Future of Local Hospital Uncertain

Much of the future of the present Wayne Hospital depends upon decisions made by the state fire marshal and whether or not area real estate owners decide to create a hospital district.

Two representatives of the hospital met with Stan Lux, assistant state fire marshal, in Lincoln last week and won a third extension on the time allotted by the state for the hospital to meet the state fire marshal's requirements issued last August.

Orders were first given in August by Don Venter, state fire marshal, to make corrections in the building and its equipment within 90 days or face the possibility of losing its license for Medicare.

Charles Thomas, hospital administrator, told the hospital board later in August that the hospital could even lose its license within 20 days if at least part of the required changes ordered were not met.

At the end of the allotted period, hospital board members were granted a second 90-day extension to allow more time for making the changes.

Thomas and Walter Moller, president of the hospital board, went to Lincoln last week and were granted the third extension of time with conditions attached by the state fire marshal's office.

Moller said Tuesday that the hospital board had been making some of the required changes in the building and equipment.

He said the board is aware of the many changes needed in the building but that they find no logic in spending large sums of money on the present building if a new hospital facility is going to be built.

The state fire marshal's office listened to the board's reasoning and agreed to grant what amounts to an open-ended extension on several major modifications, providing regular reports are made showing continued headway is being made on development of the new hospital district.

"We will make regular reports to the fire marshal as to the progress of creating a new hospital district," Moller said. "This is not a whitewash on our part (the fire marshal's office)," he said.

NEN Cattle Feeders Name Officers

Members of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association elected four directors at the group's annual meeting in Laurel Monday night.

Newly named were Bill Wellenstein for Blount County, Art Ziesler for Dakota County, Leon Bruns for Thurston County, Wm. McQuistan for Wayne County.

Brunns won over Willis Krusemark by a flip of a coin to decide a tie vote.

McQuistan was elected to succeed himself. The others are new to their offices.

The complete board of directors — three from each county — plans to meet in Wakefield on Feb. 8 to select officers from among themselves.

President John Servino of Waterbury reported very favorable response by the packers of the group's 10 cent per head check-off for all cattle marketed.

A manager of a major independent packer emphasized to those attending the annual affair the importance of the planned educational program to combat competition of synthetic meat.

About 150 feeders heard Dr. Walter Woods tell of his and the Northeast Station's research directed toward efficient beef feeding and effective ways to dispose of livestock waste without hardship on meat producers. Woods is a beef nutrition researcher for the University of Nebraska.

Bob Boals of Dakota City reported that reservations are coming in well for the tour of confinement set-ups in Iowa.

The deadline for that bus tour of two confinement centers has been extended to Monday, anyone who would like to go on the tour, slated for next Wednesday, Feb. 3, should send $6 for transportation to Boals as soon as possible. Reservations are necessary in ordering buses for the tour.

WS Chess Meet Stirs Up Interest

The newly formed Wayne State Chess Club played host Saturday to a challenging Plate College club in Wayne's first tournament. It turned out to be an exciting day.

Wayne won the morning match, 6-5, only to see Plate come back to reverse the score in the afternoon, ending the day with an 11-1 tie. Both the morning and afternoon contests were cliff-hangers with the final score in suspense till the last game ended.

Late in the morning, the score tied at 5-5, only the second-table players remained in combat. Bob Fymbo, Wayne, playing the black pieces in a conservative but error-free game, overwhelmed Steve Becher for a 6-5 Wayne advantage.

After lunch, the players were rematched to put winners with winners near their own level. This produced another 5-5 knot and turned all attention to the crucial game between Wayne's Jim Knoll and Plate's Alt. While other players watched tensely, Knoll and Alt entered the end-game phase.

Police Chief Requests Full-Time Investigator

Vern Fairchild, Wayne's police chief, presented his annual report to the city council Tuesday night and, noting an increase in the crime rate, again requested that the council hire a full-time criminal investigator.

Fairchild reported, "Even though there was a marked increase in arrests and warnings for the year, complaints and requests for police service and criminal complaints climbed alarmingly faster. With this sharp increase shown in these areas, the statement that I made in the 1969 report becomes more apparent."

He was referring to his report a year ago in which he told the council that the crime rate in Wayne was increasing and noted the need for a full-time criminal investigator.

Fairchild repeated his statement to the council last year: "Like any other line-of-work, criminal investigation is a specialty and an officer that can devote his full time to become a specialist. The city council should take steps to increase the size of the police department to allow for a full-time criminal investigator."

Turning his attention to the police radio and dispatcher services, Fairchild said, "You will notice a very large increase in radio messages and requests for information." He said there is no doubt but what the addition of full-time dispatchers at the police station had been a valuable asset enabling police to make full use of the communications equipment.

Looking ahead, Fairchild said, "I expect that demands for police service will continue to grow in 1971 and I am confident that the Wayne Police Department will be able to meet the increase."

He noted: "I am generally pleased with the police operation during the past year and with some changes that must be considered in the near future, I am sure that the dark trends shown can be reversed." The "dark trends" was reference to the marked increase in arrests.

Local Youth Club Around the Corner

Young people in Wayne and the surrounding area will have a club of their own for recreation activities — possibly as early as next month — if the city council is successful in attempts to obtain a building on Main Street for its home.

Formed officially only recently but in the works for several weeks, the club will be located at the present site of Bill's Cafe if the city can work out an agreement with the owner of that building.

The council agreed to take on the youth club much in the same manner it has taken on the senior citizens center after meeting with Tom McDermott, president of the club, and several club members during Tuesday night's council meeting.

Members of the club have agreed to come up with $600 annually (most, if not all, to be raised from machines and fund-raising activities) to help pay for the rent of the building (expected to be $125 a month) and utilities.

Adult advisors, elected just last Sunday with the other club officers, will be appointed by the council and mayor in the future. The council currently names members to such groups as the one acting as advisor to the elderly center and to the one overseeing city recreation programs.

Raised during the discussion about the youth club by Councilman Pat Gross was the question of whether adult supervision should be present at all times the club is open. The youth club had agreed to have its own members take care of that supervision, although an adult advisor would be responsible for opening and closing the club each day.

The club would probably be open Sunday through Thursday from 4:30 to 10 p.m. Fridays it would stay open until 11 and Saturdays would open at 1 and close at midnight.

Named to offices along with McDermott on Sunday's election were Bill Fletcher as vice-president, Elaine Landstrom as secretary.

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: Do I have to pay Federal Income Tax on the life insurance proceeds I received recently?

ANSWER: Probably the insurance money you received is exempt from Federal Income Taxation. Insurance proceeds are paid to related beneficiaries for the purpose of providing funds after the death of the insured. However, if the insurance money was paid to you in satisfaction of a debt or for some other valuable consideration, then all or a portion of the money must be included in your gross income for Federal Income Tax purposes.

As a general rule, therefore, this money is tax exempt if you are the surviving spouse or a relative of the insured and the insurance proceeds were paid in a lump sum to you as the beneficiary.

Electronic Cooking
Throw away your metal pots and pans when using an electronic oven. Aluminum, tin and stainless steel baking pans are not used, for they cut down on efficiency by shielding the food. Paper, glass, china, and earthenware may be used. They neither reflect nor absorb the microwaves, but transmit them. These materials are not heated during the transmission of the microwaves, but may become hot by conduction from the cooked food itself.

The biggest advantage of cooking electronically is the amount of time saved. Cooking time in the electronic ovens is from one-half, to one-tenth that required by conventional methods.

Food will not burn in an electronic oven either. It may, however, dry out or overcook. Overcooked meat will become dry, stringy and leathery.

With these advantages, why is it so few people have a microwave oven? Because there are disadvantages, too. Only small amounts of food may be cooked at one time. With an increase in the amount of food, a corresponding increase in time is necessary. The overloaded oven will not operate efficiently.

Foods cooked by microwaves do not brown. Because this is undesirable by so many, some manufacturers now have electronic ovens with a conventional electric unit to brown certain foods.

For some foods, such as meats, the browning unit is turned on for the same length of time as the microwave unit. The oven can no longer be called a cool oven when the browning unit is turned on.

Yleen Peters, Bruce Johnson Marry

In a 7:30 p.m. ceremony Sunday the marriage of Yleen Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Peters, to Bruce Lee Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Johnson, all of Wayne, was solemnized at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne.

The Rev. S. K. de Freese officiated at the double ring rite. Mrs. Fritz Ellis, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Kugler, sang "Wedding Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride appeared in a floor-length empire styled gown of organza over peau de soie, fashioned with Venice lace trim at the high, stand-up collar, short puffed sleeves and front skirt panels, and edging the aisle wide train. Her illusion veil was caught to a matching dais and bow headpiece and she carried lavender tinted roses and white butterfly pompons, centered with a large lavender catclaw corsage.

Mrs. Norman Luschen, Waterbury, served her sister as matron of honor, and bridesmaid was the bride's niece, Grace Ann Luschen, Waterbury. They identically styled empire gowns were of purple and lavender peau de soie, and had been fashioned by Mrs. Luschen. They carried lavender corsages surrounded by lavender and white pompons. Janelle Peters, Jackson, wearing an identical lavender gown, served as flowergirl. She is also a niece of the bride.

Mrs. Peters chose for her daughter's wedding a longsleeved navy dress. Mrs. Johnson wore a double belt in purple with gold accessories and both had lavender tinted rose corsages. 'Traveling Trophy' Could Ease Sore Spots

By Norvin Hansen

The Wayne High wrestlers should probably be awarded some kind of trophy for the extra lengths they go to in order to compete in their chosen sport.

Why? Because they outdistance their counterparts in basketball and football by many miles even though they compete on mats only a few yards square. In fact, the wrestlers travel on the average over 20 miles farther, in away contests than the basketball team and nearly 30 miles farther than the football team.

If the local grapplers had gone to all the away meets scheduled this year they missed the one at Fremont-Berzant; they would have traveled a total of 582 miles. That averages nearly 77 miles each time they pile in for an away meet.

In comparison, the local football boys were loafers. They had to go only 177 miles for their four away games. Average for each game for them was just over 44 miles. The local cagers, if they had gone to Papillon (cancelled) and if they finish out the season without any games being called off, would go 405 miles for their away competition in eight games. Their average is just under 51 miles.

The trip to Papillon for the Wayne basketball team, about 120 miles, would have had honors for the longest jaunt for a night's fun. Now that honor belongs to the wrestlers' trip to the invitational at Wahoo — just over 100 miles.

Shortest trip for a Wayne athletic team: to Laurel, 16 miles, for basketball action. The wrestlers might be forced to give up that trophy to some other team, considering that the mat sport is getting stronger and stronger at area schools. In a few years, the locals may have all they can handle in the chunk of land east of Highway 81 and north of 275.

Some local punster should be able to come up with a good name for that mythical trophy.

That recent snowstorm which had everybody scurrying for their shovels and winter attire did little damage to the state's pleasant and quiet populations, according to the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

If the storm had lasted much longer, severe damage could have resulted because of the dwindling habitat in Nebraska. That short supply of good cover — trees, brush, weeds — is giving the experts some concern, because it becomes smaller and smaller each year. Reasons: farmers and fires are gobbling up that cover at a fast rate.

We guessed wrong on the outcomes of two basketball games, over the weekend (the only ones we missed in eight tries) but we're not unhappy. Both resulted in wins for Herald area teams — Wayne over Neligh and Winside over Randolph. The wins should have been very satisfying for the quintets — for Wayne because it stopped a skid of five losses and was the first of back-to-back weekend wins, and for Winside because Randolph had humbled the Wildcats by a 79-57 mark in the first round of the Coleridge Invitational tournament early in January.

Picks for coming games: Pierce over Wayne, Winside over Allen, Laurel over O'Neill High and West Point High over Wakefield, all Friday night games, and Allen over Wakefield in Saturday's only action.

Last week's mark of six right and two wrong upped our percentage for the season to just under 60 per cent — 20 right, 13 wrong.

Family 'Feud' Highlights Devil-Trojan Dual

Cousin against cousin and brothers back-to-back highlighted Monday night's wrestling dual between Wayne and Wakefield at the local city auditorium.

Result: Wayne 32, Wakefield 14.

Both squads now prepare for Saturday invitational tournaments — Wayne (now 4-1) at Albion and Wakefield (4-3) at Plattville.

Wayne's Rod Sievers blanked his cousin Jack in the 155-pound class, 13-0, in a meet which saw only three grapplers gain pins. Brothers Brad and Tony Pflueger scored decisions against their Wakefield foes — 3-2 for Brad at 138 pounds and 4-0 for Tony at 145 pounds — to insure the victory for the Blue Devils.

Wayne, assured of 11 points from forfeits in the two largest weight classes, was leading by just 13-11 going into those two matches but emerged with a comfortable 19-11 advantage. Wayne High's end of the Sievers family made that 22-11 Wayne's favor.

Wakefield's undefeated mat specialists — Steve Oswald at 132 pounds and Kirk Gardner at 167 — gained decisions to up their dual records to 9-0 for the year. Oswald defeated Mark Belermann, 2-0, and Gardner got by Jim Kenny, 6-0.

Rubeck, 119, 9-4 over Greg Hoff; Jim Niemann, 126, pin in 3:22 over Randy Jensen; Tom Ring, 132, pin in 3:06 over Kevin Puls; Glenn Hillfort, 139, 5-3 over Bob Twiter; Tom Frabim, 145, pin in 3:40 over Don Lindstrom; Arnold Siefken, 160, pin in 2:35 over Dan Braun.

Results of the varsity action with Wayne wrestlers listed first:

98 — Scott Hill won by Steve House 9-3 p.p.

105 — Dan Marx lost to Steve Hickey, 6-11

112 — Darrell Hank pinned Miles Peerson in 1:56.

119 — Blake Rubeck defeated David Carlson, 4-0.

126 — Jim Meyer pinned Steve Niemann in 2:17.

132 — Mark Belermann lost to Steve Oswald, 2-0.

138 — Brad Pflueger defeated Jerry Schneider, 3-2.

145 — Tony Pflueger defeated Bruce Laub, 4-0.

155 — Rod Sievers defeated Jack Sievers, 13-0.

167 — Jim Kenny lost to Kirk Gardner, 6-0.

185 — Steve Hansen won by forfeit, no opponent.

Heavyweight Dave Johnson won by forfeit, no opponent.

Thursday (Tonight) — Winside at Hartington High.

Saturday — Albion invitational tourney (Wayne).

Plattville invitational tourney (Wakefield).

Tuesday — Schuler at Wayne.

Wakefield at Winside.

Thursday — Winside at Niobrara.

Gaining pins: Wayne's Jim Meyer at 126 pounds, 3:17 over Steve Niemann, to go to 8-1 for the season; Wakefield's Dave Rouse at 98 pounds, 3:10 over Scott Hill, and Wakefield's Miles Peerson at 112 pounds, 1:56 over Darrell Hank.

Wayne carved out a 28-2 win in the curtailed reserve action. Wakefield's Miles Oswald at 139 pounds gained his squad's only points by tying Arlin Cary, 0-0. Winning their matches: Barry

An unusual type of basketball was observed in Wayne recently when ten young men hit the maple shooting — not the traditional basketball, but rather a Dufferburger. When asked what he thought the advantage was to using a Dufferburger over a basketball, this ace replied, "I love to use a Dufferburger because the 100% Beef patty with all the fixings is delicious. Basketballs, on the other hand, are too leathery for my palate." One might think that the game could become expensive with ten hungry players on the court, but at the low 24¢ price, anyone can afford to play. Get your team together soon and head for the Lil' Duffer... it's at 7th and Main in Wayne. Remember, they're open Sunday thru Thursday from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m., Friday from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 a.m.

HOW ABOUT A HAND, BUDDY? Wakefield's Steve Oswald, on top, is in an awkward situation on his way to a pin over Wayne's Mark Belermann.

St. Cloud State Rips Opponents In WSC Meet

St. Cloud State of Minnesota won all three meets in a triple wrestling dual here Saturday while host Wayne State defeated Briar Cliff and Dakota State before losing a close finale to St. Cloud. Dakota State edged Briar Cliff in the closest tussle.

Scoring: St. Cloud beat Wayne, 24-15; Dakota State, 34-8; Briar Cliff, 37-5. Wayne beat Briar Cliff, 29-15, and Dakota State, 31-11. Dakota State beat Briar Cliff, 24-20.

There were twotriple winners: Wayne's Kent Irwin and Dakota State's Randy Huesink, at 134 and 142 pounds respectively. Four St. Cloud wrestlers gained double wins — Dan Griffith at 118, Gary Boman, heavyweight, John Hoover, 142, and Gene Barrett, 158. Griffith and Boman also won third matches by forfeit.

Wayne Coach Don Pate used 19 wrestlers to hone his longidle squad — its last meet was Dec. 12 — for twoduals this week, with Concordia at 7:30 Wednesday, the other with national power Adams State of Colorado at 6:30 Thursday, both in Wayne's Rice Gymnasium. The Wayne dual record is 2-2.

Wayne wrestlers took honors in the number of pin wins with eight. St. Cloud won seven by pins, Briar Cliff three, Dakota State two.

Tank Crew At College To Chadron

Wayne State swimmers will meet Chadron State for the second time this season when they go to Chadron Saturday. Denver Metro also is scheduled for the event.

Last month Wayne won the Concordia Relays with Chadron finishing second, Concordia third, Kearney fourth.

A two-meet trip last weekend resulted in a dual loss for Wayne at Southwest Minnesota State, 65-48, and a fourth-place in the annual Grinnell Relays.

Wayne's Bob Seymour, improving steadily as a diver, Coach Roger Bentley says, set two Wayne records at the Southwest meet as he won the one-meter diving with 243.6 points and the three-meter event with 231.7. Those figures also were pool records at Southwest. Seymour is a junior from Grand Island. Rich Draper, senior from Elgin, marked up another record with a 5:37.6 in the 500-yard freestyle, a new Southwest pool standard.

At Grinnell, lack of manpower hampered the Wildcats. Each event required two swimmers from each team, with the best combined times winning. Wayne's No. 1 swimmer in each event did well, but the No. 2 men were not fast enough to score any firsts, Bentley said.

Augustana of Sioux Falls won with 69 points. Grinnell scored 60, Cornell 20, Wayne 17.

Nebraska's state hook-and-line record for white bass is held by Frederick Baldwin of Grand Island with 4-pound, 15-ounce fish taken from a sandpit near Grand Island in 1962.

Cage Contests

Friday — Wayne at Pierce.
— Allen at Winside.
— Laurel at O'Neill High.
— West Point at Wakefield.
Saturday — Allen at Wakefield.
Monday-Friday — Stanton invitational tourney (Wakefield).

Spoiler Role for Wildcats Touted Scribner Humbles Trojans

Mark up another spoiler conquest for Wayne State. The basketball Wildcats notched a 77-71 decision over Hastings here Tuesday night, thus making a comment last week by Coach Ron Jones look good. He told the Second Guessers Club Wayne might have to be content with a spoiler role against Nebraska's NAIA foes.

In that case the Wildcats ought to be getting a bit more content. But that's a seven-letter bad word for athletes, who never can risk being content.

Thursday night Wayne has another job to do, against the University of Nebraska at Omaha Indians, who will attack the Wayne wagon train in Rice Gym. UNO, with an 8-7 mark, hopes to be a contender in NAIA competition, but already has two losses to Nebraska teams — Kearney and Boone — a victory over Peru, and Wayne the only Nebraska opponent remaining.

The Wayne-Omaha tussle will start some time between 7:30 and 8 following a Wayne-Adams State wrestling dual at 6:30. A preliminary basketball game at 4 will pit Wayne's junior varsity against the Omaha JV.

The Wildcats led Hastings all the way, except for a two-minute stretch midway through the tense first half. After the 41-37 half break, Wayne jumped ahead by 11 points, then staved off a tight Hastings press in the final minutes.

Wayne and Hastings centers, Dennis Siefkes and Dan Wassenburg, both 6-7, waged something of a personal scoring duel, both hitting often on feed-in lay-ups. Siefkes won the dual with 25 points, six more than Wassenburg — and that was the margin of team victory.

The Wildcats hit 50 per cent from the field, Hastings 46. Both teams had four hitting 11 or more: Jim Merchel 18, Ronnie Jones 14, Steve Hoffman 11 for Wayne; Bill Johnson 13, Jim White 12, Dan Yost 11 for Hastings.

Wildcat defense, steadily improving, looked like the crackling defense of recent championship Wayne teams, and the offense looked authoritative.

Scribner, third-ranked in the state in Class C by the Omaha World-Herald this week, used Wakefield as its whipping boy Saturday night on the way to its ninth win in 10 starts.

Wakefield, loser in the contest by a 117-44 mark, plays two home games this weekend — West Point High Friday night and Allen Saturday.

Wakefield 6 11 13 14 -- 44
Scribner 22 35 37 23 -- 117

Saturday night, The Trojans, now 4-10, will be looking at one of the teams to help stop their losing skid which has lengthened to seven in a row.

Reasons for the loss at Scribner? A 6-4 rebounder called Kevin Nelson (who, by the way, pumped in 24 points to lead scoring for his team), a potent fast break and a tight press used throughout the game.

There was one bright spot in the loss for Trojan fans: the performance turned in by 61-asser Rick Olson, Olson, who Coach Ernie Kovar says is looking better with each game, hit 17 points and hauled in nine rebounds to again lead his teammates in both categories. Closest scorer to him were George Hansen with seven and Dave Scheel with six. Scheel also had six rebounds.

Four other Scribner players joined Nelson in hitting in two figures: Don Hasenkamp with 22, Brian Moeller with 16, Roger Hoge with 13 and John Risse with 11.

Scribner was ranked seventh in the state by the Omaha World-Herald this week's action. Wakefield also lost the reserve contest at Scribner.

Auto Hits Building

A Carroll youth escaped injury around 2:15 p.m. Sunday when his auto skidded on an ice-covered street and struck the south side of the Farmers State Bank building in Carroll.

Dennis Harmeler was northbound on Main Street, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, when his auto started sliding on the ice.

Harmeler attempted to turn a corner, the investigating officer said.

Council Becoming Ecology-Minded

The Wayne city council will be keeping in closer touch with the goings-on of the Wayne State Environmental Action Committee, a group which grew out of last fall's college class concerned with ecology.

Pat Gross, a member of the council, agreed to meet with the group as a representative of the city government to the city can be kept informed about the group's projects — which have included a demonstration in a local grocery store on the effects of detergents with high and low phosphate content and distribution of leaflets throughout the city informing housewives how they can cut down pollution.

Next major project in store is an environmental fair early this spring, which will include displays, films, speakers and other attractions.

The college club hopes to be able to build a geodesic dome for that fair as a symbol of the need for concern about our environment. The dome, which would be moveable, would be given to the city after the fair to put in a park or some other place.

Major reason for the club meeting with the council was to ask that the city permit blocking of a city street for a mall during the coming fair.

The council was asked by the group to consider making the mall permanent, something numerous other cities are doing across the nation to beautify downtown surroundings.

Other projects the club is considering include collecting a railroad car of glass for recycling, picking up newspapers for use after treatment and testing of area water sources for pollution.

Approved by the council in its other action was the one and six-year road plan required by the state in order for the city to qualify for state matching road and street funds.

The plan, which is revised each year and which is fairly flexible, includes two major street paving projects totaling nearly $230,000 during fiscal year 1970-71.

Also included in the current fiscal year is purchase of a street flusher and a new snow plow (totaling about $6,000) and paving of alleys costing just over $12,000.

Under the plan the city would spend about $150,000 on street and alley work this fiscal year. The amount the city estimates it would receive from the state to help with that work is $82,600.

Councilmen also:

- Sent to committee the two bids received from local car dealers on the new station wagon for the police department. Both bids were over $2,000. The city did not advertise for bids on the vehicle, although state law requires legal advertisement for expenditures over $2,000.
- Gave approval to the volunteer fire department to come up with more exact costs of a snorbel truck which could be used for rescue and fire fighting. Chief Cliff Pikelman told the council Tuesday that the truck would cost about $45,000. The city will check into the possibility of the state helping share that expense since the city has fought fires at the college.
- Sent to committee a request from Wayne Refuse Service for a raise in three of its rates — from $1 to $1.25 a month for apartment dwellers, from $2.50 to $3.50 for those people who leave their garbage more than five feet from the curb or alley and an extra charge of $1 a month for anybody with garbage in barrels.

Others on the visitation team include Francis Masten, superintendent at North Bend; Kenneth Scherer, principal at Pierce; Kenneth Anderson, superintendent at O'Neill; Harry Fleming, principal at Pierce; Dr. Rafael Liosa, Wayne State College; Lydia Butler, Kearney State College; Clinton Carr, superintendent at Emerson-Hubbard, and Dr. Laura Franklin of Wayne State College.

Car Strikes Pickup

A Carroll woman escaped injury January 15 when the auto she was driving skidded into a parked pickup on a country road two miles west and slightly less than three miles north of Carroll.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office investigated the mishap and said Frances F. Roberts was northbound driving a 1969 Chevrolet. After crossing a bridge, her auto reportedly skidded on the snow-covered road and struck a 1969 Chevrolet pickup parked at the side of the road and owned by Gustav Hank, also of Carroll.

Officers said the collision occurred around 4 p.m.

Ministers to Meet With Local Lawyers

Members of the Wayne Ministerial Association plan to host a group of local lawyers in a meeting today (Thursday) at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. C. Paul Russell, secretary-treasurer, said the ministers will meet for a business meeting at 2 p.m. and the lawyers will join them at 4 p.m. for coffee and a discussion on legacies and bequests as related to the church and other organizations.

Area 'Neighbors' Wanted

Wayne area residents are being invited to submit nominations for Ak-Sar-Bem's Good Neighbor Awards, according to General Manager Tom Brock.

Ak-Sar-Bem invites people of Nebraska and western Iowa to pay special recognition to individuals and groups, credited with performing unselfish, neighborly deeds during the past year.

Last year Ak-Sar-Bem chose two Wayne area people for the awards: Merlin "Lefty" Olson of Wakefield and Mrs. Josephine Hill of Allen.

The program is in its 26th year. The heartwarming letters received from individuals and groups honored in previous years serve as ample evidence of the program's importance, Brock said.

Framed citations will be awarded to all groups, clubs or community organizations, and even with the king, three pawns and a rook each.

After a flurry of exchanges, Alt had his king and a rook, but Knoll was left with a naked king. The best Knoll could hope for was a stalemate, which would have put Wayne ahead for the day. For while this looked possible as Alt had trouble maneuvering to trap Knoll's king. But after a nerve-wracking quarter hour, Alt achieved the checkmate, ending game and match.

The Wayne State club now is planning more matches, a rematch with Platte in Columbus, a quadrangular with Platte, Hastings, and Nebraska Wesleyan, and other clubs wishing to play.

Tax Deduction Upped From $600 to $625

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 raised personal and dependency exemption deduction for federal income tax from $600 to $625 for 1970, Richard Vinal, IRS district director for Nebraska, said last week.

The extra exemption for taxpayers 65 or over or for those who are blind is also $625.

The increase in dependency exemptions was accompanied by a change in the income test for claiming dependents. Previously, a person had to have income of less than $600 to qualify as a dependent. That amount has now been raised to $625 for 1970.

The gross-income test, however, does not apply to children under 19 or to full-time students, but parents still must furnish over half of the child's support and meet the other dependency requirements to claim him as a dependent.

Thirteen were arrested for intoxication, 12 for petit larceny, 11 for parking between 3 a.m. and 5:30 a.m., 10 for allowing dogs to run at large, nine for vagrancy, eight for stop light violations, and eight for disturbing the peace.

Other arrests were many and varied.

Warning tickets are issued when the officer does not feel that the violation is serious enough to cause an arrest to be made.

A total of 3,718 such warnings were issued in 1970 compared to 3,546 in 1969.

Violation cards are issued for defective vehicle or license equipment and the driver is given a chance to correct the defects. There were 236 such cards issued in 1970, 231 issued in 1969.

Winside to Host Lewis and Clark '71 Band Clinic

Winside Public Schools plan to host several hundred band students from 12 schools during the 1971 Lewis and Clark Band Clinic Monday.

Ronald Kramer, principal, said bandmen from Allen, Homer, Newcastle, Emerson, Walthill, Ponca, Coleridge, Hartington, Osmond, Handolph, Wynot and Winside will register at 7:45 a.m. Tryouts are slated at 8:15 a.m., followed by rehearsals until noon. Sessions are scheduled in both the elementary and high school buildings.

Rehearsals will continue throughout the afternoon and a concert is set for 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym. Tickets for adults are $1, 50 cents for students in grades seven through twelve, and 25 cents for elementary pupils.

Kramer said the bandmen will eat both noon and evening meals in the multi-purpose room at the elementary school. The school plans to serve a total of about 1,150 meals.

Iowan Fined For Forgery

A former Wayne State College student, Rodney D. Woods, 19, of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, pleaded guilty Monday in Wayne District Court on the charge of obtaining narcotic drug by fraud.

Woods who attended WSC in 1969 and is now in the military service, was fined $500 and court costs of $33.50 by Merritt C. Warren, of Creighton, district court judge.

The youth allegedly obtained a depressant and stimulant drug by use of a forged prescription in a Wayne drug store last August. The druggist became suspicious and notified police.

Woods reportedly attempted to obtain drugs again early in January at the same business firm using another false prescription.

Following arrest of the youth, a preliminary hearing was set Jan. 20 in Wayne County Court and then continued to Jan. 27. Woods posted a $1,000 bond and was released.

Woods was charged on two counts of obtaining narcotic drug by fraud and attempting to obtain narcotic drug by fraud.

County Attorney Don Reed asked in county court Monday that the second charge be dismissed. Judge Luverna Hilton granted the request, he was bound over to district court on the single charge of obtaining narcotic drug by fraud.

Woods was arraigned in district court Monday.

Cities Get State Funds Based on 1970 Census

The $67,627.87 check received by Leon Meyer, Wayne County treasurer, as the county's share of $9,740,612 in state sales and income taxes has been distributed to incorporated cities in the county according to the 1970 census figures.

The state check, smallest received by the county in three years, arrived in the treasurer's office last week. There was question as to whether the check was to be divided according to the population census of 1960 or 1970.

Meyer said Tuesday that he had received word from the state treasurer's office early this week that the funds should be divided on the basis of the 1970 census figures.

The difference in population figures between the 1960 and 1970 census reports make no change in the one-fifth amount, $13,525.57, that the county keeps as its share of the funds.

The 1970 census figures do result in some changes in the

W-2 Due Employees By Feb. 1 Deadline

The deadline for employers to give employees their 1970 W-2 forms is Monday, Feb. 1, says the Internal Revenue Service.

New Tax Form 'Easier to Prepare'

It's a new Form 1040 for 1970, a form more convenient for taxpayers to prepare.

The majority of people will receive a tax package reduced from the 32 pages of last year to 24 pages, accomplished through combining schedules and writing more concise instructions, reports the Internal Revenue Service.

The new form reflects several of the changes made by the Tax Reform Act of 1969. Among the most important ones:

—The new low-income allowance which is built into the optional tax tables, which this year, extend to $10,000.

—The increase in the value of the personal exemption from $600 to $625.

—The reduction in the tax surcharge rate.

—A new minimum tax for taxpayers with certain "tax preference" items.

The IRS will compute the tax for persons with incomes of $20,000 or less, made up of wages, salaries, tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities, who claim the standard deduction. IRS will compute also the Retirement Income Credit. This will

Controversy on Auto Inspections

A bill to repeal the 1967 motor vehicle inspection program was introduced by Sen. J. James Waldron of Callaway last week during the current meeting of the Nebraska Legislature. LB353 proposes to abolish the entire vehicle inspection operation.

Waldron contends that Nebraska motorists are required to spend far more in having their cars and trucks pass inspection than the state might lose in federal highway cash if it didn't have the program.

What is the opinion of the man on the street in Wayne about the vehicle inspection program? We asked a total of 24 men and women this question: "Do you believe the auto inspection program has lessened the number of accidents and fatalities in the state?"

Thirteen of the 24 said "no" and 11 answered "yes." If this is any indication of public opinion concerning the value of the motor vehicle inspection program, then the ayes and nays are about equally divided.

Several of those people who answered

"no" also said they believe the inspection program is a "big farce" and "ridiculous." A number of those persons answering "yes" said the program would be worth its cost even if it saved but one life.

Arguments against the inspection program included the possibility that a car owner could likely get through one inspection station without having to make any repairs, but might have to make a number of repairs if the auto was taken to a different inspection point. Those against the program note that most of the cars involved in fatal accidents in Nebraska last year were tagged as being approved for operation, but that didn't keep the vehicle out of the accident.

Those people for the inspection program said it keeps many old cars off the road. They believed this saved lives.

We believe there may be some interesting discussions develop as the result of LB353 being put into the legislative hopper. We feel that any discussion at all, any time, at any place, concerning highway safety can only prove beneficial. — MMW.

Everybody Needs to Do Their Thing

If Wayne ever becomes the most progressive, up-to-date, modern city in northeast Nebraska, it will not have happened by accident. Wayne, like other cities, can never rise above that which residents are willing to make of their home town. The same goes for a county or area.

A city or town always represents the adventurous enthusiasm of the leading lethargy of its residents. It's as simple as that. In order for a city or area to be beautiful and spectacular, every resident needs to do his thing.

There is no doubt in anybody's mind but what the local Chamber of Commerce is once again planning to do all within its grasp while working toward building a better community.

Examine some of the goals for 1971 that Chamber members have set for themselves.

—Tourism: To formulate a program of tourism which will bring travelers to Wayne and northeast Nebraska.

—Hospitality: To be ambassadors of good will.

—Work: Promote beneficial projects, seek out industrial possibilities, sponsor classes in small business management, environmental problems and continue the study of fluoridation.

—Agriculture: Aid in advancing all phases of agriculture.

—Transportation: Work for better streets, highways and improve all modes of transportation.

Working toward reaching any one or all of these goals is a whooper of an assignment, and more than that, a challenge.

Members of the Chamber need the help of everyone in spotlighting all of northeast Nebraska, Wayne included of course, as an area in which everybody is welcome to do their thing toward building up, cleaning up, growing up, and keeping up, it sounds like fun—if you like to work. Remember the little red hen of storybook fame who always said, "I will" when nobody else would?

Do birds of that kind of feather flock together? We believe they must and therefore work to do things once considered impossible. Ready to do your thing? — MMW.

Masons in the First Nebraska Cavalry

In the files of the Nebraska State Historical Society is a short history of a little known Masonic Lodge, organized in 1863 under a dispensation from the Most Worshipful Grand Master of Nebraska, Monitor Lodge U. D. was formed as a traveling lodge of Master Masons to accompany the First Regiment Nebraska Infantry, later the First Nebraska Cavalry, U. S. Volunteers, of the Civil War. The original petition to the Grand Master was signed by eight Master Masons from lodges in Iowa and Nebraska. Among those names appear G. W. Wilkinson and Lee P. Gillette. At that time the First Nebraska was stationed at Pilot Knob, Missouri.

In the three short years of the lodge's existence, meetings were also held in Ironton, Missouri; Batesville, Arkansas, and Jacksonport, Arkansas.

The annual report of Monitor Lodge U. D. for June, 1866, shows that twenty men had been initiated, sixteen had been passed, and fourteen had been raised to the degree of Master Mason. On June 21, 1866, Grand Master R. W. Furnas asked the Grand Lodge of Nebraska to "consider the master of Monitor Lodge U. D." from whom no dues were received. Members formerly belonging to other lodges would be restored to their original status in their old lodges, but some provision had to be made for those who were made Masons in Monitor Lodge. A well-known name among those was Thomas J. Majors. A special committee finally decided that the Grand Lodge of Nebraska would issue to those members, such certificates as might be necessary for them to affiliate with the lodge of their choice.

In this short history the minutes of Monitor Lodge U. D. are given chronologically in some detail. When the First Nebraska entered Batesville, Arkansas, after the Confederates had left it, they held their meetings in the Masonic Hall and found everything in perfect condition as to necessary conveniences and paraphernalia. The record shows a large number of visiting brethren from other lodges, among them visitors who were not fighting on the side of the Union! Officers wore their customary military uniforms at lodge meetings, which were always held in rooms used either then or formerly as Masonic Halls.

Big Whittling Job in Store If Tax Hike to Be Avoided

LINCOLN — Nebraska's legislators were given an idea last week of how much surgery they will have to perform on agency budget requests if they intend to avoid a hike in tax rates.

It will be major surgery — about $100 million's worth. The chairman of the budget committee, Sen. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, set the stage by submitting a report which showed the amount of money the agencies are asking for — and the amount which would be available for appropriation at the tax rates Gov. J. J. Exon has set as his limits.

The agencies have asked for $317.3 million. That's just the requests for money to run existing programs. It doesn't include programs which may be authorized by the current legislative session.

Under the Exon tax rate specifications, there would be $201.6 million available.

The governor said during his campaign and he repeated in his inaugural address that he intends to run state government on revenue generated from the 1970 tax levels.

The sales tax rate last year was 2.5 per cent. It's the same this year. The income tax levy, however, was 13 per cent in 1970. Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's State Equalization Board cut it to 10 per cent for 1971.

So, looking at the 1971-72 fiscal year — the budget period the Legislature is dealing with — the 2.5 per cent sales tax rate would remain static, and the income tax rate would be 10 per cent from July 1 through Dec. 31, then climb to 13 per cent from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1972. That's if Exon and the legislators keep the appropriations for the fiscal year within the amounts those rates will yield.

If the appropriations go beyond those limits, the tax rates would have to be raised to supply the revenue.

Exon and his budget advisors now are battles of Ft. Henry, Ft. Donelson, Shiloh, Corinth and others. At the end of the first enlistment, the Regiment was furloughed home to Omaha from June 21 to August 13, 1864. Thereafter they were used along the Platte River to protect travelers until the unit was mustered out of service July 1, 1866. Other well-known Nebraska names appear in this record are Dr. H. R. Livingston, Elias M. Low, Smith P. Tuttle and Dr. Napoleon B. Bash. Many men whose names appear in the records of Monitor Lodge U. D. did not remain in Nebraska, and in 1917 the Grand Lodge of Nebraska had no records of their life after 1866.

putting the finishing touches on their efforts to whack the agency requests down to a size which will fit within the revenue boundaries.

The governor is required by the constitution to report to the Legislature within 30 days his recommendations for budgeting. In the inaugural, he gave this preview: his budget will be "austere, but adequate."

Meanwhile, the agency requests are being reviewed by the staff of Legislative Fiscal Analyst Marlin Rehn. He must report to the lawmakers within 15 days on possibilities they can consider in their budget deliberations.

Marvel's committee has held some public hearings for agencies which were asked to explain their requests. More will be scheduled before the committee is ready to submit its spending recommendations to the full Legislature.

One of the programs to be considered during the 1971 session which could have a major impact on the sales and income tax rates is a proposal Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton was preparing last week.

Burbach said he had asked the bill drafter to put together a measure limiting Amendment 10, which was approved by Nebraska voters last fall. The constitutional amendment permits the Legislature to divide personal property into classes and exempt all or part of the taxes on any classes it wishes.

According to a rough draft of the Burbach proposal, local taxes on business equipment (except motor vehicles), farm equipment, business inventories and grain and seed would be reduced by 90 per cent by 1974.

Those taxes would be cut in half next year. In 1973, those categories would be taxed only on 30 per cent of their actual value.

Burbach estimated that local governments — the only ones with property taxing power — reap about $48 million from the personal property classes his bill would affect.

By cutting that take in half for next year, the state would be removing $24 million from the local government treasuries.

His bill would return that "lost" money as aid from the state's general fund, which is fueled primarily with sales and income tax revenues.

To provide the $24 million for the state to dole out to cities, counties, school districts and other local governmental units, Burbach said the sales tax rate would have to climb by one-half of one per cent and the income tax levy would have to jump by a full per cent.

That would cover only the first year of the phase-down of the personal property tax process. If natural revenue growth didn't supply the extra money in later years, the state rates would have to climb again to make up the difference, according to the provisions in Burbach's measure.

The Crofton senator said he opposes a 100 per cent exemption for personal property. By keeping 10 per cent of the value on the tax rolls, he said, the affected classes would be assessed and county treasurers always would know how much revenue they were losing by the exemptions.

Under his bill, the treasurers would apply the mill levies against the "missing" value, total it up and send the state a bill for the amount.

Although some supporters of Amendment 10 counseled for a more gradual

January 30, 1941: A cut of $16,000 in appropriation for each of Nebraska's state colleges was recommended for the biennium by Governor Dwight Griswold in his budget message. Mrs. Paul Spittgerber, Alfred Sydow, Lawrence Ring, Lee Seilon and F. I. Moses were elected to the Wayne county extension board Tuesday evening at the annual program and party attended by about 600 at the Wayne auditorium. District and final high school music contest will be held in Wayne April 18 and 19 with Professor K. N. Parke as local chairman. Mary Esther Perdue reports today in Washington, D. Mr. Nelson paid only $2.75 per acre when he bought the original 80 acres 75 years ago. Wayne Dear Editor: I don't know how the people of the 14-county district feel about taking in the Northeastern College (at Norfolk), but I am making my feelings known. We taxpayers in this 14-county district do not have to bail out any college. This is strictly a district to support the Northeast Nebraska Technical College only. If Mr. Don Macley wants to stick his nose to help other colleges is his business but he should be relieved of his job as president of Northeast Nebraska Technical College. He will have lost his usefulness for this district. Mr. Alan Cramer doesn't seem to be too tough to stick up for this district. I know what happens to have an election. The big shots have ways to glamorize the voters into voting for something they do not want. Mr. Cramer should do his best to kill this proposal or he should resign from his post as president of the board of Northeast Tech. This is something to think about. Claire Vogel (Editor's Note: Members of the governing boards of Northeast Tech and Northeastern Nebraska College met in the middle of January to discuss a community college legislative bill. The governing board for the college at Norfolk is reportedly seeking tax relief for the Norfolk taxpayers through merger legislation. One method this could be achieved would be to have the 14-county Northeast Tech area take over operation of the Norfolk college.)

The Little Pulpit "Though I speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not love, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not love, I am nothing. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing." I Cor. 13:1-3 KJV.

Tolman on Feeders Day Program

Walt Tolman, beef nutritionist at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station near Concord, will be one of the speakers during the 1971 NU Feeders Day programs.

The programs are scheduled for Randolph on Feb. 17, Exeter on Feb. 18 and Kearney on Feb. 19.

Topics ranging from grain levels in growing rations, the use of wheat as a substitute for feed grains, newer methods of grain processing and handling of feedlot waste disposal problems to prevent pollution will feature this year's offerings.

All three programs are sponsored by the NU department of animal science and Cooperative Extension Service, in cooperation with feeders groups, host county Extension services and chambers of commerce.

The three programs will start at 9:30 a.m.

Tolman will discuss grain levels in growing programs. He will interpret results and implications of trials over several years at the Northeast Station which indicate that total efficiency is decreased with application of higher grain levels in the growing ration.

Dr. Larry Varner, NU beef nutritionist at Lincoln, will outline the potential for using wheat in finishing programs and the results of recent tests showing considerable variability in the effects of wheat on rate of gain.

South Central Station Beef Nutritionist Dr. Stanley Farlin of Clay Center will discuss with feeders some of the newer methods of processing, including

Walt Tolman

"the use of whole-shell corn." Suggestions concerning what feeders can do for themselves in controlling feedlot waste will be given by cattle feeders Herb Albers, Jr. of Wisner and Bill Krejci of Fairmont and by Paul Johnson of Schuyler, secretary of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, Schuyler.

Albers will be speaking at Randolph, Krejci at Exeter and Johnson at Kearney. They will explain the results of research work conducted at the NU Field Laboratory at Mead, the U. S. Meat Animal Research Center at Clay Center, private feedlots and the USDA.

They will also review the process feeders use in applying for approved feedlot status through the Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council.

and one week of pony calls, a reporter could, with but four incorrect decisions a month, swing the Chicago Merc Futures so drastically he could swim and sun with Jackie and Arnie till the turn of the millennium. This, however, has never happened.

Is the Sheet fair? Yes, but you must realize the limitations and what it reports.

Today hundreds, mostly small farmers, sell Grade 'A' and 'B' stockholding cattlemen and "trained" customers and, most notable, NIT. These feeders deliver cattle to a plant where their prices are based on the "hot" carcass weight of the bovine.

But the Sheet is not based on average of all cattle per grade. The Yellow Sheet is based on cattle that go thru the open market, thru the beef brokers.

The cream of the cooler is tagged by one chain store, wholesale representative, beefman, or goes to a pucker breaking room. An estimated 20 to 30 per cent go to standing orders, to accounts with fixed credit agreements. These using Grade 'A' and 'B' and usually mid '3's.

Then comes the offering to the broker. The carcasses are to move: the high '3's, '4's, even '5's. The overfats, the corner, gangly, straight-sided orangutans. From these sales the Sheet is today.

Today's Sheet prices are based on the Missouri River markets, after years and years of the Chicago basis. Bids are 1.00, the River basis. Plants like Dubuque, Wilson or Cedar Rapids pick up 40 to 60¢ on sales, while Swift, Grand Island or Missouri Beef would lose 30¢ to $1.00. That is going East. Going West, the reverse is true.

Is the Sheet fair? Yes, Honest? Yes! But those who habitually sell top cattle at the Sheet are ill-qualified or misinformed.

Only with low-in-the-grade quality is the system understandable. You see, Moms, on up markets of short supply, brokers get merely token offerings. That is the reason the intensity of a rise. The caliber of broker customer is not quite as elite as those of the packers. Many accounts are of secondary importance or of bad credit records. Some with reputation of acute price adjustments.

On a shortage, they buy, and buy hard.

But turn the tables. Say the chains get their nozzles together (believe me, every time the trade organization meets, the following day all bids will be lower). As the market goes sour, the beef-

The Yellow Sheet reflects now prices, confirmed current sales, not next week's delivery. The working day is elastic — the close, not coming till the end of

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

What is the Yellow Sheet?

Farm Moms, the Yellow Sheet is the pricing guide for probably 90 per cent of the steer and heifer beef in the United States. Both sales and purchases are based at, over or under the price limits. That sheet is the final say. New? Nope. For years the big moguls of the Giant Packers were more proud of the Yellow Sheet on their desk than their titled name plate.

Today the Yellow Sheet is the major asset of the National Provisioner Corporation, headquartered at Chicago.

Daily, nine reporters assemble facts from active participants in the changing beef, hog, lamb, provision and by-product lines. Unbiased marketing facts. Yet their final report is an opinion and it rides millions of dollars.

Some 30 million carcasses a year sell in relation to the Yellow Sheet figures. A 50¢ shift means $3 to $4 per head.

This is object reporting. No second guessing. The company, the president, the officers, the staff own no cattle or meat, have no axe to grind, are not allowed to play the Merc Futures either in live cattle or dressed products. However, given the bank roll

Animal Waste Disposal

Feedlot operators should be aware of restrictions to be imposed on the run off from livestock pens. Initial results of a cooperative research program of the University of Nebraska and the U. S. Department of Agriculture designed to measure characteristics of animal waste run-off from feedlots as potential sources of environmental pollution have been discussed by Dr. Walter Woods, NU beef nutritionist.

The program, involving personnel from the university's departments of animal science, agronomy and agricultural engineering and USDA, has studied percolation into the soil by animal wastes and animal responses to different surface conditions of beef feedlots.

Results thus far indicate:

1. Animal performance may be depressed as density is increased to the point of adversely affecting lot conditions.
2. Nitrates do not readily move into the water under the feedlot.
3. Manure can be managed on the feedlot surface with considerable decomposition occurring.
4. Mounds in the feedlots may be beneficial to cattle as well as manure management.

5. Systems for collecting run-off have been designed and studied in the program. Systems for settling solids from the feedlot run-off appear practical. Approximately 70 per cent of solids in feedlot run-off may settle out when the flow of the run-off is stopped.
6. The amount of run-off is proportional to the rainfall (intensity and amount) as well as being modified by manure pack on the feedlot surface.

"Effective waste management for beef feedlots is of high priority to permit an efficient industry to continue to grow and develop to meet an expanded need for beef by a growing population," Woods commented.

Current concern on environmental quality has pointed to agriculture, especially animal production, as a potential source of pollution. Because much attention is being focused on the beef cattle feedlot, such research programs as are underway at Nebraska are important to permit continued growth and development of the livestock industry and at the same time to maintain or improve the quality of the environment, Woods stated.

Continued growth of the animal industry is imperative because livestock are the primary consumers of grains that are produced in the U. S., as well as pasture and harvested forages, the NU beef nutritionist pointed out.

Against this background, any changes taking place in animal agriculture, including measures to avoid environmental pollution, must be accomplished in programs that are economically sound, Woods emphasized.
