School Board Decision on Offering Girls' Athletics Likely Next Month

Wayne Carroll school board members will likely decide whether to offer inter-school athletics for girls at next month's meeting.

The board Monday night agreed to make a decision after listening to several women and three high school students, who said they want the school system to offer athletics for girls starting this fall.

Board president Irvin Brandt noted during the discussion that the board will have to decide

Weekly Drawing Slated

A city-wide Happy Birthday Drawing every Thursday night is in the works for Wayne.

The weekly drawing, scheduled to start early next month, will be held in stores which belong to the Wayne Retailers Association.

Several local businessmen are forming the association to promote the weekly drawing and to coordinate work with the Chamber of Commerce retail committee in improving business in the community.

Approved by the Chamber of Commerce directors, the association plans to hold drawings each Thursday night at 8:15 p.m., giving away Happy Birthday Bucks to the person whose birthday falls on or closest to the date selected in a random drawing. The Bucks can be used to purchase items in any of the stores taking part in the drawing.

The association has issued an invitation to all businesses to join in the weekly promotion. Only Chamber members will be eligible to join, with weekly dues going toward supplying the Happy Birthday Bucks to each winner.

Persons interested in joining the group should contact the Chamber office for complete details.

Another school board probably at next month's meeting whether to offer girls' athletics because many schools are already completing their scheduling of athletic events for girls for the coming school year.

Mrs. Ralph Barclay, one of the women voicing support for inter-school sports for girls, said that intramural programs are good, but that the school system should offer competitive sports for those who wish to take part in them.

The women and students noted that the greatest interest is probably in girls' basketball, volleyball and track. Offering these to girls starting next school year would be a good beginning for the school system, they noted.

Board members explained that much of the problem with offering inter-school athletics for girls involves such things as scheduling contests and using present facilities such as the auditorium.

At least two board members, Brandt and Mrs. Dorothy Ley, raised the question of whether girls' athletics should be added to the school's program or whether reductions should be made in other areas to permit offering it without additional expense.

Cost does enter into the picture, Brandt explained, and the board is probably going to have to look at the whole school program to see how much more can be offered economically.

Mrs. Ley noted that it would be ideal if the school system could afford to involve all students in as many programs as possible—but that is not possible if the school is to be run without excessive cost.

Board members have been wrestling off and on with the problem of girls' athletics since last fall when they decided to offer a pilot program of girls' intramural sports starting in January. However, the board has avoided making a decision whether to offer inter-school athletics for girls since then.

Board members were told last fall and reminded Monday night that it would cost about $2,250 for salaries and equipment for one sport for girls. Cost of such things as transportation and the like would raise the expense of one sport beyond that figure, according to superintendent Francis Haun.

Wayne High is one of the few schools in the state which does not offer inter-school athletics for girls. In November, the only other schools not offering girls' sports were Aurora, Mitchell and Falls City Sacred Heart. All other Nebraska high schools—about 372 of them—offered some type of inter-school girls' athletics.

Wayne Council Okays 2 More Bottle Clubs, Package Liquor Bid

City councilmen Tuesday night voted to recommend to the State Liquor Commission that it grant requests for two more bottle club licenses in Wayne.

Applying to the state for the licenses are William Scott, operator of Scott's Place, and Dan Johnson of Wayne and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Goltowski of Lincoln, who will operate The Inn at Wayne, proposed motel on the east edge of the community.

Council voted 7-1 to approve Scott's application. Pat Gross cast the lone dissenting vote.

The vote to approve the other bottle club license was 7-0, with Jim Thomas not voting because he said he has had financial dealings with those who plan to build the motel.

There were no written objections to either application.

After voting to approve Scott's application, councilmen voted 5-3 to recommend that the state commission approve the package liquor license application of Ken Dahl of Wayne and Dennis McGonigal of Omaha.

Voting in favor of the application were Keith Mosley, Darrel Fuetberth, Frank Praither, Jim Thomas and Pat Gross. Voting against issuing the license, which would go to Wayne Liquors, Inc., were Vernon Russell, Harvey Brasch and Ivan Beck.

The vote came after the

Landowners Appeal to District Court

Landowners in Wayne County earlier this week filed appeals in district court noting that land values set by condemnation procedures are too low.

Initiating the condemnation procedures against the owner was Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD), which is building a 230,000-volt transmission line across Wayne County.

The action by the five landowners follows last week's appeals by NPPD which noted that the value of seven parcels of land was appraised too high.

District judge George W. Dittick of Norfolk will consider the See APPEALS, page 8

Mayor Fires Police Chief

Vern Fairchild, chief of police in Wayne for nearly eight years, was fired Tuesday by Mayor Kent Hall.

Hall said the dismissal, which was effective Tuesday, stemmed from the manner in which Fairchild conducted an investigation of local liquor establishments last week.

Fairchild, 38, said he brought in two policemen from outside the city, told them to purchase liquor in five bars and to spike beer with it while inside the bars, to see if the bartenders would permit it.

He said he also told them to try to purchase drinks in three places where memberships are required.

Hall said he authorized Fairchild to conduct the investigation but did not authorize him to have somebody go into a bar and break the law to see if it would be permitted by the bartenders. He gave the authority for somebody "to observe" activity in the bars, he said.

"I haven't done anything legally wrong," said Fairchild, "and I don't think I've done anything morally wrong."

Hall asked for the investigation March 30 following reports of spiking beer and left it up to Fairchild how to conduct the investigation, according to Fairchild.

When asked to resign by the mayor, Fairchild refused after consulting with an attorney. He told the mayor he refused to resign because he had not been notified in writing of the charges against him and had not been granted a hearing before the Civil Service Commission.

If he had resigned, he said, it would have looked as if he had been wrong in the way he conducted the investigation.

He was fired by the mayor following a meeting with the mayor and seven of the eight city councilmen Tuesday afternoon. Attending that meeting were councilmen Frank Praither, Keith Mosley, Vernon Russell, Pat Gross, Jim Thomas, Harvey Brasch and Darrel Fuetberth. Ivan Beck was not at the meeting.

Fairchild said he may "let the court decide" if Hall had legal grounds for dismissing him.

Serving as acting chief until a new chief can be named will be See FAIRCHILD, page 7

EXTENSION NOTES

Summer Storage for Wool Garments

Wool garments and winter clothes will soon have to yield closet space to summer clothes, so prepare your clothes for storage and store them properly.

Store only clean garments. Food spots or body oils left on garments may attract insects and perspiration stains may discolor fabrics if allowed to remain during storage.

Air tight storage is recommended for wool garments. Use pasteboard boxes or paper bags that can be tightly sealed.

Plastic clothes bags, blanket bags or storage boxes with zip closings provide good storage. Cedar chests and cedar closets are ideal.

Woolens, washable or non-washable, should have the protection of a moth-proofing spray before storage or the inclusion of a moth repellent in the storage container. As these chemicals evaporate they produce a vapor that kills carpet beetles and moths.

Since the chemical vapors are heavier than air, the moth repellent should be suspended from the clothes rod at the top of the garment bag. In a storage box place the moth balls or crystals on top of the garments before the box is sealed. In a closet, place the mothicide on the highest shelf.

Package instructions tell how much mothicide is necessary per cubic foot. The chemical itself or the package containing it should not come in direct contact with the fabric or trim of the garment.

Read the ingredients on the moth proofing package carefully. One effective chemical, Paradichlorobenzene, will soften plastic and make it sticky. When using this chemical remove plastic buttons from garments, do not use plastic bags and do not use plastic hangers. If a mothicide contains Paradichlorobenzene, store garments in a sealed pasteboard box.

There are a variety of moth repellent products on the market. Read the labels carefully and select the product most suitable to your needs.

Two Lettermen Bolster Wayne High Golf Team

With only two lettermen on this year's squad, Wayne High golf coach Harold Maciejewski remains optimistic about the season.

"We don't have any seniors on our 12-man team," he pointed out, "but our two lettermen will help out." Both golfers, Scott Ehlers and Mark Schram, are juniors. They both shoot in the low 40's.

After four practice rounds, Ehlers and Schram carded the team low average with 42. Left-handed Robin Kudrna, another junior, is next in line with a 45. Right now junior Randy Workman is fourth with a 47.

Two freshmen members of the team are tied for fifth with 48. Maciejewski said Dave Hix and Tom Johansen could be very valuable to the team if they can get their scores in the 40-42 region.

Another man the coach is eyeing for the top five is junior Tod Bigelow. Presently, he is carding about a 49.

"We have two good golfers for state (referring to Ehlers and Schram)," Maciejewski said. "If we can get two more then the team should be in pretty good shape for the state tournament in Lincoln May 18."

For the first time this year, each high school will be limited to four players at the state meet. In previous years, any school could enter five men, with four scores counting in the meet.

This new policy will not hold true for invitationals or conference meets, Maciejewski said.

Today (Thursday) Wayne opens its season at Oakland with a triangular, West Point High is the third team in the meet. List of the other meets: April 14—Albion invitational; 16 at Norfolk High; 17 South Sioux City and West Point; 24 Norfolk Catholic; 28 Bloomfield invitational.

May 1—Norfolk High; 3 Husker Conference at Beemer; 18 state tournament at Norfolk.

8-Ballers Ousted

One Wayne and a Wakefield man were eliminated in the Midwest 8-Ball Tournament in Omaha this weekend.

Bill Carlson, representing Dick's Tavern, and Terry Luft of Scotty's fell in the best-of-five series.

Luft advanced to the second of seven rounds before bowing out (3-1) while Carlson went out in the first round, also, 3-1.

Wayne, Winside Tie for Sixth at Stanton Meet

Wayne and Winside High's track teams tied for sixth place Tuesday at the Stanton invitational track meet.

Both schools scored 17 points in the eight-school meet. Osmond won the invitational in a one-point squeaker over Madison, 61-60.

Other schools in the meet were Baffle Creek (37 1/2), Neligh (37), Stanton (28 1/2), and Norfolk High reserves 13.

Blue Devils Gordon Emry and Dan Hansen were the only locals to score twice at the meet. Emry took fourth in the triple jump with a 37.2 leap and third in the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.8.

Hansen finished fifth in the 440 with a 55.4 timing, two places behind Winside's Larry Weible—third in 55 seconds. Hansen also won third place showing in the 880 (2:11.4). Winside's Rue Langenberg finished second in the same event with a 2:10.5 showing.

Winside's mile relay team won its event with a 3:46.5 clocking while the Wayne men finished fourth in 3:52.5.

Other men who placed were: Wayne Randy Nelson, fifth in the long jump (37.2); Dick Chapman, fourth in the 100-yard dash (1:10.8) and Brad Pflueger, fifth in the 220-yard dash (1:24.9). Wayne was fourth in both 880-relay (1:43.5) and the mile relay (3:52.5).

Winside Steve Brummels, fifth in the two mile run (11:07.9), and Jeff Farren, fifth in the triple jump (37.2). Winside was fifth in both the two-mile relay (9:14), and the 880-relay (1:46.5).

Laurel Elects 1973-74 Cheerleaders

Six Laurel High varsity cheerleaders were elected April 5 during a Laurel Pep Club meeting.

Cheering the Bears during the 1973-74 school year will be:

Kathy Maxon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Maxon; Le Ann Sudbeck, Chris Suber (Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knudson); Pam Renter (Mrs. Howard Renter); Kim Chace (Dr. and Mrs. Walter Chace) and Susan Schroeder (Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Schroeder), all of Laurel.

Free Permits Available to Senior Citizens

Nebraskans 70 years old or over are still eligible for free hunting and fishing permits, but a bill passed recently by the Unicameral has eliminated the privilege for nonresidents. The bill, LB 138, limits free permits to residents only. It carried the emergency clause, which made it effective March 15 with the governor's signature.

According to the Game and Parks Commission, any application for a free permit received from a nonresident before March 16 will be honored with a license good for the remainder of 1973. Any later applications will be denied, however.

Emry's Team Nips Straight's In 3 Overtimes

It took three overtimes, but Brad Emry's team Friday night knocked off Straight's 53-50, with Emry pouring in 33 points for the night in the local sixth and seventh grade basketball league contest.

With only three players on each team, Emry's managed to squeak out the victory with the aid of Mike Niemann's 15 points. Don Straight and Dennis Carroll each had 11 for the losers; Dave Hamm scored 10.

In the second game, Schwartz team dropped Ginn's, 33-24. Dave Schwartz had 16 for the winners, while James McCright finished with six.

For Ginn's team, Tom Ginn had 11, Shaun Wells netted six and Jay Stollenberg had five.

Winside, Wakefield Relay Teams Perform Well At Plainview Meet

Wakefield and Winside High's relay teams racked up first place wins Friday in the 25 school Class C division of the Plainview invitational.

The Wildcats, led by Scott Deck, Bob Janke, Greg Lage and LaRue Langenberg, captured the two-mile relay in 8:48.8. The Wakefield foursome took second place.

Wakefield set a new meet record in the 880-relay with a 1:37.4 clocking. Randy Kahl, Mark Kober, Chuck Rouse and Dave Scheel paced the area schools, with Scheel making the quarter leg in 23 seconds.

Scheel also was instrumental in leading his team to a second place finish in the standings. Wakefield totaled 25 1/2 points to first place Keva Paha's 40.

The only senior member of the Wakefield crew grabbed third place finishes in the triple jump (40.54) and pole vault (11.6) while winning second in the long jump (24.0).

Also making their marks for the Trojans were Doug Prohaska, Pat Nicholson and Keith Woodward.

Woodward took fifth in the 880 (2:12) while Nicholson claimed fourth in the 180 low hurdles and 22.7 and Prohaska tied for third in the mile (4:53.8).

Laurel's Keith Olson boosted himself into first place in the pole vault with an 11-6 mark to win the event.

He and teammates Mark McCoy, Bob Lillard and Bill Dalton aided the Bears to 10th place with a total of 14 points.

Dalton—last year's state contender—won the 180 yard low hurdles—finished second in the event. Lillard, got a third place in the shot and McCoy took fifth in the discus.

Winside, which finished 14th with eight points, stayed in the running on the efforts of its two relay teams. Besides its winning two-mile team, the mile relay squad completed the oval for a fourth-place finish.

In the Class B division, Wayne High collected 13 points in the eight-school category to finish seventh. Coach Al Hansen's team received help from double winners Brad Pflueger, Dan Hansen and Dick Chapman.

Chapman, in addition to his fourth place finish in the 100 (1:10.8), ran on the 880 relay team which took third Ken Baier, Galen Miller and Randy Nelson joined Chapman for a 1:39.6 showing.

Former Carroll Native Captures State Boxing Award

BRIAN FRINK has reasons to be proud. And so do his parents. Brian, son of former Carroll residents Mr. and Mrs. Don Frink, won the state junior boxing championship in the 134-pound class at the state competition in Lexington the last weekend in March.

In addition, the 15-year-old member of the Norfolk Boxing Club was named the Outstanding Junior Boxer of the Year.

This Saturday the Norfolk High student is off to Winter, S.D., to make his bid for the inter-state Golden Gloves boxing title in the 134-pound division. (The two states involved are Nebraska and South Dakota).

If Brian should do well there, his dreams of going to the nationals (at Minnesota this year) will have to wait.

According to his parents, this time of the school year there are too many activities going on or being planned to allow Brian and his family to take off. As Brian knows—there's always next year.

ANOTHER AREA man making the news is Laurel's George Schroeder. The freshman at South Dakota State University in Brookings "made a big splash in North Central Conference basketball circles this winter," a news release pointed out.

Schroeder—the first jackrabbit to appear in all 26 games as a freshman—"battled the boards and scored well when needed to help the running Rabbits to an 18-8 season record."

The Jacks won the North Central Conference for the fourth time in six years and made a trip to the NCAA regionals for the fifth time in the last six seasons.

There the South Dakota State team dropped a close one to undefeated Coe College, 107-104, in the finals.

"George made a tremendous contribution this season by coming off the bench in crucial situations and really playing well," commented head coach Jim Marking. "He's a ballplayer's ballplayer," the coach added.

OFTEN TIMES don't get to look at some fine wrestling in the junior high level. The many high school events taking place—plus trying to keep up with a host of college activities—doesn't give me a chance to look at the members of the junior wrestling squads.

But Winside junior high coach Doug Barclay and assistant Cap Peterson point out that their 15 member team was 2-0 in duals and placed second at the Howells invitational and third at Wisner Pilger.

Those boys' deserving recognition: Gary Wylie—80 pound class; Jerry Bleich—88; Kevin Cleveland and Ed Morris—96; Dan Brockman, LaVerle Miffler, Russ Longnecker and Greg Jenkins—104; Paul Barg—120; Verneal Marotz and Dale Bowder—128; Jeff Carstens—136; Neil Wagner—144; Don Landanger and Bill Anderson—hwt.

SPEAKING OF WINSIDE, this Friday night at 6:30 the high school will have its annual sports banquet honoring the individual athletes at the school.

Eddie Sutton, head basketball coach at Creighton University in Omaha, will be featured speaker.

Tickets for the evening can be purchased from any member of the pep club for $1.75. The Women's Auxiliary will serve the meal in the multipurpose room of the Elementary school.

RODEO FANS will have a chance to view some good riding Friday and Saturday when the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Rodeo Association sponsors an intercollegiate rodeo.

In conjunction with the activities, the UN-L Block and Bridle Club also will be sponsoring its annual Quarter Horse Show Thursday and Friday and the Appaloosa Horse Show Sunday.

Ikes' Farmer Night Set for May 14; Limit Fish Catches

The Izaak Walton League of Wayne will sponsor a Farmers Night May 14 at the club's lake site northwest of Wayne.

At Monday night's meeting members voted to have each member invite a farmer and his wife to the sour-dough pancake feed.

In other action, the club has placed a limit on the number of bass to five that can be taken from the lake. Although the state limit is 10, officials pointed out that two years ago the lake was stocked with quite a large number of fish. The number is dwindling too fast for the fish to multiply, they note.

This is the first time the club has placed a limit on the number of catches.

It is unlawful in Nebraska to dig or mine for bait on any state owned or controlled area.

Varsity Follows Story-Writer's Script to Down WSC Alumni, 7-6

For everybody's pride, the varsity-alumni football game at Wayne State turned out just about like a story-writer's script. Except that a good story-writer probably would not have written in such miserable weather (frigid and windy) as nature dished out Saturday.

As it turned out, the undermanned varsity came from behind to snatch away a 7-6 victory from a grad squad loaded with talent and—size—most of them among Wayne's aces of recent years.

To make matters more ominous for Coach Del Stoltenberg's crew, a big share of the alumni, arrived in uncommonly good condition. About all they lacked was a bit of practice to tune up their going.

But Marty Goring, a quarterback starter for most of his four years, tipped off the alumni philosophy with a quip: "If we get fired, we'll just call a fumble."

Matter of fact, there were a few fumbles, but Marty didn't say whether anybody called them. And another fact, the grads forced a few varsity fumbles and recovered some. One of those bobbles fell into the hands of defensive tackle Darrell Fenton who set out lumbering goalward and darn near got away.

Shades of the 1965 Wayne-Chadron game! In that game Fenton scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter on interception and fumble returns.

But this time the only scores came on pass plays. In the third quarter the alumni took advantage of a varsity penalty back to the 12 yard line. Sam Singleton, who holds all of Wayne's rushing records, tossed a pass to end Jim Fletcher in the end zone. Unfortunately, as it never developed, the kick for points never got off because of a fumble.

After this accomplishment, the grads started a game called "Hey, I-always wanted to play fullback (or end or quarterback or something), so lemme play it." Came the fourth quarter and the varsity, with a 30 mph gale behind them, cranked up a drive which included a line pass from quarterback Rick Benedetto, then another Benedetto aerial which fell into the hands of wingback Dean Ott. Pronto, the score was tied on a dandy 42 yard play and Rich Mangia meli made it 7-6 with a point kick.

The old guard got down to serious business again, but the varsity also stayed in business and that was the game. Coach Stoltenberg considered the varsity showing "pretty good" all things considered the quality of the alumni and the lack of several regulars who are crippled or playing baseball or track. He mentioned Brian Moeller for several good gains, although he was playing fullback in place of the injured regular, Dan Jones, and trackman Dennis Linker. Usually Moeller plays wingback. Brent Moeller also kicked good in the defensive secondary. Buryly defensive and Stan Low problems, as did nose man Pat Donohoe. Stoltenberg said, and Ott played his "usual heady, steady game."

"The alumni think we ought to do this again next year," the coach said. "We just might work it into a big sports weekend, along with a baseball game."

Sophomores, Seniors To Clash in Playoffs

The sophomores and seniors will square off this Monday night for the playoff championship of the local high school basketball recreation league. Last Monday night the seniors nipped the juniors in overtime, 76-74, to win a berth in the playoffs at the city auditorium. Roger Saul hit the winning bucket with about four seconds in the game after it was tied at 68 all at the end of regulation play. Saul also captured the team high with 26. Randy Nelson was next high with 15. Doug Sturm had 13 and Steve Mordhorst finished with 10.

For the juniors, Randy Workman sunk 19 points, Tod Bigelow and Jerry Sech, 15.

The sophomores earned their position in the finals with a 97-72 drubbing of the Boys Club.

Marty Hansen tipped the nets for 26 points to lead the underclassmen. Earle Overin had 21. Erik Mitchell had 18. Jack Froehlich had 12 and Bob Keating had 10.

In addition to the 8:15 p.m. senior sophomore clash, the juniors will battle the Boys Club for third place. That game is scheduled for 7.

Wayne State Gals Hit Kearney State In Doubleheader

Idle this week during final exams, the Wayne State women's softball team goes back into action Monday against the University of Nebraska in a 5 p.m. game at Lincoln.

The gals survived a marathon doubleheader Saturday when they beat Kearney State 8-3 and 8-7 in 10 innings. Besides the five hour grind, the teams had to contend with an icy wind blowing over the Wayne diamond.

Mary Gerken turned in a heroic pitching performance—seven innings in the opener, then seven innings of relief in the second game.

Wayne got six hits and committed four errors in the first tilt while Kearney reversed those figures with four hits, six errors.

The nightcap turned into a wild hitting siege—15 by Wayne, 12 by Kearney—and errors were numerous too, the winners committing nine bobbles, Kearney six.

Suzi Scheel started on the mound for Wayne, then Gerken took over in the fourth inning. After a see-saw trade of runs, Wayne broke the game in the bottom of the tenth when Jan Nyquist smashed a bases-loaded triple.

Now 3-1 for the season, Wayne has a lofty field batting average of .305 while the opponents are .223. Nyquist's .538 bat work tops the team, and Gerken hits about as well as she pitches with a .400 pace. Six others are hitting from .333 up.

Athlete of the Week

Wakefield's Dave Scheel is not a one-man-track team. But his role during the Plainview invitational last Friday sure made him look like one.

Dave collected 111% of the team's 251 points to help the Trojans claim second place in the 25-school Class C division of the meet—the best the school has done in a long time, according to coach John Torczon.

Scheel broke two school records in the track meet, earning him this week's Athlete of the Week award, "the first of the spring season."

In the triple jump he went 40.57—a foot better than the mark he set last year—for third place. The senior also finished third with an 11.6 showing in the pole vault. That vault broke an 11 foot record set in 1939 by Dewaine Paul. Torczon pointed out that Scheel tied The 1939 record four times last year.

"This year I expect Dave to go about 12-6 in the shape of our field improves," the coach added.

Scheel's first place ribbon came in the 800-relay when he and Randy Kahl, Mark Kober and Chuck Rouse broke the meet record of 1:37.5 by a tenth of a second—1:37.4. Dave, the fastest man on the team, ran a good 23-second leg.

Another accomplishment Dave can add to his credits is a second-in the long jump (20.4). He was about nine inches short of the school record of 21.13.

Dave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheel of Wakefield, is not a stranger to receiving the athlete award. During the basketball season he was twice given the award and earned a place on the Wayne Herald's first all-area basketball team.

Winch Steps Down as Winside BB Coach

Winside High's head basketball coach, Jim Winch, is stepping down after four years at the helm.

Winch, who started as head basketball coach in 1969, will continue as athletic director at the high school and head coach of the girls' track team, according to Don Leighton, superintendent.

During Winch's four years, he completed a 26-47 record. Before coming to Winside, the Wayne State grad was the head coach at Belgrade High School (1962-65) and Palmer High School (1965-69).

As of Tuesday, no new basketball coach was named. Leighton pointed out that during Monday night's school board meeting, Doug Barclay was named as the new head football coach, replacing Doug Barry, who has resigned. Barclay also will head the wrestling team as well as assist on the boys' track team.

Other appointments include Carter "Cap" Peterson—as head track, assistant football and head wrestling coach.

Stacy Swinney of Wayne is the new president of the Logan Valley Gun Club. He was elected last week during the club's monthly meeting.

Swinney, who was the vice president, replaces Bill Wilson of Wayne as the club's leader.

Filling in at Swinney's former position is Randy Ellis of Allen. A list of the other members elected and their offices:

Becky Wilson, Wayne, secretary; Ron Von Seggren, Wayne, treasurer; Alan Van Buskirk, Dixon, field captain; Darrell Doeschler, Wayne, assistant field captain; board members Sam Knepper and Howard Kimball, both of Allen, and Les Doeschler, Wayne.

5 Persons Named Registrars

Five Wayne County residents have been appointed to register young men when they reach their 18th birthday, reports Shirley Bergt of Wayne, executive secretary of the county Selective Service board.

They have been appointed to assume duties currently handled by her office, she said, because the Selective Service System's authority to induct men into the armed forces will end on July 1.

The change to the all-volunteer army will result in closing of Selective Service offices across the nation, the executive secretary said.

Serving as registrars will be Mrs. Virginia Wright, Wilbur Giese, Ken Carlson and Chris Bargholz, all of Wayne, and Ron Kramer of Winside.

Young men will still be required to register when they reach 18 years of age, she noted.

Young men reaching their 18th birthday are reminded that they have 30 days before or 30 days after their birthday to register.

Kiwanis Planning Annual Scholastic Banquet May 14

Plans for the ninth annual Scholastic Achievement Banquet for Wayne-Carroll students are getting underway, reports Gene Bigelow, chairman in charge of the Kiwanis function.

Bigelow told Kiwanis members at their noon meeting Monday that the banquet is set for May 14 to honor the top students in the four high school classes and two middle school classes.

There will be 10 students honored from the sophomore, junior and senior classes, he noted, but numerous ties in the ninth grade have forced recognizing 12 members of the freshman class.

Other students recognized at the dinner will be four from the seventh and eighth grades. All together, Bigelow expects about 50 students, parents and family members to attend the event, slated for the Birch Room at Wayne State College.

Lyle Seymour, president of Wayne State College, will be guest speaker for the night, with Bob Carhart, Kiwanis president, acting as master of ceremonies.

Kiwanis members serving on the committee to help set up the banquet are Dr. Wayne Wessel, Ken Olds, Jim Hummel, Irvin Brandt, Niel Edmunds, Al Wittig, Dale Gutshall and Ed Niemann.

Gutshall, chairman of the pancake feed, reported that this year the Kiwanis collected $533.57 profit — $18.99 less than the previous year — from the feed.

Gutshall said that higher expenses this year — $421.37 compared to the 1972 total of $395.94 — was the main reason for the decrease in profit.

This year the feed grossed $954.94, bettering last year's mark of $948.50.

Before closing the meeting,

Emission Class Set For WHS

An automotive emission control class designed for mechanics and other persons who work on cars and trucks will be held at Wayne High School Monday night.

Lyle Seymour, president of Wayne State College, will be guest speaker for the night, with Bob Carhart, Kiwanis president, acting as master of ceremonies.

Kiwanis members serving on the committee to help set up the banquet are Dr. Wayne Wessel, Ken Olds, Jim Hummel, Irvin Brandt, Niel Edmunds, Al Wittig, Dale Gutshall and Ed Niemann.

Gutshall, chairman of the pancake feed, reported that this

The new federal government ecology booklet will be available to persons attending the class. No actual shop work will be performed by those attending the class.

A total of 30 such classes are being offered by the school, 25 of them in area communities and five at the Norfolk campus. They are scheduled throughout the summer.

Instructing the class will be James Steen. An automotive mechanics graduate of University of South Dakota at Springfield, he will teach automotive mechanics at Watertown, S. D., this fall.

No advance registration is required to attend the class. Additional information may be obtained from Northeast Tech.

Corrections

The lump sum settlement approved in Wayne County district court last week in a petition by Minnie K. Ebker, of Wayne was incorrectly reported in Monday's issue of The Herald.

The correct sum approved was $2,161.54, not $12,161.54 as stated in the Courthouse News column.

Petition stemmed from an accident at Wayne State's cafeteria in late 1971.

The town of Melvin ceased to exist about 68 years ago, not "about '68" as stated in Monday's feature story about the community.

Started by Melvin Benedict near Hoskins shortly before the turn of the century, the community died about the same time the post office did, in 1905. It was located northwest of Hoskins.

Mrs. Mabel Kennedy, who now lives in Wayne, came across information about the town when she was cleaning out her house in Norfolk after her husband died in March. It was her father who started the community.

Rural Teachers Plan Tour at Friday Meet

Plans were made at the Friday meeting of the Wayne County Rural Teachers Association for the annual rural school tour to be held April 27.

Approximately 100 seventh and eighth grade students from rural schools in Wayne County will meet at the courthouse at 6 a.m. to board buses for the trip to Omaha. The students will visit Boy's Town, KOIL Radio Station, the police station, the Union Pacific Railroad Museum and Offutt Air Force Base.

The rural teachers named Mrs. Edith Cook of Carroll as president of the Teacher's Association for the coming year. Other officers chosen at the Friday meeting were Mrs. Ella Roberts of Hoskins, vice-president; Mrs. Betty Ream of Wayne, secretary; and Mrs. Gloria Leseberg of Wayne, treasurer.

Wow! A Media Fair

STUDENTS AND parents alike got a close look at some of the new — and old — audio-visual equipment being used in the Wayne-Carroll school system Tuesday night. Carroll Seeking Help From Winside Police

No date has been set for a meeting between the Carroll and Winside town boards to discuss the possibility of Carroll acquiring police protection.

Winside mayor Vernon Hill said he will meet with the Winside board in the near future to find out whether the town is willing to provide Carroll with the services of its police staff.

Last week, the Carroll board voted in favor of having the Winside department furnish protection on a 30-day trial basis. The board left it up to Winside as to what amount of protection $200 per month would buy.

Wayne County 4-H'ers will compete in the annual Timely Topic Speech Contest Monday evening.

The contest, slated for 7:30 p.m. in the district courtroom in the county courthouse in Wayne, will be open to all 4-H youths who wish to compete, according to county agent Don Spitzke. Named during the evening will be one boy and one girl to represent the county at the district speech contest, scheduled for Norfolk May 12.

Business Notes

A surprise welcome was given Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skovbo when they reopened the Den Cafe in Laurel last week. When the doors opened under the new ownership Wednesday morning, 60 businessmen and women surprised Skovbos by coming in for a mass coffee hour at 7 a.m. Roger Heitman, president of the Laurel Chamber of Commerce, waited tables.

Skovbos, who operated the Club Cafe in Laurel until a couple of years ago, purchased the Den Cafe from Betty Hansen of Coleridge.

Allen Students Get Ribbons in FFA Contests

A freshman and sophomore from Allen High School were the only area youths to earn ribbons in the 45th annual Nebraska FFA Convention in Lincoln last week.

Freshman Randy Dunn earned a red ribbon in the poultry management contest. Sophomore Phil Emmons won a white ribbon in the crops and soils identification and management contest.

Cancer Packets In Circulation

Cancer Crusade packets have been distributed and volunteer workers are canvassing the residential, business and rural areas in hopes of surpassing last year's $3,000 drive. All donations are to be in by the end of April, National Cancer Month.

Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Wayne, county chairman, noted that 27 chairmen and volunteers turned out for the kickoff meeting held last week in Wayne.

Herman Ernst, area Cancer Crusade supervisor from Columbus, showed the group two films, and Mrs. Edwin O'Donnell of Wayne, representing the local Health Education and Welfare office, announced that any women who can not afford pap tests can obtain them free through the HEW.

Organizations which might wish to procure cancer films for their programs at any time throughout the year are urged to contact Mrs. Rudy Longe of Wakarusa, public education chairman.

'Bunnies' Raise Money

SIXTEEN MEMBERS of the Modern Misses 4-H Club in Wayne County raised $126.43 for the Easter Seal Society by selling Easter lilies in downtown Wayne Saturday. Dressed up as rabbits, the youths braved the cold temperatures and strong winds to sell the lilies as a community service project. Helping them during the day were leaders Mrs. Paul Dangberg of Wayne and Mrs. Warren Baird of Winside. Subway Train Hijack Is One of Top Books At Public Library

The story of the hijacking of a subway train in a large city is one of the books being featured this week at the public library in Wayne during National Library Week.

Librarian Harriet Kerl says that "The Taking of Pelham One Two Three" by John Gody is just one of numerous books at the library which will appeal to all ages and interests.

Gody's book is the story of how the law enforcement officials face the crisis when a small band of fanatics hijack a subway train in New York City.

With authenticity and expertise, the author traces the hijacking from the point where it is an idea in a person's mind to the actual carrying out of the crime and its consequences.

Other books the librarian recommends for reading include "Harry S. Truman," a unique portrait of the former President by his daughter. The book covers the full sweep of Truman's life, from his early days and political career in Missouri through the years in Washington as a Senator, Vice President and President. It also covers his retirement to Independence, Mo. "Soldier," a story of a man's life in the U. S. Army, is also recommended reading, the librarian says.

The book is by Austin B. Herbert, a lieutenant colonel in Vietnam who was relieved of duty and given an efficiency report that halted all chances for further promotion. He tells his own story about what happened and why he retired from the Army at 41 years of age.

Other books available at the library include "Hour of Gold, Hour of Lead" by Anne Lindbergh. Speak to me of Love" by Dorothy Eden, "Fairy Tale" by Eric Segal, "My Favorite Intermissions" by Victor Borge, "Elephants Can Remember" by Agatha Christie and "The Last Whole Earth Catalog."

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce has presented the "Vogue Sewing Book of Fitting, Adjustments and Alterations" as a memorial for Mrs. Marjorie Jacobsen.

During National Library Week no fines will be charged, so anybody who has an overdue book in their home should bring it back this week.

Purple finches aren't really purple. The male suggests a sparrow dipped in raspberry juice, while the female is a drab brown. Native to northern evergreen forests, the birds wing as far south as Texas and Florida in winter, the National Geographic Society says.

Capital News —

Lawmakers face up to hot issues: death penalty, Hiram Scott bill, etc., etc.

LINCOLN—The 1973 Legislature was grappling with the hot issues last week—some of them issues which had been avoided as long as possible.

The lawmakers sent a death penalty bill to final reading—confirmed a controversial psychiatrist as director of the State Department of Institutions, gave initial approval by a minimum vote to a bill adopting Hiram Scott College to the University of Nebraska family and sent to the floor a measure creating a Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

That was some of the action.

The last item—the creation of the new institute—was the result of objections raised by many farm organizations to what they saw as a trend toward de-emphasis of agriculture at the University.

Originally, they wanted the College of Agriculture to have its own chancellor and become a separate arm of the university with equal status to the Lincoln, Omaha and Medical Center branches.

The compromise embodied in LB 149, as it was sent to the legislative floor by the Agriculture Committee, creates the institute, to be headed by a vice chancellor. The institute would operate under the auspices of the University of Nebraska Lincoln, which now has supervision over the agricultural instructional, research and extension activities.

The Hiram Scott issue was a pet project of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who claimed his district was solidly behind the proposal to turn the defunct private college over to the state without cost.

Carpenter says rural health and agricultural extension activities would be conducted there. There wouldn't be any competition for academic institutions in the Panhandle area, he said, although most of his opposition was coming from state college and technical community college sources.

Carpenter got the bill over the initial floor hurdle by a bare 25 votes. He can't afford to lose one of his supporters if he wants to get the measure adopted.

Dr. Jack Anderson has been a controversial figure during this legislative session—but his appointment as director of the Institutions department finally was confirmed last week, 30-12.

There had been three packed-house public hearings on the Anderson appointment. Much of the criticism was based on the fact that Gov. J.J. Exon wanted the psychiatrist to hold down two jobs at once—institutions director and chief of the department's medical services division.

The Committee on Committees, which conducted the confirmation hearings, even met with the governor to discuss the workload problem. At that time, Exon said he was satisfied with Anderson's performance while wearing two hats and preferred that he keep wearing both.

However, just before the confirmation vote on the floor, Exon sent word that he had changed his mind and would find someone to replace Anderson as medical services director. That left Anderson with only the institutions directorship—and a solid majority on the confirmation issue.

Said Anderson, after the drawn-out battle: "I'm overjoyed."

The governor also was a solid backer of the death-penalty bill which was moved to final reading last week aboard a 28-8 vote.

The measure would reinstate capital punishment in Nebraska's lawbooks—according to guidelines, as interpreted by Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer, set down by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Before the measure was advanced, a motion proposed by Omaha Sen. Ernest Chambers was defeated. Chambers had suggested that the governor be the official executioner. The amendment drew only seven votes.

There was plenty of lively debate last week on LB 452, a bill which would create a Government Services Department to replace the present Department of Administrative Services.

"DAS," as the present agency is called, is headed by a director appointed by the governor. The proposed department would be headed by a director chosen by the governor from a list of three nominees selected by a commission made up of the governor, auditor, treasurer, secretary of state and attorney general.

The governor has fought the measure vigorously and even sent Sen. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, LB 452's sponsor, a strongly-worded letter about it.

Omaha Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney said the bill was an attempt to trample the governor "into the dust and dirt..." and make him a ceremonial officer only.

Marvel, however, contended the legislative branch isn't getting the kind of information it needs from a DAS under the governor's thumb. Access to the information is essential, Marvel argued, if the lawmakers are to perform their constitutional duties as the state's policy writers.

OBSERVATIONS

Let's be prudent

Eighty thousand dollars seems like an awful lot of money to spend for building an addition to the county jail at Wayne so the local and county law enforcement officials can share the same jail facilities.

Individuals in the county involved with the regional crime commission are considering applying for a $40,000 federal grant and matching that with local funds to construct such an addition. The addition would permit the two law enforcement agencies to take advantage of the 24-hour surveillance currently provided by the city police, saving tax payers from having to pay for duplicating that surveillance when somebody is in custody in the county jail.

We're sure how much this duplicate surveillance would have cost the taxpayers in the county during the past two or three years had the county been forced to provide it. If the city and county don't combine their facilities sometime in the near future, we're not sure how much it will cost the taxpayers to provide it now that it is required, however, it would take many, many years for the expense to equal something close to $80,000.

It should be noted that the city and county are not considering consolidating jail facilities simply to save money by having to provide 24-hour surveillance at one location rather than two. There would be other advantages, including a simplified radio communication setup, closer workings between the two agencies and the like.

Also, it should be noted that if a request for a $40,000 grant is made it doesn't mean that only that amount will be granted. State officials handling the federal money could decide to grant, say, $30,000 or $25,000. Local money would then be used to match the amount granted.

Still, $80,000 or $70,000 or even $50,000 is a heckuva lot of money—whether the taxpayers dish it out to the federal government, state government or local government.

We are probably not alone in hoping that the persons involved take a good, hard look at what is required to consolidate the jail facilities. A little prudence in spending tax money is in order.

Some bar owners upset

Some bar operators in Wayne are pretty upset with the local police department because two men were brought into town last week to find out if the local liquor and beer establishments have been breaking the law.

Bringing the strangers into town with instructions that they break the law openly in the establishments was an underhanded move, according to some persons. The local police are hired to make sure that taverns and bottle club operators keep within the law, they say, and they shouldn't have to hire somebody outside the community to help them do their job.

Although some don't relish becoming involved in the controversy, the local police department probably doesn't deserve all the criticism being thrown its way. Local police had heard reports of the law being broken in one or two places, according to the police chief, and this was one of the best ways to find out if the reports were true. The law would probably not be broken if local police—in or out of uniform—entered the places and business to check out the reports.

The job of the police department is to enforce the laws. Some of those laws have to do with the operation of local taverns and bottle clubs. If those laws are being broken, something should be done to halt it.

It's not much different than picking up speeders. The police may do it by hiding a cruiser with radar on a side street. The drivers who get picked up by the cruiser aren't going to like it because of the "sneaky" way they were collared. But you have to remember one simple thing: If they hadn't been speeding in the first place, they wouldn't have been ticketed.

Wakefield event a success

The students and teachers at Wakefield really know how to put on an impressive show. They proved that Friday night when they sponsored their education fair.

The fair was an all-school effort to show parents and others exactly what is going on in classrooms from kindergarten through the 12th grade. Grade school teachers and students showed off what they have been doing in their individual classrooms while high school students and teachers look over the school's auditorium to display their handiwork, projects and the like.

Impressive is the only way to describe the displays in the auditorium—tables of art objects made by the students, typing demonstrations, scientific displays, physical education demonstrations... It was even more impressive because it was all arranged orderly in one large area.

Students offered to type the blood of visitors or take their blood pressure. Others handed out samples of what the girls have been making in home economics classes. One ran through a talk and demonstration on castles several times during the evening.

Judging from the comments made by some of the visitors at the fair, we aren't the only ones who gave the fair high marks. Several persons commented that the students, teachers and administrators went to a lot of work to put on the event and deserve a compliment. We'll agree with that.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

Hydroplaning—A Driving Danger

Rainy weather holds many dangers for you as a motorist. In addition to increased difficulty in seeing, rain-slicked roads reduce your car's traction and directional control—sometimes to zero.

Tire engineers have learned that, at certain car speeds, the film of water on the roadway can lift the tires off the road and produce a situation similar to driving on ice. This loss of road contact is called "hydroplaning" and can be experienced at normal highway driving speeds on relatively new tires and at virtually any speed on worn or bald tires.

All tires designed for conventional city and highway driving are grooved to provide multiple road-grubbing edges for traction and to carry off water squeezed out between the tread and the road in wet weather driving. As the water is squeezed to the sides of the tread and into the tread grooves, the tire maintains its contact with the road. At higher speeds in rain, however, the grooves may become unable to channel off all the water. The tires start to lift off the road, and control of the car is lost.

Tread grooves are shallower or completely non-existent in a worn or bald tire and cannot perform their vital, water-channeling function. According to Ross Ormsby, chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council, tires with a tread groove depth of less than one-sixteenth of an inch are unsafe because they can "hydroplane" at very low speeds. Baldly worn tires also are dangerous in dry-weather driving because they are more susceptible to punctures.

A precision gauge is used by tire men to determine tread depth, but you can make the same safety check by slipping the top edge of a Lincoln penny into several tread grooves. If you can see the top of Lincoln's head in two adjacent grooves, the tire does not have enough tread and should be replaced.

Ormsby points out that all three made since 1968 have tread wear indicators or "wear bars" built into the tread. These signal the need for replacement by showing up as smooth bands across the tire when only one-sixteenth of an inch of tread remains. It's a safety signal you should heed.

Dear Editor:

It is disturbing to see the mayor and the members of the city council, except two, ignore the wishes and financial welfare of their constituency.

Over 200 families voiced their objection, by petition, to the proposed unfair share of the cost for the new storm sewer in Westwood Addition. It appeared that no attention was given to the petition, as evidently the matter had already been decided before the public hearing even took place.

At the hearing questions directed to the city engineer were answered by him with only vague, evasive responses. Why didn't he attempt to answer the "last" question put to him instead of just sitting in his chair and looking at the floor?

This and That...

Oats Varieties
Farmers will soon be planting oats and although many farmers have purchased their seed, I'll give a brief review of characteristics of a couple of the better yielding ones.
Burnett for a number of years has been at or near the top in yield tests at the Northeast Station. Burnett is a good, all purpose oats, with medium maturity, strong straw strength, medium bushel weight and medium in height.
Another oats variety that has yielded right along with Burnett is Kota. Kota has medium ma-straw strength, medium bushel weight and medium height. Jaycee and Santee would be particularly desirable, because of their strong strength, where lodging is a problem.

Any of the above varieties would yield about the same, and it would just depend on which of their stronger characteristics are most important for particular farms.
Certified Seeds
Several farmers have asked me if they should always plant certified soybeans and oats. Numerous tests have proven that an average certified seed will out produce non-certified seed of the same variety by a good margin.
My advice is that if a farmer keeps his seed clean from contamination and has the seed run through a seed cleaner each year, after three or four years he should again plant certified seed.
Slight on Peonies
When peony shoots are beginning to show through the ground, control for blight should be started. If you don't control the disease the blight may destroy young shoots or later cause flower buds to blacken and never open and brown blotches to develop on the leaves.
Be sure and clean up all of the old foliage. Put it in a compact pile or have the garbage man haul it off. The fungus causing the disease lives over the winter in the infested foliage of the previous season.
After the clean-up, spray the shoots and surrounding soil with zineb, or ferban or a copper containing fungicide, such as Bordeaux mixture. Spray every two weeks, until near blossoming. If it is necessary, to wet the foliage thoroughly with the fungicide solution for good control. Adding one teaspoonful of household detergent per gallon of spray solution helps in wetting the foliage and prevents the spray from running off the leaves.

Feeder Pig Show for Whole State in Works

The possibility of a 1974 statewide feeder pig show, educational seminar and trade show of swine housing and equipment emerged from a feeder pig committee during a recent meeting.
The committee, chaired by Stanton pork producer Neill Pohlman, is related both to the Nebraska Pork Producers Association and to the Pork-Industry Task Force of the Nebraska Livestock Development Committee.
The concept of a comprehensive "Swine Expo" attractive to not only feeder pig producers and buyers, but other segments of the swine industry, arose out of a wide ranging discussion of area feeder pig shows, the need to stimulate feeder pig production in Nebraska and a desire to update feeder pig producers on new developments in production, management and marketing.
Location of the Feeder Pig Expo was not set, nor was the date, but discussion centered on a site in the eastern third of the state (Columbus-Schuyler area) and a probable March, 1974 scheduling.
An Omaha banker told the committee efforts need to be put forth to "glamorize" the hog business. Noting the importance of financing to any expansion in feeder pig production, he said many bankers have thought of hogs as a "sideline" with many farmers, but now realize "it's a business."

He said bankers are taking hogs more seriously in lending operations. At one time, many bankers would not take hogs as collateral, he recalled.
In focusing on the need for a statewide feeder pig show, the committee discussed the pros and cons of a growing number of area feeder pig shows. Committee members identified two functions of area feeder shows as a source for purchase of project animals by 4-H and FFA members and a show window for feeder pig producers and an example of type of ideal animal at the feeder pig growth stage. The two functions, they agreed, might not mesh effectively in a given show.
The committee took note of a growing number of feeder pig cooperatives in the state, with nine co-ops now in operation or committed and 16 in the talking stage.
Bob Fritschen, swine specialist from the Northeast Station near Concord, said Nebraska is a leader in the concept of feeder pig co-ops as one way to put together a sizable number of feeder pigs for buyers.

IRS Office Will Assist Late Filers

The Internal Revenue Service office in Norfolk will be open additional hours to help last-minute tax filers meet the April 15 tax deadline.
According to Willis Wachter, office manager for the Norfolk IRS office, taxpayer assistance personnel will be on duty at the IRS office in the Court House Building at 125 South 4th Street in Norfolk from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday and until 8:45 p.m. Monday.
The hours are in addition to the regular filing period hours of 8 to 4:45 p.m. through Friday.
The phone number for income tax assistance is 800-642-9960. This is a state wide toll-free number. Callers should dial their access code first.
Taxpayers who have questions or problems with filling out their tax returns should call or visit their IRS office for help. Wachter said that many taxpayers who need an answer to a question may find it more convenient to call the IRS on the phone instead of making a trip to the office. For faster service the best time to call is before 9 a.m.
"I'd like to urge taxpayers not to wait until April 15 to file because statistics show that late filers tend to make more errors in the rush. This could delay any refund they might be expecting," said Wachter.

Business Notes

Two members of the sales staff of Wortman Auto Co. in Wayne will be honored for outstanding sales performance during 1972 at a Ford 300 500 Club banquet this month.
A.L. Kleinke, Ford Division's Omaha district manager, said a select number of Ford dealership salesmen will be presented a club membership award for "excellent retail sales performance."
The 300-500 Club was founded in 1950 to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country.
Kleinke said the average 300 500 Club member sold nearly $750,000 worth of automotive merchandise in 1972, to qualify for the national honor.
The salesmen to be honored are David Park and Leroy Middleton. They will be recognized at the banquet in Omaha Saturday night.
The goldeneye duck is commonly called the "whistler" because of the loud, high-pitched noise made by its wings.

A LARGE CROWD was kept laughing much of the time Saturday night during the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association annual banquet at Wayne State. Why? Because of the hijinks and jokes of Joseph Adelman, alias Dr. Wilbur Schaeffer, atomic energy scientist. Receiving

The award for outstanding service to the livestock industry during "The program" was Don Spitze, Wayne County agricultural agent, who displays the plaque along with George Olson, Winnebago, association president.

'Scientist' Keeps Crowd Laughing, Spitze Honored at Annual Banquet

A phony atomic energy scientist kept a large crowd laughing much of the night during Saturday's annual Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association banquet.
The banquet, held at Wayne State's Student Center, attracted about 520 persons.
Presented the plaque for outstanding services to the livestock industry was Wayne's Don Spitze, county agricultural agent.
Scheduled to speak at the banquet was Dr. Wilbur Schaeffer, atomic energy specialist. He turned out to be Joseph Adelman, an accomplished comedian who had the crowd laughing at his sloppy table manners even before he started rattling off his jokes.

Adelman, who spoke before a Chamber of Commerce dinner in Wayne several years ago, is a captain on the Kansas City, Mo., police department. His name card calls him "the world's worst after dinner speaker."
A sample of his jokes: "I've been happily married for 14 years... and that ain't bad out of 29."
Spitze, latest to be honored by the feeders group for his work in Memphis, Tennessee was named after the Egyptian city on the Nile because of its similar location on a great river.

Famous Mothers

There may have been a real Mother Goose, an Elizabeth Foster of Boston who was married to Isaac Goose. She wrote fables - a rhyme to her grand children around 1750.
Though Mother Goose lived to be 92, the oldest age at which a woman has become a mother is 58. That record was set by Mrs. Ruth Kistler of California in 1965.

She started something.

According to a recent Gallup Poll, women now consider two children to be the ideal family size, compared with four just a few years ago.

Important News about the News Media.

Today, as never before, Americans need information — about events, about people, about products. Read how they use the news media to meet this need.

In March, 1971, Opinion Research Corporation was commissioned to find out how Americans gather the information they need to conduct their daily lives.

Here, from a nationwide sample of 2,023 men and women age 18 and over, are some of the key findings of that research.

1. When people want to find out about news they are very much interested in, they rely on the newspaper more than any other medium.

Opinion Research Corporation asked: "Suppose there is some news you are very much interested in. Where would you be most likely to find out all there is about it?" Here's how people answered:

Clearly, newspapers are America's prime medium for news. Your best customers, then, rely very heavily on newspapers for their news. But that's not all. Read on.

2. When people are ready to buy, they turn to newspapers for the facts they need by more than 3 to 1 over any other news medium.

Opinion Research Corporation asked: "When you are ready to buy something, where are you most likely to find the kind of advertising that gives you the facts you want to know?"

Here's how people answered:

Obviously, when people actually start shopping for something in your product category, your advertisement had better be in the newspaper.

3. People trust advertising in newspapers far more than in any other medium.

Opinion Research Corporation asked: "Where are you personally most likely to find advertising that can be trusted? And where are you least likely to?" Here's how people answered:

Trust in advertising is concentrated in newspapers. With today's growing need for believability, advertisers who use newspapers to carry their messages are getting an important advantage.

To summarize: Americans rely on the newspaper as their most complete, most trustworthy source of information, whether it is news or advertising. And the better the education and income level, the more this is true.

The findings of the Opinion Research Corporation are strongly confirmed by other equally unbiased statistical data.

Simmons '70, for example, reports that 78 out of every 100 adult Americans read at least one newspaper on the average weekday, far more than are exposed to any other news medium. Simmons also confirms the newspaper's leadership among "best customer" groups, too: daily readership is 87 per cent among college graduates, 84 per cent among those earning $10,000 or more, 86 per cent among under-25 married couples.

While television ratings have dropped over the past five years, the newspaper business has never been healthier. In 1970, circulation increased to a record daily average of 62,107,527.

Advertising revenue is growing still faster. In fact, newspaper advertising revenue has consistently outpaced even the massive growth of the Gross National Product since 1945. In 1970, advertisers spent $5,745,000,000 on newspaper advertising, $3,665,000,000 on television, $1,323,000,000 in magazines, and $1,278,000,000 on radio. To put it another way, advertisers spent almost as much in newspapers, as in TV, magazines and radio combined.

Further, preliminary figures show that for the first 8 months of 1971 newspaper advertising revenues increased 6.6 per cent overall, with national advertising up an impressive 12.7 per cent.

As an advertiser, you might want to take an especially hard look at that last figure. Even national advertisers, wedded so long to the computerized cost per thousand efficiencies of television, are once again realizing that their customers are flesh-and-blood people rather than mere numbers. And that — as the Opinion Research Corporation study shows — the way people use the mass media is at least as important to an advertiser as simple exposure to advertising messages alone.

Retailers, whose advertising must produce traceable results in a day or two, have never forgotten this stern fact. They cannot hide behind exposure figures: they must have sales. That is why department stores quite wisely spend an overwhelming 80 per cent of their advertising budgets in newspapers.

If you are not taking advantage of the newspaper's unique place in your customers' lives and overwhelmingly strong position as the Number One medium for news information and advertising information, let us show you how newspaper advertising can help you.
