

Survey Results Indicate Nursing Home Facility Needed at Wakefield

Harold Tompkin Associates of Lincoln, medical facilities consultants, programmers and researchers, have released the findings of a survey conducted in the Wakefield area, the purpose of which was to advise the Wakefield Health Care Steering Committee as to the future need for a long-term care facility to meet the needs of the area.

A meeting of the members of the Wakefield Community Hospital, Inc., community and area has been set for Thursday, Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. in the Wakefield High School Library.

At that time the results of that survey will be discussed along with the proposed plan to build a nursing home wing on the hospital. Following are the results of the survey, supplied to The Herald by Harold Tompkin Associates.

The study included a definition of the geographic area that would be served, geographic area being served by the Wakefield Hospital, a forecast of population and bed needs for the Wakefield area, survey of existing long-term care facilities and services and their appropriateness in meeting future anticipated demands.

Primary and secondary service areas were determined and projects were made for both areas. Several different formulas were used for determining needs for long-term care beds. All proposed, and existing long-term care facilities were considered in this study.

The State of Nebraska is divided into 26 building blocks or planning and development regions which are employed by the Nebraska State Department of Health for planning facilities in the general hospital, long-term care and diagnostic or treatment categories. Each of the 26 building blocks uses county boundary lines. Wakefield is located in Planning Region 25. The south city limits of Wakefield border Region 11.

Wakefield is located one mile west of the west boundary of Region 6 and seven miles west of the west boundary of Region 3.

Because of the geographic location of Wakefield, it was difficult to use the planning blocks for determining the service area for a new facility. So, to estimate the future bed needs for the Wakefield area, the consultant studied the admissions to Wakefield Community Hospital for a 12-month period. This analysis revealed two distinct service areas from which patients were being admitted. The primary referral area included the county of Dixon and accounted for nearly 70 per cent of the admissions. A secondary referral area, Dakota and Wayne Counties, accounted for over 20 per cent of the admissions.

A survey made of residents in FHA nursing homes shows some 80 per cent or more of nursing home residents will come from within a radius of less than 25 miles. Only about 10 per cent will come from a distance of 25 to 29 miles away and 5.5 per cent from 30 or more miles.

Population trends of the counties in the four health planning regions were studied and an estimated weighted population was determined for the service area. Not only was the estimated service area's population analyzed, but its age distribution was considered also. Median age for nursing home patients is 79.1 years. Only 5 per cent are under 60 and 7.6 per cent are 90 years of age or older.

About 41 per cent are 75 years old, and another 44 per cent are 84 years old. Some 71.8 per cent are women, and 28.2 per cent are men.

In order to gain an insight into the patterns of service provided by existing long-term care facilities, it was necessary for the consultant to view their combined service and to observe how each facility contributes to the total service role.

It was found that each facility acts independently, yet by its action influences or is influenced by other facilities. Utilization trends were analyzed in terms of number of beds available, number of patients, occupancy rate and length of stay.

All of the long-term care facilities, at each level of care, offered similar services in the immediate area in which they were located and the surrounding communities.

Majority of the patients being admitted to facilities in these areas are private pay. Their private funds are soon exhausted and patients need to request public aid. On March 2, 1972, the Dixon County Welfare Department had 45 patients in long-term facilities. Less than half were in facilities in Dixon County.

The average length of stay of patients admitted to long-term care facilities in the four planning regions, based on 1966-1971 period, was 430 days. The average length of stay varied from a low of 125 days to a high of 1,151 days. The length of stay in the older facilities were the greatest; many show that a great number of patients live nearly two years in these long-term care facilities.

The study of patient days of combined totals of 29 facilities in the four service areas had increased from 199,207 in 1966 to 489,861 in 1971. The combined total occupancy of the 29 facilities has increased from 89.6 per cent in 1966 to 92 per cent in 1971. Added during this period were 815 beds. In 1971, there were six of these facilities which had less than a 90 per cent occupancy. Fourteen of the facilities had an occupancy of greater than 95 per cent in 1971.

There were 38 long-term care facilities located in the four planning areas. They have an average occupancy rate.

The modern long-term care facility is very common in the four planning regions. Nearly all of the long-term care facilities have been built under present rules and regulations. Many of the older facilities have closed. Shady Rest Lodge in Wakefield and Evergreen Home in Dakota City included. Others are scheduled to be closed.

Four different formulas were used to project future long-term care bed needs for Wakefield and its service area. Each showed a need for beds. The average projected need was for 42 beds.

In summary, the total population of the four planning regions is declining and the 65-plus year population is increasing; occupancy rates in the present facilities are high; many of the older facilities are closed or closing; there is a void area which is not being served by a new long-term care facility; and there is a need for a new facility in Dixon County.

The following recommendation was submitted by the consultant: To consider adding a 42-bed long-term care addition to the present Wakefield Community Hospital.

Women Voters Organize League

By Sandra Breilkreutz

In a Monday afternoon meeting at the Hoskins Fire Hall, women from Wayne, Hoskins, Norfolk and Pierce, all interested in furthering their knowledge of politics and government, joined hands to form an area League of Women Voters group. The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan political organization for women 18 years old and over.

On hand to outline requirements of the national and state program was Nebraska State President Mrs. Robert Zilly of Lincoln.

Mrs. Zilly noted that the league, which now has a national membership of 160,000, was organized in 1920, an outgrowth of the suffrage movement of the times. The first convention was held in Omaha that year.

The organization has as its primary goal "Good Government," and strives to provide unbiased voter information concerning candidates and issues. The league also encourages participation in and provides material for studies of local, state and national government. Stands are taken by the league on current controversial issues when total agreement has been achieved and a dissemination program is employed to inform the public of those stands.

Of those present for the Monday meeting, 13 women signed up for membership and others indicated an interest in knowing more about the group. Mrs. Stephen Sandelin, Pierce, served as chairman pro tem, and Mrs. Melvin Meierhenry, Hoskins, acted as unofficial hostess.

The group decided to under take the study of the 16 amendment to appear on the November ballot as their first project and will hold their first official meeting Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Sunset Plaza meeting room, Norfolk. Mrs. Terry Claus, Norfolk, will serve as hostess. The invitation to attend is extended to all interested women.

At the following monthly meeting, a calendar will be set up and chairmen appointed for finance and calling.

Persons who are interested in knowing more about the organization or proposed meeting may contact Mrs. Richard Bavor, Wayne; Mrs. Claus, Norfolk; Mrs. Meierhenry, Hoskins; or Mrs. Sandelin, Pierce.

The Monday meeting came as a result of an initial luncheon meeting held Sept. 7 in Norfolk, at which time it was decided by those present that there was enough interest indicated to organize an official group.

Up'n Coming

Friday, Criminal Justice Workshop at Wayne State College. Sponsored by Region 11 and 25 Crime Commissions.

Saturday, 8:30 a.m., Wayne-to-Pender Bike-a-Thon, with proceeds to go to the Youth Association for Retarded Children.

Tuesday, 6:30 p.m., Nebraska State School Board Association Dist. 2 dinner-meeting at West Elementary School.

Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., City Council Meeting at Wayne City Auditorium.

Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., Antique Collecting Workshop at Wayne High School.

Curtis Is GOP Guest At Allen

Two hundred and twenty persons attended the Dixon County GOP banquet held Saturday at the Allen Consolidated School auditorium.

Guest speaker was Senator Carl T. Curtis, who reviewed the bills he is supporting and those which he does not support.

Also present were Senator LeRoy Pfister and Bob Murphy, candidates for the 17th District Legislature. Merle Von Minden served as master of ceremonies and K. R. Mitchell introduced pre-meeting committeemen and women and Dixon County officials.

The Allen High School band entertained with patriotic selections. Merle Von Minden accompanied the group singing of "God Bless America" to conclude the program.

In charge of the event were Merle Von Minden, K. R. Mitchell and Dixon County Chairman Cliff Gokh. Allen Band Mothers served the meal.

Bikes Must Be Inspected

Bicycle riders intending to enter the Bike-a-Thon Saturday, an approximate 50-mile trip from Wayne to Pender and back, are reminded that they must obtain entry blanks from one of the three persons heading up the project: Deb Carroll, Bob Skokan and Sam Heppner—and that all bicycles must be safely inspected by Wayne City Police.

Riders are to receive per-mile pledges, with proceeds to be turned over to the Youth Association for Retarded Children.

Participants are to be at the National Guard Armory Saturday morning by 8:30.

Band Day Participants Drop Simple Routines

Band Days have changed in recent years. Wayne State's annual Band Day Saturday demonstrated again what has developed in both music and marching.

The 24 high school bands and the college band treated spectators at the morning parade to something more intricate than the simple marches that used to be the main marching fare. Many of them played music of concert complexity.

March routines also looked fancier when some of the bands broke into steps one might see on the dance floor. And the fancy maneuvers seemed not to hinder the quality of music.

Three bands carried the American flag, along with the Nebraska flag or a local banner.

The number of bands attending Wayne's event this year was the largest in several years, perhaps the largest ever, although records of early Band Days two decades ago are incomplete. Altogether, there were nearly 1,600 musicians, dozens of twirlers and pom-pom girls! All the visiting bands had rehearsed music for the half-time show of the afternoon football game, though the time for practice had been short since the opening of school.

Once they arrived in Wayne, the bands had only an hour to put their show together on the West football field. There were two problems to be solved under the guidance of Dr. Lee Mendyk, college band director; first, getting onto and off the field in quick, orderly manner; second, rehearsing the music and keeping so many musicians on the beat in so large a formation.

Both problems were solved.

Wayne's Chamber of Commerce and the City of Wayne contributed to the day's success by providing lunch for the band in the Willow Bowl.

First Class Rating For WSC Stater

The Wayne Stater, campus newspaper of Wayne State College, received a "first class" rating for the winter term of 1972. Associated Collegiate Press, a national organization for college publications, assigned its ratings this week after judging of more than 3,000 newspapers.

In two categories of judging, coverage and content writing and editing, the Wayne Stater earned Marks of Distinction, an exceptional quality. In the other categories of editorial leadership, appearance and photography, the Stater received mostly "excellent" scores.

Editor of the weekly Stater was Larry Jirak.

Feed, Sale Planned

Laurel Lions Club members are preparing for a white elephant sale and pancake feed to be held Saturday at the Laurel City Auditorium from 4 to 8 p.m.

Auctioneers will be Erage Kastrup and Mert Swanson. Harold White is chairman.

Committee to Study City Parking

Problem: Parking in Wayne Solution: give each violator a ticket!

Not just any ticket, though. But a courteous ticket, pointing out to the customer that his car is overparked.

SBA Backs Four Loans In County

Four Small Business Administration loans to Wayne County enterprises were approved in the year ending June 30, 1972, Congressman Charles Thone said.

The loans to help new and expanding small businesses in the county for that year totaled $73,500, with $66,150 of the total guaranteed by the SBA. The loans are actually made through regular commercial channels, but are backed by the SBA guarantees, Thone explained.

The figures compare with two SBA loans in Wayne County enterprises were approved in the year ending June 30, 1971. The district had 62 loans totaling $3,721,475 with SBA participation of $2,192,875 in the year ending in June, 1970. Thone reported.

The Small Business Administration is especially helpful in aiding local industrial development associations to attract new industry to communities," Thone said.

In Nebraska's First Congressional District during the year ending June 30, 1972, the Small Business Administration approved 171 loans totaling $8,189,450. This compares with 151 loans totaling $6,616,850 and SBA participation of $5,486,648 in the year ending in June, 1971.

The district had 62 loans totaling $3,721,475 with SBA participation of $2,192,875 in the year ending in June, 1970. Thone reported.

Dr. Wessel explained to the gathering of 40 persons at the Wayne Auditorium's Club Room, the ticket would tell the driver that the city appreciates his business and hopes the customer would return to the city. In essence, he continued, the ticket would ask the customer to be mindful of the two-hour parking restriction in Wayne.

Many area residents, it was pointed out, have complained about the lack of proper parking facilities in the city.

Now a committee of five Wayne members of Commerce men, including Larry DeForge, Don Mangers, Bill Richardson, Bob Merchant and O. K. Brand stetter, plus volunteer Ted Bahe, are going to study the matter further, in hopes to reduce, what a straw vote pointed out was a parking problem in Wayne.

Dr. J. J. Liska, Wayne Chamber vice-president, directed the hour and a half discussion, noting that the purpose of the meeting is to set up a committee to study the situation.

Dr. Liska, substituting for Chamber President Bob McLean, told the people that Wayne does have some degree of a parking problem. Although the consumer driving into town can not always park where he or she wants to park it can be thought of as a good sign. It means, he continued, that there are a lot of people shopping downtown.

This is not always true, said Larry DeForge, owner of Gambles, since a lot of employees park on the side streets and sometimes on Main.

DeForge contended that 50 per cent of those people who do park on the side streets are employees. The problem, he said, is that you can not tell your employee to park off Main and side streets unless you provide him with a place to park.

Mrs. B. E. Eick of the Coast to Coast store, asked the members, including Wayne

Mayor Kent Hall and six councilmen, why the city could not better enforce the present city ordinance which allows a parked vehicle to remain in a restricted parking zone for two hours.

Mayor Hall replied, telling the gathering that if the city strictly enforced the measure—that is checking parked vehicles every hour or two hours—it would mean hiring another person for the police staff.

The majority of the group agreed that if the customer was constantly ticketed for parking violations, he would quit shopping in the area, defeating the purpose of finding a solution to the parking problem.

City Engineer Duane Upton pointed out to the group that his firm did a study of Wayne's parking problem. He noted that many people are asking why the parking stalls could not be changed from parallel to diagonal. PARKING, page 7

Everyone loves a parade — and Saturday was a near-perfect day for spectators and bandmen alike as 24 of the musical groups participated in the morning parade down Wayne's Main Street and then entertained again in the afternoon during Wayne State's football game with Emporia, Kan. State. The picture at top shows the entire Wayne High School Band. At the right is one section of the Wayne State College Band. Other parade and Band Day pictures are featured in a picture page on an inside page of this issue of The Herald.

Corn Developing Root, Stalk Rot

Within two weeks, Nebraska corn crops have developed an alarming percentage of corn root and stalk rot, according to Dr. David Wysong, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension plant pathologist.

The situation report noted that the disease continues to be the most serious and widespread disease of corn in Nebraska and several surrounding states and because of its complex formation, probably will not be totally resolved in the near future.

Conditions most commonly observed are:

1. Dropped ears with dried, buff colored and open husks.
2. Leaves with no obvious lesions that are dying while still green.
3. Premature death of entire plants in spots or at random in fields.

A rapid death as if plants had been killed by frost.

"While a dry type of rot is most commonly observed, it is not unusual to find advancing stalk rot to be wet and slimy," clarified Dr. Wysong.

The danger of root and stalk rot lies in the loss of grain weight and quality. Detailed the pathologist. "As the disease progresses, the reduction in uptake and translocation of nutrients and water through infected tissues become acute and culminate in premature death before harvest. Actual grain weight may be reduced by 50 per cent in standing corn. Additional losses result from lodged stalks weakened by this disease."

For the present harvest season, a farmer with an infected crop has a choice of waiting until grain harvest and take the chance of possible lodging or cutting for silage.

For those considering silage, NU Extension veterinarian Dr. Alex Hogg commented on the dangers of the guilty fungus: "Fusarium moniliforme is relatively nontoxic, but there have been rare cases when this species of fungi was found to be a toxin producer. So if you put up rot-damaged corn, it would be prudent to feed it to a few of the younger and less valuable animals first for a few weeks; as a test to be sure no toxins are

Ranee Kniesche Home From Trip to Austria

Ranee Kniesche displays some of the souvenirs she brought with her from her summer stay in Austria.

Home after taking part in an 8-week summer exchange program in Austria, Ranee Kniesche says she found Austrians a lot like Americans except more friendly. "They seemed to care more about people than we do here," she noted.

Ranee, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kniesche, rural Wayne, left June 26 for New York, the first stop on the AFS trip. About 150 young people were with her on the flight to Europe. 35 of them like herself bound for Austria. This group spent one week in Wurzl, a mountain-side youth hotel for an orientation period. The next stop for Ranee was St. Adolph, where she met her host family, the Michael Stoffelbauers, who own and operate a gasthaus inn. Her new family included a brother Franz, 21, a sister Elfi, 18, and another brother, Michael, 10. With her family she spent her days swimming, horseback riding and mountain climbing, and, of course, helping out at the inn. Ranee took orders and worked in the kitchen with Elfi.

The Stoffelbauers, a middle class family, are very active in the community according to Ranee. Franz helped sponsor youth groups, and Elfi and her friends organized weekend youth dances. One weekend the Stoffelbauer family and Ranee traveled to Salzburg, "one of the oldest and most beautiful cities in Austria," notes Ranee. There they visited Mozart's birth place and discovered that photographs were not allowed to be taken at the boarder lines. Guards stood about 50 feet apart along the fences. During her last five days in Austria, Ranee was the guest of Gunter Sotnradt and his wife, a young couple in Vienna, who had hosted six exchange visitors before Ranee. Their home was in Reikhlzdorf, a suburb of Vienna. Ranee discovered that

Patty Menke, B. Koehne Married

Spiral candelabra and bouquets of pink gladiolus and white pompons appointed the altar of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside, for the wedding Sunday afternoon of Patty Menke to Bernie Koehne, both of Lincoln.

Guests and girls were arranged by Sally Lorenz, Lincoln; Mrs. Fred Koehne, Denver, and Mrs. Stanley Nelson, Wayne.

The Rev. G. W. Goldberg, Winside, officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Randy Helgren, Wayne, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied by the organ.

Candles were lighted by Byron Menke, Carroll, brother of the bride, and Todd Test, Norfolk. Ringbearer was Scott Hensley, Huxley, Ia., and flowergirl was Donna Kralke, Pender.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, appeared in a floor length, A-line gown of sa-tapeau and raschel lace, fashioned with high neckline and bishop sleeves.

Members of serving were Mrs. Marcella Wacker, Mrs. Ted Hoemann, Winside, Mrs. Clarence Stapelman, Mrs. Ronnie Stapelman, Mrs. Gary Stapelman, Belden, Mrs. Glenn Loberg and Mrs. Reynold Nelson, Carroll, Mrs. Elwin Niberg, Pender.

Attendants Karen Menke, Lincoln, served her sister as maid of honor and Sandra Lorenz, Lincoln, was bridesmaid. Their toe-length

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rinehart and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman Sr., all of Lincoln, served as hosts to the reception held at the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. Meryl Loske, Schuyler, registered the 150 grooms, and girls were arranged by Sally Lorenz, Lincoln; Mrs. Fred Koehne, Denver, and Mrs. Stanley Nelson, Wayne.

A cocktail hour, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, followed the reception at the Winside Auditorium. Mr. and Mrs. Koehne were also hosts to the pre-nuptial supper for 30 held at Les' Steak House Saturday evening.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a raspberry pink knit with matching accessories. The couple took a wedding trip to Colorado and will be at home in Lincoln where the bridegroom is employed by Gamble-Robinson Company. The bride works for the State Department of Education.

The bride is a graduate of Randolph High School and attended Lincoln School of Commerce. The bridegroom attended Lincoln High School and served two years with the U. S. Navy.

Iris Society Meets

The Elkhorn Valley Iris Society met Sept. 15 at Woodland Park and presented a presentation by Larry Harder on 1972 and 1973 introductions of hybrid irises.

Discussion followed. Local guests present included Clara and Flora Bergl and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rathman.

Members of the Sioux City Iris Society have been invited to attend the fall dinner to be held in Stanton Saturday, Oct. 21 at 6:30 p.m.

FNC Meets Friday FNC members met Friday evening in the home of Lydia Weiershauser. Lavers at pitch went to Prizen Harder, Ted Fuoss, Laverne Wischof, Mrs. Ed Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Arnos Eichtenkamp.

President Roger Nelson reminded the group that a short business meeting, for the purpose of nominating next year's officers, would be held during the dinner.

October 6 meeting will be in the Ted Fuoss home.

On Sunday, several members of the Elkhorn Valley Society were guests of the Sioux City Club at Nelson's home in Wayne for their regular September meeting.

At their meeting Sept. 17, members of Mrs. Jaycees made plans for a traveling bake sale to be held this Saturday.

On Sunday, several members of the Elkhorn Valley Society were guests of the Sioux City Club at Nelson's home in Wayne for their regular September meeting. Ethel Ricker gave a slide talk on wild flowers and irises and Roger Nelson spoke on the iris disease, scorch.

Statistics Better With Operation Identification

As Operation Identification gathers momentum across the country all reports coming into the Consumers Insurance Information Bureau show that the concept does prevent burglaries and does help police recover property that has been stolen.

Using an electric pencil borrowed from a member of The National Association of Insurance Agents, a sportsman marks his binoculars with his area coded phone number as a part of the Operation Identification program.

Operation Identification is the consumers' protection program sponsored by the National Association of Insurance Agents which deters burglars by giving consumers a means to engrave a personal identification number on their TV sets, camera, etc. The consumer places stickers on his house warning would-be thieves that the property is marked for positive identification.

Trojans Aim for Third Blanking; Wayne Hopes for More Momentum

Wakefield Coach John Torzon has a ball club that is turning out to be a sleeping giant. The question is, how tall will the giant grow?

Last week the Trojans wiped out Emerson Hubbard, 32-0, at Emerson to roll the team's record to 2-0 for the year. Earlier, the Wakefield club blanked Wisner-Pilger, 14-0.

That brings the Trojans' season average to 23 points a game to their opponents' zero.

Perhaps it isn't fair to make the area team sound so powerful since the season is young. But Coach Torzon knows that his ball club could be a strong contender for conference honors along with Wayne.

Halfback Shane Giese... Collected 108 yards for the Blue Devils.

Three quarters in a 20-0 win over Wisner-Pilger.

Last time Giese collected a total of 108 yards while End Randy Nelson grabbed a 74 yard TD pass from Quarterback Marty Hansen for the team's outstanding efforts.

Another area team may turn out to be somewhat of a surprise. Allen, which beat Winside by six, has a strong armed quarterback in Scott Van Minden. It looks like Coach Charles Haag may have a repeater in the hit clash for the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Folks in the Ponca area will get a chance to see the Eagles in flight Friday night as Indians will host the Allen squad.

Although Ponca is 1-1 for the year, Coach Haag's rocket of fence and blitzing defense probably will prove to be too much for the Ponca 11.

Winside will be on the road again this time traveling to Hartington. Let's pick the Wildcats for a comeback. This time it looks like Coach Doug Barry's crew will stay on the ground next time they get the ball inside their opponents' 10 yard line. If so, the end sweeps could prove to be most effective.

Turning to Laurel, which currently ranks in the top 10 in some Class C points, the Bears should be able to tear up to this game and top Pierce.

Wakefield Homecoming

The Homecoming date for the Wakefield Trojans football team was changed, according to Wakefield school officials, from Oct. 13 to Sept. 29.

Wakefield will host Ponca on Sept. 29 and make Oct. 13 as Dad's Night, playing Oakland.

Earlier the school reversed the dates, noting that Dad's Night was on Sept. 29 and Homecoming was on Oct. 13.

Mustangs Edge Plainview, 6-0

It took four quarters for the Stanton Mustangs to overcome a tough Plainview team, 6-0, Friday night at Stanton.

Stanton's Jim Bstalandig scored the six points on a plunge play over center after Quarterback Phil Frank took the ball from the five to the two-yard line.

The Mustangs put the game on ice when Art Barr intercepted a pass with 31 seconds to go.

Stanton will take its 2-0 record against Bloomfield this week in a game at the Bees' field.

City's Golf Foursome Swing to Season's End

Goofy wasn't the word at the Wayne County Country Club Sunday afternoon. The best way to describe the two-ball four some is hilarious.

And that's the title the club gave to its last meeting of the season, "Hilarious Happenings."

The day event started off with the men teeing off with a sponge rubber ball followed by the women driving blindfold from the No. 2 tee.

Many of the 34 players deserted their clubs and went to using ping pong paddles and croquet mallets for putters. Other varieties included driving through a hoola hoop from the No. 6 fairway; teeing off on a teeter-totter board from No. 9; putting through croquet hoops; teeing off metal sleds; teeing off handed (right handed for those who regularly right-hand left handed) from No. 8; and couples using one club for all different types of shots.

After all the swinging and hitting was done, Mrs. M. Smith, Wayne, and Dick Smith, Pender, had the best overall scores. Mrs. Forrest Magnus, Wayne, had the longest drive while blindfolded.

Jim Paige, Wayne, had the

Bowhunters Meet Will be Sept. 24

Offensive Changes to take Place After Wildcats Drop Second Game

Some changes may appear in Wayne State's football offense Saturday night. Winside and searless after two games, the Wildcats are looking for the combination to move their ground game against the University of Minnesota Morris at 7-30 in Memorial Stadium.

Coach Del Stoltenberg said some personnel shifts may be necessary to fire up an offense which has produced only 37 net rushing yards. The Wildcats' passing game has done better, with 251 yards and a respectable completion rate of 25 on 54 losses.

One sobering fact, however, is the loss of Tim Denham, tailback quarterback who is out for the season with a knee injury requiring surgery. Denham has run at fullback in two games, but Stoltenberg said he might have moved the sophomore to quarterback part of the time at least now that Pat Oyer is back in action at fullback. Oyer rushed for all team leading 41 yards as Wayne lost to Emporia State, 21-0 Saturday.

That a week earlier had run 186 yards against powerhouse Arkansas Tech in a 107 loss.

Early in the second period, Welcher had broken loose for a 73 yard gallop after Wayne punted Emporia to the Hornel seven-yard line. Wildcat back Gordon Godfrey caught Welcher at the 20, but four plays later Welcher scored from five yards. Gary Hare kicked points on all three touchdowns.

Wayne actually outgained the Hornets in total offense, and except for that 73 yard run, gave up only 13 net yards rushing. The Cats recovered three of Emporia's six fumbles, lost only one of their own.

Obviously, Wayne's defense was looking more like its ferocity of recent years.

Three Wayne quarterbacks combined for 148 yards of passing after repeated futile attempts to send runners through

Reserves Rebound For No. 2

The Wayne High reserve football team spotted Pierce a 12-0 lead and then roared back for a 31-20 victory Monday afternoon at the Wayne High football field. Pierce had fumbled twice, once in the first period and again in the second, after Wayne had fumbled the ball.

With 20 seconds left in the half, Bill Schwartz scored for the locals on a two yard run and Randy Workman ran for the two-point conversion to cut the Wayne deficit to 12-8 at intermission.

Ron Carnes' club took the lead in the third when Workman took the ball in from the four and Rod Hoops ran the PAT, making it 16-12.

The Wayne cinders came in the fourth. Schwartz registered his second TD of the afternoon on a three-yarder with Schwartz then hitting Earle Overin on a pass play for the conversion, and Hoops scored on a six-yard play. Terry Hasebroock booted the extra point on that six-pointer.

Pierce closed the gap in the last two minutes of play with a touch down against the substitutes.

The Wayne B teamers had a 264-yard total, with Hoops accounting for 91 yards of that figure. Workman credited with 56 and Gary Hansen and Overin with 43 each.

Defensively, Mark Lowe, Jeff Lamp and Kevin Heithold all had six tackles. Greg Swinney, five, and Rick Mitchell, four.

The Wayne reserves now 2-0, travel to South Sioux City next Monday for a 4 p.m. contest.

An end-around play by Reserve Halfback Danny Pintelman gains a few yards for the Blue Devil team Monday afternoon in a win over Pierce at the Wayne field.

State to Release Hunting Guides

Complete information on Nebraska's 1972 hunting season will soon be in the hands of sportsmen, as output continues on the 1972 Hunting Guide. The Game and Parks Commission rushed the initial shipment of guides to the Sand Hills and western part of the state for the opening of the grouse season.

The Hunting Guide provided a rundown of season dates, bag limits, shooting hours, and other regulations of all Nebraska seasons. It includes maps showing hunting and trapping zones, and special reminders on the most important game laws.

The guide also includes such helpful features as sunrise and sunset tables and lists of public hunting areas.

Allen Girls Split Games

The Allen Girls' volleyball teams split a pair of games with Ponca last week, with the A team dropping the first contest, while the B team won.

Melodie Davernport, Diane Fahrnotz, Brenda Young, Sheila Book, La Rave Lubberstedt and Lisa Carpenter boosted their B club to victory.

Key Schroeder was the top scorer for the A team with 11 points. Other members of the Allen team were Julie Tighe, Bob Kluge, Kim Jackson, Janell Massler and Roxanne Blohm.

Memorial Tribute

A brief memorial tribute at halftime of the Wayne State game Saturday night will honor two football players who died this summer. Mike Wise and Tom Chromy, a number of relatives and friends are expected to attend the game from the Aurora, La. country where Wise lived on a farm and from Morse Bluff, the Chromy home.

WSC Athletic Director Larry Simpson said the halftime memorial will include presentation of football jerseys worn by the two, carrying backs to their fathers, Paul Wise and Steve Chromy.

Waterfowlers May Use Both State Licenses

Waterfowlers on Cottonwood Lake below Gavins Point Dam this fall may hunt the entire surface of the lake with either a Nebraska or South Dakota license, according to a renewed agreement between the two states.

The either license provision includes both gunners in boats and those shooting from the island. While on the lake or island, hunters must follow all regulations of the state in which they are licensed, including limits, season dates, and shooting hours.

On shore, the hunter must be licensed in the state in which he is hunting. Nebraska's jurisdiction generally includes the west and south bank of the lake, while South Dakota has control over the north and east banks.

Sons will tell hunters which state has jurisdiction over a particular piece of shoreline, but conservation officers urge gunners in doubt to contact them for more information.

Also known as Lake Yankton, Cottonwood Lake straddles the boundary between Nebraska and South Dakota.

Pep Rally

Winside Senior Class members presented a skit entitled "Happiness Is Winning" at the Homecoming pep rally held Friday afternoon at the Winside park. Their efforts earned them the second place rating in the judges' eyes. First place winner was the eighth graders' "Beat The Feathers Off The Alien Eagles." Third place was awarded the sophomore class for their skit, "Beating The Pants Off The Alien Eagles." Other skits were presented by the seventh grade and junior class. Judges were Mrs. Doug Barry, Mrs. Hilbert Libengood and Mrs. Edward Oswald. Winside Wildcats played Allen that evening and a dance was held afterward, with the crowning of Homecoming royalty as the highlight.

Car Accident

A car driven by Janet Roberts, 420 Walnut Street in the city, hit a parked car owned by Cliff and Clara Freese, 111 Wayne, about 5 p.m. Monday. The 100 truck on East Street.

Elk Running Wild

Anyone seen elk in Nebraska, in the wild? Reports in recent years have been numerous. Conservation Officer Jim McCole of Gering said two bull elk were spotted in Banner County heading north this summer. They subsequently were seen in the Wildcat Hills, working along the refuge fence, trying to get in. Another bull was observed outside the fence a few days ago.

Last winter six different people reported seeing a big bull elk heading south in Spink County.

Conservation Officer Joe Ulrich of Bridgeport occasionally sees two elk south of Bridgeport at the edge of hills near Lonergin Creek. Elk have also been observed in the Pine Ridge. Two elk were reported north of Oshkosh, a bull and cow elk were seen north of Berea, two were alleged to have crossed 180 near Grand Island and one elk was killed near Bonetman during a rut season.

But but is that the elk are wanderers from Wyoming and South Dakota.

How about bighorn sheep? Officers Joe Ulrich and Jim McCole saw two bighorns near a farmer's corral north of Broadwater several years back. They have photographs to prove it.

Significant drop in the fall flights of canvasback ducks from 1 1/2 to two million in the late 1950's down to fewer than one million now prompted the Fish and Wildlife Service's recent closure on that popular game bird. Canvasbacks have a high annual mortality rate, about half of which is due to hunting.

Here's a Nebraska believe it or not. The state's first modern-day rifle season on deer was in 1945, followed by a second hunt in 1949. Total kill for the two seasons was 1,271 deer. This two-year harvest actually falls short of the 1,347 killed on Nebraska roads during last year alone. An additional 168 other deer killed in 1971 for other reasons.

The Game and Parks Commission's Ken Johnson says highway-related deer peak during the rutting season in November. A secondary peak period occurs during the lawning season in May and June.

Boating Mishaps Same. Nebraska boating fatalities seem to come in "sixes." Last year Nebraska had "six" fatalities associated with boating, and through September of 1972, the toll again stands at "six." Out at Harlan County Reserve, the first boating related fatality in "six" years occurred this summer.

Lewis and Clark Lake is experiencing one of its safest years, with one boating fatality above the dam and one below. Since the lake was impounded in 1953, there have been 27 deaths.

J. T. Malchett, area boating safety officer for the Coast Guard, said fatalities will continue in sizable numbers "until we begin to educate the people as to the hazards involved and the fundamentals of basic water safety."

"Many people don't even know how to wear life jackets," he charged.

DeSoto Beckons. When the "extended public fishing" ends at DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge, east of Blair across the Missouri River, there'll be a two week delay before major public use starts again. From Oct. 15 through Nov. 12, self-guided auto tours over designated routes will be possible, where visitors can view thousands of waterfowl and some 17 different species of wildlife inhabiting the 7,800-acre cut-off oxbow of the Missouri River.

In the headquarters area, over 800 items that were recovered and salvaged from the Mississippi River steamer "Terland," which sank in 1865, are on display until Dec. 3. After that, all is closed.

Sportsmen Salute. Saturday, Sept. 23 is National Hunting and Fishing Day, a time when the nation's 55 million hunters and fishermen will be saluted for their contributions to conservation and outdoor recreation. The event will be celebrated throughout the state by sportsmen's clubs, communities, state and federal hatcheries and refuges, and the Game Commission which will have "open house" at its Lincoln, Norfolk, Bassett, Alliance, and North Platte offices.

MISHMASH. Colorful beautiful Sumac throughout NEBRASKAland is taking on its vibrant scarlet and red tones. There is none more brilliant than the sumac now paralleling the railroad and Highway 6 about three miles west of Friend. An Alaskan oil leak from a small pipeline carrying fuel from the north slope went uncorrected for 18 months and may have damaged an important fishery. One of the biggest ecological horror stories occurred in 1969, when 200 pounds of endosulfan insecticide were released on the Rhine in Germany and killed at least 40,000,000 adult fish on a 200 mile stretch of river.

PLACES A GO GO. Firearms season on Antelope, Sept. 23-Oct. 1 for those with special permits. Kossuth County's Kora Karoval, Plattsmouth, Sept. 24. Pony Express Harvest Festival, Gothenburg, 22-23. Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show and Rodeo, Omaha, 22-30; Wallace Fall Festival, 21 and Curtis Fall Festival, 23-24.

Laurel Names Representative

Mary B. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Nelson, Laurel, has been chosen by members of the Laurel High School senior band to represent the group at the Harvest of Harmony Festivals at Grand Island Oct. 4 and 7. Mrs. Nelson, Opifer Vert Gunter, Eugene Barrus and Lloyd Ave. The vote was four in favor with one abstaining.

Liquor License Granted Monday

Members of the Hoskins Village Board, in a special meeting Monday evening granted Daniel Plantenberg, Hoskins, a license for on and off sale liquor. Members of the board are George Langenberg, Herman Daniel and Matt Nelson, Eugene Barrus and Lloyd Ave. The vote was four in favor with one abstaining.

The board had denied Plantenberg's application in a previous meeting.

The program is a result of a training workshop Mr. Kumm attended in Norfolk, Neb. last summer.

Winside Hires Maintenance Superintendent

Winside's new maintenance superintendent, Ken Macke, knows that the country life beats living in Los Angeles, Calif.

The Mullan native, who moved back to Nebraska, is glad to be on home soil, he said, because "it is a lot more enjoyable." Macke, who took the newly created job on Sept. 1, lives in Winside with his wife and four children. The children's ages range from two years for both girls and five and nine years for the two boys.

His experience in maintenance comes from his working in California on a construction crew. "I lived in Los Angeles," he said, "and you sure can tell the difference between a town of 800 population and a city of 800,000 people."

Macke and his family lived in Winside before moving to California eight years ago.

Pregnancy Brings On Emotional Conflicts

The anticipation of a new baby is a very emotional time. Husband and wife, according to the Nebraska Medical Association.

During pregnancy, minor emotional conflicts between husband and wife are normal. However, both prospective parents must be considerate of one another so each does not mar their relationship that has been carefully developing since their days of courtship.

Preparation for an addition to the family involves more than being seen regularly by the doctor, says the Nebraska Medical Association.

Maintaining good physical health and proper emotional balance are two factors. Planning for the stay in the hospital, planning for the clothes and items needed after the new baby comes home are other requirements.

A new child requires a whole new pattern of relationships and scheduling. The new child has to be seen regularly by the doctor, planning for the clothes and items needed after the new baby comes home are other requirements.

Charades' Played on Sweden Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Samuelson and son, Lonnie, Route 2, Wayne, had to play a lot of charades this summer when they visited a cousin of Mr. Samuelson, Miss Dagmar Samuelson of Borgstena, Sweden.

But, the former farmers-turned greyhound breeders were helped out of their dilemma by an English-speaking son of their host family, the David Johnsons, a neighbor and close friend of Dagmar.

Sten Ake Johanson acted as translator between the monolingual Americans and Swedes.

"When he wasn't around, we had quite a time getting across what we were trying to say," Mrs. Samuelson said.

The Wayne residents were in Sweden 22 days, much of that time with his 70-year-old cousin, who he had never met.

Since Miss Dagmar's living accommodations were not adequate to handle three more guests, the Samuelsons stayed at the Johanson home, dairy farmers.

They left the States July 22 and visited Germany and Copenhagen, Denmark, before traveling across Sweden on an electric train.

Mrs. Samuelson and Lonnie consider one of the highlights of their trip as a hydrofoil boat trip to the island of Aland, about 150 miles from Stockholm.

There were many other interesting side trips, Mrs. Samuelson added, picking out the following, not necessarily in order of their intrigue:

Touring the Viking ship Wasa, which had capsized 33 years before being brought to the surface of the bay near Stockholm 10 years ago. "It was astounding how many of the items aboard the ship were so well preserved after over three centuries under water," Mrs.

The Swedish people are famous for their delicious pastries and Melvin Samuelson of rural Wayne is shown here sampling the products made by his cousin, Miss Dagmar Samuelson of Borgstena, Sweden. The two had never met until this summer when the Wayne residents and their son, Lonnie, visited her in Sweden.

Samuelson said, articles that included cookware and clothing, plus beautiful handcarved, giant statues of animals, etc. that adorned most Viking ships.

The visit to Boras, Sweden celebrating its 350th anniversary of the town's founding. There, the Samuelsons toured places of interest and shopped for a couple of days.

The King's Palace and the changing of the guard, wooden shoes worn by nearly everyone in Sweden and the confusing 24 hour clocks, which are similar to those used by the States military, 1 o'clock in the afternoon being 1300 in Sweden and switching back after reaching 2400 (midnight).

Our interpreter, Sten Ake, hopes to visit us in the United States sometime in the near future, and we are excited over the thought of showing him around here," Mrs. Samuelson said.

"But," she concluded, "he has an advantage that we didn't have. He won't need a translator."

STAPH MEETING

A mouse had been expected to die one night more than a decade ago in the research center of American Cyanamid's Lederle Laboratories at Pearl River, N.Y. It had been injected with a malevolent, drug-resistant strain of staphylococcus cultured from boils with which Marilyn Ross, a Lederle office secretary, had been afflicted. But the animal didn't die. It was kept alive by a test substance—one of thousands of compounds tested by Lederle scientists in their painstaking search for a new antibiotic. The next morning the mouse was scamping about its cage, its infection arrested by what was to become Minocin mycogeline, Lederle's new antibiotic. Here, Mrs. Ross, still a Lederle employee, becomes acquainted with a descendant of that mouse. With her are Dr. James Boothe, left, and Dr. Michael Martell, center, who synthesized Minocin, and Gunnar Redin, right, who conducted the original test with the mice.

PARKING —

onal parking. Upton explained that in order for vehicles to be parked diagonally, the street would have to be at least 60 feet wide. Wayne's Main Street is only 55 feet wide.

He went on to say the state has ruled out diagonal parking on highways traveling through cities and towns, consequently despoiling the idea of curbing cutting to widen the streets.

This type of terrace parking, he went on, would make the street wide enough but the state still objects to the idea.

During the mixed discussion session it was pointed out that St. Paul's Church and the Presbyterian Church already have free parking for people wanting to use it while shopping downtown.

After Dr. Wessell's idea, the group agreed that this might be the right avenue to take. Mayor Hall said the city would be willing to go along with the new tickets.

In two weeks the committee will meet again at the same place and time to discuss the problem.

present.

In planning for next year's crop, Dr. Wysong made the following suggestions:

1. Use hybrids whose past performance has been satisfactory relative to stalk strength, resistance to root and stalk rot, maturity and yield. Resistance to other corn disease such as northern and southern blights, Goss's bacterial wilt and blight, and certain insect pests should also be considered.
2. Do not exceed plant populations recommended by the seed corn company for the varieties selected.
3. Determine through soil sample analyses the nutrient requirements of the crop to be grown. Do not use excessive amounts of nitrogen.
4. When possible, plant hybrids that utilize the full growing season.
5. Harvest as soon as possible to avoid excessive losses due to stalk breakage.

Council Accepts S.I.D. Bid

The City Council, in a unanimous decision Tuesday, accepted a $35,809.04 bid for Street Improvement Districts Nos. 66, 69, 71 and Storm Dewater District No. 71-2.

The projects, to be started by Sept. 25 and completed in about 30 days, was awarded to the Gill Construction Co. of Jackson.

Construction Sand and Gravel of Columbus put in the only other bid. It was $42,411, scheduled to be completed in 60 days from its April 1, 1973, starting date.

Commissioners Grant Road Use

The Wayne County Commissioners voted to allow the use of part of the county roads, three miles east of Wayne on Highway 35 and a half-mile north on Highway 15, for the installation of a ground bed, and wires.

The purpose, it was pointed out, is to help prevent corrosion of pipe lines.

In other business the members voted to join the Council of government. The group decided to attend the COG meeting planned for Tuesday night.

Feedlot Inspection

A representative of the State Department of Environmental Control will be in Dixon County the week of Sept. 25. Purpose of the visit will be to determine if feedlots in the county are causing pollution problems.

The department has a list of several feeders in the county where inspections will be made. Anyone wishing to have their feedlot checked during this week is asked to contact District Conservationist William Yost at the SCS Office in Wakefield.

Dr. Sidney Hillier of Wayne will attend the 57th annual convention of the Nebraska Chiropractic Association Friday through Sunday at the Holiday Inn at Omaha. Business meeting highlights will include discussion of items of legislation and the newly formed Nebraska Chiropractic Foundation for Continuing Education, a tax deductible foundation which will raise funds to provide scholarships for chiropractic students to encourage them to enter practice in Nebraska.

about 8:30 p.m. with cuts and lacerations.

According to Investigation State Trooper Roy Van Winkle, a tractor hauling a hay sled was traveling up a hill when it ran out of gas. The driver, Clay Heydon, Laurel, told the officer that his tractor started rolling downhill, and jackknifed. Before Heydon could get off his tractor, he said, the Sands vehicle came over the hill.

The car then struck the sled, extensively damaging the top of the car and windshield.

Trooper Van Winkle said that two other occupants in the vehicle the Sands children, were not hurt. He also said Heydon was unharmed.

Mrs. Henry Mau, of Hazel's Beauty Shoppe, Wayne, attended the Wickstrom's Educational Beauty Show in Omaha Sunday and Monday along with Diane Miller, Jane Starks and Shirley Bier.

Natural Gas and the Burning Springs

As early as 1626 French missionaries visiting the Indians in northwestern New York recorded that they could ignite natural gas bubbles rising from shallow waters. From this beginning, an industry developed that now supplies about one-third of the energy needs of the United States.

Scholarships Available For Air Force ROTC

Male high school students who will graduate in 1973 and who are interested in flying are eligible to apply for an Air Force ROTC four-year college scholarship.

One thousand four-year college scholarships are available for students who will enroll in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at one of the colleges and universities in the United States and Puerto Rico which offer the four year program.

The scholarships will be awarded to qualified students who agree to become Air Force pilots or navigators after college graduation.

Each scholarship pays full tuition, laboratory fees and textbook reimbursement. In addition, each scholarship student receives a monthly non-taxable subsistence allowance of $100.

All applications for a scholarship must qualify on the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test on an Air Force medical examination. A special committee of air Force officers will evaluate all students who apply for a scholarship. They will consider the student's scores on the American College Test or the Scholastic Aptitude Test, high school grades, extracurricular activities and personal references.

Interested students must submit their applications postmarked no later than Nov. 15. Application forms and additional information may be obtained by writing Directorate of Admissions, Air Force ROTC, Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala. 36112.

Death of Sales Pitch

The well-worn joke of the car salesman giving the pitch "This little 1969 jewel belonged to an elderly spinster who took it out of the garage only on Sundays to drive to church and back home and which has been driven only 2,000 miles" may be taboo from now on.

There's nothing illegal about the first part of that sales pitch, but O' Honest Axel had better be right sure about the 2,000-mile statement.

White Elephant Sale Proceeds Total $185

The Wayne Kiwanis' White Elephant Sale Sunday resulted in $185 being taken from sale of assorted items, all of which will go to sponsor the club's various projects.

Items sold were donated, priced by Kiwanians and sold Sunday afternoon at the City Auditorium.

The report was made Monday noon at the regular dinner-meeting of the club when Carl Rump, Wayne State College

Planetarium director, told of his trip to Tukoyaktuk, deep in the northwest territory of Canada, to view the total eclipse of the sun July 10.

Rump, who was invited by the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, to take part in the expedition to the site where the eclipse would be the most distinct, showed slides taken before and during the eclipse.

He said the temperature dropped 15 to 20 degrees during the eclipse, causing an affect on sound waves, and that "shadow bands" appeared along the ground just before the sun was blocked out by the moon, at 1:30 in the afternoon. All stars and planets were visible at that time he added.

Cloudy and drizzly weather early that morning threatened to force picture-taking to be done from a plane, above the clouds, but the weather cleared before noon and conditions were near-perfect by the time of the phenomenon.

The WSC science faculty member told the group that because of "permafrost," a frost always present within a couple of feet of the ground's surface, all buildings and homes at Tukoyaktuk have to be built on stilts. Otherwise, he said, heat from the buildings would melt the frost and cause those buildings to sink completely out of sight.

Rump concluded that a total eclipse would be an interesting experience to everyone. But he conceded, the next eclipse will be a trifle difficult for anyone to make—it will be visible in the Sahara Desert in July of 1973.

He reminded that public showings will be held at the Wayne State College Planetarium on Wednesday evenings (7:30) and Sunday afternoons (3:30), beginning Oct. 4 and continuing through Sunday, Nov. 19.

State Easter Seal Society To Present Accent on Youth

"Accent on Youth" is the theme for the 1972 Nebraska Easter Seal Society's annual meeting, scheduled for Oct. 6-7 at the Radisson-Blackstone Hotel in Omaha.

Keynote speaker for the 7:30 p.m. Friday President's Dinner will be John Kemp, a 22-year-old congenital quadriplegic from Topeka, Kan. The Washburn University law student is a member of the National Easter Seal Society board of directors. He was National Easter Seal

Child in 1960 and has served on youth-related committees including the White House Conference on Youth and the Youth Committee of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Kemp was fitted with artificial arms at age two and artificial legs at age three. Since then there have been no limits to his accomplishments; he had one of the largest paper routes of any youngster in his childhood community; was student manager for his high school sports teams; and became vice-president of his senior class at Georgetown University. Says Kemp: "In day-to-day living, I was never regarded as handicapped and thus I have never felt that I am." Kemp's talk will concern today's youth and what they should do for the handicapped.

Entertainment at the dinner will be provided by the Vagabonds, a student singing group from Doane College in Crete.

The Saturday sessions of "Accent on Youth" will include the House of Delegates meeting at 9:30 a.m., a youth panel, and the awards luncheon.

"This year's annual meeting promises to be interesting and rewarding. Anyone who wants to get involved in helping his handicapped fellow Nebraskans shouldn't miss it," said Nebraska Easter Seal Society President Tom Plummer, Jr., of Ogallala.

Hearing Test for Wayne, Nebr.

Electronic hearing tests will be given at Hotel Morrison in Wayne on Friday, Sept. 22 from 10:30 to 3:00 by Jack Jennings, Beltone Consultant.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to come in for a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular degree of hearing loss. Diagnostics showing aid or those who work and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if he has any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told an aid won't help should have a hearing test and find out about the very latest hearing aids.

The free hearing tests will be held at Hotel Morrison, Wayne, Nebr., on Friday, Sept. 22 from 10:30 to 3:00. If you can't get there on Friday, call or write the Beltone Hearing Aid Service, 1201 Nebraska St., Sioux City, Iowa, phone 258-1960.

The Agent's Angle

by Harold Ingalls

reduces the nitrates substantially on the average to about 50 per cent of that contained as green chop. So the probability of having a nitrate problem is reduced significantly. If nitrates are too high at feeding time, then extremely good management in feeding and dilution of the nitrates with other feeds can result in highly satisfactory performance from the high nitrate forage.

Feeder's Worst Enemy

Mud is the Nebraska cattle feeder's worst enemy in the range problem. This is true even in the drier climate of western Nebraska. The mud problem can be significantly reduced by proper shaping of the lots. August and early September, when lots are rather dry and just ahead of the crop harvest season, is one of the best times of year to prepare lots for a more satisfactory and satisfying winter feeding program.

The ideal lot has a slight slope away from the barn in the range of 2 to 4 per cent. To further improve drainage and to increase the number of days that mud is not a problem, mounds or ridges should be built perpendicular to the bunk. These ridges should come up to the bunk apron and extend well toward the back of the lot. In fact, the ridge and the valleys associated with it are most effective if they comprise the bulk of the lot area.

When the ridge comes up to the bunk apron, cattle do not have to deep mud to walk through to get from their resting area to the feeding area. Ridges need not be really high, but should be fairly wide with a rounding top that contributes to snow removal or smoothing with the blades during freezing weather. The slopes on the side of the ridge, however, may reach as much as 10 to 15 per cent in order to get the moisture off the ridge quickly.

Steep lots should be avoided if possible. Though they may contribute to mud problems rather well, they have the disadvantage that the cattle may expend too much energy in walking from the bottom of the lot to the bunk. It is perhaps more important that they may not eat as frequently as desirable and thus reduce rate and efficiency of gain.

For cattle and sheep rations, the maximum safe level of nitrate on a dry matter basis is considered to be 1.5 per cent potassium nitrate equivalent, 9 per cent of nitrate or 2,100 ppm of nitrate nitrogen. However, much higher levels than this have been fed without harmful effects with careful management.

Management practices that contribute to utilization of high or amounts of nitrates in the forage than indicated above include: slowly adjusting the animals to the high nitrate feed; feeding so that small amounts are consumed several times during the day, providing a balanced ration including adequate vitamin A, and providing an ample supply of clean, fresh water at all times.

Where possible, it is suggested that a high nitrate forage be mixed with low nitrate feedstuffs in order to keep the nitrate content of the ration below the maximum safe level mentioned above. For maximum safety, the high nitrate forage should be mixed with the total ration—not fed separately or at a different time.

Generally, the ensiling process

Social Security

Questions, Answers

Q. I was told to apply for Social Security payments two or three months before I retire, but I wrote to my home town several months ago for my birth certificate and haven't received it yet. Should I wait until it comes before I apply?

A. No. Apply for payments without it. Your Social Security office may be able to suggest some other document which you can use to prove your age.

Make more milk with high moisture GRAIN!

With an automated Harvestore feed processing system, you can harvest your grain early, at peak nutrition, before weather and lodging take their toll. There is less handling. Grain goes direct from field to structure. There is less storage loss. And drying is eliminated. Livestock get a more nutritious and palatable ration, too. To produce more milk without additional land and with less labor, the name of the game is Harvestore and high moisture grain. Make us prove it.

Harvestore Best, Dairy and Hog Tons are being planned now! For details, contact us today.

Big Dairy Show Entry List for Ak-Sar-Ben

The Ak Sar Ben Dairy Show represents the third, final, and most important show of the year for many exhibitors in the dairy project. And 4-H'ers should be getting ready for the Sept. 23 show in Omaha now, according to University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Dairyman Phil Cole.

Entries in district dairy shows were up this year. Cole noted that this year 1,136 head were shown at nine Nebraska district dairy shows, compared with 1,081 a year ago. Of these, 663 qualified to show at Ak Sar Ben. I would expect 400 or more head to be entered at Ak Sar Ben, and normally we'd expect about 360 to show.

Entries in Dairy Herd competition numbered 112, making it the "second largest number of herds ever entered in the shows," comments Cole. A dairy herd consists of three animals of one breed, one must be a cow that has completed one lactation and one animal must be bred by the exhibitor.

A special production class held at the district dairy shows for the first time this year will be repeated at the Ak Sar Ben show. In order to qualify for this class a cow must be enrolled in one of the official testing programs—either DHIA or DHIR, and must receive a purple or blue in her individual class. The cow's owner must present her official 305-day production record to the show superintendent. The top production record at the district shows, reports Cole, was by a seven-year-old Holstein shown at Norfolk that had a 305-day record of 22,930 pounds of milk and 1,044 pounds of fat.

The NU Extension dairy specialist reminds 4-H'ers who plan to enter the production class at Ak Sar Ben that production records will have to be updated since the last show. The contest year at Ak Sar Ben will be September to September, rather than July to July, as it was at the district shows.

Paperwork is an important part of getting ready, urges Cole. He suggests that 4-H'ers make sure health papers, DHIA records and production record books are ready to go. A quick review of the show rules outlined in the premium list is also suggested.

Most animals will need to be re-clipped, states Cole, preferably about two days before the show.

Range Judging Event At Oshkosh Sept. 30

Plans for the 1972 Nebraska State Range Judging Contest, to be held at Oshkosh Saturday, Sept. 30, have been announced by Neal Baxter, state range judging chairman. Registration for the contest will begin at 8:30 a.m. at the Garden County Fairgrounds in Lewellen. Following an orientation session, the field contest will be held (between 9:15 and 11 a.m.) at a site to be selected by the local committee.

Baxter emphasized that the contest is open to 4-H members, FFA members, adult men and women, and professionals in the field of range management.

He also stressed that it is not necessary for participants to have won previously in a county or area contest to be eligible for the state contest.

Participants in the State Range Judging Contest will identify 24 range plants, make range conditions and degree of use determinations on one or more range sites, and determine range management recommendations for one problem site posed by the committee.

Members of the committee making local arrangements include Tom King, chairman, Garden County Extension Agent; Walter Eckardt, district conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Oshkosh; Dean

Lake, chairman of the Garden County Soil and Water Conservation District, and Delbert Namath, executive director, Garden County ASCS. The local committee will be assisted by personnel from the State Extension Service and the State SCS.

Change in SCS Personnel In Dixon County

The Soil Conservation Service Office at Wakefield announces there have been some changes in personnel assignments for Dixon County.

Don Baade, SCS technician, has transferred to South Sioux City and will be serving in Dakota County. He has been replaced by Carl Anderson, formerly from Creighton. Anderson was on the SCS staff in Yreka County for eight years, and assisted with soil and water conservation problems in Dixon County.

Gayle Siefken, conservationist for the Aowa Watershed, is being transferred to Nelson. Siefken has served in Dixon County for 2 1/2 years, and will assume a similar position in Nuckolls County. Because of personnel limitations, an im-

Area Wheat Farmers Can Harvest Benefits

Wheat farmers who didn't sell their crops at harvest can now reap the benefits of an unexpected jump in Russian grain purchases from the United States, according to Dr. Everett Peterson, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension economist. However, he noted that those who did sell earlier got a better price than last year.

Last July, it was announced that the Soviet Union had contracted to buy $750 million worth of U.S. grain over a three-year period. But the poorest harvest since the early 1960's—in both spring and winter wheat—forced the U.S.S.R. into spending not the $200 million planned for this fiscal year, but a whopping $1 billion, most of it in wheat.

World-wide, though wheat crops are not as good as last year, Peterson said he does not feel that the supply justifies holding U.S. prices levels. Specifically, he said drought in Australia and India, and smaller crops in Turkey and Pakistan have affected the world supply. Australia, for example, anticipates only 60 per cent of last year's wheat production.

Still, the U.S. now has a total supply of about 2.4 billion bushels of wheat, of which only about a third will go for domestic use. This leaves over 1.6 billion bushels for export and carry-over.

In addition, Canada planted 10 per cent more acreage, and, according to Peterson, the crop prospects there are "good."

"It doesn't seem to me that we're in immediate danger of running short of wheat," Peterson concluded.

The surprise jump in Russian wheat sales just couldn't be foreseen, he said, but he added that it was "one of those things that make Extension economists who try to make outlook predictions look forward to an early retirement."

Cowboy Kid, Jr. Rodeo Queen To be Selected at Ak-Sar-Ben

A Cowboy Kid and Junior Rodeo Queen will be selected at the annual Ak-Sar-Ben World Championship Rodeo, which begins Sept. 27 and lasts through Sept. 30.

The competition is open to youngsters, seven through 13 years of age, wearing western equipment on mounts of under 60 inches (15 hands). The Cowboy Kid will be named during the 2 p.m. matinee performance Sunday, and the Junior Rodeo Queen will be selected at the 6:30 p.m. twilight performance that night.

Last year's winners were Miss

Shelly Roark of Waterloo and Steven Peek of St. Joseph, Mo.

Judges select the winners under the same rules used in a western pony class at a horse show. Ponies will be shown on both leads at a walk, trot and gallop. Ponies cost 20 per cent; horsemanship, 60 per cent; costume and personal appearance, 20 per cent.

Both the Cowboy Kid and Junior Rodeo receive a beautiful saddle, courtesy of Wolf Brothers.

Entry blanks are available through the Ak Sar Ben General Office.

Four-H Totals 42,707 in 1972

"Four-H is the label, but youth development is the objective!"

This phrase sums up the outlook 4-H has tried to project to Nebraska's young people and apparently has accomplished, according to current enrollment figures compiled from 1972 statistics.

Members totaling 42,707—with girls outnumbering the boys about 2 to 1—belonged to 3,491 clubs. Of these, 559 were new clubs. Four-H leaders number 8,569.

Projects ranging from communications to wildlife encompass the probable interest areas of almost any active, young person. The most popular 4-H project this year was animal science with 22,070 enrolled; and clothing projects ran second with an enrollment of 20,189.

Statistics show that the nine-year-olds dominate the enrollment figures by age. Enrollment by place of residence indicates that 4-H is definitely not an organization just for rural farm areas, points out Wes Antles, state 4-H leader at the University of Nebraska.

Increase in membership of towns under 10,000 population and urban areas show enrollment figures of 11,049 and 8,032, respectively. In spite of a decrease in farm population, enrollment of boys and girls in rural areas is higher today with 23,726 members as compared to five years ago.

The top three enrollment figures by county are claimed by Douglas, 3,033; Lancaster, 2,811; and Dawson, 1,761.

In order to qualify for a Nebraska Master Angler Award, a crapple taken on hook and line must weigh at least two pounds.

Feminine Ingenuity

There is absolutely nothing in the entire world to equal the expression on a machinery parts man's face when he sees the farm Mrs. enter his shop. It is not an unusual situation. Nor is it an infrequent one. And it has undoubtedly happened to every farm wife whose husband broke a piece of machinery. But it is definitely a very unique experience.

Have you ever noticed how the extra men around the parts counter just vanish when they see you come through the door? You'd think you had some contagious disease.

Here you are — on an errand of mercy — and no one wants to help you.

After all the men have vanished between the aisles of parts bins, most likely the owner comes moseying from behind his desk. Well, he'd better! He knows how much money your husband spends annually in his shop.

He tries to smile although you know that he is just as embarrassed as you are about the sudden disappearance of the other men. Ordinarily they aren't men to run at the sight of a female. Except when they know she is looking for machinery parts.

Well, at least you get service from the boss this way. He should know exactly which part you need.

He begins by mumbling some thing about the weather and wants to know if he can help you.

Yes, you need a gear for a return auger. Now that sounded like you knew exactly what you wanted. No problem. He should be able to walk over and just pick it up.

Then he asks a silly question like "What is this auger on?" Oh, yeah, that would help. You forgot to tell him that.

Then he wants to know what year it was made. When he asks a woman about the age of anything, he's asking a pro. It looks to you like it came over on Noah's Ark but you sure aren't going to tell him that.

He carefully and tactfully explains that he has to have an idea about the year it was made in order to be able to tell what type of a gear you will need.

So you give him an estimate. Give or take 10 years.

He patiently nods and scratches his head. Every now and then you hear an audible "hmmmm".

Then he tries to get rid of you by getting technical. Is the gear at the top or the bottom of the auger? Is it a fast or slow gear? You wouldn't know if it had a bachelorette in it or not?

This calls for the utmost feminine ingenuity. There is no other explanation. Because suddenly you are trying to technically and intelligently describe something that you know nothing about.

You know which direction the machine was facing in the yard. And you know which side he was working on. But it is hard to tell if he was at the top or the bottom of the auger. When he wasn't beating on one end he was beating on the other.

And how would you know if it had whatever he called it in it? If your husband would have had it apart most likely he'd have come after it himself.

All you're sure of is that it is a gear for the return auger. Any further adjectives used by your husband to describe it isn't in a lady's vocabulary.

The shop owner grins as he knows those adjectives wouldn't help him to know which gear you wanted anyway. The next question most likely is "How many cogs does it have on it?"

Your gaping mouth and the expression on your face answers him. He sighs in complete disbelief. He gestures and explains that if the gear has, for instance, eight cogs it may be a fast gear and then it may have 17 cogs which would slow it down or vice versa. Or if it has one number when it should have the other number it may not fit at all.

That does it! If everything in there is that mixed up, how in the world does he expect you to know if the big one or the small one makes it go faster? It looks to you like it should be the same all the time. But he shakes his head in the negative form.

You have to admit defeat. So does he.

As a last resort, he shows you a couple pages in one of his parts books. You meekly and doubtfully select the page that looks about like the area that is being torn apart by your husband. Well, it looks like some of it anyway.

Suddenly the filament in your little bulb is ignited! Why didn't you think of it before? So with all the confidence you can muster, you ask "Why not let you take both gears home and you will return the one that doesn't fit?"

He seems so pleased with the idea that you wonder why he didn't think of it himself. Whether either one of the parts you take the correct one, at least you've made him happy by finally deciding what to do.

On second thought, did you make him happy by your decision or your departure?

Scenes From Saturday's Band Day in Wayne

Three area bands were among the 24 parading Saturday before the Wayne State-Emoria game, including the college band. Band Day at Rice Stadium drew a large crowd not only to watch the game but also to spot their favorite band. Photos were taken by Dick Manley, Wayne State. In the two pictures at the top, Wayne High School band marches down Main during the hour parade. In the next row, Wayne State starts the 10:30 a.m. festivities and Laurel follows. Emerson is all smiles as she leads the bands with her baton twirling for WSC. At lower right, various baton twirlers from across the area combine during the halftime ceremonies of the Wayne football game.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 734

An ordinance to require all telephone companies doing business in the City of WAYNE, NEBR., to pay an occupation tax to the city as permitted under the statutes of the State of Nebraska; to provide exemptions; to provide the manner and frequency of payment of such tax; to provide for the right to sue when payments are in default; to provide a date and time when this ordinance shall be in full force and effect; to repeal all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance.

SECTION 1. All telephone companies doing business in the city are required to pay an occupation tax in an amount equal to (13 per cent) of the gross receipts from legally established basic monthly charges collected for local exchange telephone service from subscribers within the city. They shall be exempted from the provisions of this article all receipts for telephone service to the United States Government and its departments, and the City of Wayne, Nebraska.

SECTION 2. Payment of the tax levied herein shall be made four times annually, using the calendar quarter year as a basis for computing the amount due. Each quarterly payment shall be due within forty-five (45) days after the end of each calendar quarter year.

SECTION 3. The occupation tax levied herein shall be paid to the City Clerk as prescribed and he shall furnish a proper receipt upon payment. The amount of payment shall be recorded and created by the clerk to the City General Fund.

SECTION 4. Payments of the occupation tax as prescribed in this ordinance shall be in addition to any other taxes levied on the property of the taxpayer.

SECTION 5. Payment of the occupation tax shall be accompanied by a statement of gross receipts subject to the tax; such statement shall be certified by an authorized representative of the paying company.

SECTION 6. Each succeeding payment of the occupation tax in full pursuant to this ordinance shall entitle any adjustment which is shown on the report provided for by Section 5, such adjustments may include uncollectible amounts or other amounts which cause an increase or decrease in the amount of tax paid in any previous quarter.

SECTION 7. The City shall have the right at any reasonable time to require any telephone company to produce all books and records necessary to verify any report submitted pursuant to the requirements of Section 5.

SECTION 8. In case any telephone company shall fail to make payment of the occupation tax provided for by this article at the time specified for such payment, the City shall have the right to sue any such company in any court having jurisdiction for the amount of such occupation tax due and payable under the terms and provisions of this article and may recover judgment against any such company for such amount so due, together with interest and penalties, and may have execution thereon.

SECTION 9. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 10. This ordinance shall become effective and be in full force in 90 days or at the beginning of the next calendar quarter, whichever shall be greater, following passage, approval and publication according to law.

Passed and approved this 12th day of September, 1972

Kent Hall, Mayor
Dan Sherry, City Clerk

Steering Column

Q. Are trucks becoming more or less important to the economy?
A. More important and dramatically so. Inter-city truck tonnage has more than quadrupled since the end of World War II. Today, three out of every four tons of freight moved in America goes off or part of the way to the consumer by truck.

What is especially noteworthy is the number of products required for day to day living that are delivered almost exclusively by truck—70 per cent of all meat, poultry, dairy products and drugs; 80 per cent of all clothing; and 98 per cent of all fish and seafood products. That's quite an impressive list.

It's 1973, and Chevrolet roofs are opening, seats are swiveling, bumpers are retracting, hatches are flipping up.

Did you ever have so much to talk about that you didn't know what to say first?
We're happy to report that's us for 1973. But since everything must begin somewhere...

Isn't it romantic?
You see that rectangle beaming at you from above? That's a moonroof. Not to be confused with a sunroof. (Although many people will undoubtedly be caught using it like one.) A power roof is available on Chevelle and Monte Carlo, a manual one on Nova.

Bumpers are exciting?
This year's are something to get stirred up about. One of our new bumpers, for example, is built around twin hydraulic cylinders. So on minor impact, the whole system retracts to cushion the shock.

It's standard on all big Chevrolet, Chevelle and Monte Carlo models. Nineteen different models to choose from.

New Nova Hatchback Coupe.

Look what we hatched
You know us for our little Vega Hatchback. Now dependable Nova has one. Which literally makes it half trunk with the backseat down. It's a feature as practical as Nova itself.

We've been thinking about your legs
One of the few things people asked us to improve in our popular Chevelle was leg room in the backseat. Well, your knees will be pleased with the '73s. There's almost 3/4 more inches in the sedans.

So what else is new
Naturally this is only a taste of what's new for '73.

Among other things, we're introducing larger gas tanks for longer cruising range, a new Exhaust Gas Recirculation system, a hatchback for wagons, and a highly refined flow-through power ventilation system.

Plus a reading light for front seat passengers, improved suspension systems, engines that give you performance combined with gas economy, reclining seats and scores of dramatic styling changes.

We invite you to see it all at your Chevrolet dealer's.

(above) Caprice Coupe. Our new uppermost Chevrolet. Its luxury, comfort and quiet ride rival the most expensive cars you can buy. (below) Monte Carlo S Coupe, America's newest road car. With the handling of the finest European cars, and the looks and comfort of an American car.
