Buying Secondhand Furniture

Stretching the decorating dollar can be possible by buying secondhand furniture. Household auction sales or secondhand stores often have good "buys" but the shopper should be armed with a "background" knowledge of furniture construction to determine quality.

The key to selecting secondhand furniture is imagination—picturing how a piece will look when cleaned up and polished or refinished, with new hardware and in the place it is to be used.

When buying wood furniture check the inner construction carefully. If the drawers do not open easily, it may indicate either warping or poor construction. There should be a protective dust panel partition to keep contents from jamming between drawers.

WS Coaches Trying to Tune Up Sputtering Wildcats

by Dick Manley

Maybe this is the week Wayne State's football machine works on all 11 cylinders.

The Wildcats did more tuning up this week, and if they improve as they did against Washburn Saturday, though losing by 14-7, Wayne could handle the University of Nebraska at Omaha a second straight year.

UNO comes to Wayne's Memorial Field Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. clash which matches two strong defenses against inexperienced offenses. Neither team has moved well. UNO lost first and third games while slipping by Northwest Missouri, 9-0, in the second game. Morningstar, which will be Wayne's final season foe, trounced UNO, 39-14, and Abilene Christian beat the Omahans, 29-6.

Coach Del Stollenberg has alternated quarterbacks in two games. Jim Kearney of David City started both, but Marty Goring of Tekamah finished both. At mid-week, Stollenberg said, Goring seems to have the edge to start against Omaha.

He plans to continue using former defensive linemen Mike Wynn and Ken Monroe at the offensive guard spots.

"They made a difference against Washburn," he said. "The line did much better in moving the ball with a stouter line to spring the backs."

Wayne outplayed Washburn most of the way—a tribute to rugged defense. The fact is, Washburn won on the strength of just two big plays. A 28-yard pass put the lebabobs on Wayne's one-yard line, and Kevin McCormick plunged for the touchdown on the next play. Huss Hill kicked the point for a first-quarter lead.

McCormick came up with the other big play, a five-yard romp up the middle to score in the fourth quarter, breaking a 7-7 tie. Hill again converted the point.

The Wildcats put together a scoring effort in the third period on two series covering 80 yards, with one futile Washburn series between. The TD came on a two-yard end run by halfback Mel Trajny; Dan Ernst kicked the point.

Wayne had a power drive going in the second period, but it ended on a lost fumble as fullback Dennis Link battled gallantly for a nine-yard gain, but finally met too much opposition.

Athlete of the Week

Mike Ginn

By Norvin Hansen

A halfback on the Wayne High football team, Mike Ginn, gains the third "Athlete of the Week" honor of the 1971 football season.

Ginn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ginn of Wausa, earns the spotlight for his showing in Wayne's smashing 48-7 win over Neligh Friday night.

In that win, the Devils' third in three outings this fall, he stole one Neligh pass and returned it 27 yards for Wayne's opening touchdown. Later in the game he exploded through Neligh's defense on a 16-yard run for another TD as the local players continued to zig away at Neligh.

Ginn's efforts helped Wayne compile a huge yardage total, 466 yards against Neligh's 29. In doing that, the Devils racked up 21 first downs to Neligh's five.

Ginn's showing Friday was similar to his showing against Wisner-Pilger a week earlier in his first game of the year. Against the Gators he pulled in two TD passes from Tom Kerstine to help Wayne to an 18-6 win over the dogged hosts. One of those aerial strikes covered 13 yards, the other 19 yards.

Another Kerstine-Ginn touchdown pass was nullified because of a violation.

But the senior isn't limited to just one sport. Last year he was a vital part of the Wayne High baseball machine which earned a berth in the state tournament. He earned the "Athlete" recognition last spring for his all-around performance in Wayne's 3-0 win over Wakefield, in that win he struck out 20, hit a grand slam home run, threw for three at the plate and scored three of Wayne's runs. His baseball coach, Mike Mallette, called that performance one of the most complete ones he has ever seen from a high school athlete in many years. And he was only a junior then.

Drum Major Jack Walte of Bancroft leads the Wayne State Band at the center of a massed band show Saturday night during halftime of the Wayne State-Washburn game. More than a thousand bandmen and twirlers combined for the concert, which ranged over music classical to pop. Twenty high school bands came for the annual Band Day.

Wrestlers Here Tonight

Fans of professional wrestling should get to see plenty of action tonight (Thursday) when several Omaha grapplers thrust into the ring at the Wayne city auditorium.

The event is being sponsored by the Wayne County Jaycees. The last wrestling match promoted by the service group, held last spring, attracted several hundred people.

Barrel May, chairman of the event, said he hopes for even a better turnout for this wrestling card.

Wrestling gets underway tonight at 8:30. Tickets are priced at $2 for reserve seats, $1.50 for general admission and 75 cents for youth under 12 years of age.

Tickets can be purchased at either the First National Bank or the State National Bank or from any Jaycee member.

The tag team match pits Jerry Miller and Johnny Valentine versus The Great Kusatsu and Mark Starr. First team to get two falls will win that match.

Pitted together in another match are Mr. Kleen and All Ben Khan. That match is also two out of three.

Johnny Valentine will take on Mark Starr and Jerry Miller will tangle with The Great Kusatsu in two special event matches. Both matches are one-fall affairs.

Football Contest Set for Sunday

Young football enthusiasts from throughout the Wayne area are expected to be in Wayne on Sunday afternoon for the annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest.

The event is scheduled for 1:30 at the Wayne State College football field.

Youths will compete in three phases of the game—punting, passing and kicking—to determine who will advance to the zone contest.

Zone competition for the youths is scheduled for the following Saturday, Oct. 9 at Midland College's practice football field.

The top three winners Sunday in each of six age groups—8 through 13—will receive trophies. However, only the finalists can advance to the zone contest.

Youths can sign up for Sunday's contest at any participating Ford dealership. Wortman Auto of Wayne and the Wayne Lions Club are working together again this year to put on Sunday's event.

There is no charge.

The football contest is sponsored each year by Ford Motor Co.

Archers Can Get '71 Permits at District Offices

Archers who neglected to get their 1971 deer permits before the season opened on Sept. 18 may now purchase permits at Game Commission district offices in North Platte, Alliance, Bassett and Norfolk.

The archery permits are being sold at the four outside offices as a convenience to the hunter and to reduce the time it takes to obtain a permit.

Hunters may also apply for permits, which will be delivered by mail, by stopping at the Game and Parks Commission office at 2200 N. 33rd St. in Lincoln or by sending an application along with the permit fee to the Game Commission, Box 30370, Lincoln, Neb. 68593.

So far, more than 3,700 archers have taken out permits for the 95-day hunt. The season is open through Dec. 31, with the exception of the Nov. 13-21 firearm hunt.

Last year, a record 4,804 permits were issued, and 19 per cent of the bowmen scored.

All applications were then forwarded to the State Director of Agriculture, whose final selection was made.

K. L. Bowen, state director for the FHA, said the amount awarded each year has varied from approximately $80,000 to $140,000 for the past six years. The agreement returning the assets to the state permits the continuation of financial assistance to needy rural youth, he said.

When applying in the future, says Ostendorf, all applicants should write to the State Department of Agriculture, Box 4844, State Capitol, Lincoln, Neb. 68509.

ALWAYS THINK POSITIVE and, who knows, JUST MAYBE things will work out for you.

$2 Million Assets Are Being Returned To Ag Department

Lavern Ostendorf, Wayne County supervisor for Economic Home Administration, announces the assets of the Nebraska Rural Rehabilitation Corporation totaling approximately $2,400,000 are being returned to the State Department of Agriculture.

The FHA has been quite active over the past several years in a program to provide financial assistance to low income farm and ranch youth through the Nebraska Rural Rehabilitation Endowment Fund Grants, says Ostendorf, of Wayne.

Ostendorf, whose office serves Wayne and Stanton Counties, stated that last year 15 grants were awarded to farm and ranch youth in the two-county area. The funds are awarded to young people desiring to further their education who are in need of financial assistance.

Applications were received in the local county FHA office and presented to the county committee for their recommendation. All applications were then forwarded to the State Director of Agriculture, whose final selection was made.

K. L. Bowen, state director for the FHA, said the amount awarded each year has varied from approximately $80,000 to $140,000 for the past six years. The agreement returning the assets to the state permits the continuation of financial assistance to needy rural youth, he said.

When applying in the future, says Ostendorf, all applicants should write to the State Department of Agriculture, Box 4844, State Capitol, Lincoln, Neb. 68509.

Allen Gets the Nod Over Wakefield Tuesday Night

Friday's games aren't hard to predict, but next Tuesday night's contest between Allen and Wakefield is the toughest.

Hoping that the perfect five-for-five showing in last week's predictions holds me in good stead, I'm picking Allen to take that contest in a 14-12 slugfest. Allen showed that it can score in its 34-0 drubbing of Ponca Friday night. Wakefield, although admittedly playing tougher competition to date, has managed to score only 26 points in three outings.

It may be, however, that Wakefield will make good use of the things learned in its losses against such respectable teams as Wisner-Pilger, Emerson-Hubbard and Pender.

Although way off on the point spread in three games, I hit all five correct Friday night. Here's the results of those games with predicted outcomes in parentheses:

- Wayne over Neligh by 48-7 (Wayne by 26-7).
- Hartington over Winslow by 22-4 (Hartington by 20-4).
- Pierce over Laurel by 35-0 (Pierce by 14-6).
- Allen over Ponca by 34-0 (Allen by 21-5).
- Pender over Wakefield by 27-12 (Pender by 19-6).

Here's the guesses for this coming Friday's contests: Wayne 20, Stanton 7; Allen 26, Homer 14; Laurel 0, Plainview 13; Wakefield 20, Ponca 7; Winslow 13, Wausa 0.

A victory by Wayne Friday night would be one more rung up the ladder to the West Husker Conference crown. If it happens it will probably come from another fine showing by the Devil defense, a defense which has given up only 13 points in three games this year.

The other games Friday night should provide area followers with some good football. One thing, there should be no runaways like there was last Friday. Even better, all area teams except Laurel should come away victors.

Scouts to Pick Up Good Turn Bags

Local Boy Scouts are planning the final phase of their "Good Turn Day for the Handicapped" and will go from house-to-house in Wayne Saturday gathering Good Turn Day bags left at homes earlier by local Cub Scouts.

Scouts request that contributors have their bags and any extra boxes of material out on the front steps by 8 a.m. Saturday.

Contributors, after being gathered by the Scouts, will be given to Goodwill Industries where 150 handicapped workers will repair and sell them.

William L. Hegz of Goodwill Industries, Sioux City, said the materials being gathered by the Scouts are urgently needed at this time of year. He urged residents to give generously of all unneeded, but salable, clothing, shoes, bedding and small household appliances.

Hegz said such work for the handicapped makes it possible for them to have an opportunity to earn a living and support families without asking for charity.

Scoutmasters of Troop 221, Rowan Wilcox of Troop 221, Rowan Wilcox of Troop 174, are in charge of Good Turn Day.

Air Force will hold student interviews Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 8:30 a.m. A Hastings College representative will be available for interviews on Friday, Oct. 8 at 10:30 a.m.

All consultations will be held in the office of the guidance counselor.

Troop 175 Plans Trip

Wayne Boy Scout Troop 175 members voted Monday night to take a 15-day tour to the east coast next summer immediately following dismissal of school.

Scoutmaster Rowan Wilcox said, the troop plans to attend the Indianapolis 500-mile race on Memorial Day, and may participate in the annual parade connected with the race.

Departing Indianapolis, the Scouts plan to travel to Gettysburg, Pa.; Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Niagara Falls, Detroit and home.

Finances for the trip will be raised through various Boy Scout fund-raising projects during the year.

Wilcox said he recently notified his troop that he will be giving up his duties as Scoutmaster — after a 5-year term of service — sometime next summer.

Man Is Charged For Auto Felony

A 21-year-old Wayne man is being held in Wayne County Jail, after falling to post a $1,000 bond, on a charge of breaking and entering an automobile, a felony.

Steve Kraemer was arrested early Monday after allegedly breaking into an automobile belonging to Dr. Roy Matson. Authorities said the auto was parked in a garage at the Matson residence, 317 West Fourth Street.

The defendant waived a preliminary hearing in Wayne County Court Monday afternoon. Judge Lawrence Hiltner set bond at $1,000 and bound Kraemer over to Wayne District Court.

In district court Tuesday morning, Judge Merrill C. Warren appointed counsel for Kraemer and set Oct. 6 as the date for arraignment.

AFS Sale Nets $80

There is a health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association.

Motorcycles are becoming increasingly popular, and unfortunately, motorcycle accidents are also increasing. Many doctors now call the motorcycle accident rate a "national epidemic."

This health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association advises on how to stay healthy and safe while riding. Riders know that a motorcycle will not drive itself. The rider must be continually alert.

Group of physicians, investigators of motorcycle accidents, and a surprising number of motorcycle riders often get out of control.

Most severe head injuries can be prevented if every motorist wears a crash helmet. The most common cause of head injuries, however, are to arms and legs. The severity of these injuries can be reduced if riders wear protective clothing when riding the motor.

Only experienced riders should ride a motorcycle. It is not a toy. The driver must be expert in controlling his machine, wear proper equipment, and know and obey traffic rules.

University of California in Berkeley last summer. Berley summarized that women wish to be recognized as unique, distinct individuals, not in relationship to a man, such as the husband.

Also included in his report of the seminar, which had been set up primarily to help Newman chaplains cope with today's young people, were sketches on Eastern religion, the group's visits to communes, the day spent with the Black Panthers, a visit to a suicide center and visits to various churches.

At the business meeting Mrs. Joe Fieson and Mrs. J. D. F. from reported on the annual Omaha Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women they had attended that day. Also at the convention were Mrs. Don Goodson, Mrs. Gene Nuss, Mrs. Dan Shurtz, Mrs. Frank Lansing and Mrs. George

The group made final plans for the annual fall dinner to be held Sunday, Oct. 10 at St. Mary's School hall, with serving from 4 to 8 p.m. Carry-out service will be available.

Several articles of clothing were brought in response to a plea from Mrs. Cleus Sharer, Catholic representative of Church Women United in Wayne, who gathered articles for missions. Next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 26.

Apricot-Pineapple Jam
1-1/2 cups prepared apricots (about 1 lb.-fully ripe apricots)
1 cup (8-3/4 oz. can) crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice (1/2 lemon)
5 cups (2-1/4 lb.) sugar
3/4 cup water
1 box (1-3/4 oz.) powdered fruit pectin

First prepare the containers. Use only containers 1 pint or less in size that have tight-fitting lids. Wash, seal and drain containers and lids; or use automatic dishwasher with really hot (150 degrees or higher) rinse water.

Then prepare the fruit. Pit (do not peel) and grind about 1 pound apricots. Measure 1-1/2 cups into a large bowl or pan. Stir in pineapple. Squeeze the juice from 1/2 lemon. Add 1 tablespoon to the fruit.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into containers. Cover at once with lids. Let stand at room temperature until set (may take up to 24 hours); then store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in refrigerator. Yield: 6-1/4 cups or about 6 (8 oz.) containers.

State's Vet Total Up from 1970

The total military veteran population of Nebraska is 186,000, which includes 35,000 veterans of the Viet Nam era, according to latest estimates from the Veterans Administration.

This is up from last year's figure of 184,000, including 28,000 Viet Nam veterans. The statistics, compiled each June 30, are based on census figures and VA data as a basis for planning services to veterans.

Total U.S. veteran population, swelled by 5,128,000 veterans of the Viet Nam era (service after August 5, 1964), reached 287,259, at the end of last fiscal year.

California maintained its position as the state with the largest veteran population, with 875,000. New York was second with 2,587,000 veterans.

Alaska remained the state with the smallest number of veterans—31,000. And Wyoming, with 54,000, was the least among the contiguous states.

'Duckling' Proves Thespian's Versatility

by Marlin Wright

Prince Simon, portrayed by Dave Anderson, and Princess Camilla, acted by Erin O'Donnell, have obvious nose problems in this scene from "The Ugly Duckling."

Wayne High School Thespians proved themselves to be real troopers Tuesday night in the presentation of "The Ugly Duckling" when they insisted the show go on even though the play's ding had to abdicate his throne due to illness.

The play's leading characters included Jan Sherry as queen and Galen Miller, as king. Illness prevented Miller from going on stage and Dan Proett started rehearsing the king's lines around 4 p.m. Tuesday afternoon.

Many of the persons packing the school lecture hall Tuesday night were unaware of a last-minute change in casting—a genuine compliment to Proett and the Thespians.

The brief play is about a pretty princess and a handsome prince who are much in love and eager to marry. However, they suddenly find themselves to be victims of a witch's hex and the evil spell causes their noses to grow all out of proportion.

As in all good fairy tales, the witch is outwitted and—with big noses gone—the two young lovers are united.

Outstanding performance credits go to Jan Sherry, who played the role of queen, and to Carl Bigelow for her interpretation of the cackling old witch.

Other cast members were Erin O'Donnell, princess; Dye Anderson, prince; Joe Manly, Carlo; Kathy Nelson, Dulcibella; Bob Shokan, chancellor, and Kay Pierson, Debbie Lawrence, Kim Kogler and Diane Hoden as ladies in waiting.

The 40-minute one-act production was directed by Ted Blenderman.

The play stage crews included Dan Proett, stage manager; Joyce Haun, Marjle Lundstrom and

Another Improvement

We hope you read the article in last Thursday's Herald about the rural Carroll man who still picks several acres of corn by hand each year. The article was especially enjoyable because of the comments by that man, Harry Hofeld: "With all the noise and hurrying nowadays it's almost resting and enjoyable to do things like we did years ago. You can hear the birds and locusts sing and hear the fluttering of a covey of quail or pheasants scurrying away. And you sure can't hear that in one of these new air conditioned tractor cabs with all those gears and motors grinding away all around you." With all the worrisome news nowadays, it is refreshing to read a story about why a person still picks corn by hand. Author of that story was Mrs. Betty Kavanaugh of Carroll. Although busy taking care of her family and some of the book-keeping at her husband's business, she still finds time to write stories about the people she knows well. Mrs. Kavanaugh will be writing more stories for our newspaper. In fact, she has one finished on a lady who enjoys teaching and learning how to make ceramics in her husband's garage. Like the one about Mr. Hofeld, this story should provide our readers with a pleasant tale. The addition of Mrs. Kavanaugh to the newspaper's writing staff is another example of our attempt to bring the best newspaper possible to our readers. — N.H.

Counselor Program Gets Green Light

A program that will provide volunteer counselors for juvenile offenders is about to be launched throughout the state. The State Crime Commission recently approved expansion of the volunteer counseling concept and authorized funds to get it underway. The Nebraska Human Resources Research Foundation will be in charge of the program which involves matching qualified local volunteers on a one-to-one basis with young people on probation. Such a system was first tried in Michigan and has since spread throughout the United States. Lancaster County's juvenile court was the first to try it in Nebraska. Saunderson and Seward Counties joined the program last year. Qualified volunteers, working under the direction of the district probation officer, are matched with young people in trouble. Such a system in Wayne County would have volunteers in a community working under the leadership of Herb

Hansen, probation officer—work with youths in that community who have come to the attention of the courts. The adult volunteer—taking a personal interest in the youth—works as a counselor in assisting the young person as a friend. In measurements taken before—and after youngsters were matched with volunteers in other counties, it was found that there was a marked improvement in school grades and attendance; less contact with persons in authority such as school principals and law enforcement officers, and an overall positive shift in self-concepts including attitudes toward themselves, the school, their families and friends. Wayne County is a participant in the area crime commission which has studied the volunteer counseling idea for about a year. Now that the program has gotten the green light, it appears the county could provide a real service to its youth by being a participant. — M.S.W.

'Swinging' Meeting Set

Followers of good music will be able to hear just that during the first Band Boosters meeting of the year. The meeting is scheduled for Monday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Providing some of the entertainment will be the Wayne High School Band. The Stage Band, under the direction of Ron Dalton again this year, was a big success at several public events during the past school year. The band members are in tune some of the popular trends in music. Their selection of music for their performances, however, appeals to all ages. Planned for Monday's meeting are such numbers as "Big Mama Cass" and "The Switzer." Also performing will be the high school's Girls' Glee and the Mixed Chorus. The meeting promises to be a swinging one. We hope it's well attended. — N.H.

Nebraska Is Beautiful

The sun crossed an imaginary line Thursday and autumn is officially here. As the days of summer wane and the sun quietly slips below the western horizon a little earlier each evening, we can see that autumn has arrived. Wayne County and all of northeast Nebraska is an area of spectacular beauty in the fall. As one heads down a highway, the roadside appears as if nature's unseen hand has stolen all the green stuff and splashed the patches with hues of multi-colored paint. Nights are crisp and the sun gets a little lazy about getting up in the mornings.

Once over the horizon, however, the sun illuminates a world of color. Shrubbery and trees seem to compete by blushing in ever-deepening shades of gold and red. Autumn brings enchantment to the area each year, harboring the mysteries of leaf-laden paths, bringing good hunting and providing ideal weather sealed with a kaleidoscope of color in each evening's sunset. Poets, song writers and authors have praised the season for centuries so there is little that we can add. Nebraska is beautiful. — M.G.W.

Capital News —

Lincoln to Host Confab on Tourism, Industrial Progress

LINCOLN—A governor's conference on tourism and industrial development is to be held here in November. Gov. J. J. Exon has announced that he will sponsor the Nov. 17-18 conference to help create "a mutual understanding" in state, community and private objectives in the two areas. The governor said there needs to be a shared responsibility between the public and private sectors in reaching the goals.

The state, Exon said, should provide the leadership, but the heavy labor needs to be done at the local levels. Economic Development Director Stanley Matzke concurred with Exon's statements. Through action of the 1971 Legislature, Matzke's department inherited the tourism duties to go with its previous responsibilities for industrial development. Tourism has been handled by the Game and Parks Commission.

Exon Makes Suggestion Exon, arguing there is little or no progress in the federally financed programs designed to assist Indians, has suggested that more might be accomplished if the states administered the funds. "If they (the federal government) can't handle these funds," the governor said, "it might be well to have the funds channeled through the state level." He said in Nebraska the Indian Commission might be the proper agency to handle the administration, just as the State Crime Commission now handles funds from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

Exon has complained often recently that programs administered by the federal Bureau of Indian Affairs, even though they involve about $12 million a year in Nebraska alone, have done little to improve the lot of Indians. Control through a state agency, he said, might be the answer to improved education, housing, medical and other conditions for Indians in Nebraska.

Many times, Exon said, it is what he called "an oversimplification" to consider a problem solved because it is in the federal government's lap.

Courtsrooms Busy State government was busy in the courtroom last week. Former State Welfare Director Harold Strode was on trial in Federal District Court in Lincoln on charges he and a one-time U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare official had defrauded Nebraska out of $88,500.

At the Capitol, the State Supreme Court heard oral arguments on alleged flaws in the marijuana possession portion of an omnibus drug-abuse-control statute adopted by the 1971 Legislature. The case was appealed to the high court from Fremont where District Judge Robert E. Flory had agreed with a defense attorney that the new statute fails to define what is meant by "unlawful possession and dismissed charges against three out-of-state women.

The defense attorney, Ray Simmons, asked the supreme court to make the same finding. Only the Legislature, he said, could correct the law. But Dodge County Attorney Gordon Goble, while conceding there probably needed to be some repairs in the legislation, said only a "very strict interpretation" of the present wording would cause difficulty.

The intent of the lawmakers, he said, was clear. The judges took the matter under consideration. Meanwhile, only in Flory's district—Dodge and Washington Counties—does the ruling that prosecutions can't proceed under the new law prevail.

A case in Lincoln almost was debated before Lancaster County Judge Ralph W. Steum on the same issue a week earlier. But county authorities changed the charge to disturbing the peace. That argument would have had special significance had it come about because State Sen. Roland A. LaBonte of Lincoln, who had voted for the new law in the 1971 Legislature, was the defense counsel, and Deputy Lancaster County Attorney William Blue was the prosecutor.

Blue, commissioned by the State Crime Commission in 1970, had written the omnibus drug measure. In federal court, details of the scheme in which $88,500 in state funds were paid to a fictitious consulting firm for work never done were made public for the first time. During two days of testimony, Dr. Bradley P. Neer gave a step-by-step description of the plot, implicating Strode as an equal partner. Neer, who had been a HFW official, said the need for improved computerized monitoring of payments for medical services received by welfare clients was apparent in 1969 and he attempted to get a federal grant to finance a study.

When that attempt failed, he said he and Strode decided to create a phony consulting firm, have payments directed to it and split the money evenly.

Neer had pleaded guilty to charges connected with the scheme earlier and was a witness for the government at Strode's trial. Strode was found guilty by a jury of eight women and four men late last week.

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: Is there an extra charge when there is an autopsy?

ANSWER: In our experience we have never known a doctor to request an autopsy without being convinced of the need for one and Wiltse Mortuary never makes an extra charge when an autopsy has been performed. Because of autopsies, the medical profession and in the law enforcement field The American College of Pathologists is quoted as saying "The high standards of American medicine are... and will continue to be dependent to a large degree on the frequency and care with which autopsies are performed. The hospital, the pathologist and the mortician must agree to discharge their responsibilities on the highest professional standards, and to promote mutual trust confidence and good will"

The Agent's Angle

by Harold Ingalls

$8,099 would probably be in line with the moderate-cost plan. Add three children to the same family, however, and food spending per child would fall in the low-cost category.

In a five-child family, food costs per child are usually 12-13 per cent below those of a two-child family. Food costs per individual in large families are lowered somewhat by savings gained through buying and cooking in large quantities.

The food needs of young boys and girls crowd at the same rate until about nine years. It's then that a gap in their eating patterns emerges. At current prices, a girl's monthly food bill peaks at around $47 between the ages of 12 and 15. For a boy, however, the cost climbs to a high of about $58 between 15 and 20 years.

At today's prices, the total cost of feeding a boy under the moderate food plan from infancy to 18 years would be a little over $8,700; for a girl about $8,100.

These costs refer to 21 meals a week prepared at home or carried from home in packed lunches. They don't account for such items as candy bars and ice cream cones purchased by the child away from home or the extra costs of having his friends in for dinner or a snack.

When based on present prices, food costs estimated for each age group are useful for courts of law in support cases and planners of welfare programs to determine fund allocations for dependent children. But these estimates can't serve as an accurate measure of food costs over an 18 year period, for the estimates don't reflect increases in prices.

For a youngster born in 1951 and raised in a rural area in a family of not more than five children, the total food bill for 18 years—including meals bought away from home—in prices current each year would have been about $7,000. For an urban youngster, the cost would have been somewhat higher.

Farming For The Market
Experts are predicting that in the not too distant future, farmers will be required to produce crops and livestock for specific market requirements because there will be little or no market for any other kind of farm product.

Carrying this idea to the extreme, if the housewife decides that she wants eggs with lavender yolks and beans that bounce, and if she's willing to pay the premium price they deserve, we're going to have to learn how to produce and process them.

To a certain extent, we are already tailoring farm products. Turkey, meat flavor and composition—real color and cut size, lean pork—all are influenced by nutrition and feeding methods, through genetics and new management practices other changes are possible.

And the total food production—processing—marketing cooperative which will help bring them about will assist its members in adapting production to satisfy the needs of the market.

Soybeans Lauded

Soybean growers listened with interest to reports at a Soybean Field Day last week which indicated that soybeans may bring farmers higher returns than corn and sorghum in southeast and northeast Nebraska. This conclusion, along with results of research on other phases of soybean production, was presented by University of Nebraska College of Agriculture staff members. Among those present at the NEU Field Laboratory near Mead for the program were, from left, standing: Dr. D. C. Hanway, chairman of the NEU Agronomy Department; Ed Grona, Wayne; Jerry Pospisil, Wayne, and, kneeling, Allen Splitfgerber, Wisner. They were looking over a stand of non-irrigated soybeans.

Seeding Is Underway

Seeding was scheduled to start last week beginning two miles east of Pilger on Highways 275 and 15 and continuing north on Highway 15 for 5.9 miles.

October 18 is the estimated completion date on the $25,390 job. No detours are necessary. J. L. Lowe of Wayne is the project manager.

One Child's Food Bill

If they sat down and thought about it, parents would probably be happy that the cost of feeding their children is borne on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Take, for example, a family with two children whose food spending falls in line with USDA's moderate-cost plan. At today's prices, a youngster in this family could run up a bill for food at home (including packed lunches carried from home) of approximately $8,500 by the time he turns 18.

Level of food spending, of course, is affected by income and size of family. For example, the food expenditures in a two-child family with a net income of Good news for Lawnowners!

When you feed in the Fall you help Nature do its thing!

Independent surveys taken last spring revealed that 4 out of 5 standout lawns were fed the previous Fall. The findings were not surprising, since Fall is the one time when Nature puts all the odds in your favor.

Best thing you can do to take advantage of this unique time of year is to fertilize with TURF BUILDER. Turf Builder is made by an exclusive process that enables it to release its nutrients as the grass needs them. So there's no spindly surge growth to cause extra mowing. Instead Turf Builder encourages root and side shoot growth. Makes your lawn grow thicker, greener and sturdier.

The Wage-Price Freeze

Questions and Answers

Q—Can travel agencies raise their prices on tours in foreign countries?

A—Yes. Travel agents can raise prices on tours to the extent that the costs of foreign services offered in the tour package, such as foreign hotel rates, restaurant meals, transportation costs, etc., are increased. However, prices cannot be raised on that part of the tour package relating to services in the U. S. In addition, markup for overhead and profit cannot be raised.

Q—The records of the travel agency must clearly establish that each increase meets this test. If it cannot be so demonstrated, this exemption will not apply to the increase.

Q—If a Federal employee and I'm supposed to get a witholding increase next month, can I still get this raise?

A—No. Merit and longevity increases, such as Federal Government with-grade raises, are not permitted during the freeze.

Q—My landlord is installing dishwashers in each apartment in my development. Can he use this as a reason to raise rent during the freeze?

A—An increase in rent can be charged for property which undergoes a substantial capital improvement, such as this, if this improvement equals at least three months rent with a minimum of $200 and would be classified as a capital improvement by the Internal Revenue Service. If these conditions are met, the unit may be treated as a new apartment, with rent no higher than that charged on comparable apartments in the market area. Also, your monthly rent must not increase by more than 1 1/2 percent of the amount spent for capital improvement.

Q—Who is running the wage-price freeze program?

A—The new Cost of Living Council determines the policies of the freeze and the Office of Emergency Preparedness answers questions and investigates complaints. Assistance with information and complaints is provided by 360 Internal Revenue Service offices throughout the country and 2,800 offices of the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Q—Can my union raise dues during the freeze?

A—No. Dues for professional associations, trade associations, unions, country clubs, etc., are a fee for service, and, as such, are frozen.

Q—My employer wants to give me a cash award for a suggestion I made. Can I still get the award?

A—Yes. Businesses and government can continue to make cash awards during the freeze to employees for outstanding performance, provided that such awards continue to be given under the same formula and controls that existed in the month prior to the freeze.

Employers will have to maintain records on the incidence and amount of these awards which demonstrate that these programs are not used to give employees wage increases in violation of the freeze.

Yard & Garden Tips

Q—How can ornamental goods be preserved?

A—They must be dried thoroughly; sometimes a hole can be put in one end of them to quicken the drying process, and sometimes car wax or shellac can be applied.

TODAY

...the value and importance of higher education has been clearly established and, despite the vicious, temporary setbacks ... it will surely be maintained.

TOMORROW, a higher education will be even more mandatory.

A Savings Account and the systematic saving habit, well established NOW for our children's future, can actually help them to reach their respective goals perhaps much sooner.

Let us show you how this problem can be resolved without undue strain on your present budget.

Another Survey Planned for Area
Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by a representative of the Bureau of the Census in the Wayne area during the first week in October, according to Guy A. Lutz, director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in St. Paul.

The survey is made four times yearly as a part of a nationwide effort to guide governmental agencies in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car or major household appliances during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs made during the last three months and any planned for the future.

The July survey indicated no significant change from earlier plans this year to buy houses, but intentions to buy cars and major household appliances had declined somewhat.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law and will be published only in the form of statistical totals.

The Census Bureau representative in this area is Ruth Hoehler of Norfolk.

Kiwanians Hear Delegate Report On Convention

Wayne Kiwanians heard a report Monday noon, following a luncheon at the Woman's Club Room, of the 1971 International Convention of Circle K, a college-campus auxiliary of Kiwanis.

Handy Hrouda, member of Circle K at Wayne State College and secretary of the Nebraska-Kiwanis District, reported to the parent club concerning his trip to the convention held in Chicago Aug. 22-25.

Hrouda noted that in one of the convention sessions emphasis was placed on the relationship between Kiwanis Clubs and the Circle K Clubs they sponsor. He said delegates agreed that something similar to a father-son relationship should exist between the two clubs in order to bring about greater progress in both.

Other convention sessions involved discussing city problems, pollution, population growth and campus involvement, Hrouda said.

One issue approved by convention delegates—the matter of opening Circle K membership to women students—was passed without too much discussion, according to Hrouda, and will now be considered by the parent organization.

Local Kiwanians inducted Nell Edmunds and Duane Fischer as new members Monday. Jim Hummel, Max Lundstrom and Orvid Owens were presented with two-year perfect attendance pins.

Rites Monday for Roger Anderson, Traffic Victim

Funeral services for Roger Anderson, 17, of Laurel were held there Monday at the United Presbyterian Church. Burial was in the Laurel cemetery.

The Rev. Douglas Potter officiated at the rites. The church choir sang "Faith" and "Amazing Grace," accompanied by Mrs. F. W. McOrkildine. Pallbearers were Doug Hartzes, Kevin Johnson, Dennis Berkebile, Mike Olsen, Dave Swanson and Monte Burns.

Roger Anderson, son of Norman C. and Delores Benjamin Anderson, was born Jan. 11, 1954 at Sioux City. He attended Dixon County District #2, Clairmont, and Morning Glory Rural School. He was a senior at the Laurel Public School, where he had been a student since seventh grade.

He was a member of the United Presbyterian Church and active in United Presbyterian Youth.

Roger died Saturday enroute to a Sioux City hospital for treatment of injuries received in an auto mishap north of Wayne. Survivors include his parents, two sisters, Gloria and Janet, and two brothers, Garry and Scott, all at home, and grandmothers, Mrs. Clarence Anderson and Mrs. James Benjamin, both of Laurel.

WAYNE VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

Thirty-six men make up the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, serving parts of Wayne and Dixon Counties. Three pump and ladder trucks, a 1000-gallon tanker, an equipment truck and a personnel carrier are housed in the city's new six-bay fire hall.

In the year ended May 1, Wayne's firemen spent over 712 man hours responding to 38 fire calls. They traveled 2617 miles in the line of duty.

Fire damage in the past year has amounted to an estimated $14,922.00 in the Wayne area. The value of property saved during the same period is estimated at $102,650.00 — plus an indeterminable amount when the department was called to protect property during last year's fire bombings at Wayne State College. There have been ten fires in Wayne since May 1, 1971.

Treasurer
MERN MORDHORST

On the observance of National Fire Prevention Week we take great pride in saluting our dedicated and efficient fire department whose service to this community is immeasurable. On call 24 hours, responsive to our needs in fair or foul weather, these men have demonstrated time after time that Wayne can boast of one of the finest fire departments anywhere.
