The latest winner was in McDonald's when the winning date was announced at 8:15 p.m.

Jaycees Give

$105 to WSC, Baseball Group

The Wayne County Jaycees donated a total of $105.23 to Wayne State College and the Wayne Baseball Association this week.

JC spokesman Dale Preston said the money given to the college—$75.23—can be used at the college's discretion. He noted that the group contributed the rest of the amount to the association to use as it sees fit. The JCs had the money left over after paying for the Fourth of July fireworks display. "We found out that there was more money left over from the merchants who donated, so we decided to give the remainder to the college and baseball association," Preston said.

Wakefield, Wayne Among Fund Seekers

Both Wayne and Wakefield are among 77 Nebraska communities which have submitted applications for federal grants for sewage treatment plant construction this fiscal year.

According to James L. Higgin, director of the State Department of Environmental Control, the failure by the Nixon Administration to allocate all treatment plant money Congress authorized caused Nebraska to run out of money last fiscal year and the same thing is likely to happen this year.

In an attempt to solve the state's most severe water pollution problems first, communities applying for funds were ranked according to need on a priority list which was released following a public hearing Friday in Lincoln by the State Department of Environmental Control. ### Wakefield Youth Reported 'Good' After Mishap

A 17 year old Wakefield youth, Brad Schwartz, was reported in very good condition Wednesday after being admitted to the Wakefield Community Hospital for treatment of burns suffered in a gas station mishap Saturday night.

Council Purchases Land for 300,000 Gallon Fuel Tank

Wayne city council Tuesday night agreed to spend $26,000 for property to locate a large fuel storage tank shortly after learning that no dealers will bid on supplying the city with fuel.

Council agreed to purchase about 24 acres of land from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Halstey in the southwest part of the city. The land will be used to locate the 300,000 gallon storage tank or dored in May.

Moments earlier the council found out that the city's fuel supplier for the past year, Merchant Oil Co., will not bid on supplying fuel at a certain price in the city, according to a city official, but no bids were received.

The huge tank ordered earlier this year should arrive in Wayne by the end of this summer and be installed on the purchased land shortly after that.

After learning the city received no bids on fuel, councilman Pat Gross commented: "I think some conservation of gas would be in order."

Gross, president of the council, was sitting in for mayor Kent Hall, who was unable to attend the meeting.

Earlier in the meeting, councilmen learned that at least one resident, Mrs. Keith Mosley, is highly disturbed about the way trees are being trimmed by city workers.

Mrs. Mosley, wife of a councilman, said the trimming the past few days has been "indiscriminate" and not in the best interest of the city.

The street department crew which has been doing the trimming has been leaving stubs of branches sticking out from trees and has not been painting over larger stubs, she said.

She noted that the city is damaging one of its best assets at the same time as trying to make the city attractive. She noted that many communities take much pride in their trees while Wayne seems to trim just for the sake of trimming.

At least one councilman partially agreed with her, Frank Prather replied "It takes a long time to grow a tree, but it doesn't take long to trim it down."

Street commissioner Vern Schulz, boss of the crew trimming trees, replied to Mrs. Mosley's comments by saying the crew is doing the work as recommended by professionals.

What appears to be excessive trimming is not that, he said. The crew has to trim the trees that extensively, he explained, because no more trimming will be done on them for another "four or five years."

Schulz told the council he will talk with the forester at the Northeast Station near Concord about the methods now being used and change them if he recommends it.

At the start of the meeting, councilman Vernon Russell objected to approving the claims for July from the police department, noting that they were much greater than the claims turned in for July of last year.

Russell said the claims amounted to $9,810, nearly twice the $5,201 submitted a year earlier. He said the new chief of police, Robert Evers, should have attempted to obtain federal funding for the purchases.

If federal funding had been obtained, the city would have had to pay for only about 25 percent of that total figure, he said.

As a result of those purchases, the police department ended up exceeding its budget for the fiscal year ending in July by $1,140, Russell said.

Councilman Jim Thomas disagreed, noting that there was an "immediacy" about some of the purchases which did not permit requesting federal funds.

"I would have authorized ordering them," he told Russell. Gross, noting that the mayor had talked at some length with Evers about the purchases be

Wakefield Juniors Win Districts, Local Midgets Falter

By BOB BARTLETT
 Wakefield's baseball team was the only one of two area Legion and Midget squads to survive Sunday's district tournament finals.
 Wakefield (14-14) put away Randolph in the Legion finals Sunday night, 11-2, with a convincing display of fielding and hitting. Wayne Midgets fell to Coleridge, 3-2.
 Led by third baseman Tim Hill's and pitcher Bob Twite's home runs, Wakefield demolished Randolph right from the start.
 Wakefield cracked three hits in the first frame, with one — a double by second sacker Dave Rouse — pushing across the first run. Twite, in collecting his first of three RBI's, knocked in Rouse with a single.
THAT GAVE the area team a 2-0 lead — with a lot more in store.
 Randolph couldn't connect until the top of the third when two players came home on a double by first baseman Gene Munter. From that point, Randolph's bats remained silent.
 After the Randolph team scored Wakefield mounted a bigger margin with five more runs in the bottom of the third, including Hill's three-run round tripper.

 Wakefield continued its power display in the following frame with the second circuit hit — Twite's two-run hit over center field fence making the score 9-2. Wakefield scored its final two runs in the fifth and sixth innings.
 First baseman Steve Kay picked off two fly balls, one a one-handed stab while falling, to retire the side in the first inning. Hill added his top fielding ability, grabbing a line shot, before left fielder Mike Barge caught an out-of-bounds hit in deep left field. Barge also displayed strong-arm throwing to half Randolph players from advancing on long fly hits to left.
TWITE AND HILL accounted for six of the team's eight RBI's, each collecting three. Twite went two for four at the plate, rapping a homer and a single. Hill managed one hit — that booming homer over the left field wall — in two at bats.
 Wakefield marched into the finals on its 8-0 shutout, shared by pitchers Sam Utecht and Bruce Paul, over Winside.
 Wakefield struck for two runs in the first and second innings of the Saturday night game, commanding a 4-0 lead before rapping three more runs in the fourth.

 Twite and shortstop Doug Soderberg, smacked triples that scored three Wakefield runs. Twite's accounted for the first two runs at the outset of the game before Soderberg finished up the match with his, good for the fifth run of the game in the sixth inning.
 The stories for Wayne's two teams isn't as bright.
COLERIDGE DELIVERED the Midgets their first loss, 3-2, in 19 starts to wipe out the locals' hopes of repeating as district three winners.
 The nightmare started in the third frame of the district finals Sunday when it appeared Wayne would retire the side with two away. But first baseman Bob Keating bobbled a grounder, allowing Coleridge catcher John Lortz to make it to first and drive in the team's first run to knot the game at 1-1.
 Earlier in the inning, starting hurler Earle Overin walked two Coleridge players.
 Third baseman Ron Stone then unleashed a fly to shallow left field where three Wayne players, blinded by the sun, allowed the ball to fall through their gloves, scoring two more Coleridge runners.

WAYNE'S DEFENSE and Overin's one-hit pitching put a stop to Coleridge's scoring attempts during the remainder of the game. Now, it was Wayne's chance to prove the team could come from behind and win No. 19.
 They started their drive in the fifth when left fielder Marty Hansen came home on a sacrifice by center fielder Gordie Cook. That put the score at 3-2, with still two innings left.
 The sixth frame proved fruitless, but the seventh seemed to be the one for Wayne.
 After pinch hitter Randy Park struck out, another pinch hitter, Jack Froehlich, walked to put a man on first. Hansen then slapped a single after going the full count.
 With two runners on, the fans and the Wayne players were cheering for the tie run as second baseman Paul Mallette took a 1-1 count.
THEN THE NIGHTMARE became a really. Mallette cracked a hit, but Coleridge second baseman Terry Krie snatched the ball and put Keating out at second before tossing the ball to first for the double play.

 That double play resulted when Krie moved towards second in a fake put-out on Keating. It turned out Krie was in the right spot at the right time to take the grounder for the double play, stopping the tying run.
 The same one-point margin prevailed for the Wayne Legion. Randolph beat the local club, 4-3, after both teams continued the semifinal rained out game Sunday afternoon.
 Randolph struck twice — in the fourth (Saturday night) and fifth (Sunday) with two runs each. Wayne countered, but with only one run each inning.
BOTH CLUBS REMAINED calm through the sixth before Wayne started to make its move in the bottom of the seventh.
 Three consecutive singles filled the bags with no outs.
 Center fielder Kerry Jech then hit a fielder's choice to put the home team one run down, 4-3, with only one out.

 But then things went awry for Wayne.
 Second baseman Charlie Roland hit a single to once again fill the bases, but Catcher Charlie Roland's fielder's choice ended up in Roger Saul's tag out at home.
 With two away, first baseman Kerry Jech took a three-ball count and let the next three pitches go by, thinking Randolph's Randy Van Slyke would deliver the fourth ball and walk home the tying run. But umpire Mike Keenan saw different.
 Van Slyke turned those deliveries into three straight strikes to stop the locals with the bases loaded.
ACCORDING TO THE STATISTICS, Wayne should have won the game — the club blasted 12 hits compared to four for Randolph.
 Both Saul and Van Slyke had about the same number of strikeouts. Roger led with nine while Randy fanned eight.
 The Wayne Legion completed its seas. on with a 12-6 mark.

WAYNE'S MIDGETS had rough going Sunday evening, dropping their first contest in 19 starts to Coleridge, 3-2, during the finals of the district baseball tourney at Wayne. In that game umpire Alvern Rathke of Wisner provided fans with some acting as he physically called the plays. On the left, Wayne catcher Mike Meyer makes it back to first after Coleridge makes an unsuccessful attempt to put him out.

 Leaders Greg Noyes and Doug Proett guided their club in wins, with Noyes getting three firsts and Proett picking up two.
 The girls, in the individual events, had trouble taking wins. Beth Ostendorf in the 13-14 age category and Tracy Stollenberg (10 and under) were the only Wayne members to claim firsts. The results of the diving winners were incomplete.
 Next week, Thursday and Friday, the Wayne tankers will host Elgin and Pender, respectively.

Wayne Boosts Season Mark

The Wayne town team upped its season record to 16-3 this week after knocking off three teams in as many nights.
 The locals racked up two important Northeast Nebraska Baseball League wins Sunday and Tuesday night, hitting Ponca, 6-2, Tuesday after Sunday's blasting of Winnebago, 14-2.
 Both Wayne steadies, hurlers Paul Eddie and Randy Benish, added victories to their season records, with Benish leading the group at 6-0 and Eddie following at 6-1. Wayne's other pitcher, Mike Gino, holds a 3-1 record.
 Benish had an easy time against Winnebago, fanning 18 while only giving up two hits. On top of his pitching, Benish rapped two home runs — one in the third for a solo RBI and one in the ninth for two more runs batted in.
 Wayne scored six runs in the second inning, one in the fourth, two in the seventh and five more in the ninth. Winnebago fanned its two in the fifth frame.
 Six singles in the fifth frame of the Ponca contest sparked the locals to score five runs.
 Eddie had a three-hitter in that match, striking out nine Ponca batters.
 In between those league games, Steve Hix earned his first victory on the mound as the visitors clobbered Pender, 14-4.

MOST PEOPLE will admit it's a bit early to talk about football. But now that Wayne's two hopefuls—the Midget and Legion clubs—are no longer in the race for the state baseball titles, it won't hurt to reflect on the coming season.

Wayne State coach Del Stollenberg hopes his three victories at the tail end of a 37 season will be enough spark to ignite this year's club to a better record. Right now it looks like the club has the potential. An early survey revealed the head mentor is expecting about 16 returning vets.

Upperclassmen who will be instrumental in the Wildcats' bid for success are Stan Lewis, defensive end from Chicago; Rich Mangiameli, guard from Omaha; George Biszack, linebacker from Sterling, Ill.; Dean Ott, offensive back from Hooper; Pat Dyer, ranston back; Dennis Linke, Grand Island fullback and Tim Denham, quarterback from Cumberland, Ia., who did not see much action last year because of a knee injury.

Also returning will be Sid Conrad, Beemer defensive back; Tom Allie, Des Moines and Kirk Park, Burlington, Ia., both ends.

Wayne State publicity man Dick Manley promises that before the season starts he will have a complete run down on the team and its players.

ALTHOUGH THERE have been plenty of changes in the coaching ranks at the college, Stollenberg won't have to worry about getting plenty of assistance.

Former Wildcat Doug Barry—he used to head Winside's football program—will serve as graduate assistant while working for his master's in physical education.

Along with Barry will be Pat Holston and Gary Gottsch, also former grid acers. Stollenberg probably will need all that coaching help available as the Wildcats go into this year's schedule. Heading the list of foes will be Nebraska Wesleyan in a Sept. 8 clash—the first one for Wayne State.

Wayne will host newcomer University of Missouri-Rolla the following week with an away bout with the University of Minnesota-Morris on the 22nd.

On the 29th, Wayne returns home to face Midland College.

The rest of the schedule looks like this: October—6, at Chadron State; 13, at St. Cloud, Minnesota (homecoming); 20, Kearney State; 27, at Peru State.

The final game of the season features another new name to Wayne's slate—lowa Wesleyan, at Mount Pleasant.

WAYNE STATE'S former head baseball coach, Dr. Fred Pierce, spoke very highly of the Herald's coverage during his team's best season ever. Pierce wanted to thank the staff for the good pictures and stories in the paper.

Credit Dick Manley, head of the college's information center for the writeups and pictures. His knowledge of the team's background and players resulted in quite a few interesting stories.

ONE THING I didn't play up in Wakefield Legion's win over Randolph in the district baseball tourney at Wayne last weekend is the performance of pitcher Bob Twite.

For some it may be hard to believe the right-hander only has a 2.8 record. "When you take a look at our record," he said, "you'll see quite a few Class A teams we lost to."

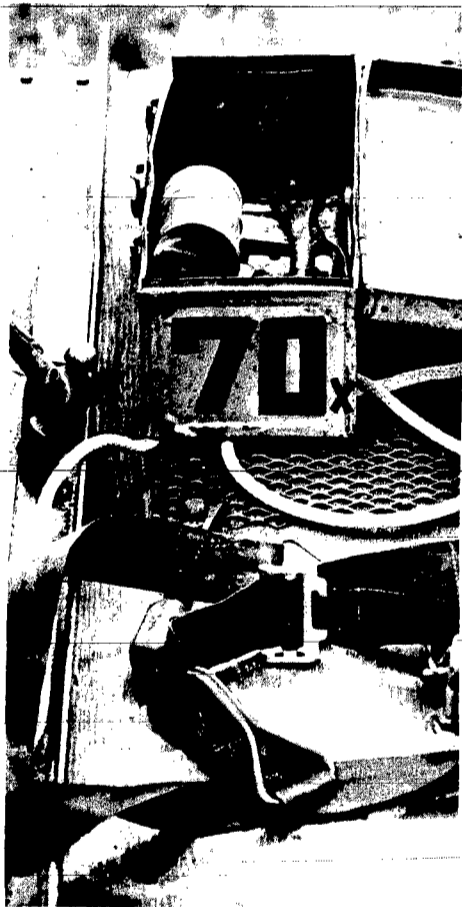

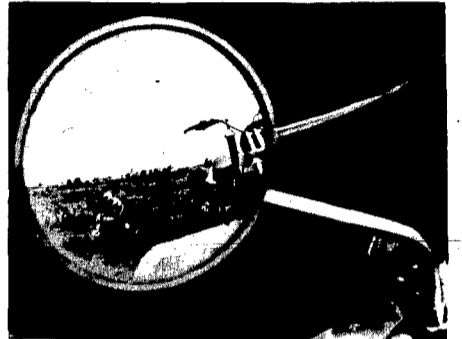

On top of that he had a sore right-hand after spraining it the previous night in an attempt to steal third.

On top of his pitching, he smashed a two-run homer over the center field wall—that's about 375 feet.

IN A LOOK at the tourney, I don't think I would want to be an umpire behind the plate unless I had the ability to take all the abuse.

Many umpires are called blind because of some of the calls in a game, strike or otherwise.

As one umpire in the tourney put it, "Being behind the plate is a tough job. Most of the fans behind the plate have too good a view of those pitches. It makes the job of a home umpire twice as hard."

Wayne May Battle Homer For Season League Title

Wayne's meeting with South Sioux City Friday night at home will decide if the town team is to play Homer Sunday for the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League season title.

The home team added two more league victories this week to put it within an eyelash of tying Homer for the league crown.

Tuesday night the visiting Wayne club rattled Ponca for a 6-2 victory after bombing Winnebago, 14-2, Sunday night. That put the team's mark at 10-3. Homer is 10 1/2-2 1/2.

In other league action Tuesday, Wakefield made its fourth place league spot official with a 12-1 ripping of South Sioux to earn a playoff berth, and Homer defeated Winnebago.

A look at the standings may be a bit confusing with half games figured in. According to league secretary Merlin "Lefty" Olson of Wakefield, the half games are losses and wins for the teams which did not finish the regular league schedule within the allotted time.

The playoffs are tentatively set for next Thursday, with the top team playing the fourth place club while the second and third place teams clash in the best of a three game series. The winners will advance to the finals for the playoff title.

In other Sunday league meetings, Homer smacked Wakefield, 7-1, and Newcastle shut out South Sioux, 19-0. Ponca and Dakota City did not play.

Standings	W	L
Homer	10 1/2	2 1/2
Wayne	10	3
Newcastle	9	5
Wakefield	8	6
Ponca	5	7
Dakota City	5 1/2	7 1/2
Winnebago	3	10
South Sioux	2	11

Dixon County To Get New Coordinator

Dixon, Dakota and Thurston Counties will be getting a new hunter safety coordinator, says the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

Virgil Gosch, originally of Randolph, will patrol Dixon, Dakota and the north half of Thurston Counties after completing work on a degree in criminal justice from the University of Nebraska at Omaha this summer.

Gosch will be stationed at Ponca to replace Dick Turpin, who is now the Game and Parks Commission's hunter safety coordinator.

FORTY SEVEN MOTORCYCLISTS competed at the Nebraska state scrambles championship Sunday afternoon near Norfolk. Hundreds of spectators gathered at the event to watch riders in four classes compete for individual trophies and the honor to be named the state champ. For three area riders—Dave Wickett of Laurel and Joe Davis and Scott Ehlers of Wayne—the competition was a little tough. None of the cyclists won or placed in their respective divisions, but it was a chance to gain plenty of experience. Only one area driver, Dan Holtgrew of Wakefield, placed. He was fourth in the open class. In the top photo, Davis leaning forward prepares to wind up his cycle for the first round of the 250 CC class. Clockwise: Some of the fast-paced action as seen in a mirror. Besides bringing their bikes, riders have to have proper tools in case of a quick plug change or other emergency repair. Wickett holds on tight as he rounds one of the curves during racing action. In most races there's bound to be a crackup or two. For one Norfolk man, that was the case when his throttle stuck, causing him to lose control of his machine and slam into a trailer.

Energy System Plant Spends About $94,000 Annually in Wayne Area

That "grey building" on the northeast corner of the Wayne State campus, better known as Energy Systems, has a unique feature.

"It is the only plant in the nation that has a pink-colored steam pipe," joked plant manager Bill Workman during the Monday Kiwanis meeting.

Seriously, he went on, the plant is only one of two such plants in the state operated by Energy Systems.

The heating and cooling plant, a division of Northern Natural Gas, has served 23 buildings on the college campus since construction three years ago.

"Many people get us confused with supplying the college with electricity," Workman said. "This we do not do. We, like the college, get our electricity from the city of Wayne."

In reviewing the plant's operations, Workman pointed out the facility can supply enough heat to keep warm about half of the average-size houses in Wayne. That's about 400 homes. In regards to cooling, Workman again noted that the plant can cool about half the town.

"There are only two such stations like this in the state," he said. The one in Omaha is much larger and it delivers heating and cooling to about 34 buildings in the downtown metropolitan area. The Wayne plant is on a smaller scale, but it has the same functions.

Despite its size and the number of men it employs — five — the operation totals about $55,000 in annual income for the Wayne area. In addition, the company pays about $17,500 in taxes to the city. All told, Energy Systems' expenses in Wayne amounts to about $94,000, Workman said.

Workman said he is not worried about future gas shortages. "The plant functions well on either natural gas or fuel, depending on which is available. Chances are we will have enough gas this year, but we are going to have to pay a premium price just like everyone else."

Presently Energy Systems has a 28 year contract with the college. "Our whole pipeline system is designed and built to last at least 40 years," he said.

What does the near future hold for the Wayne plant? Energy Systems expects to supply enough heating and cooling for the new campus building as well as the new hospital, Workman emphasized.

Club president Bob Carhart told the Kiwanians that Sioux City will hold a charter night

Aug. 17. He also reminded them that the Kiwanis convention will be Aug. 10-12.

In other news Kiwanian Wilmer Marra announced that Sunday, Sept. 9, is the date for the annual Kiwanis white elephant sale to be held at the city auditorium.

In a final note, Carhart said that this year the Kiwanis will not have a booth at the Wayne County Fair. "There seems to be more people gathered in one spot at the home show, so we might have the booth there," he said.

Takes Job —

Prior to coming to Wayne, he was director of instrumental music at Aurora for seven years.

Dr. Mendyk is past president of the Nebraska Bandmasters Association and has done executive adjudicating at district music contests in Nebraska as well as having served several times as guest conductor and clinician throughout the state.

Dr. and Mrs. Mendyk and their five children will move to Stevens Point in two weeks.

Funds —

Wayne, placed 33rd on the list, has applied for funds for an estimated $20,000 improvement to its waste water treatment plant. The funds, if allocated would be used for the installation of a grinder and a measuring device.

U. S. Environmental Protection Agency approval must still be obtained before federal money can be allocated. Federal monies pay 75 per cent of plant construction, while state and local communities split the remaining 25 per cent of the cost.

Tires Stolen

Two used sport tires, valued at $35, were reported stolen from Coryell Derby Station sometime before Saturday, according to the Wayne Police department.

"Did you know that farmers receive only seven cents for every dollar spent on corn flakes?"

Councilman —

fore they were made, said the city administrator should meet with Evers to see that federal funding is requested in the future on purchases which do not have to be made immediately.

Russell also questioned another action by the new chief, named recently to replace the man fired from the job by mayor Hall.

Russell asked the city attorney for a legal opinion on whether the chief can demote and promote officers in a first class city such as Wayne.

The request came after the council received Evers' letter dated July 19 saying he had demoted Keith Reed from sergeant to patrolman and promoted Melvin Lamb from patrolman to sergeant.

Russell cited state laws and a local ordinance which have led him to believe the chief does not have this authority.

In another letter to the council, Evers reported he has hired another officer, Doug Rother. That addition to the staff has permitted him to free one officer for full time investigative work, he said in the letter. He told the council he considers it necessary to hire another full time man in addition to Rother.

In other action, the council: —ACCEPTED A BID of $16,936.40 from Tilden Construction Co. for installing water and sewer lines to the area being developed on the west edge of the city. The other bid on the work, from L. E. Ball Construction Co. of Norfolk, was for $17,749. Work on the project is to be started by Sept. 1 and completed by Nov. 1.

—APPROVED APPOINTMENTS by the mayor to the advisory committee on the aging. Named to the board were councilman Thomas, the Rev. Paul Begley, Mrs. Frank Praher, Goldie Leonard and Wes Pflueger. Council also approved appointment of Mrs. Charles McDermott to the housing authority.

—APPROVED APPOINTMENT of Jerry Malcolm of Wayne as city auditor for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

—ACCEPTED A $2,500 bid from Wolske Auto Co in Wayne for a new truck for the line department.

—DISCUSSED but took no action on a proposed ordinance which would set an occupation tax on liquor establishments in the city.

—AGREED TO ESTABLISH a nine member Wayne State College Publicity Board which would be responsible for promoting the college. Action is result of the city's decision to donate $4,000 to help advertise the college in an attempt to cut dwindling enrollment.

—AGREED TO MEET at 4 p. m. Tuesday to discuss and tour areas of the city needing sidewalk.

—LEARNED FROM COUNCILMAN THOMAS that the material for the new substation and transmission line the city will build should be here by November. If it is and weather is favorable, the transmission line connecting the city's electrical lines with those of Nebraska Public Power District should be completed in about four weeks, he told the council.

Taking Advantage

SATURDAY'S annual Dog Days in Wayne drew crowds of people from all around the area to take advantage of the low prices and special bargains local merchants had to offer. For Linda Kamp, top photo, shoes drew her interest. Another type of shoe — the tennis variety — were aplenty for the shoppers. Marie Lippmann, right, finds one particular dress for her daughter that turns out to be a bargain. Willing to help her out in the selection is Joyce Haun, sales clerk for one of the stores.

Firemen's Group To Meet at Wakefield

Hitting .432 In Loop Race

John Kingsbury of Ponca has lengthened his Northeast Nebraska Baseball League batting lead, as his two previous contenders, Kevin Peters of Wakefield and Marcus Bass of Winnebago fared poorly at the plate last week.

Kingsbury is hitting .432 with his new challengers Brent Longwell of Homer and Rod Sailors of Dakota, both hitting .405.

Ron Ege of Newcastle leads in hits, 18, and Longwell has the leadership in runs scored, 14, and home runs, four.

Ege and Denny Paul of Wayne each have five doubles. Paul Eddie of Wayne and Phil Witt of Dakota City each have two triples.

John Ege of Newcastle is 4.0 among pitchers. Most teams have been using two and three pitchers, resulting in the rather low number of wins at this stage in the season.

NEN Senator Halfway Backs Teacher Group

A Northeast Nebraska state legislator supported the Nebraska State Education Association (NSEA) about 50 per cent of the time during the 1973 legislative session, a score card reveals.

The NSEA evaluation of all state senators' voting patterns showed that John Murphy of South Sioux City supported NSEA's position half the time. Murphy represents Wayne, Dixon and Dakota Counties.

The NSEA broke its score card two ways—rating each senator on all bills and votes and then excluding votes on LB472, the major state aid to schools bill of the session.

The teacher-dominated organization opposed that major bill because it contained a limit on what school districts could spend annually.

Omaha senators proved to be the best allies of the organization, with John Cavanaugh voting with NSEA's position 86 per cent of the time. Immediately behind him were Omahans Glenn Goodrich, Harold Moylan and George Syas, all over 80 per cent.

On the opposite end of the Valentine, who voted with NSEA's position 22 per cent of the time.

Troopers hard-nosed? Just be thankful they are

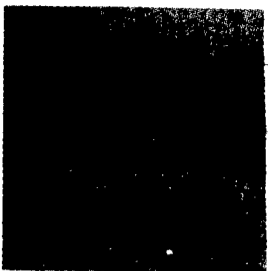

Screams of young mother watching her dead child being lifted from wrecked car drown out your reasons for those couple beers

Flanked by dead people, rider says: 'Please pray for me'

A hard nosed trooper? Thank God!
If it were not so, he wouldn't be able to complete all of the duties assigned to him!
So he wouldn't "listen to reason" when you tried to explain those "two beers with a friend" ... or why you had to crowd the speed limit to make up the lost time ... or why you didn't see that stop sign ... or why you thought that yellow no passing stripe was on the other side of the center line ... or why you may have drifted across the center line because you were tired after driving all day ... or that you've been meaning to replace that expired inspection sticker ...
He heard what you said, he'd heard it all before many times ...
But the real reason he didn't "hear" you was that your words were drowned out by the screams of a young mother who was conscious of the limp and lifeless body of her little girl was lifted from the wreckage and she helplessly watched her year old son convulse in pain. Her own injuries proved to be beyond medical help. The driver apparently fell asleep at high speed after long hours at the wheel ...

Or perhaps he recalls the deadly silence and the unseeing eyes of the young driver who had been drinking and who was thrown from his car when he lost control on a curve in the road. The officer was greeted by open but unseeing eyes in a soiled and mutilated face as the victim's body, pinned under the car, was seared by the hot exhaust system ...
Or maybe he remembers the anguish of the mother holding the decapitated body of her child who had been caught in a partially open door as their car rolled after it had been struck by another vehicle that violated a stop sign ...
Or it's possible that his thoughts were on the crumpled station wagon that contained three bodies and the injured survivors of what had once been a happy family on a holiday outing. The sudden failure of a worn tire caused the driver to lose control at highway speed ...

Or perhaps his memory dwelt on the head on collision in the no-passing zone that killed the talented young man and critically injured his bride — the innocent victims of someone else's erratic behavior at the wheel ...
And there were the pleas to the trooper by the truck driver, helplessly pinned to the wreckage at a grade crossing, in danger of being burned to death "Use your gun! I beg of you to shoot me!" ...
And another instance involving the lone survivor, stuck between the lifeless bodies of his two companions when their vehicle skidded beneath a truck, who had but one request: "Please pray for me."
Thank God for hard-nosed troopers!

OBSERVATIONS

Freeloading is nice . . . for some

Every community has freeloaders, and Wayne apparently has its share of them. The freeloaders are the business places who will let others attend the meetings, do the planning, donate their time and spend their money to promote the community . . . and then they tag along on their shirttails. They won't get out and push to make the business district a healthy and growing one, but they'll sure take advantage of the work others do toward that end.
A perfect example is Saturday's Dog Days in Wayne. Plenty of business places spent good money in trying to promote that event. Others decided not to go along with it, but chose to promote their businesses in a little different way. Still others, the freeloaders, did neither. They just saw a chance to tag along on the efforts and expense of others. So they put up their sidewalk tables right along with those belonging to the people who want to the trouble to back the sales effort.

Considered by itself, that freeloading isn't so terrible. But it does indicate a weakness in the community. It shows that some people are willing to sit back and let — sometimes even expect — others to do their work for them. When that attitude becomes too prominent in a community, it no longer indicates a weakness. The community then becomes a weak one.

'Inflation is a sneaky way to up taxes'

By the Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Here's one effect of inflation that you probably haven't thought about. It raises your taxes.
It's a sneaky tax increase, too, because it has occurred while politicians have been loudly claiming credit for lowering your taxes.
Basically, it works like this: The pay raises that we receive over the years reflect in part increased productivity and in part compensation for the loss in the dollar's purchasing power. But the federal income tax is progressive. The government's share of your income goes up as you make more money, even though the extra dollars may not buy enough to make up for what you have lost to inflation.

Sound confusing? Let's look at a concrete example.
Take a hypothetical family of four. In 1963, the breadwinner made $10,000. His federal income tax bill came to $1,372. His social security tax was $174. So, he had $8,454 left after federal taxes.
The same family, making $10,000 in 1973, would owe $905 federal income tax and $585 Social Security tax, leaving $8,510. If we stop there, it looks like the family is a little better off in 1973 than it would have been in 1963.

Inflation Factor
But, the dollar has lost 42 per cent of its value since 1963. It takes $12,005 today to buy what $8,454 would buy in 1963.
So our typical family of four would need to have $12,005 left after taxes today just to be as well off as it was in 1963.
How much income does it take in 1973 in order to have $12,005 left after federal taxes? Hold on to your hat. It takes $14,304.
The 1973 income tax bill on $14,304 comes to $1,667. The social security tax is $632. That leaves $12,005.

The total federal tax bill for the family making $10,000 in 1963 was $1,546. To have the same purchasing power, that family today would need $14,304, and the federal tax bill on that income is $2,299. That's the sneaky tax increase — a 49 per cent tax increase on the same purchasing power.
Some other comparisons: If you earned $5,000 in 1963 and paid total federal taxes of $594, to have the same after-tax purchasing power today you'd have to earn $7,088, and the tax bill on that would be $831. If you earned $25,000 then and paid taxes of $5,492, you'd have to earn $35,968 today, paying $8,267 in taxes.

The Cruellest Increase
Inflation is the cruellest tax increase. It hits hardest at those on fixed incomes. It puts into higher tax brackets people who are really not better off than they were when they were earning less. And it enables the politicians to escape responsibility for openly raising taxes.

Ord High grad will take over reigns at Peru State College on August 15

LINCOLN Peru State College has a new president.
He is Dr. Douglas W. Pearson, 33, a native Nebraskan, who will take over reigns at the southeast Nebraska college Aug. 15.

Pearson dean of students at Tennessee Wesleyan at Athens, Tenn., since 1971, will replace Dr. Max Smith. Smith has been acting president at Peru since the middle of last year when Dr. Neal Gomom resigned after 21 years as the PSC chief executive.
Robert Walker of Kearney, chairman of the Board of State College Trustees, said Smith was among the six nominees whose names were forwarded to the board by a search committee composed of Peru students, faculty, administrators and alumni.

Smith will continue to draw his $25,431 salary until Sept. 1, according to Walker who said the deferred departure was granted by the board as "a small token of thanks to give him ample time to select future employment."
Pearson, whose hometown is Ord where his father is a mortician, is an Ord High School graduate who earned a bachelor's degree in music education from the University of Nebraska in 1961. He also earned his master's degree from NU in 1967 and was granted a doctorate in higher education in 1971 from George Peabody College at Nashville, Tenn.

After graduating from the university in 1961, Pearson taught music at Shelby for a year and then three years each at Falls City and Norfolk.

He said he and his family decided in Norfolk that if he wanted to pursue a career in higher education, administration, he would need a doctor's degree.

After studying programs at many institutions, he said, he decided Peabody College at Nashville had what he wanted.
While a student, Pearson worked as assistant to the Peabody president and as an academic and administrative vice president.

He moved to Tennessee Wesleyan in 1971.
Pearson said he heard about the possibility of a vacancy at Peru last summer when Gomom took a leave of absence because of ill health (Gomom officially resigned Dec. 31). Later, Pearson said he heard that the Nebraska college trustees were looking for a successor to Dr. William Brandenburg at Wayne. He applied for that job.

Pearson said he had contacted trustee Ward Reesman earlier about the Peru opening and about two weeks before he was hired Reesman called to see if he still was interested. The board still had his background from the Wayne application.
The young educator said he was interested, and he spent about a week meeting with Nebraskans and visiting the Peru campus before receiving and accepting the offer of the presidency.

The former member of the Cornhusker marching band played the baritone horn in the former Lexy Lu Ann Richards Mrs. Pearson is a graduate of Lincoln Northeast and her mother has been a teacher there. Her father was in the NU chemistry department.

The young couple has two children, a son Douglas, 11, (described by his father in a personal summary prepared for the board as a "sports enthusiast"), and a daughter Amy Christine, 4, (described in the same document as a "Southern belle").

Pearson told reporters after his appointment that he is aware he is moving into one of higher education's hot spots in Nebraska. Peru, like other state colleges, has been declining in enrollment and, because it is the smallest public institution in the state, has been watched closely in recent years by the trustees and members of the Legislature.

A legislative interim study committee currently is taking a look at Peru's future.

Pearson said he has been directed by the board to do the same thing. He said Walker and the other trustees have told him to work with the University of Nebraska and the state technical community college system to see how the best possible higher educational opportunities can be offered in southeast Nebraska.

An idea identified with Smith and vigorously supported by many southeast Nebraskans for a regional state college still is technically under study by the trustees, according to Walker.

However he said the plan for facilities at Peru and in the quarters of the defunct private college, John J. Pershing, at Beatrice, isn't receiving active attention lately.

Pearson said he wasn't acquainted with the details of the proposal and wasn't prepared to give an opinion. He said he hadn't even met Smith prior to his appointment as Smith's successor.

Peru is the oldest of the state's education institutions. It was created as a normal school in 1867 by the first state Legislature.

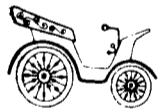

Pearson will be the 20th president of the institution on the Missouri River banks.

Juvenile Journalism

One of Nebraska's more unusual journalistic efforts was a small, hand-set, 3-column tabloid newspaper called The Kid. Editors were Willie and Jay Green of Beaver City, Furnas County, Nebraska. The brothers, neither yet 12 years of age, published the semi-monthly at a subscription price of 15 cents per year. Issues from June 12, 1896-June 4, 1898 are in the files of the Nebraska State Historical Society, Lincoln. The Kid emphasized local news but also carried infrequent serials, a few advertisements, and an occasional column about stamp collecting, of which the editors must have been practitioners. Photographs also appeared regularly. By 1898 most of the subject matter of The Kid had turned to philately, and the paper apparently ceased publication on June 4 of that year. Of the hundreds of Nebraska papers published, records of the Historical Society and The Nebraska Press Association (now in its Centennial year) list few if any published by persons so young.

No news at Beaver City proved unworthy of inclusion in The Kid. We learn for example that "Judge (George) W. Norris was orator of the day at that time was district judge and resided at Beaver City. The same issue, July 10, 1896, recounted details of the severe storm which had visited the area: "Northeast of town, one week ago last Monday, there was the heaviest rain and hail storm ever known in Furnas Co. The rain and hail falling to the depth of fourteen inches. Corn and small grain was beaten down and washed away."
Humor did not escape the youthful editors; on December 5, 1896, the want-ad column advertised: "Buildlog for

WAY BACK WHEN

30 Years Ago

August 12, 1943. Half a hundred fight lipped men who three months ago were battling Japs face to face all over the vast Pacific battle area began training last week at Nebraska State Teachers College to become flyers in the United States army air forces. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Marsh and son of Omaha are moving to Wayne soon. Mr. Marsh is with the internal revenue department. A large number attended each of the two services at Grace Lutheran mission festival Sunday. Examinations for temporary teaching certificates were given at the college here Friday to 28 from Wayne and nearby counties. Prof. Russel Anderson bought the Lawrence Victor residence on north Main Street Wednesday. George Borg was thrown by a bull at his farm and one of his legs was hurt Monday last week. Elmer Gillespie and Robert Bouffing, Winside, employees of the George Gabler garage and truck line, purchased the business interests of Mr. Gabler during the fore part of last week.

20 Years Ago

July 30, 1953. Members of Wayne's National Guard unit leave Sunday for encampment at Camp McCoy, Wis. The training period runs through Aug. 16. So far, 41 farms from Wayne County are entered in the Siouxsland soil conservation contest. Three outstanding farms will be selected from the entrants to represent the county. A total of 136 pints of blood were given by Wakefield and Allen citizens in Wakefield Thursday when the Red Cross blood mobile was there. Cash and merchandise valued at $170 were stolen at Hoskins early Tuesday morning when robbers broke into the Voss Implement Company and Johnson's Service. Liv Tveraa, Mosjoen, Norway, will spend a year with her cousin, Cliff Dahl, Wayne. George Konopik, Wisner, suffered an injured foot Monday when a radiator in the industrial arts building at the college fell while he and other workmen were making repairs.

10 Years Ago

July 31, 1963. A call has been issued by the United Presbyterian Church, Wayne, to Rev. John Voth, Maple Plain, Minn., to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Dr. O. B. Proett. Harry Conner, long-time trucker from Wakefield, is retiring from active management of Conner Transfer, Inc., this week. The weather was perfect and the public took advantage of it at Winside's Old Settlers Picnic Thursday as nearly 4,000 people turned out for the full day of events. Dr. Donald Vrba, DVM, a recent graduate of Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, is now associated with Dr. N. L. Ditman, Winside veterinarian. Mrs. Al Ehlers, chairman of the Wayne Girl Scout program, gave a talk to the Wayne Kiwanis Club on Girl Scouting in Wayne at the regular Monday meeting. Pastor T. H. Liang, present minister at the Walthill and Bancroft Presbyterian churches, was the guest speaker Sunday evening at the Christian Church in Wakefield.

15 Years Ago

August 7, 1958. Just enough sunshine hit NE Nebraska the past week to permit most farmers to complete oats harvest. Continuous rains showed their effect in heavy yields, with some farmers reporting up to 80 bushels per acre. Mrs. Mary Patterson, Wakefield, was elected president of the Nebraska Normal College Association at the group's thirty-second annual reunion Sunday at the WSTC student union. An Angus steer shown by Dianna Dunklau, Wayne, was named grand champion of the Winner junior livestock show held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Wayne Gilliland, Wayne, won the dairy judging contest at a district Guernsey show Thursday in Waterloo. John Bernthal, Herbert Bareiman and Richard and Roland Temme, Wayne, attended the annual Nebraska District Walther League convention Friday through Sunday at Grand Island.

Proett has been elected as the new head of the Wayne Ministerial Association. Rev. Eugene E. Goley will be secretary-treasurer. A booster caravan is scheduled to arrive in Wayne today to publicize the 49th Old Settlers reunion, to be held Aug. 12 in Winside. A camping trip to Ponca State Park is being planned for boys 12-years and older on Friday, Aug. 13. Interest in dairy calf entries at the Wayne County Fair, Sept. 15 to 18, is expected to be heightened by presentation of an impressive trophy to the grand champion in 4-H competition. Both Wayne and Wakefield lost to "the elements" in a rag to a rural fire Wednesday night of last week. The chicken house on the John Ronnefeld farm was struck by lightning during the storm, which dumped 2.81-inches-of-rain in the Wayne area.

WINSTED, CONN., EVENING CITIZEN: "When a woman gets a job traditionally held by a man, or enters a field heretofore dominated by men, that's news. Lately there's been much news of this nature; it's getting to be about as old hat as dog bites man. Comes now a man bites dog item — and we hasten to say that this figure of speech is not intended. In the slightest degree as an insult to the ladies, for whom we have the most extreme regard. But consider if the characterization is not apt: For the first time in its 112 years, during most of which time it enrolled only women, Vassar College has a male student government president. Ah, well, a little man's liberation is not a bad thing, either."

Area 4-H'er Ends Journey In Europe

Seventy-nine 4-H members and their sponsors from Nebraska returned last week from a 21 day People to People good will journey which took them to Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Switzerland.

Among those taking part in the tour were Linda Baier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Baier of Carroll, and Rex Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen of Wakefield.

They flew from Omaha to London where they were divided into two groups. Meetings, in interviews, and receptions were scheduled throughout the 21 days.

Purpose of their visit was to learn the methods and working conditions and to improve relationship and understanding between America and the people abroad. The mission was privately sponsored and organized under the National Goodwill People to People and was approved and endorsed by the National Office of People to People, Inc., with headquarters in Kansas City. This is a private citizen effort, and each one paid his own expenses. The program was founded in 1956 by General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They received only 40¢ of each dollar Americans spent of farm produced foods at the store in 1972.

Roses are one of the most beautiful flowers. Each year certain varieties of new roses are considered. All America roses, and one way to build a beautiful rose garden is to use only All America winners. Each year you can add the new All America winners to your selection ending up with only the best!

Roses named winners: Bahia, Bahia is a bright orange pink floribunda with abundance of bloom. The flowers of Bahia have 2.5 inch blooms, borne in clusters of three to several. The double blossoms are made up of 20-39 petals plus 10-18 petaloids. They hold their color until the petals fall and give off a spicy fragrance. The plant of this floribunda is vigorous, bushy and compact with an abundance of medium sized, semi-glossy leaflets, exhibiting better than average resistance to mildew. Bahia resulted from a cross between Rumba and Tropicana.

Perfume Delight This richly fragrant, clear pink rose is the only hybrid tea to win an All America award for 1973. A classic urn shaped bud of rich deep pink unfolds to a high centered bloom of brilliant clearest pink. This rose has a vigorous, well branched medium tall plant. It is covered with large, leathery leaves completely clothing the strong bright green canes. Because of its continuous growth, the plant gives an unending display of flowers from spring until heavy frost. The healthy leaves are disease resistant, and the plant seems able to withstand both the rigors of northern winters and the dry heat of southwestern summers. Winner of five All America award winners, it serves best as a mass planting along the driveways, walks or in any sunny spot.

Bon Bon - This rose is an ideal landscaping floribunda which is densely covered with dozens of pink and white bicolor blooms, beautifully displayed over masses of bright green leaflets. The flowers of this award winner are borne in large clusters, opening continuously from spring until the fall frosts. The plant has good resistance to black spot and is exceptionally mildew resistant because of its medium height, which averages about 2.5 feet, and its neat, compact growth habit, the new floribunda is especially desirable for landscaping. Bon Bon comes from a famous line of ancestors, including Bridal Pink and Yellow seedling 58-6792.

Gingham Gals Sing Way to Top Ribbon

The top 4-H singing group in Wayne County won't be competing in the State Fair at Lincoln next month, but members of the group are still plenty proud of the purple ribbon they received in Friday night's contest.

Members of the group, Gingham Gals, are not old enough to advance to State Fair competition.

Competing there will be the Modern Misses singing group of eight girls.

The Gingham Gals and Modern Misses won two of three purple ribbons awarded in the annual contest, held at the city auditorium.

Taking home the third purple ribbon was the Modern Misses singing group of six.

Earning blue ribbons in the contest were the Hi Raters (boys), Kid Power and Busy Bees.

Red ribbons went to the Hi Raters (girls) and the Hoskins Junior Homemakers.

The contest was held in conjunction with the dress revue.

Specialist Makes Report at Meet on NE Station Work

Robert Fritschen, swine specialist at the Northeast Station near Concord, reported on Station research during the 65th annual meeting of the American Society of Animal Science.

The annual meeting began Saturday and ended Wednesday at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Fritschen reported that during summer studies a modified open front (MOF) building supported better growth rate and feed efficiency than a totally enclosed environmentally regulated (ER) building. He described the MOF building as being completely under roof with the south or front side being capable of being opened in the summer and closed in the winter. He indicated that the MOF building also has small doors on the back side of the building for summer cross ventilation.

Fritschen pointed out in earlier winter studies over a period of three years the MOF building supported performance equal to the ER building as long as supplemental zone heat was provided in the MOF house. He said the significance of this information is that the MOF building can be constructed for about 25 to 30 per cent less than the ER unit.

In a related paper, Fritschen reported on a study that compared the effects of aluminum, steel and concrete slats and soil on foot injuries and dimensions.

This study showed that pigs reared on aluminum slats had more severe injuries than pigs reared on concrete or steel slats. Pigs reared on soil had relatively few foot or claw injuries.

Concrete slats had the greatest wearing effect on claws, according to Fritschen, who stated it appears that any hard, non-resilient surface apparently is going to cause mechanical injuries to the pig's claw. This injury may become infected or may cause the pig to stand or walk in a manner that may be expressed in undesirable leg characteristics. To this extent, he said, feet and subsequent leg problems may be related.

Fritschen noted that rear claw measurements indicated that the outside claw is commonly larger than the inside claw and that because of this trait most of the mechanical injury occurs to the outside claws.

Americans are consuming vast amounts of prepared convenience foods with much of the kitchen work done by the processor. The cost of this built-in service has gone up far more than the cost of the basic food item itself.

FRITSCHEN

'Goggles Will Prevent Pesticide Eye Damage'

To prevent serious eye damage and possible blindness, the Nebraska Society for the Prevention of Blindness recommends that safety goggles be worn during all pesticide mixing and applying operations. Pesticide use is becoming more widespread on lawns, gardens and farms. Insecticides and herbicides are poison and one cannot be too careful, the Society says. Eyes are particularly vulnerable to these substances and need to be protected with safety eyewear whenever the possibility of exposure exists, the Society adds.

Severe irritation and burning may be experienced when pesticide compounds come in contact with eye tissue, however, this is not always the case and eye damage can occur when pain is absent. A farmer or a gardener might feel little more than a stinging sensation after a few grains of insecticide fly into his eye. A few moments later, however, the sight in the affected eye might be completely blurred. And a few months later doctors might still wonder if sight will return to normal.

The Society suggests the following additional safety precautions:

- Have ample water available in case of a pesticide exposure. A thorough washing of the skin with soap and water, or a flushing of an exposed eye with clean water only, may reduce irritation and the chance for permanent injury.
- Always read labels before using sprays or dust, noting warnings and cautions each time before opening a container.
- Always store pesticides in original containers; keep them tightly closed. Never keep them in anything but original containers.
- Never smoke or eat while spraying or dusting.
- Avoid inhaling substances. Wear protective clothing, masks and respirators whenever labels direct.
- Do not spill sprays or dusts on skin or clothing. If accidentally spilled, remove contaminated clothes immediately and wash them thoroughly.
- Stand upwind of person applying herbicide or insecticide.
- If symptoms of illness occur during or shortly after working with pesticide compounds, seek medical attention immediately.
- Call a physician as soon as emergency washing is completed.

Americans today eat 115.6 pounds of beef a year. In 1950 they were eating only 63.4 pounds of beef, per individual, each year.
