Many of the estimated 260 people attending the annual Wayne Chamber of Commerce dinner in the city auditorium Monday night left the affair declaring: "Best yet." "Wasn't that good," "Tremendous program," "Butler is a better comedian than many on TV" and "That high school stage band would be hard to beat."

Norbert Brugger was honored with the surprise award during the dinner, first of its kind to be made by the Chamber, for his outstanding record of work at the municipal power plant during the last 44 years.

Alan Cramer, master of ceremonies for the city, presented a plaque to Brugger, pointing out that Brugger has been superintendent of the plant since June of 1938 and that a new addition to the plant bearing Brugger's name was dedicated in late 1967. Brugger's record of service in the Wayne volunteer fire department and in the community were also noted.

A to Z Offered Inside This Issue

What's awaiting readers of The Wayne Herald this issue? Literally, everything from A to Z. Some samples: —A discussion of the good and bad aspects of inviting industry to a community, as many people know, isn't all roses. Turn to Harold Ingalls' column on the Farm Page to learn why.

—Information on the much discussed microwave ovens. Are they safe? Myrtle Anderson, area home economist at the Northeast Station near Concord, attempts to answer that question in her column on the society page.

In addition to the discussion of establishment of alfalfa and grasses, Dr. Moline covered recommended varieties of alfalfa and grasses for northeast Nebraska. A presentation of herbicides that can be used in alfalfa establishment was included in the meeting.

The last in the series of meetings will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the Northeast Station east of Concord.

NORTHEAST EXTENSION Notes

Microwave Ovens, How Safe?

Are microwave ovens for the home safe? That question has been asked by homemakers considering the installation of such appliances in their homes. A famous radiation scientist James A. Van Allen says getting injured by a microwave oven is as likely as getting skin tan from moonlight. Microwave energy is a non-ionizing radiant energy. These energies include electrical currents, radio waves, infra-red light, visible light and microwaves. Low-level exposure to these energies is not harmful to humans. The extremely high levels of exposure to microwaves needed to produce the quick heating effect—can be harmful by producing a burn as from any other source of heat. Such levels occur in the microwave oven. However with the safety construction standards maintained for such ovens today, the safety interlocks shut off that energy whenever doors are opened. Special door construction limits escaping energy to a low level which is not harmful. Microwave ovens produced by reliable manufacturers are safe for use in the home but like any other electrical appliance, the operator must follow manual directions and observe safety practices.

Young Republicans Will Meet Tuesday

The Dixon County Young Republicans will hold their first meeting of 1971 next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Fire Hall in Dixon, according to Dwight Gotch, club chairman.

The newly organized club, which began with about 40 members last fall, will undertake a membership drive to increase its membership and to create active involvement throughout the county, according to Gotch. Discussion about the drive and the formation of a countywide committee is planned for the business meeting. Among other items of business will be discussion of the by-laws, regular meeting times, the upcoming state convention in Lincoln in March and general club business.

Members of the executive board, which includes Gotch, Vice-Chairman Steve VonMinden of Martinsburg, Ellis Wilbur of Dixon and John Kingsbury of Ponca, have stated they hope members will take an interest in government issues.

Kingsbury said, "We want to involve ourselves with all major issues, but primarily those that affect us and the people of this area."

Regular meetings of the club Readers Reach Peak But Future in Doubt For NEBRASKALAND

NEBRASKALAND, the Game and Parks Commission's nationally circulated magazine, has reached an all-time high of 80,265 copies per month with the printing of the February issue, according to Editor Dick Schaffer.

Subscriptions of the magazine have skyrocketed from 5,430 in 1958 when it was strictly a hunting and fishing publication to the present 80,265 print order after tourism and general interest material were added.

NEBRASKALAND's continued growth, however, is in doubt. Unless ample tourism promotion funds are appropriated for the 1971-72 fiscal year to cover the travel portion of the magazine, NEBRASKALAND will revert to a small book devoted exclusively to fishing and hunting.

Miss 'Rose Garden' Signed for Ak Rodeo

John D. Dlesing, chairman of Ak-Sar-Ben's Rodeo and Livestock Show Committee, announced that Lynn Anderson has been signed to headline the 1971 Ak-Sar-Ben World Championship Rodeo.

Miss Anderson, whose record "Rose Garden" ranks high nationally, will appear at all 10 performances of the rodeo scheduled Sept. 24-Oct. 2.

The rodeo is part of the $70 entertainment bargain offered to 1971 Ak-Sar-Ben members. For $12 members receive reduced-price tickets to the rodeo, races and Ice Show plus free tickets to three member shows and two shows for members and their families.

are scheduled for the last Tuesday in January, March, August and October. The club is promoting its membership drive in an effort to become one of the state's larger clubs before the convention.

An informal coffee hour and discussion is planned following the regular business meeting Tuesday night. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Postal Hours Altered, Reminds Postmaster

Wayne area residents are reminded again this week of the new closing hours at the Wayne post office.

Postmaster Don Wightman said that starting next Monday the closing hour of the window at the post office will be 4:30 rather than 5 on Monday through Friday afternoons. The window will be open as usual from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday until further notice.

Wightman urges all area people to keep the new hours in mind and attempt to make their purchases and mail their letters before it closes.

Fee for registering motorboats 40 feet long or more in Nebraska is $25.

Pupils Rate Dress Code As 'Great'

By Merlin Wright

A new dress code recently adopted by the Wayne-Carroll school board is "great" according to the opinions of 10 Wayne High students selected at random.

The 10 pupils, whose opinions on the new code are similar to those of the majority of the student body, all spoke in favor of the new code, which permits any "acceptable" dress or grooming at Wayne High as long as it does not detract from the school's educational purposes, cause unnatural disturbances or endanger health and safety.

Following a one-month trial period of the code, the school board officially adopted the policy in a meeting early this month.

Loren Park, principal of the Middle School, was one of those recommending adoption of the code. He said that in his conversations with faculty members, parents and students after the trial period that "almost all agree that no change has been noticed in attitude toward school or learning."

Wayne High Principal Deryl Lawrence said, "I would estimate that from three to five per cent of both students and faculty do not like the revised code, and 95 to 97 per cent favor its continuance."

Recommending the revised code be adopted as district policy, he said it "seemed to be the consensus of the staff that the general behavior of students had not been affected by the change in the dress and grooming code."

Five boys and five girls were picked at random and asked their opinions regarding the new policy. Their answers:

—Teressa Allen, 17, a junior, was asked if she noted any difference in the way teachers were dressing. She said, "Some of the men teachers are wearing a sweater and tie now rather than a dress suit." She explained, "I think girls feel more like girls when they are dressed up, and are more appealing."

—Sharon Cunningham, 16, a sophomore, was asked how she felt about being able to dress as she saw fit. "Good," Sharon replied, "A high school student should know what to wear." She pointed out that she thinks a well-dressed student is far more appealing.

—Donna Johnson, 16, a sophomore, was asked how the girls are wearing slacks now. When you're dressed up you're not as comfortable as when you wear slacks.

—Dan Marr, 14, a freshman, said the code is good: "It should be continued. When summer comes I imagine boys may even come to school in cut-offs. Wearing informal clothes makes it easier to study." Asked if a well-groomed person appeals to him more readily than one who is not, John said, "A well-groomed person is more appealing. Students do not come to school sloppily dressed. Most all are well-groomed and do not abuse the code."

—John Meyer, 16, a junior, said the code is good: "It should be continued. When summer comes I imagine boys may even come to school in cut-offs. Wearing informal clothes makes it easier to study." Asked if a well-groomed person appeals to him more readily than one who is not, John said, "A well-groomed person is more appealing. Students do not come to school sloppily dressed. Most all are well-groomed and do not abuse the code."

—Cindy Nelson, 17, a senior, said she likes the code. "It is easier to keep warm now. A person can wear slacks if you walk to school and not have to change." Asked if she thought people are influenced by what type of clothing they wear, Cindy said, "I think one acts differently when dressed up."

—Randy Nelson, 15, a sophomore, spoke out concerning clothes and whether or not they affect one's attitude. His comments: "Clothing doesn't make any difference. Your attitude doesn't change just because of what you wear." As to whether manners are more important than dress, Randy noted, "You can wear sloppy clothes, but if your manners are decent you can still respect other people."

—Terry Pfeiffer, 15, a sophomore, "I think the code is really good. Nobody is getting mistreated this way. Nobody is any better than anyone else and nobody is made to wear a certain thing." How does Terry feel about knowing he can dress as he sees fit? He said, "You're not being pushed. You don't have to go to school looking like you're ready for church."

—Kit Russell, 17, a junior, said of the new code, "It's far out. Most of the students thought this would be the last school to abolish the dress code in our area. The students are really glad to have the chance to have the old code abolished." He noted that some of the women teachers are wearing pant-suits. However, he said, "I haven't seen any of the men teachers change." Asked if he thought Principal Lawrence had made a correct evaluation in noting that what grows inside one's head is more important than what grows on the outside, Kit said, "Yes, learning is more important than long hair."

—Marilyn Sievers, 14, a freshman, said she believes the way a person dresses does affect his attitude, "because girls act more lady-like when dressed in skirts and sweaters than they do when dressed in slacks." Are manners more important than dress? Marilyn replied, "I'd say manners. One's appearance doesn't make that much difference. Manners are very important."

As a final question, the girls were asked, "What would a girl be wearing which would cause you to comment on her clothes?" Their answer: tight blue jeans and a sloppy sweat shirt. The girls noted also that they disliked the "muscle shirts" a few of the boys chose to wear on occasion, and long hair on a boy if it was shaggy.

Teressa Allen: "Girls feel more like girls."

Sharon Cunningham: "Well dressed... more appealing."

Donna Johnson: "Girls are wearing slacks now."

Dan Marr: "It's O.K."

Cindy Nelson: "It is easier to keep warm."

Randy Nelson: "Some teachers are wearing pant-dresses."

Terry Pfeiffer: "It's really great."

Kit Russell: "Students are really glad."

Marilyn Sievers: "Manners are very important."

4-H Talent Search Is Now Underway

A nation-wide talent search is on for creative 4-H'ers who can tell their 4-H story in one brief poster.

The winner of the contest will receive a national award and his entry will be displayed on posters, calendars, leaflets and exhibits shown from coast to coast.

The 1971 Four-H Poster Contest begins at county and state levels. Winners of these contests will see their artwork advance to national competition to be judged by the delegates to the 1971 National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. All entries selected for top honors and awards become the property of the Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The only limitation is size—9 x 12 inches up to 16 x 24 inches. Either horizontal or vertical posters can be entered, although horizontals are more easily adapted to TV.

One time restriction must be noted by every 4-H poster artist: all posters must be into the state, 4-H office by March 10.

The name, address and age of the entrant must be written on the back of each poster, which should be mailed flat (not folded or rolled) to Loule Rudman, State 4-H Office, 114 Ag. Hall, East Campus, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska 68503.

Decisions Still Falling Cats' Way

By Norvin Hansen

A 36-11 mat win over host Randolph Monday night gave the Winside High wrestlers a healthy 6-0 dual record to take into Wednesday night's home stand against West Point High.

If the Wildcats managed to get by West Point—and the chances looked good for that to happen considering the manner they have been handling all comers this season—they will go into their own invitational tournament next Tuesday as strong favorites to successfully defend the crown they copped in 1969.

Teams trying to take that title from them will be Leigh, Howells, Nobrara, Hartington High, Columbus Lakeview and Randolph. Randolph was simply outclassed in Monday night's action as the Wildcats wrestled to victories in all but three weight classes.

Stretching out their fine season marks in the win over the Cardinals, novices this year in wrestling, were Dave Jaeger in the 105-pound class and heavy-weight Dennis Wade. Both advanced to 11-1 for the season.

Wade, although weighing slightly less than 200 pounds, proved he can hold his own against heavier opponents despite the loss to the 240-pounder in the Logan View tourney just before Christmas. He earned a 4-0 decision against Randolph's Ted Hueting, who outweighed him by about 60 pounds, in Monday's finale.

Young Jaeger, nearly 100 pounds lighter than Wade, gained a pin in 4:39 over Cardinal Greg Rudebusch to stay undefeated except for his sole loss this season, also coming in the Logan View tourney.

DEAN KRUEGER is in complete command on his way to pinning Greg Gubbels during Winside's win over Randolph Monday night.

Other Wildcats gaining pins: Doug Anderson at 98 pounds in the opener, Dean Krueger at 155 pounds, and Larry Cleveland at 185 pounds.

Decisions in their foes were Steve Sueli, Roger Anderson (brother of Doug), and Dale Miller and Terry Jaeger.

Defeated: Doug Lage and Brain Hoffman by decisions and Jamie Gunter by a pin.

Tuesday's invitational tournament at Winside, the third annual, will get underway at 1 p.m.

CONFERENCE TIME: Winside's Harold Simpson gives final instructions to Doug Lage during the Winside-Randolph meet Monday night.

Finals will begin at 6:30. Admission for the full meet will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for high school students. A single session admission, either afternoon action or the finals, will cost $1 and 50 cents.

Coach Worse for Wear

The head basketball coach of the Wayne High Blue Devils, Don Johnson, is on crutches as the result of an ankle injury he suffered last week while playing city recreation basketball.

Johnson injured a small bone and tore the ligaments in his right ankle. His foot is now in a cast and he will have to wear it for five to six weeks.

Johnson Gives Devils 25-25 Tie at O'Neill

It took Wayne High's Dave Johnson almost three periods to do it, but he pinned his O'Neill foe Tuesday night to throw his squad into a 25-25 tie with the strong host club.

Wayne went into the last match trailing 25-20 after Lynn Gunderson won at the 185-pound division for forfeit to move the visitors into a possible tie situation.

The club managed to pick up only two wins in previous action—pins by Darrell Hank at 112 pounds and Rod Sievers at 155 pounds—and a five-point forfeit to Scott Hall at 98 pounds.

The victory kept big Dave's dual mark clean for the season as he continues racking up victories. He's been beaten only in tournament action.

Wayne's fine grappler at 126 pounds, Jim Meyer, suffered a 6-5 defeat against his opponent to break his season of straight dual wins at six. He's undefeated in tournament action.

The local grapplers, now sporting a dual mark of 2-4-1, take on South Sioux City tonight (Thursday) at the city auditorium before preparing for Monday night's home stand against Wakefield.

Results of the O'Neill meet:
98—Scott Hall won by forfeit.
105—Dan Marr lost, 11-0.
112—Darrell Hank won by pin in second period.
119—Blane Rubcek lost by pin.

Sophs Nip Wakefield

Wayne High's sophomores tripped visiting Wakefield Tuesday night, 47-32, behind the 13 points tossed in by Randy Nelson. Also hitting for the winners were Larry Shupe with 10 and Steve Morshorst with nine. Wakefield's Randy Johnson with 12 was high for the losers.

Bruggeman Coaches Hoskins Cagers to Win Over Dixonites

Dan Bruggeman guided his first string seventh and eighth graders to a 36-23 win over Dixon last week.

Danny Marshall with 14 counters and Mike Anderson with 12 were the new coach's main threats in the games. Anderson also made his presence felt under the boards where he stole 10 rebounds.

Leading the scoring for Dixon were Hircbert with 11 and Garvin with nine.

The Hoskins basketballers are a combination of boys from the Hoskins school and the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Parochial School.

Second teamers Mike Lange threw in eight points and Bradley Langenberg contributed four as the Hoskins fifth and sixth graders eked out a 19-13 win over Dixon recently. High scorers for Dixon was Lubberstedt with five and White with four. Lange and Langenberg also led in rebounding, grabbing off five and four respectively.

Florine Top Ace In City League

Jim Florine, shooting at a blistering 24.4 points per game average, led all shooters in the city recreation basketball league going into the second half of league play.

Only one other shooter had broken into the 20-point figure in league action: John Dorrey with a 20.2 clip.

Other top 10 scorers: Lynn Lessmann, 19; Tom Dendinger, 18.4; Ken Dahl, 17; Harlan Freese, 16; Hank Overlin, 16; Ron Dalton, 14.7; Brent Lessmann, 14; John Matson, 13.2.

In action last week, Team V slipped by Team II, 59-55, as Dendinger stuffed in 22 points and Dorrey hit 20 to lead the winners to their victory. Top scorers for the losers were Dahl with 18, Don Kramer with 15 and Dick Hammer with an even dozen.

Also winning were Team over Team III, 75-68, and Team IV over Team IV, 63-46. Team I scorers: Overlin with 22, Lynn Lessmann with 19. Team III scorers: Dalton with 15, Don Koerber with 14, John Rebensdorf with 11. Tops in the other game were Roger Lentz with 16, Dennis Spangler with 15 and Wayne Wessel with 13 for the winners, and Florine with 21 and Brent Lessmann with 15 for the losers.

Laurel girls hold down top spot in the east division of the Neb-raskaland Volleyball Conference as the season reaches the halfway point. The Laurel club has a 4-0 mark.

In second place in the east with a 2-0 mark is Randolph, followed by Newcastle at a 3-1, Winside at 1-1, Allen at 2-2, Emerson at 1-2, Ponea at 0-2 and Homer at 0-5.

Leading in the west end of the conference are Hartington Cedar Catholic and Hartington High, tied with 3-0 records. Third place in the west end is Pierce at 2-0. Others in the west: Coleridge fifth at 1-0, Grafton sixth at 1-2, Wymot seventh at 0-1 and Oxnord and Bloomfield tied at eighth at 0-3.

Rosalie Wins Volleyball Roundup

Rosalie defeated Winside in three sets Saturday afternoon to take home championship trophy from the annual Winside volleyball tournament.

The Rosalie girls downed Winside by 15-11 and 15-6 scores after losing the first set by a close 16-14 margin. Rosalie earlier in the day got by Battle Creek with little trouble, 15-11 and 15-8, to advance into the championship round.

Taking third in the tourney were the girls from Battle Creek, 15-6 and 15-9 winners over Wakefield. Wakefield fell to Winside in the other preliminary game, 15-6 and 15-6.

Top scorers in the tourney for Winside were Nancy Gallop with 10 points and Phyllis Miller with four. Sherry Verplank's 13 points and Ruth Gustafson's eight led the scoring for Wakefield.

Next action for the Winside girls, coached by Jack Webb, will be in March when they compete in three tournaments: at Winside, at Rosalie and Neb-raskaland Volleyball Conference meet at Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Athlete of the Week

Dave Johnson

By Norvin Hansen

Wayne's wrestling squad has been taking its licks in dual competition this season—partly because wrestling foes in this part of the state are getting stronger with each year as they gain savvy and experience, partly because of the demanding road Coach Don Koenig maps out for the team each season.

In fact, the club takes a losing record—2-4-1—into the home stand against South Sioux City tonight (Thursday) at the city auditorium. A losing season is something unusual for the Wayne grappling crew.

That losing season is a reality in spite of a few fine individual performances on the part of members of that squad. And some of the most outstanding performances have been turned in by heavyweight Dave Johnson, the latest Wayne Herald "Athlete of the Week."

Johnson is undefeated in dual action this year. His only defeats have come in the two tournaments Koenig has entered the Devils in this season—the tough Wahoo Invitational and the expanded Blair invitational.

Last Friday night Johnson and teammate Jim Meyer—kept Wayne from being whitewashed at Albion. They turned in pins in their matches as Wayne fell, 34-10.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson of Wayne, registered his pin against his Albion opponent in just two minutes and 38 seconds. Meyer took slightly longer, 2:46.

Johnson is a senior at Wayne High.

talent as a public relations representative for a business firm in Iowa and his popularity as a speaker with an entertaining talk about a changing world.
While keeping his audience submerged in gales of laughter,

Butler pointed out the rapid change that is taking place. He said the U. S. Patent Office in Washington receives 100,000 applications for patents each year and issues about 1,300 such patents a week.
Butler centered his address on the importance of business firms, organizations, towns, cities, counties and the state in building good images. He suggested the local Chamber work hard to move forward with good performance and good communications. He quickly explained, "If you have to argue about your public relations, you haven't any."

Out of a bed of barbed comment, which gave the audience little rest from enthusiastic laughter, Butler said, "Some folks are brave in moving forward by facing only the past with confidence."

Commenting on pride in identifying with a good business image, Butler explained the importance of understanding those with whom a person comes into contact at any time, particularly in the world of business. He concluded by emphasizing the importance of projecting oneself into the other person's way of thinking in order to understand him and provide him a needed service.

Larry King, owner of King's Carpets, will head up the Chamber's board of directors as president during 1971. Bob McLean Sr. is vice president and J. J. Liska is treasurer. Board directors are Phil Griess, Marvin Dunklau, Steve Brasch, Lawrence Shupe and Orvid Owens.
King said three new committees have been added to the Chamber's work program. They will handle items related to tourism, industry and hospitality. Other committees include education, agriculture, retail, liaison with Wayne State College, membership, task force, legislative transportation, special events and accreditation.
Floyd Bracken reminded Chamber members and guests that the city limits are no larger at the edge of town, but are at the edge of a large trade area. He challenged the community to consistently set goals of progress and quoted Bernard Shaw's warning, "Satisfaction is death."
Also on the night's program were the Wayne High stage band with Ron Dalton directing, the outgoing Chamber president Mayor Kent Hall and the Rev.

'Chore Made Easier'
If you itemize your deductions, you may use the Optional Sales Tax Tables to determine the amount deductible for general sales tax, according to Richard Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska.
Vinal said the tables are included in the package mailed to taxpayers. The tables are designed to make it easier to determine the amount of general sales tax to deduct on Schedule A.
However, if you are able to establish that you paid an amount larger than that shown on the tables for your income and family size, you are entitled to deduct the larger amount, he said.
If you purchased an automobile in 1970, you may deduct the sales tax you paid on it in addition to the amount shown on the tables, said Vinal.

Welcome, Fellow Writers

We want to welcome to the writing business members of the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children.

—David Gardner of Wakefield for his taking on work during Honey Sunday as part of his Boy Scout project.

Everybody belonging to the young but growing organization is being encouraged to contribute articles to the small newsletter.

With a little work the newsletter could fill an important role in keeping people in northeast Nebraska more informed about the goings on among those people associated with our mentally retarded citizens.

A Sign of the Times

It's a sign of the times, it seems, for the school boards and teacher groups across the state to become more and more isolated during salary negotiations.

What's happened is hard to describe. Who can say it is for the better or the worse? Maybe it results in firmer agreements in the end.

But one thing that's happened isn't hard to describe. One thing that's happened is that the interactions between the two groups have become much more personal.

It's a sign of the times, true, but we hope it doesn't show its face too greatly in the year's negotiations between the Wayne-Arroll school board and the teachers in the school system.

Life Lines and Passing Signs

Those white lines painted on the outer edge of area highways last year have been accepted with the kind of enthusiasm that caused one driver to say, "That's the best thing the highway department ever did."

Lines on highways are important and the white lines are a big help to drivers in determining the location of the road's edge.

as the state level for a solution if need be.

What's happened is hard to describe. Who can say it is for the better or the worse? Maybe it results in firmer agreements in the end.

Nebraska may have the number one football team, but our great state seems to always lag some when it comes to having good highways and the latest in safety signs.

The non-passing signs would cost money and a lot of it, but we feel the expenditure could be justified with the saving of only one life.

Iowa is one of several states that have passed laws that require yellow lines on the highway.

Women's Liberation

With the current interest in the women's liberation movement, it is interesting to note earlier records: On the first winter evening of January 9, 1856, the frontier dignity of the Nebraska Territorial legislature was ruffled, to say the least.

"Chronotype," re-published in 1885, by the Nebraska State Historical Society ("Transactions and Reports", Volume I), stated: "We watched her closely, and saw that she was perfectly self-possessed—not a nerve seemed to be moved by excitement, and the voice did not tremble."

"As a final compliment, he added, 'A man could not have beat it.' Apparently, Mrs. Bloomer convinced a rather considerable number of the legislators that women should be trusted with the vote in Nebraska territory.

After a long and successful career in New York, Mrs. Bloomer had moved with her husband to Council Bluffs, Iowa.

According to a newspaper account of the event, when the speaker arrived the tiny assembly hall was crowded to overflowing, and, by the gallantry of Gen. Larimer, a passage was made for her to the stand."

Nixon Cops Spotlight from New Governor, Legislature

LINCOLN — The Legislature had to take a back seat last week to the President of the United States.

President Nixon took the spotlight away from the lawmakers Thursday when he visited Lincoln for an appearance at the University of Nebraska.

Nixon directed his remarks to the university audience — only students and faculty members were allowed in the Coliseum — but the state senators were on hand as special guests.

The Nixon appearance Thursday climaxed a rather routine week for the legislators who are hoarding their working days because of the limits imposed by the annual session amendment to the constitution.

The 1971 Legislature is the first to work under these limits. Twelve 30 senators agree, the session will end after 90 working days — that is 90 days in which the senators actually convene on the floor.

Speaker William Hasebroeck of West Point said he is aiming to make certain every day the lawmakers convene is "worth it."

The days are "precious," Hasebroeck said, and he wants to make sure there is enough work on the agenda to justify the "expenditure" of each day.

The compressed time limits also have forced the budget committee to telescope its activities, according to committee Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings.

Marvel's committee conducted "warm up" hearings last week on the budget requests from the attorney general, the secretary of state and the supreme court.

The committee then decided to take a look at the whole fiscal situation before proceeding further with individual agencies.

This is a unique approach to budgeting. The traditional process has been for agencies to make their requests, the governor to review them and make his recommendations, the committee to conduct its hearings and then present its proposals to the full Legislature.

rates were established to provide the necessary revenue.

This time, Gov. J. J. Exon has promised a budget which can be financed with revenue from 1970 tax rates — 2.5 per cent on sales and 13 per cent on income.

The 1971 income rate dips to 10 per cent, but Exon has said it probably will have to climb back to 13 per cent in 1972.

So Legislative Fiscal Analyst Marlin Pfeil has been commissioned by the Marvel committee to determine what revenue would be available under those tax rates.

Marvel has said he is willing to try to cooperate with Exon on meeting the limits imposed by the revenue. It is likely, he has hinted, that the legislators may readjust priorities used by Exon.

The amendment permits the lawmakers to classify personal property and then exempt from taxation any classes it wishes.

The amendment permits the lawmakers to classify personal property and then exempt from taxation any classes it wishes.

Warner, commenting on Exon's inaugural remark that state aid to education should remain at $35 million per year, said a major increase which would have a dramatic effect on local property taxes would be appreciated by the public.

Warner and Burchack of Otofan strongly advocated the use of revenue bonds to keep proposed highway construction on schedule.

Exon, in his inaugural address, had said he would use the bonds for financing only as a last resort.
