

NPPD Plans for High-Voltage Line Explained to Landowners Involved

An informational-type meeting concerning the proposed routing of the Nebraska Public Power District's new high-voltage line from Dakota City to near Norfolk was conducted by four NPPD spokesmen Wednesday night at the Wayne City Auditorium.

Wayne Roelle of Lincoln, chief engineer of transmission and distribution, said the meeting's purpose was to let the people know "what we intend to do, but also to learn from those property owners affected any questions or concerns that they might have."

It was stressed by Roelle that "nothing legally can be accomplished at this meeting—we can not bargain tonight on easements or come to any decisions whatsoever, since the exact route has not even been definitely established."

The four men conducted the open to the public meeting voluntarily and were not required to do so.

The proposed route of the 230 KV (220,000-volt) line is a point south and east of Hoskins, Winfield and Wayne, then north and west of Wakefield to directly north of Wakefield, then diagonally northeast to near Dakota City. A map of the planned transmission line appeared in the Sept. 14 Wayne Herald.

Easement Negotiations
Negotiations with landowners

for easement rights cannot begin until at least 30 days after that Sept. 14 date when the legal notice appeared in The Herald. NPPD, a public corporation and political subdivision of the State of Nebraska, located in Lincoln, hopes to begin construction on the line by the latter part of December and has a target date of Aug. 1, 1973, for completion.

Roelle said that increased electrical demands in the 47 counties and 774 communities presently served by Nebraska Public Power has made added transmission lines necessary. The first lines were 115 KV, but that capacity has been boosted to as high as 345 KV. The proposed line of 230 KV for the area is the second highest in operating voltage.

The charted route for the area line would connect at a point called Twin Church, near Dakota City, and will be into a line serving rural and urban districts in Iowa.

Not 'Locked In'
Virgil Schaefer of Lincoln, transmission engineer for NPPD, was the second person making a presentation. He stressed that "we are not locked into any finalized route, but feel the proposed route is the best after driving in the area, visiting with landowners and taking a number of aerial photos."

He pointed out that several criteria had to be taken into consideration. "We have to avoid urban areas, we try to avoid going over any farm building, we cannot have lines around a 'clear zone' of an airport, we take into account the present usage of land and then have to determine a balancing of all these criteria."

Describing the physical aspects of the structures, Schaefer said two poles are placed side by side, 19 feet apart and 18 to 24 inches in diameter. The height varies from 60 to 105 feet depending on the terrain, and the two pole structures are from 600 to 1,000 feet apart, again depending on the lay of the land. The average, he said, is a 750 foot span, or seven structures per mile.

The poles carry five wires. The two at the top are static or lightning protection wires that dissipate any lightning bolts directly into the base of the pole through a ground wire running alongside the pole.

The three wires at the lower level are referred to as phase conductors, approximately an inch in diameter, the wires consist of steel and aluminum strands.

Poles used in a straight line referred to as tangent, while those where a change in direction is made are defined as angle structures. In the latter case, three poles are needed, one for support of added stress and to anchor guy wires. Several different types of angle structures are used, one for supporting a 6-15 degree angle, another for 15-45 degrees and a third, for 45-90 degrees, which would require a maximum of 16 guy wires.

On the more marked angle, an ease of more than the normal 100 feet would be required, but those angle structures "where at all possible, are placed in pasture land and not cultivated areas," Schaefer pointed out.

He also stressed that easement payments are "a one-time deal only." The landowner and right-of-way purchaser Larry Domeier of Lincoln will negotiate and when an agreement is reached, the entire easement payment will be made within 60 days after completion of the construction.

No 'Yearly Rental'
There is no "yearly rental" when it comes to easements, it was emphasized. The landowner gives up no title to his land and is free to farm that land in future years, but NPPD will have permanent rights, to enter the easement area for an emergency purpose. The landowner may, they added, turn in a claim for any alleged damage caused by NPPD employees. Domeier said that easement payments would be on an individual basis, determined by value.

Peddler's Paradise

Some people might have thought that getting up at 8:30 a.m. Saturday was a little early for the bird to catch the worm. But about 25 bike enthusiasts were ready to brave the chilling air and the early morning hours for the Wayne Youth Association for Retarded Children sponsored Bike-a-Thon. The riders took off from the Wayne National Guard Army and rode to Pender and back for a 50-mile jaunt. The Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees also helped the young peddlers at the start with the Pender Jaycees and Robert and Dian Boals of Dakota City, Madison-Arnold Deering of Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lauver of Battle Creek.

Chamber Electing 3 to Board

Ballots were to be counted Monday (today) in the election of three new members to the Wayne Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Candidates for the Chamber board are Bill Workman, Rowan White, Al White, Richard Sorenson, William Fulton and Dale Gutschall. The three top vote getters from the voting by Chamber members, which closed Friday, will serve a three year term.

Members whose terms expire are Don Mangers, Larry King and Phil Grimes.

New Chamber officers will be elected from the six holdovers, one appointee and three new members at the Oct. 9 board meeting. Robert McLean is the current president of the board and Dr. J. J. Luska is president elect. Other elected board members are Dick Keidel, Dr. Wayne Wessel, Marvin Dunklau and George Thorbeck. Dr. Orvid Owens is the appointed representative on the board from Wayne State College.

Hospital Progress

Developments the past week in the planning for the new hospital to serve Wayne and the surrounding area.

A meeting of the Missionary Benedictine Sisters of Norfolk, the Hospital Foundation and architects, Davis Fenton Stange, Darrington of Lincoln was held at Norfolk, Wednesday morning at which time the floor plan again was reviewed, on a one eighth inch scale. What one spokesman said appeared to be the final revisions in the floor plan were made. At the same time, the architect's first view of the exterior was presented for review and a half inch scale drawing of the work area, in the hospital was presented for study by the hospital staff to see if everything will function properly.

On the local level, preparations are being made to complete the necessary arrangements to allow Hill Burton funds to be made. This includes land for the hospital site, report of assets of the hospital and the amount in the campaign's fund

Journalism Students Study Common Market

David Nordstrand, of 1121 Douglas, Wayne, is one of eight students participating in the London Reporting Program at the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Journalism.

The students, who departed for London Sept. 1, will spend the semester writing stories and articles for U.S. newspapers, focusing on problems associated with British entry into the European Common Market.

The London program is available to graduate students working under Plan B Master's Degree Studies at the School of Journalism, developing professional expertise through actual writing production in lieu of a thesis. While in London, students are supervised by David M. Nichol, correspondent for the Chicago Daily News for more than 20 years, and a UMC assistant professor of journalism now living in England. Advisor for the program is Ralph Lowenstein, professor of journalism at UMC.

The program, in its fifth year, was located in Brussels, Belgium, for the past four years. Lowenstein said that in view of the current focus on the Common Market in London, the program has been relocated to England.

The students will be making a side trip to Belgium and West Germany for 10 days, with Nichol for interviews with Common Market officials. They will return to UMC in mid-December.

Pioneer Farm Families Honored by Ak-Sar-Ben

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Sherman of Dixon, Louis Tolles of Laurel and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Abbs of Belden are among the 124 Nebraska families who will receive Nebraska Pioneer Farm Family awards Monday (tonight) from Ak-Sar-Ben. The presentation will be made at a dinner preceding the 8 p.m. performance of the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show and Rodeo, which opened Friday and runs through Sept. 30.

The Pioneer Farm Family awards are made annually to families whose land has been in the same family for 100 years or more. The recipients were selected by the Nebraska Association of County Fair Managers and Ak-Sar-Ben.

Other award recipients from Dixon County are from Newcastle, Keith and Ruth Addison and Raymond Nelson. Other Cedar Countyans are Mrs. Edward Longe of Fordyce, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hesse Lauer of Hartington and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Westler of St. Helena.

Pioneer farm families from nearby counties: Stanton—Gus, Gene and Anna Bremer of Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Long of Madison; Cuming—Henry and Bettenhausen and Augusta Bettenhausen of West Point and Artwin Lambrecht and Lydia Lambrecht of Beemer; Dakota—Thomas and Mary Walsh Ryan of Jackson and Ralph and Genevieve Boals and Robert and Dian Boals of Dakota City; Madison—Arnold Deering of Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lauver of Battle Creek.

Recipients of Ak-Sar-Ben Agricultural Achievement awards included William Biles Jr. of Pender and William Ehrisman of Beemer.

Glenn Kreuscher, Nebraska secretary of agriculture, was the guest speaker at the awards dinner.

City Employees Attend Meeting

Three city employees, City Clerk Dan Sherry, Power Plant Superintendent Norb Brugger and Street Superintendent Vern Schulz, recently attended the Northeast Utilities Service meeting at Stromsburg.

The purpose of the meeting, Sherry said, was to exchange ideas on the sewage handling and pollution. Guest speaker was Jim Higgins, Department of Environmental Health.

Mishap Causes Minor Injuries

Linda Prim of Wayne was taken to a Wayne doctor for examination following an accident Thursday at 9 a.m. on Highway 35, 2.8 miles west of Wayne.

Her injuries were reported as a bruised left elbow and a bump on her forehead. The Wayne County Sheriff's office, which investigated the accident, said she was west bound on Highway 35 when she lost control while passing a car. Her vehicle went off the south side of the highway and hit the end of a cement culvert, went through a ditch and fence and stopped in a field.

There was extensive damage to the undercarriage of the 1971 model car.

Firm Retained by Majority Vote

Councilmen Polled on City Engineer

Two weeks ago the Wayne City Council, at its last session, passed, on a 6-2 vote, a motion to sign the agreement with Consolidated Engineers as the Engineering consultant for the City of Wayne.

Wayne Mayor Kent Hall, first confronted with a 4-4 deadlock, asked the members to reconsider their vote and ask themselves why they voted in the manner they did. Mayor Hall felt that the motion to retire the engineering firm by Councilman Darrel Fuchelberth was not explicit enough and asked for a revote.

Hall pointed out that the wording of the motion may have misled the members into believing that the agreement was a yearly contract. As it stands now, the agreement may be dissolved by either party any time after a 10-day notice.

After a second round of voting, the majority of the members agreed that the firm should be hired, on the same non-binding agreement.

Interviews
In separate interviews, Mayor Hall and the Council members were given an opportunity by The Herald to express their opinions concerning the merits or disadvantages of retaining the present setup or making a change.

Councilman Fuchelberth explained that he thought the firm does a "good job and there is no reason for changing." Fuchelberth added that the company is "somewhat Wayne located" and makes it handy for the City of Wayne.

"I seconded the motion," said Council Keith Mosley, "because I believe that Consolidated Engineers is a competent group."

"The agreement is not exclusive," Gross said, "we (the council) can hire any other engineer for any other project," providing each party has a 10-day notice.

"It has to be remembered," Gross emphasized, "that the engineer does only what the Council authorizes and directs him to do."

To hire another consultant from another town would not be comparatively as feasible in a monetary sense," he said, nor would it give the city the convenience it now has.

"Consolidated Engineers has an office in Wayne with a sizable payroll. Besides, it does a lot of work for many local towns which benefits Wayne economically."

In looking at the salary level for hiring a permanent engineer, Gross pointed out that the city could hire one for no less than $900-$1,000 per month. "This would not include providing office space and equipment."

Policy Study
Underway at this time is a complete management and policy study that will be completed by the first of the year. "This study will include what the city of Wayne will need as far as the engineering area," Gross said.

"So, rather than changing horses in the middle of the stream, I'd rather stick with Consolidated Engineers."

Council Agenda

The Wayne City Council will deal with the ambulance extension agreement during another heavy agenda Tuesday night.

Among some of the other topics of business are the church parking, Addison Thomas a r p port lease, refuse hauler's contract and a resolution on advertising council meetings.

Office in Town
"We have an office in town which makes it convenient for the councilmen as well as other city officials to get information about city planning at your fingertips."

"If the office were in Lincoln or Omaha three days business information you wanted would be available," Hall said.

Another point Mayor Hall brought out was that the engineers attend the City Council meetings at no cost to the city.

The Council does not demand that the engineers attend the meetings, he said, only in the case of special district hearings or bid openings. In such instances, the city pays mileage expenses.

Many times the Council has asked for maps, and the engineers would only charge the city about 75 cents for the blueprints. "This is another case of the firm being at our fingertips."

Workshop Registration

A gathering of about 75 people at Wayne State's Student Center Friday quickly filled the halls as the members of the Region 11 and 25 Joint Planning Commission for Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice signed up for various workshops. Included among some of the individual workshops were such groups as police and sheriffs; prosecutors and city attorneys; judges and correctional personnel; mayors, county commissioners and city councilmen; and public at large, including community service groups. Standing, from left, is State Patrolman Allen Jensen, Norfolk, Police Officer Ralph Heckerl, Elgin, Judge Bruce Henning and James O'Dell, Norfolk probation officer. Helping to register the applicants is Richard Fox, one of the guest speakers.

Parking

Parking in the City of Wayne is considered by many to be an endless problem for the driver in search of a parking stall near the place of business the consumer wants to shop.

worthwhile idea expressed by Dr. Wayne Wessel, who pointed out that the city should give parking violators in the downtown district a type of courtesy ticket. The purpose, he said, would be to tell the shopper that he or she has violated the two-hour parking regulation.

Research—for Healthier, Happier Babies, Adults

How many mothers, as they sit down to feed their babies strained or chopped meats, ever stop to think this wasn't always the approved diet for infants? And how many ever really care how much respiration on food and nutrition through the years with the end result of healthier, happier babies, children and parents? Probably not many.

Dr. Bacon F. Chow, at the John Hopkins University, is currently researching the need for high quality animal protein in the diets of pregnant women. There are indications that without the inclusion of some animal protein in the pre-natal diet, infants could be permanently damaged no matter what they are fed after they are born.

The first of 382 research grants it has made over the past 50 years. Because of these research projects, the Board—the non-profit service foundation of the livestock and meat industry—has played an important role in establishing the essential place of meat in the diet and the importance of proper nutrition to good health.

NU Designated by CLEP As Program Test Center

The University of Nebraska—Lincoln has been designated as a test center for the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) which is designed to recognize credit earned through achievement no matter how it is obtained.

The learning needed to score well on the CLEP tests can be gained through a number of avenues, according to Aronson. Correspondence courses, educational types of training programs constitute a few examples of learning that occurs outside of the traditional college experience of regular lectures, examinations, and term papers.

The percentage of babies in excellent health increased dramatically in direct relationship to increased protein intake of the mothers. And as the meat protein intake increased, the incidence of miscarriages decreased markedly.

YARC Planning Busy Program

The Youth Association for Retarded Children (YARC) met Sept. 11 at the Wayne-Carroll High School commons.

The group discussed the Sept. 23 bikeathon, to be sponsored by area riders. Participants plan to ride to Pender and back with proceeds to go toward the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children. A turkey ball will be held at Beatrice State Home-Nov. 12 with all area YARC groups invited to attend. The local youth group is in need of formal dresses and suits for the residents.

The YARC is also planning a toy drive in order to provide children with entertainment. All types of toys are being collected. YARC meetings are held the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7 p.m. in the high school commons. Those interested may contact President Deb Carroll for more information.

Married Sept. 2 In 4 P.M. Rites

Now at home at 4823 Colfax, Lincoln, are Mr. and Mrs. David Olson, Concord, who were married in Sept. 2 rites at St. John's Lutheran Church, Scribner.

Mrs. Olson, nee Suzanne Van Seggern, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Von Seggern. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olson, Concord.

The Rev. Lester Lamm, Scribner, officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony and Mrs. Kenneth Sukraw and Janette Schroeder, both of Bennington, sang, accompanied by Mrs. Wilbert Von Seggern, Scribner.

Marilyn Von Seggern, Scribner, was maid of honor and Elaine Oellermann, Wolbach, was bridesmaid. The bridegroom was attended by Ardon Olson, Concord, and Randy Patfield, Lincoln. Ushers were Allan Hanson and Dale Magnuson, Lincoln, and Randal Von Seggern, Fenton, Mich.

Candles were lighted by Donald and Glenn Von Seggern, Scribner, and Doug Olson, Concord, was ringbearer. Sara Schmidt, Moorhead, Minn., was flowergirl.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Schmidt, Moorhead, Minn., and the Rev. and Mrs. Myron Von Seggern, Fenton, Mich., served as hosts to the reception held at the Scribner auditorium following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Cheryl Keefe, Lincoln.

The bride graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1972 and is employed by Fabric Village, Lincoln. The bridegroom is also a 1972 graduate of the University of Nebraska, and employed by Lancaster Implement at Waverly.

Crusade Scheduled

The Lindquist Brothers, a nationally known musical gospel team, will appear for a "Life Begins" crusade at the Concord School auditorium Oct. 1 through 8 at 8 p.m. nightly.

The evangelist brothers, Royall and Edsel, will present musical selections which will include vocal duets and solos to the accompaniment of electric guitar, banjo, mandola and accordion, a new instrument which combines accordion and organ.

The brothers, besides serving as evangelists, have been pastors, youth directors, chaplains and have done radio and television work.

Their tours have taken them to South America, across the United States and Canada and to Alaska where they flew 8500 miles in a small aircraft, conducting meetings in small Eskimo villages and larger cities.

Both brothers graduated from Trinity Divinity School at Chicago and Royall is also a graduate of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The Lindquist Brothers will present a Christian crusade at the Concord School auditorium, to which the public is invited.

Wayne High Shuts Out Neligh, 20-0, For Third Victory of Grid Season

The old No. 13 jinx didn't faze the Wayne Blue Devils Friday night as they posted a 20-0 victory for the second week in a row, this time against Neligh, their first game of the season on the road.

At Hansen's club now is 3-0 for the year and winners of the last 14 in a row, spanning over three seasons. Equally impressive is the fact that the Devils have given up only one touchdown, that in an 48-6 season opening romp against Madison. Last week's victim was Wisner-Pilger.

Wayne's offensive m a c h i n e gobbled up 370 yards total, 233 of those in a ground attack, despite the fact that 175 yards in penalties were walked off against the visitors. Neligh had only seven first downs and 90 total yards.

Quarterback Marty Hansen, who piloted two of Wayne's three touchdowns, had a slow night in the air, completing only four passes out of 15 attempts.

The sophomore signal caller gained 87 yards in those four completions, one of which was a 37 yard TD pass to End Randy Nelson in the third quarter for the locals' second six points.

Wayne's Shane Giese racked up the team's first score on a 15 yard sweep with a 52 left in the first half. The PAT by John Thavon was good for a 7-0 lead.

Late in the third quarter for Thavon boosted the score to 14-0 with Thavon hitting his seventh straight in the extra point department.

Coach Hansen praised his defense, noting that the unit faced a varying Neligh offense that used a lot of reverses and double crossbacks.

The Neligh team never penetrated beyond Wayne's 20 yard line, but the head mentor said the Warriors offense never quit.

In the fourth quarter the Blue Devils added their last TD on a nine yard run by Hansen. The scoring drive was set up on three plays that covered 47 yards. A 15 yard penalty set the ball back but the Wayne team bounded back to score with 7:18 remaining.

Thavon, in his attempt to convert his ninth consecutive PAT, slapped the ball into the goal post to end Wayne's total at 20, and the soccer type kicking specialist's string at seven.

Tom Frahm collected 11 tackles to lead the defensive unit with Nelson and Larry Shupe following at 10.

Freshmen Hit Laurel

The Wayne High School Freshmen football team boosted its season mark to 2-0 Thursday with an 8-0 win over Laurel.

The Wayne squad, under the leadership of Ritch Workman, scored on a three yard play to break the scoreless deadlock in the third quarter. Pat Kalleite then added the two-point PAT to end the scoring.

Freshman Coach Don Johnson said his defensive unit did an outstanding job in preventing the Laurel team from scoring.

Defensive men Les Thompson and Workman were credited with two interceptions to thwart Laurel's scoring attempt, once within the five yard line.

Other defensive men given credit by Johnson were Larry Creighton with 15 tackles, Bryan Frevort and Rod Kuhn-henn, with 14 tackles each, and Workman with 10 tackles.

Two-point Conversion the Margin In Wakefield's Defeat by Pender

The Wakefield Trojan defense which had held its first two opponents to an average of 35 yards total offense per game, while recording two consecutive shutouts, finally yielded its first touchdown of the season after 11 quarters.

Terry Simonson of Pender and it was enough to tip the Trojans, 8-7, in their home opener Friday night.

The game had been billed as a Trojan victory, based primarily on the merits of the Trojan defense, but the Penderogs were still smarting from the 12-13 loss to Tekamah Herman last week of Pender.

The first quarter was anyone's game as the defenses dominated, with neither team mounting much of an offensive threat.

After an exchange of punts, Wakefield was unable to move the ball and Kirk Gardner punched the Pender ball to the second quarter.

Barry Mabie fumbled the punt, punt and punt. Ulfert recovered the ball on the Pen dragon 12 yard line. Three of his punts rolled less than 10 yards, but the 10 yard punt to Gardner set the Trojan offense on fire.

Bob Twite's field goal attempt was long enough, but sailed wide to the left and the punt hit Penderogs took over on the 20 yard line with the score still knotted at 0-0.

Again the defenses dug in and punts were exchanged. On the next Penderog offensive series, Trojan Cornerback Doug Fischer intercepted a Mabie pass on the Pender 42 yard line and returned the ball 10 yards to the Pender 32 yard line with 55 seconds left in the half.

On the first play, Doug Soderberg found Pat Nicholson roaming loose in the Pender second down for eight yards to put the ball on the Pender 22 yard line. An outside punter against Pender was accepted and the Trojans had a first down on the Pender 19 yard line as the first half was running out.

On first down, Soderberg again found Nicholson running loose and a pass interference call on Pender put the ball on the Pender 10 yard line with a first and goal with 29 seconds left in the half.

The first down play saw Full back Gardner find a gaping hole in the Penderog line for 22 yards to the Pender three. With a second and goal from the three, Gardner bulled into the end zone, shedding tacklers to put the Trojans on the score board at 6-0.

The extra point by Twite split the uprights and with 19 seconds left in the half, the Trojans enjoyed a 7-0 lead. Twite kicked off and Pender was unable to move the ball and time ran out in the first half.

The third quarter opened with Wakefield starting a drive, but was stopped by an interception by Jan Webster on an attempted Soderberg to Nicholson pass.

Once again the defenses still-stand and forced an exchange of punts. As time was running out in the quarter, Gardner punted the ball away.

Floet Webster bobbed the ball, but the pigskin bounced back into his hands and Webster was off to the races. All the Trojans had at least one shot at Webster as he scampered down the sidelines and only a diving effort by Steve Kay bumped Webster out of bounds at the Trojan 20.

Main play of the Penderog offense, the 13 yard punt, rebounded into the Trojan line to put the ball on the Wakefield three

WHS Back Looks To Basketball

The fact that Senior Doug Sturm isn't on the playing roster for this year's Wayne High School football team isn't any thing really new.

And the fact that the Devils fullback isn't going to play football this year may not be new to many people in the area.

But the fact that the six foot, 170 pound lad may be in shape for the upcoming basketball season, may be new to a lot of people.

Doctors discovered in earlier lab reports that the 17 year-old youth had internal bleeding, causing him to miss preseason practice.

Later, the doctors realized that the bleeding still was continuing after a few weeks and ordered Doug to a Sioux City hospital for further tests.

After a recent biopsy, doctors are still not sure of the direct cause of the bleeding.

But the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sturm is not giving up. And neither are the doctors.

A sketchy report notes that Doug's condition is improving, even with an enlarged spleen that is almost twice its size.

After a few weeks rest, Doug should be back in good health, the doctors said, providing that the lab tests prove negative.

Although Doug has lost about 18 pounds, the youth is determined to put it back on and start to get ready for the upcoming basketball season. "If the tests show no bad signs," he said, "then I can play basketball as well as other sports."

Two other Wayne players, Gordon Cook, who sustained a broken arm and Ron Magnuson, with an ulcer, will see action, said Coach Al Hansen.

Cook's cast came off Thursday and the rumor is expected to play in the B team game against South Sioux City Monday (10 night).

Magnuson, the coach continues and returned to action briefly against Wisner Pilger.

Playoff Champs

Team 19 in the Hackers division of the Wednesday Night Golf League won on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Wednesday afternoon to take the playoff championship over Team 22. The two foursomes tied at the end of the regulation nine holes, 2-2, with Team 19 winning one and tying in three other sudden-death matches on the first extra hole.

Trio of Hartington Touchdowns In Fourth Period Spills Winside

Hartington scored three times in a seven minute and 49 second span to turn a 6-6 deadlock into a 24-6 romp over Winside Friday night in a game on the Harting-Jon sod.

Both clubs had 11 histories entering the Friday game.

Hartington was the first to enter the scoring column on a two yard run by Dave Wetling, set up on a brother act pass of 37 yards from Quarterback Mark Hegerit to Todd Hegerit.

Winside locked it up at 6-6 in the second when Scott Deck sneaked over from the one, this touchdown, too, as a direct result of an aerial game. Deck had connected with Larry Langenberg on the overhead play, good for 33 yards.

The only scoring threat in the third period was issued by Winside which seemed to be touch-down bound, only to have a pass intercepted at the Harting 10.

Wetlingfield was credited with 50 yards during the Hartington 70 yard drive which resulted in the hosts' first of three fourth period failures.

Fullback R. O. L. Peterson took a pass from Mark Hegerit for the final eight yards to put the hosts on top by 12-6.

A couple of costly penalties were the big factors in the second Hartington six pointer of the quarter. Winside had punted on fourth down, was assessed 15 yards for a personal foul, and another 15 yards was walked off for unsportsmanlike conduct, placing the ball on the Winside 16. Three plays later, Wetling led scored from the 10, and with still four minutes left in the game, the score mounted to 18-6.

The final score of the evening came with only 1:25 remaining, with both clubs making liberal use of their substitutes.

Randy Evans, substitute Hartington fullback, raced 33 yards to wind up the scoring.

Hartington had an advantage of 13:7 in first downs and 244 yards to Winside's 134 in total.

Ponca's Bob Curry (22) puts a biting tackle on Allen's Tim Hill, causing the junior fullback to fumble the ball. The miscue set up Ponca's first touchdown en route to the home team's Homecoming victory, 22-14.

Allen Defense Crumbles

Ponca Tribe Scalps Eagles, 22-14

By Bob Bartlett
The sound of the war drums echoed in the heavy misted air over the town of Ponca. The natives, it seemed, were restless for a win. And so the Ponca Indians went on the war path in search of Eagles feathers. It didn't take long for the Ponca 11 to find its mark. Friday night as the home team ripped off a 22-14 win over the Allen ball club.

Allen Coach Charles Haag saw his team put the first seven points on the board on a one-yard plunge by Craig Blohm, with 1:50 left in the first quarter, in hopes of Allen's second win of the season. But with the start of the second stanza the Indians cried a war whoop and raced to the Allen goal line and into the end zone with 7:11 remaining in the half.

Six plays later Ponca found pay dirt with a one-yard scalp by Bob Curry for a 7-6 deficit. But the strong Ponca team would not settle for seven and decided to run it in to score two points, again by Curry. The score stood at 7-7.

After the kickoff, Allen found itself in trouble again when Blohm fumbled a returned kick off to set up the Indians at the Eagle 47-yard line. Ten plays, plus two penalties later, the tribe scored another TD on a one-yard quarterback sneak by Senior Dennis Hurley with 2:10 left in the first half. The Ponca 11 then scored another two-point conversion on a pass to End Don Mohr to head into the halftime with a 16-7 bulge.

Coach Haag's sagging defense couldn't muster a strong stand against Ponca's shotgun offense. Although the Indians could only tally 133 total yards, their end runs proved to be more devastating than the statistics show. Hurley kept his teammates on the ground most of the game, throwing nine times and completing only two aerials. The two passes accounted for 12 yards.

In the second half, both teams played even ball during the third quarter. Allen continued its lumbering streak, losing possession three times. But the Eagles finally got together with a 46 left in the game to pull within two, 16-14. The Eagles took the ball on their own 35-yard line after stepping Ponca on fourth and two. A daring fourth and nine pass play on a fake punt closed the margin when Sophomore Paul Snyder went into punt formation but passed instead to End Pete Snyder, all alone in the right field area of the secondary.

Pete carried the ball to the 15-yard line before being dragged down. Two plays later Blohm dashed across the goal line standing up for Allen's 13th point. The PAT was good. But the Indians began to do their war dance again, shouting to the heavens for another TD. With 1:37 left in the game, that cry was answered when Curry ran 35 yards around right end to close the scoring at 22-14. Ponca's record is 7-1.

Although Allen, now 1-1, ran up the most yardage at 249, the visitors also tallied the most yardage to penalties at 115 yards. Allen Ponca Experience. That's what Wayne State Coach Del Stollenberg is relying on for his offense to get points on the board against Minnesota-Morris Saturday night. The Wildcats are making some switches in their offensive lineup, the coach said during the Thursday meeting of the second team, with Reggie Smith and Pat Holston combining for the 1 back position. Holston, he continued, probably will play at the end position if he doesn't work out in the 1. Three year man Ken Monroe will take over at the offensive guard spot, adding to the experience Coach Stollenberg hopes to get. Other men seeing duty will be Stan Lewis, a sophomore defensive end, and Ron Coles, a junior defensive tackle. If the switches with their experience can help the other members of the squad, the head mentor went on, then perhaps the offense and defense can jell. In reviewing last week's Minnesota-Morris-Northern S 1 a 16 game, Coach Stollenberg noted that Morris, which lost 17-6, has a big, strong defense.

Laurel's Win String Snapped By Unbeaten, Fast-starting Pierce

Laurel spotted Pierce two quick, first-quarter touchdowns and the handicap was too great for the Bears as they fell, 32-12, Friday night in a game of unbeaten clubs on the Pierce field.

The Blue Jays scored twice in the first six minutes before the Laurel club could adjust its defense and cover up the weak spots found by Pierce.

Cracking the ice first was Dave Timperley, a 205-pound senior fullback, on a 37-yard scamper and a two-point conversion on a run. Neil Schulz talked the second TD for the hosts on an eight-yard run following a Blue Jay sustained drive. Timperley again ran for the PAT for a 16-0 Pierce advantage.

Laurel shaved the difference to 16-6 in the second period when Keith Olesen juggled the mail from the three-yard line after the Bears had recovered a Pierce fumble on the hosts' seven.

Wayne State to Face Strong Morris Defense

Against Emporia last week, the secondary intercepted two passes. Freshman Ken Ridley took one aerial, while Holston grabbed another. Ridley, it was pointed out, has a good pair of hands and could improve this fall.

The Wildcats last week lost Tailback Tim Denham. Coach Stollenberg said the 6-3 sophomore suffered a knee injury and will be out for the remainder of the season. Monday (Tonight) the junior will play Morningside in a 7:30 game at the Wildcats' field.

Other men seeing duty will be Stan Lewis, a sophomore defensive end, and Ron Coles, a junior defensive tackle. If the switches with their experience can help the other members of the squad, the head mentor went on, then perhaps the offense and defense can jell.

In reviewing last week's Minnesota-Morris-Northern S 1 a 16 game, Coach Stollenberg noted that Morris, which lost 17-6, has a big, strong defense. The average weight of the tackles range between 250-260 with the ends scaling 230 pounds. The Cougar defense sets up in a pro 4-3 with the secondary labeled as "mobile".

For the offense, Stollenberg said the Morris club likes to go for big passing game, with some running. Last week the Cougars ran 64 plays, 30 of which were through the air. Defensive Coach Don Pale added that his men "will have their hands full".

Against Emporia last week, the secondary intercepted two passes. Freshman Ken Ridley took one aerial, while Holston grabbed another. Ridley, it was pointed out, has a good pair of hands and could improve this fall. The Wildcats last week lost Tailback Tim Denham. Wildcat Punter Tops NAIA Kicking Stats

Wayne State football players are credited with some top-ranking statistics, despite their team's winless first two games. Wayne's kicking stats show Wildcat punter Kirk Park as NAIA with an average of 51.8 yards on five kicks. In Nebraska NAIA statistics published before this week's game, Wayne End Gary Marzens led in pass receiving yardage with 407 yards, and Park led in state puntling average reported by six colleges. Quarterback Rick Benedette's passing ranked third at 83.5 yards a game.

Among other individual leaders in Nebraska, Charles McWarner of UN-OMA topped the rushing at 138.5 yards a game and the scoring at 30 points total. Kearney's Randy Evans led passing on a 119-yard average.

Hunters Set Sights on Waterfowl

Waterfowl hunters will make their first outings of the year on Oct. 1, opening day of Nebraska's 1972 goose season. The entire season will be open for blues and snows. However, Canada and whitefront shooting is closed in a portion of the Sand Hills. Most activity will probably occur along the eastern border, a favorite route of migrating blues and snow geese. Goose hunting will pick up in the west later in the season, as a Canada's move through that portion of the state. Waterfowlers have a several new regulations to keep in mind this season, reminds the Game and Parks Commission. These include a smaller bag limit, a three-day split in the season, and a different bag limit on Canada geese after Dec. 3.

"Overall bag and possession limit this year is four geese, one less than last year. The daily take may not include more than one Ross' goose, two Canada geese through Dec. 3, or one whitefront and one Canada, starting Dec. 4, the daily bag limit on Canadas drops to one and the possession limit will be two."

The 1972 season will close temporarily from Oct. 30 through Nov. 1. Goose shooting ends at sundown on Dec. 14. Sunday, Oct. 1, was the earliest date allowed by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, despite requests from the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and conservation agencies of other states for a Saturday opener.

Nebraska's duck season begins close on the heels of the goose kickoff, opening Oct. 7.

Hawk Invasion Starts Late September

The hawks are coming, not in bunches of 100 or 200, but singly or in pairs, as they work their way toward more southerly wintering grounds. Unlike the sudden invasion of waterfowl each fall, hawks gradually build up from late September to mid-October. Some of the hawk birds winter here, but most have gone by early November.

Swinson's hawks, summer-time residents of the state, have already begun leaving for their winter quarters in South America. Sparrow hawks and marsh hawks are now arriving. Shortly thereafter will come goshawks, red-tailed, rough-legged, Cooper's, and sharp-shinned hawks. A few golden eagles may also show up soon, but bald eagles will follow much later, sometime in December.

All of these hawks and eagles are now protected by federal and state law. Anyone shooting or otherwise harming one of these birds may be subject to fines up to $500 and a year in jail under the federal law.

Allen Leads L-C Teams In Conference Passing

The Allen Eagles currently rank number one in the offensive team passing department last week, according to statistics released by the Lewis and Clark Conference. Secretary Neil Comp put the Eagles at an 82 per cent completion mark with their quarterback, Dan Wineside, ranked sixth of the top 10 passers.

Von Minden, who connected on nine of 11 throws, piled up 182 yards in the team's first encounter, with Wineside. The Eagles won that game, 20-14. Another area head caller, Scott Deck of Winside, placed ninth among the conference quarterbacks. Deck totaled 100 yards in two games, but completed only six of 22 passes.

Wineside again ranks ninth for offensive team passing. In the individual rushing marks, the Wildcats' Larry Weible takes over seventh place of the top 20 rushers with a 42.5 rushing yard pace for two games. His total yardage mounted to 85, with 9.4 average per carry. Coming in at the 18th and 19th spots were Allen's Craig Blohm and Tim Hill. Bloom's average is five yards a run while Hill is one yard behind at four yards.

Closing out the 20 runners is Dean Krueger, Winside, with a 3.9 yards rushing average. Of the four area speedsters, only Hill has crossed the goal line, getting two TDs. Allen's Charlie Peters and Winside's Ed Lienemann, rank sixth and 14th, respectively, in individual receiving. Lienemann snagged three passes for 27 yards while Peters grabbed four passes for 98 yards. Neither player has caught any of his passes. Again the name Hill pops up in the conference stats with the Eagle player scoring two TDs and ranking sixth in the top ten individual scoring department. Doug Lage, Winside, ranked eighth with eight points.

In looking at the team offensive rushing category, Winside places seventh, averaging 111.5 yards a game for his two games. Allen is ninth with 98.5. The breakdown shows the Eagles carrying the ball 39 times for 98 yards in its single contest. The team averaged 2.5 yards a carry.

Backyard Farmer

What is wrong with a white birch that sprouts leaves and drips sap from holes in the trunk? If leaves yellow on a white birch, the tree is out of its habitat. Once birch is in the declining stage, they are susceptible to borers. Since birch are essentially a wet lowland tree, keep any good branches and roots wet. Spray with Lindane or Sevin but it is probably too late to control borer infestation. At least half of the white birch trees are dead in both Omaha and Lincoln.

How can you tell when a watermelon is ripe? To test for ripeness, thump a watermelon and listen for a sound which is duller than the pre-ripe stage. When the melon starts to ripen, it will begin to get just a little bibring, the color dulls, and veins appear. For some types of watermelon, the bottom will remain white and as it ripens, the white will develop into a creamier white. Of course, the simplest way is to cut it open and look.

Thone Says a 20 Per Cent Increase In Social Security Is Not Enough

Further legislative improvements in Social Security are needed beyond the 20 per cent increase in benefits now going into effect. This increase will be effective with checks due to arrive on Oct. 3," Congressman Charles Thone says.

The increase will raise the minimum retirement benefit for a single person from $70.40 to $84.50 per month. (The minimum is lower for a person who retired before age 65.) The maximum amount that a single person can receive based on many years in the Social Security system with earnings high enough so that maximum deductions were made) will be raised from about $220 to $264 per month.

Minimum benefits for a couple are being raised from $105.60 to $126.70 a month. (If one or both retired before 65, the minimum could be less.) The maximum amount for a couple will be raised from about $330 to $396 per month effective with the October checks.

"Disability benefits have the same range as retirement benefits and will also be raised 20 per cent effective with October checks.

Even the new minimum for a tiny amount when it must be relied upon as a major part of income.

"Legislation I have joined in introducing in Congress, if passed, will insure that each Social Security recipient will actually receive a 20 per cent increase in benefits from the federal government. As our laws are now written, many people will receive a 20 per cent increase from Social Security and will have other government benefits cut.

"I know of an elderly lady who found that she had $1.60 less per month to live on as the result of the last Social Security increase. The net decrease resulted because when her Social Security payments were increased, she was also faced with an increase in the monthly payments for housing for the elderly and with a decrease in her Old Age Assistance grant.

"Other examples of federal benefits that may go down when Social Security goes up are Veterans Administration pensions and Medicaid payments. My bill deals with all these areas and its passage will insure that all Social Security recipients will actually get the full benefit of the 20 per cent increase.

"Another bill I am sponsoring would allow a person to earn more money without losing any Social Security benefits. At the present time, a person can have only $1,680 of outside earnings without jeopardizing his Social Security retirement benefits. My bill would raise that limit to $4,000.

"Physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists and specialists in aging all felt us that a sudden change of $5 from fulltime work to no work is a terrible shock. A better course for both physical and mental health would be a change from fulltime to part time work at age 65. In addition to this psychological need for work, those who retire need some money, since Social Security benefits are still meagre.

"There seems to be no chance that Congress will act this year on the bill to allow greater earnings without reducing Social Security monthly payments. I am very hopeful that it will be acted on in 1973.

"Congress should act on the definitely to insure that each Social Security recipient actually receives a 20 per cent increase in benefits from the federal government. The House and Senate must not rush to adjournment without acting on this matter. We cannot be so cruel and callous of our senior citizens as to give them benefits with one government hand and take them away with the other hand."

WSC's I-Program Goes Third Term

Wayne State College will expand its award-winning international program next year by expanding its Nebraska-British Institute to a full third term.

Norman Nordstrand, director of Wayne's international studies, said the British Institute will divide time between England and Scotland from April 21 to June 9.

Last year the course in Great Britain and similar institutes in Scandinavia and Spain were five-week summer sessions. Scandinavia and Spain institutes will continue next summer.

Nordstrand said the course in Great Britain will offer study in four areas with lectures by British speakers and instruction from Wayne. The areas: Modern British literature, history of England since 1603, comparative education, and British art and architecture. Students can elect up to three subjects for 10 hours undergraduate credit. Special arrangements can be made for graduate credit.

Cost of the institute will be $985, including tuition, a travel bus and train fares in Great Britain, all housing and most meals.

Nordstrand said of the institute: "The educational value of such an experience has perhaps no equal in creating an aware, well-rounded individual." The nearly 600 students who participated in previous Wayne State foreign institutes came home with a "much richer understanding of other cultures—and of their own country," Nordstrand said. Last year the Wayne international program won an Award of Merit from the Association for the Accreditation of College in Teacher Education.

Former Resident Wed In Saturday Ceremony

In Sept. 16 rites at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Fremont, Betty McPherran, became the bride of Wallace Harlung, Hooper. The bride, whose family is formerly of Wayne, is the daughter of Adam McPherran, Wisner Manor and Mrs. Adam McPherran, Fremont. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Harlung, Hooper.

Guests were ushered to their places by Allan Cuda and Ray Wolf, Hooper, and Edward Elton and Jerry McPherran, Fremont. Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Akron, Ia., sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Brian Granquist, Lincoln. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Archie L. McPherran, The Rev. Clarence Harms, North Bend, officiated at the 7 p.m. candlelight rites. The bride chose for her wedding a floor-length silhouette of alamode, fashioned with empire bodice.

Venice lace medallions were scattered across the gown and accented the cuffs of the bishop sleeves and the Victorian collar. Matching medallions formed the hemline border and were repeated on the edge of the full length double illusion veil. She carried dark roses and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were Mary Ellen Kissell, Fremont, who wore a floor-length gown of royal blue chiffon, and June Anderson, Fremont, and Mrs. Allan Cuda, Hooper, whose e-

Friends and relatives called at the First Trinity Lutheran church parlors in Allen Sunday afternoon to honor the 90th birthday of John Kjer. The 2 to 5 p.m. open house reception was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jensen and family, Allen. A son and daughter-in-law, Major and Mrs. Fred Kjer, Norman, Okla., were unable to attend.

A noon dinner was held in the John Kjer home for the immediate family and nieces and nephews from Des Moines, Harlan, Winterset and Walnut, Ia.

gowns were of peacock blue. They wore matching veils and carried blue and white bouquets with red rose accents.

Best man was William Denison, Hooper, and groomsmen were Stanley Harlung, Hooper, and Kermit Harlung, Fremont. The men wore black Edwardian tuxedos.

The mothers of the couple both chose blue knit ensembles with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McPherran, Fremont, served as hosts to the reception held at the church parlors following the reception.

The couple will be at home this week at rural Hooper where the bridegroom farms. The bride is a graduate of Wayne

High School and has been employed by the George A. Hormel Company, Fremont. The bridegroom attended Hooper High School.

Director of Commission on Aging Speaks at Senior Citizen Center

Roy Jensen, executive director of the Nebraska Commission on Aging, spoke to senior citizens at the Wayne Center Wednesday following the polluck dinner. He explained the bills his office is supporting in the Nebraska Legislature such as removal of property tax, state aid for senior citizens unable to meet taxes, and a state school bus law amendment which would provide bus use for senior citizens during normally idle hours.

Hansen also noted that senior citizens should be given the opportunity to be of service in the city, county and state government as is being done in Lincoln already, and reminded those present of the importance of becoming informed about the candidates running in the coming election.

During the question and answer session which followed, Wayne center residents brought up the local problems of transportation and lack of adequate space.

On the kitchen committee were Mary Kleper, Gladys Petersen, Pearl Griffith, Goldie Farney, Goldie Leonard, Mathilde Harms, Emma Soules, Louise Hoeman, Anna Mohlfeld, Elsie Stonewall and Ed Johnson. Sixty were present with Bonnie Liebig, public relations officer from the State Commission on Aging, Lincoln; Mayor Kent Hall and Lynn Amman, head of the Social Service of Region IV, Office of Developmental Disabilities, as guests.

The next polluck dinner will be Wednesday, Oct. 18 with Gail Robert from the social security office in Norfolk, to speak and show slides on Medicare and Social Security.

Twelve were at the center for the Library hour, with assistant librarian Mrs. Wes Pflueger. Books now available at the center include "Shorty," "Spring Came on Forever," "Sister of the Bride," "Who Am I, God," "Justice on the Rocks," "Over the Fence is Out," "Angel Unaware," and "Dutty."

The next library hour will be at 2 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 19. Three books have been donated to the center library by Mrs. Kathleen McGugin, "Wunderful, Wunderful," an autobiography of Lawrence Welk; "The Best of Families," and "My Most Inspiring Moment."

Twenty-six members of the Wayne Senior Citizen Center were present Friday afternoon for the sermonette, "How We Can Work Together as Christians," by the Rev. Doniver Peterson from St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Amanda Owens led and accompanied a group singing of hymns and refreshments were furnished by Anton and Rena Pedersen, Alice Dor-

POLLUTION IS A MENACE TO ALL AMERICANS ...
NOT JUST THOSE IN THE "WRONG" NEIGHBORHOODS

Out of sight, out of mind. Perhaps ugly scenes like this are never viewed by most of us but they do exist. They are a menace, not just to those who live or work in the vicinity of polluted areas, but to all of us. You can't isolate something like pollution . . . it spreads its insidious filth through every level of society, contaminating our air, water, and land today and threatening disastrous consequences for generations to come. We must all mobilize against the elements that contribute to pollution — beginning with the empty beer can tossed out of a car window, to the conditions that permit rat-infested slum areas. Our environment is a precious heritage . . . let's preserve it for ourselves and for future Americans!

51,848 in State Get Food Stamps

An estimated 51,848 Nebraskans received food aid through the Food Stamp Program during June, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest regional administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service.

Participants in 87 projects paid $56,858 for food stamps valued at $1,254,956. The difference of $688,098 or bonus value of the coupons is USDA's contribution to the program. The bonus averaged $1.27 per person, the same as in May.

Doyle said that the program is designed to provide low income persons with more and better food. FNS sponsors the program in cooperation with the Nebraska Department of Public Welfare.

Of the total participants, 23,421 persons did not receive public assistance payments.

Job Interviews

A representative from the Norfolk office of the State of Nebraska Department of Labor, Division of Employment, will be at the Wayne county Courthouse on Wednesdays, Oct. 4 and Oct. 11 from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m.

The employment service official, L. M. Wicks, will interview job seekers in the basement of the courthouse.

Respiratory Disease Meeting at Norfolk

Norfolk will host a district meeting Oct. 3 of the Nebraska Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. The meeting will be held at the Holiday Inn.

The meeting for the day will discuss a discussion about the treatment of all tuberculosis patients following the closing of the state hospital at Kearney.

The purpose of the program is to bring publicity to the general status of the air pollution control program, new information about the risks connected with smoking and the benefits resulting from research activities will all be on the agenda of the meeting, which begins at 9:30 a.m. and continues to 3:30 p.m.

Funds to finance this and six other district meetings through out the state come from the annual Christmas Seal campaign.
