Home Sewing—A Teen Hobby
A recent survey indicates six out of seven teenage girls know how to do some sewing and name it as their number one hobby.

Today's wide variety of fabrics, trims and notions tempt many girls and homemakers to expand their wardrobes by home sewing. At the same time, teenage girls and homemakers are getting more garments for their clothing dollars.

Designer patterns are more readily available than previously, and commercial pattern companies have developed many different pattern sizes for a variety of figure types.

Fashion magazines are placing greater emphasis on home sewing. Issues often include fashion photographs and information on handling and caring for the new fabrics.

Another recent development is the availability of pre-cut kits for garment construction. Kits may contain outer fabric, interfacing, thread and notions needed for quick garment construction.

County extension offices and the University of Nebraska North-east Station at Concord have numerous circulars which give clothing construction ideas and information. Teenagers and homemakers are welcome to visit an extension office and review these circulars. Single copies are available without charge.

Devils Aim for Back-to-Back State Baseball Crowns

Wayne High's baseball club will be shooting for back-to-back state tournament trophies Monday at Lincoln.

The players earned their second straight trip to the state tournament—by downing Dodge, 3-0, Tuesday afternoon at Wayne State College.

Described by Coach Mike Mallette as "very satisfying," the win caps off something of a bumpy season which saw the Devils drop three decisions while coming up with 10 wins.

One of those losses was to Dodge early in April. The Devils later dumped Dodge by the same score, 1-0, to even the series going into Tuesday's finals of the district meet.

The Devils need only to win twice at the state tournament Monday to make the close of the season almost a repeat of last year. In 1970 the Devils dropped two regular season games to Dodge before winning against them in the district finals for a ticket to Lincoln.

Several players figured importantly in Wayne's win. Among them:

—Jim Kenny, shortstop who opened the Wayne attack by hitting a hit into right field which he turned into a triple after the Dodge player let the ball get past him. He came home on an attempted squeeze play when the ball got away from the catcher.

—Ired Cook, left fielder, who singled home two runs in the bottom of the fourth for his 15th and 16th RBIs of the year.

—Mike Craghton, catcher, who stole three bases—now 13 for the season—during the game, two of them to get him to third in the bottom of the fourth.

—Mike Ginn, pitcher, who gave up a single to Dodge's lead-off hitter and another one-bagger in the second before holding Dodge hitless.

Although pitching during the cold and blustery afternoon was difficult for both hurlers, Ginn won the duel with Bernie Elkmeler, winner over Wayne in extra innings in the clubs' first meeting.

A junior, the Wayne pitcher struck out 10 batters and walked two. He got out of a hole in the top of the sixth with men on second and third by striking out a batter for the third out.

Elkmeler struck out three while giving up four hits and walking two.

Getting Wayne's other two hits off Elkmeler were Lynn Gunderson, who has come on strong at the plate toward season's end, and Craghton. Both were singles against the strong wind.

Gunderson, who plays right field, is batting .333 for the year for second in the hitting chart. Leading that chart is Cook with a .410 average.

anybody who would like to serve as coach for the Winside summer baseball program should get in touch with Stanley Soden.

Coaches for other league towns include Overin for Wayne, Paul Eaton for Wakefield, Gordon Nelson for Ponca and Rich McGill for Wisner.

Laurel and Pender also need coaches, reports Overin.

Two Pilger fishermen have been fined for fishing violations, reports the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

Fined $10 and court costs for fishing without a permit was John Brahmstead. Fined $50 and costs for fishing with an illegal fish trap was Scott Koehler. The illegal trap was confiscated.

Parents are urged by Overin to clip the schedule out of the newspaper for easy reference during the summer.

The schedule takes effect June 7.

Golf activity will be held every Monday morning with the bus leaving from the ball park at 9 a.m. The bus will stop at the Lil' Duffer at 9:05 and at Arnie's at 9:10.

Golf is open to both boys and girls from nine through 18 years of age.

Tuesday and Thursday afternoons have been set aside for Ralph Bishop League baseball games for the Little League (10 years and under, 12 and under and 14 and under).

Games for girls in Ralph Bishop softball will be held on Wednesdays beginning at 1:30. Girls will be broken into two age brackets—14 and under and 18 and under.

The daily schedule by age groups:

Wakefield Fisherman Lands Angler Honor

A rural Wakefield man, Sanford Otto, is the latest area angler to earn a Master Angler award from the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

Winside Won't Field Legion Team

Winside will not field an American Legion team this summer, reports the director of the Ralph Bishop League.

Frank Overin said earlier this week that Winside will field only a Midget squad for competition in the league. The vacancy left by the dropping of the one Winside team will be filled by a Legion club from Ponca.

Other towns in the league which will field both Midget and Legion squads are Wayne, Laurel, Wakefield, Pender and Wisner.

Action in the league begins Monday, June 7.

Overin said that all away games for the Winside Midgets will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the Ponca Legion game to follow.

When the Winside Midgets play at home, he explained, there will be no Legion action. The time for those home games will be set up by the Winside coach.

Ponca's Legion team will try to arrange return games at Ponca with the other five towns at their convenience.

Overin said the league hopes to expand to eight teams next year, possibly by having Winside and Ponca field both Legion and Midget teams and by picking up two other towns.

Athlete of the Week

Lucio Perrin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ferris of Winside, earns that honor for his winning performance in the triple jump during the Class C district track meet at Wisner-Pilger last Thursday.

Called a "natural triple jumper" by his coach, young Perrin cleared 41' 3 3/4" in the event to earn top honors, just beating out teammate Larry Cleveland, who went 40' 7/8" for runner-up honors.

Since he's had little exposure to American athletics—he's a native of islands in the South Pacific who came to Winside last year with his adopted parents—how did he earn a berth in the state track meet the first year out for the sport?

His coach, Harold Simpson, says young Perrin has a beautiful stride and "elegant form" in the event. He never misses a step and always displays perfect form in competition, according to Simpson.

Perrin, whose parents teach in the Winside school system, took part in wrestling this year, competing on the strong varsity team a few times but failing to earn a letter.

Since he has not taken part in track in other years, it is difficult to say how he will do next year, says his coach, who has accepted a graduate assistantship at Kearney State College for next year. But if he polishes that "elegant form" and gains a little strength, he could be very strong in the triple jump.

Pierce: Winning Is Better Than Statistics

By Dick Manley

Winning is better than statistics. This sums up Coach Fred Pierce's attitude after he figured the latest statistics of his Wayne State baseball team and (2) reflected on last week's Wildcat championship. Pierce has had good reason all season for pride in his team's pitching prowess, among the best in the nation, the statistics say. But winning the District 11 championship Friday night gave him more pride than anything else, even though the pitching staff's earned run average slipped a mile, from 1.08 up to 1.22. That's still a phenomenal figure. Especially cheering was the fact that Wayne overcame what seemed almost a jinx in losing to Omaha in NAIA district finals. No less than six times in the past decade Wayne and Omaha have battled to the championship game, and Omaha won the first five, usually by close scores. Again this time Wayne-Omaha games were close, the Wildcats winning 4-3 and 3-2 after dumping Hastings, 8-4, in the first playoff game at Halston. The decisive game went 11 innings. And again, pitching proved the difference as four Wayne hurlers mastered the Indians in clutch situations. Greg Kamp claimed both wins over Omaha, both times in relief. He also started the other game, against Hastings, but was relieved to save him after three innings of hitless ball. Charlie Solano went on for that victory. Wayne battling, though not spectacular all season, came through again at the right time—180 in the eleventh inning of the final game, when two singles and a sacrifice set up the opportunity for Wayne's Ron Propop to score on a wild pitch.

Center fielder George Jones, potent all season at the plate, accounted for two of Wayne's three runs with a home run, then helped the eleventh frame winning combination with a sacrifice. For the three-game playoff he hit five times in 14 at bats to make his season .327. Wayne fifth graduate Gordie Jorgensen, junior right fielder, moved up to top spot in Wildcat batting with a four for nine effort that raised him to .346. Wayne is gearing up for its next campaign, the NAIA Area 3 playoff starting May 26 at Enid, Okla. That, says Pierce, will be the toughest challenge of the year, against champions of Oklahoma, Kansas and the Dakotas.

Hoskins Drivers Win Top Honors In Sunday Races

An action-packed Sunday night at racing at Riviera Raceway in Norfolk—including a new record in the A Feature—ended with Hoskins' Gene Brudigan taking home the trophy for first place in the modified feature. Don Weyhrich of Norfolk won the A Feature in 6:22.7 to cut nearly seven seconds off the old record.

Brudigan crossed the finish line in number one position in the first heat and in the modifieds. He took fifth place in the A Feature. Don Lau of Pileer picked up a fifth place in the C Feature and sixth place in B competition. A Stanton man, Doug Strangre, placed fourth in the B Feature.

Another Hoskins man, Gerald Bruggeman, got into the action at Interstate Speedway in Jefferson, S. D., Sunday. He took first place in the second heat and outdrove all contenders to win the A Feature.

Paul Snyder Receives Kjer Memorial Award

Paul Snyder, eighth grade student at Allen, was awarded the Craig Kjer Memorial Award during the annual awards day at Allen High School Monday. The award is given each year to the eighth grade youth who displays outstanding athletic, scholastic and leadership abilities. Young Snyder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snyder of Allen.

The award was started after Craig Kjer was killed in a tractor mishap in May of 1966, shortly after graduating from the eighth grade. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylen "Bill" Kjer of Allen.

Starting the award were Howard Kimbell, teacher of the eighth grade class which young Kjer graduated with, and his wife.

Men Needed For Slow Pitch Softball League

Men over 21 years of age looking for some regular summer exercise might consider going out for the men's recreation softball program planned for Wayne. Forty-four men are needed to form four teams for the weekly competition on the local ball diamond. Games would be played each Tuesday evening at 7 and 8:15.

The program, which is all slow pitch softball, is open to all graduates of Wayne High School and all people employed in the city. Any men wishing to play in the league should bring either tennis shoes or spikes and a glove to the ball diamond this coming Tuesday night to sign up for the summer action.

Those unable to attend that evening should telephone Hank Oyerin, city recreation director, at 375-2584 so they are sure to be placed on one of the four teams. League games will begin either the second or third Tuesday in June.

Area Athletes To Join Devil At State Meet

Dale Tomrdle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tomrdle of Wayne, will join nine other area athletes in the state track meet scheduled for Kearney State College this Friday and Saturday.

Tomrdle, who will be competing in the long jump, will have company during the state action from four athletes from Laurel, four from Winside and one from Wakefield.

Joining him will be Laurel's Keith Olson, George Schroeder, Steve Burns and Steve Erwin; Winside's Gary Soden, Dennis

Bill Woehler displays the plaques which will be given winners in Sunday's Pitch, Hit & Throw contest.

Sunday Baseball Contest Open to Both Boys, Girls

Girls will have a chance to win an award right along with the boys during Sunday afternoon's Pitch, Hit & Throw contest at the Wayne ball park.

The competition, which gets underway at 1:30 under the sponsorship of the Wayne County Jaycees, is open to all youth—both boys and girls—from nine through 12 years of age. Although the girls are eligible to win prizes in the baseball contest, they will not advance to the next level of competition, according to the sponsoring group.

The contest is the first step in competition which climaxes with national honors going to the top winners in the national contest during the All-Star Baseball Game this coming July. Winner and runner-up in the four age brackets Sunday will receive a plaque. The top finisher is eligible to advance to the district contest.

Those youths wishing to take part in the contest can obtain an entry blank at any participating Phillips 66 service station. Those who do not get one from a service station can obtain one Sunday at the ball park. They will need to bring a parent along to sign the entry blank, however.

This is the second straight year for the Jaycee-sponsored contest.

Game Dads Schedule 27 Athletes Enrolled For WS Cage Clinic

Recommendations of game biologists on the 1971 deer, antelope, cottontail and squirrel seasons and testimony from the public will be given at a public hearing of the Game and Parks Commission on Friday in Lincoln.

Following the hearing, the Commissioners will set regulations for the four seasons. Opening dates were set in February.

Bag and possession limit for northern pike in Nebraska is 10.

'Teleservice' Offers

Easy Way to Handle Much SS Business

Social security matters can generally be handled by telephone, according to Robert Felkey, social security district manager in Norfolk.

The Norfolk office has installed new telephone equipment—"teleservice"—to provide courteous and convenient telephone service. Routine matters such as reporting a change of address, asking about a late check or inquiring about a benefit adjustment can be handled by telephone as well as almost all other social security matters.

Felkey pointed out that the public can still come into the office to prefer.

He told of a recent case involving a widow with four young children who lived 45 miles from Norfolk and had no one to care for her children. She called the social security people to ask about office hours and was surprised to find the claims application could be completed during the telephone interview.

The application was mailed to her for her signature. She mailed it back to the office together with the necessary birth certificates and marriage certificate. She and the child on her receive $134.40 a month and it was all handled by one telephone call.

Another area that is a natural for "teleservice" is the issuance of social security cards. A trip to the Norfolk office isn't necessary, just call and the office will mail the application form and a return envelope.

The number for "teleservice" is 371-1595.

Norfolk Girl Wins 'Miss Poppy Contest'

At Wayne Sunday Winner of the district "Little Miss Poppy" contest held at the Wayne Vet's Club Sunday afternoon was Connie Sue Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Price of Norfolk, who received a $10 prize.

Second place winner Joyce Dendinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Dendinger of Hartington, received $7.

Ann Jenness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miron Jenness of Wayne and Maureen Vogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Vogel of Stanton, each received $4 for each contestant received a plaque in recognition of her work for poppy sales.

Only four of the 14 towns in the district had contestants in this year's annual district contest, held for the first time in Wayne.

Judging was based upon costumes, ability of the contestants to answer questions related to government and Americanism, and talent, which included poetry reading and recitation, singing and putting a pie together.

Qualification for the annual district competition depended on the number of poppies sold by the participants, by their posts and their auxiliaries. The girls were named winner of recent local contests.

The district winner is now eligible to compete in the state contest to be held during the state convention in Columbus June 18-20.

About 35 people attended the district meeting, including District VFW Poppy Chairman Marvin Anderson of Wausa and District Auxiliary Poppy Chairman Mrs. Gordon Helgren of Carroll.

The afternoon program was concluded with a tea for the poppy girls, their parents and friends.

Only Solo takes on all 10 of these tough soybean weeds.

The trouble with weeds, you seldom have just one kind... you're plagued with three, four or more in the same field at the same time! But new, one-trip Solo is cleared on them all!

Solo is the only soybean herbicide labeled for all 10 of the tough-to-control weeds. Unlike narrow-spectrum herbicides that actually help create unnatural weed growth, Solo plays no favorites. It controls them all! And it's easy to use. Without carryover damage to following crops.

With Solo, no incorporation is needed. Banded or broadcast, you get broad-spectrum control at grass-control prices.

Will Solo perform? In 1969 test plots, Solo was pitted against leading competitive herbicides. It came out a winner! In a variety of soil types. Against many types of weed infestation.

This year, why not put the winner to work? See your Uniroyal dealer for Solo... the new soybean herbicide that works on all 10 of the toughest weeds.

Solo and other fine products (herbicides, fungicides, growth regulators) are creations of the laboratories of Uniroyal Chemical, Division of Uniroyal Inc. Naugatuck, Conn. 06770.

Farmers, Here's Your Chance To Help Hen Pheasants

We urge farmers in the Wayne area to delay mowing or plowing weedy areas around their farm as much as possible this spring in order to give hen pheasants time to hatch their eggs.

The Game and Parks Commission says that any land which is not absolutely necessary for agricultural production should be left with its natural cover of vegetation to provide cover during this critical time for the state's pheasant population.

Peak hatching comes during the first two weeks of June, reports the Game Commission, and it is just before and just after that time that the hen pheasants most need undisturbed cover in an excellent position to do something to keep our pheasant population as stable as possible.

Here's where they can make their contribution to a better and healthier environment.

There is little reason for farmers to burn off fence rows and gulleys. Sure, it makes the farm a little cleaner looking, but it also destroys vast amounts of natural cover which birds and small animals need in order to survive.

The Game Commission estimates that the county road ditches produce about 25 per cent of Nebraska's pheasant chicks. Many of these are mowed or burned for no apparent reason.

Farmers can make a sizeable contribution to the pheasant population by simply doing nothing with unused areas on their farms. We hope they go along with our suggestion.—N.L.H.

A Major Priority

Possibilities for making the downtown business district more attractive will be the main topic at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Task Force and the city planning commission Friday noon.

Improving the looks of the shopping area is to be discussed by the two groups. The meeting is open to all interested residents.

There is little doubt but what many ideas can be expected to update and modernize downtown Wayne, but there is something that must remain a major priority—friendliness.

Friendliness is a must in: projecting a progressive image to all concerned; giving the greatest of satisfaction to the customer.

—drawing customers for repeat sales.—inviting industry to locate here.—maintaining a positive motivation for buying and selling in Wayne.

—making Wayne a market where sales and smiles are twin products.

Think back on your own experiences. Is there anything that can give a market place more appeal than genuine friendly service?

Downtown Wayne needs a physical face lift. Few will argue that point. The topic now is "how" to get the job done. And as the job gets done, may every potential buyer and seller on the Main Street market insist on the twins: sale of a good product and thank-you smiles.

The twins remain a major priority for a growing-going town.—MMW.

Picture Editorials to Continue

The picture editorials we recently began running on the editorial page of each Monday issue have prompted comment from several readers. Some of that comment has been complimentary, some critical.

The picture editorials, something we hope to continue for a long time to come, offer considerable promise to us, on the newspaper and to our readers.

A picture editorial can say immediately and simply something which might take several hundred words in a written editorial. If taken correctly, the picture editorial needs only a minimum of explanation. Its real impact is contained in the picture itself.

A picture editorial should prove very popular with our readers. People are more "picture conscious" today than they were 50 or 100 years ago. Newspaper readers like pictures—especially good pictures which have something to say, either as news or as comment.

The picture editorials are another attempt by staff members to make The Wayne Herald as good a newspaper as possible. An interesting and thought-provoking editorial page is one method to make it exactly that.

If you see something which you think would make a good picture editorial, call us. We plan to continue the feature in spite of occasional critical comment.—N.L.H.

Now What?

Those who have taken time to inquire about facts regarding Wayne's need for a new hospital realize the need continues to exist.

One plan, a district hospital, has been set aside after a year's work. It is our opinion that an information gap killed the proposal.

Surely if area people were aware as to what kind of a medical-service crisis is being conceived in the incubator of nearightedness, more than an economical interest would have been shown in the hospital district idea. People facing a crisis do not ordinarily push themselves on into it.

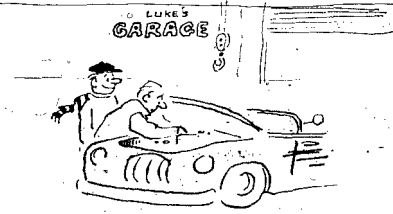

The need for a modern hospital in Wayne remains. Those who have informed themselves about the hospital situation are aware as to why the present building is inadequate and why building a new one into it would be foolish. The second-guessers—those who get their "facts" second hand and confuse any issue—can get first-hand information by simple inquiry.

Any resident living in the area who has had recent illness making it necessary to consult a physician or have surgery can give a list of reasons why a new hospital is needed now and for the future.

Since the hospital district plan got only the economical attention of the area and was turned down by the sign of the dollar, the question remains: now what? Surely no one is so naive as to believe that medical care can be provided without cost. Good things are never cheap.

Is a county hospital the answer? If area residents were contacted to make donations toward building a new hospital, would there be sufficient sums given? Should the city of Wayne, as it has done for the past 15 years, continue to tax its citizens for a hospital used by the area?

With the need of a new hospital facility in Wayne as great as ever, does anyone have the answer for the question: now what?—MMW.

Personal Property Taxation Battle May Now Be Over

LINCOLN—By the time this reaches print, one of the most hotly-contested issues of the 1971 legislative session should be decided.

Last week, Gov. J. J. Exon sent the lawmakers his veto of LB 573—a bill to implement a system of personal property tax exemptions for business and agriculture.

An attempt to override that veto was scheduled for Tuesday of this week.

With the session in its final days, the outcome of the override motion was expected to be the end of a battle over personal property taxation which has extended over the full course of the 1971 meeting.

Exon has fought the exemption plan all the way and in his veto message he called LB 573 "unfair legislation under any reasonable standards."

He argued that the senators should sustain his veto and consider next session an alternative plan he said would be "fairer and more workable."

Here's the way Exon describes his alternative: "A bill that could forgive, over a reasonable period of time, up to one-half of the amount paid in personal property taxes, with a limit of up to, say $1,000."

"This could be conveniently implemented as a credit against the income tax or a refund if no income tax was paid. This would give relief where it is needed most—to the average farmer and small businessman—without losing the revenue that would be lost as a tax break bonanza to the largest business and the largest farm operations, as would be the case under LB 573."

Under the Exon plan, a farmer or businessman whose personal property tax bill was $500 would have half of it exempted. He would pay $250. The state would make up the difference to the local governments relying on property tax revenue.

If the individual's personal property tax bill were $800, he would pay $400. If it were $2,000 or more, he would pay $1,000. The limit would be $1,000.

Another idea was broached late in the session. This one from Pappillon Sen. Orval Keyes. He suggested a system which would reduce gradually the percentage of actual value used for taxation.

Presently, assessed value—the amount against which mill levies are applied—is 35 per cent of actual value.

Keys proposed lowering this by two per cent a year until it reaches 25 per cent.

The revenue losses to the local governments would be—as with the other plans—made up through sales and income taxes.

But the pressure remained high for LB 573 as it was passed on a 32-15 vote by the Legislature.

The sponsor, Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, took issue with Exon's contention that the bill offered relief only to those who needed it the least at the expense of the average Nebraskan.

"This bill doesn't offer tax relief to only a tiny segment of our population," Burbach said. "It would affect thousands and thousands of our citizens directly, and nearly every one of us indirectly."

Also, it provides relief for nearly as many urban people as it does rural people.

As to comments from opponents that the exemption schedule should have been more gradual—under the bill it would start at 35 per cent exemption and reach 90 per cent by 1978—Burbach said:

"I don't know how much slower we could go and still claim to be accomplishing anything. Taking the long-range approach to arriving at a broad-based, equitable tax situation sometimes takes courage, and always takes patience."

The governor's veto message was brief. It read:

"I return herewith LB 573 without my signature and with my objections. Lengthy discussion in this message will serve no useful purpose. You are aware of my opposition to this measure."

"We all recognize that there are legitimate concerns in some areas with regard to local taxes on business and agricultural inventory. Myself and others have suggested alternative proposals that should be considered in future sessions."

The Little Pulpit

I will love thee, O Lord, my strength, The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised.—Psalm 18:1-3.

"Equality in taxation will not allow raising the sales and/or income taxes on the average citizen of this state in order to benefit, for the most part, a select group."

"I simply ask that you sustain my action because LB 573 is unfair under any reasonable standards."

Burbach has contended the exemptions proposed under LB 573 constituted the "third leg" of a tax reform program inaugurated in 1967.

He has said the first leg was the repeal of the household goods, head and intangible taxes. The second leg was the establishment of the sales and income tax program, and the repeal of the state property taxes.

Exemptions from portions of the personal property tax had to await the adoption of a constitutional amendment. In 1968, the voters rejected such an amendment, but it passed last fall.

That was Amendment 10, which allowed the lawmakers to divide personal property into classes and exempt any it wished entirely or in part.

Boy Scouts Ready for Summer Camp

Boy Scouts from Wayne and the surrounding area will be among 4,000 Mid-America Council Boy Scouts who will spend a full week learning and practicing scouting citizenship training objectives during this coming summer.

Beginning June 20, the three full-time summer camps operated by the Mid-America Council, with offices in Omaha, will open their doors to the youths.

Two of the three troops in Wayne plan on attending Camp Cedars, located on the bluffs overlooking the Platte River just south of Fremont. Those two are Troop 175, headed by Rowan White, and Troop 221, headed by Bob Carhart. They'll be at camp July 4-10.

The other Scout Troop, 174, headed this summer by Dick Manley plans on camping out near Ely, Minn., close to the Minnesota-Canada border.

Through participation in summer camp programs, a Scout receives instruction and experience in swimming, archery, rifle range operation, marksmanship, conservation, boating and a variety of skills.

During the seven-day camp, a boy is able to put into practice the skills learned during the winter months while building his character, citizenship traits and physical fitness.

Each camp has been inspected by the camping committee with safety standards and guidelines being updated to provide the best possible camping facilities for the 300-plus troops that will be attending under their own leadership.

At each camp the council employees provide supervision through the full-time summer camp staff, which is composed of seven adults and high school students.

Now in the 14th year of his reign, Hirohito has been a head of state longer than anyone else alive today. Unlike long-term rulers Hailie-Selassie of Ethiopia and Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China; however, the Japanese emperor's duties are only ceremonial.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

The recent truth-in-advertising edict may elate consumers, but before it is all over it will be destructive to individual state beef and hog promotion projects.

For the past several years various Cornbelt and western states have aligned the need of live-stock promotion with either compulsory or voluntary check-off plans. Usually 10¢ per head (fully 50¢ from adequacy) the money would build to several hundreds of thousands of dollars and be controlled and supervised by educators, ranchers and feeders.

Visualize multi-complexity (generic) grocery stores. Complexes of corporate ownership who control by common stock 60, 70 and even 200 stores in single areas.

To push a product, most prefer widespread advertising and promotion. As strictly a theoretical example, use beef as the product and Iowa as the state. The Iowa check-off of 10¢ is a compulsory excise tax initiated by state legislation.

The Iowa beef promotion comes under Iowa development. The beef of Iowa actually needs little development, but tourism and industrial development need more.

Actually the marriage is typical of governmental planning. But will not-advisors, who tell New Yorkers and Minnesotans of the glories of boating and fishing on such beautiful bodies of water as Viking or Prairie Rose Lakes, sound falsetto on beef?

Beef and pork projects are usually tested in selected cities through steakhouses which with the hope of widespread coverage and reduced unit costs. Emblems, stickers and the like are made available and the chain is asked to actively advertise that specific product.

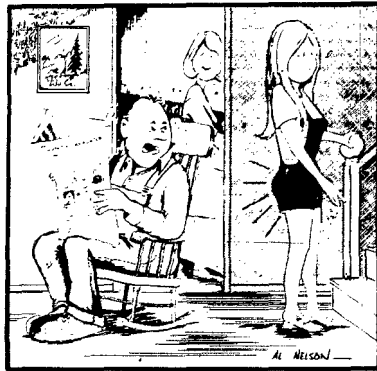

Fine, but may be over possible chain!!

Why not? Simple. The FTC has set up a policy that any item advertised must be available to all would-be buyers in all stores. No more of these special on a 32-ounce bottle of Heinz Ketchup at 11¢... and being out by 8:03 a.m. if you say you have it, have it.

No ifs, no buts.

Therefore, how can a 100-mit chain-advertise a big weekend special on T bone for $1.29 or rib roast for 99¢? Being open from Thursday through Sunday the 100 stores could break and move 4,000 head.

Oh, let's say IBP happens to ship a handful of Texas fattened steers slaughtered in Nebraska. Say a "sharpie" correctly identifies this meat and complains. The FTC would squeeze chain directors till the tears flowed. Under this new interpretation, a black man who creates a new chili pickle cannot hope to grow.

and therefore unconstitutional.

You cowmen must face this problem, and soon, or those check-offs will merely be a superficial expense with no possible function beyond public relations.

Without advertising and promotion of your specific product—your cattle—no possible advantage can ever be gained. You might as well grow spuds.

So cattle associations get off your dead posteriors and enter a fight. Ask for a court decision. Strike while the iron is hot and before legal precedent is set.

'Beef Industry Vital to Nation's Economy'

The modern beef industry is a many faceted operation that plays a major part in the nation's economy, says Donita Bohnsack, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board in Chicago.

Today, when the American consumer buys a steak, he gets more quality and more protein for his money than ever before, Miss Bohnsack said.

"How is this possible?" For one thing, scientific methods of breeding and feeding produce beef cuts yielding a higher percentage of quality lean, according to the home economist. Modern refrigeration and feeding programs have a hand in it, too.

These stabilize prices by making beef available in quantity year around," she said.

Latest figures show an estimated 22 billion pounds of beef were produced last year in this country with per capita consumption reaching 113 pounds, a new record. All indications point to a rise in both production and consumption in the coming years, she says.

"Today's beef shopper is better educated, has more money and enjoys an increasingly more sophisticated way of life than her mother or grandmother," Miss Bohnsack said.

"She wants beef cuts in a convenient size with a minimum of bone and fat. Looking for something different to serve, she wants variety in meat cuts. Her time is limited so she wants cuts that can be prepared simply. She wants to be able to see what she's buying. She's diet-conscious and wants beef with more protein and fewer calories."

As today's homemaker scans the beef section in today's food stores, she can find as many as 50 different cuts in some of the large supermarkets. She'll find many old favorites that have a new look—in response to her demands for convenience and quality and maximum serviceability, the home economist said.

Lawn and Garden Tips
Common Kentucky blue grass should receive four to six pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn each year. Improved strains such as Merlon or Windsor require six to eight pounds. If quick-release forms of nitrogen are used (for example, ammonium nitrate or ammonium sulfate) never apply more than 1½ pounds of actual N per 1,000 square feet at any one time.

Keep the mower blade sharp and properly adjusted. A dull blade bruises and tears grass, causing an unsightly yellowish color. Cutting blue grass with the blade set two to three inches high is one of the best methods of preventing weeds.

Large onion sets are most likely to produce plants with seed stalks. It is a good idea to sort and plant larger onion sets separately to be used for fresh green onions and allow the smaller ones to grow into bulbs for storage.

Avoid possible injury to garden and yard plants by using the amine rather than the more volatile ester form of 2-4-D to control broadleaved weeds around the home. Prevent damage from drift by using a spray nozzle that produces a large droplet and do not spray on windy days.

Trees may be safely pruned at any time of the year. Prevent future damage from rot by painting all cut branches over one inch in diameter with wound paint, orange shellac or asphalt emulsion.

It is best to prune early spring flowering shrubs immediately after blooming. Their flowers develop from buds produced or branches that grow in the summer. These flowering branches will be lost when shrubs are pruned in the fall or winter.

The award was established in 1961 by the mother of a second-year veterinary student killed in an automobile accident.

Young Liska is the brother of the two veterinarians in Wayne.

Farms are getting larger. The average farm in the United States in 1969 was 377 acres, a one third increase over 1959 farms.

Yard & Garden Tips . . .

Q - What causes scab on tomatoes?
A - The scab is caused by a fungus organism that lives in the soil. It is difficult to control scab with chemicals. The best solution is to use resistant varieties of tomatoes. Also, rotating the planting area can be helpful.

Q - Why do apples fall off the trees?
A - Wormy apples will fall from the tree. Also, the apples may be reaching maturity. Ideally, apples should be picked before they fall off. If the seeds of the apple are a dark brown the apples are mature and can be picked.

Q - What is the cicada-killer and how can it be controlled?
A - The cicada-killer, a very large wasp, burrows in lawns. The wasp kills locusts and carries them down to its burrow to feed its young. The wasp is not aggressive, and although its size can be frightening, it will not attack humans if left alone. To control the cicada-killer use a dust of malathion, Sevin or Chlordane.

Q - What can be used to destroy cockroaches?
A - The best chemicals to use are Diazinon or a formulation with roach-bait to use Baygon.

Q - Can Clorox be used as a soil conditioner?
A - Clorox, in a concentration of one tablespoon on a gallon of water, is an excellent bactericide for the soil.

LYSINE cuts feed costs 50% and raises more pigs per litter

Forrest, III, Robert Kiefer raises hybrid breeding stock on his Dur-Ham Y Farms, farrowing 450 litters a year. He's very much concerned with litter size and good, strong pigs. And he must get top production per sow as well as per pound of feed.

What IS HY-LY-100? Hy Ly-100 is a new pre-mix specially formulated to overcome the feeding deficiencies of farm grains. It has high levels (50,000 grams/T) of the amino acid, lysine, PLUS high levels of vitamins and minerals.

It is fed on the basis of scientific tests, not guesswork. First, your grain is tested for protein. Then a Hy Ly-100 prescription feeding program is formulated. Because it is tailored to supply exactly what your grain lacks, Hy Ly-100 improves feeding efficiency, lowers feeding costs and helps pigs make faster gains of lean, red meat.

Profits are better with Hy Ly-100 because pigs don't have to eat more expensive protein than they need, just to get the amino acids their bodies need for maximum growth. At today's prices, you cannot afford to waste good breeding and management by guessing about lysine.

If your pigs aren't doing as well as they should, start them out on a ration that includes Hy Ly-100. Then get ready for the best bunch of pigs you have ever raised!

Hy Ly-100 contains Allomona's L-Lysine

Over 4,000 pigs a year pass through this Dur-Ham Y nursery on their way to market, mostly as hybrid breeding stock. Nutritional scours are a thing of the past—thanks to Hy Ly-100.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE
Try Hy Ly-100 at our risk. Buy enough to mix one ton of baby-pig starter. Feed it. Then you be the judge. If it isn't better than anything you ever fed, we'll refund your money. And no questions asked.

Hi, neighbor!

Here's good news about the most versatile granular herbicide on the market... Lasso granules for weed control in Corn and Soybeans.

Remember how well Ramrod® granules clean weeds out of corn? Well, Lasso granules, also from Monsanto, give equally good weed control in both corn and soybeans. Just incorporate, in wet or dry weather and without harmful carryover to rotated crops.

Lasso granules clean out grasses like Foxtail, Fall Panicum and Yellow Nut-sedge. It also gets tough broadleaves like Pigweed.

Granules—the ideal herbicide for two major crops in all Midwestern soil types. One easy application gets the job done!
