ICY MUSHROOMS formed on the grass after city employees tied a water hose to a tree to flood the ice skating pond near the swimming pool in Wayne last Thursday. Fund Drive At Wakefield Is $30,000 Short

Wakefield area residents will have to raise more than $30,000 in the next few days if they hope to reach their $100,000 goal by Friday.
The money will be used to help build a nursing home near the existing hospital at Wakefield.
A total of $67,700 had been contributed to the fund by early Saturday morning.
The community has applied for a federal loan and federal grant to help construct the facility.

2 Men Await Sentencing

A South Sioux City man and a Carbon, Ia., man were released on bonds totaling $3,500 Wednesday pending pre-sentence investigations during District Court hearings at the Wayne County Courthouse.
Terry Russell of Clarion, Ia., was placed on a $2,500 bond by District Judge Merritt C. Warren after pleading guilty to four counts of forgery.
In another case, Daniel J. Jensen entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering a motor vehicle and was released on a $1,000 bond.

City's Share of Federal Revenue Is $25,230

Wayne will receive $25,230 in federal revenue sharing funds for the first six months of this year, the Treasury Department said last week.
A total of $54,645 will go to Wayne County as its share of the federal revenue monies, according to the figures released by the Treasury Department to members of congress.
Dixon County will receive a total of $68,749 under the plan, with Cedar County receiving $14,663.
The $25,000 Wayne will receive is about $8,000 less than city officials had anticipated, receiving, according to Dan Sherry, city clerk.
The amount the county will receive is about $41,000 less than had been anticipated, Norris Weible, county clerk, said.
The city, county and state are among the approximate 6,000 units of government nationally which will receive less than had been estimated earlier, according to the government.
Total revenue sharing payments in Nebraska for all of 1972 had been estimated at $42.9 million, with $14.3 million earmarked for the state and $28.6 million going to local governments. The state government and local governmental units received $15 million for the first six months of the year.
The Treasury Department said that a more recent survey of the tax efforts of state and local governments, one of the distribution formula factors, has resulted in payment adjustments to many governments.
According to the figures released last week, Wakefield will receive $3,057.
No figures were given for Winside, Hoskins, Carroll, Laurel, Concord, Dixon or Allen.
Council, Officials Tour City Streets
City councilmen and several city officials toured Wayne Wednesday afternoon to familiarize themselves with the conditions of streets.
The tour was held so councilmen and others will be able to update the city's one-year and six-year street improvement program, something done annually.
The street improvement program for the next six years will be one of the subjects on Tuesday night's city council agenda.
The council will also set dates for hearings on rezoning of land along East Sixth Street and rezoning of land just east of the National Guard Armory. The rezoning requests are from persons wishing to build businesses in the areas.
Other items on the agenda include a request from Roy Corryell for rezoning of land along Highway 35 just west of the city.

2 People Hospitalized After Car Accident

Two separate car accidents in the Winside and Hoskins areas about 3:45 p.m. Friday resulted in two Winside residents being treated and released from a Norfolk hospital.
Six-year-old Melissa Farran received head bruises and her brother, Jeff, was treated for facial cuts and bruises when the car he was driving on a county road collided with an auto operated by Willie L. Gary, also from Winside, the State Patrol said.
Fewer Students From Area in Ag College

There are 12 fewer students from Wayne, Dixon and Cedar Counties enrolled in the University of Nebraska Lincoln College of Agriculture this year than in 1971.
Three students are enrolled this year from Wayne County compared to five who were enrolled a year ago, UN-L reports.

In Dixon County the enrollment figure has dropped from 17 to 10, and in Cedar County from 10 to 8.
See Ag College, page 8

According to Trooper Don Matejka of Norfolk, both autos met on the crest of a hill a-mile north and a mile west of Winside. Farran tried to swerve to the right only to have the driver's door of his vehicle torn off before landing in a ditch.
Gary, 70, was not injured. Matejka said.
About five miles east of Hoskins on Highway 35, another two-car accident occurred.
Terry L. Dahkkoetter of Stanton was headed east on the highway, said Trooper Roger Boardman of Norfolk and attempted to make a left turn when another car, driven by Larry G. Bruggeman of Hoskins, sideswiped the Dahkkoetter auto.
No one was injured. Boardman said.

THE DRIVER'S door on this car driven by Jeff Farran was completely torn off Friday after it collided with another vehicle near Winside.

4 Seniors At WSC Rank High

Four Wayne State College seniors received scores ranking among the highest nationally in an accounting test given by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.
Ralph Messenger, Sioux City, scored at the 97th percentile (that is, higher than 97 per cent of those taking the test). Thom as Martin of Moberg, S.D., scored 95; Leon Trautwein of Winside, 94, and Diana Ross of Nehawka, 91.
Dr. Neil Swanson, chairman of the Wayne State division of business, said the percentiles were based on scores of 1,327 senior students who took the test near the end of an undergraduate major in accounting.
Results of the test, he said, help both the student and prospective employer measure his achievement, and the test helps a college compare its course effectiveness with other colleges.
The most recent form of the AICPA achievement test, level II, puts greater emphasis on managerial accounting, cover age of auditing, statistical sampling, operations research and electronic data processing, he said.

Winside Man Hurt in Crash

A 78-year old Winside man remains in a Norfolk hospital with facial cuts, broken jaw and a possible slight skull fracture after the pickup he was driving went out of control and landed in a creek about 5:45 p.m. Wednesday.
Emil H. Danberg was heading east on a county road four miles east of Winside, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's office, when his truck went off the side of the road, into a ditch and down an 11-foot embankment.
About two hours later Danberg was discovered by his grandson, Brad, and taken to the Lutheran Hospital by the Winside rescue unit.

During a short business meeting held Tuesday at the city auditorium, Tuesday Club members gave their vote of approval for undertaking city park improvements.

Trend at Wayne State: Move Out of Dorms and Into Off-Campus Houses

During the past six years, students attending Wayne State College have been setting a trend of their own—moving out of college dormitories and into off-campus apartments and houses.
Statistics released by the college's housing director, office of students affairs and registration bureau show that many of today's Wayne State students are pushing their way out into the city's residential areas for housing.
This year 1,170 of the college's 2,177 students are either commuting to school or living off campus.
But the real facts of the story are shown in the figures for students living on and off campus between the years 1967 and 1971.
In 1967, 1,679 students were living on campus compared to 1,282 off-campus residents. By 1971 these figures were almost reversed, with 1,245 students living on campus and 1,423 living off campus or living at home and commuting.
"Many students," said Don Merriman, dean of student affairs, "are moving off campus to live off campus, mainly because of financial reasons."
"It is the cost of food," he pointed out, "that makes some students feel it would be cheaper to live off campus."
Howard Witt, director of housing, explained that the cost for each student for one semester to live on campus is $366. Of that figure, $159 is for housing while the remainder, $207 goes for food.
The cost of food, the dean went on, is not set by the college, nor can Wayne State reduce the price students must pay if they live on campus.
"It is in the contract with the bonding company," Dean Merriman added, "that the college must have this food program in order to help pay for the costs of the buildings on campus. These campus buildings are built through various bonding agencies. They are not financed through state monies."
Married students living in campus apartments are not required to participate in the food program, he noted, but single students living in dorms are.
The option to purchase meal tickets is available to students residing off campus, the dean added.
Both Dean Merriman and Vivienne Brady, associate dean of student affairs, agree that college enrollments are decreasing through out the nation as well as in Nebraska.
"One reason," Dean Brady pointed out, "is that the demand for college trained kids has decreased—there is an oversupply of teachers."
The increasing need for trade school students is another factor both cited as a probable cause for the college enrollment decrease.
"In the past we pounded into the kids' heads that you had to go to college to make it," Dean Merriman emphasized. "Well, today those same kids are 'unbrainwashing' themselves and realizing that it doesn't necessarily take a college education to make it in this world," he said.
But for those students living on campus, there are changes taking place.
"A lot of students move off campus because they want some of the basic freedoms needed to grow up," Dean Merriman went on.
The dean pointed out that such things as bed checks and hours make the students feel

Graduation at WSC Set for Rice Auditorium

Winter commencement exercises at Wayne State College will be held in Rice Auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 17.
The program will feature music by Wayne State's Madrigal Singers and Concert Choir directed by Dr. Carrell Runstad and the Brass Choir under the direction of Dr. Raymond Kellon.
Music on Wayne's new Edward F. Owen Family Pipe Organ had also been planned as part of the commencement program. However, it was necessary to cancel this when requests for seating exceeded the capacity of Ramsey Theater, where the pipe organ is located.
There are 133 candidates for graduation—three of them with master's degrees, the rest with bachelor's degrees.
Because of the shift to Rice Auditorium, with larger seating capacity, tickets will not be necessary for the families and friends of graduates.

1st $50 Checks Given Away in City

Two Wayne women, Mrs. George Bartels and Mrs. Chris Baier, were holders of tickets which earned them $50 each in the first drawings for cash in Wayne's Christmas Give-A-Way last week.
Three $50 checks will be given away by the Chamber of Commerce this week on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.
The promotion reaches a climax next week when a total of $1,200 in checks and eight bicycles will be given away.
Neither of last week's winners held the first number listed and posted throughout the business area. Mrs. Bartels, who won Friday's prize, had the ninth of 25 numbers listed. Mrs. Baier, Thursday night's winner, had the sixth number listed.
Area shoppers can compare the tickets they have received while shopping in Wayne with those which will be posted in businesses on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday this week.
The person with the ticket matching the first number posted will win the prize if he contacts the Chamber office. If the holder of that ticket doesn't claim the prize, it will go to the person with the next number, and so on until the check is claimed.
Next week $50 checks will be given away on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. On Friday, Dec. 22—the promotion will reach a climax when five $100 checks, one $500 check and eight bicycles will be given away.

Hearing Planned on Bus Schedule Change

A hearing on the change in schedule for the bus serving Wayne has been set for Jan. 23 at 10 a.m. in the Wayne County courthouse.
The hearing by the State Railway Commission will offer any person in the Wayne area affected by the schedule change a chance to either protest or support the change.
Arrow Stage Lines, Inc., of Norfolk instituted the change this summer for its bus making daily runs between Sioux City and Norfolk.
The current schedule includes stops in Wayne at 10:55 a.m. on its way to Norfolk and again at 12:30 p.m. on its way back to Sioux City.
The earlier schedule included stops in Wayne about 8 a.m. on its way to Sioux City and again about 6 p.m. on its return trip to Norfolk.
About 40 persons from Wayne signed a formal protest against the schedule late in November. The protest pointed out that the current schedule makes it impossible for persons to do business in either Sioux City or Norfolk without being forced to stay overnight.

SWAY Checks To Be Given

Wayne area young people who served in the armed forces since November of 1968 are being invited to pick up their $10 check from SWAY Thursday night.
SWAY (Servicemen-We Appreciate You) will give out the checks at 8 p.m. Thursday.
Persons from the Winside and Carroll areas who served in the armed forces since late 1968 will receive their checks at a later date.
SWAY was organized several years ago in an attempt to show men and women in the service that they have not been forgotten at home.

'Oh, Lord! The kids are up in arms and here comes my supervising teacher. . . is this what teaching is really like?'

The alarm clock clattered noisily beside me. "Six o'clock comes earlier every day," I groaned. "I think I'll stay in bed all day or at least until later. I can sneak into class and even the teacher won't miss me."

Somehow I struggled to the homeroom where I was met by four of my male students. "Can we have a pass to the library?" they chorused. "Of course," I replied, glad that my students were finally making use of the library's resources.

Emerson youngsters will present a Christmas program Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the high school auditorium. Included on the program will be songs sung by each of the first six grades and Christmas carols sung by the combined group. Also performing will be the boys' honor choir, girls' honor choir and a fifth grade trumpet trio.

Named vice president in place of retiring Norman MacDonald was Brad Alderman. Dan Hightree will replace Gene Mussen as secretary-treasurer.

The new airport at Pender is almost ready to open, says Dr. John Lanz, member of the Pender airport authority. He said the tentative opening date had been Dec. 1, but that the date has been moved back to allow the finish of construction work.

The new airport has six T-hangers. The runway is 4,000 feet long and the field will be lighted for night operation. It is located west of Pender.

Students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades at Hartington Holy Trinity School were briefed on pol, horse, H. reeds and coke in a course about drugs. The accent during the brief course was not on the use of drugs but on their abuse, according to teacher Kevin Brummer.

Dick Lindberg, publisher of the West Point Republican, wrote this comment about a popular winter sport in his "Nearly News" column in last week's newspaper: "Local coon hunters are looking forward to a big hunting season. They spend a night hunting the coon and then two weeks hunting the dogs."

Demolition of the old railroad roundhouse on the southwest edge of South Sioux City began recently, ending a two-year war between city officials and Cominco American, Inc., a Lincoln-based firm.

The building has been condemned by the city for the past two years because it didn't meet national building code standards; however, the Lincoln firm ignored the city's requests that it be improved or torn down.

Prompting the firm to tear down the building was the state fire marshal's ruling that it was unsafe.

An opportunity for a public hearing on the Department of Roads proposed improvement of Highway 12 from Ponca to Highway 20 at Willis is being offered residents in the area.

Persons wishing a public hearing have to make a written request to the DOR before Dec. 29.

The car kit should contain the following:

- Two or more blankets, sleeping bags or a box of newspapers;
 - Two one-gallon cans with plastic covers or empty three-pound coffee cans for toilet facilities;
 - Supply of wax-coated matches and candles;
 - Extra clothing, such as winter caps, mittens, over shoes and the like;
 - Transistor radio or car radio;
 - Compass, maps, pocket knife, first aid kit and box of facial tissues;
 - Shovel, small sack of sand, flashlight or signal light;
 - Plastic scraper, spare batteries for radio and flashlight;
 - Also worth considering, suggests Roberts, are booster cables, two chain about 20 feet long, fire extinguisher, catalytic heater and a compact alcohol stove.
- Drivers of school buses should carry along these things as well as a two-way radio, additional blankets, several buckets for toilet facilities and a ball of heavy twine for use in marking a route to shelter or tying covering over broken windows.

School board could make public feel more welcome

With a minimum of effort and cost, the Wayne-Carroll school board could make the public feel much more welcome at its meetings.

Board meetings as now conducted leave much to be desired as far as the public is concerned. Members are grouped around a square table with the backs of some members to citizens attending meetings. Discussion is carried on at a level which is adequate for the board but which often is little more than hushed conversation to the public. The board agenda and other written material the board considers during the meeting are given to members but are seldom available to anybody else except the reporter from The Wayne Herald who attends the meetings.

It seems to us that the board would be showing simple courtesy to the public and making a step toward better public relations—if it would make the meetings as open as possible to the public. After all, the board is merely an extension of the public—nothing more, nothing less.

More than one person has commented that the board acts as if it would rather not have visitors at board meetings. We doubt if this is the case. However, the complaints about not being able to hear, not knowing what is on the agenda and the like seem valid.

Purchasing a large semicircular table, or merely arranging existing tables to form a U-shape, would be one thing the board could do to make visitors feel welcome. Making sure conversation is carried on so all can hear would be another. And making copies of the board's agenda and other pertinent information available to all would be still another.

With a little cooperation, businessmen in the Wayne area could have another tax deduction and Boy Scouts could earn a few more dollars during their regular paper collections.

How? By having business firms in the area save all the ledger paper they keep records on rather than tossing it in the waste basket!

The Ledger paper is worth considerably more than old newspapers—$33.50, a ton for colored ledger paper compared to $7 a ton for newsprint. And those businesses who use a great deal of the paper would be able to deduct the value of their contributions just as they deduct donations to charitable organizations.

The only fly in the ointment: it would probably take several small businesses a year to gather a ton of the record paper. Still, the idea has merit. If all businesses in Wayne and the surrounding towns took part, the Scouts who collect paper regularly in Wayne and Laurel would probably find themselves with a lot more money come the end of the year.

Keep Omaha Beautiful, the environmental agency in the state's biggest city, is now conducting a campaign to get firms in Omaha to save their ledger paper. Considering that three firms which participated in a pilot program earlier this year threw away about 1,750 pounds of ledger paper daily, there is a small gold mine awaiting to be tapped there.

A similar drive in this area just might make the Scouts more money than they think.

Johnny Rodgers is a ham. He's also a good football player. One of the best, the best in the eyes of those who should know—sportswriters across the nation.

Football fans this week found themselves arguing with close friends about whether Rodgers, Nebraska's flashy flanker back, should have received the Heisman Trophy, emblematic of his being named the nation's outstanding football player.

Although no great fan of football or Nebraska's Big Red, I think the selection was a good one. Sportswriters were asked to pick the best player in the nation. They weren't asked, as far as we know, to list the actions of the players off the field enter into their decisions.

Besides, it seems to me too much has been made of Rodgers' record off the field. He did pull an armed robbery four years ago when he was 17 years old, he has a 30 day jail sentence hanging over his head for driving with a suspended driver's license and last summer he was arrested—but not charged—for possession of marijuana.

When you look at it, that amount to a serious crime committed by a black teenager from the Omaha ghetto and a driving violation. That's it, for you can't hold a person guilty of something unless he has been tried and convicted.

Although only time will tell, I think Rodgers' off the field record will be a lot brighter in the future.

He had a tough early life and it's probably his credit that his brushes with the law weren't more numerous and more serious. As he tells it: "I grew up in the ghetto in Omaha. I didn't see my real father until I was 17. . . We were poor. We moved like seven or eight times before I was 13. I remember we lived in this big house, like an apartment, but we lived on the sixth or seventh floor walk-up. In the attic. We had two rooms, I had to sleep with my sister. . . Then we moved to another apartment. One room for four people.

And again: "I got into bad trouble one time in my life, made one bad mistake. The gas station thing. I was 17, I'm 21 now. The couple other things were traffic violations. It's surprising that someone from my background hasn't got into more trouble. I had to bring myself up, get up off my back from the beginning. I think I've shown good character."

Until proven wrong, I'll have to take Johnny's inimitable word when he says, "I think I'm an all-right dude."

If he isn't, it's going to be a tough thing to swallow for people all over the nation.

According to the Aurora News-Register: "There are some people in this world who not only demand something for nothing, but they want it gift wrapped."

And from the Glenwood City Tribune in Wisconsin: "Consumer protection are a couple of words I'm getting tired of hearing. We are all consumers and I can't believe we are all stupid all of the time. Sometimes it's fun to buy something that we don't want or don't need and something that doesn't work teaches us a lesson. Every time we get consumer protected the price goes up and the quality goes down or the product goes off the market. I don't want to get too consumer protected. After all it's even dangerous getting out of bed some days, but I don't intend to stay there and worry."

Persons in the Wayne area who do a lot of driving during the winter should consider preparing a "winter storm car kit" for their automobile, advises T. P.

The Wayne Athletic Club is a project inflated by the Jaycees to help the high school pay for its new weight and exercise machine. All proceeds from the membership drive will be donated to the school for that purpose.

The Jaycees are not now nor have they ever been under any obligation to pay for the machine. It has been rumored the Jaycees originally talked the school into ordering the equipment and agreed to pay for it—then left the school holding the bag.

Not true. According to Supt. Francis Haun, the Jaycees are not responsible for ordering the machine or paying for it. He noted that any donations the Jaycees make will certainly be appreciated. But Supt. Haun and the school board deserve a bigger "Thanks" for making the high school's tremendous gym facilities available to the Wayne Athletic Club.

Protests bring results

The complaints from area citizens concerning the change in the schedule for the bus serving Wayne have had some results.

The State Railway Commission will hold a hearing on the schedule change put into effect earlier this year by Arrow Stage Lines, Inc., of Norfolk. The hearing will be held at the Wayne County courthouse on Jan. 23 at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Joceli Bull, director of Wayne Senior Citizens Center, had the city attorney draw up a formal protest to the change just two days before the deadline for filing protests with the state. Before the afternoon was over she has signatures of about 40 persons on the petitions. It just goes to show that making your feelings heard in the proper manner to the right people does have an effect. We're not sure what the public hearing will bring, but at least several residents in the area have made it known that they don't like the current bus schedule.

Close as the telephone

Persons in the Wayne area are being offered the chance to call Lincoln or Omaha without charge to register complaints about faulty goods or services they have purchased or to obtain information about unknown businesses operating in this area.

The Better Business Bureaus in the two cities have acquired the use of a telephone line which can be used by anyone in the state without charge.

The Christmas season is noted for bringing out the worst in disreputable fly-by-night firms who take advantage of the public's willingness to spend extra money for gifts. The next time you think you might have run into one of these firms or the next time you wish to complain about a purchase you have made, simply pick up the telephone and call one of the two Better Business Bureau offices. They might save you some money or help solve your problem.

Many VA Benefits Not Being Used

Many wives and children of veterans and servicemen fail to take advantage of benefits and programs provided by Congress despite Veterans Administration efforts to inform each potential beneficiary.

Harry Piper, director of the Lincoln VA regional office, said educational benefits for wives, widows and children of veterans whose permanent total disabilities or deaths were service-connected are one example of the many benefits available.

Most VA benefits for dependents and survivors of veterans and servicemen are based on at least 90 days of military service. For post-Korean and Vietnam era veterans and servicemen, the requirements for GI home loans and educational benefits is at least 181 days.

The VA official said that full details on these and other benefits for dependents and survivors of veterans and servicemen are available from the VA regional office at Lincoln, veterans service organization representatives and certain county service officers.

Wayne-Carroll School Board Refers Liability Insurance Bids to Attorney

Bids on legal liability insurance for Wayne-Carroll school board members and other school district employees were referred to the school's attorney after a bid opening at the board's meeting Monday night.

The two lowest of four bids submitted were referred to the attorney for examination to make sure they provide the coverage required by the board.

Submitting low bids — for the same premiums — were Dean Pierson of Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency and Wes Plueger of Plueger Insurance Agency, both of Wayne.

The board will consider the bids after receiving the attorney's recommendation. A decision will probably be made on which one to accept at the board's meeting in January.

Board members took no action to increase prices for school lunches served in the system.

The board last month discussed the possibility of increasing the price for high school students because they eat more than students in lower grades.

School lunch prices will remain at 45 cents for a single meal or 40 cents per meal when purchased on a weekly basis for all students in the system.

The board listened to a report on the individualized mathematics program being used in grades kindergarten through sixth during the meeting.

Presenting the program, which outlined the various Hoskins...

methods teachers use in working on a close relationship with the students, were Loren Park, Middle School principal, and Richard Meltzer, West Elementary principal.

The board also viewed a slide program given by Laura Fredrickson, director of media center. The slides were representative of some 575 sites which have collected during the past year depicting scenes in the state in such areas as historical places, farm people and wildlife.

The slides are available for use by teachers in the system.

The board will consider a proposed policy statement concerning handling of controversial subjects in the classroom and will probably take action on the policy at its January meeting.

The policy statement, presented to the board by Superintendent Francis Hahn, would contain guidelines on how controversial issues should be handled in the classroom, noting that the teachers should guard against giving students their personal opinions on sectarian or political questions or any other controversial issue.

Irvin Brandt, board president, said such a guideline is probably necessary so teachers have a better idea about what is proper in such discussions.

Hahn said the school currently has no policy on handling controversial subjects.

In other action the board learned from Hahn that Peoples Natural Gas Co. of Wayne has notified the school that increases for fuel supplied the school amounting to 6.39 per cent will go into effect this month.

DOR: Barricades Must Be Black

The Nebraska Department of Roads has notified all county highway superintendents and city street superintendents that barricades on all federal aid construction projects in Nebraska must be black with reflectorized white stripes.

Occasionally we might hear about something," he said, "but this year the number of such incidents are down."

Vandals Ruin Several Winside Street Lights

The village of Winside is offering a $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of anyone involved in the latest vandalism to the town: shooting out street lights.

Kenneth Macke, street superintendent, said three times in the last two months two different lights have been shot out with high powered rifles.

"The cost of the lights," he added, "is about $65, and we do not intend to replace them if they are shot out again."

Macke stressed that the reward is offered if the suspect is caught in the town. "Whoever is responsible will be prosecuted to the fullest extent," Macke noted.

According to Cal Comstock, manager of Wayne County Public Power District, not too many lights have been shot out in the Wayne area, but he has heard of quite a number damaged in the rural Winside district.

Show You Care With Thoughtful Wrapping

By Myrtle I. Anderson

If you put some thought and ingenuity on packaging, come Christmas time, you can make even the smallest gift look like a million. To wrap the gift so it carries the impression you cared doesn't require great skill; nor need it be expensive. Neat, trim wrappings, topped by glamour, require only a roll of shiny, white, shell paper, gummed tape of different colors and translucent tape, a few holly leaves, odd pieces of ribbon and last year's Christmas cards. And scissors and glue and you are in business!

Assemble your working materials on a wide, smooth surface such as the kitchen table. To wrap a boxed gift, place the box upside down on the shell paper that has been cut to size with enough at either end to lap over 1/2 of the depth of the box. Fold the paper down the center back and seal along the entire length with the translucent tape. Keep paper taut, while wrapping to avoid wrinkles. For the end flaps, with your finger tips, press the paper firmly in from the sides of the box and the flaps almost create themselves. Fold them over each end of the box. Seal with tape.

On round boxed gifts, tissue wrapping usually works best. The box now is ready for decoration. Here's where last year's Christmas cards can supply cut designs such as holly, bells, poinsettias, snowmen, pine cones, stars, etc. Keep a central idea in mind as you apply designs and ribbon ties. A three dimensional look can be achieved by cutting a design such as a Christmas tree from the card and making paper strips 1/2" x 2" which are folded to form a neat resembling a "Z". Attach the design to the package by gluing one end of the strip to under side of design and the other to the package.

Holly leaves, fresh or artificial, a few tabs of brightly colored ribbon and odd Christmas ornaments can be combined with colored gummed tapes for unusual effects.

If you're giving a small gift to a farmer or sportsman, wrap it in a new red or blue bandana handkerchief. For a gal with a house, wrap up presents in enough gay gingham or percale for a luncheon set.

Job openings listed with State Employment Services are now increasing at an annual rate of about 550,000 a year. For five years, ending in the fall of 1971, job listings had been decreasing by about 150,000 each year. Non farm jobs offered by the Employment Service in the year ended June 30, 1972, totaled 6,336,000. This was 6.1 per cent more than the 5,971,000 listed the previous year.

WINSIDE STREET superintendent Kenneth Macke dispensed one of the street lights shot out in Winside. Approximate cost of one light, he said, is about $65.

Night Before X-Mas

(Editor's Note: The favorite Christmas poem was altered by Mrs. Clara Leopold as a reminder to keep the holiday season a safe trifle. Mrs. Leopold, now retired, served as extension home management specialist with the University of Nebraska, and the poem originally appeared in her news letter.)

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house
Not a light was left burning, the fuse had burst out.
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
But the wiring was in a sad state of repair.

The circuits already had been way overloaded
So with Christmas lights added, the fuse just exploded.
These folks were aware of the sad wiring condition
But still they neglected to call the electrician.

In order to have lights burning 'til dear old Saint Nick
Behind the fuse went a penny, lights came right quick.
Then off to their beds the whole family hurried
The bright lights were burning so they were not worried.

They lay asleep dreaming of the day just ahead
While the wiring began glowing a dull flaming red.
Soon in the night there came such a clatter
They jumped from bed to see what was the matter.

They peered through the window expecting Santa on high
And to their great surprise they saw sparks in the sky.
Improper wiring had set the whole house aflame
So Christmas for this family became one of pain.

The penny inserted to take the place of a fuse
Is a practice that no one should use.
And big fuses too can be just as bad
They take away protection that so easily is had.

So as Christmas approaches with the joy it brings
Of children and family, friends, toys and things,
Make sure of your wiring, and please do it quick —
Then, instead of fire you can welcome Saint Nick.

as if they are being programmed for conformity instead of being permitted to grow up and develop their own characters.

"At Wayne State we are eliminating some of the Mickey Mouse stuff," he said, "and are opening up to these basic kinds of freedoms students need."

Associate Dean Brady said that the school has eliminated hours for women students attending college. "We're not making the school and the dorms into a playground, but we're developing more of a grown up atmosphere."

No figures were available from the registrar's office concerning off-campus population in fraternity and sorority houses.

A check with the Greeks revealed that most of the house populations have been stable through the past two years.

Crucial Free Throw Shooting Saves Blue Devil Win

SCORING TWO. Randy Nelson adds an easy layup in rolling to his 15 points he collected in Friday night's game at Wayne State's Rice auditorium.

WAYNE'S LARRY SHUPE (32) and Bill Schwarz battle for the rebound while Emerson's Randy Mayberry (41) looks on.

KEVIN KEENEY (45) of Emerson and another teammate try to put the squeeze play on Shupe in third quarter action. Randy Nelson (24) watches while Pirate Jim Sullivan (23) studies what the Blue Devil center plans to do.

By BOB BARTLETT

Free throws turned out to be the life saver for Wayne High Friday night.

The home squad made five of its seven points in the fourth quarter on free throws to give the Blue Devils their first win in two starts, 56-52 over Emerson-Hubbard.

Coach Bill Sharpe said after his team's first win, "I think it was the pressure of the game, knowing that we were favored to win this one, that made our boys a little tight."

Wayne's defense opened up in a man to man formation, but the Pirates soon got by that on the hot inside shooting of center Randy Mayberry.

The 6-3 senior veteran pumped in an impressive 31 points for the night as the tall shooter zipped in and out of Wayne's switching defense.

"We should have stopped him," the coach shook his head. "We should have played him a little tighter."

The Blue Devil first couldn't find the range in the first period when the Emerson club applied a collapsing zone defense that limited Shupe to one point in the first half.

The Pirates continued the defensive strategy throughout the first half, forcing the Wayne team to shoot from the outside.

"This was part of our plan," Sharpe went on. "Since we were blocked from the inside, the team was to keep shooting from the outside, hoping to bring out the Emerson team."

In the second period, the team suddenly exploded with quick shooting and a strong defense to outscore Emerson by 24 to 19 and trailed by one, 34-33, going into the second half.

Nelson set fire to the Blue Devils in the second period, pumping in 11 points while Hansen added six.

Wayne kept the momentum alive in the third period with a six point lead, 49-43, on balanced scoring. Then the rough quarter hit the Blue Devils.

Tod Bigelow hit a jumper from 10 feet out for the team's only basket, forcing the quintet to rely on the foul shooting to master the first victory.

Coach Sharpe lauded Saul, who substituted for Shupe in the second and third quarters, and Hansen as "excellent" play makers in helping the club rebound.

"I wasn't disappointed in the way our team looked overall. The boys started playing like a team," Sharpe said.

Emerson's Mayberry, the team's only returning veteran, had six in the first, hit 11 in the second quarter, nine in the third and finished with five in the fourth.

In the reserve game, the Wayne five ripped off 53 points to Emerson's 26 on the hitting of Kerry Jech with 12 and Kim Baker's 12 for the reserves' first win.

WSC Evens Grappling Mark With Strong Win

Wayne State wrestlers fashioned a decisive win, 27-9, over one of their toughest rivals, Morningside College, at Wayne State, Wednesday night.

Heavyweight Ron Coles frosted the victory cake with a 7-25 fall over Jim Boyd after 190-pounder Dennis Reid put Wayne out of reach with his 11-6 decision over Kelly Greene.

The dual win, evening Wayne's mark at 1-1, was the first over the Chiefs since 1968 in duals and triangulars although the Wildcats have placed higher than Morningside in most four-nations where they clashed.

Senior Kent Irwin, 134-pounder from Council Bluffs, Ia., kept his Wayne record unblemished with a fifth win, 3-2 over Rick Nuss. Another Council Bluffs product, Steve Gregory, also is unbeaten at 4-0, but has one drawn on his chart. He decided Curt Matti son, 4-2, at 158 pounds.

Two-time NAIA champ Ken Monroe at Arlington Heights, Ill., and Larry Kersten of Harlan, Ia., a transfer from North east Missouri State, both are 4-0 on decisions over Chief foes—Monroe 6-2 over Steve Newhard, Kersten 5-2 against Randy Thomas.

Coles, of Indianapolis has a 3-1 slate; Reid, of Dewitt, Ia., 3-2. Wayne got its other six points on a forfeit at 118 pounds for Tom Cortez a freshman from Lombard, Ill.

Morningside won its points when Bob Baxter edged Jim Meyer, 126-pounder last year, 4-3, at 142 pounds; Tim Hodapp decided Herb Harris, 7-5, at 150, and Frank Thompson, out-pointed Doug Fusselman, 8-4, at 167.

Winside Quint Dumps Wynot, 58-20

The Winside Wildcats walked over visiting Wynot Friday night, 58-20, to win their first contest of the season. Lewis and Clark Conference.

The easy win of the Wildcats' first in three outings, came with the help of three players who saw their first action as starters: Bob Hoffman, Steve Deck and Steve Brummels.

Hoffman, a 5-10 freshman, sparked in the first half on his way to being high point man in the contest. He threw in 10 points, the first quarter and three more before intermission to end his scoring for the night.

Class C Wakefield '5' Registers 57-48 Win Over Class B Gators

Spurred by the outstanding defensive play of Dave Scheel, Wakefield High racked up a 57-48 victory over Wisner Pilger Friday night.

Scheel, a 6-4 senior center, helped hold the Gators' big 6-8 Steve Hornback to eight baskets in the contest.

Coble was pleased with the Trojan offense as well as defense against Wakefield. Scheel and 6-0 junior forward Doug Soderberg tied at 14 points each for scoring honors, and two other players, 5-8 junior Doug Fischer with 12 points and 6-1 senior Randy Johnson with 11, scored in the double figures.

Leading scorers for Wisner Pilger were Hornback and Randy Ballar with 16 points each.

The win by Class C Wakefield over the Class B team gave the Trojans a 2-0 mark to take into Saturday night's home contest with Coleridge.

Joe Coble, who saw last year's Wakefield team win only three times all season, credited sound defense for the victory.

Wakefield trailed 26-13 at intermission before throwing in 13 points to edge within two points, 28-26, going into the final frame.

"Our game plan evolved around Hornback, and Scheel played outstanding ball. He held him to about 10 points, because three of his field goals came on mismatches after a smaller player had to defend him," the Wakefield coach said.

Gary Addink, at 6-6, helped Scheel guard Hornback in the second half as Wakefield continued keeping men both in front and back of the tall Gator.

Wakefield came from behind to chalk up the second victory, trailing 14-10 after the first period but scratching out a 28-26 lead at intermission. The game was tied at 44-44 going into the final frame.

The Trojans, who shot a respectable 43 per cent from the field, play Lyons Friday night and Wayne Saturday night. The contest with Wayne will be the first in several years.

Wakefield trailed 26-13 at intermission before throwing in 13 points to edge within two points, 28-26, going into the final frame.

"We got off to a real fast start," said coach Jim Winch, "and scored about the first three times we got our hands on the ball."

Wynot was held scoreless that first period as Winside went about dumping in 18 points. Winside stretched its lead to 33 to 10 by halftime.

Larry Weible, a 5-10 junior, tied for runner-up scoring honors with Steve Deck, 6-0 junior, scoring all 10 of his points in the second period to take over the offensive power held by Hoffman early in the contest.

Although the Wildcats dominated the contest, they did it while having poor shooting from the field. They made only slightly more than 37 per cent of their shots, 25 of 77. Wynot's accuracy was even lower, hitting

Maciejewski at National Confab

Harold Maciejewski, athletic director at Wayne High School, is attending a four-day conference for athletic directors across the nation at Denver.

The conference began Sunday and ends Wednesday.

This is the first national conference Maciejewski has attended. He is the only person from the Wayne area attending the conference.

It is unlawful in Nebraska to hunt at night with the aid of artificial light. The only exception is that raccoons may be hunted at night with the aid of a hand-held light.

WAYNE'S JIM NEIMAN (bottom) and Roger Davis of Blair seem to be undecided who is going to win this match as both wrestlers tussle during Thursday night's meet at the city auditorium. Neiman went on to win the decision, 5-3. Watching out for the possible pin is referee Chuck Peters.

Three-Point Jinx Stops Blue Devil Matmen, 30-27

For some people three is supposed to be a lucky number. But not for Coach Don Koenig's wrestlers at Wayne High.

Thursday night the Wayne grapplers took their second loss in as many starts when they dropped a 30-27 decision to Blair at the city auditorium.

Last week Wayne lost a three-point decision to Randolph in the club's first away match.

"We must have a three-point jinx," Koenig confessed. "We wrestled a good team and I thought our wrestlers did a good job. But we just can't get the needed pin to win."

Koenig admitted that three points is hardly anything, "but it sure makes a difference in wrestling."

The Blue Devils opened the match with a 12-0 lead after Blair forfeited the 98 and 105 class weights before storming back with a decision and two pins for a 12-2 lead.

Last year's state contender, Jim Neiman, evened the score at 15 all when he took a 5-3 decision over Blair's Roger Davis in the 132-pound division.

From that point on, Blair grabbed control of the match with three decisions and a pin to boost his lead to 30-18.

Wayne's Don Nelson (185) then pinned Bruce Peterson to bring his team within six, 30-24, before heavyweight Charles Brockman won a 3-2 over Tim Forsberg to end the match 30-27.

Freshmen Earn Squeaker Win Over Laurel

The Wayne freshmen basketball team used its fast break Thursday night for a 34-26 halftime lead over Laurel and then held on during a slow second half for a 48-44 win.

Coach Du'a n e Blomkamp said his club pored in 50 per cent of its shots in the first half, but found a cold spot in the second on 40 per cent shooting.

Rich Workman was the high point man for us Blomkamp said. "He hit 60 per cent for the night while adding 18 points to the final score."

Wayne used its fast break to pile up 18 points in the first period and another 16 in the second. Laurel gathered 14 in the first quarter and 12 in the second for a 26-point first half score.

"Our defense, which played a good game overall, had a let-down in the third quarter when our offense could only score eight points," he said. Laurel hit 14 to come within two points of a tie before heading into the final stanza.

The Blue Devils defense then stood fast, holding the Bear freshmen to six points.

"I thought Paul Mallette did a good job for us guarding Brad Erwin," Blomkamp added. "Also Dave Hix did good work on the boards with 10 rebounds."

Other Wayne players scoring were Larry Creighton with 12, Mallette with 8, Rob Mitchell with 8 and Dave Hix with 2.

For Laurel, Greg Pipit and Scott Huefig led with 14 and 13 points respectively, followed by John Erwin's 9, Mark McCoy's 8 and 2 for Brad Erwin.

Monday (today) Wayne takes its 2-0 record to Pierce. The team plays a Thursday match against Randolph at home.

Explosive Fourth Period Rips Laurel Bears, 62-48

An explosive fourth quarter for the Harrington Cedar Falls five ripped off the lid for Laurel Friday night as the Bears dropped their second contest of the season, 62-48.

Laurel, trailing by two going into the fourth period, collapsed under heavy pressure from the Harrington club and scored only 10 points in the hosts' 22 in the final stanza.

"I don't know what happened to our team," coach Joel Parks said. "We outplayed them; but the second half just went cold for us."

Parks' Bears opened up the contest with a 14-11 first quarter lead, but then watched his smaller five go down by two ending the first half.

"Kevin Gade and Gene Sarba did a great job for us during the whole ball game," he said, while Dave Diederik did an equally good job. But we were just cold that second half."

Coach Parks said his team was in the game all the way until the last three minutes of the game when Harrington expanded its four-point lead to 12 and went on to win the game.

"When we were eight points down with two minutes to go, I knew we had to do something. I told the team to put on the press," Parks admits the Harrington club then picked up some "heaps".

The two plays for the Knights didn't just come from Gene Scholl, who had 26 points. Parks said "It was the 10 points Kevin Becker scored in the last quarter that helped them to win the game."

Becker scored all 10 points on tips, according to the Bear coach. "We stopped him in the first three quarters but he broke loose in the fourth," he said.

The Bears, now 0-2, hit on 22 of 44 shots for 34 per cent while Harrington went at a 55 per cent clip. "We got off the most shots but they just wouldn't go down."

This Tuesday night the Bears will host Wayne. Game time will be 6:30 p.m. for reserves and 8 p.m. for varsity.

Jr. High Hits Laurel in Two Overtimes, 29-27

It took two overtimes before the Wayne Junior High basketball team could claim its first victory of the season, Thursday night, as the locals squeezed out Laurel, 29-27, on a last minute shot by Jon Ley.

With 20 seconds left in the second overtime, Ley pumped one in from 20 feet out to put Wayne ahead and give the junior high squad the hard fought win.

Laurel opened up the contest with a 12-7 halftime lead and made the margin 16-13 before the Wayne team tied the game at 23-21. Mike Wieselner put the game in its first overtime slot when he converted both shots in a 1-1 foul situation.

After Tim Koll hit for two more and Laurel's Gordon Cardell again tied the match, both teams were ready for the second overtime again in the second overtime.

This time Laurel grabbed a two point lead only to have Ley sock in four points to end the game at 29-27.

High scorers for Wayne were Mark Brandt with eight; Wieselner-7, Koll-4, Key-4 and Marc Lawrence-2.

For Laurel Gordon Cardell hit 10, Doug Thompson-9 and Garth Paulsen-5, Pal Hirschman-2 and Toby Cunningham-1.

This Thursday Wayne will play Randolph in a 5:45 p.m. game at the city auditorium.

British Institute Promises Six Weeks Unequaled in Education Experiences

By Dana Evans
The second annual Nebraska Institute to England and Scotland will be held between June 25 and August 3. The third term that was to be held in England couldn't be held this year because of inadequate planning time.

The trip is designed to provide an optimum educational experience by immersing students in the fascinating history and culture of Great Britain. Few learning situations can surpass foreign travel for acquiring knowledge; none compare for interest and pleasure. For an educated, aware person there is no substitute for experiencing life first-hand in other countries.

The Institute begins in Chicago, where all members will assemble for the trans-Atlantic flight. Traveling by air to London and then coach to northern England, the program will begin in York. From York the students will travel to Keswick (the lake country) for two days where they will view the homes of literary greats. The next stop will be Edinburgh where the members will visit museums; the Royal Palace at Holyrood; and the ancient Castle of Edinburgh.

Scotland, Too
In addition to last year's Institute there will be a trip to the Scottish Highlands. There they will visit such attractions as the Loch Ness and Stirling Castle. From the exciting highlands they will stay in London for a full three weeks where they will have the option of seeing the sites alone or attending lectures at the University of London.

The trip will be concluded at Stratford, the home of William Shakespeare.

It would be impossible to mention all the activities in stores for this five and a half weeks of discovering England and Scotland. It should be noted that several days are provided at each location, as well as a great deal of free time. This is to allow participants to become familiar with an area and its people in more than a superficial way.

The all-important part of the institute is the lectures provided in Edinburgh and London. The entire aim of the program is to create a total learning situation, coordinating travel and classroom presentation. To pull together the British lectures and four experiences. There will be several lectures and discussions given by the Institute directors.

Experts Warn Against Spraying Pine Trees For Fire Protection

Spraying Christmas trees with chemicals to reduce flammability is questionable in terms of providing protection and creates a false security for those carrying out this practice, says a University of Nebraska fire control expert.

Joseph E. Range, extension forester, said an experiment involving the spraying of three different fire retardant solutions on pine showed that the retardants "had no significant effect on flammability of the foliage."

The experiment was conducted by Walter Bagley, professor of forestry, and David Miller, a graduate student. Flammability of foliage was compared after spraying with solutions of ammonium polyphosphate, borax and a commercial anti-desiccant (designed to prevent drying).

Solutions were sprayed on freshly cut pine branches and allowed to dry. Results of the test confirmed that the "practice of spraying trees for flame proofing is of questionable value. And treating full size trees produced the same negative results."

NU foresters conclude that "keeping branches fresh by having the base immersed in water is the only satisfactory method for reducing flammability." According to Professor Bagley, "You cannot beat keeping the base of the tree submerged in water for maintaining a Christmas tree fresh and safe from fire."

Bagley said some chemicals, whether added to the water or sprayed on the foliage, will even increase the rate of drying.

Range said Bagley's experiment emphasizes the statement by the National Fire Protection Association: "Do not rely on do-it-yourself flameproofing treatments, as none are truly effective."

Emphasizing they were not "putting down" natural trees, which add color and joy to the holiday season, Range and Nebraska State Forester Ellsworth H. Benson issued the following recommendations for purchasers of natural trees.

—Purchase the freshest tree available. It should be firm needed, test it for brittleness and needle shedding.

—Do not be misled by color. It is common practice to spray trees with green dye before cutting to restore color.

—Store the tree in a cool, moist location with stem in a bucket of water until it is brought into the house.

—Before storing, saw off the butt an inch above the original cut. Keep the Christmas tree stand full of water at all times until the tree is disposed of. If the needles become brittle, dispose of its immediately.

If these few directions are followed, a Christmas tree will retain a portion of its original moisture and will not become a fire hazard, the foresters said from fire."

CREATIVE CRAFT IDEAS

Candles for the Holiday

You can make your own personal candles; they are easy, inexpensive and can be trimmed or decorated in many ways to suit a mood or holiday decoration. The basic supplies to gather together on a working surface are paraffin, powder all purpose dye, wicking from a hobby shop or heavy string, and containers for molds. In addition, you'll need a double boiler, spoons or stirrers, pencils or lollipop sticks and adhesive tape.

The mold will determine the candle shape. Choose a cardboard milk or cottage cheese carton, juice or soup cans, metal knitting needle. Thread wick into hole and pour in wax to fill hole and hold wick in place. For small candles, dip cord cut one inch longer than depth of mold into melted wax and set aside to harden. Push wicks into center of molds when wax begins to harden.

Melt paraffin in a double boiler or in a pan over boiling water. Never use direct heat as wax is inflammable. Add R1 dye powder to color wax, using about 2 teaspoons for each pound of wax. Choose light dye colors for brighter and more effective candles. Remove wax from heat and stir thoroughly for 2 to 3 minutes. Let stand a few minutes, then pour carefully into molds from a height of not more than 1 or 2 inches to avoid air bubbles. Since dye is not made to be soluble in wax, some residue will remain in the pan after pouring. Simply discard residue.

Use 1 pound of melted paraffin for 3 (6 ounce) juice can candles or 5 gelatin mold candles and 1 1/2 pounds for a quart milk carton. When wax is thoroughly hardened, uncoil wicks and peel cartons from candle. Dip metal molds quickly into hot water to loosen candle.

Personalize candles for gifts or holiday decorations. Ad a wax holly trim cut with a knife from a small amount of light green colored wax poured onto a wax paper lined pan. Secure to candle after warming over a flame. Stack candles made in gelatin molds for interesting shapes or pour melted wax into a mold filled with ice cubes for a cut-work candle.

Ag College

enrollment figure has dropped from 29 to 26.

Only four counties in the state—Wheeler, Hooker, Grant and Arthur—do not have students in the college.

Statewide, some 1,345 students are enrolled in the college, with Douglas County's 75 students high for the state.

"Most people think agriculture is only for the student with a farm background," said Vaughn Domeier, counselor in resident instructor at UNL. "But there are no restrictions on what a person can do in agriculture, no matter what his background is."

The college counselor noted there is an increased interest in agriculture for the student without a rural background. This is primarily due to the tremendous diversity in programs offered, he said.

Last year 26 per cent of the students came from urban areas. Out of that, there were from cities of over 10,000 population. Of the remaining students, 40 per cent had rural backgrounds and the rest had rural and urban mixed backgrounds.

Domeier said he expected about the same division again this year.

According to one legend, the fir is the tree of life, which until Eve plucked its fruits, bloomed and fruited freely. After Eve plucked the fruit, it is said the foliage became shrunken into tiny needle like leaves, but on the night Christ was born it began to bloom again.

- 18,000,000 react to the skin test, infected although they are not

Feeders Name President, Commend Walt Tolman

Members of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association in their annual meeting and convention at South Sioux City last week, elected Woodrow Collins of Meadow Grove to lead their organization the coming year and approved policies dealing with the livestock business to guide activities in 1973.

Named along with Collins to direct the organization were first vice president Herb Albers Jr., Wisner, and second vice president Bill Krejci, Fairmont.

The feeders elected four members to represent their state association on the board of directors of the National Livestock Feeders Association. Collins, Baxter, Mel Kuska of Fairmont and Rowland McClymont of Holdrege.

At the annual convention banquet Baxter presented the association's distinguished service award to a long time member of the trade group, Ival Lindquist of Wausa. He was honored for service to the state's livestock industry and many other activities in his home community and throughout Nebraska.

Also during the annual meeting, a resolution was unanimously passed giving commendation to Walter Tolman for his contribution to the livestock industry as an educator and researcher in beef animal nutrition.

Tolman is at the University of Nebraska, Northeast Station at Concord.

The livestock feeders resolved support of the National Livestock Feeders Association in its efforts to get legislation which would amend the Food and Drug Act to permit reasonable tolerance in drug residue levels.

They reaffirmed policy opposing efforts in the state to put livestock haulers under the State Railway Commission. On the federal government level they indicated their opposition to registration of feed lots under the Food and Drug Administration.

The feeders resolved to file a formal objection with the State Tax Commission's proposed cattle valuations for 1973 that show "excessive" increases of more than 25 per cent on some classes.

Also, the feeders resolved support of an increase in state aid to education on the basis of certain conditions, including substantially reduced property taxes, proportionate sharing of state aid by all school districts, continued control of schools by their local boards of provision for quality education.

The trade association expressed concern over the Occupational Safety and Health Act and resolved to support efforts to have small businesses and agriculture exempted from the law.

On the subject of environmental control they approved policy favoring formation of an agricultural division within the Department of Environmental Control to deal with agricultural problems.

The feeders approved policy in support of modification in beef quality grade standards to allow feed cattle in the 12 to 20 month age the opportunity to grade choice on the basis of slightly less marbling requirements.

In a resolution for feeders supported amendments to the Packers & Stockyards Act to assure payment for livestock sold to packers. They also resolved to support the state animal health laws in order to hold down the communicable livestock disease problem.

The feeders were added to the growing list of major farm groups that are encouraging the formation of an agricultural center within the University of Nebraska. This move is extremely important in an agriculturally oriented state such as Nebraska, the feeders said.

A new name was proposed for the Nebraska Livestock Foundation by the association. The name proposed is Nebraska Beef Industry Foundation. The feeders hoped that the new name would more reflect the major emphasis on beef and the livestock check off program.
