The Nebraska 99, an organization of women pilots, flew into the Wayne Airport Saturday morning for coffee and business meeting. The gal pilots meet every month at different airports across the state. Mrs. Dan Johnson, wife of the airport manager, is a member of the group along with being a member of the National 99. Shown after planning are (left to right) Mrs. Johnson, Mildred Barrett, Mimi Haworth, Shirley Amen, Jan Heinz and Vera Bartunek, all of Lincoln.

Electric, Plumbing Codes to Be Topic

Meetings for the purpose of explaining the electrical and plumbing codes will be conducted by City Building Inspector Richard Carlson at three different sessions at the Women's Club room at the City Auditorium. Electrical code meetings will be on Feb. 18 and Feb. 25 and a plumber's code meeting will be March 3. All meetings will be at 7:30 p.m., with city electricians, plumbers and do-it-yourselfers welcome.

Bonds Posted In Drug Case

Blair Thomas Hagman, 24, Wayne, and Jeff Modde, 20, Hartington have been released from the Wayne County jail after posting bond of $2500 each. The two were arrested Jan. 31, and appeared in County Court the same day, on charges of unlawful sale, delivery or disposition of depressant or stimulant or counterfeit drugs. Both men waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to district court, where an arraignment hearing will be held Feb. 9.

Ballot Empty for General Election: No Candidates Have Filed for Posts

With the March 10 deadline for filing approaching, no candidates have entered their names for positions on the ballot for the May 9th general election. The election will include races for city and county offices, four seats on the Dist. 17, Board of Education and several state posts, in addition to the Nebraska presidential primary. According to County Clerk Norris Weible, there have been no filings for the office of county judge or for the one seat available on the county board of commissioners. County Judge Luverna Hillon stated that she would delay filing until the state legislature rules on LB 1032. If passed, the bill would bring about judicial reorganization with a district judge appointing associate county judges. Kenneth Eddle, Carroll, is currently serving a county board term which will expire this year. The new term will begin Jan. 1, 1973, and there have been no filings for the office. Filing fees for a seat on the county board is one per cent of the annual salary. Two positions will open up on the County Weed Control Board. The terms of Henry Doring and Duane Rethwisch will expire, but there have been no filings. Since no salary is paid to members of the weed control board, there is no filing fee. Holdover members of the board are chairman Ernest Muhs, Mike Karel and John Owens. Village elections will take place in Winslow, Hoskins, Carroll and Sholes. The only filings so far are for the three terms expiring on the Sholes Board of Trustees. V. G. McFadden, Tony Vlasak and Don Bauer are the three who have filed for the positions. There was no filing fee. Prospective delegates to the national convention must pay a $10 filing fee with the county clerk's office. There have been no filings to date. Wayne's new designation as a city of the first class necessitated a redistricting of wards within the city and the expansion from three to four wards. With the redistricting, which became effective Jan. 1, 1972, Wayne voters will elect two additional councilmen, in addition to three whose terms expire this year—E. G. Smith, in the First Ward, Darrel Fuchslerb in the Second Ward and Dick Banister in the Third Ward. Holdover Councilmen Harvey Beach in the First Ward, Pat Kross in the Second Ward and Keith Mosley in the Third Ward, have two years remaining on their current terms. Two new councilmen will be needed because of the expansion, one for a four-year term and the other for a two-year term. The length of terms for the seats to be filled in each of the other three wards will be for four years. Prospective councilmen must file with the city clerk on or before March 10. The filing fee is $5, or one per cent of the councilman's annual salary. By late Friday, there had been no filings for any of the council seats. Mayor Kent Hall's term will expire in 1974. According to Supt. F. R. Haun, there have been no filings for the four terms expiring on the Dist. 17 Board of Education. Holding expiring terms are Dorothy Ivy, Lynn Roberts, Dean Pierson and Lynn Brandt. When the votes are tallied, the three candidates receiving the largest number of votes will serve a term which will expire in 1974. The two school board members whose terms do not expire this year are Wilbur Glose and Morris Sandahl. Weible stated that no candidates had filed for state positions, and that no presidential aspirants had signed up for the statewide primary. Weible noted that voter registration has been slow, and that Wayne countyans could register at the county clerk's office in the courthouse from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. State law dictates that those who fail to vote in two successive general elections must re-register. The law was in effect before the 1968 election, so those who did not vote at that time must vote in the May 9 election or re-register for future elections. Voters who have moved or changed their names also must re-register. City Clerk Dan Sherry stated that no filings have been made for any of the city offices, and that prospective councilmen should file soon to beat the March 10 deadline.

New Option Offered Corn, Grain Sorghum Producers

As sign-up opened in the 1972 voluntary program for feed grain, wheat and cotton producers, a new set-aside option was offered to corn and grain sorghum producers by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. A higher set-aside payment rate can be earned by producers who agree to reduce their farm's corn-sorghum acreage below last year's planting. At the same time, all previously-announced options remain open to feed grain producers, according to Lowell H. Hummel, Nebraska Farm Program Official. Provisions of the Wheat and Cotton Set-Aside Programs are unchanged. Additional set-aside options for wheat had been announced in January. Producers sign-up in the 1972 Farm Set-aside Programs opened Feb. 3 and will continue through March 10 at ASCS County Offices throughout the nation. Under the new option for feed grain producers with corn-sorghum bases, the payment rate for up to at least 10 per cent and possibly 15 per cent voluntary additional set-aside will be the same as the qualifying set-aside rate—40 cents a bushel for corn and 76 cents a bushel for grain sorghum. USDA will accept up to 10 per cent of this voluntary set-aside when offered by the producer at sign-up. The remaining 5 per cent will be at the option of the Secretary of Agriculture, with a later announcement on whether it will be accepted. If he chooses this new option, a producer will hold his 1972 See OPTION, page 5

Cash Night Prize Goes Unclaimed

Mrs. Warren Dammie of rural Wayne missed her chance at $230 Thursday night, when her name was drawn in the weekly Cash Night drawing. Mrs. Dammie wasn't present in one of the participating stores when her name was called at 8 p.m. The Cash Night drawing is sponsored by participating merchants, and next week's jackpot will now build to $300.

Minor Mishaps Continue On Snowy City Streets

The Wayne Police Department has recorded five accidents since February began. In the continuing series of collisions brought on by icy driving conditions. An early Tuesday collision occurred when a car driven by Joy Lawson, Kingsley, Iowa, pulled out of a parking lot in the 1100 block of Walnut, and collided with a car driven by Lon Reams, St. Paul, Minn. The left side of the Reams car was damaged, and damage to the left front headlight was listed for the Rawson vehicle. Cars driven by Rhonda Peterson, Fremont, and Kenneth R. Liska, 314 W. 10th, Wayne, collided at the intersection of Fifth and Douglas Wednesday. The Peterson car was westbound on Fifth and the Liska vehicle was northbound on Douglas, when the two met at the intersection. Neither was able to stop. The Peterson car suffered damage to the left side. A Friday fender-bender resulted in damage to the right side of a car driven by Dennis Ote, Wayne, and a crumpled left fender for a car driven by Edwin Kluge, Wayne. Ote was westbound on Sixth and Kluge was southbound on Douglas. According to police reports, neither driver saw the other car in time to stop at the intersection, with the collision as a result. An early-morning collision Saturday morning for 1972 cars. Rosemary Rude, Castana, Iowa, was westbound when her car slid through a stop sign and collided with a car driven by Gilbert Baker, Rt. 1, Wayne. Front end damage was listed for the Rude vehicle, and the Baker car suffered damage to the left side. Wayne State Campus Police also reported the apparent theft of electronic equipment and microphone, and a record player with microphone. The objects were stolen from Rice Auditorium.

Wayne High Music Makers

Mark Wilfice is in the driver's seat, providing the beat for the Wayne High Stage Band, as they perform at the Second Annual Stage Band Clinic, at Wayne State College's Ramsey Theatre Saturday. The Clinic featured music by 10 area high school stage bands, each onstage for 30 minutes.

Hospital Foundation President Bob Carhart (seated) is ready to accept the subscription to the new hospital center. The Jaycees plan to raise the money by staging a benefit basketball game March 22 at Rice Gymnasium on the Wayne State campus. The roundball encounter will feature area basketball coaches against members of the University of Nebraska's top-ranked Husker football team. Jaycees present for the signing ceremony are (front row, from left) Darrell Moore, Dick Diltman, Dennis Bohmer, Dale Preston and Robert Lower. Back-row spectators (from left) are Bill Woehler, John Rebensdorf, Rodney Beep and Robert Woehler.

Med Center Goal in Sight

The total for Wayne's new Medical Center zoomed to $461,297 at the first progress conference for special gifts and hospital service area volunteer workers as they added $109,546 in subscriptions toward the $500,000 campaign for modern health care facilities. Advance gifts of $282,720 and "hospital family" gifts—representing members of the medical staff, hospital employees and the auxiliary—which totaled $70,132, had provided a base of $352,752, Robert A. Carhart, president of the Wayne Hospital Foundation, explained to 126 workers who watched the action as new figures were placed at the end of a 50-foot score chart in the Birch Room at Wayne State College. "Most of the subscriptions reported are from the businesses and families representing volunteer workers," said Carhart. "Any person called upon in the campaign will know that the volunteer who visits with him will have subscribed before the call." Group leaders in the special gifts division reported a total of $75,935 against their $100,000 goal; coordinators, reporting for

Pioneer Farm Families Sought By Ak-Sar-Ben

OMAHA—The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers announce that for the 17th straight year they will continue their program to honor and recognize Nebraska Pioneer Farm families whose land has been owned by the same family for 100 years or more. Going Up? Wayne to Have New Elevator

The State National Bank and Trust Company Building will soon be sporting a new elevator. Evidence of the work being done can be seen between the bank building and the Mint Bar, where construction is underway. Work on the new facility began Monday and the project should be completed by mid-March. The elevator will be one of the few in the city, and will serve the offices of attorney John Addison, Dr. George Gobirlich and the Black Knight Restaurant. Otce Construction is putting in the new elevator, which will have a 1,500-pound capacity and operate from the basement of the building to the second floor. The elevator will operate at the push of a button, and will be equipped with an emergency alarm bell. During construction, patrons of the Black Knight can gain access to the restaurant through the bank building's stairway.

Trees Available at ASCS

The Soil Conservation Service Office at Wakefield announces that any farmers who are considering planting trees next spring should act now. The Clarke-McNary tree distribution program has been popular with Nebraska farmers because it has furnished them needed tree planting stock at nominal prices. Since some species may be in short supply this year, orders should be placed as early as possible. Cost sharing of the tree planting is available through the ASCS Office, and trees may be ordered through Extension and SCS Offices. SCS personnel will also assist the farmer in planning the windbreak. A visit to the SCS Office can provide more details for establishing an excellent windbreak at a moderate cost.

Farmer's Tax Guide Available

OMAHA—The 1972 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" is now available from county agricultural agents or the Internal Revenue Service, Richard P. Vinal, IRS district director for Nebraska, said today. The booklet, IRS Publication 225, shows how farmers should fill out the 1040 tax return—and which schedules should be attached. A listing of important federal tax dates for farmers also can be found in the publication. Written in non-technical language, the tax guide contains many examples of how farm transactions are handled for federal income tax purposes.

Long Way From Home

Laurel High has a real international touch this school year with three foreign exchange students. Looking up their native lands on the globe in the administrators' offices at Laurel are, from left, Cleo Linhares de Azevedo of Brazil, who is making his home with School Principal and Mrs. Fenton Crookshank; Oscar Vega, who arrived in Laurel Monday from Asuncion, Paraguay and who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Marlen Kraemer; and Tom Buecher of West Germany, a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Chase. Tom came to Laurel last September and Cleo, in January.

Never-ending Epidemic

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Carl Lentz, chairman of the Wayne County Heart Association, submitted the following story to be used as an editorial concerning Heart Month, which is being observed nationwide during February. The campaign opened Feb. 1, with Mrs. Harry Bressler to head the drive for $2,775 in Wayne, Mrs. Richard Jansen in Carroll and Mrs. Wayne Ottland in the rural areas.)

If a contagious epidemic ran rampant throughout the United States, striking down more than 600,000 persons, a state of disaster would be declared and the halls of Congress would echo with demands for preventive measures, while across the country, men, women, and children would line up in emergency immunization centers.

An epidemic is taking place in the United States. Heart attack is killing more than 670,000 men and women annually.

Why don't Americans react to heart attack as they would to any other mass killer disease?

Some of the reasons may be in the fact that heart attack, which is the nation's leading cause of death, is not contagious, although there may be a family history of this form of cardiovascular disease.

And, public apathy can also be explained by the mistaken feeling that heart attack is inevitable and nothing can be done about it.

Unlike other epidemics, there is no mass immunization against heart attack. But, there are things every man and woman can do to help protect themselves and their families from this ruthless health menace.

Medical science has yet to discover the underlying cause of the blood vessel disease, atherosclerosis, which corrodes and narrows the arteries and sets the stage for heart attack.

However, research studies have revealed ways to control the progress of this disease, and thereby help individuals reduce their risk of being victimized by heart attack.

In extensive studies of the personal and medical histories of heart attack victims, certain habits, or risk factors are revealed which show that millions of Americans are endangering their hearts by the way they live.

The common conditions and habits that medical scientists have discovered are high cholesterol levels in the blood, high blood pressure, cigarette smoking, obesity and lack of exercise.

Many of these conditions start early in life. By the time a great many Americans reach 30 or 40, they may unknowingly have high blood pressure and the beginning of blood vessel disease.

The American Heart Association recommends that all individuals take the following steps to protect their heart:

- (1) Regular physical checkups;
- (2) Eat less saturated fats and cut down on foods with high cholesterol content;
- (3) Quit smoking;
- (4) Maintain normal weight for your height and age;
- (5) Adopt a program of regular, moderate exercise compatible with your age and physical condition.

These are simple health rules that any family can follow without a radical change in life style. Atherosclerosis starts early in life, therefore it is especially important that children learn and practice these good health habits.

Got Any Ideas?

In the not too distant future, Wayne's sorely-needed new medical center will be in operation. Most local residents seem to be concentrating their efforts and thoughts toward the completion of this ambitious project. And rightly so.

But, there is a peripheral issue involved that doesn't seem to have attracted much attention. Though admittedly of secondary importance, at this point, the question should prompt some serious thought.

What to do with the old hospital? The building, though now unsuitable for use as a medical center, could provide the solution to many problems facing groups which seem to be "bursting at the seams" of their present accommodations.

As far as we can see, few people have given the proposition any thought. The City Council has discussed several possibilities, and according to Mayor Kent Hall, will study the question more fully in the upcoming months.

The suggestion has been raised that the building be converted into offices for use by the city. Under such an arrangement, a large room could be set aside for meeting purposes. At present, the City is in need of such a facility.

It doesn't appear likely, but perhaps a section of the building could be used to alleviate the pressing space problem handicapping the Wayne Police. The department's present accommodations are grossly inadequate.

Wayne's senior citizens might also make use of a part of the building. According to spokesmen for the senior citizens group, expansion is creating a need for more room. If the building were equipped with elevators, the "golden agers" might come in for a piece of the action.

Whatever the old building ultimately becomes, extensive remodeling will almost certainly be indicated. But the extra space will be well worth the cost.

The Wayne Herald welcomes letters outlining ideas for the future use of the building. The press has traditionally been used as an avenue of communication between the public and government, and widespread reader response might enable city officials to gauge more accurately public attitudes on the issue.

Insurance Dividends For 140 Wayne County Vets

(Special to the Herald—NEW YORK—Between now and the end of June a total of approximately $10,000 will be distributed to some 140 war veterans in Wayne County.

The payment, representing dividends due the under their GI insurance policies, is being accelerated by the government. Normally, when such dividends are declared, they are paid on the anniversary dates of the policies and stretch out over an entire year.

Under the speed-up this year, local veterans of World War I and World War II who are holders of such policies will share in a record distribution amounting to $286 million, the Veterans Administration announces. It is $14 million more than was ever paid before.

Most of the recipients are holders of National Service Life Insurance, issued to those who served in the second World War. The others who will share are veterans of the first World War who hold U. S. Government Life Insurance policies.

Those who saw service solely in the Korean War or in other engagements will not participate in this distribution because of the type of insurance they hold.

The 140 men and women in Wayne County who will be on the receiving end constitute about 25 per cent of the World War veterans in the local area. The total, according to the latest VA tabulation, is 540.

Just how much each veteran will get depends upon the size and age of his policy and the kind of insurance he holds. The general average, for those who were in World War I, is $135 and, for the others, $68.

The $10,000 that will be coming into the local area as a result will be that of a boom to retail merchants.

The VA reports that the bigger dividend payments this year are due to increased earnings realized by the $7.27 billion National Service Life Insurance trust fund and by the $862 million U. S. Government Life Insurance trust fund.

Of the $286 million being distributed, the great bulk, $265 million, will go to World War II veterans who number about 25,000 population from throughout the United States.

To the Editor: I would very much like to find my five small children, of whom I have custody, and thought that maybe the editor would print this open letter to my son, Billy, age 11. I believe they have a step-mother named Guillermina, who speaks only Spanish. Their Caucasian father's name is Robert W. Flasher.

Dear Billy, I am writing you this letter because you are the eldest of my five. By now you are 11 years old—four years have passed and I am so lonely.

I have contacted many people to help in my search—and am sending this letter all over the United States and a few to Mexico in the hope of finding you.

Your grandfather—and grandmother live in Sand Point, Idaho. In March of 1967, your father ran away from Nevada with all of you—and I am wondering if you still remember your brothers and sisters Manuel, Richard, Abbie, Carmelita, Yenda, Maria and Roberta? They miss you, June, Patty, Lupita and Rafael as I do—we love you all very much.

Since I have custody of all of you, I hope and pray my efforts will not be in vain. Somewhere, somehow I'll find you. Much love from your mom.

We thank you for your letter.

Social Security

Questions, Answers

Q—I understand that when a person accepts social security retirement benefits at 62 his benefits are reduced. But I heard recently that it goes back to the full amount at 65. Is that right?

A—No. If a person decides to retire at 62 and take the reduced monthly benefit, the benefit amount won't change at 65. However, some people who retire at 62 later return to work. In that case, the benefit could be higher later.

Q—When I applied for monthly retirement benefits, the man at the Social Security office mentioned something about making some sort of report. I stopped working when I started getting benefits five years ago, but a friend of mine recently told me he had to file a report with Social Security last year. Should I have filed a report, too?

A—No. Your friend and the man in the Social Security office were referring to an annual report of earnings. A Social Security

'People-movers' May Solve Traffic Jam Problems

Automated people-movers' someday may break the automobile's stranglehold on traffic-choked cities.

Slung from overhead rails or whisked along guideways, the small vehicles would be operated by computers. Most would be scheduled for rush hours. At other times, passengers would simply call for a car by pushing a button, as in an elevator.

The first city people-mover system—called Personal Rapid Transit by the Department of Transportation—is scheduled to begin service in Morgantown, W. Va., in September, 1972, the National Geographic Society says.

Four other PRT's will be tested at TRANPO '72, and International Transportation Exposition to be held in May and June at Dulles International Airport, near Washington, D.C.

"The only way to lure the harassed motorist from the automobile is to make public transportation attractive and flexible," says Carlos C. Villarreal, administrator of DOT's Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

"We hope one or a combination of these systems will turn the traffic tide in a hundred or more cities throughout the nation by offering passengers a wider choice of routes, schedules, and speeds in downtown areas."

Morgantown is an ideal site for the first practical test of a PRT. Straddling a narrow river valley, the city now is so clogged with traffic that students at West Virginia University cannot schedule consecutive classes between downtown and outer campuses. Buses often take 70 minutes to get them to their destinations, and massive jams occur eight times a day when classes change.

Morgantown's varied climate will give the new system a workout in ice, snow, rain, fog, and summer heat.

"This automated PRT will be the first of its kind in the world and will become a model for other cities," predicts Dr. Samy E. G. Elias, chairman of the university's Industrial Engineering department and coordinator for the project in Morgantown.

A fleet of more than 70 electrically-powered, rubber-wheeled vehicles eventually will roll along 3.2 miles of ground level and elevated guideways linking the campuses with the downtown business district.

Traveling at speeds of up to 25 miles per hour, each of the snub-nosed, fiberglass cars can carry 17 passengers. The time-saving will be enormous. As many as 1,100 students will be able to travel the entire system in only 20 minutes.

A computer control and communications center will start and space the cars, set their speeds, and guide them to precision stops to pick up and let off passengers.

If trouble should occur, automatic controls will stop the vehicles. The computerized system will warn a dispatcher to assume control and will print out a corrective strategy for him to follow in holding or rerouting cars.

A Costume for Oedipus

Because they are constantly in motion, costumes make the most continuous impact in any theatrical production. For Wayne State's "Oedipus Rex," coming later this month, brocades and satins are being draped into authentic-looking Greek fashions. Shown here as Oedipus is Gary Dunker, and working on his costume are Mary Harrison, left, and Margaret Martin. Also on the costume crew are Char Heape, costume mistress, Patsy Benson and Sherri Skelton, assistants, Norma Trauch and Judy Roberts.

Donations Needed

SILOUX CITY, IOWA—Because of the work-Wall Street Mission Goodwill Industries is doing today, many handicapped men and women have bright tomorrows. Goodwill is the avenue back to a productive way of life.

Donations of repairable items help teach these men and women usable job skills. Materials received are processed in the Goodwill plants in Sioux City and Sioux Falls and sold in the Goodwill Stores. Sales from the stores largely support the institution's work force.

According to the Rev. John P. Hanla Jr., Superintendent of the activity, used materials are urgently needed. Donations of used items may be deposited in the familiar yellow Goodwill Collection box.

Wayne Co. Christmas Seal Receipts Down

Wayne Countyans have contributed $990.51 to the Christmas Seal Fund, slightly under the total of $1,001.95 turned in on the same date last year.

Total contributions in Wayne County during last year's drive came to $1,203.45.

In Dixon County this year's campaign, with $1,046.30, has surpassed last year's donations of $976.50.

Delmar Serafy, executive director of the Nebraska Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, said that 29 other counties are ahead of last year's totals to this date and 10 counties, in addition to Dixon County, have exceeded the total campaign.

Statewide, the drive has collected $188,115, of which 92 per cent will remain in Nebraska. Donations will support medical research and education in respiratory diseases, air pollution and the campaign against cigarette smoking.

Sunburn In Winter

Here is a health tip from the Nebraska Medical Association.

Skiers recognize the chances of a severe sunburn during winter months. You can get burned as badly as a swimmer in mid-summer.

The sunburning effect of sunshine is due in large part to the ultraviolet radiation that accompanies the visible light. These ultraviolet wave lengths are partially filtered by the atmosphere as they reach the earth. In higher altitudes, where sunlight does not pass through so deep a layer of atmosphere, the burning effect is more intense.

Reflected rays, bouncing off bright fields of snow—can give the unprotected sportsman a serious burn.

If you are going to try the slopes this winter, use plenty of sun-screening lotion on your neck and face. It may be cold, but the winter sun can still burn.

Alvina Magdanz Funeral Services Held in Winside

Funeral services for Alvina Magdanz, 67, of Winside, were held there Friday at 2 p.m. at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church. She died Tuesday.

The Rev. Gerald W. Gottberg officiated. Mrs. G. W. Gottberg sang "How Great Thou Art" and "Lord I'm Coming Home," accompanied by Mrs. Leroy Dammie. Pallbearers were Terry Magdanz, Wayne Magdanz, Ronald Temme, Velvin Temme, Albert Temme and Robert Hank. Burial was in the Greenwood Cemetery.

Friederika Alvina Magdanz, daughter of August and Marie Miller, was born March 26, 1905 in Stanton County. She grew up in the Winside and Stanton communities and was baptized in 1917 and confirmed in 1919 at the Trinity Lutheran Church at Winside.

On March 22, 1922 she was united in marriage to Arthur Magdanz at Stanton. They made their home in Pierce County and moved to Wayne County in 1939. In 1948 they moved into town where she resided until the time of her death. She was a member of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

She was preceded in death by her parents, one son and one daughter. Survivors include her widower; one son, Gordon, of Wayne; one daughter, Mrs. Alvin (Irene) Temme of Wayne; five brothers, five sisters, six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

For the small Namba people of Malekula Island in the New Hebrides, only tuskler pigs can buy important things in life—a wife, a high grade in society or instruction in rituals. When a male pig is a year old, its upper canine teeth are knocked out to permit her tusks to grow in a graceful curve. The greater the tusks' curvature, the higher the pig's value.

Palmer WSC Scholarship Recipient

Jimmy L. Palmer of Wayne has received the Julian Torgerson Industrial education scholarship for study this term at Wayne State College.

Palmer has lived in Wayne for 10 years and was district sales supervisor for Farmers Hybrid Co. four years here before returning to college at Wayne State last fall as a freshman. He has earned a grade-point average of 3.58 (on a 4.0 scale).

A 1958 graduate of Wadco, Kan. High School, he attended Fort Hays, Kan., State College in 1959.

His wife, Sally, has been employed at People's Natural Gas Co. for seven years. They have two daughters, ages 11 and 9.

Palmer is majoring in industrial education, minor in physical education, and plans to teach in high school or college.

The scholarship of $250 is part of the annual grant by Torgerson, a graduate of WSC, member of the Wayne State Foundation board of trustees, and a prominent Sioux City nursing home operator.

'Service Firms' Subject to Controls

OMAHA—Retailers with a gross sales volume of less than $100,000 per year are exempt from the Economic Stabilization Program price controls.

This announcement, made earlier by the Cost of Living Council (CLC), has caused a flurry of phone calls to the Internal Revenue Service by merchants wanting more information on the CLC ruling, according to Richard P. Vinal, IRS district director of Nebraska.

Vinal explained that the exemption from price controls applies only to small retail firms. "Service" firms, such as laundry and dry cleaning establishments, restaurants, appliance repair shops, etc., are still subject to the price control regulations.

Elimination of price controls on these small businesses should substantially reduce the IRS work load but will have little effect on the overall economy. Although 75 per cent of the business firms have less than $100,000 in annual sales, they account for 15 per cent or less of the nation's total sales volume," Vinal said.

The competition provided by larger firms still subject to price controls and the willingness of businessmen to cooperate with the spirit and intent of the stabilization program are the key factors that will continue to restrain prices despite the elimination of these controls.

Life Holds a Little More Because of Electricity

And it's right at the tip of your fingers -- with an unobtrusive light plug, a small switch to flick. That's what starts industries humming and farms producing. That's what floods homes and buildings with brilliance. There also are a lot of little -- but important -- things that get going this way, too. The toaster toasts. The family laundry comes up sparkling. TV presents entertainment and information. Newspapers record instant history. Oh, yes. Life is a whole lot better because of electricity. We're looking forward to making it even more exciting and satisfying -- starting now.

A Salute to National Electrical Week, and a pledge to try to make life better and brighter.

The Joy Folk

They call themselves the Joy Folk, and that's what they sound like as they sing religious folk songs with joyful lilt. A product of the Cooperative Christian Ministries at Wayne State, the group has sung at several Wayne area churches since it organized last October. Wednesday night they presented a concert on campus and spoke of their Christian faith. Pictured from left are the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Reimers — he is the campus Lutheran minister — Janice Myers, Sylvia Truby, Jerry Cheate, Sally Paulson, Dennis Suba, Lynette Amunson and Richard Schroeder. Over the months the Joy Folk have developed a lively program with frequent changes of position and lighting to accent the music and the message.

Curtis

(Continued from page 1) the Naval Academy, and John Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner, Allen, was named alternate to the Military Academy. Michael McGinnis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McGinnis of Wisler, was chosen for both the Merchant Marine and Air Force Academies. This year, Sen. Curtis had two vacancies to fill at the Air Force and Naval Academies and one at the Military Academy. For each vacancy, he named one principal and nine alternate candidates. The young men named by Sen. Curtis were selected on the basis of competitive examinations given last year by the Civil Service Commission at the senator's request, their high school records, extracurricular activities and achievements. They must also qualify on the College Entrance Examination and meet physical standards. Sen. Curtis urges young Nebraskans who wish to compete for 1973 academy nominations to write him immediately. Preliminary examinations will be given by the Civil Service Commission in July and October.

Option

(Continued from page 1) corn-sorghum acreage at more than last year's acreage minus twice the additional set-aside acreage. Producers who choose the new corn-sorghum option in the Feed Grain Program will forego the option previously announced for additional voluntary set-aside for corn, grain sorghum, and barley. Explanations of all 1972 Set-aside Programs and options—except this new corn-sorghum option—have been presented to farmers, Hummel said. Details of the new option are currently being made available to farmers. The ASC Committee chairman expressed hope that every farmer will make sure of understanding all program options before making a sign-up commitment. When a producer signs up, he chooses among the options open to him. In each case, he agrees to set aside a percentage of his land and to comply with all provisions of the Farm Set-aside Programs. By participating in the voluntary farm programs, farmers will earn set-aside payments and their program crops will be eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation Loans.

Ak-Sar-Pen

(Continued from page 1) hies have been honored at various county fairs during the first 16 years of the project. Keith and Roy Mueller, Cummins County, vice-president, said that again this year the honored families will receive a beautiful engraved walnut plaque and an aluminum gate post marker for each farm from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Pen plus a special fraternal letter from the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers. In addition, Ak-Sar-Pen will host the honored families at a special banquet during the organization's annual Livestock Show and Rodeo, Sept. 22 through Sept. 30. All nominations must be submitted by June 1 to the secretary of the local County Fair Board, Koch said.

Economic Stabilization

Questions and Answers Internal Revenue Service This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices. Q—Does the Internal Revenue Service have any publications available explaining the economic stabilization program? A—Answers to many basic questions about Phase II will be found in Publication 52, "General Information—Economic Stabilization Program," available free from IRS district offices throughout the country. This eight-page booklet has been printed and stocked in limited quantity because early revision of the publication will be made necessary by the issuance of new stabilization regulations. Once the new regulations are published, the IRS will prepare a revised booklet and make it available to the public. Q—Are non-depreciable capital improvements of a business "allowable costs?" A—No. Capital investment which is not subject to depreciation is generally not a cost of doing business under generally accepted accounting principles and thus would not be an "allowable cost." Q—What reasons should be given to support a requested exception from Price Commission guidelines and in what form should the request be submitted? A—The request should contain sufficient information to establish to the satisfaction of the Price Commission that the application of a regulation from which an exception is being sought would result in a serious hardship or gross inequity to the person. The request should state the person's name and address, the proposed price increase, the section of the regulations from which an exception is requested, and the manner in which that section affects the proposed price increase. The person should specify the extent to which the reg-

Officers Elected Monday Evening at Winside Community Club Meeting

At their meeting Monday evening at the Winside United Methodist Church, Winside Community Club members re-elected Alfred Miller as president. Other board members are Carl Troutman, Dr. N. L. Ditman, Superintendent Donovan Leighton and George Voss. Mrs. Rosemary Mintz is secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for the annual pancake supper to be held Monday, Feb. 14, from 4 to 8 p.m. at the city auditorium. F. C. Witt is general chairman for the event with James Troutman and David Warnemunde, co-chairmen. Customers who trade in Winside are invited to attend. Also at their meeting Community Club members decided to make a $250 donation to the Wayne Medical Center. Next meeting will be Feb. 28 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Meetings will again be held one time per month.

WHS Students Meet With ROTC Official

A representative from the Reserve Officer Training program at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln met with interested Wayne High sophomores and juniors in the guidance office Wednesday to learn about scholarship and military career opportunities with this program. The ROTC program includes full tuition and other monetary benefits for four years of college, plus a commission upon graduation and entrance into the military service. The program applies to the three major branches—Army, Navy and Air Force. Students must have applied no later than the second semester of their junior year in high school to receive prime consideration for the scholarship with any of the three ROTC branch programs.

Pierce County Road Work Is Planned

LINCOLN—The Nebraska Department of Roads is offering to hold a public hearing on the proposed improvements on Nebraska Highway 13, in Pierce County. The proposed improvements begin at the corporate limits of Pierce and continue southeast along the present highway for 9.1 miles, and ends at the junction with U. S. Highway 81. The design provides for acquisition right-of-way, and for construction including grading, culverts, bridges, and surfaced shoulders. Written requests for a hearing must be made to the Department of Roads, c/o Perry, T. Biss, et al., Box 9739, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509, on or before Feb. 18. If a hearing is scheduled, notice of time, date and place will be published. Game fish may be taken in Nebraska from April 1 to December 1 between sunrise and sunset. No game fish may be taken during those hours the year-round.

Montoya to Give Concert

Carlos Montoya, world-famous flamenco guitarist, will present a concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theater on the Wayne State College campus. The special program is free to WSC students and faculty members, with the public admitted at $2 per ticket. Montoya has presented concerts in virtually every part of the free world, from the United States and Canada to Europe and the Orient. Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices. Q—Does the Internal Revenue Service have any publications available explaining the economic stabilization program? A—Answers to many basic questions about Phase II will be found in Publication 52, "General Information—Economic Stabilization Program," available free from IRS district offices throughout the country. This eight-page booklet has been printed and stocked in limited quantity because early revision of the publication will be made necessary by the issuance of new stabilization regulations. Once the new regulations are published, the IRS will prepare a revised booklet and make it available to the public. Q—Are non-depreciable capital improvements of a business "allowable costs?" A—No. Capital investment which is not subject to depreciation is generally not a cost of doing business under generally accepted accounting principles and thus would not be an "allowable cost." Q—What reasons should be given to support a requested exception from Price Commission guidelines and in what form should the request be submitted? A—The request should contain sufficient information to establish to the satisfaction of the Price Commission that the application of a regulation from which an exception is being sought would result in a serious hardship or gross inequity to the person. The request should state the person's name and address, the proposed price increase, the section of the regulations from which an exception is requested, and the manner in which that section affects the proposed price increase. The person should specify the extent to which the reg-

Wakefield Breeder Enters Swine Show

Robert Hansen, purebred spotted swine breeder from Wakefield, has made entries in the National Spotted Swine Winter Conference March 2-4 at Lubbock, Texas. Fifty-one breeders from 14 states have entered 233 head of breeding animals, a record number.

Books on Exhibit

Teachers from elementary through high school will find something of interest in a current book display at Wayne State's Conn Library. Provided by the organization Books on Exhibit, it shows 600 juvenile and 100 professional books carefully selected to cover a wide range of subjects. Pictured reading some of the books located on the library's basement level are Joyce Koertje and Rita Evans (front), Nancy Robinson of Wayne (left background) and Sharon Ott. The display will continue until Feb. 25.

They call themselves the Joy Folk, and that's what they sound like as they sing religious folk songs with joyful lilt. A product of the Cooperative Christian Ministries at Wayne State, the group has sung at several Wayne area churches since it organized last October. Wednesday night they presented a concert on campus and spoke of their Christian faith. Pictured from left are the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Reimers — he is the campus Lutheran minister — Janice Myers, Sylvia Truby, Jerry Choate, Sally Paulson, Dennis Suba, Lynette Amoson and Richard Schroeder. Over the months the Joy Folk have developed a lively program with frequent changes of position and lighting to accent the music and the message.

The Naval Academy, and John Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner, Allen, was named alternate to the Military Academy.

Michael McGlenis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McGlenis of Waverly, was chosen for both the Merchant Marine and Air Force Academies.

This year, Sen. Curtis had two vacancies to fill at the Air Force and Naval Academies and one at the Military Academy. For each vacancy, he named one principal and nine alternate candidates. The young men named by Sen. Curtis were selected on the basis of competitive examinations given last year by the Civil Service Commission at the senator's request, their high school records, extracurricular activities and achievements. They must also qualify on the College Entrance Examination and meet physical standards.

Sen. Curtis urges young men

corn-sorghum acreage at not more than last year's acreage minus twice the additional set-aside acreage.

Producers who choose the new corn-sorghum option in the Feed Grain Program will forgo the option previously announced for additional voluntary set-aside for corn, grain sorghum, and barley. Explanations of all 1972 set-aside programs and options except this new corn-sorghum option have been presented to farmers, lumen said. Details of the new option are currently being made available to farmers. The ASU Committee Chairman expressed hope that every farmer will make sure of understanding all program options before making a sign-up commitment. When a producer signs up, he chooses among the options open to him. In each case, he agrees to set aside a percentage of his land and to comply with all provisions of the Farm Set-Aside Programs. By participating in the voluntary farm programs, farmers will earn set-aside payments and their program crops will be eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation loans.

Hies have been honored at various county fairs during the first 16 years of the project. Each and Roy Moeller, Cummins County, vice-president, said that again this year the honored families will receive a beautiful engraved walnut plaque and an aluminum gate post marker for each farm from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben plus a special framed citation from the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers. In addition, Ak-Sar-Ben will host the honored families at a special banquet during the organization's annual Livestock Show and rodeo, Sept. 22 through Sept. 30. All nominations must be submitted by June 1 to the secretary of the local County Fair Board, Koch said.

Economic Stabilization

This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices. Q-Does the Internal Revenue Service have any publications available explaining the economic stabilization program? A-Answers to many basic questions about Phase II will be found in Publication S-2, "General Information - Economic Stabilization Program," available free from IRS district offices throughout the country. This eight-page booklet has been printed and stocked in limited quantity because early revision of the publication will be made necessary by the issuance of new stabilization regulations. Once the new regulations are published, the IRS will prepare a revised booklet and make it available to the public.

Questions and Answers

Q-How can a corporation, individual proprietorship, or partnership obtain a ruling that a newly established or amended pension or profit sharing plan does not exceed the 5.5 per cent aggregate limitation. A-Write your IRS district office. Q-Are the wages and salaries of federal employees controlled under the Economic Stabilization Program? A-No. Federal government employees' pay adjustments are based upon federal law and regulations; thus, they will be subject to comparable controls. This includes employees of the judicial, legislative, and executive branches of the government. Q-Are all medical expenses deductible? A-No. Except for medical insurance premiums, only those unreimbursed medical expenses you paid that exceed three percent of your adjusted gross income are deductible. In addition, medical expenses are deductible only if you itemize your deductions. You may deduct one-half of your medical insurance premiums up to $150 without regard to the three per cent limitation with the balance also deductible subject to the three per cent rule. Payments for medicines and drugs may be included in your medical expenses only, to the extent they exceed one per cent of your adjusted gross income. This excess is then subject to the three per cent limitation.

Officers Elected Monday Evening at Winside Community Club Meeting

At their meeting Monday evening at the Winside United Methodist Church, Winside Community Club members elected officers. Miller as president. Other board members are Carl Troutman, Dr. N. L. Ditman, Superintendent Donovan Leighton and George Voss. Mrs. Rosemary Mintz is secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for the annual pancake supper to be held Monday, Feb. 14, from 4 to 8 p.m. at the city auditorium. P. C. Witt is general chairman for the event with James Troutman and David Warnemunde, co-chairmen. Candidates who will trade in Winside are invited to attend. Also at their meeting Community Club members decided to make a $250 donation to the Wayne Medical Center. Next meeting will be Feb. 28 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Meetings will again be held one time per month.

WHS Students Meet With ROTC Official

A representative from the Reserve Officer Training Program at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln met with interested Wayne High sophomores and juniors in the guidance office Wednesday to learn about scholarship and military career opportunities with this program. The ROTC program includes full tuition and other monetary benefits for four years of college, plus a commission upon graduation and entrance into the military service. The program applies to the three major branches—Army, Navy and Air Force. Students must have applied no later than the second semester of their junior year in high school to receive prime consideration for the scholarship with any of the three ROTC branch programs.

Pierce County Road Work Is Planned

LINCOLN—The Nebraska Department of Roads is offering to hold a public hearing on the proposed improvements on Nebraska Highway 13 in Pierce County. The proposed improvements begin at the corporate limits of Pierce and continue southeasterly along the present highway for 5.1 miles, and ends at the junction with U. S. Highway 81. The design provides for acquisition right-of-way, and for construction including grading, culverts, bridges, and surfaced shoulders. Written requests for a hearing must be made to the Department of Roads, c/o Perry J. Buss, P. O. Box 94759, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509, on or before Feb. 18. If a hearing is scheduled, notice of time, date and place will be published. Come fish may be taken in Nebraska with a bow and arrow from April 1 to December 1 between sunrise and sunset. Non-game fish may be taken during those hours the year-round.

Social Security Questions, Answers

Q—My son was lost at sea during World War II. I would like to have a memorial marker put in a private cemetery. Will the Army furnish one? A—Yes. Applications forms for memorial markers are available at all Veterans Administration offices, and should be mailed to the Office of the Chief Support Service, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. Q—My regular employer deducted Social Security contributions from my pay until my earnings reached $7,800. I also worked part-time for another company and they withheld Social Security contributions on the $3,000 I earned with them. Since I paid the maximum contributions in my regular job, was my part-time employer correct in taking Social Security contributions out of my pay? A—Yes, each of your employers must withhold Social Security contributions on the first $7,800 paid you in a year. However, you can claim the excess Social Security contribution you paid as a credit against your income tax or as a refund on the time you file your federal income tax return. In Nebraska, it is against the law to shoot quail while not in flight.

Blue Devils End Drouth; South Sioux City Victim

Wayne High snapped a five-game losing streak Friday night, leading all the way enroute to a 57-43 victory over South Sioux City in a game at Rice Gymnasium.

The Blue Devils had a right to be elated after the much-needed victory. Their performance the entire contest was much improved over showings turned in during 10 previous losses.

There had to be thoughts of the possibility of erasing under-pressure when the Cardinals cut an 11-point deficit down to three midway in the second quarter.

But, this time the Blue Devils "kept their cool" and bounced back from a couple of scares tossed at them to keep a seven to 11-point command most of the way.

The one bad quarter didn't happen this time, although it appeared that South Sioux might be going to duplicate the feat of a couple of other Wayne High conquerors this season when the Cardinal's press rattled the Blue

Devils badly in the third.

Don Johnson's quint was rolling along with an 11-point advantage when a full-court press caused three quick ball steals, all in the span of 51 seconds, to cut the margin to five.

But a time out to "regroup" did the trick and the Blue Devils shook it off.

Kyle Willis, who had been held to a pair of first-quarter buckets, got back on the scoreboard again with a pair of free throws with 3:36 remaining in the third, apparently a signal for the hosts to turn it loose.

A bucket by Larry Shupe, another two-pointer by Willis and a pair of free throws by Bob Nelson made it 39-30 entering the stretch and there was no cause to push the panic button after that, although SSC was always in striking distance of staging a comeback should all hands get hot and Wayne go cold.

Both clubs came out in a press to begin the game, alternating from a man-to-man and zone defense trying to keep the other off balance. Wayne was much more effective in the first period when the visitors were held to a mere two points, free throws to the parts of Gary Sienke and Pat Hawkinson.

The visitors had the shots, but the basket lid was on, all 18 first-period tries off target and only three of 13 in the second frame finding the mark for a 10 per cent first-half shooting average.

This allowed Wayne to post a 12-2 first-quarter margin and the Blue Devils kept that pad at half-time, 25-15, and entered the fourth with a nine-point edge at 39-30.

South Sioux City had a 3-10 record entering the game, but had played a number of Class A schools, including Fremont, Millard, Papillion, Ralston and Norfolk on the Nebraska side and such Iowa toughies as Sioux City-East and Sioux City-Hoegaan.

Wayne, which had bowed five straight times since winning from

Kyle Willis is unmolessted during an easy first-quarter basket to get the Wayne Blue Devils off to a running start during a 57-43 conquest of South Sioux City Friday night at Rice Gymnasium, the third win of the year for the locals. Closing in on the action are Wayne's Bob Nelson, an unidentified SSC player, Mark Paulson of the Cardinals, Larry Shupe of Wayne, Scott Beesman of the visitors and Roger Saul of Wayne.

Laurel Goes Cold in Fourth to Fail To a Rugged Bloomfield Club, 58-51

George Schroeder was the only Laurels player able to come into minutes of the game while bowing, 58-51, at Bloomfield Friday night.

Even with the long sports of inability to hit the bucket, the Bears were still very much in the running until slipping to two of 14 from the field in the final quarter.

With time running out and the Bloomfield club leading by 54-51, Laurel grabbed a defensive rebound and went on a fast break, only to be called for charging. Bloomfield made one of the free throws and again Laurel missed a chance to shave the gap on a missed field goal try.

The Bears then were forced to foul, Bloomfield picking up four charity tosses in the final 15 seconds to open a safe command.

Schroeder canned eight field goals in the first half of play, when Laurel trailed by 16-12 and 27-22, but teammates added only 21 tries of free throws during that time.

The team put it all together in the third, racking up 20 pointers to Bloomfield's 13, to take a 42-40 lead into the stretch. Gary Chace had gunned that attack with eight points.

The lead saw-sawed until midway in the fourth when the scoring drouth again set in for the Bears.

Both clubs had 45 rebounds and each was charged with eight turnovers in a battle between closely-matched clubs.

Schroeder wound up with 30 points, 11 fielders and eight-for-

Winside Outlasts Homer In Overtime Cliff-Hanger

By Joel Knutson

Fans who came looking for action at Winside's home stand against Homer Friday night were not disappointed. The rival clubs put on a blistering run-and-shoot show that led to a 65-66 deadlock at the final buzzer, and an overtime that yielded Winside a four-point victory, 71-67.

The host eagles started hot, notching a 22-point first quarter behind the nine-point leadership of junior guard Scott Deck. The pattern of the game emerged early, as the two squads exchanged turnovers and baskets, made possible by numerous fast breaks. The Homer crew shot with more accuracy, but fewer times, to tally a respectable 16-point, first-period total. John Behmer and Bob Krueger cleared the boards for the Wildcats to get the Winside fast break in gear.

Second-quarter play saw the scoring pace slacken, with Winside posting 16 to Homer's 11. The action was still there, with frenzied exchanges leading to bonus points that appeared most frequently on the Wildcats' side of the board.

First-period leaders cooled off, with Deck sliding from nine scoring pace slacker, with Winside posting 16 to Homer's 11. The action was still there, with frenzied exchanges leading to bonus points that appeared most frequently on the Wildcats' side of the board.

Jon Behmer picks off a rebound for Winside during the Wildcats' 71-67 overtime victory at home Friday night over Homer. Behmer won the scrap for the ball even though he is in the center of an "unfriendly crowd." Rick Jenkins, Stan Coppel and Boyd Georgeson of the Homer Knights, vied from the left.

down with 18 seconds remaining in the overtime, and worked it well toward the basket as the seconds waned. But the Invaders' field goal attempt fell short with four seconds left, and Winside's Bob Krueger stretched to grab the crucial rebound. With two seconds left, Lauritsen fouled Deck, who dumped the final two points to yield the 71-67 count.

Three Winside roundballers contributed substantial point totals to the winning effort.

Warner Held to 3-Point Output As Allen Drops Cage Tilt to Newcastle

John Warner, a double-figure scorer in most of Allen High's games this season, put in only three points Friday night as the Eagles dropped a 69-52 decision at Newcastle.

Warner collected 10 rebounds in a total of less than 10 minutes of action, but normal dependability in the scoring department was sorely missed.

Teammates took up the slack for three quarters, but two of them joined Warner on the bench prematurely and two other starters had to play it cautious with four fouls.

Duane Mitchell had nine rebounds to go with his 16-point production but he was lost to the

Big Gun Hollatz Leads Leigh To Triumph Over Wakefield

It was practically a one-man show Wednesday night at the Stanton Invitational Basketball Tournament, as Leigh's senior ace Dan Hollatz shoved through 39 points to lead his Panthers past the Wakefield Trojans, 78-57, in administrative action.

The Panthers broke loose with 25 first-period points to take a substantial lead, as Wakefield turned in a 14-point effort. Hollatz was effectively bottled up, getting a slow start with seven points. During first-period play, however, the Trojans' defensive push centered on Hollatz, leaving the outside wide open. Guards Rick Larson and Dave Wurdman canned three field goals apiece from the unguarded outside area.

The Leigh onslaught continued in the second quarter, as the Panthers held Wakefield to 13 counters, and scored 18 of their own, slipping to a 42-27 edge at the intermission.

Through the third period, Wakefield moved the ball well, fast breaking and getting to the basket. But the Trojans were having shooting troubles, and couldn't seem to hit the bulls-eye. Wakefield did manage to cut down the Panthers' lead to 11 at one point, slipping to a 13-point deficit at the buzzer.

In the fourth quarter, Hollatz got his show on the road, dumping 18 points and finessing his way to the lion's share of the rebounds. The other Panthers came up with only four points in the final stanza, but the 18-point Hollatz boost was enough for a 22-point final-period Wakefield hit on 14, to fall to the 78-57 count. The loss dipped the Trojans' season record to 2-12. Hollatz carried the load for Leigh with a dazzling 39-point effort and good rebounding. The

POLLUTION IS A MENACE TO ALL AMERICANS ...
NOT JUST THOSE IN THE "WRONG" NEIGHBORHOODS

Out of sight, out of mind. Perhaps ugly scenes like this are never viewed by most of us but they do exist. They are a menace, not just to those who live or work in the vicinity of polluted areas, but to all of us. You can't isolate something like pollution . . . it spreads its insidious filth through every level of society, contaminating our air, water, and land today and threatening disastrous consequences for generations to come. We must all mobilize against the elements that contribute to pollution — beginning with the empty beer can tossed out of a car window, to the conditions that permit rat-infested slum areas. Our environment is a precious heritage . . . let's preserve it for ourselves and for future Americans!

Cards of Thanks

I WISH TO THANK all my friends and relatives for the cards, visits and flowers while I was in the hospital. Special thanks to Rev. Gottberg for his visits and prayers and to Paul and Bev for their help. Emil Dangberg. 17

WE WISH TO THANK the Immanuel Church, Sunday school and choir for the farewell dinner and gifts. Also a special thank you for the many farewells and gifts we received from our friends and relatives. We shall always remember them. -Mildred Sweet, Barbara and Lowell Johnson. 17

Honey Proceeds to Build Hostel

At a Jan. 26 meeting in Emerson, James Shelton, executive director of the Northeast Nebraska Opportunity Center in South Sioux City, received a check for $25,000 from the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children (NARC), representing that organization's Nov. 21 Honey Sunday campaign proceeds.

MY SINCEREST THANKS for the prayers, visits, gifts, calls and many cards while in the hospital and since my return home. God bless all of you. Mrs. Henry Koch. 17

The money will be put in a fund for a hostel to be set up in the South Sioux City area to house persons who attend the Northeast Opportunity Center, but who are not able to commute.

WE WISH TO EXPRESS our sincere thanks to the many relatives and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy, cards, memorials, flowers, food and other acts of kindness shown during the loss of our beloved wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother. Also a special thank you to Dr. Coe and the hospital staff for the tender care given her. It was all greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten. Hugo Lahr, Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lahr and family, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lahr and family, Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lahr and family, Centralia, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Siebold, Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lahr and family, Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lahr and family, Ephrata, Wash., Lucile Lahr, Bluff. 17

Approximately 500 volunteers in the four-county area (Wayne, Thurston, Dixon, and Dakota) put their time and efforts into raising the $25,000.

Mrs. Wilbur Habrock, Thurston County chairman reported that sales in her area were conducted by Wakefield High School F.H.A.'ers and three Wakefield religious organizations who pooled their efforts.

Dakota County Chairman Mrs. Otto Miller noted that members of Salem Lutheran Church in Dakota City had sold eight cases of honey and collected an additional $67 in donations.

Workers in South Sioux City included members of the First Presbyterian Church youth groups, members of the Seventh Day Advent Church, who not only gave up their own work to sell on Honey Sunday, but also offered the church building as the Dakota

County distribution point; St. Michael's seventh grade class, Rainbow Girls and First Lutheran and Hope Lutheran Churches-Luther League groups.

Motorists driving through Emerson were stopped by pretty girls and determined men who greeted them with "Hey, it's a honey of a Sunday!" Emerson youths also canvassed the rural areas and the Fremont's Auxiliary canvassed in town.

Scoutmaster Richard Dalrymple of Homer and his troop members sold on Dec. 12, and sales were also conducted in Homer by the Lutheran League, Hubbard was canvassed by a Boy Scout troop and the American Legion Post, Jackson American Legion Post also took part in the drive.

Reporting for Wayne County, Mrs. Kenneth Sitzman, chairman, remarked that Wayne Jaycees, doubled their sales over a year ago and donated $239.58 each to the NARC and the TMR class in Wayne.

Delores Winch of Winfield engaged the assistance of the Student Council and Community Club members. Walter Muhs' Boy Scout troop took charge in Hoskins and Mrs. Robert Jones was chairman for Carroll.

Mrs. Jim Russell, Dixon County Chairman, noted that the Heart and blood vessel diseases afflict one in eight Americans and claim more than a million lives annually. Fight this number one health menace with a generous contribution to the 1972 Heart Fund.

same volunteers have done the Honey Sunday work there the past two years. Two new church groups were added in Newcastle and Pastor Donald Meler of St. John's Lutheran Church, had charge of the Wakefield area, which held their drive Dec. 12. Assisting in Wakefield were the Boy Scouts, F.H.A. members and church youth groups.

The Ministerial Association in Ponca headed the project in their town with Pastors Choate, Schwaab, Moyer, and Klaudt, joining to sponsor a community thanksgiving service, with the offering of $90 earmarked for the NARC.

James Brannemler, Pastor of the Martinsburg Lutheran Church, sold six cases (72 bottles) for two straight years, which is not remarkable unless you take into consideration the fact that Martinsburg's population is only 73.

ELF Extension Club conducted the drive in Allen, with several of the group calling Monday on persons who had not been home Sunday.

TF Extension Club, with Norma Warner in charge, set up a booth at the Dixon County Achievement Day, and UMYF in Dixon, with Mrs. Ron Anteny in charge, canvasses the town of Dixon.

Newcastle workers included youth from the Congregational and Catholic Churches, and Three C's Extension Club canvassed Concord. Merry Homemakers Extension Club covered the rural area. Homemakers Club, with Mrs. Marlon French in charge, canvassed Waterbury.

Law Construed Differently

John had come from another state to attend college in Nebraska. He attended college in the state for several years, at both the fall and spring semester each year. During the summer session, John did not attend college, but worked for employers in the state.

John is married, and he and his family live in Nebraska in a home being purchased by them. John has generally participated in the affairs of his community, and intends to remain there after he graduates from college.

Because John originally came from another state to attend college, and has continued to attend college regularly, he has never been a non-student in the state for a continuous period of four months or more.

Higher tuition is charged by state schools of higher learning for any person without at least four months continuous residence, but by statute no "person" shall be deemed a non-resident established a residence in this state during the time of attendance at such state institution as a student, nor while in attendance at any institution of learning in this state.

College officials determined that John was a non-resident for tuition purposes, and have required him to pay the higher non-residence tuition. John sued the college to recover the excess tuition paid by him, arguing that the state had defined residence in an unconstitutional manner.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska disagreed with John. It said that the matter of residence may be defined differently for many different purposes. A state may charge non-residents a higher tuition in order to assure that the best possible education may be made available at a reasonable expense to residents. Those residents are more likely than non-residents to remain in the state and contribute to its future.

The court stated that the Legislature has the power to define residence for purposes of tuition. In the statutes involved in John's case it did not appear to the court that the court had acted arbitrarily or capriciously, and therefore its action was "constitutional."

DIXON

To Meet Wednesday

—Outreach Worker Attends Workshop— Mrs. Pat Dahl, outreach worker for Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council, Inc. of Wayne County, was elected to the Continuing Committee which met in connection with National Week of Humility at the Lincoln Center Friday.

Mrs. Dahl had attended a workshop at Grand Island last weekend when approximately 160 persons from across the state met to discuss problems and possible solutions.

Ten workshops were conducted with two persons elected to the Continuing Committee from each workshop to attend the Lincoln meeting.

College preparatory tests and scholarship possibilities have been subjects of study recently by Wayne High School students. Guidance Counselor Ken Carlson reports that the guidance office is currently working with college-bound students in an attempt to secure scholarships and other forms of financial aid.

Carlson also stated that the results of the National Merit Scholarship Test are available to Wayne High seniors who took the tests earlier this year. The test provides important information for those who wish knowledge of their ability to compete in college. High test scores may result in scholarship opportunities.

Juniors at Wayne High are discussing the results of their Kuder Vocational Interest Surveys with Carlson. The surveys designed to aid the student in his future choice of a career.
