

It Wasn't So Wild

A humorous look at how cowboys might have reacted when they came across the tracks of Indians is offered in this issue of The Wayne Herald.
It's another cartoon by young Dick Carlson of Wayne, who will be contributing cartoons to the newspaper, regularly starting with this issue. Titled "Not So Wild West," it appears on the editorial page.
Carlson, 16, is a sophomore at Wayne High School who has been drawing and painting for years. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlson of Wayne, he's developing into quite a cartoonist. Look for other efforts of his on the editorial page of each Monday issue of the newspaper.

Wayne City Officials Protesting NPPD Line

City officials in Wayne are protesting the erection of the tall transmission poles by Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) in the three-mile radius of the municipal airport.
Officials last week were informed by the state aeronautics department that the poles may violate the height limit set by airport zoning regulations and could jeopardize the city's receiving federal and state funds for airport work if they are permitted to remain standing.
Later in the week city officials were informed by the Public Service Commission that they could protest construction of the poles if they wished. The city attorney began writing the protest Friday.
Several poles designed to carry the 230,000-volt transmission line being built between Norfolk and Dakota City have already been erected in the airport's three-mile-zoning radius. The 70 to 80-foot poles stand on land high enough that they may reach beyond the 150-foot limit set in the zoning regulations, a city official said.
The topography of the area where the poles cross the three-mile-radius, south and east of the city, is about 125 feet above the airport runway, according to city clerk Dan Sherry, and therefore it's very likely they are in violation of the zoning regulations.

Local Musicians Reap 19 Superior Ratings At District Contest

Wayne High School musicians won 19 superior ratings—the most of any school—at the District III Music Contest Wednesday through Friday at the State College.
Sisters Stephanie and Michele Mendyk each earned two superiors in solo competition—Stephanie on flute and violin, Michele on cello and oboe.
MIKE Nuss gained a pair of superiors on piano and in boys medium voice.
Also winning superiors: Ann Owens, viola; Dave Anderson, trumpet; Joe Mantley, boys high voice; Kathy Nelson, girls high voice; and Dawn Carman, piano.
Wayne's band, orchestra and stage band rated superior. The stage band, last to perform Thursday, received an enthusiastic ovation from a near capacity crowd in Ramsey Theater. It appeared to be the largest audience ever to hear a music contest session at Wayne.
Other Wayne ensembles judged superior were the string trio; woodwind duet; woodwind choir, vocal duet and trumpet trio.
The mixed chorus and chamber choir received No. 3 ratings, the girls glee No. 4.
Wakefield cleaned 10 superiors: the band and stage band, swing choir, girls triple trio, boys quartet, girls octet, girls glee club, trumpet trio, and soloists. Kathy Poppish, girls medium voice, and Bud Swanson, trumpet.
Rated excellent were the mixed chorus and boys glee club.
Allen had superiors on the performances of Kari Erwin, piano; Denise Linafelter, flute; Kim Jackson, bass clarinet; the flute trio, mixed clarinet quartet, clarinet quintet and saxophone quartet.
Laurel's band and mixed chorus earned superiors.
Windsie's girls glee club rated 2, its band 3.
Trailing Wayne in the number of superiors awarded were Wisner Pilger with 15, and Cole ridge, Osmond and Columbus Lakeview with 13 each.

Vandals Strike at Carroll

Two incidents of vandalism occurred in Carroll sometime late Wednesday night, reports the Wayne County sheriff's office.
Four windows were broken on a camper and two car tires were slashed at the Dick Brown home, and two other car tires were punctured on an auto belonging to Mrs. Marjorie Nelson, the sheriff's office reports.
Stolen or strayed from the Alfred Frevert farm six miles south and four and a half east of Wayne sometime Tuesday or Wednesday was a Hereford cow, says the sheriff's office.
The cow, ready to calve, was valued about $450 by Frevert, who reported it missing Friday. Blonde colored, the cow weighed about 1,300 pounds and had a heart-shaped brand on its right hip, he reported.

Former Wayne Doctor To Return to Practice

A former Wayne physician, Dr. William Ingram of Oakland, Calif., will return to Wayne to practice medicine this summer.
Dr. Ingram will practice with Dr. Walter Benthack and Dr. Robert Benthack, father-son doctor partnership at Benthack Clinic.
Currently practicing pediatrics, Dr. Ingram, 46, practiced medicine in Wayne for two years before moving to California in 1956 to begin specialty training.
Dr. Ingram graduated from Hahn High School and studied pre-medicine at Wayne State College before entering medical school at the University of Nebraska. He graduated from the University with a medical degree in 1953.
He was married to the former Eleanor Benthack, who died in early 1972. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Benthack.

'No Way Trial Bus Run In Area Will Work Out'

A hearing by the Public Service Commission, conducted in Wayne in February, resulted in the stage line adding a more workable schedule for Tuesdays to see if enough passengers would take advantage of it to continue it.
Five Wayne persons used the special schedule on its first run on April 3, three on the 10th, three on the 17th and five on the 24th, Busskohl said. Total riders for the Tuesday schedule—including passengers from Wakefield, Emerson, Hubbard and Norfolk—were six on the third, nine on the 10th, seven on the 17th and 12 on the 24th, an average of eight to nine per Tuesday, he said.
Before the September schedule was added, five to six persons used the Sioux City to Norfolk run each day, with a slight increase before and after holidays; the president of the company said.
According to president C. D. Busskohl of Sioux City, basic operating cost for the special Tuesday schedule is $85.50. At this rate it would take an approximate 14 round-trip passengers each Tuesday for the company to break even.

Revenue from freight cannot cut down on expense figures for this special run as it would for regular runs since most freight goes on the regular schedule, which must run every day, Tuesday included.
It would be impractical for the bus company to eliminate the regular schedule and maintain only the special schedule on Tuesdays, the company president explained, because most of the freight customers require the one-day service the regular schedule affords for such perishables as flowers and serum and priority items such as bus, auto, truck and tractor parts.
Before the September schedule was adopted there was an alternate route which customers could count on to get these priority items delivered. See Trial Run, page 6

Tietgen Marks 25 Years with Local Safeway

Grant Tietgen, assistant manager at Safeway in Wayne, completed 25 years with his company this weekend.
Tietgen, who is also grocery department manager at the store, began working for the Safeway store April 29, 1948 after he moved back to Wayne with his wife, LaVerne, and two young sons.
Born at Sholes and a graduate of Sholes High School, he started out with the store as a food clerk, taking over as produce department manager after a few months.
He became grocery department manager in 1957 and was clerk in charge at the store from about a year after he started until he was named assistant manager in 1962. Prior to his becoming assistant manager, the store did not qualify for a person serving in that position.
Manager of the store when he started in 1948 was Milo Dier. Current manager is C. D. "Bud" Schneider, who has held that position since 1966.
The Tietgens have two sons, Larry, a policeman in Los Angeles, and Keith, employed in a printing firm in Minneapolis.

The Wayne Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the city of Wayne, will treat members of the Wayne Senior Citizen Center to a "Know Your Town" tour on the city-owned bus Tuesday afternoon.
The tour will include stops at the municipal airport, power plant, sewer lagoon, lift stations, police station and proposed hospital site. Housing districts also will be pointed out.
The first 35 persons to sign up will get to go on the tour. Those interested should call or stop in at the center. Arrangements are being made by Kiwanian Dan Sherry.
This is your chance to see what your taxes are doing," says Jocelyn Bell, director of the Senior Citizen Center.

He notes that owners of dogs are required by city ordinance to keep their pets tied or penned at all times.
Persons violating the ordinance can be fined, he said.

Large Number Joining Wayne Retail Group

With only two areas of the city covered by last Friday, 58 out of 64 individuals and firms contacted signed up to belong to the Wayne Retail Association.
The association, a division of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, is planning several activities, including a city-wide "Happy Birthday Bucks" promotion each Thursday evening.
The drawing will feature a large jackpot of "Bucks" which will go to the person whose birthday falls on the date drawn at random earlier. A consolation prize is planned also.
The "Bucks" can be spent in any of the firms belonging to the association.
Full details of the promotion, which will begin early in May, will be announced at a later date.
Chairmen in charge of individuals contacting businessmen and firms about signing up are urged to report to chairmen Bob Carhart or Clarence Kuhn no later than Tuesday noon. Final cleanup of the drive for association members should be completed by this Friday, according to the two men.
Already signed up to belong to the association and take part in its activities to promote trade are the following:

Stevenson's Latest Book Emphasizes People

A Wayne man, Dr. T.H. Stevenson, last week received the first copies of his recently published book, "Politics and Government."
The 435-page paperback book was written for use in introductory courses on government at the freshman or sophomore level in college. Dr. Stevenson said. Product of about eight months of work, the book includes sections on the nature of the state, political forces, the structure and functioning of government, typical major contemporary states and international relations.

The emphasis throughout the book, he said, is on people.
The author of the foreword to the book, Edward Johnson, pro-essor of political science at Montclair State College at Upper Montclair, N.J., noted that a middle course retaining solid institutional analysis while accounting for the many extralegal and political factors that contribute to a complete understanding of the total political process.

Johnson writes that two chapters in the book are of "unusual and outstanding quality." The chapters are "Domestic Political Violence" and "War."
In the chapter on violence, Stevenson covers areas such as the ideology of political violence, psychological traits of politically violent individuals, group conditions favoring political violence and the results of domestic political violence.
The one on war, 26th and final chapter in the book, "covers levels of modern war, causes and consequences of war, deterrents to war and similar ideas.
Johnson notes in the foreword that Stevenson explores in these chapters areas not treated in separate chapters by other authors. The one on war contains "many further innovative features" and "is an effectively researched and organized chapter, as is the entire book," Johnson writes.

Stevenson, who obtained his doctorate from the University of Chicago in 1964, has co-authored two other college textbooks, was co-author and co-editor of a third textbook and a contributor.

Okay Expected Soon For Work on Hospital

The approval for work to begin on the new area medical center in Wayne should come within 10 to 45 days, according to Bob Carhart, president of Wayne Hospital Foundation.
Bids were opened Thursday for work in five areas on the new hospital, a $15 million facility which will be built just east of Wayne State College.
Apparent low bidder for general construction was Christensen Construction Co. of Pender. The firm's base bid on the work was $823,150, more than $60,000 under the next lowest bid submitted.
Turning in apparent low bid for supplying carpet for the new facility was King's Carpets of Wayne, which submitted a base bid of $7,571, about $800 below the next lowest bidder.
Other apparent low bidders: Hansen Plumbing and Heating, North Platte, for mechanical work, $431,000; Simpson Electric, Pender, for electrical work, $198,720, and Pegler and Co., Lincoln, for kitchen equipment, $38,808.55.
Chuck Thomas, administrator of the present municipal hospital in Wayne, said he and Catholic sisters from the Missionary Benedictine Sisters at Norfolk will be in Lincoln today (Monday) going over the bids with federal officials.
The bids will then be sent to federal officials at Kansas City for final approval, he said.

Geriatrics Course Attracts 11

Eleven women have enrolled in the adult vocational education geriatric aide course to get underway in Wayne Tuesday evening, according to Mrs. Randall Bargstadt of Winside.
Mrs. Bargstadt is a registered nurse who will instruct the weekly Tuesday night classes. Classes will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. at Dahl Retirement Center.
Being sponsored by Wayne High School, the course is the second segment of a three-part, 90-hour course for nurse aides. Recent legislation provides that after April next year nurse aides in nursing homes will be required to complete the total 90-hour course before they can be in charge of eight-hour shifts.
The first session on basic techniques such as making a bed, the bed bath, feeding and oral hygiene ended April 10. This coming session, to focus on anatomy of the body, body systems and diseases, will run through July 3. The third session, which will concern medications, is scheduled to begin in late summer.
Aides from area nursing homes, housewives and high school students attended the first session.
Because each segment is complete in itself, it is not necessary for participants to have completed the first segment in order to enroll in either of the other two, according to Mrs. Bargstadt.
Students may enroll at the first meeting this Tuesday night if they have not done so before. See Geriatrics, page 6

NOT SO WILD WEST

A closer look. . .

By Norvin Hansen

Had to refuse to print a letter to the editor last week. Wouldn't have been fair to one of the councilmen in Wayne to run the letter without the writer signing his name because of some of the insinuations. Too bad. . . It was a nice letter.

It had to do with councilman Pat Gross and his special trip back to Wayne to vote on an issue before the council back in March.

Gross said he chartered an airplane to fly him from Kansas City to Wayne so he could participate in the decision on the assessments for storm sewer work done in Westwood Addition. As soon as the vote was over, Gross left the meeting, boarded the plane and flew back to Kansas City and the business convention he was attending.

The city didn't pay for the plane trip, Gross says. It will be entered as a business expense the next time the income tax deadline begins rolling around, he notes.

He says he had good reason to fly all the way back to Wayne to take part in that vote. He was on the council way back when the storm sewer work was first discussed, he notes, and the issue was of such importance that he considered it his responsibility to make every effort to attend the meeting at which a vote would be taken on how to pay for the work.

"I knew it was going to be a close vote," he said, "and I thought it was my responsibility to be here for it."

The vote ended up 5-3 in favor of having the city pay about two-thirds the cost of the work, the private property owners the other third.

OBSERVATIONS

Come on, council, lead the way

We briefly mentioned the idea of the city leading the way in sprucing up the downtown area of Wayne in an editorial comment recently. Now we would like to dwell on it a little more.

For some reason the city has, and probably will continue to sit on its hands as far as some type of downtown improvement is concerned. Why that is true we are not sure, but it's true nevertheless.

What we are proposing is that the city council be the leader in promoting a project to clean up, paint up and spruce up the business district. The council should work out some way to use city buildings as models to show businessmen exactly what can be done to make them pleasing structures by spending small amounts of money on paint and labor. There is the possibility that the city could work out an agreement with a businessman on main street to use his store as the model, but it would probably be easier if the city would limit its efforts to city buildings.

It is amazing how much can be done with a few buckets of paint in improving the looks of old buildings. Their elaborate and pleasing design can be emphasized with bright colors, making the buildings something a community can be proud of rather than ashamed of.

Numerous small towns in Northeast Nebraska, towns much smaller than Wayne, have already brightened up their main streets by doing exactly what we are suggesting. Two towns which come quickly to mind are Neligh and Bloomfield. They are fun to drive through now that store owners have spent a little bit of money to brighten up what were for too long dreary and drab buildings.

Wayne could do the same thing. . . If somebody would take the initiative to show others how much better the town would look if efforts were made to brighten the looks of the buildings.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

Nationally syndicated columnist Jack Anderson got off a humorous comment during opening remarks before his talk at the Nebraska Press Convention in Lincoln recently, notes Henry Trysila in his "Over the Editor's Desk" in the South Sioux City Star.

Apparently referring to the Watergate incident, Anderson said, "It's nice to talk into a microphone you can see."

A 10-year-old West Point youth, Kevin Boell, probably deserves credit for keeping a fire in his home from spreading and possibly injuring him, his brothers and sister and his mother.

Son of Mrs. Bonnie Boell, he awoke one recent evening, smelled smoke and began leading his two younger brothers and a younger sister downstairs to where his mother was asleep. He woke his mother also, and the fire was put out after doing only minor damage.

Two Beemer scouts, Roy Liermann, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Liermann, and Daniel Belling, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Belling Jr., received Scouting's highest honor Sunday. They were awarded Eagle rank in Boy Scouts.

Two Wausa men, Bruce Pfeil and Jim

Schaller, were among 16 persons who completed emergency medical training at Osmond recently. The class, sponsored by federal and state governments, began last October, with trainees meeting once each week for a three-hour period.

The FFA judging team from Emerson-Hubbard High School placed ninth out of 76 teams entered in the 23rd annual Sioux City FFA Invitational Livestock Judging Contest held recently.

Team members included Ron Roeber, Steve Long, Marty Stewart and Christie Stewart

Robert Block, former Elgin policeman, has been sued for $125,000 in U. S. District Court by a 20-year-old airman who claims Block struck him in Elgin last November.

Filing the suit was Paul Schrage, former Elgin resident now with the Air Force at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha.

Schrage alleges Block struck him in the face with what appeared to be a night stick after detaining him and some friends one evening last November.

Listed in the suit as defendants are Kenneth Bergstrom, chairman of the Elgin village board, and board members Ray Norton, Richard Kalvelage and Jerry Sheets

Would storage tanks be a good buy?

The city council of Wayne has sent to committee a group of bids on various sizes of fuel storage tanks.

The bids, opened during Tuesday night's council meeting, are from four suppliers and range from 100,000 gallons to 630,000 gallons. Prices range from $16,000 to $70,800.

The committee will inspect the bids and probably recommend which one or ones to accept if the council decides to go ahead with purchasing.

The council has been kicking around the idea of purchasing storage tanks for several weeks now, deciding to take bids to see just how much tanks would cost the city. Prompting councilmen to move this close to purchasing storage tanks was the city's unpleasant experience in obtaining fuel to run the electrical generating plant this winter. During the cold spells the city was cut off natural gas, forcing use of large amounts of fuel to run the generating engines. Compounding the problem, the city's fuel supplier began limiting how much fuel the city could receive during the worst of the winter.

We hope the council gives a great deal of thought to whether tax money should be used to purchase these tanks. Almost daily there are stories in newspapers and magazines which point out that the fuel crisis in the Midwest is not lessening and may actually be increasing. Oil companies are shutting down long-established filling stations because they are finding it too costly to move fuel to them. Others are cutting back on the amounts of fuel they are supplying to their outlets.

All signs seem to point out that the fuel crisis in this part of the nation is going to be even worse next winter, especially if there are long cold spells. There is considerable concern that the fuel crisis will not lessen this summer as it has in past summers.

It would be very reassuring for the city to have a 200,000 or 300,000 gallon storage tank filled with fuel for use if the city ever finds itself unable to obtain fuel through normal channels. But it would be embarrassing, to say the least, to have such a tank standing empty much or all the time simply because fuel is not available. That is a strong possibility, and the council should make sure it considers it before going ahead with buying one or more storage tanks.

Letters to the Editor

Is Wayne High lagging?

Dear Editor:

Why are the girls at Wayne High School not given an opportunity to compete in sports? How come other area high schools have girls' volleyball team, track team, etc. — and Wayne doesn't?

I see pictures and read articles in The Wayne Herald about high school girls competing in sports — why not our Wayne High girls? Are our girls different here in Wayne — don't they have the same needs to compete in sports as other high school boys and girls across Nebraska and the country?

Why is Wayne High School the only school out of 16 schools in the Husker Conference that does not have a girls' volleyball team? Why do other towns in our area and state recognize the values of sport competition for both their boys and girls, and yet Wayne recognizes these opportunities for their young men in high school but not for their young ladies?

These are puzzling questions to me as they surely must be for the parents and the girls themselves.

I'm also wondering how long we will continue to deny these girls an opportunity for self-fulfillment through sports competition under proper guidance and leadership? Is Wayne behind the times?

'Song' Becoming Tiresome

During the past school year I have listened to many verses of "The Song of Praise" for Project Success, an innovative program developed by the Wayne-Carroll school system.

Now I think it is time to evaluate that program using a little common sense as our guideline.

A question one should ask is: Have the participants learned anything really constructive? I do not consider learning to jump rope and waiting a balance board really a great achievement. Children can learn this on their own. I feel the achievements should really be outstanding considering the program costs $65,000.

But, you say, it is federally funded. True, but to receive $1 from the federal government you must first pay in $10. Think of all the tax money sent in to Washington before we receive the $65,000. Federal funds are not a gift from heaven! A lot of people paying taxes in to the Wayne-Carroll school district are on a fixed income and are depriving themselves of necessities far more important than Project Success.

Another question that comes to mind is why five of our educators had to trip to the state of Washington to explain the program to the Orton Society, if the Orton Society was interested, couldn't they come here to see the great project in action? If a poll were taken, I think you would find very few people in Wayne County take their vacation via airplane, and yet they helped pay for five people to fly to Washington to explain Project Success.

I would like to see the school board meetings televised like the city council meeting was one time. I doubt that the average citizen knows much about what goes on at a school board meeting. It is a known fact that, nationally, only 12 per cent vote for school board members. How many in the Wayne-Carroll district know there are 70 teachers on the payroll and that our teachers are paid the third highest in the state?

The salaries of the cooks and janitors will come up for discussion and as with the superintendent, principals and teachers, they will all get a raise under the guise of cost-of-living increase. There are a lot of employees who work for businessmen on Main Street who do not even draw the minimum wage, let alone a cost-of-living increase.

Wayne can top the 12 per cent national figure on voting for school board members — we have more than that on the payroll.

A Tired Taxpayer

Out of Old

Brown County's Sod High School

Due to the lack of available wood in many areas of Nebraska, early settlers constructed many buildings of sod. This material was abundant on the prairie and proved to be a good insulator against the hot summers and cold winters. During the depression years of the 1930's, Nebraskans were faced with a shortage of funds for school construction. In Brown County the residents took a lesson from their ancestors and constructed a sod high school. Accounts of this undertaking are recorded in a 1935 report of the Nebraska Emergency Relief Administration (NERA), a copy of which is contained in the files of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

In 1924 Brown County school districts near Lakeland, located about twenty-five miles southwest of Ashworth, had twelve students of high school age. Because of the lack of a building, the school districts decided to build a consolidated school, with sod as the basic construction material. After receiving NERA approval and funding, work was begun on July 20. Sod was cut from old lake beds in the area and a foreman was hired from the relief rolls. The twenty-by-thirty-foot structure was completed on September 19. Fourteen loads of sod were needed to complete the roof alone.

The dedication of the building was attended by over fifty persons, including State Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles W. Taylor. The school opened with ten pupils under the tutelage of E. E. Holm, ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades of study were offered. The first graduates of Lakeland High School were Sterling Wain and Robert Vanderlinde in 1936. Eventually the building began to deteriorate and it was finally abandoned in the early 1940's. It was, however, a successful exercise of ingenuity in times of trouble and a quick solution to a pressing problem.

Wayne Clothing Stores Showing Neater Look for Spring of '73

By SANDRA BREITKREUTZ

The all-popular casual look is putting a neater foot forward this spring, nipping in its waist, coordinating its many colors and offering a wide variety of tiny ruffles, tucks, pleats and gathers to emphasize narrow waists and to soften the lines of the feminine face.

Short tops have got to be the star of the warm weather show. Dozens of new "shrinks" are available in Wayne stores. There are knits and ribbed knits, plain and striped, the wrap around blouse (a circle of fabric designed to be worn in several ways) and pleated and gathered perma press cottons.

The waistline on pants has moved up to a new high to couple with the bare midriff, though hip huggers are available as well. Pant legs are mostly cuffed and still wide, with monster flares and baggies leading the line in denim, polyester and nylon and cotton knits. Seersucker is making a big comeback in pants and pant ensembles. Blue denim shirt jackets are a new favorite with the gals.

Smock tops are more colorful than ever and body shirts are a must with the flip skirts, short and full swirls of pastel colors.

Culottes have not lost their popularity and the fun cover-all shorts will find their way into many playtime wardrobes.

Clogs are still important, but look more feminine for summer also, and share the summer spotlight with sandals (many of which sport sizable heels) and brightly colored canvas shoes. Completing the picture in many cases will be the newly discovered (though far from new) headscarf, tied neatly behind the head to keep long and short hair styles under control.

Tots through teens and young women too will have no trouble locating the new look in local stores.

Former Resident Wed at Octavia

A former Wayne girl, Shirley Jean Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Peterson of Octavia, was married in 7 p.m. rites last Saturday to Daniel Ray Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Louis of Columbus at the Octavia Community Church.

Pastor Davidson of Fairfax officiated at the single ring ceremony. Amy Peterson sang "Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Amy and Charlotte Peterson of Octavia and Marsha Guenther of Columbus. Attending the bridegroom were Paul Louis of Columbus, and Jim Chlopek and Tim Rickert of Richland.

Bobbie Jo Peterson of Wakefield was flower girl and David Peterson of Higginsville, Mo., was ringbearer. Ushers were Larry Will of Platte Center and John Shear of Wayne.

The bride's gown was a floor-length, empire-style fashion of white chiffon featuring a lace apron effect and long full sleeves. She wore a lace mantilla and carried daisies and roses.

The bride's attendants wore empire style frocks of green print cotton with short puffed sleeves and ruffled hemlines. Each carried a single yellow mum.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the church parlors following the ceremony and a dance was held that evening at the Columbus Legion Hall.

The couple is now at home in California where the bridegroom is serving with the U. S. Marine Corp. The bridegroom attended Lakeview High School. The bride attended Schuyler Central High and Columbus Beauty School.

"Walking Tall"

WAKEFIELD'S Dave Scheel makes his second pole vault attempt at the Wisner-Pilger invitational before going on to take second in Class C.

Wayne, Wakefield Finish 6th In Their Divisions at Wisner-Pilger Invitational

Wayne High track coach Al Hansen will be the first to admit that his team isn't always a winner. But in racing, third and fourth place finished can get you in the money.

Friday night the Devil track club grabbed six fourth-place showings while picking up a second and third place finish to pile up its biggest point total in a major track meet and come in sixth out of nine teams at the Wisner-Pilger invitational.

Letterman Dan Hansen, Dick Chapman and Gordon Emry paced the Devils with two finishes each as the team picked up a total of 22 points in the Class B portion of the B and C meet.

Emry grabbed fourths in the 120-yard high hurdles and 180-yard low hurdles in times of 1:17.0 and 2:24.4.

Chapman finished fourth in the 100 with a 10.6 clocking before taking third in the 220—23.9. Senior letterman Brad Pilueger came in fourth, three tenths of a second behind Chapman.

Dan Hansen, who the coach says "is one of the team's workhorses," grabbed second in the 880 with a 2:07.2 time and ran a 53.2 in the 440 for fourth.

In the mile relay the team of Pilueger, Hansen, Ken Baier and Lane Ostendorf finished third in 3:39.2. According to Hansen, that was the best time for the relay team this year.

"We had our best two runners, Dan and Brad, start the first two legs for us," Hansen pointed out, noting that Hansen finished his leg in a good showing of 52.5. Pilueger had a 55.2 for the second time while Baier and Ostendorf each clocked 56.0.

The only Wayne record to fall in the afternoon and evening meet was the two mile.

Senior Mark Smith completed the eight trips around the oval in 11:45.5, clipping the 1968 mark set by Jon Lambert by nearly nine seconds—11:54.2.

In the Class C division, Wakefield also finished sixth, but this time the field included 15 teams. The Trojans, minus the help of team star Dave Scheel, who injured his ankle in the pole vault, finished with a total of 19 points.

Scheel, who won Wakefield's only second place finish, had to take second in the pole vault after being fied for first with a 12'11" mark. During his attempt to break a tie between him and Ennis of Valley High School, the Trojan senior sprained his ankle, eliminating him from the vault and running on the mile relay team. Ennis won the event with a 12:3 vault.

Earlier Scheel took third in the long jump with a leap of 19.7.

Keith Woodward, Wakefield's man in the mile, came in fourth with his steady performance of 4:50.1. Johnson of Newman Grove won with a time of 4:48.3.

Wakefield was the only area team to place two men into one event. Chuck Lindstrom and Alan Jensen came in third and fourth in the high jump with 5'10 and 5'8 showings.

This Friday both Wakefield and Wayne will travel to North Bend for the all-day Husker Conference meet.

Today (Monday) Wayne is off to Stanton for a three team invitational, including Stanton and Norfolk Catholic High School.

RANDY NELSON of Wayne, looked like he's walking on air during his attempt to take first in the Class B long jump event at the Wisner-Pilger invitational Friday.

Winside Hi Cindermen Zip Past NCHS, 101-35

The Winside High boys' track team pummeled Norfolk Catholic High School, 101-35, during a dual meet at the Cats' oval Friday.

The meet saw the Wildcats jump out to a solid 26.1 point lead after four events and then continue the pace throughout the 12-event dual.

Larry Weible and Doug Bruggeman were the team leaders, with each one winning two events. Weible finished first in the 200 and 440-yard dashes in times of 24.5 and 1:53.8, team mate Bruggeman captured the shot and discus with heaves of 40.7½ and 123.8½.

Winside literally ran away in the relays, winning the 880, mile and two-mile events. The team of Bob Bowers, Terry Alleman, Greg and Doug Lage won the two-mile relay in a time of 9:32.8, while Larry Weible, Dave Mann, Doug Lage and Alleman won the mile relay in 4:05.9 in the 800. Weible, Greg

Commission Adopts Increase In Number of Antelope Permits

Big game hunting regulations allocating an increased number of firearm-antelope permits and at least some either-sex deer permits in all but one unit were adopted Friday by the Game and Parks Commission.

At the same meeting, the Commissioners also set rabbit and squirrel seasons, adopting regulations identical to those in effect last year.

The Commissioners voted to allow 1,410 firearm-antelope permits, 370 more than in 1972. This included an increase of 100 permits in the Box Butte Unit, 200 more in the Garden Unit, 45 in the Wildhorse Unit, and a decrease of 25 in the Dismal Unit.

Antelope units open and permits authorized include: Banner, 100; Box Butte, 350; Brown, 25; Cherry, 125; Cheyenne, 50; Dismal, 100; Garden, 150; North Sioux, 400; Rock, 35; and Wild Horse, 75. The season will run from Sept. 22 through Sept. 30.

Deer regulations for 1973 offer slightly fewer permits than last year, but a certain percentage of permits in all units except Loup East will be valid for deer of either sex. The Commissioners also eliminated the Nemaha Management Unit, making it a part of the Blue Unit.

The Loup East Unit offers 1,100 antlered only permits. Other areas open and the proportion of any deer permits include: Blue, 1,700 permits (70 per cent either sex); Buffalo, 1,300 (10 per cent); Calamus, 1,400 (20 per cent); Elkhorn, 1,400 (10 per cent); Frenchman, 1,300 (20 per cent); Loup West, 1,300 (10 per cent); Missouri, 1,300 (10 per cent); Plains, 750 (30 per cent); Platte, 1,400 (30 per cent); Republican, 1,000 (10 per cent); Sand Hills, 1,800 (20 per cent); and Wahoo, 1,100 (10 per cent).

All of the Pine Ridge Unit's 3,500 permits will be good for either bucks or antlerless deer, and half of the Keya Paha's 1,800 licenses will be good for antlerless whitetails or bucks of either species. The Upper Platte Unit has 1,000 permits with plus an additional 400 for a sub-unit, all of which are for either sex deer. The firearm-deer hunt runs Nov. 10 through 18.

Archery seasons for both deer and antelope were also set Friday. Bowmen may pursue antelope from Aug. 18 through Oct. 31, while archery-deer hunting begins Sept. 15 and closes Dec. 31. Both archery seasons will be closed during the firearm hunts, however.

Initial application periods for both deer and antelope firearm licenses will run from May 10 through June 1. Only applications from residents will be accepted during this period, and permit-holders in oversubscribed units will be determined by a drawing.

Nonresidents are not eligible to apply during this time, and anyone who held either a firearm or archery antelope permit in 1972 is barred from applying for a firearm antelope permit during the initial application period.

Sport Shorts

All persons interested in forming a tennis club are asked to come to the Birch room at the Wayne State Student Center Tuesday night. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

The first of five "Ladies Days" at the Wayne Country Club will be held Tuesday, beginning at 8:30 a.m. with a breakfast and followed by a nine hole round of golf. After the women break for lunch at the club, they will hold a bridge party. On June 5 the women are scheduled to start their golf league.

Anyone wishing to buy banquet tickets to the Wayne Women's Bowling Banquet Association May 9 at Laurel can contact Diane Wurdinger in Wayne. Deadline is this Wednesday. The dinner will honor this year's team winners in the four women's leagues, city tournament and individual city winners.

Town Team Practice Starts Tonight

Baseball practice sessions for members of this year's Wayne town team will start tonight (Monday) at 6:30 at the Wayne ball park, according to team manager Hank Overin.

All local men are invited to join, Overin said. Players from the college will not be allowed to play on the team, he said, noting that the Wayne Baseball Association board decided to make the ruling this year in order to give area boys a better chance of playing on the team.

Some of the men who will probably play on the team are: Dick Tietgen, Denny Paul, Randy Helgren, Bob Nelson, Steve Elmsley, Herb Swartz, Mike Creighton, Paul Edlitz, Lynn Lessmann, Steve Hix, Fritz Weible and Randy Jacobsen.

Mann, Team Snap Cats' Records In Invitational Win at Home

Winside's Patty Mann broke the school's 440 yard dash record and helped the 880 relay team to destroy another school record before the Wildkittens won their own four-team track invitational Friday.

Patty dashed off to a 1:05.7 clipping in the 440 to erase her old mark of 1:06.9 set earlier this year. "The sophomore," said coach Jim Winch, "has never been beat in the quarter this year."

Patty, along with Nancy Morris, Lori Jenkins and Gail Grone, then went on to shatter the school's 880-yard relay record by almost four seconds. The four lap the distance in 1:58.3 to break the old record of 2:02.2 set in 1972.

All these broken records helped the Cats to a point total of 133 to beat out second place Beemer with 115. Norfolk Catholic High School finished third, squeaking out Winnebago, 56 to 52.

But the win—the first one for the girls this year—didn't come easily. Winside trailed through three fourths of the contest until after the 880 yard run when it was one point down.

The girls then collected 18 points with three finishers Lori Jenkins, Gail Grone and Nancy Morris, in the 220 to move out in front before the relay teams—880 and 440—each scored 10 points on wins to grab the victory.

The 440 relay team, manned by Joni Langenberg, Sheryl Peterson, Terry Kleinsang and Jan Trautwein, won the event in a 56.5 showing.

Two other records that fell during the meet were the 50-yard dash and the 80-yard hurdles.

Joni Langenberg topped the old mark of 14.1 in the hurdles set by Patty Mann in 1972 with a 14.0 performance. Sheryl Peterson knocked two-tenths of a second off of the previous 50-yard mark of 06.8 set earlier this year by Jan Trautwein.

"The girls did a great job," coach Jim Winch commented. "I really was surprised at two of our freshmen girls—Cindy Thomas and Tami Koll—they did a good job in the 240-yard dash," he pointed out.

This Thursday the girls will travel to Norfolk for the girls district track meet.

30-inch Walleyes

Spawn taking operations last week in Jeffrey Reservoir (south of Brady) and Maloney Lake (south of North Platte) should start almost any fisherman's heart pounding Walleyes up to 30 inches long, estimated to weigh 9 to 10 pounds, were taken in both impoundments, stripped, then returned as fair game for anglers.

With most spawning about over in the two lakes, the state's crew will be shifting to McConaughy to net walleye by the dam, some 25 or 30 miles east of where it all started earlier in the season. Water warms first in the Platte River at the Lewellen fish trap, then Maloney and Jeffrey, and last at McConaughy.

Nebraska's walleye egg taking program has a side benefit: it should produce expanded and improved striped bass fishing in two million walleye eggs, Virginia will send Nebraska an equal number of Stripers.

The North Platte hatchery, where the eggs are taken, hopes to send eight million green (eyed) eggs to the Gavins Point national fish hatchery, and hatch and rear large numbers to be released both as small and large fingerlings in Nebraska.

PHEASANT-GROUSE CROSS?
One of the most unusual birds taken in NEBRASKA land last fall appears to be a cross between a pheasant and a prairie chicken, which isn't supposed to be possible. George Mason mounted the bird and has it on display at the Game Commission's district office at North Platte.

The bird's pheasant characteristics include a red ring around the eye, legs and feet, neck markings, and the iridescent blacks, blues, and also browns and cinnamons on the breast.

Characteristic of the grouse are the square tail feathers (though longer than normal), barred feathers, general body conformation, and markings on the top of the head.

APRIL FOR RECORDS
Late April of past years has been big for state record fish. Four hook and line records and one bow and arrow were taken from April 20 through 29 in recent years.

These include 3 pound, 15 ounce crappie for Delmer Butler, Sidney, in McConaughy; 29.42, 18 1/2 pound muskellunge for Kenneth Cook, Norfolk, in Merritt; 4.20, 69.4 pound sucker for Jack Keller, Gering, in Lake Minatere; 4.29, 68 and 87 pound paddlefish for Patrick D. Fox, Omaha, in DeSoto Bend Lake; 4.25, 71 (this was topped this year); and 2 pound, 14 ounce sucker by bow and arrow for Allen Spichal, Scottsbluff, in Lake Minatere; 4.30, 71.

MINNOW TIMES
Searing minnows has its ups and downs, even when you know their habits.

Geno Kneifel, long time Columbus bait vendor, usually uses a crew of three or four, including the "stomper," when he goes "minnowing." Through the years he has found that minnows move into the shallow backwater and bayous to feed when it's warm, during the day they don't generally feed until sunset, when they feed in large numbers.

According to Kneifel, when fish are biting, that's a good time for minnows, for fish drive the minnows into the shallow, weedy areas. He also cautioned not to seine when it gets too hot in the daytime; minnows get sunbaked and many die.

MISHMASH—Fewer rifle permits for deer will be recommended for Game Commission action at tomorrow's (Friday) meeting in Lincoln. Last year's total was 24,250. Objective is to continue to improve the quality of deer—more trophy animals. Unlimited number of archer permits again. Nebraska and the United States don't have a monopoly on sportsmen. Russia reportedly has 30 to 35 million hunters, about double the American figure. Raccoons can sometimes be a problem with purple martin or other bird houses. One way to whip the raccoon is to grease the pole.

Nebraska's 11,000 miles of streams, if placed end to end in a continuous line, would extend almost halfway around the earth. Marsh Lakes in Cherry County, with 2,300 surface acres, is the largest of the natural Sand Hills lakes. Deepest is Blue Lake in Garden County—13.8 feet; altogether there are about 2,500 natural lakes in the Sand Hills region, with 55 to 60 per cent of them containing fish life.

To get best results with your minnows, use no lead, light or leader line, and a lightweight bobber. Don't handicap your minnow with heavy hooks, sinkers, etc., for the livelier the minnow, the better your chances are of taking big bass or whatever you're trying for. Hook nightcrawlers and other worms through the head, not through their bell or rink, for that will kill them fast. Wary fish leave dead worms alone.

Today there are over 17,000 campgrounds in the United States. Some fish live to a ripe old age. The rare Nishiki Koi (fancy carp), eight of which were recently given to President Nixon by Japan, range from 10 to 60 years old. One is known to have lived 222 years. The fifth annual National Intercollegiate Trap and Squirrel Tournament starts today (Thursday) at Linn Creek, Mo. Sunday is the big day for the Maywood Trail Ride. Among the new fish and wildlife bills introduced in Congress is one providing for the inspection of fish produced on fish farms in the United States. The bill declares that fish farming is an agricultural pursuit and fish so produced should be considered farm livestock such as cattle, pigs and sheep.

Devils Earn No. Eight On 7-2 Win over Allen

Wayne High pounded out a 5-0 lead in the first inning Friday on two doubles and a single before taking their eighth straight win in a 7-2 conquest over the Allen Eagles at Allen.

Relief hurler Roger Saul, taking over for starter Earle Over in the second frame, earned his fourth win against no losses after bating out the Devils in a bases loaded situation.

Allen started its scoring when second baseman Till Hill led off with a walk, followed by a single via Paul Snyder, right fielder.

With men on first and second, Pete Snyder let loose with another single to load the sacks. Overin managed to get his first strikeout of the game before a fielder's choice by third baseman Loren Book scored Allen's initial run.

With the bases still loaded Overin walked the next Eagle batter, center fielder Darwin Rubek to push across Allen's second score.

At that point Wayne coach Mike Mallette called on veteran Saul for the last two outs to retire the side.

Earlier, Wayne's No. three hitter, Marty Hansen (.348) got the same going for the locals with a booming double. Second sacker Terry Pfeiffer then connected for a single to drive in Wayne's first of five runs. Catcher Bill Schwartz blasted another double for a 2-0 lead.

WHO SAID this is a spring sport? That's probably the question from this bevy of baseball watchers splintering under blankets Tuesday at the Wayne State UNO game.

Shupe, Kamp Lead WSC Batters

A pair of batters hitting .500 or higher and six others upwards of .305 have put Wayne State's team batting at a lofty .351. That's a major reason for the 13-1 Wildcat record.

Jack Shupe, senior first baseman from Bedford, Ia., leads the ball hitting brigade with a .510 figure, and he also tops the Wildcats in several other statistics: 47 at bats, 25 hits, 10 runs, tied for the lead with 26 RBI and six doubles—plus a school record seven home runs for a season.

The other stratospheric batting pace belongs to Greg Kamp of Omaha, with an even .500 figure. That's something for a pitcher, but it takes on more dimension on the fact he has been designated pinch hitter in all but one of 14 games.

Coach Fred Pierce can take pride in pre season WSC domination when he picked Kamp to be the WPH. Last year the Omaha Benson product hit .280, batting only when he pitched.

"Even the players kidded me over that decision," Pierce says, but nobody is kidding about Kamp now. He has 18 hits in 36 at bats, and rates as a slugger too, with six doubles, two triples and five four baggers.

As a pitcher Kamp is equally impressive on a 30 earned run average in 29 1/3 innings pitched, 30 strikeouts and a 4.0 record.

Among other hurlers, Ron Nelson of Wausa has a 2.19 ERA and 27 strikeouts in 24 2/3 innings. Kevin Peterson of Ames, Ia., has a 2.54 ERA, 17 strikeouts in 17 2/3 innings.

The batting charts shows these high figures: Bob Pudil, Cedar Falls, Ia., .411; Ray Miller, Fond du Lac, Wis., .405; Bart Kneifel, Newcastle, 340; Ray Nelson, Sioux City, 333; Steve Heying, Granville, Ia., .317; Jim Wetzel, Grand Island, 305; Nick Danze, Omaha, 285; John Ege, Sioux City, 276.

A Wayne Nebraska Wesleyan twin bill Thursday was cancelled by weather. Next outing for the Wildcats is a double header with Westmar Tuesday at LeMars, Ia.

New Camper Club Started in Wayne

The wheels are rolling in Wayne for the new Wagon Wheelers Club, formed for interested persons who own campers.

Don Langston was elected president last week of the organization, which will travel throughout the area during the summer.

Mrs. Jeff Spence was named secretary-treasurer; wagonmaster will be Ralph Blomkamp.

The 25-member club plans to travel once a month while taking in recreation such as horse shows.

Last weekend the members took off for the Chief White Crane area near Gavins Point Dam to hold a potluck dinner.

Anyone interested in joining — whether he or she owns a camper or not — may contact the officers for more information.

Pair of Winners

HAROLD INGALLS of Wayne shows off the big pair of brown trout he landed while fishing on the Niobrara River near Harrison in the extreme northwest corner of the state. He caught these two six pounders and a pair of five pounders on three different days while he and his wife were on their way home from an extended vacation following Harold's retirement as Wayne County agricultural agent earlier this year. He said the two biggest brown trout were several ounces heavier than the largest brown landed all last year. But he made one mistake — he gutted the fish before officially weighing them and probably cheated himself out of at least a pair of master angler awards from the Nebraska Game Commission.

District Pairings

It looks like the district high school baseball play offs could be a repeat of last year, if both Wayne and Wakefield can get by their first round opponents May 8 in the four school tourney at Wakefield.

Friday night coaches from Wakefield, Allen, Homer and Wayne drew pairings for the meet. Wayne will meet Allen at 1:30 p.m. in the first game and Wakefield will take on Homer in the second game.

Winners of both games will face off at 3 p.m. May 11 for the right to represent the district at the state meet in Lincoln.

Request for Funds for County Jail Addition To Be Submitted Soon

The application for a federal grant to help finance an addition to the Wayne County jail in Wayne will be ready to submit at Thursday night's meeting of the regional planning commission in Norfolk, reports the group's secretary.

Norris Weible of Wayne said the application asks for $40,100 in federal funds to help construct the addition, which would permit the city and county to merge jail facilities.

If approved, the grant would be matched by local funds, he added.

The engineer's estimate on cost of construction is $74,400. Addition plans call for a 30 by 59 foot structure to be built on the southeast corner of the jail. It would include a garage, interrogation area and office space for the county sheriff and city police chief. There would be a basement measuring 30 by 35 feet.

Weible said the regional group, officially the Region 11 and 25 Joint Planning Commission for Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, will have to approve the application before it can be sent to the state crime commission for final approval.

The state commission is in charge of distributing more than $3,135,000 in federal funds for use this year in crime prevention and the like across Nebraska, according to Weible.

The decision to apply for federal money to help with construction of the addition followed a regional jail study

He has translated modern French, German and Italian and medieval French and Latin.

His latest project: adding to a first draft of a political and economic history of the world since 1945.

That book may end up twice as long as his latest book, which contains about 150,000 words; he said.

Such a book should prove popular and useful, he said, because history texts dealing with the world since 1919 cannot cover all events adequately.

The world since 1945 has been "tremendously complex, and there has been a huge amount of political experimentation going on," Stevenson said. A history book devoted solely to this time period could explain things in a much more complete manner than one which deals with history since the end of World War I, he noted.

Stevenson and his wife, Dorothy, have two children, Mary 22, is currently studying at Creighton University in Omaha and working at the hospital there. State Parks Offering Special Cabin Rates

Special early season rates to encourage off-season use will be offered for cabins at Nebraska state parks, according to the Game and Parks Commission. The low rates will be in effect from the May 15 opening through May 31.

From June 1 through Sept. 10, the standard rates for cabins, based on a sliding scale, will be in effect. A stay in a double cabin will range from $14 for one night to $9 per night for six or more nights. Singles and some small doubles will range from $9 per night for one night to $7 per night for three or more nights. Reservations should be made by contacting the superintendent of the park involved.

The off-season rate will consist of the lowest rate on the sliding scale applied on a daily basis through May 31 and from Sept. 10 through the closing of the parks.

Other attractions such as camping and horseback riding will be available at all state parks. Where camping fees are charged, rates will range up to $1 per night per car with a view of private site. Horseback riding fees are $1.50 per hour.

Chadron, Ponca, and Niobrara state parks will offer swimming, which will begin about the second week in June or as weather permits. Rates will be 25 cents for children under 16 and 50 cents for adults. In addition, Fort Robinson State Park will have put-and-take trout fishing. Fort Robinson also has a restaurant, which will open May 25.

A limited supply of free souvenir envelopes will be given away on a "first come, first serve" basis today also, according to Giese.
