

Wayne Area Hit by Flu Bug

In the Wayne area in the midst of a flu epidemic?
According to area doctors, the situation is serious. Schools report that absenteeism is on the decline, with most superintendents and principals noting that their pupils and teachers were down with what appeared to be influenza before and during Christmas vacation.

Wayne Herald Adds Feature Writer to Staff

Mrs. Tom (Brenda) Gustafson, a 1965 graduate of the Nebraska University School of Journalism and an English-Journalism teacher at Wakefield High School four years, has been hired by

The Wayne Herald as a feature news writer.
The new reporter will cover the entire area served by The Herald.
Brenda was graduated from Tekamah High School in 1961. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Blankenbiller, still lives at Tekamah. While at NU, Brenda was president of Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism society for women; member of Kappa Tau Alpha, scholastic honorary for that absenteeism of their 434 enrollees was about 10 per cent, up from the normal three to five per cent. He added, however, that as many as 70 pupils per day had been absent prior to Christmas vacation.

Wayne Middle School absenteeism, also worse prior to Christmas, was also on the decline, averaging 25 of the enrolled 318 being out last week.

West Elementary School's figures were more encouraging, with no more than the average amount of students missing school, according to Principal Richard Metteer. The same held true for Carroll Elementary School, which has 45 enrolled, Metteer felt.

Sister Margaret Mary, principal of St. Mary's Catholic Grade School in Wayne, said they had been hardest hit before Christmas also, but were still recording an average of four of their 51 students out per day, as opposed to a maximum of two under normal circumstances.

Supt. Murl Beller of Wakefield Public School said absenteeism averaged nearly five per cent, up from normal, but not as serious as it had been prior to Christmas vacation.

Allen Consolidated High School had two or three of their 300 enrolled students at home each day last week. There average is one per day normally.
Supt. Donovan Leighton of Wakefield Public School said 15 of their 385 students were out per day last week, probably with flu and some with chicken pox. Winslow normally averages eight absences per day.
Hoskins Grade School, with an enrollment of 50, recorded an average four absences per day last week, in contrast to almost perfect attendance normally. Principal Mrs. Jenkins felt their students were being hit harder now than before Christmas.

Three Charged After Fracas

Three men were charged in county court Wednesday in connection with an incident which occurred about 1 a.m. Wednesday at Ron's Steak House in Wayne.

James H. Schutz, 23, Wayne, was charged with destruction of property, disorderly conduct and resisting an officer. Schutz pleaded guilty to the first two counts, and was fined $100 on the first count and sentenced to 10 days in jail on the second count. He pleaded not guilty to the third count, and the trial date for that count was set at Jan. 13 at 2 p.m.

Schutz has filed $250 appeal bond, and will appeal the court's sentence on the first two counts. A date has not been set for a district court hearing on Schutz's appeal.
Wilbur Dean Trog, 24, Millard, Ia., pleaded guilty to destruction of property and disorderly conduct. Trog was fined $100 on the first count and sentenced to 10 days in jail on the second count. Trog has posted an appeal bond of $250, but a hearing date on his appeal has not been set.

Daniel Boy, 25, Wayne, pleaded not guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and destruction of property. Trial date for Boy was set on Jan. 13 at 2 p.m.
Sgt. Keith Reed of the Wayne Police Department was hospitalized in Wayne following the incident. Reed suffered severe bruises, and was listed in "good" condition.

Post Offices Have Tax Help Booklets

A booklet containing information on how to fill out federal income tax returns is on sale for 75 cents at area post offices.
"Your Federal Income Tax" was written by the Internal Revenue Service and contains many examples to illustrate how the tax law applies to actual situations.
A special feature of the booklet is the sample, filled in return, Form 1041, keyed to pages where explanations can be found for each entry on the return form.

Mr. and Mrs. White came to Dixon from Escanaba, Calif., and opened the grocery store about five months ago. They have four children.

White Grocery At Dixon Moves

White Grocery of Dixon moved one door east last week and plans are to turn the building formerly housing the business into a recreation hall for Dixon area young people.
Bob Dixon, owner of both buildings, said, "We had much more space than we needed in the other building so decided to move into the smaller building."

Orientation Meeting

The first get-together for Hospital Service Area coordinators was held Wednesday evening at the First National Bank in Wayne. A project inventory was a part of the program, led by Cal Ward, Wayne, service area chairman. Coordinators will form committees for solicitation in communities and farm areas in the $500,000 campaign to build and equip a new Medical Center for all the families of the northeast Nebraska region. Coordinators shown here, from left, are: Leland Harman, Fredrick Tamme and Warner Hanson of Concord; Stanley Morris of Carroll and Harry Heinemann of Winslow; Willis Meyer, Wayne rural area, also is a coordinator but was not present for the picture.

Hooky 'Legalized' by Work Study Program

Don't call the truant officer if you see 10 Allen High School students entering the building late or leaving early.
These students are on their way to or from "class" at Bob's Locker (Ponca), Dixon County Feedlot, Farmer's Co-op Elevator, Clifford Gotch Insurance Agency, Kluever's Sales and Service, University of Nebraska Northeast Station (Concord), Milton G. Waldbaum Co. (Wakefield), and Young's Service Station (Dixon).
Under a work-study program initiated this year in the Allen High School, students may receive high school credit for jobs held outside of school.

"Possibly a guy could work up here. Of course if he wanted to go somewhere else he'd have to have more training," he said.
After a 90-day trial period, Dowling received a sizable increase in salary.

Ray Brentlinger said he would keep his job as a permanent job if it were offered.
Brentlinger and Mark Roebor work afternoons and Saturdays at the Farmer's Co-op Elevator in Allen.

"I do a lot of loading and unloading. I also haul feed, grain, and fertilizer," Brentlinger said.
"I feel my wages are fair considering my qualifications," he said. "It's nice to have the money."

Roebor was sent to a chemical meeting in Lincoln last week. He has also been sent to seminars on feed.
Brentlinger and Haag said they think that Roebor might be asked to stay on at the Co-op and take over the fertilizer or the feed operation.
"I think I'm learning to face the public better," said Janice Kraemer, who works at Kluever's Sales and Service.

Janice Kraemer looks up from inventory taking to greet a potential customer at Kluever's Sales and Service. She obtained her job in connection with Allen High School's work-study program.

Kraemer, who works at Kluever's Sales and Service, said she is particularly benefiting from experience in the areas of buying, selling, and managing.
"Mr. Kluever is gone a lot. I close the shop pretty often. Until two weeks ago I was managing all by myself. Now another lady has been hired," she said.
"I have already learned a lot. I can see what we have been talking about in class, in my job," she said.
Larry Lindahl said he will probably keep his job at the Dixon County Feedlot at least until the end of the summer. In the fall he might go to vocational, technical school.
Lindahl, who has worked at the feedlot for three years, said this has been a good job while in school.
Because of a scheduling conflict at school, Lindahl cannot leave early for his job.
"They would be happy to have me earlier," he said. "By the time I get there it is so late that mostly I just feed bales."

"I did filling down there before we studied it at school. It helped to have that experience before I studied the subject," she said.
Lee (Gaylord) Strivers has had a job at Young's Service Station in Dixon for 2 1/2 years.
He said he has gained mechanical, electrical and sales experience from the job.
"I probably wouldn't want this job," he said.

Instant Appeal
"The jobs were there all along," said Charles Haag, Allen teacher in charge of the program. "After the businessmen heard about the program, they called us."
Rich Dowling, who works at Bob's Locker in Ponca, likes his job. He works weekday afternoons and all day Saturday.
"Mostly I bone out and grind meat for hamburger," he said.
Dowling said he wouldn't mind continuing in his job after he is out of school.

Rubeck said he feels that he has several advantages over other high school students who work at the plant. "I get school credit and I get out earlier from school," he said.
Rubeck works in the transfer room on the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. shift.
"I do filling mostly," said Nade Short, who works at the Clifford Gotch Insurance Agency

Tickets on Sale For Jan. 24 Chamber Dinner
Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner Jan. 24 have been printed and are now on sale.
The tickets at $4.50, can be obtained from the State National Bank, First National Bank, Chamber of Commerce Office, Iowan Wilton, Ray Butts, Arnold Marr, Francis Haun or Jerry Malcom.
Malcom told the Herald that the number of tickets to be sold will be limited for the dinner and program, to be held at the City Auditorium, beginning at 7 p.m.

John Melton, defensive coach for Nebraska's No. 1 Cornhusker football team, will be the main speaker.

Livestock Feeders To Meet at Laurel

The Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association will hold its annual meeting Monday evening, Jan. 17, at the Wagon Wheel Steakhouse at Laurel.
Officers for 1972 will be elected. A nationally-known cattle feeder has been invited to speak as soon as possible.
The changes in withholding reflect the increases in the standard deduction and in the personal exemption provided by the 1971 act, and are designed to eliminate the major causes of underwithholding that many taxpayers

Ordinance Changes Primary Election

The board of trustees at Winslow, at their meeting last Monday, passed Ordinance No. 219 which set the date for the municipal election in 1972 on a date coinciding with the statewide primary election.
The trustees' action replaces all previous ordinances inconsistent with Ordinance 219.

Street Hearing At Allen Feb. 7

Allen will hold a public hearing Feb. 7 at 7 p.m. to present and adopt a one and six-year street improvement program.
Anyone living in Allen may appear or be represented at this meeting.

Concord Town Board To Discuss Landfill

The board of trustees of the Village of Concord will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the fire hall.
The board, besides conducting the usual business meeting, will discuss the recently approved sanitary landfill site and the building of a temporary access road to the dumping site.

Over $3,000 Contributed To Allen Rescue Unit Drive

The fund-raising drive for a new Allen Rescue Unit passed the $3,000 mark Thursday.

By 11 a.m. Thursday morning the Security State Bank at Allen had received $3,021 for the new unit, over 60 per cent of the $5,000 goal.
Wives of Allen firemen collected $600 Monday night while delivering new telephone stickers to local residents.
"I was pleased," said Mrs. Bill Snyder, co-chairman of the Monday night event. "I thought we would be doing well if we got $300 to $400."
"We were only out from 5:15 until about 7:30 p.m.," she said.
"Some people thought about it overnight and came into the bank the next morning to donate more," she said. "I guess they didn't realize at first that the need is so great."

Other firemen's wives who volunteered their services Monday night were: Mrs. Paul Hays, co-chairman, Mrs. Maurice Davenport, Mrs. Keith Hill, Mrs. Clarence Jeffrey, Mrs. Sam Knepper, Mrs. Bill Kjer, Mrs. Ken Linafelter, Mrs. Laurence Lindahl, Mrs. LeRoy Roberts, Mrs. Marie VonMinden and Mrs. Craig Williams.

The firemen are delivering the telephone stickers to rural Allen residents.
The Security State Bank kicked off the Rescue Unit drive on Dec. 14, 1971, with a $1,000 donation.

Other donations of more than $25 are: Allen Community Development, $100; Farmer's Coop Elevator, $100; Pleasant Hour Club, $93.80; Diamond Jubilee Fund, $67.21; and LaVerne Nelson, $65.

Individuals, clubs and businesses contributing $25 are: Allen Community Project Club, Rudolph Blom, Ray Brownell, W. H. Clough, Ernest Demkie, Ellis Electric, Ralph Emry.
Fay Fitch, Howard Glasspie, Elmer Hansen, Hanson Elevator, Vern Hubbard, Ben Jackson, Alfred Jensen, Quentin Kavanagh, Howard Kimball.

Wayne Publisher Ends 2 Terms In College Post

Alan Cramer of Wayne stepped down Thursday as president of the State College Board of Trustees after heading that group for the past two years.
Cramer was the first in the 50-year history of the board to serve two consecutive terms as president.

Henry Freed of Chadron succeeded Cramer as president for a one-year term.

Dr. Francis J. Brown of Genoa moved up to vice-president of the board during the board meeting held at Lincoln.

Mark Brockman, rural Wayne, Thursday's Cash Night winner, accepts $150 check from Al Wittig. Brockman was present at Wittig's Super Valu when her name was announced at the 8:00 drawing. Next week's Cash Night jackpot will be $100.

A Grain of Salt

In the past week, the U. S. Government has issued stern warnings about the use of soap containing hexachlorophene. The chemical, long used as a disinfectant and antiseptic, has been found capable of causing brain lesions in laboratory rats.

Apparently matters not that the unfortunate animals have been exposed to huge doses over prolonged periods of time. The government, just to be on the safe side, now says that soap may contain only specified amounts of hexachlorophene. Any preparation with higher-hexachlorophene content will be available by prescription only.

Surely, one can't complain about government concern with the public welfare. Yet, this latest warning, coming on the heels of other dire pronouncements, gives us cause for a thoughtful review of the situation.

Not long ago, Washington medical researchers alerted us to the dangers of tuna contaminated by mercury. Our darkest fears were confirmed, when we saw a doctor taking his patient's temperature with a fishstick. So, we scratched tuna off our list of comestibles.

Next, it was DDT. "Did you know," queried the government medical men, "that right now, you are carrying around a lethal dose of the powerful insecticide?" That one worried us.

Even such presumably wholesome foods as butter and eggs came under fire, convicted for leading the cholesterol derby. Someone actually had the timidity to suggest that milk was a totally unnecessary part of the American diet, and people who make it their business to know such things, stated flatly that a shot of booze had the same nutritional value as most breakfast cereals.

Just when it appeared that nothing was sacred anymore, "they" (come to think of it, we never found out who "they" were) took the final step, linking too much sleep with a high incidence of stroke. This was "the most unkindest cut of all," and truly sad news for Monday morning slug-a-bed.

What does it all mean? "They" have taken away our soap, our food and our right to a good night's sleep.

Is it a Communist plot to turn us into a nation of dirty, underfed insomniacs?

No. But in most cases, it probably is an exercise in unnecessary, low-grade hysteria. When a threat to public health is unquestionably present, the government should, of course, take action. However, when hundreds of thousands of people have been washing daily for years with hexachlorophene soap, and are still not dropping like flies, we think a bit of forbearance is indicated.

A prime example of premature concern is the recent cyclamate scare. The government banned diet soft-drinks containing cyclamate, on grounds that the substance had caused cancer in experimental animals. The ban occasioned a great deal of worry on the part of many consumers, until a later statement noted that the animals had been given very large and concentrated doses of the chemical.

In terms of human consumption, the laboratory experiment would be roughly equivalent to drinking one million bottles of soda pop. We suppose it would be possible to pull off such a trick, but it would take perseverance, an uncontrollable lust for cola, and a pretty good set of kidneys.

The point is, the experiment did not approximate normal human conditions, and yet the results were trumpeted far and wide as an ironclad indictment. From our vantage point, there appears to be little justification for such grim warnings.

We guess there will never be a shortage of crepe hangers. But rather than become paranoid about their foreboding statements of threats to life and limb, we choose to take the bad news with a grain of salt...until "they" find something wrong with that too. — Joel Knutsen

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

The O'Neill School Board last week voted unanimously to support the dress code at the high school in the face of federal injunction. A special meeting was called when word was received from the board's attorney, Ed Hanson, that a temporary restraining order had been requested by a Lincoln firm. Federal District Court Judge Warren Urborn issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday against O'Neill school officials to permit Michael E. Thomas, 16, to attend class regardless of the length of his hair.

The Wisner Medical Building now belongs to its shareholders. Contributions exceeding $12,300, were received last week by the Wisner Medical Board of Directors, allowing bank notes totaling some $8,200 to be paid. There are currently no liens or other claims against the property except the paving tax, which will be an annual expense, until it is paid off.

The Bancroft Village Board, at its regular monthly meeting Monday night, designated sledding streets within the village boundaries and issued a strong warning against violators.

It was decided by a vote of the Randolph Community Club members attending the regular meeting last week that most stores will be closed on Saturday nights during the winter months. The stores will again be open on Saturday nights beginning in early spring when field work begins for farmers.

A hunting accident late in the afternoon Dec. 30 claimed the life of 14-year-old Bryce Thies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thies, rural Randolph. The mishap occurred while the boy was hunting with a friend near Randolph. He died a short time later at a local doctor's office.

Visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit to Plainview and Osmond on Tuesday and Wednesday were cancelled because of the prevailing flu problem. Decision to cancel the visits came upon the recommendation of doctors in Osmond, Plainview, Wausa and Randolph and the hospital administrators in the two towns where the visits were scheduled.

The South Sioux City Community Center, in cooperation with the Community Action Program at Walthill will lease the former location of MECA Sports, 425 W. Highway 20, for use as a senior citizen's center.

The Wakefield High School Pep Club was chosen the best pep club at the Holiday Basketball Tournament held in Pender last week. Pep Club officers are Carol Mills, president, Ruth Gustafson, Sherry Verplank and Suelen Sandell. Cheerleaders are Susan Leonard, head cheerleader; Lou Ann Nicholson, Jan Johnson, Brenda Krusemark and Barb Munter.

Over $100 damage occurred to each of two cars, a 15-ton truck tractor toter and a mobile home, along with a telephone pole being sheared off in an accident which occurred on Thursday afternoon in Plainview. No injuries were sustained by any of the persons involved. Steven H. Luehrs, driver of the 1969 Dodge truck tractor toter, owned by "Wiches Homes, Inc., Ne-11g, was eastbound on Highway 20 when he came over an incline on the rear of the 1965 Ford, driven by Emil A. Schulte, 74, of Brunswick, as Schulte was completing a right hand turn. The impact shoved the Ford into the 1961 Chrysler which was owned and driven by E. C. Russell of Plainview. The toter continued on and the corner of the trailer caught the Northwestern Bell Co. telephone pole, shearing it off.

Last week's Ord Quiz was hastily compiled by staff members, headed by Society Editor Carol Leggett, following a slip on the ice, resulting in hospitalization and pending surgery for Editor Ron Baldwin. Shortly before midnight Sunday, Baldwin slipped on the ice outside his apartment, fracturing his left ankle and dislocating a knee-cap. Lying in the cold about 30 minutes before he could summon help, Baldwin was taken to the Valley County Hospital and was to be transferred to Mary Lanning Hospital in Hastings Friday for surgical repair of the knee-cap.

Dan Sutton, local Nebraska Public Power District superintendent, stated this week that he had replaced from 12 to 15 street lights in Elgin, each of which had been shot out. Elgin's street lights are the mercury vapor type and cost about $8 each, for a total loss of $100, plus installation.

About 500 Pender area residents will get new phone numbers as a result of a $30,000 Northwestern Bell service improvement project to be completed Jan. 16. Distribution of a new directory began Jan. 5.

Pierce city council last Monday night authorized their engineers, Kirkham-Michael and Associates, to proceed with plans and specifications for a new 3,000,000-gallon water storage tank to be erected on a 70-foot tower on the hill at the west edge of Pierce.

An estimated 500 persons gathered at the Tilden City Auditorium New Year's Eve to hear several groups sing for four hours. The program included presentations by the Gateway Singers of Ottumwa, Iowa, the Kordams Quartet of Hawaiana, Hawaii, the Lund Five of Clearwater, the Schwarzberg Family of Oakdale, Pastor Jones and Stephanie of Meadow Grove, the Faith Echoes of Norfolk and the Petersen family of Tilden.

St. Joseph's Home in West Point received a $2,000 check from the German Old Peoples Home of Omaha last week, the gift to be used for repair and modernization of the facility, which houses 46 elderly residents, mostly of German descent.

Madison people were invited to join the Jaycees in the closing of the Christmas season at a tree burning Thursday.

With a flip of the calendar last Saturday, Albion entered its centennial year. This month local citizens are launching the first of many activities in connection with the city's 100th birthday celebration.

'The Early-Bird'

There is a reversal of a normal characteristic trait by Nebraska taxpayers every three years—the time when those persons can hardly wait to plunk down cash.

That lone instance is when the new year's license plates go on sale at county treasurers' offices.

The same taxpayer may wait until the last possible second to file his income tax or grudgingly pay his personal property tax just before the deadline—but he rushes to be the first guy to get those new license tabs.

The answers for this unusual mannerism of the overburdened taxpayer must be left to a psychologist.

Perhaps it's because license plates are about the only thing tangible—outside of a receipt—that a taxpayer has to show for the entire year's gouging.

Everyone notices the new colors of a license plate but no one would notice, except in a suspicious manner as to the sanity of a person who would flaunt a newly filled-out income tax form or a receipt that his personal property taxes were paid.

But from Jan. 3 to March 1 those early-birds are "open season" for those persons with larceny in mind.

The criminally-inclined can "use" those persons who carelessly discard license plates during the two-month span.

Discarded plates have shown up in several police investigations of hit-and-run accidents or on cars used by persons involved in a felony.

Sgt. Joe Torley of the State Auto Accident Investigation office tips off those persons who may never have conceived the possibility in "cut up or hammer" those old plates before discarding.

Letters to The Editor

To The Editor:

Ernest Anderson's granddaughter, Kathleen Anderson, was coming home from Sweden after spending 1 1/2 years there, going to school and also working.

On a bus Kathleen rode for four hours with Ingrid Aronson, a girl from Sweden who was on her way to the University of Arizona at Tucson as an exchange student.

They became very friendly and liked each other very much. Ingrid said to Kathleen that she would like to have her address so she could write to her when they both got to the U. S. A. and handed her an address book she had in her purse.

Kathleen opened the address book and was shocked to see Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Wayne. Kathleen jumped with excitement and yelled, "That's my grandpa; that's my grandpa. How come you know them?" Ingrid said, "Ernest's wife is my mother's aunt and she writes to me."

Ingrid is Geron Alvin's sister's granddaughter and Kathleen is Ernest Anderson's granddaughter.

Kathleen came to visit us the day after she got to her home in Wakefield. Her dad is Dale Anderson.

Average Wayne County Family Has $1,490 Debt

(Special to The Herald) — NEW YORK — How well are Wayne County residents managing their financial affairs these days? How much do they owe in the form of installment debt? To what extent have they been using the abundant amount of credit at their command to purchase automobiles, dishwashers, air conditioners, furniture and other expensive items?

Although their incomes have gone up in the last year or two, in most cases, enabling them to become more expansive in their spending, they have been more cautious than usual, due to their uncertainties with regard to inflation, unemployment and other economic factors.

As a result, they have kept their debt load well within manageable limits and their credit in good shape.

According to data from the Federal Reserve Board, the National Consumer Finance Association and others, the amount of consumer debt outstanding in the United States is over $103 billion. It is equivalent to about $1,600 per family.

In Wayne County, on the basis of recent national reports and based upon average earnings and expenditures locally, the overall debt load is estimated at $4,466,000.

This includes automobile loans, credit extended for the purchase of other consumer goods, personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. It does not include mortgage debt, charge accounts and single payment loans.

The debt load in the local area figures out to $1,490 per family. That is the mathematical average. However, since many families have no debt at all, the amount owed by those that do is considerably higher.

In general, more than $1 out of every $7 that a family has left after paying its personal taxes goes toward the repayments it must make on its installment debt.

In Wayne County, this repayment rate comes to approximately $124 per month per family, on average.

Is this too much of a burden for them? Not according to the figures. They show that the proportion of defaults is very small. Most people are careful about their finances and do not take on more debt than they can handle.

What Vacation?

The Christmas-to-New Years school "vacation" has become just a "business-as-usual" period for many high school students in recent years, especially those involved in athletics.

Not too many years ago, school closed "shop" almost completely during the year-end holidays and there were few, if any, school activities scheduled.

Then someone came up with the idea for holiday basketball tournaments and wrestling meets during the school break.

A few years previous to that, the trend moved toward Saturday night basketball games, directed at cutting down or eliminating Tuesday night cage activities.

All area high schools were involved in at least one holiday basketball tournament—Wayne and Laurel at Wayne State College, Winfield at Newman Grove and Wakefield and Allen at Pender.

Sometimes it makes you wonder if the holiday activities are actually scheduled for the benefit of the students and athletes.

—Or for the entertainment of the adults?

Q—Do the economic controls apply to college tuition charges?

A—Yes, tuition, as well as room and board are covered.

Q—Do prenotifiers and reporting firms use the same form to notify the Price Commission of price increases?

A—Yes. Form PC-1 (PC-1R for retailers and wholesalers) should be used by both firms with annual sales of $100 million or more to notify the Price Commission in advance of price increases and file quarterly reports and those firms with annual sales between $50-100 million that are manually reported to report quarterly. The Price Commission will process requests for price increases only if submitted on those forms or facsimile copies. These forms are available at Internal Revenue Service offices.

All other manufacturing, service and professional firms who do not have to file Form PC-1 to validate their price increases, but must maintain records of such increases in their files may find the form useful for computing and recording in the files any price increases put into effect.

Dixon Man, Bride Farming Near Hartington

A Dixon man, Melvin Swick Jr., and his bride of Dec. 31, are making life home near Hartington, where the bridegroom is engaged farming.

Mrs. Swick, nee Rita Barnes, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barnes, Hartington. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Swick Sr., of Dixon.

The couple were married in 7:30 p.m., double ring rites at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hartington, with the Rev. Kenneth Franzen of Hartington officiating. Guests were ushered their places by Dick Grosvenor of Ponca and Dwight Paulsen of Laurel, and candles were lighted by Mrs. Franzen.

The bride and groom were accompanied by Joseph Swick of Dixon. Sara Bottenhausen, Wayne, sang "Each for the Other" and "Our Wedding Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Norman Custer of Hartington.

The bride was attended by Dorothy Paulsen of Laurel as maid of honor and Connie Swick of Dixon, bridesmaid, who were identically gowned in floor length fashions of purple velvet and lavender crepe. They wore purple mint veils and carried lavender candles surrounded by purple carnations.

For her own gown the bride chose a floor-length demibell silhouette of re-embroidered lace and angelina of soile, styled with scalloped neckline and long train, while the bride's shoulder length veil cascaded from a bow headpiece and she carried an orchid on a lace adorned Bible.

Best man was Marvin Swick of Dixon and groomsmen were Gary Barnes of Hartington. The men wore white dinner jackets with black trousers.

Brian Burbach was ringbearer and flowergirl was Wynne Barnes, both are of Hartington.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Barnes chose a brown knit tweed suit with beige accessories. Mrs. Swick wore a two-piece grey knit ensemble with black accessories.

Mrs. Marvin Swick of Dixon registered guests and gifts were arranged for the reception at the fellowship hall by Linda Bottolfson, Jeanette Elliott and Renee Stratman of Omaha and Janice Koken and Laleen Jensen of Lincoln. The 120 guests were greeted by hosts Mr. and Mrs. Howard Paulsen.

Mrs. Eugene Burbach and Mrs. Gary Barnes of Hartington cut and served the cake and Mrs. Robert Grosvenor of Newcastle poured. Mrs. Wayne Kramer of Wisner served punch. Waitresses were Lori and Vicky Millander of Hartington and Cynthia, Diana and Sharon Brush and Lori Grosvenor of Newcastle.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Hartington Public School and works as a secretary for the Hartington REA office. The bridegroom is a 1969 graduate of Newcastle Public School.

Cheese Cake Makes Day Special
Any special day is the right day to make a lemon cheese cake.

- Lemon Cheese Cake
- 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1/4 cup margarine, melted
  - 1 pound small curd creamed cottage cheese
  - 1/2 cup corn starch
  - 4 eggs, separated
  - 1-cup sugar
  - 1 1/2 leaspoons grated lemon rind
  - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 2 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Grease 9 inch spring form pan. Mix together crumbs, 2 table spoons sugar and margarine. Reserve 1 tablespoonful of mixture. Press remaining crumb mixture onto bottom and sides of prepared pan. Bake in a 325 degree F (slow) oven 5 minutes. Cool. Press cottage cheese through strainer twice. Add corn starch and beat with spoon until fluffy. # Environmental Control Act Has Both Good, Bad Points

by Roy F. Stohler
Dixon County Agent
Northeast Station, Concord

The U. S. House of Representatives recently passed and sent to the U. S. Senate, the "Federal Environmental Pesticide Control Act of 1971"—H. R. 10729. There's much good in the bill, but at the same time, there are provisions that are going to make farming even more difficult.

The bill contains many of the provisions of the present "Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act" which will be replaced by the new bill. However, there are some very basic changes with which agriculture should be familiar.

First of all, the committee steering the bill through the House had to do some "compromising" with certain groups. This was to assure passage of legislation that wouldn't seriously hamper agricultural operations.

A provision in the new bill provides for the classification of all pesticides into two categories—general and restricted. A pesticide classified for general use is one that will not cause substantial adverse effects on the environment when applied according to directions and cautions for registered uses.

A restricted pesticide will be one that may cause substantial adverse effects on the environment, including injury to the applicator, even when applied in accordance with directions and warnings for registered uses.

The new bill also provides for the certification of applicators, both private and commercial. Farm operators applying pesticides to their own crops would be private applicators.

An applicator applying a pesticide classified in the general category would not need to be certified. However, an applicator making application of a restricted pesticide would have to be certified.

There are a lot of unknowns in H.R. 10729. For example, standards for certification of applicators are not outlined in the bill.

Instead, the bill reads: "The Administrator shall prescribe standards for the certification of pesticide applicators." No one knows what the prescribed standards may be. For the private applicator, certification could be the signing of a statement that he has read the label and is aware of all hazards involved, or it could mean an examination.

At this point, we have only an inkling on the classification of specific pesticides. As we read information from Washington, pesticides currently carrying the skull and crossbones or the signal "Warning" on the label will be restricted. Using these guidelines, much of the corn rootworm material would need to be applied by certified applicators.

Additionally, materials lasting in the soil more than the current growing season, may be classified as restricted. This could include some of our more widely used corn and soybean herbicides.

Bill HR 10729 (971) contains 61 pages. Write your Congressman for a copy. After studying the legislation, write your Senator if there are provisions you feel should be changed.

VA Answers to Vets' Questions

Q—Is a veteran's widow who draws Veterans Administration pension entitled to an extra $55 monthly if she becomes a patient in a nursing home?
A—Yes.

Q—I am a veteran who did not complete high school. Will the Veterans Administration pay me an educational allowance?
A—Yes. Not only are you eligible for this assistance, but any veteran who must complete high school to qualify for higher education can do so without this assistance being charged against his basic entitlement.

Wind Speed Determining Factor, Not Thermometer

When meteorologists came up with the chill factor, it explained why we can feel a whole lot colder today at 10 degrees Fahrenheit than we did yesterday with an identical reading on the thermometer.

Wind makes the difference. A mere 20 miles per hour—hardly uncommon in the winter months—this up with the bone-chilling equivalent of 25 below zero, even though the mercury reads a modest 10. That's two and a half times as cold.

Should the wind reach 40 mph, as it easily does during a January blizzard, the chill factor delivers an effective temperature of minus 37 degrees!

Wind-driven chill places a heavy burden on home-heating systems, greatly accelerating heat loss through the walls and roof of the house. Fuel consumption soars accordingly as we jack up the thermostat to maintain a semblance of comfort.

Storm windows and weather-stripping around doors are highly desirable. They help hold drafts and cold air currents to a tolerable level while the wind howls outside.

But, according to experts at W. R. Grace & Co.'s Construction Products Division, the attic is highly vulnerable to wind-driven chill. Frigid air forces itself under the shingles, literally refrigerating the space beneath the rafters.

To reduce heat loss through ceilings of the rooms below, they recommend pouring a few inches of Zonolite vermiculite granules over existing attic insulation. Supplied in bags, the loose-fill material flows readily between the joists; can be leveled with a screed to the desirable six-inch depth.

This simple step is said to reduce home heating bills as much as 40-50%, and takes much of the sting out of the chill factor.

Some Persons Eligible for Extended Unemployment Insurance Benefits

State Labor Commissioner Gerald E. Chizek today announced that, effective Jan. 2, those individuals who had exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits during approximately the last six months may be eligible for extended benefits.

The State of Nebraska is now participating in the federal-state extended unemployment compensation program. This is a program which goes into effect when the unemployment rate climbs to 4.5 per cent on the national level. Its purpose is to help unemployed workers who have no further benefits available from regular unemployment claims.

During this national extended benefit period, unemployed workers in all states who meet certain requirements may be entitled to benefits.

A claimant may be entitled to extended benefits if (1) he is partially or totally unemployed; (2) he has received all of the benefits due under a regular state or federal unemployment compensation claim for which the benefit year has not expired; or has a benefit year that ends within an extended period; (3) he has no rights to unemployment insurance or allowances, as the case may be, under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, the Trade Expansion Act; and (4) he has not received, and is not seeking, for such week, unemployment compensation under the law of the Virgin Islands or Canada.

According to Chizek, the Division of Employment is making an all-out effort to inform individuals, whose claims have exhausted that they may be eligible for extended benefits under the new program.

Unemployed persons whose claims were recently exhausted are asked to go to the nearest Division of Employment Area Claims Center during the first week of January so that determinations for possible eligibility for extended benefits can be made.

Social Security Questions, Answers

Q. I have been married for 14 years and have never changed my name on my Social Security record. My Social Security number is still under my maiden name. Since I have worked on and off in the last few years, will I lose credit for this work?
A. No, but your employer has probably been asked about the different name on his employee earnings report. To make sure you get the proper work credit, call or visit any Social Security office to change your name on Social Security records. You will be issued a Social Security card with the same number you have now, but with your married name on the card.

Pfister Backs Exon Tax Relief Plan

LeRoy Pfister, newly appointed state senator for Nebraska's 17th Legislative District, has endorsed a plan by Gov. James Exon to provide personal property tax relief for Nebraska taxpayers.

According to the South Sioux City Democrat, businesses and farm units in the 17th district, which includes Dakota, Dixon and Wayne Counties, have paid $12 million in taxes to county government on business inventory and equipment, farm machinery, livestock and grain. About 11,000 taxpaying families in the 17th District do not pay this tax, the senator said.

While 135,000 paying the personal property tax paid county government $56 million.

According to Pfister, Burbach's plan would provide no tax relief for 400,000 families. Average relief of $64 would go to 96,000 personal property taxpayers, while 3,000 would receive relief of about $8,000.

Calling for prudence in spending by government, Sen. Pfister endorsed a plan introduced by Gov. Exon, which would provide 50 per cent relief on the $1,000 maximum. The Exon plan would allow tax relief to be paid directly to the family farmer or businessman. Pfister said the plan would be implemented in six to seven years, and, when implemented, would provide the full 50 per cent relief exemption to 85 per cent of the personal property taxpayers.

According to Pfister, over half of the taxpayers would have the full exemption the first year, and general taxes would not be raised when the plan went into effect.

Swine Day Program At Pender on Jan. 27

LINCOLN, while several research studies indicate that high-lysine corn is a nutritionally superior feed grain for all phases of a swine feeding program, yields of this type of corn are a current question in Nebraska. This analysis comes from B.D. Moser, animal scientist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, who will discuss high-lysine corn at the annual series of XI-sponsored Area Swine Day meetings later this month, one to be held at Pender's American Legion Hall, Jan. 27.

The opaque-2 (high-lysine) variety of corn contains a mutant gene which has markedly changed the amino acid pattern of swine protein, compared to normal corn, Moser explained. Because of the increased lysine content, a lower level of supplemental protein is required to balance swine diets to meet protein requirements, he said.

"When high-lysine corn is used as the feed grain, a diet which is approximately two per cent lower in protein will produce performance that is equal to a normal corn-soybean meal diet balanced at the presently re-

Pointers for Safer Driving

The worst part of yet another of our infamous Midwest winter is just around the next chilly corner. As we bundle up more and more and brace for the biting cold and blowing snow, there is some looking ahead that should be done.

For one thing, if we keep in mind that distant image of what lies in store when warmer weather returns, we may be better off psychologically. If we tend to our autos and driving habits, we may come out ahead financially and physically.

The insurance information institute offers the following suggestions for a safer morning winter for Nebraska residents. More than 9 billion miles were traveled over the state's 100,000 miles of roads and streets in 1970. One result was that 411 lives were lost in Nebraska traffic accidents, many during winter months. Better preparation of our cars and more careful driving might have cut down on not only the death toll but injuries and property damage as well.

To begin with, says the Institute, safety starts with the equipment. Prevention is preferable to patching things up after an accident. Items to check include brakes, snow tires or, in non-urban locales, chains, radiator anti-freeze, wiper blades, windshield washer anti-freeze solvent, ignition system, battery and cable contacts, lights, heater and defroster.

Consider carrying in the car a snow brush and ice scraper, battery booster cables, a short handled shovel, a bag of sand or rock salt and a flare or two. Traction can be improved by letting four or five pounds of air out of the rear tires. Water in the fuel line can be reduced by keeping the gas tank full. And exhaust fumes can be prevented by having a tight exhaust system and opening a window slightly.

The best winter accident prevention plan is to stay off the road if at all possible and use public transportation when feasible.

When you must drive, the Institute says, use your wipers on bridges, which tend to freeze before the road surface, and intersections made slick by continual stopping and starting.

Adjust your speed to conditions. Remember that, for example, at 20 m.p.h., it can take four times the distance to stop on loosely packed snow as on dry pavement, and eight times the distance on glare ice.

For slowing down, apply gentle pressure on the brake pedal. If you must stop fast, "pump" the brakes—on and off—so the front wheels can turn to keep your car going straight. If you find yourself in a skid, the usually recommended procedure is to take your foot off the gas pedal and steer in the direction in which the rear of the car is skidding. When your tires either regain a grip on the road, or the car stops, the wheels should be straightened.

Winter's shorter days and reduced visibility require extra alertness not only for other vehicles but for pedestrians as well. Youngsters, especially, often walk in the street when road shoulders and sidewalks are either snowed in or plowed under.

To see and be seen better, wipe both headlights and taillights clean, often. Brush the snow and scrape the ice from side and rear windows as well as from the windshield. Use wiper defrosters. Wipe off both the outside and inside mirrors occasionally. When driving in fog, sleet or heavy snow, use your low-beam headlights to reduce glare.

By driving with more caution and less speed during our midwestern winter, you will be doing your part not only to cut down on loss of life, limb and property but, concludes the Institute, you will be helping to keep auto insurance rates as reasonable as possible.

Withholding

experienced in 1971. The withholding tax rates are adjusted so that single employees earning up to $25,000 a year and married employees, whose spouses are not employed, with earnings up to $31,000 a year can generally expect to have their full tax withheld.

The new law also introduced "special withholding allowance" for one-job individuals and families and liberalizes the provisions governing additional withholding allowances for taxpayers who itemize their deductions (for charities, taxes, etc.).

Vinal said that, generally, an employee should do these things: (1) Claim all of the withholding exemptions to which he is entitled for himself, spouse, dependents, etc. Employees who formerly underclaimed exemptions in order to counterbalance the underwithholding in the withholding system will probably find that is no longer necessary or desirable.

(2) Claim the new "special withholding allowances" shown in the table on the back of the withholding exemptions certificate (Form W-4) if his itemized deductions are substantially larger than the standard deduction.

(3) Claim the new "special withholding allowance" if single and he does not earn more than $25,000, or if married his spouse does not work and he has only one job from which he earns not more than $31,000.

(3) Claim the "additional withholding allowances" shown in the table on the back of the withholding exemptions certificate (Form W-4) if his itemized deductions are substantially larger than the standard deduction.

However, Vinal suggested that all single employees who earn more than $25,000 and married employees who earn more than $31,000 figure out their 1972 tax and withholding based on expected earnings for the year. Then if their withholding is not sufficient, they can increase it in order to avoid having to make payments on a declaration of estimated tax. They can do this by underclaiming their exemptions or asking their employers to withhold additional dollar amounts, or both.

The IRS is mailing to all employers a new Employer's Tax Guide (Circular E) which contains the new withholding provisions and tables and also provides an initial supply of the new withholding exemption certificates which their employees will need. An order blank for additional forms is included.

Sen. Pfister Named

To Two Committees

LeRoy Pfister of South Sioux City, newly-appointed Senator from Nebraska's 17th District, has been assigned to the Public Works and Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committees.

Thome Johnson of Fremont was named to the Appropriations Committee, replacing Elmer Wallwey of Emerson who had resigned from the Legislature with one year of his four-year term remaining.

Glenn Trube works mornings at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station and attends regular classes in the afternoons.

June Smith takes the related academic course but does not have a job at this time. All of the students said they would recommend the course. They like gaining work experience, getting paid, and getting out of school.

Prestige Advantage

Several felt that they might have a slight advantage in the job market because of the prestige involved in having been a part of a school related program.

"The course isn't easy," said Strivens. "But I wouldn't want to waste all that time in study hall. We have enough time in most classes to get our work done. Why not be out working?"

"The program came up when Mr. Miller (Area Superintendent) noted that I have a background in distributive education," Haag said.

"Mr. Miller is very interested in student oriented programs," said Haag.

"The students are excited about their jobs. As far as the related class goes, each part interests different individuals," he said. Haag goes to the different employers and talks to them during each nine-week grading period. Each student's grade is partially determined by these evaluative discussions. The remainder of the grade is determined by the teacher's own observations.

Flu Bug

Hoskins, Trinity Lutheran School noted with gratitude that no appreciable drop had been recorded in their attendance record. Enrollment at Hoskins Trinity Lutheran School is 60.

Laurel High School, with an enrollment of 600, is back to their average number of absences per day, though the number was up before Christmas, and the third grade class which meets at Concord (other Concord students attend classes in Laurel) recorded a very slight increase in absences over the past week for their 34 enrollees.

Dixon Public School children were hardest hit during Christmas vacation, noted Mrs. Dale Stanley, acting principal. The past week the school has averaged five absences per day of their 53 enrollees.

Randolph Public School has returned to a normal amount of absences again, after experiencing a 20 to 25 per cent increase prior to vacation, according to Supr. Neil Kliver. Enrollment at Randolph, which also includes children from the Belden area, is 800.

Dr. Robert Bentback, of Bentback Clinic in Wayne, said 50 per cent of the patients they are now treating are coming in with flu symptoms, the victims being in all age ranges.

Both Dr. Roy M. Matson of Matson Clinic in Wayne, and Dr. Bentback, said they would consider the situation an epidemic. Dr. Matson felt the virus was hitting the adults and the very young the hardest, with the illness turning into pneumonia in the cases of some babies. Dr. Matson had as yet, noticed no decline in the number of patients being treated for the symptoms.

Dr. C. M. Coe of Wakefield felt the situation was easing up in his area, with the affected persons being mostly in the 30 to 50-year-old age group. He said it had begun to look like an epidemic, then "backed off." Because of the danger of infecting hospital patients, he has limited the number of flu patients admitted to the hospital for treatment to only a few, seriously ill, and those in isolation.

Dr. Bentback, who had been in touch with the State Health Department, said results were expected to be out soon, as to whether or not the virus is the Hong Kong type flu as is generally indicated.

Symptoms, some of all of which may be present, depending upon the individual case, are general aches, high fever, chills and heavy perspiring, sore throat, dry cough and congestion. The symptoms seem to hang on from five to 10 days.

Neither Wayne nor Wakefield hospitals have been closed to visitors because of the outbreak.

Pay Raise Regulations for Phase II

OMAHA - Questions received by the Internal Revenue Service Assistance offices indicate that the regulations on pay raises during Phase II of the Economic Stabilization Program are still a matter of concern to a great many Nebraska residents.

Richard P. Vinal, IRS director for Nebraska, explained that, in general, labor contracts and previously established pay practices, in existence prior to Nov. 14, will be permitted to operate according to their terms.

However, these existing agreements can be reviewed and, if necessary, changed by the Pay Board. A review will be made if five or more Pay Board members, or a bargaining representative of the employer or employees feel that the terms of the agreement are inflationary.

Contracts or pay practices established on or after Nov. 14 are subject to the wage control guidelines established by the Pay Board. The guidelines limit the annual increase in wages, salaries, fringe benefits, and other compensation to an "average" of 5.5 per cent unless the Pay Board has specifically approved a larger amount.

Vinal emphasized that the 5.5 per cent is the largest overall increase which can be granted without Pay Board approval, to any department, plant, company, industry or other appropriate employee unit.

The limit does not necessarily apply to each individual raise granted during the post-freeze period.

Vinal also pointed out that longevities increases and merit raises established by collective bargaining agreements are exempted from the 5.5 per cent guideline. However, where no labor agreement exists, the aggregate increase in wages and salaries under any merit or salary administration plan is subject to the 5.5 per cent standard.

The reason the Pay Board distinguishes between the collective bargaining and non-collective bargaining is that merit raises under labor agreements are generally small in amount and are rigidly controlled. On the other hand, merit plan increases, not a part of labor agreements, are generally discretionary and often involve substantial pay raises," Vinal said.

quired dietary protein levels," Moser stated.

Variable yields of opaque-2 corn (when compared to normal corn) have occurred in Nebraska, indicating an opaque-2 variety adapted to this area remains to be developed, the animal science researcher said. However, said plant breeders feel that higher yields of high-lysine corn can be realized in a matter of time.

Moser will discuss implications of feeding high-lysine corn, to swine.

At 13th and Main

A minor collision at 9:15 p.m. Friday at 13th and Main involved cases delivered by Joseph Manley of 306 E. 17th and Alan Thomsen of Route 1, Wakefield.

According to the Wayne City Police accident report, Thomsen had stopped on the highway to allow cars to exit from the Rice Gymnasium parking lot and his vehicle was hit in the rear by a car operated by Manley.

The big news of the town today is that dark little secret you told your neighbor over the back fence yesterday.

Wildcats Topple Hartington, 60-6

Winside varsity wrestlers coasted to an easy 60-6 triumph over Hartington, Thursday night in a home dual meet.

The Wildcats rolled up six pins to Hartington's one, and Hartington forfeited four matches.

At 105, Doug Anderson pinned Guy Wohlman at 2:59.

At 119, Steve Seehl pinned Doug Hasbrock at 5:53.

At 132, Bob Langenberg pinned Randy Evans at 1:47.

At 145, Eddie Leinmann pinned Bill Bruening at 5:45.

At 167, Brian Hoffman pinned Dale Grinold at 2:29.

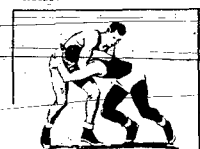

At 185, Larry Cleveland pinned Ron Anderson at 4:38.

Hartington's lone pin came in the heavyweight division, as Larry Pembrock pinned Jerry Wacker, up in weight for this match, and giving away 50 pounds, fought off his undefeated opponent till the pin came at 5:40.

There was no match in the 96-pound class, and Hartington forfeited at 112, 126, 138 and 155. In the 26-pound division, Winside's Doug Lage pinned Hartington's Gwinn at 3:43, but the match was wasted as an exhibition, and scored as a forfeit against Hartington.

Winside's next dual meet will find the Wildcats going against a tough Oakland squad, Jan. 13 at Winside.

Bears Bounce Back, Dump Neligh 74-60

Laurel's Bears, playing their third game in four nights, bounced back after their Tuesday night 55-52 demerol by Bloomfield to swamp Neligh, 74-60, in the consolation round of the Northeast Nebraska Conference Tournament at Crofton.

The Neligh crew jumped to an early three-point lead in the first quarter but that was the last time they had the advantage. The Bears took command at 13 on a pair of field goals, and never relinquished their lead.

Neligh stayed within range during second period play, which saw the Bears scoring 15 to Laurel's 14. A 32-26 count gave Laurel a six-point edge at the half.

Bruce Johnson, a 5-6 senior, did it all for Laurel in the third period, sparking his team to a 22-point total with 12 of his own. Johnson and Gene Sarha also looked tough on defense, as the Bears allowed Neligh only 12 points.

Leading, 54-38, as the final period started, Laurel Coach Leo Parks swept the bench. His reserves didn't disappoint him, adding 20 points.

George Schroeder, always tough, turned in his usual steady performance, accounting for 20 points and 24 rebounds. Schroeder, charged with the task of defending Neligh's premier roundballer, Mark Murphy, 10 points.

Bruce Johnson used his sparkling third-quarter shooting to boost his point total for the evening to 21, while Gary Cash added 12.

Steve Trwiler, out of action over the Christmas break with the flu, got his hand back in a fund-raising showing. The 5-11 senior was tenacious under the boards, clearing 18 rebounds.

Neligh exhibited a balanced scoring attack, with Terry McCosher hitting for 16, Tim Riewer pushing through 14, and Mark Maguire and Murphy adding 10 apiece.

The Bears and Neligh will meet again Jan. 14 at Laurel.

As the final stanza started, the Bears' hosts got seven points in the first quarter, but the Bloomfield cagers needed to wrap up a crack at the championship. The lead changed hands frequently until the final two minutes, when the Bears' John Scott potted two crucial baskets to put his team out front for keeps. With Bloomfield leading by one, the Bears had a chance for a free throw, but missed with eight seconds remaining. Laurel's Bruce Johnson grabbed the rebound and started down court, but the ball was kicked away and time ran out with Bloomfield's one-point lead still good, 57-56.

Schroeder, though plagued by foot trouble, paced the Bears with 32 points, 24 of those coming in the second half. Schroeder also cleared the boards for the Laurel five, hauling in 22 rebounds. The only other Bear in double figures was Gene Sarha, with 10.

Copping scoring honors for the winner was John Scott, who combined a 20-point effort and good defensive work to head the Bloomfield attack. Lars Garbus contributed 13 points to Bloomfield's cause, and Perry Broders added 10.

The score wasn't the only close factor in the game, with both clubs shooting impressively from the field—Laurel hit 51 per cent from the floor, while Bloomfield clicked on 48 per cent.

Devils Notch Second Win

Fresh from a pair of disappointing defeats at the Wayne State Holiday Tourney, the Wayne High Blue Devils got rolling, to hand the Madison Dragons a 67-49 loss Friday night at the Wayne City Auditorium.

Opening action saw the Devils run up a six-point lead early in the first quarter. The Dragons fought back, though, narrowing the gap to one, with Wayne out front, 11-10, at the end of the period.

The Blue Devils offense opened up during the second quarter, hitting for 15 points behind Larz Shupe's six-point shooting, and the defensive work of Doug Sturm. Kyle Willis and Roger Saul controlled the boards for Wayne as the Devils held their visitors to eight points. The locals did run into a minor shooting problem, getting numerous second and third shots, but failing to sink most.

The dam broke in the third quarter. Leading, 26-18, at the quarter, hosts got seven points from senior Kyle Willis, and six again from Shupe. Fellow Blue Devils Randy and Bob Nelson, Roger Saul and Doug Sturm got into the act, providing Wayne with a 22-point third quarter and a hefty 48-31 edge.

The Wayne reserves got their chance in the final stanza. Play became ragged and frenzied at times, and the Dragons, with Dave Unger hitting consistently from 20 feet out, scored 18 points. Wayne managed to notch 19, though, coasting to a 67-49 finish.

Shupe and Willis, an effective 6-4 duo, cleared the boards for Wayne, with help from Roger Saul, 6-5. Willis headed the Devils' offensive attack, with 18 points, and Shupe added 15. Randy Nelson's defensive sparkplug, hit on 13 counters.

Joe Hay was the only Dragon in double figures, with 14 points. Tim Pfeifer, Mel Harper and Vern Lefler sparked the visitors on defense, with rebounding help from junior Jerry Helderman.

Friday's victory was the second in seven starts for the Blue Devils, who will open a four-game road trip Jan. 14 at Stanton. The next home game for the Wayne squad will find Pierce visiting Jan. 28.

Wayne's junior varsity also gave the Dragons a warm welcome, trimming the visitors, 60-53.

The Dragons led, 16-10, at the end of the first period, and the Devils were unable to narrow that margin by only two in the second quarter, trailing by 28-24 at the half.

This second period play saw the locals outscoring Madison, 21-17, good enough for a 45-45 stalemate at the buzzer. Balanced scoring in the fourth quarter led Wayne to a 15-point final effort, while the Blue Devils' defense held the Dragons to eight.

Todd Bigelow and Steve Mordhorst, with 13 and 12-point efforts respectively, spearheaded the Wayne offense. Bigelow and Kerry Jech provided good floor work for the Devils.

High pointer for the losers was Demmel with 17, aided by Unger with 13.

Upland Bird Season

To Close Jan. 16
Upland game bird hunters in Nebraska will go out of business for another year on Jan. 16, with the close of the pheasant and quail seasons across the state.

Scattergunners have had an excellent opportunity for good sport this year. The pheasant and quail seasons opened on Nov. 5, with bag and possession limits of three and 12 on ringnecks and six and 16 on bobwhites. Populations at the beginning of the season were roughly comparable to last year.

Minimum scores for entering: typical male deer heads in Nebraska's Trophic Citation Record Book are 125 for those taken with bow and arrow and 150 for those bagged with a firearm.

Wakefield's Pat Starzl goes high for two points to put the Trojans off to a quick lead against Oakland-Craig, but it was a short-lived advantage as the highly-regarded Knights exploded with a 26-point second period enroute to a 63-40 victory Friday night at Wakefield. Other identifiable players in the picture are, from left, Oakland's Jeff Lindstrom and Milton Willnerd, Loren Hammer of Wakefield and Jeff Willnerd of Oakland. The Wakefield and Oakland players ready for the rebound, are unidentified.

Powerful Oakland Breezes by Wakefield

Oakland-Craig, one of the top Class C basketball teams in the state, boosted its season record to 8-1 Friday night with a lopsided, 63-40 victory over Wakefield, in a game played on the loser's maples.

Oakland took on the "teaser role" early, spotting Wakefield the first six points on the board and leading by only 12-9 at the first quarter's end.

But then height, depth and firepower proved too much for the young Trojans.

The visitors exploded with a 26-point, second period to extend the gap to 38-17 at halftime and wipe out any hopes of all but the most hardy Wakefield rooters.

Two buckets by Pat Starzl and one by Sam Utecht got Wakefield off to a running start, Oakland never registering on the scoreboard until O'Mara hit one from close range with 4:15 left in the opening quarter.

Oakland then ripped off 12 straight points to set the future pattern of the game.

In the second period, Oakland hit from about every spot in the gym except the shower room, at the same time forcing Wakefield into numerous errors to completely dominate the game.

Oakland, chilled in the third period but the Knights' only need for worry, with a 21-point inter-

Trojans Tie Stanton in Dual

Wakefield's Trojan wrestlers traveled to Stanton Wednesday night, and fought the host Mustangs to a 27-27 deadlock in a hotly-contested dual meet.

Three Trojans turned in pins, with Dave Rouse getting the first, at 1:05. Rouse, 11-1 on the season, pinned Dan Jensen in 5:15. Steve Sorenson pinned Tom Bremer at 3:26 in the 145-pound class, and Kirk Gardner, the most successful Trojan malmen with a season record of 12-0, pinned Dave Podany at 1:05 in the 167-pound division.

The only other winners for the visiting Wakefield crew were Devon Fleischer, who won by forfeit in the 112-pound class, and Dave Bodak, who decided Joe Pinn 3-0 at 1:26.

Other results, with Wakefield wrestlers listed first:

98—Kenny Dolph was pinned by Dave Kuester at 1:56.

132—Steve Kraemer was declared by Warren Jensen, 8-6.

138—Roger Gustafson was pinned by Steve Kender at 1:09.

155—Don Lindstrom was pinned by Greg Hill at 1:56.

185—Bud Swanson was pinned by Kopletz at 2:27.

There were no matches in the 119-pound and heavyweight divisions.

Pender Wins Homer Meet

Pender won the championship of the Homer Invitational basketball tournament Friday night by whipping the host school, 83-52. In the consolation division, Winnebago handed Emerson-Hubbard, 71-46.

Pender had 19-point outputs by both Craig Merry and Barry Mable to offset the 25-point performance by Homer's Roger Sandau. Pender had a 25-19 halftime advantage.

John Lasley had 24 points and Joe Morris, 18, to pace the Winnebago attack in the opener of the double-header. Lonnie Pickering's 18 was tops for Emerson. Winnebago had a 32-23 intermission lead in that game.

In first-round action Thursday night, Pender had knocked Winnebago out of championship contention, 73-51, and Homer had socked Emerson, 60-43.

Students Eligible for Essay Contest

All high school students are eligible for participation in an essay contest, following the theme of "My Community—Present or Disaster?" sponsored by the Nebraska Civil Defense Directors Association.

Savings bonds in denominations of $500, $200 and $100 will be awarded to the top four winners. In addition to an expense-paid trip to the Nebraska Civil Defense Directors Association spring conference at Oklaaha, May 6.

Seven other states in Region 6 are holding Civil Defense-sponsored contests, with a regional champion to be determined and invited to an expense-paid trip to the Civil Defense Council conference at Allamore, Kansas, June 18-20. A Savings Bond of $50 will go to the regional winner, $25 to the runner-up and a certificate for third place.

The essay must be at least 500 words and not more than 1,000 words, typewritten, double-spaced and on 8 1/2 x 11-inch unbound white paper, with entries to be sent to William Dean Noyes, chairman, Wayne County Essay Contest, Sixth and D Streets, Millard, Nebr., 68137, no later than March 15.

Entries will be judged on content (75 per cent) and neatness and spelling (25 per cent). Contest entrants are required to submit, on a separate piece of paper, a personal resume which is to include name, age, school, grade, special interests or activities, parents' names, address, telephone number, city, county and state.

Moving Injured Person Dangerous
Here is a health tip from the Nebraska Medical Association. Winter weather mean more highway accidents.

If you are witness to a wreck, remember that the best way you can aid an accident victim is to resist the urge to move the injured person and rush him to a hospital.

Hastily moving an injured person can be disastrous for they often have spinal injuries and moving the victim could make him a lifelong cripple.

Dragging a victim from the wreckage can also cause a broken rib to puncture a lung, or increase hemorrhaging, or produce fatal shock.

Mrs. Schmadke talked Wednesday to Dr. Robert Cox, president of Northeast Nebraska Technical College in Norfolk and he assured her that when the budget was presented "It did not contain excessive padding to warrant being cut in half."

Criticizes Proposed Budget-halving
Mrs. Elaine Schmadke of Dakota City, an announced candidate for the Legislative post of the 17th District, which consists of Wayne, Dixon and Dakota Counties, has labeled herself "a broad-minded conservative."

The Legislative candidate used the label in referring to the recent proposed cut by half of the budget asked for by the community technical colleges of Nebraska.

She said, "In order for a large segment of the population to be competitive, it is essential to build a strong technical background. It is time for an established program; it is foolhardy and a definite handicap to consider cutting the budget in half."

Mrs. Schmadke feels that there is a definite need for such schools in Nebraska and specifies that there has been a void in northeast Nebraska for this type of training.

Mrs. Schmadke added "It is an understood fact that a certain amount of padding is added to a budget when it is submitted so you have bargaining position. There is a certain amount of fat that can be cut out of a budget. It is extremely dangerous in a formative period to cut the $3.4 million budget in half."

Mrs. Schmadke said Wednesday to Dr. Robert Cox, president of Northeast Nebraska Technical College in Norfolk and he assured her that when the budget was presented "It did not contain excessive padding to warrant being cut in half."

VA Answers to Vets' Questions
Q—Will be discharged from the service this month. What must be done to establish eligibility for educational benefits through the Veterans Administration?

A—You should apply immediately to the nearest VA office for a Certificate of Eligibility. Upon receiving this certificate, present it immediately to the registrar of the school you plan to attend, or to the employer where you plan to receive on-the-job training or apprentice training.

Tax Form 1040 to Be Sent to Utah

OMAHA—Taxpayers in Nebraska will file their 1971 Individual Income tax returns with the Ogden, Utah, Regional Service Center, Richard P. Vinal, Director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska, advises.

The new address for filing 1971 Individual Income tax returns is: Director, Internal Revenue Service Center, Western Region, 1160 W. 1200 South, Ogden, Utah, 84405.

Businessmen and farmers filing Form 1040 with Schedules C and F attached will send these returns to Ogden. Vinal stressed, however, that taxpayers filing other business returns should continue sending them to the Kansas City Service Center until further notice.

Taxpayers filing individual income tax returns should direct all of their correspondence, payments and other business transactions to the Ogden Service Center, Vinal said. All prior year account materials involving accounting, correspondence and adjustments will be located in Ogden, he added.

The change in filing location is part of an overall IRS service center plan designed to insure that taxpayers everywhere continue to be provided with fast and responsive service, Vinal pointed out.

Basic to the plan is the opening of new IRS service centers in Memphis, Tenn., and Fresno, Calif., in January, 1972. A third center will open in Brookhaven, N. Y., in July, 1972, bringing the number of IRS service centers to 10.

As in previous years, Vinal said, the 1040 package received by Nebraska taxpayers in the mail just before the filing season contains a preaddressed envelope with the proper service center designation for all taxpayers.

In converting from seven to 10 service centers, the IRS has redistributed workloads over a two-year period to balance activities across the country and cure some problems that led to the creation of the new centers, Vinal explained.

If these changes had not been made, Vinal said, some of the seven existing service centers would have continued to be burdened with too many returns, thereby increasing processing time, slowing down refunds, and otherwise providing an unsatisfactory level of service to taxpayers.

Under the IRS data processing system, Nebraska taxpayers will now file their individual income tax returns with the Ogden Service Center. The returns will be processed in Ogden, Utah, and data from them sent to the National Computer Center in Martinsburg, W. Va., where it will be made a part of each taxpayer's master file.

Funeral Services Held in Wayne

Funeral services for Ida Robinson, 85, of Wayne, were held here Friday at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church. She died Tuesday at Wayne.

The Rev. Doniver Peterson officiated. Gordon Nedergaard sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," accompanied by Mrs. Norman Meyer. Pallbearers were Clifford Johnson, John Russell Johnson, Maurice Childs, Melvin Larson, Evert Larson and Gayle Childs. Burial was in the Greenwood Cemetery.

Ida Robinson, daughter of Jens and Hancea Olson Larsen, was born June 16, 1887 at LaPorte, Nebr. She spent her childhood in the LaPorte area. On March 23, 1910 she was married to Ray Robinson at Wayne. They farmed east of Wayne until his death in 1945. She moved into Wayne in 1945. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, parents, four sisters and two brothers. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. William Jewell Chaner of Wayne and two grandchildren.

Excise Tax Refund Causing Confusion

OMAHA—Some confusion appears to exist as to the amount of excise tax refund due purchasers of new cars or light duty trucks, according to Richard P. Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska.

The tax is not based on a dealer's price but instead is computed by a formula which is based on the manufacturer's selling price to the dealer less certain adjustments for parts which may be separately taxed.

Tax which has been paid is refundable on new cars and on light duty trucks of 10,000 pounds gross weight or less.

To be eligible for refund cars must have been purchased after Aug. 15, 1971, and light trucks after Sept. 22, 1971.

Purchasers should contact their respective dealers to obtain information concerning the excise tax refund. No IRS forms are available and claims should not be filed with IRS.

Pork Producers' Membership Drive Opens

The Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers' Association has announced a 1972 membership drive. Paul Everingham, Wakefield, president, announced that each of the 15 directors has a goal of 20 producer memberships and 10 associate memberships. The deadline for the membership drive is Feb. 29.

The Northeast Pork Producers Association includes Wayne, Cedar, Thurston, Dakota and Dixon Counties. Each county has three directors.

The directors and their respective counties are: Wayne County—Paul Everingham and Wilbur Utecht, Wakefield, and Richard Longe, Carroll; Cedar County—Ken Thoenes, Fordyce, Curtis Papenhausen, Coleridge, and LeRoy Wolfe, Hartington; Thurston County—Kent Jackson, Wnebago, Kenneth Victor, Emerson and Lee Anderson, Hosalle; Dakota County—Clair Hamar and Curt Blankmeyer, Jackson, and Rodney Bonderson, Emerson; and Dixon County—Paul Bengston, Wakefield, Wayne Lamprecia, Ponca, and Ronnie Wenstrand, Wakefield.
