Cats, Trojans Dropped from Cage Tourney

Pender handed Winside a 55-48 loss and Winnebago dumped Wakefield by a 53-34 margin to knock the two Class C basketball teams out of the district tourney at South Sioux City Tuesday night. The two games were played Tuesday night after snow forced calling off games Monday night.

State Wrestling Entries Meet Stiff Competition

Wrestlers from Wayne, Winside and Wakefield ran into some buzz saws in the state wrestling competition last weekend.

Finishing best among the 11 grapplers from the three schools was sophomore Dean Frengeer from Winside. The 145-pounder earned a third-place medal by gaining a decision in the wrestling-backs and a decision in the consolation finals after suffering a loss in the semifinals. He had racked up a pin in the quarterfinals after drawing a bye in the opening round.

Another Winside sophomore, 98-pound Dave Jaeger, lost in the wrestling-backs after dropping a decision in the semifinals. He had taken a decision in his first round. Winside's Roger Anderson at 126 won in his opening match before getting knocked off. The other three Wildcats — Terry Jaeger at 132, Dale Miller at 138 and Dennis Wade at heavyweight — lost in their opening matches to get knocked out of competition. Winside ended up with nine

In the first game of the night, Wakefield managed to get only one player in twodigits — sophomore Dave Scheel with 13 points — while suffering its loss. Next closest to Scheel were seniors, Rob Mavis with seven and Rick Olson with six.

Winnebago, seeded first in the tourney, was led by Greg Bass with 19 and John Snyder with 13. Olson led action under the boards for the Trojans with dozen rebounds. Pat Starzl and Scheel had seven each.

Dixon Cagers Win 2nd in Own Tourney

Dixon won second-place trophy in the fourth and fifth grade basketball tournament at Dixon last week.

The hosts slipped by Belden, 26-10, Thursday night but were knocked off by Hubbard Saturday in the final seconds, 21-19. Wayne St. Mary's took third in the meet, Belden fourth.

The Dixon club, which will play at Concord tonight (Thursday), has racked up several wins during February. Last week the fourth and fifth graders dumped the Wayne cagers, 26-13, and the seventh eighth graders got by Wayne by a 31-25 mark. Brian Hircbert tallied 12 points and Brian Bloom threw in seven to help win the win.

Earlier this month the Dixon grade schoolers tripped up Belden, 22-20 by the younger set and 40-17 by the older squad. Tim Garvin's 11, David Dunn's 10 and Brian Bloom's nine were high efforts in that action.

Dixon also racked up wins over Concord seventh and eighth graders, 31-29, and over Thurston seventh and eighth graders, 44-20.

Tickets to the evening of fun are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Donations will also be accepted. All proceeds go to the Heart Fund drive.

The project is sponsored by the Wakefield High student council.

Hartington Dumps Allen From District Tourney

Hartington High's Larry Fickhoff tossed in 25 points and Kelly O'Meara contributed 24 to help knock off Allen High, 73-50, in the first round of the Class C district basketball tournament at Norfolk High Tuesday night.

Also losing in that opening round were Osmond, 67-51 victims of seeded Ponca; Wmott, 105-24 victims of Bloomfield; and Plainview, 55-45 victims of Coleridge. All four games were played Tuesday after action Monday night was called off because of snow.

Ponca goes up against the winners over Allen tonight (Thursday) at 7 and Coleridge takes on Bloomfield in the second game to determine championship contenders.

Allen's loss, the Eagles' 12th in 17 starts under Buster Yannon this season, came in spite of a balanced scoring attack which Hartington Hi 14 17 20 22 -- 73 Allen 12 17 12 18 -- 60 saw four Eagles in double figures: Loren Neuter with 19, Jerome Roberts with 12, Gary Troth with 11 and John Warner with 10. Getting Allen's other eight counters was Brian Lindefel.

Allen, trailing by only one point at intermission, 31-30, hit a cold spell in the third period and went into the final eight minutes of action behind at 51-42.

Warner, a 5-11 junior, turned in another fine effort under the boards, pulling down 10 rebounds. Roberts gave him a hand in those chores, gaining seven.

Allen shot 30 per cent from the field in the first half, 38 per cent in the second half.

Pond Stocking Being Offered To Area Farmers

Farm pond owners wanting a crop of sporting game fish and tasty panfish in their impoundments should start applying soon if they want the Game and Parks Commission to stock their waters in 1971.

To be eligible for Game Commission fish, ponds must be at least one-half acre in size, at least 10 feet deep and have no other fish population. Owners must also agree to make sure there is an adequate harvest of the fish, but they are not required to open their impoundments to public access.

Gobbler Regulations Subject of Meeting

Regulations on Nebraska's 1971 spring turkey season and opening dates of other seasons will be the subject of testimony at a public hearing of the Game and Parks Commission at its meeting Friday.

Game biologists will present their recommendations to the members of the Commission. Interested individuals will be welcome to present their views.

After the hearing, the Commission will decide units to be open for the spring gobbler hunt, number of permits, opening and closing dates, shooting hours and other regulations.

The Commissioners will also set opening dates for the 1971 big-game, upland and small-game hunting. Closing dates, bag and possession limits and other aspects of these seasons will be determined at later Commission meetings when biologists' data on the species is more complete. Waterfowl season regulations will be set when federal guidelines are announced.

Class B Cage Fans Looking Forward to Monday

by Norvin Hansen

Clip it out and keep it handy as you follow that meet.

Although all three Class C cage squads got knocked out of district tournament action Tuesday night, fans of that sport can look forward to Class B action which gets underway Monday.

Both area Class B teams will be in action Monday evening at Norfolk High School — Laurel going against West Point Catholic at 7 and Wayne against Crofton at 8:30.

Meeting Tuesday night are Pierce vs. Hartington Cedar Catholic and Winer-Pilger vs. Randolph.

A listing of the parings in that tourney can be found elsewhere on the sports page.

Although I didn't get it out officially last week's column was held because of lack of space on the sports pages — I picked the Blue Devils to knock off both West Point Catholic and Hartington Catholic.

The recent violent weather will keep us from ever finding out how that game with West Point might have ended. However, the contest with Hartington couldn't have been much closer. In fact, had sophomore Randy Nelson wanted a second round before throwing in the shot which won the game, it could have turned out for a loss for the locals. As it was, the referees called the shot at the buzzer good, giving the club its fifth win against 11 losses.

Here's the selections for the district tourney starting Monday at Norfolk: Laurel over West Point Catholic and Wayne over Crofton. If those hold true, the nod goes to Laurel in the second round which would match the Devils and the Bears for the third time this season. Laurel came out on top in the previous two matrees, both close ones — 71-69 and 60-47.

Hunters are reminded that they will have their last chance to get some shots at contantials this weekend. The season winds up on Sunday, says the Game and Parks Commission. The season closes for the reproductive season.

Our congratulations go out to the 11 wrestlers from Wayne, Winside and Wakefield who took part in the state tournament last weekend. Although they didn't finish very high in the competition, they got a taste of state competition.

Those grapplers: Wakefield's Steve Sorenson and Kirk Gardner; Winside's Dave Jagger, Roger Anderson, Terry Jager, Dale Miller, Dean Krueger and Dennis Wade, and Wayne's Jim Meyer, Rod Sievers and Steve Kamish.

Wrestling fans shouldn't be surprised if the Winside wrestling team equals its perfect showing come next season. There'll be a slug of wrestlers back for another try for state again next year.

DOUBLE WINNER: Jerry Daniels now has two Sports Afield "Best in State" citations.

Sports Afield Honors Local Angler

Wayne angler Jerry Daniels has won Sports Afield's "Best in State" citation for the second time. Daniels earned the award for the sauger he pulled from the Missouri River which weighed in at four pounds and one ounce. He caught the fish on a minnow in the Maskell area last May. He earned his other "Best in State" in 1968.

Shot at Buzzer Gives Blue Devils 57-55 Win

By Norvin Hansen

Wayne High's Don Johnson probably went to bed Tuesday night with some happy thoughts about next year's cage season after he watched a game of underclassmen pull out a 57-55 victory against Hartington Cedar Catholic to end the season for the Blue Devils.

Literally topping off the game was sophomore Randy Nelson's 18-foot jumper at the buzzer to break the 55-55 tie and give the Devils their fifth win in 16 starts this season under Johnson, ending his first year at the helm of the club.

Wayne went into the final period trailing by 11 points, 47-36, but the likes of Nelson and classmate Doug Sturm helped the hosts cut away at that lead until Wayne pulled within one point halfway through the final period, 51-50.

The local quintet scrapped into a 55-54 lead with less than a minute to go, then found the scored at 55-all with about 16 seconds to play. Wayne committed a turnover but then got the ball back quickly when the visitors, plagued with control problems all night, committed one of their nine turnovers in the final eight minutes.

Nelson's swisher at the buzzer settled things. Indications of the quality of that young material which will be back next year were apparent in the contest. Sturm, at 5-10 a little taller than Nelson, pumped in eight of eight free throws on the way to collecting 12 points for the only local hitting in two digits, Nelson hit all three of his field goals in the final quarter, missing only two attempts.

Providing much of the rebounding power for Johnson were two other underclassmen: 6-3 junior Kyle Willis with 14 and 6-0 junior Lonnie Blittorf with eight.

Don Spenner, 6-2 senior, had 18 points and Dennis Kraemer, 6-5 senior, had 17 to lead the Trojans in their losing battle. Wayne, outscored by 51-49 by the tall Trojans, managed to edge the visitors in shooting from the field — 31 per cent (19 of 62) to 25 per cent (14 of 54). Hartington made 27 points on gift shots.

In the reserve contest, the locals, led by Nelson's 19 points and Tom Kerstine's even dozen, rolled to a 51-30 win. Wayne

Young Teachers 'Put It Together' In Area Schools

The climax of preparation to teach began Monday for Wayne State seniors who went into classrooms for seven weeks of practice teaching.

Seventeen of the 208 seniors will teach in Wayne schools. There are 47 school systems co-operating with the WSC directed teaching program. The seniors will "put it all together" — using what they have learned in college classrooms — as they live a teacher's life under the direction of selected supervisors.

Dr. Morris Anderson, director of student teaching at WSC, calls it "total commitment" for the seniors. They got involved in all the school activities in and out of class, and to some extent in the community.

Assigned to the Wayne-Carroll system: Gregory Antiker, Spencer, Iowa; Donald Brechbill, Wayne; Acel Catlett, Wyoming, Iowa; Diana Edwards, Grand Island; Lloyd Fitch, Plattsmouth; Mary Jo Laws, Sac City, Iowa; Donna Noll, Sanborn, Iowa; Philip Nugent, Kingsley, Iowa; Barbara Pruden, Fering, Iowa; Milo Stansbury, Wayne; Sam Singleton, Elizabeth, N. J.; John Yoder, Woolstock, Iowa; Marilyn Bentley, Wayne; Jo Groulik, Schuyler; Sharon Gydeson, Harman; Carol Heydon, Jamison, and Betty Lawrence, Wayne. Assigned to other schools in the Wayne area:

Winside — Paul Eaton, Wakefield; Ailee Hartman, Wakefield; Lila Kidney, Glidden, Iowa; Marilyn Rethwisch, Wayne. Wakefield — Linda Keenan, Wayne. Pender — Duane Beers, Correctionville, Iowa; Victoria French, Wakefield; Ronald McNeill, Wayne. Laurel — Jack Johnson, Farnhamville, Iowa; Deanne Rohlfson, Paulina, Iowa; Ronald Wilby, Wayne.

Wrestling fans shouldn't be surprised if the Winside wrestling team equals its perfect showing come next season. There'll be a slug of wrestlers back for another try for state again next year.

College Grapplers Win 7th NCC Title

By Dick Manley

Wayne State wrestlers claimed five individual titles to lead the Wildcats to their seventh consecutive team championship in the Nebraska College Conference here Tuesday.

Wayne's dual victories of 24-12 over Chadron State and 25-13 over Kearney State, plus a 20-19 Kearney squeak by Chadron added up to 49 for Wayne, 33 for Kearney, 31 for Chadron.

Three wrestlers repeated championships from the 1969 NCC meet (there was no conference last year). Wayne's Max Branum copped the 158-pound

Dual results:

- Wayne-Chadron 24-12
- Kearney-Chadron 33-31
- Wayne-Kearney 49-33
- 118-Ron Garrett, Kearney, won by forfeit.

County Road Plans Told at Hearing

Wayne County's future road plans plus pros and cons of grading and graveling roads in the county were discussed Friday when eight area persons appeared before the Wayne County commissioners during a public hearing on the adoption of one-year and six-year road improvement programs.

A spokesman for a local engineering firm outlined the projected road programs which include grading and graveling of a one and a half mile stretch this year from Sholes north to the Cedar County line, and a one-mile stretch of road five miles east of Hoskins from Highway 35 to the Stanton spur road.

A bridge eight and a half miles west of Carroll is also slated for rebuilding this year. A better job of road maintenance and a schedule to replace old equipment were set as goals in the long-range plans.

The one-year and six-year programs are now required by the State Department of Roads for a county or community to qualify for highway allocation funds. It was explained at the hearing that such funds are distributed to counties on the following percentage basis: rural population, 20 per cent; total population, 10 per cent; total feet in bridges, 10 per cent; number of motor vehicle registrations, 25 per cent; miles of rural roads, 25 per cent and farm products sold, 10 per cent.

Distribution of highway funds to villages, towns and cities is based on municipal population and the miles of streets in the community.

Duane Upton, consulting engineer, stated at the hearing that the projected road improvement program for Wayne County is not a pie-in-the-sky project but a realistic plan.

Several of those appearing at the hearing were interested in the county's plan for graveling roads. Clark Kai who farms south of Wakefield noted that he has paid for half of the gravel put on a three-quarter mile stretch off the main route near his place for the last 15 years. He said he and the county have previously split the cost of the gravel but that he was now interested in knowing what policy the county was going to set for graveling roads that are not main routes.

Kal told the commissioners, "Every farmer in the county should have a gravel access road." He pointed out that other progressive counties have good gravel roads and said, "We're a rich county. I believe we should be up with everybody else."

Commissioner Floyd Burt said his opinion was that "A man living off the main route has as much right to have gravel as anybody else." Noting that while main routes get gravel and other roads do not, Burt said, "I'll grant you that one man is going to get as much gravel as the next in my district."

Commissioner Joe Wilson noted that other counties have better beds for good roads compared to some of the gumbo roadbeds in Wayne County. He also said there was a lot of maintenance to be done on many roads before they would be ready for gravel.

Bob Nissen, county highway superintendent, and the county's engineering consultants said at the hearing that the new programs include the keeping of records for each road maintaining machine. Fuel and maintenance costs will be kept to allow an annual evaluation of equipment to see which is operating the more efficiently and which may need replacing.

It was pointed out that the village of Sholes will relinquish $400 of their allocation funds annually to be invested in county road projects.

Other than annual equipment purchases and general road maintenance, projects set up for improving roads in the county during the next few years include: new road signs, and the rebuilding of a bridge four and a half miles west of Altona in 1971-72; grading a two-mile stretch immediately south of the one-mile corner south of Wakefield in 1972-73; grading the four miles west and two miles north at a point six miles north of Wayne and west of Highway 15 in 1973-74; and grading a stretch of road nine miles south of Wayne from Highway 15 east three miles, then south a mile and another mile east in 1975-76.

It was emphasized by the consulting engineers and commissioners that the program is flexible to the degree to absorb emergency needs such as bridges taken out by floods and road damage.

The highway improvement program is to be reviewed and updated on an annual basis enabling it to meet realistic needs.

Foreign Students Here for Sunday Fete

There were numerous accents and languages during a dinner meeting and program of area foreign exchange students, their American parents and guests, at Wayne High School Sunday.

Robert Porter, local AFS Chapter president, said about 80 attended the affair, the first of its kind in northeast Nebraska. Dr. Walter Peterson was master of ceremonies.

Local AFS Chapter members served the 1 p.m. dinner which was followed by a program featuring each student and host parents. Both the parents and pupils related experiences about their one-year relationships. Students also spoke concerning their homelands.

Exchange students present representing American Field Service, International Fellowship, Rotary and Youth for Understanding programs included Catherine Stylopoulou of Greece; Heliola Capossoli of South Sioux City (Brazil); Maria Angelica Malahuf of Winside (Chile); Maria Isabel Arriagada of Norfolk (Australia); Alois Steinbichler of Norfolk (Austria); Marilia Da Costa of Laurel (Brazil); Hokan Ambjornsson of Laurel (Sweden); Jorge Berarvon of Bancroft (Peru); and Abdallah Khawaldeh of Wayne (Jordan).

Porter said the local AFS Chapter is planning to host another bus stop for traveling AFS students on tour of the U.S. He said 37 students and two sponsors will be in Wayne for the first five days of July. He explained that the AFS bus stop last year included a day of orientation for the students whereas this year it will not. Mrs. Orval Reinhardt is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

"We are still in the process of raising funds for getting another AFS student to attend Wayne High School in 1971-72," Porter said. He also noted that the local chapter is always looking for new members. Those interested may contact either Mrs. Ed Wolke, chapter secretary, or Porter.

Abdallah Khawaldeh of Jordan, AFS student at Wayne High School during the present term, will be in Lincoln this weekend, according to Porter, to join all the AFS students in Nebraska for a tour of the capital city.

automatic four-speed transmission.

Outlined to the group were the plans being made by the Environmental Action Committee for the environmental fair being planned for downtown Wayne April 24.

In the club's plans is a geodesic dome to serve as a symbol for the fair, numerous displays showing how pollution is happening and what can be done to stop it, radio talk shows and television coverage, a citywide clean-up contest and a host of speakers.

Club members told the council that either Gov. J. J. Exon or his representative will be one of the speakers during the fair.

Also in the group's plans is blocking of Main Street for a block or two blocks in downtown Wayne for a temporary mall.

The council plans on having several members meet with the Chamber of Commerce retail committee to find out how well this would be accepted by downtown merchants if approval is given by the State Department of Roads.

Appointed to the Youth Advisory Board during the evening were Rowan Witte, Marvin Sward, Peter Jude, Don Kerl and Mrs. Betty Elming.

The board, which will receive no pay and will serve until June 30, will have charge of overseeing operation of the Youth Club which will open soon at 306 Main, former site of Bill's Cafe.

Other council action resulted in:

- Approval of Bob Allen's request for a change in zoning of a strip of land in northwest Wayne from R1 to R2. The land is on South Douglas just north of the railroad tracks.
- Approval of Allen's permit to move the two-story frame building from 214 W. Third to 210 S. Douglas.
- Authorizing the city attorney to draw up a list of the significant changes which would occur if the council went ahead with steps to make Wayne a first-class city.

'Heavens' Show Slated Sunday At Planetarium

Area residents interested in stars and the universe will have an opportunity to learn more about both of those subjects during a new series of celestial shows starting Sunday at the Wayne State College planetarium.

Carl Rump, planetarium director, said the show scheduled to start at 8:00 p.m. Sunday is "The Construction of the Heavens."

The program will be repeated each Sunday at 3:30 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday for several weeks.

There is no admission charge and those planning to attend should arrive in the planetarium a few minutes early as no one can be admitted after the program has started.

Due to the nature of the star show it is not recommended for children under five years old, Rump said.

Persons attending a planetarium program should use the south entrance to the new Carhart Science Hall on the WSC campus.

Moisture Record Set This Month

The 3.74 inches of rain in the Wayne area Thursday and Friday set a 10-day record for the month of February.

Average total precipitation for the area in February is around .93 of an inch. Total precipitation for the same month in 1962 was 3.18 inches, considerably more than the 2.1 inches total for the month just one year ago, but still less than the two-day rain last week.

Snow followed the rain on Monday and approximately three inches of the white stuff covered the ground in the immediate Wayne area accompanied by high winds which made it difficult to get an accurate depth measurement.

Girls taking part in the volunteer drive were Jane Suber, Carolyn Knudsen, Gloria Anderson, Janet Anderson, Debbie Urwiler, Beth Ann Potter, Kelly McCoy, Paula Huss, Nancy Schaefer, Cindy Schaefer, Marcia Ward, Roxanne Kraemer and Rebecca Kraemer.

Leaders helping out in the drive were Mrs. Norman Anderson and Mrs. Marlen Kraemer. Heart Fund chairman in Laurel this year are Mr. and Mrs. Armin Urwiler.

Persons missed during Sunday's drive are being asked to take their contributions to the Security National Bank in Laurel.

Wakefield Area To Raise Funds For Rescue Unit

Wakefield area residents have kicked off a do-it-yourself financial drive to obtain funds for the purchase of a rescue unit.

More than 50 rural and city residents meeting at the Wakefield fire hall Saturday night set a goal of $20,000 to be raised in the campaign.

The project is in response to a recent announcement by Warren Bressler, owner of the Bressler Funeral Home in Wakefield, that he will discontinue using his private ambulance as a rescue unit due to the high costs of meeting federal and state regulations for such an operation.

Bressler has supplied the Wakefield community with such services for nearly 20 years.

Farmers in the Concord area and members of the Concord Rural Fire District have expressed an interest in the rescue unit project and are, consequently, cooperating in the financial drive.

Wakefield firemen assured the people attending the meeting Saturday that all area calls for the rescue unit will be answered regardless of location.

Volunteers are getting the financial drive underway this week in hopes of reaching the $20,000 goal at an early date.

Persons interested in the project who are not contacted may leave donations at the Wakefield National Bank.

A second group of four bands were selected to make a record and Dalton said his group was honored by being chosen an alternate band for the recording.

An alternate band would have a selection put on record if for some reason one of the original four bands could not play.

David McElroy, Laurel band director, said he had not yet been notified as to how the LHS band placed.

Residents of Wayne County have but one day left to purchase license tags at the county treasurer's office without being subject to penalty.

Friday is the deadline for buying the tags which must be attached to license plates by midnight Sunday.

Drivers of vehicles operated without the new license tags after midnight Sunday will be subject to penalty.

Leon Meyer, county treasurer, said Tuesday that there are still several hundred people who purchased tags last year but who have not purchased the new 1971 licenses.

Henry Arrp, county assessor, also reminded residents that Friday is the final deadline for being assessed.

High School Youths To Aid Commission

Youths representing high schools in eight area counties, including Wayne, will meet March 4 in Norfolk with members of the Region 11 and 25 Joint Planning Commission for law enforcement and criminal justice.

Purpose of the meeting is to further discuss the possibility of setting up a youth subcommittee to assist the crime commission with youth-related offenses.

Oldest Wayne County Resident Marks 103rd Birthday Tuesday at Center

A woman who is perhaps Wayne County's oldest citizen paused often at the mirror Tuesday to insure that she looked her best for the several guests who helped her observe her 103rd birthday at Dahl Retirement Center.

The woman, Mrs. Anna Bright, shared her birthday cake, baked by her niece, Mrs. Mildred Witte of Winside, with her guests and other center residents.

Center employees, who had fixed Mrs. Bright's hair especially the way she liked it for the day, served coffee to her guests. Mrs. Bright also received flowers and many gifts and cards.

Anna Bryne, born Feb. 23, 1868 at Fulton, N. Y., was the oldest in a family of five children. She married Charles Bright in August, 1898. The couple lived in Wayne until 1905 when they left to teach in the Philippines two years.

Following a round-the-world trip they spent two years in California, returning to Nebraska where they joined the faculty of Chadron State Normal College.

Mrs. Bright was teaching English and serving as librarian, when Wayne Normal became a state school in 1910. Her husband taught in the mathematics department. J. M. Pile was president of the college at that time.

When they retired, Brights moved to Norfolk, but returned to Wayne about 1945. Following her husband's death in 1948, Mrs. Bright spent several years in the Florence Home in Omaha, only to return to Wayne, where she has since resided at Dahl Retirement Center.

Mrs. Bright joined the Beulah Chapter of the Eastern Star at Norfolk Jan. 22, 1922; she has been in the Minerva Club almost 60 years, PEO for many years, and was an active member of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bright enjoys good health and spends her days reading and listening to the radio. To the Herald photographer she smiled, "Time for another one."

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Where do we go from here? That is the question the business and the cow colleges and the entire meat industry must ask themselves.

Today the historically conservative cowman sits back, too proud to oppose eventual destruction and either too self-satisfied or uninvolved to lead the industry into constructive alternatives. The tremendous promotional abilities of the leaders of exotic breeds is lost to the cowman.

Mom, beef is only one notch ahead of boneless import beef. When grade requirements must be lowered to appease and aid the producer of low marbling carcasses, it does not change the fact that the ultimate sale at premium prices is at the steak house, the restaurant and the hotel. Premium prices take potential promotion. In these outlets, marbling and fat are still essential, taste and desirability the essence. The exotic point: promotion is more to be admired than the cattle. To be able to sell near mutants at premium prices, to sell giant cattle at premium prices when the meat industry continually advises against finished steers over 1,150 pounds, live or 699 pounds dressed, is the eighth wonder of the world. This is what the cattlemen need most, promotion. Not plainer cattle—we can get that from Australia, Honduras, Ireland, New Zealand—but promotion.

Picture today's cowman: he rises at 5:48 a.m., is awakened by a nationally advertised clog, he washes with Dial soap, uses Crest toothpaste, shaves with a Gillette blade and razor, splashes on the Brut.

He fondles the Charmin, takes a Bromo Selzer, eats Frosty Flakes, drinks Sunbelt Orange Juice and Maxwell coffee. He drives his Buick to the car wash for gas, sponsor of football games. He wears a Pendleton shirt, Levi pants and Tony Lama boots. He drives to the bank berous synthetic meats. Emphasized "health thru nature," being without chemical or pharmaceutical additives. Artificial products that can be profitably produced. Conglomerate food companies would manufacture "beef" substitutes of nearly the same chemical base as dog biscuits. But with a fancy name. After two months of concentrated national advertising, the majority of housewives would buy. In preference to beef? Not only cattlemen, but purveyors have a stake in this game.

Where are these Angus leaders? Hereford leaders? Charolais, Shorthorn, the Exotic? Attending meetings and selling each other. Too busy to see that the war is not at home, but in New York City, Philadelphia, Boston... in and through the chain stores.

The cowman's products must be identified and popularized as something superior. Superior because of who owned it, what breed or combination, who fed it and how. The alternative will end up coming out of an automatic coin dispenser, reading "Soft Premium Protein, Cutability 1." In small print at the bottom—"From Australia."

While the problem does and will exist, the solution is not difficult. But breed associations, cattle groups and farm clans continue to skirt and avoid the major problem.

To date, all promotion is directed to sell other cowmen! Mom, we must sell the consumer—200 million potential customers.

We have coffee beans from Columbia, pineapple from Hawaii, fruit juices from California, margarine as the favorite in the Dairy land.

Fine me one chain in New York City that proclaims: "Hi, Cowmen, we have your best thing, the tender Angus Charolais Cross High Choice and Prime cattle from Scott County, fed 237 days on Pioneer corn and Purina protein, originally raised on native pastures by Pete Henebeck from Arthur County, who bought his bulls from Pete Jones, who ranches in the Rockies." Mom, identification and personalization are what you need. Meat must be promoted as the superior product. Either that, or we will all falter.

Individual cowmen must be-cent research discoveries which show hackberry has unsurpassed bending properties as well as the right combination of grain, porosity and color to adapt itself to virtually any finishing strain.

Hackberry is a hardy yard tree in towns and on farmsteads. Not as large as the American Elm, it is certainly worthy of consideration as a species to replace it. It is well adapted for planting over a large part of Nebraska.

The sweet tasting berries are a source of food for birds and small animals, making it a desirable tree to plant in windbreaks and wildlife plantings. Hackberry seedlings last year were in short supply throughout the country; however, they are again available through the Charles-McNary Program and application forms are available by contacting your county agent.

How It All Started
Shortly after World War I, W. F. Crozier of Osceola, bought a tractor which turned out to be a poor machine. Apparently other purchasers found the same thing, because the company soon went out of business. In those days, few tractor performance claims bore much resemblance to reality.

Quite probably Crozier's reaction was the typical "there ought to be a law." He took care of that oversight when he was elected to the state legislature. In 1919, he introduced the bill which provided for the establishment of a tractor testing station at the University of Nebraska. Two members of the agricultural engineering department at the university helped the legislators write the law. The basis of the test proved to be so sound that little modification was required in 40 years. Recently, revisions have been necessary to accommodate refinements such as torque converters and hydrostatic drives.

Points to Ponder

We in agriculture have long felt that the position of the Secretary of Agriculture should be one representing farmers. Her are some thoughts heard recently which challenge this image. The President's program is one intended to enhance the welfare of all the people. He chooses a cabinet to assist in furthering his program goals. Feeding the poor and low-cost food for consumers, who now outnumber farm producers about 40 to one, appear to be national policy.

Other "aiding" officers do not serve as advocates for special interests. Should we expect that the Secretary of Agriculture would assume a different role? Hackberry has Good Qualities. Hackberry has made great progress during the past 16 years. Today, hackberry is recognized as a quality hardwood. It is in demand by the furniture industry and is no longer thought of as a weed species in timbered areas. The demand for hackberry by industry is partly related to re-

LYSINE cuts feed costs 50% and raises more pigs per litter

Forrest, Ill. Robert Kiefer raises hybrid breeding stock on his Dur-Ham Y Farms, farrowing 450 litters a year. He's very much concerned with litter size and good, strong pigs. And he must get top production per sow as well as per pound of feed.

SOWS That's why he was worried a year or so ago when his production efficiency sagged. Then he switched to sow and baby pig rations built with Hy Ly-100 (Lysine Pre-mix). He got unbelievable results. Sows looked better and seemed to feel better immediately. Skin and hoof troubles cleared up. Ninety percent settled on the first service. Sows raised an average of nine good, strong pigs per litter.

BABY PIGS Lysine showed even more startling results with Bob's baby-pigs. They suffered no setbacks due to nutritional scours. They grew faster, made cheaper gains and were top quality at sale time. Compared with his previous ration, Mr. Kiefer figures his pig starter cost 50% less, using the Hy Ly-100 formula.

WHAT IS HY LY-100? Hy Ly-100 is a new pre-mix specially formulated to overcome the feeding deficiencies of farm grains. It has high levels (50,000 grams/T) of the amino acid, lysine; PLUS high levels of vitamins and minerals.

It is fed on the basis of scientific tests, not guesswork. First, your grain is tested for protein. Then a Hy Ly-100 prescription feeding program is formulated. Because it is tailored to supply exactly what your grain lacks, Hy Ly-100 improves feeding efficiency, lowers feeding costs and helps pigs make faster gains of lean, red meat.

Profits are better with Hy Ly-100 because pigs don't have to eat more expensive protein than they need, just to get the amino acids their bodies need for maximum growth. At today's prices, you cannot afford to waste good breeding and management by guessing about lysine.

If your pigs aren't doing as well as they should, start them out on a ration that includes Hy Ly-100. Then get ready for the best bunch of pigs you have ever raised!

Hy Ly-100 contains Ajinomoto's L-Lysine

Robert Kiefer with young pigs outside pig nursery at Dur-Ham Y Farm south of Forrest, Ill. Pigs average 35-40 lbs. at 6 weeks. Bob showed the 2nd place heavyweight barrow at the National Barrow Show. This winner was raised on the Hy Ly-100 program.

Over 4,000 pigs a year pass through this Dur-Ham Y nursery on their way to market, mostly as hybrid breeding stock. Nutritional scours are a thing of the past—thanks to Hy Ly-100.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

Try Hy Ly-100 at our risk. Buy enough to mix one ton of baby pig starter. Feed it. Then you be the judge. If it isn't better than anything you ever fed, we'll refund your money. And no questions asked.

Forestry, Wildlife Program Offered

A career in natural resources could start this summer for a Wayne area high school senior interested in summer employment with the Department of Interior and the U. S. Forest Service.

Applications are being taken on behalf of the agencies by the Nebraska Division of the Izaak Walton League, according to Professor Howard L. Wiegers of the University of Nebraska. Wiegers asks that all applications be returned to him, c/o College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Neb. 68503, by March 13.

The joint program began in 1963 to encourage natural resources careers in forestry, soil and range management, fish and wildlife, geology, outdoor recreation and related areas. Applicants are selected by a special committee chosen by the League and the government agencies.

Positions are open for laborers, conservation aides, topographic and hydrographic field assistants and survey aides. The young men chosen will work in one of the national forests, national parks or at other locations where the Departments maintain field programs.

To qualify, applicants must be in good health and physically capable of field work. In addition, they must be high school seniors expecting to graduate this year, and be 18 years of age by June 15.

Applicants should submit the following:

—A completed U. S. Government Form 171, available at any post office or other federal building.

—A transcript of high school record.

—A written recommendation from an adult, other than family, who knows the applicant and his qualifications for the program.

—A letter from the applicant indicating his college or career plans, his extracurricular activities in high school, any conservation oriented work he has performed and his reasons for seeking employment through the program.
