Parking Lot Is Editorial Subject

The Wayne County commissioners earlier this month hired a Madison County construction firm to pave a parking lot near the courthouse. An editorial concerning that move, with comments from four local contractors, appears on the editorial page of this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Three Youths Nab Honors at 4-H Calf Sale

Two Carroll 4-H'ers and a Wayne youth walked off with top honors at the Wayne County 4-H calf sale in Wayne Thursday night.

Fire Damages Truck

Hoskins volunteer firemen were called at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday and again about the same time Thursday evening to the rear of the Apache Manufacturing Company in Hoskins to extinguish fires in a GMC truck.

The first fire destroyed the cab and the second fire burned a hole in the floor of the truck-bed.

Origin of the fires is not known. The vehicle had not been used for several days and was parked inside a company building which was reportedly undamaged by the fires.

Loyle Peterson, deputy state fire marshal of Plainview, is investigating.

Allen High Graduate Gets $200 Scholarship

A graduate of Allen High School, Dennis Geiger, has been awarded a $200 Haskell Scholarship to attend the University of Nebraska-Lincoln this fall.

Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Geiger of Wakefield, was awarded the scholarship on the basis of scholastic performance his freshman year.

He earned a 3.5 grade average during his freshman year. He is majoring in business administration.

Young Students Can Register at Middle School

New families in the Wayne-Carroll school district who have children who will be attending any of the grades five through eight this fall should register their children at the middle school office today (Monday) or Tuesday if they have not already done so.

Doors at the middle school will open at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Students should go to the first floor hallway outside the office and locate their names and homerooms to report to.

Seventh and eighth graders should go to the gym to locate their names and homerooms.

Allen, Dixon Girls Head for State

Sheri Kjer of Allen and Nancy Blinham of Dixon were named to represent Dixon County 4-H'ers in the dress revue at the State Fair in Lincoln in September.

The two young girls were selected from a host of others competing in the Dixon County dress revue.

Miss Kjer was named champion of the revue and Miss Blinham reserve champion during the Dixon County Fair dress revue on Wednesday afternoon.

Named division champions and reserve champions were Karen Woodward of Wakefield and Tami Carlson of Wakefield in the beginning unit, Nancy Blinham and Karen Wallin of Laurel in the middle unit and Sheri Kjer and Carolyn Muller of Concord in the advanced unit.

Children's Carnival Nets $35 in Fight Against Dystrophy

It was carnival time in the backyard of the Morris L. Anderson home at 413 West Seventh Street Friday afternoon as several dozen youngsters joined in raising funds for the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Proceeds of the carnival—donated from such games as pin-throwing, pin-knockdown, a sponge throwing and looking into a magic well—amounted to $35.06 and will be sent to the area muscular dystrophy office in Sioux City.

Stene Anderson served as ringmaster, assisted by Ralph Arlt, Jeff Backstrom and Steen Anderson.

The children got the idea for staging their carnival while watching TV personality Clarence the Karkoon Klown who is promoting such events on his children's show over a Sioux City television station.

College Bound Voters Urged to Register

College bound youths 18 years old and over from the Wayne area may want to register to vote before going off to a distant campus.

Twenty-one 18 and 19 year olds in Wayne County have already registered, Weible said, but many have not.

The clerk also emphasized the importance of re-registration. He said any person moving from one ward or voting precinct to another must re-register at his office.

Qualified voters away from home on election day, as are many students and men in the armed forces, may vote by absentee ballot. Such ballots are available at the county clerk's office.

Picture Fans Take Note

If you like pictures, this issue of The Wayne Herald should please you.

Inside today's newspaper you'll find two full pages of pictures taken during last week's Dixon County Fair.

An added bonus is the full page of pictures taken during a recent trip to the northern wilderness by some local Boy Scouts.

Dr. Dale Johansen, vice president of financial affairs at Wayne State College, will return to teaching in the classroom in the school of business at the college beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Wayne County Money Being Spent In Madison County

Just over a week ago the Wayne County commissioners hired a Madison County construction company to pave a parking lot near the courthouse. The taxpayers in Wayne County will pay $3,200 for the improvement.

Four local contractors, all experienced in laying concrete and capable of doing that job, knew nothing about the project. The first they heard of it was when they were asked about it by Novin Hansen, editor of The Wayne Herald. Here are their remarks when questioned by Hansen:

Don Goeden of Goeden Construction said he would have liked to bid on the job. He said he had heard nothing about the project. Ludwig Thos of Thos Construction, who also had heard nothing about it, said work is slow for him right now and he would have liked to have a chance at doing the work. He has been doing some work out of town lately but the county project had been low bidder, would have given him a chance to keep working in town, something he prefers doing.

Dick Carlson of Carlson Construction, like the others, knew nothing about the paving work. He said that giving work to firms outside the county has happened before and is not fair to the local firms. "We have plenty of capable people here in town who could have done it," he said. He said he would have liked to bid on it.

Carlton of Ote Construction said he knew nothing about the project. However, whether he would have bid on it would have depended upon when the county wanted the job completed. His firm is busy now so completion date would have played an important role in his decision. He said he still would like to have known about it.

Floyd Purtt, chairman of the county commissioners, said the board "knew that no other company would have been considered" for the work had it been advertised.

"The county doesn't let bids very often and we're doing much better" than by taking bids, he said. The reason the county board doesn't take bids, he said, is because the board is "in a position to know what it (a project) is going to cost. They (companies or firms) just get their heads together."

The county board isn't required to ask for bids for work under $5,000, according to information given us. Similar laws apply to other public bodies such as school boards or city councils. However, the Wayne-Carroll school board usually asks for bids on any project or supplies costing over $500, according to Superintendent Francis Han. The local city council usually asks for bids for all street and sewer work, says Dan Sherry, city clerk-administrator.

Purtt said that one of the reasons the Madison County firm was hired to do the work was because "its bid was much lower than one from a local contractor several months ago.

Ote Construction had told the commissioners in October of last year that an area 88 by 88 feet could be paved for about $4,500.

The county board is now paying $3,200 to pave about 4,400 square feet about 72 cents a square foot. The local contractor says he would have paved about 7,700 feet for $4,500—about 58 cents a square foot.

How did the Madison County firm get the job? The firm was paving a lot at the high school, a job it got by submitting low bid at a public letting, and a representative of the firm asked the county board if it was still interested in building a parking lot. The county was. The Madison County firm was hired.—NLH.

The White Cross

Did you notice as you drove today The white cross along the way? Did you think why it was there Or don't you really even care?

It marks the place where someone died In a place where another stood and cried He may have been a little child Killed by someone driving wild

It marks the place where a mother died While beside her a small baby cried A place where a young boy was killed His gay young voice forever stilled

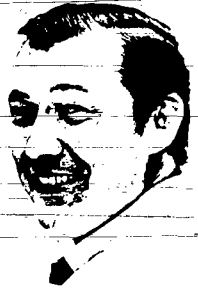

As you drive down the road today And see a white cross along the way, Please drive with caution and care So they won't need a cross for you somewhere

A friend of ours at Winside, Ron Kramer who is principal of the high school, has shared an article with us which causes a person to stop and think. Author of the item is not known which is unfortunate. You may want to clip it out for your scrapbook.

It goes like this. "In the end, there was Earth, and it was with form and beauty. And Man dwelt upon the lands of the Earth, the meadows and trees, and he said, 'Let us build our dwellings in this place of beauty.'"

"And he built cities and covered the Earth with concrete and steel. And the meadows were gone. And Man said, 'It is good.'"

On the second day, Man looked upon the water of the Earth. And Man said, 'Let us put our wastes in the waters that the dirt will be washed away.'

And Man did. And the waters became polluted and foul in their smell. And Man said, 'It is good.'

"On the third day, Man looked upon the forests of the Earth and saw they were beautiful. And Man said, 'Let us cut the timber for our homes and grind the wood for our use.'

"And Man did. And the lands became barren and the trees were gone. And Man said, 'It is good.'

"On the fourth day, Man saw that animals were in abundance and ran in fields and played in the sun. And Man said, 'Let us cage these animals for our amusement and kill them for our sport.'

And Man did. And the animals were killed and their skins were made into coats. And Man said, 'It is good.'

"On the fifth day, Man breathed the air of the earth. And Man said, 'Let us dispose of our wastes into the air for the winds shall blow them away.' And Man did.

"And the air became heavy with dust and all living things choked and turned. And Man said, 'It is good.'

"On the sixth day, Man saw himself and seeing the many languages and tongues, he feared and hated. And Man said, 'Let us build great machines and destroy them lest they destroy us.'

"And Man built great machines and the Earth was fired with the rage of great wars. "And Man said, 'It is good.'

"On the seventh day, Man rested from his labors and the Earth was still, for Man no longer dwelt upon the Earth. "And it was good."

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

A 17-year-old Elgin youth, Jim Baum, was injured slightly in a tractor mishap recently.

The accident happened on a county road two miles east of Elgin. The youth lost control of the tractor and it went off the road and rolled on top of him. He crawled from under the machinery and was taken to Elgin by a passing motorist.

Jane and Bill Prinz of West Point showed the champion and reserve champion market beef at the recent Cuming County Fair.

The feat marks the second year in a row that Jane has won the top honor in the competition.

Parents of the two youths are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Prinz.

About 850 people turned out for the Madison Jaycees' tractor pull at the fairgrounds in Madison recently.

Drivers from 15 Nebraska towns and three Iowa towns competed in the event, held each year in order to raise money for the service organization. A total of $471 was paid out in prize money.

Seren-Dohna of Ponca was crowned Queen of the Indian Show earlier in August at the Corn Palace at Mitchell, S. D. Miss Dohna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dohna of rural Ponca. The Dohnas had been to Glacier National Park and were on the way home when they stopped at Mitchell.

Two Norfolk men died in separate one-car accidents near Pierce early last week.

Killed were Douglas Brader, 19, and Leo C. Raduechel, 56. Brader was killed in an accident about three-quarters mile north of West Town on Highway 81. Raduechel was killed in a mishap a mile west and three-quarters south of Iadar on a county road.

Fifty boys checked out football gear and began practice at Emerson-Hubbard last week. Another five or six boys were expected to turn out for the team, which is co-captained by the east end of the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Jack Dixon has been named to replace Ted Huettmann as president of the Winser Chamber of Commerce. Named vice-president of the group was Dr. Del Heltle.

Karen Schulte, 20, of rural Hartington was killed Tuesday evening when she fell from a horse north of Hartington. The young girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claudius Schulte, was apparently killed when the clutch broke and she fell, fracturing her skull. Her body was discovered on the edge of a county road by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wechehaus. She would have been a senior at Wayne State College this fall.

Carhart Lumber of Randolph has announced the construction of removal of the present Methodist Church of Laurel and construction of a new church and sanctuary, according to The Randolph Times. The Randolph firm turned in low bid on the work. Five other bids were also submitted.

A Huntington Beach, Calif., man killed himself in Russian Roulette in South Sioux City last week.

Deaf is Robert Brown, 43. He told his wife he was going to play the game after he took five of the six shells from his .357 magnum Colt revolver. The gun he used in his work as a security guard. He aimed the gun at his chest and pulled the trigger without discharging the bullet. He spun the chamber the second time, pulled the trigger and fired the bullet. He was struck in the heart.

Important Directions

Wayne volunteer firemen were unable to locate a car reported to be in the four miles west of town early last week because someone made an error in giving directions.

The emergency message was handled by several persons. One of them misheard and with the consequence that someone drove four miles west while the burning car was actually four miles south of Wayne.

Fortunately, the car fire was small and damage was estimated to be $105. One can imagine the tragic consequences of a similar error if a home or other building were ablaze.

No one is apt to intentionally give wrong directions, of course, but such errors may happen in a moment of exasperation.

Fire Chief Cliff Pinkelman said following the incident last Monday that anyone reporting a fire should remember the importance of giving its exact location. He suggested that persons reporting a fire give the exact location of the fire, and it is that reporting the fire and where the person is calling from. For instance, "A barn is on fire at the Joe Smith farm a mile north and a half mile west of Wayne. I'm Jim Doe, the Smith's neighbor, and I'm calling from 375-0000."

The importance of giving the right location of the fire is obvious, and the reason for reporting why it is calling is so that someone can call back to that number in case there is some misunderstanding in directions.

Pinkelman pointed out that families would be wise to fill in the emergency telephone numbers listed inside the front cover of the new telephone books. The number to call in Wayne in case of a fire is 375-1122.

By having emergency numbers listed and readily available, even a young child at home would likely have little difficulty in finding the number and calling for help.

It would be a wise move for all families to discuss procedures to be used in case of fire in the home, or for calling the rescue unit. — MMW.

Complaints Get Results

Who says a little complaining doesn't help?

About two weeks ago a Wayne lady wrote a letter to the editor about the stench which was almost daily emanating from the sewage lagoon on the southeast edge of the city. A few days ago members of the Wayne city council and city employees checked into the problem, a problem which has been bothering many Wayne residents off and on for a couple years.

"They found the apparent cause of the stench—sediment in the lagoon.

"We're not sure if the letter was the direct cause of the investigation. It probably wasn't, since there have been many people who have been talking and complaining about the odor. However, we're pretty sure it helped spark that investigation."

"As we were saying, who says it doesn't help to complain? — NLH.

Many of the games people play get underway upon being given a driving license. One game is leaving the turn signal on after rounding a corner or passing a car. It is anyone's guess then as to which way the car is going to turn, if at all. J. W. came up behind a car last week with its rear turn signal flashing a left turn, but the driver proceeded to go straight ahead at the intersection.

Speed may be the guilty culprit in some fatalities, but many accidents are caused from 100 per cent pure stupidity. Even nails have heads to prevent them from going "too far." It is too bad humans don't.

Then there is the problem of the drinking driver who has forgotten there are two kinds of auto finishes: lacquer and liquor.

It takes many nuts to hold a car together, but it takes only a few to get it apart. Speed may or may not have much to do with the process. J. W. would like to see the daytime speed limit set at 70 m.p.h. with the nighttime limit at 65 m.p.h. You see a 70 m.p.h. speed limit on Highway 35; for instance, would allow one to become airborne and flying all ways has been a safer way to travel.

Kids are really something else, especially at five years of age. Gee they're cute. Wayne police were hosts to several dozen five-year-olds last Wednesday during the annual pedestrian school. J. W. attended the school briefly to shoot some pictures. Returning to the schoolhouse from a lesson at a nearby traffic light, a little five-year-old had slipped his hand into ours and announced, "I'm a football player."

Well now, it isn't every day they hold hands with a tough football player and it made us feel real important. Hand in hand we walked back to the schoolhouse where in about 10 years that

Speaking about government secrecy, here's an illuminating item I came across in an old copy (July 5, 1969) of the Socialist Labor Party paper, the "Weekly People":

"A June 11 Associated Press dispatch from Annapolis, Maryland, reported that a release of developer wanted information on the number of employees the National Security Agency had in Annapolis County. He learned that there were about 2,000. 'Asked at a zoning-law hearing whether he got the figure from security-agency officials, he replied: 'Oh, no, I tried to get it, but they wouldn't disclose it, so I called the Russian Embassy, and they told me.'"

"The 'Weekly People' gave the above the pertinent heading: 'Secrets, Secrets!'" This shows how futile it is to withhold information and how secrecy is used in all levels of government.

Yard & Garden Tips

Can or should you do anything about a mold on strawberries?

A. The mold is probably only using the plant for structure. If it seems to be doing damage you may spray it with any common fungicide.

Even with the use of modern pesticides, the average annual loss of crop and livestock production in the U. S. caused by major pests is 35 per cent of the potential or over $14 billion each year. Without pesticides, stock production could cut another 30 per cent.

Delilah Moore Wed Aug. 21

Yellow glads and green carnations appointed the altar of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Norfolk, for the wedding last Saturday afternoon of Delilah Moore, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Meyer, Carroll, and the late Willard Moore, to Terry Muehlmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Muehlmeier, Winside.

Father Gary Ostrander, Norfolk, officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Les Rank, Norfolk, sang "Wedding Prayer" and "We're Only Just Begun," accompanied by Susan Stover, Norfolk.

Given in marriage by her brother, Darrell Moore, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of white organza over bridal satin fashioned with bateau neckline, Victorian sleeves and A-line skirt which extended into a brush train. With a sheer applique outlined the neckline and empire waistline. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a floral headpiece and she carried a cascade of golden wax roses, stephanotis and white carnations.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Beverly Jones, Norfolk, who was groomed in a floor-length frock of sage green peau de faulle and chiffon featuring a molled bodice, Sabrina neckline and self-fabric backbow. She carried a semi-cascade of green-tinted carnations and yellow daisies and wore a bow of peau de faulle in her hair.

Jennifer Moore, a niece, was flowergirl and Jamie Fredrickson of Carroll and Alan Doring were ringbearers.

Best man was Dale Muehl-meler, Winside, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Jim Fredrickson, Carroll, and Ronnie Doring. The men wore white tuxedos.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Moore chose a green knit with black patent accessories. Mrs. Muehlmeier wore a pink knit with navy accessories and both had corsages of yellow roses and white stephanotis.

Mrs. Jim Fredrickson, Carroll, registered the 175 guests for the reception for which Mr. and Mrs. Fredrickson served as hosts. Sandra Muehlmeier, Winside, Mrs. Darrell Moore and Mrs. Ronnie Doring arranged gifts.

Mrs. Bert Muehlmeier, Norfolk, and Pam Cunningham, Carroll, cut and served the cake and Mrs. Hazel Schock, Carlton, Minn., poured. Mrs. Ed Milligan, Carroll, served punch. Kelly and Cindi O'Connell, Norfolk, were waitresses. Working in the kitchen were Mrs. Arlen Hurlbert and Mrs. Jess Milligan, Carroll. The couple took a wedding trip to the Black Hills and will be at home in Hadar. The bridegroom, a 1965 graduate of Winside High School, is employed by the Nebraska Department of Roads in Norfolk. The bride is a 1967 graduate of Wayne High School.

HALL—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, Alhambra, Calif., a son, David Timothy, 7 lbs., Aug. 6. Great grandmother is Mrs. Lizette Puls. Mrs. Hall is the former Jill Puls, Hoskins.

'72 Home Extension

Lessons Scheduled

The approximate 900 home extension club members in our five-county area will have for their lessons in 1972 "Snacks, The Fourth Deadly Sin, Home Arranging," "Frieded Sewing Notions," "Pesticides in the Environment," and "My Home—(As It Came or Is)." Home-makers who do not belong to an extension club and who would like to participate in the home economics program should contact the county extension office or a home agent about joining an existing club or organizing a new one. September is the ideal time for this as clubs elect their officers and plan activities for the coming year in the fall.

Reservations for the Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs, to be held in Alliance Sept. 28, 29 and 30, should be completed before Sept. 1.

Delegates from this area are Mrs. Val Dammie, Mrs. Arnold Wittler and Mrs. William Thomsen from Wayne County; Mrs. Marlen Johnson and Marie Schutte from Dixon County; Mrs. Marilyn Johnson, Mrs. Walter Rasmussen and Mrs. Don Horn from Dakota County; Mrs. Janeth Brannaman and Mrs. Eugene Kruse from Thurston County; and Mrs. Paul Friebe and Mrs. Gordon Graham from Cedar County.

Bridal Courtesies Honor Recent Bride

Recent bride Mary Beth de Freese Teeter was honored with three bridal courtesies prior to her marriage Aug. 17 to Robert Glenn Teeter.

On the 25th of August, Karen Nedergaard and Leah Havonot entertained 12 guests in the Nedergaard home in Miss de Freese's honor. Mothers of the bride-elect and her fiance were both present.

The floral centerpiece topped the wedding theme. Some gifts were presented the honoree. Peggy Barner assisted with gifts and Janelle Teeter poured.

August 7 a kitchen shower was held for Miss de Freese by Dine Olds. Guests included school friends, mothers and Janelle Teeter, who each furnished the bride-elect with a recipe. Bride-bingo served for entertainment, and cake, sandwiches and punch were served.

About 60 guests attended the bridal shower held Aug. 10 at the Redeemer Lutheran Church social rooms. Hostesses were Mrs. William Kugler, who served as dining room hostess, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. George Magnuson, Mrs. John Luschen, Mrs. Dean Pierson and Mrs. Jim Hummel.

Decorations included a floral centerpiece in the bride's colors. Coffee and rolls were served. Kim Kugler and Kay Pierson

Fifty Out for Golf

About 50 women turned out for the Ladies Day breakfast and last day of golf league Tuesday at the Wayne Country Club. Forty-three attended the bridge luncheon that noon at which time Mrs. Mary Shultles, who is a regular member of the bridge group, was surprised with a cake and song in honor of her 82nd birthday.

Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Lillian Thompson, Burbank, Calif.; Paula Strahan, Burbank, Calif.; Harriet Wright, Connie Decker, Leila Maynard, Marjell Ingalls, Edith Dale and Paula Strahan. Hostesses for this week will be Doris Ward and Helen Gohlirach.

Guest Day Lunch Set

The OES Kensington guest day luncheon has been scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday. Members are to each bring a covered dish and her own table service.

McLean-Monson

Engagement Told

Making plans for a September 25 wedding at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne are Beth McLean and Bruce L. Monson. The engagement has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. McLean, Wayne. Monson is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Monson, Hastings.

Area Home Extension Agents Define Jelly, Jam, Marmalade, Preserves

Home Extension Agents from the Northeast Station at Concord inform us that Food and Drug standard for pure fruit jams and jellies require a minimum of 45% fruit, fruit pulp or fruit juice. Finer quality products may contain more fruit or better fruit. Jams, jellies, etc., containing less than 45% fruit, fruit pulp or fruit juice must not contain the word "pure" on their label. Such products are often labeled

"imitation." Definitions of various types of fruit spreads are as follows: Jelly, sugar and fruit; jam, sugar and crushed or cut up fruit; Marmalade, jelly containing slices of citrus peel; Conserve, jam plus nuts, raisins, etc.; Fruit Butters, sugar and fruit pulp which has been cooked and strained, usually containing more fruit than jam; Preserves, sugar and whole fruit or pieces of large fruit.

Olson Wedding Is August 26

In a 4 p.m. rite Aug. 26 at the Griswold, Iowa Church of Christ, Paul Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jensen, Massena, Iowa, became the bride of John Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Olson, Wasefield, Iowa. The ceremony was officiated by the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Dorothy Miller sang "How Do I Love Thee" and "We'll Only Just Begin," accompanied by Bill Miller, and the bride and bridegroom sang "Take My Life."

parlors following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Mrs. Doug Birtner, and gifts were arranged by Mrs. Ken Cooper and Mrs. Tom Steek. Mrs. Robert Blankship and Marilyn Blankship, both of Massena, were the bridesmaids and Mrs. Jerry Dietz, Griswold, poured. Mrs. Ed Haeckel, Norfolk, served punch.

Les Luester, Mrs. Elton Lemble and Mrs. Gene Mercer. For her going away ensemble the bride chose a two-piece purple suit. The couple will be making their home at 708 1/2 Maple Street, Mapleton, Iowa. The bride attended Northeast Nebraska College two years and graduated in May from Milligan College, Tennessee. She is presently teaching remedial reading at West Harrison.

Attendants

Attending the bride were Lynne Christensen, Massena, Iowa, maid of honor, Lynette Olson of Wasefield and Layne Christensen and Tina Jensen, Massena. The bridegroom was attended by Tom Steele, best man, Jerry Dietz, Griswold, Iowa, Ed Haeckel of Norfolk and Ken Cooper of Lincoln. Mac Jensen of Massena ushered. Linda Chittwood, Lincoln, was flowergirl.

Bride's Gown

The bride appeared in an empire styled gown of nylon organza and pelted with lace, styled with chapel-length wateau train. She wore a shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of phloxes, orchids with natural variegated leaves.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Braden and Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Perdue served as hosts to the reception for 200 guests held at the church.

U.S. Savings Bond Kit Is Available

M. F. Oberg, volunteer state chairman for U.S. Savings Bonds, announced availability of a new "School Kit" for area teachers. The kit is available on request from the state office of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division.

Thursday the group met at the school to bake goods for a sale held—this evening at "People's Natural Gas Co.

Reception

Oberg explained that the kit was prepared by the Council for Family Financial Education, which has been engaged in the development of teacher education and instructional materials for some 20 years. The kit is designed to enable young people to better understand the role of savings in personal and family financial planning, he said.

All teachers and administrators interested in acquiring the new kit for use in their schools should contact the state office at 810 Federal Office Building, 106 S. 15th St., Omaha, Nebr. 68102.

'Get Those Plates Filled, Here's Another Bunch!'

By Jane Owens

Mothers who complain about having to cook for their families should try preparing a meal for 500 young school children, something that cooks at the Wayne Public School lunchroom have to do five days a week.

In addition to baking 1,000 buns every morning, the cooks must prepare a main dish, vegetables and desserts and have them ready to serve when the first group of children enter the lunchroom shortly before noon.

How do the cooks get everything coordinated and ready to serve at the same time? According to Mrs. Warren Summers, Wayne-Carroll lunch program supervisor, "It wasn't easy at first. You just have to get it worked out and then you know how much time to allow."

Mrs. Summers began planning menus for this fall's term about two weeks ago, making sure that all meals meet government requirements.

To receive commodities and support from the state and federal governments, Mrs. Summers said that the school must serve a "Type A" lunch—a well-balanced meal.

The lunch must include certain amounts of meat or an alternate dish, vegetables or fruits, bread, butter or fortified margarine and milk. In addition, Vitamin C must be served every day and Vitamin A twice a week. The federal government supplies some commodities—foods for which the school only pays freight—every month. Mrs. Summers never knows what will be sent, but the shipment usually includes such common foods as cheese, flour, butter and powdered milk.

"But this doesn't begin to do the feeding," said Mrs. Summers. "I buy the rest from regular wholesalers."

If the lunch program is approved by state inspectors, the school receives a five-cent reimbursement on each tray.

Students pay 45 cents for a single meal or two dollars each week. "The loss comes out of school taxes, if necessary," said Mrs. Summers.

Using several large-quality

Mrs. Summers is almost dwarfed by one of the steam-jacketed kettles used in making taverns, goulash and the like for students. The kettle acts like a giant double-boiler.

recipes supplied by the state, the supervisor plans meals about two weeks in advance. Sometimes one of the cook's favorite recipes will be adapted and used in the menus. "We had to multiply one cookie recipe 49 times," said Mrs. Summers.

According to Mrs. Summers, the students' favorite foods are hamburger sandwiches and pizza. "We like to try new recipes," she said, "but it's hard to get children to accept new foods."

To prevent waste, students on the last lunch shift can have "seconds." "High school boys are usually glad to help out by eating extra food. Said Mrs. Summers: "We don't ever have too much left." Have they ever had any cooking disasters? "Not really," she said. "Once in a while, one cake will fail for no reason, and the others will be just fine." Mrs. Summers offered an easy solution to the problem: "Instead of having chocolate cake that day, some of the children have brownies."

Located in the elementary building, the school kitchen is equipped with six trays—each able to bake six regular-sized loaf cakes.

The kitchen also has about 60 cubic feet of refrigeration, two freezers, an automatic dish washer, two 50-quart mixers and two steam-jacketed kettles—each holding 500 cups. Strength is a necessary part of a cook's job—it takes three women to lift the mixing bowl when it's filled with bread dough.

"Like any work, being a lunchroom cook has its ups and downs," said Mrs. Summers. "Probably our biggest reward is to have a child tell us it was a delicious meal."

A cook for 12 years at the Wayne lunchroom, Mrs. Summers has been supervisor for ten years. Other cooks in the elementary lunchroom are Edna Nissen, assistant head cook; Vonnie Ellis, Ila Pryor, Leona Hansen, Fern Test, Genevieve Carmichael, Mrs. Henegar and Marlon Warfelman.

Employees also include Emilie Reek, Mardella Beebe, Lena Manske and Mary Stoakes.

Ann Schneider and Ann Keating serve the food, which has been transported from the kitchen in insulated metal cases, at the Middle School lunchroom.

Cooks at the Carroll Elementary School, also included in the hot lunch program, are Betty Morris and Viora Morris. They prepare dinners for about 40 children each day.

Laurel Rites Held Friday for James Galvin

Funeral services for James Galvin, 38, Laurel, were held Friday at the United Lutheran Church, Laurel. Mr. Galvin died Tuesday at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Omaha.

The Rev. Gary Westgard officiated. Mrs. Wesley Bloom sang "No Night There" and "Asleep in Jesus," accompanied by Susan Purcell. Pallbearers were Wesley Bloom, Carl Christensen, Cher Hanson, Don Hanson, Jack Foreman and Jim Morgan. Burial was in the Laurel Cemetery.

James Galvin, son of Benjamin and Ruby Peterson Galvin, was born March 18, 1933 at Diamond Township, Cherokee County, Iowa. On June 17, 1956, he married Joyce Hansen at Laurel. They lived in the Quimby, Iowa area until 1960 when they moved to a farm east of Laurel.

He was preceded in death by his father. Survivors include his widow, Joyce; one son, Benjamin; three daughters, Nancy, Olivia and Lisa, all at home; his mother, Ruby Galvin; three sisters, Mrs. Calvin (Virginia) Hussman, Quimby, Iowa, Mrs. Joe (Mary) Stratton, Ames, Iowa, and Mrs. Kendall (Marjorie) Krizer, Sioux City.

Dale Ware Jones Funeral Services Held in Allen

Funeral services for Dale Jones, 74, Allen, were held Aug. 22 at the Methodist Church in Allen. Mr. Jones died Aug. 18 at his home in Allen.

The Rev. J. B. Choate officiated at the rites. Debbie Jones sang "In The Garden" and "Jesus Is Always There," accompanied by Janice Hill. Pallbearers were Merle Jones, Kenneth Swanson, Roger Bockley, Maurice Swanson, Keith Hill and Albert Wilson. Burial was in the Eastview Cemetery, Allen.

Dale Ware Jones, son of Evan and Hloy Bradley Jones, was born Nov. 21, 1896 on a farm southeast of Allen. He attended schools in Dixon County, and at Lynch, Nebr. On Oct. 30, 1919, he married Ferna Chase in Wayne. He farmed the early part of his life in Dixon County, later moving to Allen where he was employed by the Farmers Elevator Company. He later worked for the Game and Parks Commission of the State of Nebraska. In 1960 he retired from active work and spent the remainder of his years in Allen. He was a member of the Methodist Church in Allen.

He was preceded in death by his wife in 1967; his parents; two brothers, and a sister. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jule (Phyllis) Swanson, Allen, and Mrs. Ervin (Angela) Bogley, Sioux City, Iowa; three sisters, Mrs. Mertle Wilson, Sierra Madre, Calif., Mrs. Verona Binkerd, Omaha, and Mrs. Joe Carr, Allen; one brother, Chester, Santa Ana, Calif.; five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

In the 12th century, an early form of tennis was played from horseback, National Geographic says. About 700 years ago it was played on foot, first using the hand, then later a glove, and finally a paddle that evolved into today's racket.

Dry corn for as little as 1 1/2¢ a bushel with this new oil-fired dryer.

You can save up to 40% on fuel costs over comparable LP-Gas drying equipment with this newly designed, oil-fired dryer. Field experience on more than one-half million bushels of corn during the past two years have proven the economics of this new Mathews Company grain dryer, fired by an Amoco Oil-Burner.

Farmers reported that the higher BTU content of fuel oil over LP-Gas (140,000 vs. 92,000 BTU per gallon), the radiant heat and complete burning, all result in lower operating costs.

With this clean-burning dryer you can harvest your crop at maturity, dry it properly for safe storage and sell prime quality grain at the most favorable time.

Ask any owner about his experience with this new, oil-fired dryer. And ask your nearby Standard Oil Farm Man about how you can own this money-maker.

Varied Activities Highlight Scouts' Trip to Northern Wilderness

It didn't last long enough—the week's camping trip that Scout Troop 174 of Wayne took to northern Wisconsin. Eleven boys and four men camped in a wilderness area about 11 miles northwest of Ely, Minn., on a lake-front tract owned by Scoutmaster Ray Replege. Veteran members of the troop counted it a highlight of their scout camping experience.

The trip to Ely, starting Aug. 16, provided numerous attractions, such as seeing a Minnesota-Cleveland baseball game at the Twin Cities, a tour through the Duluth harbor area where most of the boys got their first look at big ships, and a brief stop on the rocky shore of Lake Superior. There they heaved a bachel or two of rocks into the lake—with no visible result.

Setting up camp on the rugged terrain of the Replege land proved a challenge. The boys had to look hard to find a place big enough and clear of rocks to pitch tents in the dense birch forest. Most of this chore was accomplished at night after an hour of rain.

But the next days were filled with such important matters as cooking, fishing, tramping through the woods, cooking, chopping wood, fishing, swimming, scout lessons and fishing. Sometimes the boys didn't understand this any too well, but enough of them got hooked to provide several meals.

Scout skills included a nature tour led by Senior Patrol Leader Dale Tomrle, who explained the balance-of-nature-in-the-forest and swamp areas. On this tour Scoutmaster Replege took the boys to a towering pine tree, equipped with rope ladder, and you can guess what the boys did there. Scout lessons also included practice with map and compass, knife and axe, first aid, fire building and cooking.

Accompanying the troop were a pair of veteran Wayne fishermen, Al Morris and Alfred Koplin, who spent many hours afloat teaching the Scouts how to catch fish.

Directing activities were Scoutmaster Replege and myself, chairman of the troop committee.

SS-Q & A

Q—I have been getting social security payments since I was 62. I will be 65 in November. Will I have to bring my birth certificate and file another application so I can have Medicare?

A—No. Since you are receiving payments, we have already established your correct date of birth. You will automatically have hospital coverage beginning with the month you attain age 65. About 2 months before you become 65, you should receive a form through the mail concerning enrollment for the medical insurance under Medicare. You should promptly complete and return that form. No other application will be necessary.

Tourney Golfers Complete Final Rounds

Golfers met in the semi-final and final rounds of the annual Wayne County Club tournament over the weekend.

Golfers were to play the final rounds of the tournament, match play for the second year in a row, on Sunday. Most semi-final rounds were finished up Saturday.

Regardless of what happened over the weekend, a new champion was decided in the weekend play. Chuck Fisher, defending champion, lost to Jim Sturm to knock him out of contention for the honors in the championship flight.

Going into the semi-final round Saturday in the top flight were Bob Reeg vs. Tom Keenan and

Pair of 35's Low Rounds in Golf Play

A pair of 35's were low rounds against Wednesday night C&H League at the local country club.

Bob Reeg managed that one- under-par round on the back nine while Chuck Fisher turned the front nine one under. Both are 35 players.

Others in the top rank shooting respectable golf were Jim Marsh and Roger Bentley, both with 37's, and Del Stoltenberg with a 36.

Tops among the B players were Ralph Eder with a 39, Jim Potts with a 40 and Jerry Wittig and Joe Nuss with 41's. Pops among the C group: Dale Anderson with 43, Herb Bergt with 45 and Jim Keating and Ron Dalton with 46's.

Leading the American League by just a half a point is the trio of Kenny Whorley, John Moig and Cal Ward. In second place with 36 1/2 points is the trio of Bob Reeg, Don Johnson and Ron Dalton. In third with 34 points are Ken Dahl, Dick Berry and Dick Wacker.

Leading the National League with 33 points is the team of Del Stoltenberg, Lyle Garvin and Herb Bergt. Tied for second at 31 1/2 points are the team of Jerry Miller, Al Swan and Dick Arett and the team of George Froehlich, Joe Nuss and Bud Ken Dahl vs. Jim Sturm. Winners there were to play 38 holes Sunday to decide the new champion.

Playing in the finals of the First Flight, 12 holes, were Les Lutt and Fred Gilderleeve.

Other golfers still in contention going into the semi-finals and finals:

Second Flight—Bandy Rohlsen vs. George Penick.

Eighth Flight—Mac Auker vs. winner of Bill Koerber vs. O. K. Brandstetter.
Ninth Flight—Harold Stehlien vs. Bob Fleming and Larry Turner vs. Orwin Weatherholt.

Old Bill Getting Ready for Fair

How long have you been going to Nebraska's State Fair? One old-timer—Bill Buffalo—has been making the annual trek to Lincoln for the last 21 years.

Bill is a fish, a buffalo, each year since 1951, when he first came to the Fair, he has been a part of the Game and Parks Commission's popular fish exhibit. Once again during this year's Fair—Sept. 2-8, he will star in the commission's variety display.

Bill joins a variety of his fluky relatives. From frisky trout to lazy catfish, fish of all sizes and kinds will be on view, giving anglers and other nature-lovers a chance to observe and learn something about the different species.

Though Bill has been a State Fair headliner for 21 seasons, his exact age is not known. Buffalo normally live up to 30 years, and it is thought that Bill is probably close to that. Besides his age, he is one of the largest buffalo fish in the state, larger by 75 pounds than the official state hook-and-line record. He weighs 92 pounds.

When he is not showing off at the Fair, Bill spends his time at the commission's fish hatchery in Valentine. He and the other exhibit fish are transported to Lincoln in special tank trucks. After the Fair, Bill will return to his home in the hatchery pond.

Deadline for Blinds At Plattsmouth Near

Waterfowl hunters wanting a blind reservation at Plattsmouth Waterfowl Management Area for the 1971 goose hunt have little more than a week to submit their applications to the Game and Parks Commission.

A public drawing will be held on Sept. 7 to determine holders of reservations for eight blinds during the Oct. 15-Dec. 15 season. Original plans called for hunting there to be closed each Wednesday, but the Game Commission at their August meeting decided to schedule hunting seven days per week.

Application forms may be obtained by writing the Game and Parks Commission, P. O. Box 30327, Lincoln, Neb. 68593.

In addition to the eight blinds for reservation holders, there will be open to hunters later in the season. These additional blinds will be allocated daily to hunters, present at the area, through a drawing prior to shooting hours.

The first geese of the fall migration usually show up at Plattsmouth about the first week in October. The number grows from a few hundred to about 5,000 in mid-October, and peaks as high as 90,000 from mid to late November.

Cottontails, Squirrels Fair Game Sept. 1

Nebraska gunners will open the 1971, semi-game seasons on Sept. 1, as cottontails and squirrels become legal game across the state one-half hour before sunrise.

Hunters will bring their trusty small-bore rifles and scatterguns to bear on squirrels for a hunt that lasts through Jan. 31, and on cottontails for a season running through Feb. 29. Limits of seven per day and 21 in possession for each species should give gunners ample latitude for many successful hunts.

Last year, some 40,000 hunters pursued cottontails, bagging some 227,000 animals. The bundles provided about 200,000 hunters days of recreation, and gunners averaged slightly more than one per day.

Some 25,000 gunners went after squirrels during 1970, bagging about 125,000 bushytails. The daily bag for bushytails also averaged about one per day.

The entire state is open to both rabbit and squirrel hunting. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Winside Wildcats Workout

Coch Coach Doug Barry puts his Winside Wildcats through their paces in preparation for opening the gridiron season on the home field against Emerson Sept. 10. Thirty-four boys make up the 'Cats fighting work this year. Barry said "We lost quite a few boys through graduation last year, and they'll be hard to replace, but things are looking good." Doug Barclay and Marcel Kramer are assisting Barry with coaching duties.

Teaching is the largest of the professions. Some 2.5 million men and women were full-time teachers in the Nation's elementary schools, secondary schools, and colleges and universities during the 1968-69 school year, the 1970-71 edition of the Occupational Outlook Handbook reports.

Sherry Tops 'Pull' at County Fair

Dan Sherry earned top honors in the 5,000 pound hot rod class during the Dixon County Fair last week. He defeated David Barker for top money in the class. Taking the 5,000 pound stock class competition was Fred Harman. Coming in behind him were Wayne Newton in second place and Fred Herman and Larry Malcom.

Results of the other pulls, with drivers listed in order of finish: —2,000 Pound: David Olson, Elfred Smith, Dennis Meyer. —9,000 Pound: Louis Gatzmeyer, Larry Malcom, Darrel Conrad.

—12,000 Pound: Regg Lubbersich, Dwight Johnson, Kenneth Rickett.

Advancing the colors will be the sponsors of the program, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliary.

Music for the ceremonies is to be presented by the Trojan Band under the direction of Mrs. Lyle Trullinger.

Darryl Lehan, Wayne State College basketball coach, will briefly address the outdoor assembly. Wakefield Boy Scouts have charge of raising the flag prior to the introduction of school staff members.

Elementary and high school students will go to classes immediately following the program.

During fiscal 1970, three out of four workers hired in the Job Opportunities in the Business Sector program were black and one out of eight was Spanish-surnamed. On the average, they had 23 weeks of unemployment prior to participation in the program, 10.3 years of school, and an annual income of $2,400.
