'Agriculture not getting fair shake from the news media'

There is a void in modern reportage, a gulf which could lead to a major crisis in America. Never in the world's history have so many been so dependent upon so few, or so ignorant of their situation, as Americans today. More than 95 per cent of the nation's people are dependent upon the less than 5 per cent who man the nation's farms.

Agriculture is a metropolitan Cinderella who labors hard for urban America, but who works without appreciation because there is a knowledge chasm left unbridged by modern journalism, or inadequately bridged at best. That vital informational link, the farm beat, has been plowed under or sent out to graze on the south 40 on most urban newspapers today.

Today's newspapers may not have very many farmer subscribers, but their readers all have one thing in common: they eat. And as long as they do, newspapers should take a vital, intelligent interest in agriculture. The most prevalent and most inaccurate myth in America today is the "high food prices legend" believed by almost every consumer and promulgated by nearly every newspaper and television station in America.

Why does almost everyone think food is expensive? Because today's news media fail miserably to understand agriculture and to report it accurately. It is a digression, but you won't believe that food is cheap unless we document it, so let's digress. Agriculture has given America the lowest-cost food bill in the history of mankind — 16 per cent of disposable income in 1971, compared with 23 per cent in 1950, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics.

It's an unpopular story, but our great agricultural progress has reduced food costs by 30 per cent during the past 21 years. As a bonus, Americans also get a greater variety of food, a higher standard of eating (including twice as much beef), less kitchen drudgery, and more meals "out on the town."

America's food bill in 1971 was $118 billion — a whopping $51.7 billion less than it would be if Americans still paid 23 per cent of their income for food as they did in 1950.

That $51.7 billion which Americans spent for second cars, trail bikes, boats, stereophonic sound systems, fancy furniture, summer cottages, dishwashers, color television, and a host of other consumer goods. But how much is $51.7 billion? It is $15.1 billion more than the total value of all automobiles manufactured in the United States and of the distribution costs of all foreign made automobiles sold in the United States in 1969! (Based on U. S. Statistical Abstract figures.)

In other words, the unparalleled efficiency of the American farm is one of the basic reasons for the high and still rising American standard of living, a principle difference between our standard of living and that of other countries. Englishmen spent 29 per cent of their income for food, Italians 45 per cent, and Indians 80 per cent.

Instead of complaining about "high food prices," we Americans should be on our knees giving thanks for our share of the $51.7 billion a year the nation saves on groceries. It is the very substance of our high standard of living.

But, you say, look at what's happening to food prices. Meat has gone up, eggs have gone up. Yes, and they'll come down, too. But not with the same fanfare with which they went up. Recently when the price of eggs threatened to reach $1 a dozen the news was headlined for days on end. But when they dropped to 59 cents a dozen, our local newspaper didn't have a single line of copy with that news.

The result is a public misimpression that prices are always going up. That's true of cars, clothes and a lot of other things, but not of food. Food prices fluctuate because farmers cannot control production, and prices rise and fall with supply.

Further, reporters have wholly failed to put food prices into perspective with wages. Big, black headlines shout the news that food prices are expected to increase at an annual rate of about 4.5 per cent during the first half of 1973. But what reporters have compared that with anticipated wage increases?

The Nixon Administration says 5.5 per cent increases are acceptable, and few authorities feel that wage increases will be held that low in 1973.

It doesn't take an Einstein, or even a high school math teacher, to calculate that if food prices increase 4.5 per cent and income rises 5.5 per cent, the percentage of our income spent for food will decrease. The increase we see in food prices is inflation — and food is an anchor trying to hold inflation down. Food prices are not contributing to inflation. With urban America and the press which serves it both ignorant of the realities of agriculture, there is a real threat to the agricultural abundance which is the foundation upon which America has become the world's wealthiest nation — a nation with the highest standard of poverty that the world has ever known.

How is America threatened? With 95 per cent of her population in the cities, and the one man, one vote rule, the farm bloc has withered to a tiny voice in a distant pasture.

Unless the farm-city information gap is bridged by the press, it is entirely conceivable that an urban-dominated, urban-oriented Congress could pass legislation which would wreak havoc with agricultural production, or fail to pass legislation essential to a healthy agriculture.

It would be tragic for America to learn the hard way that all of her social reform and anti-poverty programs in the world will be of no benefit if America's unparalleled agricultural miracle is permitted to wither. For modern agriculture is not a permanent miracle which can be ignored once achieved. It is a miracle which must be repeated every year.

But the moment America goes on a binge of anti farm legislation, capriciously banning vital agricultural chemicals, wildly slashing farm programs, and arbitrarily siding against farmers on national issues, the nation will be sowing the seeds of wretchedness for the cities as well as for the farms.

Food prices will really become high, and with less to spend for other things there will be massive layoffs in city factories which will lose much of their market for consumer goods.

A closer look...

By Norvin Hansen

The highways in the Wayne area aren't in as good shape as a story in last Monday's Wayne Herald might lead you to believe.

Shortly after the story came out saying that roads in the area are in better condition than those elsewhere in the state, I found out that they are still plenty rugged and chopped up.

A trip to Ponca saw me skipping from one lane to the other in an effort to save my car — and me — from taking a beating. If a state patrolman had happened along, he would have tossed me in the clink for drunken and reckless driving.

A couple days later somebody who should really know what kind of shape the highways are in — since he helps work on them — said I should have seen some of the big holes being torn in Highway 35 west of town before I put that story in the paper.

Department of Roads workers have spent a lot of man hours tearing up stretches of road 20 and 25 feet long and several feet deep in an attempt to smooth over the damage done by the "frost boils" which developed again this spring, he said.

Everything's relative, they say, and I guess it's true in this case. Area roads are in good shape compared to some in the rest of the state, but that doesn't mean they are any joy to drive over.

Some humorous writing appears in this month's issue of Nebraska Oil Jobber, monthly publication of Nebraska Petroleum Marketers, Inc.

Here's a few samples of what some elementary students came up with when their teacher asked them to write letters to a service station operator.

"I am a future inventor. Tell me some of the future inventions you need around service stations so I can start on them now."

"Can you tell me if it costs you anything for the air you get to put in tires? I said yes and Donald C. said no and I said yes and he said no and I said yes and so on. So can you tell us for sure? Oh well, thanks anyway."

"I am practicing ~~long~~ writing. I want to make mine to you without any mistakes so I am stopping now."

"I am supposed to write you and it must be at least 30 words. I am nine years old and my teacher is Mr. Rogers and he is a very... (That's 30 words exactly.)"

Youngsters in the Wayne area are reminded that the deadline for entries in the "Wizard of Oz" poster contest at Wayne State College is today (Monday).

The poster contest, open to kids in kindergarten through eighth grade, is being held in connection with Wayne State's coming musical production of "Wizard of Oz." Performances of the musical are scheduled for 1 p.m. April 2 & 4 at Ramsey Theater. An 8 p.m. performance is set for April 4.

Posters should be drawn or painted on 11 x 14 inch paper and must contain the name of the play and the date, time and place where it will be presented. Grade school teachers in the area will choose the best entries from each grade for the contest. Winners will receive cash prizes.

A Wayne lady points out that a toy which Consumer Reports labels as dangerous is being sold in at least one store in town.

For only a few cents youngsters can buy a package of small, hard candy pellets and a plastic straw to blow them through. (The old-fashioned pea shooter with a new twist.)

Consumer Reports says the toy is dangerous for two reasons — the pellets could hit somebody in the eye, and the youngster shooting them could accidentally inhale the pellets and get them lodged in his throat or the passage to his lungs.

A good decision

It was a good move by the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges to have the faculty and students at Wayne State help set up a committee to aid in selecting the next college president.

The move assures everybody interested in the college representation on the search committee. The search group will include three undergraduate students, a graduate student, three faculty members, a department head, an administrator and four area residents.

We are particularly pleased that the search group will include persons from this area. We too often forget that the vitality and health of this area of Northeast Nebraska is tied closely with the college. If the college fares well, it's a good bet the area will prosper along with it. If it fares badly, the area will feel the results of it. It is satisfying, therefore, to know that the area will have a voice in such an important decision as naming the next college president.

Students, faculty and administrators at the college should be pleased also, for their interests will be represented on the search committee.

The final decision about who will head the college will not be made by the search committee, of course. That responsibility still rests with the governing board, but the board's decision to let others narrow down the applicants for the post show its willingness to make sure the new president will be somebody who will represent all aspects of the college and area.

Step in right direction

Tennis enthusiasts in Wayne should be pleased to learn that a doubles court will be built next to the municipal swimming pool.

The court should make a nice addition to the city's recreational facilities. It will include a fence and lights so it can be used during the evening.

Several persons have long been saying that the city should build its own tennis courts so players would not have to use those at the college. They have been right, because a community-size of Wayne should have its own facilities and should not be in a position to have to rely on those at the college.

The tennis facilities which will be built as soon as the weather warms up will be small and probably will not be adequate for the city. However, they are a step in the right direction.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

The Indian Ridge Golf Course north of Ponca was scheduled to open Sunday, according to owner John Schulke.

Men's league golfing will start in a month, he said, with mixed junior leagues and ladies competition slated to start soon after.

Eddie Collins, nationally known commentator on the livestock scene, will be featured speaker at the Cuming County Livestock Feeders banquet Tuesday night at West Point.

For members only, the dinner will be held at the Veterans Club. It begins at 6 p.m.

News in the South Stars City school district last week gave 49.4 per cent approval in a $2,200,000 bond issue for construction of a new junior high building.

Parents saw the problem and were willing to accept the challenge and meet the district's needs, said school board president Sam Westwater.

The membership of Pioneer will receive a 25 per cent rate increase effective the first of this month. The board voted the pay raise during a meeting earlier this month.

Fourteen windows were cracked and broken and a large plate glass door was damaged by vandals at the Randolph schools recently. Superintendent Neil Kliver said the damage may amount to $300 to $500.

A committee at Pierce has recommended that a special Emergency Medical Services Council be created to upgrade emergency services in the Pierce area.

The group, created recently by the Pierce city council, also recommended that there be more emergency training in the schools, more training for adults and that the city and rural fire district create an ambulance service to take advantage of federal matching funds.

The annual spring meeting of the Antelope County Livestock Feeders Association will be held Tuesday night at Neligh. Guest speaker will be Everett Peterson, extension economist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Students Creating 'Oz' Fantasy World

When Mervyn LeRoy was working on the motion picture "Wizard of Oz," based on L. Frank Baum's story, "Wonderful Wizard of Oz," there was some question as to whether fantasy could be as successfully done with human actors as with cartoons.

Time, good direction and a total of $3,000,000 proved that it could. The production featured everything but the kitchen sink. Appearing in the show were a cyclone, castle, flying witches and a flying house, men of straw and tin, a shrinking witch and thousands of little people.

The Wayne State Theatre Department is currently caught up in the challenge of providing that same fantasy world for their upcoming children's show, "Wizard of Oz," to open Monday, April 2.

Matinees are scheduled daily for April 26. In an addition, to accommodate adults who wish to see the play, an 8 p.m. performance has been scheduled for April 4.

Scholarships Result from Gift to WSF

Two scholarships worth at least $300 each this year will be awarded to vocal music students at Wayne State College as a result of a $40,000 bequest by the late Ardath Conn.

Dr. Freeman Decker, secretary of the Wayne State Foundation, said Miss Conn provided the gift with directions that it "be used for instruction in vocal art to two students elected yearly in competition."

Auditions for the scholarships will be conducted April 12, open to present students and incoming freshmen at Wayne State.

Students interested in auditioning must write a letter of application to Dr. Raymond Kelson, chairman of the Music Department, Wayne State College, Wayne, Nebr. 68787.

Dr. Decker said the $40,000 is being invested to create proceeds for the scholarships. Exact amount of the awards will depend on income, but it is likely the sum will exceed $300 in future years, Dr. Decker said. Miss Conn, who died about a year ago in Muncie, Ind., was the daughter of Dr. U. S. Conn, president of Wayne State from 1910 to 1935.

WSC Athletic Department To Suffer If Exon's 1973-74 Budget Passes

Wayne State athletic director Dr. LeRoy Simpson made it plain and simple to members of the Second Guessers Thursday—the college's athletic program is in trouble.

Dr. Simpson pointed out that under Governor J. James Exon's proposed 1973-74 budget, most small state colleges will have to find some way to cut expenses in order to survive.

What this means, he told the Guessers, is that most athletic departments, including Wayne State's will be hit first.

Already, he pointed out, it is known that Wayne State's present faculty staff of some 99 persons may be dropped to 79 if the budget is passed.

The hardest hit area, Simpson went on, will be the athletic department.

"Most of you already know that this could put us in serious trouble," he said, "but I thought it was worth repeating to let everyone know that we are not sitting on our duffs, thinking this will pass away."

"I'm looking high and low for a solution to the problem, but as yet I haven't come up with any," he emphasized.

As it stands now, the college will be without a swimming coach and possibly a full-time

"We can't expect some of the better high school wrestlers to want to come to Wayne if we don't have a wrestling coach," Simpson explained.

The athletic director said he now has 12 letters from interested high school seniors asking about the college wrestling program and how they can get assistance.

"I can't very well say they're welcome to Wayne State if I'm not sure that we are going to have a head coach to offer them the best chance to improve as wrestlers," he said.

Another area the college presently is suffering in is football.

The football team has a head coach, Del Stoltenberg, and an assistant head coach, Ralph Barclay, but has lost the services of Roger Bentley (former head swimming coach and football assistant) and Pate (another assistant), Dr. Simpson noted.

What this means is that there are only two coaches to do the recruiting and training of at least 50-60 players on the team, he explained.

Simpson cited Kansas State College in Pittsburg, Kans., as an example of a college trying to cope with cuts in the budget.

Pittsburg already has dropped spring football practice and its baseball program. This is one way the college is trying to stay within its budget requirements, Dr. Simpson said.

He did not propose such drastic steps for Wayne State but did warn the Second Guessers that some of the programs could be curtailed in the future.

"This budget problem probably will clear up in the future, say maybe in 10 years—but our situation is now and that's what I'm concerned about," Simpson said.

Stammer's 17 Points Aid Win

Greg Stammer pumped in 17 points to lead his team in the league title in the high school recreation B League basketball competition Tuesday at the National Guard Armory.

Stammer's club, 5-1, dumped Roberts team, 40-38, for the league win.

High point man for the Josers, 2-4, was Mark Smith with 14.

Members of the winning team include Stammer, Dan Grana, Steve Schram, Jeff Lamp, Ron Janke, Pat Hochstein and Roger Fredrickson.

In other action, Workman's team dumped Hoop's, 105-44, behind the 28-point effort by Larry Creighton. Assisting the top scorer was Rob Mitchell with 20. Ritch Workman with 17 and Mike Shner with 16.

Rod Hoops and Kirk Wacker led their team with 18 and 10 points respectively.

In the final game, Lowe's team dropped Brandt's, 64-48. Top scorers for the winners were Mark Lowe with 18, Mike Meyer with 15 and Robin Kudrna with 12.

For the losing team, Steve Brandt finished with 18 followed by Mike Manes' 17.

With the addition of Lowe's (formerly the freshmen) and Workman's (B reserves), the high school B league will expand to six teams. Each team will play each other once. The season will close about a month from now.

This Tuesday night will see Hoops vs. Roberts at 6:45 and Lowe vs. Stammer at 8. Workman's team will battle Brandt's in the 9 o'clock game.

In the A league, tonight (Monday) the seniors and the sophomores will collide at 7, with the Boys Club and juniors following at 8:15.

Five Beautiful Additions

MEMBERS of the Wakefield High baseball and track teams will have a couple of added beauties this year. Five young girls will be helping coaches keep records and take care of the equipment.

Nine Lettermen Bolstering Barry's Winside Track Crew

Nine returning lettermen will bolster this year's Winside High track team, and leading the pack will be last year's state qualifier in the 440 yard dash, junior Larry Weible.

"Larry is one of our top notch runners," said coach Doug Barry. In addition to the 440, Weible also will run in the mile relay—composed of three seniors and Weible—and work in the pole vault.

"Larry scores more points for us by running," Barry admitted, but he noted that Weible probably will be the leading pole vaulter after last year's 9-6 showing.

Seniors LaRue Langenberg, Scott Deck and Bob Janke will make up the remaining portion of the mile relay, which Barry figures have a strong showing this year.

"LaRue also will give a good showing in the triple jump," Barry pointed out.

Perry Hoemann and Phil Janke, who make up the top five returning senior lettermen, will see action in the 100, 220 and 880 yard relay.

LARRY WEIBLE

Hoemann is scheduled to work out in the triple jump, but Barry pointed out that a sprained ankle last week will limit the senior during the early part of the season.

Jeff Farren, another junior also will compete in the triple jump as well as the 220 and the 880 yard relay.

Steve Brummels, who holds the school record in the two mile relay, rounds out the three junior lettermen.

Among the sophomores, Greg Lage is showing promise in the 880 and 880 relay, notes Barry.

All together about 28 boys are out for this year's track squad, giving Barry what he thinks will be a strong middle and long distance running squad.

The hurdles events will be bolstered by sophomores Dwight Lienemann, junior Steve Deck and freshmen Norman Libengood. Lienemann is currently on the injured list with a pulled hamstring muscle. Barry expects all three to be competing for the No. 1 position in both the low and high hurdles.

As it stands now, Lienemann holds the top spot with Deck and Libengood following, according to Barry.

In field events, sophomore Mike Anderson, going at a hefty 220 pounds, will support Winside in the shot and discus. Also strong junior Doug Bruggeman, last year's discus man who looks to be just as strong this year.

Although Winside will be without the services of last year's team leader Larry Cleveland—who graduated—Barry feels that his team could "surprise some

JEFF FARREN

As of Friday, the first dual is scheduled for this Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Winside against Norfolk Catholic.

Other schools on the list are: April 3—Stanton, 6—at Plainview Invitational, 10—at Stanton Invitational, 17—at Norfolk Invitational, 27—Norfolk Catholic, May 2—Lewis and Clark Conference at Wisner, 10—district at Wisner.

Winside To Buy New Ball Park Land

The Winside town board has received approval from the federal government to purchase a five-acre tract of land for construction of a new ball park.

City clerk Mrs. Marian Hill said the land, on the east side of town, is the location of the present ball diamond. But, she added, the board is purchasing a large tract of land beyond the ball park. The ball park is owned by the Baseball Association, Inc., of Winside.

Mrs. Hill explained that the board now has to wait for federal approval of the plans before it can begin construction. Included in the plans are rewiring for lighting, new rest rooms, landscaping, new bleachers and fencing.

Total cost of the project is $23,500. Half of that amount will be paid by a government grant, with Winside and the State of Nebraska each paying $5,875.

Magical 43 Degrees

Forty-three degrees is magic for walleye at Harlan County Reservoir!

Bob Probst of Omaha, one of the state's few professional fishing guides, predicts that walleye spawning will "turn on" at Harlan the moment water temperature hits 43 degrees. Walleye move into the rocky area along the dam to spawn, and here they give fishermen frenzied action.

While 43 turns them on, Probst said two to three degrees warmer will produce that much more action.

As of last Friday all ice on Harlan was gone, and barring some weather reversals, water should reach 43 degrees in another two or three weeks.

Last year fluorescent red Rapalas, Thin Fins, doll flies, and flashy spoons turned the trick for boat fishermen working just as close to the rocks as possible.

FIRST SPAWNERS TAKEN

Three weeks ago, it was reported in this column that once the ice goes out at Pelican Lake near Valentine, look out, northern pike!

It happened! The ice went out and northern pike began working the shallows. Fact is, last Thursday the Game Commission trapped its first spawners — including 65 females, half of which were "ripe" — and the merry egg chase is on.

Providing favorable weather held, enough spawners should have been taken by Tuesday of this week to fill the 25 to 30 million egg pool of Glen R. Foster, fisheries chief. Then follows the stripping of eggs, fertilization, and shipment of eggs to the North Platte Hatchery. By the end of the week, again with help of the weatherman, the entire operation should be completed.

PURPLE MARTIN LANDLORDS

Should you want to become a purple martin landlord, here are some "musts":

The house should be lightweight for easy raising and lowering; this permits frequent cleaning which in turn discourages sparrows. Aluminum is choice material, for it is lightweight, durable, and cool.

Each compartment should have holes for ventilation. The larger houses need ventilation shafts up through the interior. Color should be light.

Each house should have at least six compartments no less than 6x6x6 inches in size. Entrance holes should be 2 to 2 1/2 inches in diameter and perches at least 3 1/2 inches wide. A bright inside helps discourage starlings, particularly if it is shiny.

Every house should have porches edged with guard rails or barriers to prevent young birds from falling to the ground.

Often times, at least until martins are firmly established, sparrow-nests are a problem, so each compartment should be built to permit easy clean out.

Houses should be mounted on a pole that can be lowered and raised quickly and easily, and vertically so not to disturb the nests. Telescoping steel poles or houses on poles that can be raised and lowered with a crank-up winch or rope flagpole type lanyard are great.

Next week: House location so as to attract martins.

CHOMPING AT THE BIT

Geno Kneifel of Geno's-Minno Mart, Columbus, says everyone in his area, as elsewhere in the state, is chomping at the bit to go fishing. He hopes, though, that they don't try too early and become discouraged, then forget about it for the year.

He reports fair success on pan-size crappie in the Clear Creek area south of Columbus.

Geno's a converted ice fisherman. Pibel Lake east of Ericson gets the credit, having produced bass galore through the ice. On one trip Geno and four companions iced 48 bass ranging up to three pounds.

Pibel Lake, in Geno's opinion, should be a real bass winner this spring, providing it's fished before it clogs with moss in June.

MISHMASH. One of NEBRASKAland's fastest growing attractions, the Stuhr Museum of the Prairie Pioneer at Grand Island, reported a whopping 92.3 per cent increase in visitor count last month over 1972. The penchant of modern auto manufacturers to christen their vehicles with names like Mustang, Javelin, Cougar, and other animals, birds, and objects dates way back. Check these: Black Crow (1905), Bob Cat (1923), Coyote (1909), Gopher (1911), and Falcon (1908).

Poisoning of animals and birds on public lands of the United States would be prohibited in a bill introduced in Congress by Sen. Birch Bayh (Ind.). The same bill regulates the manufacture, sale, and possession of thallium sulfate, sodium cyanide, strychnine, and sodium monofluoroacetate for field use in predator control programs. Another bill, this by Rep. Edward J. Derwinski (Ill.), would authorize the establishment of national parks or national recreation areas in those states which do not have such by July 4, 1976, in time for our nation's bicentennial celebration. Nebraska should be included among those states.

Today (Thursday) marks end of mink and muskrat trapping season. Monday (March 19) is due date for applications for spring turkey permits, if they are to be included in drawings in units where applicants exceed licenses.

Top Wrestlers

Youth Accents Wakefield Track Club

Wakefield High track coach John Torczon knows that this year's track squad is going to be short on seniors, but long on talent. Returning state vets Dave Scheel and Randy Jensen will be leading the six member senior portion of the team. Both made state last year, with Scheel competing in the pole vault and triple jump events and Jensen competing in the high jump. Torczon says that this year's squad will be balanced, with field men bringing in points during the triangulars and invitational while runners will play a strong role in the duals. Scheel holds the school records in the triple jump with a leap of 39.3 and 11 feet in the pole vault. "I look for him to break those records this year," the coach added. Wakefield's running power will come in the distance events, including the 800 and the mile. Keith Woodward, a sophomore, will be competing in the 800 along with senior Rusty Johnson and Merl Kaufman, a junior. In the mile, Doug Prochaska, Don Berry, Chuck Lebnard and Richard Puls will provide the Trojans with a strong output. Sprinters Chuck Peters and Randy Kahl are picked to rack up points along with Mark Koeber. Also on the list for the short runs are Loren Victor and Kirk Peters. In addition to Victor's display at the short jaunts, the sophomore will provide strength in the 400, as will Alan Jensen and Dave Carlson. Another track event the head man expects to score well in is the hurdles. Pat Nicholson and Chuck Lindstrom will be leaders in that department, he said. In the field events, Dan Lindstrom will head the contenders in the shot, with Peters, Merrill Hale, Scott Keagle and Alan Jensen ready to make a bid for the No. 1 position. In the discus, Lindstrom again will have the edge with the same challengers and Dan Brown. Wakefield opens its season

April 3 in a triangular at Wisner-Pilger. The rest of the schedule: April 6 at Plainview Invitational; 10 at South Sioux Invitational; 13 Laurel and Emerson at Wakefield; 19 at Randolph; 24 Lyons; 27 at Wisner-Pilger Invitational; May 4 — Husker Conference at North Bend; 10 district at Wsnr.

New Dam To Be Built Near Winside

Construction of a new dam in the Winside area will get under way in the near future, the Wayne County commissioners decided Tuesday. During their regular meeting, the commissioners decided to have Milo Meyer Construction Co. of Wayne start the project as soon as possible. The area is located four miles south and 3/4 east of Winside. Norris Weibte, county clerk, said no figure on the exact cost is known yet. About six years ago, a bridge in the area was condemned. Construction plans call for a road to be built over the dam. In other action, the board decided to contact James Jackson of Cheminshaw Co., an appraising firm, to get an estimate on having Wayne County reappraised. Weibte said the board intends to meet with Jackson sometime in April.

Pioneer Patrons Being Sought by Omaha Market

The 26th annual Pioneer Patrons Recognition Banquet will be held May 9th at the Omaha Livestock Exchange Building. Anyone in the livestock business who has been a patron of the Omaha Market for the past 50 years, either buying or selling stock on the Omaha market, who has not been honored before, is eligible for recognition. Nominations may be made by candidates themselves, members of their families, friends or business acquaintances. Names should be submitted to: Pioneer Patrons, Omaha Chamber of Commerce, 1620 Dodge Street, Omaha, Nebr. 68102. Nominations must be made by March 30th. The honorees selected will be banquet guests, and they will receive Pioneer Patron lapel pins and certificates of recognition.

Parked Car Struck

A parked car owned by Kenneth F. Otte, 1305 Sherman, was struck about 12:15 a.m. Saturday while parked in a parking lot in the 100-block of West First Street. Otte reported that he parked his car about 8:30 a.m. and when he returned, found a dent in the left rear fender.

Wayne Man Delegate for Cooperative

John Anderson of Wayne has been elected a 1973 voting delegate of Midwest Breeders Cooperative.

Elected by area farmer members, he will represent the membership at the cooperative's annual meeting, Shawano, Wis., April 7. Anderson's responsibilities to the cooperative include the election of the board of directors and redistricting committee, and acting upon major policy of the cooperative. In 1972, Midwest Breeders, the nation's largest farmer-owned cattle breeding organization, had 867,540 units of sale to more than 44,600 dairy farmers and ranches, a record high. Sales in 1972 totaled $5.5 million, also a new record. The cooperative has assets of $2.5 million and $2 million in membership equity. Midwest Breeders' primary service area includes Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska.

Midwest Breeders' sales and service representative in the area is Don Rademacher of Wayne.

A Taste Of County Government

COUNTY GOVERNMENT DAY at the Wayne County courthouse involved Juniors from Winside and Wayne High Schools during the day-long session Wednesday. Purpose of the event: to explain various operations of county government to the elected students from each high school.

For Wayne's Randy Workman, (photo at top left) and Winside's Joann Kleensang, the job of a county treasurer can be a monumental task—especially when it comes time for distributing new license plates. County clerk Norris Weible (photo at top right) offers Winside's Connie Cleveland and Wayne's Tod Bigelow a glimpse into some of the proceedings in handling county business. Figuring out the right assessment for county residents isn't an easy chore for students Gaylen Carstens, Winside, (left in photo above) and Dan Marr, Wayne, who go over figures with Mrs. Bill Stipp in the assessor's office. Associate county judge Mrs. Luverna Hilton (left photo) explains some of the new laws to Wayne's Gordon Cook, left and Winside's Larry Weible. Other students representing the offices from Winside: school superintendent—Peggy Thies; veterans service—Joan Weible; welfare director—Alice Wells; county attorney—Doug Bruggeman; sheriff—Doug Lage; deputy sheriff—Jeff Farren; county commissioners—Roger Brudigan, Steve Deck and Joanne Krueger; extension agent—Deb Bargstad; probation officer—Joni Langenberg, clerk of district court—Linda Wagner. Others from Wayne High: probation—Bill Schwartz; school superintendent—Greg Swinney; veterans service—Kerry Jech; agricultural agent—Ken Baier; commissioners—Patty Fulton, Kay Pankratz and Dan Nelson; sheriff—Brad Carlson, deputy sheriff—Jeff Lamp; county attorney—Greg Anderson; welfare director—Chris Pflueger, clerk of district court—Mike Dunklau.

new Flexamatic by SCHICK

Shaves so close, it's even switching the blade man.

Here's the proof. The Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute, Inc. proved the new Schick Flexamatic shaves closer than today's leading electrics. You see, the head is super thin and flexible. Thin, so the blades get closer. Flexible, so it follows the contours.
