An Arm(s)ful

Mrs. Steven Mrazny has her work cut out for her. She gave birth to these twin boys — both weighing over eight pounds — early Tuesday morning. The twins were born about an hour apart — Jason John weighing nine pounds and one and a half ounces first, Adam Paul weighing eight pounds and one ounce second. However, the father will have to wait until July to get his first look at the twins. He is stationed with the National Guard for summer training at Fort Polk, La. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Netherds and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mrazny, all of Wayne. Maternal great grandparents are Mrs. Anton Netherds Sr. of Wayne and Mrs. Ed Leuenhagen of Niobrara. Paternal great grandparents are Mrs. Sadie Mrazny of Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Luckert of Creighton. By the way, that's Jason on the left, Adam on the right.

15 Attend First Meeting On Improving Downtown

Initial plans for cleaning and sprucing up downtown Wayne were made at a noon meeting Friday.

Fifteen people turned out for the meeting, the first one to be held since the Chamber of Commerce named its own Task Force to spearhead the drive to beautify the business district.

Named to serve on the steering committee on the beautification project were the four Task Force members — Al Wittig, Keith Mosley, Lee Tietgen and Sidney Hillier — and Jean Nuss, Bob McLean and Dale Gutshall.

That group will be responsible for directing the project. Floyd Bracken, manager of the local Chamber, told the people that they should first take on some small project and make sure they complete it so they have something to point to as proof that the area can be improved with just a little work.

Al Wittig, chairman of the Task Force, said that they should try to make the rest of the businessmen understand that beautification of the shopping district is not going to cost thousands of dollars.

Improving the area could be as simple as cleaning and painting parts of buildings, he said.

Norman Nordstrand and Stanley Wills, both on the staff of Wayne State College, have agreed to investigate possible sources of money to help pay for a study on how the whole downtown area can be improved.

If money is available, a firm could be hired to study all the buildings in the city to see if they could be improved. The study would include suggested improvements and estimated costs.

Attending the meeting were Dale Gutshall, Larry King, Sidney Hillier, Norvin Hansen, Jean Nuss, Lee Tietgen, Lee Foote, Mildred West, J. J. Liska, Cleo Sharer, Bob McLean, Stanley Wills, Wanda Owens, Bracken and Wittig.

Wayne Youth Club Has New President

The Wayne Youth Club changed hands Wednesday when Bill Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fletcher of Wayne, became the new president.

Fletcher succeeds Tom McDermott, who resigned recently. In September an election of new officers and board members will take place.

Working with Fletcher are the following student officers: Elaine Lundstrom, secretary; Kurt Lesh, treasurer, and Steve Mordhorst, Chris Peterson, Rich Wall, and Tim Sharer as board members.

'Modern Swine Feeders Are Better Informed'

Swine producers have become much better informed and more sophisticated in their thinking compared to the preceding generation, says Bob Fritschen, area swine specialist at the Northeast Station.

For example, previous generations discussed swine nutrition in terms of protein level while modern producers realize that swine require amino acids and not protein, he says.

Amino acids are called the building blocks of protein, says Fritschen, and it is known that amino acids are found in different levels in various feedstuffs.

Lysine, one of the amino acids considered essential for swine, is found in low quantity in cereal grains. Since corn is a major component of swine diets the specialist points out, much research has been conducted to determine if the supplementation of synthetic lysine would enhance performance and thus make this addition economically feasible.

Current research has shown that unless the pig's diet is abnormally low in protein, the ad-

Fast $250 Waiting Some Area Shopper

Looking for an easy way to pick up some extra spending money? Make a point to be in Wayne Thursday evening.

Why? Because the Cash Night drawing that evening will be worth $250 to the person whose name is drawn from those registered for the weekly giveaway.

The drawing stands at that amount because Mrs. Willie Low of Wayne was not present when her name was drawn last Thursday night. Had she been present in a participating store she would have won $200.

Wakefield Men Investigating Hospital Plan

Plans are underway at Wakefield to investigate the area's interest in creating a hospital district.

A committee of three area residents appointed at the Apr. 28 annual meeting of the Wakefield Community Hospital consists of Alvin Sundell, Marvin Borg and Clarence Bochenbauer.

Sundell said Friday that exploring the possibility of a district hospital in the Wakefield area is just starting. "We've done some visiting," he said, "and tentatively contacted legal advice."

Committee men have been in contact, Sundell said, with the Allen and Emerson communities sounding out opinions. He said the committee hopes to get the opinions of area residents on the matter within the near future.

He pointed out that it is yet too early for determining proposed boundary lines, valuation and the size of the district. Sundell noted, "We want to involve an area that definitely wants in."

Language Disability Grant Totals $63,556 for School

By Merlin Wright

First through fourth grade pupils in the Wayne-Carroll school district with language problems are going to get an opportunity to overcome those problems next school term.

Richard Metteer, principal at West Elementary and Title III project director, received official word last week that the school is to receive a federal grant of $63,556 through the Title III Elementary Secondary Educational Act (ESEA) to carry out a program for students with specific language disabilities (SLD).

The grant was obtained through the State Department of Education in Lincoln.

Jack Ballie, state administrator of ESEA in Lincoln, told Wayne-Carroll school personnel

Friday, "The Wayne-Carroll school district and the community which supports its efforts are to be congratulated on achieving this Title III award grant."

"They have shown their willingness to try fresh approaches to solve problems that have plagued boys and girls for a long time in the language area, particularly in reading and spelling. "If through this grant Wayne can develop an effective and efficient program for language-disabled students, they will have served not only their own district well but the well-being of boys and girls everywhere in Nebraska.

"We regard this project," Ballie concluded, "as one of the truly promising ones in the state of Nebraska and look forward to its implementation this summer."

Tentatively planned for three years, although subject to annual approval, the initial $63,556 grant provides funds for a period of 13 months, or from June 1 of this year to June 30, 1972, Metteer said.

Students eligible to participate in the project include children who reside in District 17 and those attending St. Mary's School in Wayne.

Experts who work with youngsters suffering from specific language disabilities (difficulty in focusing the eyes, tendency to read from right to left and so on) estimate that between 18 and 15 per cent of the students need help in this area.

Objectives of the program include having the students demonstrate achievement in reading, writing and spelling; maintain a pattern of growth in language skills, and show satisfactory improvement in perceptual-motor development.

Metteer pointed out that the program will involve participation of students, parents and teachers in assisting SLD pupils who have difficulties in the areas of muscular strength (how much force to use in holding a pencil, for example), development of balance and coordination of body parts.

Some youngsters have problems. See GRANT, page 10

Copple Fund Drive Now Over $1,000

The Dick Copple Kidney Fund reached a total of $1,045.55 last week.

Dick, 24, is a victim of kidney disease and as a result needs a kidney transplant. Donors are being tested and the surgery will take place as soon as a donor is accepted.

Young Copple attended Wayne State College for two years.

Minimum cost for the surgery and treatment has been estimated at $30,000. The fund drive is sponsored by the Dakota City American Legion and its Auxiliary, the Dakota City Volunteer Fire Department and its auxiliary, and the organizations of the United Methodist Church.

Contributions can be mailed to the Dick Copple Kidney Transplant Fund, Box 55, Dakota City, Nebr. 68731.

Group Plans for Hayride Party, Softball Game

A hayride party, softball game and dances are among the things planned for the coming year by the Northeast Nebraska Rural-Urban Youth Club.

The officers of the group planned for the coming events during a meeting last week.

The group will meet next on Saturday night, June 19, at 7:30 at the Northeast Station east of Concord and then go to Wayne for miniature golf. Refreshments, entertainment and a business meeting will be held at the Station following the golf outing.

All young people between 17 and 34 years of age can join the group.

Members saw slides taken in South Viet Nam and toured the Northeast Station during May's regular meeting. Discussed at that meeting was the possibility of a boat ride some time this summer.

Retired Farmer Dies in Mishap Near Wakefield

A retired Wakefield farmer, Martin L. Holmberg, 70, died enroute to the Wakefield Community Hospital late Thursday afternoon following a farm tractor accident.

The tractor, operated by Holmberg on what is known as the Busby farm, northwest of Wakefield, and rented by Pat Bengtson, apparently tipped over as it entered the Logan Creek ravine.

A spokesman at the scene said Holmberg was not pinned by the tractor.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Salem Lutheran Church at Wakefield. The Rev. Robert V. Johnson officiated. Burial was in the Wakefield cemetery under the direction of the Bressler Funeral Home.

Music by the congregation included "What A Friend We Have See FARMER DIES, page 10

Seniors of '71 Featured Inside

High school seniors from Wayne and several area towns should find this issue of The Wayne Herald of special merit. Inside is a special section of the newspaper with pictures of this year's graduates in Wayne, Winside, Allen, and Wakefield.

The section, an annual effort on the part of The Herald's advertising and production people, is especially handy. The pictures of the graduates are all in one section, not scattered throughout the newspaper. The section is compliments of the numerous advertisers listed through it.

Winside Legion Sets Memorial Services May 31

Services will be held in the Winside auditorium in case of inclement weather.

Guest speaker will be Zach Boughn of Beiden. The Rev. Gerald W. Gotberg of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside will offer the invocation and benediction.

A perfect outfit for Mrs. Larry Bruns to use on her "Vagabond Vacation" is shown to her by Dorsey Miller of McDonald's in Wayne.

Latest 'Vagabond' Couple May Head for St. Louis

The latest winners in the "Vagabond Vacation" promotion in Wayne may decide to travel to St. Louis later this summer to take in the sights.

That's what Mrs. Larry Bruns said after she was notified that she and her husband have won a free weekend away from it all compliments of the local merchants putting on the promotion.

Mrs. Bruns was the preliminary winner chosen at McDonald's last week.

The Bruns, who farm southeast of Wayne, are tied down this time of the year with the heavy load of spring planting.

But the couple anticipates something of a lull in that work in August and it may be then that they take a weekend off to visit any one of 13 cities.

Winners in the weekly drawing there are four more vacations to be given away — have their lodging and meals paid during a weekend at a Radisson chain motel or hotel. Transportation is not furnished in the drawings.

All residents in the Wayne area are eligible for the weekly drawings — one of which picks the 37 preliminary winners and one of which picks the final winner.

Those who wish to be in the running need only register once each week at the stores taking part in the affair.

Good Idea

Following the parent-sponsored football banquet last fall, the idea of holding the banquet—a tribute to the local high school football team—as a kickoff affair in September was suggested.

Holding the traditional banquet at the beginning of the football season sounds like a good idea. The dinner would provide opportunity for team and parents to get better acquainted and serve as a morale booster.

Serving on the banquet's planning committee this year are Bud Froehlich, Gene Fletcher, Merle Ring, Wayne Kerstine and Stan Morris.

It is still a bit early to make any definite plans but we understand the idea is going to be kicked around—that of holding a pre-season rather than post-season banquet—for the purpose of getting a majority opinion of the committee.

A September banquet might even draw a larger crowd of boosters as a winning season is anticipated. The enthusiasm might well contribute toward making it just that. —MMW.

Cemetery Lots for Vets

A plot of ground in the Greenwood Cemetery, set aside in the late 1800's for veterans of Wayne County desiring to be buried there, is nearly filled.

An effort was made last fall by representatives of several local veterans service organizations to get more ground in the cemetery set aside for the burial of veterans who have no families or who simply prefer being buried in the veterans area of the cemetery.

The group approached the county commissioners at that time to see if the county would be interested in buying more ground at Greenwood for veterans burials.

It is our understanding that nothing further was done about the matter.

The idea of the county buying and setting aside more cemetery lots for veterans sounds reasonable and appropriate.

A new board of county commissioners took office in January. If they were to proceed with providing additional cemetery lots for the burial of Wayne County vets in Greenwood, it is likely they would have the approval of a large majority. —MMW.

Quotable Notables

Cutting honest throats by whippers. —Scott.

To carry care to bed is to sleep with a pack on your back. —Hallburton.

Surprises are fun.

An old friend—hadn't seen him for over a year—dropped into the office late Wednesday afternoon and invited us to take a ride in his twin-engine mini-jetliner parked at the local airport.

It was good seeing Old Friend, and having the chance to relax. The ride in his airplane was just what we needed after a day of being inside most of the time.

Q-O-O

We lifted off the runway at 90 m.p.h. and climbed into the partially cloudy skies, retracted the landing gear, adjusted the pitch on the twin propellers and zipped off across country for a few minutes at close to 200 mph. It doesn't take long to go any place at that speed in contrast to 65 mph on washboard highways.

It was easy to see some of you guys down there on your tractors. The thought crossed an alley in my brain that you'd probably appreciate your farm a little more if you could get a sky-high view of its rolling hills, black dirt and green, green pastures.

We flew off south toward Wisner and were surprised at the number of sizeable cattle-feeding yards. We were aware of some but didn't realize there were quite so many. Those confined cattle-feeding operations are easily spotted from the air too.

Q-O-O

Northwest Nebraska is really a sight from the air. Old Logan Creek winds and twists like an intoxicated snake. On a clear spring evening at 1,000 feet or more you can see its path for many miles.

Tree tops appear to be dancing in the wind to the accompaniment of an unseen orchestra just beyond the horizon near the setting sun.

Roads chop off the countryside into square miles. A farm home clings to the edge of a plowed field. Cattle head toward feed banks. A horse momentarily lifts its head to observe the flying carpet. Somebody is hoeing in a garden.

Two cars approach each other on a narrow rural road. Will they miss each other? They do.

There just isn't much one can't see

A Rail Riddle

The editorial subject is there in the grass.

Twin lines of steel running southwest of Wayne to nowhere speak loudly of neglect.

What was a busy line of commerce yesterday is suddenly an eyesore and depository of debris today.

Useless railroad markers warn in faded paint, "Railroad crossing—look out for the cars."

What happens when a railroad is abandoned? Do the rails remain forever wearing their rotting necklaces of wooden ties?

Would any other business, if closed, be permitted to leave remnants of that business discarded and unattended?

It appears an abandoned railroad is poor advertising for both the company and community.

Who has the responsibility of removing while flying around the country this time of year.

Q-O-O

We headed back for the airport, lined up with the runway, flaps down, fuel mixture rich, throttles back, clear the fence at 105 mph and hear the tires squeal a little as they touch concrete at about 90 mph.

The ride is over. Surprises are fun.

Q-O-O

If you have taken your first ride on a jet airliner then 200 mph is just kid-stuff for you—as jet-birds now hit 500 mph and more.

You can see jets that fly 1,000 mph or more on display—at no cost incidentally—at the Strategic Air Command's aerospace museum which is a static display of all types of obsolete aircraft. Take your family to see it sometime as it is extremely interesting.

To get there head south on 13th Street in Omaha and go on out toward Bellevue. Turn left into the SAC gate—they'll give you a visitor's pass—and the outdoor museum is on the north edge of the base.

Q-O-O

Should you be wanting to go out for a drive one of these spring Sundays, you might want to drive to Yankton—be prepared for a rough road unless you go west on Highway 98 and north on 81—and after looking over that area, head east to Vermillion and into Sioux City. You might also want to stop at Ponca State Park which is popular place for Omahans and area residents.

Q-O-O

Driving through Greenwood Cemetery at the west edge of Wayne Wednesday we visited briefly with Ralph Miller and Hen-

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

Madison High School's largest graduating class in history received diplomas last week. The class numbered 72.

The body of James Irby was found last week in the Missouri River about a mile and a half from the site where the boat he was in capsized last October. He and two other men drowned in the mishap. The body of one of the other two men was found in early November last year. The other man's body has not been recovered.

Irby's body was found by two Prenger brothers, Robert of South Sioux and Tom of Wayne, while they were looking for a spot to go fishing near Jackson.

Emerson Sacred Heart High School graduated its last senior class Sunday night.

Sixteen youths made up the 1971 graduating class.

The high school will close its doors this spring due to financial difficulties and the loss of four teaching nuns. The school has operated since 1918.

Borrowed from the "Over the Editor's Desk" in the South Sioux City Star: "Look at the new postal rates this way: It now costs you $1.28 a pound to mail a letter. Pretty soon, postage rates will be like T-bone steaks—you won't be able to afford it."

The summer school program at Pender will start June 14 with 42 students enrolled in grades one through six.

The annual Neligh firemen's Memorial Day boat race is to get started at 2 p.m. on May 30. The competitors in the two classes will race six miles from Taylor's Beach to Riverside Park in Neligh.

Winners of the two classes, flat-bottomed boats and canoes, will receive $20. Entry fee is $1.

Progress Corporation, a non-profit organization, will try to build new rental housing in the moderate price range to help alleviate the shortage of that type of housing in Oakland.

Initial study and planning will center on the possibility of building 12 apartment units similar to ones underway at Dodge, Seward, Dakota City and Wayne.

Federal financial help will be sought by the group.

Kathy Carstens was named valedictorian and Linda Shimerka salutatorian during graduation exercises at Pierce High School last week. Sixty-five seniors received diplomas during the exercises.

Sister Marlene Gresten, principal at West Point Central Catholic the last three years, will teach mathematics at Mantouke, Wis., next year.

Replacing her as principal will be Sister Elizabeth Ann Hurley.

Each generation has an opportunity of doing its best.

Q-O-O

It's cap'n-gown time and more than 200 of you seniors in the area will don your graduating garb tonight or Wednesday and discover the feeling of suddenly no longer being a part of the high school scene.

You may feel as lonely as a ghost in a fog or on the other hand—as ornery as an elephant with a trunk full of water.

Whatever your feelings—congratulations and may the opportunities that come your way be the kind that demand the best out of you. May life give you a good horse and handsome saddle, but of course it is up to you to stay in their riding.

Q-O-O

Say, how is your garden coming along? The combination of rain and sunshine has been ideal for growing most everything, including millions of dandelions and weeds.

Did the cool night temps get to your tomato plants? Maybe it will finally warm up one of those days and your work will have to be concerned about plants getting nipped by frost.

Q-O-O

When an African trade union of railway workers called a strike a number of years ago, its members, new to this sort of action, ignored their union's decision and carried on with their work.

The union bosses called in a witch doctor who proclaimed a curse on each and every locomotive. This was 100 per cent effective; no one went near a locomotive until, when the strike was settled, the witch doctor was called in again to lift the curse.

One wonders who was doing the cursing in the recent railroad strike here at home.

Q-O-O

Oh yes, this bachelor was told recently, "To a bachelor marriage is just a lot of dame foolishness."

Wayne 'Vets' Seeking Another State Baseball Crown

By Norvin Hansen

Wayne High's baseball players will be the "veterans" during the state tournament which gets underway in Lincoln today (Monday).

The Devils are the only team in the tourney which competed there a year ago, in Lincoln Plus X and Arlington, both there a year ago, have been dumped in district play. The fourth school there in 1970, Grand Island Catholic, did not field a baseball team this year.

Defending state champs in Class B, the Devils go up against Centennial High in the tourney opener this morning at 10:30. Should they get by that foe, they would go up against the winner of the 12-30 game. Gitting winners of the Omaha Superior districts). Finals are set for 4 p.m.

All games are set for the University of Nebraska field. Will Mike Mallette, who has made the spring trip to Lincoln the past four years, make any changes in the line-up or strategy?

Probably not, he said late last week. There may be a few minor changes in the batting order, he said, but he isn't going to meddle too much with the team which won 10 and lost three on the way to its district title.

He will put highly successful Junior Mike Ginn on the mound in the opener against Centennial. Ginn, who has given up only one earned run in 53 innings on the mound, completed the regular season with a 5-2 mark. In 53 innings he struck out 102 batters, walked only 17. He gave up 15 hits.

If Ginn gets by Centennial, Mallette will turn to Rod Cook, a senior, to assume pitching duties in the finals.

Cook, winner five out of six times this year, has fanned 49, walked nine and given up 22 hits in 36 innings.

The two Wayne hurlers and the team's defense have allowed only 10 runs. Wayne's offense has produced 65 runs.

The local club takes a .261 team batting average into the tourney.

Scott Deck Registers For Doane BB School

Scott Deck of Winside High has registered in the Doane College Basketball School.

He will participate in a week-long session which will stress the fundamentals of good basketball.

The school consists of three sessions, one in June and two in August. The June camp coincides with the American Cheerleader Camp at Doane, while the two August camps are held at the same time the South Shrine football team trains at Doane.

All sessions are held on the Doane campus with the boys being housed and fed in college facilities. Doane's head basketball coach, Bob Erickson, who led the Tigers to the National Tournament this year, will be in charge of the school.

Leading hitters going into today's competition include Rod Cook, Lynn Gunderson and Mike Ginn.

Cook is hitting .410 for the year and has credit for 16 RBIs to lead the team in both categories.

Gunderson, right fielder, is hitting .333 with eight RBIs. Ginn

Johnson Joins Staff

Gus Johnson of the Baltimore Bullets has been added to the Nebraska Basketball School staff for the week of June 6-12.

Johnson, an all-pro forward and a mainstay of the second place Baltimore Bullets, played for Coach Cipriano at the University of Idaho.

Wednesday Golfers

The team of Bob Beeg, Don Johnson and Ron Dalton led the American League in the Wednesday Night Golf League at the local country club.

The team has a total of eleven points.

Four weeks of competition have been completed in the annual summer affair.

Shooting low rounds the last time out were Bob Beeg with a 37, in "A" competition, Deryl Lelimus with a 40 in "B" competition and Dale Anderson with a 43 in "C" competition.

Low rounds the previous Wednesday were turned in by Ken Dahl with a 35, Al Cramer with a 38 and Ron Dalton with a 45.

has a .325 average, nine RBIs and the club's only two homers.

Should the local team succeed in downing today's foe, it would mean two straight Class B baseball titles.

The club whipped Lincoln Plus X and Grand Island Catholic for last year's title. Two years ago Wayne lost to Valley in the finals.

The year before the Wayne team was state champion.

Better Than Nothin'

Paul Mallette hits Ken Daniels high enough to put the scores on the board during Wayne High's 3-0 win over Dodge Tuesday afternoon in the district finals. The win gives the Devils their second straight shot at the state crown.

WSC Baseball Club No. 1 Twice

Wayne State baseball has two new No. 1 rankings to cheer about.

One is for Coach Fred Pierce, named NAIA District 11 Baseball Coach of the Year for the second year. The other is for the team's pitching staff, which ranks No. 1 on the latest NAIA national charts for earned run average.

Pierce gained the honor when District 11 coaches decided that it should go to the district champion team's coach. Now in his third season as head baseball mentor at WSC, Pierce is a veteran of Wayne State athletics, both football and baseball. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees here.

Wayne's team ERA vaulted to first place at 1.08 after previously ranking third on several NAIA reports. Sophomore pitcher Ron Nelson ranked No. 2 with a .35 ERA. Two other Wildcat hurlers also were among the top 30 again—Greg Kamp eleventh at .75 and Gary Jamieson, eighteenth at .88.

Jr Hi Thinclads End Up 4th in Loop Competition

Wayne's junior high track team compiled 47 points to finish fourth in the Husker Conference track meet at Norfolk last Tuesday.

Winning the meet with 117 1/2 points was Tekamah-Herman. Waukegan finished second with 61. Laurel gained 11 points for 11th place in the 14-team meet.

Only champion among the local athletes was Marty Hansen, who ran the 60-yard dash in a school and conference record time of :08.5 to earn top honors.

Hansen also earned the only runner-up finish among the individual competitors, coming in second in the 100-yard low hurdles.

Although Wayne's 880-yard relay team of Rich Workman, Mike Hank, Terry Nelson and Marty Hansen broke the conference record and set a new school mark—1:49.9—it was good enough only for second. Tekamah-Herman's tough club pulled down first with a 1:49.1 clocking.

Gaining fourth places for Wayne High were the 110-yard dash; 440-yard team of Ken Haler, Stan Camer, David Lessman and Jim Brasch; Dick Chapman over 60 yards; Rich Workman in the pole vault and Marty Hansen in the high jump.

The 440-yard relay team of Dick Chapman, Pat Garvin, Earle Overh and Rod Hoops finished fourth but was disqualified.

Earning fifths: Ken Haler over 220 yards, Mike Hank over 250 yards and Marty Hansen in discus.

Taking sixths were Overh in the discus and Hansen in the long jump and shot put.

School Year Short

Students through the 11th grade in the Wayne-Carroll school system will be out of school for the summer vacation after Wednesday's full day of classes.

The students will return to school Friday morning for report cards. Those riding buses will be picked up at the regular times and returned home at 9:30.

Teachers in the school system will have workshops Thursday and Saturday before they are released for the summer.

Wayne High seniors, who will graduate tonight (Monday) at eight o'clock, were released from school last Wednesday.

Using laser beams, scientists have been able to judge Earth-Moon distance to within 5.8 inches, National Geographic says.

State Track Hopefuls

This quartet from Winside High School took part in the state track meet at Kearney State College over the weekend. From left: Lucio Perrin, triple jump; Larry Cleveland, 180-yard low hurdles, discus and tripla jump; and Dennis Wade, shot put. The state meet was held Friday and Saturday.

Fate of Young Pheasants Now Hanging in Balance

Fate of next fall's pheasant crop will be hanging in the balance during the next few weeks as most hen ringnecks across the state begin hatching eggs laid during the past week or two.

According to Game Commission biologists, the next three or four weeks will be critical in pheasant production, as the hen needs at least another 21 days in an undisturbed nesting site to incubate her eggs. Of the nests now in existence, only a few will produce birds that will survive until fall.

Peak hatching comes during the first two weeks of June, but between the time the eggs are laid and hatching time, all but about 15 per cent will be lost. Most of the nests will fall because they are destroyed by predators or agricultural operations, or because the hen abandons the nest.

Most abandonment is caused by disturbance from men, machines or livestock, or because the area is overcrowded by several nesting hens.

This low nesting success points out the dependence of the pheasant on man's use of the land. Many more ringnecks would be around if farmers and ranchers delayed mowing or plowing grassy or weedy areas as much as possible, preferably until after July 1, according to the Game Commission.

Any land not absolutely necessary for agricultural production should be left with its natural cover of vegetation. For example, country road ditches produce about 25 per cent of Nebraska's pheasant chicks, but many are burned or mowed for no apparent reason, usually before the pheasant hatch occurs.

Pheasants hatch only one clutch of eggs per year, but if a hen loses her first nest before incubation she will try again and again to raise a brood. She will give up only when she succeeds or when biological changes end her egg production for the year.

Because of this repeated re-nesting, pheasants have been hatched as late as mid-September.

The chicks still have many hazards to face before reaching maturity in the fall. Each year, about 35 per cent are lost to predators, road traffic and the elements the first 10 weeks after hatching.

Lady Golfers Needed For Beginners Class

Wayne Country Club women who wish to take up golf should contact Mrs. Dale Johnson to enroll in a beginners class to be taught by Bob Beeg.

There is no fee for the class, which will hold its initial meeting today (Monday) at 4 p.m. Twenty-two have signed up to date, with room for about 10 more.

The class, open to club members only, is scheduled to meet each Monday at 4 p.m.

SOME FOLKS THINK IT PAYS TO GO SHOP OUT OF TOWN...

but have they stopped to think about what happens to that dollar they spend away from home? Part of it will go to support the schools, churches and public projects of the community in which that dollar was spent. All well and good. But what about the schools, churches, etc. in our own community? These must also be supported. Don't short-change our hometown and yourself by scattering dollars elsewhere . . . keep them working right here for you and yours!

Swine Feeders -

Recommended protein levels expressed as a per cent, says Fritsche, are as follows: 30 to 60 pound pigs—16%; 60 to 130 pound pigs—14% and 130 pounds to market—12%.

There is some evidence to suggest that gilts and highly mixed pigs may need the 14% level of protein for maximum performance to market weight.

Swine fed diets with the recommended level of protein at the indicated weight generally will not respond to supplemental lysine at a level sufficient to recover the cost of the supplementation, Fritschen concludes.

An acre of young, growing and well managed trees releases four tons of oxygen each year, enough to supply the needs of 12 people.
