Wakefield Girl To Compete for State Crown

A senior at Wakefield High School, Judy Gustafson, will be among 14 Nebraska area pork queens who will compete for the title of 1974 Nebraska Pork Queen at the 12th annual Nebraska Pork Producers and Porkettes banquet Nov. 1 at Fremont.

Miss Gustafson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gustafson of rural Wakefield, will represent the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers Association.

Named area queen last fall, she has been active in school events, including membership in pep club, student council, band and girls glee. She has also taken part in girls volleyball and track at Wakefield High. Outside of school, she has participated in Luther League, softball and junior bowling.

She and the other 13 candidates will give an oral presentation on a subject related to the pork industry during a contest before the banquet at Fremont. The new queen will be crowned at the evening banquet by 1973 Pork Queen Carol Frost of Overton.

WS Student Earns $50 In 'Bucks'

A Wayne State sophomore from Plainview has found out that shopping in Wayne stores pays off.

She is Lauren Rasmussen, winner of $50 in last week's Birthday-Bucks.

She was in Sav-Mor Drug last Thursday night when the winning date in the weekly give away was announced. Since there was no shopper in town with a birthday on that exact date, she won the consolation prize for having the birthday closest to it.

Local stores and firms taking part in the promotion will again offer $300 in Birthday Bucks tonight (Thursday). The $50 prize will be awarded in case the grand prize is not claimed. The winning date will be announced in all participating stores at 8:15 p.m.

The Birthday Bucks can be spent just like cash in any participating businesses.

No purchases are necessary and no registration is required to take part

Nominees Wanted for Community Committee

Nominations for candidates for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community committee will be open through Monday, reports Harry Heinemann, chairman of the Wayne County ASC committee.

Heinemann says that so far as is known, no petitions have been signed nominating candidates. The petition period began Oct. 4.

Under the ASC farmer elected committee system, wheat, feed grain, and farm facility loans and other federal farm programs are administered by local farmers. Elections are held annually by mail, with newly elected committee members taking office Jan. 1 of each year.

Preceding Nov. Dec. mail election, any three farmers may nominate a candidate by signing a petition. Farmers may sign as many petitions as they like and the petition may be on any sheet of paper as long as it includes a statement that the nominee has agreed to serve if elected.

Nominating petitions must be turned in at the Wayne County ASCS office in Wayne not later than Monday.

If fewer than six candidates are nominated by petition, the county or community committees now in office will fill out the slates.

Those eligible to nominate, run for office and vote in ASC committee elections include farm owners, tenants and sharecroppers who are 18 or older. In Nebraska a wife who operates a farm with her husband and whose name is on the deed can nominate, be nominated, vote and serve on a committee.

WS Library Opens Doors To Public

Extended public use of the Wayne State College library is in effect under a new policy announced Monday by Charles Stelling, head librarian.

Anyone wanting to borrow materials from Conn Library may obtain a borrower's card by applying at the library. The privilege of checking out materials extends to Aug. 31 of the following year. Cost of this use is $4 for a full year starting Sept. 1; $3 from Dec. 1, $2 from March 1, and $1 from June 1 to Aug. 31.

Stelling said the new policy makes Conn Library available on the same basis as college students use it.

Loan periods include: —Four weeks for most books, government documents, maps and pamphlets, children and young adult books, and circulating reference books. —One day, two days or one week for reserve materials. —One week for materials from the instructional materials center.

—Overnight for bound or unbound periodicals. —Microforms, reference materials and equipment may not be checked out.

In the past, citizens not in the college community were welcome to use materials in the library, and they could check out materials by leaving a deposit for the cost of the item.

One part of the library, the government documents section, always has been open to citizens wanting to check out federal publications.

Youngsters Invited To Don Costumes, Attend Free Show

Wayne area youngsters are invited to don their best Halloween costumes and turn out for the costume contest and free movie at Gay Theatre in Wayne Saturday afternoon.

Costume judging begins at 1:30, followed by the free showing of the musical "Oliver." Judging youngsters will be members of the Senior Citizens Center.

Prizes will be awarded winners in the following categories: best over-all costume, scariest costume for girls, scariest costume for boys, funniest costume for girls and funniest costume for boys.

The contest and free show is sponsored each year by the Morning Shopper and The Wayne Herald in cooperation with Gay Theatre.

Unique Show Open to Public At Planetarium

Wayne area residents are invited to the current public show at Wayne State College's Dale Planetarium.

The presentation, entitled "Sun, Stars, and Seasons," explains fundamental causes of seasonal change, and attempts to relate astronomical events to atmospheric, climatic and biologic occurrences on earth.

The show is unique in that all the visual sequences were taken within the city of Wayne. The sights and sounds of each of the four seasons are represented, with musical accompaniment ranging from electronic-Moog effects to classical baroque.

The show will run through

First Time Out Yields Results

ALTHOUGH young Bill Carhart of Wayne was lucky enough to bag a turkey his first time hunting last spring, he'll have to go as a spectator this time around. The reason: he wasn't lucky enough to get a permit for the winter season, which opens in the northwest part of the state Saturday.

Carhart, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carhart, got his turkey near Fort Robinson in extreme northwest Nebraska in late May. He downed the 15-pound gobbler at about 15 yards with a 10-gauge shotgun.

Shoving Off on the Elkhorn

AN EARLY MORNING SUN bounces off the Elkhorn River south of Wisner, making silhouettes of young canoeists and creating unusual optical effects in the picture. The youths are Boy Scouts from the five-county Lewis and Clark district who took part in the district's annual fall camporee and canoe trip Saturday and Sunday. The boys followed the winding Elkhorn from the city park at Wisner to Beemer, a trip of about six miles. While not on the river, Scouts got a chance to fish, hike, work on skills... or just have fun. Scouts from Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Thurston and Cuming Counties turned out for the event. Other pictures inside this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Nationally Known Speakers To Address District Confab

More than 1,000 teachers from across Northeast Nebraska will have a chance to hear three speakers of national prominence during the two-day district convention which begins today (Thursday) in Wayne.

Speaking to the teachers will be Dr. John Valusek, a certified psychologist from Kansas; James Harris, a Des Moines teacher who was elected vice president of the National Education Association this summer, and Phillip Gilliam, Denver juvenile judge who has heard more juvenile delinquency cases than any other judge in history.

The occasion is the 53rd annual convention of the Nebraska State Education Association.

The convention will be held at Wayne State College all day today and Friday. Other district conventions are being held in Omaha, Lincoln, Kearney and Sidney.

This is the first year Wayne has hosted the convention. Dr. Valusek, who will speak to convention goers at Wayne State at 9 a.m. today, is the author of two books aimed at promoting more effective human relations — "Some Ways of Thinking About Human Behaviour" and "Jottings."

For the past four years he has been psychology consultant for the Kansas Cooperative Urban Teacher Program, a program which trains selected student teachers from 15 liberal arts colleges to work in city schools.

From 1961 to 1966 Dr. Valusek was engaged fulltime in private psychiatric practice, but he began reducing the time spent on his practice in 1966 so he could devote more time to public lectures, workshops and seminars throughout the Midwest. His work in those efforts has been for universities, public and private school systems, and state as well as local mental and public health organizations.

Dr. Valusek has taught mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children and has been on the staff of the University of Michigan and Western State College in Colorado.

Harris, the president elect of the 1.4 million-member national teacher association, will speak Friday at 9 a.m. He will move up to president of the group next July.

The Iowan began his teaching career in 1948 as an elementary school teacher in Kansas City. After one year at Langston College in Langston, Okla., he joined the Callanan Junior High School teaching staff in Des Moines. He has been a director of the national association for Iowa for seven years and a member of the national group's budget committee the past two years.

The other nationally known speaker, judge Gilliam of Denver, will speak to teachers at 1:30 Friday afternoon.

Herald to Award 4 Scholarships

The Wayne Herald will award four $50 Wayne State College scholarships during the Nebraska State Education Association district teachers convention at Wayne this week.

The scholarships will be awarded during the final session of the convention Friday afternoon at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium.

Teachers and officials of the winning schools may award the scholarships to students they consider most deserving, according to Wayne Herald business manager Jim Marsh. The scholarships are the newspaper's attempt to help promote Wayne State and to show convention goers that Wayne is happy they chose this community for their gathering place this year, he noted.

Numerous other businesses in the city are giving away door prizes during the two-day convention, and the local Chamber of Commerce has made up packets of favors to be distributed to teachers attending the convention.

Allen Juniors To Perform 'Red Spider'

Allen High School's junior class will perform "The Red Spider," tentatively set for mid-November.

"We're not quite sure when the play will be held," said Mrs. Keith Simkins in charge of the play, "because All-State band is held in Lincoln at that same time." If none of the students in the play go to Lincoln the play probably will be performed on Nov. 16-17, she said.

The three-act mystery-comedy will have 10 characters, with some students performing in both performances.

"The Red Spider" takes place in the Blue Ridge Mountains at a health resort. There the characters try to solve a murder that happened 10 years before.

The cast includes:
Dr. Arthur McHarge—Brian Hirschert and Loren Trube; Valerie McHarge—Trudy Mattes and Deb Lundgren; Josephine Glover—Coleen Blohm and Jean Roberts; Miss Piney-Roxie Moore; Zeb O'Kelly—Pat Kavanaugh; Tony-Pete Lundin; Jack Mayo—Don Kluver and Loren Book; Ralph Graves—Paul Snyder; Mrs. Marie Stecker—Jill Hanson and Marcella Book; Mammy Hanna—LeAnn Lubberstedt and Lesa Carpenter.

Student director is Doug Smith.

Accident Kills WSC Senior

KILLED in a one-car accident just south of the Wayne city limits sometime early Monday morning was Wayne State senior William Engdahl of rural Craig. Engdahl's northbound car went off the east side of Highway 15, struck a barrel holding three mail boxes and slid into a fence on the Roy Meier farm. The car traveled 459 feet from the point it left the road, according to the Wayne County sheriff's office. Engdahl, 22, was apparently killed when a plank holding the mailboxes smashed through the windshield and struck him in the head, the sheriff's office said. The car was spotted by Melvin Lamb of Wayne as he was leaving Wayne about 4 a.m. Monday. Engdahl was the first person to die in a traffic accident in Wayne County in more than a year. The last fatal accident, which resulted in the deaths of two elderly brothers, occurred in August of last year.

A Japanese Tradition

MAKING THINGS such as this bird from pieces of paper is an art passed down from generation to generation in Japan, and second graders at West Elementary School in Wayne learned more about it last week from Miyoko Yokoyama, a student from Japan studying at Wayne State College this year. She talked to students of Etta Fisher and Shirley Straight about Japan to help them learn more about people in other lands.

EXTENSION NOTES

Myrtle Anderson

WALK SAFELY
Backless clogs and platform shoes may be high fashion, but they also are high as a safety risk, causing injuries and distorted posture.

While one-half inch soles give comfortable protection for walking on hard pavement, the higher platform styles with four-inch soles and six-inch heels can easily throw the wearer off balance. Such styles have caused twisted ankles, fractures and sprains. These accidents are often much worse than those caused by regular ankle turns due to the foot making a greater rotation before it hits the ground.

Many accidents from these styles could be reduced if we would walk cautiously with short steps and stiff-like gait like the Orientals, who have worn these types of shoes for centuries. Curbs, escalators and floor level changes that we have in this country present problems of judgment for the wearer of platforms or clogs.

A person is much safer walking on platform shoes than driving a car or riding a bicycle while wearing them. The driver of a car can easily make miscalculations about speed and braking power as he has difficulty feeling the pedals through platforms. Same dangers occur on bike pedals.

The American Society for Testing and Materials, as a result of consumer complaints, plans to develop standard test methods and guidelines for the safe function of footwear in relation to walking surfaces.

Already, Australia has banned use of platform sole shoes by automobile drivers as a result of accidents caused by them.

If a person still prefers the platform or clog shoes, he or she needs to buy well-fitting shoes and plan to be more cautious in walking. The shoes should be avoided when driving a car or riding a bike.

Allen School Buys New Fuel Tank

The Allen school board purchased a 2,000-gallon fuel storage tank last week in preparation for an anticipated fuel shortage, said superintendent Gail Miller.

Miller pointed out that the school will have to look for other sources of fuel supply this winter since the regular supplier, Farmers Co-Op in Allen, could only fill part of this year's quota.

"If I can not find any other sources then I will have to turn to the Civil Defense for help," he added.

Miller said both he and the board were looking into buying a 10,000 tank, but it would not be available until December. The cost of the 2,000-gallon tank was $300.

OBSERVATIONS

The worst is coming

Surprisingly, the greatest reduction in the number of accidents on all state road systems this year has occurred on county roads. That figure is down 41 per cent from last year at this time.

Traffic safety in the rural areas in the state is also showing other results, with 40 per cent fewer tractor accidents than a year ago. Railroad crossing accidents are down 15 per cent from a year ago. Tractor accidents on both farmsteads and roadways are down this year, 33 per cent below the three-year average.

That's good news, but we should keep reminding ourselves that the worst part of the year is still to come. The last three months of the year traditionally claim the lion's share of accidents. Last year, 30 per cent of the county road deaths occurred from October through December, and 44 per cent of the pedestrian deaths were during those months.

Nearly half of the farm tractor accidents each year take place in the last three months of the year, partly because of heavy night driving and fall harvesting. A large number of the non-fatal school bus accidents, 48 per cent last year, take place during those same months.

According to Tom Ryan, director of the state accident records bureau, here is what is likely to occur from the start of this month until the first of the year:

- 26,000 drivers will be involved in an accident.
- 16,000 accidents will take place which will injure 6,000 people.
- 125 people, at a minimum, will die.

Those are some grim figures to keep in mind the next time you get behind the wheel.

Don't keep quiet

Up until last weekend, Wayne County had been particularly lucky as far as traffic accidents are concerned. More than a year had passed since the last traffic fatality in the county.

The weekend death of the Wayne State College senior was the first one recorded in the county since the accident in August last year which claimed the lives of a pair of elderly brothers.

Those deaths in 1972 were the results of accidents on county roads. Last week end's death resulted from an accident on Highway 15 just south of Wayne.

Oh, there were numerous accidents during that period, but none of them were serious enough to claim a life. How we managed to go that long without a traffic death amazes us sometimes when we drive up and down county roads that seem almost to invite serious if not fatal accidents.

We printed pictures of one of those traffic hazards on the editorial page in last Thursday's issue of the newspaper. It certainly is not the only hazard. There are other places along creeks in the county where erosion has washed away portions of the road to the point that it is dangerous to drive over it. Many times the washouts are poorly marked, sometimes not marked at all. At other places, roads come to an abrupt dead end, many times with insufficient warning. At still other places, weeds and bushes group up almost to the roadside, obscuring vision at corners.

It would be wise for us to be on the alert for hazards along our county roads. The next time you spot one, give your county commissioner a call and tell him about it. Then if an accident happens because of it, you at least will have brought it to the attention of the person responsible.

The solution is simple

Following are some interesting facts taken from a recent issue of the Omaha World Herald:

- Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. expects to save 50,000 gallons of gasoline annually by training drivers, slowing highway speeds, buying smaller cars, doubling up passengers on long trips and using mileage meters.
- Douglas County hopes to save 10 or 15 per cent on fuel this winter by speeding installation of 400 new windows in the courthouse.
- Sears Roebuck & Co. will lower store temperatures two degrees in hopes of saving 30 per cent on fuel bills.
- The Metropolitan Utilities District no longer promotes sales of backyard gas grills and yard lights.
- The downtown Brandeis store is urging employees to shut off lights when they leave and has asked cleaning crews to use only those lights they need.
- A federal report estimates that America could save from two to three million barrels of oil every day of the year with an all-out energy conservation effort. That would be a fifth of the 15 million barrels we use daily across the country.

Another report estimates that if industry could save two per cent of its gas energy consumption, there would be no natural gas shortage.

What all that tells us is that the solution to the energy crisis is staring us square in the face. The solution is me and you.

It also tells us that we could do something about the energy crisis if we really wanted to. And we could do it without a lot of sticky governmental regulations.

The stickler is, of course, that we've got to want to do something. Maybe we won't reach that point until the furnace doesn't kick on some cold winter night. Or the lights won't go on when we open up for business one day.

Time for some compliments

Time to hand out some more compliments, thank yous and pats on the back. The latest ones go to:

- The Wayne Lions Club for challenging—and beating—the local Kiwanis Club in a tug-of-war which boosted the amount in the Community Chest fund by $50. As one member of the winning club said: "Now everyone knows the working man is tougher than the businessman." The Lions Club deserves an additional thank you for voting to donate $25 to the Community Chest even though its team won that tug-of-war. Who, knows, it might become an annual event... if the Kiwanis Club doesn't mind taking a chance at getting another soaking.
- The members of the Wayne volunteer fire department who spent many hours in promoting National Fire Prevention Week recently. The men got the fire engine out and gave some pre-kindergarten youngsters rides around the town, talked to a host of youths at West Elementary and held open house during the week. They did all that, of course, on their own time. They didn't get paid for it, and some of them probably lost money because they had to take time off from their jobs. We're just lucky we have men who volunteer to be firemen; we would hate to think what it would cost to provide a paid fire department.
- The Wayne High School senior who has gained All-American status for herself, her school and her community. She is Ann Owens, chosen for the 102 member of McDonald's All-American High School Band which will march in two nationally televised parades during the holiday season. It's nice to have such achievements interspersed among the sometimes too numerous complaints about the high cost of educating our young people. Schools are expensive to operate, without a doubt. And good schools are more expensive than poor schools. It's as simple as that.

—The school officials and employees responsible for the exceptional job of remodeling which has been done at the middle school in Wayne in recent months. That building may look very old from the outside—which it is—but inside it is bright, colorful, clean and modern. It surprises you when you walk into the building and realize that so much can be done with an old building. Ceilings have been lowered, lighting has been improved, the library has been remodeled, restrooms have been brightened and cleaned up. If cost money to complete that work, of course, but the amount is many, many times less than what a new building would cost.

—The people who have been working to raise $150,000 in investment money to attract a Fremont industry to Wayne. They see a need for just such an industry and have spent considerable amount of their own time in talking with the owners of the industry, selling Wayne to them and trying to raise enough investment so the firm will move here. It would be a stroke of good fortune if the industry does come to Wayne, providing many new jobs. Improving the tax situation, serving as a magnet for related businesses and stimulating interest locally in working to get additional industries to come here.

'Farmers, hold on to that grain until discount problems solved'

Capital News—

LINCOLN — Elevator spokesmen have advised Nebraska farmers to hold onto their harvested grain — if they've been able to get it from the fields — until discount problems are worked out.

The discounting of weather-diseased or sprout-damaged grain at the elevator was discussed last week at a special hearing called by the Legislature's Agriculture Committee.

Farmers were upset that they were being forced to accept lower prices — because of the discounts — for grain which still had all its value as a feed but was downgraded by federal inspectors because of discoloration or sprouting.

THE CASE OF Clyde Mankin of Aurora was an example of what farmers said has been their frustration this fall.

Mankin told the senators he took a milo sample to federal graders in Grand Island and was told it had 40 per cent damage. Dissatisfied with that reading, Mankin took another sample from the same field and had it checked. This time, the same grader found it only 14 per cent damaged.

Mankin said the difference was about $1 per bushel in what he got for his milo.

The chief inspector at the Hastings Grain Exchange, Ted Holeck, agreed that was a wide variance in grain from the same field, but he said the inspectors must follow guidelines.

federal designation as a disaster area would permit direct aid, low interest loans and other types of aid.

One of the hardest hit communities was Beatrice, where the Big Blue River reached unprecedented crests.

Republicans have criticized Exon for failing to encourage Beatrice a year ago to establish flood plain zoning. They cited quotes by the governor in 1972 to the effect that proposed zoning requirements in the river valley weren't realistic and that action should be deferred.

GOP state chairman William Barrett of Lexington called it a "colossal error" on the governor's part.

Area farmers fare well. Farm receipts in county reach past $53 million

Although farming and ranching have not been the most lucrative of occupations in recent years, Wayne County's agricultural community has been making out better than most, it appears.

The majority of local farmers held their own last year and a number of them, especially those with well-equipped, commercial-size setups, ended up well ahead of the previous year.

Credit for it is attributed to record output, made possible by generally favorable weather conditions, by greater mechanization and by more intensive use of fertilizers and pesticides.

Gains were made in nearly every section of the county. The Northeast, which was hit by heavy and continuous rains, was an exception.

The facts and figures, showing how local growers fared in relation to others, are contained in a survey released by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

It reports total receipts in Wayne County from farm operations in the past year at $53,048,000. Two years ago, when it made a similar survey, it listed the total at $43,965,000.

That was the gross amount, before deductions for operating costs and taxes.

Included in it are the cash receipts from the sale of farm goods, together with government payments and income in kind, which is the value of products grown and consumed on the farm.

The increase, 20.7 per cent, compares with a 16.7 per cent rise in the United States and with 19.6 per cent in the state of Nebraska.

According to the most recent figures from the Department of Agriculture, approximately 10 per cent of the total received locally from the sale of farm products came from the marketings of crops and 90 per cent from livestock, poultry and dairy goods.

Although the past year was a big one for the American farmer in terms of gross income, it also was a record one for expenses. However, there was some net gain.

The Agriculture Department reports gross income at $68.9 billion, an increase of $9.2 billion over the prior year.

Production expenses rose in the same period to $49.2 billion, which was $4.7 billion above 1971. As a result, net farm income went up $4.5 billion in the past year.

All signs point to a much bigger improvement in the current year.

BECAUSE THE guidelines haven't worked out, as the farmers see it, during a wet fall when there have been great differences within the same field, the senators considered petitioning the USDA for some modification in the grading procedures.

Don Hanway, a University of Nebraska agronomist, said there is little or no difference in the feed value of sprout-damaged milo. The problem in grading, he said, is that coloration and sprout damage can be checked on the spot but it takes more thorough testing to determine feed value, making that unwieldy for determining grade as the farmer brings his crop to the elevator.

Boyd Mayfield of Nehawka said a publicity campaign is needed to let feeders know they haven't lost nutrient values when they buy milo which didn't get top grades from the inspectors.

Elevator operators said they see some indications that the size of discounts for lower graded grains will shrink and they advised farmers to hold onto their crops until the situation becomes more settled.

Disaster Designation Asked

Gov. J. James Exon has asked the federal government to declare much of southeast Nebraska a disaster area because of the heavy fall rains and the resulting floods.

Damage to property and farm crops has run into the millions of dollars and

Crisis Is Genuine

Over and over, delegates to a Midwest conference on the energy shortage emphasized that the situation is serious.

Representatives from 15 states attending the conference in Lincoln said they have had trouble convincing citizens that there isn't enough natural gas, propane, heating oil and other fuel to go around.

The mandatory allocation programs announced in Washington won't solve the shortages, they said. At best, they will only guarantee that no one gets hurt too badly.

As tight as the situation is this fall, it could get a whole lot worse if Arab nations decide to curtail or shut off oil shipments to the United States, according to Jim Gill, a federal official attending the conference.

If the Midwest supplies are drastically reduced, "we could be in terrible shape," he said.

The state government representatives were anxious for some additional details about the administration of the mandatory allocation programs due to go into effect Nov. 1. Gill sympathized with them, but said some of the details were still being "Scotch-taped together" in Washington.

The likelihood that state government would bear the brunt of the administration had the conference delegates worried. "The plan is to make 50 governors the fall guys," one said.

Americus, Ga., Times-Recorder: "One of the innovations of the new Postal Service, no longer under congressional control, is the elimination of localities from postmarks. Instead, the receiver finds only U.S. Postal Service printed on the outside of his letter. The Postal Service offers several reasons why this represents progress, why this is necessary, etc. Whatever the justifications, however, they are outweighed by the very obvious fact that this system hides from the addressee the point of mailing and the exact time, the traditional means by which he can trace postal service. More progress like this and the Postal Service will have unintentionally furthered the proposition to return postal service to congressional control to a considerable degree."

Facilities + Management = Pork Profits

By BOB FRITSCHEN
Northeast Station
Swine Specialist

Pork production is moving indoors at a rate second only to poultry production. Yet, of all farm animals, hogs rank high on the list of those least adapted to confinement.

The question often arises then, why are more and more pigs produced in confinement?

There are two basic reasons: 1. Some types of confinement may reduce the restrictive influence of weather on performance, and

2. Confinement is a means of labor economy.

Other advantages, such as alternate uses for pasture system land, are often mentioned, but the two factors listed are perhaps the overwhelming motivation or benefits. And, as swine production expands in a labor-starved industry, the labor efficiency feature of confinement becomes more apparent.

Confinement production is no longer a trend but a proven method of pork production. Pork producers should realize, however, that confinement is only one way of producing hogs. For example, systems that utilize straw for bedding are still a profitable and practical means of producing pork. This is especially true for the young producer who, relatively speaking, has more labor than capital available.

While there are many ways to produce pork, each facility or system requires its own special management. Each building or system has its own special personality, and this personality must be recognized and dealt with to optimize returns.

Most producers that are expanding and specializing their swine enterprise do so by building some type of confinement facility. When comparing different types of confinement facilities for growing and finishing swine, there are at least five important comparisons to make: initial construction costs, expected summer performance, expected winter performance, operating cost and labor requirement.

To optimize the labor saving feature of confinement production, slatted floors and liquid manure are usually part of the system. Nebraska research has shown that partially slatted floors support better feed efficiency than totally slatted floors. From a practical view point, pens that have 10 feet of slatted area and 12-14 feet of solid area appear to work very well.

Confinement buildings for growing-finishing pigs that are completely under roof may support better performance on a 12-month basis than those with an outside apron. On the other hand, the so-called totally environmentally controlled growing-finishing unit may not support enough improvement in performance on a 12-month basis

'Time Spent on Testing Soils Is Money Saved'

Northeast Nebraska farmers know that time is money — especially at this time of year, and George Rehm, agronomist at the Northeast Station near Concord, reminds farmers that time spent in taking soil samples this fall can save money and headaches next spring.

Soil testing may have been neglected in recent years, but is more important now than ever, he says, and the fertilizer shortage that has been talked about will be very real in 1974.

Nitrogen, the most essential element for crop production, will be in limited supply, and there is a chance that farmers will receive a fertilizer allotment for 1974. Since it is anticipated that more acres will be cropped in 1974, there is a special need to apply the right amount of fertilizer to each field, according to Rehm.

Rehm reports that levels of nitrogen and phosphate may

This is one of a series of special articles written by University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension specialists to emphasize various aspects of pork production in Nebraska during "Porkfest," a state and national promotional celebration this month. Another article written by Fritschsen for the series will appear in Monday's issue of the newspaper.

when compared to the unit that is completely under roof to justify the difference in building costs.

Great sophistication of design and high initial building cost are no assurance of success. Systems that are highly mechanical-management dependent are more problem prone than those that require a minimum of equipment to function properly.

In general, producers that list their swine operation as their primary, or only enterprise, are more capable of managing complete confinement systems. While some systems or buildings appear more manageable than others, it should be remembered that success in the pork industry is more a function of management than building or system type.

Felt Elected President of Farm Bureau

Marvin Felt of Wakefield was elected president of the Wayne-Stanton County Farm Bureau last week during the annual meeting at the city auditorium in Wayne.

Felt, who moved up from vice president, replaces Herman Utecht of Concord. Neil Sandahl of Wakefield is vice president.

Board members re-elected to another two year term are Bob Peterson and Wilber Heithold of Wayne and Harold Olson of Wakefield. On Nov. 19 the board will appoint a fourth board member to replace retiring Wayne Gilliland of Wayne.

Also on that same date, the members will elect a secretary-treasurer in place of Peterson, whose one-year term expires.

During the meeting Mrs. Milton Owens of Carroll was re-elected as women's chairman. Both Mrs. Owens and her husband were selected to attend the state Farm Bureau convention in Kearney Nov. 18-21 along with Merle Ring of Wayne. Named as alternates were Felt, Mrs. Herb Niemann of Carroll and Peterson.

Ring and his wife, Donna were named to head the membership committee, assisted by Clark and Madeline Kai of Wakefield.

This year's Wayne-Stanton county farmer-rancher winner, Kevin Kai, also will attend the state convention and compete with other area winners for the state title. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kai.

Speaking at the meeting were Bob Thompson, state Farm Bureau secretary-treasurer, and Charles Beermann of the Dakota County office.

JERRY GRONE makes an adjustment on his combine after filling up another trailer with soybeans while combining on land a few miles northwest of Wayne late last week. Most farmers in the area are working long hours in the bean fields in an attempt to get their crops harvested while good weather holds. Grone said he was getting about 30 bushels of beans to the acre on land untouched by hail this summer. Crops damaged by hail in the same section had yields around five bushels to the acre, he said.

CUTTING COSTS

Feeding alfalfa as a substitute for normal protein feeds can cut swine feeding costs.

In growing-finishing swine diets, alfalfa may furnish up to one-third the total protein content. Research results have shown that a swine gestation diet formulated for the proper level of minerals, trace minerals and vitamins fed at the rate of six pounds per head per day and containing 66 per cent alfalfa hay supported good reproduction performance.

When feeding diets containing high levels of alfalfa, diets will probably need to be rebalanced for calcium and phosphorus content since alfalfa is much higher in calcium as compared to feed grains.

FERTILIZER

All indications are that fertilizer will be short, as well as more expensive. For these reasons it's important that the correct amount of fertilizer be used.

Soil testing is the best way to determine fertilizer need.

Fall is a good time for soil testing. The laboratory can quickly test the soil sample and fertilizer can be ordered early. Accurate nitrogen recommendations can be made when soil has been collected from two depths. For a good nitrogen test, soil should be collected to eight inches and then from eight to 24 inches at the same spot. The samples should be kept separate.

Fire Damages Farm House

A fire at a farm house about three miles south and one-quarter mile east of Carroll last week burned a hole in the side of the wall of the Bob Tiegs residence, according to owner Mrs. Adolph Rohlf of Winside.

Carroll assistant fire chief LeRoy Nelson said volunteer firemen answered the call about 2:15 a.m. Wednesday, but when they arrived the fire was almost out. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

New Area Pork Queen To Be Named Nov. 11

A new queen of the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers Association will be named at the group's annual banquet in Coleridge Nov. 11.

She will replace Judy Gustafson of Wakefield, who has reigned as the area association's queen since 1971.

Girls from Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston Counties are still eligible to enter the queen contest.

Girls must be between 16 and 19 years of age as of Jan. 1, 1974, and live on a farm where pork is raised to be eligible. Contestants will present a short talk during the banquet in Coleridge as part of the competition.

Also named during the evening will be three members to three-year terms on the 15-member board of directors.

'Farm Wives Key to Safe Harvest'

Farm wives can play a key role in helping husbands and hired workers through a safe harvest this fall, says Raymond Butts, executive director of the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) says.

Fall is a busy time for farmers and while one-third of all farm accidents happen during the summer months, Butts says, one-fourth happen in the fall. The farmer's wife can become the farm safety specialist by helping her husband watch for harvest hazards he notes.

Quoting U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) safety specialists, Butts says there are several things the farm wife can do. One is to see that her husband's work clothes are properly mended to insure that a torn trouser leg or jacket sleeve does not get caught in a moving belt or pulley.

She should also see that the younger generation helpers do not wear bell bottom or flare trousers which can be hazardous, especially around farm machinery. Butts says that a close-fitting clothes are best.

The farm wife should stay close to home during peak work periods, he says, in case there is an emergency. This also makes it possible for her to be around to take hot coffee to the field at mid-morning and mid-afternoon. When she does this, Butts says, she should insist that her husband stop the machinery and take a five-minute break while he drinks the coffee, helping break the monotony and permitting him to walk around for a few minutes.

Also, USDA specialists point out, the alert farm wife should remind her husband of even the most obvious hazards, because his mind will be on getting the harvest jobs done.

Other safety pointers Butts suggests include use of a prearranged "accident signal" such as a long series of horn blasts or, better still, walkie-talkies.

The farm wife also should know which fields her husband is working and when he should be through, keep small children out of the fields and away from the equipment, know where the equipment operator manuals are and learn how to turn off all farm machinery.

Butts also suggests that emergency numbers be posted by the telephone and that fire extinguisher and first aid kit be accessible at all times.

'Farmers Shouldn't Forget About Commodity Loans'

As area farmers complete harvest operations this fall and finish up plans for the unmarketed portion of their crops, they should not overlook availability of commodity loans offered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) as a possible part of their marketing planning.

This reminder comes from Ray Butts, executive director of the Wayne County ASCS office.

Butts explains that while current market prices are above the 1973 loan rates for the commodities under the loan program, producers may find advantages in the loan program for interim crop income if they plan to sell at a later date, thus providing themselves with greater independence in their crop marketing. Loans are available on several crops grown in Wayne County, including corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, rye, soybeans and wheat.

Butts emphasized that ASCS is not in a position to tell farmers when or how to market, but that he does feel an obligation to remind producers that the loan program is available for those who want to utilize it as a marketing tool in obtaining maximum crop income. Even though market prices are above loan, it's good business for producers to be aware of the marketing options available to them, he said.

Government loans are one of several techniques. Other options include forward contracting, hedging the crop through the use of futures markets, peripart partial sales and combinations of various techniques, Butts said. Producers interested in utilizing the commodity loan program should contact the county ASCS office.

Thought for Today
By Rowan Wiltse

"He is rich or poor according to what he is, not according to what he has."

Beecher

Richness is not best measured in terms of money or an accumulation of material things. It is fairly commonplace to find people rich in a monetary sense, but pitifully poor in love and friendship and the respect of those about them.

We must take care not to ignore the many personal riches... friendship, personal integrity and a conscience with which we can remain on speaking terms. These are less spectacular riches, but without them, amassing all the gold in the world would represent a barren and empty victory.

Our thorough understanding of people's needs, gained through our 64 years... three generations... of experience in the Wayne area, enables us to serve you as you would be served.

Scouts to Sell 'Insurance' for 'Ween Pranks

A company of younger-than-usual insurance salesmen is at work in Wayne this week.

Members of the three local Boy Scout Troops are offering Wayne residents spook insurance, providing the purchaser who becomes a victim of Halloween pranks with clean-up service. Proceeds go to the March of Dimes.

The insurance will cover soaped windows, dumped trash cans, tissue in shrubs, water paint decorations and the like, and is available for homes, businesses and automobiles.

Last year, the Wayne High School history department had charge of the drive and earned $300 for the March of Dimes, according to Wayne County MOD co-chairman Rowan Wiltsie of Wayne.

Scouts will be working independently today (Thursday) and Friday, and will go out in groups for about three hours Sunday. The Troop which sells the most insurance will be treated to a victory party.

By Larry Turner
Americans grow more and more TV oriented each year. There are more sets in use and they are turned on for more minutes each day and the figures grow with each passing year. Yet, there are few viewers who are pleased with the TV fare offered by the channels they watch. There are only a few TV stations in any city. Each station must pay for the programs it airs, cover its overhead and, with luck, make a profit. Thus it is forced to offer programs with as broad an appeal as possible. By trying to come close to what everybody may watch, they actually satisfy nobody completely. We manage to satisfy all our customers completely by offering a complete line of TV sets with all the latest features at prices which are often lower than so-called "discount" houses. And we back up our sales with our own service!

WALKING TALL Better Than "Billy Jack"

Bears' 'Skunk'em' Defense Shuts Out O'Neill, 18-0

Laurel High's defensive crew kept saying "let's skunk 'em, let's skunk 'em," but at the same time the defense was adding a new feature in the Bear's second win of the season — it was scoring points.

A lineman and defensive secondary player got in on the action in Laurel's 18-0 blitz of a reputable O'Neill team Friday night. Senior Kirk McCoy nailed quarterback Larry Haynes for a two-point safety before Tim Anderson intercepted a Haynes pass and scampered 35 yards for a touchdown.

It was Laurel's defense that got credit for the upset win over coach Earl DeBates' 4-3 club.

"I can't say that I was too happy with our offense tonight," Laurel's head mentor Bob Olson commented. "We've had better nights, like earlier in the season when we tied Creighton and almost beat Randolph and Crofton."

Olson was referring to the battle of statistics, which O'Neill dominated.

First downs weren't the crucial point — Laurel had nine while O'Neill made 11 — but in total yardage the Eagles collected 172, the Bears 145. Laurel shaded the visitors in the rushing department, 122 to 98, but the Eagles dominated the passing game, 74 to 23 for the home squad.

"Gregg (Andersbn) has had better nights than tonight," the coach said of his quarterback's four completions out of 11 attempts.

The Bears' offense put six points on the board with 4:40 left in the long first quarter. With the aid of two major penalties against the Eagles, Laurel moved the ball to the two-yard line where the team's second leading rusher, Sterling Stolpe, popped in for the score. Anderson, on a bootleg play to the right, rambled into the right corner for the two-pointer and an 8-0 lead.

That first period resulted in injuries on both teams. Laurel's Dan Coughlin was the biggest loser of the night, suffering a broken leg. For O'Neill's Marlin Seever, the story wasn't quite as bad — a dislocated elbow. Both injuries, though, extended play from 12 minutes to about a half hour.

In the second frame, defense still remained the byword for both clubs. Laurel and O'Neill exchanged the ball several times at midfield before Bear kicker Kevin Gace got off one of LAUREL HIGH'S defensive unit came up with some big stops in Friday's 18-0 upset win over O'Neill. Taking part in this gang tackle is leading defensive man LaMont Sohler.

Winside Ties Wausa, 0-0

Winside High's reserve football team ended its season with a 0-0 tie against Wausa Monday night, giving the Wildcats a 3-1-1 record for the year.

"It was more of a defensive struggle," coach Carter "Cap" Peterson pointed out, with Winside nabbing four interceptions and recovering four Wausa fumbles.

Quarterback Tyler Frevert picked off two of Winside's interceptions, taking the ball about 50 yards to Wausa's 12-yard line with about 12 seconds in the game on his final one. "We were able to move the ball down to the five-yard line before time ran out," Peterson said.

Winside, playing without offensive ends Bob Bowers and Terry Luhr collected only 49 yards for the game compared to about 137 for the Wausa club.

Hooper-Logan View Takes Husker Cross Country

Hooper-Logan View High School rapped up the Husker Conference cross country meet with a strong win in the five-team event last week.

The Raiders' four-man team scored 21 points to outdistance Wakefield and Tokamiah. Herman, tied for second at 54 points each.

Stanton finished fourth with 61 points and Wayne High rounded out the entrants with 64.

"The runners did an excellent job," said Wakefield coach Lyle Trullinger, "considering they worked out by themselves."

Doug Prochaska led the Trojans with a fifth-place showing, running the two and a half mile course at Hooper-Logan View in 14:26. Bruce Paul was seventh at 14:54 before Steve Luhr came in 19th at 15:31 and Dave Hitz finished 23rd out of a field of 30 runners in 16:27.

Wayne coach Harold Maciejewski was disappointed that his team didn't take second. "Mark Powers and Ken Daniels did a good job, coming in ninth and 12th," he pointed out. "I just wish our other two runners could have done better."

Powers, the only veteran, ran the course in 15:04 while Daniels had a 15:12 time. Vince Jenness and Tom Maier were 21st and 22nd with clockings of 16:11 and 16:18.

Wednesday the area teams competed in the district cross country meet at Plainview.

Wakefield Site Of District C-4 Volleyball Meet

Wakefield High will host the District C-4 volleyball tournament Nov. 13, 14 and 16.

Wakefield and Allen will be the only area schools involved in the meet. Other schools participating will be Bancroft, Emerson-Hubbard, Pender, Ponca, Walthill and Wisner-Pilger.

Wayne Frosh Reaching for Perfect Season

For the first time in seven years the Wayne freshmen football team will go undefeated if the locals get past Hartington Cedar Catholic Nov. 1.

Tuesday night the Frosh upped their record to 5-0 with a strong 18-8 beating of West Point Central Catholic.

Mike Wiesler was the star of the night, collecting 202 yards of the team's 293 total while scoring all three Wayne TDs.

"Mike did an outstanding job," said coach Duane Blumenkamp. Wiesler scored the first touchdown on a 12-yard scamper in the first quarter before crossing the goal line on the first play of the third stanza on an 80-yard run. His final TD came on a 25-yard run. All three PAT attempts failed.

Blumenkamp was quick to point out that two other backfield runners, Marc Lawrence and Arron Nissen, ran for 71 and 33 yards respectively. Both players did a good job, he said, noting that one of the team's leading rushers, Mark Brandt, did not play due to a knee injury. Brandt is out for the season, he added.

Defensively, the Wayne team stopped the West Point club on two touchdown drives at Wayne's 20-yard line. "The team as a whole did an outstanding job," Blumenkamp said.

Athlete of the Week

SAM UTECHT, WAKEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

This week's Athlete of the Week wasn't an easy choice. Not by any means.

With upsets in high school football making up most of Friday's area contests, it was hard to pick just one player for the award. The list of possible winners included one player from four of the five schools.

Wayne High sophomore Paul Mallette earned praise from coach Al Hansen for his first full-time duty in the Devils' clash against Columbus Lakeview. Also mentioned was last week's co-winner of the award, Rod Hoops, for another strong rushing effort.

And so was LaMont Sohler of Laurel for his defensive playing and teammate Gregg Anderson for his directing Laurel to an 18-0 blanking of strong O'Neill.

Don't forget about Winside's outstanding running back Larry Weible and the 130-plus yards he earned in the battle against Norfolk Catholic.

But this week's award goes to a Wakefield player. He's not from the offensive team, which piled up a 25-0 upset over Stanton, but a defensive man who played havoc with the Mustangs' backfield.

Senior tackle Sam Utecht earns the award for nailing Stanton players 14 times in one of the biggest upsets of the year in the West Husker Conference.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utecht of Wakefield, he was consistently in Stanton's backfield, said coach John Torczon, and stopped five Mustang rushes at the line of scrimmage.

"Sam is an all-around hardworking athlete," Torczon pointed out. Utecht not only starts on the Trojans football team but also plays on the basketball squad and the baseball team. Last summer he played on the Wakefield's Class C state baseball team.

Orange Team Topples Whites In City FB

A 25-yard off-tackle play by Brian Foote scored the Orange team's second touchdown of the night and gave the local fifth grade city recreation football team a 14-6 win over the Whites Tuesday night.

Foote scored the TD in the third quarter after the Whites' quarterback, Jerre Morris, broke loose on a 15-yard quarterback sneak to bring his team within two points, 8-6. The PAT failed.

In the first period, Orange signal caller John Melena put his club out in front with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Todd Skokan. Rob Harmeier made the two-point conversion.

According to coach Hank Overin, Brian Fleming, Rich Pulman, Keith Turner, Foote and Skokan played a good game for the Orange.

For the Whites, Tod Heier, Kevin Nissen, Morris and Steve Bowers were cited for their play.

In sixth and seventh grade action, the Reds and Whites tied at 0-0.

Both clubs had several long runs, but neither could take advantage of a scoring opportunity.

Outstanding defensive players were Jeff Dion and Rafael Sosa for the Reds. Doug Hummel, Dave Schwartz and Stewart Nissen for the Whites.

Tuesday the teams will continue in their best of three game series. The fifth grade teams play at 6:45 p.m. at the Wayne ball diamond, followed by an 8 p.m. clash in the sixth and seventh grade league.

Volleyballers Try for Two Over Platte

The Wayne State girls volleyball team will try to make it two victories in a row over Platte College of Columbus when the Wildkittens travel to Columbus Monday night.

Both the junior varsity and varsity took victories from the area college Friday at home before running into a brick wall Saturday.

The Wildkittens found Kearney State and Northeast Nebraska Technical College of Norfolk to be brick walls in a quadrangular at Rice Auditorium Monday night.

Both clubs knocked off the locals before Wayne State could rebound against the College of St. Mary's of Omaha to salvage a 3-6 record on sets of 15-11 and 17-15.

Kearney battered the locals 13-8 and 15-9 in the first game before Northeastern added 15-8 and 12-7 setbacks.

Chadron Nips WS Cubs, 27-22

Just about everything but the score made it a fine football game for the Wayne State junior varsity Monday night at Bassett. The score came out 27-22 favoring Chadron State's jayvees.

A seesaw battle had Wayne leading by 7-0 after the first quarter, trailing 7-14 at the half, then leading again 16-14 at the third period break. And with about two minutes left, the Wildcat cubs saw a 22-21 lead vanish on a long somewhat lucky pass that scored.

Wayne scoring came on touchdowns by Jim Gibbs on a run, Bill Koll and Randy Slay bough, both on passes from Brad Hahn, an extra point and a 24-yard field goal by Stan Anderson.

Coach Doug Barry noted that Koll, previously a defensive back, switched to offense in the second half and wound up catching about 125 yards of passes. While on defense, he also intercepted a pass.

Gibbs had a fine game punting — seven kicks for a 45-yard average.

The loss evened Wayne's record at 1-1 for the next game, at home against Yankton's junior varsity Monday night at 7.

Cats Seeking 12th Straight Win Over Peru

Throw the book out the window for this game. Nothing is predictable when Wayne State and Peru State collide in football, as they will at Peru Saturday night.

Foremost point to consider—this is the only remaining game in Nebraska College Conference battle this season. Kearney is done with a 2-1 record, having blanked Wayne 21-0 last Saturday. Chadronek also is finishing at 1-2 after caging Peru 28-0 and allowing the Bobcats only 11 yards rushing, 82 passing.

Poised between top and bottom on the league ladder are Wayne and Peru, both 1-1. Barring a tie, the winner Saturday night will join Kearney as NCC co-champ.

Football being a game of psychology, one has to ponder the effects of such shockers as Peru's 28-0 blitz of Kearney, followed by Kearney's furious retaliation on Wayne and Chadronek's shackling of Peru. Add that up and put the answer in unscientific language — you have to figure Wayne's Wildcats and Peru's Bobcats are snarling mad.

There are other considerations for Wayne Coach Del Stollenberg. He has an inkling Peru may resort to a single-wing offense as it did early this season when all Bobcat quarterbacks were injured. The same is possibly true again, so Wayne troops are preparing in case they face the old-fashioned, single-wing, which has the center snapping the ball several yards to a back.

Then there's the fact Peru graduate Stollenberg takes the standard coaching attitude — liking to beat his alma mater. And his team's have done that all four years. In fact, it's a curious fact that Wayne has beaten Peru 11 years straight after losing 11 straight.

Wayne has played more football games with Peru than any other team, starting in 1919. The record is 20 Wildcat wins, 24 losses, 6 ties.

Peru has a 3-4 season after its loss to Chadronek, now 4-3. Kearney lifted its mark to 5-2 in tagging Wayne with its first 1973 defeat for a 5-1-1 chart. The fired-up Antelopes rolled up a massive 470 yards total offense against usually defense-minded Wayne and limited the Wildcats to 22 yards rushing, 130 passing. Odd, because the Antelopes regularly rank, at the bottom of Nebraska collegiate defense.

It was a tribute to weary Wayne defenders that they prevented a score in ratio to Kearney's yardage. In fact, they put up the stiffest resistance in the second half. Kearney managed only one touchdown in the third period, none in the fourth, despite a final drive of 92 yards to the Wildcat four-yard line.

First score came on the Lopers' first possession, when Jeff Bolin outran the Wayne secondary on a 40-yard pass from Scott Maline. Before the first quarter ended Kearney tallied again on Bill Simon's one-yard drive. A second-quarter attack stalled on Wayne defense, forcing a Rod Armstrong field goal which sailed 46 yards — one of the longest ever in Memorial Stadium.

A third quarter Wayne fumble on the Antelope 31 set up the final Kearney scoring drive, with Layne Baker scoring the last two yards. Then for the third time, the conversion effort failed.

One Loper touchdown, on an interception return of 87 yards, was nullified because an Antelope defender threw a totally useless clip far beyond the ball carrier.

Wayne's offense had one bright spot — the pass receiving of wingback Dean Ott. His five catches lifted him to a 26 season total, probably a Wayne record. Available statistics show 24 as the old mark, set by Cliff Schilling in 1966. And Ott's 86 yards of pass plays gave him a season of 397, just shy of the apparent record 405 by Gary Martens last year. Additionally, Ott had a good night punting, with a 39 average.

Local Boxing Team Takes On Younger Look in 1973

Wayne boxing coach Gary Wiebelhaus is trying a first in his four years as head of the local team — teaching younger boys how to box.

"It's a lot harder to teach these younger kids how to box," he admitted, "because I can't spar against them like I can against some of the older boys."

So far this year Wiebelhaus has six young boys trying out, but he expects more to turn out while some drop out. The boys range in age from 10 to 13.

Darren Proett, 120 pounds, and Frank Mrsny, 100, are the oldest. Dave Hamm, 12, and Rick Johnson, 11, weigh in at 90 pounds. Ten-year-old Kevin Nissen weighs in about 85 pounds while Doug Proett, 11, is the smallest member of the group at 67 pounds.

Wiebelhaus expects to have some sizable contenders in the upper weights, however.

Veterans Rick Lock, a former Wayne State student from Spencer and Jerry Frerichs of Coleridge, who is attending WSC, will bolster the Wayne team in the 165 and 185-pound classes. Wiebelhaus said he is looking forward to having newcomer Denny Paul of Wakefield on the squad. Paul, also going to WSC, will be battling in the heavyweight division at 235 pounds.

Wayne's first match, originally slated for Wisner, has been switched to Norfolk's city auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. "We switched to Norfolk," he explained, "so everyone will have a chance to fight."

As yet there are no other dates set for fights.

Anyone interested in boxing on the Wayne team can contact Wiebelhaus at his residence or attend the workouts Monday nights in the basement of Wayne State's Rice Auditorium.

Norfolk Catholic Drops Barclay's Crew, 36-12

Winside coach Doug Barclay was distraught after his team's 36-12 whipping at the hands of an up-and-coming Norfolk Catholic football club Friday night, but news of Harrington High's 8-6 nipping of Wausa brightened up his night.

The Wildcats, who were No. two in the Clark division, now hold the top spot after the Vikings dropped their first contest in seven starts. The Cats are on top with a division mark of 1-0-1; Wausa is next at 3-1-1.

But to maintain that lead and take the Clark title, Barclay's crew is going to have to get past a strong Coleridge club Friday at home and Osmond next week.

"We're going to have to improve over our letdowns," Barclay noted after Friday's second loss of the season. "We scored right away against Norfolk Friday night but our defense had a letdown after that."

The Cats struck in the first quarter on an 85-yard sprint by senior rushing leader Larry Weible to hold a 6-0 edge. Mike Anderson's try for the extra point went wide.

But after that six-pointer the game suddenly turned in Norfolk's favor. The Knights returned a Winside kickoff to the 33-yard line and scored nine plays later. Quarterback Mike Sycha took the ball in, then passed to Al Theroener for the two-point conversion and an 8-6 lead.

Coach Mike Bohaty's team didn't let up in the following quarter. Two more touchdowns gave the home squad a 22-6 margin, the final TD coming after Sycha unloaded a long bomb with 30 seconds left in the half.

point in the game," Barclay admitted. "If they (Norfolk) would have had a 15-6 halftime lead, then we might have come back."

A Winside fumble and a Knight interception in the third stanza killed any hope of coming back, however. Norfolk took advantage of both miscues by adding 14 points for a 36-6 edge. "We fumbled on our 27-yard line," Barclay said, "and three plays later Norfolk converted a touchdown." Although Norfolk missed the extra point, it soon got another try by intercepting a pass on Winside's 35-yard line. Eight plays later the Knights scored again.

Winside got its last touchdown in the fourth period when Dwight Lienemann took the ball in from the four yard line after a long run put Winside deep in Norfolk territory. The PAT went wide.

Barclay felt his club was looking past Norfolk Catholic during the contest. "Our defense usually doesn't get outdistanced like this (giving up 326 yards — 139 passing and 187 on the ground)," he said.

Brian Wade led tacklers with 12 drops, while Bob Hoffman was next in line with 10. Offensively, Weible again went over the 100-yard mark, gaining 131 yards in 15 carries for an 8.9-yard average.

BOWLERS IN Wayne

are not getting a fair shake — that's one of my pet peeves. Take, for instance, the average bowler (150) who occasionally has a good 200 game. If he is the only bowler in his league with a high game, he gets recognized in the weekly bowling reports.

But what about the average bowler who does good but is overshadowed by a consistent bowler who may shoot in the 200's every week? The average bloke is almost forgotten when it comes to some recognition.

To help alleviate this problem, I propose that league secretaries submit those 200 or better scores shot by all men and 170 or better games for the women. That way those who shoot well will get the recognition they deserve.

The same holds true as far as series goes. If a guy shoots 570 or better in a three-game series, his name should be listed as one of the top bowlers for the week. As for the women, a 470 or above series also is deserving of mention.

The idea is simply a way of giving interested bowlers a better idea of how the individual bowlers do on particular nights.

If the league secretaries submit those names with other league information, there shouldn't be any problem as far as coverage is concerned. After all, during the golfing season, those golfers who had good rounds were given recognition. Let's do the same for the bowlers in the city.

TURNING TO a different sport, Wayne State football fans may have noticed during last Saturday's final home game that a new addition was being added to the press box area.

According to athletic director LeRoy Simpson, the new addition will facilitate extended media coverage of the Wildcats.

Because of additional coverage of WSC football, the present space was inadequate, he said. The new area will be used mainly to house radio and television crews. Cost of the project: $120.

ACCORDING TO board member Norris Weible of the Northeast Nebraska Oldtimer's Baseball Association, the group will not have a meeting this fall.

Last year, you may remember, the Oldtimer's honored several former players and had Oakland A's coach Vern Hoscheit as guest speaker.

Usually every year the Plainview native makes a junket to his native state to visit his home town and drop in on several other area communities.

I was hoping he would plan a short stop here in Wayne. After this year's World Series and all the things that went on during the games, there are plenty of questions in my mind that need answering about A's owner Charles Finley.

LAST WEEK the 1973 State Class C American Legion baseball champions from Wakefield were honored at a special banquet held at the American Legion Hall.

Over 80 people gathered to honor the state champs as Wakefield American Legion commander Charles Olesen presented coach Paul Eaton and members of the team with certificates from the Ford Motor Co. foundation.

During the dinner, Dr. Bruce Cowgill, a scout for the Kansas City Royals, presented films and related some of his experiences as a scout.

For the occasion Mrs. Geneva Griggs baked and decorated a cake like a baseball field. Around the cake she had four miniature baseball caps.

Fourth-Quarter Explosion Rips Wayne

Columbus Lakeview's 15-point fourth quarter explosion ripped apart Wayne High's chances of claiming the West half of the Husker Conference Friday night.

"That second half was a coach's nightmare," coach Al Hansen said after his club's 15-12 loss. "We would have the ball and fumble it; then we would have it and throw it away."

The fourth quarter was a case of being stopped by both the home team and by Wayne's miscues.

Three times the Devils had drives going but couldn't get a first down to sustain them. Then a fumble stopped one drive, setting up 19-yard touchdown sprint by Lakeview quarterback Jim Pillein.

Pillein struck again later in that period when he faked back to set up a pass. The Devils' defense left an opening up the middle where the senior signal caller scrambled 72 yards before being downed on the one-yard line. The next play he got that one yard and six more points to boost the score to 13-12.

On Wayne's next series, relief quarterback Bill Schwartz was caught in the endzone.

Wayne scored quickly when junior Marty Hansen ran back the opening kickoff 85 yards for a TD. The following period Randy Workman capped a Wayne drive with a one-yard plunge for a 12-0 lead. Both PAT attempts by Terry Hasebrook missed.

Starting quarterback sophomore Paul Mallette drew praise from coach Hansen. "He (Mallette) did a heck of a job in the first half and a good job in the second half," the head mentor pointed out.

In the first half, Mallette guided his club to 129 yards on the ground, but in the second half fumbles and interceptions began taking their toll.

The Blue Devils, switching signal calling duties between senior Schwartz and Mallette in the fourth period, found themselves stymied in the air and on the ground. The visitors netted only four yards rushing and 17 in the air during the second half.

Junior running back, Rod Hoops again was rushing leader with 100 yards in 14 carries. Hansen was next with 44 yards in nine tries. Gordie Cook third with 21 yards in seven attempts.

Wayne, now 3-1-1 in the conference, takes a back seat in this Friday's action as the new leader of the West half, Columbus Lakeview, 3-0-1, faces second-place Stanton, 2-1-1, in the battle for the title.

If Stanton should win the contest, it would set up a tie between the two. If Lakeview wins, the Vikings would sweep the division, leaving Wayne in second place.

Turkey Season Opens Saturday

Nebraska's 1973 wild turkey season opens Saturday and prospects for success look good, according to Game and Parks Commission biologists.

Reproduction this spring appeared good in the Niobrara Unit in north-central Nebraska and fair in the Round Top Unit in the extreme northwest, the only two areas open for the fall turkey hunting.

Hunters should bear in mind that new shooting times are in effect this year with legal hours from 15 minutes before sunrise to sunset. In recent seasons turkey hunters had to hold fire until sunrise.

Shotguns and long bows are the only legal weapons, and hunters must have a special turkey permit, plus an upland game bird stamp.

This year 1,200 permits were authorized for the Round Top Unit and 500 for the Niobrara area, the same as for 1972. All permits for the fall hunt were sold out during the initial application period the first two weeks of September.

Hunter success for the fall seasons has been in the neighborhood of 45 to 50 per cent in past years.

Spoilers, Home Teams Win

BY BOB BARTLETT

Last week not only was the week for the spoiler in high school football but also the week for home teams to win.

Coleridge, Columbus Lakeview, Norfolk Catholic, Wakefield and Laurel were all winners on home turf.

As far as spoilers go, Wakefield has to take the spotlight. Coach John Torczon's crew easily handled a strong Stanton club, 25-0. "After our loss to Wayne, we were determined that we would have a say in who would win the West half of the Husker Conference," Torczon said.

And that they did. Stanton, who was virtually in the lead of the West half, now finds itself struggling for the lead after Columbus Lakeview knocked off Wayne in a come-from-behind win, 15-12. Now Columbus Lakeview leads the division with a 3-0-1 mark, with Wayne (3-1-1) and Stanton (2-1-1) right behind.

Although Wakefield is completely out of the title running, Torczon vows his club will prove its strength during the final three games. Friday the Trojans will host Hartington Cedar Catholic in an attempt to prove the coach's remarks. "I believe Torczon, so Wakefield gets the nod over HCC.

Since there are only two other area teams playing Friday, followers of the Clark division of the Lewis and Clark Conference will take special note of Winside's little battle with Coleridge. As coach Doug Barclay knows, everything is on the line for this game. The Cats must beat the Bulldogs (last week's winner over previous Lewis contender Allen) if they have hopes of taking their half.

Despite what anyone thinks, this game could go right down to the wire (lets hope it doesn't end up like the Cats match against Wausa that ended up at 6-6). However, I don't think it will, and I'll go with Winside to pull this one out.

In the third game of the night, Laurel hosts Pierce. Coach Bob Olson admitted that in his team's 18-0 win over O'Neill, his club didn't have everything going for them. Although the Bears have won their last two games, I don't believe they will be able to pull it together for this strong Bluejay club. The nod goes to Pierce.

Because of last Friday's upsets, my prediction record of 17-10 (63 per cent) falls to 19 and 13 for the year or 60 per cent.

Wayne was picked to beat Columbus Lakeview. The Devils didn't. The same held true in the Winside-Norfolk Catholic and Stanton-Wakefield games. I was correct in picking Laurel over O'Neill and Coleridge over Allen.

Eagle Boosters

Herbert Ellis and the Home Cafe will sponsor Friday's Allen High football boosters breakfast at 7:30 a.m. at the Home Cafe.

Coleridge Overpowers Eagles

Allen High's football loss to Coleridge Friday night may have stunned the coaching staff, especially considering the club was blanked 24-0.

But the real blow came when Newcastle all but cinched the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Newcastle wiped out Walthill Friday night, 30-0, to claim its second L.C. victory over two potential division kings and virtually snuff out any chances for the Eagles to win the division. Newcastle dropped Allen, 19-7, earlier in the year.

Newcastle, 2-0-1 in the conference, has to defeat only Winnebago and Homer to wrap up the Lewis crown.

The Eagles have a 3-1 conference mark, 3-4 overall with the loss to Coleridge, member of the Clark division.

"We never came close to Coleridge" the coaching staff pointed out. "until the last quarter when we drove to the Bulldog 12-yard line. But an interception stopped our drive."

The Bulldogs overpowered Allen both in scoring and in statistics. Coleridge piled up 271 yards for the night compared to an unbelievable 21 for the Eagles.

Allen had just 24 yards in the air, a minus three on the ground. Two big reasons the club showed such poor offensive ability were Charlie Peters and Jim Koester — both missing from action because of injuries.

Koester, who suffered two shoulder separations, earlier in the season, now is out for the remaining games, the staff noted.

For Peters, the story is almost as bleak. "Charlie still is suffering from a leg injury," it was pointed out. "and may be ready for the last game of the season."

The same holds true for defensive linemen Dave Riffley, a senior tackle who was in the hospital with pneumonia two weeks ago. Although he is back in school, chances are he may not play until the Walthill game if he plays at all, according to the coaching staff.

The Bulldogs had a balanced attack on the ground and in the air. Quarterback Alan Benson fired three touchdown passes to Kevin Krie and tallied 94 of the club's 117 yards in the air. The fourth TD also came on a pass. On the ground Coleridge had 154 yards.

Coleridge carved out a 12-0 lead at the half before scoring its last 12 points in the final period for its sixth victory against one defeat.

Although blanked, the Allen coaching staff praised the defensive leadership of seniors Neil Blohm and Randy Lanser, who had 17 and 15 tackles respectively. Although sophomore Verneal Roberts only had six takedowns, the staff added that he "looked good at getting them."

Allen was scheduled to meet Bancroft Wednesday in a game that had been set for this Friday.

Community Chest Drive May Miss $12,000 Goal

Workers for this year's Community Chest fund drive in Wayne are being urged to turn in all donations they have collected as soon as possible.

A total of just over $6,800 had been collected by midweek, about 55 per cent of the $12,000 goal this year, according to drive secretary-treasurer Mrs. Jim Hummel.

Mrs. Hummel said that about 60 to 65 per cent of the drive has been completed but that the goal will not be reached if the present rate of donations continue coming in.

Drive workers a year ago fell just a few hundred dollars short of reaching their $10,000 goal. Community Chest board of directors will meet with drive co-chairmen Don Wightman and Cal Comstock on Wednesday of next week to tally final results of the drive. On the board are Dennis Boehme, Jan Liska, Marilyn Carhart, George Phelps, Melvin "Bud" Froehlich, Kem Swartz, Sid Hillier, Bob Jordan and Ray Butts.

If the $12,000 goal is reached this year, this is the way the funds would be distributed:

—Wayne recreation program,

- $3,000.
- Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, $2,160 each.
- Wayne Senior Citizens Center, $960.
- Red Cross, $960.
- Salvation Army, $1,080.
- United Service Organization, $240.
- Florence Crittenton Home, $120.
- Cystic fibrosis research, $120.

Handicapped Meet Subject

About 45 school officials and special education teachers from across the area are expected to attend a meeting at Wayne High School on Oct. 31.

The meeting, slated for 10 a.m. in the lecture hall, will be to help explain how school districts can implement the bill passed by the last legislature dealing with providing classes for handicapped students.

The bill requires all school districts in the state to provide for handicapped students by July 1 next year. Some of the provisions of the bill went into effect the start of this school year.

Schools must provide instruction for students suffering from a variety of handicaps, including those from emotional problems, neurological problems, sight difficulties and the like.

Helping sponsor the program is Educational Service Unit One.

Speaking to those attending the meeting will be Dr. Francis Colgan, head of the state department of special education.

Will Attend NU Program

Students from Wayne, Winside, Wakefield and Laurel will join other high school seniors at a Senior Information Day Saturday at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Students from 93 high schools across the state are expected to attend the program, which aims to acquaint seniors with academic aspects of university life. The program includes discussions with professors, campus tours, informal talks with NU students and a noon luncheon.

Assisting McDermott was his tutor, Father Allan Bouley, O.S.B., monk of St. John's, who recently finished liturgical studies at the Pontificium Athenaeum Anselmianum, Rome.

Want to Quiz State Officials? Here's Chance

Civic and government leaders in Nebraska communities will have a unique opportunity to consult with representatives of over 40 state agencies and organizations on Thursday, Nov. 1, at a "One-Stop Information Center."

Designed to provide information on services and resources available to communities, the "One-Stop Information Center" is sponsored by the TEAM, a committee of state agencies concerned with providing services to communities. Those attending the program will be able to visit personally with state representatives about community problems and to find out about continuing as well as new services provided by state agencies and organizations.

"Every effort will be made to meet the information needs of the participants and assist them toward finding answers to questions and problems," noted Mrs. Marie Arnot, chairperson of the TEAM.

The program will be held at the Ramada Inn in Lincoln, starting with a noon luncheon at which the state ombudsman, Murrell McNeil, will present a brief summary of services provided by participating agencies and organizations. The remainder of the afternoon will give participants an opportunity to visit individually and discuss problems with agency and organization representatives.

Anyone wishing to attend the "One-Stop Information Center" should make out a check for $3.30 for the luncheon to the Nebraska Community Improvement Fund and mail it to Nebraska Community Improvement Program, Department of Economic Development, Box 94666 — State Capitol, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509.

Wayne County's Appeal Of Grant Denial Fails

Wayne County's appeal of the decision not to approve a federal grant for an addition to the county jail was turned down last week.

County Clerk Norris Weible said the grant review committee of the state law enforcement commission stood by its earlier decision because there are no federal funds available for the 1973-74 fiscal year.

Wayne County had applied for a $40,000 federal grant to help finance an addition to the southeast corner of the county jail in Wayne. The federal grant would have been matched with local funds to build an addition which would provide office space for the county sheriff's staff and city police. It would have enabled the sheriff's office to take advantage of the 24-hour surveillance now provided by the city police department, saving cost of providing surveillance each time there is a prisoner in the county jail.

The recommendation that the two offices be combined was contained in a comprehensive regional study of jail facilities in Northeast Nebraska.

Weible said there is a possibility the city of Wayne and the county will work together to build the addition.

Attending the meeting in Lincoln with Weible were Ron Penlerick, detective sergeant with the Wayne police department, and Don Weible, county sheriff.

Actual, Pencil Shrinkage Important to Consider, NU Ag Economist Says

The highest price offered per pound does not necessarily represent the highest possible return per animal when selling feeder calves, pointed out a University of Nebraska Extension agricultural economist.

Cattlemen sometimes fail to fully consider "actual and pencil shrinkage" when selling their animals, said Dr. Al Wellman.

"Actual shrinkage" is the weight lost during shipment of the cattle from the farm to where they are weighed and/or the loss in weight while they are allowed to stand without feed and water, he noted.

"Pencil shrinkage" was described by Wellman as an arbitrary amount deducted to account for anticipated shrinkage during the time the animal is moved. Wellman cautioned sellers to be sure to consider both types of shrinkage before accepting a sale price.

He said there is a rule of thumb that can be used to estimate shrinkage in cattle when they leave the farm or ranch.

Feeder cattle can lose approximately one per cent an hour for the first four to six hours, one quarter of one per cent per hour the following 10 hours and one per cent a day thereafter during a normal shipment period.

Wellman said shrinkage could reach 10 per cent on a long haul of 18 to 35 hours. Following a long haul of 300 miles or more, cattle should be allowed 24 to 36 hours to regain part of the lost weight before being weighed for sale, Wellman said.

The economist advised those selling cattle to consider advantages and disadvantages of both types of shrinkage allowance before agreeing to a sale price.

Whether shrinkage allowance is an advantage to either the seller or the buyer depends upon the price being considered for the animal and upon the number of pounds to be sold, Wellman said.

"For example, suppose there are two offers — one for $70 per hundred pounds for 400-pound calves without a shrinkage allowance and another for $72 with a four per cent shrink allowance. The first offer will net $280 per head and the second only $276.48," Wellman pointed out.

He said sellers also should take into consideration transportation, yardage and commission charges which they may incur if weighing is done off the farm.

The economist also advised sorting of cattle for uniformity and grade, before they are offered for sale. Otherwise, he said, buyers may want a "cut-back" in the selling price to allow for lower quality animals included in unsold lots.

Offering of uniform lots will sometimes work as an encouragement for the buyer to pay higher prices, Wellman said.

"Were it left for me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

'Conservative' Trojans Hand 25-0 Upset to Former Husker Leader

Wakefield High's conservative brand of football paid off big dividends Friday in the club's 25-0 upset win over Stanton.

"We played a conservative game," Torczon said of his team's 25-0 smashing of former West Husker leader Stanton. "I don't think Stanton took us for much of a threat," he pondered, "but we knew better."

The head mentor admitted his strategy was to play for field position and not try for long gainers. As a result, the Trojans worked their way to touchdowns every quarter and evened their season record at 3-3.

"One thing we have going for us," he said, "is a chance to have our first winning record in almost eight years." Last time the Trojans had a winning year was in 1966 when they posted an 8-1 record, according to Torczon.

Quarterback Doug Soderberg guided the club to three of four touchdowns, two of them on passes. Steve Sorensen caught the first for 11 yards and a 6-0 first quarter lead. Then in the third frame Larry Siebrandt took a five-yard aerial into the endzone.

The only rushing score came when Sorensen, lead rusher with 67 yards in 17 tries, rambled in from four yards out, capping a 50-yard drive in the second period.

In the final stanza senior cornerback Doug Fischer, second in rushing with 28, grabbed a Stanton pass and raced 32 yards for the score. After two misses in kicking for the extra point earlier in the game, Loren Hammer finally put one through the crossbars. Wakefield tried for two points but failed after the other TD.

Sam Utecht and Hammer put plenty of pressure on the Stanton offense, helping to limit the visitors to four first downs. Utecht, who made five unassisted tackles at the line of scrimmage, collected 14 tackles with nine assists for the night.

Hammer was the man behind the line, knocking Mustang runners for losses. "He did a great job both defensively and offensively," Torczon said.

Although Torczon said his team strategy was to stay on the ground, final statistics prove his club showed balance both on the ground and in the air. The Trojans had 92 yards in each department while limiting Stanton to 42 yards in each category.

Wakefield stopped the Mustangs' aerial game with two key interceptions — one by Fischer which went for a touchdown and the other by Keith Siebrandt. Both those were their third and fourth robberies for the year.

Wakefield takes on Hartington Cedar Catholic of the West division Friday in an attempt to get above the .500 mark.

Wakefield Bounces Back With Two Wins After Setback to Winside Girls

Wakefield High's girls volleyball team bounced back in two games after last week's upset loss to Winside.

Coach Ernie Kovar's girls disposed of Oakland-Craig and Hartington Cedar Catholic Monday and Tuesday nights, ending the A team's season record at 9-4.

The varsity smashed Oakland in two sets, 15-6 and 15-5, before laying 15-6 and 15-9 losses on Hartington.

In the Hartington game, Kovar pointed out, Wakefield got back to its old form and played a control game. LeAnn Hale has a good floor game in stopping the Oakland-Craig Knights' scoring assault, he added.

The Trojanettes reserve squad finished its season on two victories for an 8-3 mark, needing three sets in both contests to do it. In the Oakland game, the set scores were 16-18, 16-14 and 15-2. After beating Hartington the first set, 15-8, the Trojanettes lost the second, 4-15, before coming back, 15-6.

The freshmen ended their 4-3 year with a 1-15 and 11-15 two-set loss to Oakland.

Winside High's girls volleyball team pulled out surprising double victories over strong Wakefield Wednesday afternoon last week, marking the first win for the reserves and evening the varsity record at 6-6.

"Our girls just plain got mad in that reserve game," coach Don Leighton said, "and came fighting back to win after losing the second set."

The Wildkittens took the first match 15-11, but the host team grew slack the second set, losing 5-15. Wakefield's head mentor Ernie Kovar had his girls produce more set ups in that second match to take the victory.

But Winside came storming back with a 15-6 display to win its first reserve game in eight starts.

The reserves winning streak didn't last long, though. Last Thursday the Wildkittens lost twice at the Beemer reserve tournament.

The host club defeated Winside with a pair of 12-15 sets before Winside went down at the hands of Wisner-Pilger in three sets, 15-5, 11-15 and 6-15.

In that first game, the Winside crew was down 1-14 in the first set before almost breaking loose with a come-from-behind victory. The reserves record now stands at 1-9.

The varsity club also produced some outstanding playing

Leighton pointed out, defeating a good Wakefield club which held a 7-3 mark.

"The girls never looked better," Leighton boasted. "Their serving wasn't the best, 71 per cent, compared to what they have been doing. But their blocking was good and their spiking and set ups were really on the mark."

Winside handed the Trojanettes their fourth defeat in two straight sets, 15-13 and 15-8.

All three Wayne teams ended their season play on a losing note Tuesday night.

The varsity (9-5) lost to Wisner-Pilger girls 15-7 and 15-13 in the first and third matches. The locals won the second set, 15-11.

This Tuesday both Wayne and Wakefield will enter the West Division Conference meet at Hartington Cedar Catholic in an eight-team battle to determine the West-half representative.

The Wayne reserve team Tuesday night dropped its match, 4-15 and 11-15, for an even 4-4 record.

The freshman team, despite its second loss of the year, finished the season with a winning 6-2 record.

The C team went three sets, losing the first 15-1 but coming back 15-8 in the second set. Wisner-Pilger poured in on the last game, however, winning 15-8.

Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference contender Laurel High took its first conference loss of the year Tuesday night, suffering a two-set loss to powerful Randolph, 3-15 and 11-15.

Julie Wallin led the club with five spikes in that losing cause. The varsity record now stands at 5-1 in NENAC play, 5-2 overall.

The B team couldn't break loose from its winless record. The reserves lost their sixth game in as many starts. Randolph won 15-13 and 15-10 after the Bearettes won the first set, 15-11.

Penny Burns led the reserve attack with 16 serve points.

Although there was no record available for the freshman team, the area club lost to Randolph, 6-15, 15-2 and 4-15.

Laurel has one more game — at home against Pierce — before it goes into conference play Nov. 5 at Pierce.

Allen High played at Homer Tuesday night, but again no results were available.

Both Allen and Winside will start Lewis and Clark Conference playoffs Nov. 6 at Winside.

Renowned Orchestra To Play at College

The Slovak Chamber Orchestra, renowned in Europe, will perform at Wayne State College Monday on its first North American tour.

The 8 p.m. concert in Ramsey Theater of the college Fine Arts Center, is open to the public. Reserved tickets are available weekdays at the college business office in Hahn Administration Building, and if any tickets remain at concert time, they will be available at the door.

WSC students and staff may attend free. For others, tickets cost $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for high school age students.

The 11-member Slovak Chamber Orchestra, founded in 1960, has become a fixture on European concert stages. The London Times called it "one of the finest groups of its kind ever to have visited this country." Rome's Il Messaggero commented that Italians have "never heard Corelli played as it was played" by the Slovak ensemble.

Original members of the orchestra remained a part of the larger Slovak Philharmonic until 1966. Then the group was chartered as an independent state orchestra and could devote full time to concerts throughout Europe.

A concert at Basel, Switzerland, prompted this comment from a critic: "The orchestra's performance was simply perfect, both technically and musically. It is only in superlatives that one can describe the impeccable qualities of this ensemble."

Members of a group interested in cutting down traffic accidents in Wayne County will ask the city of Wayne and the county to establish a traffic safety commission.

The group is the county's Selective Localized Accident Prevention (SLAP) Committee,

If county and city officials go along with proposals by the SLAP group, a Highway Traffic Safety Commission will be formed and the city and county will appoint official representatives on the commission. The commission would be composed of persons representing the public at large, Chamber of Commerce, industry, insurance and business.

The commission would encourage and promote programs and campaigns aimed at making the public aware of traffic safety, make recommendations to public officials and the like.

$56,000 Distributed to County's Schools

Checks totaling $56,468.46 have been mailed out to school districts in Wayne County, the school districts' share of the first quarterly state aid payments.

Wayne-Carroll school district received a check for $40,815.99, according to the county superintendent's office, which distributed the payments last week.

Winside's school district received a total of $7,608.39.

The 24 rural school districts in the county received $8,044.08.

The State Education Department said the $13,743,816 distributed to 1,255 school districts across the state represents about a fourth of this year's $55 million state aid total. Other quarterly payments will be made Jan. 15, March 15, May 15 and July 31.

Following are the figures the rural school districts in the county have received:

Dist. 1 — $32.85; Dist. 5 — $347.23; Dist. 8 — $116.72; Dist. 9 (Hoskins) — $855.68; Dist. 10 — $540.66; Dist. 15 — $335.37; Dist. 23 — $112.44; Dist. 25 — $541.11; Dist. 32 — $529.88; Dist. 33 — $265.49; Dist. 34 — $116.72; Dist. 40 — $166.12; Dist. 45 — $112.58; Dist. 47 — $245.10; Dist. 51 — $872.07; Dist. 57 — $214.67; Dist. 61 — $155.97; Dist. 68 — $675.74; Dist. 69 — $169.99; Dist. 75 — $552.78; Dist. 76 (Sholes) — $667.92; Dist. 77 — $210.36; Dist. 83 — $120.98; Dist. 88 — $85.65.

Problem Now: To Find Some Water

The Biology Department at Wayne State College may have a problem, now that it has its own private navy: Should it confer admiralships like the Great Navy of the State of Nebraska?

One thing is different. The WSC biology people really have a boat, whereas the Nebraska Navy, has only admirals — hundreds of them, all honorary.

Actually, the main problem confronting college biologists is getting their new rowboat into water somewhere, so they can begin a variety of experiments. When it arrived, the Wayne area was all but swamped with rain, rain, rain. This prompted campus wags to ask if the biologists were latterday Noahs preparing for a flood. Or did they know something other folks didn't know about Nebraska becoming an inland sea — as mentioned some time back in a tongue-in-cheek article by George Shestak of the Omaha World-Herald?

Since the rains evaporated, other reasons have kept the biology students from launching the boat. Next best was to take it out on the campus for a photographer's benefit—whereupon Prof. Jewell Schock took over as temporary admiral to direct the operation. He equipped the vessel with oars and a kit of biological instruments. His crew ignored jokes by student kibitzers.

Eventually, several biology classes will launch the 20-foot boat on area ponds and streams for serious experiments, Schock said, mentioning such classes as general biology, environmental ecology, parasitology, vertebrate and invertebrate zoology.

Purchase of the boat was made possible by a gift to the Wayne State Foundation from a member of the biology faculty, Dr. Charles Maier, who will find considerable use for the vessel. With it, he said, students and faculty can use to better advantage some equipment the college already owns.

They can collect and test water samples not accessible from the banks of ponds or streams. And they can collect aquatic plant and animal specimens that previously had to be ordered, at considerable cost, from supply houses.

Some day, too, the biologists may figure out who is admiral of the Wayne State Navy.

Business notes...

New Business Opens

Uon and Mary Dubbs of Wakefield have opened the Cornhusker Baker in Wakefield, and are serving baked goods, coffee, ice cream, cold sandwiches and pizza. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The business is located in the building previously occupied by Ann's Coffee Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Dubbs also operate the Cornhusker Cafe and Catering Service.

WS Foundation Digs Deeper,

Elects Officers

The Wayne State Foundation, after a record year of income, is planning to spend more in the coming year — most of it going to student aid and college promotion.

Foundation trustees, at their recent annual meeting, adopted a budget of $23,700, up $3,100 from the past year, and re-elected officers.

Continuing in office are Val Peterson, president; Henry Ley, vice-president; Adon Jeffrey, secretary-treasurer, and Kenneth Oids, resident agent, all of Wayne. Dr. Freeman Decker, college staff member, also remains as executive secretary.

The largest budget figure by far is $10,400 for scholarships and awards to students. The major scholarship allotments include $2,500 for athletics, $1,800 for international institutes, $2,000 from the Ardath Conn memorial and $1,000 from the Lettie Scott memorial. All of these will be divided among a number of students.

Dr. Decker said the other expenditures will help promote the college and provide services for which state funds are not available. The foundation also budgets $2,000 for its reserve endowment, lifting it to about $100,000.

Stratbucker: Hearts Are Too Good to Die

Of all the diseases in the world, one that is steadily on the increase in America is heart disease.

The reason may be that we are either learning to control other diseases or there actually is a true increase in heart problems, said Dr. Robert Stratbucker of Omaha.

Speaking at the Wayne Kiwanis Club luncheon Monday, the president of Health Technology Laboratory pointed out that man's work schedule and diet may be two causes for the suffers some form of heart attack.

"When a person has a heart attack," he said, "the heart begins to fibrillate. That is, deviate from its normal rhythm. Once this happens it is impossible for the heart to restore its normal beating. As a result, either heart massage or an electric shock is administered to correct the pulse."

Heart massage probably is the best method to use when there isn't a defibrillator available, he said. But once a person has a heart attack, little time can be wasted in getting the heart to beat normally, he cautioned.

A defibrillator is the quickest method for restoring normal beat, he went on, but in the past these machines were too bulky and heavy to be portable. Now a portable unit is available for use by rescue squads. The 24-pound briefcase type instrument can handle the job much easier than the 80-pound hospital model, he pointed out.

The idea behind the portable unit is to administer help as soon as possible. If a heart stops for longer than four or five minutes, then the person is beyond help," Dr. Stratbucker said.

"Hearts are too good to die. There is a good deal of reserve left in a heart after a heart attack, and the sooner the normal beat of a heart can be restored the better chances are the person will live longer."

Dr. Stratbucker, a volunteer at the University of Nebraska-Omaha faculty, pointed out that his Omaha firm hopes to make defibrillators in pocket size in the near future.

"Anyone can own one of these provided it is prescribed by a doctor. The only problem is that these are made on a limited quantity, which means that they cost about $1,800 each."

Students Audition for All-State

All-State choir, orchestra and band auditions for the Northeast Nebraska district were held at Creighton Saturday with 252 students from 39 schools competing.

Judging was done by Wayne State College staff members Connie Webber, Jay O'Leary, Michael Palumbo, James Day and Antony Garlick.

Students qualifying for All-State band, choir and orchestra will perform together at the annual meeting of the Nebraska Music Educators Association to be held in Fremont Nov. 15-17.

Tapes were made of band and orchestra auditions and winners will be announced at a later date.

Students qualifying for All-State choir include Kathy Nelson, first alto, and Kay Pierson, second soprano, of Wayne, and Claudie Mallatt, first soprano, and Sheryl Anderson, second soprano, of Laurel.

Alternates for choir include Wayne's Debi Wolske, first soprano, and Laurel's Brian Curtiss, first bass, and Mike Kneiff, second tenor.

Other area students trying out for choir were Doug Temme and Ken Baier, Wayne; Vicki Holtgrew, Connie Cleveland, Jeff Farran and Gaylen Carstens, Winside, and Denise Mackey and Carol Stark, Laurel.

Among those auditioning for All-State band and orchestra were Gary Stollenberg, Ann and Sue Owens and Mary Ream, Wayne; Barb Creamer, Diane Fahrenheit, Paul Snyder, Don Kluever, Denise Linateller and Kim Jackson, Allen; Patti Holtgrew, Winside, and Julie Paulsen, Kim McCorkindale, Marilyn Mackey, Barb Olsen, Janis Wallin, Lori Brachvogel, Julie Wallin, Steve McCorkindale, Danny Patefield, Susan Schroeder, Denise Magnuson, Jim Dahlquist and Keith Matthews, Laurel.

Fire Destroys Hay

Fire destroyed approximately $1,400 in baled hay on the George Claycomb farm just north of Wayne last week. Wayne volunteer firemen attempted to put out the fire, which occurred last Thursday on the Claycomb farm a mile north and a mile west of Wayne, but it was impossible to stop destruction of the pile, said volunteer fire chief Cliff Pinkelman.

Two Added To Roster Of Lions

Two new members were inducted into the Wayne Lions Club during last week's regular monthly meeting.

New to the club are John Thiel and Eldon Bull. Also new to the group is Wayne businessman Neil Dinges, a member of the Lions Club at O'Neill before moving to Wayne earlier this year.

Discussed during the meeting was the glaucoma clinic which will be held in Wayne early next month. The clinic will be held at the city auditorium on Nov. 11 rather than Nov. 4 as originally planned.

The club has agreed to donate $25 to the Community Chest fund drive in an attempt to help drive workers reach this year's goal of $12,000. Club members agreed to make the donation after defeating local Kiwanians in a tug-of-war — the loser of which had to donate $50 to the drive.

Receiving special awards for obtaining new members during the international drive to sign up the millionth Lions Club member were Alvin Peterson, Dale Stoltenberg, Chris Tietgen, Charles Maier, Ray Butts, Bill "Skip" Kinslow and Wes Pflueger.
