Helping Hand

THE IRWIN L. SEARS American Legion Post in Wayne recently received its order of five wheelchairs, 14 walkers and sick room equipment to help the needy in Wayne County. According to Chris Bargholz, county service officer, the Post purchased the equipment with money from sales of magazines. The equipment is free to anyone in the county who has need of it, he said. This is the 20th year for the Post in sponsoring the program.

Wayne, Area Towns Represented in Class Getting UN-L Degrees

Students from Wayne, Winfield, Pilger, Concord, Laurel, Waterbury and Wakefield were among 1,100 students who received degrees from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln at the close of the fall semester Friday afternoon.

There was no commencement ceremony. The graduates had the option of picking up their diplomas at the administration building or having them mailed to them. This fall graduates were invited to participate in the 1973 spring commencement exercises in May.

Wayne students receiving degrees were Phillip Kellon, master of science; Duane Fischer, Janet Zach and Donald Skokan, all with bachelor of science in business administration; and Gloria Fisher, bachelor of science in home economics.

A student from Pilger, Terry Sprick, received his doctor of philosophy.

Area students receiving degrees included John Schuster, Terry Poffler, Concord, bachelor of science in agriculture; Deanna Wickell, Laurel, bachelor of science in business administration; James Mallatt, Laurel, bachelor of science in mechanical engineering; Wayne Russmussen, Waterbury, bachelor of science in agriculture; Barbara Leonard, Wakefield, bachelor of fine arts; and Vicki Wash, Wakefield, bachelor of science in home economics.

Ron Dalton Home Is Judged Best Lighted

The Ron Dalton home at 916 Walnut St. in Wayne has been judged the best example of Christmas lighting in the city's annual lighting contest.

And taking second place in the contest, sponsored each year by the city and the Kiwanis Club, was Dalton's next-door neighbor, the Larry DeForges at 920 Walnut.

Taking third place in the contest was the Mike Mallette home at 318 Wilcliff Drive.

Interestingly enough, the Ron Daltons now live in the house formerly owned by the Mallettes.

The top three winners will receive gift certificates worth $25, $15 and $10 toward purchase of any electrical appliance in the city. The city provides the gift certificates and the local club holds the contest each Christmas season.

The gift certificates will be given out during the Kiwanis Club's meeting next week.

Carl Ward, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's committee in charge of the contest said the

Swedes Drink Too Much

Who says demonstrations are all bad? A recent bulletin at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne pointed out that the protest marches and demonstrations by groups of Swedish youths had a worthy aim in sight.

The young people carried signs and placards pointing out that during Christmas Swedes gain eight million pounds in weight, drink too much and buy 44 per cent of their Christmas gifts on credit.

Shopkeepers complained about the protests, but the young demonstrators kept at it, calling on the Swedish nation to "give meaning to Christmas."

Postmaster Warns Against Vandalizing Any Mail Boxes

Several recent instances of vandalism to mail boxes in the city of Wayne have prompted the local postmaster to warn persons about the consequences of such acts.

Wilbur Giese said anybody who damages mail boxes can be subject to fine or imprisonment.

He noted that parents should caution their children about playing pranks with mail boxes or damaging them. Some children don't know the consequences of such acts and the parents should make sure they understand, he said.

Allen Lighting Winners Named

The $25 prize for first place in the Allen lighting contest went to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Von Minden.

Second prize of $15 was awarded Mr. and Mrs. Bill Loukota, and the third prize of $10 was divided between Mr. and Mrs. George Van Cleave and Mr. and Mrs. Bus Good.

Anderson Sundry was the winner of the $20 prize awarded to the business place with the best window display.

$18 Tab at Local Store Turns into $500 Cash For A Wayne Woman

An $18 purchase at a local clothing store—reaped big dividends for a Wayne lady.

Mrs. Dean Backstrom won $500 Friday in Wayne's annual Christmas Give A Way promotion with a numbered ticket she received when she made a purchase at Kuhn's Department Store.

She was the top winner in the promotion, which resulted in $1,450 and eight bicycles valued at about $50 each being given to Wayne shoppers lucky enough to hold the tickets with numbers drawn by the local businessmen the past few weeks.

Clark Home Best Lighted At Concord

Named first place winner in the Concord Christmas lighting contest was the Ivan Clark home.

Second place went to the Roy E. Johnson residence and third prize was claimed by the Jack Erwins.

Prizes of $7, $5 and $3 were provided by the Concord village board, and the contest was conducted by the Concord Betterment Association. Judging was done Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rost, Laurel, who were accompanied by Roy Stohler and Norman Anderson.

Got Lot of Paper In Your Garage? Call for Collection

Although there will be no paper drive this month by Boy Scout Troop 175 in Wayne, persons with a huge amount of paper piling up in their basement or garage can have it picked up if they wish.

Mrs. Duane Lull said those persons wishing their paper picked up should call either her husband, Marilyn Koeh in Wayne.

The next drive in Wayne, Winfield and Carroll will be held the last Saturday in January, said Mrs. Lull, who helped her husband run the Scouts' last paper drive.

Commissioners Give Approval To Resolutions

The Wayne County commissioners passed resolutions Tuesday night approving the city and hospital board agreement and the purchasing of a road to the city landfill northeast of Wayne.

The Commissioners agreed to extend for another year the present contract with city and hospital board concerning the county cooperation in servicing Wayne County with ambulance service.

City Council Votes Down Request By Grocer for Off-Sale Beer License

Housewives won't be able to pick up a six pack of beer the next time they buy groceries.

The Wayne city council Tuesday night voted the request by a local grocer for an off-sale beer license, the third time in the past two and a half years the council has voted against the request.

City Council Votes Down Request By Grocer for Off-Sale Beer License

Housewives won't be able to pick up a six pack of beer the next time they buy groceries.

The Wayne city council Tuesday night voted the request by a local grocer for an off-sale beer license, the third time in the past two and a half years the council has voted against the request.

The request from Al Wittig, owner of Wittig's Super Valu, who one year ago saw his request denied by the council.

The council voted 4-3 to deny the request, with councilmen Pat Gross, Harvey Brasch, Ivan Beeks and Jim Thomas voting against Wittig and councilmen Frank Praher, Darrell Fuelberth and Keith Mosley voting in his favor.

Councilman Vernon Russell explained the council's decision by stating "conflict of interests."

Mayor Kent Hall had to break a 4-4 tie on the vote to recommend to the Nebraska Liquor Commission that the request be denied. He voted for denial, noting that the council isn't ready to grant several licenses to other grocery stores.

Russell voted against recommending to the state that the request be denied, and the other councilmen cast ballots in line with their votes on Wittig's request for the license.

Before the vote, Wittig asked the councilmen if they were going to vote as their wards wanted them to or as individuals. He noted after the council's votes that the only two private individuals who spoke up during Tuesday night's hearing were not opposed to granting the request.

"The only two unbiased persons who talked were not considered by the council," he commented.

Wanted: CIP Enthusiasts

About 30 persons are expected to attend a workshop at Wayne next week designed to explain some of the changes in Nebraska's Community Improvement Program.

Dan Sherry, who is sponsoring the workshop, said communities from across Northeast Nebraska have been invited to attend.

Scheduled for the Women's Club rooms at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday, the workshop is one of 17 being scheduled across the state during January.

Sherry said he hopes Wayne will be well represented at the workshop.

"I would like to get something started in Wayne so we can enter the 1973 CIP contest," he said after noting that Wayne has lost the contest in the past few years.

Wayne is large enough that there should be several persons who could take on the job of spearheading the community's participation in the contest, he said.

One of the changes to be explained during next week's workshop include expanding from six to nine categories the "Special Awards" division and offering three prizes of $300, $200 and $100 each as well as a plaque for the outstanding project.

Other changes, some dealing with deadline dates and submitting entries, will be explained during the meeting.

Annexation, Rezoning Okayed by Councilmen

The city council Tuesday night approved annexation and rezoning of about 10 acres of land on the east edge of the city.

The request for annexation and rezoning from present agricultural to highway business came from a Denver based company planning on constructing a motel on the property.

Plans call for a 36-unit motel to be built north of Highway 35 just east of the National Guard Armory.

The council gave its approval to the two requests after reading a letter from the Denver company promising that the city would be given up to 45 feet of the property for use as a road if the need ever arises.

Considerable discussion had gone on at an earlier council meeting concerning how the city could be guaranteed access for a road through the property. The road, according to council thinking, would be needed to reach the new hospital which will be built just east of Wayne State College.

The vote to annex the approximate 10 acres failed on its first reading during the council meeting earlier in the month because several councilmen argued that the council should obtain some guarantee in writing that road access would be granted.

Councilmen also voted to rezoning from multiple dwelling to highway business six lots on the south side of East Sixth Street just east of Dearborn.

Rural Girl Is Winner Of Contest

Kathy Reinhardt of rural Wayne has been named winner in the annual Voice of Democracy Contest sponsored by the VFW Post in Wayne.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Reinhardt, a senior at Wayne High School, she was one of nine young people who entered the contest. She will now advance to the district competition in January.

Subject of this year's talks was "My Responsibility to Freedom," with the contest open to sophomores, juniors and seniors in all area schools.

Winners of district competition next month will advance to the state level; state winners will go on to national competition. The five top national speakers will receive scholarships totaling $22,500.

Shoes Fails To Respond To Government

Shoes is one of 20 small towns and 60 township governments in Nebraska which didn't respond to federal request for information and therefore didn't get on the revenue sharing mailing list.

Officials said the 80 governmental units will receive their checks, if they qualify, and if the name and address of an official of the township or village is sent to the U. S. Treasury Department in Washington.

Notices have been sent to the county clerks in the counties with townships involved and village officials have been notified, according to Arnold Ruhnke, executive director of the Nebraska Association of County Officials.

Also among the 20 small towns not responding to the requests for information were Hooper and Rosalie.

Winter Courses at WSC Offer Plenty of Variety

Evening courses being offered at Wayne State College in the winter term starting next week include 52 subjects from lower division to graduate level.

Registration can be accomplished on the evening before each course meets the first time and must be done before the second class meeting. All evening classes begin at 6:30. Students can enroll before that hour at the registrar's office in Hahn Administration Building.

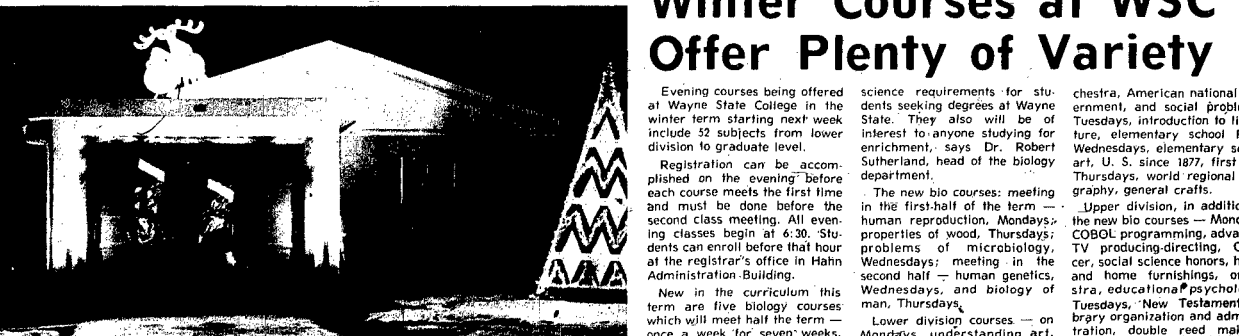

New in the curriculum this term are five biology courses which will meet half the term once a week for seven weeks, giving two upper division hours credit.

They will apply on the general science requirements for students seeking degrees at Wayne State. They also will be of interest to anyone studying for enrichment, says Dr. Robert Sutherland, head of the biology department.

The new bio courses: meeting in the first-half of the term — human reproduction, Mondays; properties of wood, Thursdays; problems of microbiology, Wednesdays; meeting in the second half — human genetics, Wednesdays; and biology of man, Thursdays.

Lower division courses — on Mondays, understanding art, speech fundamentals, drama (an English course), Europe from 1815 to the present, orchestra, American national government, and social problems; Tuesdays, introduction to literature, elementary school P.E.; Wednesdays, elementary school art, U. S. since 1877; first aid; Thursdays, world regional geography, general crafts.

Upper division, in addition to the new bio courses — Mondays, COBOL programming, advanced TV producing-directing, Chaucer, social science honors, house and home furnishings, orchestra, education psychology; Tuesdays, New Testament, library organization and administration, double reed making, pedagogy and Thursday, geomorphology; Thursdays, social psychology. See WINTER COURSES, page 2.

Dahl Retirement Center

Public Invited To Services

First Baptist Church of Wayne, Nebraska will have a New Year's Program this Sunday evening, beginning at 9 p.m. with the sound color film, "Mystery of Three Clocks." According to the Rev. Frank Pedersen everyone is welcome to attend.

"The Mystery of Three Clocks" presents faith for the space age. Science recognizes that although the human brain possesses a marvelous and highly developed "alarm clock" mechanism, it cannot compare with the cicada's ability to "tell time." Nor does this insect Meluselah match for accuracy the split second timing of chemical reactions. This film presents an interesting set of laboratory experiments based upon the mystery of these three "clocks," introduces the "will of man" and concludes that although man can make his choice he cannot control the result of that choice. Following the film, there will be a fellowship with refreshments at 10 p.m. and a praise and prayer service at 11 to bid farewell to the old year and to welcome the new year. "Come when you can and leave when you must," encourages Pastor Pedersen.

13 Members of Extension Club Hear AFS Talk

Thirteen members of the Kluck and Klatter Home Extension Club met Dec. 19 with Mrs. Harvey Larson. Guests were Renee Kniesche, who spoke to the group on her summer in Austria as an AFS student, Mrs. Victor Kniesche and Mrs. Richard Carlson.

Pot-luck lunch was served and entertainment included original Christmas poems read for roll call and the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Harold Ingalls reported on the link between coffee and heart attacks. Mrs. Fred Gledersleue noted the need to be mindful of road conditions while driving and stated that speed limits are made for ideal conditions.

Mrs. Joe Corbit received the hostess gift and a gift exchange was held. Mrs. Joe Corbit will entertain the group Jan. 9.

Owens-Miller Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Owens, Carroll, have announced the engagement of their daughter, LeAnn Owens, to Dale Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller of Winside.

Miss Owens will be a mid term (January) graduate of Wayne Carroll High School. Her fiance, a 1971 graduate of Winside High School, attended Northeast Nebraska Technical College and is employed by Elkhorn Electric.

Plans are underway for a February wedding.

Mays Wed Dec. 16 in Randolph

St. John's Lutheran Church, Randolph, was the scene of the Dec. 16 wedding of Trudy Robinson of Sioux City, Ia., and Darrell Keith May of Wayne. The Rev. Walter Rosbach officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony. Melvin Witte sang, accompanied by Mrs. Witte.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson of Kettering, England, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Melvin Delozier, Randolph.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Gene Monk of Sioux City, Ia., appeared in a gown from England of white satin, accented with lace sleeves and bodice. A white crocheted headpiece completed her ensemble and she carried a cascade of red roses. Her train was carried by a niece, Debbie Monk of Sioux City.

Mrs. Gene-Monk of Sioux City, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Vincent Sausser of Merrill, Ia., was bridesmaid. They were attired identically in avocado green velvet dresses and wore crowns of rosebuds in their hair.

Junior bridesmaids were Debbie Monk, Karla May and Peggy Whitehead of Sioux City. Their dresses of poinsettia red velvet were styled like those of the other attendants. Each carried a bouquet of rosebuds.

Mrs. James May of Sioux City, pinned on flowers.

Robert Kint was best man and Charles Arduser of Beiden was groomsman. Ushers were Vince Sausser of Merrill, Ia. and Daryl Janssen of Fremont.

Mrs. Delozier chose a jersey dress for her son's wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Delozier of Yankton, S. D., served as hosts to the reception for 185 guests held at the city auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. James May and Mrs. Wes Whitehead of Sioux City were in charge of gifts.

The wedding cake, an English fruit cake, was cut and served by Mrs. Bernard Arduser, Mrs. Delmar Eddie of Carroll poured coffee and Mary Lou Arduser served punch.

Waitresses were Mrs. Jerry Arduser, Mrs. Charles Arduser, Cindy Arduser and Kathi Larvie. Hostesses in the kitchen were Mrs. Irene Martindale, Mrs. Ray Anderson, Mrs. Dwayne Van Aker, Mrs. Manley Sutton and Mrs. Robert Harper.

The couple took a wedding trip to Evansville, Ind., and are at home in Wayne.

The bride is a graduate of a school in Kettering, England and was employed at a factory at Kettering before coming to the United States. The bridegroom was graduated from the Randolph Public School in 1963 and is employed at Coryell Auto in Wayne.

Lynelle Sue's Engagement

The engagement of Lynelle Sue Dolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dolph of Wakefield, to Michael Alfred Sievers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sievers of Wayne, has been announced by the parents of the bride-elect. No wedding date has been set by the couple.

Miss Dolph, a 1972 graduate of Wakefield High School, is a student at Stewart's School of Hair Styling in Sioux City, Ia. Her fiance is a 1972 graduate of Wayne High School and is employed by Coryell Auto Company, Wayne.

Meeting Held in Moses Home

Members of the Progressive Homemakers Club met Dec. 19 with Mrs. Ida Moses for a Christmas party. Nine were present. Secret heart sisters were revealed and new names drawn for the coming year.

Cards served for entertainment with yearly prizes going to Mrs. Harvey Reibold, high, and Mrs. Erwin Hagemann, low. A gift exchange was held.

Mrs. Harvey Reibold will entertain the club next on Jan. 16.

Reveal Secret Sisters

Eight members, present for the Dec. 14 meeting of the Just Us Gals Club, answered roll call by recalling the first Christmas program they had taken part in. Secret sisters' names were revealed. The group met in the home of Mrs. Floyd Hupp.

Mrs. Roy Spahr will entertain the group at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 17.

NORTHEAST EXTENSION Notes

Young-as-old, single or married, you need a shocking number of records to live these days. If you've been so busy making a living you've neglected your clerical chores, take heart because there is a way out. There's no time like the beginning of a new year to get records organized. Try setting up a filing system so papers of the same type are kept in the same special place.

Safe deposit box is a good place for stock and bond certificates, wills, military discharge papers, auto titles, leases and other documents difficult or expensive to replace.

Tax file should contain records used in preparing state and federal tax returns. Keep tax records for six years back in case returns are questioned. Action file contains unpaid bills, sale slips, installment loan payment books and the like.

Warranty file is where appliance and other warranties and instruction manuals are kept. You may also file dates and costs of major repairs in this file.

Check file holds cancelled checks, deposit slips and bank statements. These records, like tax records, should also be kept at least six years.

In an alphabetical file you may wish to keep insurance policies, diplomas, transcripts of school credits, list of investments and other items which don't seem to belong in the other files.

An appointment calendar is another important item which helps in good business management. Remember too that record files need to be cleaned out from time to time.

Thirty members and 24 guests turned out for the Immanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid carry-in luncheon held Dec. 14 at the church. The short business meeting was followed by the visitor report from Mrs. Dale Lessmann and the naming of committees for the following month and the coming year.

The program included a film, "Christ and Christmas around the World," and the singing of Christmas carols in German by several members and guests.

Wayne, Wakefield Tournaments Highlight Area Basketball Action

By BOB BARTLETT
With the advent of basketball tournaments this week comes one of the biggest headaches of sports writers — trying to figure out who will win the top crown. Perhaps it would be better not to attempt to make selections, especially after my seemingly good 9-3 record of a week ago plummeted to 13-8 before the beginning of Christmas vacation for the high schoolers.

That makes me want to just lean back and watch the games and not make predictions.

Today (Thursday) will see the 6-1 guard Ken Heineman will team up with Matt Samuelson to slice the nets from 20-feet out.

All this material paints one picture — the Pender club can shoot from any spot on the floor and hurt its opponents.

But, so can Allen.

The Eagles have such marksmen as Scott Von Minden, Stan Perry and Duane Mitchell who can cause a grown team to cry.

Senior transfer Perry tries to open up the middle with his shifty inside shooting or passing, sometimes causing the opponents to collapse on the playmaker. As a result, Mitchell, Von Minden and Chuck Peters are ready to drive in for the good shots or take an easy outside shot.

In addition to the Eagles' strength, coach Moore can point to his bench power, such as Jim Koester and Neil Blohm, who can provide the exploding power the Allen club needs when trouble ventures its way.

Now that you have had a small glimpse at the two clubs, the thing to do is to choose the one that will win the first round of competition. Again the warnings go out to the Allen club — Pender is powerful. The Pen dragons get the nod.

In the 8:30 p.m. game Wakefield will host Emerson-Hub bard.

Although Coach Joe Coble's club might seem like it is in a slump after losing its last contest — 71-41 to Wayne — the home team should better its 3-2 record against the Pirates if they can contain the shooting of Randy Mayberry.

The 6-3 senior poured in 31 points during the Wayne clash but cooled off somewhat against Laurel, hitting only 16 points. Which proves one thing — Mayberry can be slowed down if not stopped.

Wakefield's Randy Johnson and Doug Soderberg can combine to help the Trojans back to victory road.

The feeling is that Coble will have his club primed up for this one and take home its fourth win.

But if Pender and Wakefield meet in the Friday night finale, the Trojans may have to settle for a one game winning streak as Pender looks to be the favored club in this tourney.

Getting closer to home, Wayne High will take on Walthill at 9 p.m. in the last of four high school games today.

Before I get into too much hot water, let me say that this tournament is up for grabs. According to various sources, there is no one favorite and it would be unfair to pick a winner. Since I've watched only Wayne and Laurel play, it seems futile to try and say who is the strongest team.

The best thing to do at this point is to list the pairings for those who may not remember last week's article.

Thursday
3 p.m. — Hartington Cedar

Catholic and Plainview.
5 p.m. — Plattsmouth and West Point.
7 p.m. — West Point Central Catholic and Laurel.
9 p.m. — Wayne and Walthill.

On Friday the winners of the 3 and 7 p.m. game will face off at 5 p.m., followed by the matchup of the 5 and 9 p.m. winners. From that point, the top two teams will collide for the tourney championship on Saturday at 7 p.m.

The same type of schedule is outlined for the losers' bracket, with the losers of the 3 and 7 p.m. games battling at 11 a.m. Friday, followed at 1 p.m. by the losers in the 5 and 9 p.m. matches. The winner in the losers' bracket will be decided

All-Tourney Team

An All-Tourney team will be selected by four college coaches, a game official and two Wayne businessmen, Sid Hillier and Jim Marsh, on the last day of the three-day tournament.

Ice Capades

IF THE weather is cold enough to keep the ice frozen, chances are you will see plenty of youngsters heading for the ice ponds to get in a little skating. Tuesday afternoon a group of Wayne youngsters flocked to one of three ice rinks located in the city. At a pond near Grantland Road and Maple Streets, Krist (left) and Susan Proett played a game of tag with their dog, Fifi, as the mercury hovered in the mid 30 degree range. And Doug Proett and Bryan Park (front) battle with Bill Fulton and Darree Proett while riding one of the benches on the ice.

start of the three-day Wayne State College Christmas Holiday Basketball Tournament, featuring eight high school and four college teams.

But not to be forgotten is the Wakefield tournament, which also starts today. This tourney will attract four teams in another battle for a top crown.

Let's take a look at the Wakefield games first.

Beginning at 7 p.m. the Allen Eagles with a 3-1 record will take on the rugged Pender club, sporting an unblemished mark of 5-0.

It isn't fair to put down the Eagles and say they are in for a rough battle, but if coach Robert Moore hasn't seen Steve Olson's Pender club in action, he may be in for a big surprise.

And by saying big, I don't mean in the type of surprise, but in the height and depth of the Pen dragons.

The front line, composed of 6-3 center Craig Merry and forwards Barry Mabie and Keith Berg, both 6-2 1/2, offer the opposition something to battle against. The three weigh in close to 185 pounds apiece.

For the second week in a row, the Winside matmen have finished in second place, and head coach Doug Barclay says finishing second is "like kissing your sister—and I'm tired of that."

The Wildcats, who gathered 81 points to Tekamah-Herman's 89 1/2, didn't like the taste of coming in second, especially after Dec. 16's encounter at the Stanton invitational where the team also took second—a half point out of the top position.

"If you ask me this match was a repeat of last week. Both Tekamah and us finished with seven wrestlers in the finals," Barclay said.

One of the noticeable differences, though, was lack of a team from Howells. "We were hoping to meet them again," Barclay added, "but this time they didn't show up."

Winside had three men take their divisions in the Saturday contest.

Undeclared senior Ed Lienemann, now 10-0, took a decision over Tekamah's Terry Tilson, 6-3, in the 185-pound class.

Another senior, 155-pou n d senior Dean Krueger, pinned Oakland-Craig's Blanc in a time of 2:43, while junior Doug Lage pinned Valley's Hopkins in 53 seconds.

Among some of the big upsets was Wildcat Dave Jaeger's decision loss to Keith Erickson of Oakland-Craig. Battling in the 132-pound division, Jaeger took his first defeat of the season, 6-3.

"We had four men placing second," Barclay noted, adding that Monte Pfeiffer, a freshman, managed a third place showing.

"Monte's coming along real well," the wrestling coach said. "All he needs is a little more experience."

Those men taking second were Jaeger, Steve Sueli (138), Mike

No Word Yet On Winside Federal Grant

No word yet has been received yet concerning Winside's federal grant to develop a city park, said Mayor Vernon Hill.

According to Congressman Charles Thone, the town will receive an $11,750 grant to acquire and develop a park on the community's east side. The funds, from the U.S. Department of Interior's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, will be matched by $5,957 in local funds and the same amount in state funds.

"I doubt if we'll hear any word about the money until after the first of the year," Hill added.

various high school sports. Winside was selected for the site of next year's conference volleyball playoffs scheduled either on the seventh or 14th of November.

Other sports playoffs include: Football playoffs at Wayne (no date). Basketball playoffs at Wakefield, Feb. 13. Boys track meet at Wisner, May 2. Girls track meet at Winside, April 18.

ON SATURDAY, JAN. 6, Winside High will hold its wrestling invitational at the school gym. The meet will have 10 teams entered, including Wakefield. According to head coach Don Barclay, Randolph, Neligh and Plainview will offer the meet contestants a lot of competition.

"We might invite other schools to the tourney," Barclay commented "since Battle Creek will enter only three or four players while Niobrara will have seven." The other schools invited include Hartington, Newman Grove, Stanton and, of course, Winside.

A LETTER from Mrs. Doyle Burch of Caney, Kan., compliments The Herald on its coverage of high school sports programs. But Mrs. Burch points out that she is just as interested in coverage of college games (Wayne State). "Thank you for pointing this out to us, Mrs. Burch. We will try to do a better job on the college sports level."

ONE THING we seem to have forgotten in covering other sports activities in Wayne is the bowling action.

Beginning next Thursday we will start to focus on the keglers at Melodee Lanes and spotlight the top bowler who rolls the high game of the week or respectable 600 series.

DON'T WORRY, gal bowlers, we haven't forgotten about you. In the same type of coverage, we will also feature the top woman bowler (or bowlers).

SPEAKING of bowling, Val and Adeline Kienast, owners of the Melodee Lanes, said they would like to start up a junior league bowling program for the younger set. In past years, Val noted, the program hasn't been very successful, with most of the school age youngsters attending church classes on Saturday morning.

"We need at least 40 kids to keep the program rolling," Val added. Anyone interested in starting up the activity should contact Val at the lanes.

BEFORE CLOSING on the subject of bowling, the Wayne Senior Citizens aren't wasting time when it comes to aiming the ball down the alley.

Tuesday afternoon, nine of the younger set, rolled a combined total of 747 pins (divide that up and Helen Rupp's team beat Amalia Bahe's squad, 484-263.) Helen added her team with a whopping 161.

If any senior citizen is interested in bowling three lines for $1 (shoes are free) then join in with the rest of the group at 1:30 p.m. every Tuesday. For additional info call Mrs. Eldon Bull at the center Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Winnebago Joins L-C Conference

AT A RECENT meeting of Lewis and Clark Conference executives, members voted to increase the conference population by one with the addition of Winnebago High School to the Lewis division.

According to Ron Kramer of Winside High School, conference secretary, the Indians will not participate in this year's conference activity as a member.

"We added Winnebago to the conference," Kramer noted, "because Emerson shifted to the West Husker League, leaving us one team short in the Lewis division."

Although there is other talk of some area teams wanting to join the conference, no action has been taken yet.

In other action during the meeting, the members selected dates and locations for the 1973-74 conference playoffs in the

Ahman Joins Wayne Lions

Dick Ahmann of Wayne was installed as a new member of the Wayne's Lions Club at a club meeting recently. Lions Charles Denesia, Wes Plueger and George Goblirsch were awarded 10-year pins for their service to the organization, while Charles Mader, Don Langston and Bob Vokoc were honored for their active roll in increasing the club's membership. Later the club presented Vokoc with a watch in recognition for bringing in the most new members.

During the evening meeting music was provided by Janice Butts and Lee An' Bahe.

Wayne High Matmen Lose to SSC, 46-12

The winning streak of the Wayne High wrestling team ended at one in dual competition last Thursday when the varsity dropped its dual match, 46-12, at South Sioux City. Wayne's dual record stands at 1-3.

Coach Don Koenig's matmen lost 18 points on pins in the first three matches and seven points on two decisions to give the South Sioux club a 25-0 lead.

Wayne's Jim Neiman, who continues to be the team leader, put Wayne in the contest with a decision. SSC's Jim Hall in the 132 pound class by an 8-5 score.

But a pin and another decision against the Blue Devils boosted the home team's margin to 34-3. The only Wayne man to get a pin was 85-pounder Dan Nelson when he took Steve Kimball in 1:59 in the first period.

In reserve action the Blue Devils again fell victim to the host team, 39-21.

Added by two pins, the reserves were able to pull within nine points midway through the match before a forfeit and a pin put the SSC reserves way out in front.

Both Kevin Heithold (138) and Tom Frahm (155) pinned their men, bringing their club to within nine, 18-27, before dropping the contest, 39-21.

This Friday the Blue Devils will travel to Tekamah for the Tekamah Invitational.

98 Jeff Bielenberg (SSC) pinned Randy Surber, 3:49. 125 Steve Clapp (SSC) pinned Ken Daniels, 1:29.

112 Rich Cooper (SSC) pinned Scott Brummond, 3:20. 119 Pat McGinky (SSC) decisioned Dan Marr, 14:4.

126 Tom Kotalik (SSC) decisioned Barry Rubeck, 5:4. 132 Jim Neiman (W) decisioned Jim Hall, 8:5.

138 Ken Sierk (SSC) pinned Charlie Roland, 3:25. 145 Greg Hill (SSC) decisioned Arnold Siefker, 8:3.

In all, there will be 12 games played.

Those who attend the three-day tourney also will get a good look at some fine college basketball when Friday night Wayne State takes on Missouri Valley of Marshall, Mo., and Upper Iowa College, Fayette, Ia., meets Culver Stockton, Canton, Mo.

The winner of the college division will be decided in the final game of the tournament at 9 p.m. Saturday.

'72 in Review: Fund Drive Is Herald's Top Headline

A 107 per cent effort by area volunteers to help raise funds to build the new Wayne area medical center put the $500,000 fund drive over the top and as a result has been named the top news story in 1972 by The Wayne Herald editors.

The push for the $1 million facility actually began in October of 1971, and by February of 1972 the drive had realized donations and pledges totaling $535,228.

The drive was spearheaded by the Wayne Hospital Foundation. Helping in the drive were the Missionary Benedictine Sisters of Norfolk.

Another top story for the year was the death of civic leader Al Bahe.

Bahe, 70, suffered an apparent heart attack March 29 while driving his car.

The Wayne County Fair Board dedicated a grandstand in honor of their secretary-manager during the county fair in August.

The $20,000 addition to Dahl Retirement center was one of the big steps forward in business for the city in 1972. The project, completed in November, was one of the largest undertaken in Wayne.

Wayne's expansion did not stop with Dahl's, but continued on with the building of Gibson Discount Center on East Seventh Street.

The $130,000 building, covering 27,000 square feet was started in May and was completed in mid-October.

Plans for a new motel also made big news in 1972. The Wayne city council gave the nod for rezoning of the property on the east edge of Wayne late in the year, and construction is scheduled for sometime next year.

Destruction also played a major part in the news for this year, with one of the biggest stories focusing on the collapse of the newly built county bridge near the city landfill.

Heavy rains on the night of June 16 and the morning of the 17th were blamed for the caving off of tons of dirt from the east bank of Logan Creek, and the collapse of the bridge.

A new road has been built since then to save replacing the $35,000 structure.

Over in Wakefield, a fire all but destroyed the Wakefield Grain and Feed building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ekberg. Cause of the fire, the Ekbergs said, was not determined, but damage to the 300 by 60 foot structure was estimated at $50,000.

In the sports news, the death of two Wayne State College football players left many Wildcats stunned. Michael Wise, 21, captain of the college's football team, died June 30 in his home town, Avoca, Ia., of chest injuries he sustained when a tractor he was driving tipped over.

About a month later, on July 25, 19-year-old Thomas A. Chroy was killed in an accident near Gothenburg.

The junior from Morse Bluff was riding in a car when it went out of control on a county road.

A story that touched most city residents in 1972 was the election of new members to the city council and pay hikes for councilmen and the mayor.

Jim Thomas, Darrel Fuelberth and Frank Prather, each won council seats, and Ivan Bekke and Vernon Russell were elected to fill the newly created first ward seats.

In addition to the election of the councilmen, came the pay increase. The salary for councilmen was increased from $300 to $1,000 a year while the mayor received a pay boost from $750 to $1,500.

Beginning in April the Wayne community took action on public issues through the newly formed Taxpayers Forum.

Under the direction of Wes Pfleger, the Forum discussed such issues as the city's finances, hospital growth and the school board.

A more recent story that grabbed the headlines was the capture of two South Dakota fugitives near Wayne.

The two men, Daniel Martillo, 39, and Marvin Frazee, 24, were arrested Nov. 30 after they jumped from a stolen car and fled into a cornfield on the Delwyn Sorensen farm a mile north and about two and three-quarters east of Wayne.

As many Herald readers may have noticed, The Wayne Herald had its share of the headlines when it was awarded the A.K. Sar-Ben's Agricultural Award in April during the Nebraska Press Association's convention at South Sioux City.

These 12 stories are some of the top Herald stories for 1972.

BARBED WIRE silhouetted against cloudy skies helped symbolize the farmer in a picture display in the Herald's special farmer feeder supplement in July.

FIGHTING WITH HOSES were youngsters at the Winside Old Settlers Days in July. The water fights were just one of a host of activities held during the annual event.

Gaylen Stevens, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stevens of Winside, recently completed basic training at San Diego, Calif. His new address is Pvt. G. S. Stevens, 508-767 848; Box 4036, HQ Co. MCB29; Palms, Calif.

Marine Pvt. Gaylen S. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Stevens of Winside, has begun basic electronics training at the Marine Corps Base, Twentynine Palms, Calif.

When he completes this school, he will be assigned to specialized training in communications electronics.

He is a 1971 graduate of Winside High School.

Alan L. Wischhof, the son of Mrs. Laverne Wischhof of Wayne, was transferred from Texas recently to Homestead AFB, Fla. His new address is:

Alan L. Wischhof, 507-72-9203, B2 52, Homestead AFB, Fla., 33030.

Petty Officer Warren L. Huellet recently was promoted to Petty Officer Second Class and is now stationed aboard the submarine U.S.S. Will Rogers. Huellet and his wife and daughter reside at 120 Philbrick Ave., Kittery, Maine.

No Injuries In Mishap

No injuries occurred in a Saturday afternoon automobile accident northwest of Wayne.

Cars driven by Walter Jager, 60, of rural Wayne and Richard Macke, 18, of Grand Prairie, Texas, collided at a blind intersection four miles west and one north of Wayne about 12:30 p.m. Saturday, the Wayne County sheriff's office reports.

Jager was going north and Macke west at the time of the mishap, the sheriff's office said. Jager's car tore through a fence and ended up about 170 feet off the road in a cornfield owned by Alvin Willers.

Extensive damage was done to both vehicles, the sheriff's office reported.

EASY DOES IT... Ed Oswald serves as an injured patient as members of the first aid course at Winside practice using an improvised stretcher.

Winside First Aid Course Ends

A group of Winside residents concluded a session of five lessons in first aid last week.

The course, taught by Roy Stohler of the University of Nebraska Northeast Station at Concord, was held at the fire-hall.

Participants included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gramberg, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oswald, Theodore Hoeman, R. U. S. Jr., Prince, Kenneth Flier, George Voss and Earl Duering.

Studies were fractures and ways to apply splints, artificial respiration, stoppage of severe bleeding, bandaging wou n d s.

Plans are to hold an advanced first aid course Jan. 15 and 22 and Feb. 5 at 7:30 p. m. at the firehall. Stohler will again be instructor.

Members completed the course with a test Tuesday night.

Annexation

The ordinance governing trash and garbage haulers in the city.

The ordinance is becoming a headache twice a month for the council, centers around how closely the council wishes to regulate trash haulers.

Vernon Russell, a councilman who is also a trash hauler in the city, drew up the proposed ordinance with the help of the city attorney because he "can't live with the present ordinance."

The ordinance now in effect, he says, permits any individual to haul commercial accounts without expensive equipment such as his. Such a person would be able to undercut his prices for hauling, he said, and would do a slipshod job because his equipment would not have to be as good as his.

The council voted to table the matter as it has done several times in the past couple months.

Russell said after the council tabled the subject that about the only course left open for him is to take the issue to court to see if he can have the present ordinance voided and a new one put to effect.

Councilmen set a bid opening for three new city vehicles for their Jan. 30th meeting.

Bids will be opened for a boom truck and equipment for the light department, a station wagon for the police department and a dump truck for the street department.

The council will also open bids on pipe work at the city swimming pool on Jan. 30th.

The work, estimated by the city's engineering firm to cost about $5,000, will force the swimming pool to be opened at a later date than usual next summer.

In other action the council—Agreed to contribute $150 to help pay for the volunteer firemen's annual dinner next month. The council said it would be a good way to show that the city appreciates the fire prevention work of the men.

—Okayed purchasing about $900 worth of trees for use at the Henry Victor Memorial Park in the south part of the city. Trees would be planted this spring.

—Agreed to draw up a new assessment schedule to help pay for a proposed storm sewer line south of Gibson Discount Center in east Wayne. The line will run just over one block and would cost an estimated $10,000.

—Agreed to take up at a later meeting the creation of a street improvement district from Blaine to Maple on Grainland Road. Property owners along the street have requested improvement of the road.

Drive Like You Care for Those Close to You This Holiday Season

Think how much you love them. Now, before you take them on the road. Remember that your dear ones look to you for safety. If YOU don't care, nobody else will. And when you get right down to it, caring makes all the difference . . .

Care for your car: Is it ready for Winter? Snow tires on? Anti-freeze in? Defroster and heater working well? Flash light and flares on hand in case of emergency? Responsible driving begins with a well-maintained automobile.

Care for your passengers: see that they're warm and comfortable. Insist that everyone use seat belts. Don't overcrowd the car. Don't be in too much of a hurry. Make it a leisurely drive with plenty of time for rest stops. Remember this is a holiday trip — not an endurance test.

Care for yourself because your car is only as safe as its driver. Don't try to drive if you're tired . . . and NEVER if you've been drinking. Don't even take the wheel if you're angry or irritable. Keep your holidays happy, and your family safe.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Highway slaughter

Although it will be a couple days before the final figures are compiled, the toll on this nation's highways and streets during the Christmas holiday was amazing. Several hundred persons lost their lives, thousands of others were injured or maimed.

It can't be because that slaughter is so far removed from us. Considering the number killed and injured during our holiday weekends, a person is probably lucky if he doesn't know somebody involved in an auto accident. There are probably few residents around Wayne who didn't know at least one of the persons involved in the three-car wreck east of Wayne the middle of last week or the two-car accident northwest of Wayne Saturday afternoon.

Exon Selects To Replace

LINCOLN—Last week, Gov. J. James Exon answered a question Nebraska National Guardsmen had been asking for many months: Who will succeed Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch as the state's adjutant general? It will be Lt. Col. Francis L. Winner of Scottsbluff, the governor announced. Exon said he had been impressed with the 46-year-old West Point graduate ever since he met him in 1971 during the governor's summer camp.

Scottsbluff Attorney Adjutant General

the running for the adjutant general's post were Brig. Gens. Donald Pennterman and John R. Stephenson, both of whom have been serving on Welch's staff in Lincoln. Pennterman has been deputy adjutant general and Stephenson has been administrative assistant for the Army guard as well as commander of Nebraska's infantry brigade. Welch has held the state's top military post since 1959. He will turn the office over to Winner January 27. That's Welch's 64th birthday anniversary—and the day he loses federal recognition of his brigadier general's status.

Way Back When

30 Years Ago

January 7, 1943: Newly elected county officials, Clerk C. A. Bard, Clerk of the District Court David J. Hamer and Treasurer Jean Boyd took office today. New Year's Day was comparatively mild. H. E. Sيمان was installed as president of Wayne Kiwanis at the Monday meeting. The food production program for 1943 will be officially launched Jan. 12. Everyone is asked to produce all possible to further the war effort. Slaughter steers and yearlings sold at $11.50 to $15.75 on the Sioux City market. Wayne city school war stamp purchases by grades have reached $1,178.55 for this term. Third grade pupils ranked first in purchases and sixth grade was second. An icy intersection in the east part of town was the cause of damage to cars driven by Mrs. Esther Thompson and W. F. Robinson New Year's Eve. No one was injured. Myron Cook shipped 175 silver fox hides this week from his fox farm near Wayne.

25 Years Ago

January 1, 1948: A fire early Wednesday morning heavily damaged the Fredrickson service and tavern north of Wayne. Both Wayne fire trucks answered the alarm, but lack of water, dense smoke and near zero weather made it difficult to bring the flames under control. Wayne residents spent $2,152.50 for one and one-half acres of land stamps for their Christmas cards and letters during December according to J. J. Steele, postmaster. About 75 men armed with shotguns killed nearly 5,000 crows Sunday evening at the Harold Harmer farm. Carroll, Glen Wingett rounded up the crows and kept them.

within shooting range with his airplane. A group of relatives and neighbors gathered at the Melvin Miller home, Winside, Saturday evening to welcome Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper who arrived during the week from England and plan to make their home here.

20 Years Ago

December 25, 1952: Electric appliances were taken from Riehl's Electric shop, Concord, early Friday morning. Entrance was gained through a window. Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Kuhl and family, Sholes, moved Friday to their new home at Randolph after living here 18 years. Millard Raulston, son of Mrs. Mary Raulston, Carroll, severely injured the thumb, index and middle fingers on his left hand Thursday morning when he caught his hand in an electric saw at school. Old Man Winter sneaked into the Wayne region Sunday and started raising trouble. A two-inch snow fell Monday night on the heels of the five and one-half inches of snow which fell Friday. There will be no full sized car license plates this year. Tabs will be issued to clip to the 1952 plate.

15 Years Ago

January 2, 1958: Mrs. Pauline Marquardt, Los Angeles, received rib bruises about 3 p.m. Thursday in a one-car accident five miles north of Hoskins on the old Highway 35. Cash and merchandise valued at over $500 were stolen by thieves, who broke into a Winside tavern during the weekend. Sheriff Hans Tietgen sat Tuesday. With the retirement of Dave Theophilus Tuesday, management of the Fullerton Lumber Company yard here will be turned over to Bob Grein, Grein, who served as manager of the company's Platte, S. D. yard, has been working at the local yard for the past few months. A small fire at the Bill Woehler farm in the south part of Wayne brought out the Volunteer Fire Department about 6:15 p.m. Thursday. Damage was slight. The fire was discovered by The Reed, who lives near the farm. Roy Lennart was named president for 1958 by Wayne Ike directors Monday night. Arlen Filch was elected to the vice president post.

10 Years Ago

December 27, 1962: In recognition of publication of creative writing in national media. Avery D. Weage, Winside, has just been accepted for membership to The National Writers Club, Denver, Colo. Mrs. Weage is past president of the E. V. Reform Church, Winside. Unknown burglars broke into the Winside State Bank Saturday night and stole $2,380.00 in coins. The robbers gained entrance to the bank by breaking through the back door, probably with a crowbar. Governor Morrison has announced the appointment of Dr. Gordon W. Shupe of Wayne to the Board of Education of State Normal Schools succeeding John T. Bressler, also of Wayne. Lee D. Stauffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Stauffer, Wakefield, was named man of the week Friday, Dec. 7, by the Coon Rapids Herald Life newspaper. Stauffer, 33, is an assistant professor of health and assistant director of the University of Minnesota's school of public health. Scout Troop 174 is camping again this Christmas vacation. About 10 boys and two leaders set up camp Wednesday, on a farm six miles south and three miles east of Wayne. They will return home Friday.

Nebraska Shelter Belts

Nebraska had been in the forefront of tree planting in the United States long before the federal government's initiated policy of shelterbelts in the late 1930's and early 1940's. In fact, from 1895-1945 Nebraska was officially known as "the Tree-Planters' State." Even during its territorial period pioneers realized the need for more trees on the vast expanses of prairie, and such efforts were carried on and made a part of the state's tradition by individuals like Robert W. Furnas and J. Sterling Morton. The latter introduced a resolution to the State Board of Agriculture in 1872 which in turn designated April 10 of that year as Arbor Day. (Today Arbor Day is observed on April 22, the birthday of Morton). The efforts of Senator Phineas W. Hitchcock resulted in the Timber Culture Act of 1873 and Dr. Charles E. Bessly concluded a successful fight to establish a man-made national forest in the Sandhills during the early years of the 20th century. The Clark-McNary program, started by the federal government in 1924, provides trees to farmers at a minimal cost and has since been widely used by Nebraskans.

ed national attention when the dry and dust-blown seasons of 1934, 1935, and 1936 created an agricultural crisis in the plains states. Although President Franklin D. Roosevelt had initiated an advanced tree-planting program in 1933, real impetus was not given to the idea until after the first parched year. The shelter belt program was first conceived as rows of trees planted in a generally north-south belt from the Mexican border to the Canadian border, entering Nebraska from the south along the 100th meridian and veering to the east across the eastern tongue of the Sandhills. In theory the plains winds would successively hit the first row of trees, glance upward, then descend, hitting the next row of trees, etc. Eventually, it was hoped the wind would subside and as a result, the climate would become milder. Counties considered for the belt included Hitchcock, Red Willow, Furnas, Harlan, Franklin, Phelps, Gosper, Frontier, Hayes, Lincoln, Dawson, Buffalo, Sherman, Custer, Logan, McPherson, Thomas, Blaine, Loup, Valley, Garfield, Greeley, Holt, Rock, Brown, Cherry, Keya Paha, Boyd, and Knox.

The idea received the full support of numerous important Nebraskans including Gov. Charles W. Bryan, who in 1934, noted that "a reforestation program is needed to avoid impending wood shortage, rapidly increasing soil erosion and destruction of wild life as well as to prevent loss of subsoil moisture and aid in flood control." Speaking with an historical understanding of the situation in Nebraska, Addison E. Sheldon, Director of the Nebraska State Historical Society, also found merit in the President's efforts. "I have lived in Nebraska since 1869," noted the historian, "and have seen the development of tree planting west of the Missouri River to the Rocky Mountains. I am strongly in favor of the forest shelter belt across the high plains." In addition to the above support, the plan received the cooperation of numerous county Farm Bureaus, the Burlington Railroad, local civic organizations and relief groups, as well as the

Telecommunication Answer Due

Some administration officials promised to provide the answer to another question sometime this week.

Since mid-September, they have been studying the bids four companies submitted for a statewide telecommunications network to provide state government- and local governments which want to join—with telephone, teleprinter, television and data circuits.

State General Services Director Del Maier had expected to have the analysis of the four bids completed by Dec. 20, but he said last week he wouldn't be able to meet that deadline after all.

The administration recommendation, he said would be completed before New Year's Day and would be turned over to a legislative committee which had been studying the telecommunications developments. The committee has been critical of the specifications the administration prepared for the network, calling them "ridiculous."

Bids have been received on the system—which the state is to lease, if any of the bids are accepted—from Westinghouse, Northwestern Bell, Nebraska Consolidated Communications Corp. and Motorola.

Legislature to Start

The 1973 Legislature opens its 90 day run next Tuesday noon. That first day will be a busy one. The noon starting time is dictated by the Constitution, leaving the state senators the afternoon to choose a speaker and other officers for the session and to adopt the rules for its operation.

The speaker's race apparently will be between legislators from Omaha and Lincoln. Omaha Sen. Richard F. Proud had been the favorite and still holds an edge, going into the final campaigning. But Sen. Harold Simpson of Lincoln has been gaining strength in the pre-session maneuvering and is expected to give Proud a stiff challenge during the secret ballot voting Tuesday.

Unless the senators change their minds next week, the chairmen of the standing committees will be chosen for the first time on the floor by secret ballot. That rule was put into the books tentatively early this month during the Legislative Council meeting. It needs to be ratified Tuesday.

Previously, the Committee on Committees chose the standing committee chairmen as well as made committee assignments for each of the lawmakers.

The secret balloting will add spice to the selections because no one will know for sure whether individual senators kept the promises they had made during the campaigning.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

The administrator of Plainview Hospital, Stephen Long, has been named administrator of the Antelope Memorial Hospital in Neligh.

Long, who will continue acting as administrator of the Plainview facility, will assume his new duties the first of the year.

Major reason for sharing the administrative tasks is an attempt to reduce the costs of hospital care, according to an announcement made by the hospital's boards of directors.

Plans are underway at Wisner for construction of a new fire hall.

Tentative plans call for construction of a 60 by 100 foot building on the city athletic grounds. The building would include a kitchen and a large meeting room.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Osmond next week. The traveling unit will accept blood donations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 5. Sponsoring the visit is the Osmond Woman's Club.

The olive plant at Oakland, O. F. Products, is being forced to close after nine days of operation.

Olives now packed in Spain can be sold at a price lower than those packed in the Oakland plant, according to the plant owners.

The plant processes bulk olives shipped from Spain and distributes them over a wide area.

Borrowed from the "Holiday Quotes" in the "Week's Choice" independent and Republican: Wife addressing Christmas cards, turns to husband: "George, should we send one to the Browns? We sent one last year and they didn't send us one so they probably won't send us one this year because they'll think we won't send them one because they didn't send us one last year, don't you think, or shall we?"

The position of chief of police is open at Hartington.

Hank Stalter turned in his badge at a recent city council meeting after being told he could be released from the agreement whereby he would serve at least until February next year.

Stalter had agreed to serve as chief until February when the city agreed to pay for his attendance at the law enforcement school at Grand Island.

Lately, he has asked for more time off and more help and reportedly had made no secret of his intentions to leave after February. Councilmen have been unhappy over the number of miles put on the town's only patrol car and the times it has been used outside the city.

Jerry Botsch placed first, Wanda Miller second and Marilyn Mavis third in the Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Madison. The winners received prizes of $25, $15 and $10.

The Rev. Carl F. Broecker of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church in Calumet Park, Ill., has accepted a call to fill the pulpit at Trinity Lutheran Church in Foster. The post has been vacant since May, with the Rev. Martin Hoyer of Plainview acting as vacancy pastor.

Nona Pint won first place in the Pierce home Christmas lighting contest sponsored annually by the Pierce Chamber of Commerce, Pierce Utilities and the Nebraska Public Power District. Don Shimerka won second place, Harry Wagge third and Ron Kramer fourth.

The Agent's Angle

by Harold Ingalls

Years ago, cities have pulled nearly three-quarters of a million acres of countryside under their wings. Roads and airports covered another 130,000 acres of rural land and reservoirs engulfed still another 300,000 acres annually.

Together, they gathered up more than a million acres each year that may never again be used for agriculture.

Another two million acres on the average have gone out of rural land annually since 1959 into what are considered "reversible" uses for recreation and wildlife areas.

Natural resources experts in a comprehensive land and water study firmly spell out that we're not in a bind for agricultural land, nor are we expected to be by the year 2000.

Actually, we need less land ever for food and fiber because of greatly increased production per acre. The amount of cropland used decreased by more than a tenth from 1950 to 1970 as production per acre increased by half, outpacing population increase of a third.

Overall, the way land is used in the U. S. has remained virtually unchanged since 1950.

Morever, the experts generally expected to see prices top that level. Measures to reduce the farm belt price below the necessary level could seriously threaten the industry's ability to meet the expected demand.

Why so much attention to beef cows in this study? As explained in the report which summarizes the opinion poll, the U. S. beef cattle industry has neared the end of a major development phase.

During 1950-70, beef production doubled. Cattlemen did this by switching from dairy cattle to beef cattle as consumption of dairy products dropped and by feeding grain to a larger share of the calf crop to bring animals up to 1,000 pound slaughter weights, rather than slaughtering them as calves.

Now nearly all calves are being placed on feed, so increased grain feeders offers limited potential for adding to the beef supply. And though the dairy-to-beef shifts may continue, this also is approaching the completion stage for the most part.

Thus, the major addition to the beef supply during the seventies has to come from expanding the number of beef cows.

Tolman: Better Roughage May Be Key to Higher Cattle Profits in State

Better roughage use may hold the key to greater cattle profits in Nebraska, believes Walt Tolman of Wayne, district beef specialist at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station near Concord.

"The total corn plant produces the most beef per acre of any of our crops in northeastern and eastern Nebraska, and is usually our cheapest harvested feed, too. In southern and southwestern Nebraska, the sorghum plant may outproduce corn," Tolman says.

He adds, "We are fortunate, too, in growing better alfalfa than much of the corn belt."

Experiments are continuing at the Northeast Station to find better ways to store and feed corn grain, corn silage and alfalfa. The newest tests at the Station, reports Tolman, include comparing a preservative treated alfalfa haylage with untreated alfalfa haylage at different moisture levels and testing a new low cost manufactured nitrogen supplement against both natural protein and urea as a corn silage supplement.

Corn and alfalfa can make a well-balanced team according to the beef specialist.

"Corn is high in energy, but below cattle's needs in protein, minerals and vitamin A. Alfalfa is high in protein, minerals and vitamin A, but low in energy. Corn silage or ground snapped corn and alfalfa hay or haylage in the proper proportions make an excellent calf growing ration while corn grain and alfalfa work well for cattle finishing," he says.

"Some additional protein, minerals, antibiotics and vitamins will be needed to provide the very best rations and to balance supplies of corn and alfalfa available at any one time or place," according to the specialist.

Non-protein nitrogen compounds are being tested and have been found in Nebraska tests to be economical and efficient supplements to corn grain and silage cattle finishing rations.

posals systems to gear up for the possibility of doing the job during a January or February thaw.

The ag engineer said equipment holding ponds is a top priority item. "To stave off damage and pollution and reduce upkeep costs."

He suggested the following steps: —Operators with pumps and equipment which will handle liquid wastes should have it ready to take advantage of any warm weather that develops.

—If he does not have equipment, he should investigate renting from a neighbor an irrigation re-use pit pump. A small low capacity centrifugal pump will do the job.

—Consider purchasing necessary equipment for use during the next 60 days. Local Soil Conservation Service representatives will assist in selection of equipment.

"Delay could cause more problems than most feeders need. The thoughtful feeder can't risk neglecting this job," he concluded.

When they are properly fortified with minerals, vitamins and antibiotics. They have been less effective supplements of corn silage or other high roughage growing rations.

Tolman relates current work at the Northeast Station, noting that recent additions and improvements have made research more effective.

"We're comparing several supplements used with a corn silage calf growing ration. A supplement of a high moisture meal fortified with minerals and vitamin A is being used as a standard of comparison. A liquid supplement of molasses, ammonia and minerals applied to silage at silage making time, followed with more rapid and efficient gains during a finishing period.

"The cattle now on test will be checked at to outcome during the finishing period to make combined growing and finishing comparisons.

No experiments have been run with cow feeding at the Northeast Station, although dry lot cow feeding trials are being considered. Also on the drawing board is an expanded cattle feeding experiment.

High moisture corn, increasingly popular as cattle feed, has been studied in several cattle finishing experiments at the Northeast Station and methods of storage are now being evaluated.

High moisture shelled corn is being stored in two concrete bunkers, one mixed with alfalfa haylage and the other mixed with part ground high moisture corn. Whole and ground high moisture shelled corn stored in steel bins will be compared with and without additives.

It is hoped the additives will increase the palatability and efficiency of the ground shelled corn to make it equal to that of whole shelled corn," Tolman says.

Another test will compare an

Graff Picked As District's Representative

The official election will be held at the association's annual meeting in Lincoln Jan. 8.

can just make it until the kids go back to school.

The end of December and the first of January seem to be a stressful time for the farmer. You can see what mistakes were made last year and begin to make new plans for the coming year. It's still a few months until the field work begins.

It's also a time to determine if you made any more of a loss during the past year. At least as far as Uncle Sam is concerned. That will be your first New Year's resolution — to do a better job of keeping books during the coming year.

And you will this year until after your income tax appointment.

New Year's resolutions are meant to be made but not kept. Not for any longer than you can remember them anyway. When you start reminiscing you can remember quite a few resolutions you made during the year.

A few of them you kept for a week or so.

Like resolving to put your tools back where they belonged or resolving to be more cautious around the power take off and always keep the shield on it or resolving to have more patience with Neighbor John or resolving to grind feed before the feeders are completely empty.

Yep, this is a tranquil time of the year for farmers. Almost like the calm before the storm. Or after the storm as it has been this fall.

Upon election, Graff will replace Paul Culbertson of Dakota City, whose term expires. Graff will then join Neal Polman of Stanton County, the district's other representative to the Association.

The nomination was made at a district meeting at Norfolk. The meeting was arranged by Culbertson and Polman, with Pöhlman in charge of the meeting. Representatives of Extension Boards from Holt, Antelope, Madison, Pierce, Cedar, Thurston, Cuming, Stanton, and Wayne Counties were present.

Association members heard reports from Pöhlman; John L. Adams, director of Nebraska Extension Service; Cal Ward, district extension director; and Helen Soli, district supervisor for home economics.

Cooperative extension work in agriculture and home economics represents a partnership between counties, the University of Nebraska and the USDA.

There is an elected board in each county that is responsible, jointly with the district director, for supervision of the county extension program.

About five years ago the county extension boards joined together into an association for mutual support on matters of concern to individual boards.

Seminars on Signs Set for Norfolk

Seminars with the aim of achieving uniformity in traffic control devices will be held at the National Guard Armory on Jan. 11 at 9 a.m. and Jan. 12 at 10 a.m.

The seminar is aimed at personnel connected with highway signs, signals and pavement markings, according to Thomas Doyle, state roads director.

Copies of the 1971 manual on uniform traffic control devices will be supplied during the seminar, one of several scheduled around the state during January.

Russian Version Of 'Snow White' Stated on ETV

Fans of Nebraska Educational Television will be able to see the seven dwarfs become seven noble knights in a Russian production of "Snow White."

The program will be aired over ETV stations Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 7 p.m.

The great 19th century Russian poet Alexander Pushkin's interpretation of the Grimm fairy tale will be performed by members of the Soviet Union's Central Children's Theatre of Moscow.

Pushkin's version, which is called "A Tale About A Dead Princess and Seven Knights," follows the familiar story line, but it substitutes Russian characters. The King and Queen are, for example, the Tsar and Tsarina, and instead of the seven dwarfs, there are seven noble knights.

The program is presented entirely in Russian, without subtitles, but the sumptuous costumes and distinctive Russian flavor are more than enough to convey the story.

Beef Demand Will Be Met

Beef will not become a scarce commodity from the way things are going.

According to a nationwide opinion poll of 295 experts in the livestock raising industry, cattle men will rise to the challenge of upping beef output by a third between now and 1980.

The panel of experts were selected for their ability to help shape the future of cattle raising in their States. Holding positions of leadership or decision making, the 295 experts included state and area extension specialists in beef, milk, forage production, farm management and livestock marketing, directors of state beef cattle associations, prominent cattle producers, and persons from financial institutions.

The panel gave cattle prices a high ranking among factors influencing cow numbers. The consensus was that the price of a choice steer calf (450-500 pounds) would have to exceed $35 per 100 pounds to give strong encouragement of expansion of the beef cow herd.

Moreover, the experts generally expected to see prices top that level. Measures to reduce the farm belt price below the necessary level could seriously threaten the industry's ability to meet the expected demand.

Why so much attention to beef cows in this study? As explained in the report which summarizes the opinion poll, the U. S. beef cattle industry has neared the end of a major development phase.

Ag Engineer Warns Feeders About Ponds

LINCOLN — Above normal moisture this past fall has prevented many livestock feeders from cleaning debris basins and holding ponds in livestock waste management systems and could cause serious problems by spring, says a University of Nebraska Extension agricultural engineer.

E. Olson said if holding ponds are not emptied, overflow from snow-melt and spring rains can cause pollution of local streams, defeating the purpose of the waste control system. In addition, overflow may wash or erode earth banks and cause serious damage, meaning added expenses to repair or rebuild the holding pond.

He advised farmers who were thwarted from carrying out normal fall maintenance chores with their livestock waste dis-

Resolutions Aren't Meant To Be Kept

Soon it will be time to make New Year's resolutions. Just like last year, and the year before that. It's good to sit down and reminisce while the year is still fresh in your mind.

There have been glad times, prosperous times, memorable times and unfortunately for some, there have been sad times.

The seasons have been rather favorable during the past year. You've gone from winter to spring to summer to fall and back to winter again.

The crops have been better than most years. And the markets have been exceptionally good. That is, if you were on the selling end of things.

The first litter of pigs weren't anything to brag about but the last two weren't too bad. Now if the markets continue to hold steady during the next year, you'll do pretty good with your hogs.

The big election is over for another four years. The war is supposedly simmering down. TV networks are gradually turning to new gimmicks to replace politics and war.

Seems like we've successfully made our last scheduled trip to the moon. Now that we've learned the consistency of the green cheese, we'll probably spend umpteen billions of dollars trying to take some of that cheese to impress the residents on Mars.

1972 definitely was a good year for space, politics and the descending of the Viet Nam war. And Henry Kissinger's secrets were broadcast from every television across the nation.

Although the farmer is very knowledgeable of all these facts, they mean relatively little to him. Unless they have decreased his land taxes and increased the livestock and grain markets.

"We've made it through the Christmas rush. The Mrs. isn't in quite the state of panic she was in a week ago. More like a tranquil surprise that she actually made it through the Christmas season. Now if she

Winside Student Teachers Enjoy 7-Week Experience

By PAT OSWALD

"The students were great." That's how one of the two student teachers at Winside summed up the seven-week experience of actual classroom teaching.

Mrs. Sandra Dahlkoetter of Stanton, said, "I was very impressed with the faculty at Winside. It was a pleasure to work in a system where all the teachers cooperate and work together, holding the children as the most important part of their jobs."

She and Mrs. Marcel Kramer of Winside ended their practice teaching earlier this month.

Mrs. Dahlkoetter worked in the first grade during mornings with Mrs. Victor Mann and in the kindergarten during afternoons with Mrs. Arl Grone. The sixth grade room was Mrs. Kramer's home base as she worked with Mrs. Alfred Miller.

Prior to returning to Wayne State College to work on her degree, Mrs. Dahlkoetter was the bookmobile librarian for the Lewis and Clark Regional Library in Norfolk.

"I enjoyed being with elementary students and teachers so much," she said, "that I decided to return to college and get a BAE with a library science minor."

Postmaster Says Thanks

Wilbur Giese, postmaster at Wayne, praised all mailing customers in the area who helped the Wayne post office successfully complete the large task of smoothly handling this year's Christmas mail and delivering it on time.

"Because the local media cooperated in advising the public about mailing deadlines and because customers heeded our request to mail early, it was possible for postal workers to get through this heavy mailing season," he said.

Giese also complimented his own staff and employees.

leered to do a bulletin board on coffee. The students also viewed filmstrips and colorful pictures, books and pamphlets of Brazil.

"We correlated social studies and language," she said, "and the children wrote riddles about animals along the Amazon Basin."

Mrs. Kramer also taught reading, geometry, spelling and language. Her husband, Marcel, teaches biology, chemistry and fifth and sixth grade science at Winside.

"I really enjoyed my student teaching experience in the sixth grade," Mrs. Kramer remarked, "and am thankful to Mrs. Miller and the sixth grade class, as well as the Winside faculty for making the seven weeks so enjoyable and rewarding."

1973 Property Assessment Instructions

The deadline for assessing your property is March 1st. Schedules filed after that date are subject to penalty.

1 The following personal items must be assessed and taxed: Boats, outboard motors, airplanes, motor vehicles, stock cars, golf carts, motor scooters, farm machinery, livestock, feed (production tax on grain & seed) income producing household furniture, fur bearing animals, bees, poultry, tools used for profit, hay silage, and all types of irrigation equipment not assessed with Real Estate property. Also any leased or consigned personal property in your custody.

3 REAL ESTATE

Improvements such as homes, cabins, grain bins and other buildings placed on real estate owned by another person must be listed and assessed on the personal property schedule as improvements and additions as well as the removal of improvements, to the County Assessor not later than March 1st. An improvement statement must be filed with the County Assessor prior to commencing improvements or alterations thereof amounting to $1,000 or more.

The County Assessor may add to the return of any item or items of property he finds to have been omitted and to change the valuation of any item of property he deems to be its actual value. Notice of such change will be given to the taxpayer or his agent. Fill out schedules fully! Rules of the Tax Commissioner require the Assessor to refuse to accept partially made returns.

2 BUSINESS & PROFESSIONAL MEN

Chilly Scenes

WINTERY SCENES are common in the Wayne area now that snows are becoming a common occurrence. Snow is heaped on top of a clothesline and a birdhouse at a residence in the east part of the city, and a squirrel makes another of his daily stops outside the window at the Jack Manske home in northwest Wayne. The squirrel has learned that food is always waiting for him whenever he gets hungry.

Survey to Ask About Buying, Repair Plans

Buying plans and home repairs will be the subject of a survey to be taken in the Wayne area the first two weeks of January, reports Walter Freeman Jr., director of the Bureau of the Census data collection center in Denver.

Bureau interviewers will ask householders in the area about any plans to buy a house, a car or major household appliances during the coming year. Questions about home repairs and alterations will concern those made during the past three months.

The Bureau conducts the survey every three months to serve as a guide to economic growth. A mathematically selected group of households throughout the nation serves as a measure of what U. S. families expect to buy in the near future.

For example, the October survey indicated that consumer plans to buy both new cars and houses were higher than they were in the July survey, as were expectations to buy major appliances, furniture and carpets. Households included in the survey are not identified. The information is confidential and is used only for statistical purposes.

YOU WON'T GET RID OF HEROIN BY PUTTING ANOTHER LOCK ON THE DOOR.

Locks don't make the fear of going out after 10 disappear. They don't stop your kid's bike from being stolen. Or the higher prices stores have to charge to make up for what junkies steal. Get rid of the pushers and maybe you can get rid of some of the locks. If you have any information about anyone who deals in heroin — a description, streetcorner, license plate, anything specific — call The National Heroin Hotline. It's run by the Federal government. It's a free call from anywhere in the country and you don't have to give any information about yourself. HEROIN HOT LINE 800-368-5363 Fix the pusher.

BASIC WARRANTY PROVISIONS FOR RCA XL-100 100% SOLID STATE COLOR TV

If anything goes wrong with your new XL-100 set within a year from the day you buy it—and it's RCA's fault—RCA will pay your service agency its regular labor charge to fix it and make available new or, at RCA's option, rebuilt replacements for defective parts. Use any service shop you wish. If your set's a portable, take it in. On larger sets, your servicemen will come to your home. Present your warranty registration card and RCA pays his repair bill. If your picture tube becomes defective during the first two years RCA will exchange it for a rebuilt tube. (RCA pays installation during first year—you pay for it in the second year.) RCA's warranty covers every set defect. It doesn't cover set installation, foreign use, antenna systems or adjustments of customer controls.

XL-100 means 100% Solid State construction and Solid State means no chassis tubes to break down before the touchdown! Only RCA offers you XL-100 Solid State Color is the most advanced you can get. And RCA builds more, sells more, offers more than anyone in America!

All chassis tubes—a major cause of TV repairs—are out. Solid state components are in. They're cooler operating, designed to last longer.

Twelve exclusive RCA plug-in AccuCircuit® modules control most set functions. They're designed to keep cool, last longer, and be easy to service.

Vivid, lifelike color from RCA's finest picture tube. Radiant phosphors are surrounded by a black matrix for sparkling color.

AccuMatic® color monitor (ACM) and Automatic Fine Tuning (AFT) buttons are adjacent. ACM locks color within a normal range and still lets you refine color and tint manually. AFT locks in correct signal electronically.

HOW TO SPOT THE PLAYS

Look for the man who takes his stance apart from the other backs. He's probably the wide receiver getting ready to receive a pass. Often the isolated TV camera stays on him so you get a chance to see him run his patterns.

Watch for the onside kick — a short "wobbler" just over the midfield stripe. It's sometimes used late in the game by a team that's behind and hopes to recover the ball quickly that way. Usually the kicker of an "onside" will give himself away by letting up just before he gets to the ball, trying to kick it with the side of his foot.

Good defense is teamwork, the same as offense. An effective defensive play is the gang tackle, with one man hitting the ball carrier low and the other hitting high.
