Multiple Sclerosis Fund Drive Planned

Plans for the 1971 multiple sclerosis fund drive in Wayne were announced Thursday by Mrs. Jerry Malcom and Mrs. Evan Bennett, co-chairmen.

The fund campaign in this area will be kicked off May 23 and will continue through May 29.

Area chairmen are Mrs. Al Kern, Mrs. Larry Johnson, Mrs. Gene Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Otte and Mrs. Evan Bennett. Don Koester of the State National Bank is treasurer.

The national MS fund drive is traditionally held between Mothers' Day and Father's Day. Total contributions in the area last year amounted to $1,000.

Contributions are used in the attempt to solve some of the mysteries of the neurological disease for which there is presently no known cure.

Local Merchants Want Eight Happy Vagabonds

"Be a vagabond at our expense. That's what nearly 40 merchants in Wayne are saying to shoppers in the area."

How? By taking a chance at winning one of eight "Vagabond Vacations" to any of over a dozen cities in the Midwest. And to earn that chance all you have to do is register at any of the stores taking part in the unusual promotion.

Inside this issue of the Wayne Herald is a two-page advertisement listing the first group of preliminary winners for the first free vacation. Later this week the winner of the vacation will be decided by drawing one of those names at random.

Winners in the promotion receive a free vacation to any of the following cities: Denver, Colorado Springs, Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Minneapolis, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Omaha or Lincoln.

The lucky vagabonds—a couple or a single person and one guest—receive free lodging for two evenings and free meals during their weekend stay.

The vacations can be taken anytime during the next six months, offering winners a chance to plan exactly where and when they want to go.

A list of the participating merchants and their preliminary winners can be found inside this issue of the newspaper.

Baccalaureate Service Planned

Baccalaureate services for the 1971 Wakefield High School graduating class have been set for 3 p.m. May 23 in the elementary school auditorium. The Rev. John Epperson, pastor of the Christian Church, will be guest speaker.

Commencement for the class is slated at 8 p.m. on May 26. Eight members of the Wakefield Ministerial Association met Thursday as guests of the Rev. and Mrs. James Marlett to make arrangements for the baccalaureate program. Pastor Marlett will offer the invocation. The Rev. Donald Meyer will offer the invocation at the commencement program.

The Wakefield ministers tentatively plan to meet again at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Meyer following the baccalaureate service.

Rural Resident Now $200 Richer

A happy trio in last week's Cash Night drawing included, from left, Bob Allen of Shrader & Allen Watchery, Bill Lueders and $200 winner Mary Kramer of rural Wayne. The winner, second in drawings, said she has been coming to Wayne for a long time hoping she would win the drawing. Being present at the hatchery at the right time made those dreams come true. Drawing the winning name was Phil Griess of Griess Rexall. This week's drawing will be worth $100 to the shopper who is present in one of the participating stores when his name is called Thursday at eight o'clock.

PTA Disbands At Wakefield

Members of the Parent-Teacher Association at Wakefield voted Monday night to disband the group because of little interest shown in regular meetings.

The vote, taken through secret ballots, was two in favor of continuing the organization and 27 against continuing it.

Elected during the evening were new officers for the coming year. Named for another term as

Board to Ask Cancellation Of Hospital District Election

Wayne County Commissioners will be asked to cancel the upcoming election regarding the creation of a hospital district.

A decision to ask the commissioners not to hold the hospital district election was made during a special meeting Friday evening of the Wayne Hospital Foundation board.

originally proposed totaled more than $44 million, valuation of the area remaining in the district following the commissioners' grant requests for exclusion amounts to less than $10 million.

County Commissioners Floyd Burt, Joe Wilson and Ken Eddle voted last week to grant 14 precincts their requests to be excluded from the original area proposed for the Logan Valley Hospital District.

Olds noted that only the city of Wayne and portions of Hunter and Plum Creek Precincts remain in the proposed district following a revision of boundary lines by the county board.

He said if the remaining area were to become a hospital district, it would mean people living east of Highway 15 south of Wayne would be paying taxes for the district while people west of the highway would be "scot free."

"To finance a proposed hospital in the reduced district would take approximately a 5.5 mill levy on a 20-year bond issue," Olds said.

Cost on the original district was estimated at 1.8 mills.

Norris Welbe, county clerk, said nearly 100 per cent of residents living in the remaining area of the district in Hunter and Plum Creek Precincts signed petitions which were presented to his office Friday. The petitions asked to be excluded from the proposed hospital district.

Welbe said to whether or not the petitions are effective now that the public hearing on the issue See "NO VOTE," page 8

Light Bulb Sales Start This Week

Householders in Wayne will be offered a chance to stock up on something they too often find they are out of—light bulbs—during the Lions Club's latest fund-raising campaign.

Members of the local organization, which have divided into teams to make the selling more competitive, will be going from house to house starting this Wednesday. The sale will last through the following Tuesday.

Headed up the drive this year are Chuck Current, Ray Butts and Larry DeForge.

Chairman of the three teams include B. J. Hirt and John Vokoc; Clarence Bolog and Chris Tietgen; and Robert McLean and Willis Johnson.

Thespians Prove 'You Can't Take It With You'

By Merlin Wright

"You Can't Take It With You," a Moss Hart-George Kaufman three-act comedy, has had people laughing for over 30 years.

It's being relived once again as it came to life Friday and Saturday nights at Wayne High School through talents of the Thespians.

Several hundred people had their funny-bones tickled as they were caught up in the gaiety of watching a sure collision between members of two families—one rich and one extremely individualistic.

The families met head-on in a room—ordinarily described as a living room but in this case a room containing a hurricane of happiness pursued by each character, changing an individual whirlwind—depicting the home of one Martin Vanderhof.

going about the business of living in the fullest sense of the word while doing nothing.

This doing nothing takes place in the room where everybody else is doing something. The ever-present-for-himself room provides an area where meals are served, plays are written, snakes are collected, ballet steps are practiced, a zither is played and one member of the odd-ball family even runs a printing press.

Each member of the family is an individualistic and does that which he likes best with no questions asked.

Penelope Sycamore, Vanderhof's daughter, is writing a play. The daffy one-track-minded writer was made believable by the excellent work of Linda Burke.

As she writes her play, her husband Paul, characterized by Alan Baler, and his friend, Mr. DePenna (Jim Stevenson) are busy experimenting and developing bigger and better fireworks.

Adding extra dashes of humor to their slot in the plot are Essie, Sycamore's daughter (Jane Owens) and her husband Ed (Dan Proett).

But those are not all the characters. Under the Vanderhof roof, there is the beautiful Alice, another of Sycamore's daughters (Lisa Lesh) newly in love. Galen Miller and Elaine Lundstrom were in black-face as Rhea and Donald, household servants.

Family members of an up-town aristocrat named Kirby (Gerald Miller) were Jeri Manning as Mrs. Kirby and Bob Skokan as their handsome son.

Hilarious lines, particularly in the second and third acts, are fired at a rapid pace when the not-so-well-to-do Vanderhof family is paid an unexpected visit by the snooty Kirbys. The get-together is brought on by Kirby's son wanting to marry the beautiful Alice.

The rich Kirbys get quite an impression of the Vanderhof brood when skyrockets go off, Vanderhof is nailed by the Internal Revenue Department, Essie insists on dancing, Kirby is flipped on the floor by an enthusiastic dance instructor named Kolenchuk, and Marjorie Lundstrom, as Gay Wellington, runs around the stage having had a little too much to drink, and the entire group is arrested by Joe Manley and Duane Grosse playing G-men.

Kathy Reichardt deserves special mention for mastering a heavy accent interpreting the dance instructor Kolenchuk. Ann Owens as Olga and Dorothea Boeckenhauer as Miss Henderson See THESPIANS, page 8

New Ball Park — New Name?

Now that considerable work is being done on the Wayne ball park in order to make it an attractive place for youths and adults to play baseball and softball, it might well be the time to think about a formal name for the park.

After considerable neglect, the park began to get attention last summer. The city council decided to have a hand in the renovation of the park by keeping a closer eye on the work going on there and by spending money to buy seats, paint and so on. A few volunteers have put in a lot of hours over the past several months, tearing out and replacing rotten lumber, working on the dugouts and fixing the seating in the grandstand.

Hopefully, the park will look much improved when the new coat of paint and the work is finished. We suggest that the city council officially adopt a name for the park. A possibility: The Ralph Bishop Memorial Park. Any other possibilities? — NLH.

It May Save Lives

A new bill became law a week ago which provides that minors age 13 through 16 can operate motorized farm equipment on the highways and roads if they live on a farm and if they have a permit to do so.

The bill signed into law by Gov. J. Exon provides for two permits by the Department of Motor Vehicles allowing the applicant to drive a farm machine during a period of six months. A second permit, obtained by taking an examination, is planned for later issuance.

The temporary permit will give the department opportunity to develop a qualifying test for applicants. Applicants must obtain the blanks, fill them out and have parents sign them. The applications must then be notarized and sent to the Department of Motor Vehicles with a dollar in the form of a postal money order or a cashier's check. Cash or personal checks are not acceptable.

The permit may be revoked by authorities for driving violations.

Living in an agricultural area, most of us are aware that moving farm equipment on roads is commonplace and necessary.

Farm youths hereafter driving tractors or other motorized farm equipment on the highways can take pride in having a legal permit to do so, and, after passing a qualifying examination in the future, will know their driving ability has earned them the privilege.

There will undoubtedly be some objections to the new legislation as there was when automobile drivers first had to be licensed. Most people using the highways realize now, however, that licensing following the passing of a qualifying test has undoubtedly put a better driver on the road thereby saving lives.

We feel the need now for farm youths to pass a test and get a permit to drive farm equipment on the road will give the youths a sense of pride when they qualify, much as it does when one first gets a driver's license. It may also save lives. — MMW.

Sparks Could Light A Fire

Most people would admit that last Monday night's meeting on beautification of the downtown business district in Wayne was poorly attended. A total of about 35 people showed up for the meeting. It could easily have attracted over 100.

But regardless of the turnout, the meeting certainly proved worthwhile for many who were there. It opened our eyes to the possibilities awaiting Wayne if we choose to take on a project of cleaning and brightening up our business district.

A beautification project does not have to be an involved and costly thing. The films and talks Monday night proved that. The project might amount to little more than painting and cleaning up several store fronts. It might also include looking with a critical eye at the mess we have created with our conglomeration of signs. It would very likely cost some store owners not a cent, for the attractive storefronts they now have would need little if any changes. Something should be done to the business area to make it more attractive to shoppers. We think a majority of the businessmen would agree to that statement. However, any project or projects should be undertaken in going to be difficult to agree upon.

We suggest that the Chamber of Commerce call another meeting on the subject within the next week. Invite the businessmen, city and county officials, high school and college youths and anybody else who might have an interest in the health of the business area. That meeting should give us some idea as to what the next step should be.

We think the downtown businessmen are missing out on a good opportunity to improve the looks of their "front yards" if they fail to follow up on the sparks of enthusiasm created by last week's meeting. — NLH.

Dear Editor:

Alamosa, Colo. During our time in Wayne we enjoyed reading The Wayne Herald complimentary papers. We would like to continue receiving The Herald here.

Please bill us for a year's subscription so we can continue reading about people who came to mean so much to us while we were in Wayne.

Bodine Russell (Mrs. Paul)

Wayne

Dear Editor:

Flirt off, I want you to know I am very interested in the high cost of living, whether it is taxes, groceries or what have you. I have six kids and I know what it is like each month to try and make ends meet. But...

Can we, as a fast-growing community which wants new industries and more doctors, afford not to have one of the best hospitals for our size town?

Does everyone realize what will happen if the Wayne Hospital is shut down? Sure you can go to Norfolk, Sioux City and even Wakefield if they aren't full or if they have the equipment to handle your particular case. However, you can always be lucky enough to plan ahead for sickness or an emergency?

Also, who wants to live with the thought that they voted the hospital out when lives are lost because they had to go to the city for an emergency and just missed being saved by a couple minutes? We think it can't happen to us, that it is just something we read about in the paper. Believe me, it will happen to you if they shut the hospital down. Sooner or later it will touch us all, one way or another.

I wasn't to the meetings conducted for the hospital, but I understand Laurel voted against it. If they have money enough to build their own, I say fine. I would even vote to go along with them if Wayne doesn't build one. But, they have been hollering for years, "What are we going to do when Dr. Carroll leaves us?" How in the world can they expect a doctor to make residence there when they vote out a place for him to work?

In the first place, the doctors are much more qualified and better trained than the equipment we provide for them. They have had training with the newest equipment and techniques and we expect them to live here, give all that training up and just sit back and hand out a pill now and then. (I have paid hospital bills in Norfolk, Sioux City, Omaha and Wayne and believe me there is a big difference!)

You don't go into a garage and tell the mechanic to overhaul your car and expect him to just use a pair of pliers. Nor do you want a house built or remodeled by a carpenter who uses just a hand saw.

We criticize our youth for not having respect for their elders, the flag or our government and then we won't even help ourselves or our neighbors. We are sure good examples of a humane and friendly community, aren't we?

We talk about building a mall down town because that will bring us in a buck, but if we have to dig down and pull some out of our pocket we holler like it was Pearl Harbor all over again! Boy, that all mighty dollar!

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Monday, May 3, 1971

If the hospital doesn't go through I hope no one ever needs it and loses a life because it's not available. You won't be able to take it with you, so why not buy a little more insurance for you and your loved ones by investing in a hospital even if you have to work a little harder or a little longer to get that extra money it will take? If it were for a new car you would. Is it really an investment that no one can go wrong on.

Lloyd Russell P.S. I have noticed quite a few thank yous in the newspaper after treatment from the local doctors or at the local hospital.

Wayne Dear Editor:

Do you remember when Wayne had welcome flags flying at the crack of dawn for any event that would bring guests to our town?

It is rare that these flags are seen on Wayne light poles. Why? In the past three weeks Wayne has been host to events that entertained people from a large area. (In one small group rated the welcome mat treatment. Why?)

The college graduation, over 200 students with family and friends here, didn't rate.

The high school music contest which your paper stated would consist of 3,500 students and teachers, didn't rate, Why?

Editor's Note: This letter brings up some good questions. The writer is perfectly correct in questioning why the flags were put up for one event which attracted fewer than 100 people to the city, the recent Wally Byam Caravan outing, and not put up for events which attracted several hundred and several thousand people. The Chamber of Commerce decides when the flags are put up, according to the Chamber manager, Floyd Brackner. He said "they just weren't put up for the two events mentioned in the letter. He noted that at times it is difficult to find somebody to put the flags up and take them down. The city administrator, Dan Sherry, said that the welcome flags are a Chamber project and should be taken care of by the Chamber since the businessmen directly benefit from any large gathering in the city."

Dear Editor: I am writing in to protest the hospital district of the new reduced area. I never protested before because, frankly, my increase in taxes wouldn't amount to that much. I did, however, sympathize with several of the districts on the outside edges who would probably never benefit from the hospital.

This new plan is ridiculous and unfair. Why must I pay and my rich neighbors across the road and closer to town go Scot free? How could anyone with reasoning power come up with a plan like this? A certain number of miles radius of Wayne would be much better.

I urge you renters to vote against this plan for this reason: If the plan goes through you might as well plan on paying higher rent in the future to compensate for the higher taxes.

And what are they going to call this new hospital? Maybe it will be Logan Valley, West Two-Thirds of Hunter and North Half of Plum Creek Precinct, Hospital.

What I want is an explanation of this new plan—why and how they came to this conclusion! Name Withheld Upon Request

Beautiful Downtown Wayne

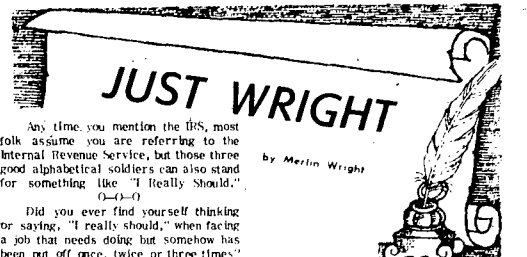

The use of a telephoto lens on a camera smashes several blocks of the downtown business district together and emphasizes the maze which has been created by store signs of various sizes, shapes and heights. As can be easily seen, there is no rhyme or reason to this aspect of our downtown area. Last week's meeting on beautification of the business area—subject of an editorial on this page—noted that simply by coordinating and harmonizing the signs used by the various merchants, a city can achieve a pleasing and attractive shopping area. What's your opinion of our downtown area? Is it pleasing and attractive? Do you think a meeting should be held to try to make it more of a place where shoppers would like to go? If so, call the Chamber of Commerce and suggest such a meeting.

Any time you mention the IRS, most folk assume you are referring to the Internal Revenue Service, but those three good alphabetical soldiers can also stand for something like "I Really Should."

Did you ever find yourself thinking or saying, "I really should" when facing a job that needs doing but someone has been put off once, twice or three times?

Those words get a real workout with "I really should clean up the yard today," "I really should go visit the folks," "I really should fix that bad place in the front walk," "I really should write some letters," or "I really should never have consented to help out over there."

Sound familiar? Have you ever considered getting a piece of paper and jotting down all the items that might be appropriately listed under an IRS heading?

If you make such a list, don't show it to anyone because folk likely have no idea you are that far behind on the things you want to get done, right?

Remember the diet you haven't had the nerve to tackle but you keep telling yourself "I really should!" Don't forget that overweight is like sugar in feed coffee—after a while it settles to the bottom.

Any man who has lived through spring cleaning knows why hurricanes are given feminine names. "I really should help her," you think to yourself and then suddenly discover you really should go fishing.

The "really shoulds" are a genuine masterpiece of mental acrobatics.

"I really should go on there," J. W. said to himself one day while going by The Joint on Main in Wayne. We went in—had a pleasant visit with the Roblsons—and left with a card in hand. That which is printed on the card is said to have been found in an old Saint Paul's Church in Baltimore, Md. and dated 1692.

It is worth sharing and goes like this: "Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence.

"As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others; even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story."

"Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexatious to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans."

"Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. But do not distrust yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself."

"You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should."

by Merlin Wright

"Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul."

"With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy." Nice, huh?

Let you a dime you are like the rest of us and have thought "I really should" when considering brightening the day for someone unable to get out-of-doors this spring.

J. W. knows just the guy you might want to say "hi" to in a few lines. Seventeen-year-old Danny Morrison of Wayne has been hospitalized in Omaha since early January as the result of a car accident. He is partially paralyzed and not able to write at this time but is able to be up in a wheel chair for an hour at a time, several times a day.

Danny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morrison of Wayne, is looking forward to possibly getting back to Wayne on weekends later this summer.

His address: Danny Morrison, Douglas County Hospital, Room F107 Rehab, Omaha, Nebr.

Other items on my IRS list include:

—wrap up a mile of Highway 15 north of Wayne and send it to the State Highway Department in Lincoln to use for driving to work on.

—try holding my own, and I could if it wasn't for the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

—go answer the telephone which, like a spoiled infant, constantly cries to be picked up.

—have the courage to write all of the truth, but it is hard to locate enough asbestos paper to print some of the goodlies on.

—learn that forbidden fruit is responsible for many a bad jam.

I really should find out just when to celebrate some of these special days. Uncle Sam has passed a law changing the dates on which several holidays are to be observed. For instance Memorial Day will be observed on the last Monday in May rather than May 30th and Columbus Day has been changed from Oct. 12 to the second Monday in October. Veteran's Day, at one time observed Nov. 11, has been changed to the fourth Monday in October.

It all means one is free to celebrate his own birthday just about any time he pleases—or if he pleases at all—so wait out twenty-first birthday. I'm coming back to celebrate you again! I really should.

Talking about those days when we were born, did you see that report in the daily papers noting that only two out of five Americans living today were alive during the Great Depression of the 1930's?

The item said that only one out of two present Americans was alive during World War II. And 25 per cent of Americans now living were born after 1957, when the first manned satellite was launched. Think I'll go up into the attic and get out that old song, "Darling, I Am Growing Old." I really should, but likely won't.

Buyers and sellers meet!

Devils Blank Dodge, 1-0, Friday

Right fielder Lynn Gunderson ripped a double off Dodge's Larry Elkmeter to drive in Jim Kenny in the bottom of the fourth frame to score the only run in Wayne High's 1-0 shutout Friday afternoon.

Pitcher Mike Ginn, 1-0 loser to Dodge earlier in the year, threw hitless ball despite control problems the last half of the contest to collect his third win of the season.

The two squads scrapped for three full innings before either got a break.

Dodge loaded the bases in the fourth with two out on an infield error and two walks by Ginn, but the young junior managed to get out of the hole with an infield grounder.

Wayne capitalized on Kenny's single to open the bottom of the fourth as Mike Creighton sacrificed him to second and Gunderson drove him home with a shot down the left field line.

Dodge's Elkmeter permitted only one other hit in the contest—another double, this one by Kenny with two out in the fifth.

Ginn found himself in trouble three of the last four times on the mound. Dodge moved a man to second in the fifth when Ginn gave up another of his five free passes to first, and another to third in the sixth when a free ticket and two stolen bases put a tie within reach of the visitors.

Ginn used a strike out to end both threats.

The local club, now 7-1 for the season, came up with its first double play of the year—a fly to catcher Mike Creighton and a toss to first baseman Chuck Roland to catch the runner leading off.

Ginn fanned eight batters while blanking the visiting Dodge squad, annually one of the toughest teams for the local team.

Clis opponent on the mound struck out three and walked just two.

Wayne, 6-1 winners over Wakefield the day earlier, sees more action today (Monday) when Bancroft comes here. Wednesday the club is scheduled to play at Ponca, completing the regular season.

District action begins the following week.

Against Wakefield, Wayne hitters had the best day of the year as they poked out 11 hits off Bob Twite, three of them for extra bases.

Rod Cook won his fourth game in a row without a loss by throwing hitless ball after the first two frames when he gave up a triple.

Local Jr Hi Track Club Wins Triangular at WS

Wayne's Marty Hansen came off the field with four first places as the local junior high track club rolled over Wakefield and Allen in a triangular at Wayne State College Wednesday afternoon.

Young Hansen pulled down wins in the 60-yard low hurdles, 100-yard low hurdles, long jump and shot put while helping Wayne build up 114 points. Wayne took eight first places out of the 14 events.

Wakefield, in second place with 85 1/2 points, won the other six events. Allen, third with 8 1/2 points, failed to take a first place in the action.

Hansen and Wakefield's fine young athlete Chuck Lindstrom died in the high jump until both set school records—Lindstrom clearing 5-4 for top honors and Hansen clearing 5-2 for runner-up standing.

The other local school records broke in the afternoon's competition were in the 60-yard dash where Dick Chapman ran a 57.4 for a second place (behind Mark Foehner of Wakefield, 37.1) and the 440-yard relay where Dick Chapman, Rod Hoops, Mike Blank and Marty Hansen ran a 52.9 plus for second behind Wakefield's team, which had the same clocking for top honors.

Also earning firsts for Wayne were Rod Hoops, Earle Overin and Ilich Workman.

Wakefield's Mark Koerber was the only other multiple winner during the day, stealing firsts in the 80-yard dash and the 100-yard dash. Joining him and Lindstrom with top finishes was Keith Woodward.

Wayne and Wakefield plan on taking part in the junior high track meet at South Sioux City on Tuesday. After that, the local team will take part in the Husker Conference track meet at Wayne State on May 11.

College Baseball Team Pushes Record to 15-7

Wayne State ran its baseball record to 15-7 Wednesday with 5-3 and 3-1 wins over Northwestern College.

The twin bill, originally scheduled for Tuesday at Orange City, was played on the WS college diamond a day later because of wet grounds at Northwestern.

The Wildcats, after spotting Northwestern one run in the top of the first, came back with a three-run burst in the bottom of that inning when they combined two singles, two walks and a halder error. Catcher Pete Filipic added to his clutch-hit reputation with a two-run double in the fifth.

Northwestern added one more run in the seventh, but never managed to convert 10 hits into a consistent offense. Wayne got seven hits.

Charlie Solano made his pitching record 3-1 as the starter for Wayne but had relief in the seventh from Greg Pender.

Wayne's Gary Jamleson won the second to make his record 4-1, though he had relief in the nightcap fifth from Ron Nelson. Wayne scored once in the third. Northwestern tied the count in the top of the fourth, but Wayne added the winning two runs in the bottom of the fourth.

A conference double header was scheduled Saturday afternoon with Wayne host to Kearney State on the college diamond.

Area Fishermen Hold Several State Records

Fishermen across the state have their eyes on state records as spring's fast and furious angling approaches.

Several northeast Nebraskans hold state records going into the fishing season. Those record holders:

Raymond Promes, Wymot, 100-pound, eight-ounce blue catfish caught in Missouri River near Wymot in November last year.

Orville Sudbeck, Hartington, 76-pound flathead catfish caught in Missouri River near Wymot in March of this year.

Kenneth Cook, Norfolk, 18-pound, four-ounce muskellunge caught in Merritt Reservoir in April of 1969.

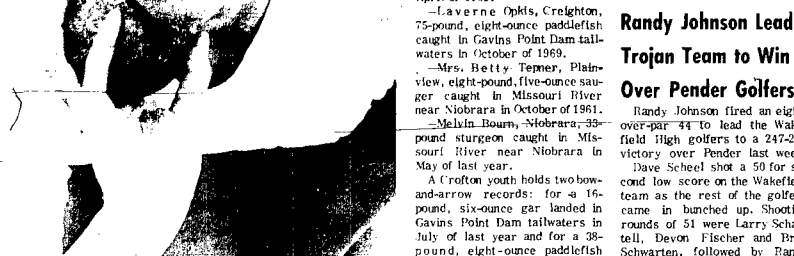

Laverne Opks, Creighton, 75-pound, eight-ounce paddlefish caught in Gavins Point Dam tailwaters in October of 1969.

Mrs. Betty Temner, Plainview, eight-pound, five-ounce sauger caught in Missouri River near Niobrara in October of 1961.

Melvin Bourn, Niobrara, 35-pound sturgeon caught in Missouri River near Niobrara in May of last year.

A Crofton youth holds two-bow-and-arrow records for a 16-pound, six-ounce gar landed in Gavins Point Dam tailwaters in July of last year and for a 38-pound, eight-ounce paddlefish landed at same site later that month. John J. Schuckman Jr. holds the records for those two categories.

Area Fishermen Hold Several State Records

Concentration: Kirk Peters of Wakefield gives all his attention to this hole in the shot put during the junior high track meet at Wayne State Thursday.

Baseball Clinic Set for Youngsters

Youngsters planning on competing in the coming Pitch, Hit & Throw contest at the Wayne baseball field might want to plan on taking part in a clinic scheduled for early next week.

The clinic, which will be held at the ball field on Monday afternoon, May 10, will include instruction and tips on all three phases of baseball the youths will be testing for during the contest.

Taking part in the clinic, set for 4:30, will be Bill Workman with pitching, Darrell Moore with hitting and Larry Test with throwing.

The Wayne County Jaycees are sponsoring the contest again this year. It will be held at the ball field on Sunday afternoon, May 23. All participants in the Phillips 66-sponsored contest receive shoulder patches for their jackets. Winners of the three age brackets receive a plaque and patch for second place.

The top three winners in Wayne earn the right to advance to the district contest. Competition continues through the division level with those winners competing during the all-star game in Detroit.

There is no charge for taking part in the contest, open to youths ages nine through 12. Entrants must register on official entry forms at all participating Phillips 66 stations through May 20. Also available at the gas stations are small booklets giving information about the contest and tips on how to improve in the three areas which will be tested.

Devils, Trojans Trail in Track Meet

Wayne collected three points, Wakefield eight as they ran far down the pack in their classes in the second annual Wisner-Pilger invitational track meet Thursday.

Winning the division for the larger schools was Blair with 85 points. The hosts came in second with 62 1/2.

Taking top honors among the smaller schools was Schriener with 81 points. West Point High came in second with 61.

Wayne's points came on a fourth in the long jump by Tommie with a 19-0 leap (won by Cemer of Blair, 21-1 3/4) and a fifth in the mile relay with a 3:53 run (won by Blair in 3:41.4).

Wakefield's points came on a third place by Kline in the two mile run in 10:44.7 (won by Helt of Clarkson, 10:32.5), a third in the two-mile relay with a 8:58 clocking (won by Humphrey St. Francis, 8:54.5) and a fifth by Hansen in the mile run in 4:59.4 (won by Englebart of West Point High, 4:32.8).

Wayne came in last in the eight-team field. Wakefield finished eighth out of the 11 teams. Pender had 14 points for seventh place.

each contributed to the framework of the play. It all turns out well, in the end, of course, with young Kirby and his true love, Alice, planning to be married.

There was something more that was said by the play other than pure entertainment. It was said through Grandpa Vanderhoff's philosophy of life as he explained it to the wealthy Kirby who has stomach ulcers due to too-fast living and pursuit of the dollar. The philosophy, of course, is: why work so hard doing things you don't want to do for nothing but money when you can't take it with you?

Extra credit is due each of the cast members for obvious second effort in making the story real and relaxed. Illustrating that point was Shaver who made four out of six bullseyes Friday night while shooting darts on stage from a crunched position as an old man.

Ted Blendernan directed the play. Other crew members: Cathy Barclay, stage manager; Jan Sherry, house manager; Jody Bethwick, make-up; Linda Burke and Jeff Manning, costumes; Randall Miller, props; Joyce Ham and Miller Landstrom, lighting; and Dan Proett designed the set.

'No Vote'

Representatives of Hunter and Plum Creek Precincts are reportedly planning to meet with the county commissioners Tuesday on the issue.

Other items discussed by the group meeting Friday night included the possibilities of either a county or city hospital.

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott As I have often said, the astrology of the future will be only remotely similar to the astrology of the present. Certainly more and more scientists will begin to do research in the exciting area of planetary heredity, biological clocks, etc. Some researchers have already given names to their new discipline: "cosmobiology" or "cosmoeology". Some of the best introductions to this "new" science would be the books by the French psychologist Michael Gauquein. I'd like to mention a little about his book "The Scientific Basis of Astrology."

Although most of the book is concerned with the work of other researchers, the short description of Gauquein's own work is interesting. Gauquein, who is not an astrologer, said of his findings when they tended to support some long-standing premises of astrology: "They seem no more at home with reason than with superstition, for my findings are completely without explanation at the present time."

While a young man, Gauquein collected detailed birth data of over 500 doctors—month, day, year, hour, minute and place of birth. Then he tabulated his data to see if the birth of doctors was more significant during certain periods than others. His results were disappointing. The experiment was repeated, but the same results came out. "As in the first group," he wrote, "these other famous doctors' births were inexplicably grouped around the rise and zenith of Mars and Saturn. This was both absurd and embarrassing."

The next step for Gauquein was to publish his findings and wait for criticisms from colleagues. Scientists suggested that Gauquein try the same experiment only not using French doctors. So, starting in 1935 he and his wife visited one foreign country each year during their vacations to collect birth data on doctors. A phenomenal 25,000 births were collected from the countries of Germany, Italy, Belgium and Holland. The data were indexed and made ready for analysis.

Needless to say, the same results appeared as in the early work. Whether the person was German, Italian or French made no difference. "Absurd though it seemed, a closer and closer correlation was revealed between the time when certain great men were born and their professional careers. Doctors were not the only example, and Mars and Saturn were not the only planets to follow this rule. Jupiter and the moon appeared to have an equally large importance for other professions. But the most significant results regularly appeared for each planet just after its rise and its zenith."

Gauquein found a high frequency of people with certain occupations with the rise and zenith of Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and the moon. In an experiment dealing with planetary heredity, Gauquein spent five years in city halls regional to Paris collecting birth data of parents and children. His collection numbered more than 15,000, which allowed for the calculation of almost 300,000 positions of the planets. After indexing, the analysis indicated a correlation between the timing of the birth of parents with that of their children. In other words, a daughter could very likely be born when Mars was ascending in the horizon if her parents had that same astronomical configuration at their own birth. It sounds absurd, but research into 15,000 births shouldn't be taken lightly.

"The Scientific Basis of Astrology" hasn't made a lot of friends among astrologers because of its disregard of many of their apparently unsupportable doctrines. Nevertheless, this book should be of anyone interested in far-out popular science. It retails for $5.95 and is purchased from the publishers, Stein and Day, 7 East 48th Street, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Complete First Aid Course

A total of 14 people have completed both the standard and advanced levels of the Red Cross first aid course which was given at Allen over the past several weeks.

Another four people finished the first level of the course, designed to better equip private citizens to handle such emergencies as car wrecks and fires. Completing both levels of the course were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lindefelder, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kier, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jeffrey, Mrs. Paul Raim, Bill Loukota, Marvin Reuter and Keith Hill.

Armond Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schroeder and Jim Mitchell finished just the first level of the course. The group is now capable of accompanying the Allen rescue unit when it is called out.

Teaching the group, which met each Thursday evening for 10 weeks at the fire hall, was Jim Sherlock of Emerson.

The group will now meet the last Wednesday evening of each month to practice first aid procedures. Allen presently has a 1964 station wagon which is equipped with emergency equipment and is used as an ambulance. The vehicle is available to anybody in the area in case of an emergency. It can be summoned by calling 635-2455 or 635-2202.

The emergency vehicle and all Allen fire department vehicles will be equipped with two-way radios. The four radios were purchased from Nebraska Public Power District and are now in Sioux City having the crystals changed. They will be installed in the vehicles within the next three weeks and will work on the county sheriff's channel.

Local Golfers Second In Triangular Friday Three Wayne High golfers turned in rounds of 88 as the local squad came in second in a triangular at the Wayne Country Club Friday afternoon.

'Only An Orphan Girl' — A Saga of Sentiment

By Merlin Wright

A crowd of nearly 300 persons bled and boomed while others took the liberty of throwing peanuts on stage during the Wakefield senior class play presented at the Wakefield Elementary School Tuesday night.

Nothing was done to stop it, in fact, the management encouraged the unusual activities of the audience.

Did the characters in the play "Only An Orphan Girl" feel bad about the booing, hissing, peanut throwing and cheering? Not at all!

A foot-stomping, old fashioned fun fest was re-created on stage by the seniors Tuesday and Wednesday night as they produced a crowd-pleasing "melodrama" — a type of play long absent from area stages.

The audience was well prepared for the evil-villain, the poor girl in distress and the hero due to excellent pre-play planning.

Prior to the opening curtain of the saga of sentiment, members of the audience were given a list of printed house rules including such admonition as "Encouragement to the actors in the form of cheering, applauding, hissing, booing, stamping of feet, whistling, sobbing and gasping will be enthusiastically tolerated by the management."

Further instructions noted, "Peanuts are not to be shucked during the performance as the sound may destroy the concentration of the actors upon their scene — such as it is."

Limits were drawn, however, as the throwing of sarsaparilla bottles, ear trumpets, small change, hats, caps, shoes, truck garden products — especially over-ripe varieties thereof — crutches, theatre seats, partners, knives, lighting fixtures, canes, baskets and small children were frowned upon by the management, according to a special announcement.

Fun reigned as persons with heart conditions unable to withstand the fast pace of the stage action were requested to take seats near the exits where the latest in horse-drawn harnesses (supposedly) awaited their removal.

The traditional plot of such a melodrama involves a poor innocent girl being threatened by a black-caped villain and rescued, of course, by the young handsome hero. A tinkling barroom piano is another essential for mood music.

Wakefield seniors deserved their applause for doing such a great job in bringing the Ray nettes drama back to northeast Nebraska.

Doug Samuelson, playing the part of the evil, loud-mouthed villain, acted his part to the hilt while being literally bombarded with peanuts, hisses and boos from the audience.

Connie Twite, as Nellie the orphan girl, and Rick Olson, characterizing a clean-cut farm lad by the name of Dick Perkins, combined their fun-making talent with the following: Dave Gardner as Sweet Perkins; Donna Johnson as Ethel Lutherford; Barbara Brownell as Mrs. Perkins; Janet Gustafson as Widow Appleby and Anne Leonard as Lucre.

Lynn J. Tomjack directed the production with the experienced assistance of Tom Karel of Wayne. Both Bert of Wayne added her musical talents to the show by playing the barroom piano in appropriate style.

It appears nothing was overlooked in making the rib-tickling four-act play just what it was meant to be — an evening of old fashioned entertainment. Costumes, sound effects, stage properties, make up and lighting were skillfully used to capture the audience into the fun-making.

Crew members included Debbie Heekens, stage manager, assisted by Mary Kaufman; Bruce

Doug Samuelson is the black-caped villain threatening the life of Nellie, played by Connie Twite, in the Wakefield senior class play, "Only An Orphan Girl."

Lahr and Jere Schroeder, lights; Rita Bargholz and Marilyn Kramer, sound; Barb Turner, Jody Anderson and Anne Leonard, costumes; Doug Backstrom, Steve Oswald, Paul Jensen, Gary Krusemark, Mike Benson and Gerde Johnson were stage crewmen.

Other committees were Kim Kline, Paul Jensen and Gary

Krusemark, props; Marjorie Sorenson, Barb Brownell and Connie Twite, make-up; Peggy Stallin and Mary Preston, box office; George Hanson and Paul Jensen, peanut pushers; and the office practice and art classes, had charge of publicity.

Senior class mothers were in charge of the pie and coffee sale following the play.

—Firemen Report Busy Year

Wayne volunteer firemen battled 17 in-town fires and 18 rural fires in the last 12 months, according to a report filed with the city council Tuesday night by Cliff Pihkelman, fire chief.

Pihkelman estimated a total value of property endangered by those 35 fires to be approximately $1,062,000.

He said estimated fire damage in town during the last year is $1,237, and around $10,485 in the rural areas.

Of that $10,485 in rural fire damage, Pihkelman said $11,000 of that amount was lost in one fire when a machine shed and equipment belonging to Arnold Nielsen burned south of Wayne.

One of the toughest fires to fight, he said, was a fire about two miles west of town last August when a barn and crib caught fire from a pile of trees being burned north of Highway 35.

SS Q & A

Q—Have a rather large dividend accumulation on deposit with the Veterans Administration Insurance service. May I withdraw it?

A—Yes. You may withdraw all, or any part of the accumulated dividends.

Q—Shortly after I was separated from service, I converted my GI insurance policy, and have kept it in force. May I borrow on this policy?

A—Yes. Your policy describes the loan features. If you wish exact figures, you should contact the Veterans Administration office to which you send your insurance premiums. They will explain your policy's loan provisions, tell you the amount available, and provide an application form. The interest charge on policy loans was raised to five per cent earlier this year.
