Exon Extends Tag Deadline

Due to recent flood and emergency conditions, Governor J. J. Exon has extended the deadline for having new 1971 license tags on vehicles until midnight next Friday. The original deadline was last Friday.

A spokesman at the Nebraska State Patrol Office in Norfolk informed local law enforcement authorities of the governor's action. New licenses must be on a moving vehicle after midnight Friday. Until that time motorists will not be arrested for not having the tags.

County Needs Help in Redistricting

By Merlin Wright

Your idea may well be the solution to a problem now faced by officials of Wayne County.

The county must be divided, according to Nebraska law, into three commissioner districts that have, as nearly as possible, equal populations.

Don Reed, county attorney, said Friday that the redistricting is mandatory as a result of the one-man one-vote decision handed down by the U. S. Supreme Court some time ago.

Residents seeking ideas and possible solutions.

Reed noted these regulations about drawing up new districts: each commissioner must live in the district he serves; two or more voting precincts must be in each district and the land in a district must be continuous.

What problems complicate the redistricting? More than half of the 10,400 people in the county live in the city of Wayne. Reed pointed out that 60 per cent of the county's population live in the two precincts of Strahan and Hunter.

plan, he should turn it in to the county clerk, Reed said.

Nebraska statutes do provide that precinct lines may be altered. Reed noted that Wayne County might consider having five commissioners but he questioned how much this might help.

Before the county could change from a three-commissioner government to five, a petition carrying 200 valid signatures would be required.

There is no deadline set for completing the redistricting, Reed said, but county officials hope to get the job done this year.

There are several population oddities in Wayne County that complicate redistricting on an equal population basis. The county commissioners are, consequently, going directly to the

These precincts and the current three districts may be seen on the accompanying map.

Joe Wilson is commissioner in district one and has 68 per cent of the total county population, or 7,080 people, in his district.

About 19 per cent, or 1,955 people, live in district three where Floyd Burt is commissioner. In district two, Ken Eddie has only 11 per cent of the total county population.

Chamber Planning Membership Drive

This is an important week for the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, according to Floyd Bracken, Chamber manager.

Bracken said final plans for the 1971 membership drive will be made during a 12:30 p.m. meeting Thursday when the membership committee prepares to launch a drive for new members.

There is a potential membership of about 275 individuals and businesses both in and out of town, Bracken said. He explained that anyone at all interested in the progress of Wayne is invited to join in the effort made by the Chamber to promote both the community and its business.

Fund Drive Set

Windside High School freshmen are planning to decorate Windsor store windows and place canisters on the counters in business firms as part of a financial drive to help in the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Jeff Farran, class president, said the plans are to start the annual drive for funds which has a theme this year of "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" and will be kicked off on St. Patrick's Day, Mar. 17.

Green ready-to-wear "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" tags will be distributed by student volunteers so all contributors will have something green to wear on that day.

Registration Form Carried This Issue

Women wishing to sign up for the lingerie class scheduled to start at Wayne High next week can find the registration form inside this issue of the newspaper. The wrong registration form was carried in the last issue.

The class, which will begin on Thursday evening, March 11, will be limited to the first 15 women who register.

There will be a total of four two-hour sessions for the course. Each will begin at 8 p.m. The other three sessions will be held on following Thursdays.

Teaching the course will be Marie Mohr, homemaking teacher in the local school system.

4 Are Frat Initiates

Four Wayne area young people were among 18 Wayne State College students selected for initiation into Omega Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, national honorary fraternity in industrial arts and vocational education.

The students: Danny Jaeger, Gordon Jorgensen, James Sommerfeld and Dale Jaeger. They were guests of the fraternity at a recognition banquet held in February.

Switzer Will Speak For Pork Producers

Ray Switzer, a member of the Switzer and Beeson commission firm in Sioux City, will speak at the Wayne auditorium Mar. 8 as a guest of the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers.

Paul Everingham of Wakefield, president of NNPP, said the public is invited to hear Switzer speak on "The Future of Our Livestock Marketing System" at 8 p.m. There is no admission fee.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served following the meeting.

Links Between State, NU Subject of Varner's Talk

Durwood B. "Woody" Varner, Chancellor of the University of Nebraska, will talk about the relationship between Nebraska and its land grant university during an appearance in Wayne next week.

Varner will speak at the annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Experimental Farm Association. The meeting, open to the public, is scheduled for the city auditorium next Tuesday, March 9.

The all-day program is scheduled to begin with coffee at 9:30. Varner is to speak at 1:15 in the afternoon.

Staff member of the University of Nebraska Northeast Station a mile east of Concord will report on their research, and Bill Kojel of Fremont will discuss regulations and approaches related to livestock waste.

Wayne Woman Now $400 Richer

She didn't bring her purse to town, but she went home $400 richer in spite of that.

Who? Mrs. John H. Owens, the winner in Thursday's Cash Night drawing.

Mrs. Owens walked into Arnie's just after the winning name had been telephoned to the store. She walked out a few moments later clutching a check for $400 compliments of the several businesses in the city supporting the weekly cash drawing.

Mrs. Owens, who said she left her purse at home when she and her husband walked over to the store, said this was the first time she had ever won anything as big as her prize. She said she would probably buy her husband a birthday present with some of the money.

Presenting Mrs. Owens with her check was Bud McNatt of McNatt Hardware.

The winner Thursday night broke a long string when there were no winners in the weekly giveaways.

Next Thursday's Prize, which will be given away at eight o'clock if the person whose name is called is present to collect it, will be worth $400 also.

No purchases are necessary to be eligible for the drawing. All a shopper has to do is make sure to be in one of the stores when the winning name is called. After that, events will take care of themselves.

Sorensen Named Head of NPPA

Dick Sorensen, Wayne swine producer, has been re-elected president of the Nebraska Pork Producers Association for 1971.

Gerald Beattie of Sumner will continue to serve as the State representative on the National Pork Producers board of directors.

Robert Craft of Foster was re-elected vice president of the Nebraska Association, and Dr. Bill Ahleschwede, University of Nebraska Extension swine specialist, was elected as an advisory director to complete the two-year term of Dr. Leo Lucas, NU swine specialist on assignment with the NU mission in Colombia.

Approved in the 1971 budget was a $5,000 grant to the veterinary science department at the University of Nebraska for continued research of TGE (transmissible gastroenteritis), an extremely contagious viral intestinal disease affecting swine.

Funds for the promotion, education and research of the swine industry are obtained from the voluntary "Nickels for Profit" check-off program.

Focus of Attention at Allen High

FHA Flood Loans Are Now Available

Farmers and home owners in Wayne and Stanton Counties can make applications for emergency loans at the Farmers Home Administration office in Wayne, according to LaVern Ostendorf, assistant county supervisor for the Wayne FHA office.

Applications and information are available at the local office.

WSC Earns National Award

Wayne State College has won the first National Distinguished Achievement Award for International Education programs presented by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Wayne State was selected for its unique contributions to the development of international programs through the Nebraska-Scandinavian Summer Institute, now in its third year.

Dr. W. A. Brandenburg, president of WSC, and Dean Norman Nordstrand, director of international programs at the college, accepted the distinguished award designating excellence in this field. The award was given during the 23rd annual meeting of the AACTE in Chicago Thursday.

The association is composed of 846 colleges and universities engaged in teacher education. Its members graduate 90 per cent of the nation's teachers.

The summer institute, a five-week project, stresses the interdependence between the Atlantic Community and the United States, not only in cultural matters, but in education and science as well as in economics and technology.

One of its unique strengths is its Scandinavian faculty composed of prominent lecturers from the world of public affairs and the academic community. These include former ministers, members of parliament, officials from the ministries of govern-

Toting Supplies

Charles Ward, at left, and Robb Smith were two of the Wayne State Circle K Club members waiting tables during the Kiwanian's annual pancake feed in the city auditorium Thursday night. An estimated 850 people attended the affair. Proceeds are used by the club for various youth programs. Circle K is an auxiliary of the local Kiwanis Club.

Flood Precautions Are Taken

Although the major threat of flooding in northeast Nebraska seemed gone by the end of last week, Civil Defense people are taking no chances.

There are three helicopters stationed in Norfolk which can be called into emergency use for rescue work, lifting hay to stranded livestock or for any other emergency which might arise.

T. P. Roberts, Civil Defense director for Wayne, said last week that these helicopters can be summoned by calling either the Norfolk Civil Defense office at 371-3272 or Roberts at 375-2508.

Also, Roberts said, work on dikes to hold back flood waters can be requested through the same two numbers.

Doctors for Small Towns Rural Medical Day Focus

Dr. Robert Bentback of Wayne, chairman of the rural medical service committee of the Nebraska State Medical Association, is in charge of the program during the second annual Rural Medical Day in Omaha in mid-April.

The program will be of special interest to Nebraska communities trying to attract physicians into their communities to set up practice.

The program is jointly sponsored by the University of Nebraska State College of Medicine, the Nebraska Chapter of the American Academy of General Practice and the NSMA.

Doctor Bentback said that a family practitioner of national renown will address medical students at the University of Nebraska and Creighton University. He will discuss the scientific aspects of family practice in a rural setting.

Ag Students Should Investigate Haskell Fund

Northeast Nebraska students in the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture investigated benefits of the Margaret T. Haskell Fund, according to Cal Ward, superintendent of the Northeast Station.

This fund provides for student loans at no interest while in school and a very low interest rate after graduation.

Ward says this is an excellent student loan program, and any northeast Nebraska family needing to borrow money to help finance an agricultural college education should check this source. Interested students should apply to the Office of Resident Instruction at the College of Agriculture, he explained.

The loan program is limited to male students from Knox, Cedar, Pierce, Madison, Colfax, Stanton, Wayne, Dixon, Dakota, Thurston, Burr, Cumming, Dodge, and Washington Counties who are attending the College of Agriculture or the College of Engineering at the University of Nebraska.

The Northeast Nebraska Experimental Farm Association placed $25,000 with the University of Nebraska Foundation in 1955 as one of the conditions under which Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Haskell deeded a half-section of land to the University for an Experiment Station. This was set up as a trust fund and designated the Margaret T. Haskell Fund. The interest from this fund and any part of the principal approved by a committee may be used for loans to students,

And Still We Try

If Lt. William L. Calley Jr. is convicted on the charge of murdering over 100 My Lai villagers three years ago in South Viet Nam, the whole nation must share in his guilt.

We all must share the guilt for the rape of that Southeast Asia country, a rape which is right now threatening to boil over into one more country.

We all must share the guilt when Lt. Calley says, "I never sat down and analyzed whether they were men, women and children — they were enemy people. . . I was ordered to go in there and destroy the enemy. . ."

We all must share the guilt when Lt.

Calley tells about the pressures from above to produce high "body counts" so the people back home could be told "we were killing more than the enemy was."

Three Presidents of the United States have wrestled with that bloody mess that we call South Viet Nam and still there seems no end in sight. At times it seems that we are only a step away — possibly we have already taken it — of expanding that war in our futile efforts to end it.

There is little doubt but that this nation is currently writing one of the blackest pages in its history. Sadder part of all is that there seems no end to the supply of ink. — NLH.

KKK No Klods

We are constantly amazed at the resourcefulness of bigots. A perfect example was the decision by the Ku Klux Klan group in Florida which decided to do away with the burning cross during its recent rally. Instead of a gasoline-soaked cross, the KKK used an electric version. Reason for the change was the county fire permit requirements.

We're bound and determined to clean the environment. The mind doesn't matter. — NLH.

Idea Deserves Support

We strongly urge community support for the environmental fair being planned by members of the Environmental Action Committee.

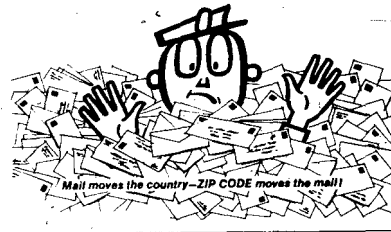

The group, an outgrowth of a class on ecology at Wayne State College last year, has some highly imaginative and interesting plans for that fair in order to draw the attention of the public to the pollution of the earth.

For example, the group wants to turn a block or two of Main Street into a mall during the three-day fair, hopes to get coverage from radio and television stations, seeks to have either Gov. J. J. Exon or one of his representatives speak during the event and wants to have some type of clean-up contest in the city.

Initiators of the Saturday collections of glass, the group visualizes the fair as beneficial to the community in many ways. It would focus our attention upon a growing problem at the same time as demonstrating to us ways to stop that problem. Hopefully, it would attract a large number of people to Wayne much like the Wayne County Fair does. And, it would bring older people and younger people together for a common cause.

If the community gives adequate support to this energetic group, the fair could be a big success. It could, with a little work, become an annual event that the whole community could be proud of. — NLH.

but I am not sure you realize that what you heard is not what I meant."

Maybe you housewives ought to try that one on your husbands. When your old man comes home from work with nerves that are already shot perhaps you could, with a bit of effort, shoot the whole evening.

Let's talk about nerves. If you have ever been awed by complicated tangles of wires in a large telephone cable then you'll be even more wonder-struck by an infinitely more complex system — your nerves.

Day and night millions of messages pour through the billions of cells in the human nervous system telling the heart when to beat, limbs when to move, lungs when to take in air, plus operating its own switchboard.

Without nerves our bodies would be but mere masses of chaotic individual cells. Nobody wants to be just a blob, do you?

Sensory nerves tell whether a steak is tasty, a piece of music pleasing or a view inspiring. Each of your 3,000 taste buds has a nerve connection to the brain.

No one knows exactly how these little taste-buds work but it is thought by some that particles of food fit into them like light plugs into sockets, closing circuits and sending electrical impulses to the brain. The brain interprets them, then arrives at a judgment: the gravy needs salt, the lemon is sour, the stew is delicious. On television new brides can't make coffee without Mrs. Olson, whose taste buds must work perfectly.

When your sweetie says your nerves commenting, "You know, your coffee is terrible," then you'll know he has at last discovered television. Meanwhile you've discovered something too — it's stinking to have prejudiced taste buds.

Those two ears of yours have 100,000 auditory cells and this being Monday you may feel they are all at war. Sound vibrations enter the ear and the mind interprets them as a musical note or an entire melody of music.

The computer in the mind runs the sound through its stored knowledge and informs you that what you're hearing is a repeat of "Hey Jude" or "You're Nothing but a Hound Dog."

Other sounds are interpreted as voices of friends, unexpected footsteps or the sound of your fender being bent by that nincompoop that got in your way while you were quietly running a red light. Anyway, we hear with our ears but we hear "in" the brain.

Something else about one's nerves. Each eye has 130 million honest-to-goodness light receptors which send good impressions to the brain. And all 130 million work perfectly when somebody turns on the light right in your eyes when you're trying to sleep, right?

We see hills, trees and streams with our eyes, but it is actually the brain that gives us a feeling of appreciation and makes us smart enough not to see anything we don't want to and everything we shouldn't.

That isn't all of it! The skin contains a network of receptors which makes your brain want to say things it shouldn't when a hot object is pressed against the skin, or when you jump into the Saturday night bath and painfully remember you didn't add any cold water to the hot.

Step into an ice-cold shower and some of the 250,000 cold receptors in your body demonstrate just how well they can vibrate.

And you know what? The brain pays little attention to messages from only a few receptors. For instance, when a hot needle is pressed against the skin affecting only a tiny spot of receptors, there is no amount of discomfort. Press an equally hot iron on the same area and the alarm goes out. Because anybody who would do that is stupid, of course.

The moral is, don't test the baby's bathwater with only your fingertips. The water may not be overly hot for your fingers but it will sure as all-get-out burn the baby's little bottom. Remember mom, burn yourself first before burning the baby.

Nerves affect our muscular actions, sleep, laughter, tears, and everything we do. So when you yell at your dearie, "You've sure got your nerve!" you'll be right 100 per cent.

How does it feel to be right once?

Now motor nerves are something special. This bunch of workhorses in the body govern such voluntary actions as walking, talking, chewing, talking, talking, and talking. Motor nerves are little relay stations along the nerve lines and have the job of seeing to it that original impulses get to their destination at over 200 m.p.h. They work best if you're a mother-in-law.

Some folk can talk on any subject and some don't even need a subject. They get lots of good service out of their nerve network.

The next time the one you married tells you, "You're nothing but a bunch of nerves," it will likely put you into orbit because you don't know whether it was a compliment or complaint. Ah! Such a world we shake in.

Dear Editor:

It is a little difficult to see the point in the Wayne municipal ordinance requiring each householder to clear his sidewalk of snow when a householder, having done what the ordinance demands, may observe pedestrians walking past his house not on the sidewalk but in the street. Admittedly, a householder may see exactly the same pedestrians walking in the same place in mid-August — when; let it be noted, there are no students in

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

The school board and teachers at Homer have agreed upon a salary schedule for the 1971-72 school year which differs only slightly from the one currently in effect.

The new schedule will contain the same base salary of $6,200 for a teacher with an undergraduate degree with no experience.

Extra duty pay was changed slightly: to $350 for girls' physical education teacher-volleyball and track (from $250), to $700 for head basketball coach (from $600), to $350 for assistant basketball and football coach (from $300) and to $300 for head track coach (from $250).

Howard Lauritsen, secretary for the school board, said that if the 20 teachers now on the staff were to return next year the salary raises would amount to between $8,000 and $10,000 total.

The teachers had requested a base pay of $6,400 and complete family medical insurance coverage. Both were turned down.

A large number of cattle, mostly fat stock, were lost by feeders near Stanton when the Elkhorn River flooded land throughout northeast Nebraska recently.

Hardest hit were the Lyle Farran and Gus Bremer farms.

The cattle were subjected to standing in the water for long periods and were without feed for considerable length of time, causing them to become weak and topple over and drown.

Green will be color of the day come mid-March in Wisner. Plans are under way to hold an all-day shindig on Wednesday, March 17, starting with — you guessed it — a parade being led by McAmara's band.

There's been something of a battle going on the past couple months between Wisner and O'Neill about which is the Irish Capital of Nebraska. O'Neill's St. Pat's celebration is set for March 19-20, so Wisner residents are saying that O'Neill has at least conceded its Irish capital title for that one day.

A disaster fund has been opened in the Pender State Bank to help pay for $1,200 worth of equipment used in pumping out basements and about $2,000 for material used to get furnaces in operation.

Pender was one of the northeast Nebraska towns hardest hit by the recent flooding of Logan Creek and the Elkhorn River. About 300 residents were evacuated by boat, truck, tractor, jeep and rescue units during the flood. Over half of the town was covered by as much as five feet of water the second day of the flood.

Plans are underway to convert the Pierce golf course into a member-owned course. It is currently a privately owned facility. The change should help stimulate interest in golf and bring about desired improvements, according to those pushing for the change.

A preliminary report from a committee commissioned to study the school facilities and needs at Hartington and Wymot recommended merger of the two public school systems.

The report was commissioned last year by the Wymot and Hartington school boards.

The final report from the committee will be ready in four to eight weeks.

The preliminary look at what that report might contain came during a recent meeting attended by the two school boards and representatives of Hartington Cedar Catholic and Holy Trinity schools at Hartington.

There is another Wayne municipal ordinance that forbids pedestrians to enter a thoroughfare except at a crosswalk, but the members of our esteemed local constabulary appear to do little if anything about enforcing it. Enforcement of this ordinance, particularly on Main Street between First and Fourth, but also in residential areas, would not only give the snow-removal ordinance more point but also reduce the possibility of accidents and expedite the movement of traffic.

It is rather easy to stick the ol' foot in the mouth, eh?

After telling her mother, "Somebody is going to have to start this," a nine year old Carroll girl wrote to the state legislature last week:

"Dear Legislator, I am a fourth grader I would like to know if you would like to have your birthday changed? I wouldn't like to have mine changed so I would like you to change Washington's and Lincoln's birthday back to its right date. I am sure you can work on Fridays and on Mondays." Then she signed it, "Your friend."

One thing for sure, our little fourth grade friend isn't going to grow up being one of those people afraid to get involved.

Wear Shatterproof Glasses for Safety

If you wear glasses of any kind, for any reason, whether for corrective purposes or just to keep the sun out of your eyes, they should be constructed of shatter-resistant glass or plastic. If they aren't, warns the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, you are running the risk of severe eye injury—even blindness. Eye accidents can happen to anyone at any time and it doesn't make sense to take chances.

Hot Hands Lead Bears Past Cardinals, 68-54

By Norvin Hansen

The Laurel High Bears sank over half of their attempts from the field on their way to a 68-54 win over hosting Randolph Friday night, season finale for both teams.

Both Laurel and Randolph open Class B district action at Norfolk High this week. The Bears, now 15-5, take on a scrappy West Point Central Catholic club in the meet opener at 7 tonight (Monday). Randolph meets Wisner-Pilger at 8:30 Tuesday night. Randolph stayed with Laurel for the first half by slowing the game and working the ball in for the close shots. Those tactics plus some accurate shooting from the free throw line enabled them to trail 15-13 after one period of play and go into the dressing rooms locked at 29-11.

But the Bears began ripping the game apart in the third period, pouring in 19 points while limiting the Cardinals to just 10. Leading the action in the third period were Laurel's two scoring threats—junior George Schroeder, who ended the season with 22 points, and senior Steve Erwin, who tallied an even 20. Laurel continued the pressure in the fourth period to outscore the hosts by 20-15.

The Bears hit a blistering 53 per cent from the field—30 of 57 attempts—and dominated action under the boards by grabbing off 38 rebounds to Randolph's 25. Randolph hit 41 per cent—19 of 46—for a respectable showing. Leading rebounders for the winners were Regg

Swanson with 11. Schroeder with 11 and Erwin with 10. Only other players joining Schroeder and Erwin in two figures were Cardinals: Dan Pfanz, a 6-2 senior, with 12 counters and Dave Boatman, a 5-6 junior, with 11. Laurel won the reserve contest, 54-38, behind the scoring antics of Bruce Johnson with 18, Gary Chace with 15 and Gene Sarha with 10.

Sports Program Set at Winside

Jerry Adams of St. Louis, Missouri, will present a program on sports at Winside Public Schools on Mar. 4 at 2:40 p.m. His presentation includes demonstrations of competitive sports played in nations around the world.

The entertaining and educational presentation not only includes well known games, such as cricket and Jai Alai, but obscure games such as La Thungana played in Bolivia, and Blasson from Africa's Ivory Coast. Adams will appear under the management of the Division of Supervised Study, State University, Fargo, North Dakota.

Kenneth Cook of Norfolk holds Nebraska's state hook-and-line record for muskellunge with an 18-pound, 4 ounce fish taken from Meritt Reservoir on April 29, 1969.

Turnabout Is Key Word For College Tank Team

Dual competition ended for Wayne State swimmers Wednesday when they added two wins to an 8-5 season mark. That was cheering compared with last year's record, just the opposite at 5-8. Coach Roger Bentley noted.

Next for the Wildcats will be the NAIA District 11 meet here Friday and Saturday. Visitors will be Chadron State, Kearney State and Concordia. Concordia was one of the Wayne victims Wednesday. The Wildcats downed the Bulldogs 79-34 and also beat Augustana 102-5. Wayne's 12 firsts in 13 events included several records.

Freshman Jim Shores tied the school record and beat the pool record with a 2:15.5 in the 200 individual medley. Bob Seymour continued his steady improvement with a school record point total in one meter diving, 257.15. Jim Krecklow tied the pool record of 23.1 in the 50-yard freestyle.

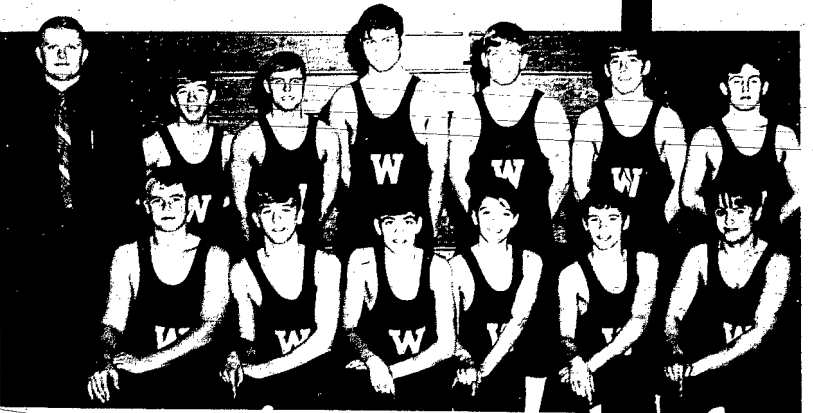

The most encouraging record belonged to the 400-yard freestyle relay quartet of Krecklow, Shores, Bob Meredith and Rich Draper. They swam 3:28.5, a time just a mite short of qualifying them for the national NAIA meet.

Allen-Newcastle Frosh Open Tournament at Emerson-Hubbard

Allen meets Newcastle at 5:30 this afternoon (Monday) in the opening contest of the eight-team freshman basketball tournament at Emerson-Hubbard.

Also squaring off against each other today are Bancroft and Lyons at 6:30; Emerson-Hubbard and Emerson Sacred Heart at 7:30 and Wakefield and Ponca at 8:30.

Second-round action in the tourney is set for 6:30 and 8 Thursday night. Consolation game will be at 6:30 Saturday, championship game at 8 Saturday.

Winside Mat Team Undefeated

Undefeated, that's how this crop of Winside High wrestlers ended the recent season. The club ended with a 9-0 mark, first place in the Winside tourney, second in two other tourneys and second in the district meet. On top of that, six of them went to the state grappling tourney. Front row

Seven Auto Crashes Checked by Police

Wayne police officers investigated seven in-town auto crashes during the last 10 days.

Location of the accidents and drivers involved: La Von Beckman and Donald Gross, Say-Mor Drug parking lot; Randall Goshorn hit a parked auto belonging to Harold Zapp on west First Street; Bernice Moody of Pender and Mrs. Jessie Jeffrey of Wayne, Seventh and Main; Dennis Moore of South Sioux City and John Cleveland of Lincoln Grove, Ia., Third and Main Streets; Verlyn Carlson of Wayne and Clifford Carle of Lyons, 12th and Lincoln Streets; an unknown vehicle hit a pickup belonging to Jim Thomas in the 100 block on Wilcliff Drive; Mrs. Larry Gamble hit a parked auto belonging to Gerald Slitzmann, Hinton, Ia., at the Phillips 66 parking lot.

Laurel, Wayne Open 'B' Tourney Tonight

The Laurel Bears risk their 15-5 mark and the Wayne Blue Devils try to better their 9-11 season showing in the opening round of the Class B district tournament at Norfolk High tonight (Monday).

The Bears take on West Point Catholic in the opener at 7 p.m. Wayne meets Crofton at 8:30 in the second game. Completing first-round action Tuesday night will be Pierce and Hartington Cedar Catholic at 7 and Wisner-Pilger and Randolph at 8:30.

Monday's winners face each other at 7 and Tuesday's winners face each other at 8:30 Wednesday night in semifinal play.

Championship game is scheduled for 7:30 Friday.

Laurel is defending district champion, copping the trophy on the same floor a year ago on the way to an impressive showing in the state tourney at Lincoln. The Bears, underdogs in each game at the University of Nebraska Coliseum, fought to runner-up position in that competition among the select.

The Bears ended regular season of play Friday night with a win over Randolph.

Wayne, finished with regular season action last Tuesday, bowed out of the district tournament a year ago in the opening round. The Devils are buoyed by 457-55 last-minute victory over visiting Hartington Cedar Catholic last week.

Laurel was seeded first in the district tourney, followed by Randolph, Crofton and Pierce.

Officials for the meet will be Larry Sheppard, Sam Baker and Ray Westover. Director will be Henry Hart, athletic head at Norfolk High.

STEAR: Dave Boatman (12) is about to heist the ball from Brent Johnson in Friday night's contest.

First Soap Box Clinic Set for Norfolk Tuesday

A series of special Soap Box Derby clinics designed to help Wayne boys in building their World's Gravity Grand Prix racers was announced today by Norfolk Derby Director Jim Wilcox.

Wilcox said the first clinic will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Northrup Chevrolet in Norfolk. It will cover interpretation of the latest official rules and basic procedures for building a car. Members of the clinic committee include former Derby contestants, inspection officials and technical experts, Wilcox said. They'll offer some important tips to Gravity Grand Prix drivers.

Future sessions will feature the step-by-step process of building a car, and entrants will have an opportunity to discuss specific problems they are having.

Recommended design and construction methods will be explained through use of slidefilms.

All boys are urged in the 1971 Norfolk race are entered to attend the clinics.

Boys from the Wayne area who want to attend Tuesday night's clinic at Norfolk should meet at Carhart Lumber in Wayne at 6:45 p.m. Members of the Wayne County Jaycees, sponsoring organization for the local boys, will go with the boys to the clinic.

Now in its 34th year of competition, the Derby is sponsored nationally by Chevrolet, and each year reaches more than 70,000 youngsters throughout the United States and in several foreign countries.

The Norfolk champion receives a $500 U. S. Savings Bond from Chevrolet, a handsome trophy and an expense-paid trip to Akron, to compete in the All-American Gravity Grand Prix.

The 1971 Norfolk Derby will take place June 27th at Norfolk.

Season Is Disappointing for WS Cagers

By Dick Manley.

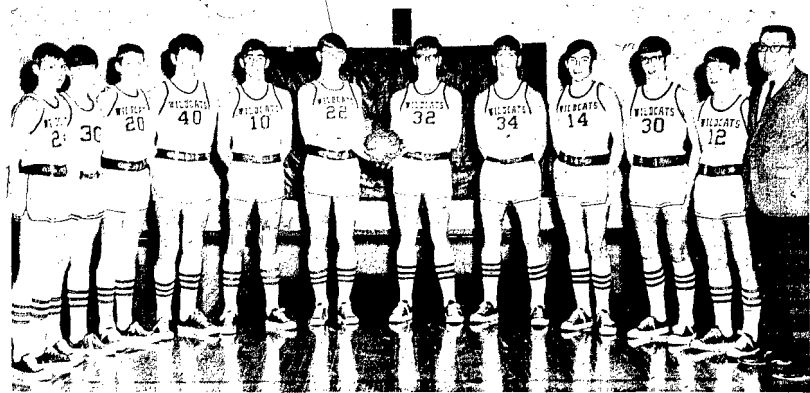

Basketball slipped quietly into the Wayne State record books Wednesday, and the people closest to it—coaches and team—called it a disappointing year. The final disappointment came when Wayne bowed, 66-65, to Peru in the finale. That left the Wildcats with a 10-14 season, and a 2-4 mark tied for third with Peru in the Nebraska College Conference.

Coach Ron Jones told the Second Guessers Club Thursday that before the season he did not expect to win as many as 10. Then as the team improved, he thought the Cats might finish about even. It didn't work out that well.

Still, the Wildcats regularly made their conquerors sweat, and spectators suffered through more suspense than they've been used to in the past three years, the main question was how badly Wayne cagers would whup the foe. This year the Wildcats kept most games boiling until late seconds even when losing.

They had Peru down by one point, 32-31, at the half before spurring back to the last-second folder when Jon Harvey tipped in a Gordie-Jorgensen shot. Peru carefully avoided a foul at that moment and so gained revenge for a home loss to Wayne in January. Scoring statistics revealed a

Winside Cagers Finish 6-10

Coach Jim Winch guided this Winside High basketball club to a 6-10 record this season, gaining victories over Wakefield, Newcastle, Rosalie, Randolph, Wynot and Allen. The squad lost to Pender, 55-48, in the opening round of

LYSINE cuts feed costs 50% and raises more pigs per litter

Forrest, Ill. Robert Kiefer raises hybrid breeding stock on his Dur-Ham Y Farms, farrowing 450 litters a year. He's very much concerned with litter size and good, strong pigs. And he must get top production per sow as well as per pound of feed.

SOWS That's why he was worried a year or so ago when his production efficiency sagged. Then he switched to sow and baby pig rations built with Hy Ly-100 (Lysine Pre-mix). He got unbelievable results. Sows looked better and seemed to feel better immediately. Skin and hoof troubles cleared up. Ninety percent settled on the first service. Sows raised an average of nine good, strong pigs per litter.

BABY PIGS Lysine showed even more startling results with Bob's baby pigs. They suffered no setbacks due to nutritional scours. They grew faster, made cheaper gains and were top quality at sale time. Compared with his previous ration, Mr. Kiefer figures his pig starter cost 50% less, using the Hy Ly-100 formula.

Robert Kiefer with young boar outside pig nursery at Dur-Ham Y Farm south of Forrest, Ill. Pigs average 35-40 lbs. at 6 weeks. Bob showed the 2nd place heavyweight barrow at the National Barrow Show. This winner was raised on the Hy Ly-100 program.

WHAT IS HY LY-100? Hy Ly-100 is a new pre-mix specially formulated to overcome the feeding deficiencies of farm grains. It has high levels (50,000 grams/T) of the amino acid, lysine; PLUS high levels of vitamins and minerals.

If it is fed on the basis of scientific tests, not guesswork. First, your grain is tested for protein. Then a Hy Ly-100 prescription feeding program is formulated. Because it is tailored to supply exactly what your grain lacks, Hy Ly-100 improves feeding efficiency, lowers feeding costs and helps pigs make faster gains of lean, red meat.

Profits are better with Hy Ly-100 because pigs don't have to eat more expensive protein than they need, just to get the amino acids their bodies need for maximum growth. At today's prices, you cannot afford to waste good breeding and management by guessing about lysine.

If your pigs aren't doing as well as they should, start them out on a ration that includes Hy Ly-100. Then get ready for the best bunch of pigs you have ever raised!

Hy Ly-100 contains Ajinomoto's L-Lysine

Over 4,000 pigs a year pass through this Dur-Ham Y nursery on their way to market, mostly as hybrid breeding stock. Nutritional scours are a thing of the past—thanks to Hy Ly-100.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

Try Hy Ly-100 at our risk. Buy enough to mix one ton of baby pig starter. Feed it. Then you be the judge. If it isn't better than anything you ever fed, we'll refund your money. And no questions asked.

common story of the season: Wayne outshot the opponent from the field but lost at the free throw line. Medeiros' field goal accuracy killed the Cats against Peru as they hit only 36 per cent to Peru's 47.

Pheasants Healthy, Bobs Not So Lucky In Recent Blizzard

Nebraska's pheasant population was probably not badly affected by the Feb. 22 blizzard, but the state's quail suffered some loss, according to Game Commission biologists.

They estimate that losses in the state's bobwhite so far have been a bit heavier than normal. But, the biologists were quick to point out that the quail population is quite resilient and predicted that the bobs will be able to make up for the loss next nesting season if more severe winter weather does not cut into the remaining breeding stock.

Both of this winter's major blizzards struck hard at the state's primary quail range in southeast Nebraska. The most recent storm was less severe in terms of wind and low temperature, but its late arrival caught the birds with lower reserves of body fat and less food and cover available.

A better idea of quail losses will be available when information is compiled from biologists and conservation officers across the state.

The situation was complicated somewhat in northeast Nebraska, however. Flood waters covered much of the choice lowland cover as the latest storm hit, and bobs there may have had a difficult time finding suitable shelter from the blizzard.

This winter's two blizzards illustrate an ever-increasing problem of declining habitat in Nebraska, according to the Game Commission. Every year, more of the state's native grasses, weed patches, and timbered areas are cleared, leaving wildlife with little food and cover to see them through the winter storms that are common in the state.

Little can be done for birds at this time, since the cover they need now was destroyed last summer and in previous years. But, the plight of birds in this winter's storms can serve as a reminder next year when farming and ranching operations began.

Wayne Co. Included In Census Survey on Residential Finance

Residents in the counties of Wayne, Cedar, Stanton, Madison and Pierce will take part in the survey of residential finance to be conducted as part of the 1970 census by the Bureau of the census.

Information, although obtained in early 1971, will cover the 1970 calendar year.

The survey is scheduled to get underway late this month and will be concluded early in the summer. It will be done in two phases, mailing of questionnaires to homeowners and owners of rental properties and mailing of questionnaires to lending institutions or individuals involved in financing the properties covered in the first phase.

Among the questions to be answered: How many homes and apartment buildings are mortgaged in the United States? What is the average amount of debt outstanding? What part of a homeowner's income goes for mortgage payments and other housing expenses?

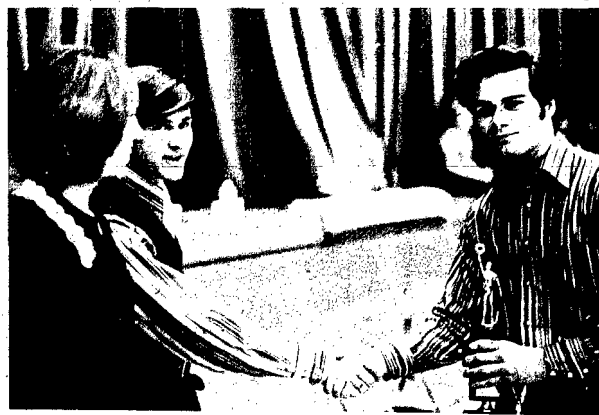

About 65,000 residential housing units will be included—a scientifically designed sample of the entire nation. Of the total, about half will be homeowner properties. The remainder will be rental properties.

Results of the survey will be published as a portion of the Bureau's official report on the 1970 Census of Population and Housing. The new statistics will bring forward information collected at the time of the 1950 and 1960 censuses and updated to a limited extent in 1958.

Property owners will be asked, as in earlier surveys, to describe the number of housing units in their properties, year of construction, year of acquisition, purchase price, if mortgaged, identity of mortgage lender, amount of mortgage, current market value and certain types of expenses in connection with ownership. Homeowners will be asked also their age, sex, race, income and marital and military veteran status.

Owners of rental property will be asked about some of their expenses and about rental receipts in addition to the other basic questions. Lenders will be asked for detailed data about the mortgage principal, interest rate, face amount of the mortgage, term, and current outstanding debt.

Survey information is widely used as a basis for financial planning and decision making;

Monroe Named Athlete of Year

Athlete of the Year, that's the honor Ken Monroe received Wednesday from a Wayne State fraternity. Phi Sigma Epsilon. Crime Survey Is Completed

An eight-county survey of police, prosecution, court and penal institution practices by the Region II and 25 Joint Planning Commission for law enforcement and criminal justice is now completed, according to Norris Wetble, crime commission secretary.

The survey, first of its kind, was carried out last year and covers law enforcement practices throughout the eight counties during a period from Sept. 1, 1968 to Sept. 1, 1969.

Prime object of the survey was to determine the criminal case load in each county. Counties involved include Wayne, Dixon, Madison, Pierce, Knox, Antelope, Cedar and Stanton.

Richard Masten of Norfolk, crime commission consultant, explained earlier, "Specifically, the survey seeks to determine what differences and similarities exist in the daily implementation of Nebraska's criminal law by police, prosecutors, judges and jailers."

County officers including attorneys, judges, sheriffs and clerks of district courts were contacted as main sources of information for the survey.

requires its officers to spend an average to two hours per week per man in study.

$70,000 to Wayne Under Nixon Plan

The city of Wayne would receive a total of $70,252 under the plan, according to President Richard Nixon's plan to share $5 billion in federal revenues with state and local governments, according to a story in the Omaha World-Herald last week.

Wayne County would receive $87,743 under the plan, the story said.

The Nixon Administration distributed to Congress a breakdown of the amount states, cities, counties and townships would get if the plan is approved. Nixon is recommending that $16.1 billion in federal revenues be shared the first year. The breakdown applied to the first $5 billion. A total of $5 billion of the $16.1 billion would be "new money" in that it would not be drawn or diverted from existing federal programs.

The state would be required to pass 57.97 per cent of the money on to local governments under a formula based largely on population but partly on the revenues raised by the local governments.

Cedar County would receive $120,122 under the plan. Dixon County would receive $72,275.

Drive

move Wayne ahead. During the 1971 drive for new members, a large sign will be placed in the window at Phil's Cafe. The sign will be used as a visual report, Bracken explained, so all may see how the membership drive is progressing daily. "The job of the Chamber in any city, whether it be Wayne or Chicago, is to convince all the people that there is but one way to move and that is forward," Bracken said.

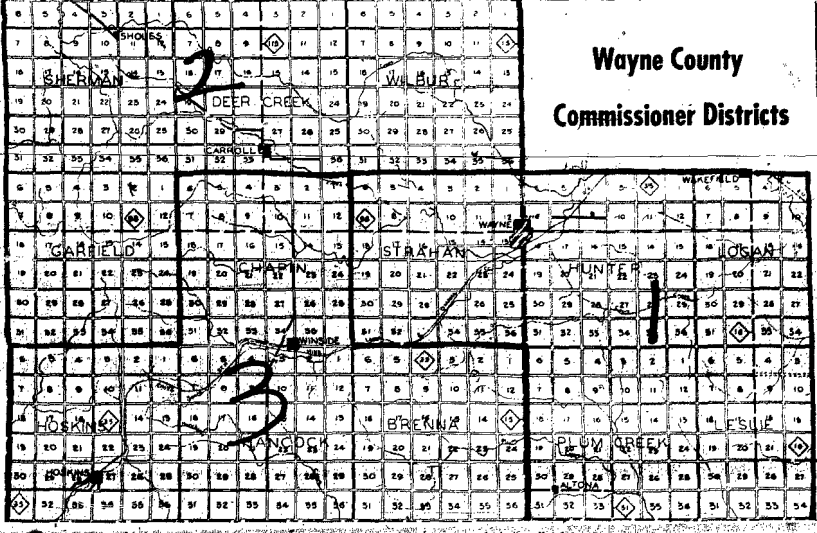

Some Self-Employed

Must File Return
Persons with net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment must file federal income tax returns and pay a self-employment tax, according to Richard Vinal, IRS district director for Nebraska. The Tax Reform Act of 1969 liberalized filing requirements for many taxpayers so, for example, a single person without self-employment income is not required to file a tax return unless he had income of $1,700 or more in 1970. However, an individual must file a return if his self-employment income was $400 or more, even if a return would not have been required based on his total income, Vinal said. Besides filing an individual income tax return, a self-employed individual must complete Schedule SE (Form 1040), Computation of Social Security Self-Employment Tax. Copies of Schedule SE (Form 1040) are available at the IRS office. Trapping season on mink and muskrats in Nebraska end on March 15.
