Housing Project Is 80% Complete

By Jane Owens

Wayne's low-rent housing project is 80 per cent completed, according to Nick Correa, project manager for Structures, Inc., general contractor.

Work began in mid-April on the $600,000 project. Correa said that all the finish work remains, including plumbing, electrical work, heating, painting, carpeting, linoleum and plastering.

Contract completion date is little more than a month away—Sept. 29—but Correa said, "I'm still on the optimistic side."

The project includes 38 dwelling units of two types, efficiency and two-bedroom units. Both have four rooms—living room, bedroom, kitchen and bath—but the efficiency unit has a different kitchen plan and includes a total living space of about 120 square feet. The one-bedroom unit includes about 320 square feet.

All units have closet space and are equipped with stoves and refrigerators.

In addition, the contractors are completing a community facility building, centrally located, the building will have restrooms, storage, maintenance and laundry rooms and an administration office.

Enclosed refuse areas and permanent outdoor seating are also included in "Villa Wayne"—the name chosen for the project in a recent contest.

According to Mrs. Don Echtenkamp, executive director of the Wayne Housing Authority, income and age regulations for housing applicants should be set within the next week.

Those who are eligible may apply after rules have been established.

The low-rent project is being built under the supervision of the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) department of the federal government.

Started with funds advanced by the federal government, the Wayne Housing Authority sold bonds to repay the project loan. The local housing authority now has an annual contributions contract with the federal government, meaning that the government guarantees payment of the housing authority debt service for 40 years. When the contract expires, the project will belong to the city of Wayne.

Paper Airplane Opens

A new business seeking to capture part of the college clothing market opened in Wayne Monday.

The business is called The Paper Airplane and is located in the former Student Supply Store just south of the Wayne State College campus.

Bill Cummins, who will manage the new business along with the book store on campus, said the store will feature clothing which appeals mostly to college students. Gaining quite a bit of space at the store will be such items as flared pants and jeans, Cummins said.

The store, which is employing Fred Netherland and Kathy Fletcher at the present time, will set its open hours according to what works best for the students. Right now it is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The store is owned by Nebraska Book Company of Lincoln.

Local Collector Tells Kiwanians Of Coin Hobby

"Finding a rare coin is a part of the fun," Willard Witte told fellow Kiwanians Monday as he talked about his hobby of coin collecting.

Witte spoke following a noon luncheon in the Woman's Club room and noted that U. S. coins have only been in circulation for about 300 years and that all old coins are not valuable. He said an old coin's value depends upon how many were minted, condition of the coin and the demand for them.

Recalling an incident occurring not long after he started his hobby of collecting old coins in 1938, Witte said he was sitting with several friends in a local cafe and mentioned he was hunting for a particular issue of a rare 1909 penny. He said Freeman Decker was sitting there and reached into his pocket and pulled out some change. "He only had about four pennies," Witte said, "but one of them I was looking for."

"Coin collecting can be simple if you want it to be," he said, explaining that a person might easily begin coin collecting by gathering all of the coins minted on one's own birth date.

The club decided to hold a white elephant sale at 2 p.m. Sept. 12 as a fund raising project. Location of the sale is yet to be determined.

Former WSC Student Is Aide to Hruska

Tishendorf, an Omaha World-Herald reporter since 1965, attended Wayne State from September of 1956 to January of 1958.

He served four years in the Navy and completed his college work at the University of Missouri in 1955. He worked at the Lincoln Star before going to the World-Herald.

'Hello, Floyd? Need A Maintainer Over Here Quick'

By Merlin Wright

Six two-way radios are drastically changing the way Wayne County business—particularly that relating to roads—is being handled.

Says Norris Wobles, county clerk: "I don't know how the county got along without them. They are priceless when you consider the miles and time saved."

The compact transistorized radios were recently installed in the pickups driven by the three county commissioners and the county superintendent of roads. A similar radio was installed in a road maintainer at Hoskins; one is located at the courthouse, the base station.

Using the new radio hookup, operators of any one of the six units can talk to the other five regardless of their location in the county. Joe Wilson, commissioner in District I, said he was 14 miles south of Wayne and was able to talk to Ken Eddo, District II commissioner, who was nine miles west of Carroll.

Floyd Burt, commissioner of District III and chairman of the county board, said he was in his pickup 50 miles west of Wayne and was still able to contact the base station at the courthouse.

The decision to purchase the two-way radio equipment at a cost of about $5,000 was made by the county board earlier this year.

The board justified the expenditure after considering the travel and time the radios would save over the period of a few years.

The radios will be of great assistance, particularly in the winter during snow storms and blizzards, according to Commissioner Burt. The communication equipment is expected to permit the commissioners to better coordinate the work of snow-plows or provide help in cases of emergency.

Burt said that if Max Lanhart, operator of the county road maintainer at Hoskins, needs repairs for his equipment or if he notices that a bridge or road needs repairing, he can now contact the county board immediately right from the maintainer.

"We hope to eventually have two maintainers equipped with radios in each district," Burt said.

Another advantage provided by the radios, according to the county clerk, is when someone wants to get in contact with a county commissioner. They can call the clerk's office at the courthouse and the clerk can relay the information to any one or all three of the county board members.

Routine business matters have been handled by radio nearly every day since the equipment was installed. "It would be hard to put a dollar value on them," Burt said.

The radios are expected to speed up repairing of bridges, clearing snow-packed roads, fitting equipment and maintaining roads.

The base radio broadcasts via a 10-foot tower mounted on the roof of the courthouse. Call letters assigned to the county by the Federal Communication Commission are KTB307.

Way Back When

Why Complain Now?

If apathy were a jewel, multitudes of taxpayers would wear glistening crowns. Just how often do you talk about taxes? Have you or have you heard someone else complain about high taxes and certain things that city and county government officials have seen fit to do?

If complaining about taxes were a disease, it could be stated that the majority of the population was infected. Complaining about taxes is evidently much easier than finding out just how the money is spent.

Would you consider $1,215,118—a considerable sum of money? That figure represents the estimated budget combined with the necessary cash reserve fund for the operation of Wayne County in 1971-72. Yet when the public hearing was recently held by the county commissioners for the purpose of hearing any objections, suggestions or corrections to the budget, only three people other than county officials attended.

It is reported that not one taxpayer showed up at the budget hearing held July 28 by the Dixon County board of supervisors meeting in Ponca, other than officials. Disinterest in budget hearings seems to be the norm.

Complaining about taxes to your neighbor or at the local bar, though popular, cannot adjust county spending one cent. There is a time and place for taxpayers to object to government costs and that is, of course, at the public hearing held for that purpose. County officers are ready at such a hearing to explain where tax money is spent, and ready to listen to objections and suggestions.

County officers must assume that taxpayers residing in the county have no objections, suggestions or corrections for the budget when so few or none attend the hearing. It seems incredible that taxpayers will wait until they go to the courthouse on business to voice their complaints. There are likely few times when one cannot go into a county office and find that someone has been disgruntled about having to pay taxes or other fees. Where was the complainer when the budget was reviewed?

Let's put it this way. If you didn't have enough interest in your taxes to attend the city and county budget hearings, then may your wisdom keep you from complaining—ridiculous by complaining. —MMW

Council's Problem Concerns Everybody

The city council is currently wrestling with a problem which concerns all residents in and around Wayne. The problem is to make sure that further development north of town doesn't result in contamination of the city's water field located there.

The problem, first brought to the attention of the council by the city's engineering firm, is no small one. It will task the council to find a solution which will be acceptable to the people living in the area and which will assure that the people in the city clean water in the future.

It will be interesting to see what road the council decides to embark upon to solve the problem, which has arisen because of the large number of septic tanks in the area. There are three basic ways to solve it: building a lagoon to serve that area, building a sewage treatment plant to serve it or hooking the area up to the present city sewage lines. Regardless of the solution, it's going to cost money.

However, the cost resulting from a contaminated water source could be much, much higher than the solution to the problem. What would the city do if the state closed down one, two or all of the water wells north of town? Where would it go, and how far would it have to go to find another water field large enough and good enough to serve the city? How much would it cost to pipe water over a great distance? Those are questions everybody should keep in mind when discussing and trying to solve the problem. —NLR

'Honey, Do You Have the License?'

State legislation slated to go into effect Aug. 27—changes the law that governs the cost and procedures of obtaining a marriage license.

Couples that are altar bound should expect to pay $5 instead of $3 for the marriage license.

More important, the law now makes it possible for a couple to obtain a marriage license in one county and be married in another. For instance, a Wayne County couple could get a marriage license in Douglas County and be married in Knox County, although the license must be returned and recorded in the issuing county.

Those making application for a marriage license under the new law must wait five days from the date application becomes receiving the license.

Applicants must show documented proof of age. Males under 18 and females under 16 are not to be issued licenses under any circumstances, even with consent of parents.

The new law will be especially appreciated by people living in such towns as Wakefield and Emerson. Both of those communities are situated in more than one county.

Couples having a church wedding in Wakefield or Emerson must now first determine in which county the church is located and then get a license at that county's courthouse. The new law will do away with such confusion.

Having to document one's age will do away with false information and the new law eliminates exchanging marriage vows by a boy less than 18 years old and by a girl less than 16.

Few objections will likely be made to the new marriage laws as they appear to make good sense. —MMW

'Letters Give People Freedom of Expression'

According to the speaker at a gathering of newspaper editors in Tennessee recently, letters to the editor have replaced town meetings as the best vehicle of expression in a democracy.

Said Dr. Andrew Holt, former president of the University of Tennessee: "The ideal vehicle of expression in a democracy is the old-fashioned town hall meeting. . . (But) now the nearest thing to the old-time town meeting is the letter to the editor. . . Today's larger population has made town meetings impractical, he said. Dr. Holt echoed our feelings when he said: "In a democracy, people ought to stand up and be counted, and the letters section of the newspaper gives them that forum. We are happy to receive letters to the editor. They spark thought, give people a chance to "let off steam," draw attention to things sometimes missed by others and make for good reading. The next time you want to speak out on something, write the newspaper a letter. There's no better way to make your thoughts known to several thousand other people. —NLR

Popular Big Red to Make Lincoln Busy Next Month

LINCOLN—Fridays are going to be busy around the Statehouse next month. Fridays always are busy during the football season because the members of legislative committees, advisory boards and commissions of all types figure there is no better time to come to Lincoln.

The University of Nebraska just happens to have a home game schedule which makes September an inviting time for convening those groups. Starting Sept. 11 (Oregon) and running through the 14th (Minnesota) and the 25th (Texas A&M), the Huskers will be performing before Memorial Stadium audiences.

Actually, there will be home games four weeks in a row, with an Oct. 2 date with Utah State also on the schedule.

The state senators who are arranging their committee work to coincide with Bob Devaney's defense of the national championship may be having some second thoughts about Devaney's performance as a lobbyist earlier this year. Wearing his athletic director's hat, Devaney visited the legislative chamber and presented the case for using half of a nickel increase in cigarette taxes to pay for a proposed N. C. basketball arena and auditorium on the State Fairgrounds.

Despite the veto by Gov. J. J. Exon, the lawmakers adopted the increase and the distribution of the revenue, which had the other half of the proceeds going to finance a new state office building.

Exon now says he will renew his attempt to have the funds raised by the smokers channeled to the general fund and take off the earmarking attached by the 1971 Legislature.

And the governor may now have a powerful ally—Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff. The same Terry Carpenter who sponsored the amendment which put the basketball building into the law in the first place. And the same Terry Carpenter who issued the invitation and asked his colleague to hear lobbyist Bob Devaney.

Carpenter says he has found out now that he is back home in the Panhandle that the Legislature's decision isn't as popular with the constituents as he thought it would be.

Exon objected right along to the earmarking, if not to the tax increase. The governor says he wants to preserve some of those projects in 1973 on the premise that it could be financed by a 2 1/2 per cent sales tax and a 13 per cent income tax, even though a 14 per cent income levy may become necessary.

Exon concedes it may be even tougher to put together a budget for the 1973 Legislature which will meet the increase, but he has said the estimated $7 million per year revenues from the smokers will be a big help.

The plans for the fieldhouse and the office building may not be the only plans laid by the 1971 Legislature which undergo some adjustment next year in an attempt to fit spending to the tax structure.

The lawmakers this year provided planning money for several construction projects in the higher education field, so the building could get underway in the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

In an attempt to hold back on spending, some of those projects may get moved to the back burner.

Sen. Roland A. Luedtke of Lincoln, an outspoken advocate of earmarking, said the possibility of postponement of some of those projects is exactly why money has to be set aside specifically if construction work isn't going to get way behind.

Luedtke says there always is some program which seems more important than the construction of a building because it's easy to say an old structure can be used "just one more year."

But the Lincoln lawmaker says this results in a backlog of priority projects all left to "next year," sometimes for many "next years."

By earmarking the smokers' contributions for the fieldhouse and office building projects, he says, they are assured of getting done.

Furthering that, he said, it's not good policy to stick so closely to an arbitrary set of tax rates. In this case the 1970 sales and income tax rates, that reasonable expenditures are postponed until a catchup is needed in a hurry. That could require significant tax increases which would be unpopular than a smaller hike spread over several years.

Luedtke says he will battle to keep the earmarking on the cigarette taxes.

Napoleon Bonaparte Giddings Who first represented Nebraska in Congress? Probably few people could answer that question today. He was Napoleon Bonaparte Giddings, who is said to have been interested in land speculation in the early days in Otoe County and no doubt visited the county early in 1854. At the election in December that year, he was elected the Territorial delegate to Congress. It has been asserted that he never was a resident of Nebraska. Nevertheless, he served in Washington from January 5, 1854, to March 3, 1855. H. B. Chapman was elected to replace him in November, 1855.

From sources available in the Archives and Library of the Nebraska State Historical Society, the career of this energetic Westerner can be reconstructed.

When in term of office ended he returned to Nebraska and on May 28, 1855, became a charter member of the Old Fellows Lodge when it was organized there. In the census of October, 1855 he is recorded as living at Nebraska City with his wife and two children. However, it is not certain that the family ever came to Nebraska. When the Masonic Lodge was instituted at Nebraska City on May 26, 1856, he also became a charter member. It was named Giddings Lodge. He seems to have given up his residence in Nebraska in the summer of 1856, for he was not recorded in the census, and returned to his home just east of Savannah, Missouri, where he had lived before coming to Nebraska. He practiced law there and took an active interest in lodge work.

During the Civil War he was commissioned a lieutenant colonel of the First Union Volunteer Infantry and served five months in the spring and summer of 1865 as commander of Schofield Barracks near St. Louis. He died at Savannah, Missouri, August 3, 1897, at 81 years of age.

Giddings' early life was that of a true western pioneer. He was born at Tompkinsville, Kentucky, January 2, 1816, and moved with his parents to Fayette, Missouri, in 1828. His education was obtained in the common schools of that frontier community and at 20 years of age went to Texas, where he was appointed chief clerk to the auditor of the young republic, when the capital was moved to Houston. He served there for a short time as acting auditor of Texas. In 1838 he resigned and returned to Fayette.

Giddings now began the study of law at Fayette and in 1841 was admitted to the bar. When the Mexican War began in 1846, he was commissioned a captain in the Second Regiment Missouri Mounted Volunteers, serving seven months. After he returned to Missouri he established the Union Flag, first newspaper in Franklin County. After gold was discovered in California in 1848, he sold his paper and went West, where he remained but two years. For a short time he was in Central America. He then returned to Savannah to practice law, and with the exception of his short time as a Nebraskan, to live out his years.

 —"For as long as I can remember, I've always wanted to have a Saint Bernard," said Kathy Reinhardt of rural Wayne. "I finally managed to talk my dad into letting me buy one." According to Kathy, Saint Bernards require no special care except for a weekly ear washing. Nine-months old and weighing about 120 pounds, "Katie" eats about $10 worth of dog food and raw eggs a month.

—"We bought an Afghan hound because it's such a weird breed no one else has one," said Mrs. John Clark of Wayne. Eight-month-old "Zac" will weigh about 65 pounds with seven-inch-long hair when full grown at 18 months. "Zac" is presently recovering from a broken leg he received while running in the Willow Brook. "We decided to have his leg fixed because I'd like to show him some day," said Mrs. Clark. She and her husband are students at Wayne State College.

—"Lori" just loves company and attention," said Mrs. Earl Larson of Wayne. The Larsons bought their registered basset hound in Omaha. Fourteen months old, she weighs about 70 pounds. Why did they choose a basset? The couple liked this dog's temperament and "the expressive eyes."

—Because they're very intelligent and a good family dog, a Scottish terrier was the choice of the Don Heeds of Wayne. Holding the family pet is 11-year-old Cammy. "Sugar" is unique in that she's almost perfect," said Mrs. Heed. Because she's a Scottie, "Sugar" has one fault—her long hair requires frequent brushing and plenty of baths.

DRIVING

All students will register their cars and supply additional information on their motor vehicle. You may not drive your car to school unless it is registered. There will be no driving of the cars during the school day without permission from the administration and from the parents.

Students are expected to drive in the proper manner and reports of careless and reckless driving before and after school will be sufficient reason to discontinue your driving privileges to school.

STUDENT ATTIRE

Students are expected to come to school dressed in the proper manner. Such things as long hair, skirt lengths, shirt tails, etc. are of concern.

We realize the styles tend to be a problem—but we feel that the patrons of the school desire our students to be neat and modest in their dress.

PHYSICALS

The high school students who plan to participate in sports or take part in physical education should have a physical examination. You cannot participate without a physical. Get these physicals out of the way prior to school. You can pick up the doctor's forms at the school office.

Elementary students in grades K, 3 and 7 must have a physical as stated by Board Policy.

Area Youth Finishing Unique Experience

Scott Jackson, of Winkler, will finish up this week a unique educational experience designed for high school students who show exceptional promise in the sciences.

The 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson, he will complete a two-week field trip to the Black Hills and the Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks this week under the 17th annual University of Iowa Secondary Science Training Programs.

These selective programs offered opportunities for high ability secondary students to earn college credits while taking part in a unique course of study. Young Jackson was chosen from the top 10 members of his class to attend the program dealing with environmental science.

The major goals of the programs were to provide an enriching experience in the sciences that are not afforded through high school or beginning college courses, offer a stimulating educational experience through laboratory and field oriented courses, give participating students an opportunity for interaction with college science instructors and research scientists, and provide the opportunity to pursue individual interest in science utilizing the facilities of the University of Iowa.

Included were courses of study in environmental science, computer science, molecular biology, physics and astronomy, and student research. Courses were of six weeks duration. The environmental science course began July 12 and ends Friday with a two-week field trip to the Black Hills, Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks.

I See By The Herald

Gary Speer of Randolph received a master of science in education degree at commencement exercises at Chadron State College last week. The class included 72 recipients of bachelor's degrees and 48 who received master's degrees.

Q. Should red raspberries be trimmed after bearing fruit?
A. Yes—clear to the ground.

Scott Jackson takes a soil sample for analysis during study at the University of Iowa this summer.

Living Alone Popular in Wayne County

A dramatic increase has taken place in Wayne County in recent years in the number of single people who are living alone and maintaining their own households.

These men and women—some young and some old—who would have been living with relatives or others in former years, are now able to swing it financially by themselves. And, it appears, they are getting great satisfaction out of their ability to do so.

In Wayne County, according to a study of data compiled in connection with the recent Census of Housing, no less than 16.5 per cent of all dwellings units are now occupied by singles.

Throughout the United States as a whole, the percentage is 17.5. It is 18.5 per cent in the West, North Central states and 15.3 per cent in Nebraska.

Included in the "singles" category are people who have never married as well as divorced and widowed persons who have not remarried.

The extent of the change in the local area is to be seen by looking at comparable figures gathered 10 years ago. At that time only 9.9 per cent of the units were occupied by singles.

In most other parts of the country, similarly, there have been big increases in the number of one-person households.

As a result of this development, the average household is smaller than before. It declined from a median of 3.0 persons per unit to 2.7 in 1970.

In Wayne County, the latest figures show the number of one-person households is now 492 as compared with the 1960 total of 285.

Analysts offer a variety of explanations for these changes. They point to the rise in job opportunities for women, which has made them more self-sufficient economically.

Many more women are unattached because of the rise in the number of widows and divorcees in the last decade. However, a bigger proportion of them have become self-supporting because of job availability, social security, pensions and other resources.

The living alone trend is growing rapidly, also, among young unmarried people, especially in the larger cities. More than a million of them now have their own places.

Yard & Garden Tips . . .
Q. Is there a spray for cedar apple rust?
A. Yes, any all purpose garden spray will help. Zineb can also be used.

Q. How often should apple trees be sprayed to control worms?
A. They should be sprayed frequently and thoroughly most of the summer. Every 10-12 days in the early summer and in July once every seven days should keep them under control.

Q. How do you get rid of bent grass?
A. It would be difficult to find a preemergent to kill it. Probably the best way to get rid of it would be to cut it out or burn it out with chemicals.

Venezuelan Lass Arrives to Attend School

by Merlin Wright

A pretty Venezuelan teenager increased the population of Wayne by one Saturday, unpacking her suitcase in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Max Lundstrom after traveling several thousand miles from her home in Caracas.

Rosa Mery Castillo, 17, the second member of her family to be an American Field Service student in the United States, smiled prettily Monday as she talked about her family, high school and hometown.

She left her parents early this month for a jet trip to New York City along with 18 other Venezuelan AFS pupils planning to study in the United States this year.

Her brother, a university student studying micro-biology in New Jersey, met her in New York where the two got to visit for a few hours.

It was the AFS student at De Witt, Iowa, during 1953-54.

After a two-day orientation conference in New York City, Rosa Mery flew to Chicago and made the trip into Omaha by bus where she was greeted by her new American family.

The Lundstroms are well acquainted with the AFS program as they have a daughter, Elaine, 16, studying in Cuenca, Ecuador, this summer through the American Abroad program.

Until Elaine arrives home next week, her sister, 14-year-old Marjle, is helping their new Venezuelan sister get acquainted.

Living in Wayne, which has a population of less than 5,500 people, she is the smallest town in Venezuela, which has a population of two million.

In Caracas, Rosa Mery's family lives in a high-rise apartment building. Many such apartments are clustered near the center of Caracas along with numerous towering business buildings, she said.

She has studied for the last three years at Liceo Gustavo Herrero, a Caracas high school with 2,000 students. Her high school studies will be completed this year as a senior at Wayne High School. Following graduation, she hopes to become a pharmacist or medical doctor.

Looking over some gifts south-of-the-border are Mrs. Lundstrom, Marjle (center) and Rosa Mery.

Having studied English for five years, Rosa Mery writes, reads and speaks it very well. She seldom has need for referring to her Spanish-English dictionary.

Traveling is not new for Rosa Mery. She has returned with her parents from Caracas to their original home in Spain three times to visit a sister and other relatives. On one trip she became interested in judo and earned the yellow belt in the self-defense sport.

Other of her hobbies include music, reading, dancing and collecting stamps.

Winter temperatures in the northeast Nebraska are also going to be a new experience for her. There is no winter in Caracas and the average temperature there ranges between 70 and 80 degrees.

Has she ever seen snow? "No, only on the mountain peaks," she said. Her new family assured her that she would get to see plenty of snow here this winter.

Mrs. Lundstrom said Rosa Mery brought several gifts from Venezuela. Among them are coffee, rum, beads made of peony seeds and pearls, a gold dresser dish and Venezuelan coins.

Under the AFS student program the host family budgets for their guest's food, and lodging, family trips and modest birthday, holiday and farewell presents in accordance with its own way of living.

The local AFS Chapter contributes slightly less than $1,000 to AFS International. The student's own family contributes what it can afford, plus clothing, luggage, transportation in his own country and medical expenses for pre-existing conditions.

The school generally furnishes transportation to and from school, school lunches, school books, supplies, yearbook, class photographs, school activity fees, graduation expenses, school trips, gym suit and equipment. AFS International provides overseas plane fares, personal allowances of $16 per month, medical expenses except for dental and eye care, illness due to pre-existing conditions and inoculations.

AFS International also pays for arrival and departure expenses and orientation, trans-

Area Vets Headed To School Soon Should Contact VA

Veterans in the Wayne area who plan to enter college this fall are being advised to contact the Veterans Administration.

W. N. Nixon, director of the VA, said that veterans should choose a school and an educational objective before requesting a certificate of eligibility from the nearest VA office. The VA will send two copies of the certificate which must be submitted to the school, who will endorse one copy and forward it to the regional office, he explained.

Nixon suggested also that the veteran follow through to make sure the school forwards the certificate so he starts receiving his monthly checks promptly.

If the veteran is returning to the same school and the same program, it is not necessary to get another certificate, he said. If he plans to change schools or his educational objective within the same school, he must get VA approval.

The VA director underlined the importance of acting promptly because many colleges and universities have already been filled. However, he noted that many schools give special consideration to veterans.

To be eligible for educational benefits, a veteran or serviceman must have served at least 181 days of continuous active duty, any part of it after Jan. 31, 1955. Or he must have been separated for a service-connected disability without regard to length of service.

Veterans desiring further information on educational benefits should contact the VA Regional Office, at 220 S. 17th St., Lincoln, Neb., their local veterans service organization representative or nearest veterans county service officer.

What Is A Teacher?

WHAT IS A TEACHER? A teacher is many things . . . She is knowledgeable with a smile on her face . . . Democracy with a book in her hand . . . Wisdom with a flick of white chalk-dust on her left eyelid.

She comes in all sizes . . . temperament . . . Short, tall, skinny, plump . . . Laughing, serious, happy and sad.

She's the future of the nation in a sack dress . . . Love with a college education.

In her everyday work week, she's expected to be: Diplomat, philosopher, politician, fight referee, pediatrician, policewoman, practical nurse — and quiz program conductor.

SHE HAS LITTLE CHILDREN in her eyes . . . And all her dreams are young dreams.

She's a psychiatrist without a couch . . . Politician without a promise . . . Baby-sitter without the right to raid the icebox.

She makes money than a dishwasher . . . Or a ditchdigger . . . or a garbage collector . . .

She makes less money than a woman wrestler . . . Burlesque strip-tease dancer . . . Or the woman blackjack dealer in Nevada.

Her days are filled with school bells . . . Young chatter . . . Chalk dust . . . Waving hands . . . Questions . . . and worried parents.

A TEACHER IS EQUALLY ADEPT AT: Blowing small noses, teaching fractions, putting on galoshes, finding lost mittens in dark clock-rooms . . . and making parents feel good at parent-teacher meetings.

She spends four years in college, studying hard, in order to learn how to: Make orange paper pumpkins at Halloween, umpire baseball games at recess time, tell young boys to throw bubblegum in the wastebasket.

IN ADDITION to knowing all this there is to know about reading, writing and arithmetic, not to mention science, biology, history and music, a teacher has to be an authority on:

Baseball . . . Grasshoppers . . . Little girls . . . Snakes . . . Young love . . . Little boys . . . and how to live three months of the year without a paycheck.

While grateful parents spend their evenings watching television, attending cocktail parties, complaining about the high cost of the school system, teachers spend their evenings correcting examination papers . . . Smiling at people at parent-teacher meetings . . . and wishing they had become stenographers.

Teachers can be found after school — Taking aspirin, picking up spitballs, washing blackboards, rehearsing plays, sewing angel costumes for Christmas pageants — and just sitting at a desk waiting for strength to get home.

TEACHERS ARE EXPECTED TO: Go to church . . . Keep out of debt . . . Have creative minds (but not disagree with the board of education) . . . stay away from cigarettes, beer and bingo games . . . and give willingly to the United Fund.

A teacher dispenses magic . . . Sells futures . . . Dreams are her stock in trade.

From her small classroom will come the doctors of tomorrow, the men who will go to the moon, the great artists and novelists of the year 2000 . . . The industrial tycoons and all the leaders America will need to survive in a puzzled world.

She's the future of the world with a ruler in her hand . . . Progress with a pencil back of her ear.

Underpaid, unappreciated at times, harried and overworked, she gains her pay in secret satisfaction.

Secretly, she will admit, "I have the greatest job of all . . ."

And she has . . . Because she holds the history of the world in the palm of her little hand . . . She's a teacher.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

I reiterate for the umpteenth time that the selection of bulls must be based on facts, using market potentials, your own personality and the productive capacity and topography of your ranch.

Now people drive a Jeep coast-to-coast on the interstate. Likewise with cattle—don't run quality herds in a leached-out field and do not waste outstanding Western meadows with the latest fads.

In the late 40's and early 50's, the Ohio College professors sold ranchers a bill of goods on compactness. Following their ideas cost the reputation of innumerable quality herds. Yes, the professors got citations, big salaries, speaking engagements and pensions, and many a cow went to slaughter to prevent the increase in dwarfism.

That is history. I'm concerned about now. On Aug. 16, there existed a $2.50 animal and a $2.50 animal. U. S. Choice and Good. On a 700-pound carcass that's $45 a head wasted in time, effort, feed and breeding.

The cottage boys today have Area Farmer Places High in Dairy Contest

A Randolph area dairyman, Gerald Stevens, has been named one of two northeast Nebraska farmers to place high in the 1971 Mr. Dairyman Contest.

The Stevens herd placed 10th in average butterfat production, with a record of 370 pounds of butterfat produced per cow, and 15th in average milk production, with a record of 14,846 pounds of milk per cow.

Two cows in the Stevens herd also placed high in the individual cow categories. One, with a record of 759 pounds of butterfat, placed 10th in the individual butterfat production category, while another placed 10th in the individual milk production division with a record of 21,260 pounds of milk produced in a 305-day lactation period.

Also placing high in the contest was Crofton dairyman Richard Wortmann.

The contest, sponsored by Kent Feeders Inc., is held each year to stimulate better dairying practices and to encourage greater consumption of dairy products.

Over $2,500 in prizes is awarded to the winners in the various categories of the contest.

The Stevens and the Wortmann herds were in competition with over 60 dairy herds from throughout Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana.

complete control of ALL major stock show extravaganzas. Most shows were originated by and for the manure-exposed cowman, but the Chamber of Commerce dances took over, giving them an excuse to wear boots and swagger a la John Wayne.

To me, Choice beef in a New York City restaurant is like a Volkswagen. Who needs a change? The taste is it.

But, the professors and judges started to select borderline grades as their champions. They forgot to transmit and impregnate in the rancher's mind that many of these purple ribbon bearers were freaks. True, some had a slight amount of marbling and after a twice-changed grading standard (1962 and 1965), permitted the Choice ink. But what about their 30 brothers and sisters?

Today a $6.50 spread! If supply and demand even partially govern prices, this industry will have too many undesirable offspring showing up.

I have never seen a chain store advertise that it uses U. S. Goods. The demand is for Choice. Over 90% of the steers slaughtered in Chicago in 1970 graded either Prime or Choice, yet the club calves of the Chicago International Exposition failed to hit 50% Choice and were undesirable for the normal trade. Imagine, fed 1/2 S. Good was selling it below cancer cow meat. Mom, the bulls you buy must transmit marbling or the only thing you have is the facsimile of some beef from Australia.

If Jesse Chisholm drove cattle thousands of miles to gain a market—ate grass beef but went home bragging about "Kansas Choice"—beef—there must be a difference.

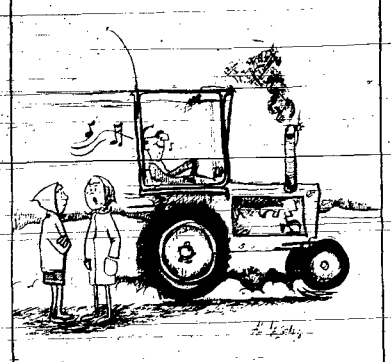

The purpose of a hard grain feed is marbling, to change and improve the taste and grade. If there is no change, all purpose is lost. If genetic characteristics record marbling, breeders have gone backward—and I don't care what breed is involved.

Three weeks ago I talked with Chicago's Wally Mander. He said to me: "Ed, don't waste time on those professors. They are nice guys; they try to do a job. And besides, who else has that much time to waste?"

Kansas State recently offered their Angus herd for sale. On the phone, I spoke to Dr. Good, one of the more respected judges. He told me K State fed over 100 of their Angus calves 120 plus days. He felt there would be a 90% Choice grade. There were less than 10.

Dr. Good did not miss the cattle. Whoever "planned" the sires did. Might as well raise Longhorns.

Please search and buy bulls that still throw agate marbles—not "pot eyes."

There he goes with air conditioning, stereo-tape player—and AM-FM radio. But listen to him scream when I ask for a dishwasher.

Modern technology in hay-making has passed by pitchforks and haystacks. In fact, today it might be easier to find a needle in a haystack than finding a haystack that.

A dairy cow producing 11,000 pounds of milk a year (about 5,000 quarts) consumes an average of 45 tons of fuel—8 tons of feed and 37 tons of water. That's 247 pounds a day.

Examine Machinery Costs

Annual ownership costs of farm machinery will run from 15 to 25 per cent of the cost of what you paid for it new.

That means that the day a farmer purchases a new machine, he starts himself to the cost of owning that machine. These costs continue even if the purchase price is paid in cash.

Ownership costs include repairs, depreciation, interest, taxes, insurance and housing.

These costs ought to be an important consideration when considering alternatives for getting a job done. Hiring custom operators or leasing farm machinery for seasonal, low annual use jobs may cost less than owning all of your own machinery.

Ownership costs are frequently overlooked when machinery is purchased. Here are conservative estimates: depreciation 10 per cent of the new cost; repairs, three per cent; taxes, insurance and housing, lumped together, three per cent; interest on investment, four per cent; one-half of current interest rate times purchase price.

In a $10,000 machine, this adds up to $2,000 annually. Depreciation costs are often difficult to justify with a small amount of annual use. The annual cost per acre is determined by dividing the annual ownership costs by the acres on which the machine will be used. If the machine is used on only 400 acres each year, the estimated ownership is $5 per acre. Doubling the acreage to 800 acres would cut the per acre ownership cost in half.

House Painting? Planned painting prevents problems. Reasons a house paint job fails even when good paint is used are: surface poorly prepared, paint not applied properly and moisture vapor behind the painted surface blisters the paint off.

Use a scraper and wire brush to remove all loose paint. If an area is dirty, wipe it off with a cloth or sponge and a detergent.

Health Tips

Here is a health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association: Food seems to taste better when prepared and eaten outdoors. But as the time for family picnics comes, it is time also to make sure the food you eat outdoors is safe.

Warm summer temperatures that tempt themselves so well to outdoor eating, also promote the growth of bacteria in food. The key to avoiding food poisoning is to keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold. This keeps food out of the 40 to 100 degree temperature range in which bacteria grows fastest.

Unsafe food may appear harmless as it may give no warning signs such as a peculiar odor, mold or an unpleasant taste. If uncertain whether a food is safe, apply the rule that when in doubt, throw it out.

New Wrinkles Added to Exposition

Spotting some new additions, the 22nd annual meat animal exposition will be held on Monday evening, Sept. 13, at the Norfolk Livestock Market.

The yearly event features a 4-H and FFA market beef show and sale and lots of five-fat cattle show-and-sale.

However, this year's event will include a 4-H and FFA carcass contest involving only purple ribbon animals sold during the exposition.

The event will also include a showmanship contest, with all 4-H and FFA exhibitors automatically entered.

The exposition is open to any member of an FFA chapter or 4-H club.

Any animal that is sold through area county sales is not eligible for the Norfolk event. However, the animal can be exhibited in other shows and shown at the Norfolk show as long as it isn't sold previously.

Animals will be placed in four separate classes: Angus, Hereford, Shorthorn and Crossbreds (the latter including Charolais and Charolais crossbreds).

There is no entry fee for animals entering the carcass contest. Animals will be slaughtered the day after the show and graded the following day.

The showmanship contest will include competition for youths 8 through 11 years of age as of Jan. 1 this year and for youths 12 and over as of that date. Trophies will be given the champions in each age group.

Show rules and regulations as well as entry blanks are available from county agents and vocag instructors. Deadline for sending the entry blanks back to county agents is Sept. 1.

Judging of cattle will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Sept. 13, with Kollis Giltner of Brookings, S. D., acting as judge.

The lot of five carcass contest will again be offered. Each exhibitor may select one animal from his group for the open class carcass event. Only those exhibitors who show in the open class lot of five event are eligible for the carcass contest.

Plaques will be given the grand and reserve champion steer and heifer carcasses.

Health Tips

Here is a health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association:

On your next automobile trip, pack your first-aid kit. Last, if it is needed in a hurry, you can quickly locate it.

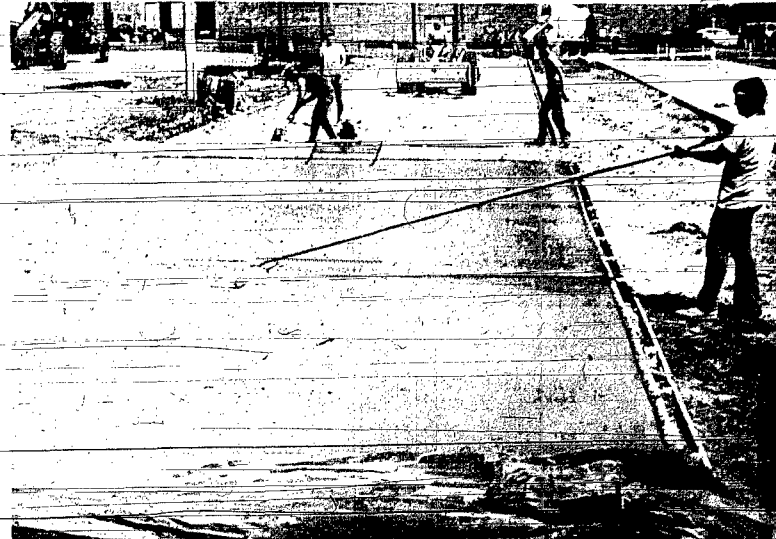

Many lives have been saved by first-aid measures taken. Here are some things you should carry: A first-aid manual; plenty of bandages, including some extra large ones; some straight boards that can be used as splints, plus the usual assortment of small bandages, gauze and antiseptics.

Remember that a car's first-aid kit will be larger than a kit placed in the home, simply because you may be further from medical help and may need more equipment.

VA Q & A

Q. I am thinking of selling my home which I purchased with a GI loan that is not yet paid in full. If the buyer defaults, will I be liable to the Veterans Administration? Can I be released from such liability?

A. Yes, to both questions. However, the VA may release you only if the buyer assumes full liability for repayment. If such a release is approved, you will not be liable for default by the buyer. Before signing the sales contract, ask the VA office which guaranteed your loan for terms and instructions for release from personal liability.

Stuck Cars Thing of the Past

These men spent the hot working hours earlier this week laying strips of concrete so teachers and students will have better parking this fall at Wayne High School. The paving project will provide parking for about 25 cars when complete, which should be sometime this week. The paved area is 205 feet east and west and 95 feet north and south, enough area for three rows of cars.

Paving Should Help Parking Problems

Work got underway late last week on a paving project which should make life a little easier for those students at Wayne High who drive cars back and forth to school.

The project involves paving an area 205 feet east and west and 95 feet north and south on the south edge of the high school parking lot.

The paved area will provide parking space for about 25 cars and will include a paved exit so drivers can leave the parking area and get onto the street which goes past the south side of the high school.

Workers at the project, which was let to low bidder Concrete Finishers of Norfolk, said they hoped to be through with the paving by the end of this week.

The low bid of $14,195 turned in by the Norfolk firm included paving two small recreation areas at the other two schools in Wayne.

The paved areas, each 50 by 80 feet, will provide space for such activities as badminton, tennis, shuffle board and volleyball.

There will be no recreation equipment such as slides or swings placed on the paved areas, according to Superintendent Francis Ham.

The areas are located just west of the elementary school and just south of the middle school.

The Wayne-Carroll school board voted to pave the parking and recreation areas at its meeting in July. The board had been seeking a solution to the dirt parking lot for several months prior to that.

The board will now probably pave a strip of the parking lot each year until the whole lot is paved.

Reminder: 4-H Beef Sale Is Only One Week Away

Businessmen and residents are reminded that the annual 4-H beef sale is only a week away.

The sale, a yearly production by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Agricultural committee, is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. next Thursday, Aug. 26. The date is several weeks earlier than it has been in the past.

Youths can sell their cattle during the sale, keeping the price above the market price as their payment for working with the animals over the past year.

Each 4-H'er can sell either one animal or one pen, says Harold Hager, county agricultural agent.

The single animals have to be ones which were shown at the recent County fair. Pens did not have to be entered in the county fair to qualify for the sale.

Youths planning on selling animals should fill out an entry blank and return it to the county agent by next Tuesday. The blanks are being sent out to most 4-H youths and are available at the agent's office at the courthouse.

The animals will be appraised at the sale barn beginning at 2 p.m. Thursday.

They will be sold according to which ones gain the highest rank on the basis of packer appraisal and rate of gain.

And we'll never try to kid you by promising you something for nothing. We won't con you by offering a handful of items at less than our cost, and then clobbering you by raising a bunch of other prices.

Listen. No matter what anybody else says, you can count on this. If you shop with us, specials or no specials, you'll get honest value for every dollar you spend. Your savings will show up where they count—in the total at the bottom of the tape.

Compare the tape total, the quality and the service, and nobody in town will do better by you than Wittig's.

After all, the way we have it figured, you're not only too nice a girl to run around with every super market in town. You're also too smart.

Yankee Coach to Call on Quickness, Depth to Break Losing Streak

By Herwin Hansen

Coach Roger Higgins will be depending upon overall quickness and depth as he goes about trying to break the losing streak of the North Squad in Friday night's cage classic in Lincoln.

The Yankee team lost the first two games in the annual summer contest, sponsored each year by the Nebraska Coaches Association.

This year, things might look much different when the final buzzer sounds.

Higgins, working with the North All Stars the past week at Wayne State College, said Wednesday that his team's strongest assets are quickness and depth. Those things, he said, will have to make up for the lack of a real tall man inside—like the South's 6-9 Paul Thomas.

And the North's ability to hit the basket, something they were able to do on a 35% clip in a scrimmage against a local team Monday night, will have to help make up for players like Kent Hekewey. One player who needs little introduction to Nebraska basketball fans, Hekewey earned All-

American, all-Lincoln and all-state recognition during his high school career at Lincoln East—primarily because of his shooting ability.

The North team will be platooned into two six-man squads for Friday's game, slated to start at 8 o'clock in Lincoln's Pershing Auditorium. Each team will see action for one quarter in the opening half before Higgins opens the game up in the second half to the players who might be able to end the South's winning streak.

How do the northeast Nebraska youths on the squad look to Higgins?

—Laurel's Steve Erwin: "He's real strong defensively and a strong all-around ball player. He's one of the hardest working players on the team and he handles the ball as well as some of our guards."

—South Slou's Terry Roost: "Offense is one of his best features, especially around 10 feet. He's good on turn-around jump shots and sometimes can go to his left hand with them."

—Fritz's Ritch Rethwisch: "He's probably made the greatest progress of anybody on the team. Although he had a lot to learn about man-to-man defense, he's come along very well. We hope to break him open so he can shoot, something he is very good at."

Also seeing action Friday night will be the rest of the North Squad: Tom Anderson of Arlington, Dick Hansen and Neil Klutman of Columbus, Mike Higgins and Hillary Howard of Omaha Cathedral, Ken Muresh of Lincoln Northeast, Tom O'Connell of Sidney, Dave Peterson of North Platte and Jack Wesolowski of Elkhorn.

Helping Higgins in special areas is his assistant, Fred Lettoby, cage mentor at Madison High School.

Lettoby, like Higgins a graduate of Wayne

State College, has been working with the players in areas such as jump balls, defending against a press and out-of-bounds situations.

The all-stars will leave Wayne Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They will stop in Schuyler for dinner and get into Lincoln around 6 p.m.

Verdigre Knocks Local '9' Out of Play-Off Race

Verdigre stumped Wayne's town team with two decisive losses—13-1 Sunday night and 7-2 Tuesday night—to win the best-of-three series and earn a place in the 11th inning of the Tri-County League play-off tournament.

The losses, a complete turnaround from a year ago when Wayne swept the first two games of the possible triple header with Verdigre, came after the local club posted a 6-3 win in 11 innings a week ago.

The defeats end the season for the team, fourth best in regular Tri-County play this year.

Wayne won the play-off tourney with Wausa last year.

Verdigre, champs of the regular season will go up against the winner of the Orchard-Pierce series to determine play-off winners.

Just like Sunday night, Verdigre used a strong first inning Tuesday night to salt away the berth in the play-off tourney, collecting five runs on four hits and two errors to go into a 5-1 lead after one frame.

The hosts came up with another run in the third and one in the fifth while allowing the local players their other run in the top of the fifth.

Verdigre tagged George Eynon for 13 hits. He struck out five and walked two in the loss.

When scored in the opening inning when Jim Kenny ripped off a single, one of eight hits by the hometowners, and Denny Powers doubled to chase him home.

Eynon scored the other run after getting on with a single in the fifth and coming home on Mark Johnson's one-bagger.

Verdigre overpowered Wayne Sunday night, managing eight runs in the bottom of the first frame to nearly put the game out of reach of the local team and even the series at 1-1.

The visitors in the initial frame came up with five singles of reliever Wayne Magdanz after starter Randy Jacobsen walked three of the first four men to face him Sunday night.

Verdigre tallied another run in the second and four in the sixth while Wayne sneaked one man home in the third after Fritz Wetble doubled to open that stanza.

Antelope Population Similar to Last Year

Antelope numbers in the Panhandle, Nebraska's primary pronghorn range, are at about the same level as last year, according to an aerial survey just completed by Game and Park Commission biologists.

Following 13 days of flying, the biologist estimated the Panhandle's antelope population at about 3,850, just four per cent under last year's figures. Sand Hills antelope units were not included in the survey, because pronghorns there are less numerous and not as well distributed.

The survey showed 38 bucks and 59 kids per 100 does spotted. The kid-to-doe ratio reflects the rate of reproduction and is considered fair to good for this year. A higher ratio, such as the 74 kids per doe spotted in 1968, is deemed excellent for Nebraska pronghorns.

Bruggeman of Hoskins Nabs Near Twin Wins

A Hoskins stock car driver continued his winning streak over the weekend by posting two A feature wins.

Gerard Bruggeman, racing at Collins Field in Le Mars, Ia., Saturday night, finished second in the first heat and then set a stizzling pace to get the winning flag in the A feature.

Sunday night, racing at Dawson Creek Speedway in Scotland, S.D., Bruggeman wrote a near duplicate story as he finished second in the second heat and crossed the finish line of the A feature in the number one spot.

Lyle Elberg, a Wakefield driver, turned in an A feature win at South Slou's Raceway Park Sunday night after taking second in his heat and second in the trophy dash.

In the Friday night action at Creighton, Dennis Crippen of Wakefield nabbed second place in the B feature, and Dennis Ott of Wayne finished fourth in his heat and fifth in the A feature. Gene Brudigan of Hoskins placed first in the first heat at Creighton Friday but was unable to compete in Norfolk Riviera racing Saturday night after hitting the fence while attempting to avoid another car which had spun out.

Three area drivers accompanied Bruggeman in winning places at Le Mars Saturday night. Dennis Crippen took third in the B feature, Roy Korth of Wayne finished third in his heat and another Wayne driver, Dennis Otte, finished seventh in the A feature which was won by Bruggeman.

Joe Wirth of Wakefield chalked up a second place win in his heat race at South Slou Sunday night. Racing at Stuart Sunday night, Wakefield's Crippen was first in his heat and fourth in the A feature in the six-cylinder competition. In the V-8 class, Crippen turned in a fourth place win in the B feature.

Ball Players to Bat For Injured Friend

Regardless of the final scores, everybody going up to bat is expected to be a winner at two ball games slated for 7 p.m. Saturday night at the Winside ball diamond.

Area Farmers Unanimous: Crops Need Rain

Wayne area farmers seem to agree on one subject—their crops need rain.

Although most fields still look good, no one is certain what size of yield to expect if the dry weather keeps on.

Following are comments of some area farmers:

—Alvin Temmo, who farms two miles west and three-fourths mile south of Wayne, said: "The crops around here are in real need of rain. Dryness has taken its toll but most crops have excellent color yet. Rain would do us a whole lot of good."

How much longer can farmers in that area go without rain? "It depends," said Temmo. "If we keep having heavy dews in the mornings we could probably go on for 10 days without too much of a real cut." The farmer who has 85 acres of corn, hopes for a yield of 50 to 60 bushels per acre—even more if it rains. He also looks for 15 to 20 bushels per acre on his 45 acres of beans.

—"Crops around here are getting a little poorer every day," said Duane Lund, who farms five miles north of Allen. "Another week with dry weather like we've been having and it will probably cut the crop in half." Lund has no idea what size of yield to expect on his 220 acres of corn and 65 acres of beans. "If it rains within three days," he said, "we might have a better crop than last year."

—"Crops don't seem to be too bad," said Don Lutt of rural Wayne. "Of course, we could use a little rain." According to Lutt, heat is as much of a problem as dryness. "If it just doesn't get too hot," he said, "we could probably go another week without rain."

The farmer, who has 170 acres of corn (1 1/2 miles south-east of Wayne), looks for a 60 bushel per acre yield. He also expects about 20 bushels per acre on his 40 acres of beans.

"But if we get some rain it could be more," he said.

—Kenneth Dunklau, who farms five miles north and two miles west of Wayne, said, "Crops are drying up because the north-west part of the county has gotten a lot less rain." "We can't go too much longer without moisture," he said. "Maybe only a few days." However, Dunklau is still hoping for a 50 bushel per acre yield on his 60 acres planted in corn.

—"Crops are looking good this year," said Larry Gamble, who farms five miles south and one-fourth mile east of Wayne. "Down here we've gotten quite a bit more rain than others." Gamble, who has 125 acres in corn and 130 acres in beans, has no idea what size yield he'll get. "I'm pretty sure it will beat last year's," he said.

—Lawrence Nelson of rural Wakefield said, "Crops around here need rain. It really depends a lot on the heat. If it stays cool, crops will last longer." Nelson, who has 230 acres in corn and 40 in beans and three-fourths mile north of Wakefield, hopes for a yield "as good as the one I had last year."

Laurel Man Injured in One-Car Mishap

A Laurel man escaped injury in a one-car mishap occurring around 5 p.m. Monday one mile west of Wayne.

Music and ice cream attracted a crowd estimated at over 500 persons to the second annual Laurel-Concord ice cream social and band concert held Saturday night in the VFW hall at Laurel.

Thirty-five containers of homemade ice cream were consumed along with a variety of pies and cakes during the event sponsored by the Band Parents Organization.

Entertaining the crowd for several hours with a variety of music were members of the Laurel school's junior band, stage band and variety band under the direction of David J. McElroy, instrumental music instructor.

Musical selections ranged from "Stars and Stripes Forever" by the junior band to "Tonight by the Stage Band," and "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head" by the variety band.

The Band Parents Organization includes all parents of children taking music lessons under the school music director and works in support of the school's three bands.

Cancer Donors Set New Record

Members of the Wayne County American Cancer Society set a new record in collections this year, coming up with total donations of $3,789.02.

The county group will be recognized at the state meeting of the American Cancer Society in Lincoln in October.

A total of $663.50 was collected in memorials this year, reports Mrs. Rudy Longe of Wakefield, long-time worker for the organization. The largest memorials were in honor of Mrs. John Fleming of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Otte of Wakefield.

The county organization expressed its thanks to all the volunteers and to the news media for their help and cooperation in making the new record.

Yard & Garden Tips

Q. How can onions be kept so that they remain full when storing?
 A. Onions must be dried out before hanging them up in a mesh sack. They can be set out in the shade to dry. Make sure that the onions are fully grown before you pull and store them.

Q. Can you firm blood in heart?
 A. Also, can it be transplanted and if so, when?
 A. If the plants are doing well it would probably not be advisable to trim them since they are relatively hard to get going. Early spring would be a good time to transplant them.

These pipes will be installed on the north end of Walnut Street as work on the sewer lines being put down there gets underway. In the background are men working on the lift station for the sewer lines.

Walnut St. Sewer Work Now Underway

Workmen began Monday on an extension of the city sanitary sewer system to serve homes on the northeast edge of Wayne.

The project, which will cost just over $11,100, should be finished in about a week and a half, according to the city's engineering firm.

To be served by the sewer lines are six homes on the extreme north end of Walnut Street. Others may be served by the line in the future.

Included in the work, which is being done by Le. E. Ball Construction Co. of Norfolk, is installing a lift station, a large pump necessary to force the sewage south along Walnut Street into gravity lines. The lift station which will be installed there is a used one taken from elsewhere in the city.

The city council let the bid for the construction work during last week's meeting. The Norfolk firm's bid was the only one submitted.

According to the city clerk-

NORTHEAST EXTENSION

by Myrtle Anderson

Sending that freshman off to college has some of the drama involved in helping a bride to get up housekeeping.

Fortunately, some freshmen purchases can be expected to last the four years, given normal use. Among these are fabric furnishings which include sheets, pillowcases, blankets, towels, wash cloths, decorative pillows, bedspread with matching curtains or draperies and a throw rug of washing machine size.

Easy-care, of top importance to college students, is practically synonymous with washability. Durable press has done more than any other single factor to make washtime easy, since it eliminates ironing. Even such furnishings as flower-power sheets and psychedelic bedspreads with matching curtains require only tumbling in a dryer to emerge crisp and fresh after laundering. As an added benefit, durable press serves to lighten the load students must carry. Garments that are instantly wearable after laundering and sheets that can be returned to the bed without ironing cut down on spares and this relieves clutter in small rooms.

Since dorm rooms naturally become more cluttered as the year wears on, start with a minimum of extras. If a student really needs some additional item, he can buy it locally or have it sent from home.

Charger is awfully hard to keep clean, so keep it simple—in clothes and furnishings—is practically clean and it will be easy.

County Valuation Goes Up $3 Million in Two Years

Total actual valuation in Wayne County has increased more than $3 million in the last two years according to figures released today by Henry Arp, county assessor.

Actual valuation of the county in 1969 was $103,460,595. This total increased to $106,532,035 as of July 1 this year.

Taxes are not levied on actual valuation, but rather on assessed valuation figures which are 35 per cent of actual valuation.

The 1971 assessed valuation is $37,427,105, or $118,660 more than the assessed valuation last year of $37,310,720.

Other divisions in personal schedules and increases or losses for the year are as follows: Machinery decreased $68,755; Livestock and feed tumbled downward $325,030, and other personal property increased $53,280. Business schedules were lower by $220,715. In special schedules, motor vehicles dropped a total of $415,610 last year after an increase of $154,000 the previous year.

There were 2,150 individual schedules filed this year, 117 fewer than the 2,267 filed one year ago.

The accompanying chart shows comparative actual valuations for personal schedules, special schedules and real estate.

Figures used for the school districts and city are assessed valuation rather than actual.

To Farth-based observers, the sun appears a hundred billion times brighter than any other star. National Geographic says: However, the sun would seem puny if matched at the same distance against such brilliant stars as Rigel, which is 15,000 times more luminous.

Driver Leaves Scene; Charges Filed

Charges were filed Monday in Wayne County Court against a 21-year-old Wakefield woman following a hit-run accident involving three cars at the Dude Ranch Drive-In Theatre north of Wayne.

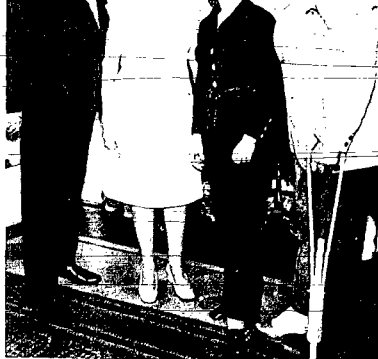

The Wayne County sheriff's office investigated and reported Linda Clement was driving a 1964 Ford between two rows of cars at the theatre around 12:15 a.m. Saturday morning when she collided with a 1970 Pontiac owned by Arnold H. Kendall and a 1965 Rambler owned by Donald E. Langston, both of Wayne.

Authorities said the cars were parked side by side government of the co-citation stand when hit by the Clement auto which left the scene of the accident.

Miss Clement was charged on two counts: not having a driver's license and leaving the scene of an accident.

Damage to the Kendall and Langston autos was estimated to be around $200 each.

Friends Visit at Helsinki

Ramp to Expand Parking Space

A new concrete parking area measuring 70 by 50 feet will soon be constructed northeast of the Wayne County courthouse.

Commissioners Floyd Burt, Joe Wilson and Ken Eddie accepted a $3,200 bid on the project Tuesday. The Norfolk Concrete Finishers, Inc. submitted the bid and will build the ramp.

Norris Weible, county clerk, said work on the project, including an exit-entry driveway off Pearl Street, is scheduled to get underway in about another week.

It is likely courthouse employees will be asked to use the new parking area, Weible said, leaving the present space north of the courthouse available for transient traffic.

In other action Tuesday, the commissioners approved Tom Prenger's request to move the Wayne Cold Storage Company's wholesale beer license to the industrial site east of Wayne.

Mel Poledna of Laurel supervises laying down oil mat while Cliff Sherlock of Wayne directs traffic during work on Highway 15 on the north edge of Wayne Tuesday morning.

Driving Now Smoother on Highway 15

Motorists using the stretch of highway between Wayne and Laurel often are probably happy over a sight they have been seeing on the road the past few days.

Workers for the Nebraska Department of Roads have been busy putting down an oil mat on some of the rougher strips of Highway 15 between the two towns.

Said Mel Poledna, maintenance foreman at the DOR offices at Laurel: "We won't get all them (the bad places), but we'll get most of them and make quite a few people happy."

Poledna said the men have fixed about three or four miles of highway between Wayne and Laurel since starting on the work about a week and a half ago. He planned on having the work done early this week.

Tuesday the workmen, some from Laurel and some from Wayne, were working on the rough strips just north of Wayne.

Workers put down an oil mat, packed that thoroughly, and then applied armor coating (seal and oil) to seal and smooth the road.

Poledna said the patches hold up for several years when the base is solid.

Club Will Take Trip To Winnipeg, Canada

Thirty-five members of the Adventurers' Travel Club, Sioux City, will leave from the Sioux City Municipal Auditorium Monday morning for a five-day chartered bus trip to Winnipeg, Canada.

The group will tour the Legislative Building, parks, gardens, zoo and conservatory, attend the planetarium show, tour the city, take an excursion to Lower Fort Garry, have a ride on the Paddlewheel Riverboat and attend the harness races.

Anyone interested in short tours of this type should contact Nell Melheim, Adventurers' Travel Club, 795 S. Paxton St., Sioux City, Iowa, 51106.

WH Student Handbook Revised for 1971-72

Students attending Wayne High School this fall will receive a 29-page student handbook to help them become better acquainted with school activities and policies.

The handbook has been changed slightly from what was given the students a year ago.

Included in the changes is one which makes class hours for the students more flexible. Some students may be on an "early" schedule while others are on a regular schedule this year at Wayne High. What schedule the student is on depends on his choice of classes.

Some students will be arriving and leaving school early, others may arrive later and leave at 4 p.m., and still others may arrive and leave on the regular schedule (8:50 a.m. to 4 p.m.).

Credit hours will be allowed toward graduation for those students studying or working in the following areas: independent study, directed research, media center assistance, yearbook staff, photography, dramatics, debate and speech.

Students enrolling toward graduation will continue to be given for driver education, band, choir, and glee club.

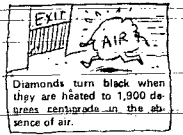

Among other things, the student handbook includes qualifications and procedures for Wayne High seniors wishing to enroll in a class at Wayne State College.

Clubs and activities added to the school scene this year include debate and speech club, art guild and math-science club.

Standards for student behavior have been updated for the coming school year. Listed in the handbook are infractions and the action that may be taken by school officials.

Not changed greatly but revised somewhat in the handbook are such things as: explanation of the credits system and requirements for graduation, listing of course offerings, grading and reporting to parents, scholarships and awards, homework, health services, guidance services, media center and library services, transportation and the hot lunch program.

Barner Enjoys Hours of Lawn Work

By Jane Owens

Since 1967, M.W. Barner of Wayne, has devoted hundreds of hours to grooming the grounds around Wayne High School and those south of the elementary building.

Working steadily from March to November, Barner waters the grass, mows the lawn, pulls weeds, puts in sidewalks and prunes trees and shrubs—working until the school grounds look like an advertisement for lawn care.

—Why does he go to all the extra trouble? "I enjoy it, he said, "especially because I've got grandchildren going to high school here."

Barner, who has worked on the grounds since the first lawn was sown, also enjoys grooming his own yard.

"Whenever I have some spare time," he said, "I take the tractor down to my house, mow the lawn, then bring it back up."

Barner admitted that the worst problem in tending the school yard comes from "people driving over the lawn and doing things they're not supposed to do."

"There's good ones," he said, "and in those good ones, there are always one or two bad ones."

What do others think of Barner and his labors on the school lawns?

Said Francis Han, school superintendent: "We just think the world of him." Barner is dedicated to doing a good job and has a good knowledge of how to go about it, said the superintendent.

Sen. Curtis Plans Visit to Laurel

COP Senator Carl T. Curtis will be in Laurel next week as he does a swing through Nebraska this month.

Curtis will be in Laurel on Thursday of next week. The same day he plans to be in Niobrara, Creighton, Wausa, Bloomfield and Hartington.

M. W. Barner spends many hours on this mower, keeping the lawns around Wayne High looking their best.

Laurel Firemen - Smoke Up House In Fire School

Members of the Laurel fire department recently spent several hours practicing procedures to be used in fighting home fires.

An abandoned house northeast of Laurel was purposely filled with smoke Aug. 10 to give firemen opportunity to practice wearing face masks while searching the house for possible victims.

New members of the department were taught water pumping procedures.

Returning to the firehall for a business meeting, firemen voted to accept an insurance bid from the Ohio National Insurance Co. It was also decided to make and post signs prohibiting parking that would block fire trucks exiting the fire hall.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Yard & Garden Tips

Q.—Can sawdust be used as a mulch in a garden?

A.—Yes, it can be used as mulch, and can be mixed with soil. However, nitrogen should be added to the sawdust. It is recommended that a cupful of 20 per cent nitrogen be added to a bushel of sawdust. Redwood sawdust will not be as desirable, because the sawdust must rot to return organic matter to the soil, and redwood is very slow in rotting.
