciously shook hands with Mr. Johnson from Washington. Even a dry gulching Baptist preacher in East Texas occasionally has a twinkle in his eye but not Mr. Johnson of the IRS.

Except for nervous coughing, the paper shuffling took some 10 silent minutes.

"Mr. Asterford, my superiors in Washington question your returns. Last year you had a taxable net profit of $10,317.16 on $161,432.37 handled. This year you claim you lost $16,249.48."

"Sir, you farmed on a larger scale, fed more cattle, farrowed and finished more pigs. Washington says to closely check farmers. So I'm putting you on notice that any infraction could become a nationwide exemplary case."

"Well, sir..." stammered Rup. "Mr. Asterford, you farm 640 acres?"

"Yes, sir, and lease 1,200 odd of scrub grassland from my daddy-in-law."

Mr. Johnson wrote furiously. The combination of reflection and changing eyesight prevented Rup from reading. But how could anyone write a half page on one short spoken sentence?

"Mr. Asterford, we know that corn prices have shot well above the Export Value, upsetting the Balance of Trade. Our program computer shows all-time record yields. Did you forget to report that crop?"

"No, sir, that 101 bushel June USDA Crop Reporting statistic turned out to be a 22 bushel flop."

"Mr. Asterford, there was no blight this far west."

"True, sir." The second Rup said sir he hated himself —

"True, just a 12-month drought. Why, I haul livestock water 12 miles a day. Ever buy city water by the tankload? Ever see naked corn ears?"

More scribbling. Rup by now had lost his defensive timidity. This putty-headed, soft-palmed dude liked him.

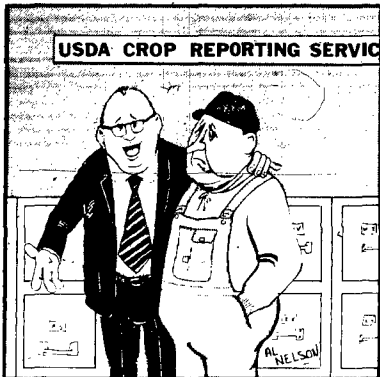

"Another thing, Mac, I farrowed out some 122 sows, bought another thousand feeder pigs at $29 a head. Had to PAY $1.35 for corn just to feed out so I could sell for $16.75. That before commission. Ever pay two truck bills? Nine per cent interest? Buy feed, pay that protein bill? Have scours and a vet bill? Have tail biting, Rhinitis, overdrawn accounts with the banker pinched for money? Yeah, I lost. I lost plenty."

More scribbling.

"Mr. Asterford, I see you sold cattle at $26.50. The 10-year average is dollars less — don't tell me that is not profitable."

"Old Buddy, listen, I bought some $42 Angus calves at Gordon last fall. Paid trucking of 65¢, vet shots almost two bucks a head. Jones, the banker, tried to get a passport to heaven by cutting my interest to 8 3/4 per cent. Right off I lost three head in one storm, another on alfalfa blight — that alone is like your wife buying a fur coat! Winter feed bill figured $33 a head."

"By spring, I had a 36¢ short yearling. Like a fool, I packed water, spent $28 a head for that summer pasture to own 32¢ 750-pounders. To feed America, I fed those fancy cattle. After 60 days, I owned 28¢, 2-way short feds. Another 72 days of feeding, sold to a packer that was getting thousands of Grade Yield cattle from feedlots hundreds of miles away. Demand—Mac, was zuch. One thousand two hundred pound steers slipped from $28.50 to $26.25 in one week. Great business. Auto and railroad unions turning down record increases and I take a $16 licking off of first costs."

"But someone else would put out erroneous reports if we didn't do it!"

Hours later, Mr. Johnson, in his motel room, wrote in his records:

"Mr. Asterford undoubtedly is hiding something. His manner was non-professional. Mr. Asterford rivals Hemingway in imagination, relating a fantastic story of dropping prices. I have checked closely in the U.S. Department of Labor Bulletin, No. 1632, covering the Index and Average prices. This is compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Meat prices systematically advanced in all cities. I recommend continuance..."

Meanwhile, Rup had settled down. As he cut off the city water-sput, he thought — "Well, at least I didn't have to change clothes to chore."

Hawaii has imported about everything including such familiar symbols as the pineapple from the Caribbean, the ukelele from Portugal, and the grass skirt from Samoa, the National Geographic Society points out in its book "Hawaii."

Synthetic foods, such as spun soybean products, will get an airing at the luncheon that winds up the program. Mrs. Charlotte Young of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Iowa State University, will speak on "Tomorrow's Protein."

"We feel that we have an exceptionally timely and interesting program, and all our speakers are recognized authorities in their subjects," Lancaster said.
