Request to Raise Garbage Rates Under Study

The request by Wayne Refuse Service to raise trash removal rates for three kinds of customers in the city was sent back to committee Tuesday night when the city council was unable to act on the request after talking with one of the owners of the garbage removal franchise.

Wayne Refuse had asked the council two weeks earlier for permission to raise the rates of apartment dwellers from $1.00 a month to $1.25 a month, regular residential rates from $2.50 to $3.50 when garbage is left more than five feet from the street curb and the regular rates $1 for people leaving garbage in barrels over 32 gallons.

Vernon Russell, the person making the request, cited rising costs of repairs and maintenance, rising labor rates and higher fuel rates as the reasons the rates would have to be raised in order for the company to continue making money.

He told the group that he is actually letting the people decide whether they want to pay the higher rates. If they don't want to, he said, they can leave their trash near the curb, saving his company enough so it can continue operating at a profit.

"I'm trying to do what the council wants—to hold the rates," he said. The regular rates would remain as they are if people would put their garbage at the side of the curb.

Mayor Kent Hall and Councilman Darrel Fuebnerth said during the discussion that leaving garbage cans on the curb for pickup is unsightly.

The committee will obtain a financial statement from Wayne Refuse and will meet with Russell in an attempt to determine how great a hardship the present rates are causing. The committee will report to the council at its meeting on Feb. 23.

Council hired Allen Hansen as swimming pool manager for another summer and decided to approve sending him to a one-day school for pool managers at Norfolk in late March.

Approved during the evening was the purchase of a new station wagon for the police department. Accepted by the council was the low total bid of $2,469 turned in by Wortman Auto of Wayne.

Council also:

- Sent to committee suggestions that the city enter the Nebraska Community Improvement Program for 1971 and the statewide effort to keep Nebraska beautiful.
- Agreed to erase $14.71 from the water bill of a local resident since the unusually large amount of water the customer was charged for in one month indicated the billing was much too high.

'Liquid Lollipop' Surfaces

Wayne State's second underground newspaper in the past couple years made its appearance on campus last week.

Entitled The Liquid Lollipop, the eight-page tabloid features news articles, bylined stories and art. A story on the front page of the newspaper says that it is being published "in order to give the people of Wayne State College a good newspaper."

The newspaper contains its own classified ad section—Grassified Ads. For sale this first issue: two ounces of good water at $25 an ounce and puffs of fresh air for 25 cents each.

Among the articles in the first issue:

- One by Marjean Grigg which points to several commendable things the Student Senate has done to help the students.

- One by Joe Cornish criticizing an unnamed weekly news editor for coming to a party drunk and causing a disturbance.
- A little fantasy about a Wayne State student who died from water pollution when he fell into a river in northeastern Nebraska.
- An interview by Jerry Black of Sam Singleton, highly successful member of the college football team.
- An article by Jim Christo critical of the protection provided by the Wayne police department during an incident in which his wife was followed by a car from South Sioux City to Wayne.

Local Kiwanians marked their 48th anniversary during a banquet Sunday evening at the Wayne State College Student Center.

Included in the 100 attending were members' wives and the Circle K Club, a college auxiliary of Kiwanis. Jim Hummel, club president, was master of ceremonies.

Two Kiwanians were recognized for perfect attendance records. Francis Haun presented perfect attendance pins to Don Wightman for a 13-year record and to Dale Gutshall for six years.

Keith Mosley, president-elect, recognized past presidents of the club who are still members. Those honored included Kent Hall, Max Landstrom, Mern Mordhorst, Ray Schreiner, Harold Hagalls, Don Hied, Cal Comstock, Dick Manley, Don Wightman, Willard Wilse, Paul Mines, William Koerber, Henry Ley, Ken Olds, Adon Jeffrey and Dave Theophilus.

Guest speaker Robert E. Advers, a public relations representative of Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, spoke on the topic, "The 3 E's and You."

Advers identified the three E's as ecology, environment and energy.

Hoskins Woman Hurt in Crash

A two-car crash slightly less than three miles northeast of Norfolk Monday evening on Highway 35 injured a Hoskins woman and three northeastern Nebraska college students.

Mrs. Clarence Hoemann, 50, of Hoskins, was reportedly northbound when her auto was hit broadside by a car driven by Thomas Rutledge, 18, of Clearwater, who came onto the highway after being westbound on a county road.

Mrs. Hoemann was taken to the Lutheran Community Hospital where she was treated for a broken leg and possible back injuries.

Trooper H. W. Boardman of Norfolk investigated the accident and reported Rutledge and his passengers, Steven Snider, 18, of Norfolk and Randy Rowe, 18, of Clearwater, were treated at a Norfolk hospital for bruises.

"Sailor Bill"

'Sailor Bill' Dead at 76

William B. Fitzpatrick, 76, familiar to many on the streets of Wayne and better known as "Sailor Bill," died early Monday morning at the Wayne Hospital following a heart attack.

Fitzpatrick was reportedly stricken early Sunday morning at the Corvett Auto Company where he was employed. He was taken to the hospital by ambulance after being found lying on the floor in the business firm by Roy Corvett.

Fitzpatrick worked for several years during the 1930's for the late Walter Savage of Wayne, driving a truck and doing odd jobs for the Savage Traveling Company which traveled throughout the United States. "Sailor" settled in Wayne when the company went off the road in 1939.

Kansas Man Buys KTCH

KTCH Radio of Wayne has been sold and will be under new management starting March 1, according to Bob Wilson, manager.

The station's license was assigned by the Federal Communication Commission about two weeks ago to Mr. and Mrs. Wyman N. Schnepf of Salina, Kan. Sale price was reportedly around $85,000.

Schnepf will manage the station. He and his wife plan moving to Wayne this week.

Wilson, manager of KTCH since the station started operating in 1968, said he and his family are moving to York. He will be employed there at KAWL AM and FM.

KTCH was formerly owned by the Gleason brothers of York.

Laurel Lassies Lead the Way For Bear Fans

Fans of the Laurel High basketball team have been following these pretty girls as they have been leading cheers for their team. Their efforts haven't gone for naught — the Laurel team rolled to nine straight wins after a balky start this season. The football team, which they also cheered, went undefeated last fall. Clockwise from bottom left with parents' names in parentheses: Rosie Hirschman (Jim), Leslie Kraemer (Marlen), Nancy Dirks (Mrs. Phyllis), Kim Gowery (Darrell), Kim Matthews (Richard Hander), Val Hirschman (Jim) and Carolyn Wentworth (Bob). Any organizational meeting to determine how many veterans would be interested in enrolling in a cooperative farm training program sponsored by the Veterans Administration will be held at Wayne High School at 7 p.m. Tuesday night.

Any veterans who would like to take the course, completely agricultural-centered, should turn out for that meeting because the program could only be started if interest is high enough, according to Chris Bargholz, veterans service officer in Wayne County.

The Wayne-Carroll School board decided Monday night to see what kind of interest there is in the program. The school board will wait for that information before deciding whether to take over the major responsibility in conducting the program.

The course is open to any veterans who served on active duty for more than 180 days after Jan. 31, 1955, and who received an honorable discharge from the service.

Pay to the veterans for taking the course would start at $141 for a person with no dependents. A vet with one dependent would receive $165 and a vet with two dependents would receive $190. Beyond that, the VA would pay $10 for each dependent. Out of this monthly allowance the veteran would have to pay his tuition for the course and any other minor expenses involved with the course.

The course would run for 44 weeks a year and would meet for 12 hours each week.

Other action by the school board resulted in:

- Approval of the superintendent's recommendation that all teachers be hired again once salary negotiations are completed. Exception was Lila Halesch, middle school instrumental and vocal music teacher, who has told the superintendent she will not return to the system.

County Short on Funds For Tuition Payments

Wayne County non-resident tuition mill levies jumped from 10.88 to 17 mills last year, the largest single increase on record.

Norris Weible, county clerk, said the 17-mill levy on an evaluation of $16,078,600 is expected to produce $262,754. When all of the tax monies are in the county treasury, it should be adequate to take care of the tuition claims made by the 10 schools, Weible said.

The 10 schools and tuition claims due March 1st: Wayne, $51,761; Norfolk, $8,478; Pender, $6,600; Pierce, $3,150; Winnetka, $4,472; Randolph, $12,075; Wakefield, $10,000; Wayne County, $1,000.

Want Cleaner Air, Water? They Are REAP's Goals

Community-wide environmental benefits will have first priority when the local development group meets next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. to discuss provisions and guidelines for operation of the new Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) in Wayne County for 1971.

Leaders of civic, conservation and environmental groups have been invited to consult with and advise the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee which will administer REAP.

Ralph H. Olson is vice-chairman of the county ASC committee. Other members are Harry Heinenmann and Lloyd Morris.

REAP is a conservation cost-sharing program of the Department of Agriculture, under which farmers and the government share the cost of conservation practices needed in the public interest.

Formerly known as the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), it has been restructured to better meet environmental goals benefiting farmers and non-farmers alike, said Olson.

"Environmental problems are caused by all of us, both town See REAP, page 8

Drivers Set Poor Record in 1970

Drivers in Wayne County forgot the meaning of the word caution in 1970 if the number of traffic violators appearing in county court is any indication.

A comprehensive report released Tuesday by Wayne County Judge Luverna Hilton shows 189 more traffic-related violations occurred in 1970 than in the preceding year.

Judge Hilton reports a total of 673 criminal actions last year and of those there were 437 traffic-related violations compared to 248 such cases in 1969.

There were 183 fines for speeding; 77 parking violations; 29 arrested for making improper turns; 64 stop sign violations; 34 other had no operator's license or no license plates and 27 paid fines for reckless driving. An additional 39 persons were charged on counts involving overweight on trucks; not having a slow moving vehicle sign, or not having a current safety inspection.

Liquor cases jumped from a total of 49 in 1969 to a high of 81 cases last year including 49 minors found guilty of being in possession of alcoholic liquor. The record number of liquor cases was set in 1968 when there were 107. Except for that high, liquor cases in the county had averaged 40 during the previous nine years.

NORTHEAST EXTENSION

by Myrtle Anderson

To insure no change in quality of fresh meat and poultry brought home from the store, you need to store it properly.

USDA meat and poultry inspectors suggest you wrap products loosely for storing in the refrigerator, tightly for freezer storage. Also, always wrap meat or poultry items for freezing in a moisture-resistant material, such as heavy duty aluminum foil or freezer paper.

Since meat and poultry take a large segment of the food dollar, be sure to use them before there is any important change in quality.

The following guide provides a basis for estimating how long you can hold some commonly used meats and meat products in a refrigerator (in coldest section) with little or no quality or nutrient loss:

One to two days - ground meat, fresh pork sausage, variety meats, poultry, giblets, cooked meats.

Three to five days - steaks, chops, roasts, halves or slices of cured ham, luncheon meats. One week - whole cured ham, bacon, smoked sausage, frankfurters.

To hold meat longer than the period mentioned above, it needs to be frozen and stored in freezer or the freezer part of a refrigerator-freezer combination.

Dunklau Reports Amarillo Trip

The large cattle feeding industry which has grown up around Amarillo, Tex., is largely the result of what was once an overproduction of milo in that area.

That's what Marvin Dunklau of Wayne told the Wayne Chamber of Commerce board of directors Monday night during a report on a trip he made to that part of Texas last fall.

Dunklau, a cattle feeder himself, made the trip along with many other Midwest farmers, feeders and businessmen. The trip was sponsored by the Chambers in Lincoln and Omaha.

He told the group that the commercial feedlots around Amarillo are quite successful. The commercial feeder, he said, is one who contracts with farmers to feed their cattle until they reach a certain weight.

The cattle industry in Texas is the result of a lot of people working to make it happen, he said, and as a result it has brought prosperity to the area. Also, he said, other industries, such as ones to handle the hides of cattle, have sprung up around the feedlots in the Amarillo area, making the cattle industry even more successful.

He suggested that anything which might be started in the Wayne area should probably be on a corporation basis so if it were to fail the money loss to the individuals making up the corporation would be small.

ELECTRICITY is for People...

There is no better time to tell the electric story concerning its importance to our economy, our standard of living and our everyday lives, than during National Electrical Week, which occurs this year Feb. 7 through the 13th.

No one can define, exactly what electricity is, we know it exists in nature (by violent electrical storms). We are aware of it in a magnet, we feel it as "static" electricity, but it has no color, size, weight or odor. Nevertheless man has discovered how to make and use it. Electricity is the only product in the world that is ordered, made and delivered in a split second.

America, this great land we inherited from our forefathers, runs on electricity. It is used for modern industry, farming, safety and health. It is the key to modern living, and as such we continue to develop new uses that adds to our comfort and well being.

This is the time of year that we believe our meter is cheating, or that it was read wrong, because we just couldn't use that much power. It just had to be running too fast, this is like blaming the cash register at the store for the high grocery bill.

Todays meters are incredibly accurate, if ever wrong they will be too slow as proven by thousands of checks.

A gradual accumulation of new appliances along with the extended cold weather we have experienced since early in December, add the holiday season, the long winter nights, and together they have created the largest bills we have ever had, not an inaccurate meter.

Somehow when we settle down in our favorite easy chair in the comfort of automatic heat to watch television its hard to relate our comfort to the days of no electricity.

It takes a considerable amount of equipment doing its work and many people performing their specialized jobs to make life for you and me a little more pleasant electrically.

Duane Purcell and Gunnar Swanson were named co-chairmen of the Community Improvement Program at Laurel during a meeting Monday evening at the city auditorium.

Named secretary of the group was Robert Gadeken. Mrs. Marlen Kraemer was named news reporter.

Committees were appointed to work on the seven different community projects which will be entered in the statewide contest.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, Feb. 22, at 7:30. Each club representative is asked to select one or more program names and a community motto.

A scrapbook will be purchased in the near future and a committee will be named to work on it so it can be entered in the contest.

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: When a deceased person is entitled to both a Social Security and Veterans death benefit allowance, how is the distribution made?

ANSWER: The lump sum Social Security benefit is paid to the veteran's widow with no funeral cost, if she was living with her husband. The $250.00 Veterans funeral benefit usually is paid to the mortuary.

If there is no widow, or the widow was estranged from her husband, Social Security will pay as a death benefit only the difference between the Veterans allowance and the cost of the funeral. The maximum payable under these circumstances may not exceed the Social Security entitlement; this ranges from $165 to $255.

Feel free to contact our office for copies of the latest official bulletins concerning Social Security and Veterans benefits, as well as other survivors rights and benefits.

Devils Repeat 3rd Time As Husker Mat Champs

By Norvin Hansen

Wayne's Jim Meyer and Steve Kamish combined to bring home two gold medals as the Blue Devils wrestled for their third straight Husker Conference tournament crown. Their has been in existence for just three years.

Wayne bettered Plainville, winners in a dual over the Devils early in the season, by seven points, 92-45, for top honors in the meet.

Meyer, wrestling at 126 pounds, gained two pins and two decisions on his way to his championship finish. Kamish, down one division to 167 pounds, marked up two pins and a decision over Wakefield's fine Kirk Gardner in the finals for his showing. He drew a bye in the opening round.

Taking second place for the Blue Devil squad was Blaine Rubeck at 119 pounds. He pulled off a decision and a pin before falling to Wisner-Pilger's Steve Frisz in the championship round.

Six squad members managed to pull off third-place finishes in the tournament. Wayne sent all but two wrestlers into the consolation and championship rounds: Terry Pfeiffer at 105 pounds, Mark Beiermann at 122, Brad Pfeiffer at 138, Tony Pfeiffer at 145, Rod Sievers at 155 and Dave Johnson at heavy weight. Wayne's entry at 185 pounds, Lynn Gunderson, ended up fourth in the tourney.

Wakefield's two highly successful wrestlers, Gardner and Steve Oswald, pulled off runner-up showings in the meet as the Trojans rolled up 39 points for a tie with Pender for sixth spot in the tourney.

Gardner gained a pin and two decisions before losing to Kamish. Oswald, 132 pounds, gained a pin and two decisions before losing to Tekamah-Herman's entry in the meet.

Three Wakefield grapplers earned fourth places: Devon Fischer at 105 pounds, Steve Sorensen at 126 pounds and Bruce Lahr at 145 pounds.

How they finished:

Athlete of the Week

Jim Meyer

By Norvin Hansen

Not too often does a wrestler get chosen for "Athlete of the Week" honors when he gets beaten. This week's selection, however, is an unusual case.

Wayne High's Jim Meyer, last area athlete singled out for the distinction, lost a 4-3 decision to Schuyler's Charles Sabs in last week's dual at the city auditorium. But the effort he put out in that match—plus the championship finish at the Husker Conference tournament Saturday—earns him the tag.

There are probably few 126-pound Class B wrestlers in the state who could give Sabs as good a contest as Meyer gave him last week. But even at that, the loss was probably especially disappointing to the Wayne lad, considering he had wrestled a tie with Sabs in the Albion Invitational only a few days before. Meyer lost that match after the two were still tied following overtime on a referee's decision.

At the Husker Conference meet, Meyer took on all comers, gaining two pins and two decisions on his way to his gold medal.

That tournament gold medal, by the way, was the third one for him this season. He also capped top honors at tourneys at Wahoo and Blair. He took second at Albion, behind Sabs.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Meyer of rural Wayne, young Meyer is called possibly the most coachable boy Don Koehnig has ever had. "There's lots of things you could say about him," Koehnig says. "He's smart, he never misses a practice and he's never late."

In his fourth year of prep wrestling, Jim has compiled a 22-3 mark this season, his other loss coming in the dual with O'Neill. But he wasted little time in avenging that defeat, whipping the same youth in the Albion Invitational a little over a week later.

A Meyer-Sabs confrontation is very likely to develop during the district tournament at Wahoo this Friday and Saturday, for both Wayne and Schuyler are bound for that meet.

Team I Finishes 1st In City Cage Action

Team I lost a 72-65 decision to Team III in Monday night's city recreation basketball action, but still managed to emerge on top of the league with a 7-3 record.

Play-off action started Wednesday night, continues Monday and ends next Wednesday.

Don Koerber's 22 points paced III to its win Monday. Harlan Frese had 27 for the losers.

Also winning Monday: Team VI with a 70-64 decision over Team IV as Dennis Spangler hit 23 for the winners and Jim Florine hit 30 for the losers, and Team II with a 67-50 win over Team V as Ken Dahl hit 27 for the winners and John D'Arcy compiled 15 for the losers.

Second in the league was Team V with a 6-4 season mark. Tied for third were Teams III, IV and VI with 5-5 records. Team II trailed with a 2-8 mark.

Eagles Clip Walthill, Lose at Emerson

By Ron Anderson

Five first quarter shooting by senior center Jerome Roberts may have proved to be the spark that enabled Coach Buster Vanon's Allen Eagles to outdistance Walthill Saturday night. Roberts dropped in eight of the first ten points for the Eagles in the opening period of play. That game, which saw the Eagles trailing by four at the end of the third period—47-43—ended with a 64-54 win for the Eagles.

Roberts added eight more to his first quarter tally for a game total of 16. Loren Reuter, another offensive standout for the Eagles during the 1970-71 campaign, equalled his field shooting percentage against Wakefield again Saturday night, pumping in 16 of 31 field goals for a respectable 50 per cent average. Reuter added three from the charity stripe to give him a game total of 35 points.

Other Eagle scoring was evenly balanced, with John Warner adding six, Gary Troth five and Brian Lindester two.

In the rebounding department

Warner, Roberts and Troth divided defensive chores, with Warner pulling down 10 from the boards, while Roberts and Troth each picked off eight. Loren Reuter brought down five to fill out Allen's total of 31.

Jeff Gilpin led in the scoring department for the Walthill quintet, shooting in six from the field and adding two more free

Warner were standouts for the Eagles. Roberts pulled down 11 from the boards with Warner capturing 10 rebounds.

The men shared scoring for the Emerson squad. Leading T-H was Kelley with 20, followed closely by Huggenberger with 18 and Alexander with 16.

In reserve action the Eagle's 'B' squad, minus their freshman and sophomore players, dropped a close one to the Emerson reserves, 39-37. Ray Brentlinger and Tim Hill were top scorers for the reserves with 11 each.

Future action will see the Eagles meet Emerson-Lubbard Friday night.

ones for a total of 14 for the night, followed closely by Ward Cline with 12 and Curtis Walker and Joe Hightree, who scored 11 and 10 respectively.

Allen's reserve squad and volleyball team added the icing to that Eagle win Saturday night, as they added a pair of victories to the varsity win.

The reserve basketballers played catch-up basketball, as they trailed the Walthill squad, 21-17, at the end of the first half of play, then went on to take the game by a narrow 35-33 margin.

Sophomore Duane Mitchell led the 'B' team with 11 points, followed by Charlie Peters with seven and Reg Brentlinger and Pete Snyder with six each.

In volleyball action, the Allen Eagleslet down the Walthill girls, 15-11, and 15-14 to give them their victory. Top scorer for the Allen sextet was Janell Hassler with 12.

In Tuesday night action a strong fourth-quarter rally fell short as the Eagles fell before Emerson Sacred Heart, 61-58.

The Allen squad, down by as many as 19 points in the third period of play, trailed by 11 with 3:25 left to play. The Eagles outscored the E-H team, 23-14, in the fourth stanza, however, to bring the score to a narrow three-point margin.

Eagle Coach Euster Yarnon attributed Tuesday night's loss to fouls—Allen 22 times, Emerson 18—and shooting from the free throw line—Allen capturing 10 points from the charity line, E-H 17.

Loren Reuter captured scoring honors for the Eagles, sinking 11 field goals and five at the line for 27 points. He was followed by Jerome Roberts with five from the field and two free throws for 12 points.

Dual Swimming Meet Set at WSC Friday

A double dual swimming meet is on the Wayne State schedule Friday afternoon at 4 when the Wildcats host North Dakota State University and Regis College of Denver.

Wayne has one more dual at home with Concordia Feb. 24—before the NAIA District II meet here March 5-6.

Grapplers to Meet Tough Foes

Grapplers from Wayne High will have to compete against foes from such wrestling powerhouses as Albion and Wahoo when they seek a berth in the state wrestling tournament during district action this Friday and Saturday.

The squad, which compiled a respectable dual mark of 4-5-1 against some strong competition, will be taking part in the district tournament at Wahoo those two days this week. Other district tournaments for Class B schools are scheduled for Seward, Sidney and Cozad.

Sending wrestlers to the Wahoo meet will be Wisner-Pilger, Randolph, Ashland, Blair, Columbus Lakeview, Hooper Logan View, Omaha Cathedral, Omaha Gross, Plat-smouth, Schuyler, Tekamah-Herman, Albion and Wahoo.

Wayne High's team, coached again this year by Don Koenig, won the Husker Conference tournament at Neligh over the weekend to successfully defend its title. The squad placed eighth at the Wahoo Invitational tournament, second at the Blair Invitational and sixth at the Albion Invitational.

The top three finishers in each weight class at Wahoo will earn a ticket to the state tournament following Friday and Saturday in Lincoln. With the winners in the other district meets, there will be a dozen grapplers in each weight class at Lincoln to compete for top honors.

District Foes Selected

Laurel will meet West Point, Catholic and Wayne will meet Crofton in the two opening games of the Class B district basketball tournament scheduled for Norfolk High School March 11.

Meeting the second night will be Pierce and Hartington Cedar Catholic, Wisner-Pilger and Randolph.

Laurel, with an 11-5 record, was seeded first in the tourney. Randolph, 10-6, was seeded second.

Winner of the Laurel-West Point game meets winner of the Wayne-Crofton game in the first game March 3. Winners of the other two games clash following that contest. Finals are slated for 7:30 Friday night, March 5.

Games the first three nights are set for 7 and 8:30.

Seeds and pairings were determined during a luncheon meeting of school coaches and officials in Wayne Monday.

Pilger 6-7, Hartington CC 6-10, Pierce 7-6, Crofton 6-2 and West Point CC 3-9.

Time for A 'Miss Athlete of the Week'?

By Norvin Hansen

Although we don't usually print letters unless they are signed, the one we received from "A Believer" in the Laurel area deserves at least to be quoted from.

Reason for the letter: to recommend a Laurel High girl for the newspaper's "Athlete of the Week" column. The girl, June Pearson, competes in the school's intramural basketball program and, according to the letter, shows considerable "cool" under pressure.

When her team was behind by two points in the closing seconds of a recent game, she made two free throws on a one-and-one situation to force the game into overtime. Then she plunked in another free throw to help her squad to a 15-14 win. She came up with eight points in the game, six of them from nearly opportunities.

We're glad to call attention to Miss Pearson, but we limit the people who are considered for that weekly-honor to athletes in competitive sports on the high school level. If we didn't limit it, there would be no end to the number of people - many of them very deserving - who could qualify. As it is, it's a demanding task but keeping track of the top athletes from five schools - football, basketball, wrestling and track.

By the way, suggestions for that honor are welcomed by the newspaper, whether from fans, schoolmates or others. Since we usually have several athletic contests from which to choose the "Athlete," it's possible we are missing a youth who is consistently turning in commendable performances.

Three right and four wrong, that's how correct we were in calling the outcomes of cage contests over the past weekend. That knocked our average for the season to just over 60 per cent - 28 right, 17 wrong.

Picks for coming action: Friday - Wisner-Pilger over Wayne, Allen over Emerson-Hubbard, Laurel over Plainview, Homer over Wakefield and Winside over Hartington High; Saturday - South Sioux over Wayne, Allen over Hartington High and Laurel over Croton.

Wayne High's basketball team deserves better luck, dropping two games over the past weekend by just a few points after holding slim leads late in the contest.

Did you notice where Bob Devaney's salary was hiked from $29,700 to $32,000 annually, his reward for guiding the Cornhuskers to a national championship in football. True, he's not only the NU football coach but also something of a public relations man for the whole state. But $32,000 worth?

Trojans Clip South Sioux Allen-Hartington Meet in Class C Cage Tournament

Kirk Gardner produced a pin against his South Sioux opponent to insure a victory for the Wakefield wrestling club in its last dual action of the season Tuesday night. The Trojans won the squeaker, 21-20, upping their dual mark to 5-4 for the season.

Wakefield went into the 167-pound class with a 16-15 lead but knowing the 185-pound class would have to be forfeited because of no Trojan entry. Gardner's record for the year ended at an enviable 17-2 after the fall in 3:35.

Another successful Trojan, Steve Oswald at 132 pounds, gained a pin in 2:50 over his Cardinal foe to up his mark to 14-2 for the season.

Also winning their matches were Steve Sorenson at 125, 3-0, and Bruce Lahr at 145, 7-6. Losing: Devon Fischer at 105, 3-0; Dave Bodlak at 112, 7-4; Dave Carlson at 119, 6-0; Jere Schroeder at 138, 2-0, and Jack Sleviers at 155, 4-3.

Wakefield's Dave Rouse won the 98-pound class when South Sioux was unable to field a wrestler. Wakefield forfeited the heavyweight division, reverse situation.

Results of Wakefield entries in the abbreviated reserve action: Greg Holm won at 119 pounds, 7-4; Kevin Pulis lost at 132, fall in 2:35; Bob Twite lost at 138, pin in 5:38; Mike Oswald lost at 140, pin in 5:56; Don Lindstrom lost at 145, 10-0; and Dan Brown lost at 163, fall in 3:33.

Devil Quintet Facing Tough Weekend

Wayne High's basketball team, victim of back-to-back losses over the weekend, faces two tough tests this weekend - at Wisner-Pilger Friday night and at South Sioux City Saturday night.

Against the Gators, the locals step out of conference, going in to East Husker territory. Against the Cardinals, they step out of a class, getting their first go at a Class A team after having their bout with Papillion early in the season cancelled.

The Devils are still licking their wounds from the two narrow losses they suffered last weekend - both after holding narrow leads in the closing moments.

After suffering a 62-59 loss at Emerson-Hubbard Friday, the local quintet battled four full quarters of action before dropping a 52-50 contest to Schuyler Saturday night. Stalling for the last shot with the score knotted at 50-50, Wayne had the ball stolen with seconds left on the clock. The theft produced a lay-up and a loss for the local team, its ninth in 13 starts.

Wayne exhibited a balanced scoring attack - five players hitting, each for three or more - while fighting to a 19-19 tie at the first quarter break. The locals went into intermission trailing by four, 34-30, as sophomore Doug Sturm came up with six points and senior Mike Creighton with five for Wayne's only scoring.

Wayne's defense limited Schuyler to one field goal in the final period, but high point scorer Duane Spale (22 points) hit five of six free throws to help insure the victory.

Creighton, one of Wayne's most consistent point producers and defensive standouts, had 16 counters for honors on his squad. Next closest: Sturm and Junior Lonnie Billoft with nine each. Kyle Willis' 11 rebounds and Don Maul's nine helped Wayne keep up with the husky visitors under the boards. Schuyler won that contest, 40-37.

Wayne hit 34 per cent from the field (20 of 59), just better than Schuyler's 31 per cent (18 of 58). At the line the visitors made 16 of 22 shots for a fine 73 per cent; Wayne hit 10 of 18 for 56 per cent.

The two Nelson boys, sophomore Randy and Junior Bob, combined forces to help lead the reserves to their 66-64 win. Randy connected for 17 points, Bob for 16 in a near replay of the varsity contest. Also hitting in two figures for the locals, who trailed at halftime by 22-31, were Tom Kerstine with 11 and Ron Magnuson with 10. Larry Shyle collected nine, Steve Mordhorst three.

Laurel Gamble fails; win streak ends at 9

Laurel players started getting in trouble, Moore tried to stall for the win. The plan failed and the hosts managed to scratch into an 82-82 tie by the final buzzer.

Laurel, with workhorse Steve Erwin on the bench with five fouls, was unable to keep up in the extra period as three more regulars fouled out. The Falcons pumped in 17 points and limited the Bears to just eight.

Following Erwin to the bench were Paul McCoy, Brent Johnson and Regg Swanson, who sent the game into overtime with his field goal after high scorer George Schroeder missed his shot at the bucket with less than 10 seconds to play.

Schroeder had his finest night of the season despite the loss, producing 27 points and coming up with eight rebounds. Erwin came up with 12 points and 19 rebounds before going out with about four minutes left in the contest.

Also in double figures for the Bears - Steve Smith with 17 points and Johnson and McCoy with 10 each.

Elkhorn Valley's Dick Bethwisch, a 6-1 senior, tossed in 34 points to lead his Class C team to the win over Class B Laurel.

Laurel lost the reserve contest, also in an overtime contest, 57-51. The score was tied at 48-all at the end of regulation time.

Sanchell Wins in Gloves

Joe Sanchell, a big 250-pounder from Wayne State, won a split decision Saturday night over Jim Materus of Peterburg to earn advancement to the Omaha Golden Gloves tournament next Thursday over Saturday.

If Sanchell, who stands about 6-5, wins at Omaha he would advance to the national Golden Gloves tournament slated for Fort Worth, Tex.

Wayne's other entry in the Norfolk tournament, Vaughn Korth, lost a decision to light heavyweight Carroll Webster of Macy to knock him out of the action. Korth had posted a KO over Sonny Westerman of Norfolk Thursday night to advance into Saturday's final round.

Sanchell posted a knockout against his Thursday night foe, Charlie Aldrich of Macy, in 1:06 of the opening round.

Ken Moody of Emerson won over Dale Krbek of Verdigr

we have been doing pretty well lately as a second-half team."

One factor possibly is the injury to Dennis Siefkes, who suffered a broken nose in the first half of the Kearney game Thursday. Wayne went on to beat the Antelopes without him. Saturday he played most of the way against Doane, scoring 13 points, and he hit 15 against Westmar. But Coach Jones figures the injury had to hamper efficiency of his 6-7 center: "He's a bit edgy."

Laurel High Girls Win Loop Trophy

Laurel High's volleyball girls came up with the 100th win for Coach Vince Bramer when they knocked off Wisner-Pilger to win the Husker Conference volleyball tournament at Wayne State College Saturday afternoon.

The girls defeated their opponents in two sets, 15-8 and 17-15, to cap a full day of victories and earn top trophy in the tourney.

Wisner-Pilger, also after drawing a bye, dominated Plainview and West Point to earn a shot at the championship trophy.

Top point producer for the Laurel team in the tourney was Kathy Brandow with 32. Jan Harrington, Anita Ward and Jean Haskell were top spikers, and Jane Kwois, Nancy Dirks and Kathy Brandow were tops in assists.

Also competing in the tourney were teams from Bloomfield, Scribner, Lyons, Stanton and Wakefield.

The team from Wakefield dominated Scribner in the opening round of action Saturday, then fell to Pierce and Neligh.

Final rebounding figures showed Doane ahead by one, 49 to 48, and the only important difference was field shooting percentage - Wayne 39, Doane 46.

Westmar had to gain from a 21-10 deficit seven minutes into the first half to catch the Wildcats and go ahead to stay nine minutes into the second half.

The host Eagles won the rebounding battle with 47-31, and got 28 points from Curt Strathman for the winning margin. Their record: 4-15.

Freshman Ronnie Jones continued his scoring surge as he led Wayne with 17. He has hit 10 or more in eight of the last nine games.

Mayville Win Ups Dual Mark For WS to 4-3

Wayne State wrestlers were scheduled for one of their traditional battles Wednesday night in Rice Gym with Westmar, one of the nation's rated teams.

The Wildcats made their season dual record 4-3 Friday with a 24-13 win over Mayville State of North Dakota at Mayville. They were supposed to go against Bemidji State of Minnesota, too, but a weigh-in mixup turned that meet into an unofficial scrimmage.

Max Brannum kept his Wayne record tied this year with a thirteenth victory, over Mayville 150-pounder Freeman Simons, 6-0. National champion Ken Monroe had to settle for a 4-4 draw with Leslie Jackson at 167 pounds. Kent Irwin stretched his win string to six with a handy 15-2 decision over Roger Nelson at 126.

Going into the last two matches, Wayne led 14-13. Then Dennis Reid pinned Dean Swanson in 6:50 in the 190-pound class, and heavyweight Ron Coles topped it off pinning George Nelson in 6:20.

Crime Commission to Hear Youths

Members of the Region 11 and 25 Joint Planning Commission for law enforcement and criminal justice will have a group of young guests with them during their regular meeting in Norfolk today (Thursday).

Youths from several counties were invited to the meeting to discuss the possibility of setting up a subcommittee to the crime commission consisting of young people. If established, Weible said, the youths would form a

Participants will have an opportunity to finish at least one project or may choose to come and listen. Each person will pay for the crafts used.

Anyway, the fellow who will perform Sunday night at 8 in Rice Auditorium is the current singing star and also the Ozzie and Harriet son. His appearance here is sponsored by the college student activity fee program series. Free to WSC students, the show is open to the public. Tickets available at the door for $2.50.

the difference BETWEEN BEING OPEN FOR BUSINESS...

Members of the Winside Community Club and other businessmen in that village plan to have the sausage sizzling, pancakes frying and syrup flowing Saturday during the annual Valentine Pancake Feed.

Dale Langenberg and Earl Westfall are in charge of arrangements. Langenberg said Winside is opening its heart in appreciation of people's patronage during the last year.

The pancake feed will get underway in the village auditorium at 4 p.m. Serving will end at 8 p.m. The pancakes, sausage and trimmings are all free, Langenberg said.

Area residents are welcome to attend.

Way Back When

Drawings Need Revamping

A dozen names have been called in the weekly Cash Night drawings held in Wayne without a winner being present. That's quite a long list of names. It should tell us a number of things. Probably the most important thing we can learn from that list is something that many people probably already know—that the format for the weekly drawing should be revamped and re-vitalized. We find it hard to believe that people will not become greatly interested in cash giveaways if those giveaways are interesting and exciting. We feel the present giveaway falls to stir the interest and excitement of a great number of shoppers and businessmen. The Chamber of Commerce has a committee which is reportedly thinking about changing the format of the weekly drawing. We hope it goes to work on this as quickly as possible before that list of non-winners becomes even longer. About a year ago there was talk of changing the weekly drawings to make them more healthy. We hope the current talk reaps results. After all, we're talking about the health of the city when we talk about the health of the weekly drawing. —NLIH.

Food Stamp Smorgasbord

Sales of federal food stamps at the Wayne County Welfare Office have doubled and tripled since the federal assistance program was first started in April, 1969. Those sales have jumped from 17 households buying $321.75 of food stamps valued at $388 in April, 1969 to whopping 149 households buying the stamps in January, 1971. Those buying in January paid $1,883 for stamps valued at $9,184. Total 1970 food stamp sales in the county amounted to something over $13,300. Those stamps were good for purchasing $42,169 in groceries. On a national scale, it has taken only 156 weeks for the food stamp program to mushroom from $195 million per year to $1.75 billion. Three years ago the question was whether $195 million per year was enough money for the program and whether 20 per cent was too much for states to pay for their share. The question today is whether $2 billion is enough and whether strikers and college students should get the stamps. Will the federal food stamp program continue to climb up and up to $3 billion and more? Few people would object to low-income families making good use of the food stamps. There does seem, however, to be considerable controversy over whether or not people on strike should qualify for the stamps and whether thousands of college pupils should be making use of the program. Getting food stamps is certainly not getting something for nothing from the government. What the stamp purchaser doesn't pay, the rest of the taxpayers do. We feel the food stamp program is a good thing if used as intended, but may be costly if abused. —MMW.

Hospital Petitions

Most of the petitions concerning the creation of a hospital district in the immediate area are now in. There are reportedly a few less than 800 signatures on the petitions or about twice the number needed to bring the issue before the commissioners of Wayne County. Signatures were gathered from throughout the entire proposed hospital district including portions of Wayne, Dixon and Cedar Counties. The signatures are expected to be presented to the county commissioners Feb. 16. Once the commissioners call for an election, a majority vote is required to form the hospital district. A second election would be required before the district could issue bonds to construct a new hospital. The proposed area of the district has an assessed valuation of around $45 million dollars and the present estimate of cost to taxpayers for a hospital is approximately two mills. Residents of Wayne are now paying one mill for the present Wayne Hospital. If the hospital district is formed, 400-500 members of the Wayne City Council have pledged their support of the project—by the transfer of assets of the present hospital when legally permitted to do so. Did those approximate 800 real estate owners who signed the petitions actually know what they were doing? We believe they did. Those signing the petitions are among those foresighted enough to realize that everyone will benefit from a new hospital. True, we may not personally need to be in a hospital today, but chances are that we or some member of the family will need it in the near future. Every voter in the proposed hospital district would do well to give the proposal his best consideration. —MMW.

Out of Old

Nebraska

Stephen F. Gilman and the Neligh Mills. Many articles have appeared regarding the history of Neligh Mills, recently acquired by the Nebraska State Historical Society. However, little attention has been given to the man responsible for the success and longevity of the mill and the community. In December 1898, Stephen F. Gilman purchased the economically bankrupt Neligh Mills at Neligh, Nebraska, from the United States Real Estate Company. Although Gilman was a highly successful businessman in the milling industry in Illinois and Iowa, his purchase in Neligh was not his first contact with northern Nebraska, for he had earlier purchased the Minnehadza Mills at Valentine and the Pierce Milling Company at Pierce. Before Gilman bought the Neligh Mills, the enterprise had been in obvious difficulties. After studying its dismal record and applying his excellent background in the milling area, Gilman made extensive innovations, such as the installation of a new roller system, enlargement of the elevator facilities, and increased concentration on the flour and feed business. New products such as "Non-All Chick Food" introduced in 1906, and "Magic Self Rising Pancake Flour" in 1915, are examples of the mill's desire to meet the new demands of the public. "With the improvements in operation and products, the mill's markets became world-wide. Basically, however, the bulk of the output was contracted by the United States Government for the Army and Indian Department. One contract with the Indian Department completed in 1909 was for 2,000,000 pounds of flour which was shipped to such diverse locations as North Carolina, Wyoming, Michigan, and South Dakota. Throughout these active years, the mill's products were also sent to several foreign countries, including Scotland, England and Germany. Gilman's personal interests, however, extended beyond his business efforts. He was a major contributor toward the betterment of his adopted city. In 1900 he was responsible for the installation of the first electric light plant in northern Nebraska, west of Norfolk. At this time water power was used exclusively for the mill and the city's light plant, but in 1905 a 100 horse power engine was installed for use as auxiliary power during times of high and low water. Finally, in 1915 a 225 horse power diesel engine costing approximately $20,000 was installed in order to insure a constant power supply, not only for the mill's facilities but also for the city's power plant. On November 1, 1915, Mr. Gilman died at Cody, Nebraska, at the age of 71. An indication of the respect he enjoyed can be clearly seen in the Neligh mayor's proclamation that the hours of the funeral were to be set aside to honor Gilman for his "active interest in public affairs and especially in those affecting the up-building and welfare of the City of Neligh." Certainly this man had not only advanced his own local business, but had been a key contributor toward the development of his city, state and nation.

WINTER WOES by Purson

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES

The Safe Winter Driving League warns motorists: "Keep your windshield as well as the side and rear windows clear at all times. Replace dead wiper blades with live, new ones to prevent streaking. Make sure that your windshield washers have an adequate supply of anti-freeze solution. Don't try to be a 'peep-hole pilot.'"

Doubters Made Believers; Exon Budget Within Limits

LINCOLN — If any governor's initial budget proposal ever arrived after months of sustained fanfare, it was the spending recommendation offered last week by Gov. J. J. Exon.

Starting more than a year ago — before he had become a formal candidate — Exon began his campaign against the spending policies of his eventual opponent, Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Tiemann's chief foe in the Republican primary last spring, former State Sen. Clifton B. Balchelder of Omaha, also played the taxing and spending theme.

Tiemann survived that race — barely. During the fall, Democrat Exon repeatedly attacked Tiemann spending policies.

Exon pledged that if he were governor he would propose a budget which would be financed by the 1970 sales and income tax rates. He challenged Tiemann to make the same pledge almost every time the two candidates made a joint appearance.

Tiemann said he couldn't commit himself in advance and implied Exon shouldn't either.

Exon, of course, won the election and in post-victory statements repeated his pledge to keep his budget within the limits of the 1970 rates of 2 1/2 per cent for the sales tax and 13 per cent for the individual income tax.

Just before the election, Tiemann, as chairman of the State Board of Equalization, led a move to lower the income tax rate to 10 per cent for the 1971 calendar year.

That had the effect of making it tougher for Exon to draft a budget without raising the rates because it reduced the 1971 revenues.

As he was inaugurated last month, Exon said he wouldn't seek an income tax hike for this calendar year but he still would submit a budget within the revenue boundaries of the 1971 10 per cent rate and a 13 per cent rate in 1972. The sales tax rate would remain static at 2 1/2 per cent throughout.

In addition to Tiemann's campaign doubting, there were others who said they didn't think Exon could achieve his budget goals without "retrenchment."

When the Exon budget was unveiled last week, the governor remembered the doubters.

"They said we could not hold the line. We say we can. You have proof of that today in this budget," he told the Legislature.

He had more words for the doubters, too.

"There were and are those who contemplate the new administration with foreboding," he said. "Some who should have better considered our inaugural message one of 'retrenchment.'"

"If prudence in spending and taxation retrenchment, then we are guilty. We halt the established tendencies to write a blank check to every special interest group, good or bad, worthy or questionable, regardless of its impact on the pocket of Nebraska taxpayers."

retrenchment, then this governor is prepared to accept such a description of his administration with enthusiasm and thanks."

"The fears of the big spenders and their dreams of higher taxes and special projects," Exon said, "are not likely to be calmed by this budget."

The governor said the "austere approach" to many outlandish programs hadn't been easy, "but anything worthwhile seldom is."

One thing which made it harder, Exon said, was the size of the budget requests submitted by agency heads during what turned out to be the last months of the Tiemann administration.

"This state has been on a crash program to out-do itself on spending and taxation," he said. "Your new administration has assumed the controls and is applying the brakes of no tax increases at the state level. We are setting a new tone for responsible action."

"We have carefully, deftly, but deeply, employed the surgeon's scalpel as opposed to the meat ax in trimming off layer after layer of fat from the most monstrous budget proposals ever presented a new administration."

"Yet," Exon told the lawmakers, "we have not fled from legitimate needs and are recommending the largest budget in the state's history — but one that can be financed with intelligent and prudent administration, without a sales and income tax increase."

"I ask the members of the Legislature to join with me," he said, "to stave off demands for tax increases despite the unbelievable pressure that will surely come."

"Some of the heftiest slashes with Exon's 'scalpel' were made in the budget request from the University of Nebraska. The day the NU budget request first was announced, Exon had expressed shock at its size and he said during the campaign it was "way too high."

NU Chancellor Durward B. Varner had toured the state in defense of the request, which he said must be met if the university is to become the best in the Big Eight.

In presenting his budget message to the Legislature last week, Exon said: "The University of Nebraska is a great university by any reasonable standard and we have programmed a budget that we are convinced will keep it in the forefront."

Dear Editor:

I am a senior nursing student at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine at Omaha. I am very proud of the quality of education available at this school as well as throughout the state.

However, I have become deeply alarmed about the state's ability to maintain this rating if the proposed tax budget goes into effect. If the amount of money requested is provided, the medical campus enrollment can increase from 1,035 to 1,435 within two years. However, if Exon's proposed budget goes into effect, the enrollment may have to be frozen. That is, no increase or minimal increase would be allowed.

The original request for funds at the medical center was $20,000,000 (twenty million) for the '71-'72 year. The amount allotted in the proposed budget is only $16,000,000 (sixteen million). The latter figure seems even more important if one realizes that almost half of these funds are to come from the patients themselves. Traditionally, University Hospital has provided care for patients who are unable to pay. This past year, patients bills

How can we allow something like this to happen? Already Nebraska has the lowest faculty-student ratio in the big eight medical centers (1 faculty member to every 4.5 students, compared with the national average of 1 faculty to every 1.5 students). The cut in funds may also limit research of our medical center as well as prevent the development of two new medical personnel training programs.

Once before I have written to The Wayne Herald requesting concerned citizens to take action and write their legislators expressing their concern. Action was taken and fortunately, the medical center was able to accept more nursing students into our school as a result. Again I'd like to make this request so that our medical campus can grow and expand and thus meet some of the demands of our state in the future.

The Little Pulpit

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." Gen. 1:25-27 KJV.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Poor Aristotle Dimitri Papanicolaou. He was doomed to die. A tourist told him.

After 103 years of normal living, of enjoyable plain existence, this notice of death, Ari had fished six days a week on the Blue Aegean Sea. For over 30 years he enjoyed his vices — smoking cigarettes and his pipe, and lately escorting the young widow, Yianna Loues, to the cabaret where they enjoyed two, maybe three bottles of Vin Rosa.

Lucky for Ari, he met the tourist. The time must have been 3 or 4 a.m. He had danced with great dignity and strength, proving his masculinity. True, he kept a secret. Why tell anyone he spent but one night a week with the lovely Yianna, while bragging three or four, inwardly Ari had blamed his masculinity change on the poor quality wine grapes since 1965. Given grapes of '56, he might act like a Turkish Sultan.

Romeo Tucci, the Sicilian fisherman and tourist guide, had brought this well-dressed man to meet Ari.

"Ari Dimitri, my tourist friend was once a great athlete in the United States in 1942. While we were fighting Mussolini-Hitler in the mountains, he played volleyball for Harvard University and has been three times on the U.S. Olympic selection committee. It is said he walks 20 miles each weekend, swims at his own Athletic Club and takes Turkish baths. He has been drinking. With loud talk he challenged anyone in the cabaret to arm wrestle. His unpleasant wife selected you."

Wrinkled face but flat belled, Ari sat opposite this 200-pound American. Ari was amazed at the puffy softness, and the sinning manœuvre of this impressive man. His own gnarled hands, thick, calloused, burned so often by sizzling fish lines, burned brown with the sun, were dwarfed by the giant blonde visitor.

"Go!"

Ari merely resisted. He thought: "Oh, the tourist is polite. Rather than embarrass me, he merely makes pretense of strain, but I must go along with his joke."

A crowd gathered. The tourist grew red. The sweat poured. Ari merely smiled and resisted. Occasionally he took a sip of the Vin Rosa. Smiled, that is, until the lovely widow, Yianna Loues, was heard to say: "The American is handsome."

Ari was shocked. After one powerful surge, the Americans' muscles crashed the table.

Another try. This time, in less than five seconds, the American was crushed. "Imagine, beaten by a man probably born in Teddy Roosevelt's administration. What do you eat old man? How can you be so strong?"

"Goat cheese and Mousaka and beef and fish. Then I drink milk, wine and water."

"Goat cheese, milk and beef-tah! Those are sure killers. They put fat globules in the blood stream. And fish! With the Mercury content in fish we found in the laboratories, you're lucky you met me. You won't last a week!"

After spending several precious hours with Yianna, Ari sought solitude at home. To think, to prepare for his final days, maybe hours.

A knock at the door. "Twas Tucci, the Sicilian."

"Ari, I have had bad misfortune. Mr. Lorin McKinley Sr. Pierre was carried by stretcher to the hospital. My employer suffered an ulcer, whatever that is."

"He kept telling me he must not go to the hospital but he must prevent the cowboys from eating fish they catch in farm ponds. Nikrats poisoning. He said fish swim in water and everything goes into their system. Ari, he is a smart man. So good, he is saving the world, as he said, by ecology. Lucky we met him. Suddenly Ari sat up. "Liar! Tucci, if a fish system is like the surrounding water, why do I add salt to Red Snapper I catch in the sea? Wine was pleasant until the tourist tells me of the many impurities. I drink water for years without being protected by laboratories."

"Tucci, we are fools. Get out the nets, we shall fish all night. And find me a history book. Was Teddy Roosevelt president before or after George Washington? Politics has meant little to me."

NOTE: You, too soon, will be saved by ecologists. Often with limp wrists, three years ago considered bumbling idiots, today more important than a traveling preacher in the Black Baptist Belt of East Texas. Given authority by the panic stricken, by the squirmish, by the politician opportunist. They are a greater threat than the problem itself.

Incidentally, Mom, good market recovery, eh?

"Ah Ma, he's just another cattle buyer — It's George Washington who never told a lie!"

Tolman to Talk to Feeders

Grain levels in growing programs is what Walt Tolman will be speaking on during his presentation at the Beef Cattle Feeders Day at Randolph, Exeter and Kearney.

Tolman, area beef specialist at the Northeast Station at Concord, will speak at Randolph Thursday, discussing the results of several years of trials at the Station which indicate that total efficiency is decreased with higher grain levels in the growing ration. The other two programs are set for Feb. 18 and 19.

The programs are being sponsored by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service and Department of Animal Science.

Other speakers on the programs will talk about waste management, corn processing, wheat in cattle rations, choosing supplements, prevention of disease

Walt Tolman among new arrivals and Nebraska's anticipated share of future feeding.

County Agent's Column

by Harold Ingalls

Trees have Beneficial Effect Nebraska communities whose tree stands have been devastated by the onslaught of Dutch elm disease or American elms should undertake the challenge of replacing lost trees as a means of improving environmental quality.

This advice comes from Ellsworth H. Benson, acting forester, who notes that "this must be done because even a dozen more trees can do much to improve the environment of a single urban block."

Large cities are realizing that they have waited far too long to appreciate the great value of trees to environment. Many large cities are now putting special emphasis on tree and shrub planting projects. Nebraskans should take stock of their present favorable situation and not follow the same path into treelessness.

Trees and shrubs play a vital role in the ecology of life processes. They are part of a natural environment which regenerates the air humans and animals breathe by absorbing carbon dioxide and producing oxygen.

In urbanization, nature has been conquered through the clearing of land and the building of living and working quarters. Green plants have largely disappeared from the urban scene. We must now replace them and re-create an environment which will renew the air.

Plants enrich the environment in many other important ways, including:

- Controlling of temperature.
- Trapping dust in the air.
- Protecting and beautifying streets, homes, parks, highways and playgrounds.
- Controlling wind and noise.
- Providing a home for wildlife.

'Tractor Drivers Need Valid License'

A farm tractor is a self-propelled vehicle, requiring a tractor operator with a valid driver's license when being driven on a public roadway.

This is the gist of the ruling in a recent Nebraska Supreme Court case, reports Rollin Schneider, University of Nebraska Extension safety specialist, who emphasizes the far-reaching implications of the finding for farmers and other Nebraska citizens.

In reaching the decision, the court reasoned that "a motor vehicle shall mean any self-propelled vehicle." This would imply that small self-propelled garden tractors or mowers and also large vehicles such as self-propelled combines, also would come under this ruling, Schneider noted.

"Up to this time, youths under 16 years of age, or persons who had lost their driver's licenses because of drunken driving were able to drive tractors on public roadways without any restrictions," the specialist explained.

In defining tractors and other self-propelled machines as motor vehicles, the court referred to the statute dealing with driver's licenses, Schneider said, quoting from this law: "It shall be unlawful for any person under 16 years of age, unless such person is over 14 years of age and shall have procured the limited permit provided for in section 60-407, to operate a motor vehicle, and any owner, dealer or manufacturer of motor vehicles who permits a person under 16 years of age to operate a motor vehicle shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided by law."

With the classification of the tractor as a motor vehicle, questions have now been raised as to possible requirements for licensing or registration, Schneider said.

The answer is no at this time, he continued, since other statutes exempt a number of pieces of equipment, agricultural equipment included.

Many of these same units are

New officers elected are Reed Anderson, president; Brian Nelson, vice-president; and Lora Hagemann, secretary. New 4-H books were distributed.

Minimum, No Tillage Subject of TV Show

Part one of "Report to the American Farmer," a two-part television special on minimum and no-tillage practices, weed control and herbicide selection, will be broadcast by KCAL-TV, Channel 9, Sioux City, on Sunday at 4 p.m.

The half-hour telecast will cover minimum- and no-tillage practices, including erosion control, chemical weed and insect control, yields, disease, soil moisture and other factors associated with minimum and no till.

Farmers and university scientists will discuss their experiences and opinions of these tillage practices. Among the questions answered for the farmer will be whether minimum-till or no-till practices fit his operations, how important weed control might be, whether yield reductions result, possibilities of disease and others.

Part two of "Report to the American Farmer" will be presented on Feb. 21.

Pender Farmer Ears Award for Production

A Pender farmer, Clark Kal, has been recognized for producing a 1970 dryland sorghum yield of 71.58 bushels per acre, the highest dryland sorghum yield in north central Nebraska in the "Busher Buster" program sponsored by NC plus Hybrids, headquartered in Lincoln.

Kal received a wall plaque for his achievement at a recent awards luncheon in Norfolk.

We think the average parent should know as much about drugs as the average pusher.

Sometime soon you're going to have to talk to your teenagers about drugs. The sooner the better. We hope this page gives you something to start talking about. Because we want you to get to your kids. Before someone else does.

THE OPIATES

When most people refer to "narcotics" this group of drugs is what they are talking about. Opiates are used medically as pain killers. On the street they cause pain for the user and society in general.

Opium
a white powder from the unripe seeds of the poppy plant. Opium can be eaten, but it is usually smoked in an opium pipe.

Morphine
is extracted from opium. It is one of the strongest medically used pain killers, and is strongly addictive.

Heroin
this strongly addictive drug is prepared from morphine. Outlawed even from medical use, heroin is the most commonly used drug among addicts. It can be sniffed, injected under the skin, or into a vein. Street slang for heroin includes "scag", "smack", "H", or "junk".

"On the Nod" or nodding. The state produced by opiates. Like being suspended on the edge of sleep.

Mainline
or "to shoot up" - injecting a drug into a vein.

"A Hit"
street slang for an injection of drugs.

Works
the apparatus for injecting a drug. May include a needle, and a bottle cap or spoon for dissolving the powdered drug.

A Fix
one injection of opiates, usually heroin.

Junk
heroin, so named because it is never pure as sold on the street.

Junkie
an opiate addict.

Skin Popping
to inject a drug under the skin.

A Bag
packet of drugs, or a single dose of an opiate. Amount of the drug in the bag is denoted by price, a nickel bag ($5), a dime bag ($10).

"Cold Turkey"
describes the withdrawal that occurs after repeated opiate use. The addict can become irritable, fidgety, perspiration increases, there is a lack of appetite. The main problem in discontinuing opiate use is not getting off the drug, it's staying off.

Track

Overdose

cause of over 200 teenage deaths in New York City last year. Death is caused because the part of the brain that controls breathing becomes paralyzed.

Addiction

physical dependence on a drug, so that when the drug is taken repeatedly, and stopped suddenly, physical withdrawal occurs.

THE STIMULANTS

These drugs stimulate the system, or make a person more lively. While they are not physically addictive like the opiates, they produce a psychological dependence or craving.

Amphetamines

these stimulants are taken in tablet or capsule form, or injected into the blood stream. Among the widely used amphetamines are:
Dexedrine - or "dex" or "dexties".
Benzedrine - or "bennies".
Methedrine - or "speed".
or "crystal meth".
Biphetamine - or "footballs".

Speed Freak

person who repeatedly takes amphetamines or "speed", usually intravenously.

Mental Effects of "Speed" amphetamines produce a decreased sense of fatigue, increased confidence, talkativeness, restlessness, and an increased feeling of alertness. As dosage increases amphetamines can produce irritability, distrust of people, hallucinations, and amphetamine psychosis.

Amphetamine Psychosis

a serious mental illness caused by overdoses or continued use of amphetamines. The person loses contact with reality, is convinced that others are out to harm him. The most frightening part - this psychosis sometimes continues long after person has stopped taking the drug.

Rush

the brief heightened state of exhilaration at the beginning of a high.

Crashing

withdrawal from amphetamines, the swift descent from an amphetamine high to severe lows of depression.

Cocaine

another kind of stimulant, derived from cocoa leaves. It is sniffed as a white powder, then liquefied and injected into a vein. It produces a fast and powerful feeling of elation. Cocaine does not produce physical dependence (addiction), but does produce a strong psychological craving.

Coke

street slang for cocaine.

PSYCHEDELICS

The medical classification of all mind altering substances. "Psychedelics" change a person's perception of his surroundings.

Hallucinogens

Those psychedelics which cause hallucinations.

LSD

probably the most powerful psychedelic. Reactions to LSD are extremely unpredictable. Distortions in time and space. Brighter colors. Vivid sounds. Feelings of strangeness. A sense of beauty in common objects. Sometimes fear and panic. Sometimes even psychosis.

Flashback

a user can be thrown back into the LSD experience months after the original use of the drug. Other possible risks of LSD, which are being thoroughly researched, include brain damage and chromosome breakage.

Acid

a slang term for LSD. A frequent LSD user is an "acid head".

Drop

to take any drug orally. LSD is usually dissolved in water, and may be placed on a sugar cube. The term is to "drop acid".

DMT

a powerful psychedelic prepared in the laboratory as a powder or liquid. It is usually injected into the vein or smoked along with marijuana or in cigarettes.

Psilocybin

this psychedelic comes from a mushroom. It is less potent than LSD and takes a larger dose to get the effect.

Peyote

from the peyote cactus, causes pronounced visual effects. It is used in a religious ritual by some Southwestern U.S. and Mexican Indians and its use in these rituals is legal.

Mescaline

"mesc" is the common name for this drug which also comes from the peyote cactus. Stronger than peyote itself, mescaline also causes vivid visual impressions.

DOM

called STP by users. The effects of STP can last for two or three days.

Marihuana

the crushed and chopped leaves and flowers from the hemp plant. Sometimes smoked in cigarette form. Sometimes smoked in pipes. Reactions can be: a jiddy feeling like drunkenness; changes in perception and mood; feelings of well-being or fear; and possibly hallucinations. Slang terms for marihuana are "grass" or "pot".

Joint

a marihuana cigarette.

Roach

the butt end of a joint.

Stoned

describes the intoxicating effect of marihuana, or really any drug, or alcohol.

Hashish

called "hash". Also prepared from the flowering tops of the hemp plant. Hashish is smoked in a pipe or taken orally, and is more powerful than marihuana.

THC

tetra hydro cannabinal. Purified extract of the resin of the hemp plant. Also made in the laboratory. It is thought to be the substance in marihuana and hashish that causes the mind altering effects of these substances.

Trip

a name for the reaction that is caused by a psychedelic drug. A bummer is an unpleasant or frightening trip.

Head

someone who uses drugs frequently.

THE DEPRESSANTS

The category of drugs that depresses the functions of the brain.

"Downs"

street slang for depressants.

Alcohol

ethyl alcohol, a depressant because it slows the functions of the brain that control thinking and coordination. In high doses it produces drowsiness and sleep. Alcohol is an addictive drug, since after prolonged or continued use, it can cause physical dependence (alcoholism), and when discontinued, causes withdrawal symptoms at least as serious as the other addictive drugs.

Barbiturates

these drugs are in the group called sedatives - medicines to make you sleepy. Barbiturates are taken in capsule or tablet form. They cause physical dependence (addiction), and after repeated use, physical withdrawal does occur when these drugs are discontinued. Among the common commercial names for barbiturates are:
Secobarb or "red devils"
Nembutal or "yellow jackets"
Amutal or "blue heavens"
or "blue devils"
Luminal or "purple hearts"
Tinal or "rainbows" or "double trouble".

Barbiturate Overdose

more people in the United States die as a result of an overdose of barbiturates (usually suicide) than of any other single substance.

Intoxication

sedative or tranquilizer intoxication is similar in its symptoms to alcohol intoxication. Driving while intoxicated can be extremely dangerous, and is thought to cause at least 25,000 traffic fatalities a year.

Tranquilizers

drugs that calm tension and anxiety. These drugs do not cause sleep except in high doses. Tranquilizers are taken in capsule or tablet form. Some common commercial names for tranquilizers are: Equanil, Miltown, Librium, and Valium.

INHALANTS

Among substances which are inhaled and produce a high are: glue, gasoline, lighter fluid, and refrigerants. Continued inhaling has been reported to cause severe anemia, liver damage, brain damage, and death.
