$500 in 'Christmas Bucks' To Be Given Away Friday

Wayne stores will kick off their 1973 Christmas Bucks promotion Friday by giving away a $500 prize to some local or area shopper.

The prize is the first of seven which will be given away during the days before Christmas — two of them worth $500 and five of them worth $100.

Christmas Bucks are similar to the Birthday Bucks given away weekly by local stores the past several months in that the coupons may be spent just like cash in stores participating in the promotion.

Shoppers will be able to see if they have a chance at winning Friday's $500 prize at 2 p.m. when local stores and firms begin posting a list of 50 numbers drawn at random. The prize will go to the person who has a ticket received during shopping which matches the first number listed. If nobody claims that first number, the prize will go to the person holding the number closest to it.

Shoppers have until 8 p.m. Friday to compare their tickets with the list of numbers. The winner of the prize will be announced at that time by the Chamber of Commerce.

Persons having tickets with numbers matching any of those on the list posted for each drawing have to be at the Chamber of Commerce office at 108 W. Third Street at 8 p.m. the evening of each drawing to collect the prize.

After Friday's drawing for $500 in coupons, drawings for $100 each are planned for Dec. 11, 14, 17, 18 and 19. In those drawings, only 25 numbers will be selected at random and posted in participating firms. Shoppers will have from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. to compare their tickets with the numbers, and the winner will be announced at 8 o'clock each evening.

The Christmas promotion will end on Dec. 21 when another drawing for a $500 prize will be held. It will be conducted in the same manner as the first $500 drawing, with a list of 50 numbers selected and posted in participating businesses. In case of inclement weather on Dec. 21, the drawing for the final $500 prize will be held on Dec. 28.

Shoppers must be 16 years of age or over to be eligible for the drawings. Not eligible for the prizes are business owners, employers, managers and their immediate families.

Firms Give Local Lady $50 Going-Away Gift

Mrs. Helen Orr of Wayne got a nice going-away present from Wayne businesses this week.

Mrs. Orr learned Monday she had won the latest Birthday Bucks prize, coupons worth $50 in trade in participating stores and firms, and then left Tuesday on her yearly trip to see relatives in Arizona.

She won last week's drawing by being the person in one of the stores with the birthday closest to the date drawn at random earlier in the day. She was shopping in Swans' Women Apparel when the winning date was announced at 8:15 p.m.

Again tonight (Thursday),

MRS. HELEN ORR

Lions' Flea Market Is Saturday, Sunday

The fourth flea market to be held in the past several months by the Wayne Lions Club is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday at the city auditorium.

About 20 exhibitors are expected for the flea market, which opens at 10 a.m. Saturday and again at noon Sunday. No time has been set for closing the event Saturday, but Sunday's show will be an afternoon one.

Local exhibitors will be joined by several from outside the area, including ones from Sioux City, Jackson and Cherokee, Ia., according to Wes Pflueger, who is helping chairman B. J. Hirt with the flea market. Also working on the project is William "Skip" Kinslow.

There is no admission for the event, which offers local and area residents a chance to purchase anything from aniques to gift items.

When D.C. Main was president of the Citizens National Bank.

Carroll Hosts Yule Program

The public is invited to attend a Christmas program Monday evening at the Carroll city auditorium. Conducting the program will be the Carroll Band Boosters.

The 8 p.m. program will feature numbers by the Wayne High School brass band, Christmas carols by elementary students and a skit. Santa Claus will be present to visit with youngsters.

No admission will be charged, but donations for the lunch of coffee and cookies will go to the Wayne High School band's Cotton Bowl fund.

WSC Students Planning for Yule Party

The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity with their auxiliary, the Order of Diana, and Kappa Delta Gamma sorority are working with the Wayne Chamber of Commerce to hold a Christmas party for children in the Wayne area.

The annual fete, which is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 15, at the city auditorium, is for all children in kindergarten through fifth grade.

Entertainment for the day will include Christmas cartoons, a Christmas skit, singing of Christmas carols and visits with Santa. Hot dogs and drinks will be served to youngsters at noon, and each child will receive a bag of candy. Decorations will include a large Christmas tree.

About 90 members of the three sponsoring college groups, most of them in costume, will be on hand to supervise the day's activities.

participating businesses will offer local and area shoppers a chance to win in the weekly promotion. The person who is in one of the stores with a birthday on the same date as the one announced will win $300 in Birthday Bucks. If the grand prize is not claimed, the $50 consolation prize will go to the person with the birthday closest to the winning date.

Tonight's drawing is the first of two drawings for coupons good in local businesses. Friday, there will be a drawing for $500 in Christmas Bucks, the first of several drawings planned during the Christmas shopping period.

All local and area residents are eligible to take part in both the Birthday Bucks and Christmas Bucks drawings. Shoppers merely have to be present to participate in the weekly Birthday Bucks drawing, but to vie for the Christmas Bucks, shoppers must compare the numbers on tickets they received while shopping with those posted in all businesses Friday-afternoon.

Learning Disabilities Subject of Workshop At WSC Next Week

"All you want to know about learning disabilities but were afraid to ask" will be the theme for a one-day workshop at Wayne State College on Thursday, Dec. 13, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Wayne Carroll school district "Project Success" faculty members and administrators will participate along with Educational Service Unit No. One. See WORKSHOP, page 12

WS Student Injured in Gun Mishap

James Ehlers, 21-year-old junior at Wayne State College, was taken to a Sioux City hospital after being accidentally shot in the lower left leg in a hunting accident northwest of Wayne late Saturday afternoon.

Ehlers, of Hudson, Ia., was hit in the leg with pellets from a 12 gauge shotgun being carried by hunting companion Stephen Jennett, a sophomore at Wayne State, from Early, Ia.

The accident happened six or seven miles northwest of Wayne about 4:30 p.m. Saturday, investigating officers report.

Ehlers and Jennett, 19, were crossing a fence when Jennett's gun discharged, striking Ehlers in the leg, officers report. See MISHAP, page 12

Paper Drive Is Saturday

Residents of Wayne, Winside and Carroll who have saved newspapers for the paper drive conducted monthly by Boy Scout Troop 175 are reminded they should have them ready for the Scouts early Saturday morning.

Newspapers should be bundled or boxed and placed outside homes or next to streets so Scouts can easily see them.

The November paper drive was not held because a truck was not available to pick up the papers after they were collected, according to Mrs. Don Johnson. She and her husband are chairmen for the latest drive, held to raise money for various Scout projects. The newspapers are sent to a center for recycling.

Readers, 'Speak Out' About What's Wrong With Wayne

What's wrong with Wayne? Do we need more doctors, better recreational facilities, more industrial development, more playgrounds, better shopping facilities?

That's our question to our readers this week in the latest in our series of "Speak Out" surveys.

Readers will find a "Community Attitude Survey" on the editorial page of this issue of the newspaper. The survey offers readers a chance to specify five areas where they think officials and citizens of Wayne need to focus attention in order to make this community a better one in which to live, work and raise a family.

Readers may check a variety of subjects if they feel they are being neglected in Wayne — everything from maintenance of city streets to public library facilities to job opportunities for youths and adults.

Readers are welcome to write any comments they wish on a separate sheet of paper, and include it with the completed survey they return to the newspaper.

Results of the survey, the third "Speak Out" to be run since the feature was initiated earlier this year, will be printed within the next few weeks. Previous "Speak Out" questions asked local and area residents their feelings about the recent change in uniforms by the Wayne police department and the desirability of offering competitive athletics for girls in high school.

Future "Speak Out" surveys are planned in such areas as governmental spending, industrial development and the like. Suggestions for surveys from readers are welcome.

4-H'sers Honored at Achievement Night

Girls from Wayne, Winside and Hoskins won the top awards during Tuesday's Wayne County 4-H Achievement Night at the city auditorium in Wayne.

Named senior division trophy winners during the evening were Julie Maben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Maben of Wayne, in home living, Linda Holtgrew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Holtgrew of Winside, in clothing, and Lynette Gnrk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gnrk of Hoskins, in foods.

Named top winners in the junior division were Jodi Fleer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. How and four of Wayne, in home living, Ann Liska, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Liska of Wayne, in foods, and Lori Burbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Burbach of Carroll, in clothing. The three received bracelets for their performance.

Named winner of the scholarship to 4-H Club Week, scheduled for this spring in Lincoln, was Dan Loberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Loberg of Carroll. The scholarship was provided by Wayne County Public Power District.

Other special awards handed out during the evening included a trophy to Kip Baker of Wakefield for his champion pen of live in beef competition. Receiving a trophy for having the top project booth was the Pleasant Valley Girls 4-H Club. Mrs. Melvin Dowling of Randolph is the club leader.

A trophy for herdsmanhood went to the Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H Club. Leader of the group is Keith Owens of Carroll.

Ranee Kiesche of Wayne received the Ak Sar Ben award for outstanding service and the plaque for her champion dairy food demonstration.

Trophies were also presented to the following winners in the livestock judging contest held last summer: Janelle Anderson, Wayne, junior division swine; Linda Anderson, Wayne, senior division swine; Hugh Jager, Wayne, junior division beef; Dennis Magnuson, Carroll, senior division beef.

Cotton Bowl Fund Passes $3,000 Mark

A $2,000 donation by the Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters, donations by several organizations and some successful fund raising efforts by students have boosted the total in the Cotton Bowl fund past $3,000.

Wayne High's marching band is trying to raise $12,000 to pay for its trip to the Cotton Bowl Parade and football game between Nebraska and Texas in Dallas on Jan. 1.

Donating $2,000 to the band was the Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters.

Also making donations the past few days have been the local Kiwanis Club, $100; Lions Club, $75; VFW, $50, and American Legion, $50.

Scheduled for tonight (Thursday) from 5 to 7:30 is a chili feed at the Woman's Club rooms in the city auditorium. Proceeds from the feed, being put on by band students, will go to the Cotton Bowl fund. Price for soup, drink and dessert is $1 for adults, 75 cents for students.

An added incentive for some to attend the chili supper will be the wrestling demonstrations to be given by Wayne High's varsity and reserve wrestlers. The action begins at 7:30 p.m. in the city auditorium, with matches halted at different times so movements by the grapplers can be explained to the audience.

Also tonight the "human juke boxes" will be back in Wayne to play Christmas songs for shoppers. Students will crawl into their cardboard boxes from 6 to 9 p.m., an activity which earned the band about $30 the first night it was attempted a week ago. Shoppers merely have to make a donation to hear any of several selections listed on the "juke boxes."

Already underway are ticket sales to the nostalgic movie titled "Let the Good Times Roll," which will be shown at the Gay Theatre Dec. 16-19. Tickets are selling for $1.50 each, and band students will be able to keep half the profits from the sale for the fund drive.

Scheduled for Saturday and Sunday during the Lions Club flea market at the city auditorium in Wayne is a bake sale by band students. Another bake sale, this one to be held by the Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters, is scheduled for 9 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 15, at Peoples Natural Gas Co. in Wayne.

Although contributions are not being solicited, persons wishing to make donations to the fund drive may send them to either the First National Bank or State National Bank in Wayne.

At least four local businesses have thought-up ways in which they can help raise money for the fund drive through their stores.

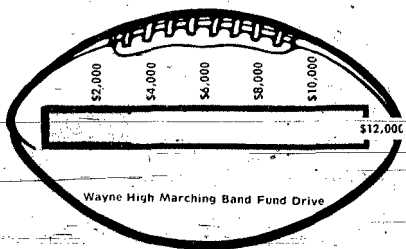

Arnie's and Sav'Mor Drugs will pay five cents for each signed receipt dropped in large boxes outside their businesses during their 24th anniversary sale. The sale runs today (Thursday) through Sunday.

Johnson's Frozen Foods will donate a quarter of a beef to help raise money for the trip.

Tickets, at $1 each, will go on sale this weekend, and the meal will be given away in a drawing the afternoon of Dec. 22 in downtown Wayne.

And Ellis Barber Shop will hold a men's hairstyling clinic beginning at noon Sunday. All proceeds from the clinic, which will be conducted by professional hair stylists from Omaha, Grand Island, Norfolk, Lincoln, and Wayne, will be donated to the Cotton Bowl fund.

Several other activities are planned to help the band reach their $12,000 goal. Students will See COTTON BOWL, page 12

Activities Going On: Tonight (Thursday), chili feed, Woman's Club rooms, 5-7:30; Tonight, "human juke boxes" in Wayne business district, 6-9; Saturday and Sunday, bake sale at Lions Club flea market, city auditorium; Sunday, men's hair styling clinic at Ellis Barber Shop, noon; Saturday, Dec. 15, bake sale, Peoples Natural Gas Co., 9 a.m.

"Gift of the Magi," "Cupid is a Bum is a Bum is a Bum," and "Please No Flowers." Dec. 9 and 11 presentations will be "The Ugly Duckling," "Lovers" and "The Diary of Adam and Eve." Advance reservations are advised as the arena type on-stage seating provides room for a limited audience.

Trip Topic At Boosters

Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters met Monday afternoon at the band room with Mrs. Jean Nuss, president.

Ron Dalton, band director, reported on the proposed trip to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Tex., noting that donations for the trip had been received from the Kiwanis Club, VFW and Wayne American Legion Post. A chili supper is being sponsored by band members this evening (Thursday), with proceeds designated for the Texas trip. Music Boosters will hold a bake sale Dec. 15 at Peoples Natural Gas Co., beginning at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Marilyn Koch, chairman of magazine sales, reported on a successful drive. Coming-choir activities were announced by vocal instructor Larry Stratman and entertainment was provided by the stage choir singing Christmas selections under the direction of Laurel Concord Band Parents were sponsors for a Holiday Fashion Revue held at the Laurel High School auditorium Monday evening. About 200 members and guests attended the showing of fall and winter apparel and a selection of holiday fashions.

200 At Fashion Show In Laurel Monday

Ten table centerpieces were given away during the evening. Winners were Michelle Harder, Roberta Lute, Joyce Dalton, Sandy Bloom, Mrs. Harry Olsen, Janet Anderson, Gerry Stingley, Mary Kneiff, Mrs. George Rasmussen and Winnie Burns. A dessert luncheon was served. All proceeds will go toward the new uniform fund.

Neil Stuthmanns Wed in Lincoln

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Stuthmann of Wayne announce the Dec. 1 marriage of their son, Neil Stuthmann, to Mrs. Barbara Tenopir. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dickey of Lincoln.

Rural Teachers' Dinner Meeting Is At Hoskins

Twenty-five members of the Wayne County Rural Teachers Association met at the Hoskins Public School Friday evening for a Christmas dinner party.

The meal was catered by Dorcas Society members of the Peace United Church of Christ. Mrs. Bill Jenkins of Carroll, Mrs. Elta Roberts and Mrs. Jerdine Luebe were hostesses. The rural teachers presented a poinsettia to special guests, Fred Rickers, county superintendent, and his wife.

On the entertainment committee were Mrs. Sharon Croasdale, Mrs. Richard Sietken, Mrs. Charles Ahlvers and Mrs. Howard Beckenhauer. Mrs. Arthur Cook of Carroll conducted the business meeting. The group discussed sponsoring a spelling contest in February. Next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 7 at the county courthouse.

Allen Students To Sing Friday

Elementary music students at the Allen Consolidated School will present a Christmas concert at the school auditorium this Friday evening.

Directing the 7:30 p.m. pro-

Dixon Meeting Attended by 17

Mrs. Charles Carlson and a group of music students from Ponca provided entertainment at the November meeting of the Dixon County Historical Society.

Seventeen members attended the meeting which was conducted by chairman Marvin Green. Earl Hinds reported on the second printing of the "History of Dixon County," noting that over half of the 200 books had already been sold. Persons wishing to order a copy of the book should contact Hinds at Ponca or Mrs. Basil Wheeler at Allen.

Mrs. Minnie Kemper and Mrs. Ida Armstrong of Ponca served.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting, to be held Jan. 15. There will be no December meeting.

40th Wedding Observed Sunday

Seventy-five persons attended the family dinner at the Hoskins fire hall Sunday, honoring the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lorenz of Norfolk. An open house reception followed in the afternoon.

Mrs. Don Heithold conducted the program which included singing by the grandchildren, Douglas and Robb Sperry and Debbie, Tracy and Colleen Lorenz. Articles concerning the honored couple's life were written by relatives and read aloud by Mrs. Dale Sperry, Mrs. Don Heithold and Mrs. Earl Shipley. Douglas Sperry played a piano solo.

The 40th anniversary cake, baked by Mrs. Douglas Hunter of Omaha, was cut and served by Mrs. Sandra Lorenz of Lincoln and Mrs. Richard Sietken of Wayne. Mrs. Hubert Nettleton and Mrs. Bill Lorenz poured and Dyleen Nettleton served punch.

The honorees received a mother's ring and father's tie tack from their children and also a bouquet of flowers from their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Romeo and family of England. Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz were married at the Carroll Presbyterian house Nov. 29, 1933, and have four children, Mrs. Dale Sperry and Bill, and Dan Lorenz of Omaha and Mrs. Eugene Romeo of England. There are eight grandchildren.

Daughter Baptized Sunday Afternoon at St. Mary's Church

Baptismal services for Kristin Marie Mangiameli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mangiameli of Wayne, were held Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Kristin was born Nov. 3 at the Wayne Hospital. Officiating at the rites was the Rev. Paul J. Begley. Godparents are Gary Mangiameli of Omaha and Rita Diedrich of Rapid City, S. D.

Also present for the baptism and the dinner which followed in the Mangiameli home were the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Donohoe of O'Neill and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Mangiameli of Omaha.

Lorenz lived west of Norfolk and in Climging Hill, Ia., moving in the Winside area in 1942. In 1944 they moved to Hoskins and in 1972 moved to the Norfolk area. Guests attended the fete from Randolph, Norfolk, Wayne, Carroll, Columbus, Omaha, Lincoln, Hartington and Hoskins.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Penn wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Penn, to Larry Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Carr. All are of Wayne.

Miss Penn is a student at Wayne State College where she is affiliated with Kappa Delta Gamma sorority and Cardinal Key national honor society. Her finance has been employed by Orr Construction Company at Vail, Colo. A Dec. 29 wedding is planned at the First Baptist Church.

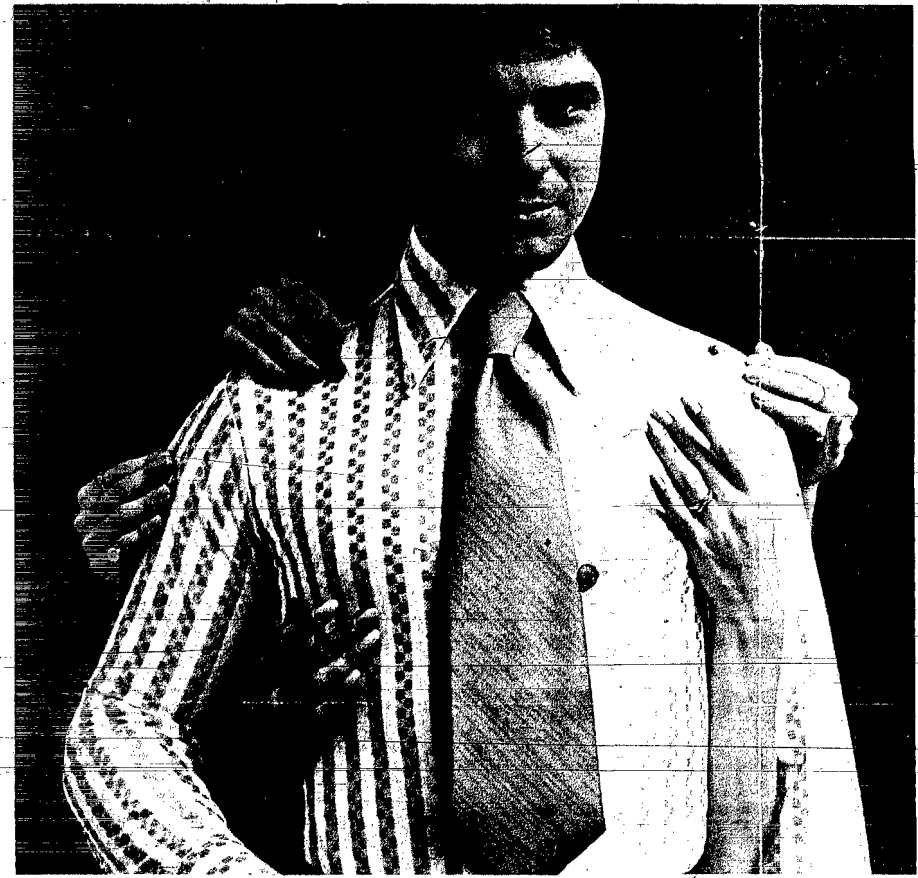

Mrs. Baier Hostess

Mrs. Dennis Baier was hostess last Tuesday evening to the meeting of the Monday Mrs. Home Extension Club. Ten members and a guest, Mrs. Becky Wilson, were present.

New club books were filled out and plans were made for the Christmas party to be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 17 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Baier.

Christmas Dinner Site Is Changed

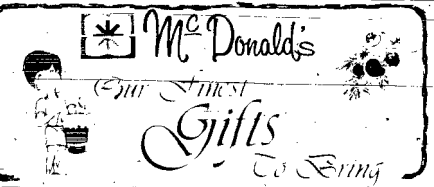

Because of heavy demand for tickets, the Wayne State Madrigal Singers have moved their Elizabethan Christmas Dinner program to a larger room.

Dr. Corneli Runestad, director, said it will be presented in the North dining room of the Student Center. Hence, there will be 20 more tickets for each of the performances Dec. 13-16.

These tickets now are available in the music office at the college, Fine Arts Center.

Tabulating Votes

WAYNE COUNTY'S Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee counted ballots Wednesday morning in the community committeemen elections. Going over some of the ballots are, from left, Ralph Olson, ASC executive director Ray Butts, Harry Heinemann and Alden Johnson. Heinemann will be going off the county committee board at the end of this year after serving three terms. Results of the election will be published in Monday's issue of The Wayne Herald.

New Church Organized In Wayne

Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church, affiliated with the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod, was officially organized during a special meeting in Wayne Sunday.

The congregation of about 20 members has met in the Elmer Roemhildt home at 610 Westwood Road for the past year.

In addition to choosing a name for their congregation Sunday, members also adopted a charter which expresses their firm and unwavering stand on the Bible as God's inspired word and the Lutheran Confessions.

Leonard Marten an elder of Trinity Lutheran Church in Hoskins, was present at the special meeting to offer the new congregation a building, which if moved to an appropriate site, could serve as their house of worship.

The church is being served by the Rev. A. R. Domson who also serves Trinity Lutheran Church in Hoskins. Beginning Sunday, Dec. 16, worship services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoons. A fellowship session will follow at 3, and adult Bible class will be at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Domson will conduct a Bible

The public is invited to attend both the worship services and the Bible study classes.

Our sincerity in serving your needs rings louder than years of service.

Catholics Attend St. Mary's Meet

Eighty-eight Catholics from the Northeast Nebraska Deanery attended a meeting at St. Mary's Parish in Wayne Monday evening, according to the Rev. Paul J. Begley, host priest.

The Rev. Thomas Ward of Jackson served as chairman for the meeting.

Purpose of the open deanery meeting was to discuss the preliminary agenda of the first annual "Archdiocesan Pastoral Council (APC) meeting, to be held April 19-21 at Creighton University in Omaha.

The APC is the chief archdiocesan body which will assist Archbishop Daniel E. Sheehan of Omaha in directing church activities in Northeast Nebraska.

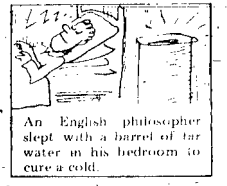

The four topic areas covered at the Monday meeting were total education, personal renewal and social action in the Omaha archdiocese. The group divided into four smaller groups, each group discussing one of the four topics.

Assisting Father Ward in conducting the individual discussions were Mrs. Ralph Biermann and Mrs. Herb Mies of South Sioux City and Mrs. Mark Kneiff of Newcastle.

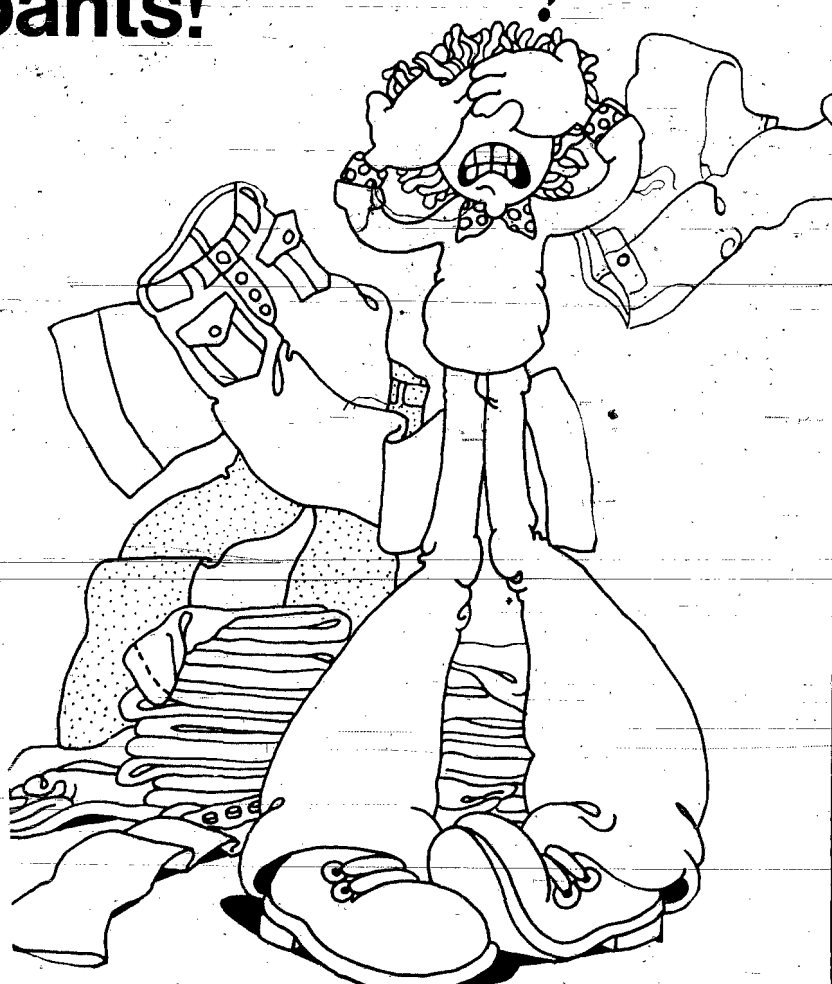

Among those who attended the meeting were area priests the Rev. James Kenny of Bancroft, the Rev. Alfred Hoising of Emerson, the Rev. Edward Hunker of South Sioux City, the Rev. John Stears of Hubbard and the Rev. Richard Wolbach of Pender.

St. Mary's Guild members, with Mrs. Cleo Sharer as chairman, served coffee and cookies to the group.

An English philosopher slept in his bedroom to cure a cold.

Three-Game Slate Opens Area Basketball Action

By BOB BARTLETT

High School basketball action gets underway Friday with four of the five area teams on the courts.

For three of those teams, the matches will be home games. Wayne takes on Blair at Rice Auditorium while Wakefield hosts Winside and Laurel opens up against Norfolk Catholic.

When Blair comes to town Friday, Wayne High fans should notice the difference in height between the two teams — the Bears will be considerably shorter.

"Blair's tallest man, according to their roster, is 6-1," said coach Bill Sharpe. "But that doesn't really mean anything. They could measure their men standing on their knees or with a block of wood underneath them," he quipped.

Sharpe noted he's not taking the Bears lightly. Although the visitors will have only one starting veteran returning — senior Randy Ashland — Blair could still have some surprises for the Devils.

"If this were a Monday game instead of Friday," Sharpe said, "I wouldn't even worry about it — on Monday's our team practices like it could beat UCLA."

WS Tankers Ready for Relay Opener

The Wayne State swimming team will open its season Saturday at Brookings, S. D. The swimmers will participate in the Jack Rabbit Relays. This will involve relay swimming races, not the usual individual races.

Other teams competing will include Kearney State, South Dakota State, South Dakota University, and possibly three or four other teams.

The team this year has 10 swimmers, down four from last year. There are seven returning lettermen, three of which are seniors. Lettermen include: Dan Carney, Bob Floerchneringer, Doug Krecklow, Bill Walters, David Justi, Tom Carvey and Dennis Moore.

Doing the diving for the team will be Bill Walters, a three-year letterman, and freshman Craig Fullerton.

The first home meet is Jan. 12 against South Dakota State. The remainder of the schedule:

Dec. 15 — at Kearney State. Jan. 12 — South Dakota State; 18 — at Grinnell; 26 — at Grinnell Relays; 26 — Northwest-Missouri State and Univ. of North Dakota. Feb. 1 — Chadron State; 2 — Kearney State; 4 — at Concordia; 9 — at South Dakota State; 20 — Buena Vista; 22 — at Univ. of Northern Iowa; 23 — at Mankato State; 27 — Concordia. Mar. 12 — NAIA district 11 meet at Wayne; 7-8 — NAIA National Meet, Chicago.

SHARPE

on Monday.

A case of the flu bug seems to be hitting some of the players. Unless the bug hits his lineup, Sharpe's starting five should remain intact.

The all-veteran lineup includes Tod Bigelow, Marty Hansen, Scott Ehlers, Bob Keating, Bill Schwartz and Kerry Jech.

Keating has the height for the Devils at 6-4, with Schwartz adding his 6-2 frame:

"We'll be interchanging on our offense," Sharpe said, meaning that labeling his players as guards or forwards is hard to do. "I call the positions wing or point to make it a lot easier for everyone," he added.

At present it looks like the point duties will change between Ehlers, Bigelow and Hansen, with Schwartz, Jech and Keating to play in the front court.

The Wakefield Winside matchup should provide plenty of action for area fans. Both coaches are looking for the other team to fast-break, setting up what could be a fast-paced game.

Coach Joe Coble believes his Wakefield squad will be ready for the Wildcats. "We're going to try to take advantage of our height and block the middle so they don't get the easy shot," Coble pointed out.

The Trojans all-senior lineup not only will have experience but height to boot. Gary Addink, 6-6, will help plug up the middle while five other players at six feet or better work on the wing and point slots.

Sam Utech, 6-1, Doug Soderberg, 6-0, Keith Siebrandt, 6-0, Loren Hammer, 6-1, and Larry Siebrandt, 6-2, will work for the starting lineup along with veteran 5-8 Doug Fischer.

Although both clubs may fast-break, Winside head man Jordin Luff intends to control his game. "Wakefield is tall and experienced, so we're going to have to go for the good shots rather than just try anything," he said.

Luff doesn't eliminate the possibility of a run-and-gun game. "If we get the chance to run with the ball we will," he added.

The Wildcats starting lineup also will be made up mostly of seniors, with lettermen Larry Weible, Jeff Farran, Steve Deck and Steve Brummels leading the way. Sophomores Tyler Frevert and Bob Hoffman also will get shots in the five-man lineup.

Coach Joel Parks feels that his Bears will be quicker than last year with three senior lettermen leading the way. Key-in Gade, Tom Anderson and Gregg Anderson will head up the 1973 version of the Laurel club in another break-away, fast-paced Bear game.

Although Gade is the only returning starter off last year's 5-14 team, Parks believes his Bears will show the desire and drive to win more games this year.

One reason for the coach's optimism is the additional height. Last year Gregg Anderson was 5-11. Now he stands at 6-1. Other big men on the team are Tim Anderson at 6-2, Gregg Pippitt at 6-2, Kirk McCoy at 6-1 and Sterling Sloipe at 6-0.

Last year the Bears were a strong three-quarter club, but their lack of depth caused them to fizzle out in the fourth and lose the close ball games.

"I'm not saying we are going to be an overpowering ball club," Parks emphasized, "but we're going to play as a team."

"Because Allen High doesn't start its season until Saturday night," coach Bob Moore still has time to set up his working offense.

Seniors Jim Koester, Charlie Peters, Neil Blohm and Scott VonMinden will bring in the height for Moore's team with three years of experience to help.

Koester stands at 6-3 with VonMinden and Peters measuring 6-2. That should provide the Eagles with enough board power to get the ball out quickly and start Allen's fast-break game.

Moore knows he will need their height and experience if his team is to get by a rough opener — at Coleridge.

Ferguson, Brunken Head Laurel Teams

Donald Ferguson and Ron Brunken will coach Laurel's freshmen and junior high basketball teams this year.

Ferguson has 11 freshmen out for the freshmen's Dec. 19 meeting at Crofton. Brunken's junior high squad is taking shape for its meeting with Crofton the same date.

Both teams play on the following dates: Jan. 7 — Hartington Cedar; at Bloomfield, 22 — Norfolk; 28 — Plainview; Feb. 4 — at Pierce; 21 — Hartington High; 25 — at Wayne; March 4-8 — Junior high at Osmond Tournament.

17 Players Out For Allen Team

Seventeen basketball players are out this year for Allen's junior high basketball team. First-year coach Keith Simkins isn't sure what kind of talent he will have on hand for the opening game with Jackson Monday at Allen.

Other games on his schedule include:

Dec. 17 — at Homer; Jan. 8 at Wakefield; 15 — Winnebago; 21 — at Jackson.

The Bulldogs are one of the pre-season favorites in the Clark division of the Lewis and Clark Conference. Both Osmond and Coleridge are expected to battle it out for the division title, leaving the Lewis title hopes open to three power houses — Allen, Newcastle and Ponca.

The head coach admits the first game is always the toughest, since "you really can't be sure of how your team is going to perform under pressure."

This week's selections (winners in bold face):

Prep Picks Friday
Blair at Wayne, Winside at Wakefield, Norfolk Catholic at Laurel.

Saturday
Ponca at Winnebago, Allen at Coleridge.

SPORTS

WS Coeds Go for 2nd State Title

After a state championship last spring, what's next for Wayne State women's basketball?

Coach G. I. Willoughby expresses the answer this way: "I've got 20 energetic, enthusiastic and determined athletes reporting for daily practice."

That sums up her idea of the talent available for a season which starts Friday night at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Saturday afternoon at two the Wayne coeds will entertain Kearney State in Rice Gym.

Coach Willoughby adds this comment on her squad: "It looks as if we can field a tall, strong team. We will definitely have a fine bench of players who will add strength to our team effort."

Last year Wayne finished with a 12-4 record after winning the state tournament and placing second in the regional tournament. The Wayne girls fell just four points short of beating Kansas State University for a trip to the national meet.

Graduation took three senior starters from that team, including top scorer Claudia Paulson Shepherd. She is a graduate assistant helping coach the team.

Among returning players are Cindy Davis, senior from Manson, Ia.; Martha Schrick, junior from George, Ia.; and Janette Juelman, junior from Schaller, Ia.

are defending state champions. We will be working hard to repeat as champions."

The schedule:

Dec. 7 — at UN-Lincoln; 8 — Kearney State; 14 — Midland. Jan. 11 — Doane; 12 — at Kearney State; 18 — at Doane; 20 — at UN Omaha; 26 — at Northwest Missouri; 27 — Concordia. Feb. 2 — South Dakota State U.; 6 — Westmar; 8 — UN-Lincoln; 10 — at Midland; 15 — UN Omaha; 16 — at Concordia. The Nebraska college women's tournament is scheduled at Fremont Feb. 22-23. The Winner of that goes to the Region 6 tourney at Brookings, S. D., March 7-9.

Kienast Rolls 701-Series

A Wayne bowler rolled a 701 three-game series Tuesday night during the men's City League at the Melodee Lanes.

Val Kienast put together games of 244, 257 and 200 to break the 700 barrier. The 25-year-old veteran only had two strings of four strikes for his longest strike effort.

But Kienast did have a little help.

"I switched to another ball I drilled a while back after rolling a 672 two weeks ago during the Friday Night Couples League," he said. Kienast, who owns the lanes, noted that he is not sure how many 700's he has had in his career, but added he "has thrown more 700 patches away than I've kept."

By Bob Bartlett

THE DEBATE continues on the new Wayne State basketball uniforms. And so far it looks like the argument goes in favor of the coach.

Head Wildcat mentor Ron Jones admitted he and athletic director LeRoy Simpson chose the team's new basketball uniforms with one thing in mind — comfort.

"We had problems with last year's uniforms," Jones said at last week's Second Guessers meeting. "They kept tearing out because the uniforms did not fit the players properly." As a result, the coach decided to purchase new uniforms. For those who have not seen them, the tops are the muscle-shirt type with black numerals on white material. The bottoms, however, are wider than the normal fit. This is the point of the controversy.

Despite the baggy look, players agree the uniforms are much more comfortable than last year's and give them more freedom in their movements.

Last year the players had trouble getting into their uniforms since many of the leg holes were too small. "We had to cut some of them," Simpson said, "causing some to rip out and eventually ruin the uniform."

Jones is hoping that during one of the home games his team can wear the away uniforms to give home fans another view of the Wildcat apparel. The away uniforms are gold with black lettering, a change from last year when the Cats wore black uniforms with gold lettering.

YOU HAVE to give a couple Wayne State coeds a pat on the back. They were the only girls to try out for the all-time Wildcat swimming goddard this year.

Tammy Conyers of Columbus and Jackie Davis of South Sioux City worked out in the pool before both decided to leave the swimming to the guys.

"Don't get the wrong idea — they actually tried to make the team. Since Wayne doesn't have a girls' swimming team, this was the only road left for them."

According to Simpson, there were two other girls who also tried out, but they didn't last as long as Conyers and Davis.

Although the attempt by the girls is a first in swimming for WSC, another coed was one year ahead of them. Les "Suki" Gablehaus, a former WSC student, played on the men's tennis team.

WHEN YOU talk about post-season football statistics, Jim Winch of Winside High is the man to call on for a complete listing in the Lewis and Clark Conference.

No less than 13 typewritten sheets are chock full of assorted information about individual- and team leaders in the various categories. Jim goes as far as listing the most and least yards gained in one game by an individual player or team.

It looks like it might be a long and thankless job, figuring all those statistics. Not just because Winside High had only one player tops in his category — Larry Weible, most yards gained rushing in one game (221 yards in 23 carries against Coleridge) — but also because it's a job that requires a lot of patience. Jim seems to have plenty of that.

Allen High's Charlie Peters was the only other area player to be No. one in his category. The senior had the most yards gained by pass receiving, 166 against Winnebago.

JUNIOR STEVE Erwin of Laurel played what coach Joe Cipriano called the best game by a Nebraska basketball player in the coach's 12 year career at the University of Nebraska when NU stopped Minnesota Duluth, 77-50, Monday night. Erwin, 6-4, led the Cornhuskers with 24 points and shared winners' rebounding honors at 8. Erwin's previous high was 16 points against Kansas State last year.

Teams 3, 4 First-Night Winners in A League BB

Teams 3 and 4 are the early front-runners in the A league of the city recreation basketball league after opening games Monday night.

Team 4, led by Bob Wisenberg with 23 points, edged Team 1, 64-62, after a nip and tuck battle. Randy Nelson helped the cause with 20 points after the winners held a 13-12 first quarter lead and built up a 27-22 half-time margin. From there Team 4 moved out to a nine point advantage after three periods before Team 1 narrowed the margin to two.

High point man for the losers was John Warner with 19. Team 3 had to play a come from behind game to beat Team 2, 56-51, after scoring only six points in the second quarter. The winners had a 14-7 first period lead, but saw that dwindle when Team 2 poured in 22 points for a 29-22 halftime lead. The victors rallied for a 41-39 third quarter cushion before rapping up the game.

High scorers were Denny Paul with 20 for the winners and Rick Wilson with 15 for the losers.

According to city recreation director Hank Overin, the league started this week due to upcoming holidays. "We won't be playing on Dec. 24 or the 31st," he said, "so the teams decided to start last Monday."

Players listed on the five A league teams are Team 1 — Duane Blomenkamp, Rob Keilman, Mark Oppgaard, John Warner, Breck Giese, Bob Nelson; Team 2 — Rick Wilson, Ron Dalloh, Charlie Roland, Mike Loofe, Jerry Titzé, Terry

Stinger, Ward Bareiman; Team 3 — Dennis Paul, Charles Schnepf, Randy Helgren, Jim Clark, Steve Hix, Bruce Brinkman; Team 4 — Dave Schulte, Maurice Boeckenhauer, Harry Lindner, Randy Nelson, Larry Stratman; Team 5 — Herb Swan, Paul Eaton, Dennis Spangler, Mike Creighton, Shane Giese, Sam Schroeder, Butch Reiten.

Monday Teams 3 and 1 will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the city auditorium, followed by an 8:15 match between Teams 4 and 5. Team 2 draws a bye.

The scoring breakdown in Monday's games:

Team 4: Wisenberg 23, Nelson 20, Schulte 15, Boeckenhauer 3, Reiten 2, Stratman 1, Team 1: Warner 19, Oppgaard 15, Keilman 13, Giese 8, Blomenkamp 6, Nelson 2.

Team 3: Paul 20, Brinkman 12, Hix 10, Clark 8, Schnepf 4, Roberts 2, Team 2: Wilson 15, Loofe 14, Roland 12, Titzé 5, Stinger 3, Eaton 2.

3 Area Mat Teams Battle This Weekend

High school wrestling fans are in for a triple treat this weekend as all three area teams open the season.

Wayne High will be the only team in the area going to the 15-team Blair Invitational Saturday. The all-day matches start at 9:30 a.m., with finals set for 7:30 p.m.

"It's really kind of early to tell how we'll do in the meet," head coach Don Koening said. "I don't know what the other teams have — at least not all of them."

Host Blair may be among the leaders since the Bears lost only one or two grapplers off-last year's strong squad. Other teams that are expected to be tough include South Sioux City and West Husker rivals Oakland-Craig and Tekamah-Herman.

Other schools entered in the invitational are Randolph, Wisner-Pilger, Valley, Hooper-Logan View, West Point, Arlington West Holt, Omaha Paul VI, Elkhorn Valley, North Bend and Grétna.

Koenig may have some state material working for him this year, and the invitational will give the Devils a chance to prove their potential.

For area fans the place to be both Friday and Saturday is Wakefield. The Trojans start the varsity season with a dual against Winside Friday at 6 p.m. in the elementary auditorium, followed by its first four-team tournament Saturday afternoon.

Wakefield head mentor Lyle Trullinger said he is looking forward to meeting the Wildcats again. As most know, coach Doug Barclay's Winside crew has a tradition of being a strong wrestling team — one of the main reasons Trullinger is anxious to wrestle the Cats. The reason is that Winsie has maintained a winning streak over the Trojans. The Cats seem to be stronger, especially in the lower and upper weights. That leaves room for Wakefield's middle weights to take over.

After Friday's encounter, both teams will be back on the mats at Wakefield the following day, but this time competing with two other high school teams — Pender and Hartington High. The meet will begin at 2 p.m. in the elementary auditorium, with finals slated for 7 o'clock.

"This is the first time we have tried a tournament," the head grappler said. "If it works out I hope to continue it," he added. Last year Wakefield held a triple dual, with the victory going to Winside.

Monday night Wayne High will be back on the mats, hosting Randolph at the city auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Wakefield and Winside both will be on the road Tuesday night with the Wildcats visiting Pender and Wakefield off to Wisner-Pilger.

LHS Girls Honored

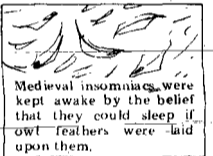

The Laurel High volleyball squad and their coach, Mrs. Susan Beach, were honored at a banquet held Saturday evening at the Wagon Wheel Steak House.

Letters were presented to Denise Magnuson, Barbara Hirschman, Deanna Erwin, Penny Burns, Patt Jannersek, Carol Stark and Julie Wallin. Senior players each received a trophy from their mothers.

Denise Magnuson was named to the Northeast Nebraska Activity all-conference team. Barb Hirschman was given an honorable mention.

Local Shooter Wins

A Wayne High junior won the novice division during a registered trapshoot at Norfolk Gun Club Sunday. Steen Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Anderson, hit 91 out of a 100 targets.

Medieval insomniacs were kept awake by the belief that they could sleep if owl feathers were laid upon them.

Balance Offense May Change Legend Of Laurel's Three-Quarter BB Team

Laurel High's three quarter basketball team of a year ago will have one big change this year — solid fourth periods of high-spirited, fast-breaking basketball.

That statement by third-year coach Joel Parks isn't just hot air. He has the material to back up what he says.

Three seniors, including a starter from last year's club, plus three junior lettermen will help form the 1973-74 Bear team.

Kevin Gade is the only returning starter. The 5-11 senior, though, will have help from two other seniors who saw action a year ago — Tom Anderson at 5-10 and Gregg Anderson at 6-1.

Junior lettermen Tim Anderson, Mark Anderson and Scott Thompson may see front-line duty as well as in the backcourt. Tim is the tallest at 6-2, but the quickness of Mark, 5-10, and Scott, 5-10, may make up for the height needed on the front line.

Parks believes his team will have the height his 5-14 squad was lacking last year. Senior Kirk McCoy out with a knee injury last year, will come in at 6-1. Junior Sterling Stolpe is 6-0 and sophomore Gregg Pippitt is 6-2.

Parks admits his team won't be the tallest on the courts, but he says it will be "balanced."

Last year the Bears were often strong through three quarters of play, but the lack of bench strength proved fatal in the closing minutes. With 30 players out this season, Parks is aiming to change that.

"Our seniors are going to have to provide the leadership in developing poise and confidence. Once we get these going for us, we're going to be a strong team in the Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference," he said.

Neligh again this year is picked to be the strong team in the conference, as is Randolph. "We could be in the thick of things also if the team jells," Parks pointed out.

In addition to the head mentor's plans for a 1-4 offense, the LAUREL HIGH'S head basketball coach, Joel Parks, right, helps tape one of his players before scrimmages get underway. Parks, along with his assistant Don Ferguson, will guide the Bear club through the 15 game season. Helping Parks in the bandaging is student teacher, Dean Trog of Millard, Ia.

Bears will do a lot of free lancing — capitalizing on all the opportunities the team gets — and will take advantage of its speed for fast breaks.

Laurel's first test will be at home Friday against Norfolk Catholic. Parks figures the Knights won't have the towering height of a year ago, so the match should be about even.

After Friday's game with Norfolk Catholic, the Bears face a big Hartington Cedar Catholic team the following Friday at the Bears' court.

The rest of the schedule: Dec. 18 — at Wayne, 21; Emerson Hubbard, 27-28 — at Randolph; holiday tournament Jan. 4 — Stanton, 7-11; NENAC Tournament, 18 — Neligh, 19 — at Creighton; 25 — at Crofton; 26 — at Wakefield; 29 — Randolph; Feb. 1 — O'Neill; 2 — Elk Horn Valley; 8 — at Bloomfield; 15 — at Plainview; 22 — Pierce.

4 WS Seniors Get 4th Letter

Four seniors earning fourth letters, are among 45 Wayne State College football players recommended for letters in the 1973 season.

The four timers are George Biszack of Sterling, Ill.; Rich Mangiameli of Omaha, the team's co-captains; Roger Fuller of Carroll, Ia., and Kirk Park of Burlington, Ia.

Named for third letters: Tom Allie, Des Moines, Ron Coles, Indianapolis; Tim Denham, Cumberland, Ia. — Pat Dyer, Omaha; Stan Lewis, Chicago;

Brent Moeller, Scribner. Second letters: Mark Anderson, South Chicago Heights; Jerry Basye, Glenwood, Ia.; Rick Benedetto, Schiller Park, Ill.; Bob Clark, Fremont; Sid Conrad, Beemer; Nick Danze, Omaha; Pat Donohoe, O'Neill; Dick Giesmann, Springfield; Layne Herber, Omaha; Dan Jones, Corning, Ia.; Joe McMennamin, Omaha; Dave Miller, Savanna, Ill.; Brian Moeller, Scribner; Dean Ott, Hooper; Mike Schuster, Dubuque; Ed Travers, Waukegan, Ill.

First letters: Gary Boehle, St. Libory, Tom Burke, Balavia, Ill.; Tom Elafros, Omaha; Terry Glenn, Sterling, Ill.; Brad Hahn, Auburn; Bruce Hansen, Beatrice; Steve Jennell, Early, Ia.; Frank Jensen, Council Bluffs; Shawn Keenan, Omaha; Bill Kell, Omaha; Gary Krajcik, Mike McMahon and Maurice Minkes, Gretna; John Mortimer, Burlington, Ia.; Jeff Pilleam, Peotone, Ill.; Randy Slaybaugh, Coor Rapids, Ia.; Paul Stuart, Omaha; Regg Swanson, Laurel; Bob Zitek, Omaha.

Roger Hammond of Crete earned a third letter as student manager.

Gifts From Sherry's TSC Store

Christmas is loving and giving means giving, and giving is one of the great joys of Christmas.

A hobby kit or craft is a gift that keeps giving because the recipient is benefitted in so many ways. There are crevel, wine making, cheese, decoupage, soap sculpture, flower dip, macrame, crocheting necklaces and rock polishing kits, plus many others. All ages can enjoy creating with their own hands and imaginations. A hobby or craft kit from Sherry's can be a lasting gift.

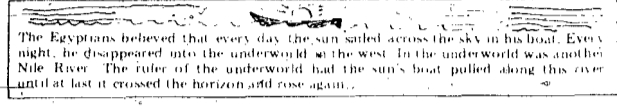

A McCulloch chain saw is a gift men appreciate and enjoy. These chain saws are light in weight and come in various sizes — a size for every job. Sherry's TSC Store has a selection for you.

Men, women and children's western boots are a welcome item. We have all sizes and prices. A boot jack is another item sure to please the boot people.

Games are a fine way for parents to teach the lessons of honesty and fair play. Life, Battleship, Monday Nite Football, Hockey, Stratego, Operation, Which Witch, Tripoley, Uncle Wiggley, Dealer's Choice, All in the Family are just a few of the many games awaiting your selection at Sherry's TSC Store. The family that plays together knits close bonds of friendship and fun. Give a family a game this year.

Visit Sherry's TSC Store, 115 W. First St., Wayne. Open Sundays from 1 to 5. We're here to help you make Christmas shopping a pleasure. May we help you?

Best in Seven Years

Wrestlers Rank 4th In Debut

The only way to describe competition at the Yankton Invitational Wrestling Tournament at Springfield, S. D., Saturday was "extremely tough." Only 10 points separated first place Westmar with 67 points and fourth place Wayne with 57 points.

Jim Meyer, 126 and Steve Gregory, 167 were winners for Wayne. Jim overpowered Leonard Underhill of Westmar, 6-2, and Steve squeaked by Kelly Davis, 3-1, also of Westmar. Mike Riedmann, 190, was Wayne's only second place man. Placing third were wrestlers

Erv Robbins, 134, and Ron Coles, heavyweight. Getting fourth places were Randy Humal, 150, and Keith Fineran, 177. S.D. Springfield and South Dakota State had a real battle going for second place. Springfield finally won with 63 1/2 points when LeRoy Hegge won the

The remaining teams were Dakota State with 47 1/2 points, Yankton 25, Northwestern 14 1/2 and Briar Cliff, 7 points.

Pack 176 met Monday evening at the Laurel city auditorium with 50 members in attendance. Roger Heitman, assistant Cubmaster, conducted the meeting, assisted by Tom Strange. The flag ceremony was conducted by the Webelos Den. Genius kit projects were displayed and judged. Receiving a trophy for the most original design was Roger Anderson. The most unusual creation trophy was awarded to Michael Dietrich. The most imaginative award was presented to Lathan Asbra and the overall detail award was given to Mike Jonas. All Cubs received participation ribbons.

Skits were given by Den 2 and a report was heard from Den 1 on their month's activities. Den 1 was in charge of games. Refreshments were served by Den 1 leaders and mothers.

Assembly Schedule
Roberto Rosendo of the Philippines will present a program Dec. 10 at the Laurel School at 10:30 a.m. In 1968, Rosendo came to the United States as part of a group conducting school assembly programs in this area. Since that time he has returned each year to perform for school audiences in the United States. The group, which presents an authentic version of Filipino life, styles, customs and traditions, is under the direction and auspices of the Division of Independent Study, State University, Fargo, N. D.

Grubby Day
Friday was "Grubby Day" for all Laurel High School students with a Sadie Hawkins dance held at the school auditorium that evening.

Grubby awards were presented to students, Kathy Maxon and LaMonte Sohler and teacher Mrs. Susan Beach. The day's activities were sponsored by the Laurel High Student Council organization. Approximately $50 was profited from the dance.

To Sponsor Show
The Laurel High School Lyre Club is sponsoring a variety show Jan. 22. Tryouts will be held Dec. 17 from 7:30 p.m. All types of acts and skits are welcome and interested persons are asked to contact Mr. Lunde for a tryout time.

College Plans To Give ACT On Saturday

The American College Test will be administered in the administration building at Wayne State College on Saturday. The ACT is a test covering the areas of English, mathematics, social studies and natural science, and is used by many colleges as a required examination for all applicants to the college. Wayne State College requires the entering freshman to take the ACT or the other test of the same type, called the Scholastic Aptitude Test. The SAT is given at Norfolk. Each examination is given five times each year. The next date for taking the ACT is Feb. 23. Registration for either the ACT or the SAT may be accomplished through the high school guidance office or by contacting the admissions department at WSC.

Lions Board Approves 2 Donations

The board of directors of the Wayne Lions Club Tuesday night approved donations to The Wayne High marching band's Cotton Bowl fund drive and to the Nebraska Children's Home in Omaha. The board okayed a $75 donation to the band, which is seeking to raise $12,000 to finance the trip to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas on Jan. 1. The Lions Club donation helped boost the total in the fund drive over $3,000, according to Ron Dalton, band director. He said other donations have come from the Wayne Carroll Music Boosters, $2,000; Kiwanis Club, $100; VFW, $50; and the American Legion, $50. Other funds have already been raised in a variety of activities. Approved for the Nebraska Children's Home was a donation of $50. The local service club annually makes a donation to the home, involved in helping parents adopt children. Board members learned that three club members — Cleo Shaker, Wes Pflueger and John Vokoc — will meet tonight (Thursday) with several people in Emerson to discuss establishing a Lions Club there.

Winside Sets Street Hearing

The Winside town board will discuss its one and six-year street improvement program Dec. 19 at the village clerk's office. Monday night the members voted on adopting Nebraska Governor J. James Exon's outdoor lighting dates from Dec. 18-24. Winside will display its outdoor lighting only during those dates.

Haua Sees No Need for More Fuel Conservation In 3 School Buildings

The superintendent of the Wayne-Carroll school system said Tuesday he doesn't expect to have to take any more steps to limit fuel consumption this winter.

Francis Haua said the present fuel conservation efforts — lowering thermostats in buildings a few degrees, curtailing lighting, urging teachers and students to form car pools, and the like — should be enough to cut fuel consumption so no drastic steps will need to be taken.

His comments followed last week's suggestions for saving fuel issued by the executive committee of the Nebraska State School Boards Association.

The suggestions included going to a four-day week and extending school days by 90 minutes, closing schools on sub-zero days and curtailing after-hour activities. Also suggested were reducing temperatures in buildings and lowering bus speeds, which local school officials have already done.

The committee urged schools to strive for a 20 per cent reduction collectively in energy consumption.

"We don't anticipate being forced into going to a four-day week," said Haua. Nor do school officials anticipate being forced to close buildings on days when temperatures dip below zero, he added.

The voluntary steps already being taken by both students and teachers should cut fuel consumption enough to permit the school to operate normally all winter, he said.

Haua said the school now has on hand 15,000 gallons of fuel for use when the school buildings in Wayne are shut off natural gas. The school, like the municipal electrical generating plant in Wayne, is under a contract which permits Peoples Natural Gas Co. of Wayne to shut off natural gas when the weather turns cold. The elementary building at Carroll still burns coal and is thus not faced with any fuel shortage this winter, according to Haua.

The 15,000 gallons the school has on hand is enough to heat the three local buildings for about 20 days, Haua said. If the weather does not turn cold for an extended period of time and if the school's allocations from its fuel supplier are not cut further, enough fuel should be available to run the school through the winter, he said.

establishments which at that time required persons to be members before they could purchase drinks.

Hall said he fired Fairchild because he did not authorize him to bring somebody into the city and break the law in an attempt to find out if the liquor businesses were abiding by it. He said he authorized the investigation, however.

Later, Hall said the way Fairchild conducted the investigation was just one of the reasons he fired him. He said there were numerous other problems which led to that decision.

In his suit, Fairchild asked for reinstatement as chief of police and back pay from the time he was fired. He also asked that the court require city officials to put the Civil Service Act into effect. The act was not in effect at the time of Fairchild's firing, but it has been discussed by the city council since that time.

Fairchild said in his suit that local city officials have refused to establish a civil service commission as is required by law in cities over 5,000 population. The last census showed Wayne's population to be slightly over 5,000.

Fairchild was Wayne police chief for nearly eight years when he was fired. Before coming to Wayne, he was police chief at Louisville in Sarpy County for six months. Before that, he was with the State Patrol for six and a half years.

His replacement, Robert Evers, was on the Fremont police force for just over three years before coming to Wayne. He also served as police chief at North Bend for just over a year. Earlier, he was a policeman on the Aurora police force.

City Planners Continue Study

Plans for the city to expand its present electrical and street building facilities will get a closer look during the city planning commission's next two meetings.

City clerk Dan Sherry said the commission is studying the possibility of finding additional housing for the two departments.

Monday night the commission members met with Norbert Brugger, superintendent of the city power, plant, and street superintendent Vern Schulz to discuss the future needs of the departments.

Sherry said the members are looking into acquiring more land to build additional housing for city equipment.

"It will be another two meetings (January and February) before the commission completes its study and presents it to the city council for approval," Sherry said.

hold a slave auction within the next few days, and students are offering to do odd jobs for residents and businessmen. Persons with leaf raking, babysitting, clean up work and the like should contact band director Ron Dalton either at his home or at the school to hire students for the work.

Currently under way are ticket sales for a portable color television set which will be given away Dec. 21 at 8 p.m. in downtown Wayne. Tickets are selling for $1 each.

If the $12,000 is raised and the band makes the trip to Dallas, it would be the first local band ever to participate in a major college bowl parade.

The Cotton Bowl Parade and football game will be televised nationally Jan. 1.

A total of 96 band members and 16 adults will make the trip, traveling in three chartered buses.

Mishap

net brought the injured man to Wayne, where he was treated by a local doctor before being sent to St. Joseph's Hospital in Sioux City.

The doctor said numerous pellets had lodged in Ehlers' leg but the damage did not appear too extensive.

The shooting accident was the second reported one in the past few weeks. Recently, an eight-year-old rural girl was killed when a 10-gauge shotgun discharged and struck her in the side.

Nixon Congratulates

Former Resident on Her 94th Birthday

Mrs. Maggie Mick, a resident of the Wisner Manor and mother of Mrs. C. D. McCullough of Wayne, celebrated her 94th birthday recently, prompting a letter of congratulations from President Richard Nixon.

Mrs. Mick lived in Wayne until about three years ago when she moved to Wisner.

President Nixon's letters said: "I wish to extend my warmest congratulations on the occasion of your birthday. Mrs. Nixon joins me in extending best wishes that health and happiness may always be yours."

Eggs, Eggs and More Eggs

SATURDAY'S OPEN HOUSE at the Milton G. Waldbaum Co. in Wakefield, the first in several years, was a big success, company officials report. Somewhere around 500 people from across Northeast Nebraska turned out for the event, held to show area residents the many changes which have taken place at the plant since first being opened in 1950 with some 25 employees. The firm now employs between 275 and 300 people, processes some 1.8 million eggs daily and has more than 60 trucks covering a 180-mile area around Wakefield to bring eggs into the plant. The firm is considered the largest egg processing plant under one roof in the United States, and its annual payroll — some $1.5 million — makes it the biggest employer in Dixon County. The firm processes dried eggs, frozen eggs, shells and related products, selling them to such well known companies as General Mills, Gerber Baby Foods, Quaker Oats, Continental Baking Co. and Campbell Soup Co. Also a customer of the Wakefield plant is Offutt Air Force Base outside Omaha. Explaining the operation of one of the machines which packages a powdered egg product (top picture) is Jerry Boatman, quality control employee at the plant. Listening are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sorenson and Dick Keidel, all of Wayne. Holding up one of the countless angel food cakes she has baked for the firm to help keep product quality at a peak is Mrs. Geneva Griggs of Wakefield. She has baked cakes for the company for about nine years, starting out with just a few a week but averaging about 10 a day at the present time. How does she get that many baked each day? By getting up about 3 a.m.

Titles Interesting, Subjects Varied in Yule Writing Contest

More than 150 area fourth graders entered The Wayne Herald's second annual creative writing contest by Friday's deadline.

And if the titles are any indication of the imagination these youngsters have used in writing their Christmas tales, the judges will have a tough time choosing the best entries. Some of the more tantalizing titles are "Positive Proof," "Who Did It?" "Twelve O'clock," "The Found Christmas Present" and "The Box of Ice."

Rules stated that the theme must relate to Christmas. The youngsters have written about the night before Christmas, Christmas night, Christmas day and Christmas time. They've spun yarns about Christmas bells, kittens, trips, problems, joys, dreams, snow, stockings and shopping.

There are tales about the bad Christmas, the good Christmas, the best Christmas, the best ever Christmas and the "cold Christmas. Still other episodes involve Christmas elves, deer, dolls and trees, Christmas chimneys, Christmas hay, Christmas ribbons, Christmas skies, and snowmen and Christmas presents — funny presents, special presents and lost presents.

The contest was limited to fourth grade students from Allen, Belden, Carroll, Concord, Dixon, Emerson, Hoskins, Laurel, Newcastle, Hubbard, Pender, Pilger, Ponca, Wakefield, Winsie, Wisner and Wayne.

Most entries were prepared under the direction of teachers and came from Allen, Emerson-Hubbard, Hoskins, Trinity, Luther, Laurel, Pender-Thurston, Ponca, Wakefield, Wayne-Carroll, Wayne-St. Mary's, District

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, December 6, 1973

Winners will be announced in the Christmas Bulletin, a holiday paper scheduled to be delivered to over 7,000 Northeast Nebraska homes in mid-December. The three top entries will be published in the bulletin, along with the authors' pictures.

First place winner will receive a $15 cash prize. Second place winner will receive a $10 cash prize and third place winner will receive $5 in cash. Several honorable mention certificates will also be presented.

The Albert L. Nelson family and the Emil Tarnows were Friday evening guests in the Lindy Hansen home, Beemer, to celebrate the first birthday of Kevin Hansen and to observe the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Giese of Beemer.

Laying the Foundation

BLOCK WORK began Monday on the new motel being built on the east edge of Wayne, north of Highway 85. The new motel, second one in Wayne, will have 32 units, according to the LeMars, Ia., construction firm in charge of construction. The siding will be part brick, part wood.

Workmen hope to get enough work finished before cold weather sets in so work can continue through the winter in order to complete the facility sometime next spring. Several local businessmen are involved in the construction project.

Rev. Gail Axen is Guest Speaker

Rev. Gail Axen of Stanton was guest speaker at the Opal Chapter Order of Eastern Star guest night Tuesday evening. Rev. Axen spoke on the steps of masonry and explained the qualifications and orders connected.

Guests attended from Wakefield and Laurel. Honored were Mrs. Anna Janssen, who recently moved, and Mrs. Irene Armour for her work within the chapter. A family Christmas potluck supper is set for Dec. 11 at 6:30 p.m. at the lodge hall.

Mrs. Chapman hosts Pleasant Hour Club meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Richard Chapman. Hostess was Mrs. Gerald Chapman. Officers elected for 1974 were Mrs. Ken Pettit, president; Mrs. Richard Chapman, vice president, and Mrs. Bill Sachau, secretary-treasurer.

Members voted to pay the expense of $30 for one band member on the trip to Rapid City which is planned for May of next year. A Christmas luncheon will be held Dec. 18 in the home of Mrs. Bob Blohm. Silent sisters will be revealed with a gift.

Pitching Right In

THE WEATHERMAN couldn't have arranged a better Sunday afternoon for Wayne residents to pitch in and help lay new sod on part of the city's baseball infield. The temperatures rose into the 40's and the sunshine peeked through clouds to turn a gloomy day into a productive one. Scott Havener, at left in top photo, and Dennis Carroll wasted no time in unloading one of two pickups and getting the new sod spread out. Before the crew of about 25 volunteers could get things underway, city recreation director Hank Overin, at right in the photo at right, got things going as far as rolling up the freshly cut turf behind the outfield fence and loading it into a truck. The next step was spreading the sod next to the infield, as Dick Dion does in photo at left. Since the project was only three fourths completed, Overin hopes to finish the job within the next few weeks if the weather holds out. Some of the people helping out in photo at right are, from left, Tim Bebee, Dion, Loren Ellis, Wayne Tietgen, Jeff Sperry, Ivan Creighton and Oyerin. Also helping were Al Ehlers, Earle Overin, Scott Ehlers, Mike Meyer, Steve Overin, Dakas Havener, Steve Hix, Mike Creighton, Aaron Nissen, Larry Creighton, Scott Nissen, Jerry Sperry, Jim Clark, Peter Manes, Jean Nuss and Doug Carroll.

French and English farmers inserted pieces of their Yule log in their plows to make the crops thrive.

'Jobs, farming, entire economy is threatened'

Exon calls fuel crisis 'very serious' ... urges everybody to pinch energy use

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN — Christmas lighting contests are a no-no this year. Governor J. James Exon has issued an energy crisis proclamation in which he asks that organizations which have sponsored competition for residential lighting displays skip at least this year.
In fact, the governor said homeowners should limit outdoor lights to a one-week period — Dec. 18 through 25 — as a further concession to the fuel shortage.
The Christmas guidelines were contained in a proclamation in which the governor called the energy situation "very serious."
"It will not markedly improve for several years," he said. "Unless we accomplish substantial energy savings, our entire economy may be in jeopardy. Jobs are at stake. The agricultural industry may be severely damaged."
Exon continued:

"The energy industry is interrelated. As a result, a savings of one form of energy can result in a savings of another form. Saving electricity, can result in a savings of fuel. Using less natural gas may add to the availability of electricity. Using the family car a little less may save enough fuel so as to prevent schools being closed, or to prevent homes and hospitals from being cold."
Although he had been extremely critical of President Nixon's selection of a 50 miles per hour speed limit for cars (especially if trucks and buses were allowed to go faster), the governor did continue his orders for observance of the 50 mph limit for state vehicles.
But he said the 50 mph ceiling would continue "until such time as a revised statewide or nationwide speed limit law is passed."
Exon also ordered the Department of Administrative Services to assist in the organization of car pools for state employees working in the Capitol and urged other government, business and industrial officials to try to encourage pooling transportation for workers.

The state, Exon said, would offer preferred parking spaces as an incentive to employees who would bring co-workers with them to the Statehouse.
An awards system is being organized for state employees who think up valuable energy conservation suggestions, Exon said.
The goal for state government, he said, is a 10 per cent reduction in the amount of fuel it uses.
To help reach the goal, the governor asked each state agency to appoint a "conservation agent" who will coordinate energy saving efforts.
Exon said he is asking architects and building trades officials to provide suggestions for conserving energy in new and existing buildings. He said this would include proposals for revising building codes.
Residential and commercial energy, use can be cut, the governor said, by lower temperatures, less lighting, minimal heat in little-used areas, changes in wasteful practices, reduced outdoor lighting and electrical advertising.

Cities with their own electric generating plants have been urged to shift to coal as quickly as possible. The governor said natural gas suppliers have told him there won't be gas available to run power plants at all after five years.
Penal Reform Planned
The governor and the Legislature's Judiciary Committee are going to walk hand-in-hand to the 1974 session and ask for additional funds to promote reform of the Nebraska correctional system.
They announced their intentions jointly last week at a citizens' conference on corrections in Lincoln.
The Legislature's Budget Committee, although it was just as enthusiastic about upgrading programs designed to ease an inmate's return to society, was more cautious about construction of new penal facilities.

The governor and the Judiciary Committee came out four-square in favor of a new diagnostic and evaluation center, a replacement for the State Reformatory and major renovation at the State Penitentiary.
Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings said the Budget Committee was solidly in favor of the diagnostic and evaluation facilities.
The whole Exon-Judiciary program would cost something in the neighborhood of $15 million during the next four years, according to the governor's estimate.
Maurice Sigler, former Nebraska warden and now chief of the U. S. Parole Board, was a speaker at the conference. He said the plans outlined by the governor and the senators should meet all of Nebraska's needs.

Out of Old Nebraska

Church Howe of Nemaha County
Two towns in Nemaha County—Auburn and Howe—carry the imprint of Nebraska statesman, politician, and diplomat Church Howe. Auburn is a thriving county seat. Howe (originally named Bedford, then renamed for its promoter), though still shown on road maps, no longer is listed as inhabited.
Church Howe was born near Princeton, Massachusetts, on December 13, 1839. He was reared on a farm and received a common school and academic higher education. In 1861 he enlisted as a private in the Union infantry and rose steadily through the ranks eventually to become aide de camp to General John Sedgwick.
In 1865 Major Howe returned to Massachusetts and held various county offices until 1869, when President Grant appointed him United States marshal for Wyoming Territory. While on his way west, Howe purchased 480 acres of land in Bedford precinct, Nemaha County, Nebraska, which he continued to develop while he was in Wyoming. His holdings were expanded eventually to include 1,000 acres, and in 1870 Howe resigned as marshal to settle there. Adjoining his property he founded the town of Howe, Nebraska.
In 1880 Major Howe and Charles D. Nixon of Auburn, New York, purchased 400 acres of land in the geographical center of the county and formed the town of Auburn. Howe organized the First National Bank there and served both as its director and president.
Concurrently, Major Howe pursued a political career in Nebraska. He was elected in 1874 to the Nebraska Legislature, where for over twenty years he served in the House and the Senate, including two terms as president of the latter. He was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1884 and served on that party's national committee from 1884 until 1888. In 1886 he made an unsuccessful bid for United States representative. He ran again for Congress in 1896 but withdrew in favor of another candidate.
The diplomatic phase of Howe's political career began in 1897, when President McKinley appointed him consul for Palermo, Italy. He served at similar posts in Sheffield and Manchester, England, and in Montreal, Canada. He retired to Nebraska in 1912, where he died on October 7, 1915, at Auburn.

Way Back When

30 YEARS AGO
December 2, 1943. A. R. Ellis, who holds a farm sale Friday, has rented Mrs. Katherine Gaertner's building on Main Street for the Firestone Store he will open in January. An addition will be built to the rear of the structure next summer. Kenneth Beckman and George Beckman, cousins, are accepting new church charges. The former, who served at Beaver City four and a half years, went to Gering. The latter goes to Plattsmouth. Examinations for Wayne postmastership were taken at the local office Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strahan, Mrs. Marie Brittain, J. J. Steele, Howard James and Ernest Samuelson. Oscar Liedtke conducted the tests. Walter Savidge bought from Mrs. J. M. McMurphy the latter's Main Street building. Subscription rates of The Wayne Herald have gone up to $2.50. Maj. Loren Dale Everett, formerly of Wayne, is pictured in Sunday's Omaha World Herald pinning a pair of silver wings on Shirley Temple after the former child movie star had been selected as "Kid Sister" by members of the Squadron 113 at El Toro, Calif.

25 YEARS AGO
December 2, 1948: The city council ordered three traffic signals for the business district. They will be placed on Main at Second and Third and Fourth. Mrs. Harry Rhudy, Winside, first prize winner in the recent Wayne Herald trade expansion campaign, last Saturday received her award — a new Chevrolet. Dr. J. T. Gillespie has sold his optometry practice here to Dr. William Koeber, Sioux City, and will move to Norfolk soon to be associated with his brother, Dr. F. W. Gillespie. Otto Olson is erecting a quonset building in the 100 block and will move his used car business there in a few days. It was disclosed that approximately 70 per cent of the roads in Nebraska need improving. The new vocational agriculture building south of the high school will be opened for display Saturday.

20 YEARS AGO
December 3, 1953: A disease which has been a serious threat to cattle in recent years now is causing swine losses in the midwestern "hog belt." The disease is called Leptospirosis. Mrs. Eimer Nielsen, Winside, was elected Winside Rebekah Lodge head. Edward Seymour, Wayne, escaped injury last Wednesday when his car collided with another vehicle near Auburn, Ia. Dr. Robert Bonhack, stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., has been promoted to captain in the Army medical corps. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ware have sold their home at 909 Logan Street and plan to move to Shenandoah, Ia. Samuel Hei Kwong Yung, Hong Kong, will spend the month of January visiting the Wayne school system.

15 YEARS AGO
December 11, 1958: The interior and contents of a house trailer on the Ernfrid Alvin farm were almost completely destroyed by a fire about 4 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Marian Jordan, Carroll, and Mrs. Alice Johnson, Wayne, represented the Wayne County Rural Teachers Association at the annual delegate assembly of the Nebraska State Education Association in Lincoln Friday and Saturday. Ernest Steffen was re-elected president of the Wayne County Farmers Union at the group's annual meeting last Monday night at the Wayne REA building. Santa Claus made his first appearance in Wayne Thursday to give NE Nebraska children a chance to make known their wishes for Christmas gifts. County Supt. Gladys M. Porter attended the annual meeting of the Nebraska Association of County Superintendents last Tuesday through Friday at Lincoln.

10 YEARS AGO
December 5, 1963: Don Reed, Wayne attorney, has been elected to a second term on the board of directors of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce. Thieves entered four Allen business places Thursday night, netting them about $20. About $250 damage was done to the Hutchings Kicker, Farmers Co-op Elevator, Good's Garage and Allen Lumber Co. where thieves gained entrance. Mrs. Wanda Owens will take over the duties of Wayne Chamber of Commerce manager Jan. 1. She succeeds Ken Parke. Donald Dean, Wayne, missed winning $200 Friday night when he wasn't present for the Silver Dollar Night drawing. Elected to the Wayne County Historical Society board of directors at the meeting Monday at the courthouse were Mrs. Leland Thompson, Mrs. Dave Theophilus, Mrs. Dorothy Kabisch, Dave Garwood, Charles Denesia and Robert Boeckenhauer.

OBSERVATIONS

They need your help

Members of the Wayne High marching band have a good start on collecting the $12,000 needed to travel to Dallas for the 1974 Cotton Bowl Parade and football game between Nebraska and Texas on January 1.
But they are going to need help from a lot of local and area residents and businesses to reach that goal. You can do your part.
For example, you could hire some of the students to rake leaves around your home or clean up the rear of your businesses. You will have made your contribution to the fund drive, but you will have received something in return.
You also can plan on taking in some of the events the band students have planned to raise money. You might take your family to the soup supper, buy something at the bake sale, take in the movie titled "Let the Good Times Roll" and the like. It will help the students reach their goal and will provide you with something in return.

Several businesses have been considering ways they can raise money for the trip through promotions in their stores. We hope they come up with some good ideas, prompting other businesses to do similar things.
It's not going to be easy to raise that much money in such a short time, that's for sure. But if the students work hard at it — and especially if they offer people something in return for the money they contribute toward the goal — they shouldn't have much trouble in collecting that $12,000.

Thought for the day

Some good may come of it

Something good has to come out of the unfortunate and unsettling experience of having a Wayne County commissioner face a charge of malfeasance by a public official.
We hope the good amounts to public officials taking more care in how they handle public funds. If that occurs in the numerous local bodies which handle public money, the experience will have been a good one for the county.
Public officials too often come to think that they are the city, the school system, the hospital or the county when they merely are nothing more than persons chosen to represent the public in a fair, honest manner. Too often those officials come to look upon public money as theirs to spend and use as they see fit when they merely are nothing more than the caretakers of those funds.
Those are dangerous attitudes for persons in public office to adopt, for they can lead to the same corruption on the local level as has been revealed on the national level. However, if that happens here, those of us who don't care about local government are going to have to share the blame for that corruption. If we are not interested enough in what is going on in our county, city and schools to take an active part in their operation, we can't yell too loudly when something goes wrong with them.

'Speak Out' asks readers: What's wrong, what's right with Wayne?

What's wrong with Wayne? What's right with it? What would you do to make the community a better place to live? What would you offer citizens that isn't being offered them already? What changes would you make in services they are getting?
Those are questions we are asking our readers in our latest "Speak Out" — a periodical effort by the newspaper to let readers make their thoughts known on a variety of subjects.
You can take part in the latest survey — our "Community Attitude Survey" — by filling out the form below and mailing it back to us or dropping it off at the newspaper office within the next few days.

Results of the survey should give us and others some idea as to the areas citizens think are most important right now. If the results show a large concern in one or two specific places, maybe something can be done to improve the community and make it a better place to live.

If more than one in your family wishes to fill out the survey form, stop in at the newspaper office and ask for copies of the form for them. The more returns we get in this latest survey, the more reliable the results will be.
If you wish, use a separate sheet of paper to make any comments you would like.
Results of the survey will be published within the next few weeks.

Community Attitude Survey

In the following list of possible areas of community concern, please check the FIVE which you feel are the most important and should have the highest priority in terms of government and citizen action in order to make Wayne a better community.

'73 Personal Property Tax Exemption Saves Farmers, Businesses $65,000

Farmers and businessmen in Wayne County saved just over $65,000 on their personal property tax bills this year, reports county assessor Doris Stipp.

Reason for the savings was the personal property tax exemption which went into effect the first of this year, she notes.

Next year, she said, because the amount of personal property businessmen and farmers can exempt will jump from the present 12.5 per cent to 25 per cent on Jan. 1. The following year, the exemption will increase to 37.5 per cent, the level at which it will remain under present state law.

The exemption this year allowed farmers to exempt 12.5 per cent of the actual value of such things as livestock, machinery, equipment, feed, fertilizer, poultry, grain and seed.

Businessmen were allowed to deduct 12.5 per cent of their business inventories.

The exemption lies in with the state's efforts to place less emphasis on personal property for tax purposes and more emphasis on sales and income taxes, according to county officials.

Farmers realized the greatest savings under the exemption, figures at the county assessor's office reveal. They saved $55,473 by exempting some of their farm machinery and the like from taxation.

Businessmen in and around Wayne, Winside, Carroll, Hoskins and Sholes saved $9,573 on their business inventories, which includes everything from boxes of shoes in a clothing store to shelves of food in a grocery store.

The majority of the businesses claiming exemptions were in Wayne. A total of 120 local firms realized savings of $7,874 through the exemption. In addition, 15 businesses east and north of Wayne saved $794 through the exemption.

Had it not been for the tax exemption, this year's personal property tax bill sent to farmers and businesses in the county would have been $629,420 instead of the actual bill of $564,374.

Following are the amounts saved through the exemption:

Farm Machinery, Equipment	$15,351
Livestock	$34,206
Feed, Fertilizer	$1,786
Poultry, Fish, etc.	$ 28
Grain, Seed	$ 4,107
Business Inventories	$ 9,573
Total	$65,044

DON'T GET BURNED

Getting burned during the approaching holiday season is highly possible unless families observe safety precautions in all their activities around the home.

Take a few minutes now to consider the following:

- Burn prevention starts with you.
- Playing with matches by pre-school children is a leading cause of clothing ignition. Adults and older children have a responsibility to set a good example in the safe use and storage of matches.
- Flammable liquids need to be stored away from heating units — preferably not in the house. Use only in well-ventilated areas.
- Scalds and grease fires are dangers associated with gas and electric stoves when the home maker gets in a hurry.
- Make frequent checks on the condition of the oil or gas furnace in the home.
- Replace frayed or worn electric cords on appliances.
- Decorative candles add a festive mood to the holiday table or buffet, but should never be left unattended while they are burning.
- Screens need to be firmly in place when a fireplace is in use to prevent sparks escaping or people getting too close to the flame.
- Disconnect electric blanket cord from electrical outlet when not in use; don't run the risk that the "off" button is not working.
- Holiday shopping? Think "burn prevention" when purchasing gifts. Toys and handi-craft kits that use heat, flame or flammable fluids require education and supervision for their safe use.
- Too many home fires have resulted from folks leaving the Christmas string of lights burning when they left the house.
- Families should plan escape routes from the house and have a practice drill frequently.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Pals and Partners

Fifteen youths became new members of the Pals and Partners 4-H Club when they met Nov. 23 at the Northeast Station, Concord. Twenty-nine members were present.

Newly elected officers are Bryan Ruwe, president; Kirk Echtenkamp, vice president; Linda Heithold, secretary; Cheryl Roebber, treasurer, and Laura Blenderman, news reporter. Organizational leaders are the Harlan Ruwes, and assistant leaders are the Dennis Meyers.

Proceeds from the fair were distributed among members. Lunch was served by Kevin and Kirk Echtenkamp.

Next meeting will be Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. at the Northeast Station. News reporter, Laura Blenderman.

CHANGE

Four-H, like any organization, must change to keep up with the times, and Wayne County 4-H is no exception.

But it is even better, if an organization anticipates a need for change and does something about it. A good example of this is our 4-H beef rate of gain contest.

A number of years ago Harold Ingalls, then Wayne County extension agent, realized there was a need to make the 4-H market beef project more practical and educational. Harold realized that one of the easier to obtain as well as useful performance traits of market animals is their rate of gain, so he started such a program in Wayne County eight or nine years ago. Animals are weighed in March and again at fair time and placed in classes according to their starting weight.

State Fair and Ak-Sar Ben this year has passed a requirement that all 4-H market beef shown at their shows must be weighed at a central point in each county in 1974. This information will be considered when the animals are judged at the show.

The sheep members decided to follow the idea of the beef project and start a rate of gain for all market sheep. They intend to bring all market lambs into a central point early in June where they will be weighed and sheared by a professional.

Breed classifications will be eliminated in the market lamb class and instead the animals will be divided by weight. There also will be a farm flock production testing division.

This flock production testing division is a new one to me and was suggested by Steve Gramlich, a 4-H member from Pleasant Valley 4-H Club. It requires members to keep records on their entire flock of sheep, records that all farmers would find useful on their own farm. Steve has agreed as a junior leader to help interested 4-H members set up their own program.

Last but not least, Wayne County will have a 4-H Wool Show, probably the first in the state. This show should create a lot of interest.

Area Youth Group Plan Sleigh Ride

Next meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Rural Urban Youth will be a sleigh riding party Saturday at the Northeast Station a mile east of Concord.

Election of officers for the coming year will be held during the meeting, and lunch will be served.

Last month the youth group, open to any area young people, went roller skating at Wakefield. A business meeting and lunch at the Northeast Station was held following the meeting.

sheep together in the stock yard's area.

IN CLOSING

Four H is just like life in that things don't always turn out right the first time.

Lesli Greunke, Modern Misses 4-H Club, wrote in her 4-H record book that the first time she baked cream puffs they were so big they ran over the pan sides and baked together. Lesli said that nobody would eat them, but the pigs thought they were good. Needless to say, she kept practicing, and won a blue ribbon at the county fair.

I'll be this disappointed a lot of the pigs on her farm.

'Mulch Tillage Is Way To Cut Fuel $10 Million'

Gene Phillips, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service in Stanton County, told the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District board of directors, last week that the use of mulch-tillage could save as much as $10 million in fuel costs in the Lower Elkhorn NRD each year.

Plans are being laid at the present time to promote the use of minimum or mulch tillage operations on the cropland in the NRD.

His projections were made on the basis of 2.5 gallons of fuel saved per acre assuming 45 per cent of the land area under cultivation. Phillips also showed the erosion control potential of mulch tillage experiments in Stanton County.

During the meeting the board chose the nine subdivision proposals for determining candidates for the 1974 election of directors. Two directors from each subdistrict plus one man at large will set up a 19-man board to lead the affairs of the NRD in the future.

The "Lands for Wildlife" practice was added to the list of practices assisted with under the Land and Water Development Assistance Program of the Lower Elkhorn NRD. This practice replaces the CAP Lands Program that was formerly contained in the REAP-Pro-

Survey to Ask About Workers On Area Farms

A sample of households in the Wayne area will be interviewed in the federal government's annual Hired Farm Workers survey during next week.

The survey is conducted by the Bureau of the Census, part of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration. Information will be obtained about farm work done for pay during the past five years and about migratory farm work. The farm work questions are in addition to the ones asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

You may not know it... but we appreciate the heck out of you!

- Because without you, we wouldn't be able to hold our annual 4-H BABY BEEF SALE.
- Because without you, we wouldn't have TROPHIES to give away to a whole lot of kids at the fair.
- Because without you, we wouldn't have any SCHOLARSHIPS to give away for such things as 4-H Club Week, District 4-H Camp and Leadership Camp.
- Because without you, we wouldn't have special PREMIUM MONEY to give away to 4-H'ers at the annual 4-H Achievement Night.
- And because without you, we wouldn't be able to do the MOST OF OTHER THINGS in 4-H throughout WAYNE COUNTY.

Thone Writes: Time and Fuel Running Out, So Nation Needs Massive Research Effort

By CHARLES THONE
"A national effort is needed on energy research equal to that used in developing the atomic bomb and in putting a man on the moon."
The full House Government Operations Committee is expected to report out by Friday a bill I am co-sponsoring to provide an agency for such an effort. A subcommittee completed hearings on our bill (H.R. 11510) on Nov. 30.
We propose to use the Atomic Energy Commission as the base in creating a new independent agency, the Energy Resource and Development Administration. The AEC already has about 25,000 scientific personnel engaged in a variety of research. Concentrated in this new agency would be fragmented research now being done by the Department of Interior, Environmental Protection Agency and the National Science Foundation.
The United States has the capabilities of becoming self sufficient for Charles Thone, representative from Nebraska's First Congressional District, calls for a massive effort by the national government to study new energy research in his latest letter to his constituents. He has proposed a bill which would create the Energy Resource and Development Administration.

energy — or, at the least, of being independent of energy sources outside of the Western Hemisphere. We have the scientific capabilities to solve our problems. We also have about half of the world's known coal supplies, vast amounts of oil deposits that haven't been drilled yet and huge resources of shale oil.
The new agency would be given a mandate to undertake a wide variety of research. One of the most productive efforts immediately would be research on energy conservation. Our automobiles, our homes, our office buildings and our industries are very inefficient in converting fuel to our needs. The basic science of electrical generation hasn't changed much since Thomas Edison, and we waste more fuel in a power plant than we succeed change our pattern of fuel use. At the present about 80 per cent of our power is coming from petroleum. Our oil and natural gas, however, make up only about 20 per cent of our recoverable reserves of fossil fuels, compared to 80 per cent in coal. Even anticipating the growth in use of coal, the U. S. has enough to last at least a century.

We must speed up research on more sophisticated means of using nuclear power. There are vast storehouses of steam deep within the earth that we can put to work to serve us, if we develop the technology.
Capturing energy from the sun offers both short- and long-range opportunities for helping solve our crisis. Very close to widespread use is the pump for a home to store the heat of the day and the cool of the night and bring them back later to reach desirable temperatures. Many years of research, however, will be needed before we can use rays from the sun to create electricity on an economical basis.

The bill I am co-sponsoring also puts the licensing and regulatory activities of the present Atomic Energy Commission into a new agency, the Nuclear Energy Commission. This would put an end to the present strange situation, where the Atomic Energy Commission both promotes uses of atomic energy and regulates them. The new regulatory agency must speed up granting licenses to build nuclear power plants. At present, an applicant waits nine to 10 years to get a license.
We have delayed too long in taking necessary steps to prevent the inconvenience and economic wastefulness that are about to occur. We have lost essential lead time. We already are on the verge of being too late. We're running out of time. We cannot afford further delays. Congress must act now to create an agency to solve our energy problems and make a commitment to back up that agency."

Kiwanians Get 1st Look at WHS Choir

Wayne Kiwanians got into the Christmas mood Monday afternoon, thanks to musical numbers by the Wayne High School stage choir.

Director Larry Stratman, in his first year at the high school, led the group in its presentation of "Minute Carol," "Midnight Carol," "Olig-Lithe Town" and "Christmas Be Merry."

The 10-minute program introduced Kiwanians to the first ever stage choir at Wayne High. According to Stratman, a Kearney State graduate, 12 members belong to the singing group as well as pianist Jane Ring.

"We intend to have a concert Dec. 16 at the high school's lecture hall," he told members. "Everyone is welcome to the 3 p.m. session."

To be included in the production are musicals by the concert choir as well as the girls' choir.

After the presentation, the Kiwanis board voted to increase the club's contributions to the Wayne Explorer Post to $150 from $100. The members also voted to donate $50 to the Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha, and approved donating $100 to the Wayne High marching band Cotton Bowl fund. The membership application by Harry Wert also was approved by the board.

Next Monday evening Kiwanians will host the South Sioux City chapter in a special meeting to be held at the Wayne State Student Center. The 7 p.m. meal will take the place of the regular noon meeting at the city auditorium.

WAYNE HIGH'S first-year stage choir gives Wayne Kiwanians a sample of their singing during the club's meeting Monday. According to Larry Stratman, instructor, the group has 12 members including Jane Ring who plays the piano. Singing in the group are, from left, Diane Stoltenberg, Kay Pankratz, Kay Pierson (hidden), Jean Ring, Patty Albertsen and Gigi Goblirsch. Also in the group are Phil Koeber, Dave Owens, Mark Cramer, Bob Bergt, Doug Temme and Ken Baier.

Safety Tips

Be safety minded when you buy toys for your children.

Some toys are extremely attractive to small children, but very dangerous. Protect the young child from accidents by avoiding the purchase of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys or toys with sharp, pointed characteristics.

Certain toys are dangerous because of their use. The Nebraska Medical Association reminds you that toys made of lead or colored with lead-based paints are apt to be poisonous.

If you should choose an electric toy gadget, check it carefully to make certain it cannot shock your child and make sure the child learns proper operation and safety.

Never let small children play with sharp Christmas ornaments, burnt-out light bulbs or Christmas tree wires.

Santa Says Send Letters to Us

A portly visitor, clad in a red, fur trimmed suit, and chuckling merrily about his favorite month being December, stopped in the Herald office this week to say that he'd need some help in collecting his mail again this Christmas.

As you've probably already guessed, the gentleman was the distinguished Mr. Claus from the North Pole. Santa, as he is known to most people, asked if we would gather his letters from area children and print them in the paper where he would be sure to see them.

"We can't get those elves busy on orders until we get some more letters," he said, "and time is running short!"

Of course we agreed to help him. So as soon as you have your letters ready, boys and girls, mail them to Santa Claus, c/o The Wayne Herald, 114 Main Street, Wayne 68787.

Allen Couple

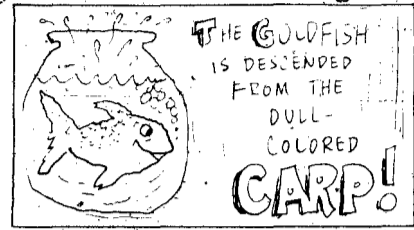

Asked to Join Midland Group

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Carr of Allen have been invited to become members of the National Parent Committee of Midland Lutheran College in Fremont.

The committee, founded in 1969, is composed of 10 to 15 couples. New members are usually parents of freshmen or sophomore students.

The committee advises the president and members of the board of trustees and acts as a sounding board for the college in its relations with students and parents. Committee members act as ambassadors for Midland, plan an annual parents day each fall and concern themselves with other special campus events involving parents. The committee also sponsors the Midland Parent Fund.

It was decided at the committee's October meeting that the Carrs would be invited to become members.

2 Bills for Bridge Work

Wayne County commissioners Tuesday approved spending $16,324 out of federal revenue sharing funds for work done on replacing a bridge east of Win- side.

The new bridge is located three miles east and one-quarter north of Win- side.

Approved by the commissioners were bills of $15,018 from Wheeler Lumber Co. of Norfolk for materials and $1,306 from Larsen Lumber and Grain of Pender for concrete. The bridge has a concrete deck.

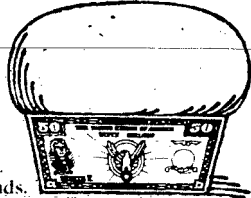

Most of the work on the bridge was completed in November, according to county roads superintendent Bob Nissen, but some grading work remains to be done. Total cost of the project will be between $23,000 and $25,000.

Swinney Bridge Construction of Wayne had the contract on the project.

Discussed during the commissioners' meeting was the possibility of changing the group health and accident insurance coverage now provided county employees.

Junie Moon, Arthur and Warren are the main characters in the weekend production by the Wayne High School Drama Club, "Tail Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon." The three become friends when all are hospitalized for various physical ailments, but the story is of a larger battle that each faces with a kind of mental indisposi- tion.

'Junie Moon' Touching Story Of People Searching for Love

Each has felt the bitter pain of rejection. Junie Moon, her face scarred from acid thrown by an im- passioned boyfriend, has become cynical. Arthur, gentle and sensitive, but threatened by a progressive nervous disorder, is anxious to prove that he is a man. Warren, a paraplegic as the result of a bizarre shooting incident years before, tries to surround himself with beautiful people, beautiful things and beautiful dreams as a substitute for love.

A search for love and acceptance is the common bond between the three. And they decide, upon their release from the hospital, to continue the search for that elusive element to- gether. They rent a house and move in.

Act I of the D.D. Brooke play is set in the hospital day room and intro- duces the audience to the characters and their plight.

Act II follows the three lead charac- ters to their new home and watches their progress at reentering the world.

Act III is the outcome of their experiment and the promise of tomor- row.

Arthur's fight ends in death during a touching scene with Junie, and his death forces her to realize she had loved him. And if the realization was too late to reassure him, it at least provides her with hope for the future.

The encounter with the other two has given Warren, a rather selfish and obnoxious fellow, the opportunity to see himself as he really is, and to accept that self, however crippled—it might be.

The play had far less depth than did Marjorie Kellogg's original novel, but at the same time was less depressing.

Directed by Ted Blönderman and student director Mark Cramer, the Wayne High production featured an exceptionally strong cast. The acting was outstanding, considering the demands made on such a youthful troupe by the deep emotional scars around which this story centered.

Erin O'Donnell as Junie Moon, Mike Schmidt as Arthur and Phil-Koebler as Warren, in spite of being on stage for almost the entire length of the play, seldom dropped character, and were pretty much in control of their lines. They displayed keen insight into the feelings of those they portrayed, particularly in the concluding scene.

Debi Wolske as the aging Minnie and Gigi Goblirsch as Nurse Oxford, again in this production, showed a knack for entertaining with character parts. Virgil Kardell amused the audience with the antics and com- ments of the nosy neighbor, Sidney.

The performance by Lori Lesh as Nurse Holt was notable because of her complete identity with the role. Tim Wert, playing Mario of the fish shop, assumed with apparent ease the role of the understanding outsider who provides the first glimmer of hope to the trio of rejects.

Dr. Kirkland was portrayed by Paul Kirtley. John Goren, another patient, was played by Donn Dutton, and Marilyn, his girl, was played by Lisa Tooker. Gregory, one of Warren's beautiful people, was played by Terri Bigelow.

The sets for "Junie Moon" were charming; lighting was quite effec- tive; makeup was realistic and unaf- fected. Warren's costume changes were delightfully in character. Junie's entire lack of costume variation might have been less objectionable had her attire been shabbier in display of her withdrawal.

The one really disturbing element of the production Friday night was the interruption of the story with indis- tinct flashbacks. It was practically impossible to understand offstage voices and to determine to whom they belonged. The accompanying projected scenes, flashed on stage, were for the most part equally unclear.

Though the show, because of the nature of the story, was not the most impressive ever done by Wayne High the ability of the department as a whole and of the students individually has seldom been more evident.

OBITUARIES

Martha Damme

Funeral services for Martha Damme of Winside are set for 2 p.m. today (Thursday) at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside. She died Tuesday at the Pierce Manor at the age of 82 years.

The body will lie in state at the Wiltse Funeral Home, Winside, until time of services.

The Rev. G. W. Gottberg will officiate. Pallbearers are Warren Damme, Leroy Damme, Carl Ehlers, Alvin Ehlers, George Ehlers and Harry Suehl. Burial will be in the Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside.

She was born March 11, 1891 to Ludwig and Christina Delfs Ehlers at Neu Munster, Germany. At the age of three she moved to the United States with her family and settled near Winside.

On May 23, 1917 she was united in marriage to John Damme at Wayne. The couple lived south of Wayne for a short time and then moved to Gurlay where they resided for seven years. In 1935 they moved back to Winside where they farmed until 1950 when they purchased the tavern in Winside.

Following her husband's death, she continued to live in Winside until recently when she moved to the Pierce Manor. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran of Winside.

She is survived by one son, William of Lincoln, one daughter, Mrs. Wilfred (Marian) Lenzen of St. James, Minn.; six grandchildren, and one brother, Louis of Norfolk. Preceding her in death were her husband, an infant daughter, an infant grandson, three brothers and two sisters.

Raymond Wittler

Former Hoskins resident, Raymond Wittler, 57, of St. Joseph, Mo., died Thursday, in a Norfolk hospital following injuries received in a car accident last week near Madison.

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday morning at the First Methodist Church, Hoskins; with the Rev. Harold Mitchell officiating. Serving as pallbearers were Gerald Wittler, Leland Wittler, Virgil Wittler, Irvin Ebinger, Orville Wittler and Neal Wittler. Burial was in the Hillcrest Memorial Park Cemetery, Norfolk.

He was born at Jansen May 30, 1916, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wittler. He was married to Lorene Brandenburg in 1946 at Norfolk.

A World War II veteran, he had lived at Hoskins, Winside, Lincoln and in Texas before moving to St. Joseph, Mo., in 1972 where he owned and operated the Shangri-La Motel.

Preceding him in death were his parents, his wife, three brothers and one sister.

Survivors include two sons, Terry of Lincoln and Roger of St. Joseph, Mo.; eight brothers, George, Carl and Arnold, all of Hoskins, Julius of Elmwood, Lawrence of Quincy, Ill., Edward of Jansen, Louis of Lake Charles, La. and Arthur of Hampton, Ga., and two sisters, Mrs. Hallett (Lydia) Schmidt of Madison and Mrs. Fred (Sophia) Ebinger of Elmwood.

A long-term project to completely revise and update its computer system to process all compensation, pension and education benefits is being undertaken by the Veterans Administration.

Traffic Hazard Is Repaired

A CONSTRUCTION FIRM from Emerson has repaired a traffic hazard on the road separating Dixon County and Wayne County three miles east and two north of Wayne. Officials for Chicago and Northwestern Railroad ordered the work done after erosion had eaten away at the road bed and left a deep drop-off. The wrecked car in the background had been dumped in the washed out area, apparently in an attempt to fill further erosion. The railroad was responsible for the work since the washout was inside its right of way.

Counselor at WH Attends Conference

Ken Carlson, guidance counselor at Wayne High School, attended the Nebraska Conference on Special Needs of School-Age Parents this week at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln.

The conference held Wednesday and today (Thursday), was sponsored by the Center for Human Services—the state department subdivisions in health, education and public welfare, the Nebraska State School Boards Association and the Nebraska Medical Association.

The conference is designed to develop an awareness of the many-faceted needs of school age parents and their children, develop a regional organization within the state to implement decisions made at the conference to begin coordinating services to school age parents and their children, and begin the development of regional referral systems between and among professionals, services and programs.

While the conference was open to all who chose to attend, it was primarily directed toward public

School Officials at Negotiations Talk

Francis Haun, superintendent of the Wayne Carroll school system, and Irvin Brandt, president of the school board, last week attended a two day meeting in Grand Island for school administrators and board members involved in teaching negotiations.

The Thursday-Friday meeting was sponsored by the Nebraska State School Boards Association.

Discussed during the meeting were methods in which local school districts can cut down on fuel consumption this winter.

for solutions to identified problems. A regional design was utilized so that people from each area of the state could develop coordinated services and referral systems within their region.

Keynote speaker at the conference was Dr. Fredrick C. Green, associate director of Children's Hospital, National Medical Center, Washington, D. C. Dr. Charles Field from the Nebraska Medical Center and Gerald D. Nantz, program director for the Center for Human Services in Omaha, also were featured speakers for the conference.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wiltse
"Show me the manner in which a nation or community cares for its dead..."

As the famous statesman of England observed, a great deal can be learned about a people by studying the manner in which they conduct their traditional funeral ceremonies.

Flamboyant or extravagant rituals do not impress the student of human nature but a decent respect for the feelings of survivors and a desire to do honor to the memory of the departed tells a great deal about the basic character of a civilization.

You can be sure your wishes are carried out when you specify the details of your own memorial service well in advance of need. We are available to explain the possible benefits to you, in our office or in the privacy of your home, as you prefer. Just phone.

Gibson's APPLIANCES THEY LAST

To our old friends and new.

Our foremost joy of The Holiday Season is the warm feeling in renewing old friendships and discovering new friends.

For fifty-one years, we at Kuhn's make special plans for the holiday season. This year 1973, our store will not be as bright with holiday lights inside and we will have no outside Christmas lighted decorations to entice you inside.

We feel that Kuhn's must do everything possible to help relieve the national energy crisis. We know you feel this way too.

Nevertheless, our customer relation policies are unchanged. These are not seasonal nor affected by the energy shortage. Nor are they packed away at the end of a holiday season.

Your good will is our most important asset. Fifty-one years here taught us that satisfied customers are our best friends — a reason we keep on having birthdays.

Happy holidays to each and every one of you.

Mighty Mizzou Nets Big Haul

It was quite a haul of fish that biology students in the parasitology class brought home from the Missouri River last Tuesday.

And more important, quite a haul of miscellaneous parasites and tapeworms they found when they dissected the dozen or so fish. This, of course, was the purpose of their fishing venture, and everybody including Prof. Jewell Schock declared it successful.

The prize catch had to be a paddlefish snagged by Dale Fjell. It measured nearly four feet long and weighed 2.54 kilos. (For non-metric oriented types, that translates to about 16 1/2 pounds.)

Back in the lab, the class promptly carved up the fish to find parasites. They had to do it soon, preferably before the fish died or soon after, because parasites tend to migrate from one fish organ to another if they die rather quickly if the fish dies.

As expected, all the fish harbored some parasites, in varying number and kind. This is normal, Schock explained. Nearly all fish carry parasites, no matter where they live.

Is this dangerous to people who eat fish? No, says Schock, if the fish is properly cooked. There is one possible exception. Tapeworms in an early stage of development — before they emerge to the worm stage — may survive insufficient cooking. People who eat fish can figure out what can happen then.

Meeting Topic: Better ITV Use

How to use instructional television more effectively is the subject of a meeting scheduled on campus Thursday by the State Department of Education.

This event results from a series of meetings last spring which explored the feasibility of establishing Area ITV Utilization Councils.

Larry E. Bauer, state ITV utilization consultant, described the purpose as (1) to provide closer liaison between schools and the Department of Education ITV services, and (2) to provide a vehicle for meaningful school involvement in ITV planning and use.

Northeast Nebraska school superintendents and Educational Service Unit administrators will attend the meeting from 2 to 4 Thursday in Conn Library.

WHOPPERS: Dale Fjell is about to pop his suspenders as he displays the paddlefish he caught at Gavins Point, and Joan Meyer exhibits another specimen caught on a biology class trip to collect fish for parasite study.

Be Careful on Highways. This Winter, DOR Urges

'Tis the season to be jolly. 'Tis also the season for Nebraska Department of Roads snow removal equipment to be out working on the state's highways, so when you overtake a snow plow or sander this winter, do so with caution, says the Nebraska Department of Roads.

Forty seven per cent of last year's collisions involving DOR snow removal equipment occurred when some other vehicle attempted to overtake a snow plow or sander from the rear, according to Ken Sieckmeyer, director of DOR's safety division.

The Nebraska Department of Roads uses three to seven ton trucks and motor graders for plowing snow, and generally a driver and a wing man operate the vehicles. The overall width of the plow is approximately nine feet, but when using the wing to plow snow off the shoulder, the plow may be as wide as 15 feet. The equipment has flashing lights and a "SNOW PLOW" sign mounted high on the back of the truck. The lights flash all of the time when the plow is working.

The flashing lights, indicator lights and reflective boards are on snow plows and sanders to increase their visibility to other drivers. The lights are effective, but even so, the Department's collision reports indicate that some drivers fail to see the plows in time, according to Sieckmeyer.

Apparently, drivers passing to the left or right on multilane highways, do not realize that snow blowing off the plow can blind them for a second or two, or that the ridge of snow left on the roadway can be hazardous. These factors, in combination with excessive speed for conditions, can throw the driver into a panic that leads to a sideswipe collision with the snow plow.

In addition, although the optimum plowing speed is 20 miles per hour, traffic and snow conditions may dictate slower or faster speeds. Because snow plows frequently move more slowly than traffic around them, and must also back up at times, the probability of a rear end collision is a very real hazard, Sieckmeyer says.

Drivers can get around the snow plows and sanders without risking a collision or a broken windshield, by using patience and good judgment and allowing plenty of distance between themselves and the snow removal equipment, he adds.

The statement, formulated by the National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, is a pledge where by employers promise to help the participation of their eligible employees, in National Guard and Reserve programs.

W S C Theater To Do Six Shows

The WSC Theatre Department will present "Tonight at Eight," the student directed one act plays, December 8, 9, 10 and 11 in Ramsey Theater on the campus in Wayne.

The six one acts will be divided into two groups; the first to be presented December 8 and 10, and the second on December 9 and 11. All performances are free to students.

"Please No Flowers," by Joel Ensana; "Cupid Is a Bum, Is a Bum, Is a Bum," by John Kirkpatrick, and O. Henry's "The Gift of the Magi" make up the Dec. 8 and 10 program.

The bill on the 9th and 11th is "Winners," by Brian Kerner; "The Ugly Duckling," by A. A. Milne, and "The Diary of Adam and Eve," by Mark Twain and adapted for stage by Mark Bucco.

"Please No Flowers," will be directed by Kass Kimer, with help from Bernard Batenhorst. The cast includes, Benny Batenhorst, Bev Lukefahr, Maureen Persinger, Sue Morrison, Rick Pippitt, Diane Wuerth, Debbie Franco, Leroy von Gian and Diane Baker.

Ron Kluck will direct Julie Tippy, Lauren Rasmussen, Ed Havlovic, Bob Peters, Dan Otto, Harold Grant and Carolyn Roberts in a modern comedy, "Cupid is a Bum, Is a Bum, Is a Bum." Kluck's assistant director is Julie Tippy.

A Christmas story by O. Henry, "The Gift of the Magi," is being directed by Terri O'Donnell with assistance from Steve Placek. Placek is also in the cast along with his brother Paul, Lucie Kuchar, Mary E. Hanson, Judy Roberts and Doug Gooder.

Friel's "Winners," is directed by Sherri Skellton. The characters are portrayed by Greg Black, Jackie Rupp, John Stark and Lorie Adams. Assistant director is John Pigg.

"The Ugly Duckling," a social satire, will star Mike Schneidt, Barbara Curry, Deb Fellows, Dave Borron, Connie Morrow, Kevin Bacon and Joe Manley. Mike Carruthers is directing with Manley's assistance.

"The Diary of Adam and Eve," one of Twain's funniest, will be directed by Martin Torre. Sam Reynolds is helping in direction. Noel Rennerfeldt, Becky Miller and Janet Macklin are the cast members.

The shows will start every night at eight. For further information, contact the Theatre Department office at 375-2200 Ext. 234.

Christmas Cheer

LOCAL CIVIC GROUPS, service organizations and interested individuals are encouraged to participate in activities at Dahl Care Centre. The Wayne County Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees gather at the Centre each year to help spread some Christmas cheer to the residents by decorating the tree.

Where Caring Makes The Big Difference!

The staff at Dahl Care Centre is dedicated to living up to its motto, "Where Caring Makes the Difference!" In addition to this dedication, the 103-bed Centre has an impressive list of features to make its guests as comfortable as possible.

- Modern facilities.
- Automatic fire protection.
- Electric heat (zone controlled).
- Central dining room facilities with good home-cooked meals.
- Private and semi-private rooms.
- Beauty and barber shops.
- Registered nurse in charge.
- Intercom and public address system (church services are broadcast every Sunday).
- Open air patio.
- Special diets as prescribed by doctors.
- Activity program.
- Licensed physical therapist.

Long-term Illnesses Get Professional Care

Persons with long-term illnesses such as hardening of the arteries, diabetes, paralysis, fractures or the disabling infirmities of age may be found at Dahl Care Centre.

Such conditions usually demand so much attention from the family that it is impossible to provide adequate care. In addition, normal family life is disrupted and all suffer from the effort to provide the essentials of care.

Dahl Care Centre offers the professional care needed — care for which the average family is not trained and cannot provide in the home.

Volunteer Corps Serves Residents

A local chapter of the Volunteer Service Corps, an organization sponsored by the National Nursing Home Association, is being formed in Wayne.

Members of the organization will work in conjunction with Dahl Care Centre's planned activity program as well as fill the residents' idle hours by helping write cards and letters, taking members to church, participating in group sing-alongs and assisting with hobbies and crafts.

Persons interested in joining the Volunteer Service Corps in Wayne can learn more about the organization by contacting Ken Dahl, administrator of the Care Centre.

Four Phase Building Project Completed

Completion of an ambitious four-phase construction program which began over ten years ago marks the beginning of a new era for Dahl Care Centre, Wayne's modern 103-bed long term care facility.

Open house for the Centre is set for Sunday, December 9, from two to four p.m. The public is welcome.

Ken Dahl, administrator, stated that "this marks the fulfillment of a dream that started many years ago — that of bringing to the people of Wayne and the surrounding area a dignified care facility."

The dream started with Ken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Dahl, who began construction of the main 40 bed complex in 1962. The Dahls had operated a nursing home for the aged and infirm in the Dr. S. A. Lutgen Hospital in Wayne since November, 1948.

Ken purchased the nursing home from his parents in 1969 and initiated the second phase of construction. The 38-bed, two story unit located in front of the old hospital building was completed in 1972.

The old nursing home was also razed in that year, completing phase three.

The final phase was realized with construction of the 25 bed unit (with dining room, kitchen and laundry) in November of this year. In addition, the kitchen and dining room housed in the unit built in 1962 was remodeled into two two-bed rooms.

History Coming Down

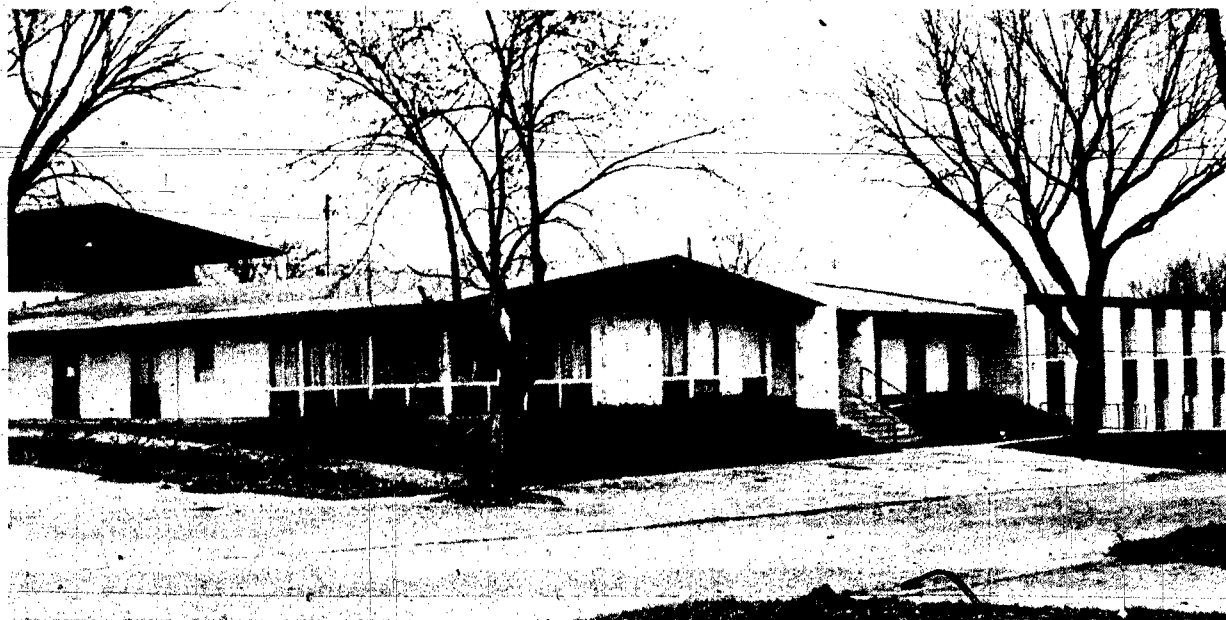

THE OLD LUTGEN HOSPITAL was torn down in November of 1972, completing phase three of Dahl Care Centre's construction program. The building served as the local hospital from 1920 until it was converted into a nursing home in 1948. The top photo shows preparation for expansion with the clearing of trees from the property on Wayne's main street. Workmen are shown below jockeying the large bucket of the crane on the rear side of the building.

Dahl Care Centre Offers Complete Care

The Dahl Care Centre is designed for safety and convenience as well as the comfort and enjoyment of its residents. There are hand rails in all corridors and "grab bars" in the toilets and bathing areas.

Nurses' control stations are located in each unit. From these points the nurse-in-charge can handle any situation at any time — whether it be telephone, inter-communication, public address or guest's call system. In addition, the control station in the main unit allows the nurse easy access to residents in the lounge area and to the public. There is 24 hour nursing service.

Directly behind the nurses' control stations are drug rooms where medications are carefully stored and dispensed upon order of the guest's physician. There is also space for additional medical supplies as well as complete medical records of the residents.

Ken Dahl, administrator, points out that residents have the privilege of selecting their own physician and clergyman. They also enjoy the same privileges that they would in their own home, except in cases of a standard policy of the Centre. "The rights and privileges of the individual are respected," he said.

The all stainless steel kitchen and colorful dining room are located in the west wing. Here special attention is given to such diets as may be recommended by the physician.

A fully equipped beauty room and barber shop are available to the residents. Local beauticians, licensed by the state, visit the Centre upon request.

Sometime in the near future a spacious patio will be completed between the three wings. Plans are for it to be concreted, lighted and equipped with lawn furniture. The area is enclosed on all sides and gives good protection against the weather.

Special attention has been given to the excellent communication system throughout the Centre. Besides the interior-exterior telephonic lines, a public address system will aid in locating someone almost instantaneously. It is also used for live church broadcasts every Sunday over the local radio station as well as other special programs. A turntable and AM FM radio provides soft music during leisure hours.

Mindful of the health of its residents, Dahl Care Centre requires physical examinations upon admission and screens all employees to make sure they are not carriers of infectious or contagious diseases.

The management and staff of Dahl Care Centre are delighted to offer people of this area a most gracious way of living with friends who will care for them.

Company Encouraged

Regardless of age, guests at Dahl Care Centre enjoy company. Administrator Ken Dahl offers some suggestions on how to make your visit even more pleasant.

Bring small surprises. Help your loved ones with their correspondence. Offer to write cards and letters — especially during the holiday seasons.

See that they are supplied with new clothing and incidentals as needed.

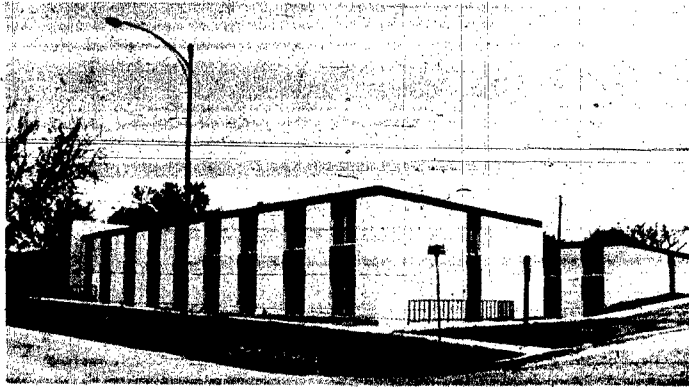

Do not bring food of any kind without the knowledge and permission of the Care Centre; it might be inconsistent with prescribed diets.

Encourage attendance at religious services when it is practical. The door is open to clergy of all faiths.

In addition, notify friends and relatives of your loved ones' new home.

Make your visits at times which are in the best interest of everyone concerned. Suggested hours are from one to five p.m. and seven to nine p.m.

Congratulations and Best Wishes
