Stores To Hold Sale Blitz Monday

People living or traveling in the area are being offered many reasons to shop in Wayne stores Monday during a special Veterans Day five-and-a-half hour sales blitz. Merchants across town will mark down numerous items to give shoppers a break during the holiday promotion.

Most all business firms in Wayne will be closed until noon Monday and then open during the afternoon with special sales. Shoppers are invited to be downtown at 10:30 a.m. for the Veterans Day Parade and take advantage of the sales blitz beginning at twelve o'clock.

Housing Complex Nearly Complete

The Wayne Housing Authority reported recently that plans are set to have the low income housing project named Villa Wayne — ready for occupancy by Nov. 1.

The buildings were inspected about a week ago, but were not accepted by the Authority at that time due to the need for minor modifications.

Thirty applications have been received by the Authority for apartment space. There are 33 apartments available.

Time for Mailing Overseas Christmas Packages Is Near

Although Christmas is still about two months away, it is time to start planning the mailing of packages destined for military personnel overseas, according to Wilbur Giese, officer in charge at the Wayne Post Office.

Military personnel overseas includes anyone receiving mail through an APO or FPO, New York, San Francisco or Seattle. Parcels which are to be sent by surface mail should be mailed no later than Nov. 5.

Parcels which are being sent by Space Available Parcel Air-Lift (SAM mail) should be sent by Nov. 19.

Parcel Air-Lift (PAL mail) should be mailed by Nov. 26, and articles being sent regular air mail must be mailed by Dec. 10. Because of the ever-increasing volume of mail being sent to distant locations, getting parcels in the mail during these dates is very important, according to Giese.

Parcels which are being sent overseas should also be securely packaged and display a clearly written or typed address and return address.

Dreams Can Come True

Dreaming of winning $300? Dreams can come true. A check for $300 awaits the Cash Night drawing winner Thursday providing the person whose name is drawn is present in a participating Wayne business at 8 p.m.

The name of Helen Vock, cleridge, was drawn Thursday night. Had she been in a store she could have taken home $250. To be eligible for the jackpot, you must register in a participating Wayne business and be present for the drawing when your name is called.

Remember the Valiant

Since the birth of this nation, men have responded to the call of their country to defend it in the time of emergency. Those times have been many. Untold numbers of brave Americans have ventured forth onto battlefields marching to the cadence of personal involvement. Many have returned. Many have not. Let us remember all military veterans, both living and dead, as our nation pauses Monday in silent tribute. Silhouetted against the evening sun in Greenwood Cemetery, Shane Giese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Giese, Wayne, symbolically sounds taps.

Veterans to Get Spotlight Monday

Veterans Day programs are scheduled to be held in Wayne and Winside Monday paying tribute to men who have served in the military forces.

A parade in downtown Wayne at 10:30 a.m. is slated to start at First and Main Street and move to Seventh and Main. Dick Dion, local Legion commander, and Dennis Oke, VFW commander, are in charge of arrangements.

Girls participating in the parade will include the VFW and American Legion color guards, members and auxiliaries; Wayne High School band; college veterans; National Guard equipment and personnel; elementary school children displaying posters created for the holiday, and Julie Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Ellis, newly elected Poppy Girl.

Dion is asking that all parade participants meet at First and Main Street early enough to get the parade underway at 10:30 a.m.

The commander said the parade will halt for about 30 seconds between 2nd and 3rd Streets on Main for a silent memorial prayer.

Most stores in Wayne will close during the forenoon Monday in observance of the national holiday.

Local firms then plan to open at twelve o'clock and hold a five-and-one-half-hour sales blitz throughout the afternoon.

Most business firms in other area communities, including Wakefield and Allen, also plan to close for the holiday.

A Veterans Day program will be presented at 1 p.m. Monday in Winside at the high school through the cooperative efforts of the public schools, Winside Legion Post 252, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

The Rev. McMahon of St. Joseph's Church, Pierce, will be the featured speaker along with several brief presentations by school students.

The high school band, under the direction of Al Schueter, and the mixed chorus, directed See VETERANS, page 6

Allen School Names Remedial Instructor

A special instructor is now working in the Title I remedial program in the Allen Consolidated Schools.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, Allen, was appointed last week to work in the program on a half-day basis. She has previously worked in the school system as a teacher's aide.

A Wayne woman, Mrs. Marilyn Yates, was named to take Mrs. Johnson's place as aide. Mrs. Yates is a graduate of Wayne State College.

Thefts Reported

Several cases of theft were investigated by Wayne police during the week.

Jim Mascarello, a Wayne State student, reported that a battery was stolen from his car while parked in a lot at the college. Nearly $24 was stolen from Rev. E. J. Bernthal's study at Grace Lutheran Church. Fifteen $1 bills, four quarters and $8.90 in other change was taken — the second theft in less than two weeks.

A bicycle belonging to David Hamt, 1017 Pearl, was reported stolen or missing Tuesday night. Officers investigated two hit-and-run auto accidents early Friday. A car belonging to Carol Michaels was reportedly hit by an unidentified car after midnight at 10th and Agate. A car belonging to Keith Venason, parked in the 100 block on West 3rd was struck the same night.

Charge Dismissed

A destruction of property charge against Steven S. Gregory was dismissed by Judge Lawrence Hiltz in county court action last week.

The 19-year-old Council Bluffs, Iowa, youth was arrested and charged with destroying property belonging to Epsilon Pi Tau on the Wayne State College campus Oct. 11.

Rowan Wiltsie displays the March of Dimes achievement awards.

March Of Dimes Award Won By Local Chapter

Several Wayne residents attended the Mid-States March of Dimes Conference held in Kansas City, Mo., last weekend and brought home an achievement award.

Rowan Wiltsie, Ted Babe, Carol Wiltsie and Carol Ilaun were the local adult and youth representatives attending the meeting designed to inform county chapters of developments being made in the fight against birth defects.

The Wayne County chapter was presented a plaque for the largest gain in per capita giving in communities under 10,000 population in a region consisting of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Wayne County had an increase in giving from eight cents to 26 cents per capita from 1970 to 1971.

Subjects of discussion at the conference included progress being made in research, public awareness of prenatal care, rubella vaccine, B11 vaccine, and the effects of unpressured drugs. Workshops for the adults and See DIMES, page 6

Garvin, Ginn '71 Homecoming Royalty

Joanie Garvin

Mike Ginn

Joanie Garvin and Mike Ginn were crowned Homecoming Queen and King during 7 p.m. Wayne High School homecoming festivities Friday night.

Queen Joanie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Garvin, Wayne, and King Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ginn, Wayne.

The royal pair were crowned during coronation ceremonies held at the Wayne State College stadium prior to the Blue Devils' clash on the gridiron with the West Point Central Catholic Blue Jays.

Rodney Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter, and Janice Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Mills, all of Wayne, were crownbearers.

Wayne High's Cheering Charm

WSC Enrollment Now 2,668

Wayne State's enrollment story of fall term 1971 is a mixture of gains and losses, but when all figures are compiled, the total adds up to 2,668. That is a drop of 204 from the enrollment a year ago.

The decline fits into a national pattern common to many colleges, perhaps a majorly, judging by news stories in recent weeks.

What are the apparent reasons for enrollment decline, and what category of students had the largest drop?

Analysis by Registrar Stanley Wiltsie and Director of Admissions Jim Hummel shows the biggest decline is in the number of freshmen, particularly from Northeast Nebraska. This year there are 963 freshmen (498 men, 464 women) compared with 1,262 a year ago.

The junior class also is down 30 to 502. By contrast, sophomores are up 21, to 573, and seniors also up 35, to 515. The number of graduate students is down 36, to 108.

Now freshmen this fall total 422, compared with 784 a year ago. However, the number of transfers gained slightly from 188 to 198.

Veterans enrolled under the GI Bill number 149, up five. There are 78 children of veterans, same as last year, and 135 students attending under provisions of Social Security, up five.

Reasons for the enrollment drop are speculative. Dr. Willis and Hummel agreed on several factors. For one, economic conditions likely had an influence, especially agricultural circumstances in Northeast Nebraska.

For another, changes in military draft procedures and reduced inducements may have influenced some male students and prospective students.

Still another possible factor — difficult to measure, Wiltsie and Hummel said — is the strained job potential for new teachers. Since Wayne State may have an image as primarily a teacher college, some students might have left to find a different vocation, and prospective students might have decided against enrolling in a "teacher college."

While about 99 per cent of Wayne students usually are en- See ENROLLMENT, page 6

Firemen Extinguish Two Brush Blazes

Wayne firemen were called to the Jack Ruback farm, six miles west and one half mile north of Wayne, to extinguish a grass fire late Thursday afternoon.

Brush being burned in the ditch had apparently ignited the grass. Firemen had the blaze out in about 10 minutes. Fire Chief Cliff Pinkelman said there was no property damage.

A call about 10 minutes before midnight Wednesday took firemen to the south side of the Wayne Elementary School where unknown persons apparently set fire to a pile of brush gathered for Wayne High School's homecoming pep rally bonfire. The fire was soon extinguished.

Wakefield 'Cake' Day Plans Made

Businessmen in Wakefield have announced plans to hold their annual pancake day on Tuesday, Nov. 2.

Several thousand area residents are expected to attend the affair slated to get underway at 3 p.m. in the Legion Hall. Serving will continue until around 8 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Products used, such as milk, eggs, pancake flour, coffee, syrup and sausage, are all donated by business firms.

Entertainment is to be provided by members of the Wakefield Trojan Band. Mrs. Lyle Trullinger is director. Gayle Stefan is general chairman in charge of making arrangements for the affair.

Consumers Encouraged To Report Grievances

Reporting grievances concerning food, drugs or cosmetics which appear to be mislabeled, unsanitary or harmful is a public service says a bulletin put out by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service for Northeast Nebraska. Such a report can lead to the detection of a violation of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

A report, which will lead to investigation by the FDA, should be filed in the following manner:

1. Report promptly to Food and Drug Administration Office, 1709 Jackson, Omaha 68102, or 1900 Cherry St., Kansas City, Mo. 64116.
2. State clearly what appears to be wrong.
3. Describe the product label, giving any code marks which appear on container.
4. Give name and address of the store where product was purchased.
5. State remains of suspect product or empty container for use in investigation.
6. Hold any unopened container of product bought at the same time.

7. If injury or illness is involved, see a doctor at once.

8. Report suspect product to manufacturer whose address is on label, and to store where purchased.

Other complaints may be reported to the following: Suspected false advertising to the Federal Trade Commission; meat and poultry products to the U. S. Department of Agriculture; sanitation of restaurants to the local health authorities; sale of illegal or dangerous drugs to the FDA Bureau of Drug Abuse Control; and products made and sold exclusively within your state to the local or State Health Department.

Fitness can keep U.S. strong

Local Youths Earn Awards

Six youths from Wayne Middle School were named to the President's All America Team this week. Students earning that honor must score in the 90th percentile or better on physical performance tests given in schools all over the country.

Named to the team, with parents' names in parentheses, were Frank Mersny (Frank), Doug Sydow (Dick), John Keating (Jim), Lori Johnson (Larry), Terri Thomas (Gim) and Less Barclay (Ralph). This is the third straight year for young Mersny and Thomas to be honored.

Allen Girls Score TD

Julie Tighe's squad blanked Melissa Emery's team 5-0 in an FHA-sponsored powderpuff football game at Allen Wednesday night. The only score came on a kickoff from quarterback Sheila Book to Kathy Moore.

About 100 spectators were on hand at the farm-fair field to witness the team-rivaling battle.

Each youngster making the All-America Team receives a certificate of merit and an arm patch from the Council on Youth Fitness, headed by former astronaut James Lovell. According to Don Koehn, physical education instructor at the middle school, students must meet or exceed national standards on a battery of seven tests conducted at the beginning of the school year to qualify for the team.

The tests include sit-ups, pull-ups, standing broad jump, 50-yard dash, 500-yard walk/run, softball throw and shuttle run.

Koehn noted that testing measures are different for boys and girls as well as proportionate to the individual's body size.

He added that just one out of 50 youngsters (on the national average) who participates in the competition ever makes the team.

Fifteen middle school students have made the All-America Team since Koehn initiated the testing program five years ago.

Winside Slates Volleyball Tourney

Winside High's volleyball team has scheduled an eight-team invitational tournament Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 1-2. Games will be played in the high school gymnasium.

First round action Nov. 1 pits Newcastle against Hooters at 6:30 p.m.; Harrington-Cedar Catholic against Osmond at 7:30; Norfolk Catholic against Emerson-

Hubbard at 8:30; and Allen against Winside at 9:30 p.m.

All teams will participate in second round competition Nov. 2. The two semi-final winners will play later in the evening to determine the champion.

According to Coach Don Leighton, admission at the second year tourney will be 75¢ for adults and 25¢ for students.

Why No Football Games

Wondering why the results of your favorite team's football game aren't carried in this issue of The Herald? The answer is simple: Early mailing due to Veterans Day did not permit regular area coverage of Friday-night grid action.

But you can count on complete sports coverage plus conference standings and a list of upcoming games in Thursday's Wayne Herald. Games to be highlighted include Wayne-West Point CC (Blue Devil Homecoming), Wakefield-West Point High (Trojan Homecoming), Laurel-Madison, Winside-Corlidge, Allen-Randolph and Kearney-Wayne State. PLUS—Don't miss final results of the District Cross-Country Meet!

Jr. High Team Ends Perfect Grid Season

Wayne's junior high football squad wound up a perfect 4-0 season by rapping visiting Wakefield 38-6 Tuesday afternoon at the high school field. That marks the third straight year the eighth graders have been undefeated.

Coach Hank Overlin pointed out that the squad will now divide into two teams and play a three-game series.

High Workman led Wayne's offensive surge in Tuesday's game, carrying the ball six times for over 100 yards and three touchdowns. Despite the great showing, he was used sparingly due to an arm injury.

Workman scored in each of the final three quarters to pace Wayne's attack. A 35-yard end sweep, aided by Bob Mitchell's key block, made the score 22-0 with three minutes remaining in the first half. A pass from Paul Mallette to Larry Creighton clinched the extra point.

The scored again in the third period by running off tackle from 25 yards out. Mallette ran for the PAT, making the score 32-0.

Workman's final score came on a two-yard plunge up the middle in the final stanza. The run capped an 80-yard drive, set up by a pass from Mallette to Dave Ilix netting 48 yards.

Wakefield also got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter via a 65-yard end sweep by Mark Kobler.

The local gridders reached paydirt time before Workman's opening score. First TD came when Creighton snared a Wakefield pass and scrambled 40 yards to the goal line. A Mallette-to-Ilix pass made the score 8-0.

Wayne scored again early in the second quarter when Mallette's Creighton over the middle with a 60-yard touchdown pass. Mitchell ran for the extra point.

Fifteen junior high gridders were singled out by Coach Over-lin as playing major roles in Wayne's unblemished record. They include:

Ends Dave Ilix and Steve Johnson; tackles Rod Kuhnhehn and Jim Hebburn; guards Bryan Frevert and Doug Straight; center Pat Dorsey;

Quarterback Paul Mallette; halfbacks Rob Mitchell and Larry Creighton; fullback Rich Workman; Defensivemen Paul Lindner (guard); Pat Grashorn (tackle); and Mike Wieseler and Mark Brandt (cornerbacks).

No Fish for Cities

Requests by city governments for carp and bullheads to be stocked in municipal lakes on a put-and-take basis can no longer be filled by the Game and Parks Commission, according to William Barbee, Commission director.

The Commission's seining crew, which provided catchable-size fish for city lakes in past years, was discontinued last June for economic reasons. However, requests for more carp and bullheads have continued to arrive.

Some of the fish sent to city lakes were by-product of fish management operations, but most were the result of a special effort by the seining crew.

The decision to discontinue the seining crew was prompted by a change for the better in Nebraska's overall fishing picture. Improved fishing in the eastern part of the state through new waters such as the Salt Valley, lakes around Lincoln took care of much of the fishing demand in the eastern part of the state. This made transfer of rough fish from other areas largely unnecessary.

Quarterback Marty Hansen falls for a couple of more yards during Wayne's 19-8 win over West Point CC. Gordon Emery (No. 17) and an unidentified Blue Devil coming in from the right, figure in the play.

Frosh End 5-1 Grid Season

Wayne High's freshman team wound up the 1971 football season with a 5-1 record by coasting to a 19-8 win over visiting West Point Central Catholic Thursday afternoon. The loss to Norfolk High two weeks ago spoiled a perfect season for Coach Don Johnson's gridgers.

Earlier successes included wins over Winsor-Pilger, Laurel sophomores, West Point High and Pierce.

Earle Overlin paced Wayne's offensive effort with touchdowns in the first and third quarters. The first one came on a 32-yard pass from quarterback Marty Hansen. Ilex Mitchell split the uprights for the PAT.

Following a scoreless second period, Overlin added another TD via an end sweep netting 20 yards.

Wayne's final touchdown came midway in the last quarter when Gary Hansen capped a 30-yard drive with a short run of tackle.

Rod Hoops put the local gridders in good field position and set up the scoring drive with a 20-yard pass play.

West Point CC's only score came late in the game on a 40-yard pass play.

Rod Hoops was Wayne's leading ground runner with 93 yards. He was followed by Gary Hansen with 46 and Earle Overlin with 27.

Hoops also led his team on defense with 11 solo tackles. Jon-

Nebraska Quail Hunters Sought

Dyed-in-the-wool quail hunters are a tough bunch to top, if not in numbers, at least in enthusiasm for their favorite sport. Their single-mindedness is unusual in Nebraska, where they are surrounded by opportunities for a mixed bag that might include pheasants, rabbits, squirrels and a few ducks along with their quail.

However, the dedicated quail hunter is the object of a search by the Game and Parks Commission about this time every year, just as hunters are preparing to go afield. The Game Commission is seeking a list of quail hunters that will provide information to aid in management of the bobwhites.

Those who cooperate in the survey are asked to keep a day-by-day record of their hunts, noting the date of the outing, the county, number of hours afield, number of coveys flushed, the number of cocks and hens bagged, the number of birds downed but not retrieved, and whether or not a dog was used.

Cooperating hunters are also asked to save one wing from each bird bagged and send it to the Commission at the end of the season. The wings tell game biologists whether the birds were hatched the previous nesting season or in previous years, giving a clue to the hunting and rearing success of bobwhites.

Several dedicated quail hunters have cooperated in the survey almost since its beginning in the 1940's. Other hunters who rate quail as their favorite small-game species and want to help in quail management should write to Jack Sinn, Game and Parks Commission, Box 30370, Lincoln, Neb. 68530. Wing envelopes, reporting forms, and instructions will be mailed to hunters selected for the survey.

The everyday quail — without an internal skeleton and practically all muscle — can pull 200 times his own weight.

Downed by Stanton

Wayne High's 9th-10th grade squad came out on the short end of a 26-13 score at Stanton Monday afternoon. The loss leaves Wayne with an 0-2 record on the season.

Although the young Devils jumped off to an early 7-0 first quarter lead, consistent scoring by Stanton proved to be the difference as the host team scored twice before the half and chalked up a touchdown in each of the remaining stanzas. Halftime score was 14-13.

Gordon Cook led Wayne's defensive attack, reaching paydirt twice. Terry Haasebrook booted the lone extra point.

Cook and Jeff Lamp were cited by Coach Ron Carnes as the leading defensive men.

Tournament Set for Little Wayne Gridders

A series of three-game tournaments is scheduled for youngsters taking part in Wayne's recreation football league, according to Coach Hank Overin. Tentative starting date is Thursday, Oct. 28.

In that game, the first team 6th graders will take on the second and third team 7th graders at 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 30 is the day set for a 10 a.m. meeting between the first team 5th graders and the second and third team 6th graders.

Second round action between 6th and 7th grade teams will get underway Tuesday, Nov. 2 at 6:15 p.m. That game will be followed by a face off between first team 7th graders and second and third team 8th graders.

All games are played at Wayne's ball park. Helping Overin in the program this year are Denny Paul and Mike Craighead.

During Nebraska's 1970 fire-arm-deer hunt, 57 per cent of the hunters in the Sand Hills Unit bagged a deer.

Nebraska's top-ranking typical white-tailed deer was taken in Dakota County in 1966 by Keith Farenholz of Allen. The big buck's rack scored 492 points on the Boone and Crockett Club scale.

"SMASH"

Rev. Paul Reimers had just gone all out on a net shot and Duane Hamm was making ready to return the ball when this picture was taken during mixed volleyball league action Wednesday night. The league, part of the city recreation program, is open to adults twenty years old and over from Wayne or the surrounding area. College students are not allowed. Anyone interested in joining the league should contact Hank Overin (375-2584) for further information. Games will be played through November each Wednesday night from 7-9 at the National Guard Armory.

Helmets, Shoulder Pads, Bruises

A new phase in Wayne's recreation football program is PeeWee (tackle above the waist) competition. The third, fourth and fifth graders learn the fundamentals — as well as the hard knocks — of football first-hand. According to Coach Hank Overin, starting the boys at an early age results in a better understanding of the game by the time they get into junior high. Overin is shown with the third and fourth grade players in the top photo; assistants Denny Paul (left) and Mike Craighead are pictured with the fifth graders below. The boys practice Saturday morning at 10 and either Tuesday or Wednesday from 4-6 p.m. at the Wayne ball park.

Men's Basketball League to Start

Men's recreation basketball is set to begin Monday, Nov. 8, at the Wayne City Auditorium. First practice session will start at 7 p.m.

The league is open to area men 20 years or older, according to Coach Hank Overin. Entry fee of five dollars covers the cost of officials and scorekeepers for the entire season.

Overin noted that the players will be divided into six teams following the first four practices. Teams will play each other twice plus a playoff series will be held at the season's end. As soon as recreation volleyball ends in December, the basketball league will play every Monday and some Wednesday nights. There will be an early and a late shift. Team rosters and weekly schedules will be carried in future issues of the Herald.

Duck Season Breather

Duck hunters in Nebraska will take a short breather beginning Nov. 1 for the three-day gap in the state's split 1971 season. Duck hunting will resume one-half hour before sunrise on Thursday, Nov. 4, continuing through Dec. 20 in the eastern part of the state and through Jan. 9 in the west.

The split season was adopted by the Game Commission at its August meeting to give the marshlands of Nebraska an added hunting opportunity. By closing the season on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 1 through 3, Nebraska gained three days of duck hunting at the end of the season that include a weekend.

 special activities for youths were included in the three-day program.

County March of Dimes Chairman Rowan Wittse also recently received a plaque from the state MOD office in recognition of his service in the fight against birth defects.

Wittse noted Thursday during 1971 the local county chapter has helped with medical bills, shoes and braces for one youngster, and with hospital bills for two other children who have undergone surgery. He said that through the March of Dimes regional medical center in Omaha, by way of the county chapter, the surgeon's fees were also paid for one of the youngsters.

The chapter has also contributed to the regional center in Omaha, the Sank Institute in California, and helped with the purchase of medical equipment at the Nebraska Center, Omaha. State Sends Aid Checks to Schools

Laurel school district during 1971-72 replaces funds which would otherwise be raised from local property taxation to the equivalent of 8.301 mills.

Supt. James W. Luquist said the school district would have received an additional $92,737.93 if the law would have been fully funded. This increase in revenue from fully funded appropriations would have the potential impact of permitting the Laurel district's local property tax levy to be replaced by an equivalent of 19.80 mills rather than the 8.301 mills above.

The Wakefield school district received a check for $13,224.82 for the first quarter making their annual entitlement $52,899.28.

Total funds to be received by Wakefield school district replaces funds which would otherwise be raised from local property taxation to the equivalent of 7.14 mills. The school would have received another $74,468.14 if the law would have been fully funded.

Specialist Says Trees Need Additional Water

Trees need additional watering this fall to prevent winter losses, according to Dick Gavit, Extension forester, at the Northeast Station, Concord.
 The drought conditions of the area during August and September could result in the loss of many trees and shrubs, said Gavit. The Weather Bureau reports 3 to 5 inches below normal rainfall in the area for these months.

 Trees and shrubs that have been planted within the past 3 or 4 years should be watered thoroughly. A garden hose with a small amount of water running for 24 hours per tree will soak the ground, or a deep-root aerator can be used. The aerator is a pipe about 30" long with holes near the bottom.
 The aerator should be placed in the ground in several locations under the tree. It should be placed in many locations under the drip-line of the branches, or under the crown of the tree so that the ground is thoroughly soaked. Watering of trees should continue until the ground freezes.

Trees are weakened because of the dry weather and leaves have fallen early from some trees, Gavit noted. Evergreens are the most critical and require more water to get them through the winter months. Evergreens give off moisture through the needles in the winter. This moisture comes from the root system,

Clifford, N. D., the Carl Bring, Emma Mize and Paul-Cosad.
 The Leroy Bring family, Atlantic, La., spent the weekend in the Carl Bring home. They were Sunday guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bartels.

Feed a hungry lawn this Fall!

To fertilize your lawn this Fall we recommend Scotts TURF BUILDER. It is the prolonged release fertilizer that gives up its nutrients as the grass needs them. So there's no spindly surge growth to cause extra mowing. Instead, TURF BUILDER makes your lawn grow thicker, greener and sturdier. TURF BUILDER is a pleasure to use—it's clean, odorless and light in weight. This week end would be a great time.

Fall is Nature's time to plant grass seed!

Why not beef-up your lawn by having a "seed-in"?

Best way to add new life to a skimpy lawn is to plant grass seed right into the existing turf. A dependable choice would be FAMILY which, over the years, has been Scotts best selling brand. This is a blend of bluegrass and fine fescues that does well both in full sun and partial shade.

Club Hears How Police Get Aid Using Computer

Operations of computerized communication systems currently in use by city, county and state law enforcement officers were explained to local Kiwanis Monday following a noon luncheon in the Woman's Club room.

Capt. Del J. Whitefoot, director of communications for the Nebraska Safety Patrol, Lincoln, explained the operation of the Law Enforcement Teletype System (LETS) in Nebraska and the National LETS program. LETS handles driving records and criminal date via teletype, Whitefoot said, explaining that the teletype communication system relieves the load carried by radio.

A computer in Phoenix makes it possible for law officers in all states to receive criminal data by using the National LETS system.

Whitefoot told Kiwanians about the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) system—now three years old—which involves the use of a computer in the Federal Bureau of Investigation offices in Washington, D.C.

He said the computer is programmed with information concerning three million items including stolen guns, autos, securities and 109,000 persons wanted for felonies.

The information is accessible to any law enforcement agency in the United States or Canada.

Whitefoot said a highway patrolman wanting information on a car can have that information in about five seconds by asking the computer for it via radio.

Agencies contributing information to the Washington computer include federal, military, state patrol, Selective Service and enforcement agencies in Canada.

Information concerning a car stolen in Wayne can be programmed into the Washington computer in about 10 minutes, according to Whitefoot. He noted that there is an average of 527,000 stolen autos parked or registered throughout the United States on any one given day.

Noting the many times that information from the NCIC has made it possible for criminals to be apprehended and arrested, Whitefoot said, "We think it's the greatest thing that has happened in law enforcement."

Looking into the future of police communications, he said he foresees expanded use of satellites in making information available around the world. He explained that a satellite is presently used between the United States and Hawaii in order to make the NCIC system available to law enforcement agencies there.

Capt. Whitefoot has worked for the Nebraska Safety Patrol for 22 years. He worked 13 years in traffic control, five years for the Governor's office and is now completing his fifth year in communications.

In early Nebraska, young doctors starting out in a country town wore sideburns and a goatee to make them look older and more dignified.

We Are Sorry

We are sorry that there are individuals in our midst who are not able to determine the difference between fun and foolishness.

We are sorry for that person or those persons who evidently felt compelled to burn the Wayne High School's bonfire wood slightly before midnight Wednesday. Anticipating homecoming, the WHS students put forth considerable effort to assemble the pile of wood for a bonfire slated Thursday night.

The persons whose thoughtlessness this community could well do without, evidently figured it would be "smart" to destroy the bonfire material.

We are sorry those who started the fire do not know how many people were robbed of a good night's rest due to the blaze. Wayne's volunteer firemen were aroused out of bed to fight the fire after already putting in a hard day of work at their individual jobs. Likely those who set the fire do not know the feeling of a full day of work.

We are sorry that though we live in an age when man has planted foot on the moon, he hasn't learned to plant that foot in the right place on the anatomy of those who get their kicks by destroying the efforts and work of others. — MMW.

That Time of Year Again

Pheasant and quail hunting seasons arrive over most of the state in about two weeks.

Hunters from out-of-state will join local and area hunters for the annual sport usually resultant in some good eating.

There is something about the challenge, adventure, companionship and sport of hunting which is so appealing that hunters may easily forget good rules of sportsmanship. One of those rules is to respect the rights and property of others.

Rural residents have been criticized for posting their land with "No Hunting" signs, refusing to allow hunters in the area. Farmers are oftentimes justified, however, in doing so for several reasons.

There have been occasions when sportsmen have destroyed private property.

Crops have been trampled, fences damaged, gates left open, debris scattered, or perhaps the hunter has shot dangerously close to livestock.

At other times farm folk have reported equipment damaged by a thoughtless hunter. Putting yourself in the farmer's shoes, just what would be your attitude toward having anyone hunt on your property after it had been damaged in previous seasons?

A good rule to remember when hunting is to treat the farmer, land and property in the exact same way as you would want to be treated if you were the tenant or owner.

By stopping at the farm home and asking permission to hunt on the land, you will help eliminate many hard feelings and likely have a lot more fun. — MMW.

Reason for Redistricting

Wayne County authorities are presently drawing new boundary lines for commissioner districts in order to conform to state and federal law by January. New districts are to be of nearly equal size insofar as population is concerned.

The need for redistricting becomes quite obvious after a brief study of current district boundary lines, and the representation of population in county government.

Joe Wilson is commissioner of District I. As one of three county board members, Wilson represents 69 per cent, or 7,176 persons, of the county's population. About 75 per cent of the 7,176, or 5,379 persons, reside in Wayne.

Ken Eddle, commissioner of District II, represents 1,863 county residents, or only 13 per cent of the county populace.

Commissioner Floyd Burt in District III represents 18 per cent of the county population, or a total of 1,955 people.

Each of the commissioners has equal voting power though Wilson speaks and acts in behalf of more than twice the number of people represented by Burt and Eddle combined. Burt and Eddle represent a total of 3,320 people, or about 31 per cent of the county population, while Wilson represents 69 per cent.

In other words, there are 3,320 people in the county who could conceivably muster a majority of two votes on the three-member county board. Those two votes could have more power than Wilson's one vote even though Wilson represents more than twice as many people—7,176.

New boundary lines will be drawn in such a way so as to make the new districts nearly equal in population inasmuch as possible. — MMW.

Wet Leaves Dangerous to Drivers

Wet leaves on pavement can be just as dangerous to drive as winter ice. Leaves, combined with the usual dust, oil film and rubber residue, lubricate the highway with a greasy-like coating with the first few drops of rain.

Experts note that the possibility of an accident is far greater when it is raining. In terms of stopping distances, it may take up to four times the distance to stop on wet road than on a dry one.

With the end of Daylight Savings Time just one week away, motorists are also reminded that the drive home after work will likely be in semi or full darkness, a time when the chances of being killed or injured in an auto accident are almost three times greater.

All this is coupled with knowledge that the drive home occurs at a time of day when falling temperatures can change rain-splattered streets into ice rinks.

Whether we like it or not, winter weather, along with its many hazardous driving conditions, may arrive most any day.

Let's remember to drive like pros. — MMW.

"No mister," they replied, "we told you this is a 'NOD' town." Their voices and figures faded into the shadows.

The dream refocused in the front room of a Wayne residence. An expectant-unwed mother was in tears. No one but her parents offered any kind of counseling, guidance, or help.

The phone rang and a voice suggested to the parents that the girl be given care at the Florence Crittenton Home in Sioux City.

"We thought about it," the mother said softly, "but living in Wayne, our problem is 'NOD'."

Dreams have their oddities, but before this was broken up by an alarm clock, it was vital to find out what all the "NOD" business was about.

A splinter started out of a telephone booth. He had sought help through the USO, but had been told that help wasn't available because of "NOD." He tried the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, but with the same results. In great wrath he cried out, "What is this business about Wayne and 'NOD'?"

All of a sudden an eight-year-old boy appeared. The Cub Scout uniform he was wearing was tattered and shabby. "I'll tell you mister what 'NOD' means. I'll tell you! We had our annual Community Chest Campaign and 'NOD' means 'No One Donated'."

The dream was gone but lingering behind was the horror of what Wayne would be like if NO ONE DONATED to the seven agencies supported through the community chest.

Think about it. There are seven agencies benefiting from the campaign. Those throwing in a $1 bill are spreading good will in thin fashion. Let's give generously.

Enjoying the beautiful fall scenery? Some of it is really breathtaking. There is a huge tree at the west edge of Dixon that was a pure gold last week, and the trees around Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord were aflame with brilliant hues of red.

If you haven't taken a jaunt across the countryside within the last week or so, by all means do so and enjoy a treat.

Our land is colorful, but let's talk about another land for a few paragraphs. Three upon a time there was a country called Same-der-land which met up with some hard times. There just didn't seem to be enough food, warm clothes or work to go around.

Same-landers worried. They worried as to where the next meal would come from. Concerned parents worried how they were going to be able to feed their youngsters and keep them warm. Nights were shattered beyond pulled window shades by strikes and riots. Everyone was extremely insecure.

It was agreed by general consent to raise up one god above all the others—the god of Security. Other men had worshipped Security, but none worshipped it in more devout manner than those dwelling in Same-der-land. Entire lives were often given in the quest of seeking Security's blessings. In strange rituals citizens labored from sunrise to sunrise to dig gold from the ground—only to bury it back in the ground for Security. Awesome weapons were constructed to protect their new god of Security. Residents even sacrificed their own sons in strange and varied little wars in strange and varied little places—in the name of the new god.

Security, pleased by their faithfulness, breathed blessings upon them all.

At long last there was enough of everything to go around! Food, clothes and jobs were abundant! People chorused happily as their new god stood guard. Day after day, not knowing what else to do, they continued laboring for more of their god—more Security.

Soon there were more clothes, more food, more jobs and more weapons—more than could ever be used. Overfed folk tried to slim. Overclothed folk started seeing how little they could wear without being arrested. The weaponry became so terrible as to be unusable.

Individuals, showing their consecrated devotion to the worship of Security, gathered symbols reflecting such faith, such as bigger automobiles, bigger houses, bigger scrolls named in honor of their subject of worship—"SecurityKles."

Suddenly, it happened! Residents in Same-der-land discovered the more Security they enjoyed—the more they worried about losing it! They worried about their auto being bumped and bent; worried about the house burning down or that inflation would render their honor cards of Security worthless. It was a major concern that the gold they could never use would somehow drain away.

They were so frightened of the weapons they had created and vaguely worried. More JUST WRIGHT, page 3

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

The 64-member Schuyler Central High School Marching Band was scheduled to compete for the first time at the Saturday marching contest at Plattsmouth. The band also plans to compete for the 11th time in the Nebraska High School Marching Contest at Pershing Auditorium, Lincoln, Oct. 30.

The Drama class of Elkhorn Valley High School will present its first play of the season, "The Teahouse of the August Moon," Nov. 20 and 22 at the Tilden City Auditorium.

Five Neligh residents attended the Neligh City Council meeting Tuesday night in protest to a sewer extension in the southwest part of town. The group was informed by the city attorney that in order for a protest to be valid, it would have to be in writing and be received three days prior to meeting. The council voted to proceed with the sewer extension plans.

Plainview Public Schools have announced that they can begin several adult education courses, hopefully the first week in November, in areas where sufficient interest is shown. Proposed courses are gymnastics, physical education for men and women, lifetime sports, welding, art seminar (short subjects of student interest), beginning clothing construction, bookie your teenagers are reading, sewing with knits, public speaking and art (pottery). A fee of $1 will be charged per adult student. Classes will be conducted one night per week and will run for six weeks.

Another electric fence, this time on the Herman Stuhr farm northeast of Elgin, started a second fire in the area in as many weeks. The fire involved around 15 acres of corn stalks. The alarm was sounded at 2:25 p.m. with a second whistle at 2:55 for more water.

The Madison Dragons, after their exhilarating win over the Pierce Bluejays, had a long way to fall in the game against Battle Creek, but the Braves tumbled them to a humiliating 20-0 loss in a recent game.

Operation Drug Alert, a program for school children and their parents, will be in West Point Nov. 1 and 2, in the form of a drug mobile. The bus will be open for anyone to tour, though morning and afternoon sessions have been scheduled primarily for school children. The drug mobile is owned by the Nebraska-Kiowa District Kiwanis Clubs, and is touring the two states during the school year.

The program at the Albion FFA meeting tonight (Monday) will feature "New Methods in Teaching" to be presented by Dorothy Dunn. Miss Dunn will show a film and have several display booths. Classrooms will be open following the meeting for visits by parents and other interested persons.

Quotable Notables

A wise man cares not for what he cannot have. — Herbert.

In taking revenge a man is but equal to his enemy, but in passing it over he is his superior. — Bacon.

A Laurel man, Warren Paterfield, immediate past president of the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Association which met in Lincoln in September, received an enlarged, hand-painted photo of his farm as an award for his outstanding service to and interest in the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission. Paterfield was also elected to the same position with the Commission.

The South Sioux City Police Reserves have obtained an Air Force surplus vehicle through the efforts of Dick Lilla, Reserve Chief. Lilla says the vehicle will be a multi-purpose truck with the capability of a police paddy wagon, a rescue truck, a riot control car and a squad vehicle. The reserves plan to store their equipment in the truck which will probably be kept at the city garage, so they can move out more quickly when called.

The Pierce County Agricultural Society gave final approval to a variety of constitutional changes last Wednesday evening at the annual meeting of that group which will change it from a stock group to a membership organization. Memberships in the newly-organized group are now being accepted.

The Guinness Book of Records doesn't list a record for time needed to get a federal program rolling, but if it did, Constance, Nebr., would probably hold the record. Less than a month after a community meeting set to discuss possible action to counteract the economic situation in the area, Constance has a Head Start program in full operation.

Head Start is a child development program for the economically disadvantaged pre-school child, designed to develop the self image, social confidence, and awareness of three- and four-year old children.

The future of the Medical Center building in Wisner appears to be brighter with the contribution of $2,500 from the Wisner American Legion Auxiliary last week. The money, a Legion Auxiliary spokesman said, was donated to reduce the principle in hopes that the action will instigate a program by area persons to raise additional monies to clear the Clinic building from its existing debt. Both Wisner banks hold notes in the amount of $8,200, now reduced to $5,700 with the recent contribution.

Saturday, Oct. 30, the date for this year's Halloween Parade in O'Neill, is drawing close. Ghosts and goblins from age four to sixth grade now have less than a week to scan, design, and make the parade. Judging for the best costume will begin at 1:30 in the O'Neill school lunch room with the parade to follow at 2:30. The parade is sponsored by the O'Neill Chamber of Commerce.

upon which had been painted the word "Wayne." Beneath the word were the mysterious letters "NOD."

Could it be that here was the real land of "NOD"? What the three letters actually meant was to be discovered later.

Motoring into the city one could immediately notice something strangely different. There were no children to be seen anywhere. Child-like laughter was absent, leaving a haunting and eerie silence.

After a sightseeing trip in, through and around the city, it was obvious that no one in the community really cared about anyone or anything.

There were no football, baseball or softball fields enhanced with the gaudy and enthusiastic of youth. Golf, wrestling and swimming were but ghost games of the past.

Two youths ventured out of a house onto a porch. They wore long faces and explained they had nothing to do and no place to go. "It's a 'NOD' town," they said.

An Allen second grader, preparing an assignment last week for school, originated the following recipe: "Dobel Deker Sandwich. You get three slices of bread. Put butter on the top and put jam a penny butter on the next one and on the next one. And that's a all yod."

Now there's a born writer. How many adults could tell you how to make such a sandwich in so few words? It's likely some advertising man will pick up the "Dobel Deker" spelling for a pitch about a new bread.

We were visiting with some of the Community Chest Fund campaign workers the other day about this year's drive. That night we had a terrible dream. As the dream came into focus the spotlight was on a community of 5,300 people in Northeast Nebraska. Standing at the roadside on the edge of town was a sign

Seller Must Keep Price Records

By November 1, 1971, merchants must make available to their customers ceiling prices on goods and services in effect prior to the 90-day wage-price freeze ordered by the President August 15, according to George Lincoln, Director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

The base period for computing a ceiling price includes the period from July 16, 1971 through August 14, 1971.

Ceiling prices do not have to be posted. However, merchants must provide ceiling price information on an item-by-item basis upon specific request.

Until the ceiling price information is available merchants have 48 hours in which to reply in writing to customers written requests for price information. After that date sellers must provide the ceiling price information promptly, at the place of sale.

his supporting records, including the record of transactions from which the ceiling price was calculated. It is recognized such records comprise proprietary information, and, therefore, are available for public inspection only at the option of the seller. However, the seller is required to reveal all lists and supporting records to authorized federal personnel responsible for investigating complaints.

While a seller must maintain price lists for public inspection at the place of sale, supporting records do not have to be kept in store retail outlets, as long as the information is available in some central location.

After many months it came to pass that all those who lived in Sane-der-land were exceptionally depressed, worried and insecure.

The young were thus because they had no god to worship-and the old because they did.

Tally Time

Bob Reeg, at left, and Sid Miller, Community Chest campaign chairmen, reported at mid-week that total contributions to the 1971 Community Chest amounted to $4,000, or 40 per cent of the $10,000 goal. The Wage-Price Freeze

Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

Q—My employer is transferring me to a higher cost-of-living area. It has been the policy of my company to increase the pay of employees transferred to such areas. Can I receive this increase?

A—Yes. However, your employer must be able to document the existence of such a plan prior to the freeze, and must not increase the differential during the freeze.

Q—Can deposits for apartments be raised during the freeze?

A—No. This is not permitted during the freeze.

Q—I want to apply for an exemption from the freeze. How do I go about doing this?

A—Persons seeking exemptions from the price, wage or rent ceilings should submit written requests in duplicate to the Director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness Regional Office for their geographical area. The request should state:

(a) name, address and telephone number;

(b) nature of business;

(c) manner in which the wage-price freeze is believed to be grossly inequitable;

(d) the specific relief sought; and

(e) whether the individual or anyone affiliated with him has previously been granted or applied for an exception, exemption or adjustment.

Q—Prior to August 15, my company scheduled a profit-sharing program for its employees. Can the program be implemented during the freeze?

A—No. A company's previously scheduled profit-sharing program cannot be implemented during the freeze. All other fringe benefits, including expense accounts, commissions, discounts, stock options; payments for deferred compensation, etc., are also frozen.

Q—My church is asking us to increase our contributions. Can this be done during the freeze?

A—Yes. Charitable contributions are not frozen by the President's order.

Q—How can you tell if a distributor of imported goods is passing on the import surcharge to consumers?

A—An importer, or distributor of imported goods, must show on the sales ticket or invoice, in dollars and cents, the surcharge passed on to the purchaser. If the importer or distributor elects to pass on only a portion of the surcharge, he is still required to indicate penny-for-penny the exact amount passed on.

Q—Will exemptions from the freeze be granted for persons with low incomes?

A—While the Cost of Living Council has not granted formal exemptions for low income persons, it has stated that, during the freeze, the following are allowed: Increases that are necessary to bring wages into line with minimum wage legislation; increases that eliminate discriminatory wage practices; increases in welfare payments; and increases in coverage or benefits under Social Security.

IRS Checks for 'Freeze' Violations

Internal Revenue Service field investigators are making spot checks to determine the extent of voluntary compliance with the President's wage-price freeze.

The IRS is recently stepped-up its activity in this area. The spot checks cover a wide geographical area and have turned up rent violations, the non-availability of retail price lists, and restaurants cutting down the size of their food portions. When there is an apparent violation investigators ask for voluntary compliance, or file a formal complaint which is taken up through regular channels at the 10 regional headquarters of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, National Director of the OEP, George A. Lincoln, reports that in most cases investigators are finding voluntary compliance.

"The spot checks now being made by IRS field personnel are helping us assure full compliance with the President's policy. We're grateful for the overwhelming cooperation and support we've had from the public on this program," he said.

The program of spot checks supplements the assistance the IRS has been giving the OEP in helping to administer the wage-price-rent freeze. IRS local and district office personnel have been answering public inquiries and processing complaints received regarding alleged violations of the freeze policy. OEP presently has overall responsibility for implementing, administering, monitoring, and enforcing the President's economic stabilization program. This, however, will become the sole responsibility of the IRS after November 13, 1971.

The Internal Revenue Service operates Wage-Price-Rent Excess-Service and Compliance Centers in Omaha, Lincoln, and Grand Island where Nebraskans may obtain information or file complaints. The telephone numbers for these centers are: Omaha Center 221-3495, Lincoln Center 475-3541, Grand Island 382-8640.

Wayne Man Observes European Processing Of Dairy Products

Victor Kniesche, Wayne, was one of 23 persons joining an Iowa Dairy Association tour of large dairy operations in Europe earlier this month.

Kniesche and the four group left New York City on Sept. 23 and traveled through Scotland, England, the Guernsey and Jersey Islands, Switzerland, Germany and the Netherlands. A stop was made in Heidelberg where the visitors joined in the Octoberfest.

During stops in various countries, the tour group observed dairy operations including butter making, processing long-life milk, bottling and cheese processing.

The group attended a Holstein Friesian Bull Show in Holland which included over 700 head of livestock.

Other stops included looking over an area of Holland reclaimed from the sea. Kniesche said a huge dike was constructed to keep the North Sea from spreading inland over 225,000 acres of ground, half of which is already being used for agricultural purposes.

The Wayne man was the only Nebraskan on the tour which included people from Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and Arkansas.

Kniesche arrived home Oct. 7.

Staters Rate High in Loan Repayments

Wayne State students have a fine record in repaying National Defense Student Loans—much better than the national average.

In the decade of NDSU up to September, 1971, at Wayne, 949 students had borrowed funds, according to Mrs. Wanda Owens, financial aids director.

From this number, only three students have completely defaulted on payments. This figure compares to a 4 to 6 per cent default rate nationally on NDS loans, Mrs. Owens said.

John Struve, Wayne State business manager, commented, "We feel this is an excellent indication of the responsibility Wayne State students have toward their moral and financial obligations."

The Financial Aids office applies for federal funds for these loans and makes the student awards.

This year approximately $60,000 worth of checks were written in National Defense Student loans from the college.

The college determined who would receive this aid through the financial aid statements the students submitted.

Students are billed quarterly, and the payments are $45 with an annual rate of 3 per cent interest.

Struve takes over when the payments are due.

So Proudly We Hail . . .

. . . Those Gallant Patriots who gave their lives for the security and liberty that is ours today. May we dedicate ourselves to endeavor to perpetuate an honorable peace among peoples of the world - so that these valiant men might not have died in vain.

- We Salute Our Wayne Area Veterans -

On this day, we pause in remembrance and gratitude as we salute our Wayne area veterans. Proudly, we honor all who so valiantly served their country in defense of freedom and those who, with equal valor, serve to day.

Not only on Veterans Day, but every day, let us pledge to give purpose to their loyalty and sacrifice. Let us strive unceasingly to maintain the democratic principles they have so gloriously upheld. And let us be profoundly thankful for the way of life these men, through their unselfish efforts, have insured for this United States.

How often do we stop and think about how fortunate we are to be Americans? Today we hear much discussion of what is wrong with America, but how often do we hear what is right with our great country?

PRISONERS OF WAR

Lord, shelter the prisoners of war in Southeast Asia. Open the hearts and minds of their captors that they may be restored to their homes and loved ones.

Each has carried the burden of battle.

Each has discharged an obligation of his country.

Each has been subjected to hazard, pain, and imprisonment beyond the lot of the soldier.

O Lord, these gallant men who bear so great a burden must not be forsaken.

God of Justice to whom we pray, Thy compassion we beseech: Lift their burden, give them strength and strike the shackles that deny them freedom.

We are the best fed . . . best clothed . . . healthiest . . . most envied . . . most imitated . . . most respected people on earth. Our accomplishments outweigh those of any other nation in the history of mankind. The 1970 World Almanac lists 308 Great Inventions and Scientific Discoveries in the world since 1450. The United States is credited with 59 per cent of these discoveries - more than the total of all the other countries combined.

Freedom of Speech . . . Freedom of Worship . . . Freedom from Want . . . Freedom from Fear; these Four Freedoms promised us are a reality in America.

Yes, we have problems in America. We are still searching for the answers. This is our heritage. America was discovered and settled by people searching for a better life. Tomorrow we will solve today's problems. And tomorrow we will have a still better America than we have today. This is the American Way - the American Dream.
