

The Wayne Herald---What's Good and What's Bad About It?

By Jane Owens

How could The Wayne Herald be improved? Do any sections need more coverage? What is the paper's best feature?

These are a few of the questions asked of downtown shoppers in Wayne recently following a survey of the community made:

"I think The Wayne Herald should emphasize the cultural interests in the community," said Mrs. Charles Heppburn of Wayne. "There are many area people skilled in the arts and it might be interesting to read about their talents. I realize that this is a rural community and the newspaper focuses on farmers," she said, "but it's also a college community."

"Maybe the paper could have an entertainment or an arts section telling people what special events are taking place in the surrounding area," she mentioned the recent, Neilhardt Day in Blair and the Wayne State drama department's performances at Shore Acres Theater in Sioux City.

Mrs. Charles Heppburn

"Letting people know about these things might encourage them to attend," she said. "Lots of people miss events simply because they don't know about them."

She added: "Photography in The Herald is very good. I also enjoy the features. I think they're one of the most important parts of any newspaper."

"Of course, we'd all like to go back to the old personal items so we know who visited and who took a trip," said Mrs. Faye Fleetwood of Wayne, "but we know that's out." What feature of the newspaper is her favorite? "I especially like reading about the civic and town improvements," she said, "but I read it all. Every bit of it."

Tom Schiepp of Wayne said: "National news would definitely help your newspaper. The Wayne Herald should get a wire service and should come out only once a week. By publishing it twice each week, people feel that they're getting only half of the news in each issue."

Mrs. Faye Fleetwood

"I like the Just Wright column," said Ron Ring of rural Wayne. "The paper also does a good job on their sports coverage." What about possible improvements? "I'd like to see the paper come out three times a week," said Ring. "It might be interesting to add an advice column or a column where people write in their opinions on topics. The Herald could suggest the topics or people could just choose anything. This would really be interesting if lots of people would write in and the section was really large."

"Generally, I think the newspaper coverage is well-balanced," said Marie Pretzer of Wakefield. "Some people will say a certain section is over-emphasized but it's really a matter of their own personal preferences."

"The Herald needs feature stories from area places," she said. "There are a lot of great people around who don't make the news." GOOD-AND-BAD, page 6

Four County Fair Is Now Underway

Entertainment and judging contests highlight the annual Dixon County Fair, running today (Monday) through Wednesday at Concord. The fair actually opened Sunday night with vesper services in front of the grandstand, a traditional way to kick off the three-day summer fair.

Today sees judging of 4-H horses and cooking and home living exhibits. This afternoon, at 5 o'clock, is the free barbecue. Tonight sees the horse show at 7:30 and the square dance at 8.

Tuesday's events include judging of livestock and other exhibits throughout the day, a concert by the Ponca High School band at 7:30 and a grandstand show at 8:30.

Final day activities: tractor pulling contest at 1:45 dress review and presentation of song, speech and demonstration contest winners at 1:30, parade of livestock at 7:15, concert by Emerson-Hubbard High School stage band at 7:45, singing by the Kordman Quartet and a comedy show at 8:15, and a teen dance at 9.

Admission to the fairgrounds is $1. Youths under 10 will be admitted free.

Dixon County 4-H'ers Compete in Contest At Northeast Station

Four 4-H'ers in the weed project, forestry project, crops project and garden project were given opportunity to judge samples of weeds, leaves, twigs and crop seeds at a special contest at the Northeast Station last week.

Dick Gault, forester; Russell Moomaw, agronomist; Dennis Kahl, work study student, and Roy Stohler, county agent, set up the judging contest.

The boys and girls who entered the various contests and the awards they received are as follows:

Tree Identification: Donald Bock, Allen, blue; Vernal Roberts, Bryce Chapman, both of Allen, and Dennis White, Dixon, red.

Weed Identification: Colleen Chapman and Susan Malcom, both of Allen, blue; Dale White, Dixon, red; Kathy Malcom and Donald Bock, both of Allen, white.

Crop Judging: Susan Malcom, and Colleen Chapman, both of Allen, blue; Kathy Malcom, Allen, red.

Susan and Kathy Malcom and Colleen Chapman are eligible to represent Dixon County in the crop judging at the State Fair in Lincoln next month.

And Then Add...

'71 Pork Show Slated for Sept. 20

The 1971 Northeast Pork Show has been set for Sept. 20, at the Laurel Livestock Auction Market.

Over $200 in premium money and trophies will be awarded in the live and carcass divisions. A major change in this year's show is the shift from a pen of three to a pen of two. Only the piglets in each entry will be slaughtered with the average per cent ham and loin of both pigs determining the carcass winners.

Each family or firm is limited to two pens of two except for families with 4-H or FFA members, where one additional pen per member is allowed.

The show is open to commercial producers from Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Dakota Counties. There is no entry fee. Entry cards may be obtained from county agents in the five-county area or from the Northeast Station at Concord. Entry cards are due in by September 14.

Pigs will be entered from 8 to 10 a.m. on show day with the live judging to begin at 10 in the morning.

Coffee and doughnuts will be furnished courtesy of the Laurel Chamber of Commerce the morning of the show. The show is a cooperative effort between the Northeast Pork Producers, Laurel Livestock Auction, Hormel and Company and the University of Nebraska Extension Service.

Math, Reading Classes To Change at Winside

By Merlin Wright

The 180 students attending Winside Elementary School this fall will find a new concept of study awaiting them in math and reading classes.

Allen Schlueter, school principal, said last week that students will be working in smaller classes this year and will have more time to spend with their teachers.

The new system of study, called ability grouping, will be carried out with different programs for students in grades one, two and three—the primary grades—and for students in grades four through six—the intermediate grades.

"Instead of having the same teacher the entire day, each student will have several teachers," the principal said.

The grouping concept is not entirely new to Winside Elementary, but it will be new in the reading and math programs where students will be grouped according to ability rather than class, according to Schlueter.

The new program calls for each student to be tested in math and reading during this first week of school and grouped according to ability.

Pupils will still have the traditional home room teacher in the social sciences, language arts and primary physical sciences, Schlueter noted. Physical education, music, art and intermediate science classes will be departmentalized—students will move out of the home room to other teachers.

Math and Reading students will not be given grades. Students will be given a satisfactory or unsatisfactory in their report cards and parents will receive an evaluation sheet each nine weeks from teachers.

Primary and intermediate grades in reading and math will each have six ability levels. Each student will be permitted to work at his own level and progress at his own rate. Pupils able to work at a higher level will be moved to that level.

Pointing out the advantages and reasoning behind adopting the new system, Schlueter said, "We had 36 students in the intermediate grades. This averaged out to about 32 pupils to each teacher, which is too many for a teacher to handle and be able to do an adequate job. By using the new program the teacher will have an average of 16 pupils."

He noted that since students will be grouped according to ability, math and reading classes will be smaller and will provide more pupil-teacher contact time. The program is expected to eliminate the disadvantage of a large class where some students are reciting while others may be unoccupied.

The principal emphasized that in the ability grouping program students are not pitted against each other but have the advantage of working according to their own capabilities.

"Parents having any questions about the program will be welcome to come to the school and visit me, the teachers and the classrooms," he said.

Classes at the Winside School start Wednesday.

4 Demonstrations Get Top Ribbons At NE Station

Four girls received purple ribbons during demonstrations at the Northeast Station Thursday afternoon and evening.

The 4-H youths, among 24 who participated in the contest, were Carolyn Muller and Nancy Stohler, both of Concord, Anna Borg of Dixon and Corissa Sharp of Ponca.

Afternoon and evening sessions were needed in order to let all the youths take part in the annual event, held prior to the Dixon County Fair.

Police School To Teach Tots Safety Rules

Kindergarten planning to attend Wayne Public Schools will be guests of the Wayne Police Department Wednesday for a pedestrian safety school.

Sally, the talking traffic signal, will also attend the school and teach the youngsters when and when not to cross streets. Assisting Sally and directing the school will be Asst. Chief Ed. "Pat" Dailey and Patrolman Melvin Lamb.

Class sessions are to be held in Room 106 of the Wayne High School and will include lessons in crossing streets, observing stop signs and traffic signals. Scheduling of classes is as follows: Youngsters with last names starting with letters A through G are asked to attend the class from 8:30 to 10 a.m.; letters H through M are scheduled to attend from 10:00 a.m. until noon; and names with letters starting with N through Z will attend the session from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Local Youth Among Freshmen at Rice

Rice University's entering freshmen will number 675 when the academic year begins next week, including George John of Wayne, son of Dr. and Mrs. George John.

Admiring the medals presented posthumously to their son are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dargberg of Wayne. Presenting them to the couple was Lt. Col. Donald E. Treaster.

Dead Soldier's Awards Go to Parents

Two awards earned by a Winside High School graduate when he died in South Viet Nam last year were presented recently to his parents.

Lt. Col. Donald Treaster presented the awards to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dargberg of Wayne, parents of Robert Dargberg, from the South Vietnamese government, the awards are the Military Merit Medal and the Gallantry Cross With Palm.

Young Dargberg, 20 years old, graduated from Winside High in 1967. He was the third youth from Winside to die in the Southeast Asia war.

After graduation from Winside, he attended John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo for one semester before entering the Army.

Robert L. Dargberg

He died in the war near Hue on April 18, 1970.

The following citation accompanied the awards: "He was a servant of courage and rare self-sacrifice. He displayed at all times the most careful cooperation while aiding the Armed Forces of the Republic of Viet Nam to repel the Red wave undermining South Viet Nam and Southeast Asia."

"With a ready zeal and commendable response, he fought on to the end in every mission and set a brilliant example to his fellow soldiers."

"He died in the performance of duty. Behind him he leaves the abiding grief of his Commanders-in-Arms, Vietnamese as well as American."

Local Effect of 'Freeze' Remains Largely Unknown

The effect of Nixon's recent wage-price freeze on Wayne area residents is still unknown to several local businessmen.

Following a Presidential announcement Aug. 15, several new economic policies were to go into effect immediately, including a 90-day freeze on all wages, prices and rents.

However, several Wayne businessmen are still waiting for information from the main offices of their companies.

"We've received no word from our offices on the freeze," said Donald Mangers, manager of McDonald's in Wayne. "Until we do, I think it all boils down to using common sense and holding prices down."

Mangers added that manufacturers' prices were scheduled to go up Sept. 15. "I'm not sure what will happen now," he said. Ben Franklin Store is also waiting for information from its main office, said Joe Nuss, one of the store workers. "We expect to receive word within the next day or two."

Local Job Exchange Invites Applicants Needing Work, Help

A local government agency located in the Chamber of Commerce building in Wayne is continuing the search for individuals or businesses that would like to hire either part-time or full-time help.

The Wayne Job Exchange has a list of persons of all ages on file who are looking for work, according to Mrs. Nita Thies, director, and the exchange would like to contact anyone needing help.

"She said the agency's service of getting an employer and job applicant together is free of charge."

Allen Registration Date Changed

Registration day for students entering the Allen Public Schools this fall has been changed from this coming Saturday to next Monday, Aug. 30.

The day for registration is also the first day of school for the students, according to Gail Miller, new superintendent of the Allen school system.

All students entering the system, both elementary and secondary, are required to register during next Monday. Registration material will be available at the school.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786

'But Why Me?'

It must be high impossible to do anything right if you are the President of the United States. Consider what happened after President Richard Nixon announced his 90-day freeze on all wages, prices and rents.

Prices won't greatly affect the prices they get for their products. The teachers were unhappy because their salary increases voted by school board earlier this year won't go into effect until mid-November.

Traffic Light Not A Toy

When is a traffic light not a light but a game? The answer: when the signal becomes an unthinking child's toy. The new traffic signals at Seventh and Sherman Streets, recently installed so schoolbound youngsters may cross the street in safety, are automated by pushbuttons on either side of Seventh Street.

The traffic stop was a jolly lot of fun. What the youngster may not have known is that he was violating the law and therefore subject to arrest. Traffic signals are not toys but devices intended to provide at least a minimum amount of safety for both motorists and pedestrians.

'Not Morally Right'

The United States Senate has passed an amendment which would require that newspapers and broadcast media sell time or space to political candidates for the lowest unit charge of the station for the same amount of time during the same period.

Finally, while this point is admittedly of no concern to most politicians, a likely result of such legislation would be that newspapers would be inclined to eliminate discounts for large-volume advertisers. Perhaps this would only be done during the period of the campaigns, however.

Dear Editor: I recently attended the Nebraska School for Alcohol Studies in Scottsbluff. It lasted August 8-13.

This school was a great experience. You learned the different views of other people; new angles were learned from the faculty speakers which seemed to help you look at things in a different light. Alcohol and drugs were discussed, but it really didn't seem the same as having your parents keep talking at you; it seemed to sink in more.

Communication seemed to play a large part during the week. You were always urged to communicate with the older people at the school and see their views on the different subjects. Sometimes it was surprising to hear what they really thought.

Alcohol is a big problem. Youth ask what they can do. Four primary things that were emphasized were communication, trust, sharing and love. Do's and don'ts were not brought out; but the things were presented which really is more meaningful.

Taking this kind of look at the alcohol and drug problem shows that they are part of today's life-style. The problem must be coped with. With what we learned it will lessen the load.

scientists know about the energy value of chemicals and say those in an average human body could produce 85 billion dollars' worth of energy.

Thanks to science one can now go back to school or back to work walking around in an $5 billion dollar body rather than feeling like 98 cents.

Going to school has always provided the opportunity of building friendships. Some of them may last a lifetime. By going back to school, some of you kids may have new friends next week that you didn't even know existed this week.

Dr. W. Waldemar Argow wrote about friendship several years ago in the little Sunshine Magazine. He wrote, "Friendship is the coming in of love when everything else has gone. It is the soul's desperate struggle for fraternity against the solitariness and loneliness of cosmic vastness. It is a battle between a sword and a cross—one seeking to hurt, the other to heal."

It is the determination to believe the best when the worst has been rumored. It is the golden tie that binds after circumstances, disaster, and death have wrenched all visible bonds. It is the deliberate ignoring of the fool and the radiant evoking of the saint in a human soul.

It is the halting of success without envy that may come to one we love. It is forgiving a hurt without demanding an apology, and the keeping of affection in spite of misunderstanding.

It is asking for a privilege to serve without counting cost or demanding a reward. It is closing the eyes to ugliness, the ears to discords and opening the inner eye and ear of the heart, which understands rather than sees or hears.

It is to ask, "What can I give?"

Herkimer

"A hobby is the kind of work we do for nothing, to forget the kind we get paid for."

It is quite probable that some of us might have more than a little difficulty with all the new space terminology should we find ourselves back in the classroom.

Everything in space science has a complex name. For instance, even an instrument panel is called a command center display console. And a space technician, working out the mathematics of man's movements during weightlessness, has described man as a nonsymmetrical, fluid-filled sack of variable shape containing a large air bubble. That technician must have known how some of us over 30 feel upon getting-up-in-the-morning, right? Those kinds of terms we can understand and don't have to go back to school to learn.

Years ago when we used to go back to school, the only thing that immediately let us know our worth, prices, of course, have changed a lot since then. But our dear teacher told us that the human body contained only about 98 cents worth of chemical components.

That has all changed now since

Decorations also included a bulletin board of pictures depicting Mrs. Davis' life.

Mrs. Phos Williams, UPW president, was chairman of the reception and devotions were given by Mrs. L.L. Jenkins. The honoree was seated in a decorated rocking chair for the "This is Your Life" program of stories and songs related by Mrs. Marlon Glass and Mrs. Milton Owens. Letters and cards from friends and relatives were read by Mrs. Williams and the Rev. Gail Asen offered the closing prayer.

The guest of honor was presented a corsage and following a social afternoon lunch with a birthday cake was served. Forty guests, including Mrs. Davis' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rottler, Norfolk, were present. Mrs. Davis also has four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Grandson Wins 1st In Organ Contest

The grandson of a Wayne couple, Brian Granquist of Columbus, has been named first place winner of the recent Yamaha National Pops Organ competition sponsored by Yanda's Music Company in Kearney.

Granquist, who is the son of Mrs. Martin Dirks, Columbus, and the late Burdette Granquist, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Granquist of Wayne, receives an all-expense paid trip to the United States finals to be held at the Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas today (Monday) and tomorrow.

Contestants will each play a medley which they have themselves arranged, and three medleys those which they may improvise to their choosing. Judging will be based on musicianship and creativity. National winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to Japan to represent the United States in the Eighth International Yamaha Festival this October. The national prize also includes $1,000 and a trophy. Granquist is a senior at the University of Nebraska, majoring in music. He is Nebraska's only representative.

Married August 14

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Barcus, who were married in 9 a.m. rites Aug. 14 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Norfolk, are making their home at Topeka, Kan., while the bridegroom is stationed at Forbes AFB, Kan.

Mrs. Barcus, nee Angela Bohne, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bohne, Norfolk. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barcus, Holdias.

The Rev. Frank Dvorak, Norfolk, officiated at the ceremony. Sally Sanders, Pink Kuk and Mary Pat Ruhlman sang to their own guitar accompaniment. The couple were given in marriage by their parents.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of organza, styled with bishop sleeves of sheer organza and center front skirt panel of Venise lace overlay. Her mantilla was edged in matching lace and she carried a single long-stemmed red rose.

Attending the bride were Debra Pulster of Norfolk, and Denise Bohne, Omaha, sister of the bride. They were identically gowned in floor-length fashions of yellow and lavender pastel paisley, fashioned with stirred, empire bodices, high necklines, bouffant sleeves and eight-inch flounces. They wore white crochet picture hats and carried single white roses.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Eugene Barcus Jr., of Topeka, Kan., and Stanley Nathan of Holdias, Craig French and Dan Graves unbrwed.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at Burns Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Long of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. William Jochum of Norfolk served as hosts. Guests were registered by Rhonda Bohne, sister of the bride, and gifts were arranged by Mary Miskeloff and Sharon Schmeckpeper. Others assisting with the reception were Janet Bohne, Linda Barcus and Sheryl Schmeckpeper.

Drug Consumption (Legal Kind) Increasing in County

The Wayne County Herald, Monday, August 23, 1971

The amount of money being spent by Wayne County residents for drugs—the medicinal kind—is large and growing larger. It is estimated that no less than $64.50 per family is being spent annually in local drug stores for these pharmaceuticals, far more than in earlier years.

The bulk of it is for prescription drugs. The first guess for such over-the-counter items as vitamins, cold remedies, nose drops, headache pills and other drugs that do not require prescriptions.

In Wayne County's geographical region, the figures show, the average family gets about 16 prescriptions filled per year. The cost is approximately $46.

This compares with an average of $49.12 per family in the United States as a whole.

Nationally, nearly $4 billion is being spent per year for prescription drugs alone, not including those dispensed to hospital patients. That is nearly four times as much as was spent 10 years ago, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

Club Has Shower Tuesday

Members of the Neighboring Circle in Winside held a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday evening in the Richard Carstens home to honor Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jaeger who were married July 30 in Winside.

Guests, present from Wayne and Winside, were registered by Pam Middleton, sister of the bride. Attendees were in the bride's chosen colors, purple and lavender. Games served for entertainment with prizes being presented to the honoree.

Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Carstens, Mrs. Edna Herbolsheimer and Mrs. Hans Carstens.

Forty Play Bridge

About 40 Country Club women attended the Ladies Day bridge luncheon Tuesday. Prizes went to Mrs. Freeman Decker, Mrs. Nell Ahern, Mrs. Bonnie Felt, a guest from North Platte, and Mrs. Corrine Cape.

The local rise is in line with that observed in most areas of the country, according to reports by the U.S. Public Health Service and by industry sources.

With respect to prescription drugs, 70 percent of them are being dispensed in the South, per person, than in any other section of the country. In the North Central States, consumption is lowest.

He Who Fares On Pears Finds Delight At Table

Beautiful fresh pears at market speak to you in pear-shaped words. In this season, the pears are just what you need. Also, there's a French specialty called Pears Helene which is poached whole pears served with vanilla ice cream and chocolate sauce.

Exquisite indeed is a Fresh Pear Pie, subtly spiced, the buttery smooth, wonderful pear flavor accented with just the right touch of fresh lemon juice. Fresh Pear Pie is easy to make and such a delightful surprise to serve.

The principal pear in the market now is the juicy short-necked Anjou, or you can use the long-tapered-necked Bosc. Gather pears to your table for refreshing contrast in your meals and good nourishment.

Fresh Pear Pie
 6 medium pears
 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons flour, divided
 1 cup packed dark brown sugar, divided
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell
 1/2 teaspoon ginger
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 teaspoon cloves
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup butter or margarine

Pare, halve and core pears. Cut into 1/4-inch slices. Mix 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup brown sugar, lemon rind and lemon juice; sprinkle over pears. Turn into unbaked pastry shell. Mix remaining 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup brown sugar, ginger, nutmeg, cloves and salt. Cut in butter until crumbly. Sprinkle over pears. Bake at 375° F. oven 45 minutes, until pears are tender and pastry is browned. Served warm with whipped cream or ice cream. Makes one 9-inch pie, 8 to 8 servings.

Set October 23 for Wedding in Chambers

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Warner, Chambers, announce the engagement of their daughter, Conie L. to Arlen Magnuson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Magnuson, Concord. Miss Warner and her fiancé are both of Denver, Colo., where she teaches. She is a graduate of the University of Colorado. A corporate attorney, her fiancé, is a University of Denver graduate.

Plans are being made for an Oct. 23 wedding in Chambers.

Yard & Garden Tips . . .

Q—Leaves on tomato plants are curling up. What is causing this?

A—Most likely the curling is caused by the warm weather. The curling is the plant's method of conserving moisture. The plant is still functional and the best help is simply to keep watering the plants and soil around it.

Q—A cut-leaf weeping birch has been in a yard for 4 years, is 12 feet tall and has a trunk diameter of 2 1/2 inches. The leaves are turning yellow although new leaves are forming. What is the cause?

A—The problem may be caused by borers that are occupying the tree. This is not a problem in the leaves, but the presence of borers does not allow sufficient translocation into the leaves. Another possibility is why the leaves are turning yellow is that birch trees seem more suited to norther areas and at times do not adjust to this environment.

DRIVING

All students will register their cars and supply additional information on their motor vehicle. You may not drive your car to school unless it is registered. There will be no driving of the cars during the school day without permission from the administration and from the parents.

Students are expected to drive in the proper manner and reports of careless and reckless driving before and after school will be sufficient reason to discontinue your driving privileges to school.

STUDENT ATTIRE

Students are expected to come to school dressed in the proper manner. Such things as long hair, skirt lengths, shirt tails, etc. are of concern.

We realize the styles tend to be a problem but we feel that the patrons of the school desire our students to be neat and modest in their dress.

PHYSICALS

The high school students who plan to participate in sports or take part in physical education should have a physical examination. You cannot participate without a physical. Get these physicals out of the way prior to school. You can pick up the doctor's forms at the school office.

Elementary students in grades K, 3 and 7 must have a physical as stated by Board Policy.

news, yet are really interesting."
—Mrs. Clarice Ingram of Wayne said: "I wish The Wayne Herald had more home town news telling who entertained and visited friends. I think it's especially important if the paper is going to subscribers who have moved away."

—However, Mrs. Ingram said: "General news coverage is fine."
—Bud McNatt of Wayne had only one suggestion to improve The Herald: "They could have some funnies for the kids to read."

"I enjoy reading the editorials," said McNatt. "It's also nice to have a variety and include other area towns in Wayne's paper."

"I think the paper tries to appeal to too many people," said George John Jr., former Wayne resident. "The Herald isn't controversial enough. It should try to sway public opinion and get people really involved in local politics. Maybe it could present two completely opposing sides to a question in the same page."

Laurel Man Gets Master's Degree

Gary Oxley of Laurel earned his master of education degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln during the second summer session.
There were no commencement exercises for the some 475 students who completed work toward degrees. More than half the students earned graduate degrees.
One of those completing work on his undergraduate degree was Robert Morris of Wayne. He received a bachelor of science in education degree.

Laurel Man Misses $100 Cash Drawing

A Laurel resident, Albert Johnson, would have been $100 richer Friday morning had he been in town for the Cash-Night event in Wayne Thursday night.
His was the name picked out in the drawing, held weekly by local businessmen.
The prize this week will be $150. No purchases are required to be eligible for the drawing; however, the person whose name is drawn must be present to win the money.

'Freeze' Gives Farmers Benefits

American farmers will gain some short-term benefits from the Nixon economic policies, but may come out badly if the long run if present tactics prove to be merely a "postponement" of the inflation problem, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist said last week.

Dr. Everett Peterson pointed out that farm prices, machine costs and exports—all vitally important to a farmer's function—will be directly affected by the President's 90-day wage and price freeze and other deflationary controls.

Although the prices the farmer receives for the food and fiber he produces are not frozen, they will come under some control due to an imposed ceiling on retail prices of processed foods, the economist explained.

Production costs and consequently many of the farmer's living costs will be held down during the 90-day period, he said. Advising farmers needing machinery to "buy now," Peterson said he believes equipment costs are almost sure to rise after the Nov. 12th expiration date when higher steel prices and labor costs may go into effect.

According to the NE economist, investment tax credit designed to stimulate machinery payouts to industry will help the large commercial farmer more than the smaller one, who cannot afford the large financial expenditures.

Dr. Peterson contends that it is too early to grasp what kind of influence these "macroeconomic" moves on U.S. agricultural exports, but he says several elements are working to increase or at least maintain the present level.

Increased exports may be brought about because this year's farm crops are very abundant, and thus will be sold to importers at low prices.

The United States, the world's foremost soybean and feed grain supplier, is not likely to lose many customers in this area of trade. "Less wheat may be exported, however," he reported, "since it is generally more available in other countries."

Because labor cannot be granted higher wages at this time, Peterson predicts that the current dock worker's strike may end soon, permitting greater exports of agricultural products.

Japan and the European community, may, as a result of the new economic policy, be more willing to negotiate less restrictions on agricultural imports since exports are more important to their economies, he added.

Dr. Peterson said he believes Nixon's enormous package of inflationary controls will have a positive psychological effect on the nation and will partially restore American economic confidence.

"In the long run, however," he cautioned, "more action will be needed to stem the tide of inflation."

'Freeze' —

not covered under Nixon's new policy, both Adon Jeffers, president of The First National Bank, and Jim Hein, president of the State National Bank, see no increase in present rates.

"I haven't received any information from the Federal Home Loan Bank," said Jack Laakas, secretary-treasurer of the Wayne Federal Savings & Loan Association. "To my knowledge, the price freeze will have no effect on city employees."

"I doubt if the freeze will have any effect," said Mayor Kent Hall, "because we received our wage increases two months ago. According to Hall, Wayne's tax levies increase, decided upon last month, will stay at its new level.

Francis Hahn, superintendent of Wayne's at-risk schools, said that it's too early for all decisions to have been made but all contracts starting Sept. 1 will remain frozen until the 90-day period is on.

This includes both teacher and principal contracts, according to Hahn.

"I'm sure that all federal employees' salaries are covered by this freeze," said Wilber Gieses, Wayne postmaster. "The increase in third class postage rates set for Sept. 15 will also be postponed."

Mrs. Diles said the job exchange service will still be available for students in the community, looking for part-time jobs this winter. She suggested that if anyone needs help with such things as putting up storm windows or shoveling snow that they call the job exchange service at 375-1115.

The director invited teenagers wanting work this fall and winter to stop in at the office at 108 West Third Street in Wayne and fill out an application if they have not already done so.

100 4-H Calves Go Up for Sale

About 100 calves are expected to be sold during the annual Wayne County 4-H Beef Sale Thursday night in Wayne.

The event, sponsored each year by the Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled for 8:30 at the local sale barn.

Each 4-H'er is allowed to sell an individual calf or a pen of five. Those choosing to sell individual calves have to sell those exhibited at the recent county fair.

Cattle will not be judged this year, according to Harrold Ingalls, county agent. The cattle will be sold after they are ranked on a scoring system combining rate of gain and patch appraisal.

Wakefield Teachers

Wakefield Public School faculty members will meet at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the high school study hall for pre-school planning.

Mr. I. Beller, superintendent of schools, will be in charge of the general meeting. Later, high school staff members will meet with Principal William Schmeier, and Berwin Hartman, elementary school principal, will meet with elementary teachers.

School opens Monday, Aug. 30, with a full day of classes.

Pheasant Experiment Is Partial Success

A new method of raising pheasant chicks in areas deficient in nesting cover may be feasible in Nebraska on a limited scale, according to the results of an experiment recently completed by the Game and Parks Commission.

The technique did not prove successful enough to justify use of a statewide basis, according to researchers evaluating the results. However, it may be useful to landowners and sport-men clubs that want to boost pheasant numbers in specific localities.

In the experiment, temporarily flightless game farm hens were placed in one-acre plots of alfalfa surrounded by a five-foot wire mesh fence. It was hoped the hens would be bred by wild cocks, then nest and raise their young within the pens. By the time the hens regain flight feathers, the pheasant chicks should be old enough to leave with their mothers.

Game farm hens were used because they are more tolerant of crowding than wild birds. In the wild, a ringneck often requires

Hansen Expects 60 Boys Out for WH Grid Team

About 60 Wayne High School boys are expected out for the first football practice of the season today (Monday).

The youths are to practice today at 9 a.m. and at 4 p.m., both times at the practice field south of West Elementary.

Allen Hansen, head coach of the players again this season, will have Ron Carnes and Don Koenig assisting him. Taking care of the freshmen will be Don Johnson and Dan Johnson.

Equipment will be issued to the players after today's first practice.

The Wayne High team will see its first action of the year on Sept. 10 when the Devils travel to Madison. The club posted a 7-2 record last year. Laurel and West Plains (central Catholics) kept the club from going undefeated for the season.

more than an acre to nest, while game farm hens can get by with as little as a few hundred square feet of space.

Results of the study indicate wild roosters will breed with tame hens and at least some hens will be able to nest and raise young in the crowded pens. Of the 140 hens involved, 23 reared broods, for a nesting success of about 11 per cent. About 15 to 16 per cent of wild hens successfully raise chicks.

Now That's A Catch!

Rowan Wittse of Wayne shows off this fine catch, a 34-inch Muskie he landed during a fishing trip to Reinlander, Wis. He and two other Wayne men, Bud Froehlich and Ron Dalton, went on the three-day fishing jaunt. They caught just this one Muskie, a 15 pounder which took Wittse about 30 minutes to land, and several Walleyes and Northern Pike. Wittse was using a Mepps spinner when he landed this catch. The trio returned home Tuesday night.

Ken Dahl's 32 Subdues All Golfers

Ken Dahl set a blistering pace during Wednesday Night Golf League last week, shooting a 32 on the front nine to come in three strokes ahead of the next low golfer.

Dahl's round, best shot on the course this season, was three strokes lower than Bob Heeg's 35, five better than Dick Havens' 37 and six better than Les Tatt's 38.

The effort helped his team sweep among the top in the American League. The trio—Dahl, Dick Berry and Dick Wacker—is two and a half points behind the leaders—Fred, Don Johnson and Ron Dalton.

In second place is the team of Kenny Whorlow, John Mohr, and Cal Ward. Tied with Dahl's team for third is the trio of Amis Heeg, Roy Corryell and Al Kern.

Leading the National League is the team of Del Stollenberg, Lyle Garvin and Herb Berg. They have 31 points, one more than the trio of George Thortbeck, Joe Nuss and Bud Zwolsky, Aug. 30.

Tied for third in the National League are the teams of Jim Marsh, Max Landstrom and Bob Fleming and the team of Jerry Miller, Al Swan and Dick Arrett.

Low 16 players Wednesday were R. H. Smith, Don Feitenkamp and Ralph Etter, all with rounds of 40, and Delmar Carlson, Lyle Garvin, Barry Lehman and Mike Smith, all with rounds of 41. Low C players: Bud Froehlich, 41; Dale Anderson, 45, and Ron Dalton and Peck Prather, both with 46.

Waterbury fisherman Patrick Deacon received a fine of $10 and court costs for fishing without a permit recently.

Eagles Practice 2 Times Today To Open Year

Allen High football hopefuls will get their first taste of practice today (Monday).

The squad members are scheduled to work out at 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. today under new coaches Charles Haag and Barry Carlson.

Haag, who just graduated from the University of Northern Colorado last week, is the head coach for the youths this season. He replaces "Buster" Vannon in that post.

Helping him will be Carlson, an August graduate of Wayne State College.

The coaches had 37 boys turn out for meetings prior to the first practice. That group included only five seniors and six juniors.

Allen, playing in the Lewis and Clark conference again this year, will not see action until Sept. 17 when the Eagles host Winslow.

The rest of their schedule: Sept. 24 Pinedale, Oct. 1 at Homers, Oct. 5 at Wakefield, Oct. 8 Newcastle, Oct. 15 at Coleridge, Oct. 22 at Randolph, Oct. 30 at Walthill, Nov. 5 Timonson.

Frosh Physicals Set This Week

Youngsters wanting to play freshmen football at Wayne High School this year should take their physicals today (Monday) and tomorrow, according to Don Johnson, coach of the youths this season.

Physicals will be given at the office of Dr. Roy Marston in Wayne today and Tuesday at 9 a.m. Youths with last names beginning with letters from A to J should get their physicals today. The rest are to get their physicals tomorrow.

Equipment will be checked out at 9 a.m. on Saturday in the high school gym. First practice will be held at 3 p.m. next Monday, Aug. 30.

Johnson said that he sent letters concerning the physicals to most of the freshmen boys who will be attending Wayne High this fall. However, there may be some boys who did not get the letters who wish to play ball. Those youths who did not get the forms for their physicals should call Johnson at 375-3415.

Howard Leads Yankees Past South, 99-64

Hilary Howard, a 6-7 contribution by Omaha Cathedral to the North All-Stars, paced his team to a convincing 99-64 victory over the South Friday night in Lincoln.

Howard was the star of the all-stars during the contest, played before a record 5,709 people in Lincoln's Pershing Municipal Auditorium. He pulled down 17 rebounds and stuffed in a record 22 points as he outpowered the South's 6-9 Paul Thomas of Hastings.

Steve Erwin, Laurel High's representative on the North Squad, broke into two figures in the scoring, coming up with 10 points for the best showing by a northeast Nebraska cager since the all-star classic began three years ago.

Son of Concord area residents Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Erwin, he pulled down four defensive rebounds to prove his worth to the club, which trained at Wayne State College the week prior to the game.

The North and South battled evenly the first quarter, but after that it was all North. The Yankees widened their 19-17 first quarter lead to 46-34 at intermission and 71-47 going into the final 10-minute period.

North Platte's Dave Peterson grabbed eight points to push the game completely out of reach of the out-manned Southerners. The South's ballhooped Kent Reckewey scored only nine points as the Yankee defense kept him from hitting a bucket until the second half.

The victory marks the first time the North team has won in the game, sponsored each year by the Nebraska Coaches Association.

Farm Chores Change After Cattle Sale

Routine on a Wayne County farm is expected to change now following the end of a 30-year project.

Wayne Gilliland, who farms a mile south and one and a half miles west of Wayne, said Saturday morning that after milking Guernseys for about 40 years he is getting out of the dairy business.

Gilliland said he has sold his Guernsey herd—a total of about 60 head—to Don Halk of Wayne. Thirty-seven head of the herd were moved Friday from the Gilliland farm west to the Kubik yards about one and three-quarter miles. The Wayne County farmer said he has had a Guernsey herd for about 39 years.

"I would say it is one of the top Guernsey herds in the mid-west," Gilliland said.

He hasn't decided whether or not to continue farming, but Gilliland will be able to do a few other things that interest him since he said it was "pretty hard to get away" when he had the herd to take care of.

'Just A Bit More'—Setting down his steak during Tuesday night's cook-out for the all-star cagers is Elkhorn's Jack Wesolowski. Local businessmen held the steak fry for the cagers, helping break the tough practice routine the youths have been under in preparation for Friday's game at Lincoln.

SUNDAY NIGHT PRESIDENT NIXON ANNOUNCED AN 8-POINT PROGRAM WHICH INCLUDED ELIMINATION OF THE 7 PERCENT FEDERAL EXCISE TAX ON CARS EFFECTIVE AUGUST 15. AS YOU KNOW, CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL IS REQUIRED TO REPEAL THE EXCISE TAX.

ALTHOUGH CONGRESS WILL NOT BE RECALLED AND CONGRESSIONAL ACTION THEREFORE WILL BE DELAYED UNTIL SEPTEMBER, THE ADMINISTRATION HAS STATED THAT THE EXCISE TAX CHANGE WOULD BE RETROACTIVE TO AUGUST 15. BASED ON PRIOR EXPERIENCE, THE EXCISE TAX REDUCTION WOULD APPLY TO ALL NEW AND UNUSED 1971 AND 1972 MODELS SOLD BY DEALERS AFTER AUGUST 15. THE AVERAGE AMOUNT WOULD BE ABOUT $200 PER CAR.

CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL OF THIS ACTION CANNOT, OF COURSE, BE GUARANTEED, BUT YOU CAN ASSURE NEW CAR BUYERS WHO PURCHASE BEFORE SUCH APPROVAL THAT THEY WILL BE REIMBURSED THE AMOUNT OF THE EXCISE TAX SAVINGS IF LEGISLATION SIMILAR TO THAT ENACTED IN 1965 IS APPROVED. PROCEDURES WILL BE IMPLEMENTED SO THAT PEOPLE BUYING NEW CARS PRIOR TO CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL WILL BE REIMBURSED BY THE FULL AMOUNT OF THE TAX CUT, JUST AS THEY WERE WHEN EXCISE TAXES WERE REDUCED IN 1965.

Superintendent of Roads Blazes New Trail

By Merlin Wright

When Robert Nissen goes to work each day as county road superintendent he blazes a new trail in Wayne County history since it is the first year the county has had such an officer. Nissen, the only county official other than the assessor required to pass an examination, was named to the post by the county commissioners last year and began his duties last fall.

His post was created by the commissioners to meet requirements for receiving state allocation funds. State funds pay $3,500 of his annual $6,500 salary.

"The commissioners are working real well with the public trying to get the roads in good shape," he said earlier this week. "Early summer rains and flooding this year made it necessary to alter the road building program to include repairing the damage. Nissen said, "We're still working on that damage. It was estimated around $180,000. There are still three bridges that need repairing."

Although the unexpected flooding made it necessary to make changes in the road program, the immediate and long-range plans Nissen has worked out with the commissioners have a built-in flexibility to allow for emergencies.

The six-year road program required by the state is but one of the superintendent's responsibilities. Other duties include annually updating the long-range plans, developing programs for construction and maintaining county roads and developing annual budgets based on programmed activities.

Nissen is also in charge of making monthly reports to the state of expenses incurred on county patrols and equipment. Each operator keeps a maintenance record which is turned in to him at the end of the month. He compiles them into a single record and sends it to Lincoln.

The records are used by the state in approving the county's road programs as they relate to the replacement of equipment. State approval is necessary, Nissen explained, in order for the county to qualify for annual-allocation funds.

Bob Nissen, county road superintendent, checks over a bridge three miles west and about a quarter mile north of Wayne. The bridge was damaged earlier this summer when a car hit the railing. Cost of replacing the bridge is estimated at near $20,000.

State funds sent to the county amount to $241,587 last year and are an important source of revenue, according to Norris Weible, county clerk. Wayne County will probably receive about $253,700 from the state during the current year. The funds come from that portion of motor vehicle registrations and fuel tax counties send to the state.

Scheduling of equipment replacement is an important item in the county's long range plans, Nissen said. Working with the commissioners, he keeps his eye on the county's 12 patrols, 6 caterpillars, 10 plows, scraper and gravel truck. Other plans include grading projects and the rebuilding of bridges. One of the projects slated for the current year, according to Nissen, is replacement of all signs on arterial and collector roads in the county. Replacement, necessary to conform to new state requirements, will mean replacing 181 stop signs and 228 bridge reflectors. The new 30-inch stop signs will be mounted on square posts varying from 10 to 12 feet in height.

Nissen coordinates road plans with the commissioners, who are responsible for roads in their own district. Joe Wilson of District I has charge of 276 miles of road. Ken Edde of District II has about 263 miles and Floyd Burt in District III has approximately 265 miles of roads.

"The commissioners are getting more roads graveled this year than normally," Nissen noted. "They're using a grade and gravel and putting it on heavy enough that it will last and do some good." There are four road patrols in each commissioner's district and a total of 19 crewmen available to work on projects throughout the county.

Maintaining roads requires a lot of time, according to the superintendent, because "a patrol averages only about six miles an hour when blading and the operator sometimes has to stop to fill holes or give special attention to bridge approaches and rough spots.

A patrol can only maintain half of the road's width in one sweep. Consequently, if there are 276 miles of road in a district, the patrols must travel twice that distance, or 552 miles.

Nissen's job demands that he keep an eye open for bridges in need of repair and roads that may need special attention. He does get some help. "The public will let you know," he said. Surrounding counties have either road superintendents or engineering firms to help with their road plans. Superintendents and engineers from northeast Nebraska get together about twice each year in order to share ideas. Two are going to the county courthouse to talk to the road superintendent find out that, although original planning called for one, he does not yet have an office. During this first year he has worked out of the commissioner's meeting room.

Former Resident Of Allen Dies In California

Graveside services for Mrs. Clara Johnson Troth, 77, Upland, Calif., were held August 13 at the Eastview Cemetery, Allen, with the Rev. J. H. Chasore officiating. Mrs. Troth died of an apparent heart attack at her home in California August 9.

Clara Johnson Troth was born May 11, 1899 in S. Dakota. On January 2, 1918, she was married to Albert Johnson Jr. Five years after her husband's death in 1925, she moved to California. Survivors include one daughter, Frances Brownell of Upland (Calif.); one son, Albert Jr. of Montclair, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. George Malcom, South Sioux City, and Mrs. Walter Baldwin of Sioux City, Ia.; 6 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.
