'Don't Wait Too Long to Market Cattle'

Disaster could face cattle feeders if cattle are carried to excessive weight and finish late this winter, experts warned stockmen at the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association Outlook meeting Monday night. Prospective cheap, plentiful feed and possible continued high cost of replacement cattle may encourage feeders to wait too long before marketing, warned Thomas Vaughn, a livestock futures expert for First Mid-America broker.

Marketing system during the last 10 years. Iowa and Nebraska feeders are putting themselves out of business by grade-and-yield selling, Hanks stressed. He stressed the lack of personal control of these sales conditions by the feeders. Hanks indicated he expected little improvement in fed cattle prices even if formal government "freeze" of beef prices is terminated. Over 200 stockmen attended the social hour, dinner and market outlook discussion, held at Laurel. Producer optimism was indicated by a large "pre-sale" of feeders' Association memberships.

LH Royalty Selected

Penny Bruggeman and Bruce Johnson show their pleasure over being selected queen and king of the 1971 homecoming at Laurel High School Friday night. Winside Personnel

Winside High School Principal Ron Kramer and Duane Mackey, guidance counselor, joined other area school personnel attending an American College Testing (ACT) seminar in Norfolk Wednesday.

Objectives of the seminar included: a demonstration of how ACT reports can be useful to students and parents in making plans for college; an explanation of a career planning program, and procedures used in ACT's educational opportunity service.

The American College Test is an exam recommended to be taken by all students planning to attend college, Kramer said. Winside juniors and seniors planning on attending college are urged to contact the Winside counselor so arrangements can be made to take the test.

In other school news, Winside was host Tuesday to four area schools at a clinic concerning publication of school annuals. Schools other than Winside represented were Wakefield, Wymore, Newcastle and Crofton.

Plans Set for Chest Drive

Plans to kick off the $10,000 Community Chest campaign at a breakfast slated Oct. 5 were announced Wednesday by the Chest board following a noon business meeting at Bill's Cafe. Darrel Fuebberth, president, said the kickoff breakfast is set for 7 a.m. on Oct. 5 at Les' Steak House.

Bill Hillier is chairman of this year's financial campaign. He is being assisted by Willard Wilse, co-chairman. There will not be a door-to-door drive in the residential areas, Fuebberth said, but there

Fox, unit director of the alcoholic service at Hastings Regional Center; Rex Thompson, project coordinator of the alcoholic service at Hastings Regional Center; Larry Wilson, counselor at Hastings; and Dr. Howard Herrick, clinical director of the Norfolk Regional Center.

Dr. Arthur Dugan was appointed Friday as dean of the Wayne State College School of Education during a meeting of the State College Board of Trustees in Lincoln.

Dr. Dugan, a member of the WSC education faculty since 1967, had been acting dean after the death of Dr. Walter Peterson in August. The new dean earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Kansas State College, Pittsburg, and his doctorate from the University of Wyoming. He taught in city and rural elementary and secondary schools and a junior college in Kansas for seven years.

From 1947 to 1959 he was head of the department of extension classes at the University of Wyoming. Then he served six years as president of Ellendale State Teachers College, North Dakota.

At Wayne State he served on the faculty senate and several college committees. He also was appointed to the Board of Trustees committee for policies, rules and regulations. Among other actions Friday, the trustees accepted the resignation of Dr. Milton J. Hessel as president of Kearney State, effective Jan. 31, 1972. Dr. Hessel was on the Wayne State faculty for 10 years and served as acting president after the death of President John D. Icke and before the appointment of President W. A. Brandenburg. From Wayne he went to Manitoba State College, Minnesota, as academic dean, then to Kearney as president. DR. DUGAN, page 6

112 Leaders Attend Training Sessions

One hundred twelve extension club leaders and interested home-makers from the five county northeast Nebraska area recently attended the training sessions for the extension lesson, "Custom Touches."

Homemakers learned to make the fine hand stitches used on quality ready-to-wear garments. These finishing touches can be used by homemakers who sew their own garments, or the stitches might be added to ready-made, enabling a woman to add her own creativity to garments. Among the stitches learned were the half-back or pick stitch used for hand-stitched collars and for decorative topstitching.

Decorative reinforcement stitches such as arrowhead tacks, crows' foot tacks and bar tacks were practiced. Women also learned to make French tacks used for belt carriers and thread loop buttonholes.

Salute to Aviation

Wayne operates one of the 90 municipal airports in the state receiving recognition during September, a month designated by Gov. J. J. Exon as General Aviation Recognition Month.

Nebraska ranks first in the nation in state-owned navigation, communication and weather facilities and has 7,260 registered aircraft. There are 1,295 registered aircraft, 90 municipal airports, 18 commercial airports, 211 personal use airports, 7 heliports and 7 government airports in the state.

The municipal airport at the east edge of our city is one of the few operated by a city of comparable size that features 24-hour operation and an all-weather, hard-surfaced runway.

Wayne Air Service is operated by Don Johnson and serves all of northeast

Nebraska with flight instruction and ground school classes.

If one were to draw a line on a map from Yankton, S. D. to Norfolk, to Omaha, and back to Yankton via the Missouri River, the enclosed area of northeast Nebraska features but one municipally owned airport with a hard-surfaced runway and that is at Wayne, Norfolk and Sioux City, of course, both on the imaginary boundary lines—operate large municipal facilities.

Private and corporately owned aircraft continue to play an important role in the transportation picture in Nebraska, as do the airlines.

Wayne is about to be declared a first class city and residents may well take pride in having a part in making Nebraska a progressive state inasmuch as aviation is concerned. — MDW.

Growing Old

People have been growing old for as long as the human race can remember—not quite as old as most of us expect to become, by the grace of God and antibiotics.

It seems now that there is a widespread feeling that the aged have become a class whose welfare should be the responsibility of the federal bureaucracy.

We agree with a spokesman from the Philadelphia Department of Public Health who noted at the White House in Washington during a conference on aging that the tendency to make old age a problem is a manifestation of an underlying disease—a family, cultural and social fragmentation and breakdown.

Thus what used to be intimate family problems become matters for the marriage counselor, the psychiatrist, the disciplinary school.

Grandfather and grandmother, instead of enjoying an honored position in the home, became a problem for social solution. That children, as well as the state, have some responsibility for the care of their elders is generally known.

A brochure issued by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare suggests that parents now live so long that they can no longer expect to remain "a part of their younger relatives' family."

The idea of a state's limitations on family loyalty is something new. It doesn't sound good. — MMW.

Or all the same!" "My gosh, my wife must be sitting someplace else. Thelma, where are you? Are you around here someplace?" "You hoo, I'm over here. And listen here, you ding-a-ling, the next time we eat out and you flirt around with a strange woman, I'm getting a divorce!"

I never got to hear the end of the conversation, said to say, because somebody wanted me... on the telephone. What a ding-a-ling world.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor: After I read the account a few weeks ago of a council meeting where a Wayne grocery store man wanted a permit to sell beer in his store, I felt compelled to write. First, I want to say "congratulations" to the three men who voted against it. What a flimsy excuse was given for wanting to sell it! I can't imagine any woman who drinks it who would hesitate to go to a tavern and buy some. But there may be a few. All you have to do is walk by a beer joint on Thursday night in Wayne and you will be surprised at some of the women you see there.

I think a grocery store is no place to sell beer — and anyone who tries to do is only thinking of material gains and certainly not the lives of others. In this day when we see beer and liquor splashed on billboards, TV, newspapers and magazines, in liquor store, hotel, tavern, cafe and steak house windows — why do we need to see beer ads in our grocery ads?

If, for one, am all for keeping beer out of our grocery stores in Wayne and making it a place where ALL people will feel at home to buy.

No, I'm not ashamed to let you sign my name.

Mrs. Elvis Olson

Dear Editor: Wayne I have recently observed the heavy traffic at Fifth and Main after school lets out. The traffic is heavy enough that crossing the intersection by the school children is quite a challenge because there are no traffic lights. I have witnessed more than one near tragedy when an auto failed to stop or yield to pedestrians in cross walks. It seems to me that if any motorist with common sense would watch for pedestrians in marked crosswalks and let them cross the street. In most states I have traveled in, a motorist would be arrested for not yielding to pedestrians in cross walks.

Passing laws can not solve the problem in itself any more than enforcing the law will prevent all tragedies that occur. I believe a good education program by our law enforcement agencies can do more good than anything else.

I hope someone can teach our motorists how not to run over our children. If this one letter, an editorial or a front page spread would stop one child from being maimed or killed we would sure thank the Lord we made an effort. Name Withheld Upon Request

Just Wright

Ah! But call them from the upstairs extension and they'll run to the downstairs phone!

"Hi, what did you do at school today?" "Dad? What are you doing on the phone? I thought it really was somebody's" your teenie exclaims.

"No, it's just me. How's school?" "Gee, it's great. Hey, dad? You know that 36-34-36 teacher in Room 608? She is really something groovy! For instance, today she was just about to give us a test when somebody called her out of class to the telephone and we never did have the exam!"

"My gosh," you gasp, "Even the teachers are ding-a-linging with the ding-a-linging."

But it is one way you can get to talk to your kids, right? I'd finish this conversation, but if you'll excuse me, I've got to go answer the phone.

While we're talking about communicating with kids, a local father was in the office the other day and was telling us about the good mail service from Hong Kong. No lie. Bill Richardson stopped in a minute and said his son — a Navy man on the U. S. S. Tomihee — mailed a letter from Hong Kong postmarked Sept. 16 and the letter was delivered in Wayne on the 18th. That is really something since it also takes three days to get a letter just from here to...

"Excuse me, I'm wanted on the phone." It's the post office.

Say, have you gone out to eat lately? Is it just me, or are most of all of the eating places getting darker? Everybody knows the blackout started a long time ago in fancy city restaurants, but it is rapidly spreading.

All over the country from New York to San Francisco restaurant owners are snatching the light bulbs and replacing them with short-burning and short-wattage incandescent lights. It's like eating in a tent on a moonless night.

And have you ever noticed that the same interior decorator evidently has his hand in fixing up all the cozy places? Whoever he was, he most likely was crazy about black tables, black beams, black-painted swords, metallic finishes and red tablecloths. Red carpet was also added in many cases.

Upon arriving at the restaurant with mind humming about a delicious steak, one is greeted by a hard-to-see figure moving about the dark. You are taken on into the ever-darkening interior past the clusters of tableware and muffled conversation. The thought occurs that perhaps as you get into the center of the room, the lights will be snapped on and everybody will start yelling "Surprise!" — but they don't.

Another face looms out of the dark. Is it Halloween and someone is attempting to frighten you with a trick-or-treat? Nope! It's the waiter who wants to know if you want something to drink.

Not long ago while eating out in Sioux City, we had the auditing that's a big word — careful how you handle it) to tell the waiter we didn't care for booze before our $1.50 Salisbury steak (you can see we're big spenders!).

Well, now, you would have thought we had just told him that his granitic hit the dust. That look! Then he vanished. Being of a suspicious mind, I figured he was putting our table number on the ptomaine poison list. Maybe he was going to answer the phone because he was gone for a half hour. Maybe he called the boss to see if it was all right economically to serve folk who didn't order some happy juice.

Well, the fellow finally returned and we ordered. An hour later we had our food on the table. It was delicious and so was the conversation from the next table between people we couldn't see.

"Is that you, sweetheart?" "Your's truly, honey."

"What made you so late?" "Late? I'm not late. I had to go get

John Finn Is Making It Big

(This story and cartoon were printed in the September 16th issue of The Wichita Beacon.)

For John C. Finn, president of Finn Distributing Co. Inc., business in Wichita and in Kansas is booming.

"In fact," he noted, "business is up more than 20 per cent over last year."

"And," he added, "last year was the biggest year in our history."

Finn, now 45, grew up on a farm in Nebraska. He was born March 29, 1926, at Carroll, Neb., a son of Matt and Mary Finn.

He attended a country school a few miles from his parents' home. "It was really a small country school," he said. "There were usually only about 15 students attending all eight grades."

One of the things he remembers most about the school, he said, was the closing for two weeks each year to allow the students to help at harvest time.

He graduated from the country school in 1939 and entered Wayne (Nebr.) High School.

When he got into high school, Finn said, not only did the fall harvest vacation continue each year but it got longer. "While I was in high school," he said, "I spent three to five weeks each fall working in the harvest."

Finn graduated from Wayne High School at Christmas of 1943. Finn had an emergency appendectomy. Complications followed and by New Year's Eve a blood clot developed.

"In those days," he said, "they (physicians) did not know how to treat such things."

But in several months he had recovered. In July, 1944 he entered the U. S. Army, and soon was transferred to the Army Air Corps for training.

In June, 1945 another blood clot developed and he was given a medical discharge from service.

After his discharge he returned to Nebraska and in 1946 he went to work for the J. D. Kury Wholesale Tobacco and Candy Co. at Norfolk.

"I started as an accountant for the firm but I soon went into sales, along with the accounting," he said.

He remained with the firm for four years.

"The next nine months," he said, "is a period I would just like to forget. During this time I was in the restaurant business."

The problems resulting from this venture into the restaurant business made it a short lived project, he said.

In 1952 Finn went to work as a route salesman for Gillette Dairy, Norfolk. He remained with Gillette until 1952 when he moved to Hays, Kan.

The move to Hays, he said, was so he could go to work for his brother, Leo, who then operated Finn Distributing Co. At this time the firm was distributor for Amann products in Kansas.

While working for his brother, John traveled the state of Kansas. "During this time," he said, "we (he and his wife, Marge, and family) moved to Wichita."

Finn met Marge Ward at Norfolk. They were married May 8, 1947. "We met after I returned from service," he said.

The Finns have six children, Robert, 23, a graduate of Wichita State University; Mrs. Judy Sullivan, 22, a graduate of University of Kansas; Jeanne, 20, a junior at Sacred Heart; Joanne, 18, freshman at Kansas State University; Donald, 17, a student at Ponca City (Oklahoma) Military Academy; and Joyce, 15, a student at St. Thomas Aquinas Elementary School.

Finn said his son, Robert, has joined the family business and is learning first-hand its operation.

In 1960 Finn decided to purchase Finn Distributing from his brother and move its headquarters to Wichita.

Finn said that after purchasing the firm he added the Sylvania line in about 1963 and the Tappan line in 1970.

"The volume of business done is now about 500,000 or five times that of when I purchased the firm," he said.

On a dollar basis, he said, the firm has grown from several hundred thousand dollars a year to in excess of $2 million a year.

The firm also has grown from four employees in 1960 to 14 employees now, he said.

In addition to his distributing business, he also has several other interests, he said, which includes some real estate holdings.

Finn is an avid golfer and has won a number of trophies in the amateur division of the annual Amann-Professionals-Amateur Golf Tournaments.

In this year's tournament he won a silver bowl in the competition.

He recalls two of the high points of his early golfing career — two hole-in-one shots on the seventh hole at Wichita golf courses.

"The first hole-in-one," Finn said, "was at Spring Valley Country Club the first year I was playing golf. This was about seven or eight years ago."

"The following year," he said, "I had a hole-in-one at Clapp Park Golf Course. Both of these hole-in-one were on the seventh hole," he said.

Finn said he had few other hobbies except golf. "Well," he added, "except tennis which I have just started playing."

Finn said the years of route sales work with the candy and tobacco firm and the dairy provided a good background for his later success. The time spent traveling through Kansas while working for his brother provided a world of sales experience.

"If we are the first to climb this mountain, how did those beer cans get here?"

NORTHEAST EXTENSION Notes

by Anna Marie Kreifels

Quality Heavy-Made Clothes
Cooler weather makes shoppers look for heavier fabrics, fall colors and new styles. The wise shopper asks both "How will it look?" and "How long will it last?"

Price should not be the only guide to quality. A well-constructed garment will look stylish and give lasting service.

Learn to check quality as you shop. Look inside garments and note construction. Hems should be generous in width and stitched so as not to show on the right side. Seam tape, if used, should be firmly woven and neatly applied.

Loosely woven fabrics should have an adequate seam finish to prevent edges from raveling.

Double knits of polyester or wool fibers do not ravel and therefore do not require a seam finish. Broken seam lines and puckered seams should not be in evidence. Darts should be stitched to a sharp, smooth point.

Check readymades for reinforcements—at pocket corners, shoulder seams, armpits seams and underarm seams of raglan sleeves.

Note care instructions on the label. Buttons and trims should require the same care as the garment. Save the labels from your readymades because they provide the answers to doubts which may later arise regarding fiber content and care of the garment.

Neligh Grid Team Is Wayne's Latest Victim

The Wayne High Blue Devils continued to show their prowess in the Husker Conference Friday night, ripping Neligh for a 45-7 victory.

The win, Wayne's third straight this season, leaves few people with any doubts about the strength and depth of the local club.

Wayne scored almost at will against the winless Neligh team, even after Coach Allen Hansen sent in his second and third squads, something he began doing as early as the second period.

For those who might need proof of Wayne's dominance in the West Husker contest, played at Wayne, these statistics should be illuminating.

Total offense: Wayne 466 yards, Neligh 79 yards.

Number of plays run: Wayne 71, Neligh 32.

It took the Devils a few minutes to get rolling, but once that happened they were in command throughout the contest. They scored seven points the opening frame, exploded for 25 in the second, added nine more in the third and seven in the fourth.

Here's how the scoring came about:

—Mike Chin, pass interception returned 27 yards; kick for extra point by Doug Sturm; first period.

—Sturm, run from nine yards out; kick for extra point by Sturm; second period.

—Warner, 16-yard run; second period.

—Ken Frahm, 42-yard run on pass; kick; second period.

—Ed Bull, 11-yard pass completion; kick for extra point by Terry Hasbrook;

—Sturm, field goal from 26 yards out; third period.

—Joe Roberts, run from 16 yards away; third period.

—Randy Workman, 19-yard run; kick for extra point by Terry Hasbrook; —Neligh finally broke its scoring drought against Wayne's reserves in the fourth period when Dan Gadeken plunged into the end zone from a yard away. The point after kick was good.

Wayne's hardheaded defense constantly harassed the Neligh offense, coming up with five interceptions in the evening.

Plating those aerials were Ginn (27 yards for a touchdown), Frahm (42 yards for a touchdown), Randy Nelson (two for five yards) and Dan Hansen (one for three yards).

Wayne may receive its biggest test of the season Friday night when Stanton plays host to the Devils. The contest could give a good clue as to who may emerge with West Husker laurels this season.

Blomh was top rusher for the winning squad, coming up with 48 yards in 14 carries.

The two teams were fairly even in statistics. Allen had eight first downs, Ponca five.

The Eagles churned out a total of 152 yards (118 in the air, 34 on the ground) while Ponca compiled 130 (94 in the air, 36 on the ground).

The Eagles will travel to Homer Friday night as they move into a busy week. Tuesday of next week they are at Wakefield, then host Newcastle a week from this coming Friday night.

Warmer kicked both extra points.

The Eagles scored a third time in the third period when Warner intercepted a Ponca aerial and ran it 28 yards for the score. He kicked his fourth extra point of the evening to give the Eagle the almost insurmountable lead with about three minutes to play in the third frame.

Allen's second team offense was unable to score in the fourth period while sparing the first squad, but the tough Allen de-

22-6 Loss to Hartington Spoils Cats' Homecoming

Hartington High dampened Winside's homecoming Friday night, handing the Wildcats a 22-6 setback.

The loss gives the Cats a 2-1 season mark and an 0-1 record in the west division of the Lewis and Clark Conference.

They'll get another chance to please themselves and their followers Friday night when they host Wausa, new to the L&C loop this year.

Scott Deck and LaRue Langenberg teamed up Friday night to keep the Wildcats from being blanketed in the homecoming tilt. Deck fired a TD pass to Langenberg which covered 70 yards with just under nine minutes left to play in the game.

But the damage had been done by that time. Here's how:

—On a safety when an alert Hartington defensive player tackled the Winside ball carrier in his own endzone on the third play of the game. Time left in the first quarter: 10:53.

—On a one-yard run with 3:31 to play in the first half. The score was set-up by two long runs.

—On an intercepted pass which the thief ran back 20 yards for the score with just over two minutes to play before intermission.

—On a four-yard run with 9:33 left in the game after a pass, moved Hartington from midfield to Winside's 10.

Coach Doug Barry said that his team's defense looked very good even though Hartington scored three touchdowns. Winside's offense is still ragged and needs work if it is to come out of this season, he said.

Leading that that defense were Rob Langenberg with four tackles and four assists, Jon Behmer with three and five and a fumble recovery; and Dean Krueger with three and six. Jamey Junter got the other fumble recovery for Winside and Dave Jager intercepted one of Hartington's aerials.

Winside had a minus 28 yards in rushing while piling up 215 yards on 10 pass completions. Hartington gained 92 yards on passes, 188 by rushing.

Also strong on defense for Coach Bob Olson were three players with seven tackles and three assists each: Gary Chace, Kirk McCoy and Bruce Johnson. Dan Vanderhieden had one pass interception to go with his six tackles and three assists.

The Laurel club will face another test Friday night when Plainview plays host to the Bears.

Laurel is now 1-2 for the season and 1-2 in West Husker play.

Pierce Shuts Out Laurel, 35-0

Pierce avenged its loss a year ago to Laurel high by blanking the Bears, 35-0, Friday night.

The defeat cooled the spirits of the Laurel students for their homecoming activities. It also marked the second defeat in three outings for the struggling Bears.

Goose Season Opens Saturday

Waterfowlers in Nebraska will break out their goose calls, decoys and heaviest scattering artillery for a go-at-geese during Nebraska's season, which opens one-half hour before sunrise on Saturday.

Most of the early shooting for the 76-day season will go to gunners in eastern Nebraska, as blues and snows work their way south. Their favorite route includes the counties bordering the Missouri River, but some birds also stop along the eastern Platte Valley, the Elkhorn Valley and other waters a bit farther west.

Prime goose hunting will not begin in western Nebraska until November and after since most of the birds passing through that area are later-migrating "canadas. Some early shooting may be had there, though, since Box Butte Reservoir often attracts a small flock of blues and snows.

Regulations for this year's hunt are basically the same as for last year, except that gunners in Keith County will be limited to one Canada instead of two after December 1.

A portion of the Sand Hills will again be closed to the shooting of Canadas and white-fronted geese.

Gunners will again be shooting for a generous five-bird bag and possession limit. In all but the restricted areas, the daily bag may include no more than one Ross' goose, plus two Canadas or one white-fronted goose and one Canada. The rest of the bag may be filled with blue or snow geese.

Pierce completely dominated the contest, especially after getting an easy touchdown in the first half when a Pierce player fell on a bobbed catch of one of Pierce's punts in Laurel's endzone.

The visitors managed to rack up over 310 yards in the air and on the ground while limiting Laurel to 149 both ways.

Laurel's aerial attack spluttered throughout the contest. Keith Olson managed to connect on only two of a dozen attempts for 15 yards. Steve McCormick caught one of those passes for 12 yards and Bill Dalton caught the other one for three yards.

Allen Eagles Rip Ponca Gridders, 34-0

Sparring running by Duane Mitchell and booming punts by John Warner highlighted Allen's 34-0 swamping of arch rival Ponca Friday night.

The Eagles collected the big win to give them a 1-0-1 mark for the year and a 1-0 record in the East Lewis and Clark Conference.

Mitchell, a junior, compiled 177 yards on kick and punt returns as he ripped through Ponca's defense to set up Allen for two easy touchdowns which helped blow the game apart in the third period.

With Allen ahead by 13-0 at intermission, Mitchell scampered 49 yards with one of Ponca's punts with just over eight minutes left in the third period, taking the ball all the way to the one yard line before being pulled down. Warner took the ball in for the TD.

About four minutes later freshman Paul Snyder, called on to do quarterback chores because of the slight concussion suffered by Scott Von Minden in practice earlier in the week, rolled in from one yard away after Mitchell returned a punt about 80 yards to within feet of Ponca's goal. Warner booted the extra point.

Allen kept the visiting Indians in their own territory all of the game—thanks in large part to the punting and kicking efforts of Warner.

A senior—he boomed out six punts for 252 yards and a 43-yard average. His kicks, six of them, totaled 213 yards for a 35-yard average.

Those kicks forced Ponca to start from deep in their own territory much of the night.

Allen tallied two touchdowns the first half—one in the first quarter on a 40-yard pass from Warner to Mitchell and one in the second quarter on a 55-yard pass from Snyder to sophomore Charlie Peters.

Warner kicked both extra points.

The Eagles scored a third time in the third period when Warner intercepted a Ponca aerial and ran it 28 yards for the score. He kicked his fourth extra point of the evening to give the Eagle the almost insurmountable lead with about three minutes to play in the third frame.

Local Frosh Sneak Past LH, 14-0

Wayne's freshmen football team squeezed out a 14-0 win over Laurel's reserves Thursday at Wayne.

The freshmen had to rely for scoring on Marty Hansen's aerial theft and keeper. He managed both in the second quarter, the theft covering 25 yards and the keeper going 20 yards.

Steve Brandt, who turned out to be the leading rusher with 25 yards in five carries, ran for the extra points after the first score.

Leading defensive efforts were turned in by Rick Mitchell and Earle Overin, both with nine tackles, and Craig Noyes with seven. Hansen had four tackles to go along with his two pass interceptions.

The local frosh play West Point High at Wayne on Thursday. The game is set for 4 p.m. on the practice field south of West Elementary.

Mable Guides Pender Past Trojans, 27-12

Pender, one of the strongest teams in the East Husker Conference, extended its season record to a perfect 3-0 Friday by smothering Wakefield, 27-12, in a Homecoming victory.

Harry Mable, junior quarterback, displayed almost a one-man offense as he scampered for touchdowns of 70 and 51 yards and tossed a 26-yard scoring strike to senior end John Smith for a third touchdown.

Pender scored on the third play from scrimmage as Mable scampered 70 yards through the Trojan defense. The point after was good.

The second quarter Mable hit Smith in the endzone.

After receiving the kick, senior halfback Kevin Peters powered his way through several Penderons and rambled 73 yards for the first Trojan score. The point after was blocked.

After an exchange of possessions, senior defensive end Jerry Nicholson recovered a Penderon fumble on the Trojan 32. Sophomore quarterback Doug Soderberg hit fullback Kirk Gardner on scrimmage for the final TD to put the game on ice.

In the fourth quarter, Mable again sparked the Penderon offense as he romped 51 yards from scrimmage for the final TD to put the game on ice.

Koski added his third extra point. The Trojans were led offensively by Peters with 108 yards in 10 carries, Gardner with 30 yards in eight carries and Telford with 29 yards in six carries. Pender's Mable led his team with 111 yards in five carries.

Nicholson and Gardner anchored the Trojan defense with 10 tackles each. Jack Slevens added six more.

Next action for the Trojans will be Friday at Pender and Tuesday, Oct. 5, with Allen at Wakefield.

Winside School Plans to Host Exchange Pupil

A 16-year-old youth from Brazil may get the opportunity to study at Winside High School during the second semester providing arrangements can be completed.

He noted that before such plans can be completed, at least two host families must be found.

The Brazilian youth is sophomore, plays basketball and volleyball, and has hopes of becoming a medical doctor-like his father, Kramer said.

If two hosts families are found, and arrangements completed, the student will arrive in mid-December and will remain through May 1972.

Any family interested in providing a home for the exchange pupil is asked to contact Principal Ronald Kramer at the Winside High School.

Bill Would Give Tax Break for Auto Insurance

Automobile owners will get an additional break on their federal income taxes if a proposal supported by the Nebraska Association of Mutual Insurance Agents is adopted by Congress.

The national association has proposed that automobile owners be permitted to deduct their insurance premiums on their income tax forms, according to Howard Kimbell.

Kimbell, of the Kimbell Insurance Agency of Allen noted that there is a bill in the House of Representatives along the line of the NAMA proposal.

The bill would permit a taxpayer to deduct up to $150 a year for premiums paid on a motor vehicle insurance policy.

Kimbell, a mutual insurance agent, said he feels passage of the bill is the "only immediate answer to the high cost of auto coverage." Insurance rates are going higher for auto owners and the cost is a factor in the number of uninsured motorists, he said.

The U. S. Department of Transportation estimates that 15 million of the nation's 75 million passenger cars are not covered by insurance, Kimbell said. "A tax deduction for auto insurance would discourage this." There is no reason why auto insurance should not be deductible, Kimbell said. "Health insurance premiums have been deductible since 1942."

The bill may not be passed unless Congressmen and Senators feel a demand from their constituents. Kimbell urged local automobile owners to write Nebraska's Washington delegation asking that they support the bill in Congress.

which occurred sometime late Friday night, and said Roger D. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson, was northbound in a 1955 Ford.

The auto left the road, according to the report, entered the left ditch and slammed into a tree near a driveway on the Ray Keller farm.

The youth was taken to the Wayne Hospital and transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Sioux City.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Laurel.

Close examination of the animal will distinguish channel catfish from blue catfish. The channel catfish is rounded with 24 to 28 rays, while the blue's has a straight edge and 30 to 35 rays. Another clue is coloration. The blue catfish is nearly white, with only a hint of blue, while the channel cat is much darker.
