2 WH Students To Take Part In State Event

Two Wayne High School students will be taking part in the annual Nebraska High School Honor Band and Choir at Hastings College Friday and Saturday.

They are senior Mike Nuss, who will sing bass in the choir, and junior Stephanie Mendyk, who will play oboe in the band.

The two day program will be climaxed with a public concert by the two groups Saturday night.

Guest conductor for the honor band will be Harold Hillier, director of bands at Eastern Illinois University. Dr. Douglas McEwen will be the guest conductor for the 1973 Honor Choir. He is currently director of choirs at Arizona State University.

A total of 88 students from 33 schools have been selected for the 1973 honor band. Participating in the honor choir will be 80 singers from 49 high schools.

The high school students selected for the honor groups were chosen during a series of auditions held throughout the state last fall. In order for the students to qualify for an audition, they must have ranked in the top half of their class academically and have had the recommendation of their high school principal or music director.

The students will spend Friday and Saturday rehearsing under the guest conductors in preparation for the Saturday evening concert. Students and their high school directors will be guests of Hastings College at dinner in Bellevue House and at a special musical program by Hastings College students and faculty in Fuhr Hall.

2 Cars Collide Near 10th, Main

A two-car accident near 10th and Main Sunday resulted in both vehicles receiving considerable damage when one automobile struck the rear end of another.

Breck Giese, Route 2, was headed south on Main when the car he was driving hit a car operated by Debbie Bodenstedt, 917 Logan.

According to the police report, the Bodenstedt vehicle stopped to make a left turn onto E 10th when the accident occurred.

No one was injured.

A car backing out of a parking stall on the 100 block of West Third struck another vehicle heading east about 4:40 p.m. Tuesday.

Eddie E. Dale, 321 E 10, was backing her car when she hit the left front door of a car operated by Cathy M. Winkelmann of 100 S. Maple.

City Purchases Land for 2nd Road Into Proposed New Medical Center

Wayne city councilmen took action Tuesday night to provide a second access road to the site of the proposed new medical center near Wayne State College.

Councilmen agreed to purchase a strip of land from Erwin Longe for $10,380 which would provide access off 10th Street.

The purchase price for a strip of land about 1,353 feet long from 10th north to 10th and eighty feet wide is $1,000 less than Longe had originally asked.

The strip of land is along the east border of the proposed medical center, which will be located just east of Wayne State College.

The city is required to furnish a second access road to the hospital if it wants to use some $384,000 in federal funds to help with construction of the medical center.

Carhart, president of the Wayne Hospital Foundation, said he was happy the council finally took action to provide the second road because it is just one more step toward getting hospital construction actually underway.

Councilmen also approved specifications and plans for providing water and sewer service to the hospital site. Bids for that project, estimated by the city engineering firm to cost $57,000, will be opened at the Feb. 27 council meeting.

Approved by the council was an assessment schedule for storm sewer work on Meadow Lane in northwest Wayne.

The assessment schedule, a thorn in the council's side for some time, provides for the city paying two thirds of the project cost and property owners paying the rest.

The city bill will be $13,033 of the $19,433 project cost under the schedule. Property owners will pay $6,400.

A spokesman for persons living in the area said that a previous council told the property owners that the city would pay that share of the cost and that this council should stand by that decision.

At past meetings a housing developer argued that the developer of the land there should pay all the bill since storm sewer was not installed when housing started going into the area. Developers now have to pay the total cost, he said, and the city is merely subsidizing his competitor by picking up part of that bill for work along Meadow Lane.

The council will meet as a board of adjustment on March 13 to consider individual assessments on property which benefits from the storm sewer.

In other action the council: Sent to committees for study bids on an electric derrick for the street department; trucks for the street and light departments and station wagon for the police department. Committee recommendations will be made at the next council meeting.

Sent to committee for study the lone bid for work on pipes at the city swimming pool. A committee report will probably be ready by the next council meeting.

Approved certifying Ron Fink as a new fireman.

Approved an agreement with the Nebraska Department of Roads whereby the city pays $607 yearly for maintenance of state highways within the city limits.

Approved purchasing the former Department of Roads lot and building on Logan Street for $8,700.

Granted a request for an increase in cable television rates. The increase is from $3 to $3.95 per month for the first outlet in homes or businesses. Also approved were installation charges, something the local cable TV firm has not had since operating under its franchise in Wayne.

The new rate schedule will go into effect on Feb. 1 for all new subscribers, but it will not take effect for current cable TV users until June 1. Postponing the date for present users was done because of the interruptions in service during the firm's recent $50,000 renovation program, a firm spokesman said.

Set a Feb. 13 hearing date for a request for a new liquor license for operators of the Black Knight Lounge.

Tabled action on creating a storm sewer district in the southeast portion of the city. Discussion on the project, which would partially do away with an open ditch in the area, will be taken up again on Feb. 27.

Discussed but took no action on a proposal from a local firm to take care of the city parks during the summer. The firm would do the work for seven months for $9,000.

Agreed to purchase personal liability insurance for city policemen for about $420 a year. State police officers association recently decided not to provide the insurance protection for police officers.

Set a public hearing date for Feb. 13 on the request by Roy Correll for a change in zoning on land he owns on the west edge of the city.

Tabled action on creation of a storm sewer district along Dearborn St. in the east edge of the city.

Next Stop — Fishing Hole

HAROLD INGALLS and his wife, Muriel, were honored Sunday afternoon at an open house at the city auditorium in Wayne. The occasion, the approaching retirement of the Wayne County agricultural agent after some 22 years on the job. Other pictures, story on page four of the second section.

8 Area Students Get Top Grades at WSC

Eight Wayne State College students from the area, five from Wayne and three from surrounding communities, were among 40 students who earned straight A grades at WSC during the first term.

Those 40 students head a Dean's Honor roll which includes 237 full time students, those with at least 12 hours of letter graded courses—who had grade point average of 3.5 or higher on a 4.0 scale.

Earning straight A grades were senior Doris Meyer, juniors Loren Harder and Alan Meyer, sophomore Dan Sulther, and freshman Lou Ann Dunklau, all of Wayne; sophomore Patricia Mason, Laurel; and Bryan Stottenson, Carroll, and freshman Susan Purcell, Laurel.

Other local and area students on the honor roll with grades averaging 3.5 to 3.9: Seniors, Tom Erwin 3.50, Concord, Gary Giese 3.65, Wayne; Nancy Hamley 3.79, Wayne; Janet Hasenbrook 3.57, Wayne; Ronald Juells 3.75, Wayne; Bonnie Linatetter 3.63, Wayne; Cheryl Ungertfelder 3.63, Wayne; Mary Reeling 3.83, Wayne; Leon Trautwein 3.60, Winnsie.

Juniors, Rick Burt 3.65, Winnsie; Doris Dickey 3.54, Laurel; Rodney Haglund 3.75, Wakefield; Susan Hothold 3.75, Wakefield; Laurie Helgren 3.54, Wayne; Ruth Kenny 3.50, Carroll; Ruth Lehman 3.57, Concord; Darlene Miller 3.60, Wayne; Dan Roberts 3.69, Wayne; Janet Roberts 3.75, Wayne. See TOP GRADES, page 6.

Ingalls' Replacement Isn't New to the Job

The man who will take over Harold Ingalls' job as Wayne County agricultural agent in March has about 14 years of experience in extension work.

He is Don Spitze, 45, currently agricultural agent in Thurston County.

The county extension board approved hiring Spitze for the job last week.

Although Spitze, a native of Kansas, will not take over as agent in Wayne County until March, he has already been working with Ingalls to make the transfer a smooth one.

Ingalls will retire at the end of February after serving as county agent 22 years. His last working day will be next week, however, because he plans on taking vacation time he has accumulated on the job.

Spitze, who is single, has been agent at Thurston County since September of 1967. Prior to taking that job he was an appraiser with a nationwide agricultural service firm for about two years.

A native of Kinsley, Kans., in the southwest part of the state, he was a county agent in Kansas for about seven years before he joined the ag services firm.

He received his undergraduate degree in agricultural economics from Kansas State University in Manhattan and his graduate degree in extension education from Colorado State University at Fort Collins.

Kiwanis Club To Observe 50th Birthday

A local service organization, the Kiwanis Club, will observe its 50th year of existence Sunday night at the Student Center at Wayne State College.

Special speaker for the night will be Art Brownlee of Council Bluffs, past governor of the Iowa Nebraska Kiwanis district and presently a district chairman for youth activities. Brownlee also holds an international office.

Special music for the evening will be provided by the Wayne High School chamber choir.

The service club has a membership of about 50 persons.

Well Known Banjo Player At WS Sunday

Banjo picker John Hartford, composer of "Gentle on My Mind," will appear in concert at Wayne State College Sunday at 8 p.m.

His performance at Rice Auditorium is open to the public, with tickets priced at $7 each. Hartford was a frequent performer on television's Glen Campbell show a few years ago. He also wrote songs for the show.

Born in New York and raised in St. Louis, Hartford grew up listening to all types of music and learned to play the banjo, mandolin, fiddle, dobro and guitar.

He became well known after he began writing and performing on television's Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour.

WHS Senior Is Winner of Scholarship

A Wayne High School senior, Dawn Carman, has been awarded a one year University of Nebraska—Lincoln Regents Scholarship.

Miss Carman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carman of Wayne, was one of 250 students across the state to be offered the tuition scholarships on the basis of academic examinations taken last fall.

Among students selected as alternates were Wayne High seniors David Anderson, Joyce Hanc, Ronald Janke, Lisa Lesh, Nancy Stanley and Sherri Tishhammer.

Each year the university awards 100 four year scholarships and 250 one year scholarships.

Hoskins Okays Blacktopping

The village of Hoskins passed its one and a half year road program Monday, calling for blacktopping the town streets during the six year period.

No definite date was set for the start of the project, estimated at $28,000. The cost will be paid by both state and village monies.

Three Winside Boys Hurt in 2-Car Crash

Three Winside youths remain ed in satisfactory condition Wednesday in Norfolk and Wakefield hospitals following a two-car crash Tuesday in the northwest part of Winside.

Dennis Fuoss, 18, driver of one of the vehicles, and Arlen Kittle, 16, a passenger, were taken to Norfolk with minor cuts while another passenger, Ervin Brugger, 13, was taken to Wakefield with two broken ribs and a compound fracture of the right arm.

According to Trooper Bill Watson of Wayne, an automobile driven by Delmar Jensen, 18, also of Winside, and the Fuoss vehicle collided at the intersection of Vroman St. and Dearborn St. See INJURIES, page 6.

Assessing Lagging

Personal property assessing in Wayne County is progressing very slowly, according to Henry Arp, county assessor.

He is urging persons to come to the courthouse as soon as possible to be assessed so a rush of people doesn't occur when the March 1 deadline rolls around.

Assessors will be in Carroll Feb. 1 and 2, in Hoskins Feb. 6 and 7, in Sholes Feb. 8 and 9 and in Winside Feb. 14 and 15 to help those persons who cannot come to Wayne.

Town's Attitude Is Key To Attracting Industry

Attitude That's the most important thing for towns seeking industries, according to a Fairbury businessman who has been a key to helping attract three new industries to Fairbury in the past 18 months.

George Newton, Fairbury car dealer, told some 300 persons at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night that a community which has the right attitude will be much more successful in getting new businesses than one which has a poor attitude.

"Everybody has to get involved," he said, noting that even teenagers and elderly persons can be very helpful in showing industrial prospects that a community really wants them to locate in their town.

If a community isn't totally involved from the high school through the businessmen and private citizens — it isn't going to be very successful in what he calls a highly competitive field.

Newton speaks from experience. He told the group that Fairbury was dying and losing population three years ago, but a concerted effort by a few hard working individuals changed the whole attitude of the town and turned it into a healthy community.

There's no great secret in how that was done in Fairbury, he said.

It was simply a matter of somebody taking command, asking for help from all groups in the community and getting everybody involved in changing the community's attitude into a positive one.

That meant working with the youths, city council, county commissioners, service groups, women's groups and the like.

A community is going to be only as successful in attracting new industry as it deserves to be, he said. Industrial prospects will be able to tell what kind of community attitude is present, he said, and they are going to see ATTITUDE, page 6.

HONORED at the Chamber's annual dinner Monday night was retiring president Robert McLean. Accepting the plaque and a certificate of appreciation was his son, Robert Jr.

'Cough! Cough! I Think It's Time to Cut Out This Infernal Smoking!'

Wisps of smoke will continue to curl up toward the ceiling during Wayne city council meetings — despite of one councilman's efforts to put a ban on smoking during council sessions.

Although smokers are in the minority on the council — three to five — they successfully beat back Keith Mosley's motion to prohibit smoking in the council chambers Tuesday night.

But they had to call on the support of one non-smoking councilman and one smoking mayor to do so.

Ivan Beeks voted with puffers Frank Prather, Vernon Russell and Jim Thomas to continue to allow smoking during council meetings. Supporting Mosley were Darrel Fuelberth, Harvey Brasch and Pat Gross.

Mayor Kent Hall quickly broke the 4-4 tie, permitting smoking at council meetings, at least until a new movement is successful in getting all the non-smokers voting as a bloc.

The smoking councilman, who at first took Mosley's motion as a joke, started fidgeting as soon as the roll call was started. They relaxed when Beeks showed compassion, knowing that Hall would break the tie in their favor.

Mosley made the motion after reading about the Bellevue city council's unanimous decision to prohibit smoking in council chambers.

Although he was subjected to considerable lighthearted criticism, he said he was completely serious in trying to prohibit smoking at the meetings.

WSC Class Pays Visit To Center

The Center was bursting at the seams Tuesday afternoon as over 30 WSC students and that many more senior citizens crowded in for a program planned by members of Dr. Donald Pale's WSC group and recreation leadership class.

The program, arranged by Sharon Watson and Linda Miller included Gladys Peterson showing how to quilt, Emma Soules and Lottie Longenecker, explaining how to tie a quilt, Anton Pederson, bead craft; Bessie Peterman, record craft, and Claudia Bruce, crocheting with plastic bags.

Music Booster Meet Scheduled for Monday

Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters will meet Monday evening at the high school lecture hall. The 8 p.m. meeting will feature a musical program provided by middle school students under the direction of Mrs. Linda Nelson and high school students under the direction of Ron Dalton.

Middle school numbers will include presentations by a horn quartet and the stage band. A preview of numbers from the Feb. 19 concert, which will be open to the public, will be heard. The high school stage band will play the three selections to be entered in the first Tri-State Jazz Festival to be held at Morningside College in Sioux City, Feb. 10. Guest artist at the festival will be Woody Herman with his Thundering New Herd.

The program at the Friday afternoon meeting of the Wayne Federated Women's Club will be "Let There Be Peace," a slide presentation by guests Mrs. Werner Janke and Mrs. Werner Mann on their trip to Spain last year. Thirty-one members turned out for the meeting. Other guests were Mrs. Richard Arett and Mrs. Ed Wolke, who presented special music accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Morris, and Mrs. Marvin Dunklau.

Those assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Jake Vanderheiden, Mrs. Ernie Sanders, Mrs. Robert Potter, Mrs. Albert Miller and Mrs. Wayne Vogel, all of Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickes were married Jan. 27 at Laurel. They spent a short time in South Sioux City and have lived since on a farm near Laurel.

The couple has five children, Mrs. Wragge, Mrs. Kathy Dickes of Pierce and Mike, Tim and Mary Dickes at home.

Deb Kluver Gets Top Price At AHS Sale

A top price of $26, paid by Vern Rix for "slaves" Deb Kluver, helped boost the Altus High School senior class slave auction proceeds to $385.

The group was overwhelmed with the success of the project, according to George Saunders, class sponsor.

The auction, held Tuesday evening at the high school gymnasium following the basketball game with Newcastle, was an innovation for senior class members. Proceeds will help finance their senior sneak trip in the spring.

Twenty-five seniors participated in the sale, with an average of $15 per student being paid for their services.

Reception Held Sunday Afternoon For Barner Wedding Anniversary

About 200 friends and relatives from Virginia, California, Wayne, Winsor, Wakefield, Osmond, Winsor, Laurel, Hartling, and others, attended the open house reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. M.W. Barner of Wayne Sunday afternoon.

The fete, held at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, honored the couple's golden wedding anniversary. Hosts were the children, Mrs. Darrell Troutman of Virginia Beach, Va., Mrs. Wayne Moes of Osmond, Mrs. Clifford Baker and Mrs. Robert Paul of Wakefield and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Barner of Wayne.

Guests at the reception were registered by Alan Paul of Wakefield and gifts were arranged by Kim Baker of Wakefield and Ric Barner of Wayne.

The afternoon program got underway with a welcome by Mrs. Cliff Baker and Trisha Barner. The Rev. S.K. DeFrees offered prayer. Gaylen Moes, Doris Lynn Troutman and Darrell Barner read relations and Peg Barner gave a poem. Musical selections included "Du Liegst Mir in Herzen," sung in German by the children and grandchildren, and other numbers by groups which were composed of Jim and Lisa Paul, Jayne and Bruce Moes, Darrell and Trisha Barner, Gaylen Moes, Shirley Paul, Connie Baker and Mrs. Larry Echtenkamp.

Mrs. Cliff Baker played the harmonica and Mrs. Larry Echtenkamp played the piano.

The anniversary cake, baked by Mrs. Cliff Baker of Wakefield and Mrs. Elmer Echtenkamp of Wayne, was cut and served by Mrs. Larry O. Echtenkamp of Wayne. The cake was of Osmond and Joni Paul of Wakefield. Peg Barner of Wayne and Connie Baker of Neligh poured and Lisa Paul of Wakefield and Jeanne Moes of Osmond served punch.

Waitresses were Karen and Gail Grone of Winsor and Cindy Peterson of Wakefield. Members of the Redeemer Lutheran Ladies Aid worked in the kitchen.

Barners were married Jan. 30 in Wayne and have lived in the Wayne and Winsor area since they moved into town nine

NORTHEAST EXTENSION Notes

by Myrtle Anderson

Always running out of time? If you feel like you never get anything done, now is the time to change things a bit and get organized.

There are only 24 hours in a day. And that's all there is ever going to be, even if it may not be enough for you. Since you can't change the amount of time you have, you're going to have to change the way you use it.

Every homemaker must be a successful time manager. To be one, she must be aware of conscious choices, needed to balance things out in her life. Begin by outlining your time. Group activities into three categories: "must do's," you must prepare meals, "ought to do's," you ought to bake a special dish for your family occasionally, and "like to do's," you would like to make yourself a new dress.

If you really want to find time for yourself and some of those "like to do's" on your list, make a time schedule.

First, list all the jobs to be done, those you like doing and

Allen, Walthill Combine For Fast-Breaking Game; Eagles Come on Top, 83-79

By BOB BARTLETT
One of the referees at the Walthill-Allen game Tuesday night said that if he had known the game was going to be so fast, he would have put on his running shoes.
But it took more than just running to win this game. The home Bluejays can testify to that — they came out on the short-end, 83-79.
Both teams, playing a fast-breaking game, opened up with hot shooting in the first half to set the pace for what looked like a century game.
The Eagles, led by five starters in double figures, poured in 18 points in the first quarter, two short of Walthill.
But the Allen quintet fired in 28 big points before the half to take a 46-43 lead. Senior Stan Perry, ripping the nets both inside and out, totaled 23 points for the night — 13 of them in the rugged second half.
Despite Perry's sharp performance, he still ended up nine points short of Walthill's Jeff Gilpin for the game high.
Gilpin, a 6-3 senior center who dazzled the crowd with 32 points on 13 field goals and six gift shots, and guard Jeff Meyer controlled the first half shooting pass for their club. They accounted for 27 of 43 points.
The Eagles started out with a four-point lead and continued to stay in front until 3:48 left when Meyer scored on a breakaway pass from Gilpin to tie the game, at 10-10.

"We tried to use our press against them," Allen head coach Robert Moore said at the half, "but we found out that their guards — Meyer and John Bellar — were able to break free for the fast break and make the easy layups." The coach called off his full court press in the second half, and the Eagles stopped Walthill's major scoring threat.
The sounds of "Moore Score" from Allen's cheering section didn't seem to help the area club in the third period when the Eagles hit for 14 points, while giving up 20 to the hosts. Walthill led, 63-60, going into the fourth period.
The Eagles, switching from man-to-man to a zone defense, weren't able to cope with Gilpin until midway through the fourth period when they suddenly broke into a one-point lead.
"I think our switching defense proved the difference," Moore explained. "Walthill didn't control anything in the second half, which made it somewhat easier for us to adjust."
In the closing seconds of the game, Allen managed a 78-77 lead before two free throws by Duane Mitchell boosted the score to 80-77 with 28 seconds left.
Two free throws by Gilpin cut the lead to 80-79 before Walthill's Meyer intentionally fouled Tim Hill. The 5'9" junior hit one of two shots. Perry then iced the game with two more free throws when he was stealing a long Walthill pass, giving Allen its ninth win in 13 starts.
Allen's other starters in two figures were Chuck Peters with 17 (he fouled out in the fourth period), Duane Mitchell and Scott Von Minden with 14 each and Neil Blohm with 13.
In B action, Allen gained its eighth win, 43-37.
Roger Anderson had 12 points, followed by Kevin Hirschert's nine and Don Kluever's eight.
Eagles Nip Trojans
After suffering a 73-61 setback to Ponca Friday night, the Eagles came back to skip by Wakefield Saturday, 59-57.
"Unquestionably," said Wakefield head man Joe Coble, "Allen deserved to win. The team won the game because they simply outplayed us."
Allen's Scott Von Minden led his team with 17 points, but it was Perry's 10 in the final quarter that delivered the stunning blow.

"That Perry is something else," Coble pointed out. "We had him stopped through three quarters, then he unleashed for 10 in the final period."
Chuck Peters with 14 points was the only other Eagle to hit in the double figure column.
Wakefield's Dave Scheel won game honors with 31 points. For the second night in a row, the 6-4 senior hit 9.9 at the line.
"Scheel could have done better," Coble said, "but he was in foul trouble and was only able to play two and one-half quarters." During his playing time, Scheel grabbed 16 rebounds.
Wakefield took a 31-30 half-time lead, then watched the Eagles carve out a three-point margin at the end of three quarters, 46-43.
The Wakefield reserves topped Allen, 42-34. Trojan Chuck Lindstrom hit 17 points while Eagle Roger Anderson had 16.

Laurel's Consistency Falls Short, 55-40

If a team is consistent, if it is usually thought of as being a consistent team. Tuesday night Laurel's 10-point consistency throughout four quarters wasn't good enough when the visitors lost to Elkhorn Valley, 55-40.
Coach Joel Parks' club could not break the 10-point barrier, even when the Bears trailed by two, 38-36, in the fourth period. "We had the good shots," Parks pointed out, "but we just could not make them."

Laurel, now 2-12, trailed 19-20 at the half before slowing down the home team for a 34-30 three-quarter deficit. But the fourth period proved fatal for the smaller Bears when Elkhorn riddled in 19 points.
Kevin Gade and Chuck Hirschman, both with 10 points, were the only Bears in two figures. Tim Anderson was next at eight.
In the reserve match, Laurel took its fourth win against seven defeats, 31-20.

WSC Swimmers Breeze to 69-41 Victory

Wayne State swimmers breezed to a 69-41 win in a dual meet with Chadron State Friday at Chadron. The Wildcats won 10 events and entered the other three as exhibition.
Double winners for Wayne were Jim Clark of Fremont, in both one meter and three meter diving; Bob Flogerchinger of Omaha, in the 200 freestyle and 200 butterfly; Mitch Veeder of Boone, Ia., in the 100 and 200 freestyle.

Most of the game, held a 16-4 first period lead. Greg Pippitt had 10 for the night followed by Sterling Stolpe's 8.

Norfolk Jr. Hi Hits Wayne, 31-26

The Wayne seventh and eighth grade team dropped their fourth straight Monday against Norfolk, 31-26.
The junior high team, now 2-4, was led by Jon Ley's 12 points — the second game in a row for the local lad to hit that figure.
Other Wayne personnel scoring were Mark Brandt with seven, Ralph Atkins had three and Mike Wieseler and Marc Lawrence each scored two points.

3 Area Men Double Winners In Trap Shoot

Three area men were double winners Sunday in a registered trapshoot at the Norfolk Gun Club.
Howard Kimball and Randy Ellis, both of Allen, won their Class C events while Wayne's Stacy Swinney took the Class B division.
Another local man, Richard DeNayer, won the Class D title. The results:
Event 1 — 150 yard targets. Class C: Howard Kimball, 44-50; Class B: Richard DeNayer, 41-50; Class T: Stacy Swinney, 41-50.
Event 2 — 150 yard and 50 handi-cup targets. Class C: Randy Ellis, 41-50; Class B: Stacy Swinney, 41-50; Class T: Stacy Swinney, 41-50.
Event 3 — 150 yards, 25 pair. First: Kimball, 31-50; second, tie between Ken Albrecht, Columbus, and Duane Volviter, Stanton, 30-50. Naalestad won shootoff.
Handicap high — tie between Ellis and Jim Nykodym, Tipton, 33-50. Ellis won shootoff, 17-15.

Area Cage Tilts Dwindle As Season Approaches End

By BOB BARTLETT
You can tell it's getting close to the end of the basketball season when area school schedules start to dwindle in the number of games on weekends.
This Friday only three area games are on tap: Wayne at South Sioux, Winside at Homer, Laurel host to Bloomfield.
The Bears and the Bees will tangle in what Laurel head coach Joel Parks hopes will change his team's losing streak.
Right now the Bears hold a 2-12 mark after Tuesday night's makeup bout with Tilden Elkhorn Valley. The game, scheduled for last Saturday night at Elkhorn, was postponed due to the snowy weather.
For the head coach and his team a win now would help lift his sagging Bears out of the hole and possibly fire up some new

Newcastle To Host Invitational

Four members of the Lewis and Clark Conference will be battling again next week — this time for the championship of the Newcastle Invitational.
Tuesday, arch rivals Ponca and Allen will start the meet at 7 p.m., followed by New Castle and Walthill at 8:30. The winner will be determined the following night.

Junior High Squad

WSC Wrestlers Take Third at Illinois

Wayne State wrestlers have another rugged outing Wednesday night — after visiting from Westmar — after returning from a third-place finish in the Western Illinois University Tournament Saturday.
The always spirited Wayne-Westmar rivalry is billed for 7:30 p.m. in Rice Gymnasium. Another dual is on the Wayne chart Friday night when Concordia of Seward invades Rice at 7:30.
The Wildcats still will have to go without seldom-beaten Dennis Reid, 190-pounder who remains crippled by an elbow dislocation. The junior from DeWitt, Ia., hopes to be ready for combat in about two weeks.
It's a pretty good bet that Reid's presence in the Western Illinois meet might have lifted Wayne into second place. As it turned out Western repeated as champion with an 83-point total while Moorhead State of Minnesota scored 59 to edge out Wayne, 53-56. Wisconsin-Parke side came in fourth at 47,

Laurel Inframurals

Laurel girls' intramural basketball play-offs will be held Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. in the high school gym.
Intramural finals will be held Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.
The first hunting license in the U. S. was issued in 1895 by the states of Michigan and North Dakota. By 1910, 33 states were obtaining revenue for game management in this manner.

Area Cage Tilts Dwindle As Season Approaches End

By BOB BARTLETT
You can tell it's getting close to the end of the basketball season when area school schedules start to dwindle in the number of games on weekends.
This Friday only three area games are on tap: Wayne at South Sioux, Winside at Homer, Laurel host to Bloomfield.
The Bears and the Bees will tangle in what Laurel head coach Joel Parks hopes will change his team's losing streak.
Right now the Bears hold a 2-12 mark after Tuesday night's makeup bout with Tilden Elkhorn Valley. The game, scheduled for last Saturday night at Elkhorn, was postponed due to the snowy weather.
For the head coach and his team a win now would help lift his sagging Bears out of the hole and possibly fire up some new

Newcastle To Host Invitational

Four members of the Lewis and Clark Conference will be battling again next week — this time for the championship of the Newcastle Invitational.
Tuesday, arch rivals Ponca and Allen will start the meet at 7 p.m., followed by New Castle and Walthill at 8:30. The winner will be determined the following night.

Sportsbeat by Bob Bartlett

FOR MANY AVID Wayne High basketball fans, the name Roger Denesia rings a loud bell. Now it has done so statewide.

The 5'10" Blue Devil, averaging 30 points a game his senior year (1959-60), amassed 1,569 points in his four-year career to rank 17th out of 25 top scorers in the state.

According to the listing released by the Omaha World-Herald, Denesia is ahead of two other area top shooters — George Schroeder and Steve Erwin, both of La Crosse.

Erwin, who rounds out the 25, accounted for 1,427 points before his campaign ended in 1971. Teammate Schroeder, finishing a year later, netted 1,554 for the 19th spot.

Newspaper clippings during the Denesia reign at Wayne High show that he started out with a 10-point average in his freshman year, scoring 188 points.

But the next year he made the All-State Class B team with an explosive 21.2 point average of 124 points during the year.

In his junior year, Denesia fell to a 19.5 mark while netting 419 points. As a result the Blue Devil did not receive all-state recognition.

But in his last year, all three area newspapers — Wayne, Norfolk and Omaha — focused their sports pages on the No. 1 playmaker in northeast Nebraska.

Denesia had one of his biggest nights against Stanton on Jan. 16, 1959 when he connected on 20 of 33 field goals and for 3 for 3 at the line to rack up 43 points as the Blue Devils walked over the Mustangs, 83-58.

High Scoring Roger Denesia

During that contest, an article pointed out, Denesia scored his points in only 26 minutes of playing time.

Roger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denesia of Wayne, helped lead his team to the Class B state competition in 1960. But the Wayne crew fell short to Syracuse, 47-37—in the first round.

Denesia received a three-year scholarship to the University of Nebraska where he played but did not start.

During his senior year Roger decided to quit the team and pursue a banking career.

Wayne Coasts Past Schuyler, 30-17

The Wayne malmen grabbed their second victory in a row Tuesday night when they coasted past Schuyler, 30-17, at the city auditorium.

Coach Don Koenig's team, who finished with two pins and five decisions, led 19-11 midway after the visitors took a 4-0 lead.

Schuyler's Dan Pfisterer got the four points when he decimated 98-pounder Ken Daniels, 11-0.

Wayne then came back on a decision by Randy Surber (112) to put Wayne in the contest, 4-3.

A decision by David Owens (112) over Keith Cerny put the Blue Devils ahead, 6-4, but Schuyler's Tom Coufal took a decision to forge his team in front, 7-6.

Barry Rubeck, one of two Wayne grapplers to get a win, started Wayne moving again with a pin over Craig Baker in the third period.

From that point on the locals stayed out in front with decisions by Jim Neiman (132), Arnold Stiefken and heavyweight Charles Brockman.

Senior Brad Pflueger was the other Wayne man to net a pin, tagging Mike Devorak (155) during the last 30 seconds of the third period. Pflueger's record stands at 14-5.

Wayne (4-5) will travel to Oakland Saturday for the Husker Conference title.

The reserves lost their match with Schuyler B team, 26-21.

Wayne's Les Thompson (112) and Tom Frahm (155) were the only Blue Devils to get pins.

The results:

98-Dan Pfisterer (S) decision Ken Daniels, 11-0.

109-Randy Surber (W) decisioned Kurt Perrin, 8-0.

112-David Owens (W) decisioned Keith Cerny, 11-4.

119-Tom Coufal (S) decisioned Steve Meyer, 6-5.

126-Barry Rubeck (W) pinned Craig Baker, 5:00.

132-Jim Neiman (W) decisioned Randy Spale, 6-1.

138-John Pfisterer (S) decisioned Charlie Roland, 14-0.

145-Arnold Stiefken (W) decisioned Vaughn Busholter, 12-0.

155-Brad Pflueger (W) pinned Mike Devorak, 5:52.

167-Larry Coufal (S) decisioned Gordon Cook, 13-0.

185-Dan Nelson (W) and Bruce Vavrick drew at 5 apiece.

Hwt. Charles Brockman (W) decisioned Gary Jeinek, 3-1.

Reserves

98-Kevin Slark (S) won by forfeit.

105-Chip Frailey (S) won by forfeit.

112-Les Thompson (W) pinned John Healy, 4-8.

119-Mike Burnett (S) pinned Jon Thavon, 5:53.

126-Roger Meyer (W) decisioned Tom Fichtl, 9-2.

132-Joe Cerny (S) decisioned Doug Heithold, 10-2.

138-Kevin Heithold (W) decisioned Ray Heavison, 7-4.

145-Bob Faltys (S) pinned Roger Tomlin, 12-0.

155-Tom Frahm (W) pinned Niles Ayers, 5-4.

167-Doug Straight (W) decisioned Dave Jeddica, 9-7.

185-Mike Dunklau (W) decisioned Mark Kruger, 7-4.

198-Larry Stark (S) pinned Jeff Lamp, 2:31.

WSC Wrestling Team Ranks Eight, But Rosso Looking at Nationals

Wayne State wrestling coach Gary Rosso doesn't particularly care that his team is ranked eighth in the nation in two wrestling publications.

How his team does at the nationals is what really counts.

The first-year head man at WSC isn't unaware that his team is that high in the standings, however.

"This can be a great help in our recruiting program," Rosso said of Amateur Wrestling News and The Predicament Ratings.

"When area high school wrestlers see that our school is ranked that high, perhaps some will be inclined to leave the school and enroll at Wayne."

Last year, Rosso was tied for seventh place with St. John's of Minnesota in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. Final standings after Wayne's leading grappler, Ken Monroe, Arlington Heights, Ill., captured his second national championship in the 167 pound division.

Five years ago the Wildcats were rated No. 4 in the nation and carried the same ranking the following year. Although the squad slipped to eighth in 1970 and 1971, Rosso feels that 1973 could be a very good year for the team in the NIAA finals at Sioux City in March.

Four other returning lettermen are expected to keep Wayne a contender in a demanding schedule all the way to the nationals. They are Denny Reid, of DeWitt, Ia., who went quite a distance in the 1972 national meet and won his second conference title. Steve Gregory, Council Bluffs, Ia., (158) looking much improved in pre-season drills. "158, Kent Irwin, also full of fire after a fair year and fine sophomore record, and Jim Meyer, Wayne (121), who posted a great freshmen year until a late injury kept him out of national competition.

Reid (190) suffered a dislocated elbow, the coach said, but hopes to be back in shape to go against University of Nebraska at Omaha on Feb. 14.

About Meyer, the coach pointed out that he is "the kind of a kid you wish you had 20 of; he has a great attitude."

Irwin's "super quickness" is his best asset as one of the Wildcats' best when it comes to take downs.

During a recent "Gary Rosso Hour," formerly known as Second Guessers—the head man listed the rest of his crew.

They are Larry of Kerstine (126), senior from Harlan, Ia., heavyweight Ed Travers, 190-pound backup man Fred Spale.

of Schuyler as his top wrestlers in their divisions.

Freshman Tom Cortz of Larnard, Ill., has the potential to be a national champ. Rosso noted.

The 118 pounder is impressive. His credentials from high school show that he has the national freestyle champion in 1972, second in national Greco Roman wrestling and Illinois champion in both.

"The only thing plugging us now," Rosso mentioned, "is injuries."

Besides Reid, Spale has a knee injury, Gregory a sprained thumb, Cortz a twisted ankle and Travers a sore knee.

"As you can see, some of our strong men are out of action, that leaves us short when it comes to winning duals or taking tournaments," he explained.

Rosso, an Omaha native, who never wrestled in college, got his experience while at Omaha Bishop Ryan High School. He wrestled at 145 pounds.

After graduation, Rosso attended UNO before transferring to Peru, where he graduated with a degree in teaching. He taught at Millard High school for two years before coming to WSC to fill the vacant job held last year by Don Paté.

Trojans Top Eikhorn at Stanton Invitational

The Wakefield Trojans survived an upset bid by Eikhorn Valley Monday night to win their first round game in the Stanton invitational, 58-53.

The Trojans took command of the game with a 17-12 first period showing, then held on for a 30-26 halftime lead.

Good defense enabled the area cagers to stay in control of the game. Wakefield had only 10 fouls while the Antlers were charged with 22 personnel. Joe Coble attributed his team's fine defensive showing to a determination to improve Saturday's "rotten" defense against Allen.

For the night, Wakefield hit 40 per cent Dave Scheel, Randy Johnson and Sam Utechl led the team in scoring with 15, 14 and 13 points respectively. Utechl was the rebounding leader with 13, followed by Johnson's 11 and Scheel's nine.

In the other first round game, Battle Creek squeaked past Stanton, 79-76, in overtime.

Wednesday night Wakefield was scheduled to meet Lodge Holy Family in the second round. Also lined up to play Wednesday were Battle Creek and Norfolk Catholic.

Winners advance to the championship rounds Friday night.

Freshmen Fall To Norfolk

The Wayne freshmen live lost a barn burner to Norfolk Monday night, 80-72.

The freshmen, hitting 50 per cent in the last half, could not keep up with the taller visitors and fell short in the last quarter.

After a shaky first quarter — 22-9 in favor of Norfolk — Wayne attempted to stage a comeback. Ritch Workman led his team with 26, followed by Paul Mallette's 24 and Larry Creighton's 10. But the home team could not match Norfolk's Jim Doran's 32 points and Dave Copple's 18.

Wayne will take its 5.5 mark against Wisner Feb. 8 at the city auditorium.

Kearney Cripples Wayne's Chances for NCC Title

Wayne State's hopes for a state college basketball championship took a setback Tuesday when the Wildcats lost, 105-94, to Kearney State and UN-OMaha whipped Peru State, 83-72.

That combination left Wayne and Kearney with 112 conference play and hoisted UNO to 5-1.

Wayne outshot Kearney from the field by 40 goals to 37 and out-rebounded the host Antelope, 58-54. But Kearney had 35 chances at the free throw line and hit 31 while Wayne cashed 14 of 17 shots.

Wildcat hopes soared in early going as they jumped to a quick lead. Denny Stiefkes set the pace with one of the quickest field goals on record. After battling Kearney for a while, Stiefkes had two points in about six seconds.

In a bit over four minutes the Wildcats were up by 12-6 before Kearney rallied to a 17-12 tie. Five minutes later Wayne had a 24-16 lead. Then with 8:05 left Kearney went ahead to stay, 27-26.

Free throws became a key factor at that point as the Antelopes got 11 points by charity shots on the way to a 54-44 final. That score, incidentally, was identical to the Wayne-Kearney final when they played here earlier. But Wayne went on to win, 93-91, in that contest.

Aggressive Wayne play accounted for some of the foul calls through the game, which ended with 26 fouls against Wayne, 18 against Kearney.

Wildcat Ron Jones led the Wayne scoring effort with 27 before he fouled out late. Kearney also lost a high scorer, Mark Christensen, who departed with 21 points. Tom Kropp, shooting from everywhere as usual, topped the Antelope production with 24, including 10 free throws.

Wayne got 18 points from Stiefkes, 16 by Jon Harvey, 12 by Chuck Collins, 10 by Tom Erwin.

A crowd of some 4,000 in Cushing Coliseum reached ecstasy in the late evening especially when it was announced that for the first time in history Kearney had scored 100 points against Wayne. Wayne has accomplished that feat against Kearney several times.

The Wildcats have a busy schedule in the next 10 days. Friday night they will be Briar Cliff's homecoming foe at 7:30 in the Sioux City Auditorium. Saturday night Wayne entertains Southwest Minnesota at 7:30 in Rice Gym. Tuesday they play Westmar at LeMars, Ia. The big game comes Saturday, Feb. 10, Wayne hosts UNO.

Wayne's junior varsity lost to the Kearney JV, 92-85. Tuesday after a late surge narrowed Kearney's 16 point edge to five.

Weekend Pin Action Finds Gal Bowlers Going for City Titles

Women bowlers from around the Wayne area will have a chance this weekend to claim team, doubles and singles crowns during the two-day pin action of the Wayne Women's City Bowling Tournament.

The competition, said Vicki Skokan, secretary of the Women's Bowling Association, should be pretty good this year. Already about 17 to 20 teams have entered, she said.

The El Rancho team, of the Monday night ladies league, will carry the highest team series, 822 scratch, into action at the Melodee Lanes, Marion Evans leads her teammates with a 72.

Although it would seem that the El Rancho members would take the event with ease, Vicki pointed out that the handicap system favors individuals with a lower average. As a result, a team with not so great an average could come out on top.

In the three other women's leagues, Kavanaugh Feeds of Carroll, leads the Wednesday, Nite Hits and Misses with a 786. Carol Laska is the team leader with 167.

Over in the Friday Night League, two teams are tied for first—Woehler's Trailer Court with a 710 average and Lyman's at 689.

Dee-Schultz and Bonnie Mohlfeld are tied for high at 165 for Woehler's while Lyman's Nancy Niemann has a 152 mark.

As yet there isn't a leader in the Monday afternoon league.

Twenty-two girl teams are signed up for the double events, Vicki said, making a total of 40 facing off in the singles.

In the all-events category, the gal bowlers will battle without handicap.

"If all goes well next season," she said, "the association hopes to make some more changes in the city tournament in hopes of more girls entering."

Pin action is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Presently, it looks like the majority of teams will complete this Sunday. "Only four teams are signed up for Saturday afternoon," she said.

Wayne's Jim varsity lost to the Kearney JV, 92-85. Tuesday after a late surge narrowed Kearney's 16 point edge to five.

Five Wayne Grapplers Earn Medals at Albion

Five Wayne High grapplers won medals Saturday during an invitational tournament at Albion.

Barry Rubeck (126) and Jim Neiman (132) each took home second place honors to lead the troops while heavyweight Charles Brockman finished third and Don Nelson (185) and Arnold Stiefken (145) won fourth place.

Wayne finished fifth in the 10-team tourney. The locals scored 42 points, leading off with Plymouth with 29½, Nicholls with 26, Randolph with 23, O'Neill with 10, and Battle Creek with eight.

Albion, the host, claimed second with 95½ points. Lexington took first with 107. Other finishers: Central City third, 56, and Stromberg fourth, 45.

Wayne's Randy Nelson and Stiefken grabbed the fourth place spots when Stiefken lost his match to Albion's Borer, 4-2, and Battle Creek's Schulz decisioned Nelson, 8-0.

Brockman earned third with a 2-0 pin over Albion's Zoucha after pinning Stromberg's Marsden in 26.

Blue Devil leaders Neiman and Rubeck fashioned second place after each man won three matches and vaulted into the championship rounds.

In the finals, Rubeck was pinned by Albion's Fisher in 3:41; Neiman lost a 2-0 decision to Stromberg's Kinney, 4-2.

This Sunday Wayne will travel

A Long Trip

Nebraska's trout that move upriver from McConaughy to spawn travel about 80 or 90 miles each way. According to state fisheries experts, 70 per cent of the spawners are three years old, 15 per cent are four years old, and 15 per cent are two years old.

The trout are used to spawning runs each year, but by different fish. Some trout move out of the reservoir, up the Platte River, and into the feeder streams in the fall. Another group heads upriver in late February and March, and to the same places that the first group spawned.

Fishing is generally best for the spawners when they first move into the spawning streams. After they've been there awhile, they usually wise up and are more difficult to catch.

Based on this, fishermen can probably expect best moved trout in late February and March. Best bet for fall is trout eggs laid in a nylon bag or sack. And the most productive waters are usually Nine Mile and Red Willow.

Tab Springs, though, produced the best ever in Nebraska, a 13 pound, 3 ounce rainbow last March 16 for Kevin Vernon of Gering.

Robins From The North

Recently several robins were spotted at the Valentine fish hatchery, and last week, two robins at Scottsbluff. Probably there are robins in most parts of the state now, although in appreciable numbers. These robins that are wintering here are not the same robins that we have in spring and summer; they migrate a fair distance here from further north and northwest.

The birds that move into the state to spend spring and summer leave in the fall, going south maybe only as far as Kansas, or perhaps even Texas.

The purple martins that vacate Nebraska in August make certain that many miles separate them from the cold. They winter chiefly in the Amazon Valley of Brazil. Bluejays probably persist here all year. Some Harris sparrows also winter here. They are very common in Nebraska in spring and fall, particularly around farms in the eastern third of the state, and spend the summer in the timberland area of the Arctic (Hudson Bay).

Those pesky starlings for the most part go south, as do other blackbirds. Into southern Kansas and into Missouri beyond Squaw Creek.

The ruby-throated hummingbird, which has the broadest range of all hummingbirds departs from Nebraska for points in Mexico, Central America, and the West Indies.

Fishing Guides Are Available

Summaries of Nebraska's 1973 fishing and boating regulations are off the presses and available to Nebraska sportsmen.

The 1973 Fishing Guide is now in the mail to some 1,200 permit vendors across the state, and supplies have been shipped to Game and Parks Commission district offices in Bassett, Norfolk, Alliance, and North Platte.

The new fishing guide was made smaller than previous editions in an effort to reduce postage costs. The guides now contain 16 pages. A section on fish identification was omitted, but the guide is still packed over by a new full color publication, "The Fishes of Nebraska," Master Angler Award application was not included, since these forms are available from permit vendors.

New 1973 Boating Guides are also available, but their distribution will be rather limited until the fishing guides are taken care of. At present, boating guides are available by mail from the Game and Parks Commission. Limited quantities of the boating pamphlet will be sent to permit vendors during January. Of course, boat owner's will automatically receive a copy when they register their craft.

Arrange to see your doctor two weeks before your hunting trip, recommends the Nebraska Hunt Association. Discuss your plans with him and take his advice on safe energy expenditures.

Athlete of the Week

Jim Neiman
Wayne High School

During the basketball season one main sport that seems to be left out of the spotlight is wrestling.

Usually a top wrestler is given some recognition when he is able to pin his man in record time or goes unbeaten. But those statistics usually are uncovered when the season is near an end.

One such Wayne High wrestler deserving recognition before the mats are rolled up for good is senior Jim Neiman.

The 132-pound wrestler, this week's Athlete of the Week, currently is the team leader with a 17-4 record.

Coach Don Keenig labels Neiman as "definitely a team leader. Jim is the first to get to practice and he is the last to leave. He's the hardest working member of our team."

One of Neiman's biggest assets in helping him attain a good season mark is his strength for his body size and his quickness. Neiman is not considered by many to be the type of wrestler to go for a quick pin, but his determination often nets a pin during the six minute match.

During his three years on the team, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neiman has earned himself a 43-15 record. In his sophomore year, Neiman's record as 9-1; as a junior he had a 17-10 mark.

In addition to being a member on the wrestling squad, Neiman also belongs to the Wayne boxing team.

Last year, Jim qualified for the Class B wrestling bout but lost his first contest. This year the top grappler will be trying to make it the second year in a row for the trip to state and a bid for the state 132-pound title.

choose those places which show total involvement.

Stan Matzke, director of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, told the dinner group that the Wayne Chamber should seriously consider going on record as opposing the federal government's cutbacks in agricultural programs.

"Industrial development isn't just up and down main street," he said. "When we're talking about industrial development we're talking about the state's No. 1 industry — agriculture."

Like Newton, he emphasized that total community involvement is necessary before a town will start being successful in attracting new businesses.

He said that 40 per cent of the state's communities have taken part in the statewide community improvement program in the past few years, but that they got 70 per cent of the new industry starts in that period.

"In Missouri the relationship is even greater," he said. "Twenty per cent of the communities have taken part in that state's improvement program, but they got 80 per cent of the new industries."

Honored during the evening was Robert McLean, retiring Chamber president. Since he was unable to attend, his son was given a plaque and a certificate of appreciation.

Also honored were retiring board of director members Phil Griess, Don Mangers and Larry King.

New Chamber head is Dr. J. J. Liska. New on the board are Dick Sorenson, Dale Gushall and Rowan Willits.

Not present to accept an award for his work in bringing new members into the Chamber was Troy Vaught.

Volunteer members of the Laurel fire department and Laurel ambulance crew racked up a total of 2,455 hours during 1972, according to statistics released this week.

Each member of the 11 ambulance crew averaged 36 calls for a total of 63 calls and 395 hours. Five of the calls were rural, four involved highway accidents and six were for heart attack victims.

Ambulance drivers are Dean Bruggeman, L. J. Mallatt, Don Sherry, Harold White, Bob Mason, Rollie Grandquist, John McConkardle, John Kruid, Dick Mann, Kendall Martin and Duane Purcell.

As of Jan. 1, nine additional calls had been recorded.

The fire department, with 2,060 hours to their credit, were called to six grass fires, five major rural fires, three false alarms, one truck fire, one auto mobile fire, one corn dryer fire, and three miscellaneous fires.

The 21 man department conducted two fire drills at the school, providing five firemen for each drill. Twelve monthly meetings and three special practice sessions were held during the year and 13 members of the department completed an eight week training course.

Also during the year, a 2,100 gallon pumper was added to department equipment.

WSC Confab Ends Today

A two-day conference of leaders from community and technical colleges in a four-state area ends today (Thursday) at Wayne State College.

Purpose of the conference is to explain new developments at Wayne State and to share ideas for close coordination between Wayne and the two-year colleges.

Dr. Lyle Seymour, WSC vice-president for academic affairs, said some topics include career education, transfer of two-year associate degrees to the four-year college and the curriculum in industrial management.

College officials are attending from Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Kansas.

Business Sold To Bob Sherry

Bob Sherry, manager of Sherry's Farm Service for about the past year, has purchased the feed, fertilizer, seed and chemical business and will operate under the name Bob's Farm Service.

The business will be located as in the past at the old railroad depot.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sherry will continue operating Sherry's TSC Store.

David Blatchford, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Blatchford of Allen, recently transferred from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., to Fort Meyer, Va. His address is: David Blatchford, Apt. 56, 2374 Edsall Road, Alexandria, Va., 22304.

During his stopover in Washington, Blatchford had the opportunity to pass by the casket of former President Lyndon Johnson at the Rotunda of the Capitol.

The 1972 Wayne State graduate entered the service in August last year.

Cars Damaged in Rear-End Collision

A car operated by Darrell Franzen of rural Winside, received minor damage about 6 p.m. Sunday when it slammed into a stalled car on a county road about three miles east and two miles south of Winside.

Franzen, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's office, was headed south when his car struck the rear end of a vehicle owned by Frank Weible, also of Winside.

Weible's vehicle had lost a front wheel, forcing him to park on the dirt road it was reported. No one was injured.

Golden Eagle, Age Passes Available

The United States Postal Service has announced that all first and second class post offices will make Golden Eagle and Golden Age passports available to the public.

Wayne postmaster Wilbur Giese said the passports are wallet-size, calendar year permits which entitle the bearer and any person accompanying him in a single, private or non-commercial vehicle to general admission to designated units of the national park system and national recreational areas.

Giese said the passports are available in Wayne beginning now.

"The passports differ in that the Golden Eagle will be available to any person upon payment of a $10 fee," he said. The Golden Age passport will be issued without charge to any person 62 years of age or older, who applies for the permit, he added.

"The Golden Age passport also will entitle the bearer to utilize certain recreation facilities within the park and recreation areas at a rate of 50 per cent of the established daily use fee," he said.

1,970 Students Enrolled at Wayne State

Enrollment at Wayne State College stands at 1,970 for the current term, according to a school official.

Although that is down from the first-term enrollment, it is not down as much as in recent years, said Dr. Lyle Seymour, vice-president for academic affairs.

He said this term's enrollment is 90.5 per cent of the first term figure. Second term enrollment at the college has averaged 88 per cent over the past few years, he added.

Enrollment in the first term a year ago was 81 per cent of the same term a year earlier, he said, and current enrollment is 81.8 per cent of the second term 1970 enrollment.

Day, Sorensen to Present Recital On Two Pianos Sunday Afternoon

The music department of Wayne State College will present pianists James Day and Arne Sorensen in a two-piano recital at 3:00 Sunday afternoon in Ramsey Theater.

The pianists have chosen three works for the program: Five Canonic Etudes, Opus 54, by Schumann, arranged for two pianos by Claude Debussy; the Sonata in D Major for two pianos by W.A. Mozart; and the famous "Carnival of the Animals" by the French composer Saint-Saens.

The public is invited to this program featuring music for two-piano performance, a combination which is fairly recent in concert history. In recent times duo-pianism has come into its own, and duopianists are booked into concert series season after season.

Professor Day, who has been on the music faculty of Wayne State for over 10 years, studied with Ann St. John, Jan Chlapusko and famed Madame Rosina Lhevanne Sorensen, who teaches piano at the Christian College in Norfolk, studied piano with the late famous Chicago pianist Rodolph Ganz.

Assisting in the performance of "Carnival of the Animals" will be Dr. Robert G. Johnson, chairman of the communication arts department at Wayne State. He will narrate the work, reading verses written by Ogden Nash.

DUO-PIANISTS Arne Sorensen, left, and James Day will perform Sunday at Wayne State College.

Fewer Taxpayers Have to Fill Out Federal Forms

Fewer Nebraska taxpayers will have to file a tax return this year, says Richard Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska.

Vinal pointed out that recent tax law changes have increased the income levels required for filing a return.

Now, a single person under 65 years of age with a gross income of less than $2,050 for the year, does not have to file a return unless he has minors and students. Vinal noted.

No return is required from anyone 65 or older unless the gross income was $2,800 or more. Married couples living together and filing a joint return do not have to file unless their combined gross income is $2,800 or more, or $3,550 if one is 65 or older, or $4,300 if both are 65 or older.

However, even when the income is under these limits, taxpayers should file a return to get a refund of any income tax withheld from salaries or wages, Vinal said.

Businessmen, farmers and other self-employed persons must file a return if their net earnings from self-employment were $400 or more.

IRS Publication 528, "Information on Filing Your Tax Return," furnishes more detailed information. It's available free at IRS district offices.

It's a long road before an idea becomes law for 1.5 million Nebraskans

Reprinted from the January issue of Nebraska Municipal Review, official publication of the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

Twenty-five is the magic number in the Nebraska Legislature.

There are 49 state senators and 25 is a majority. That's enough to make a law 1.5 million Nebraskans are supposed to obey.

There are situations in which more than 25 votes are needed to get something done, but the general rule is that a coalition of 25 lawmakers can run the show.

Tradition and records show that in the nonpartisan, one-house Nebraska system, there's nothing very permanent about coalitions. Differing combinations often will make up majorities as a variety of legislation moves across the desks.

Before a bill reaches final reading, it is exposed to the public at a hearing, undergoes executive session and is considered by a standing committee and is considered at two preliminary levels on the floor.

Senators with ideas they want translated into law must take their proposals to the bill drafter, whose job it is to write the measure.

The next step is introduction. Bills are numbered as they are received and thereafter are known as LB (for legislative bill) such and such.

After introduction, a bill goes to the Reference Committee for assignment to a standing committee. The Reference Committee is made up of the nine members of the Executive Board of the Legislative Council. The standing committee chairman, usually working with the sponsor, schedules a public hearing.

The sponsor opens the hearing with an explanation of the bill and his reasons for supporting it. Testimony backing the measure then is taken, followed by opposing comments. The introducer has a chance to make closing arguments.

After listening to the testimony, the committee convenes in executive session to discuss the measure and amendments. These meetings have been open to newsmen for background purposes—but not reporting—in the past, but rules adopted for the 1973 session will allow full reporting of committee discussions and voting.

If the committee advances a measure to the floor, it is scheduled for general file—or first reading. It is at this stage that the most debate and most amendments are considered.

Bills surviving first reading are moved to select file—or second reading—after a brief detour to the Legislature legal staff to edit amendments or make any technical changes.

Select file usually is disposed of quickly, with voice voting on motions to advance measures to final reading—the last step on the floor.

The legal staff steps in again and amends the bill. That means all amendments are interwoven and the measure is ready to go into the lawbooks if it passes.

At the final reading stage, the proposal is read aloud to the senators word for word, as the Constitution requires. Amendments to eliminate the oral reading of each bill before the final vote have been turned down in each of the last two general elections.

The lawmakers listen to the final version and then vote to adopt or kill the proposal.

Twenty-five votes are needed for passage—unless the bill has what is called the emergency clause. This provision, which makes the bill into law immediately upon the governor's signature, requires 33 votes (two-thirds). Without the emergency clause, bills adopted by the senators don't become laws until three months after the final adjournment of a session.

Bills which clear final reading are signed by the Legislature presiding officer and sent to the governor. He may sign them or veto them. If the Legislature wants to try to pass a bill over a governor's veto, it takes 30 votes (three-fifths).

Legislators face some touchy issues

LINCOLN—Abortion, the death penalty, repeal of or restore it, lottery, partisan Legislature, Omaha's city council and school board. Equal Rights Amendment.

These are some of the issues which have emerged during the early days of the 1973 Legislature to go along with subjects such as school aid and the budget.

The abortion and death penalty issues are tied to recent decisions by the U. S. Supreme Court—which authorized abortion and said the death penalty could be imposed only under special circumstances.

Neigh Sen. John DeCamp is seeking to rewrite Nebraska's abortion law so it coincides, as he sees it, with the instructions handed down by the court. There are several views of the death penalty. Omaha Sen. Ernest Chambers wants it abolished, while Sen. Dennis Rasmussen of Scotts is sponsoring legislation to make kidnapping, hijacking and specific kinds of murder subject to capital punishment.

A proposed revision of the state's criminal code also names certain crimes—kidnaping and murder—which would carry execution as a possible penalty.

DeCamp says his state lottery bill would generate about $15 million in revenue. The money, he says, could be used to finance prison and rehabilitation programs.

The partisan Legislature issue—a traditional question—was sent to the floor for debate by the Constitutional Revision Committee. If it clears the Legislature, which it never has before, the matter would be put before the voters in 1974.

Omaha's city council and school board have been monopolizing a lot of legislative time this year. There are bills to have members of the two governmental units elected by districts instead of at-large. The proposals aren't popular with the current councilmen and school board members.

Fireworks seem assured when the Legislature's government Committee here a resolution to withdraw Nebraska's 1972 ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Women, especially, have been outspoken on both sides of the issue. Flooding the sponsors' Speaker Richard Proud of Omaha, Sen. W. H. Hasebroek of West Point and Sen. Irving Wittke of Falls City—with mail.

Some say the amendment only seeks to assure women of equal treatment under the law, while others claim it would require that women be drafted and even that public bathroom facilities be used in common.

A full house is expected for the hearing. Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff even predicted the crowd would be so large that loud speakers may be needed on the Capitol lawn.

Gov. J. James Exon unveiled his budget recommendations and delivered his state of the state address recently, contending state government can be financed without increasing tax rates (although school aid increases would force a rate boost) and that the state of the state is excellent.

"Nebraskans have a right to be proud as never before of their accomplishments," the governor said. "Anyone not 'bullish' on Nebraska is uninformed."

He went on to say: "We are showing a steady growth rate in population, economy, jobs, tourism and last year set a new record in the establishment of new industries."

"We have reversed the previous outmigration trend. Our No. 1 industry, agriculture, is currently receiving relatively good prices for its products. With all this good news, we are assured future progress and further expansion of 'Nebraska and the Good Life.'"

In addition to detailing his budget recommendations, Exon outlined a series of legislative stands. Among them:

—Opposition to school aid which would push the sales tax up more than one percentage point (to 7 1/2 percent) and five per cent for the income tax (to 20 per cent of federal liability).

—A balanced mental retardation program which includes more funds for community programs and upgrading of the Beatrice State hospital.

—A crackdown on drug pushers.

—Adoption of a "workable" no-fault insurance measure.

—Election financing reforms limiting campaign expenditures.

—Expanded programs for the elderly.

—A series of traffic safety proposals.

streaky blades? CHANGE THEM

An error every 1,000 chances isn't bad

We're not sure how Nebraska Public Power's proposed transmission line in this part of the state would have any effect on our language, but a story in Monday's Herald said it would.

According to the story, farmers in the area have objected to the line because it "will destroy the beauty of the landscape."

Of course, the sentence should have read "landscape" and not "language."

And then there was the picture of the lady who is known by her friends as Mrs. Orville Blomkamp. According to the information under the picture, however, her last name is "Blomkamp."

Those two errors stick out like a dandelion in a rose patch. There's probably a couple more on the same page. Each one of them are unintentional, and nobody is more aware of them than the people who work at the newspaper.

However, when you think about it, it's almost amazing that the typographical errors in this or any other newspaper aren't much more numerous.

A rough calculation of Monday's paper reveals that it took approximately 139,000 characters—letters of the alphabet and punctuation marks—to put the news stories in print.

We're not sure how many typographical errors occurred, but saying there were 100 of them (and we doubt if there were that many), we would have had less than one error every 1,000 characters.

And considering most news stories are typed twice—first by the reporter, next by the typewriter—the ratio drops to something like less than one error in every 2,000 characters.

And so far we have just been talking about the number of chances for making an error in the news stories carried in Monday's paper. We didn't figure the characters in all the headlines, legal notices and advertisements.

If those were added up, last Monday's issue probably had around 200,000 characters of type. And it was not one of the paper's biggest issues. We would hate even to try to add up the number of characters in an 18-page or 22-page issue of the newspaper.

All this isn't meant as an excuse for our mistakes. We made them in the last issue. We made some in this issue. We'll darn sure make some more in the next issue.

What we are trying to say is that when you start talking about typing 379,000 characters, there's nobody around who won't make a mistake now and then. The bad thing about newspapers—as the advertisement elsewhere in this issue says—is that their errors are put on public display issue after issue.

That's quite a turnout, considering there were several other events going on during the afternoon. Somebody in a county agent's position runs into a lot of people during the year. It's saying something for the man when that many of them turn out to honor him on his retirement.

WAY BACK WHEN

30 Years Ago

February 11, 1943: Aviation cadets will train at WSTC for special army training.

An advanced Red Cross course in first aid will be offered in the Red Cross room in the city hall. Oscar Peterson suffered minor burns on the hand Tuesday evening at his home near Altona when he carried a can of gasoline outdoors after it exploded.

Carl Biermann is the Wayne County youth agent receiving by AS-Sar Ban for outstanding 4-H service. Walter Lerner injured the large toe on his right foot the first of the week when some harness he was lifting pulled an avnil off a bench and the avnil struck him.

25 Years Ago

February 5, 1948: WSTC enrollment now exceeds the 500 mark for the second semester. Don Warren was named Wayne County agent by the county extension board Monday. He was assistant to Cuming County Agent Joe Watson for the past year. Ronald Day, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Day, fell on a piece of iron while playing at his home Sunday, nearly puncturing a lung.

Wayne worry. I guess I am tired of being one of the silent majority and feel it is time to stand up and say something.

Name Withheld Upon Request (Editor's Note: The letter writer is referring to the school bus truck accident which occurred three and a half miles west of Wayne on Monday of last week. Three persons were injured in the accident, which happened during strong winds and when the highway was icy and snow-packed. Injured were Perry Johnson, driver of the Wayne Carroll school bus, and the driver and passenger in the truck. Perry suffered two broken legs. The passenger in the truck suffered a compound leg fracture. Both vehicles were extensively damaged.)

Dear Editor: When will we ever learn? As I look at the picture of the school bus wreck and when I went to see the bus, I thought as many parents have, what if my children had been on that bus? How badly would they have been hurt?

Then a bigger question comes up. Since all the other schools for 25 to 40 miles from Wayne were closed, why didn't Wayne schools close that Monday? I realize that we can't close every time there is a snowflake, but since my children have to ride a little over 25 miles, I don't think I want them on a bus in a bad storm. When the weather bureau says the wind will blow 25 to 30 miles per hour after we have had a snow storm we might know that we will have a blizzard.

Now, whose responsibility is it to close the school? The only way the Wayne schools will close is if enough parents call the school. I don't think this makes good sense. When one is sitting in a cozy home or a building you cannot tell what the weather is doing until you drive out or to town.

It seems that we must keep the school open at all cost, even the suffering that three people will have to endure, perhaps for months or years. Possibly the next time we will have children out there 15 miles from town and since we don't have radios in the buses, we parents can just

Dear Editor: One of the more important issues, and certainly one of the most controversial issues, facing the Nebraska legislature in 1973 concerns the Equal Rights Amendment (so-called Women's Rights Amendment) — a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The issue at hand is whether or not Nebraska should revoke its ratification of this amendment. We, the members of the Norfolk Area League of Women Voters, wish to declare our support of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

The intent and purpose of the Equal Rights Amendment stand clear: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex."

What does that mean? It means that sex shall not be a factor in determining the legal rights of men and women. It means that all people shall be recognized as individuals, having equal rights and responsibilities under federal, state and local laws.

What are some of the effects the ERA will have? According to the Senate Committee Reports, we may expect that:

1. The ERA will affect only governmental action. Private, personal relationships between individuals will not be affected.

2. Laws which discriminate between men and women for property ownership, inheritance rights or working restrictions would be unconstitutional.

3. Maternity benefits to mothers would not be affected since such benefits are based on a function unique to one sex. (In most business, maternity benefits are already included under "sick leave" programs.) "Equally" does not mean that male and female are exactly the same.

4. Criminal laws governing sexual offenses (rape) would not be affected. Assault is still assault, be it man or woman.

5. In the case of a divorce, custody and support of the children would be determined according to what is best for the children. The Citizen's Advisory Council on the Status of Women says: "... the Equal Rights Amendment would not deprive either of any enforceable rights of support and it would not weaken the father's obligation to support the family."

Out of Old Nebraska

Quiz — Historical Nebraska (Compiled from sources of the Nebraska State Historical Society Archives and Library in Lincoln)

1. The first Capitol building for territorial Nebraska was established in which of the following towns: Bellevue, Brownville, Omaha, Blair?

2. The Nebraskan who was Secretary of State in President Woodrow Wilson's Cabinet was: William Jennings Bryan, Gilbert Howard?

3. The site of which of the following frontier forts is not now located within the boundaries of Nebraska: Fort Robinson, Fort Laramie, Fort Kearny, Fort Atkinson?

4. A Nebraska radio man, whose voice had become widely known in the Midwest, was elected to Congress in 1934 and served until 1951. Who was he? John C. More, Karl Stefan, J. Hyde Sweet, A. C. Shallenberger?

5. The Nebraska newspaper with the longest publication history is the Nebraska City News-Press. Falls City Journal, Plattsmouth Evening Journal, Auburn Press Journal.

6. All but one of these Nebraska rivers flow into the Missouri River in Nebraska: Platte, Republican, Nemaha, Niobrara?

7. The first territorial governor of Nebraska was: Francis Burt, William A. Richardson, Thomas B. Cuming, Mark W. Izard.

ANSWERS: 1. Acting Governor Thomas B. Cuming convened the First Territorial Legislature in Omaha on January 1, 1855. Sessions were held in the only brick building in town, on Ninth Street between Douglas and Farnam. It is known as the "first territorial capitol." In 1858 the second capitol building was completed in Omaha. It was used until state government functions were moved to a building constructed in Lincoln (the new capitol) in 1868. Nebraska had become a state in 1867.

2. William Jennings Bryan, first of three secretaries of state under President Wilson, served between 1913 and 1915. He resigned because he opposed the President's conduct of negotiations with belligerents in World War I prior to U.S. entry into the war on the side of the Allies.

3. Fort Laramie, once in Nebraska Territory, became a part of Wyoming when Nebraska was admitted with its present boundaries to the Union in 1867. Fort Laramie (a National Historic Site since 1938) is about 50 miles west of Scottsbluff.

4. Karl Stefan, though never owning stock in WJAG-Norfolk, exerted a profound influence on its programming during that station's formative years in the 1920's and 1930's. A Republican, he decisively stepped in 1934 the equally colorful congressman, Edgar Howard, veteran Democrat of Columbus, who surprisingly was unable to benefit at the polls from the New Deal Depression program. Stefan died in office in 1951.

5. The Nebraska City News is now in its 119th year and traces its origins through papers like Norton to the Bellevue Palladium, which began publication July 15, 1854. Among early News editors was J. Sterling Morlon-no relation to Thomas, but his close friend for years. Following merger with several other papers, the name became News-Press in 1925. The Sweet family has owned and edited the paper from 1925 to the present.

6. The Republican River, the source of which is on the high plains of eastern Colorado, flows through SW Nebraska until it leaves the state in Nuckolls County and enters Kansas. There it merges with the Smoky Hill River to become the Kansas (Kaw) River and finally empties into the Missouri River at Kansas City.

7. Francis Burt of South Carolina was appointed territorial governor by President Franklin Pierce in 1854. He arrived in Omaha, Burt died on October 10, 1854, after two days in office. He was succeeded by acting Governor Thomas B. Cuming. Burt County north of Omaha is named for the first governor.

Boy Scout Troops Turn Sunday into Fun Day

Last Sunday meant one thing to seven area Boy Scout troops — FUN!

And fun was the name of the game at Wayne State College as 120 Scouts and friends gathered at the Boy Scout fun day for an afternoon of basketball and water basketball tournaments.

Whether a troop won or not wasn't the most important aspect of the annual affair — enjoying the spirit of competition was the primary aim of the Scouts.

Dennis Boehme, Lewis and Clark district scout executive, said that Scouts from Beemer, Belden, West Point, Pender, Laurel and Wayne jammed the college auditorium for the basketball tournaments.

The winner — West Point, both times.

The Scouts not only captured first in basketball, but they also finished first in water basketball competition.

Coming in second in the basketball tourney was Troop 238 of Beemer, followed by Troop 175 of Wayne.

During the water event, Wayne Troop 175 forged into second place while Laurel Troop 176 finished third.

"The whole day went off very smoothly," Boehme pointed out. He also noted that the WSC Circle "K" (Kiwanis) group helped to make the day a success.

But for Suki Gabelhaus and Rita Meyer, the day might have been a little unusual. The WSC coeds were the only girls at the all-boy jamboree.

Your local newspaper's prime function is to present the news . . . honestly and fully. That's all. However, sometimes the reporting goes astray, when the news is printed. Some of our friends think this is amusing. Some don't. We at your local newspaper don't laugh easily when a mistake is made in your local paper.

But in spite of our best efforts, it does happen occasionally. Even the editor had to smile when this caption appeared in his newspaper under the picture of a fallen tree:

The tree downed at this home damaged spouting and shingles . . . it was snapped by a violent gust.

In another newspaper, the coronation of a high school beauty queen took an unusual turn when the proofreaders overlooked this one:

Queen Margie White was escorted to her throne by co-captains Jim Black and Frank Gruff. There she was presented with roses and drowned.

Sometimes the classified ads are full of surprises, too. The young lady who ran this advertisement is still wishing that her friends would let her forget it:

Wanted: Large well-furnished room by young woman about fifteen feet square.

Then there was the time one of our nice Nebraska ladies, trying to do her part to add to the Christmas spirit of her home city, found her efforts recorded thus:

Mrs. X set up a still life composition of angel figurines and greenery entitled, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."

So, when you see one like this:

The Rotary male quartet will sing "I need three every hour . . ."

Or this:

I am now in position to hatch your eggs at five cents per egg . . .

please remember that local newspapers are regarded by readers as a friend they can't do without, and even a good friend is bound to make a mistake once in a while.

When you stop to consider over a million inches of news are reported each week in 232 weekly and daily newspapers throughout Nebraska, a mistake here and there doesn't sound too bad to some people. But, a misspelled name of a local citizen in a news story is no laughing matter . . . if it's about you.

More Area Women Entering Labor Force

The likelihood of finding a married woman at home during the daytime in Wayne County is greater than ever.

The chances are that she is busily occupied somewhere else, minding down a job in an office, store or factory, or engaged in some professional activity.

In growing number, local women are finding it possible to fill those household responsibilities, and still have enough free time to permit them to take outside jobs. And that they have been doing in droves.

According to the latest statistics, 34.2 per cent of the married women in Wayne County are in the labor force. This compares with 28.1 per cent in 1960.

Throughout the United States of a whole, in more than one out of every three husband-wife families, the wife is employed, either part time or full time. Twenty years ago, by way of contrast, only one out of five had outside jobs.

Details on this female surge into the labor market, as it affects the local area and other parts of the country, come from the Department of Commerce, the Labor Department and others.

Not too many years ago, the question debated was whether it was proper for a married woman to take a job.

Nowadays the topic among liberation-minded women is whether the wages they are getting are fair.

During the past decade, married women and single women poured out of their homes and into the world of business to such an extent that they accounted for about three fourths of the 10.8 million increase in the labor force.

What led them to do so? The impetus, in most instances, was the desire to spruce up the family bankroll so that they might live on a better scale than they could otherwise, experts say.

In Wayne County, back in 1960, the census listed a total of 1,117 females—married and single—in the labor force. This was equal to 30.7 per cent of the working age population.

It has now reached 33.5 per cent, with 1,316 of them in the labor force.

The Agent's Angle

by Harold Ingalls

most important criteria for selecting the best market animals are growth rate and carcass merit. These traits can be reliably measured.

In view of the analysis showing so little correlation between live carcass values, it becomes almost ridiculous to pick champions on judgments from visual appraisal and handling alone.

We should also recognize the negative roll of fitting and weighing in a livestock improvement program. The judges don't need additional handicaps. A news release following our most popular major show in a jubilant air said in effect "Champion yields respectable carcass. Really now! His chances for missing were only 50-50."

The newsworthy headline which was sadly missing was "Judge Goals."

A red ribbon steer shown by Neva Freburg of Loomis in Phelps County produced the champion carcass. A white ribbon heifer shown by Lynn Schlake of Cortland in Gage County had the second best carcass. A story giving credit where credit is due was the least compensation that should have been given those young exhibitors whose animals, rejected in the show ring, were found to be superior in the most important way.

The story might further have given credit to some 42 other exhibitors, 24 placing red or white, whose animals outscored the live champion in carcass merit.

The Model Cities Program is a broad-scale attack upon the problems of a poverty neighborhood, designed to improve the working and living conditions of its residents. Job placement is a main ingredient of all such programs.

Ingalls Not Lacking Friends as Retirement Nears

Harold Ingalls has apparently made a lot of friends during his 27 years as Wayne County agricultural agent.

And some 400 of them turned out to honor him on the eve of his retirement during an open house at the city auditorium in Wayne Sunday.

Ingalls will retire officially at the end of February, ending 30 years in extension work in Nebraska.

His retirement, which he says he is looking forward to very much, is something of a belated birthday present—he turned 62 years old in January.

And like most other birthday presents, it is pleasing him no end.

Although he says he has enjoyed his work as a county agent, he is quick to add that he is counting the days and hours until he is finally finished with his job.

Ingalls will actually end his career next week because he is taking the vacation time he has accumulated. Replacing him will be Don Spitzer, agricultural agent at Thurston County for the past five and a half years.

What do he and his wife plan on doing when he retires? Traveling, fishing and playing golf for starters.

The couple is already making plans for a trip to Texas where some of their friends spend the winter.

Then there will be other trips. Other fishing jaunts and other rounds of golf.

Ingalls has actually been involved in 4-H and extension work longer than his record as a county agent indicates. He was a 4-H member while growing up near Shelby in Polk County.

He farmed in Polk County from 1931 to 1940 before attending the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. After graduating from college in 1942, he spent two years as agricultural agent in Greeley County before serving in the Navy for two years.

He was agent in Sioux County for five years after getting out of the service, and he began working in Wayne.

But during all those years of extension work, he has enjoyed working with young people the most, he says. He's proud of the way 4-H clubs have helped young people in the Wayne area develop and grow into productive adults.

He received numerous compliments during Sunday's open house from such people as Cal Ward of Wayne, superintendent of the Northeast Station near Concord; Jack Stevers of Wakefield, man who worked in 4-H under Ingalls the past several years, and Mrs. Val Damm of Wayne, who represented the county home extension clubs.

Also speaking during the program were Marilyn Koch of the county agricultural society, Harold Wittler of the 4-H council and 4-H leader Mrs. Harold Olson.

The Busy Bees 4-H Club sang several songs and presented a skit during the program, and Herb Niemann served as master of ceremonies.

Addenda

The intent of the lengthy article in this column last week was to point out, some inconsistencies in the placings at our conventional livestock shows. The analysis from matching live with carcass placings of more than 1,300 cattle clearly indicates that we cannot do by visual appraisal alone what we purpose to do.

I would not in any way downgrade the important contribution that our fairs and shows have made in the social development of young people.

However, getting back to livestock improvement, by far the

Hog Contest Set Feb. 20

Date for the ninth annual Norfolk Swine Show is Feb. 20, with the carcass show scheduled two days later.

The live show is scheduled for the Norfolk Livestock Market, while the carcass show will be held at the Roman Packing Co.

The show, which is sponsored each year by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, will again include an FFA judging contest. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded to winners in both the live show and the carcass show, and a trophy will be given to the winning school in both the junior and senior division of the FFA judging contest.

Insecticides Helpful In Rootworm Fight

There has been no significant growth in corn rootworm resistance to phosphate insecticides (Diazinon and Thimet) since widespread use of these chemicals began in Nebraska in 1963, a University of Nebraska entomologist said this week.

Dr. Harold J. Ball spoke recently before the 27th Annual Wisconsin Pest Control Conference With Industry at Madison, Wis.

However, Ball noted that NU's monitoring system indicates that Bux and Furadum (chief soil insecticides used in controlling corn rootworm in Nebraska) need close observation for the next few years.

But didn't perform well against the rootworm in many areas this past summer, he said, so it won't be recommended for use at planting time this spring.

It will be recommended for cultivation and post emergence treatments, he added. Furadum will still be recommended for planting and cultivation treatments.

Growers turned to phosphate insecticides after 1961 when it was discovered that the rootworm had developed resistance to chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides, used for 11 years to control the insect. This wasn't discovered, however, until after a season of very poor corn yields, Ball said.

To prevent it from happening again, the NU entomology department began a monitoring system, collecting insects from specific sites and testing to determine if they were developing resistance.

When insects develop resistance, they can tolerate doses of insecticides that at one time were lethal. This resistance is passed to the rest of the insect population through breeding, Ball said.

CPH insecticides had been used consistently in small enough doses that resistance could develop, he explained. The rootworm carrying this resistant ability rapidly became the dominant species in Nebraska and spread across the 701's on a river as far east as Indiana and Ohio, he added.

Lab tests on the rootworm are supplemented by observations of insecticide performance in the fields. "The idea was that we might be able to detect a trend of increasing resistance in the lab before serious field problems occurred," he said.

Once a trend is observed, scientists can change insecticide recommendations in time to prevent crop losses, he said.

Muddy Lots, Cold Affect Calf Growth

Muddy Lots Alternated with extremely cold weather hurt calf performance at Northeast Station near Concord this fall and winter, Wall Tolman, beef researcher, reports.

Gains with growing calves on corn silage were about 10 per cent to 15 per cent less and the feed required per pound gain was 20 per cent more due to muddy lots and extreme cold, he said. Larger cattle getting more grain would not be hurt as much, he added.

A new manufactured protein replacement using ammonia was cheaper when used in experiments than natural protein, but did not produce equal gains and feed on the soybean meal ground limestone was added to the ration, according to Tolman.

With one pound of limestone added daily to each five cattle, the ammonia and mineral treated silage performed almost exactly like the soybean meal supplemented silage. For two or three weeks the calves did not take to the limestone treated silage, later they ate more of it, Tolman said.

Dehydrated alfalfa mixed with urea in the supplement of corn silage seemed to be better than urea and fine ground corn supplement tried in earlier experiments. Gains with urea and either one or two pounds of dehydrated alfalfa in the supplement daily were slower than with the soybean meal supplement, but the urea containing supplement was cheaper, he said.

These calves are now being used in a finishing experiment to evaluate high moisture corn stored in several different ways.

4-H Club News

Helping Hands
The Helping Hands 4-H Club held their first meeting Saturday afternoon at the firehall to introduce 4-H material to the beginner group.

Mrs. William Holtgrew is the leader, assisted by Mrs. Warren Holtgrew and Mrs. Dean Janke. The meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge. A demonstration on measuring flour was given by Lori Meyer. Patricia Holtgrew demonstrated judging. The girls later judged after school snacks.

Project and record books were discussed. Those present for the meet were Lisa Jensen, Diane Sueht, Connie and Jani Jaeger, Darci, Dawn and Darla Janke, June Meyer, mothers of the beginners and leaders.

Lunch was served by Mrs. William Holtgrew and Mrs. Warren Holtgrew.

Next meeting will be in February.

Deer Creek Valley
The Deer Creek Valley 4-H Club met Jan. 17 in the Marvin Nelson home. Fifteen members answered a roll call by naming their favorite car.

Manual assignments were discussed and a new project, "Mulligans Stew," was introduced to members. This project pertains to food nutrition. A discussion was held on the open house for Harold Ingalls.

The Feb. 18 meeting will be a potluck supper in the Wallace Anderson home.

Dave Anderson, news reporter.

Some Wayne area family is being offered a 10-month experience in international relations without leaving town. That's what the local chapter of AFS International promises the family which hosts another overseas student during the 1973-74 school year at Wayne High School.

AFS students live in the host home while attending high school during the year. Several families in Wayne have hosted students in the past. Families interested in having a foreign student as their guest next school year should contact either Mrs. O. K. Brandstetter of Wayne, local AFS chapter president, or the Herb Niemann family of rural Carroll, who hosted a student last year. AFS students come to the United States from 60 countries, with 2,422 currently living and studying in American communities. Aside from food costs and possibly some small incidental expenses, the host family incurs no debt in hosting a student. The local Chapter raises an annual fee which — when supplemented by whatever contributions the student can afford — covers AFS program expenses. AFS also extends a monthly allowance directly to the student to cover incidental personal expenses and medical bills. Host families may take a monthly tax deduction in accordance with provisions made by the Internal Revenue Service. While many families participating in the AFS program include children who are high school students, any family is eligible to serve as a host. The first United States gold coins were struck in 1795. The last appeared in 1933.

Seed Catalogs Sure To Prompt Dreams

The arrival of seed catalogs brightens the barren winter and serves as reminder of the miracles of new life that occur each spring and summer.

The convenience of supermarkets has turned successful gardening into a hobby rather than a necessity, but while thumbing through the pages of the seed catalog you become anxious to work the soil again.

Come spring, you plan to rejuvenate the entire garden into something that will put grandma's acres of weed-free, abundant vegetables and fruits to shame.

As soon as the ground thaws you'll have the "boss" move the garden fence back, making more room for all of these mouth-watering, delicious-looking vegetables.

For once you're going to have some of those new, bug-resistant radishes, early, green onions and tender, crisp lettuce planted as soon as the snow melts.

Right now you have thoughts of getting the garden plowed BEFORE he starts on the fields.

Then you'll be able to get some peas planted early, because the early ones seem to produce the most and always taste the best. The seed catalog has many "best kinds," so you order several. You plan on freezing several pints this summer.

The cucumbers can't be planted until later, so you'll want to plant some of those early, double-yield hybrids. And some of those little picklers for canning. And that reminds you of the dill you'll need to plant.

Sweet corn and potatoes will be planted in the field so you won't need to worry about garden room for them, but you'll need to order the seeds. You choose three or four different kinds, hoping it won't all be ready to freeze on the same day.

The seed catalog also tempts you with its pictures of long, narrow, tender looking beans. Some are on bushes and some are for poles. You can't help but recall the tall, criss-crossed bean poles grandma used to have in her garden. They always reminded you of vine covered treepoles.

Tomato, cabbage and pepper plants are usually purchased each spring in town. But next time you're in town, maybe you'd better tell Addie to save you some of the early, sturdy plants.

By the time you've ordered carrots, beets, turnips, muskmelons and other garden seeds your order blank is almost full. Then comes page after page of colorful, abundant fruit trees, vines and bushes. You are tempted to start a small orchard.

The catalog makes it look so easy and cheap, and the price of fruit keeps going up every year. Then you remember how many years it takes before some trees bear fruit.

Oh well, there's always the everbearing strawberries and never-fail raspberries. As soon as spring arrives you're going to dig some of the wandering strawberry plants from among the old, never-trimmed raspberry vines and reset them.

Maybe you should order one of those self-irrigating, pyramidal strawberry beds. While you're resetting the strawberries you can reset the raspberries. They were very good a couple years ago before they became involved with fox tail, burning bush and crab grass.

But you don't plan to have a weed in your garden this year. Why, with just a little hoeing every day you can keep it completely weed free.

On the same page that the seed catalog offers many garden weed killers, it also offers plant foods and fertilizers. Perhaps

Construction Continues

IN SPITE of the sometimes cold, sometimes thawing weather the past few weeks, work continues on the final stage of construction at Dahl Retirement Center in Wayne. Bricklayers are working in enclosed areas laying brick for the walls of the final addition (at right). The addition will include two-bedroom rooms, laundry area, storage, locker rooms, kitchen, dishwashing area and a dining room which will seat 100 persons. The total building program which has been going on at Dahl Retirement will cost about $350,000 when completed, according to owner, Ken Dahl. First stage was construction of the front wing, second stage was tearing down of the old building, which once served as the local hospital.

WHAT IS A TOWN?

A TOWN IS A GROUP OF PEOPLE.

- It Is a School.
- It Is a City Government.
- It Is Industry and Jobs.
- It Is Retail Business.

They all have to work together. All must have the support of the people. Or there is no town.

Give your local merchant a chance for your business. You shouldn't spend your hard earned money with him unless his selection is adequate and his price competitive. But give him the first opportunity to make the sale.

For the local retailer pays the highest percentage of local taxes. He most often is the civic leader who dedicates his time and talents to his town. He is the one contacted first for contributions to charitable projects. He provides jobs. Without his store you have no town.

Give the Local Merchant A Fair Shake

WAYNE COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS
Wayne, Nebraska
January 16, 1973

A Public Hearing, beginning at 2 p.m. was held for the purpose of presenting and adopting a One and Six Year Road Improvement Program for Wayne County. Present were three taxpayers and one Visitation Worker. On motion by Eddie the following Resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED that the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, Wayne, Nebraska, after holding a Public Hearing, accept and adopt the One and Six Year Road Program as submitted by Consolidated Engineers, Inc., consulting engineers for Wayne County.

The Resolution was seconded by Wilson Roll vote: Ayes: Wilson, Eddie and Burt N. Noes. There being no other suggestions or corrections, the Hearing was, on motion, adjourned.

N. F. Weible, County Clerk
Wayne, Nebraska
January 23, 1973

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met per adjournment with members, Eddie, Wilson and Burt present. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald on January 18, 1973.

Members of the Nioxius Weed Board and Russell Lindsay, Weed Superintendent met with the Board of Commissioners at 10 a.m. New Weed Board members also present, were Lester Menke and Enos Williams. Dwayne Retlisch was re-elected for another term.

The Bond for Enos Williams, member of the Nioxius Weed Board, was approved.

The Quarterly Fee Report of Leon F. Meyer, County Treasurer, was examined and approved.

The inventory of Joann Ostrander, Clerk of District Court, was examined and approved.

Bruce Corn, representing McCaughey, Marshall, McMillan, & Backlund Engineers, reported to the Board on the Regional Jail Feasibility Study conducted by the Board. Present were: Pierce, Stanton, Madison, Knox and Antelope Counties. Attending the meeting were the Wayne County Commissioners, Associate County Judge Hilton, County Attorney Bornhoff, Probation Officer Hansen and Wayne

LXE 5500 electric dryer

Here's a dryer buy you'll be glad you made now... and many months from now. Permanent Press cool-down leaves most no-iron things ready-to-wear with no touch-up ironing. Five timed cycles give you settings for everything — dainties to overalls. Three-position temperature selector — including AIR (no heat) setting. TUMBLE PRESS™ control tumbles-out wrinkles in no-iron clothes that have been packed or stored away, saves touch-up ironing. Extra-large lint screen is easy to reach, clean. A very special buy in any season!

30" ELECTRIC RANGE
