Laurel Congregation Marking Diamond Year

The 75th anniversary of the United Presbyterian Church in Laurel will be marked this Sunday with an all day celebration. All local and area churches are invited to take part in the observance, according to the Rev. Douglas R. Potter.

Steven G. Oltmans, moderator of the Presbytery of Niobrara, will be assisted by a former pastor of the Laurel Church, the Rev. J. Keith Cook of Omaha, in delivering the sermon at the 10:45 a.m. worship services. The anniversary banquet and program will take place at the Wagon Wheel Steak House beginning at 12:15 p.m. Mayor Merlin Swanson will extend the welcome and the Rev. Michael Kelly of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Laurel, will give the invocation. The program will focus on the church's progress through the years.

An informal tea, open to the public, will be held at the church from 3 to 5 p.m., where pictures will be on display. A 75-year church history book will be made available to interested persons during the tea.

The village of Laurel was just five years old when a meeting was called to organize a Presbyterian Church on Nov. 16, 1898. Membership was 73 and a Ladies Aid was organized the same year, with aid dues set at 25 cents per year.

By 1900 the congregation had paid for the $2500 frame building and in 1911 a two-story manse was put up adjacent to the church grounds at a cost of $3338.

July 4, 1914, the church was partially destroyed by fire and in November of that year following repairs and the addition of a basement for church school use, re-dedication services were held. After the flood of 1922 which ravaged the church basement, the organ and all church records, members hauled in dirt to raise the ground and built new sidewalks.

September 30, 1962, exactly 62 years from the dedication of the original building, a new all brick structure was dedicated. Cost of the new building was $82,417.

Membership as of the first of this year was 222. Fifty-year members include Hazel Rimel, 1911; Grace Shively Guinn, 1916; Marie Tower, 1918; Eliida Danielson, 1919; Daniel Danielson, 1919; Pluma Danielson Obermeyer, Hilda Mittelstadt, and Alfred Mittelstadt, 1919; Olive Windquist and Luella Shively, 1920, and Frances Stage, 1921.

Three Area Girls Named to L-C All-Conference Teams

Three area girls were named to the first and second Lewis and Clark all-conference high school volleyball teams Tuesday night at Winside.

Kim Jackson of Allen and Sally Lapdangner of Winside were among the 12-member team to receive medallions for their outstanding season play. Named to the second team was Joni Langenberg of Winside.

"Kim really held our team together," coach Lorna Stamp said of her first string selection. "Although she isn't a great scorer, she shows a lot of desire and can spike the ball well."

The senior is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylen Jackson of Allen.

Both Winside's picks were top players on coach Don Leighton's team. "Sally plays good defense," Leighton pointed out, "and is a good spiker."

For Joni, there's only one word that can describe her playing during the year — "sparkplug." She hustles a lot out on the court and is capable of good serves. Leighton commented.

Joni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Langenberg of Hoskins, and Sally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Landanger of Winside, are seniors.

Both teams were announced following the Lewis and Clark Conference title battle at Winside between Wausa of the Clark division and Newcastle of the Lewis division.

The Vikings'ettes won in three sets — 15-9, 5-15, 15-3.

Members of the first string team include:

Lewis Division — Gaylene Neilson, Homer; Nancy Brady, Ponca; Joni Schulte, Ponca; Deb Lowe, Newcastle; Lori Anderson, Newcastle; Kim Jackson, Allen.

Clark Division — Karen Armstrong, Osmond; Vicky Cunningham, Wausa; Kim Husbrouck, Hartington; Linda Huss, Coleridge; Sally Landanger, Winside.

Second team: Lewis Division — Patti Pfister, Newcastle; Patti Block, Newcastle; Marty Knerl, Ponca; Lorri Jensen, Homer; Paula

Hansen Top Jr. High Player

Kelly Hansen, Bryan Ruwe and Brian Haun were named the outstanding junior high football players this year following Wayne's 30-0 win over Macy last week.

Hansen was named over-all outstanding player, with Ruwe winning lineman honors and Haun selected as the best back-field player.

Both Hansen and Haun were instrumental in last week's whitewashing. Hansen scored the first touchdown three plays after blocking a Macy punt.

Haun scored the second team TD following a fumble recovery by Robin O'Donnell on Macy's 25-yard line. Quarterback Vic Sharpe hit Brad Emry for the two-point conversion and a 14-0 first quarter score.

Haun came back in the third period to score the final six-point of a 45-yard scramble. Hansen scored the extra points.

Sharpe put Wayne ahead 22-0 in the second period on a quarterback sneak from one yard out before throwing the two-point PAT to Kevin Murray.

The junior high team finished its season with a 3-2 record. Other wins came over Schuyler, 12-6, and Randolph, 14-0. The locals lost to Norfolk Catholic, 16-8, and Laurel, 8-6.

Seventh Grade Romps, 26-8

Wayne's seventh grade football team easily handled the eighth grade second string Monday night with a 26-8 victory.

Touchdowns by Brad Emry, Al Nissen and Cary Damme gave the seventh grade team the edge. Emry scored two TDs — one on a 35-yard run, the other on a pitchout play deep in eighth grade territory.

Nissen took a pass from Dave Schwartz to put the ball at the four-yard line before plunging in.

In the third period, the seventh grade was nailed for a safety before Damme intercepted an eighth grade pass to up his club's lead to 20-2.

The eighth grade scored on a 55-yard pass play from quarterback Steve Bodenstedt to Dean Carroll.

Both teams were scheduled to continue the three-game series Wednesday night, the seventh grade team ahead 1-0.

Ikes Serve 150

Members of the Izaak Walton League of Wayne served 150 people Saturday during their pancake feed on the opening day of pheasant season.

The club made about $100 out of the feed, which may be turned into an annual event.

Sportsbeat

By Bob Bartlett

MORE AND MORE area athletes are making their marks in area college sports this year.

Evidence of that is the number of men on the Wayne State rosters, not only in football but in wrestling and basketball.

Wayne's Roger Saul looks like a good prospect for the freshman team, said Ron Jones, head of the Wildcats varsity crew. Last year, Saul led the Wayne High Blue Devils in scoring and rebounding.

As most area fans know Laurel's Tom Erwin and Rod Erwin already are a part of the basketball Cats' team, going at guard and forward positions respectively.

In wrestling, Winside's Dave Jaeger, a freshman, appears to be a strong contender in the lower weights. According to first-year coach Marion Haayer, Jaeger is trying out for the 118-pound spot.

In football, the 1974 story may unfold with a Wayne flavor to it. During last Thursday's Second Guessers meeting, head coach Del Stoltenberg pointed out that next year he hopes to recruit more local and area talent.

On top of his list are three Wayne High senior linemen — last year's West Husker all-conference selections Mike Dunklau and Kerry Jech plus Charlie Brockman.

Stoltenberg said the three players are among the top linemen prospects he's seen in this area for a long time.

If they are recruited and make the team, there's a good chance they will see most varsity action. Next year the Wildcats may be weak — as far as linemen go because of graduation.

Among some of the seniors leaving the scene are guard Rich Mangiameli, tackle Layne Herber, linebacker George Biszack, guard John Mortimer, linebacker Roger Fuller, tackle Joe McMenamin, defensive tackle Ed Travers and defensive end Tom Allie.

Stoltenberg was quick to point out that he won't be looking for any more quarterback backs at the present time. With two sophomores, a junior and freshman seeing signal calling duties this year, there should be plenty of experience directing next year's crew.

In track, one area standout will make his debut this year in pole vaulting. Keith Olsen of Laurel was lured to Wayne State last year during a track meet by athletic director LeRoy Simpson.

A FORMER Wayne State post-graduate student has been named head basketball coach at Boys Town.

John Ilcin succeeds George Pfeiffer, who had held that post for the past 14 years, according to Father Robert P. Hupp, director at Boys Town.

Ilcin attended Wayne State for two years, receiving his master's degree in physical education and coaching the JV basketball squad. He also was coach of the Creighton freshmen team while studying for a year in CV's school law.

Men's Basketball Action Starts Wednesday Night

All men in the city of Wayne and rural Wayne can sign up for city recreation basketball and begin practice next week.

According to city recreation director Hank Overin, all men 28 years or older who want to play in the B league should be at the city auditorium Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Those going out for A teams should be at the auditorium Nov. 19 at the same time.

"We will have workouts for three weeks," he said, "before selecting teams for both groups." League competition is scheduled to start Dec. 5 for the B teams, Dec. 10 for the A teams.

Leagues are open to any college student who works off campus in Wayne. Those signing up must be high school graduates.

Overin is hoping to form four teams in the B league. If so, 25 players will be needed.

Those interested in playing but unable to attend the first meeting should contact Overin.

Second String Beats 5th Grade

Wayne's sixth grade second string football team defeated the fifth grade Tuesday night, 14-6.

Stuart Nissen scored the go-ahead touchdown in the last period on a 55-yard ramble.

Nissen also scored the only two-point conversion after Kurt Powers intercepted a pass and scampered 35 yards for a 6-0 score.

The fifth grade team was led by Keith Turner's end sweep for a TD before the half. A 25-yard pass play from quarterback Tod Heier to Rob Harmeier put the ball at the one-yard line before Turner scored.

In Nebraska, game fish may be taken with bow and arrow from sunrise to sunset, Apr. 1 through May 30.

Wayne All-Stars Face Girls Tonight

Forget television for tonight (Thursday) — there is a better show coming to the area when the Wayne all-star basketball team takes on Arkansas Gems girls basketball club at the city auditorium.

The 8 p.m. meeting will feature some of the top area basketball players against a group of professionals from Minnesota.

According to "coach" Bob Woehler, in charge of the Wayne County Jaycee function, Wayne's lineup will include teachers Ron Dalton, Duane Blomenkamp and Robert Keilman of Wayne High School along with some city businessmen.

"Our list is still growing," Woehler said, "but so far we have Mike Loofe, Bill Workman, Bill Woehler, Darrell Doescher, John Rebersdorf and Hank Overin."

The Gems will carry a 161-2 record into the contest after playing in all 50 states and overseas. Leading the troupe will be Elvera "Peps" Neuman with a 47-point scoring average per game. The 5-6 blond may be the smallest member of her team, but she'll be backed up by some six-footers — Judy Oelrich, Susan Edgcomb and Deborah Patty.

Advanced tickets still are on sale from any JC member at $1.50 for adults and $1.25 for students. Admission price at the door will be $1.75 for adults and $1.50 for students.

GEMS BASKETBALL stars Marli Witt, left, and Elvera "Peps" Neuman will be among the high-scoring clan of girls in tonight's basketball action against the Wayne all stars.

Whites Top Reds, 14-8

The White team upended the Reds Tuesday night, 14-8, in city recreation football for third and fourth graders.

Jim Sperry gave the Whites an 8-0 halftime lead with a 35-yard run up the middle. Sperry also converted the two-point try.

Jeff McCright boosted the lead to 13-0 on a 35-yard run before Mark Hummel of the Reds countered with a 20-yard run for a TD. Quarterback Todd Schwartz hit Mike Sieler for the two-point try.

Sixth Grade Wins Series

The Wayne sixth grade football team pasted an 18-8 loss on the seventh grade second string Friday afternoon after both teams were deadlocked 0-0 at the half.

Dan Mitchell put the winners on the board with a safety in the third period before scoring on a 35-yard run for an 8-0 score. Tim Thomas scored the PAT.

Mike Niemann whittled the margin to four points with a 70-yard run. Quarterback Dave Schwartz, brought the team within two on a keeper for the two-point try.

In the final period, Thomas raced 55 yards for the final score to give the sixth graders a two-game victory over the seventh grade team in the best of three-game series.

'Different Type of Players, Team Unity' Cited for WS's 6-2-1 Football Campaign

Mark it as a fine season of football at Wayne State, now that the Wildcats have tucked away the logs after a 21-3 victory over Iowa Wesleyan College Saturday at Mount Pleasant.

Some observations are in order to recap the season.

—It ended at 6-2-1, with only one real regret among players and coaches—that a conference championship, or a share of it, slipped away on two losses. With hindsight, it probably is safe to say that Wayne had little chance against Kearney, considering the circumstances, Kearney having been zipped by Peru a week earlier. The Antelopes were out to prove something. But the Wildcat loss to Peru could just as well have gone the other way. If only that funny-shaped football had bounced another way.

—Still, a 6-2-1 record looks shiny if one ponders the pre-season prospects. On paper, the Wildcats appeared to lack a few key individuals of proven credentials.

So what happened? Coach Del Stoffenberg analyzes it this way: "We had a 'different type of players' this year, more team unity. I think the boys knew they had no stars like Reggie Smith or Sam Singleton to get the yards, so they just went out to do the job as a team."

—Now they have some players with proven credentials... not many with big statistics, but more than usual with pretty fair measurements of performance.

—To this there is one exception, the pass receiving of Dean Off. He broke two known Wayne season records, for most passes caught, 30, and yards on passes, 531. Sophomore wingback Off, from Hooper, also scored on seven passes and ran for two touchdowns.

—A cheering thought is this: practically all the offense yardage and scoring was the work of sophomores and freshmen. The only loss among offensive backs will be senior fullback Kirk Park. The squad has only 10 seniors, 10 juniors.

—Less cheering is the fact that most of seniors were valuable starters.

—One more observation: the Nebraska College Conference may be on its level, something like the Big Eight—dominant over non-conference foes, but cutthroat among league teams. NCC members are 17-5-1 so far against non-conference opposition this year.

Wayne pretty well dominated Iowa Wesleyan after some early shocks. The host Tigers scored a quick touchdown after recovering a Wildcat fumble, only to lose the TD on a penalty. Then they went ahead on a field goal.

The Wildcats got down to business right away. They surged ahead when defensive middle guard Pat Donohoe grabbed a Wesleyan fumble and ran 52 yards to score. It was the first collegiate TD for the O'Neill soph.

The next Wayne score, on an eight-yard run, also was a first collegiate milestone for sophomore tailback Brian Moeller of Scribner. Curiously, he led Wayne rushing most of the season—finishing with 146 carries for 464 yards, far ahead of anybody.

Tim Denham, junior from Cumberland, Ia., ripped off a 22-yard touchdown run with his giant strides in the final period. Rich Mangiameli kicked his third point of the game, his 21st on 24 tries. Fine effort for a senior place-kicker for the first time at Wayne.

Junior tailback Pat Dyer of Ralston rushed for 82 yards to brighten a season of injury woes.

WSC Athletics Suffer Defeats

Wayne State athletics had troubles over the weekend—except for the football team's varsity victory.

Junior varsity gridder journeyed to Fremont for a postponed game with the Midland Jayvees. Result: a 14-6 loss that finished the Wayne season at 1-2.

Randy Slaybaugh scored Wayne's one touchdown on a pass of about 20 yards from Brad Hahn. Coach Doug Barry gave special mention to Ken Viken, a converted defensive back who moved to split end in this game, and caught four passes for some 50 yards.

The WSC women's volleyball team lost all four weekend games. At Lincoln Saturday, it bowed to UNL and Peru State, then at Seward Sunday to Concordia and Creighton. That left the coeds with a 5-10 season.

The WSC cross country team finished fourth in a four-team AAU meet at Mitchell, S. D. Saturday.

Winside, Wakefield End Seasons Friday

The victory over Hartington could give Winside incentive to make it the second week for an upset. However, I believe Winside won't take Wynot lightly and will win this match.

The second contest finds Wakefield going to Lyons of the East Husker Conference.

In another surprise, the Lions last week victimized Tekamah-Herman, 13-10, for their first win this season. That victory could set up another upset since Wakefield is the heavy favorite in this match.

Wakefield holds a 4-3-1 record after Friday's slaughter of Emerson-Hubbard, 26-0. Head coach John Torczon felt that his club played one of its best games this year, with both offense and defense working together.

According to Torczon, this is the first year the Trojans have had a winning season since another area coach was directing the Wakefield club.

The coach? None other than Wayne

High's Al Hansen, who guided the Trojans to two successful campaigns in three seasons. After starting with a dismal 2-7 record in 1964, Hansen led the club to an 8-1 mark the following year and completed his three-year hitch at Wakefield with a 7-2 mark before coming to Wayne.

Getting back to Friday's second game, Wakefield should master the Lions with relative ease.

In a final review of season picks, my record stands at 22 right and 16 wrong—about 58 per cent. If both area clubs win Friday, that would boost the mark to 24-16, an even 60 per cent.

Last Friday's two wrong picks came when Hartington Cedar Catholic beat Wayne and Laurel ripped Wausa. The other three predictions came true: Walthill beat Allen, Wakefield dumped Emerson-Hubbard and Winside won over Osmond.

Conferences Set at Middle School

Parent-teacher conferences will be held at Wayne Middle School on Nov. 15 and 16, reports principal Loren Park.

Park is urging all parents of students to attend conferences anytime between 8 a.m. and noon and 1 and 5 p.m. on Nov. 15, and between 8 a.m. and noon and 1 and 4 p.m. on Nov. 16.

Since parents may come to the school at their convenience, appointments are not necessary, he noted.

School will not be held for students those two days, Park added.

East Husker League Race Continues Among 4 Teams

The only race in the three area conferences still undecided this week is in the East half of the Husker Conference.

West Point, Oakland-Craig, Scribner and Hooper-Logan View continue the battle for the top position with one week of football activity remaining.

Right now West Point leads with a 5-2 league mark and its season completed. But West Point and Scribner are the only two teams that really have a chance to win the league, and the Cadetts hold the upper hand.

For example, if Scribner should beat Oakland-Craig and Hooper-Logan View loses to Tekamah-Herman Friday there would be a two way tie between West Point and Scribner. In this case Scribner would repeat as division champs since it beat the Cadetts Sept. 28, 13-6.

That, conceivably, is the only way West Point can lose out in its bid for the East Husker crown. If both Scribner and Hooper-Logan View win, the West Point team wins the crown because Hooper-Logan View beat Scribner and Logan View lost to West Point, plus Scribner won the title last year.

Otherwise, if Oakland-Craig and Hooper-Logan View win their matches, West Point automatically becomes division champ because the Cadetts beat both teams.

Otherwise around the leagues,

Nobody Hurt In Mishap on County Road

Four persons escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when the car they were riding in ran off a county road and into a ditch east of Winside.

Driver of the automobile was Ritchie Workman, 16, of Wayne.

The state patrol said Workman's car, which was completely wrecked in the mishap, went into the ditch after a car driven by Scott Glassmeyer, 16, of rural Wayne passed it and struck the front of the Workman vehicle. The Glassmeyer auto continued down the road and suffered only minor damage, according to the investigating officer.

The accident occurred about 4:15 p.m. just over five miles east of Winside. Both vehicles were westbound.

The name Baton Rouge is French. It means "red stick" or "red pole." The first French explorers found the Indians using such a pole as a boundary marker.

5 WH Students Picked For Performances During Annual Confab-Clinic

Five students from Wayne High School have been chosen to perform in concerts during the annual convention-clinic of the Nebraska Music Educators Association Nov. 15-17 at Fremont. The students are Mary Ream, Ann Owens and Sue Owens, selected for orchestra, and Kay Pierson and Kathy Nelson, selected for chorus.

More than 750 students, selected by auditions held across the state earlier this year, will participate in the All-State High School Band, Orchestra and Chorus.

Primary purpose of the convention-clinic is to provide a professional in-service program for students and teachers that is not possible in the local school or district.

Nationally recognized clinicians, composers and musical authorities present sessions and serve as resource leaders during the three days.

In addition to the concerts by selected students, a concert-demonstration will be given by the Wayne State College concert choir, directed by Cornell Ruestadt.

"The culminating concert of the convention-clinic by the band, orchestra and chorus will be on Saturday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fremont High School auditorium. The public is invited and tickets will be sold at the door for $1.50.

An added feature this year will be the recording of the concert for broadcasting over Nebraska Educational Television. The program will be shown Tuesday, Nov. 27, from 7 to 8 p.m. and Thursday, Dec. 6, from 8 to 9 a.m.

Vocalists Win Contest Honors

Two Wayne State vocalists and a Wayne student at UN-Lincoln won honors in a state collegiate singing contest Saturday.

They are Pat Rabbass and Larry Franzen, both WSC music students, and John Brandstetter, a graduate student at UN-L.

Mrs. Rabbass of Wayne rated a first place in the women's advanced division, Brandstetter of Wayne, first in men's advanced division, Franzen of Hartington, second in the men's lower division.

The contest at Seward, sponsored by the National Association of Teachers of Singing, attracted 32 singers from Concordia, Wayne State, Kearney State, College of St. Mary, and UN-L.

WSC vocal instructor Connie Webber commended all six of her students for "fine performances." Besides Mrs. Rabbass and Franzen, they were Cindy Haase, Beverly Kubik, Randy Srb and Sylvia Truby.

particularly in the event of your death," said Henderson.

"If involves property owned, the way property is held, life insurance programs, social security provisions, other retirement programs, concern for children's future, various objectives which a husband and wife may have in mind, as well as other considerations," he noted.

"Estate planning is the process of making arrangements for the well being of your family and the use of your property to accomplish desired objectives, particularly in the event of your death," said Henderson.

"It involves property owned, the way property is held, life insurance programs, social security provisions, other retirement programs, concern for children's future, various objectives which a husband and wife may have in mind, as well as other considerations," he noted.

A plan that fits one family will not meet the needs of another, and each plan needs to be tailor-made to fit particular circumstances surrounding each individual family, he explained.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will cover many of the basic problem areas of estate planning by outlining objectives for planning, how to make out a will, different ways to hold title to property and important methods to reducing the bite taken out by taxes.

Homer to Hemingway. And one of the books in the "Cycle" series, "The Song of the Indian Wars," was named one of 500 volumes of world literature selected by a national committee, for inclusion in the White House library in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Neihardt was born near Sharpsburg, Ill., on Jan. 8, 1881. He moved to northwestern Kansas with his family at the age of five. The family later moved to Kansas City, and then in 1891 moved to Wayne, where he attended college. After graduating at Wayne and teaching in a country school, he moved to Bancroft, where he later said he had his "spiritual beginning."

Periodically, he lived among the Oglala, Sioux Indians, studying their way of life and becoming an authority on their history and traditions.

He married Mona Martinsen, a sculptress, in 1908, taught at the University of Nebraska and served as literary editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch from 1926 to 1938. He spent two years in Chicago as director of information for the Office of Indian Affairs, later serving two years as a field representative for that office. He also was a lecturer in English and poet in residence at the University of Missouri for 17 years.

Millions of Americans are still involved with it:

44,000 people are known to have the disease.

216,000 are re-covered patients; 3,000 relapse each year.

260,000 live in close contact with newly found cases.

16 million Americans are infected with TB germs, though not sick with the disease at present.

Farmers Cited For Conserving Land Resources

Several rural residents from the Wayne area were recognized for their conservation efforts last week during a banquet sponsored by the Sioux City Chamber of Commerce and the Sioux City Journal.

Among those honored was Loren Carr of rural Allen, winner of the progress award from the Lewis and Clark Natural Resources District.

Also honored were Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Stark and Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Johnson, all of Laurel, for their conservation efforts.

he noted. There would probably be about 96 bandsmen who would make the trip, according to Dalton. That would include 72 in the varsity band and 24 in the cadet band. The group could probably be transported in two charter busses, he explained.

In other action, the school board agreed to spend up to $750 to have an architect study the Carroll elementary school and report to the board on how much it would cost to build a new elementary building there and how much it would cost to remodel the existing school.

The school board has been discussing the Carroll school situation over the past several months, and has given that situation a high priority among the list of goals the board hopes to reach over the next year or so.

Approved by the board during the meeting was a five per cent hike in valuation of buildings and contents for insurance purposes.

The hike results in the high school building being valued at $1,217,475, the middle school at $509,250, the local elementary at $516,075 and the Carroll elementary at $88,725. Contents were hiked to $81,900 for the high school, $42,000 for the middle school and $37,800 for the local elementary. The $8,000 valuation of contents at the Carroll elementary was not changed.

The board also: —HEARD REPORTS by guidance counselor Ken Carlson on the annual follow-up study of graduates of five years ago and by Robert Porter, chairman of the school's mathematics department, on goals for the department and chairman.

—APPROVED POLICIES covering release of personnel files and student records.

—AGREED TO PERMIT Worlman Auto Co. of Wayne supply the school with driving training automobiles. In past years the school received the cars from Coryell Auto Co.

—APPROVED ADVERTISING for bids for three color television sets. The TV sets will be used in West Elementary, which is being wired so educational television can be used more extensively by teachers.

Bobbing for Apples

ABOUT 25 Wayne youngsters from ages three to seven joined in during a Halloween party sponsored Monday night by the Wayne High School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. For Dale Hansen, left, apple bobbing was one of the challenges he accepted. Likely, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hansen of rural Wayne took in more water than apples. During the party at Wayne High, the children were in for all sorts of surprises, and Shannon Janke, middle, wasn't quite sure what was going on. Shannon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Wilke of rural Wayne. Matthew Wilke, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Janke of rural Wayne, ponders what to do next. Serving as his escort is Rhonda Kniesche of Wayne. The children also had wheel-barrow races, played pin-the-tail-on-the-cat and took part in other activities.

Past Resident Chosen for UN-O Post

At their October meeting, the University of Nebraska Board of Regents approved the appointment of Donald L. Skeahan as assistant to the vice chancellor for educational and student services at the University of Nebraska in Omaha. Skeahan, 39, is a graduate of Wayne High School and Wayne State College. He has a master of education degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and is currently a doctoral candidate in educational administration there. He has 14 years of experience as a school superintendent and principal. The former Wayne man has served as high school principal at Logan, Ia., and Waterbury. He was principal at Oskaloosa, Ia., from 1968 to 1971 and was a graduate assistant at UN-L during the 1971-72 academic year. He was deputy director of the State Department of Administrative Services before joining the UN-O staff. Skeahan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Skeahan of Wayne. He and his wife, Dixie, and sons, Brian, 17, and Brent, 15, live in Lincoln.

Ford: Mental Health Is Just As Important As Physical Health

Mental health is just as important to every human being as physical health. The problem is, according to Mrs. Jane Ford of the Northeast Nebraska Regional Center at Norfolk, a lot of people don't realize it.

Plenty of people have their good and bad days, she told Wayne Kiwanians during their Monday luncheon, but to cope with these periods is the most important problem. For some it is a case of "here today gone tomorrow," she said. But for others, the bad events seem to pile up to a point where they can cause serious mental health problems.

Just like physical health, the mental health educator pointed out, mental health must also be taken care of. If a person has a physical condition that is bothering him, she cited as an example, he may go see a doctor to find a cure.

The same is true in the case of a mental problem. If a person has repeated depressions, it may help him or her to seek professional help — not necessarily a psychiatrist, but one of the professionals at any of the 22 county mental health service units in Northeast Nebraska.

These units, referred to as satellite clinics, are designed to promote the mental health of people by helping them to handle life's problems better, she explained.

"Since mental health problems are really just problems in living, mental health professionals help people with marriage problems, problems of depression, school problems, problems in getting along with people, drug problems or problems in just 'coping,'" she said.

These satellite clinics are beter known as out-patient service centers ready to help anyone 16 years or older, currently without charge. "Norfolk is the only center that charges a fee," she said, "but the other 21 centers are free."

Since the out-patient services started after 1955, the number of in-patients — those with severe cases of mental health problems — has decreased, she pointed out. "The main reason for the decrease in these out-patient services. People with small mental problems can discuss them with a professional before they grow into severe problems," she said.

Mrs. Ford noted that in 1955 the Norfolk Regional Center had about 1,500 in-patients. Today there are only 126 in-patients requiring institutional help. "That's pretty good considering there are about 214,000 people in Northeast Nebraska," she said. One day each month the 21 service centers are open to the public for consultation. But for those who do not want to wait that 30-day period, she explained, there are other centers in the area, most within a 30-mile range.

"This is one of the striking changes in rural mental health services today," she went on. "We are able to help more people with some of their mental health problems a lot sooner, before they can grow to be big problems."

In Wayne people can contact Linda Schutte to make an appointment at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on the third Thursday of each month.

Other satellite clinics in the area are at Ainsworth, Albion, Bassett, Columbus, Creighton, Dakota City, Hartington, Lynch, Macy, Neligh, Niobrara, O'Neill, Osmond, Pender, Pierce, Ponca, Tekamah, West Point and Winnebago.

During the business portion of Monday's meeting, the members were reminded of the upcoming peanut sale. According to chairman Keith Mosley, the sale should start in about two weeks. Proceeds from the sales will go to Kiwanian activity fund.

In other notes, president Harland Pankratz announced the appointment of two new board members, Roy Hurd and Duane Upton, replacing Irv Brandt, on a leave of absence, and Gene Bigelow, new president-elect, who is on a five-week leave of absence.

Five club members were presented perfect attendance awards. They included Dan Sherry, six years; Bob Jordan, three years; Deryl Lawrence, two years, and Leon Meyer, one year.

Chief of Police, Sheriff to Discuss Combining Facilities at Jail

Representatives of the city of Wayne and Wayne County agreed Tuesday to study further the possibility of building an addition to the county jail with local tax funds.

City officials met with the county commissioners to discuss the subject, the latest avenue being studied now that the state crime commission has turned thumbs down to a request for a federal grant to help with the construction project.

To meet to discuss exactly what is needed should the city and county combine their law enforcement facilities are chief of police Robert Evers, county sheriff Don Weible and a representative of Consolidated Engineers-Architects of Wayne.

Also discussed will be the possibility of combining the facilities by using existing space at the county jail.

Their recommendations will be taken back to the city council, which would have to approve any expenditure of funds for an addition or remodeling.

Commissioners agreed to permit construction of an addition to the building if city funds are used.

Fred Brink, city administrator, told the commissioners the city is trying to find "better space and better working conditions" for the city police force.

He noted that an addition to the jail would not have to be very large to house the local police staff.

Using local funds to combine the two staffs is being studied now that the county's request for a $40,000 federal grant for construction has been turned down. The county would have matched that amount to provide a facility which would have included office space for the city police chief, county sheriff, interrogation room and officers' work room. The addition would have had a basement meeting civil defense requirements and a garage.

That request followed completion of a regional jail study which recommended the city and county law staffs be housed at the county jail. The study said money could be saved by doing so because the county could use the 24-hour surveillance already provided by the city whenever a prisoner was put in county jail. As it now is, the county has to provide 24-hour watch over any county prisoners.

Also during Tuesday's meeting, the commissioners agreed to spend $36,000 in federal revenue sharing funds to purchase a new maintainer for district three. An old caterpillar tractor will be traded in on the new machine, according to a county official.

Commissioners also agreed to post weight limits on 34 federal aid secondary bridges in the county and to meet with Soil Conservation Service and Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District officials to discuss replacing several bridges in the county with road structures.

Planners Okay Comprehensive Plan for City

Quite a few changes are proposed for the new Wayne comprehensive plan to be studied by the city council its next meeting, Nov. 13.

The city planning commission approved the proposed plans Monday night.

According to city clerk Dan Sherry, some of the changes proposed are in land subdivision. Sherry said there are a number of changes in the proposed zoning ordinances that also will be studied. The other part of the comprehensive plan deals with parks, schools and streets.

During Monday's meeting, the members decided to wait until 1975 to take a census of the town to project future school and population growth. The city planning commission did agree to meet with the school board to try to get its cooperation to build a park on the west side of the school. No date was set for the meeting.

In the area of city land-use, heads of the various city departments will meet sometime, before the commission's Dec. 3 meeting to discuss construction of a new city building to house machinery or to be used as a work shop.

Also to be discussed at the meeting will be possible expansion of the power plant and parks department.

A 'guest' in the house of journalism offers comments on freedom of the press

By ARCH BOOTH
Executive Vice President
United States Chamber of Commerce

Although I am a columnist of sorts, I do not consider myself a journalist. My function is to represent the institution of business, which I am able to do as a guest in the house of journalism.

The house of journalism is a troubled one today. Many newsmen believe the freedom of the press is under increasing assault, from a variety of directions.

As a houseguest and friend-of-the-family, I'd like to make a few comments.

ANY ATTACK on the free press is a grave threat to our liberties. Freedom of speech is the keystone of our society. Without a free flow of uncensored information even the vote would offer little protection against tyranny, since the voter could not be sure of what he was voting on.

On the other hand, simple criticism of the press — even by public officials — should not be interpreted as a threat. And some newsmen seem automatically to interpret it so. If the press can dish it out, it should also be able to take it.

Besides public criticism there are two other things bothering journalists today — with greater justification, I think. The first is whether the courts should be able to force a reporter to reveal information given to him in confidence. The second is whether the government can require a news organization to be "fair."

Shield Laws

Reporters have been jailed for refusing to name their sources. Some states have passed "shield" laws to prevent that from happening, and there are bills in Congress to create a federal shield law.

Reporters claim that they cannot serve society if citizens are afraid to tip them off to evil doings, which is what will happen — they say — if they can be forced to name their informants.

IT'S A valid point. Nevertheless, I think shield laws are potentially a greater threat to the press than the consequences of not having them. They are a threat because the government must define that which it singles out for special protection. And if the government can say who is a legitimate reporter, then it can also say who is not.

But it is government attempts to make news coverage "fair" that represent the greatest danger of all, partly because the proclaimed goal sounds so praiseworthy.

BROADCASTERS are presently required by the government to give "fair and balanced" coverage to all sides of controversial issues. Rather than improving the treatment of public issues, that rule has tended to make broadcasters shy away from controversy for fear of being second-guessed by the Federal Communications Commission.

The broadcasters are regulated because there is not enough frequency "space" in the electronic spectrum for everyone who wants to broadcast. The airwaves are deemed to be public property, which the government does out to those who meet its standards and agree to "serve the public interest." Everyone acknowledges that some form of government regulation is necessary to parcel out the spectrum space, but most broadcasters do not think the government's writ should extend to program content. Neither do I.

High Cost of 'Fairness'

And until very recently, no one that I know of even dreamed that the government would try to extend to the print media the same kind of "fairness" rules that are applied to the broadcasters. But that's just what's happened, albeit at the state level.

Not long ago, the supreme court of Florida upheld a 1913 state law requiring that any paper which attacks the "character" or "official record" of a candidate for office must publish that candidate's reply to its charges.

THIS LAW would put the government in the editor's chair. At best, it would inhibit news coverage, as it has with the broadcasters. At worst, it would give the government the means to harass into submission any newspaper that displeased it.

As far as I am concerned, this incredible law is patently unconstitutional, and the sooner that fact is officially confirmed, the better.

No reasonable man believes that the press is always fair. But it is "regulated" by its readers and by the spur of competition. Such regulation is the only kind compatible with the maintenance of a free society.

OBSERVATIONS

And we're all better off

How do you write something after the death of a man like John G. Neihard?

We could note all the laurels heaped upon him during his long and productive life.

We could quote extensively from his beautiful, lyrical writings.

We could praise his countless public appearances, talks, lectures and poetry readings.

But all that would be little more than exercises in writing. Footnotes at the end of a long volume of work. Whisperings in the wind.

Better that we merely say that John G. Neihard lived, loved, worked and died. And we are all better off for it.

He brought a little beauty and song into a world all too often preoccupied with the ugly and raucous. He told us some simple, heartwarming stories like storytellers of old did around the campfire. He gave a race of people the dignity and stature they so well deserve. He accepted life for what it is, a great experience which too many people miss out on.

But Black Elk, a Sioux holy man who Neihard loved and wrote about, said it best of all. After giving him the name of Flaming Rainbow, Black Elk said of this man:

"He is a word sender. This world is like a garden. Over this garden go his words like rain and where they fall they leave it a little greener. And when his words have passed, the memory of them shall stand long in the west like a flaming rainbow."

There's nothing more to say.

Needed: conservation now

The more we think about it, the more convinced we become that city officials in Wayne should take immediate steps to reduce consumption of electricity in order to save fuel.

By doing so voluntarily now the city hopefully could build up a fuel reserve which would make it that much easier to get through the approaching winter without any severe cutbacks in electrical service throughout the city.

Leading us to this conclusion are the daily warnings by top government and private industry officials that the fuel crisis in this nation is much more serious than most people realize.

For example:

MIAMI (AP) — Mounting problems with energy supplies have led to calls for dramatic changes in the American lifestyle.

In Miami Beach Saturday, Federal Highways Administrator Norbert Tiemann said his office would recommend an increased excise tax on gasoline, reduced speed limits on all federal highways and a coupon rationing plan for gasoline similar to that used during World War II.

And:

WASHINGTON (AP) — John A. Love, White House energy chief, says that under certain circumstances electricity blackouts or brownouts could occur this winter because of the fuel shortage.

Americans must try to conserve and cut down, he said, adding: "I don't see any material increase in supplies for the next three, possibly five years. It depends upon the urgency with which we react. But even with urgency, we have a period of three to five years, in my opinion, where the only answer is to slow the increase in demand."

Those are scary thoughts. There's no other way to describe the prospect of being forced to keep your thermostat in your home around 60 degrees during a raging blizzard... being restricted from using your automobile because of scarcity of gasoline... keeping your children home from school because not enough fuel exists to warm the buildings.

Those are scary thoughts, but they are no longer beyond belief. The fuel crisis hit home for many Americans last winter. It may hit home even more this winter.

For those reasons we would suggest the following to city officials:

— Send out letters with electrical bills urging private citizens and businessmen to conserve use of electricity wherever possible.

— Set aside money to use in an advertising campaign in an attempt to educate the public about the need for conservation.

— Study the possibility of including in city building codes a stipulation that all new homes and buildings be adequately insulated and built in such a way to conserve heat.

— Urge our state senator and government officials to adopt daylight savings time year-round.

— Discuss with public school and college officials the possibility of extending winter vacations and running the school year into spring.

— Start conserving fuel right now by shutting off some lights throughout the city, lowering heating levels in city storage and equipment buildings, deciding to shut off Christmas lights on Main Street after a certain time and the like.

— Set an example for private citizens and businessmen by voluntarily lowering thermostats in city offices, having city workers use cars and trucks only when necessary, and pushing similar conservation efforts in the daily operation of the city.

The city of Wayne could, through progressive leadership, set a trend for other communities across the state. If that were to occur, it would be something this city could be extremely proud of.

State tax rate in '74 probably won't dip

LINCOLN — Chances are you will continue to send an extra 2½ cents to Lincoln for each dollar you spend on purchases in Nebraska during 1974.

And you're likely to owe state government 13 per cent of whatever your federal income tax is for the coming calendar year.

You'll know for sure what the 1974 tax rates will be in about a week when the State Board of Equalization convenes to consider the matter.

The statutory deadline for action on the coming year's sales and income tax levies is Nov. 15 and Governor J. James Exon says he wants the board to meet as close to the deadline as possible.

THE GOVERNOR, chairman of the board, said he would like to have the latest revenue figures available when the rates are discussed. It will be Nov. 10 at the earliest before the October returns have been tabulated.

Earlier this year, the governor implied that the 13 per cent personal income tax rate might be lowered because of higher-than-expected receipts.

The other day, however, Exon retreated from that stand and said it was likely the 13 per cent levy would stand through next year.

The rate was set at 13 per cent by the 1973 Legislature, which turned back the 15 per cent rate established last fall by the equalization board. The lawmakers acted after Exon had said inflation — which boosts prices and wages — was generating more tax revenues than had been considered necessary. He said it was possible the rate could be lowered for 1974.

The rate was set at 13 per cent by the 1973 Legislature, which turned back the 15 per cent rate established last fall by the equalization board. The lawmakers acted after Exon had said inflation — which boosts prices and wages — was generating more tax revenues than had been considered necessary. He said it was possible the rate could be lowered for 1974.

THE STATE SENATORS took the governor at his word and passed the bill making the reduction retroactive to the first of this year.

Despite that rollback, Exon said in mid-summer that still further cuts were possible in the income tax levy.

Now he says the wet early fall, which delayed some harvesting and winter wheat planting, and the drop in livestock market prices had changed the situation. The 13 per cent figure, he said, might have to stick through 1974.

Out of Old Nebraska

JOHN M. THAYER

It is ironic that many of Nebraska's first public servants and pioneers are not represented in the collections of the State Archives in the Nebraska State Historical Society. The life history of John Milton Thayer, one of the first two U.S. Senators from Nebraska and governor of Nebraska from 1885 to 1892, can be told only sketchily because its files on this distinguished Nebraskan are far from adequate. (The state's other initial senator was Gilbert M. Hitchcock.)

Any assistance from the public in collecting the diaries and correspondence of Senator Thayer would be appreciated by the historians of the Society.

John M. Thayer was born on January 24, 1820 in Bellingham, Massachusetts, the son of Captain Elias and Ruth (Staples) Thayer, both descendants of renowned Revolutionary War military figures. Thayer was reared on a farm and both attended and taught in the village schools. In 1837 he entered Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island, graduating in 1841.

In 1854 after passing his bar exam Thayer settled in Omaha. He decided not to practice law, however, but returned to farming and embraced wholeheartedly the life of a pioneer Nebraskan. He was commissioned brigadier general in command of the forces to defend the pioneers from Indian uprisings and successfully quelled two Pawnee disturbances.

At the beginning of the Civil War, Thayer petitioned the secretary of war for permission to raise one Nebraska regiment. After gaining approval, he quickly mustered a full regiment of one thousand men—a notable accomplishment considering that the 1860 population of Nebraska was only 28,841. Thayer was appointed colonel of the regiment (the 1st Nebraska), which was sent in the summer of 1861 to aid General Ulysses S. Grant at Pilot Knob, Missouri.

As the war ended, General Thayer returned to Nebraska with a distinguished series of military accomplishments to his credit. He immediately began to advocate the entry of Nebraska into the Union as a state. When this was achieved in 1867, Thayer became a member of the first Nebraska Constitutional Convention.

General Thayer was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1867, where he served on the military affairs, Indian affairs, and patent committees. He advocated strict economy in the military establishment and introduced legislation to create enlarged reservations for the Indians as westward expansion increased. Thayer, a Republican, was identified with the radical element of his party in several of his actions; he voted for stern measures against the South and for the conviction of Andrew Johnson after his impeachment. Although later elected governor for two terms, he was never re-elected to the Senate, a probable result of his adamant congressional stands. Thayer died on March 19, 1906.

Another View

It is often charged that America is a "violent" society, but that is a half-truth. While, on the other hand, it is undeniable that America's frontier experience and general mood of individualistic self-indulgence have encouraged a certain tolerance for personal violence, America has been comparatively free from the exploitation of violence for express political purposes. Compared, for example, with modern continental Europe, America has been a "reasonably placid society." Professor Donald A. Zoll in The University Bookman.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wittie
"Fair words never hurt the tongue."

George Chapman

Whether they are fair words, gentle words, or words with a judicious touch of banter, it is unlikely that they will hurt the tongue if they are not intended to hurt the person at whom they are directed. Biting and cruel words, particularly if ill-considered, are sharp-cornered devices that sometimes leave a painful memory with those who utter them.

There may be a time and a place when words with unkind and ungentle implications can be justified. However, it is important that this justification is fairly and reasonably considered before words are called upon to state a thought which we might later regret.

You can be sure of completely appropriate services regardless of your faith or creed. Services can be conducted in any church, in any cemetery or memorial park, strictly according to the preference of the family.

WARNING
Cold weather is starting to creep up on us and this means battery trouble. Many of you will be charging your own batteries and this can be dangerous.
Hydrogen, a highly explosive gas, is given off by a battery that has free air movement, preventing build up of hydrogen gas to explosive proportions, and do not make any connections either to or from the battery while the charger is on.
When making connections with jumper cables to start an engine, connect to the fully charged battery last and make the final connection to the grounded terminal. Always connect positive to positive and negative to negative when using jumper cables. Otherwise the diodes in the alternator may be damaged.
Never use matches around a battery and be particularly careful when using a connection so a spark is not given off.

T.G.E.
T.G.E. in swine is always a constant threat in winter, so here are a few tips:
Transmissible gastroenteritis (T.G.E.) is almost 100 per cent lethal to pigs under one week of age, with mortality decreasing with age. All hogs show symptoms, but severity lessens with age.
With pigs under one week of age, the symptoms associated with the disease are much vomiting and dehydration and an insatiable desire for water. All pigs are sick, but most pigs three weeks or older at the time of infection will survive. Sows may become sick and have some scouring evident.
Producers should take these precautions:
1. Eliminate all visitors in the farrowing house and hog premises three weeks prior to farrowing and three weeks after.
2. Avoid bringing in new breeding stock additions the last month of gestation as they possibly may be T.G.E. carriers.
3. Use the two boot system — one pair to wear at home and one pair to wear to town and other places where farmers may congregate.

4. Take steps to rid sparrows and starlings from farrowing houses and the hog premises.
5. If a T.G.E. outbreak occurs, a vaccination program may be warranted. But the producer should remember that the vaccination is only 60 per cent effective.

Yeas: Thomas, Gross, Beeks, Brasch, Russell, Fuelberth, Prather, Mosley.
Nays: None.
The result of the vote being 8 Yeas and no Nays, the Mayor declared the motion carried.
Mayor Hall submitted the name of Al Kirley as candidate for the Police Reserves and the application was referred to the City Administrator.
Councilman Thomas indicated that there were a number of empty T-hangers at the Airport and suggested that the hangers should be rented for storage if not actively rented for aircraft. Such rentals would at least bring some income for the facilities.
Councilman Gross indicated that some consideration should be given on annexing the area east of Farrans Addition.
Motion by Councilman Gross and seconded by Councilman Mosley that the Attorney be authorized to draw up an Ordinance annexing all that property east of the City Limits; south of Nebraska Highway No. 35 and north of the Railroad Right of Way.
The Mayor stated the motion and directed the Clerk to call the roll. Roll call resulted as follows:
Yeas: Mosley, Prather, Fuelberth, Russell, Beeks, Brasch, Gross, Thomas.
Nays: None.
The result of the vote being 8 Yeas and no Nays, the Mayor declared the motion carried.
City Administrator, Frederic Brink informed Council that Pittsburg Des Moines Steel Company had moved in some equipment and were beginning construction of the 300,000 gallon fuel storage tank. Also that plastic pipe was being considered for the fuel line from the Light Plant to the storage tank. Mr. Brink also stated that City crews would install the pipe line, and it was his recommendation that the tank should be filled if fuel is available.
There being no other business to come before Council at this time, it was moved by Councilman Gross and seconded by Councilman Mosley that Council adjourn.
Upon roll call all voted Yeas and the Mayor declared the motion carried.

Allen Board Okays Buying Insurance

The Allen village board approved purchasing of an errors of omission insurance policy Monday night during the monthly board meeting.
According to the village clerk, the Nebraska legislature passed a law during its last session allowing town boards to buy a policy from general funds. "The legislature advised all town boards to purchase the policy," he said, "to protect the boards in case important data is omitted from legal documents or minutes of town board proceedings." Cost for the policy is not known.
Part of the bill for the new water well west of town amounted to $8,700, the board learned. The cost included laying the water line and piping, but does not cover cost of drilling or housing the well. The total figure should be about $20,000.
