

Color Them Well

Kids who enjoy coloring pictures should find hours of enjoyment inside this issue of The Wayne Herald. Youngsters from throughout the area are invited to pick out an advertisement in this issue, color it and send it to the newspaper for consideration in the annual Christmas coloring contest.

Prizes of $5, $2 and $1 will go to the youngsters sending in what the judges consider the best jobs of coloring.

Entries for the contest must be in the Herald office by next Thursday, Nov. 28. Pictures of the winners will be printed in the Jan. 4th issue of the newspaper.

$1,000, 8 Bicycles Await Lucky Shoppers in Wayne

Several persons are going to walk away from the Chamber of Commerce Friday night with a lot of extra spending money.

A thousand dollars spending money, in fact.

They will be final winners in Wayne's Christmas Give-A-Way promotion, climaxing a promotion which has been running two and a half weeks.

Five checks for $100 each and one check for $500 will be given away Friday night, along with eight bicycles.

The money and prizes will go to the shoppers holding tickets with numbers matching those drawn earlier in the day.

Fifty dollar checks were given away on Monday through Thursday evenings of this week. The final four of nine $50 checks awarded during the promotion.

Winning the money Tuesday night was Mrs. Louis J. Lutt, who lives with her husband southeast of Wayne. Collecting the prize money Monday night was Anton Netherda of Wayne. Both persons held the second of 25 numbers drawn.

Shoppers who have collected numbered tickets during the past few weeks can compare the numbers on the tickets with those posted in Wayne businesses.

The person holding the first number listed will win tonight's prize of $50, with the money going to the person claiming the next ticket if the first one isn't claimed.

Friday there will be 50 numbers drawn and posted through out the business area. The person claiming the highest number on the list will win the $500 prize and those claiming the next five numbers will win the $100 prizes. The bicycles, valued at approximately $50 each, will go to the persons claiming the next five numbers

Architect Studying Costs

The architect for the proposed new medical center in Wayne is currently studying which method would be most economical for heating and air conditioning the facility.

According to Robert Carhart, president of the Wayne Hospital Foundation, the architect is studying the possibility of using chilled water and steam from the Energy System plant at Wayne State College.

He is also studying the possibility of having a heating and air conditioning plant in the medical center and using such power sources as electricity, Carhart said.

The medical center will be built just east of the Wayne State campus.

'Hey, Mom, Where's My Heavy Coat?'

Some bone chilling temperatures settled on the Wayne area last week, knocking the mercury to below zero for four straight days.

The temperature dipped to 20 degrees below zero Saturday, last day the low temperature dropped to below zero.

In comparison, the weather seemed almost springlike this week as the thermometer climbed to as high as 34 degrees Monday.

Just over half an inch of precipitation was recorded during snows last week. A total of 20 of an inch fell Tuesday and 35 of an inch fell Wednesday.

Santa Claus Comes Early to Macy

Santa Claus drove a car and came several days early for some young Indian children at Macy's this week.

Santa was played by five students at Wayne State College who spearheaded a drive which resulted in collecting three car loads of food, toys and clothing for needy Omaha Indians in the Thurston County community.

The students were members of a class studying minorities at WSC, and they took on the project last week after one of them read a newspaper story about how bleak this Christmas will be for some of the Indians at Macy.

Jerry Van Moorlegem, a sophomore from Omaha, read a story last week and mentioned it in his class, taught by James Evans. Before the day was out, plans were underway to collect things to make the Christmas a little bit brighter for both children and adults at Macy.

"The response we got to our drive was outstanding," he said. "All the people in Wayne were very cooperative, and we could have collected a lot more if we had more time and better organization."

Despite the shortness of the drive and the little advance work, the students collected boxes upon boxes of everything from tiny red hardhats for children to games to canned food to warm clothing for children as well as adults.

Businessmen in Wayne were especially helpful, said Van Moorlegem, and one business, Sherry's TSC Store, made a large cash donation as well as contributing many toys.

The Omaha said the students were especially appreciative of the businessmen who let persons drop off items so they could be picked up later.

Helping Van Moorlegem with the drive were Nancy Zurcher, junior from Bellevue; Virginia Riha, senior from Omaha; Keith Hesse, senior from Smithland, Ia., and Paul Roisen, senior from Wayne.

$6,000 Damage To Laurel Firm In Friday Fire

Fire did an estimated $6,000 damage to a grain dryer at Laurel Feed and Grain Friday evening.

Roger Heitman of Laurel spotted the flames shooting out of the dryer and turned in the alarm to the Laurel volunteer fire department about 8:45 p.m.

Firemen battled three hours in sub zero temperatures before bringing the fire under control. Owner Faye P. Stewart of Laurel reported that the fire destroyed 1,500 bushels of corn as well as damaging the dryer. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Cause of the fire was reported by an overheated dryer.

Nutty Sales To Continue

Anybody wishing to stock up on peanuts for the Christmas holiday season will be able to buy bags of them tonight (Thursday) and Friday night.

Members of Wayne's Kiwanis Club will be selling the 25 cent bags of peanuts in downtown Wayne both evenings, with sales to continue Saturday if any are left over.

The club has sold about 600 bags of peanuts so far and about 400 remain to be sold.

Three Named To Committee For Contest

Carl Ward Keith Mosley and Deryl Lawrence have been named to select a team of judges for the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the city of Wayne.

Ward is chairman of the Kiwanis committee for the contest, which offers gift certificates of $25, $15 and $10 to the persons, with the best home displays.

The certificates can be spent in the city for an electrical appliance. They are supplied by the city.

Nebraska High Court Upholds Ruling By County District Court

The Nebraska Supreme Court last week upheld a Wayne County district court ruling in favor of a 1969 school act.

The state's high court agreed with the county district court's ruling involving school district No. 80 in the northwest corner of the county.

It upheld the school act providing that no Class 1 school district which contracts for instruction for all its pupils after June 1, 1970 shall merge with another Class 1 district.

District 80 had contracted with the Laurel school district after the applicable date and thus could not merge with Class 1 district Nos. 75 and 76, the high court said in an opinion written by Chief Justice Paul White.

White disagreed with contentions that the section of the law in question was only amendatory to existing statutes and thus should be unconstitutional.

The act clearly sets out mergers of Class 1 districts under certain conditions, White said. In another ruling by the high court last week, a Dixon County district court decision was reversed.

The decision granted Midstates Acceptance Co. a judgment of $12,480 on a contract on which there was a default.

The high court let stand the judgement for Midstates, but it ordered further proceedings on the amount of payments which would be credited to the Great Plains Acceptance Co.

Attitude Outweighs Any Decorations

By the Rev. MARVIN BRAMMAN

Assembly of God Church, Wayne

The incarnation of nearly two thousand years ago, with all of its redemptive values for the individual, is the greatest event in history.

Different attitudes, however, were present with the coming of Christ, just as we still find these attitudes today.

First, there were those who were worshippers. Matthew 2:11 says, "And they (the wise men) came into the house and saw the child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped Him."

Wise men since that time have worshipped Christ as the Son of God. Knowing that without Jesus man would not have been created (John 1:3), it is only proper that man should praise and worship Him.

Second, there were those who were indifferent. The religious leaders told Herod where the Messiah would be born, yet these same leaders did not bother to find Him (Matt. 2:6).

Men since Christ's incarnation have been indifferent toward Him (John 1:11).

Third, there were those who were antagonistic. When Herod learned of the Christ, he was filled with such hatred that he ordered all the children of Bethlehem who were two years old and younger to be killed (Matthew 2:16-18).

Since the birth of Christ men have continued to try to destroy Him and His work (John 19:5-7).

Conclusion, homes may be decorated extremely differently during the Christmas season, but it is our attitude toward Christ which is most important. Some may be indifferent or antagonistic to Christ, but the true worshippers will continue this praise and adoration of Jesus in heaven (Revelation 5:8-12).

Honor Graduates

Holiday Sounds

INTENT ON PERFORMING Tuesday night during the Christmas concert at Wayne High School are these members of the school's orchestra. The orchestra, under direction of Ron Dalton, and the girls' glee and choir, under direction of Ernest Bedell, presented a variety of holiday music to the audience at the high school's lecture hall.

For your shopping convenience, stores in Wayne will be open until 9 p.m. on these December evenings.

PORTERS OF THE board's head, performing one of the ceremonies of the Wayne State Madrigal Singers' Elizabethan Christmas Dinner, are (front) Joel Miller of Atlantic, Ia., and Steve Johnson of Laurel; (back) Dennis Simon of Lake View, Ia., and Greg Black of Omaha. Seated at the banquet table are Lynette Amunson of Ute, Ia., Sylvia Truby of Randolph, Barbara Pryor of Omaha and Pat Rabass of Wisner.

A COLORFUL procession to the banquet table of the Elizabethan Dinner featured a tray of bread borne by Beth Berg of Wayne and Marcia Schieffer of Crofton, wine vessels by Sylvia Truby (left) of Randolph and Lynette Amunson of Ute, Ia., and the centerpiece of fruit and vegetables carried by Bill Wolfe of Norfolk and Richard Palmer of Harlington in foreground, Tim Sharer of Wayne and Richard Schroeder of Elkhorn.

Premiere Dinner Success

Members of the Wayne State Madrigal Singers are basking in the glow of success after finishing three sold out performances of their Elizabethan Christmas Dinner last weekend.

Originally scheduled for two evenings, a third performance was added due to heavy ticket demands.

"We are simply delighted with the enthusiastic response of the Wayne community to this presentation," said Dr. Cornell Runstad, director of the group, "and we must either find a larger hall or schedule more performances to accommodate all those wishing to attend."

The musical dinner was served Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Birch Room of the Wayne State College Student Center. Over 300 persons were served up several courses of entertainment and holiday fare during the three day stand.

The dinner, presented by 16 singers dressed in period costume, featured English banquet fare combined with the observance of English Christmas customs such as the board's head procession, toasting from the wassail bowl, strolling carolers and the flaming pudding procession.

Thought to be the only one of its kind in Nebraska, this holiday presentation is traditional

Center Surprises Bulls

Members of the Wayne Senior Citizen Center surprised their director, Jocell Bull, and her husband, Eldon, with a party Tuesday honoring the couple's 24th wedding anniversary. About 30 center members turned out for the fete. The anniversary cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Emma Soules. Refreshments also included pie a la mode furnished by the honorees.

Bulls were married Dec. 19, 1948 in Wichita Falls, Tex., and have since lived in the Wayne area where they farm. They have two children, Mrs. Deloris Barr of Lincoln and Ed Bull, a student at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Mrs. Bull has been director of the center since it first opened three and a half years ago. During that time membership has grown to 413, drawing mostly from Wayne, but also from Laurel, Wakefield and Concord.

MR. AND MRS. ELDON Bull received a cake and a gift of a clock from members of the Wayne Senior Citizen Center Tuesday afternoon.

de Freese Gives Topic For Senior Citizens

Twenty-four were at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center Friday afternoon for the sermonette, "The Christmas Story," by the Rev. S. K. deFreese. Pastor deFreese also related the history of the favorite Christmas carol, "Silent Night."

He said that in 1818, church organist Franz Gruber was asked by Pastor Joseph Mohr to write guitar music for the traditional Christmas program when it was discovered that mice had gotten into the church organ. Mohr then wrote the words to the piece.

Dear Friends:

If this letter were not displayed in the paper and if we had the time to write to each of our loyal friends at this joyful time of the year, what would we say?

We would wish together for the achievement of those goals that man in his wisdom has striven for, and continues to strive for, since time immemorial.

Peace on earth and good will to all men. For unity among us and all the people on earth. For the happiness of our loved ones. For the beauty, faith, hope and joy of life inherent in the human spirit.

It is with these thoughts, and knowledge that we can accomplish all these good things that I personally, and for our entire store force, sincerely extend to you Season's Greetings, good health and good fortune and the wish for an even better world in 1973.

Sincerely,
Joy C. Vaught

BOXED IN. Winside's Larry Bruggeman apparently is boxed in by Pender's Matt Samuelson (22) and another unidentified Pender player Tuesday night. The Pendragons won the contest, 81-44.

Winside head wrestling coach Doug Barclay's is going to have his wish come true this Saturday. His team will again meet Howells, at the Logan View Invitational, to settle a question in his mind—can Winside top the Bobcats?

Only one area team, Winside, will be coming in the eight school invitational. Other schools include Oakland-Craig, Howells, Tekamah-Herman, Columbus Lakeview, Scribner, Valley, Hooper-Logan View and Winside.

"I'll have our hands full," Barclay said, noting that he expects tough competition not only from Howells but also from Tekamah-Herman and Oakland-Craig.

"I would like to meet them (Howells) in a dual," Barclay said after his team took second place in last Saturday's invitational at Stanton. "We lost to them by only a half point," he mentioned.

Winside's Keith Sueli, Dave Jaeger, Steve Sueli, Dean Krueger and Ed Lienemann aided their team cause with wins in the championship round as the Wildcats piled up 99 1/2 points to Howells' 100 to finish in the runner up spot.

"I was pleased with our team's performance," Barclay said. "We wrestled a tough team and won three of our five matches against them."
Jaeger (119) and Lienemann (185) both did a good job, the coach went on. "Dave advanced his record to 9-0 and he and Ed are the only two undefeated members of our squad."

Phil Fuchs of Randolph, 14.4, while teammate Rouse decided Howells' Joe Buresh, 8.4.
In the consolation rounds for both schools, Wakefield picked up two wins and Winside one.
Winside's Doug Anderson (112) decided Randolph's Randy Rudebusch, 8.0. Jack Sievers and Kenny Dolph, both of Wakefield, also decided their men with Dalt over Mike Pfeiffer of Winside, 3.2, and Sievers taking the 155 pound division 14.6 over Newman Grove's Zane Wondercheck.

Pendragons Burn Cats For Fifth Loss, 81-44

By BOB BARTLETT

On January 2nd things are going to be happening at Winside High School. "Mainly," said head basketball coach Jim Winch, "we're going to start our season over again and get on the winning trail."
Winside's fifth loss against one victory Tuesday night at Pender prompted the head man to make that statement after his Wildcats were blown off the court by a tall and powerful Pendragon club, 81-44.

"Beginning this Christmas vacation," he stated, "the team is going to work out and shoot until their arms are sore. We're going to switch things around after the first of the year."
Winside, shooting a fragile 23 per cent for the night, took a back seat to the powerful Pender club as Pender rolled to a 18.9 first period lead and mounted a 37-21 lead at the half before the team almost cremated the Wildcats with a 44 point second half.

"We were shooting the ball," Winch said shaking his head, "but they just wouldn't go in the hole."
The hefty Pender five, led by junior Ken Heineman's 21 points, used its shuffling offense to pick and screen for the good inside shots while pushing its way for the rebounds.
"We're a balanced ball club," said head Dragon coach Steve Olson. "When one man is not hot then we can find another who is."

Barry Mabie, a 6.3 senior forward who was tabbed for player of the week by the Lincoln Star, added 13 points to the cause while scoring in and out of the smaller Winside defense to pick up and drop in his points.
"He's quick," Olson noted about the Pender standout. "I hope to put his name in for all-state at the end of the season if all goes well."
Olson explained that the stocky forward is a good driver as well as shooter, averaging 16 points a game.
In Saturday night's tussle with Osmond, the Wildcats again took it on the tails with a 69-45 beating.
Larry Weible, who popped in 13 during Tuesday's action, added 11 Saturday to lead his teammates in the scoring department.
Again the Osmond club forced the smaller Wildcats to shoot from the outside, causing their percentage mark to hang at 27.5.
Tigers Robin Reed and Roger Weeder combined for 32 points with Reed pumping in 17. —
"We did better in the rebounding department than I thought we would," Winch said.

gathering 29 caroms to Osmond's 37."
Worth mentioned that two 6.6 Tigers, Dennis Kumm and Brett Maritz, plus 6.2 Reed bolstered the Tiger defense.
In the preliminary game, Pender was again the winner by the score of 60-21.
High point men for the Pender roster was Brad Novotny with 20 and Jack Mahler at 18.
Winside had three men tied for high at six each. They were Tyler Frevert, Terry Luhr and Bob Hartman.

Blue Devils Romp to Fourth Win as Trojans Loose, 71-41

Wakefield head basketball coach Joe Coble summed up Wayne's 71-41 win over the Trojans in six words: "Wayne's quickness... it did the job!"

Last Saturday night the Blue Devils' combination of team work and consistency enabled the home team to muster its fourth win against two losses before going into the Wayne State College Christmas Holiday Tournament Dec. 28-30.

"I thought we did a good job on defense," said Wayne mentor Bill Sharpe. "Good board work and limiting Wakefield's inside shooting really helped the team," he added.

The Blue Devils started work in convincing fashion with a 14-5 margin after the first period and then went on to take a 32-19 first half lead.

"Sharpe's Shooters" applied the man to man defense throughout the contest to effectively stop the inside shooting of Wakefield's Dave Scheel and Randy Johnson. Both Trojan shooters were forced to go to the outside where Johnson found the range and collected 10 points.

But the inside wall, composed of Larry Shupe, Roger Saul and Randy Nelson put the clamps on Wakefield's hopes for win number four with a 16-point third quarter explosion.

"I think Marty Hansen did a good job in stealing the ball for losing games after our initial loss."

The Trojans will continue basketball action through the Christmas and New Year holidays as Wakefield High hosts a tournament Dec. 28-29.

The Wayne reserves made it six in a row Saturday night when the junior Blue Devils hit the basket for 56 points to Wakefield's 32.

The reserves seemingly set a pattern for the varsity with a 14-6 first period lead, aided by Bob Keating's 20 points for the night.

Coach Ron Carnes' team played almost even ball in the remaining periods as the swift reserves made 13, 15 and 14 points for the sixth win against no defeats.

Kerry Lech was second high at 11 while Kim Baker put in eight points.

Athlete of the Week

Larry Weible
Winside High School

In most basketball games everyone focuses their attention on the big shooters—the ones that can break the game open with the slick inside layups or the 20-foot jump shots.

It isn't always the case when a 5-10 forward can take the limelight in a sport considered to be the big man's game.

But Winside's Larry Weible doesn't want to take the spotlight. He just wants to help his team score.

Larry, this week's "Athlete of the Week," is one "heck of a competitor," says his coach, Jim Winch.

"He works hard all the time," Winch said of the 5-10 junior who averages 13 points a game and is considered to be a top notch free throw shooter. In the past two games Weible has missed only one free throw.

Besides his ability to "create the opposition's zone for the inside shot and good outside shooting," Winch added, "he plays good defense."

The quick, high jumping Weible plays a rover position in the Wildcats' press and "goes where the action is."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weible of Winside is not only a strong competitor on the courts but also was named to the 1972 Lewis and Clark All-Conference football team as a halfback.

"He was the team's leading ground gainer," Winch said.

In addition to football and basketball, Weible is the school's quarter-mile in track as well as a Junior Legion baseball player during the summer.

Although Weible did not play baseball last summer, Winch said, he did play two summers ago and hopes to play this summer.

Team 3 on Top In City League

Although Team 3 took a by in this week's men's city basketball games, it still remains on top of the five team league.

Team 2 moved up one notch, from three to two, with its win over Team 5, 75-68.

The winners started out with a five point deficit in the first quarter, then slowly mounted their attack when in the fourth it outscored Team 5, 20-11.

Leading scorers for the second place club were Bob Nelson with 36, Mike Keenan with 14 and Scott Neiman with 10.

For Team 5 Mike Looft garnered 27 points, Ron Fink poured in 18 and Rod Cook hit 12.

In the second game of the night, Team 1 gained its first win by knocking off Team 4, 52-45.

Kent Lingenfelter paced his squad with 24, followed by Dennis Spangler's 16 as the winners were in command throughout the ball game.

Lynn Lessmann dropped in 13 points for the losers while Hank Overin collected eight.

Regular league action will break until Jan. 3 when Teams 1 and 5 tangle at 7 p.m. and Teams 3 and 2 at 8 p.m. The B league will start at 9:15 p.m.

Cat Tankers Get Victory

Wayne State swimmers pulled out a see-saw victory of 58-54 over Northwest Missouri State Friday after the lead changed seven times.

Going into the final event at Maryville, Mo., Wayne trailed the hosts, 54-51, but a Wildcat first in the 400-yard freestyle relay tipped the score to Wayne. The relay quartet included Doug Krecklow, Bob Floerschinger, Bob Curry and Mitch Veeder.

Among Wayne's seven firsts, Floerschinger, a freshman from Omaha Burke High, posted a new Wayne record in the 200-yard butterfly at 2:15.2. It also was a Northwest pool record, he also claimed a first in the 1,000-yard freestyle, thus showing versatility in swimming short and long free style events plus a specialty stroke.

Wayne also scored firsts by Veeder, a freshman from Boone, Ia., in the 200 and 500 freestyle; by Dan Carney, Norfolk freshman, in the 160-yard individual medley, and by Jim Clark, Fremont senior, in one diving event.

The team takes a recess now till its next meet, at home Jan. 5, against Mankato State of Minnesota.

CHAMPIONSHIP BRACKET

Sport Fan's Banquet Featuring 16 Games

Sixteen basketball games in three days add up to a sport fan's banquet after Christmas. That's what is in store at the annual Wayne State Christmas Holiday Tournament Dec. 28-30. Besides the multitude of games, the tourney offers what WSC Coach Ron Jones considers the best balanced talent in years — both in college and high school divisions.

The prep bracket, now in its fifth year, is expanded from four to eight teams, equally divided between Classes B and C. All but one of them represent high schools in the Wayne area. The other, Plattsmouth, is coached by Rich McGill, a veteran of Wayne State's championship teams of 1967-70.

High school balling begins Thursday, the 28th, with four games at two-hour intervals from 3 to 9 p.m. Wayne and Walthill are matched in the 9 o'clock finale after a 3 o'clock opener between Harrington Cedar Catholic and Plainview, followed by Plattsmouth and West Point at 5. West Point Central Catholic and Laurel at 7. Winners move into the championship bracket semifinals while losers play the consolation semis, all on Friday.

Also Friday, the four college quints go into action — Culver-Stockton of Canton, Mo., and Upper Iowa of Fayette at 3 p.m., Wayne State against Missouri Valley at 9.

On Saturday, all high school teams will be in action again, playing out all eight places — the champion game at 7, preceding the college title 1st at 9.

Hustling Bear Offense Nets Laurel 2nd Win

The Laurel basketball team jumped out to an eight-point lead in the first period and kept up the pace throughout their contest with Stanton Tuesday night to win their second game of the season, 73-63.

Lead by Bear Gene Sahra's 22 points, the visitors compiled a 15-point margin during the third period before the clubs stalled at 21 each in the final frame to give the Bears a 2-3 season mark.

"The offense played real well, coach Joel Parks commented. "They were shooting a decent 47 per cent."

Sahra's performance in ripping the nets was only part of the head man's praise as the hustling senior grabbed nine rebounds and aided the defense with seven steals.

"We had quite a few turnovers during the game," Parks noted, "but our stealing made up for that."

The Bears, looking more confident each game, overcame the fourth quarter blues with more vigorous playing from the starting five. "I started using more substitutes during the game," Parks added. "That way I would have freshmen ready for the last quarter."

Parks strategy apparently worked. His top men were able to outscore the Mustangs by eight in the first quarter and seven in the second.

During the second and fourth periods, Stanton scored 22 to 17 for Laurel and tied the Bears at 21 in the last stanza.

Mustangs Rex Hawkins and Art Barr were the team's leading playmakers with 19 points each.

For Laurel, two other men were in the double figure column. They were Dave Diederker with 17 and Keith Olsen at 10.

Veterans' Benefits Questions, Answers

Q. How many Vietnam-era veterans are turned down for GI Bill benefits or disability compensation because of an other-than-honorable discharge?

A. A VA study done during a three-month period of this year shows that only 6 out of every 1,000 applicants were turned down, and most of these were discharged for "willful and persistent misconduct."

Q. I received a general discharge from the Army after 13 months of active duty. Am I entitled to schooling under the GI Bill despite this type of discharge?

A. Yes, and to all other benefits for which you would qualify.

Sportsbeat by Bob Bartlett about even, while the second five can easily pull their own weight. "It's not a case of having one outstanding shooter. We have five top starting men and five more to back them up."

Kerry Jech, Kim Baker and Bob Keating represent the front three with "Kenney Star" Jech averaging 12 points a game, Baker 11 and Keating 10.

Earle "The Pearl" Overin comes in with an 8.5 mark and Scott "Big Al" Ehlers socks it to the nets with about a 10-point plus average.

Carnes attributes his man to man defense helping the younger Blue Devils maintain ball control. "Right now, Jech, Baker and Keating are our top rebounders," the coach cites.

As far as guards go, Carnes labels Ehlers as "excellent." Not only is he a good guard, he went on, but he's also a team leader.

Other members of the undefeated squad are Randy Workman, Jack Froehlich, Gordon Emry, Mike Meyers and Rich Mitchell, who make up the second five and Robin Kudrna, Dave Nuss, Mark Lowe and Don Nelson.

"All the boys work hard," Carnes added. "They're willing to work like a team to be a winner."

the title of one topic delivered by Marilyn Van Derbur, Miss Colorado.

The speech, he explained, dealt with the goals a person can set for his future life.

"Motivation of Athletics" presented the positive side of athletics and aimed at high school coaches and athletic directors in their role in motivating the student in the world of athletics, he added.

A SIDELIGHT to Wayne's game with Wakefield last Saturday came from Maciejewski's the other day.

The last time the two schools clashed on the courts while he was athletic director was back in 1954 when against the Blue Devils were victorious, 43-34.

But, he noted, it looks like last Saturday's match will be the last time the schools meet unless there is a change. "We scheduled them this year," Mac said, "because they switched to the west division of the Husker Conference."

TURNING TO another side of the sportsbeat, Wayne County Jaycees are getting things lined up for the approaching boxing smoker on Jan. 13 at the city auditorium.

According to Dale Preston, who is in charge of the advertising side of the smoker, 24 boxers will be ready for action in the 8 p.m. bouts, with two local men entered.

Jack Luft and Vaughn Korth, now of Blair, will put on their gloves for the matches. These two, along with Norfolk's Jerry Hill, will represent part of the six-area towns. Neligh, Columbus, Creighton and Onawa, Ia., will be represented along with Wayne and Norfolk.

Tickets can be purchased from any Jaycee now through Jan. 13.

The JC's are sponsoring the smoker in place of St. Mary's Men's Club.

Wayne High Reserves: 6-0 & Going

WAYNE HIGH basketball coach Ron Carnes doesn't have to brag about his reserve's record. It does all the talking for itself.

The reserves, now 6-0, can boast of one of the best reserves squad records in a number of years at Wayne. The junior Blue Devils represent a coach's dream simply because the members work like a team.

"These boys," Carnes pointed out, "work well with each other because they are not selfish when it comes to making the points."

Carnes stressed that his players will give up a chance to shoot the ball while under the basket if another teammate can get a shot. "They're not worried about who is going to be the top shooter or who will get the most rebounds, just as long as the team wins."

The starting five, he said, are just

Eagles In Control for Third Victory

Coach Robert Moore's "mulligan offense" enabled the Allen Eagles to take home their third win of the season Tuesday night as they dropped host Winnebago 61-50.

Although the Eagles didn't play one of their best games, the coach remarked, the team managed to stay in control of the game.

"We didn't have the same spirit as last Saturday or Tuesday night's games. There were a lot of turnovers," he said.

Moore was surprised that the home team did not make use of the fast break more often when Allen turned the ball over.

The Eagles' Stan Perry paced the squad with 19 points as the team hit a blazing 48 per cent from the field and 78 per cent from the line.

"Our press helped us in setting up the good scores," the coach said. "I just hope it can do the same job when we play Pender at the Wakefield Christmas Holiday tournament."

The two-day tourney starts Dec. 28 with Allen facing Pender (5:00 Thursday night).

The Eagles, now 3-1, opened up with a six-point spread, 16 to 10, in the first quarter and added 18 more to Winnebago's 12 for a 34-22 halftime lead.

Both Scott Von Minden and Duane Mitchell, with 19 and 16 points respectively, did a good job on the boards. Moore added:

Freshmen Push Record to 5-0

The Wayne High freshmen team made use of an overtime situation Monday night to take its fifth win against Wakefield and edge out Wakefield, 63-59.

Larry Creighton, high point man for the game with 23, sunk in the last basket with about five seconds left in regulation time to knot the contest at 57 all.

Then Rich Workman and Rob Mitchell combined for four and two points respectively to give the locals the win. Workman ended up as the second high scorer for Wayne at 14 while Mitchell hit six.

According to basketball coach Duane Blomkamp, the team started out on the slow side, trailing 18-9 before picking up momentum and making the contest close through the remainder of the game.

"I think our defense did a better job after the first period to help us win," he added.

Blomkamp singled out Dave Hix and Creighton as playing good both offensively and defensively for the team.

Allen and the host Trojans will open up the four-school meet with the Eagles paired off against Pender in the 7 p.m. match Thursday.

Coach Robert Moore's Allen five will be ready to fly high after Tuesday night's encounter with Winnebago. The Eagles, 3-1 before Tuesday, will be ready to HOUSE CONSTRUCTION in Wayne has been slowing down, said John Vakoc of Vakoc Construction Co., one of the biggest problems right now is the decrease in the Wayne State College faculty. This will hurt the building trend in Wayne, he said. Working on one of the new houses in Wayne are Larry Thompson, left, and Gary French.

Construction in City Declines During 1972

If a Wayne citizen would take a look at the dollar figures on the building and remodeling permits issued in 1972, he might get the impression construction doubled in 1972 over 1971.

But actual construction in the city decreased by almost a third compared to last year.

Reason for the decrease, the city clerk's office has issued 44 permits totaling an estimated $876,690 for building and remodeling so far this year. During the same period a year ago, the city issued 77 permits at an estimated cost of $435,900.

Reason for the increase in dollar value of construction between the two years is the four major projects started or in the planning stages.

The largest project under taken this year was the new wing on Day Retirement Home at Ninth and Main. That project is expected to cost an estimated $320,000 before completion.

Second largest project—costing an estimated $130,000, was Gibson Discount Center on East Seventh Street.

Two other large projects also boosted the dollar value of construction completed or planned this year. The T-hangers at the municipal airport, a $26,000 project, and the new lifting station which will be built on East Seventh, a $15,000 project.

Although the 1972 figure of $435,900 estimated value of construction is about half the 1972 figure of $876,690, there has been far less construction in the city this year than there was in 1971.

"We're in kind of a lull year," said city clerk Dan Sherry. "Building permits are down this year because the number of new houses being built is at a standstill."

Sherry attributed the lull in house building to the general trend in housing construction across the nation. According to the federal government reports, he said, building trend should increase in the coming year.

"Right now it is kind of leveling off. There are new projects and businesses on the board," he added.

In a further breakdown of the 1972 figures, of the 23 building permits issued, 11 were for homes costing an estimated total of $234,000, eight for shops or garages at $22,750, and four for the new businesses at $46,690.

Doctor Urges Caution on Highways

The President of the Nebraska Medical Association has appealed to Nebraskans to "give your family the best gift of all for this Christmas—safety for yourself on the highway through careful, cautious driving."

Dr. Frank Store said, "Traffic accidents reach deep to destroy the maim, without concern for anyone or anything. Physicians are in a position, more than almost any other group of people, to personally witness the horror that traffic accidents can bring."

"Traffic accidents are the greatest highway robbers," he said. "They rob young people of the promise of full lives through crippling injuries and they rob older people of the chance to live out fruitful lives."

"Several committees of our medical association are making improved traffic safety a major concern. Many member physicians are working hard on national, state and local committees to improve highway safety. But it all comes down to each individual driver wanting very much to be safe, and to guard the safety of fellow drivers," Dr. Store said.

L. Jenkins Dies

Funeral services for Lewis Jenkins, 64, of Winfield, are set for 2 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Winside Methodist Church, Winside. Mr. Jenkins died Tuesday morning at the Wayne Hospital.

Burial will be in Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside. The body will lie in state at the Hiscox Funeral home until noon Thursday and at the church from noon until time of services.

Adult Classes Set for Allen

Mrs. Gwen McGhee, nurse at the Allen Consolidated School, has announced that an adult class in Red Cross First Aid is being planned and will get under way with an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Jan. 5.

Classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday evening for 10 weeks.

Mishaps Occur Quickly On City's Icy Streets

Two separate two-car accidents occurred about 12:50 p.m. Saturday on the 500 block of Pearl, police reports show.

A car driven by Violet N. Lubberstedt, 233 Windsor, was headed south on Pearl when the driver stopped and was struck by an auto operated by Paul W. Kirtley, 514 Main.

About the same time another vehicle, driven by Margaret A. Hansen, Route 2, stopped to avoid the accident when she was struck by a car operated by Willard R. Wittse, Route 2.

According to police reports no one was hurt in the accidents, caused by slick streets.

About 3:05 p.m. Eunice Carbit, Route 2, was driving on the 300 block of Main when her auto hit the rear end of a vehicle driven by Ruben A. Griess, Jr., of Sutton, according to police reports.

Thirty five minutes later at the intersection of Second and Logan, vehicles operated by Joseph Bruns, Route 1, Wayne, and Bernetta Frerichs of Coleridge collided. No one was injured, according to police.

On Sunday only one traffic mishap hit the city, occurring at 11:10 a.m. on the 200 block of Main.

A car driven by Paul D. J. Koppin, 509 W. First, hit the rear end of a vehicle operated by Donald G. Conyers of Columbus. Finally, at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday a three-vehicle accident occurred when a pickup by Raymond E. Florine, Route 2, hit a car operated by Gary Lee Eltridge, Iowa Falls, Ia., and in turn caused the Eldridge auto to strike a parked car owned by Lee Tietgen, 111 S. Douglas, police reports show.

Florine was making a left hand turn on the 300 block of Logan when he struck the Eldridge vehicle. No one was hurt.

Labor Man at Courthouse Next Week

A representative of the Department of Labor office in Norfolk will be at the courthouse in Wayne Wednesday from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

The office reports that the total number of registered applicants for work increased 304 over last month.

The active applicant file for November totaled 948. In November of 1971 there were 699 applicants registered for work.

The office reports that applicants for work in November totaled 136, seven more than last month and 58 fewer than in November last year.

Nonagricultural openings received from employers during November totaled 239 compared to 243 last month and 176 in November last year.

Nonagricultural placements for November totaled 170 compared to 134 for the same period last year. Placements for November were down to 46 from last month, but were 36 above the same period last year.

President Franklin Pierce requested the first Christmas tree for the White House in 1856.

New Law to Open Up Medicare's Benefits

About 1.7 million disabled people can get Medicare health insurance under a change in the social security law—the first people under 65 to become eligible for this protection since the Medicare program began in 1966.

Starting in July 1973, disabled people who have received social security or railroad retirement disability payments for 24 consecutive months or more can get help from Medicare in paying for their hospital and doctor bills and other covered services, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

Those eligible will include disabled workers, disabled widows and disabled dependent widowers between 50 and 65, disabled mothers 50 or older who get social security benefits because they have young or disabled children in their care, and people who get benefits because they were disabled before age 22.

Bertha Reinhart Funeral Rites Held Saturday

Services for Bertha Reinhart, 84, of Wakefield, were held there Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical Covenant Church. She died Friday.

The Rev. Fred Janssen officiated. William Yost sang "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Just as I Am," accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Fell.

Palbearers were Elwin Fredrickson, Leonard Converse Jr., LaVern Fredrickson, Duane Buerling, David Fredrickson and Stephen Reinhart. Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery.

Bertha Otelia Reinhart, daughter of Daniel and Otelia Domke Danielson, was born Oct. 7, 1888 at El Dorado, Ia. She was united in marriage to Knute Reinhart March 27, 1906 at West Union, Ia.

Survivors include two sons, George of Racine, Minn., and Albert of Austin, Minn., two daughters, Mrs. Esther Converse and Mrs. Cecil (Lillian) Fredrickson, 12 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Starting in July, people under 65 who need kidney transplants or dialysis for kidney disease also will be eligible for Medicare if they have worked long enough in jobs covered by social security.

This health insurance protection also will be available to insured workers' wives or husbands and dependent children who need dialysis treatments or kidney transplants.

"Eligibility begins the third month after the month dialysis begins and lasts through the 12th month after the month dialysis ends or the patient had a kidney transplant," Branch said.

Medicare has previously been available only to people 65 and over.

"The protection has been extended to severely disabled people under 65 because on the average they require seven times as much hospital care as other people—and three times as much service from doctors," Branch said.

"Many severely disabled people can't get private health insurance for financial or other reasons," he said.

People who are getting monthly social security payments be cause they are disabled will be notified if they are eligible for Medicare. But widows 50 or older who have been severely disabled the last two years but haven't filed a claim based on their disability because they're getting checks as mothers caring for young or disabled children will have to apply for disabled widows' benefits to be eligible for Medicare.

The hospital insurance is funded by social security contributions from employees, employers and self-employed people. The medical insurance is funded by individual monthly premiums and general revenues of the federal government.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Hervale Farms to Compete in National Show

Cattle from a farm near Wayne will be entered in the golden anniversary National Polled Hereford Show scheduled for Jan. 29-31 in Fort Worth, Tex.

Hervale Farms northwest of Wayne will enter about eight head of cattle in the show, the largest beef breed show held anywhere in the world in modern times.

Leland Herman said he will enter cattle between the ages of 12 and 20 months, most of which have been shown this fall.

Herman, a member of state and national polled Hereford associations, said his herdsman, Jack Beeson, and Beeson's wife will make the trip to the Texas show.

The show has attracted a record entry of 535 animals from all over the United States and Canada, according to Orville Sweet, president of the American Polled Hereford Association in Kansas City, Mo.

Prize-winning Polled Herefords are entered from 28 states, from Washington to Florida and from New York to California, and from three Canadian provinces. Sweet reported, representing a new record of 143 herds.

Previous highs for the breed's nationals were 117 exhibitors set in February at Jackson, Miss., and 473 animals entered set in January of 1971 at Denver.

Because of its size, the Polled Hereford national show will be the first cattle show in history to be held in the Southwestern Exposition's spacious Will Rogers Coliseum instead of the regular livestock judging arena. The Coliseum is normally used Upwards of 5,000 Polled Hereford breeders from all over the U.S. and foreign countries are expected to attend the breed's show and sale and the annual convention of the American Polled Hereford Association.

New national officers will be elected during the convention and two pioneer breeders will be inducted into the Polled Hereford "Hall of Fame" and five National "Hall of Merit" awards will be conferred.

Climaxing three days of judging will be the annual sale, billed this year as "Sale of National Sires." The sale features a rigidly selected consignment of 20 herd sire prospects.

Polled Herefords are naturally hornless whiteface beef cattle and are the only major beef breed in the world of American origin. More than 30 million Polled Herefords have been registered since the first herd of 11 naturally hornless Herefords was started in 1901 near St. Mary's, Iowa.

Former Winside Resident Dies In Nevada

A former resident of the Winside area, Franklin M. Baird of Las Vegas, Nev. died there Saturday at the age of 57.

Services are set for 2 p.m. (today) Thursday at the Home for Funerals in Norfolk. Burial will be in the Hillcrest Memorial Park Cemetery, Norfolk.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Baird, he was born March 10, 1915 at Winside. A salesman for an auto parts firm, Mr. Baird left Nebraska in about 1951, moving to California. He and his wife, the former June Harlan, have lived in Las Vegas for the past two and a half years.

He was a veteran of World War II.

The body will lie in state from 10 a.m. until time of service Thursday at the Home for Funerals.

Survivors include his widow, June; one son, Jerry of Van Nuys, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Vivian Adair and Mrs. Monte (Fern) Fry, both of San Pedro, Calif.; his father, George W. Baird, and four grandchildren.

The sun pours onto the earth 100,000 times as much energy as the world's present electric power capacity.

Law Affecting Pork Raisers Starts Soon

A California law which requires that all pork shipped into the state come from certified brucellosis-free herds goes into effect Jan. 1 and has the Nebraska swine industry moving toward some strengthening of Nebraska's brucellosis laws. Dr. Marvin J. T. Wiehaua, chairman of the University of Nebraska Veterinary Science Department, said the new California regulations will affect a large volume of Nebraska pork exports. And, though the actual incidence of brucellosis is very low, Nebraska swine producers will need some proof to hang onto the California market, Dr. T. Wiehaua noted.

The Nebraska Committee on Animal Health is considering ways of validating Nebraska swine. One of the methods discussed would provide for testing of all animals in a herd. If the animals were all negative, the herd could be validated as brucellosis-free. Thereafter, testing of 20 per cent of the animals annually with tests remaining negative, would keep the validation in effect. Testing could also be done at slaughter by blood testing all breeding animals sent to slaughter. Negative test results would be an index that the entire herd was brucellosis free, Dr. T. Wiehaua explained.

Some other Midwestern states are head of Nebraska in brucellosis certification, and there is a definite need to move ahead in this area in order that we don't lose the market for Nebraska swine. The committee is considering proposed legislation tightening brucellosis control regulations in swine which would be introduced during the 1973 session of the Legislature.

On November 9, 1935, the Committee for Industrial Organization (later the Congress of Industrial Organizations) was formed by several international unions of the American Federation of Labor for the purpose of fostering industrial unionism.

Drugs, Alcohol, Health Subject of 5th Annual Meet of NEN Council

"Peoples' Problems — Drugs, Alcohol and Health" is the theme chosen for the fifth annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Family & Community Affairs Council to be held at the Laurel city auditorium on Monday, Jan. 8.

Gail Wheeler, associate director of the Nebraska Division on Alcoholism in Lincoln, local youth who have attended the Nebraska School for Alcohol Studies and Drug Abuse will be the panel members.

Sgt. Curtis Cockran, State Patrol representative from Norfolk, will show a film and speak on highway safety in the morning.

The afternoon program is intended to inform local residents about future community health services. Mrs. Jane Ford, public health educator for the Norfolk Regional Center, will speak on the comprehensive health planning programs which are currently being initiated across the state.

Dr. Jack R. Anderson, director of medical services for the Department of Public Institutions in Lincoln, will address the group on "Outlook for Community Health Services in Nebraska."

The noon lunch will be served by Laurel band parents.

HENRY LEY

DR. A. C. BUTLER

Ley, Butler to Keynote Seminar for Bankers

Two Wayne residents will keynote a four state bankers' seminar at Warrensburg, Mo., Jan. 9.

Henry Ley, state banking director, will present the Nebraska background for "multi-banks" branch banks or holding company banks—and Dr. A. C. Butler of the school of business and economics at the university in Warrensburg will direct the event.

Other speakers will be William Sprong, CPA with Peal, Marwick and Mitchell in Kansas City; Wendell Gibson, general counsel with the Iowa Bankers Association, and William Lamerson, vice-president of Commerce Bancshares, a Kansas City holding company.

"How big is too big" is really the question, Dr. Butler said, "and it applies to governments, universities and even churches, as well as business institutions. Coastal states have been multi-bank for many years. As the Midwest fills with more people, branch banking will become a sharper issue, particularly in terms of suburban growth."

"The legislatures of Iowa, Kansas and Missouri will entertain bills relating to bank growth, although Iowa already has a very liberal law," Butler continued. "We are taking a ballot before and after the speeches on the issue and reporting our results to the banking committee of the state legislatures," he concluded.

Santa Claus Planning Stops in Wayne Area

In a phone call to The Wayne Herald this week Santa Claus confirmed the dates of visits still to be made in area towns. His calendar for the remainder of the month is as follows:

Dixon — On main street with treats for children after school is dismissed Friday.

Laurel — At city auditorium with treats and free movie at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Allen — In town square prior to drawing for community promotion prizes with treats for children at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Wakefield — On main street Friday.

Wayne — Santa's house on main street with candy and coloring books for children from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. daily through Friday and 10 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Santa visited with youngsters Saturday afternoon at the Winside auditorium. Dale Miller and Carl Toulman were in charge of arrangements there. Sacked treats were distributed to the children.

Three hundred youngsters visited Santa Claus at the Hoskins Fire Hall Friday. Santa Claus was assisted there by Arvin Kruger. The visit was sponsored by the Hoskins businessmen.

Rural Mail Carrier is Santa Claus in Disguise

By BETTY KAVANAUGH
 "If it snows on Christmas Eve, Santa Claus can rely on his sleigh and reindeer or his 'whirly-bird' to help him sail through the skies.
 But the rural mail carrier, whose services are very similar at this time of the year, is grounded — his sleigh a trusty, versatile vehicle that doesn't stride easily on the snow or glide through the air above the mud.
 Nor is the rural mail carrier's job a one-night effort as is the case with Santa.
 Christmas for the rural mail carrier begins long before the first of December, usually with the first shipment of heavy Christmas catalogs. With thousands of colorful, tempting pictures which delight nearly everyone, they mean a lot of extra work for the mail carrier.
 First, he must sort the catalogs correctly for systematic delivery to the appropriate homes. Paper markers in with the regular mail help him accomplish this job.
 Once he has stuffed the books into the various mail boxes, the carrier can breathe a sigh of relief... at least until the next shipment arrives.
 About the middle of November the mail carrier begins to pick up orders to the catalog firms. Some are sealed with checks inside while others are trustingly left open with money enclosed for money orders which the postmaster or clerk will make out.
 Some of the younger patrons of the rural mail carrier send their orders also, usually addressed to the "North Pole."

RURAL MAIL CARRIER Bob Johnson of Carroll stands in front of some of the Christmas mail which taxes carriers each year at this time.

They are usually sent to The Wayne Herald or to some other "interested parties" who might fill the orders.
 Soon, large numbers of packages of practically every size and description begin to arrive. Some of the packages have been ordered, some have been expected and others will be happy surprises.
 Unlike Santa, who makes only one-way deliveries, the rural mail carrier has to pick up some packages and start them on their way to other places, often great distances away.
 The rural mail carrier and the workers at the smaller post offices often give the packages an extra reinforcement of tape or string because they are aware of the abuse they will be subjected to when they get to the larger, busier post offices.
 The rural mail carrier is the one who starts the fruit cake on its way to Viet Nam. He hears the repeated inquiries of worried parents anxious for a return letter, and he has been known to make an unscheduled delivery to their front door when the answer finally comes.
 The rural mail carrier sometimes makes other unscheduled deliveries. Sometimes he is asked by a patron to be on the alert for a package from a specific place, and when it arrives he is asked to leave it in the patron's car, garage or at the door. Otherwise he is told to leave the package at the post office and to put a note in the mail box or to telephone the patron and tell him that it has arrived. The reason: to make sure the package is a surprise come Christmas Day.

 During the Christmas season the rural mail carrier delivers thousands of Christmas cards of every size — large, small, thin, wide.
 The cards of good cheer cause considerable delay for the rural carrier, who must spend more time sorting such large pieces of Christmas mail.
 In spite of all this, most rural carriers find their jobs very rewarding, especially when able to deliver with the regular mail an occasional bonus service.
 Our rural mail carrier would look right at home in December in a red suit and a long, white beard.

Veterans' Benefits Questions, Answers
 Q. I received a general discharge from the Army. Am I entitled to any GI Bill benefits?
 A. Generally, this type of discharge entitles you to the same benefits as an honorable discharge. Apply at your nearest Veterans Administration Regional Office.
 Q. A veteran's widow receiving pension died on June 15 and had in her possession a Veterans Administration check for the month of May. Is this check payable to anyone?
 A. The check must be returned to the disbursing office which issued it. It may then be paid, upon submission of a claim to the nearest VA office, to any children entitled to VA death benefits, or, if no eligible children, then to the person or persons who bore the expense of the last illness or burial.
 Q. How long can I wait to get my teeth fixed by the Veterans Administration after I get out of the Army?
 A. You must apply within one year after your discharge to be eligible for the presumption that your dental conditions are service-connected. Even so, not all dental conditions can be presumed to be service-connected. For example, teeth lost before you entered service obviously are not.

 The Veterans Administration advises veterans planning to travel or establish residence abroad to bear in mind certain limitations on their rights to benefits.

Interested in Welding? College, Company Join To Teach Techniques

A combination employment-training opportunity in industrial welding will be offered at Walthill in January. It was announced this week by Dr. Robert Cox, president of Northeast Nebraska Technical College in Norfolk.

The four week program is being co-sponsored by Northeast Tech and Campbell Manufacturing Co. The course, which will include instruction in the new argon gas techniques of welding, as well as oxygen, acetylene and stick welding, will be taught by Dick Tyndall, certified welder at Campbell Manufacturing. Tyndall, received his certification while in military service construction at San Francisco shipyards.

Enrollees will be employed by Campbell at its Walthill plant for 9 1/2 hours a day, of which three hours will be classroom instruction and the remainder will be on the job application of techniques being taught. Dr. Cox said.

Robert Schlimgen, dean of community services at Northeast Tech, said that the cost of the course is $24. There will be no additional cost for tools or materials.

For persons employed the full 9 1/2 hour day and intending to continue employment following the course, Campbell will pay the entire $24 cost of the course, plus wages for eight hours a day.

In other words, enrollees will be paid wages for the entire 6 1/2 hours they will be working

On the job, plus another 1 1/2 hours (half of their three hour in-class instruction time). Schlimgen said.

To preserve evergreens of all types, use this formula. To a gallon of hot water, add mix four tablespoons Micronized Iron plant food; two cups of light corn syrup and four teaspoons of chlorinated household bleach. Pound evergreen stems for two inches and immerse in this mixture. Add more formula daily as the level evaporates.

Pointers on Poinsettias

Were you still showing off last year's Christmas poinsettia on George Washington's birthday? Or did yours shrivel up and drop its leaves before you'd even taken down the Christmas tree?

Perhaps the following tips might help you in caring for this festive — but finicky — house plant.

Poinsettia plants are especially sensitive to heat and light and will not tolerate a draft. Most do poorly with either too little or too much water.

As soon as you get your poinsettia home, remove the foil or any other wrapping around the pot and place the plant in or near a sunny window.

During the day, try to keep the plant in a room where the temperature stays between 65 and 70 degrees Fahrenheit. The plant needs a cooler spot at night, but no cooler than 60 degrees or your poinsettia will suffer.

If your plant starts to drop leaves, check to see if it's in a draft from a window or a nearby outside door.

The problem could also be lack of water. Touch the soil every day. If it feels dry, water enough to saturate the potting soil. Don't go overboard, though. Pour on just enough so that it drips out the drainage hole. Let soil become quite dry before rewatering. Never let your plant stand in water; be sure to empty out any water in the saucer or flower pot.

When you've followed all these care pointers, you should be assured of several weeks' enjoyment from your plant.

Now for determined green-thumbeders who want their poinsettia to flower next Christmas, here is some further advice.

Keep your plant healthy during the warm weather months, then coax it into its flowering stage in mid-December. Follow the care instructions talked about earlier until the end of April. Then each day water the soil a little less until the soil is very dry, but not so dry the stems shrivel.

Keep the plant in a well ventilated room where the temperature stays about 60 degrees. About mid-April you'll need to do some trimming. Cut the poinsettia stems back to six inches above the soil and repot the plant. Use a container an inch or two larger in diameter than the poinsettia's original container. A number of potting mixes are available commercially, but you can mix your own. Use two parts soil, one part peat moss, one part perlite by volume.

Water the plant thoroughly and keep it by a sunny window where the temperature stays between 70 and 75 degrees. In a few days you should notice some new growth beginning and you'll need to start fertilizing. Every two weeks put on a water soluble fertilizer, using the rate recommended on the label.

During the summer months, put your poinsettia outside. Find a lightly shaded place in the yard and in early June move your poinsettia to its new home. Cut the stems again between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15, leaving each shoot three or four inches long. Remove the plant from its garden spot; repot it and place it near a sunny window in your home where the temperature is between 65 and 70 degrees. Continue to water and fertilize it.

Poinsettias flower about 10 weeks after daylight time drops to 11 hours or less. To have it blossom for Christmas you may have to shorten the days for your poinsettia. Keep the plant in complete darkness from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. starting October 1 and continuing through Thanksgiving. A closet or a dark basement corner is fine for this. If the plant receives any light during those hours the flowering will be delayed. During the day put the plant back in its sunny window. Continue fertilizing until mid-December.

With some patience on your part — and a good deal of tender loving care — your poinsettia should be in full bloom again next Christmas.

Anyone interested in knowing where Christmas trees are grown in Nebraska can write to the State Forester, 201 Miller Hall, University of Nebraska East Campus, Lincoln, Nebraska 68503.

Marla...Somebody's Dream Girl?

MARLA, whoever she is, must have been a happy lady if she saw this tribute neatly written in snow on the Wayne State campus just west of the Hahn Building. Complete with exclamation point and a flight of angels, it appeared after last week's snowfall. If Marla didn't see it then, maybe she will see it now. And who knows what the message will mean!

Veterans' Benefits
Questions, Answers
Q—My wife served in the Marine Corps during World War I. She passed away several years ago but her illness and death had nothing to do with her military service. I hear there is some kind of new law allowing widowers like myself to get a Veterans Administration pension. Is this true?
A—Yes. This Public Law 92-540. But there is an income limitation for the pension.

Q—My husband was killed in the Army in World War I. I would like to enroll in a well-known university in Paris, France. Will the Veterans Administration help me do this?
A—Yes. If you are eligible for assistance under the Dependents' Educational Assistance Program, you may now attend approved foreign institutions of higher learning.

Q—My brother is blind from a Vietnam war injury. He is home now but we can't seem to get him interested in living again. Isn't the Veterans Administration doing anything about young men like him?
A—Yes. The VA recently entered into an agreement with the Blind Veterans Association for B. V. A. repressant in them serves blind, to augment VA services to blinded veterans.

Q—My husband was totally disabled as the result of an accident while he was in the Air Force. With him and the children to look after, I can't leave home to go to school so I can get a job. Can the Veterans Administration arrange for me to go to school at night or take a correspondence course in home?
A—Yes. Women in your situation are eligible for education benefits under more liberal rules under the new education law. Please discuss this with the veterans assistance officer at the nearest VA regional office.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. How does an employer treat new employees with respect to the 5.5 per cent general wage and salary ceiling?

A. Basically, the new employee is subject to the same guidelines as the old employee if the job requirements are similar. The 5.5 per cent standard applies to the appropriate employee unit to which he belongs.

Q. If a Tier I subsidiary firm raises prices without prenotification, does this violation have any effect on the parent corporation?

A. Yes. Neither the parent corporation nor any of its subsidiaries may implement any further price increases until the particular subsidiary's price increase has been properly pre-notified, and approved by the Price Commission and the Commission has approved the parent's other increases. The subsidiary's failure to prenotify increases previously granted to the parent corporation and its other subsidiaries that have not yet been instituted.

Q. When does the IRS require a wage-price inquiry to be in writing?

A. The IRS will ask a caller to put his oral inquiry in writing only when he desires a written reply or if the request is so complex that it would not be feasible to handle it by phone. There is no administration appeal procedure if a person feels the answer he receives to an oral inquiry is unsatisfactory. Except for rent violations, a person is not required to submit a complaint of an illegal increase in writing.

The Veterans Administration estimates that 63,000 wives, widows and children of veterans will receive educational assistance allowance checks ranging up to $175 monthly this fiscal year.

POPULAR baton twirling teacher Eileen Damme poses with one of her recent classes. A certified teacher with the National Academy of Accredited Twirling Teachers since the age of 16, she has taught hundreds of youngsters the art of twirling.

young girl should learn baton twirling for poise, grace, coordination, self-confidence, teamwork, leadership and responsibility if not for a career. There are many scholarship opportunities for promising young college soloists, she commented.

Lady 'Twirls' Through Life

By PAT OSWALD

Well known in the Winside area for her twirling talents, baton instructor Mrs. LeRoy Damme considers her life as a farmer's wife-instructor most rewarding.

"I've met so many wonderful people through twirling that I would never have met otherwise," she says, commenting on the lasting friendships she has made through her work.

So her family doesn't take back seat to her career, Mrs. Damme does her teaching in the family's farm home. She and her husband have a daughter, Kim, who is nearly four. And for those who wonder, Kim is following in her mother's footsteps, proving to be quite a little twirler already.

Eileen Berg began taking baton lessons in 1951 while living in Madison with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Berg. She soon found she wanted more instruction than the local majorettes could give her so her parents took her to Omaha where she studied under Joan Bloemer, Miss Majorette of America in 1954.

Baton twirling then wasn't nearly as advanced as at present, notes Mrs. Damme. Mini batons have replaced the thick ones used then, and state and national contests weren't as numerous.

Eileen did compete in contests, however, and in 1955 was named runner-up to the state champion strutter. She was also a state finalist in solo competition.

Eileen twirled with the Madison High School band five years and gave baton lessons to youngsters. She became certified with the National Academy of Accredited Twirling Teachers at the age of 16 and since then has taught hundreds of students throughout Northeast Nebraska. She has also taught at numerous baton clinics and has held many recitals and twirl-a-ramas.

Mrs. Damme has also performed in exhibitions using fire, Samoan fire knives and fire hoop. In 1966 she introduced an act which required her to jump a flaming rope while twirling two fire batons.

She has been featured in various articles in the "Drum Major Magazine" and since 1956 has been listed in "Who's Who in Baton Twirling." Many of her students have been named in that publication also.

Eileen organized her first baton corps, the Bergettes, in 1959, and the group performed in parades, fairs and for other public functions. Following her marriage in 1963, Mrs. Damme organized the Starlettes in Winside, a group which appears at every Old Settlers parade. At present she has about 50 students from area towns.

"One student drives 160 miles round trip for weekly lessons," she said.

Mrs. Damme also has what she calls a "great group" of twirlers in Laurel. Many of her students are featured twirlers in area high schools and some are college students.

Eileen is always involved in preparing her students for football and basketball half-time shows, state and national contests, talent shows and other performances, including the upcoming Orange Bowl Parade.

She teaches all phases of twirling, which include one and two baton, hoop, ribbon, fire and lighted baton, dance twirl, knives, flag, duets, trios, strutting and cape swinging. She has also had dance training and taught tap and ballet many years until twirling took priority.

Mrs. Damme attended the world championship competition held at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Ind., a few years ago.

"Twirling competition is keen," she says, "and it takes hours of practice to become a champion. I don't think the average person realizes that twirling isn't as easy as it looks."

In her 21 years of twirling, Mrs. Damme has had many prize students, the most recent of whom is Phyllis Miller of Winside. Miss Miller represented Nebraska in the national contest at St. Paul, Minn., recently. She had placed fourth in the state championships and she and her sister, Carla, have won many trophies and medals in duet competition.

"I always enjoy hearing from former students," Mrs. Damme remarked. "I keep lots of scrap books and photo albums. I think I'll enjoy looking at those when I get old."

Mrs. Damme feels every

Veterans' Benefits Questions, Answers

Q—I receive VA compensation for a service-connected disability. Am I also eligible for medication from the Veterans Administration?

A—Yes, a veteran is eligible for medication from the Veterans Administration if it is required for a service-connected disability.

Q—I have recently been awarded Dependency and Indemnity Compensation as the widow of a veteran killed on active duty. I am also a veteran and have my certificate of eligibility for a VA home loan. May I now obtain two VA home loans—one on my husband's service and one on mine?

A—No. An unremarried widow of a man who died while on active duty or who died from a service-connected disability is eligible for a home loan based on her husband's entitlement, but only if she is not eligible on the basis of her own active duty.

Social Security

Questions, Answers

Q. My wife recently had a stroke that left her with a severe speech problem. She's 66 now. If she gets speech therapy at home through home health visits, will our Medicare coverage pay for it?

A. Yes. Medicare will pay for up to 100 home health visits each calendar year — if your wife needs speech therapy, if she's confined to her home, and if her doctor has determined she needs home health care and sets up and periodically reviews a plan for the care. Also, the home health agency must be one that participates in Medicare.

Q. I've been getting Social Security payments since I was 9. Next year when I'm 18, I plan to enroll in a trade school. A friend told me that my monthly payments will stop when I become 18 if I don't go to college. Is this true?

A. No. You don't have to go to college to continue to get your monthly payments after you're 18. However, you do have to be single and enrolled as a full-time student at an educational institution. Most trade schools qualify as educational institutions. You should check with your Social Security office to be certain the trade school you're planning to attend meets this qualification.

Aim of Gov. Exon's 'lid bill': to curtail local school spending

LINCOLN — If the Legislature chooses Gov. J. James Exon's school aid plan next session, local school budgets will be curtailed by a complicated formula based on national inflation rates.

Exon disclosed what he calls his "lid bill" last week at a meeting of an advisory committee he has appointed to work with him on the school aid-fair relief issue.

The details of the Exon plan for making additional cash available from the state treasury for local school districts, educational service units and technical-community colleges were unveiled in November. But the governor said at that time he hadn't finished work on his "lid" proposals.

He explained to the advisory committee that school districts would be allowed to increase their budget item for teacher salaries by a percentage figure no larger than the last annual boost in the national consumer price index.

Salaries paid administrators could climb only as much as the average amount made available to them.

For example, if $100,000 had been budgeted in the 1973-74 school year for teachers' salaries, the item in 1974-75 could be increased only by the amount of the consumer price index jump. Schools then would take the amount of that increase, divide it by the number of teachers hired in the year.

A similar philosophy would be used for that portion of the school budget going toward supplies. It could be increased only by as much as the national wholesale price index increases.

The salary and supply totals would be added together to arrive at an operating budget subtotal. That figure, then, could be increased by a percentage equal to the percentage increase in the index.

If a school board wanted to spend more money than this grand total, it would have to ask for the approval of the district's voters.

In his Nov. 27 speech before the Nebraska Tax Research Council explaining his school aid-property tax relief concept, Exon had said he would insist on a mechanism to prevent local districts from using state aid to increase their spending.

Otherwise, he said, state sales and income taxes would climb without compensating decreases in property taxes.

The governor said his proposal calls for the state to assume 25 per cent of the expenditures schools make for operating. The present state aid plan — funded at $35 million annually — covers between 12 and 14 per cent of operating costs.

In addition, Exon said homeowners and farmers would receive checks from the state to cover half of what they had paid in property taxes for school operations.

Farmers would be able to claim rebates for their home and up to 160 adjacent acres. The advisory committee members said they weren't sure if the 160-acre provision would be fair because of the different types of land involved at different farms.

The advisors also planned further study of Exon's promise to grant some sort of rebate to renters. Specifics still haven't been worked out, but the governor said he was considering the return via a state check of a percentage of the total rent paid during a year as compensation for the lower property taxes the landlord would be paying.

All these questions also have been under study by a series of state senators. At least three bills — and probably more — will be introduced by legislators. They are expected to vary markedly from what Exon has been preparing.

Critics of the governor's concept claim he has made no provision for equalizing either taxes or the quality of education. They say all this plan does is seek a way to put a lid on spending and to try to insure that property taxes will be lowered.

The Exon plan was drafted chiefly by State Tax Commissioner William E. Peters and State Administrative Services Director G. G. Leske. Norman Krivosha, the governor's unsalaried legal counsel, also participated.

Other members of his advisory committee are Wes Hansen, North Platte; Robert Den Hartog, Lincoln; Allen P. Burkhardt, Norfolk; John Haloran, Hastings; Patrick Cooney, Omaha; Roger Clough, York; Willard Waldo, DeWitt; Bernard Friedreichsen, Columbus; Tom Oliva, Milligan; Dale McCoy, Omaha; Marvin Jewell, Lincoln; Louis Riha, Sarpy County; John Lauritsen, Omaha; Fern Hubbard Orme, Lincoln; Merle Ebers, Millard; Edwin Nelson, Chadron; and Erv Friehe, McCook.

Make sure Christmas remains happy time

Although most parents in the Wayne area probably have already bought the toys on their Christmas lists, a few warnings about purchasing dangerous toys might save an injury if needed.

Electrical toys that operate on 110 volt current without step-down transformers could easily cause an injury to an unsuspecting child.

Other dangerous toys include projectiles such as bow and arrow sets, slingshots, guns and rifles.

Dolls and stuffed animals with sharp parts or small parts that could be swallowed should be avoided, as should furniture with sharp edges, glass toys and flammable toys such as doll clothing or camping equipment.

Since enactment of the Child Protection and Toy Safety Act in 1969, hundreds of toys have been banned as dangerous by the Food and Drug Administration. However, about 5,000 new toys are introduced each year, some of them dangerous.

Parents should be the final judge when purchasing a toy, and it remains the parents' responsibility to see that their children are taught the proper — and safe — way to use it.

It would be sad to have this Christmas season turn into one of pain and injury for some area child.

Careless operation cause of tractor overturns

Improper operation of tractors and equipment is the major cause of tractor overturn accidents.

That's the conclusion of a University of Nebraska-Lincoln safety specialist who studied information about 175 tractor overturns in the state from Jan. 1, 1966 to Jan. 1, 1972.

Some of the facts uncovered during the study are revealing:

—Thirty-three per cent of the overturns involved operators under 20 years of age.

—Eighty per cent of the operators were considered experienced, while seven per cent were experienced although not used to the equipment or immature. Thirteen per cent were thought to be immature.

—Only eight of the 175 tractors involved were equipped with some type of protective device. No fatalities occurred in these accidents, but 78 fatalities occurred in the other 167 accidents.

—Over 61 per cent of the tractors involved were the tricycle type (narrow front end) and 32 per cent were wide front end type (extended axle or wide placement of front wheels).

—In 50 per cent of the cases, the speed of the tractor at the time of the accident was less than five miles per hour. The tractor was being operated at 15 or more miles per hour in 15 per cent of the accidents.

—Early-two per cent of the accidents occurred on a highway or county road, 32 per cent in fields or pastures.

Dr. Raymond Keltton, Wayne State band director, performed as a soloist at the recent Husker Conference Band Clinic in Plainville.

Though in the present day snow lies up more than its share of Nebraska's traffic in pioneer times it added to the ease and pleasure of travel. A good coat of snow made farm hauling easier—much easier than the heavy ruts developed by thawing weather—and, more important perhaps, made possible sleigh riding, one of the year's most joyous entertainments.

Many early newspapers contained in the files of the Nebraska State Historical Society frequently mentioned sleighing parties in their columns—indeed, such accounts were real "society" news. A bob-sleigh, its bed partially filled with hay, drawn by horses with sleigh bells, was a luxurious conveyance. The tinkle of the bells and the laughter of the occupants could be heard for a long distance over the empty prairie on a crisp, still night.

Frequently, the young bloods of one town visited another for a combined sleighing party and dance. The Brownville Advertiser of January 31, 1881, contains descriptions of two such parties: "On Saturday evening, a half dozen sleigh loads of 'young folks' went from this city to Rock Port; stopping at Cook's Hotel. They partook of an excellent supper, after which, together with their friends, at that place, they all joined hands and circled round, until the 'wise hours' admonished them to 'go home with the girls in the morning."

"The same evening, a host of pleasure seekers from our sister city of Nemaha, came up to this place, and put up at the Brownville House, where they were treated in Doctor Mack's best style. They

How is Tommy?
This question has been asked by so many concerned people. Tom is in good spirits, his condition is weak, but he has been able to eat small amounts of food. He is looking forward to Christmas and Santa.

A big big thanks to all the kind people and the children, too, who have brought a lot of smiles to Tom in the past few weeks. Words cannot express our appreciation for all of the kind concern you people have given us since Tom first got sick.

Tom, David, Jean and I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

To Kids, Happiness Is A Christmas Party

Four hundred happy youngsters can't be wrong. That's about how many kids thoroughly enjoyed Saturday's Christmas party at the city auditorium in Wayne, an annual treat for area youths from three groups at Wayne State College.

Putting on the affair again this year were Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Kappa Delta Gamma sorority and the Order of Diana. Businessmen in the city donated about $400 to help finance the party, which included games, breaking of pinatas filled with toys and candy, balloon breaking contests and the like.

Herald photographer Bob Bartlett captured these scenes with his camera during the day's activities. Clockwise from top left: Traci Hansen, aims a toy gun at balloons under the watchful eyes of Roxanne Hurd; Wendy Shol tries to interest little Julie Brunstaulf in a game of bowling; Terry Curfman gives a piggy-back ride to David Phelps; Lisa Peters grabs a balloon off the wall as fun draws to a close, and Mark Slickbernd (top) and Gary Criger throw out bunches of candy to outstretched hands below them before the youngsters head home.

The Agent's Angle

by Harold Ingalls

University shows that corn at 25 per cent will hold for 17 days at 50 degrees Fahrenheit and 42 days at 35 degrees before it loses one-half of one per cent dry matter. More deterioration than this in grain is certainly not desirable.

Corn at 25 per cent will hold all winter if it has enough ventilation to keep the temperature cold enough. Corn at 25 or 26 per cent needs about five cm per bushel, 24 per cent needs three, 22 per cent need 1 1/2 and 20 per cent needs 3/4 per bushel.

Corn can be cooled, or even frozen and then checked occasionally, about once a week to see if any heat is being generated. If there is any sign of warmth, the grain must be recooled. Of course, when it begins to get warm next spring the grain should be dried.

Refrigerated grain will keep even though it is wet, but it has to be aerated to keep it refrigerated.

Expert: No Danger From Damaged Grains

Advice to farmers on handling corn coming from fields moderately infected with Southern Corn Leaf Blight was issued this week by a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension plant pathologist following questions received from various counties regarding the situation.

"From the data presently available it appears there is no danger from toxicity due to feeding blight-damaged grains to poultry, swine, or cattle. Neither have reports shown any hazard of feeding the forage or silage of blight-damaged corn to cattle," said Dr. David S. Wysock.

"Feeding trials in Florida and Georgia have demonstrated the absence of a toxicity problem when test animals of several species were given a diet of Helminthosporium maydis invaded corn. Post-mortem examinations at the end of the test period did not reveal abnormal lesions on body organs," he said.

"It is generally felt that SLD-damaged corn does not require special methods of handling prior to storage conditions that differ from normal operations," he said.

Dr. Wysock urges farmers to keep in mind that stored grains will become damaged whenever conditions favor the development of storage molds.

He listed the following major factors as those which determine when stored grains will be damaged by storage molds:

—Moisture content of the grain—A moisture content below 13 per cent in corn, wheat and sorghum or below 12 per cent in soybeans prevents invasion by storage fungi regardless of the length of time the grains are stored.

Temperature—In the range between 40 degrees and 50 degrees Fahrenheit storage fungi grow very slowly; at 80 degrees to 90 degrees they grow rapidly.

Physical damage—Cracks or breaks in the pericarp or seed coats permit ready entrance by storage fungi.

Length of time the grain is to be stored—Grain that is to be stored for only a few weeks before it is processed can be stored safely with a higher moisture content than grain that is to be stored for months or years.

Extent to which grain is already invaded by field fungi—Partially deteriorated grain is a poorer storage risk than grain free of molds and otherwise sound.

High Moisture Grain Is An Effective Feed

High moisture grain—both corn and milo—can be effectively used by pigs, reports University of Nebraska swine specialist Bill Ahlschwede.

"On a dry matter basis, high moisture and low moisture grains appear to be equal for pigs, although they need to be handled and fed differently," says Ahlschwede.

He noted that grinding and mixing high moisture grains in complete rations for pigs can cause problems and that wet feed does not "mingle" through feeders well when finely ground.

Mixing the high moisture grain with the supplement gives the best performance, although it appears that free choice grain and free choice supplement fed side-by-side will give acceptable performance. Feed costs will be higher with the free choice feeding, he added, explaining, "If the pigs eat too little protein supplement, it takes more feed per pound of gain. If they eat too much supplement, the ration cost increases."

"There appears to be little or no advantage in grinding or rolling high moisture corn for pigs," he said.

"Growing-finishing pigs performed as well on whole moisture corn as they did when it was cracked," he commented. "With high moisture milo, performance is improved with processing. In a recent feed test in Kansas, pigs were eight per cent more efficient on high moisture milo when it was rolled than when it was whole."

Some of the potential problems in using high moisture grains for pigs are related to storage and spoilage. Ahlschwede stated:

"Spoilage results in loss of feed value, and pigs often refuse to eat musty grain or feed. In addition, some of the organisms associated with spoiled grain produce toxins which cause serious problems. Bleeding pig disease can be caused by an anti-coagulating factor produced by organisms that have been charge of the business meeting were Anna Borg, president; Colleen Roeder, vice president; Anita Eckert, secretary; Cindy Garvin, treasurer; and Kelli Riley, news reporter.

Record books were handed out by Mrs. Earl Eckert. Games were played and a gift exchange was held. Marilyn Eckert was the refreshment chairman.

Next meeting will be Jan. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the Northeast Station.

Kelli Riley, news reporter.

Give Personal Gifts

We are approaching the holy day of Christmas. Somehow it gives everyone a tinge of nostalgia and reverence.

The Christmas season can also give you a tinge of anticipation if you're expecting a gift, and, sometimes, a tinge of intimacy if you're giving one.

Yours truly would like to express a personal opinion about gifts.

The financial cost is usually the main deciding factor on what kind of a gift to buy. Next is deciding whether the gift will be useful to the other person or persons. If not, it might be added to their already well-stocked store room.

When I have chosen a particular gift within my limited budget, I usually ask myself if I would like to receive it. But this is not a very practical, sensible way to select a gift. I dearly love to get gifts... large or small, expensive or inexpensive... and it makes little difference whether they are useful.

But somehow, I seem to have this thing about homemade gifts. I like the thought and personal creativity that is expressed in homemade gifts.

Most gifts are given out of love, respect, thankfulness, congratulations and, sometimes, just because. Of course it took some time and thought to run to Wayne and select the gift. And some gifts are very expensive.

But these gifts did not require the time and thought of crocheting a delicate edging around a piece of gingham fabric or knitting a pair of mittens.

The increase during the past years in the value of Grandma's crocheted, tatted or knitted doilies must be because no one can afford the time to make them.

This is a very good example of found in spoiling grain. Some of the chemicals produced can cause death or interfere with normal production."

Air-tight structures or well packed bunker silos are recommended as effective ways of storing high moisture corn or milo to keep it free from air. Acid treatment is another method which prevents spoilage.

Ahlschwede summarized, "When properly stored and handled, high moisture grain is suited for pork production. Performance equal to dry grain (on a dry matter basis) can be expected if the grain is of equivalent quality."

This would teach them a little about considering the likes and dislikes of others.

There are two meek, lovely, dainty ladies and five rambunctious, inquisitive, promising gentlemen in my class.

One boy unexpectedly informed me that the only thing he could make was fudge. I immediately assured him that if he drew my name, I would love to receive his gift of homemade fudge. Everyone seemed very pleased at the idea of getting a gift and each one was going to give a gift that was very personal.

Suddenly one day last week when I was feeling satisfied for having chosen such a creative, "talent-developing" idea I realized that I had also drawn a name.

Now I would have to take the time to decide what to make, see if I had all the required things at home and then make it. Right during the busy Christmas season when I have shopping to do, packages to wrap, packages to mail, packages to hide, cookies to make, Christmas decorations to dig out of the storeroom and goodness knows what all goes with the holiday season.

My first thought was to visit a psychiatrist for ever having thought of such an idea.

It would be so easy just to pick up a little gift the next time I'm in Wayne. But I won't. Not for that particular person anyway.

I'll make it. I'll spend extra time thinking about that particular child while I'm making the gift. And I hope that each little homemade gift will be made, given and received in the true spirit of Christmas as should be all gifts, store-bought or homemade.

Merry Christmas to you and yours.

Vatican artists make mosaic copies of many of the world's greatest religious paintings, National Geographic says. Beginning in the 16th century, the mosaics were used to replace fragile canvases damaged by years of candle soot and dampness. Today, the Vatican studio ships mosaic reproductions to many parts of the world.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Again as we have done the past two years, the annual Neu Cheese Christmas Checks have been mailed December 15, 1972 to the milk producers who sold to Neu Cheese the past year.

The 1972 Christmas Checks amounted to $15,142.51, making a three year total of over $42,000.00.

Again we wish to say Thank You for your past business and have a Happy Holiday Season.
