

Hearing for 2 Men Postponed Second Time

There was a second continuance in the preliminary hearings for Danny Gene Condry of Schuyler and Gale Gronenthal of Columbus, charged on several counts, including rape, by a Wayne State College student.

The preliminary hearing originally was set for Dec. 3, with the first postponement until Friday, Dec. 10. The hearing, held for the purpose of determining if there is sufficient evidence to bind the two men over for trial in District Court, is set for Wednesday at 10 a.m. before County Judge Luverna Hilton in the District Courtroom.

Long Way from 'Golden Rule' Days

Intensive faces peering over study carrels, headsets tuned in... The picture is scarcely reminiscent of "good ole golden rule days;" neither is the subject.

The subject is an "Enrichment" Program. The picture is being painted at the Allen Community Schools. The painters are the Allen administration and staff and the federal government.

Using Title I (Federal) funds, the school has remodeled and equipped a classroom "to provide a unique environment" for the program.

The classroom is divided into two sections. Each section has study carrels, storage areas, bulletin boards and chalk boards, new desks or tables.

Materials used include texts, workbooks, library books, and individual progressive cassette tape programs.

The program is intended to strengthen and broaden the course of study of the Allen Schools.

"We should have a curriculum that will meet the needs of all students and give rewarding experiences to all students," says the Allen school administration.

Tests given last spring indicated a need for remedial and enrichment work in reading and mathematics. The program therefore concentrates in these two areas.

Mrs. Darlene Roberts is the main enrichment teacher and heads the remedial reading program. She is concentrating on individual vocabulary and comprehension weaknesses.

Glenn Kumm is the director of the program and is enrichment instructor in mathematics. Kumm is working with basic mathematical operations, especially multiplication and division.

This work is intended to aid and supplement that done in the classroom and usually scheduled so that the student is away from his normal classroom only during study time.

Two teacher aides help with the program. Mrs. Dorothy Halvorsen is in charge of the media and audio-visual equipment and is organizing a Title I library.

Mrs. Marilyn Yates serves as an assistant to the teachers; typing, running off materials, and keeping progress records.

The facilities and materials of the room are also used by the special education teacher, Mrs. Mary Johnson; the school nurse, Mrs. Mary Rhode; and speech therapist, Peggy Housh.

Pennies Make Dollars

Wayne State College students at Bowen Hall are paying fines — and enjoying it. Students who lose their key, or for some other reason cannot get into their room, are fined 25 cents for use of a pass key and those fines are being turned over to the Medical Center Campaign. By Thursday the fines had totaled $30 and were turned over to Adon Jeffrey, campaign chairman. "Pouring" is Terry Schmitt of Fremont, vice-president of Bowen Hall, while looking on are Jeanette Erickson of Oakland, president of Bowen women, and Jim Knoff, of Belmont, Ia., president of Bowen men.

Federal Savings and Loan Donates $20,000 to Drive

A $20,000 gift from the Wayne Federal Savings and Loan Association was announced today by Adon Jeffrey, general chairman in a $500,000 Medical Center building program.

The gift moves the total of Wayne's three financial institutions, including the city's two banks, to the $100,000 mark.

John T. Bressler, president of the Savings and Loan Association, informed Jeffrey of the subscription voted by the board of directors at their December meeting.

"All of us are interested in the growth of Wayne and in its progress," said Bressler. "We have an obligation to provide the best health care for families of the hospital service area as well as for all of us who live in Wayne. The Medical Center is the biggest step we could take in keeping up with our new status as a first-class city."

The Savings and Loan Association gift will provide the family-clergy conference room in the new center.

Wayne Federal Savings and Loan Association was organized in 1934. Bressler has been an officer and director in the association from the start.

"We are making good progress in our fund-raising program," said Jeffrey. "Advance gifts like this one will set a pattern of good giving for the business firms of Wayne."

No Winner For Jackpot

The name of L. C. Graffels of Wakefield was drawn during the weekly Cash Night drawing Thursday night in Wayne.

But the Wakefield man wasn't present in one of the participating businesses to claim the $250 prize, so next week the jackpot builds up to $300.

Sentence Suspended

Brandt also was assessed $9 court costs and ordered to pay restitution for four checks cashed at Wayne business firms.

Youths Put on Probation

Two Norfolk youths were put on probation Wednesday by District Judge Merrit C. Warren of Creighton as a result of charges filed against the two for incidents occurring Sept. 29.

Mike Genrich, 17, originally charged by County Attorney Goodpasture with three counts of breaking and entering an automobile and a charge of attempted burglary, was placed on probation with the District 2 adult probation officer for two years on the latter charge.

Genrich had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a warehouse leased and occupied by Gene Fredrickson, whereupon the county attorney made a motion to dismiss the three breaking and entering an automobile charges.

Genrich also was ordered to pay restitution for damages to the automobiles.

William Goodpasture, 18, was put on a year's probation with the adult probation officer after pleading guilty to carrying a concealed weapon.

Goodpasture had been charged originally on three counts of breaking and entering, attempted burglary and concealing stolen property but those charges were dismissed after a motion by the county attorney when Goodpasture pleaded guilty to the concealed weapons count.

Wayne, which became a city of the first class in 1970 when the population rose above 5,000, will have four voting wards for the city election in May. The reapportionment map, drawn up by City Clerk Dan Sherry, with the help of the Jaycees and Lions Club, was approved by the City Council at its last meeting. There are slightly over 1,000 persons in each of the four wards. The Jaycees took the "head count" in the areas north of Seventh Street and the Lions Club, south of Seventh. Anyone still puzzled as to where their voting site will be may contact the City Clerk's office.

Social Security Official Coming

The Social Security representatives will meet with those needing assistance at the Wayne County Courthouse.

Robart stated that to obtain general information or file a claim for Social Security benefits, Wayne residents should dial 709 and ask the operator for Enterprise 1595, which will connect the caller with the Social Security office at no cost to the person placing the call.

$50 Prize Won

Mrs. Norman Lubberstedt of Rural Route, Dixon, won the $50 prize Friday night in the second Christmas Give-Away Contest drawing. She is shown here at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce office receiving the check from old Santa Claus. Mrs. Lubberstedt didn't know until the clock struck 8 o'clock whether her number would hold up. But she obviously "gave harder," as her ticket was No. 2 at that time. The person who had top rights to the $50 didn't report in as the rules require.

One-Day Stranger

Nebraska University is the No. 1 football team in the nation.

We aren't going to get much of an argument on that point from many persons inside Commhuslerland who take their football seriously.

And, we sincerely feel that we are not exaggerating when we say that the residents of Wayne and The Herald's circulation area "own" the accolade as being No. 1 in congeniality.

We had found, in only two other towns we have lived in the past 20 years, people to be friendly for the most part and our associations with those persons had been pleasant.

But the Wayne area tops 'em all in our book.

Wayne area people have concocted the perfect formula for "pleasantness." We were stunned to find that the local populace doesn't wait for "just happen" to cross paths with a newcomer. They make that effort—that impress—of going out of their way to look up a newcomer and introduce themselves.

No local ambassador can spread good will more effectively and instantly than the heart-warming gesture of making sure that the newcomer is only a "one-day stranger."

We found people went all out to help this editor in every place of contact—mayor and city council, school personnel and board of education, city and county officials and their employees, law enforcement agencies, Chamber-of-Commerce, fire department, Medical Center—officials, businessmen, residents and any others who we may have unintentionally omitted as giving a hand during what could have been an "uphill climb" at getting oriented to the community.

This type of welcome has not been confined to Wayne, but to outlying towns personally covered weekly by The Herald as well—Wakefield, Allen, Dixon, Concord, Winside, Hoskins and Carroll.

After one trip around the area—no formalities—cordial greetings on a first-name basis.

This we like.

And, we hope our associations will continue on the same warm level.

Because we intend to be here a long, long time.

Economic Stabilization

Questions and Answers

Q—Will raw agricultural products, such as fresh fruit and vegetables, be excluded from the standards for prices set by the Price Commission?

A—Yes, just as during the freeze, raw agricultural products will be excluded.

Q—How will prices and wages be controlled by the Price Commission and the Pay Board?

A—The Price Commission and the Pay Board have published standards and criteria for the control of all prices and wages which will be covered during the post-freeze program. In addition, the economy will be divided into three parts or tiers for different surveillance and reporting procedures.

Certain large firms and collective bargaining units that are of critical importance for the control of inflation will be required to notify the Board or Commission in advance of proposed wage or price increases. Other large economic units will be required to report periodically on their prices, employee compensation, and other matters as may be specified.

The behavior of prices and wages in the remainder of the economy, comprising the largest number of economic units (usually smaller firms), will be monitored by spot-checks and investigations of complaints by the Internal Revenue Service.

Q—Are dividends and interest subject to legal restraints under the Economic Stabilization Program?

A—No. However, the Committee on Interest and Dividends, established by the President, will formulate and execute a program for obtaining voluntary restraints on selected interest rates. The Committee will also continue the voluntary program for the restraint of dividend payments, subject to possible changes of standards and coverage.

The President has asked Comgress for amendments to the Economic Stabilization Act to provide stand-by authority to impose mandatory control of interest rates and dividend payments. However, the use of this authority is not expected to be necessary.

Q—How long will the second phase of the Economic Stabilization Program last?

A—No time limit is being set. The objective is to end the program as soon as possible, but it will be kept in operation until the pattern of sharply increasing prices and wages has been broken. It will be ended when stability has been restored to the economy. As we approach the goal, controls of particular sectors may be removed or relaxed when that action is consistent with the general objectives of the program and will assist the transition to price stability. A task force of the Council of Living Councils has been established with a continuing responsibility to recommend steps to insure that the program is not unnecessarily prolonged.

Turcott theorized the intruder was looking for chain saws, but he has had them burglarized before so no longer carries them. Instead the

You Break My Heart, Mister

Following is an open letter to the public, written by W. O. Newman, Kentucky State Commissioner of Public Safety that the editor thought carried a big and important message, especially at the time of year when tragedies such as this so often cause any happiness during what should be a joyful holiday.

Are you one of the people who call me on the telephone or write me a letter to tell me my troopers are stopping motorists and giving them tickets for "no reason at all"? I wouldn't know. You never give your name.

You tell me you're a good citizen and a safe driver. Just using Interstate 64 for what it was intended—speed. And that "dumb cop" gave you a ticket. You break my heart! I hope the next time you're tearing down the road at 85 mph that a trooper catches you before you smash into a concrete bridge abutment and he has to help pry your lifeless body out of that crushed speed machine of yours. I hope we can teach you a lesson with a ticket so maybe you don't cause a wreck and cost somebody else his life or her life.

You really break my heart telling me you don't have time to go to court about that ticket. I wish you could come with me to the scene of a wreck sometime. I wish I could make you stand and watch a man write in the gravel on the shoulder of a highway while he waits for an ambulance that will get there too late to do anything but carry him to the morgue. I wish I could make you help scrape the bits of bone and flesh of a whole family off the asphalt and into baskets. You'd vomit just like my troopers do, but you'd think differently the next time you climbed into your car. You said you were driving safely when the trooper stopped you. The road was clear and there was no harm in edging over the speed limit a few miles per hour, you said. I'm really impressed with your ability to judge road conditions. I'm only sorry a trooper wasn't at that same place a few months ago when a man with a wife and four children had a blow-out at over 80 mph. He might have slowed him down, and his children would still have a father, and his wife a husband.

Oh, am I getting you mad again? That man might have been mad if a trooper had stopped him. He might have written me a letter... but he'd be alive. Your letter doesn't bother me, friend. What bothers me is that you apparently haven't learned your lesson. You're probably going to get back behind the wheel of your car, thinking you own the road and nothing can happen to you. You don't think about the other people on the road who want to go on living.

And who gave your kid driving lessons? You? Then he's probably got a couple of tickets, too. It's no wonder he weaves in and out of traffic, speeds, and leaves strips of burned rubber at stop lights. I hope we catch him, too, mister, before we have to call you and your wife to identify his body at the morgue. I don't want to catch you crying and wishing you hadn't let him have a car until he learned to drive maturely.

You say you want my troopers to let you off with a warning. What you really want is for us to stop doing our jobs. You want us to let you go until you meet another guy just like you—head on.

You're mad because you got a ticket, and you have to take time off from work to go to court. You break my heart, mister.

Dave Scheel drives in for a two-pointer, but the Wakefield Trojans dropped a 69-51 decision, Friday night at home to Wisner-Pilger. Wakefield players at the right are Sam Utech and Jerry Nicholson. The only Wisner-Pilger players identifiable are Mike McGinnis (15) and Bob Beckman (35).

Mistakes Costly to Trojans

Wisner-Pilgerhipped off to a 20-9 lead in the first period and Wakefield never seriously threatened as the Trojans took a 69-51 decision Friday night at Wakefield.

Early-season mistakes by a young Trojan team were costly, plus the fact that the visitors clearly dominated the boards the entire game.

Wakefield didn't get on the scoreboard with a fielder until 1:59 remained in the opening quarter on Dave Scheel's shot from the baseline, Wakefield at that time trailing by 10-1.

Wisner-Pilger had opened up the big advantage on a fast break and offensive punch on the parts of Dennis McGuire and Mike McGinnis.

Wakefield cut the margin to 22-14 with two minutes gone in the

WSC Wrestlers Lose Decision At Morningside

By a 24-13 score which could easily have been turned around, Wayne State wrestlers lost a dual meet at Morningside Wednesday at Sioux City.

The Wildcats found themselves trailing 16-9 after the first five matches, then rallied to 18-9 with two matches left. That brought up the 190-pound tussle, and Wayne's Dennis Reid had his Morningside foe near a pin in the second round. The Chief managed an escape and slapped a pin on Reid, putting a team victory out of reach at 24-9.

In the finale, Wayne heavyweight Ken Coles gained a second-round pin at 3:24 to keep his season record perfect at 5-0.

Winners for Wayne were Steve Gregory, 158 pounds, on a 5-4 decision; John Kletnick, 167 pounds, 6-5; and Ken Monroe, 177 pounds, 5-1.

Wakefield to Host Class C-6 Tourney

Representatives from eight area high schools, in a meeting at Wakefield Thursday night, voted unanimously to hold the Class C District 6 basketball tournament at Wakefield according to Supt. Muri Beller.

The tourney is scheduled for Feb. 21-22 and 24-25. Schools competing in the season-ending showdown will include Wakefield, Winside, Allen, Bancroft, Emerson-Hubbard, Pender, Walthill and Winnebago.

New basketball facilities at Wakefield permit a maximum seating capacity of about 1,500 spectators—1,300 on the side bleachers and 200 on the stage.

Supt. Beller, appointed District 6 chairman and tournament director by the Nebraska State Activities Association, noted that officials for the games had not yet been determined.

Wayne Frosh Drop Laurel Five 64-48

Wayne High's freshman squad exploded for 24 points in the second quarter and coasted the rest of the way to a 64-48 win over Laurel Thursday afternoon at the city auditorium.

The big second quarter offensive surge came after the Blue Devils, coached by Dan Johnson, eked out a narrow one-point lead (10-9) in the first eight minutes of action. The Bears trailed 34-25 at halftime.

Both teams chalked up 11 counters in the third period as Wayne's lead remained intact. But the Blue Devils outscored Laurel 19-12 in the final eight minutes in posting their season-opening victory.

Three WHS cagers scored in double figures: Earl Overin was tops with 23 points, followed by Marty Hansen with 17 and Bob Keating with ten.

Overin also led under the boards with 11 rebounds. He was followed by Hansen and Keating with nine each and Rod Hoops with seven.

Next action for Wayne will be road trips to Pierce today (Monday) and Randolph Thursday.

Bears Even Season Mark

Laurel evened its cage record at 1-1 Friday night at home by downing Hartington Cedar Catholic 52-53. Last week the Bears fell to Norfolk Catholic 70-63.

A quick start was the deciding factor in Friday's game as the Bears got off to a commanding 25-13 first quarter advantage. George Schroeder, a 6-4 senior forward, paced the awesome Laurel offensive surge in the first eight minutes. The team hit 10-15 field goal attempts on the way to its 12-point lead.

According to Coach Joel Parks, the Bears got off to a good start by running well and consistently hitting the jump shot. Overall Laurel hit 25 of 52 field goal attempts (48%).

The Bears cooled off a little in the second period, scoring 11 points to Hartington's ten, and led 36-23 going into the lockerroom.

That margin was cut in the third quarter when the visitors out-scored Laurel 17-10 and came within six points going into the last eight minutes of play.

But the Bears netted 16 points in the fourth quarter and held onto their lead until the final buzzer.

George Schroeder paced Laurel's offense with nine shots from the field and 4-7 free throws for 22 points. He was helped out by balanced ten-point performances by Bruce Johnson, Gene Sarha and Gary Chase.

Schroeder also led his teammates under the boards, pulling down 21 rebounds. Chuck Hirschman and Steve Urwiler each pulled down seven.

Laurel also won the preliminary contest, slapping past Hartington CC 41-37. Leading scorers were Dave Diederich, Kevin Gade and Greg Anderson with eight points each and Tom Anderson with seven.

Next action for Laurel will be road trips to Wayne Tuesday and Coleridge Friday.

Wildcats Downed by Walthill, 55-42

A cold third quarter allowed Walthill to take a commanding ten point lead and Winside was never able to recover as the Wildcats lost a 55-42 home tilt Friday night.

Trailing at the half by two points, 23-21, the Wildcats hit the basket just three times in the third quarter and saw Walthill's lead increase to 40-30.

According to Coach Jim Winch Winside got the good shots but couldn't get them in the basket in the decisive third period. Overall all the Wildcats connected on 15 of 60 attempts from the field for a 25% shooting mark. Walthill shot at a 40% clip, hitting on 22 of 56 attempts.

Winside netted 12 points from the charity stripe—one better than the visitors.

Jon Behmer was the Wildcat's leading scorer, hitting four shots from the field and 8-12 free throws for 16 points. Bob Krueger scored four field goals and 2-6 gift shots for ten points.

Behmer was also Winside's strong man under the boards, pulling down 11 rebounds. He was followed by Krueger and Greg Titterington with ten each.

Goose Season Closes on Wednesday

Lincoln-Nebraska waterfowl hunters will go out of business over much of the state within the next week or so, as the goose season closes statewide on Dec. 15 and duck hunting ends in the eastern portion of the state on Dec. 20.

However, duck hunting continues in the western part of the state through Jan. 9. The line dividing the eastern and western duck hunting zones meanders through central Nebraska, passing through Springfield, Anisworth, Dunning, Merna, Arnold, Gokenberg, Elwood and Arapahoe. A complete description of the boundary is included in the 1971 Nebraska Land Hunting Guide.

In general, the duck season has not quite lived up to high pre-season expectations. A mass migration out of the state just before opening of the first portion of the hunt on Oct. 9 cut early-season success considerably. Substantial later migrations helped make up for this to some extent, but unfavorable weather and dry habitat conditions made for less than ideal hunting. The late-season duck migration is following its regular pattern, according to Game Commission biologists. Only a few more flocks of ducks can be expected from the north, so the ducks already in the state will provide most of the shooting through the end of the season. Best locales will be found along the traditional wintering areas, primarily along the Platte River from Kearney to the western border.

The goose season has been difficult to evaluate, since success has been spotty. In general, the season appears to be shaping up as one of the more productive hunts of recent years, say Commission biologists.

Siefkes' Last-Second Shot Boosts WSC to 68-66 Win

Dennis Siefkes had himself another fine night at the basket Monday, but his finest moment came with a split second left and Wayne State tied, 66-66, with Southwest Minnesota at Marshall.

The 6-7 center lofted a 12-foot jump shot which swished through the nets as the buzzer blared to give Wayne its fourth win against one loss. The freshman gave Siefkes a 37-point total and raised his average close to 25.

Sophomore guard Dan Dulon continued torrid shooting with a 15-point effort, a fraction over his average.

The Wildcats came back from a 36-30 halftime deficit to gain the triumph in a battle which never had more than a six-point margin in score.

Wayne fans will have two chances to see the Cats in the coming week as they host Northern State of South Dakota Friday night and Dora Saturday night, both starting at 7:30 in the gymnasium.

but have they stopped to think about what happens to that dollar they spend away from home? Part of it will go to support the schools, churches and public projects of the community in which that dollar was spent. All well and good. County Officials Warned Of a 'Leisure Explosion'

OMAHA—Nebraska county officials were cautioned Friday to prepare for the "leisure explosion" which is rapidly being felt in Nebraska communities.

Robert Dula, supervisor of community recreation and parks with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Division, urged delegates to the Nebraska County Officials Association Convention to begin to combat the symptoms of leisure explosion—boredom, uneasiness, and stalesness—through county-wide planning for parks and recreation facilities.

Claking L.B. 23-820 under which counties may participate and allocate funding to hire a county recreation director, construct recreation facilities and parks, or purchase facilities, supplies and equipment. Dula outlined the need for planned and supervised activities for all age groups in the field of planned recreation.

Dula described programs in several Nebraska communities which have been developed in keeping with the policy of the National Association of Counties as formulated in 1964, which calls for the county planning and coordination of local neighborhood and community facilities in cooperation with state and federal planning.

Among the programs which have been developed in this manner are the recreation area east of Kimball which includes tennis courts, golf course, ball diamonds, archery range, picnic area, trap range, and maintenance, administration and comfort facilities; the wilderness park area south of Lincoln; and programs in Douglas, Saunders,

Nebraska Has 261 Facilities for Aged

The Nebraska Commission on Aging has released a report showing that a proportion of elderly Nebraskans residing in "nursing home" type facilities is roughly twice that of the national average.

This is one of the key findings in a report entitled "Planning and Residential Care Facilities," the second in a series of research papers published by the Commission and entitled, "Aging in Nebraska." The report points out that the licensed bed capacity of Nebraska's homes for the aged and infirm represents 7.9 per cent of the state's population aged 65 and above. Census figures, on the other hand, indicate that at the national level, some four per cent of the 65-plus population resides in such facilities at any given time.

In attempting to make a preliminary estimate of Nebraska's current and projected need for long-term care beds, the report notes that the state has 261 licensed homes for the aged and

Not much? Well, every man, woman and child uses an average of three gallons of oil products every day. All told, America uses 800 million gallons daily. And demand is increasing so fast that by the time this baby is 15 years old, he and every other American will be using 8 1/2 gallons every day.

A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

Christmas Gift Problem Solved

"This year, U.S. Savings Bonds make better-than-ever Christmas gifts," M.F. Oberg, state chairman for the Treasury's Savings Bonds Program, said today.

"The interest rate is higher than ever, and the popular E bond has a shorter-than-ever maturity period."

There are other reasons for buying Savings Bonds as gifts, Oberg pointed out. "You don't have to worry about style, size, shape, or color. And they're priced to fit almost any pocketbook. They're indestructible—If lost, stolen, mutilated or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them free of charge."

Seminar Speaker Urges Increased Beef Production

Production of more beef is one way for Nebraskans to combat "a basic problem in agriculture"—earnings that are not adequate to generate savings to use for an ever-increasing demand for loans.

This analysis was made by Roy Dinsdale, Palmer banker and cattle feeder, in a talk to stockmen attending a Beef Cattle Seminar at Wisner Tuesday.

Salmonella Contaminates Many Foods

Here is a health tip from the Nebraska Medical Association. Salmonella (sal-mo-nel'ah) is a term used to cover a large group of infections common to man and many types of animals.

These are primarily intestinal infections that cause fever, diarrhea, and many other symptoms. Young children are the most seriously affected.

Many food infections are caused by salmonellae germs. The organisms grow rapidly in such foods as eggs, meat and milk when supplied from infected animals.

It is also important to note the germs can survive for long periods outside the animal body.

Remember, proper cooking makes most foods safe. Always keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold prior to eating.

fluence the availability of capital for investment in such agricultural enterprises as cattle feeding.

The Merrick County businessman noted that agriculture is the one segment of the U.S. economy still producing goods cheap enough to export under present circumstances.

Dinsdale said the fact that prices of raw agricultural products were not "frozen," points out better than any other illustration that ag products are too cheap in relation to the rest of the economy.

Turning to the loan side of the money market, Dinsdale pointed to continuing and increasing federal deficits. He noted that "this year's deficit will be larger than the value of all the cattle in the United States."

He termed the supply of money in Nebraska "adequate," commenting that "too much money leaves Nebraska to seek higher yields."

Dinsdale said Nebraska bankers are "trying hard to stop this flow of funds," necessary "if our area is to prosper."

Dinsdale plugged for more beef production on the basis that "the public has shown its willingness to buy an ever-increasing supply of beef at prices that have been generally profitable to the producers."

The speaker told beef producers "we are overlooking a real opportunity in Nebraska to increase our calf production," especially in the high corn producing areas of Nebraska. This, he said, would utilize the refuse from the corn crop as cow feed, keep more acres in production—

"idle acres do in government programs don't do much for the local economy"—and combine cow-calf operation to the all-grain farm operation would increase income without adding too much expense.

Dinsdale opined that "we (Nebraska) have not reached our potential in finishing cattle, if we can get our feeder supply to be adequate."

"I am not awed or afraid of the Southwest (Oklahoma-Texas-Arizona) feedlots," he said, "I do not think size necessarily indicates efficiency. Our bank records do not indicate that profit is necessarily related to size."

One aspect of a profitable beef producing system is a sound health program to insure maximum gain and efficiency. Dr. Paul Q. Guyer, Extension beef specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, discussed proper handling of incoming feeder cattle and husbandry practices important in the feeding program at the seminar.

Guyer stressed the need to minimize initial stress of feeder cattle. This begins, he said, with the farmer avoiding cattle which exhibit signs of excess stress before entering the auction ring.

Properly constructed lots will help to reduce a lot of stress once cattle are delivered, according to Guyer.

"Starting lots should hold no more than 100 or 200 head," he said. "Adequate bunk space and a liberal water supply are also important."

Nutritional stress can be avoided by giving cattle access to good quality loose hay, either alfalfa or grass hay, according to Guyer. Feeding or growing rations may begin to be fed the first or second day after the arrival of the cattle.

Potential problems feeders should avoid by watching cattle closely during the feeding period, according to Guyer, include grub treatment, worming and proper treatment of sick cattle.
