Wayne Fisher Gives up TV, Newspapers for More Worthwhile Things in Life

WAYNE FISHER

Wayne Fisher is enough to make a television or newspaper advertiser cry. Because the Northeast Station specialist has "weaned himself" from watching television and reading newspapers, he has more time to devote to various physical activities or working in his shop at home. "I don't have anything against newspapers," he said. "But when most people read them, they actually wash their minds instead of retaining the important facts." Fischer believes that a good book, such as a non-fiction article, an informative story or the Bible, can give the reader a lot more useful information than reading a newspaper. "Most of the time all the news in the paper deals with bad things that happen around the world," he remarked. "I like to read about the good things in life." How does the agricultural engineer manage to keep up with the news? Occasionally, Fisher said, he looks through a newspaper or listens to the radio. A lot of times the happenings are related by a friend. The rural Laurel resident and his wife are strong advocates of proper exercise.

"I can't see coming home from a day's work at the office and sitting down to watch the boob tube," he says. "So many people get caught up in television and let it become a passifier for learning instead of learning about life as it really is—from people. If the couple begins to get restless after reading, sometimes they turn to taking a walk. "I even do it in the house, walking up and down the stairs," Fisher said. The Fishers did not abandon their television set until their three children left home about a year ago. Although the television was in use some of the time before then, Fisher points out that neither he nor his wife watched it very much. "During the afternoons my wife would watch the soap operas. But after a talk we both felt that by giving up the TV more work and learning could be accomplished," he pointed out. In order for his idea to go through Fisher explained, he offered his wife a $5 bonus to her weekly allowance. "That did help to convince her," he said. The Fishers' oldest son, Wayne Jr., still carries the same ideas as his parents—he doesn't own a television set either.

'It's the Latest'

MRS. ORVELLA BLOOMENKAMP, third grade teacher at West Elementary School in Wayne, listens intently as book publishing representative Ken Wilkins of Lincoln explains some new texts available during a workshop in Wayne Wednesday. The workshop, sponsored by Educational Service Unit No. 1, attracted more than 50 teachers from the area. Several publishing companies had displays of latest teaching devices available.

Fans of Editorial Page Get Double Treat Today

Avid readers of letters to the editor, proponents and opponents of the Equal Rights Amendment and individuals who disagree with giving federal employees a day off every time a statesman dies should find interesting reading on today's editorial page. Actually, the page has been expanded to two pages because of the several letters and extensive space given to making sense out of the controversial ERA. An editorial questioning the sensibility of days off for federal workers as a way of showing respect to statesmen who have died appears today also.

NPPD Okays Transmission Line; To Discuss Details with Farmers

The Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) board of directors has approved construction of approximately 56 miles of 230,000 volt transmission line from the Twin Church substation near Dakota City to a substation near Norfolk. The line will run through the Wakefield, Wayne and Winside area. Construction of the line is expected to begin in the Norfolk area within a few weeks and be completed in late summer, according to NPPD. Total estimated cost of the line, which will be a major part of the NPPD grid system in Northeast Nebraska, is $2,085,725. Future plans are to extend the line to the Columbus area. The transmission line is part of a major intertie between the NPPD grid system and the United States Bureau of Reclamation substation at Hinton, Ia.

Aerial surveys of the area will provide detailed information that will permit NPPD to proceed with design of the line and the location of structures. Twenty-one persons turned out Thursday in Wayne for a seminar on the controversial Occupational Safety and Health Act.

The all day seminar was sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, Small Business Administration and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. Attending the seminar were Wayne Tietgen, Ken Dahl, Willard Jeffrey, Cliff Pinkelman, Robert Sherry, Orval Sherry, Ted Bahr, Kevin Brockmoller, Jack Tomrdele, Bill Richardson, Stan Morris, Les Doescher, Charles Carhart, Ron Milligan, Dick Kettel, Mrs. Maurice Carr, Hazel Mau, Bob McLean, Bob Merchant, Dennis Robinson, all of Wayne, and Everett Kiltzer of Walthill. Head-uping the program were Bob Bruno, Department of Labor, and Gregg Rice, and Boyd Corder, both from Small Business Administration. Floyd Barker, Chamber manager helped conduct the seminar.

Wayne High to Host Jr. High Band Festival

The first West Husker conference junior high school band festival will be held Feb. 7 at Wayne High School. Festival chairman is Ron Dalton from Wayne with John Svoboda from Stanton as organization chairman.

The schedule will include registration from 9 to 9:30 a.m.; solos and small ensembles from 9:30 to noon and large groups (bands) from 1:30 to 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend any or all sessions free of charge.

Council's Agenda Not Short

Wayne city councilmen will face a full agenda when they meet Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Woman's Club room in the city auditorium.

There will be several bid openings during the night, including one for pipe work at the municipal pool, for trucks for the light department and street department and for a vehicle for the police department.

Also on the agenda is a request from Bob Fleming and Sid Hiller for a liquor license to operate the Black Knight Lounge. The establishment has been operated in the past under a license issued to Harlan Farrans. Fleming is now running the business.

Other agenda items: proposal to purchase equipment for the Henry Victor Memorial Park in south Wayne, zoning change request by Roy Corbett for land along Highway 35 just west of the city limits, certification of new fireman Ron Fink and possibility of purchasing the State Department of Roads land on Logan Street.

An advertisement listing all the items on the agenda appears elsewhere in this issue of the Herald.

Decision This Week on Consolidating Jails

Whether or not Wayne County will participate in a jail consolidation program won't be decided until later this week, according to county clerk Norris Weible. Bruce Corn, representative from an Omaha engineering firm, told the Wayne County commissioners Tuesday that the data collected on eight county jails in Northeast Nebraska has to be evaluated by the regional crime commission before any work can be started on consolidating county jails. The commission will meet Thursday in Norfolk.

Some of the data collected during a six week period dealt with the number of prisoners in jail and their offenses. Corn told the members that part of the study reveals that Wayne County leads a four county area in the amount of time the jail is used. Presently, Wayne County's jail is used on the average of 70.4 per cent of the time compared to 49.7 per cent for Cedar County and 37.7 per cent for Dixon County. No statistics are available for Knox County. Other counties in the study were Stanton, Pierce, Antelope and Madison. Of the eight, Madison ranked the highest in use of the county jail, with over 94 per cent average use. Also representing the county Tuesday were associate county judge Luverna Hillon, county attorney Budd Bornholt, county probation officer Herbert Hanson and Wayne councilman Darrell Fuelberth. Earlier, the commissioners met with the Nioxius Weed Board and its supervisor, Russell Lindsay Jr. Lester Menke and Enos Williams, both from Carroll, were installed as the new members. They were elected in November. Also being sworn in was re-elected member Dwayne Rethwisch.

Local Youth On Honor Roll At Sioux Falls

Rhonda Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maciejewski of Wayne, has been named to the dean's list at Sioux Falls College. Some 250 students qualified for the honor following the first semester, which ended in December. Miss Peterson is a sophomore, majoring in sociology. Sioux Falls College is a four year liberal arts college.

Concord Meeting Set

The Concord Betterment Association is sponsoring an open meeting at the Concord fire hall tonight (Monday) for the purpose of discussing current and new projects. The meeting is open to all interested individuals.

'Good Time' Class

175 Persons Expected To Attend CC Dinner

About 175 persons are expected to turn out for the Wayne Chamber of Commerce annual dinner tonight (Monday). The dinner is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Student Union Center at Wayne State College. Tickets, which can be purchased at the Chamber Office or from several committee members are selling for $4 each. Theme for the yearly event is community development, with guest speaker Stan Matzke, director of the state's economic development department. Also speaking during the evening will be Fairbury businessman, George Newton, who has been influential in helping this community develop and grow. Recognized during the dinner will be retiring Chamber president Bob McLean and retiring board members Larry King, Don Mangens and Phil Gries. Troy Vaughn, local businessman who did exceptional work on the President's Club during 1972, will be given a plaque during the evening. Also recognized will be new Chamber president Dr. J.J. Lisicki and new board members Dale Gutshall, Rowan Wiltsie and Dick Sorenson. The dinner is open to the public, and anybody interested in how communities should go about attracting industries is especially welcome, according to the dinner's general chairman, Bill Workman. Tickets may be purchased from any of the following persons: Keith Mosley, Harold Ingalls, Dennis Spangler, Willis Meyer, Eldon Borelman, Jim Evans or Dan Johnson.

Okay, ladies and gentlemen, here's the text of that equal rights amendment. . .

. . . now it's up to you to decide what it's really all about

Equal Rights for Men and Women
Section 1. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.
Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.
Section 3. This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification.

ERA: a bugaboo or a real threat?
Pro arguments Con arguments

1. Women suffer discrimination, based solely on their sex, in many areas of life.
2. The equal rights amendment would benefit men as well as women.
3. The equal rights amendment would threaten the family structure.
4. The equal rights amendment is unnecessary; the 5th and 14th amendments are adequate to protect women's rights.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786.

Let's clear the air

You can't miss the Equal Rights Amendment printed on the top of the page.
Two things about it probably make it stand out: the size of the type it is printed in and the brevity of the amendment.

Charles Curtis, later vice-president of the United States, and Representative Daniel Anthony Jr.
That amendment read: "Men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction."

Dear Editor:
In view of the pending negotiations between the Wayne school board and the Wayne Education Association (the negotiating arm of our teaching staff), it seems our teachers should be very thankful for the past generosity of our school board and accept a renewed contract with the present tenure and accreditation increases.

Employees, you've got it made

Lord, pity the poor employer.
Not only does he have to keep the lights burning and the furnace running, fill in names and amounts on paychecks, fill out a host of forms to keep the federal "revenueurs" at bay, get and keep competent workers, satisfy his customers and drum up enough business to keep his doors open.

Business is inspected.
One of the flyers was a work guide on hammers. It noted that employers should be sure to "keep the face of the hammer clean," "attach the head of the hammer securely to a good, solid and proper type handle," "use the right hammer for the job," "grasp the hammer firmly, close to the end," "make sure the face of the hammer is parallel to the surface to be struck" and "keep the claws of claw hammers sharp enough to grip nailheads firmly."

Another day off

And while you're at it, Lord, have pity on the poor farmer, businessman, newspaper editor and everybody else who has to alter his routine every time the federal government chooses to close down offices to pay tribute to some statesman who has died.

want to keep the bill collectors away.
Do federal employees deserve special treatment because they are so much more closely associated with our great leaders? anybody deserves special treatment? Is the plain blouse on the street, the Mr. Little Guy who makes his country day after day who deserves the special treatment.

Dear Editor:
I must take issue with an article and a letter that appeared in two previous Monday papers.
A board member of the state League of Women Voters speaking at Norfolk on the Equal Rights Amendment said, "The amendment cannot be construed as constraining morality or religious beliefs." The letter to the editor (Monday, Jan. 15) made the comment, "I have read and heard a great deal of conjecture on what the ERA would and could mean."

interpret the Constitution to make an equal rights amendment. The Supreme Court or any Federal Circuit court or any district court must know by now that this is never going to happen.

Representative Martha W. Griffiths

4. So-called "protective" laws actually exclude women from promotion.

"Since our major efforts have been directed toward achieving equality for women in employment, one of our strongest reasons for supporting the equal rights amendment is that it would nullify all state restrictive laws that limit women as to what work they can do, how long they can work, and what they can lift.

"It is an insult to women that laws or rules are referred to as 'protective' when their sole function is to exclude women from higher paying jobs."

Georgianna Sellers, Acting Chairman, League of American Working Women (LAWW)

"The fact is that the effect of the amendment on protective labor legislation provides no sound basis for opposing it."

"There are three interrelated points here. First, the crazy quilt of existing state protective laws reveal graphically that there is no consensus on what is needed protection for either men or women, and that much of the legislation, instead of providing solutions to the real problems of women workers, actually 'protect' them out of jobs they are perfectly capable of fulfilling. Second, under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, much state legislation of this type is being invalidated and will be of no long term importance. Third, such laws that confer genuine benefits can and should be extended to men under the equal rights amendment."

Professor Norman Dorson, New York University Law School

5. There is no reason why women should not share with men the full rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

"The important thing, I suggest, is that no American — regardless of sex, race, religion, or nationality — should be arbitrarily denied rights and opportunities which are essential components of his humanity and citizenship whether or not anyone else values them or cares to use them. They belong to the person, as a person."

Representative Florence Dwyer

"As long as organized legal systems, open or nationally — respected and based on social institutions, continue to differentiate sharply in treatment or in words between men and women on the basis of irrelevant and artificially created distinctions, the likelihood of men and women coming to regard one another primarily as fellow human beings and only secondly as representatives of another sex will continue to be remote."

Professor Leo Kanowitz, University of New Mexico

6. A national amendment is the best, most effective way to establish equality of rights for men and women.

"Although it is possible that discriminations might eventually be corrected by legislation, legislative remedies are not adequate substitutes for fundamental constitutional protection against discrimination. Any class of persons (i.e., women) which cannot successfully invoke the protection of the Constitution against discriminatory treatment is by definition comprised of 'second class citizens' and is inferior in the eyes of the law."

"Citizens' Advisory Council on the Status of Women" "But if I believe that the equal rights amendment would not achieve anything that could not be achieved by the courts in interpreting existing constitutional provisions, the question arises as to why I am supporting the equal rights amendment at this time. The answer is simple. Although I still believe that there is a very high degree of probability that the Supreme Court will perform as I hope and expect in this area, there is no guarantee that it will do so. Moreover, I now believe that it is necessary for all branches of government to demonstrate an unshakable intention to eliminate every last vestige of sex based discrimination in American law."

Professor Leo Kanowitz, University of New Mexico

"I can think of no better way to proceed than by way of constitutional amendment."

"We have attempted to act by federal legislation. We can act as far as federal employment is concerned, but almost immediately we get into jurisdiction disputes with the states in other areas. We can abide and hope the States will proceed, but on the basis of the record, although it has been rather encouraging in recent years, I don't think we can say it has been enough."

deny to any person the equal protection of the laws."

"Now, I'm sure that Thaddeus Stevens and other Members of the 39th Congress did not have any sex in mind when they debated the issue. But they said, 'person.' I am a person and the Federal courts have so ruled and should be called upon to rule again."

"That is why President Kennedy's Commission on the Status of Women after a great deal of study rejected the equal rights amendment."

Myra Wolfgang, Vice President Hotel & Restaurant Employees, AFL-CIO

4. The equal rights amendment would repeal important state protective laws.

"Unless this proposal includes the Hayden retention proviso, it will repeal the thousands of laws, rules, regulations, directives, opinions, which now protect women from insidious and destructive working conditions visited upon them largely because of their biological composition and background. These laws, etc., are the result of years of research, debate, social action of momentous proportion. They have had subsequent reappraisals and amendments. While many are obsolete and inadequate, they constitute a protective force absolutely mandatory for women's protection."

Morther Furay, Detroit Metropolitan AFL-CIO Council

"There are various kinds of protection for women workers provided by state laws and regulations: (1) minimum wages; (2) overtime compensation; (3) hours of work, meal and rest period; (4) equal pay; (5) industrial homework; (6) employment before and after childbirth; (7) occupational limitations; and (8) other standards, such as seating and washroom facilities and weight lifting limitations. It would be desirable for some of these laws to be extended to men, but the practical fact is that an equal rights amendment is likely to destroy the laws altogether rather than bring about coverage for both sexes."

Myra Wolfgang, Vice President Hotel & Restaurant Employees, AFL-CIO

5. The amendment would make women eligible for the draft.

"To me perhaps the most distasteful thing of all, is that as long as we keep selective service on the books, or, if it is repealed, then at any time when we reinstate it, women, along with men, must be equally subject to military conscription. Conscription is objectionable enough, many think, where men are concerned, but I think of nothing more likely to destroy the family unit, nothing so likely to transform us into a national socialist type of state, than to conscript American women into the Armed Forces."

"Subjection of women to compulsory military service, along with men, raises a similar question. Again, the proponents appear to insist that the drafting of women as well as men for suitable military service would, in fact, be required under the Amendment. They assume probably correctly, that equal 'rights' would include obligation of service; and under the Amendment men could claim that the 'right' of exemption from the draft might be applicable without regard to sex."

Professor Paul A. Freund, Harvard University

6. The equal rights amendment would cause chaos in the courts.

"The proposed amendment would also set in motion an infinitude of cases on almost unlimited issues which would require clarification, which would require extensive legislation, and which would, in my judgement, set us back rather than forward in our struggle for equality."

"There are many laws specifically protecting working women. They cover such subjects as night work, dangerous and heavy work, maximum hours and maternity leave. These laws would be thrown into confusion. So would a great body of law governing divorce, child support, custody, alimony, the age at which a woman reaches her majority, and a widow's rights in her husband's estate."

"If anything about this proposed amendment is clear, it is that it would transform every provision of law concerning women into a constitutional issue to be ultimately resolved by the Supreme Court. Every statutory and common law provision dealing with the manifold relations of women in society would be forced to run the gauntlet of attack on constitutional grounds. The range of such potential litigation is too great to be readily foreseen."

'It's Like Playing Poker'

MORE THAN 80 farmers and feeders from northeast Nebraska turned out Thursday night at Concord for a beef cow-calf clinic sponsored by the University of Nebraska Extension Service and Midwest Breeders, Inc. Speaking to the group were Robert Fincham, Midwest Breeders representative from Ames, Ia., and Jim Gosey, UNL beef specialist. Fincham talked about realizing maximum genetic improvement through artificial insemination and how to make AI work in beef herds. Gosey, talking about, discussed potential of improving beef cattle through scientific breeding methods, advantages and disadvantages of cross breeding and effect of nutrition on reproduction. Gosey told the group that "fertilization is like playing poker — you may get a very good hand in the five cards dealt to you or you may get a very bad one. You just have to hope the genes your bulls are putting out are good ones."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: This is an open letter to "A Concerned High School Student"

I suppose that each of my six children has at one time or another said, "You hate me," when refused some special privilege, and I'm equally sure I said it to my parents. You say we who support the Equal Rights Amendment hate you because it might remove your draft exemption. Let us pray that wars and the draft are a dead issue, but to be realistic, let's discuss the draft and you. Would you think me more human if I said your life and happiness and those of my daughters meant more to me than the lives and happiness of my sons.

The tradition of exempting women from the armed forces began back when: (1) All troops were combat troops, and (2) An increasing population was an asset, and there was an attempt to save women so they could bear more children. Neither is true today.

Girls have never been kept home just because they are "sugar and spice and everything nice."

How do you suppose the women at home spent their time during the Revolutionary and Civil Wars? Guiding walking plows, milking cows, cutting firewood and shooting squirrels for stew. There weren't enough men home to take care of these chores. Meanwhile, the Indian nations who had been pushed beyond endurance found this a strategic time to attack the scattered cabins.

By World War II, we had tractors, but some of us were still plowing. Or welding. In some European countries, a large portion of the draft age men were killed, and the women in that age group were destined to finish their lives alone.

Do you think that is a "privilege," or do areas or at least options for these rights, if she so desires regardless whether she is a homemaker, single or married.

As a wife I was denied a charge plate in my name at a very large international retail store. Yes, I paid all the bills from my own bank account from money I had earned from my own pay check.

As a single female parent, I was denied credit or any charge plate in any store for six months until I was well checked out, yet my 21-year-old son, without a job at that time, applied and was given credit within a week. All previous charge accounts during my marriage had always been paid by my own personal check on my own personal account from money of my own earnings.

These are just a few of the discriminations that women are exposed to when a man is no longer in the home. Our daughters won't be drafted. The draft is scheduled to end in June. How many of you remember when Eleanor Roosevelt suggested women should be drafted for World War II?

Now, as to restrooms, unless separate restrooms can be proven to discriminate against one sex or another, the amendment will not affect them. Which sex do you think will complain about the present system? Come on, now — be serious!

If you are, indeed, concerned I hope men will take more of this amendment, at present injustices to both men and women and at your responsibility as a fair-minded person.

Lincoln

Dear Editor: I recently read in the Lincoln paper that letters from the Northeast area in Nebraska, namely Wayne and Wakefield, induced one of our Unicameral Legislators to introduce the bill against Equal Rights for Women.

There is a great deal of concern about the misconceptions circulating about this amendment. The amendment reads: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State on account of sex."

This does not say the family structure will be destroyed. This amendment gives every woman equal rights in so many areas or at least options for these rights, if she so desires regardless whether she is a homemaker, single or married.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

A Ponca automobile dealer, Wilfred Kamrath, 34, was killed recently in a one-car accident a mile and a half east of Jackson on Highway 20.

Kamrath apparently lost control of his westbound car, veered into the north ditch and then back across the highway into a cornfield. The car flipped end over end several times.

The Harlem Thrillers will square off against Johnny Rodgers and his gang at Emerson on Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. Appearing with Rodgers, winner of the Helsenman Trophy, will be standout football players Rich Glover, Bill Olds, Gary Dixon and Willie Harper.

Dixon County has received a check for $57,930 from the federal government, the final payment for flood damage done in February and June of 1971.

The county earlier received a check for $124,732, bringing the total federal aid to $184,662.

Funeral for Roger Kathol of Hartington, a Missouri River drowning victim, was held Saturday.

Kathol, 26, drowned earlier in the week when the boat he was in tipped over as he and a friend, Dan Mauch, were launching it.

It took five days of dragging the river before the body was recovered near the point of the accident, just east of Gavins Point Dam at the first boat landing on the Nebraska side of the river.

Kathol was paralyzed below the waist and wore heavy leg braces. He could not swim.

voters for failure to vote in two succeeding general elections.

Some 185 of 1,751 Democrats were dropped from the voter list; 783 of 2,667 Republicans were dropped.

State law requires that persons who do not vote in any two succeeding general elections be dropped from the list. They must re-register if they wish to vote.

The Wisner News-Chronicle printed a special eighth page supplement to the newspaper last week with pictures and stories about the Wisner-Pilger Gator Marching Band's trip to the Orange Bowl.

Included in the supplement were four full-color pictures and numerous black and white photos. Another full-color shot appeared on the front page of the newspaper.

A two-month-old child in South Sioux City has cystic hygroma, the first such case reported in Nebraska in 14 years.

The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Anderson.

The hospital bill for treatment of the child the first two months after birth amounted to $31,000. Bills currently run about $180 a month for equipment to keep the child's exposed breathing passage clear.

From "Over the Editor's Desk" in the South Sioux City Star: "Wouldn't you know it! One of the first traffic cases brought before newly seated district court Judge Cecil W. Orton last week was that of Patricia Orton — the judge's daughter. Apparently a kinship with the judge doesn't make a bit of difference. Patricia was fined for failure to stop at stop sign. I presume the fatherly lecture came later."

Doane College Centennial

One of the most significant of the Centennial observances in 1972 was that of Doane College at Crete, a Congregationalist-founded school. The oldest existing Nebraska church-related school, it has a distinguished history which is well documented in the library sources of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Of the many church and private four year institutions founded over the last century, Doane College is today but one of eleven still in existence. It might be said that it is a descendant of a pre-Civil War college, Fontanelle University (founded in the village of Fontanelle in 1856 by the Congregationalists), which closed its doors in 1869.

Three towns competed for the proposed new Congregational college in 1872: Crete, Weeping Water, and Millford. With an academy already in its boundaries, Crete had the advantage. Its offer to the Congregational General Assembly in Omaha consisted of 600 acres of land, 50 town lots, the old academy property, and $8,000 in cash subscriptions payable in four years — the whole offer representing a net worth of $29,519. The Articles of Incorporation were filed on July 11, 1872.

The two-story academy building, a tall, square tower reaching above its stable roof, served as the only college building for seven years. College president and only teacher the first year was David Brainerd Perry, whose distinguished career with the school lasted until 1912. The faculty expanded as the student body grew. In 1879 there were 12 students. In 1881 there were 121, including those in its adjunct academy. In 1880 Merrill Hall, named for the Reverend O. W. Merrill, chairman of the Congregationalist Education Committee which chartered the school, became the second building. It was a landmark on the campus when destroyed by fire during the winter of 1929.

Despite depression, drought, and political unrest during the 1880-1890 decades and into the new century, the school enrollment fluctuated little and the administration consolidated its position. The college building program continued to expand teaching facilities. In more recent decades the school has kept abreast of advances in its curriculum offerings, has added to its faculty, has modernized its plant, and has watched its enrollment grow past 700.

Located on an eminence in east Crete, the campus overlooks the fertile Blue River Valley. During a century of expansion the school has lost but little of its quiet, sylvan atmosphere. The campus is one of the state's beauty spots.

The college is named for an Easterner, Colonel Thomas Doane, one of its founders and a contributor to fund-raising efforts. He was awarded an honorary degree in 1895. On his death in 1897 his estate added $150,000 to the college endowment fund.

Betty Olson of Wakefield changed her status but not her name when she spoke her vows Dec. 27 at the Wakefield Covenant Church. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Olson of Wakefield, she became the bride of Robert Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson Jr., of Rock Island, Ill.

The Rev. Fred Jansson of Wakefield and the Rev. Tom Anderson of Dawson, Minn., officiated at the 7 p.m. rites. Betty Olson and Elmer Carlsson sang, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Paulson and Nancy Carlsson, and the couple recited the vows they had memorized for the occasion. The lighting of the unity candle was a part of their ceremony.

The wedding party included Deborah Currie of Mexico City, Mex., Mrs. Steven Steele of Wakefield, Mrs. Les Elden of New York, Janet Olson of Rock Island, Ill., Bruce and Rick Olson, Jim and Don Olson, Vicki served as hosts to the reception held at the church parlors following the ceremony.

The bride, a graduate of North Parke College in Chicago, teaches at Northbrook School, Chicago. The bridegroom, also a graduate of North Parke, is a junior high school coach and math instructor at Bellwood School, Chicago.

The couple traveled briefly in Minnesota and are at home at 772 Mallard Lane, Wheeling, Ill.

Coleridge Pastes 62-42 Loss on Cats

By BOB BARTLETT
Disaster struck again!
That's how Winside coach Jim Winch viewed his team's 11th loss Friday night, 62-42, against a taller and more experienced Coleridge Bulldogs squad.

The Wildcats, playing an unbelievably flawless second period, outscored the visitors by 13 to 4, to trail by four going into the second half, 23-19.

But then the ceiling came crashing down.

"We lost our composure in the fourth quarter," Winch admitted. "We tried to catch up too fast and we lost the ball game."

The Cats, after trailing 19-4 at the end of the first quarter, put it together with a fine defensive show before the half and continued the good board work in the third despite the height handicap.

But in the fourth the team fell flat—Coleridge hit 20 points to the home team's nine.

"That's the quarter that did it to us," Winch commented. "Somehow we always manage to have one bad quarter and three good ones."

Winside, using a 2-3 defense, put a curtain around the hoop in the second period forcing the taller club to go outside. There, forward Kevin Krieh started his scoring drives that eventually led him to the high of 17 for his team.

With center Jeff Farran missing most of the game after spraining an ankle with about 4-30 left in the first period, the Cats were hurting for rebounding strength.

Junior Steve Brummels was called on to take over the load and fight for the rebounds under the boards. At first, the Bulldogs' Krieh, Alan Benson and Don Felber made it rough for the 6-0 center. But Brummels battled along in the first period to establish himself in the explosive second quarter.

The Cats, led by Larry Weible's seven of 19 points, began hitting from the outside to rattle the rim for 13 points. Meanwhile, Coleridge, still on the outside, found the basket shut tight by the Winside defense.

But the tables began to turn in the second half when coach Claire Jordan told his men to go inside for the shots—and that they did.

After increasing their lead to nine going into the fourth frame, 42-33, the Bulldogs ripped the game open when the Winside five tried to get themselves out of the hole.

Coleridge used the fast break to get down the court and surprise the Winside team, and Winch's man-to-man press failed to slow the visitors down.

Proof that the game was a physical one was the number of fouls—a total of 46.

The host team collected 25 to Coleridge's 21, with Winside taking the edge by hitting 12 of 19 for 63 per cent. The Bulldogs' percentage was 48, hitting on 14 of 29 charity tosses.

Although Winside had the advantage at the line, Coleridge managed to control the most important statistic—field shooting. Coleridge had 24 field goals, Winside 15.

Result: Winside now stands at 2-11 for the year.

The same type of picture was painted for the B squad when it lost 36-33.

Winside Pushes Dual Mark to 9-0 With Win Over West Point, 47-16

The last home match for Coach Doug Barclay and his Winside wrestlers ended on a winning note Thursday night when the Cats defeated West Point, 47-16.

Six senior lettermen made their last of two appearances at home with five of the six winning.

Doug Anderson (112) decision-ed Scott Warner, 10-0, followed by Dave Jaeger's 1-56 pin on Kirk Maack in the 119-pound division. Jaeger, currently tied with Oakland Craig's Keith Erikson for the No. 1 spot in the state Class C division, holds an 18-1 record.

Seniors Ed Lienemann (185) and Dean Krueger (155) also took victories.

Krueger, with a 20-1 mark, pinned West Point's Ed Hula in 2:42. Dean ranks No. 2 in the state listings.

Lienemann, the only undefeated Cat grappler, pinned Steve Schultz in 32 seconds. Ed is placed in the No. 2 spot in the state ratings.

Steve Sueli (138) decisioned Randy Remelius, 11-0, for a 16-3 record.

Jamey Gunter (145) dropped his match to Bill Parkinson, 1-4.

"When I played for Iowa in the 1957 Rose Bowl game, you could mail a letter for 3c, a haircut cost a buck and a half tops, and my friends in Iowa could call me long distance in Pasadena, California after the game for $2.05.

Today, they can dial that same call after 5 p.m. or on the weekend for 75c or less, if they dial direct without operator assistance."

A little money still goes a long way on the telephone.

Winside Club To Sponsor 7th, 8th Grade Tournament

The Winside Community Club will sponsor a four team basketball tournament Thursday and Saturday at the high school gym.

Seventh and eighth graders from Wakefield, Laurel, Stanton and Winside will participate in the two day meet that starts at 7 p.m. Thursday between Stanton and Wakefield, followed by Laurel and Winside at 8:15.

The winners and consolation rounds will be played Saturday.

Trojan Quint Carves Out Victory Over West Point Despite 'Rocky' Evening

By NORVIN HANSEN
Although they played what their coach described as one of their "rockiest" games of the year, the Wakefield Trojans carved out a convincing 38-40 win over West Point High Friday night.

Wakefield was never in serious trouble in the contest, jumping off to an 8-4 lead six minutes in the game. They continued stretching that lead—thanks to the offensive and defensive help of workhorse Sam Ulecht—and managed to lead by 20 points, 30-30, halfway through the final period.

Ulecht, a strong 6-1 junior, pulled down 19 rebounds and scored 16 points to lead his team in both departments.

"He played a heckuva game," said coach Joe Coble of the boy who has worked himself into a starting position on the Trojan team. Ulecht has been improving with every game, especially the past three or four outings when he has done a fine job.

Coble said the win, Wakefield's seventh in 12 starts this season, didn't come over any pushover, either. West Point had a 9-4 mark going into the Friday tilt. And they sport a 6-3 junior, Len Adams, who can score in almost any game.

Adams ended the night with 25 points—the only Cadet able to break into double figures against the scrappy Wakefield defense.

That defense was one of the bright spots in what otherwise was one of Wakefield's poorest games this season, according to Coble.

It repeatedly forced West Point outside and several times stole the ball.

Wakefield was strong under both boards, primarily because of the constant presence of Ulecht. Two other Wakefield fall men, junior Gary Adink at 6-6 and senior Dave Scheel at 6-4, managed to pull down seven rebounds each.

Little Doug Fischer, a 5-8 junior, grabbed 10 points in the contest for the only other Trojan to hit double figures.

Getting six each were Randy Johnson, Keith Siebrandt and Chuck Lindstrom.

The Trojans were lucky their defense was working well in the contest. Their offense shot at a 37 per cent clip from the field.

Coble was happy at the way the game went for another reason. Top "He was able to rest his players for the contest with Allen the following night in hopes they would still be strong for the opener against Tilden Ekhorn Valley in the Stanton Invitational tournament tonight (Monday).

In the reserve game, Keith Siebrandt pumped in 14 points, eight of them in the second half, to guide the junior varsity to a 43-36 victory.

Bruce Paul, only other Trojan to get in double figures, had 11 points in the contest.

The reserves took a 3-7 record into Saturday night's contest at Allen.

Reserves Drop First Contest, 60-57, in Double Overtime

It had to happen but why? The former unbeaten Wayne High reserve basketball team took its first licking Friday night when the Pierce team snuffed out the locals' hopes of an undefeated season.

But it wasn't an easy win for the home squad.

It took 150 overtimes before coach Ron Carnes' club fell, 60-57.

Wayne, now 9-1, held a 30-19 lead at the half. Pierce started coming back by the end of the third, 42-36 and then put the clamps on the Blue Devils' defense. Pierce allowed only six points in the final stanza of regulation play while collecting 17 points for the home team to tie at 48-48 at the end of regular play.

After the first overtime, the teams were knotted at 54-41 before the home team collected six points to Wayne's three.

Leading scorers for the Blue Devils were Bob Keating with 14, Kerry Jech with 12, Bill Schwartz with 11 and Earle Overin with 10.

Wayne Teams Split With Norfolk CC

The Wayne seventh and eighth grades split games with Norfolk Catholic Thursday with the seventh grade team winning, 26-25, while the eighth grade dropped a close decision, 32-31.

The seventh grade team boosted their record to 3-1 on Vic Sharpe's 20 point spree at the local city auditorium.

Dean Carroll added six points while Jeff Bakstrom scored two.

The eighth grade members lost their third game in five starts. Mike Wiedler hit 10 for the home team while Tim Koll led the group with 12.

Blue Devils Blitz Pierce 60-46 En Route to 10th Win

The Wayne Blue Devils took their 10th win of the season Friday night when they blitzed the host Pierce Bluejays, 60-46.

In the first quarter, Wayne set the pace for the outcome with a 20-7 effort and continued the rugged play in the second period to lead at the half, 37-23.

A combination of good ball handling by guards Randy Nelson, Tod Bigelow and Marly Hanson and defensive skill by Larry Shupe and Roger Saul aided the locals to the win.

"All three guards led the team in scoring, with Bigelow and Hanson being at 14 each and Nelson getting 13.

Wayne changed from its normal man-to-man defense to a zone, effectively stopping the Bluejays. Coach Bill Sharpe made the change "because Pierce cannot hit from the outside."

Throughout the game the head mentor was concerned about the Bluejays shuffling offense, but both big men for Wayne—Shupe and Saul—kept the rebounding edge in favor of the Blue Devils.

"I think the rebounding was the big difference in the outcome of the game," Sharpe said. Wayne gathered 54 rebounds to Pierce's 29.

The visitors maintained about a 14-point lead through most of the contest. At one point in the third quarter Wayne held a 17-point lead.

Nelson, Shupe and Saul each ran into foul trouble early in the game and as a result none hit his potential scoring mark, Sharpe said.

"But I'm not dissatisfied with the team's performance," he added. "I think we did a good job on the whole."

In the second half both teams literally walked up and down the courts. A total of 47 fouls were committed with the hosts collecting 24.

Sharpe said that in the fourth quarter he began to pull his varsity out when the fouls were becoming excessive.

In shooting percentages, Wayne held the edge, 38 to 25. The locals connected on 23 of 61 shots from the line, the Bluejays on 15 of 60.

Gardner Still on Top In Class C Wrestling

Wayne's Kirk Gardner retained his No. 1 position last week as the top Class C wrestler in the 167-pound division, according to the ratings released by the Omaha World-Herald.

Dave Jaeger, Winside's 119-pound grappler, moved up from second to a tie for first place. The hustling Wildcat defeated No. 1 Keith Erikson last week to tie the Oakland-Craig man for the top spot.

Two other Wildcat teammates, Ed Lienemann (185) and Dean Krueger (155) remain as the No. 2 wrestlers in their divisions. Another Cat wrestler, Steve Sueli (138), dropped out of the listings.

RANDY NELSON
Paper Selects Nelson Player Of the Week

Wayne High senior guard Randy Nelson was selected as one of 13 state players of the week last week by The Lincoln Star newspaper.

Nelson, 5'11, pumped in 25 points against Neligh last Friday night as the Blue Devils upset the former second-ranked Class C club, 72-59.

College Quint to Face Fired Up KSC Club In Tuesday Night Tilt

When Wayne State's basketball Wildcats invade Kearney State gym Tuesday, they can be certain about several things.

—The host Antelopes by all rights should be fired for revenge for their loss here Jan. 6 and fired up by their win over conference leader UNO last week.

—But the Wildcats can handle Kearney—home court advantage and all—if they play as they did Friday in bombing Mount Marly, 107-77.

The Cats manhandled Mount Marly crisply from start to finish. They jumped to a 13-0 lead in 3 1/2 minutes, soared to 54-20 by halftime—their highest half score this season—and were ahead by 30 or so all of the second half.

Altogether the Wildcats staged their sharpest execution of fast break offense in years—and against a talented team with a lot of bench strength.

True, Wayne suffered some turnovers, but that's the risk of the tactics they used.

More than usual, the Wildcats relied on passing—quick and often long—to catch the Lancers out of position and set up the good shot.

The result: 11 Cats scored, led by Denny Sietkes with a season high 29. Besides his patented close in shots, the Mountain also swished a variety from 15 to 20 feet, showing a recently acquired long-range weapon.

Ron Jones canned 14 points—obviously enjoying it after the frustration of going scoreless in Wayne's romp over Midland Tuesday. Chuck Collins also hit 14, several times with his flashy rebound tip in shot. Jim Archer contributed 13, including some fielders so far out he needed a telescope to find the basket. Neal Walde scored eight.

Mount Marly got top scoring from Ron Acey, with 16.

In the preliminary game, Wayne's junior varsity was scheduled to play Chubbville of Lincoln. But when the AAU quint couldn't come—several players sick—a team of WSC intramural all stars took on the Jayvees What a game!

It went into second overtime before the Jayvees won, 72-71, on a Walde free throw.

Use of live or dead minnows or fish as bait is prohibited on lakes of the Valentine National Wildlife Refuge.

Taller O'Neill Club Hands Laurel Quint 58-56 Loss Friday

Laurel took a 2-11 mark into Saturday's tough game against Tilden Elkhorh Valley, thanks to a 58-56 whipping at the hands of O'Neill Friday night.

Laurel, giving away several inches to the taller host club, fell behind early in the game and was unable to make up the difference in spite of two fine quarters in the middle of the contest.

O'Neill, led by top shooters Dave Wellhauler and Wes Pinkearn, carved out a 22-8 first quarter lead—but the Bears pulled to within nine at intermission, 30-21, and took a one-point advantage into the final frame, 40-39.

But the rebounding strength of the hosts, who start three men taller than Laurel's biggest starter, proved to be the difference as the game drew to a close.

"We just couldn't get anything to fall in that first quarter," said Joel Parks. "They beat us rather soundly in rebounding, getting about 45 rebounds to our 26."

Three Bears managed to break into double figures after the squad overcame the chill early in the game.

Senior Keith Olson led his club with 15 points, two behind the leading scorers for O'Neill, Junior Kevin Gade pumped in 14 points and senior Dave Dieckler managed to collect 10 in the action.

In the reserve game O'Neill pulled off a 41-40 effort after battling back from a 22-20 deficit at intermission.

Laurel's Scott Thompson threw in 11 points, Scott Hueg eight.

Laurel will host Bloomfield Friday night.

Allen Falls To Ponca

The Allen Eagles lost their bid to clinch the Clark title of the Lewis and Clark Conference Friday when they fell to Ponca 73-61 at Ponca.

Coach Robert Moore's quint led had a 35-34 halftime lead before foul trouble in the last half stopped the Eagles from attaining their ninth win. Allen's record is 8-4.

No other information was available.

The Clark division now in a two-way tie with Ponca, and Allen, may be decided by a playoff. But as yet there has been no confirmation.

Another division title team in contention, Homer, dropped its important match against Wall Hill, 61-59, to eliminate it from possibly winning the division.

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Monday, January 29, 1973

Dick H. Schaffer
Mr. NEBRASKAland

Back to Nebraska

Ever wonder where all the ducks and geese go each fall? Some travel great distances to spend the winter while others merely move into neighboring Missouri, Kansas, and Colorado. And good numbers stay in Nebraska.

George Schildman, waterfowl specialist, shares his observations on the movement of waterfowl.

Probably the long-distance leaders are blue-winged teal. After reaching NEBRASKAland in August, they usually depart about Oct. 1 to 14 for southern Texas and Mexico. Some even go on into South America.

The greenwinged teal. Some winter in Nebraska and Kansas but most go south into Oklahoma and Texas, and possibly into Mexico.

Baldpates and gadwalls select Texas and Louisiana for their winter homes.

Pintails, in good numbers in Nebraska until Oct. 20 to 25, move out fast for the Gulf Coast area of Texas and also into Mexico. The Gulf Coast area is also home to wintering shorebirds.

Mallards move on into Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. Lots of greenheads, though, spend the cold months in Nebraska.

Redheads and scaup head for the Gulf of Mexico where they are seen in large flocks... out on the gulf. From 10,000 to 30,000 mergansers winter in the state and the rest move on into Kansas and Oklahoma.

Wood ducks take off for Louisiana and Texas.

With geese, the story is a bit different; most don't travel too far. The exception is the tall prairie grass Canada, found from Kearney on east, which migrates into Oklahoma and the Texas-Gulf Coast.

The western prairie Canadas—a large type Canada—winter in the Fort Randall area in South Dakota and also at Harlan and the South Platte Valley. Most go no farther south than Kansas.

The shortgrass prairie Canadas winter some on the North Platte River in the panhandle and at McConeghy, Others move on into southeastern Colorado, northwestern Texas, and northeastern New Mexico.

Whitefronts, which come down through the eastern half of Nebraska, winter in Texas and Louisiana, as do snow and blue geese.

For some, the winter is short, as both ducks and geese begin heading north into Nebraska as early as mid-February. Whitefronts and pintails usually lead the way.

Doesn't Seem "Crickle!"

Last week this column related that the National Wildlife Federation had described the penalty given to helicopter slayers of a massive number of eagles in Wyoming and Colorado as a "piddling wrist slap."

More recently, the federation reports that the continued use of nearly 35,000 acres of public land for grazing privileges by one of those convicted in the eagle slaying has been recommended for approval.

According to the federation, "The strong recommendation came as no surprise, however, inasmuch as it was made by the same advisory board on which the convicted eagle killer sits."

A massive fish kill due to chemical contaminants involving nearly 150,000 fish was reported on the Big Piney River in Missouri. The alleged chemical spill devastated about 15 miles of the stream. Lee Whitehead of Camperville, Cozad, is urging the construction of an aquarum at Cozad Interchange on I-80 for this state's major Bi-Centennial contribution. The aquarum, originally suggested by Bill Young of Cozad, would tell the complete story of water. The building housing the entire exhibit, including farm, lake, etc., would be, in Whitehead's words, "approximately the size of the Air Force Academy field house."

Stur Museum of the Prairie Pioneer at Grand Island continues its amazing popularity growth, reporting a 47.4 per cent increase in attendance over 1972. Boaters can expect to receive their registration renewals in about 10 days after mailing them to the Game Commission. The whole process can be speeded up to a matter of minutes if you go to the Lincoln office in person. Some 30,000 boats were registered in Nebraska last year.

Pilger To Get $30,900

Pilger will receive a $30,900 federal grant to help develop a regional park, according to Congressman Charles Thorne.

The $61,800 park project will be financed with the federal grant and $15,450 each from the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and the Lower Elk Horn Natural Resource District.

The funds will be used to acquire and develop 98 acres near the Pilger reservoir one-half mile north of Highway 275 and one mile west of Highway 15.

It will include roads, picnic facilities, rest rooms, playground equipment, lighting, landscaping and well.

The park will surround a dam and reservoir built nearly six years ago. It will be designed in a rustic style.

Concord Rites Held Friday for Sadie Kraemer

The Rev. H. K. Niermann officiated at funeral services held Friday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Concord, for Mrs. Sadie Kraemer, 76, of Laurel. She died Tuesday at the Wakefield Hospital.

Daughter of William and Margaret Cisney Goshorn, she was born May 27, 1896 at Shada Valley, Pa. She moved to Iowa with her family in 1910 and graduated from the Shelby, Ia. High School in 1917.

Following graduation she moved to the Concord area with her parents. On Nov. 24, 1920 she was united in marriage to Herman Kraemer at Wayne. The couple lived on a farm near Concord until Mr. Kraemer's retirement in 1958 when they moved to Laurel.

Honorary pallbearers were Jeffrey Carlson and Kevin Kraemer. Pallbearers were Terry Kraemer, Robert Kraemer, David Kraemer, Randall Schwanz, Orville Goshorn and W. W. Henkel. Burial was in the Laurel Cemetery.

Mrs. Wright was preceded in death by one son, Ralph Scott, in 1966. Survivors include two sons, Don Scott of Sheldon, Mo. and Russell Scott of Sioux City, Ia., three daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Kate) Fox of Mission, S. D., Mrs. George (Mary) Fox of Wayne and Mrs. Charlie (Lillie) Teel of Whitten, S. D., many grandchildren, great grandchildren and 12 great great grandchildren.

Cleaner State Subject of Competition

Ten communities will be featured at a coming kick off meeting for this year's environmental action competition in Wayne.

This year's competition is scheduled for April and May. The kick off meeting will be Feb. 6 at the Cornhusker Hotel in Lincoln. The 10 communities will have representatives at the meeting to tell how people were motivated to something to clean up the environment.

The meeting, which begins at 9:30 a.m., is open to any communities which want to participate in this year's competition.

Allen's Deadline For Dog Licenses Is February 15

New dog licenses in the village of Allen are due Feb. 15, said village secretary Pearl Snyder.

The cost of males and spayed females is $2.50 and the price for an unspayed female is $5.

In order for owners to obtain the dog licenses, dogs must have had rabies shots.

Anyone interested in buying the duration of the winter season, has issued a program of energy conservation measures for all state agencies.

County and local government agencies are also asked to adopt the same conservation activities within their jurisdictions, according to Gov. Exon.

"In the hope that wholehearted cooperation will get Nebraska through the winter, the governor has asked that business and industry and individual citizens also adopt those conservation measures which will reduce the possibility that some segments of the state may be without fuel."

Gov. Exon also gave assurance that the fuel oil and electric supplies would be under continued close study to insure maximum efficiency of available supplies.

Governor Seeks Help Of All Nebraskans To Avoid Fuel Crisis

Reduce amount of outside air used in ventilating systems.

Keep fans, pumps, compressors and other rotating equipment in good condition.

Inspect and repair wall and ceiling insulation, caulking and storm windows.

Take little used buildings out of service completely and shut off utilities except those needed for fire protection, security and to prevent freeze-ups.

Reduce temperature of domestic hot water to lowest levels possible; cut off hot water supply to unoccupied or seldom used facilities.

Reduce use of lights in homes, consider turning off selected lights or substituting lamps of a lower wattage.

Wayne Woman Escapes Injury In Accident

A Wayne woman escaped serious injury Thursday when the car she was driving collided with a pickup two miles west and two miles north of Wayne.

Dorothy Grone, Route 2, received a bruised right jaw and a bump on her forehead after her car and a truck collided by Roy Day of 509 E. Sixth collided head on on a county road.

According to the Wayne County sheriff's office, both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Day reportedly was not injured.

New Service Is Offered To Taxpayers

William Peters, state tax commissioner, has announced a new service to taxpayers in the Wayne area.

James Cleveland of Norfolk, field representative for the revenue department for this territory, may be reached at his new business telephone number (402) 371-1620. A telephone recording device has been installed in order for taxpayers to leave messages day or night if Cleveland is away from his office.

Cleveland's area of representation includes the following counties: Antelope, Madison, Pierce, Stanton and Wayne. He may also be reached in the taxpayer service offices in the courthouses of the county seats in his jurisdiction at scheduled times. Scheduled hours are posted in every courthouse.

Peters said he was implementing his new phone service to make it more convenient for taxpayers to obtain tax assistance. He also encourages any one with questions on completing income tax returns to utilize the joint federal state taxpayer assistance offices located in various communities.

Heads of NU To Answer Citizens on TV

For the second time on statewide television, Nebraskans across the state will be able to ask direct questions of the president and three chancellors of the University of Nebraska.

The program, "The University on Call," will be broadcast Wednesday at 9 p.m. on the Nebraska TV Network.

The unique hour long program met with good response when first aired last September. At that time over 55 calls were received from throughout Nebraska and the program was extended one half hour to accommodate direct discussion between citizens and the University of Nebraska officials.

A toll free number for viewers to dial will be shown on the television screen when the program is in progress.

Participating will be chancellors Dr. James H. Zumberge, University of Nebraska-Lincoln; Dr. Ronald Roskens, University of Nebraska Omaha, and Dr. Robert Sparks, University of Nebraska-Kearney.

President Durward Varner is program moderator.
