Council Gives $4,000 Boost To WS Promotional Efforts

Wayne State College received a $4,000 boost from the city of Wayne Tuesday night to help attract students to the campus.

The council voted 8-0 to contribute that amount to a fund to be used to promote the college in a variety of ways — advertisements in newspapers and on radio, brochures and the like.

Approval came after councilman Frank Prather, member of the college teaching staff, said the college needs financial help to promote what it has to offer to students.

There are no funds in the college budget for advertising, he said, and the college needs to become active in this area if the decline in student enrollment is to be reversed.

Councilmen seemed enthusiastic about the potential of such a fund, noting that private individuals could donate to it in the future.

Mayor Kent Hall said after the decision that it is time for the city to do something to help keep the college healthy. For too long, he said, the city has reaped the benefits of having the college here without supporting it in an active manner.

Council gave the city attorney authority to draw up an ordinance to create a committee which could spend funds donated by the city for promoting the college.

And mayor Hall named himself, Prather and Dr. Lyle Seymour, president of WS, to a committee which will begin working on ways to use the initial donation.

Hall said he would welcome any suggestions of names of persons who would be willing to serve on a committee in charge of promotional funds.

The college has been beset with declining enrollment figures for several years, forcing college officials to cut back the number of teachers and other employees.

Dr. Seymour said recently that the college is trying to change its outlook by becoming more regional in the courses and programs it has to offer students.

He also has said that the college is studying a variety of programs which could be offered once the new hospital being built just east of the campus is completed. The courses would use facilities at the hospital to provide new and expanded instruction in fields of health to students.

Council Okays Hike In City's Tax Levy

Wayne city councilmen Tuesday night approved a budget calling for an estimated levy of 22.7 mills to run the city for the next year.

Approval of the $2,471,736 budget came on an 8-0 vote after considerable discussion about the value of the budget form the city has to fill out each year to meet state requirements.

The budget calls for raising approximately $246,000 through local taxation of real estate property, according to city clerk administrator Dan Sherry.

Property owners in the city will see their taxes increase from the present $22 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $22.70 per $1,000 under the new budget.

Councilmen agreed to begin immediately in drawing up a "working budget" so by next year at this time they will be able to see exactly how city funds are to be spent during the following year.

The working budget would be "much more useful" in deciding where and how to spend city money than the budget form required by the state, according to councilman Pat Gross.

Councilman Frank Prather said he wanted to delay adopting the budget to give the public a better chance to review spending proposals contained in it. He said copies of the budget in formation "should be made available to the public by putting them in the public library" where people could check them out for inspection.

He finally voted to accept the budget as proposed after mayor Kent Hall emphasized that delaying action on the budget could cause problems since the city's fiscal year ends this year.

Many Seek WSC Job

The search for a new president of Wayne State College is nearing the July 15 deadline for applications, and 317 persons have already expressed interest.

Of these, about 200 have sent formal applications, according to Dr. Ed Elliott, chairman of the search committee. Quite a number of applications arrived in recent days, and Dr. Elliott said he expects more.

The committee has processed about 150 applications — looked at them and formed preliminary judgments, Dr. Elliott said.

In addition to weekly meetings, committee individuals spend four to five hours a week studying applications. By the end of 1973, they will reduce the candidate list to four or five nominations, which they will submit to the State College.

Local Resident Wins $50 in Birthday Bucks

A Wayne woman last week became the fifth winner in the Birthday Bucks promotion sponsored weekly by Wayne businesses and firms.

Mrs. Harry Schulz won $50 in coupons, which can be spent just like cash in any of the approximate 80 businesses participating in the drawing.

She was in Wittig's Super Valu when the date chosen earlier was announced. Since she was the person in one of the participating stores whose birthday was closest to that date, she earned the $50 consolation prize.

Had her birthday fallen on the exact date drawn, she would have won the $300 grand prize offered each week.

The winning date is announced in all stores taking part in Birthday Bucks at 8:15 p.m. each Thursday. All employees except those working on Thursday nights are eligible to win either the consolation or the grand prize.

Got Sidewalks Lacking? Well, They're Coming

Residents in a large area of Wayne will be getting notices to install sidewalks at the city's fiscal year ends this year.

Council voted 5-3 Tuesday night to notify residents in an eastern portion of the city that sidewalks have to be installed.

The area is bounded on the west by Main Street, on the south by Fifth, on the north by 10th and Hillcrest and on the east by the city limits.

Voting in favor of issuing the notices were Keith Mosley, Darrel Fugelberth, Vernon Russell, Harvey Brasch and Pat Gross. Councilmen Frank Prather, Ivan Beeks and Jim Thomas voted against forcing property owners to install sidewalks.

Council will consider forcing installation of sidewalks in other areas of the city at future meetings.

County Commissioner To Seek Lawyer in Malfeasance Charge

District Court judge George W. Dittrick Wednesday made no ruling in the case involving a charge of malfeasance against Wayne County Commissioner Floyd Burt.

Judge Dittrick deferred action in the case pending hiring of an attorney by Burt.

Burt, charged by county attorney Budd Bornhof of Wayne with making illegal purchases, first asked the court to appoint him an attorney because he was unable to afford one. He later agreed to hire his own attorney.

Bornhof last week filed malfeasance charges against Burt, saying he had purchased three tires in the name of the county while aware they would be used by others.

Two tires were purchased in December which were for the use of an unnamed third party, the charges read, and another tire was purchased in April for Burt's own personal use.

Burt, of rural Winside, could be fined $200 on each of the two charges and could be removed from office if found guilty of making the illegal purchases, according to Bornhof.

Judge Dittrick set no bond for Burt, who has been a county commissioner since Jan. 1, 1971.

In another action, Judge Dittrick overruled the city of Wayne's request to have the suit against the city by ex-chief of police Vern Fairchild dismissed.

Dittrick gave the city 20 days to plead further.

Mayor Kent Hall and the eight city councilmen were sued by Fairchild following Hall's decision to fire him earlier this year. Fairchild is asking for reinstatement and pay for the period he has been off the police force.

Hall fired Fairchild in April following an investigation Fairchild conducted of liquor establishments in the city. Fairchild brought in two men from outside the city to see if they could spike beer or buy liquor by the drink without memberships.

Hall has said that although Fairchild's firing followed that

Highway 57 Work North of Carroll Slated for Letting

Carroll area residents who have been working to get Highway 57 north of Carroll surfaced may see their dream come true within the next 12 months.

Nebraska Department of Roads officials said Wednesday that project is one of several throughout the state which will be contracted for by June 30 next year.

The $765,000 project will include grading, structure work and either paving or asphalt surfacing on the 9.3 mile stretch of highway from Carroll to Highway 20. The stretch of highway is currently gravel surface.

Although the project will be contracted for during fiscal 1974, it may not be completed during that period, DOR officials note.

The Highway 57 improvement is one of four projects in the Wayne area which the state has scheduled for letting before close of the fiscal year next June.

The other projects:
✓ Second stage bituminous surfacing of the Waterbury spur north of Waterbury, work on the 1.3 miles will cost $50,000.

✓ Grading, structure work and resurfacing of Highway 12 from Ponca southeast to Highway 20; the 10.1 mile stretch will cost $1,940,000.

✓ Grading, structure work and surfacing of Highway 84 east of Hartington and Highway 57 north; work on the 6.2 mile project will cost $680,000.

Those projects are part of $9,100,000 worth of highway work which will be contracted for in a large area of Northeast Nebraska during fiscal 1974.

The DOR plans to let for construction a total of $68 million worth of work on 579 miles of highways across the state this fiscal year.

In addition, the state plans construction and improvements on just over 2,000 miles of state highways during fiscal years 1975 through 1979. That work will cost an estimated $324.6 million.

Among the projects included in the five-year program released Wednesday are several in the Wayne area.

Those projects:
✓ Grading, structure work and surfacing of 9.5 miles of High way 15 from Wayne north. Total cost is estimated at $1,435,000.

✓ Grading and structure work on five miles of Highway 15 from Laurel southeast to the junction west of Concord. The project will cost about $425,000.

✓ Grading, structure work and surfacing of 14 miles of Highway 9 and 35 between Wake field and the junction with Highway 20 north of Allen. That project is expected to cost $1,800,000.

✓ Grading, structure work and surfacing of four miles of Highway 35 north of Winside. Estimated cost of the work is $500,000.

✓ Grading, structure work and resurfacing of seven miles of Highway 35 from Hoskins to Norfolk. Total cost of the project is estimated at $630,000.

✓ Grading, structure work and surfacing of 12 miles of Highway 57 north of Laurel. Estimated cost of the project is $1,575,000.

Wayne Ikes Cited for Conservation Efforts

Members of the Wayne chapter of the Izaak Walton League are proud owners of a large plaque presented to them in recognition of their outstanding contribution to the NEBRASKA Land Acres For Wildlife program.

Game and Parks Commission conservation officer Marion Shafer of Norfolk presented the plaque to the local chapter Monday night during the group's all-family night at the lake northwest of Wayne.

Shafer, formerly of Winside, said the local Izaak Walton League was among the top five sponsors of the NEBRASKA Land Acres For Wildlife program in 1972.

The Ikes enrolled 18 area landowners and farmers in the program, and a total of 48 acres was set aside to provide natural habitat for wildlife.

Local Girl Accepted For Officers' School

A desire to "get out and do something" and a chance to "see the world" prodded a Wayne girl with an education degree to look into the military way of life.

Martha (Marty) Willis, after considering also the Army and Air Force, took a test at the Norfolk Recruiting Station and applied in April for the U. S. Navy. She was notified last week of her acceptance for Officers Candidate School (OCS) in Newport, R. I., and will leave Aug. 11 for four months of training preceding an ensign commission. Miss Willis was one of two women selected from the Midwest for OCS.

Marty, 22, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stan Willis of Wayne. A 1969 graduate of Wayne High School, she received her BA in elementary education from Wayne State College in December and taught fifth and sixth grades at Norfolk Public School January through May.

Dr. Willis, who served in the army during World War II, encouraged his daughter to look into the military.

Marty is enthusiastic about the opportunity to marry and have children and still remain in the service. She looks forward to getting further training in the information or public relation field and to getting a master's degree, perhaps in journalism.

She says, "I don't think most girls are aware of the fantastic opportunities for women in the military which have come about in recent years."

Gilmore Captures Wayne Open

Veteran Omaha golfer Bill Gilmore and John Tomaszewicz made up their minds last year to finish in a better spot in the Wayne Country Club open golf tournament the next time around.

Both carded 27-hole totals of 106 to finish in a four-way tie for second place in the 1972 tourney. But this year things changed both finished the competition with 104 totals to tie for first and end up in sudden-death.

As it turned out Gilmore won the title in three holes after both players parred the first, birdied the second and Tomaszewicz bogged the third.

Gilmore took the lead after 18 holes with a total of 70. Tomaszewicz, Dan Gray of LeMars, Larry Sock of Norfolk and Tom Nelson of Oakland followed with 72 before deciding the championship in the last nine holes.

On the final nine holes, Gilmore, Gray and Sock fired 34's, but Tomaszewicz surprised the group with a 32 to cut the group down to him and Gilmore.

Gilmore, who succeeds last year's winner Jack Kendzior also of Omaha, won a set of irons while Tomaszewicz picked up a set of woods. Other prizes given to the top eight finishers were golf bags for the third and fourth place finishers, a carryall for fifth, a dozen balls for sixth, seventh place won an umbrella and the eighth player got a half dozen balls.

For the top four flight finishers, first won a bag, second a $25 savings bond, third a choice of a dozen balls or a carryall while fourth got a choice between an umbrella or putter.

Wayne's Ray Murray came the closest to winning a 1974 automobile sponsored by Workman Ford Co. Murray fired the ball about 179 yards on the eighth hole — four feet short of a hole-in-one and the new car.

Another Wayne resident, Scott Ehlers, was about five feet short of acing the hole.

"The tournament went off real smoothly," commented Wayne County Club president Del Stoltenberg. "The weather was good. It really helped to bring the golfers to the tourney."

About 260 golfers played in the weekend action, with some 230 of them opting to play on Sunday. Twenty-seven players entered the championship flight Sunday.

Area players picked up their share of wins and places in the 12 flights. Wayne Tietgen, Fred Gildersleeve, Don Koerber, Terry Luft, Chuck McDermott and Ron Carnes, all of Wayne, plus Greg Urwiler of Laurel won their flights. Combined with 13 other local and area golfers who placed, the area was well represented.

Boy Scouts

Tackling Platte

Three Wayne Boy Scouts will join a former local Scout Sunday for a week-long canoe trip down the Platte River.

The Wayne youths are Gordon Emry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Emry; Kevin Jech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jech, and Carl Jenness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miron Jenness.

They will leave Wayne Sunday to join Ralph Arrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Arrett, who moved to Fremont from Wayne recently.

The four youths will get on the Platte River near Columbus for an 85-mile trip down the river to near Plattsmouth. They hope to complete the trip by Friday of next week.

The trip down the river is one of the canoe excursions highlighted in a recent issue of NEBRASKA and Magazine, a publication of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

The four youths, members of Wayne Troop 174, will use canoes belonging to the Arretts and to Claude Harder of Fremont. Harder is a former Wayne resident who was active in Boy Scouting while living here.

Mallette's Bunt, 15 Strikeouts Aids Wayne in Winning No. 14

Winside Midgets failed to make history repeat itself Monday night. The area club, despite a seventh-inning attempt to knock off Wayne, dropped a 2-1 decision to the locals.

Last year Winside played the role of a spoiler when the Midgets unloaded a 3-0 shutout against Wayne to stop the home team's winning string at 13.

But Wayne's 14th win against no defeats Monday didn't come until the bottom of the seventh inning.

Wayne hurler Paul Mallette, who chalked up his fifth victory, fanned 15 Winside players before playing a significant part in helping to score one of Wayne's two runs.

In the bottom of the seventh Mallette bunted with the bases loaded and one man out. As it turned out the whole game hinged on Mallette's attempt. It had to be good.

"If Paul would have missed," said coach Hank Overin, "if (the game) would have been all over."

Overin's reasoning was to the point. Before Mallette bunted, Dave Hix was racing home from third in an effort to tie the match.

Apparently that was enough to upset the Winside club. After Mallette's bunt went down the third base line, the area club froze, failing to get any outs while Mallette made it to first and Wayne's runner on second advanced to third.

Again the bases were loaded with still one out. Center fielder Gordie Cook then ended the game with a single to score Wayne's second run.

Winside, playing tough ball

throughout the game, broke into the scoring column with the help of three Wayne errors. Second baseman Doug Anderson made it to first on one of two miscues by Wayne shortstop Rich Workman. Pitcher Doug Litch then stepped up to bat and found his way to first on another error by the shortstop.

Wayne second sacker Dave Nuss then bobbled the ball on a throw to second, allowing Anderson to come home.

Wednesday night Wayne was scheduled to face Wakefield for the second time this season. Friday the locals will host Laurel in their final league play before going into the district tournament the fourth week in July. As yet no site has been selected.

Last Friday night, Winside earned a 3-2 win over Laurel. After Wednesday's match with Wisner, the Midgets will close their regular league action Friday at home against Pender.

Other area action Friday finds Wakefield at Winsor and Wall Hill Lyons at Bancroft.

Wayne Nine Destroys Wisner with 21 Runs

Wayne unloaded a 14 run scoring attack in the seventh inning to completely destroy Wisner's hopes of topping the locals Tuesday night, 21-8.

The visitors, taking their 10th victory against three defeats, managed three runs in the first and fifth innings and a solo in the fourth before ripping the game open.

Meanwhile, Wisner tied the game after the first frames by scoring two in the first and one in the second.

Charlie Roland got the win for Wayne on the mound, going six innings before coach Hank Overin replaced him with Mike Meyer. Together, they gave up four hits.

Roland and center fielder Gordie Cook combined for seven for the nine RBIs, with Cook taking the edge with four.

After Wednesday's encounter with Wakefield, the Legion team will host Laurel Friday to rap

Brudigan Takes Three Victories At Norfolk Track

Gene Brudigan of Hoskins won racings' triple crown Sunday night.

Brudigan piloted his modified race car to a first in a heat race, followed by winning the trophy dash and added a victory in the C feature to push himself up in point standings.

Brudigan almost made it four wins at Norfolk's Riviera Raceway when he was running second in the C feature. But traffic became too heavy in the No. 2 turn, forcing the vet into the infield and out of the race.

Another Hoskins driver, Gerald Bruggeman, finished fifth in the first heat and came in third in the B feature. Harold Lee Brudigan, also of Hoskins, was third in the second heat.

Wayne's Dennis Janke came in second in the late model heat, the only other area man to place at Norfolk.

Last Saturday Bruggeman came in fifth and sixth in two separate races in Grand Island. Gene Brudigan followed with a third showing.

At Columbus Friday night, Bruggeman picked up the mid-season champion trophy before taking the first heat and B feature. Gene came in second in the second heat and B feature and took fourth in the midseason race.

Donkey baseball coming to Carroll?

Ever heard of a donkey baseball game? Probably to many people in Northeast Nebraska it's nothing new, and certainly enjoyable to watch.

Well, if all goes well, Aug. 20 the town of Carroll hopes to hold one at its baseball park.

Perhaps I should enlighten those who don't follow me.

A donkey game is very similar to a baseball game. The main difference is that each of the players — with the exception of the pitcher and catcher — are mounted on donkeys.

Merlin Jenkins received some information about it recently and hopes the town board will go along with the idea. I'm sure it would be a crowd pleaser.

Motorcross fans aren't going to let the heat completely stop their fan. Not according to Jack Hixon, president of the Norfolk motorcycle club.

By Bob Bartlett

Although weather conditions haven't been very favorable for motorcross this month, Jack and his club plans on hosting the Nebraska Championship Scramble July 29 north of Norfolk.

A total of 16 trophies will be given out, with four going to the top riders in four divisions. Those classes include 125 cc, 175 cc, 250 cc and open.

Hixon calls this scramble a pasture scramble where the bike riders will be competing on flat ground. That way, he pointed out, the drivers won't get lost.

Hixon expects a about 50 riders from around the state to compete in the annual event.

About three campers and 15 people gathered for last week's Wayne Wheelers trip to Columbus. Although group participation is down, the club still hopes interest grows in its Aug. 11-12 trip to Norfolk.

Presently there are no dues for belonging to the club. All that is needed is a spirit for camping adventure and a sleeping bag. The group labels fun as one of their top priorities.

Those interested in the monthly tours should contact Mrs. Jess Spence in Wayne for more information.

This weekend Ponca will hold its fourth annual Little Britches Rodeo at the Ponca Rodeo arena on Highway 12. The two-day event is open to contestants between ages of eight and 17. Over 100 contestants are expected to compete for trophies, western apparel and equipment in the event, sponsored by Ponca volunteer firemen.

Former Wayne High School basketball star Don Meyer has come up with a booklet that might be useful to prospective players.

He and Fred Litzenberger, coaches at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn., have written a guide titled "Becoming A Great Shooter."

The 20 page booklet they describe includes in ball handling and shooting. Not only is the material easy to read, but the pictures give the reader a vivid demonstration on how to shoot better and score.

For those interested in obtaining a booklet should sent $2.50 (that includes the cost of mailing) to: Coach Don Meyer, Becoming A Great Shooter, Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn. 55104.

Meyer, head basketball and baseball coach at Hamline University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don V. Meyer of Wayne.

At Wayne High, he was captain of the basketball, baseball and football teams and won all-state and all-conference berths in basketball.

He was a three-year letterman in basketball and baseball at the University of Colorado, was captain and all-conference in basketball and was named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches All-American team.

On July 22 the Wayne town team will be treated to a barbecue dinner following the team's afternoon clash with Dakota City.

Saul's 12 Strikeouts Fail to Stop Scribner

With Wayne's Legion collecting 10 hits while holding the opponents to five, it's not hard to paint a winning picture for the locals. But Sunday afternoon Scribner added a different hue to the bright colors to rob Wayne of its 10th victory, 2-1.

Despite Roger Saul's cool performance on the hill, giving up only five hits while striking out 12, Scribner capitalized on one hit and a passed ball to score both runs in the sixth and seventh frames of the nonleague contest.

Wayne grabbed the lead, 1-0, in the top of the sixth on a single by second baseman Kim Baker to drive in catcher Bill Schwartz. Scribner retaliated in the second half with an unearned run to knot the contest.

The following inning the home team lashed out three singles, the last one good for an RBI.

Wayne third baseman Terry Pfeiffer led his team with three hits — all singles — and Baker added a pair of singles for five of Wayne's 10 hits. The other five also were singles. But as coach Hank Overin pointed out, "We just couldn't get anything going."

After Wednesday's Ralph Bishop League meeting with Wakefield at home, the legion team (9-4) finishes up its regular league action Friday in another home match, this time against Laurel.

Wayne will host the American Legion and Midget District 3 Baseball tournament beginning July 25, it was announced Tuesday night.

The field will include teams from Winside, Wakefield, Laurel, Randolph, Coleridge and Wayne.

Winside Team Takes 1st Win

Winside's 10 and younger baseball team won its first game of the season Tuesday night, dropping Pender, 5-2.

Tom Willis picked up the win for the area squad, giving the team a 1-5 mark.

Meanwhile, Pender hung two losses on the 12 and under and the 14 and under squads. Winside's (2-4) 12 and under, now 0-6, fell 8-0 before the 14 and under went down, 6-4.

Last Thursday Laurel nailed two divisions with losses, beating the 14 and under, 15-10, 12 and under, 22-2. The 14 and under stopped Laurel, 2-1.

Today (Thursday) Winside is slated to play Wakefield at home.

Allen Midgets Nip Emerson

The Allen Midgets won their fifth game in eight starts Sunday afternoon, nipping Emerson, 3-1.

Jeff Creamer hurled a two-hitter while Allen players Chuck Peters and Brad Chase displayed sparkling defensive teamwork.

In the Pee Wee contest, Emerson gave the area team its fifth loss against three wins with an 8-3 setback. Gregg Carr was the losing pitcher.

Today (Thursday) Allen will host Ponca before traveling to Newcastle Sunday.

A Couple More Trophies

TWO HOSKINS race drivers Gene Brudigan, left, and Gerald Bruggeman added two more trophies to their collections this past week with track wins at Norfolk and Columbus. Bruggeman picked up the midseason point champion award at Columbus Friday night Sunday Brudigan captured the trophy dash in addition to winning a heat race and the C feature at Norfolk.

Wakefield Hands Wayne 3-1 Defeat

Wakefield's town team hurler Lynn Reber has several good reasons to be ringing wet Sunday night.

Besides the high humidity (some weather reports show as high as 60 per cent of moisture in the air), the right hander scored his third victory of the season by dropping former Northeast Nebraska Baseball League leader Wayne, 3-1.

Selected to play in the league all star game at Wakefield today (Thursday), Reber whiffed 12 local batters enroute to his 3-2 record.

Another all star selection, Wakefield shortstop Terry Luff, put on one of his best performances with two gametripping hits. Luff smashed a double in the fifth frame to give the area club a 2-0 lead over Wayne.

Luff connected for the double in the top half to drive home left fielder Tip Bressler after Bressler's bunt allowed Reber to round second and third to come home on a wild throw.

Wakefield came back in the eighth frame to boost its margin to 3-0 when Luff blasted a triple to left field and came home on a well-bait fly ball to left field by Kevin Hill.

From that point on the pace of the game seemed as still as the heavy air, but Wayne's attempt to rally stirred the crowd.

Wayne right fielder Herb Swan set up the score with a walk before Wayne's second hit of the night, a single by center fielder Randy Benish.

With runners on first and third Swan stole third — second baseman Paul Eddie rapped what looked like a possible game tying home run. But right fielder Kevin Hill snatched the ball close to the fence to halt Wayne's hopes. Swan tagged up at third and trotted home for the final score of the night.

Mike Ginn, on the mound for the locals, took his first loss of the season against two wins.

Wayne, now 5-2 and tied with Homer for second place in the league standings, will face Newcastle Sunday for a possible chance to take over first place.

Sport Shorts

Allan girls softball team added two more victories to boost their record to 8-4 last week with wins over Jackson, 15-5, and a 26-2 onslaught over Walthill.

Joy Kjer (3-3) and Diane Witte (5-0) were the winning pitchers. Julie Tighe was credited with three RBIs in the Jackson clash.

Allan was scheduled to take on the winner of the Thurston-Walthill girls in the Northeast Nebraska girls softball tournament Wednesday before hosting Winnebago Friday in a regular league game.

Winside and Wakefield girls each took a pair of games from Carroll last week. Wakefield won two, 22-6 and 17-8 before Winside notched out a 26-13 victory and a 22-4 win.

Scott Wessel's Catch Tops Fishing Contest. Young Scott Wessel proved to be the top fisherman in the contest held during the Izaak Walton League's all family night Monday.

Son of Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Wessel, the 11-year old pulled a largemouth bass from the lake northwest of Wayne which any bass enthusiast would probably be proud to take home. The fish weighed about a pound and measured more than a foot long.

His catch was the largest one pulled from the lake by youngsters entered in the contest, earning him top prize in the

Two new teachers have been hired for the 1973-74 school year at Laurel High School, according to school officials.

Mrs. Robert (Nancy) Berg, formerly of Madison will teach English and speech, and Mrs. John (Susan) Sandahl, formerly of Omaha, has accepted a part-time position in the art department.

Both instructors are graduates of Wayne State College.

The fire was put out in about two hours, although one member of the Hoskins unit, who makes his home at Woodland Park, remained at the scene later.

The Norfolk fire department was called in for stand by. No one was injured in the explosion despite the fact that

Center to Show Five Movies

The Winside Youth Center will sponsor five movies Saturday beginning at 1:30 p.m. The shows, "American Flag," "Apache Indian," "The Circus," "Blessing in the Woods," and "Birch Canoe Builders" are free to youngsters between the ages of six and 16. The Center will hold a party Friday night to paint the inside of the building. According to Barbara Bizilia, VISTA worker helping at the Center, those interested in helping should bring a paint brush and paint if possible.

Raindrops Keep Falling With Pleasant Regularity

If moisture conditions in the Wayne area continue according to the pattern set during the first six months of this year, farmers have an excellent chance of harvesting bumper crops this fall.

In a good year, total rainfall runs about 26 inches, according to Arnold Marr of the Wayne County Soil Conservation Service office, and with a total of 16.97 inches recorded through June, the halfway mark has already been passed.

The six month total of 16.97 is more than the 12 month total of 12.23 inches recorded in 1929.

According to precipitation figures recorded in Wayne, only 1971 with 18.71 inches and 1965 with 19.82 inches have topped the current six-month figure during the past decade.

In 1972 there were 15.05 inches of precipitation during the first six months. July followed that year with 8.48 inches, and by year's end the total was 31.67, the most for one year since 1965 when 34.58 inches of precipitation were recorded.

The breakdown by month for the first half of 1973 shows .91 inches for January, 1.43 for February, a record of 5.13 for

Public Hearing Set Aug. 6

The Winside town board will hold a public hearing on its 1973-74 fiscal budget Aug. 6, according to mayor Vernon Hill.

Hill indicated that the upcoming amount, $13,409, will be higher than the present budget of $12,809. But, he explained, the mill levy of 23.6 will not increase due to an increase in valuation.

The first law to authorize a state agency to participate in the settlement of labor disputes was enacted in Maryland in 1878, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

Hoskins Fire Department Called To Woodland Park

Twelve Hoskins volunteer firemen answered a call to the Wayne Cox home in Woodland Park early Tuesday morning where a propane gas explosion in the basement loosened a wall, broke out windows and created a torch of flame which shot up the wall and set fire to the attic.

The call was received about 3:30 a.m. according to Hoskins fire chief Herman Ofer, and about 30 minutes was spent digging in the lawn in an attempt to find the underground shut valve. An underground valve, he noted, is illegal.

The fire was put out in about two hours, although one member of the Hoskins unit, who makes his home at Woodland Park, remained at the scene later.

The Norfolk fire department was called in for stand by. No one was injured in the explosion despite the fact that

Upsets Boost Newcastle Into League Leadership

Sunday turned out to be the day of upsets, with three strong Northeast Nebraska Baseball League teams falling to underdogs to throw the loop race into the hands of always tough Newcastle.

The Red Raiders started out the upsets with a 5-0 blanking of previous league king Homer, while Winnebago nipped Ponca, 8-7, and Wayne went down to Wakefield, 3-1.

The only game that didn't turn out to be a surprise was Dakota City's wipeout of South Sioux City, 17-1.

Wayne will have a chance to make another bid for the top spot this Sunday when Newcastle comes calling for an 8 p.m. match in the teams' last meeting. Newcastle delivered Wayne's first loss, 3-1.

If Hank Overin's club is to stay in the race for the league title, this will be a must game.

Laurel Midgets Stop Wakefield

Laurel's Midget and Legion teams split a pair of games with Wakefield Monday night.

The Midgets won the first match nipping the area club, 6-5 before the Wakefield Legion nine squeezed by the host club, 10-9.

Another area club, Wakefield, will be on the road to visit another powerhouse, Ponca. Although Wakefield was super high for their confrontation with Wayne, the club will have to keep its momentum to stay ahead of Ponca in the standings.

Tonight (Thursday) all eight teams will take off for the annual all star game at Wakefield. The West team, which includes seven Wayne and Wakefield players, will try to get revenge for an 8-5 loss last year to the favored East squad.

Top Ladies Teams Hold Same Spots

Team 7 remained in the lead of the American division of the Wayne women's golf league Tuesday after Team 1 — tied for the top rung — dropped down to the Team 2 for second place.

The duo of Marion Evans and Janet Roenfeldt hold on to the first place showing in that division with seven points. Both the second place teams total six points.

In the National league, Teams 16, 24 and 26 remain in their same positions. Team 16 (Ann Barclay and Jan McQuistan) is in the lead with seven points, followed by 24 and 26 in second.

Pony Leaguers Win First Game

Wayne's pony leaguers won their first match of the season last Thursday with a 9-5 triumph over Wakefield.

The 14 and under team, behind the five hit pitching of Mark Brandt, grabbed a 2-1 lead after two innings and then held on while Wakefield mustered four more runs. Wayne finally added two more in the top of the fifth.

Wayne's two other teams, the 10 and under and the 12 and under, also picked up wins, clobbering the Wakefield crews, 10-1 and 14-4 respectively.

Wayne Girls Take Two From Winside

Wayne girls swept two wins out of three games from Winside Saturday afternoon, taking victories in the 12 and under and 15 and under classes.

Les Boyd for Wayne slapped a double in the first frame of the 12 and under match for two RBIs to help power her team to a 4-0 margin. The girls then collected one in the second, four in the third and two in the fourth to win the game, 11-7.

Winside, managing only two hits, got assistance from first baseman Gottberg with a double good for one run. Winside scored two in the second, four in the third and one in the fourth.

In the 15 and under division, Wayne girls jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the second frame before Winside came back to score its only runs in the fourth to make the game 4-2. But the locals rallied with two more runs in their half of the fourth to end the contest at 6-4.

Wayne suffered its lone defeat in the 18-and-under bracket on a squeaker, 13-11.

Winside rocked the home team with 12 runs in the first three innings while Wayne scored four. The locals tried to come back with four in the fourth and three in the fifth but fell two runs short after Winside scored its 13th run in the top of the fifth.

Wednesday the Wayne girls were scheduled to meet Wakefield while Winside hosts Pender.

CROWDING AROUND a stand to pick up souvenirs to take home are The Wayne Herald newspaper carriers who took in the Minnesota Twins-New York Yankees game at Bloomington Saturday afternoon. The dozen carriers earned part or all of their trip to the major league game through sales of newspaper subscriptions during a recent contest. They saw the Twins bomb the Yankees, 9-1, thanks to a couple of homers. Making the trip were Bob Lamb, Jim and Bob Fairchild, Perry and Dan Mangers, Ravi Johar, Jeff Backstrom, Greg Mosley and Lisa Magnuson, all of Wayne; Lynne Wylie and Doug Oswald, both of Winside, and Tammy Nelson of Carroll. Going along for the game were Steve Zahniser and Layne Marsh of Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Denny Sietkes and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Manske of Wayne drove cars and looked after the youths during the excursion.

10 Bass a Day

Carter P. Johnson is usually good for a limit of 10 largemouth bass a day. No, not the fisherman by that name, but the good looking little lake about a 10-minute drive west and a bit north of the lodge at Fort Robinson.

If bass aren't your bag, then fry for trout in Soldiers Creek. Last year about six miles of the creek were open to public fishing and three to five fishing. The latter three acres were included in the 12,000-acre package of the Fort received by the State from the U.S.D.A. this year, and have been opened to public fishing. This area is stocked by the federal hatchery.

An additional three acres of Soldiers Creek, closer to the fort complex, have been designated "free" fishing area. This portion, particularly that backed by a small dam, is where most fishermen can have a ball toying with trout that are generally tantalizingly in view, in abundance in the crystal-clear water.

The remainder of the stream for the most part is narrow and shallow, except for occasional holes, and requires more stalking, waiting, and finesse by the angler. This writer's day at Fort Rob started at 9:30 a.m. at Carter P. Johnson Lake. A No. seven red Rapala, a beetle spin and a deep-running Rapala produced five bass in about two hours, the largest going 11.5 pounds. Time for lunch, then to the fee ($2) area. The first loss with a black doll fly was smacked viciously by a rainbow, released and subsequently hit by a second rainbow that held on. Four other trout followed in quick succession, with the 1 Rapala the undoing for two of the trout.

None of the rainbows were big, 10 to 11 inches, but were typical fighters. Most fly fishermen could probably creel a limit of five trout in almost that number of casts. But then the fun wouldn't last long enough.

After dinner that evening, back to Carter P. Johnson—five more bass, hitting the limit, just before dark. The biggest went 2.5 pounds. For fishing fun, with almost a guarantee of catching fish, Fort Robinson is a good bet.

FISHING WHERE TO GO

Grove Lake, north of Royal, for 12 to 20-inch bass along shoreline, near logs and brush, with surface lures, spinners and plastic worms; in back bays at evening and night. Bullheads eight to 14 inches in shallows at upper end, evening and night; crappie in coves on minnows, flies and jigs; and bluegill around brush piles on worms, flies and poppers.

Sutherland Reservoir, south of Sutherland, for white bass on jigs in inlet and outlet, shoreline casting Channel catfish on worms, minnows and shad jugs in Catfish Bay and inlet through August.

MISHMASH. Boat fishermen are permitted to enter the Gavins Point spillway this summer since it doesn't appear that water releases will exceed power plant capacity, eliminating need for the spillway. Nebraska tri wheelers will be bidding in the 1973 Grand Nationals, a 50-mile endurance race, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus, Ohio, July 14 to 15. Boone and Crockett and the National Rifle Association will combine efforts in maintaining the Records of North American Big Game.

Nebraska waters at one time were inhabited by about 115 of the 700 species of fish found in the fresh waters of continental United States and Canada. Approximately 19,000 species inhabit the various waters of the earth today. Long nose gar are among the fastest-growing freshwater fishes in Nebraska and elsewhere. Lengths of more than 20 inches have been reported at the end of the first growing season.

Badgers often bury themselves with a meal. When lucky enough to come across a rabbit or other sizeable carcass, a badger will often dig a hole, carry his food into the hole, plug up the entrance from the inside, and settle down for a feast that may last several days. Up to 40 per cent of the pheasant hens nesting in an alfalfa field may be killed during the first cutting. Most birds lay only one egg a day. Some lay only one egg every other day.

After spawning, bass spend lots of time down deep. Hunting them pays off. First fish the shallows and keep working deeper until you locate them. Move around, trying different techniques and different areas. Grasshoppers are productive for big bass and trout. They are best caught in early morning when they are slow; later they jump and fly too much. Hook the hoppers in the neck or through the body.

PLACES-A-GO-GO. Scotts Bluff National Monument for sixth program of weekly summer series in amphitheater, entitled "Our Living Heritage".

Brownville, noted frontier town of steamboat days, located on the Missouri River, nine miles east of Auburn. Both the Carson House and Historical Society Museum are open daily except Mondays. Guided two-hour tours of Brownville are available for groups of four or more. Dinner and dance cruises aboard the 300-passenger Belle of Brownville; also one and two-hour Missouri River cruises. Village Theatre through Aug. 19, with advance reservations necessary.

CAMPOUTS. Blue River Campers (Crete) at Crystal Springs, Fairbury; Cornhuskers (Aurora) at Stromsburg; Railhorns (Lincoln) at Two Rivers, Venice; Rolling Platters (North Platte) at Gothenburg; Twin Cities Roadrunners (Omaha) at Prairie Rose Park, Walnut, Ia.; N.C.H.A. A reception, to be hosted by the church women, will follow.

Kim graduated from Yonsei University at Seoul in 1969 and from the Dubuque, Ia., Theological Seminary in December. He served as an intern pastor eight months during 1971 at First Presbyterian Church in Albany, Mo.

He fills the vacancy left by the Rev. Jim Marlett, who left Wakefield about a year ago to work with the Presbyterian Church in Mount Vernon, Mo.

Worship services are scheduled each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. for Emerson and 11 a.m. for Wakefield. Sunday school classes are at 9:45 a.m. for Wakefield and 11 a.m. for Emerson.

JCs Collect Over $800

The Wayne County Jaycees collected over $800 for their annual Fourth of July fireworks display this year, according to co-chairman Bill Workman.

As of Monday the total was $833.50, with 93 of the town's 150 businesses contributing.

"That's an all-time high for us," Workman said, noting that this was the third year for the annual aerial display. In previous years the JCs held small fireworks displays.

Norris Weible, past president of the Ikes, was given much credit by fellow Ikes for starting the promotion and following through with it.

Local volunteer sponsors are very effective in promoting the Acres-For Wildlife in any community, according to Shaler. Shaler said that any other groups or individuals wishing more information about the conservation program should write to Acres For Wildlife, Box 30370, Lincoln, Nebr. 68503.

Winside Board Adopts $2,000 Budget Increase

The Winside school board adopted a $436,260 budget for the 1973-74 fiscal year during Monday night's monthly board session.

Superintendent Don Leighton pointed out that the new figure is about $2,000 higher than last year's amount of $434,266.74.

"I don't expect the present mill levy of 47.02 to go up," Leighton said, "but it depends upon the valuation issued by the county some time next month or early September."

The mill levy includes 37.71 for general funds and 9.31 for bonds.

Also during the meeting, Leighton announced that the one-car garage built by the students in the trades and industry class was sold to the Wayne Housing Authority for $1,355.

Board members approved Bonnie Sietkes as music instructor replacing Mrs. Dallas Puls.

Winside has received accreditation from the State Department of Education for another year. Leighton noted that state notice listed no deviations.

incident, there were additional differences between him and Fairchild which prompted him to fire the chief.

Being sued along with Hall are councilmen Vernon Russell, Ivan Beeks, Pat Gross, Jim Thomas, Keith Mosley, Frank Prather, Darrel Fuelberth and Harvey Brasch. They took no part in the firing, an act which Hall took alone.

Judge Dittrock and attorneys representing Fairchild and the city discussed whether Civil Service regulations should be applied to Wayne now that it is a first class city. If they do apply, Fairchild should have been given a hearing before a Civil Service commission before he was fired, according to officials. If they do not apply, Hall would have the right to fire him without a hearing, they say.

Laurel Welcomes New Firm

A groundbreaking ceremony was held Monday for a new Laurel firm, the Northeast Nebraska Recycling Corporation.

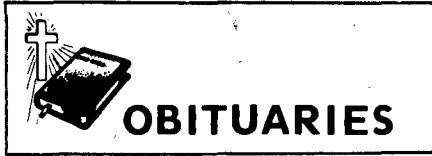

The business, to be located on three acres of land two miles west of Laurel on Highway 20, will pick up dead cattle no more than four hours old for processing, freezing and shipment to Norfolk to be made into pet food.

The building is expected to be complete in time for operations to begin Sept. 1. The plant will employ eight to 12 local people.

Construction will cost approximately $100,000, according to major stockholders Tom Weibe, Richard Woodward and Harlan Cox, all of Norfolk.

Cox is manager of CET Enterprises, Inc., a Norfolk pet food company which will handle the Laurel firm's product. Wood ward manages Norfolk Rendering Plant which will take the by-product. Weibe is president of the two Norfolk firms and the new Laurel corporation.

Present at the groundbreaking ceremony were the stockholders and their wives. Mrs. Weibe lifted the first shovel of dirt. Also there were Laurel Development Company president Bill Norvelt, vice-president J. Mallatt, treasurer Walt Brachvogel and industrial development committee members John McCorkindale, Dick Manz, Charles Paulsen and Pete Stewart. Chamber of Commerce president Roger Heitman and Chamber director Buz Martin; Gene Machmuller of Simpson Structures, Inc., Norfolk, general contractor, and Laurel advocate editor Keith Clarkson.

Council Okays Tax Hike

month. The city would have no funds to pay bills or salaries if action on the budget were postponed, he said.

Prather insisted that figures be available early next year so councilmen can study how much has been spent by each department in the city. Then they can start preparing a budget which is understandable to them as well as the public, he said.

Council agreed with local resident John Vakoc when he said one of the reasons few people attend budget hearings is because "nobody understands what's going on."

Vakoc, the only individual who spoke out during the hearing, said the form published in The Wayne Herald describing city spending for the coming year is nearly incomprehensible to the layman.

Nobody can make "heads or tails out of it" without the detailed sheets which are only available at the city clerk's office, he said.

In other action the council voted 8-0 in favor of issuing industrial development bonds for qualified industrial projects.

Vote came after mayor Kent Hall said he wanted assurance from the council that the city would issue the bonds in case a prospect asked for them.

The decision to issue the bonds puts the city in a better position to attract an industry which would require them, according to Hall.

Council also voted 8-0 to pass a resolution pledging the city to take part in acquiring about 12 acres of land for park development east of the new hospital being constructed here.

The resolution was needed before the city's request for federal and state financial assistance in purchasing the property could be forwarded to federal officials. The city already has received state approval for acquiring the land at approximately $38,000.

If federal approval is given and funds are made available, the city would contribute 25 per cent of the purchase price, state government 25 per cent and federal government 50 per cent.

Council also:

—Approved mayor Hall's appointment of local car dealer Roy Hurd to the board of adjustment for a two-year term. Hurd and new member Dick Banister, approved for appointment last month, will replace Rowan Wilfse and Dick Arett. Wilfse and Arett finished their terms in June.

—Approved by an 8-0 vote an ordinance stipulating that it "is not against public policy" to provide sewer and water services outside the city limits.

—Approved by an 8-0 vote the three agreements the city has with municipal airport manager Don Johnson. The agreements are for farming the land, managing the airport and operating other facilities at the airport.

Agreed 8-0 to begin steps to let bids on construction of sewer and water lines to the area being developed by a local car dealer on the west edge of the city. The project will cost approximately $25,000.

Agreed to discuss with Wayne County Commissioners plans to hard surface part of Grantland Road on the south west edge of the city.

Agreed to draw up an ordinance which would permit the city to charge the former bottle clubs in the city a license fee to make up for loss of revenue following the state's decision to half clubs from collecting membership fees earlier this year. No exact fee will be determined until later.

Want to buy a widget?

When a lot of people want to buy a widget, and there are not many widgets on the market, the price of the widget goes up. That has three effects. Two out of the three benefit the consumer.

1. The widget makers get rich. This benefits the widget makers.
  2. The widget makers increase production.
  3. Investors put their money into new widget factories.
- Soon, there are enough widgets for everybody who wants one. At that point, the price comes down. Widget makers no longer get rich. Some even lose out. And investors try to invest in something the consumer needs more than widgets. The investor has the choice of keeping his capital in widgets or plowing it into new fields. Either choice, of course, involves risk.

A concrete parallel to our mythical widget is the ball point pen. When they first came on the market, they were in short supply and sold at very high prices. The rest is history. Mechanical ingenuity spurred on by competition has resulted in the superb pens that today sell for the price of lead pencils.

That's the real purpose of profit in a competitive economy—not to make a few people rich, but rather, to attract capital (and other resources) to the production of what the consumer wants. It's a signal system. It works automatically, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. For you.

We all profit from profits.

Legislature's interim study committees have their work cut out for them

LINCOLN — The interim study Committee on Agriculture will launch its research efforts this week with its first meeting.

Other study committees won't be far behind as they start investigative assignments made by the 1973 Legislature. Information gathered this summer and fall will be used to prepare bills due for consideration in the 1974 session.

The topic for the agriculture committee this week is land use, but the major effort facing the committee members concerns pesticides.

The state must determine before the 1974 session starts whether it wants to prepare legislation providing for state control of pesticides and applicators or whether it wants the federal government to do it. Uncle Sam said he will if the state isn't willing to operate a program at least equal to what federal officials say is necessary.

Deadline for a state program in the pesticide field is Jan. 1, but Nebraska officials have expressed confidence they will get permission to extend that deadline if they show that legislation is being prepared for consideration during 1974.

In addition to land use and pesticides, the ag committee under Sen. Loran Schmitt of Bellwood also has on its study agenda such topics as regulations concerning pollutant discharge, study of solid waste disposal, proposed flood plains act, rules and executive orders affecting agriculture and lack of interest in farming by Nebraska youth.

Schmitt said a schedule for dealing with these topics during the coming months will be set at the meeting today (Thursday). He says anyone interested in receiving notice of the hearing dates for these subjects should write his office at the State Capitol.

The Budget Committee also has a series of hot topics on its assignment sheet for this interim period. Hastings Sen. Richard D. Marvel will have his colleagues studying such things as federal revenue sharing, provisions for delivering "people-related" services at the state level, higher education (including Hiram Scott and Peru State College) and capital construction planning.

The docket for the Banking Committee, chaired by Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, has a single subject — detached letter facilities.

That means a look at the new legislation allowing banks to have two — instead of one — drive-in facilities away from the main location.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha and his colleagues on the Committee on Constitutional Revision and Recreation will be looking at state acquisition of railroad rights-of-way and the general subject of recreational facilities and opportunities in Nebraska. That last topic will include a trip to the state's major recreation areas.

Education Chairman Jerome Warner of Waverly and his committee will be looking at training in paralegal (attorneys' assistants) research, office of county superintendent, financing higher education and distribution of state aid funds.

The Executive Board, under leadership of Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter, will be studying the energy crisis, computers and data definitions, collection and reporting.

Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha, head of the Government Committee, has scheduled studies of gambling and public housing.

The agenda for the Public Health and Welfare Committee includes health care services, delinquent child support payments and the food assistance program. Sen. Thomas Kennedy of Newman Grove is the chairman.

The Judiciary Committee is due to study administration of the office of county attorneys and marriage and divorce laws as well as recodification of the criminal code and the uniform probate laws. Chairman Roland A.

Luedtke of Lincoln once wanted to take his committee to Hawaii, where much of the new legislation has been implemented, but that trip has been stymied.

The state patrol is to be studied by the Labor Committee under chairman Richard Maresh of Milligan.

Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton and his Revenue Committee will be continuing their general tax study and taking a special look at whether military income should be subject to the state income tax.

The agenda for the Public Works Committee, headed by Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, will work with the ag committee on the flood plains act and study the responsibility for city streets, gas and electric utilities and access to the interstate highway.

Sen. Duke Snyder of Omaha and his Committee on Urban Affairs will tackle transportation authority issues, political campaign spending, legislative salary and a variety of election issues.

The committees will report to the Legislative Council, the administrative arm of the Legislature, late this year, either in November or early December.

OBSERVATIONS

Would political muscle have helped?

Landowners around Wayne and Wakefield put up a pretty good fight in trying to keep Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) from building its 230,000-volt transmission line across their land.

They lost the fight, however, and the power district is now moving full stream ahead to complete the last gap in the line by the end of this month.

We have never disagreed with NPPD when it said the line is necessary to meet the constantly rising demand for electricity in this part of the state. Power district officials say the line would have been built in 1975 if construction of the large steel mill near Norfolk had not made construction possible a couple years earlier, and we have no reason to doubt that statement. Americans across this nation each year are using more and more electricity to run the seemingly endless array of machines and appliances industry puts on the market. Residents in this part of the state are buying those products just about as fast as others elsewhere, so the increasing demand for electricity here is not difficult to understand.

At first, we thought the landowners who were complaining about NPPD building the line across their land were doing so in an effort to hike their payments for permission to cross their land. This probably was true in some of the cases, but we have come to think that some of those persons had justifiable complaints against the power district.

Several farmers complained that NPPD was going about the business of acquiring easements to cross land in something less than an honorable fashion.

Some said the power district was playing neighbor against neighbor, telling one person that everybody else had agreed to construction of the line when that may not have been the case. Others said something close to blackmail was being used, with NPPD offering to keep poles out of places which could hinder farming or irrigation if farmers would agree to let the line cross their land.

Little ever came of these charges, although it seems to us that somebody should have checked into them. They became too numerous to ignore after a while.

NPPD did receive a public slap in the face by a member of the Public Service Commission, however. One of the members, Eric Rasmussen of Fairbury, said NPPD was "seriously remiss regarding compliance with statutory provisions governing construction of power lines." Rasmussen also said NPPD had violated legal restrictions in constructing the transmission line.

He hit the nail on the head, however, when he made one other comment. After noting that transmission lines are not built across government land without some difficulty, he said:

"However, when the condemnation proceedings involve private individuals, especially persons who lack important political contacts, the condemnation of land proceeds smoothly and rapidly."

We can only wonder what would have happened to construction of this line had some of the farmers and landowners who were protesting been able to back up their complaints with a little political muscle.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Bellton, Tex. Journal: "Federal aid to education may take some slashes, and there is room for argument on that point. The best way to help this country is to teach more arithmetic in Washington. I have had several friends in Congress, and respect them individually, but as a group they often remind me of the mob psychology you would expect of pre-school boys turned loose in a candy store."

Madison, Va., Eagle: "Right now is the time for the politician to sound off about how he opposes high taxes. With final tax day clearly in mind—and a cleaned out pocketbook—we love the sound. The only thing is that the fellow can't get votes until November, and think of the many different expensive things he's going to provide us by then, to be paid for with our tax money."

Seiby, S.D., Record: "We hear too much criticism of the things our young people do and not enough of the many good and commendable and worthwhile activities carried on by them. They are our citizens of tomorrow and mistakes they will make, as we all do, but they should get all the credit they deserve for the many good things they do, too."

WAY BACK WHEN

30 Years Ago

July 22, 1943: Wayne County drive to invest $90,000 in war bonds so that this area may send a big bomber to Tokyo got off to a fair start this week. Total investments in Wayne Wednesday were $25,673.75. Rains that brighten prospects for a bumper crop of corn in Wayne County and adjoining territory have fallen the past week. Clouds that gathered Tuesday brought a soaking that was general over the area. Wayne Grain & Coal company this week was sold by John Kay, owner since 1932, to Bill Woehler, who will occupy the same building. Johnnie Lee and his 12-piece orchestra, booked out of Omaha, will furnish music for the dance sponsored at the auditorium here Saturday by the Chamber of Commerce. County Agent W. R. Harder continues to get calls from farmers who want grain shockers. Flight "E" of the 34th college training detachment was graduated last week, and a farewell dinner was given at Hotel Stratton Friday evening honoring these young men who left Saturday for a California air base for further training. Volunteer workers at the local ration board have been assisting with the issuance of the gasoline ration books.

Company buildings are undergoing extensive remodeling.

an airplane prop during the Wayne Jaycees flight breakfast two weeks ago.

15 Years Ago

July 17, 1958: The State Reorganization Committee Thursday approved annexation of District 14 to District 17 (Wayne) and the first of two local hearings has been set on the proposal. Frank Morrison, Democratic candidate, for the United States Senate, is slated to be in Wayne today. Wayne County extension council members re-elected Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, Hoskins, as council chairman for 1959 at the annual meeting at the Courthouse Monday. NE Nebraska farmers are looking for hot, dry weather to permit them to get the oats harvest underway. Continued cool, rainy weather has delayed harvest and caused concern about maturing of corn, County Agent Harold Ingalls said. Seven members of the Wakefield Christian Church brought their tractors to the Don Johnson home at the Wayne airport last Tuesday afternoon where they cultivated 95 acres of corn and milo. Johnson broke his arm winding

10 Years Ago

July 10, 1963: Mrs. Basil Osburn was elected chairman of the Wayne County Home Extension Council when it met Thursday with Mrs. Walter Fenske in charge. According to a government rain gauge on the Ralph Watson farm, 3 1/2 miles north of Wayne, 2.8 inches of rain fell in a matter of 45 minutes Monday morning. Thirteen neighbors gathered July 3 at the Albert Milliken farm to cultivate corn. Milliken, who underwent surgery at Methodist Hospital, Sioux City, June 28, will not be able to do heavy farm work for some time. There were 409 entries, representing 20 saddle clubs and many individual stables at the Horse Show held July 4 at the fairgrounds. A large crowd attended the Covenant Church picnic July 4 to commemorate the founding of the congregation 75 years ago. Jim Pokett was reelected American Legion Post 143 Commander at their meeting Friday.

Worth pointing out

Pats on the back go out this week to several individuals, groups and businesses. Among them:

- Filling station operators at Seventh and Main who have gone to the trouble and expense to plant flowers to brighten up the intersection. With all the signs, gas pumps and concrete, that intersection would look pretty uninviting if it weren't for those efforts at improving it.
- School boards and city councils in Wayne and surrounding communities which have been wrestling with budgets the past few weeks and months. It seems most of the governing bodies are going to be able to limit budget increases to less than the almost automatic increase caused by inflation. And that's no small accomplishment.

- The Wayne Herald for taking a group of newspaper carriers to see the Minnesota Twins-New York Yankees game at Bloomington Saturday. The youngsters are finding out that carrying papers can be a lot of fun as well as worthwhile.
- Members of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity at Wayne State College who spent a lot of time, energy and sweat in painting their large fraternity house at 108 West Eighth Street over the weekend. The best way to clean up and spruce up a community is to start right-in-your-own backyard, the fraternity members believe, so that's exactly what they did.

25 Years Ago

July 15, 1948: W. R. Ellis was presented a 50-year button by the Wayne Masonic Lodge at its regular meeting July 9. Ellis is the sixth Mason in the Wayne organization to receive this honor. Bill Podoll, Winside, is the new flight instructor at the local airport. Two cars were damaged but the occupants were not hurt in a minor accident Monday on Main Street between Fifth and Sixth. The accident happened when William P. Canning stopped to pick up a pedestrian, and Will E. Back, driving behind him, ran into the rear of the Canning car. According to Patrolman Clarence Mayhew, Back was reaching for a grasshopper on the windshield of his auto and did not see Canning stop. Grasshoppers are causing severe damage to crops in Dixon and surrounding counties. Glen Olson, Wakefield, suffered painful head injuries Saturday when his car struck a pile of gravel being used in construction work north of Wayne. Three others in the car escaped with bruises.

20 Years Ago

July 9, 1953: Arnold Mau was named commander of Wayne's Irwin L. Sears American Legion post last Wednesday night. He succeeds James Suber. An estimated 3,000 persons were at the Wayne County fairgrounds for the fireworks display Fourth of July evening. Harold Ingalls, Wayne County extension agent, has taken over the duties of president of the Nebraska County Agent's Association. Oats are ripening and rain would keep them from coming along too fast. Corn needs rain if we are going to have another good crop. Reorganization of an active Girl-Scouting program is underway in Wayne. McNair's Hardware, Carhart Lumber and Meyer Oil

Health Tips

Nebraska's hottest days will soon be upon us. Heat affects the body in two major ways: heat exhaustion and heat prostration. The Nebraska Medical Association suggests you learn to recognize the symptoms and know basic first aid to help heat victims.

In case of heat exhaustion, victims feel weak, may have a headache and nausea, and sometimes have cramps in the stomach or legs. The pulse is rapid and weak, the skin is pale and clammy, and the temperature is normal.

Heat exhaustion may occur while playing golf or tennis or working in the hot sun. To help such a victim, move him to a cool place, but protect from chilling. Do not give alcohol in any form.

Heat stroke often causes the victim to lose consciousness. The skin is flushed and hot, and the pulse is rapid and strong. The NMA says you should give the victim salt water to drink if he is conscious. Cool the body by sponging with cold water.

In both types of heat prostration, a physician should be called immediately.

Lawn Care

July and August are "dog days" for lawns when they need your special attention even though you would rather be relaxing in front of the air conditioner.

First, there is the matter of enough moisture. Lawns need about one inch of water per week. Water when the soil begins to dry out but before the grass wilts and turns brown. An early clue to needs is a dark bluish green cast.

An inch of water applied correctly should moisten the soil about six inches deep. Runoff may occur when using a sprinkler that applies more than half an inch per hour. One soaking per week is better than several shallow waterings.

The best time to water is in the morning when the wind is down, humidity is higher and waterline pressure is strong. Keeping leaves wet for long periods of time increases the chance of disease.

Lawns mowed too short suffer most from heat and drought. Grass mowed closely must be mowed more often. Remove only one third of the leaf at each mowing. Base mowing intervals on grass height, rather than a specific period. Bluegrass, K-31 fescue and ryegrass should be mowed to a 2 1/2 to 3 inch height. Be sure the mower blades are sharp.

Remember don't fertilize bluegrass lawns now as it requires extra amounts of water this time of year.

GREENBUGS

This is the time that both greenbugs and corn leaf aphids show up on milo. The corn leaf aphids usually don't cause any trouble, but greenbugs will and they look very similar.

If the aphids are bluish green and have black heads and legs, they are greenbugs and should be watched for causing stress on plants. When the lower two leaves on milo are drying on plants six or eight inches tall or when more than two lower leaves on larger plants are browning, controls likely will be profitable.

About mid July a small parasite plays an important role in green bug control. It lays an egg in the greenbugs causing them to die, turn yellow or brown and balloon still sticking to leaves. When about 20 per cent of the greenbugs are parasitized the problem is usually solved by the parasites, and controls should not be applied.

Use the water level control on your washer. You should use less hot water for small loads.

Lawn Tip

By this time during the summer you should be mowing your lawn at a three inch cutting height. Mowing should be done every time the blade height reaches 4.5 inches or less.

Many professional turf people are reporting excellent root and top growth of turf during the rainy spring period. Leading horticulturists believe water recommendations on cool season lawn grasses may be very conservative. It has been reported that a good lawn may pull 0.25 (one fourth inch) of water out of the soil on a normal summer day. This indicates we may need 1 1/4 inches of water every week on a lawn or an inch every 3 1/2 days.

Ecologically, this may be a waste of another one of our natural resources. However, water is a necessity to keep a cool season lawn growing and green all summer.

Garden Quiz

Q. Why would garden crops fail to grow? Questioner puts all his grass clippings and leaves on the garden and he blames this.

A. The process of decay of organic matter requires nitrogen, which is tied up until the process is complete, then the nitrogen is again available for plant use.

colorless skin cannot develop the intense red color of those with red flesh and yellow skin. Intense yellow colored fruit results from yellow flesh and yellow skin.

The deep red pigment coloring red fruited tomatoes does not develop well at prolonged exposure under temperatures too cool (below 50 degrees F.) or too hot (above 86 degrees F.)

Therefore, fruit may be yellowish orange instead of red during periods of cool or warm temperature. The red pigment forms again when temperature becomes more favorable.

The temperature of fruit exposed to full sunlight may become 104 degrees F. or higher, which destroys the red pigment. When this occurs, a condition called sun scald develops whereby shoulders of the fruit can only develop a yellow color. Tomato fruit will not develop good color if kept in a refrigerator.

THE MAN WHO SOLD NEWSPAPERS

When Mark Twain was a young man, he was editor and publisher of a growing newspaper in a small Missouri town.

One day he received a letter from one of his subscribers. The subscriber said that he had found a spider in that morning's edition of his paper. He wanted to know if this was an omen of good luck, or of bad luck. Mark Twain, a hustling space salesman as well as an editor, wrote to his customer:

"Dear Sir:
Finding the spider in your newspaper yesterday morning was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which of the town's merchants is not advertising. He will then go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

First-Hand Look at Wayne State

ON A WARMISH summer day, what better place for freshmen to hear about Wayne State than the Willow Bowl scene of many memories for generations of collegians. This was the scene Friday for one group of incoming freshmen attending the first of three orientation days. They were being led in a discussion of college life by two current students. More than 140 freshmen, most of them accompanied by at least one parent, heard talks by faculty and student leaders. They asked a lot of questions, and got practical answers. Finally, the freshmen registered for fall classes. Another orientation session was held Tuesday, and a final one is planned for Monday.

'Interest, Leadership Needed to Attract Industry to Wayne'

Interest and leadership — two key ingredients lacking in Wayne? It takes interest and leadership to attract industry to a town. Walter Moller told Kiwanis Monday, and that's the problem in Wayne right now — not enough interested people willing to show leadership in getting industry.

Moller, a member of Wayne Industries, said his group's lack of motivation is one reason Wayne doesn't have new businesses. "I know I'm being critical," he explained, "but it is the truth."

Another reason for the lack of new industry and business is the high taxes. "I suppose I won't make any friends in the rural areas, but I do think Wayne is bearing too much of a load for rural kids going to school," he said. Moller pointed out that the main reason for the high taxes is the present Wayne-Carroll school levy. "I think we made a mistake mer-

WALTER MOLLER
going with Carroll because we just didn't get the valuation needed," he added. Moller noted that Wayne High School has an AA rating, and to keep that rating the school has to hire better qualified teachers for a higher salary. "But I don't think any parent is willing to sacrifice that rating," he added.

Turning again to Wayne Industries, Moller told the Kiwanis that in the seven years he has been associated with the industrial group little has been accomplished.

Presently Wayne Industries owns a 70-plus acre site east of Wayne which is available to new industries which might wish to locate here.

Moller believes that if the city could get help from the state, he might be able to get some ideas on how to attract new industry.

Despite rumors that Wayne doesn't want to attract busi-

EXTENSION NOTES

Myrtle Anderson

Sleeping Bags for Campers
Sleeping bags for those camping outdoors can furnish restful sleeping conditions if well chosen.

There are two basic types — the sack, a roomy rectangular bag which is the more common and less expensive of the two, and the mummy bag, a close-fitting bag designed to the body form and leaving only the camper's nose exposed when closed.

Even more protection is provided if a windproof shell is used over the mummy bag, keeping the camper warm even 10 degrees below the temperature the bag is recommended for.

The type of insulation filling in the sleeping bag influences the price. Eiderdown and polyester are considered the best insulation for sleeping bags. Feathers, wool, kapok, and cotton are other materials used for insulation.

Eiderdown does not hold moisture and compresses easily for packing in rolls but does require either dry cleaning or careful hand washing. Polyester filled bags are slightly less compressible but are machine washable.

A cotton fabric for the bag shell is a good choice since cotton is moisture absorbent and allows good air ventilation. Wool insulates well but soils easily. Nylon is too air tight for real comfort but its strength and light weight make it the choice for backpackers.

All bedding should be aired daily. Open the sleeping bags and expose as much of the inside as possible to the sunlight.

Veterans' Benefits Questions, Answers

Q. I am a veteran of wartime service and need a physical examination. Will the Veterans Administration doctors give me one?

A. No. The VA provides free medical or physical examinations, as necessary, only to determine whether a condition is service-connected when needed for Government life insurance purposes or when application is made for hospital or domiciliary care.

John Brandstetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Brandstetter of Wayne, was one of seven soloists who performed Sunday in the recital of participants and winners of the 1973 Metropolitan Opera district auditions. The recital was held at the Performing Arts Center of the University of Nebraska-Omaha.

Brandstetter, a baritone, sang "Vision Fugitive" from "Herodiade" by Massenet and "Nemico della patria" from "Andria Chenier" by Giordano.

A 1969 graduate of Wayne High School, Brandstetter received his BA degree from the University of Nebraska Lincoln in 1972 and is currently doing graduate work there.

Health Tips

The Nebraska Medical Association urges you to learn the art of mouth to mouth resuscitation. It may help you save a life.

When a victim stops breathing you should start mouth to mouth resuscitation immediately. Seconds count, so do not spend time moving the person unless absolutely necessary.

Place the victim in a face up position and kneel beside him. Lift the victim's neck with one hand and tilt the head back with your other hand. Pull the victim's chin up with the hand that was lifting the neck.

Place your mouth over the victim's nose or mouth, make a leak proof seal and breathe into the victim's lungs until you see the chest rise. The air you blow into the victim's lungs has enough oxygen to save his life.

Remove your mouth and let the victim exhale. The procedure should be repeated fifteen times each minute.

The NMA urges you not to wait or look for help. If possible, ask someone to summon medical aid as you keep up resuscitation, and do not stop too soon.

Hearing Test Set for Wayne, Nebr.

Electronic hearing tests will be given at Hotel Morrison in Wayne on Friday, July 13 from 10:30 to 12:00 by Mr. Nile Newburn, Bellone Consultant.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to come in for a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular degree of hearing loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available.

The free hearing tests will be held at Hotel Morrison, Wayne, Nebr., on Friday, July 13 from 10:30 to 12:00. If you can't get there on Friday, call or write the Bellone Hearing Aid Service, 1301 Nebraska St., Sioux City, Iowa, phone 238-1968.
