Worth a Compliment

We hope you read the article in Thursday's Issue of The Wayne Herald about the actual tax levy which will be needed to support the Wayne-Carroll, school district for this year.

This should come as a pleasant surprise for taxpayers considering that school of itelas had estimated that the levy would rise over two mills.

school district.

Taxpayers can't expect to keep the same quality in the education they offer their children without at least a slight increase in cost year by year. After all, what-has-happened to your grocery bill or clothing bill over the last five years?

Yet, the school board has succeeded in offering quality education for students in the district for another year at only a slight increase in costs. That, we feel, deserves a compliment.— NLH:

A Move Toward Efficiency

Wayne County commissioners took action earlier this year designed to increase efficiency in the road maintenance department which is expected to result in better services to residents.

Commissioners Floyd Burt, Ken Ed-commissioners riogi sur, hen ca-dle and loe Wilson took action in February uthorizing the county to pay county road aintenance crewmen for overtime work.

Norris Weible, clerk, recently noted t Wayne County has not previously vided overtime pay.

Since the commissioner's action, men are paid $2 per hour for 40 and $3 per hour for overtime.

he county board has noted that the me pay arrangement makes it pos-for a crew out on the job-with a only an hour's work left on a ct at quitting time—to complete the Job and make the equipment available at another location the next day.

Overtime pay will also make it possible—if necessary—for men and machines. To continue working around the clock clearing roads this winter in the event of severe soowstorms.

The county has fielded numerous complaints in past years from rural residents who have noticed county equipment being moved to and from snow-removal jobs. They complained the maintainers were moving along the roads with their blades up and not doing anything.

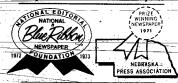

At this point it appears the decision to pay crewmen for overtime work is a wise one which—if not abused—should make equipment operation more, efficient—and—provide, residents with better road service, particularly this winter.—MMW.

Would you believe that I didn't have any better sense than to write the company a personal retter pointing out that I had paid for the gadget in full and that the $2.98 must be their computer's mistake?

mistabe" it's a story too long to tell but I fired six letters like she solid shots at the company, and their computer—not to be outsmitted—fired depth sets bills in return. It was obvious the computer bad taken over the office and was running everything while the staff was on vacation. So to get it out of my hair I sent the darn thing $2.98 and wished it a happy birthad with the day's small the computer words in return and gave modice hat Liad overpayed my account and had $2.98 in credit.

Wolske Auto announces the most successful space program in Wayne

This space program has nothing to do with moon walks. It's got everything to do with Pontiacs.

You see, when you're lucky enough to be selling Pontiacs, you get a lot of business. And to make sure everybody we serve gets the kind of service they deserve, we've provided new space. New facilities.

What's in it for you? Well, it means we can serve you even better. Faster. More comfortably. Which means you'll be better satisfied.

So come on over. Take a look at our new look. Talk with our staff. And drive our 1972 Wide Track Pontiacs After all, how often do you get a chance to be part of a space program?

Come in and see our bigger, better facilities.
