Mr. and Mrs. Hans Carstens, Winside, observed their 40th wedding anniversary Oct. 17 with a dinner for 55 friends and relatives, followed by an open house reception at the American Legion Hall in Winside. One hundred twenty-five friends and relatives from Huron and Alpena, S.D., Grand Island, Plainville, Carroll, Winside, Wayne, Plover, Omaha, Norfolk, York, Lincoln and Wisner were present.

The event was hosted by the couple's children and grandchildren, the Bruce Otto, George Carstens, Clark Bauer and Jack Carstens families, all of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Carstens of

Guest Demonstrates Macrame Techniques

Guest speaker at the Wayne High School FHA meeting held Monday evening at the high school, was Kathy Reinhardt, who explained the basics of macrame. Members each began a macrame project.

Thirteen members and chapter mothers, Mrs. Lorna Spittgerber, Mrs. Darlene Gemelle, Mrs. Janet Kalesche and Mrs. Patricia Blanton, were present. The group made plans for a bake sale, decided to donate to the annual Hospital Auxiliary bazaar, decided to go Christmas caroling with middle school FHA members and discussed the secret grandmother project.

Senior Citizens Hold Halloween Party

Sixty-five members from the Wayne Senior Citizens Center turned out for the monthly pot-luck dinner and annual Halloween party Thursday, which was followed by the group's first evening old-fashioned dance.

Leona Bahde arranged the floral centerpiece provided by Wayne Greenhouse. On the kitchen committee were Mrs. Gladys Petersen, Mrs. Louise Hoeman and Mrs. Esther Larson.

Students from Mrs. Simpson's WSC Group Recreation and Leadership class who decorated the center, arranged entertainment and provided prizes were Ruth Register, Barb Ross, Mike and Mitch Mittles, Bob Weisenberg, Jill Helm, Jim Ennis, Lynne Draper and Ann Tulkeron.

Weisenberg and Miss Helm led group singing of Halloween songs accompanied by Mrs. Alma Spittgerber. Prizes were won by Mrs. Mildred Powers, Mrs. Mary Echtenkamp, Mrs. Lillian Miller, Mrs. Lillian Kirchner, Mrs. Anna Mau, Annie Gentrup and Mrs. Josie Hansen.

Al and Amalia Bate provided piano and violin music for the old fashioned dance held that evening and Jan Haun and Patty Jacobsma, Wayne Middle School FHA members, gave instruction in modern dances. FHA's presented awards to Glen Sumner, best man dancer for the month; Mrs. Pearl Echtenkamp, best woman dancer, and Al Bate, best fiddler for the year. All who attended received mums or red or white carnations.

The next dance has been scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 4:30 p.m. Following the handicraft show, "Let's Be Creative for Christmas," to be presented by Mrs. Marian Hofelt. Mrs. Hofelt operates "The House of Creations," at her Hancock farm home.

A skin care product show was presented Friday afternoon at the center by Mr. and Mrs. John Bohm of Hoskins. Models who received facials were Annie Gentrup, Mrs. Nancy Schuette and Ed Johnson. Mrs. Estle Heine won the door prize.

Mrs. Gloria Leseburg and her pupils from School District 34 visited the center that afternoon. The group, which was composed of Dennis and Mike and Randy Flevort, Jodi, Karla and Danny Frevert and Tammy Henschke, played "The Caisson Song," "Blow the Man Down," and "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," on tonettes.

Randy Flevort played "My Wild Irish Rose" and "Yes Sir, That's My Baby," on the piano and trio sang, "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head." The group also

Patterns for Knits
Sewing knit fabrics is not difficult, but selecting the patterns used for knits provides a new challenge.

"You may have already found out that some of your old patterns look fine made up in a knit, but some do not.

Basically it's a matter of "ease", that bit of extra stretch that woven fabrics don't have. Patterns designed for knits account for this ease in darts, tucks and roominess allowed.

Patterns labeled "for knits" may be used for woven or knit fabrics, because the ease allowances are the same as needed for unstretchable woven fabrics. Average ease allowances used by pattern manufacturers are 3 to 4 inches at the bust line, 2 to 3 inches at the hip area and 1/2 inch at the fitted waistline. For this type of pattern it is best to choose a bonded or double knit fabric. Very stretchy knits require less ease allowance.

Patterns labeled "knits only" are usually not successful made up of a woven or firmly knit fabric. These are planned to fit the body "closely" and less than average "ease" is allowed. These patterns require knit fabrics that have easy stretchable characteristics.

If you choose a pattern marked "for stretchable sweater knits only," be sure you use the suggested fabric. These patterns allow very little ease. Double knits, batons and bonded knits do not have enough stretch for these patterns.

Hoskins Girl Noted for Recent Honors

Diane Carol Wachter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wachter, Hoskins, has recently been accepted for membership in the University of Nebraska Chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary scholastic fraternity for women.

The announcement was made last week by Alpha Lambda Delta President Judy Zelman and Advisor Janette S. Sayre. Miss Wachter, a 1970 graduate of Norfolk Senior High School, is a sophomore music major at the University in Lincoln. She was initiated this fall into Alpha Iota, an honorary music sorority for which she serves as corresponding and recording secretary, and has also been selected to sing this year with the University Singers, a group which presents concerts on tour throughout Nebraska during her freshman year. Miss Wachter, a soprano, was a member of the Madrigal Singers.

Scholarships awarded the honor student for this term include a $100 University Award.

Diane Wachter

a $100 William E. Sharp fund grant, and a financial scholarship aid of $800 by the University of Nebraska for maintaining a 3.5 grade average.

EASY RIDER IS A MOVIE — RIGHT?

WRONG. It is a VAN HEUSEN 417 (the most easy-riding form-fitting body shirt on a chopper or in the classroom). And if you think the VAN HEUSEN 417 looks great on the guys, you haven't seen it on Jane Sharer yet!

True body fit is now a science. It is a science of precise measurement known as Ergonomics which Van Heusen uses to design the perfect 417 Body Shirt for guys. And guess what? It has turned out to be the perfect body shirt for gals, too!

Just ask Jane — she will tell you that besides the tapered body fit, Van Heusen 417 gives her fuller puffed sleeves, two or three buttons, barrel cuffs and the sharpest long-point collar in the shirt world.

Jane also knows the only "IN" place to shop for Van Heusen 417 Body Shirts is at Swan-McLean Clothing in Wayne.

Try one in Smoked Plum, BIG RED, Cognac (orange), the new Philippine Flower Print or the multi-hued Peasant Print. Available in sizes: Small - Medium - Large - Extra Large.

WSC Wildcats Clench NCC Crown

By Dick Manley

With their second straight conference football championship tucked away, Wayne State's Wildcats now move to the remaining task—winning two final games and making a fine season out of what started badly.

The Cats go to Yankton Saturday night at 7:30 to renew a dormant—since 1945 rivalry with Yankton College after suppressing a stubborn Peru State eleven, 7-6, last Saturday at Peru. That win gave Wayne championship of the Nebraska-College conference, undefeated in three conference games.

At Yankton the Wildcats will be going for their fifth straight victory of the season after three "winning losses." The host Greyhounds have a 4-3-1 mark. They opened the season with a 7-7 tie against Doane, followed with whopping victories over Dana, Concordia and Sioux Falls, lost to Westmar and Northwestern, then beat Lea, 26-7, and last week lost, 7-6, to previously winless Kistland. The Yankton decision over Lea, 26-7, came a week after Wayne downed Lea, 28-13. In 10 games dating back to 1914, Yankton won six, Wayne four.

Wayne scouts report Yankton as a big team with considerable speed in the backfield. An important factor may be the return of the ace Greyhound running back, Les Goodman, who had a 136-yard rushing average in mid-October. Last year he led national NAIA rushing with a 1,747 yard total.

Wayne defense many-times have in recent years put the brakes on big gainers like Goodman—including this year such power runners as Washburn's Kevin McCormick, Omaha's Charlie McWhorter and Kearney's Tom Kropp.

And it was the Wayne defense that stifled Peru. Twice in the fourth quarter the Wildcat bandits so intimidated the Bobcat center that he snapped the ball out of a kicker's reach. One time felled an extra point attempt; the other, a field goal try.

Wayne offense managed its one touchdown in the second quarter after three long plays put the ball on Peru's three, and half-back Mike Wise bulled over for the score.

Dan Ernst kicked the vital point—his eleventh in 11, earlier this year. Three weeks earlier his field goal gave Wayne a 15-14 win over Chadron. Thus Wayne gained two of its three NCC wins by one point each on Ernst's kicking finesse—capping "Tie" team effort.

Official statistics from the Peru game listed a 24-yard rushing total for the Bobcats. However, Wayne coaches believe this figure did not include a stazbe loss of about 30 yards on the errant center snap for a field goal attempt. Such a loss has to be charged against rushing. Thus it is Wayne's opinion that Peru ended with minus rushing yardage.

The Wildcats totaled 136 yards rushing—115 of it by Wise, who had his best running game of the year. Wayne passing produced only 16 yards, according to Peru statistics, while the Bobcats passed for 150 yards.

Late in the game a brawl erupted on the field which eventually involved most of both teams and numerous spectators. Coach Del Stoltenberg said the scrap apparently started after a Peru player, kicked Ken Monroe, who was on the ground, and Monroe retaliated. It is interesting to speculate whether the Peru player knew that the Monroe he kicked was a national wrestling champion.

For Peru, the loss was especially bitter on several counts: It ran their losing streak to 15; seven of the nine losses this season were by small point spreads; and then it was Peru grad Stoltenberg directing the loss, Wayne's ninth straight over the Bobcats.

But all that means absolutely zero to Yankton, Stoltenberg is quick to say.

Perfect Scores Fired Sunday At Ike Shoot

Two perfect rifle scores were shot Sunday at the Wayne Bas annual turkey and ham shoot at the Wayne airport.

Stacey Swinney fired the first perfect score followed shortly by Lloyd Russell with another. Isaak Walton president Norris Weible said it was the first time in the history of the shoot that a perfect score had been fired. Prizes of turkeys or hams were awarded for the best shooters in trap, rifle and still shotgun. In still shotgun competition the winner is determined by the greatest number of pellets in a small circle at a specified range. All shooters must use shells furnished by the club for this event.

Winners of prizes in the trap shoot included Dave Werns, mounds, Winslow, four turkeys and one ham; H. Kimbell, Allen, two turkeys, three hams; D. Longe, Norfolk, three turkeys; Gene Johnson, Sioux City, two turkeys; Mitchell, two turkeys; Tom Prenger, Wayne, one ham.

Rifle shoot winners were: Lisa Russell, Stacey Swinney and Ron Lage, all of Wayne, two turkeys each; Marvin Dranselka, Wayne, one turkey.

Still shotgun target shooters who won were: Norris Weible, Larry Haase, Doug Lyman, Lonnie McDonald, Byron Janie, Johnson and J. B. Wernsmunde, all of Wayne, one turkey or a ham; David Wernsmunde, Winslow, one turkey.

Another three-way shoot is slated for Nov. 21, the Sunday before Thanksgiving. Weible said, with hams and turkeys as prizes.

Men's Basketball To Start Monday

Men's recreation basketball is set to begin Monday, Nov. 15 at the Wayne City Auditorium. First practice session will start at 7 p.m.

The league is open to area men 20 years old or over, according to Coach Hank Overin. College students can play if they are not eligible for intramural competition.

Overn noted that the players will be divided into teams following the first four practices. The 13-game season will run through February—plus a playoff series will be held at the season's end.

Anyone wanting to take part in the basketball program but not able to make the first four practices should contact Overin through February—plus a play-

Youths Make All-America Team

Twenty junior high students and one Wayne High sophomore were named to the President's All-America team this week. Youths earning that honor must score in the 85th percentile or better on physical performance tests given in schools all over the country. Named to the team shown in the photo (sitting from left): Patty Barclay, Mary Kovensky, Mary Proett and Kris Nedergaard. Standing: Instructor Mavis Dakon, Elaine Boden, Susan Addison and Carla Schwartz. Shown in the middle photo (sitting from left): Lori Hall, Joanne Tomridge and Lori Lesh. Standing: Pam Sutherland; Shelley Glickerleeve, Scott Johnson and Deb Bodenstedt (sophomore). Shown in the bottom photo (sitting from left): Doug Straight, Mark Brandt, Mike Wieseler and Paul Mallette. Standing: Instructor Harold Maciejewski, Brian Magnusson, Rodney Ruhnman and Steve Johnson. Each student making the All-America Team receives a certificate of merit and an arm patch from the Council on Youth Fitness, headed by former astronaut James Lovell. Students must meet or exceed national standards on a battery of seven tests conducted at the beginning of the school year to qualify for the team. The tests include sit-ups, pull-ups, standing broad jump, 50-yard dash, 600-yard walk/run, softball throw and shuttle run.

Eagles Close in on East L & C Title

Success of the 1971 gridiron season boils down to the outcome of one game for Coach Charles Haag's high-flying Eagles. That game: Emerson-Hubbard at Allen High Friday night.

A win in that game will give Allen a 5-0 conference mark—good enough for top honors in the Lewis and Clark (east division). A loss will result in a three-way tie with Emerson-Hubbard and Newcastle.

The Eagles will be primed for this week's showdown following a 12-6 road trip win over Washburn Saturday. That victory pushed Allen's season record to 5-2-1.

Big play of the game was a 41-yard sprint by Tim Hill with just 3:16 remaining. The run, capped by a 50-yard drive, clinched a win just four minutes after Washburn had brooked the score at 6-6.

The host team's sole touchdown came on a 12-yard pass interception with 9:22 left in the game. Up to that point the Eagle defense had thwarted every attempt to reach the goal-line.

Allen drew first blood with 3:54 left in the opening quarter when John Warner scored from four yards out to cap an 80-yard drive.

Warner and Hill completed for all but seven yards of the Eagles' rushing total. Warner carried the ball 30 times for 111 yards and Hill netted 100 yards in 16 carries.

Paul Snyder caught one pass for 32 yards and Jim Koester pulled in one for 18.

Several individuals were singled out for Coach Haag for their defensive efforts. Randy Lanser made four solo tackles and five assists and Jerry Geiger was credited with nine assists.

John Warner and Pete Snyder each plated a Washburn pass and returned it two yards. Randy Lanser, Gary Lanier and Jerry Geiger each recovered a fumble.

Furniture Store To Open Here

A new furniture store will be opening soon in Wayne, operated by a name long connected with furniture in Wayne.

The owners are Harold and Marian Surber, who will be operating their discount furniture store in the same building housing Country Sportsman Store, one and one-half miles north of Wayne on Highway 15.

Surber's father started a furniture store here in 1934 and it was operated by him and his two sons until the business was sold in 1968. Harold left the business in 1967.

Surber said he plans to call his business Discount Furniture and offer name brand furniture at discount prices. He said he plans to be open for business in about two weeks.

Friday Game to Honor WH Football Fathers

Fathers of Wayne High football players will be honored Friday night at the Pierce-Wayne game at WSC stadium.

All fathers of the Blue Devils football players will be admitted to the game free of charge. To identify the fathers Pep Club members have made signs bearing the number of the son's football uniform. A special section of the stadium will be roped off for the honored guests.

Half-time activities will see the band dedicating their show to the fathers. Three names will be drawn at this time to award a souvenir football.

The sponsoring Pep Club has issued invitations to all fathers to come to this event in their honor.

When not in use, guns should always be kept unloaded with the action open. If possible, they should be transported to and from the field or target range in a case.

Learn Hunter Safety

Hunter safety instruction for 21 youngsters including two girls was completed this week by Dick Lesh, Lesh, an NRA hunter-safety instructor, said the course is designed to teach the youth all phases of safe gun handling and storage, but is not a marksmanship course. The instruction makes the hunters 19 times safer, according to statistics, where the program has been mandatory for beginning hunters. Lesh is shown here watching an assistant, Bill Wilson, conduct finals for one group of students. Others helping but not pictured include Charles McDermott and Kurt Lesh.

County Goes to New, Pre-Written Tax Statements

Wayne County residents this week received a new type of personal tax notice in the mail. The pre-written tax statements, which went out Friday afternoon in sealed envelopes, are each printed with the amount of tax levied, evaluation of property, school and fire district numbers and tax number, in addition to the amount of tax.

The old style of notice, used until this year, was a printed post card with only the amount of tax listed.

County Treasurer Leon F. Meyer commented that the new statements, which should be brought or mailed in with payment, will make processing payments faster and more efficient.

Real estate notices, which go out in the spring will be the same type of form as the new personal tax notices Meyer noted.

Services Held For 3-Year-Old Michael Thomsen

Michael Kenneth Thomsen, Wakefield, 3-year-old son of Kenneth and Denise Anderson Thomsen, died Saturday at the St. Joseph Hospital in Sioux City. Funeral services were held Monday at the St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Pender.

The Rev. Drell Bernhardtson officiated at the rites. Charles Soderberg sang "How Great Thou Art" and "Children of the Heavens' Father," accompanied by Paul Bauerman.

Honorary pallbearers were Shannon Thomsen, Kevin Greve, Troy Greve, Wesley Grege, Mark Lundahl, Ronnie Brudgum and Lynn Cox. Pallbearers were Arthur Greve, Dean Boeckenhauer, Daryl Cox and James Nuerbinger. Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery.

Michael Kenneth Thomsen was born June 5, 1968 at Pender. He was a member of the St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

Survivors include his parents; one sister, Vickie; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Thomsen of Wakefield; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Anderson of Omaha; and great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomsen and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, both of Pender.

Wakefield Rites Held Tuesday for Loton R. McCaw

Funeral services for Loton R. McCaw, 84, Wakefield, were held Tuesday at the Presbyterian Church. He died Sunday at the Wakefield Hospital.

The Rev. James Marlett officiated. Mrs. Per Pearson sang "Twenty-third Psalm" and "Sweet By and By," accompanied by Merle Ring. Pallbearers were Jerry McCaw, Henry McCaw, Clifford McCaw, Earl McCaw, Clarence McCaw, and Norman McCaw. Burial was in the Concord Cemetery.

Loton R. McCaw, son of William and Harriet Herrick McCaw, was born August 5, 1887 at Audubon, Ia. On Jan 11, 1911 he married Bertha Mae Comstock. He moved to Wakefield in 1935. He was a retired feed salesman and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Bertha; one son, William of Cherokee, Ia.; two daughters, Mrs. Preston (Vivian) Turner of Wakefield and Mrs. Knowles (Ruby) Bohn of Omaha; four sisters, Mrs. Bessie Davidson of Wayne, Mrs. Earl (Maggie) Wright of Claremont, Ia., Mrs. Earl (Olive) Kraft of Audubon, Ia. and Mrs. Grace Robble of Audubon, Ia.; one brother, James of Wayne; eight grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Nebraska's state record for largemouth bass taken with bow and arrow was held by Jerry Gross and Fred Scottabutt, with an 8-pound, 14-ounce taker from a sandpit near Scottabutt on June 18, 1966.

Business Notes

Robert D. Jordan, cashier at the State National Bank and Trust Company, Wayne, was one of 88 registrants from 26 states who completed the fifth annual seminar for younger bank officers held last week at Ball State University, Muncie, Ind.

The four-day seminar, sponsored by the Independent Bankers Association of America, was headed by Dr. Robert H. Myers, lecturer in finance at Ball State. The program is designed to help younger staff officers prepare for senior officer responsibility in independent banks.

The seminar included instruction in basic banking subjects, workshops on banking skills and machines useful in medium-size and small banks, and lectures on the philosophy of independent banking.

It is unlawful in Nebraska to possess any upland game bird or small-game animal except during the open season and for 90 days thereafter.

Drug Education Films Available

Schools and community organizations across Nebraska now have the opportunity to take a second look at the "Turned On Crisis," a nationally-acclaimed drug education series currently being broadcast over the Nebraska Educational Television Network.

Paul H. Schupbach, director of the Great Plains National Instructional Television Library at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, says 16mm color films of the "Turned On Crisis" programs can be rented or purchased through Great Plains National's film division—GPN Films. He notes that the films may be used either in the classroom or before interested community groups and will serve to follow up and reinforce public understanding of the drug abuse problem.

Nebraska's TV Network airing of the "Turned On Crisis," produced by WQED-TV in Pittsburgh, will continue through late November and will resume early in 1972. The first eight programs are designed for general community viewing and deal with drug information, prevention, rehabilitation and legislation. They are being broadcast through Oct. 30 on Thursdays and Saturdays at 6 p.m. The next six programs propose a positive approach to the drug problem and are designed for teachers and administrators. They will be seen over the state network, Nov. 4 through 20. The final six programs of the series, to be broadcast early in 1972, are for viewing by junior high school students.

Low Cost Insurance For Disabled Vets

A new law authorizes the Veterans Administration to provide up to $30,000 worth of low cost mortgage protection life insurance on a group basis for about 10,000 severely disabled veterans.

C. W. Nixon, Director, said the new law will cover disabled veterans who are recipients of grants for specially-adapted housing or "wheelchair homes."

He said the commercial group coverage will automatically insure an eligible veteran unless he elects in writing not to be insured or fails to furnish information on which his premium could be based.

The premium paid by the disabled veteran will be based on monthly rates of insuring standard lives, but the government will pay the "extra risk" portion and the administrative costs. Nixon noted that VA makes grants for wheelchair homes (equipped with ramps, etc.) of not more than 50 per cent of their cost, up to a maximum of $12,500. The veteran usually may obtain a VA guaranteed loan for the balance.

He explained that "It is this unpaid balance on the first mortgage, excluding delinquent payments, that the mortgage life insurance would pay off should the veteran die before his debt is retired."

Information on the insurance, including sample premiums and application and declaration forms, have been mailed to eligible veterans who were automatically insured when the President signed the bill last August.

Premiums for the mortgage protection must be deducted from the monthly compensation the veteran receives from the agency. Also, premiums will be lowest than the veteran would pay a commercial insurer, Nixon said.

Halloween Party Held Saturday

About 13 couples attended the Mr. and Mrs. Jaycees Halloween costume party Saturday evening in the Dale Preston home. The group bobbed for apples and danced to recorded music.

Mrs. Dick Ditman and Mrs. Bill Luaders were on the refreshment committee; Mrs. Bob Woehler, entertainment committee, and Mrs. Dale Preston and Mrs. John E. Ebersdorf, decorating committee.

Saturday afternoon several members of Mrs. Jaycees with their children visited Dahl Retirement center. The 12 costumed youngsters treated residents there to fruit.

Next regular meeting for Mrs. Jaycees will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Mrs. Bob Woehler home.

Planetarium's Feature: Mars

Mars, the mysterious red planet, is the current topic of twice-weekly shows at the Wayne State College Planetarium. The public is invited to attend the shows, free of charge, on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 and Sunday afternoons at 2:30. The Mars show will continue through Nov. 21.

Carl Rump, director of the Planetarium and member of the science faculty, said special showings for school groups and organizations can be arranged by contacting him at Carhart Science Hall.

Rump's space trip via the Planetarium's Spitz projector, located in Carhart Hall, takes visitors on an imaginary journey to the surface of Mars. From there the spacemen can view the Martian sky and the passage of the planet's two strange moons. Rump explains the past and present mysteries of Mars.

Carhart Science is located one block east of Wayne's Main Street at South Street. Parking is available just off Main at the Hahn building parking lot.

Over 80 At Annual Halloween Party

Eighty-three youngsters attended the Halloween party held for them Sunday evening at the Winside Auditorium. During the evening $6.08 was collected for UNICEF. The event is sponsored annually by the Winside Federated Women's Club.

Pre-school and kindergarten children who received prizes for best costumes were Todd Kramer, clown, first; Tim Voss, cat, second, and Kim Schlueter, rabbit, third. First and second grade winners were Troy Kramer, cat, first; Darla Janke, clown, second, and Caroline Vrba, witch, third. Prizes for third and fourth graders went to Kerline Benschow, witch, first; Michele Brockmoller, scarecrow, second, and Teri Kramer, pumpkin, third.

Winners in the fifth and sixth grade division were Susan Coulter, Snoopy the dog, first; Kristi Duerling, old man, second, and Tamli Kramer, witch, third.

An innovation with this year's party was a witch's wagon, which provided a prize for each child who was home by the time the phone rang for him following the party. Those winners were Ronnie Diederichsen, Daniel Oswald, Todd Kramer, Bryan Morse, Kathy Moore, Missy Farran, Tom Gahl, David Schlueter, Lisa Jensen, Kelly Leighton, Steven Morse, Mark Suelh, Michele Brockmoller, Kim Leighton, Kevin Anderson, Mitchell Pfeiffer, Lori Prince and Lori Jensen.

On the committee in charge of this year's activities were Mrs. George Gahl, Mrs. Marvin Kramer, Mrs. Donovan Leighton, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. Don Gahl, David Schlueter, Lisa Jensen, Kelly Leighton, Steven Morse, Mark Suelh, Michele Brockmoller, Kim Leighton, Kevin Anderson, Mitchell Pfeiffer, Lori Prince and Lori Jensen.

Costume judges were Mrs. Alfred Miller, Mrs. Harlin Bruegger and Mrs. Dale Langenberg.

Bob Nelsons Managing New Spearfish Theatre

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nelson, who in May of this year moved from Wayne to make their home in Spearfish, S.D., are currently managing the new Cine Theatre at Spearfish. Nelson was active in construction of the modern, 260-seat theatre prior to the grand opening held there Oct. 20.

The Cine theatre is owned by a Spearfish couple, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Steele. Steeles purchased the equipment from the Cine Theatre in Wayne which was managed by Nelsons before their move to South Dakota.

Price Information

Deadline Changed By Cost Council

The Cost of Living Council is reaffirming its requirements for sellers to provide ceiling price information to their customers, but is extending the November 1, 1971, deadline for businessmen to have available lists of ceiling prices for the products and services they sell, Edgar R. Fiedler, Council Deputy Director, announced Wednesday.

Fiedler said that the Council was extending the deadline until the Price Commission approves its post-freeze pricing policies and any requirements for ceiling price lists, which may prove to be different from those currently in effect.

He emphasized that present requirements on providing ceiling price information continue in effect. Each seller must either have ceiling price lists available or provide, on request, ceiling price information to customers by mail within 48 hours. In the latter case, sellers also must post large signs on each setting floor to announce availability of ceiling price information.

To ensure full compliance with the regulation by retailers and other businessmen, Internal Revenue Service employees will conduct a special survey of the availability of ceiling price information in stores throughout the nation.

Eugene A. Leahy to Speak at Ball

Omaha's Mayor Eugene A. Leahy has been scheduled to speak at the second annual North-east Nebraska Marine Corps Birthday Ball, to be held Wednesday, Nov. 10. The ball will be held at the El Rancho Steak House, located one mile west of the junction of Highways 275 and 15, just east of Pilger.

The cocktail hour has been set for 5 p.m., with dinner to follow at 6. No advance tickets will be sold. All area marines and former marines are invited to attend with their wives or dates.

Eugene A. Leahy, born on a farm in Imogene, Ia., in 1929, moved with his family to Omaha in 1946. He attended Conception Seminary and Cathedral High School in Omaha, and received his degree in law from Creighton University in 1960. He served three years in the U. S. Marine Corps, spending 13 months in Korea.

Leahy was in private law practice from 1961 to 1967, when he joined the county attorney's office in Omaha. In 1964, he became a judge in the municipal court where he was named presiding judge. In 1967 he resigned that position to return to the county attorney's office where he remained until 1969 when he was elected mayor of Omaha.

Leahy is a member of Boys' Town Boosters, Salvation Army advisory board, Men's Social Service Center Committee of the Salvation Army, and North Omaha Optimist Club, and is a former member of the Douglas-Sarpy Heart Association Board.

Leahy, his wife Jan, and their seven children reside at 2858 Redick Ave. in Omaha.

Program To Coincide With Drugmobile Visit

In connection with the Kiwanis "Drugmobile" visit which continues today (Thursday) in Wayne, local Jaycees are sponsoring an alcoholism and drug abuse program at the city auditorium this afternoon, featuring a speaker who is himself an ex-alcoholic.

The 2 p.m. program will be conducted by Community Alcoholism Counselor Neal P. Boeshart of Laurel, who will conclude with a question and answer session. Boeshart was appointed by the governor to serve on the Nebraska Commission on Alcohol for Northeast Nebraska.

The Kiwanis drugmobile, designed to stimulate public information, education and community drug abuse involvement, will be parked outside the auditorium from 2:15 p.m., until the Jaycees program concludes, at which time it will be moved to the street in front of Peoples Natural Gas Company for the remainder of the day. The public is invited to tour the exhibit free of charge.

About 30 were present for the Monday afternoon meeting which was held at the high school band room. Dalton showed a videotape of the 14th annual Nebraska High School Marching Band Contest held Oct. 30 in Lincoln, Wayne's marching band received a two plus rating at the festival.

On the serving committee for the monthly meeting were Mrs. Dallas Havenner, chairman; Mrs. Melvin Magnuson, Mrs. Martin Kenny, Mrs. Don Harmeler, Mrs. Donald Kuhnemann and Mrs. Arthur Larson.

Clinics

(Continued from page 1) tests children against these diseases with just one injection. In the past four years at least 66 children have been hospitalized for rubella complications and at least 41 for measles complications in Nebraska alone. Measles, one of the most easily spread diseases, often results in blindness, deafness or mental retardation, and sometimes death.

Rubella, sometimes called German or three-day measles, is a mild and highly communicable disease mostly among children. The disease becomes serious when it is contracted by a female during her first three months of pregnancy. About 20 to 25 per cent of the babies born to these mothers suffer severe birth defects and more are still-born.

All children who have not been protected against measles and rubella should attend the clinic. Three vaccines will be available:

1. A combination measles and rubella vaccine (only one injection for children who have not had the diseases and who have not been vaccinated for them).
 2. A measles vaccine for children who have had a rubella vaccination but not a measles vaccine.
 3. A rubella vaccine for children who have had a measles vaccination but not the rubella vaccine.
- If parents are not sure whether their child has had the disease or the vaccinations, the child should receive the combination vaccine which will not harm him in the event he has already had the vaccines.
- Children should not have the vaccine if:
1. They have been vaccinated within the last 30 days for measles, rubella, smallpox, polio or mumps.
 2. They have a fever or serious illness.
 3. They are under special medical care (consult a doctor).
- If the child has allergies, an attending physician should be notified before the child receives the vaccine. Presence of an allergy does not necessarily mean the child cannot be immunized.

Kiwanians Greet Drugmobile

First visitors for the Kiwanis Drugmobile were three Wayne Kiwanians who greeted the bus Wednesday morning. Bringing the bus to Wayne were Fred Hummer and Jim Coughlin, both of West Point. The bus is to be in downtown Wayne Thursday evening and at Wayne State College during the day Thursday. The Drugmobile is appearing under the sponsorship of the local Kiwanis club to spearhead and highlight the club's Operation Drug Alert program. Displays in the bus point out the dangers of drug use and they are open to the public without charge. Pictured left to right are: Hummer, Coughlin, Kent Hall, Dick Keidel and Keith Mosley.

FHA Collects $159.68 for UNICEF

Future Homemakers of America from Wayne High School and Wayne Middle School collected $159.68 in their trial-of-trade for UNICEF campaign held early Sunday evening.

High school girls participating in the Halloween canvass were Charlene Frances, Cathy Winkelmann, Connie Gemoike, Janene Thomson, Myrna Walker, Renee Kniezsche, Carol Splittgerber, Pam Middleton, Teresa Dransolka, Julie Park, Janet Splittgerber and Cindy Beeks.

Middle school students who took part in the drive were Julie Claussen, Teresa Bales, Cammy Reed, Alyce Bargholz, Teresa Welton, Michele Reeling, Lori Hall, Jan Haun and Kathy Dransolka.

The FHA members and their sponsors, Mrs. Marie Mohr and Kathy Klein, would like to express their appreciation to all who helped make the project a success.

Judge Fines Six In County Court

Driving violations and possession of alcohol violations enforcement by the officers of the county this week as six persons appeared in county court.

Monday, Gregory Bendlin, Wayne, was fined $10 and costs of $6 on a stop-light violation; Wilfred Miller, Stanton, fined $25 and costs of $18.50 for reckless driving; and Clarence W. Johnson, Wayne, $10 and costs of $6 for driving on left of center line.

Tuesday, Robert L. Brooks, South Sioux City, was fined $11 and costs of $6 for speeding; Allen J. Kaup, West Point, speeding, $13 plus $6; and Anthony A. Pfeuffer, Wayne, minor in possession of alcoholic liquors, $100 and costs of $6.

Yard & Garden Tips ... Q. What will make potatoes have new tubers and sprout again? A. During the hot weather the potatoes have become too hot along with the soil. This makes the potatoes sprout and stop growing. Much or heavy watering will help cool them down.

Vandalism, Theft Accidents, Keep Police on Jump

Police were kept busy the past week answering complaints of vandalism and thrown garbage cans as well as thefts and accidents.

A TV set reported stolen Thursday from a trailer in Wiedt's Trailer Court was found about a half-hour later on a park bench and returned to the owner.

Two auto accidents occurred Thursday on private property. Cars driven by Sandra Itope and Pat Hochstein collided on the parking lot between Arnie and Say-Mor with minor damage, and Merry Schurman backed into a parked car owned by Lowell Chlan on the Wriedt Trailer Court parking lot.

Chronic exhaust extensions were stolen from a car belonging to Harry Richardson while the car was parked on the WSC parking lot on Friday.

A suede jacket was stolen from Dick Carman's car while it was parked at Melodee Janes Saturday night.

A hit-and-run accident was reported Sunday when a car owned by Gene Schan, 314 West Third, was struck by a maroon Chevrolet that left the scene.

Monday a brick was thrown through a window of a car at 118 Douglas.

In conjunction with the auction, junior girls offered homemade baked goods for sale and served coffee and cookies afterward.

Proceeds will be used by the junior class for future projects. Class sponsors are Krogman, Harmons and Mrs. Ronald Macheck.

Society

The group also discussed the upkeep of LaPorte Cemetery. Harvey Brasch, owner of Wayne Monument Works, has volunteered to reset the stones which have settled there.

In other business, the society named Richard Arett, Willard Wilke, Ray Agler, William Woehler Sr., and Melvin Utecht to one and two-year positions on the executive board. Other board members are Mrs. Mathilde Harms, Goldie Leonard, Mrs. Richard Baler, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Dr. Wayne Wegsel, Mrs. Leland Thompson and Henry Doring.

Persons who wish to donate articles for the fund raising sale in the spring may contact any of these members or President Robert Boeckenhauer.

All interested persons are invited to attend meetings held the last Tuesday of each month at the county courthouse basement. Board officers will be elected at the next meeting, Nov. 2.

Ruin Your Town

The following 10 ways to ruin your town appeared in an editorial in an area newspaper some time ago. We think they are worth space on our editorial page. The original author of the comments is not known.

1. Attend no meeting of any kind. Criticize the way they are doing things.
2. Remind others of the cold winters, hot summers and ruggedness required of those who live here.
3. Complain about the police department, the fire department, the Chamber of Commerce and other governmental and civic groups.
4. Convince yourself that your attendance at school programs, service clubs, concerts, ball games, exhibits and benefit programs is not important. You'll never be missed.
5. Knock your city council or commission. Talk up the drawbacks the politicians at city hall must be getting.
6. Stay away from your church. You might attend on Easter Sunday or during the Christmas season just to reassure yourself that all those who attend are hypocrites.

7. Purchase a number of your residence through discount or mail order catalogs. These firms are the first to come forth with donations and services to your community.
8. Remind others that your local newspaper is no good. It misses more news than out-of-town media get by accident.
9. Remember that all kids are delinquents, all businessmen are crooks and that uncomplimentary remarks about the town are the order of the day.
10. Above all, always be skeptical, cynical and negative about anything that is designed for the community's progress and betterment.

Without a doubt, everybody in the area has probably been guilty of one or more of these criticisms at some time. Continually committing them can ruin a community. Ready to start in on yours? Or would you rather give your old home town a boost? — MMW.

Help Is Needed

Putting a newspaper together, like numerous other jobs, requires considerable team work.

The staff constantly attempts to make The Wayne Herald a newspaper that is not only easy to read, but also a paper that contains news of interest from every surrounding community.

Each day, regardless of where we live, is usually more interested in what is going on right in our own hometown than elsewhere. Most of us get national and international news from the daily papers, radio and television, but we depend upon the local paper for local and area items of interest.

The Wayne Herald has correspondents in area communities who gather the local news but need your help.

You can imagine the task of gathering the news in your area. Imagine you are the correspondent for a newspaper. Would it be easier for everyone to call you when they had news, or would it be easier for you to call everyone? It is obvious that the latter makes the correspondent's job easier to have people call her when they have an item for the paper.

Most of us are aware that going across the street for a cup of coffee or even driving to a nearby town is no longer "news" as it once was. However, there are activities in every populated area that are of interest to many, and the information, if telephoned to the local news correspondent, would make a good news item.

The Wayne Herald's correspondents will appreciate your help in getting news to them during the busy months of November and December.

One more thing. When you have called the correspondent about an item and it doesn't get into print for one reason or another, please contact The Herald in Wayne, rather than the correspondent. We will be glad to visit with you about the matter. — MMW.

Please, Mr. President, Hurry

Please, Mr. President, hurry in getting our men home from Viet Nam. Parents raise their boys to manhood and then turn them over for Uncle Sam to use in the military service.

Americans acquainted with history need no convincing that our great country needs a military system. A country not willing to defend itself is not likely to last very long.

The big question today is whether or not America is defending itself by being in Viet Nam. If we are justified in being there, then there should have been a declaration of war and strategy planned for a victory. There has been no declaration of war in 10 years and no victory, however, more than 44,000 of our sons are dead.

Imagine you personally had the job of killing 44,000 men in their prime of life. Killing them one at a time and working eight hours a day, seven days a week, you would have to kill one a minute throughout a period of more than three months. You and I, Mr. President, are not murderers and would not personally kill all those lads, but we are willing to be part of a group offering that youthful blood as a sacrifice?

Has the blood of those men saved Viet Nam from Communism? Has America been saved from Communism by those 44,000 dying? Just what has their dying accomplished? Why do we and I compel those young men to die in Viet Nam without allowing them to have a victory?

Our attention here on the homefront is drawn to physical pollution at a time when the pollution of our morality is even worse.

Please, Mr. President, hurry and bring our men home from Viet Nam since it is obvious they are never going to be allowed to win that war. — MMW.

Do You Know What It's Like?

Can you imagine what it is like for a young lad to compete in athletics but never have a cheering dad on the sidelines?

Can you understand the disappointment of not having a dad to romp with, play horse, play ball, or to give you courage when you are afraid?

Do you know what it is like for all your buddies to have fathers, but you don't have one?

Due to war, disease, job accidents and divorce, more and more homes are without a dad. Wayne, like other communities, has those little families which, for one reason or another, are fatherless.

There appears to be a wide open opportunity for either a civic organization or a college fraternity to implement a program wherein big men give the little men an hour or two of their time on Saturday or Sunday.

There is likely some kid in your block who would figure you were the greatest guy in the world simply because you shared a few minutes throwing a ball around in the yard or allowing him to go running with you.

That kid without a father is trying his best to discover what a man's role is in life. How will he find out without you?

Chances are that if you once get acquainted with that kid, he is going to help you bring back a little more of the kid in yourself. And who knows what each of you will contribute to the other's life?

If your organization hasn't had a good project for awhile, how about seeing to it that fatherless boys don't always have to know that the empty spot on the sideline is his own special kind of loneliness. — MMW.

UNLAWFUL TO PASS SCHOOL BUSES STOPPED TO LOAD OR UNLOAD EITHER DIRECTION

Remember the Rule

Motorists must remember to obey many rules. A rule that is designed to specifically protect the lives of youngsters going to school is the one making it unlawful to pass a school bus when it is stopped to load or unload passengers. A penalty awaits that motorist who, either due to thoughtlessness or imagined need for haste, takes the illegal risk of passing a stopped bus. Children are made to be loved, not killed. Drive like their lives depend upon your ability to drive, because they do.

Capitol News —

Review Team Says NU Rank 'Par for the Course'

LINCOLN — The University of Nebraska-Lincoln got a report card.

The football team may be a national leader, but the rest of the school is "about par for the course."

At least that was the opinion of a nine-member review team which checked the Lincoln campus this year for the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NCA).

As a result of that report, the NCA's Commission on Institutions of Higher Education decided to limit the UNL accreditation renewal to five years, when the campus will be visited again.

Previously, the accreditation has been extended for 10-year intervals.

In addition to cutting the renewal period in half, the NCA said the accreditation would be jeopardized unless UNL gets approval from the association before adding any new graduate programs.

The university already is offering more graduate programs than its resources are able to handle. In the eyes of the nine professors from around the nation who studied the Lincoln operations. And their report indicated it's unlikely the university will cut back far enough in its graduate programs on its own.

The report also suggested Nebraska may not be financing its major state university adequately. Here's how the review team put it:

"Likely many states, Nebraska is experiencing problems in financing state services, and the university is being asked to accept its full share of the austerity. This is, of course, a cause for concern about program levels but equally a concern is the approach that would place rigid controls on the university's use of resources and reduce its flexibility and capacity to respond to the changing teaching, research and service needs of its citizens."

The latter part of that paragraph was a reference to the program budgeted by the Legislature, which limits the amounts of money which may be spent for each program and prohibits switching funds without senatorial approval.

The NCA review dealt only with the Lincoln campus. It referred, however, to the problems faced at Lincoln in relation to the other two units of the NU system — the Medical Center and UN-Omaha.

Problems stemming from the 1968 merger of the Municipal University of Omaha (now UNO) still exist, the review team's report said, and the need for solving them is pressing for the course — better than many, not as good as the best. The challenge is there to be better."

These problems involve confusion on the part of administrators and faculties about the mission of each unit, particularly between the Lincoln and Omaha branches.

There was praise as well as criticism in the report. The visitors said they were particularly impressed with the "deep sense of obligation and responsibility to meet the educational needs of the state with as high quality programs as possible." UNL, the report said, has a tradition of involving faculty in the operation of the university and has shown strides in student involvement where appropriate.

But, overall, the grade on the UNL report card was about a C.

"As state universities go," the report said in its summary, "the Lincoln campus of the University of Nebraska are probably about par for the course — better than many, not as good as the best. The challenge is there to be better."

Echoes of May, 1970

The disruptions which occurred on the UNL campus in May, 1970, following the entry of U. S. troops into Cambodia and the death of student demonstrators at Kent State are in the Nebraska news again.

At that time, the Lincoln campus staged a march on the draft board at Lincoln and an overnight sit-in at the Military and Naval Sciences (ROTC) Building.

Most of the participants were UNL

Willard Willis was elected president of the Wayne Kiwanis Club at the organization's regular meeting Monday noon at El Rancho. The community chest campaign is expected to reach about $7,500 when final returns are in. Chairman Roy Christensen announced this week. An exhibit of paintings by John W. Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Berry, Wayne, was displayed last month at the San Bernardino main library. Wayne's First Baptist Church will be honored by its denomination in special recognition services Sunday. Rev. Russell M. Dacken announced this week.

10 Years Ago

November 2, 1961: Five people, four of them teachers, were injured in a five-car pile-up south of Hoskins on Highway 25 Friday morning. The teachers were on their way to Norfolk when the accident occurred. Richard Tesh, head of the WSTC art department, is represented among Siouxland artists exhibiting works in the Sioux City Art Center. Jim Hurlbert, Lincoln, has been appointed State Service Officer of the American Legion. He has been assistant state service officer the past three years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Beach Hurlbert, Carroll. Three visiting college professors are "going to school" at Wayne State this week. The city council Tuesday night passed an ordinance granting Ivan Beckis an exclusive franchise to collect, haul and dispose of garbage and trash within the city. Carroll volunteer firemen were called to the Gerald Hale farm west of Carroll Thursday when a stable fire caught fire. The Wayne State music department will sponsor its second work shop in elementary music Nov. 14, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Conn Library lounge.

Workshop Makes Student Holiday

Students in the Wayne-Carroll district will get a holiday today (Thursday). Teachers from all grades in the district will be attending a workshop at Wayne State College, Superintendent F. H. Haun said, where they will hear Dr. William Glasser, a psychiatrist who believes many schools fail to understand their roles and allow too many student failures.

The district's monthly meeting will be held Monday, but three of the board members will attend meetings of the Nebraska School Boards association Thursday and Friday in Lincoln.

Wilbur Giese will attend meetings both days as a director of District 11 and represent the Wayne-Carroll district, while board president Lynn Roberts and members Morris Sandahl and Dean Pierson will attend the Friday meetings.

GOP Committee Schedules Meet In Wayne Today

State Republican Party Chairman Milan Bish today announced another in a continuing series of regional organizational meetings across the state, this one scheduled for today (Thursday) in Wayne.

The meetings are part of the Mission 79 organizational program launched by the GOP at a central committee meeting in Omaha in August. The Mission 79 program will concentrate on voter registration. Bish noted the meetings are designed to recruit, finance and elect Republican's to office.

Charles McDermott of Wayne, Wayne County Republican chairman will have charge of the meeting.

Republican leaders from Wayne, Knox, Cedar, Dixon, Thurston, Pierce, Madison, Stanton, Cuming and Dakota counties are expected to attend. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Morrison Hotel.

Bish will attend the meeting along with Glenn Wilson of Lincoln, executive secretary.

H. Westerhaus Funeral Services Held in Winside

Rites for Herman Westerhaus, 90, Winside, were held there Monday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He died Friday at Norfolk.

The Rev. G. W. Gottberg officiated. The Jaegers and Weibels Quartet sang "We Find Thee Sella" and "Abide With Me," accompanied by Mrs. Victor Mann. Pallbearers were Marlin Westerhaus, Donald Westerhaus, Norris Westerhaus, Donald Koch, Warren Holtgrew and William Holtgrew. Burial was in the Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside.

Herman Westerhaus, son of August and Luise Gehm Westerhaus, was born April 14, 1881 at Borgholzhausen, Westfalia, Germany. He came with his parents to the United States in 1891 to a farm in Odoe County, and later moved to Wayne County in 1892 to a farm three miles east of Winside. He had farmed most of his life.

Preceding him in death were three brothers, Henry, August and Gustav, and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Koch and Mrs. Dora Bleich. Survivors include one brother, William of Norfolk,

Harvest Time - Nothing Like It Anywhere

by Mrs. Jack Kavanaugh
Well, its harvest time again. Milo, beans and corn. After all those promises from the seed salesman about the exact number of days before harvest, and your expert selections and plantings, they are all ready to harvest at the same time.

Maybe the salesman did tell you something about the weather conditions but who listens to those promises? The entire farming operation depends on the weather, doesn't it?
And, gosh, the kids did such a good job of helping this summer that you actually had visions of just operating the combine and picker and telling them where to put the next corn ring.

Well, it was a nice thought that the yellow monster with the black stripes came rambling down the road and they all ran out to the end of the lane and jumped in it. That is all the kids who had been helping in the field. And you never see hide nor hair of them till the chores are done at night.

With luck the Mrs. would still be around to finish up the chores so you can rest to the field a little earlier and then she can drive the little tractor and haul the grain in. Maybe she could start the chores at night so you could stay in the field later. That is, unless that yellow monster deliberately left your "fin-tined man" for some silly thing like checking an oil panikin ball full of air around a good, flat, unyielding field. Then you wonder just how much corn you could get off a field like that, or would you put it to beans?

Harvest Time - 1971

Corn-beans-then you remember that yours is still in the field. The clouds are looking hazy and a chilly wind just went through the air holes in your jacket so you decide to get busy before the air holes get bigger and the wind gets colder and wetter.

Only about 20 acres of milo so you use your better judgment and decide to get that out of the way first. That way you'll have all the kinks out of the combine before starting on the beans.

After half a day of moving machinery in the quarter so you can get the combine out, you discover the battery is dead. For something that has had nothing to do for months you'd think it would work when you needed it. Besides it worked good when you combined oats. Well, pretty good anyway. At least you got done, didn't you?

By the time you go to town for a new battery, and make another trip to town for a V-belt, the combine is at least outside and ready to go to the field tomorrow. You really didn't need the belt but this time when you start in the field there isn't going to be any lost time for an old frayed belt.

You have a fairly decent start the next morning with the exception of an hour lost getting all the zerk's to take grease.

After the first load of milo is in the elevator, the Mrs. tells you that it tested 22.

What's the matter with the elevator man anyway? Don't he know how to run a tester? Just give you some time and a good talk with your banker and you'll have a driving time of your own.

Well, just as well set up the cylinder bars and adjust the sieves and get started on the beans. He probably won't know how to test them either.

After about an hour of adjusting sieves, and not having the right wrenches with you in the field, you stop just as you did last year-just as the beans have beans and milo the same year.

After delivering the first load of beans, the Mrs. returns from the elevator to inform you that the beans tested 12. Well, its about time he learned to run that tester!

But, she said, the price had dropped 12 cents. You make a sudden drive for the house-rumbling something that isn't even closely associated with the Lord's prayer. Suddenly you remember how the elevator man tried to get you to contract those beans about a month ago, Oh well, if you had contracted them, they'd have come up.

So, you make an about face, mount the combine and calmly drive back to the field. And the Mrs. bless her patient heart, faithfully hauls the beans into town.

During lunch one afternoon near the end of the week you discover that if you work later than usual you might get done with the beans. That is, if the kids get home before dark to help the Mrs. with the chores.

After the Mrs. had brought out the last empty wagon and returned to the house with the other tractor, you are suddenly jolted out of your seat.

The combine has come to an immediate, clattering halt. Stuck right in the middle of a dry field.

Its dark under the combine amid all the dust, sandbars and long, stabbing bean stalks but that sure looks like a steel post sticking into the bottom of the combine. Now where on earth would that come from? The fence row is about 20 feet away.

You stall the half mile home and speed into town to get the blacksmith, only to find he is closed. Now who in heavens name would anyone close up before 9:00 at night? These business people really gave it made!

But the next morning, when he comes, before you're done with charges, you forget about him closing early.

"Pull it into town and I'll see if I can fix it," he says. Some of the parts he can make, but some of them you'll have to get at the implement shop.

So you spend a small fortune in frantic, long distance calls trying to locate one small bearing, that every implement place should carry year round whether they have any calls for it or not.

If all those other farmers had left the blacksmith alone he would have had your combine finished an hour sooner. Didn't they know you were in a hurry? You still had milo to combine and they were all working on their corn pickers.

Finally you run off the last bin of beans into the wagon. Now where are those wrenches you had for adjusting the sieves? Thank goodness the Mrs. remembered you had put them back in the tool box.

But this time you are going to take the milo into the elevator. Yep, 13 moisture test! Just what you knew it was the first time.

On the way home you think about what good feed it might be later on for that smaller bunch of hogs. Yep, with that small fortune you stuck into that steel bin three years ago you might just as well fill it with something.

Now you're glad you didn't contract anything. Good old independent farming!

And since you won't be taking it to town, the kids can help Saturday-maybe you'll get one days work out of them-and give the Mrs. a little rest.

Now for the cornfield. Looks like for the first time in years you will get the double crib filled and have several rings on the hill.

"Hey, mom, can you..."

Yard & Garden Tips...

Q. When should sweet potatoes be dug up?
A. The vines of the sweet potatoes should be cut when they have been killed by frost and the potatoes may be dug two or three days later.

Q. What is the life cycle of bagworms?
A. There is one generation of bagworms a year. The eggs are laid in the fall and overwinter in the egg stage inside the old bag. Hatching occurs about mid-June. After hatching, the worms will continue to feed through the summer until they are mature. The best control period is shortly after hatching.

ty to pay. The best test of ability to pay is income received. In today's economy there is no correlation between the property, one owns and the income he receives. Hence, property as a tax base does not meet the test of equity. While income tax as defined by the Federal government has many loopholes and inequities it does have a reasonably close relationship to income received. The sales tax, while having a broad base and assuring that all share in the cost of government is regressive-it takes a higher percent of the income of the lower income groups than of the higher income groups.

Frosted Forage May Be Pastured
Frosted-sudan and sorghum may be safely pastured or green chop fed if reasonable precautions are taken.

Cows should not be turned out on frost damaged crops when they are hungry. Before turning animals on such pasture they should:

1. Receive a full feed of hay or hay and grain if they are accustomed to having both before going to pasture.
2. Have an adequate and balanced mineral supplement available.
3. Have access to a good water supply.

Any growing sorghum or sudan plant can contain dangerous levels of prussic acid. Generally, prussic acid content is not increased by freezing, but regrowth following a killing frost may be very high in prussic acid.

If there is a significant amount of regrowth it would be safer to wait 10 days to two weeks after the killing frost before continuing or starting to pasture the fields. The crop should be safe after leaves and stalks have turned brown.

Some plants will accumulate nitrates when growth is suddenly interrupted by frost. However, the possibility of nitrate poisoning is pretty well eliminated if ample hay and grain is fed along with the frosted feed.

If it is not practical to feed hay and grain along with the frosted crop, it may be best to mow the crop into hay or silage. Mowing the crop into either hay or silage will pretty much eliminate both the nitrate and prussic acid problem.

Crazing of frosted alfalfa generally does not present any special problems.

Local Tax Reform - Nebraska
The problem of income sources for use by government at the local level is of great concern to many citizens and governmental officials alike. These concerns are much in evidence in the larger cities as well as small towns, school districts, counties and farm communities of Nebraska. Large cities maintain that their problems are beyond the financial resources of the city. Small towns and counties look more and more to state and Federal aid for education, water and sewer facilities, hospital and medical care, transportation, police protection, and housing among other local needs.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Edgie Collins

Think Mom: Can the USDA hold or withdraw any schedule press release they so desire? For instance, they skipped the Corn Crop Report in July! Why? Why did they pass that report? To help the farmer?—No, no indeed, but to keep from looking ridiculous themselves!

Sometimes in my daily radio program I criticize the USDA and/or the Extension reports. Usually they have less new information than Poor Richard's Almanac. . . In fact that might be where the reports should be gathered.

I realize I offend faithful friends of the big organization that carries the 1989 A month-long magazine—partially.

But, Mom, would I be offending all Marine privates or Air Force pilots if I attacked the civilian massacres of Mal Lai? Is a typing clerk in the Pentagon responsible for the famous Pentagon Papers? Of course not! Nor is a local extension agent or USDA market reporter responsible for the price crashing reports that too often flow from college campuses and Washington. But I never see one quit in protest!

My stand is that ranchers and farmers need a department that thinks and works on the positive side one hundred per cent of the time. Not for the consumer—who is already protected by Consumer Affairs.

The biggest current threat to livestock prices is 90¢ corn. While 90¢ corn is proof of exceptional and widespread technology, it questions the intelligence and shows profitability of farmers.

Now cheap corn threatens hog prices. Add cheap chickens which are the best of "big business," and add excess seven and eight weight beef carcasses, mere pounds over the quality control limits set by corporation boards, and cattle prices could tumble.

All beef and livestock organizations should hold emergency and immediate meetings with chain store boards requesting a relaxation of maximum weight restriction on carcasses, or you will see the $25 fat cattle in the late spring! Beef price drops are due to buyers' markets developing. Too many of any class, any grade, any weight, any sex creates the opportunity to force sellers into initiating the phone call.

A carcass weighing 700 pounds will soon be worth $6 a head less value than one weighing 699, yet a T-bone would be only one-tenth of an ounce heavier. Specifications set down in a meeting room, if exactly followed, develops a crippling Buyers Market. The time to defend against any calamity is before the actuality.

Mom, all "Rise and Breaks" are created by the acceptance or rejection of heavy carcasses. During no "good" period have light carcasses sold above heifers. In all periods where the heavy weights were in the strong or demand the overall live prices have advanced. Within 10 years, all carcasses will need to be 50 pounds heavier or you cattlemen will be forced to completely share the beef business with importers.

Our national cow capacity is limited. The feeding of a new calf to only a thousand pounds will appear ridiculous in the next generation. (A 10-foot soybean plant might be the competition.)

This "baby beef" became popular because of chain store promotion of the cheapest cattle most easily obtainable on a year-round basis. That is, yearling heifers yielding a 500 to 600 pound carcasses.

Import cattle are a bone of contention. So is 90¢ corn. Question: How many hundred of millions of dollars went to foreign owned chemical and fertilizer companies? Now they get the money and the corn!

And what about no import quotas on Canadian pork? Here is a warning: Western provinces

Trees, Shrubs Reduce Loud Noises

The din of highway traffic, shopping centers, and heavy industry can be substantially reduced through screening through properly located tree and shrub plantations.

This is the major finding detailed in a new bulletin published by the University of Nebraska in cooperation with the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The 77-page report, "Trees and Shrubs for Noise Abatement" (Research Bulletin 246), is a technical account of the experiments conducted in a three-year noise study funded by the Forest Service. David I. Cook, Professor of Engineering Mechanics at the University of Nebraska, was assisted by Dr. David F. Van Haverbeke, Forest Service research scientist at the Lincoln, Neb., field office of the Rocky Mountain Forest and Range Experiment Station at Ft. Collins, Colo. The two scientists say the report is designed to provide accurate information on how noise can be used by landscape architects, horticulturists, and nurserymen in determining proper placement, heights, and widths of tree and shrub belts. They point out that the information should assist in achieving the best noise filtering for parks, picnic areas, housing developments, etc., from highway and industrial sounds. They report that the continual increase in the community noise level during the past 20 years indicates a future noise problem comparable to the current air pollution problem of large industrial centers.

Typical sound sources of highway and city traffic were projected through belts of trees and shrubs, and the resulting sound levels were measured at varying distances behind the belts. The sounds were also recorded at locations where other conditions were almost identical, except for the lack of trees and shrubs. Comparison of the sounds, with and without foliage, revealed effectiveness of tree and shrub barriers in reducing sound levels by as much as 50 per cent.

The study also discusses the desirability of combining trees with soft surfaces, such as grass, as opposed to such hard surfaces as gravel or pavement in the reduction of noise levels. The report includes five "sampled" noise problems that illustrate how findings can be applied to actual situations where noise levels exist.

Among specific recommendations drawn from the study were:—Tree-shrub belts 65 to 100 feet wide are effective in reducing noise from high speed car and truck traffic in rural areas. The edge of the tree belt should be within 50 to 80 feet of the center of the nearest traffic lane, and the center tree rows should be at least 45 feet tall.

—Tree-shrub belts 20 to 50 feet wide are effective in reducing noise from moderate speed car traffic in urban areas. The edge of the belt should be 20 to 50 feet from nearest traffic lane. Six-to-eight-foot shrubs next to the traffic lane should be backed by rows of 15-to-30 foot trees.

—For maximum effectiveness, tree-shrub belts should be tall, dense, and located close to the noise source, rather than close to a protected, evergreen trees and shrubs are most effective where year-round noise screening is desired.

—Tree-shrub belts should be about twice as long as the distance from the noise source to the receiver.

A limited number of copies of the report are available at 50 cents each from the Department of Information, East Campus, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb. 68503.

State 4-H Members

Nebraska 4-H members and leaders asking "What's New in 4-H in 1972," will find a new focus on environmental awareness.

A new project in ecology has been written by Harold H. Gilman, Extension conservationist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Now available are supporting 4-H publications in this area.

Other new offerings in the ecology-environment area of vital concern to youth around the country were listed by the State 4-H Office:

—Special 4-H teen training sessions in environmental awareness are being planned for four one-week periods at the State 4-H Camp near Halsey in June and July, 1972.

—A special Environmental Awareness checklist was developed last summer by a task force of 17 outstanding Nebraska 4-H members making up an environmental advisory committee. This checklist will be used at 4-H camps attended by younger 4-H members this next summer.

—A special committee is planning 4-H activities to celebrate Arbor Day in 1972 in Nebraska and will include an emphasis on 4-H tree projects.

—A series of 4-H projects is available through county Extension offices, called "Exploring the World of Plants and Soils." It was developed by the National 4-H Plants and Soil Science Program Development Committee.

NEBRASKAland's Color Calendar

Available Soon

NEBRASKAland's 1972 Calendar of Color, featuring full-color photos of wildlife, scenery, and outdoor recreation activities, is now rolling off the presses and should be available shortly, according to Game and Parks Commission.

Exciting photographs, depicting scenes from across the state, highlight each month. Included are pictures of deer browsing on a snow-covered landscape, hunters, fishermen, sailboats on Lake McCaughy, and others showing outdoor Nebraska at its best.

Calendar is a 365-page, 8 1/2" x 11" paper, to withstand a year's hard use and still be suitable for framing. Measuring 12 inches by 17-3/4 inches when open, the calendar is bound with plastic for easy use.

Bonus pages provide information on hunting and fishing, a simple sunrise-sunset table, date identification, order blanks for NEBRASKAland gifts, and room for personal notes. Each calendar page includes dates of major outdoor events, moon phases, miniature calendars of preceding and following months, and holidays shown in blue. A new, dark type has been used to make dates easy to read at a distance.

Decorative as well as useful, the NEBRASKAland Calendar of Color makes an ideal holiday gift for relatives and friends near or faraway. (Calendars will be mailed in attractive envelopes with the sender's name prominently displayed. Postage and handling are included in the $1-plus tax purchase price, unless first class mail is requested. Then, another 50 cents must be added per calendar.)

Any person or organization wanting to send large numbers as Christmas gifts should order early. Mail orders should be sent to NEBRASKAland Calendar of Color, P. O. Box 33570, Lincoln, Nebr. 68503. When ordering gift calendars, complete names and addresses and how envelopes should be signed must be included.

In addition, calendars will be available at many newsstands across the state.

WSC Professor Elected To State AAUP Post

Maurice Anderson, associate professor of mathematics at Wayne State College, has been elected treasurer of The Nebraska State Conference of The American Association of University Professors.

He also is re-ordering secretary of the local chapter. Other local officers are Katherine Lewis, president; Robert Zimisor, secretary in potenti; and Gilbert Vaughn, corresponding secretary.

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: Morticians as a rule never advertise prices. Is there any reason why the cost of a funeral should not be publicized?

ANSWER: As far as we at Wiltse are concerned there is no secret about funeral costs. Every service we have is plainly marked. People are always welcome to come to the funeral home and compare our prices and services just as they would do in an automobile show room or a furniture store.

By the nature of our business, however, we are reluctant to be too forceful in our advertising. We have complete funeral services in all price ranges and would be glad to discuss these things as frankly as you will let us.

Dealers Recalling Some Opel Models

According to information that the Nebraska Department of Roads has received from the Department of Transportation, owners of 1970, 71 and 72 Opel Kadetts and Opel Model 1900's are urged to return their cars to General Motors Corporation dealers as soon as possible for modification to the windshield.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reports that a 1971 Opel kadett was tested in a frontal barrier crash at 30 mph and the front windshield completely separated from the vehicle during the impact.

Thomas Toms, Administrator of the NHTSA, said:

"The continued use of the Opel Kadetts and the Opel Model 1900's in their present condition could cause serious injury in a crash to contribute to occupant ejection."

Federal Motor Safety Standards require retention of at least 75 per cent of the windshield periphery.

Wayne Teachers Attend Workshop

Three Wayne women were among approximately 25 north-east Nebraska attending a workshop held in Columbus Saturday for instructors of trainable mentally retarded children.

Mrs. Gertrude vanHamp, Mrs. Pat Glassmeyer, instructors in the trainable program at the Wayne Middle School, and Mrs. Cindy Fitz, Wayne, took part in the regional workshop. Discussion centered around the topic of vocational guidelines for the retarded child.

Mrs. Fitz is a senior at Wayne State College and teaches physical education classes for the trainable mentally retarded children at the middle school.

Women Attend Meet-
 Mrs. Judy Lange, Wakefield, and Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve, Wayne, attended the fall District Orientation meeting of the American Cancer Society in Norfolk Tuesday afternoon at the Norfolk Country Club.

Executive vice-president Peter T. Wiley of Omaha, conducted the meeting.
