Rural Lady Wins $500

Mrs. Gilbert Baier admitted that she may do a little extra late-minute Christmas shopping this year, thanks to the $500 prize she won Friday night in the final round of Wayne's Christmas Bucks promotion.

Stores helping put on the promotion this year. She was the second $500 winner in the promotion. Winning that first $500 prize were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry, who farm west of Wayne. In addition, five persons won $100 prizes in the month-long promotion.

Mrs. Baier said she and her husband, who farm seven miles south and one and three-quarter east of Wayne, will be able to put the $500 in coupons to good use in picking up additional Christmas presents this season.

163 Hogs Missing From Lot

The Wayne County sheriff's office is advising livestock owners to keep closer watch on their animals following what is likely the largest livestock theft ever reported in the county.

Chief Problem Facing Council On Thursday

Wayne city councilmen are scheduled to hold a special meeting Thursday night to discuss the chief of police problem facing the city the past couple weeks.

The problem: two chiefs of police. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Woman's Club room at the city auditorium. It is open to the public.

Wayne found itself with two chiefs of police earlier this month when the district judge ordered the city to reinstate Vern Fairchild as chief.

Councilmen are now studying a legal opinion from a Lincoln law firm concerning what the city may and may not do to remedy the situation.

Concord Considering Clean-Up Ordinance

Concord residents probably will find out if the town's new ordinance on cleaning up junk cars gets the okay when the town board brings the issue up for public hearing during its monthly meeting Jan. 9.

Last Monday night board members agreed to put the question before the public during a continuation of the Dec. 12 meeting.

Lights Now Greeting Visitors

A SPECIAL FILTER creates star effects on this Christmas lighting decoration in downtown Wayne. The city's Yule decorations were turned on for the first time last week after being left off by city officials trying to conserve fuel at the electrical generating plant. The lights will remain on through Christmas night.

Area Students Earn Degrees At University

Two students from Wakefield and one from Hoskins are among the approximate 7,000 students who completed work toward their baccalaureate or graduate degrees at the close of the fall semester at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Friday.

There was no commencement ceremony, and the graduates had the option of picking up their diplomas or having them mailed to them.

Receiving their undergraduate degrees were Jerry Jensen, bachelor of science in agriculture, and David Eugene Williams, bachelor of science, both from Wakefield. Also receiving his undergraduate degree was Galen Kroepeke of Hoskins, bachelor of science in electrical engineering.

Winside OK's Plans

Winside's town board approved its one-and-six year street improvement program Wednesday night, calling for major street improvements next year.

According to mayor Vernon Hill, the exact amount of street construction set for 1974 isn't known yet. It will depend upon the voters if the town can go ahead and pave a large portion of the dirt streets now in use, he said.

On tap for the village's Jan. 7 board meeting will be the question of leaving the city auditorium open. The increase in fuel may stipulate the building's closing this year, Hill said.

Salary Talks At Allen Begin Soon

The Allen school board voted last week to recognize the Allen Teachers Association as the bargaining group for negotiations with teachers for the 1973-74 school year.

The board and association will meet Jan. 7 to open salary negotiations, said superintendent Gail Miller after a special board meeting Monday morning.

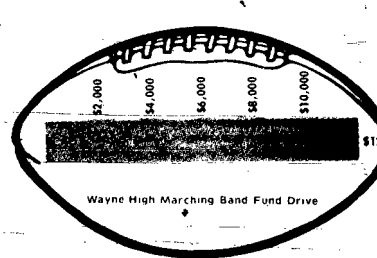

The association will meet with Miller, Eugene Lundin and Martin Blohm, appointed by the board to represent the board in the talks.

During Monday's special meeting, the board approved carpeting the music room. But, Miller pointed out, the members still are looking for someone to do the work. "We are hoping the See SALARY TALKS, page 5

FINAL WINNER in Wayne's Christmas Bucks promotion Friday night was Mrs. Gilbert Baier, who receives her $500 in coupons from Jan Sherry at Sherry's TSC Store.

Wayne High's Marching Band Over The Top in Drive

Folks, We're Bound For the Cotton Bowl

'Cause Now We're Over the Top

Members of Wayne High's marching band have done it — they've collected the $12,000 they need to make the trek to the Cotton Bowl Parade and football game in Dallas.

Band director Ron Dalton reported Saturday morning that the drive went over the top sometime Friday afternoon.

He noted, however, that the band members can still use about $500 since bus expenses and other expenses will be slightly higher than originally planned.

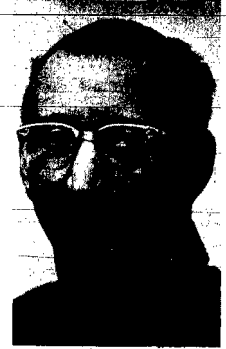

"Everybody really worked hard to reach the goal," Dalton noted. The band members did an exceptional job in tackling See FUND DRIVE, page 5

City, County, School Elections Coming Up in Spring

By NORVIN HANSEN

Voters in Wayne will elect four — possibly five — city councilmen and a mayor in next spring's statewide primary.

In addition, nominees for all but one major county office and for three positions on the Wayne-Carroll school district board of education will be selected.

The primary will not be held until May 14, but the deadline for filing for all offices is March 15.

Completing their terms on the city council at the end of 1974 will be Vernon Russell in the first ward (southeast quarter of the city), Pat Gross in the second ward (northeast quarter), Keith Mosley in the third ward (northwest quarter) and Harvey Brasch in the fourth ward (southwest quarter).

Frank Prather's term doesn't end as third ward councilman at the close of next year, but he may have to be replaced since he has moved from the third ward into the fourth ward. City officials are waiting for a legal opinion on whether Prather will have to give up his seat or whether he can serve out his four-year term.

Also ending his term after next year will be mayor Kent Hall. None of the councilmen or the mayor has announced publicly whether they will seek reelection. Those chosen will serve four-year terms in their city offices.

During the primary election, nominees for all elected county offices and two of the three county commissioner posts will be named for the general election in November.

County commissioners completing their terms in 1974 will be Joe Wilson of Wakefield in the first district and Floyd Burt of Winside in the third. Ken Eddie of Carroll, second district commissioner, does not finish out his term until 1976.

County offices which will be filled in November balloting include those currently held by sheriff Don Weible, clerk Norris Weible, superintendent of schools Fred Rickers, clerk of district court Joann Oslander, treasurer Leon Meyer, assessor Doris Stipp and attorney Budd Bornhoff.

Also to be picked in primary balloting will be nominees for two posts on the five-member county noxious weed board. Completing their terms on the board next year will be Mike Karel and John Owens, both of Wayne.

Although several have indicated they will seek reelection, county officials are not expected to start filing until after the commissioners set salaries for their offices for the next four years.

The county school superintendent, clerk of district court, attorney and the three commissioners currently earn $6,500 a year, but the other county officials are paid $7,200 annually.

Commissioners will discuss salaries at their Jan. 8 meeting. County officials, like city councilmen and mayor, have to pay one per cent of their annual salary as a filing fee. City councilmen in Wayne are currently paid $1,000 a year; the mayor receives $1,500.

Completing their terms on the Wayne-Carroll school board next year will be Morris Sandahl of Carroll, Wilbur Giese of Wayne and Mrs. Max Lundstrom of Wayne. They have not said publicly whether they will run for the school board again. School board members receive no pay for serving on the board.

The county and school board posts to be filled, like the city offices, are four-year terms.

Residents of the county must be registered to vote in the May primary election, and women who have married and persons who have moved since last registering have to register again with the county clerk.

A table will be set up in the courthouse lobby during January for persons who wish to register.

'They Don't Worry Me'

Like most mothers, I'm fairly positive that my children are exceptional. I don't embarrass me to proclaim loudly over their beauty, should someone chance not to notice, and I'm not shy about their day to day achievements — though to the world, the accomplishments of six to nine year olds may not seem particularly impressive.

I stand in awe at my daughters' ability to face each new encounter with open minds, eager hearts and avid anticipation for the unknown. Children are really great! Mine, anyway.

Still, there are times when I wonder if God punched the wrong computer card when he charged me with the care of three such precious souls, and then had the courage to give them to me just a year and a half apart in age.

Usually I try to remember that kids are people, too, but I didn't learn a BA in motherhood, and you know, I just don't remain too calm under certain types of stress.

Like the time I found all the unpaid bills decoupled with mud to the playhouse wall, and the afternoon I peered out a back window to see smoke curling upwards from three green faces.

Then there was the cat with the haircut, the artistic drawing done in ballpoint on the freezer door and the birthday handkerchief wrapped in 16 yards of embossed gold foil and secured with a full bottle of Elmer's glue.

Actually, I haven't recovered yet from the shopping episode when the youngest was pinched with two pieces of bubble gum in her grobby little fists (the clerk called me at the office that day and heaven only knows where the babysitter was). I pray teachers don't take too much stock in that youngsters sometimes get out of the house wearing one red and one pink sock.

I am aware that all normal children think scotch tape grows on trees, staples are the world's greatest discovery, doors are to be left open except when mom is approaching with two armbands of groceries and grandmothers can solve all problems.

I am equally certain that 13 babysitters in four years is not all that unusual. And most of the time I feel sure that my daughters won't need to undergo psychoanalysis when they grow up.

It's their mother I worry about a little.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

Dear Friends,

If this letter were not displayed in the paper and if we had the time to write to each of our loyal friends at this joyful time of the year, what would we say?

We would wish together for the achievement of those goals that man in his wisdom has striven for, and continues to strive for, since time immemorial.

Peace on earth and good will to all men. For unity among us and all the people on earth. For the happiness of our loved ones. For the beauty, faith, hope and joy of life inherent in the human spirit.

It is with these thoughts, and knowledge that we can accomplish all these good things that I personally, and for our entire store force, sincerely extend to you Season's Greetings, good health and good fortune and the wish for an even better world in 1974.

Sincerely,

Christmas Greetings
May the blessed silent peace of Christmas enter into your lives.

Since it is impossible to thank each and every person individually, we would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to the many club groups, volunteers, organizations, scout troops . . . and especially those individuals who gave so generously with gift boxes, candies, cookies and fruit. These gifts and donated time made the holiday season, as well as the 1973 year, much brighter and happier for our residents.

Inflation Is Taking Toll Even in County

To what extent has the rising cost of living affected residents of Wayne County?

Have incomes in the local area increased fast enough in the last few years to enable the average family to absorb the higher cost and have something additional left over?

Prior to the last year or two, most families, locally and elsewhere, were able to keep ahead of the game because their earnings were rising more rapidly than their costs. More recently, however, with galloping inflation, many have been falling behind.

A study by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization, shows what has been happening to people's buying power.

"Because of taxes and inflation," it states, "pay increases of up to 35 per cent in the last seven years fall short of giving a family the same purchasing power it had with the smaller 1966 income." Those with bigger increases, however, "ended up even or better."

In other words, the cost of living has gone up more than 35 per cent, putting a squeeze on many family pocketbooks.

How has a married man in Wayne County, for example, who earned $8,000 in 1966, made out with the $2,800 in pay raises he may have received since then?

The figures show that not only have his raises been erased by the tax-inflation combination, but his after tax pay today is worth about $390 less than it was seven years ago.

For the married man who made $10,000 in 1966 and is getting 35 per cent more than that now, the Tax Foundation details how his $3,500 pay in crease turned into a $466 net loss.

His income taxes, federal and state, went up $595 on average and his social security tax rose $355. Inflation caused an additional loss of $3,016.

Thus, his expenses rose $3,966 in seven years and his income only $3,500, which left him $466 short of the break even point.

Other calculations, based upon the general figures contained in the report, indicate that a Wayne County man who had a $5,000 income in 1966, which rose to $6,750 in 1973, ended up with a net loss of $140 and that the one who had a 1966 income of $12,000 lost approximately $510, despite a 35 per cent hike in salary.

Greetings
Here's wishing all of you a very special Merry Christmas!

Consumers in Wayne Area Spend at Record Rate

Wayne County's economy chalked up significant gains in the last few years, exceeding the advances reported for many sections of the country.

The progress was most apparent in figures showing the amount of business done by local retail establishments. Their sales in the past year were considerably higher than they were five years ago. Much of the increase, however, was due to inflation.

The findings are based upon five year reports released by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

Major credit for the strong local showing is attributed to the consumers in the area and their desire and ability to maintain their normal way of life despite the troubled times.

Although they were more restrained than usual in their spending, because of the higher cost of living and the unsettling conditions at home and abroad, they did not tighten up to the degree that people in other localities did.

They continued to spend with assurance, feeling that they had jobs they could count on, incomes that were steadily rising and a future that was protected by pensions, health insurance and personal savings.

In the past five years, as a result of their maintained spending, overall sales in Wayne County's retail stores rose from $16,371,000 to a total of $21,914,000, the SDRS figures show.

It was equivalent to spending at the rate of $6,935 per local household, as against $5,587 in 1967.

The 24.1 per cent rise compares with 19.6 per cent in the West North Central States and with 23.2 per cent in the state of Nebraska.

Almost every branch of business shared in the growth. In the past year local people were in the market for more cars, more and better clothing, more food, furniture, household equipment, cosmetics and other goods than they were in 1967.

And at that, they did not go all out. They still held back a sizeable amount as savings.

The prime fuel for this outpouring of consumer dollars was the big gain in personal income.

The net earnings of the local population, after payment of taxes, rose from the $21,088,000 they received at the beginning of the five year period to the $30,531,000 that was available to them in the past year.

Remember, No Other Paper This Week

Readers of The Wayne Herald are reminded that there will not be a Thursday issue of the newspaper this week because of the Christmas holiday.

Since New Year's Day also falls on a Tuesday, the Thursday issue of the newspaper will not be printed next week either.

"Skipping the two publications will permit some newspaper employees to have extra-time off during the two holidays.

This issue of the Herald contains the Christmas greetings from local and area advertisers. The following two Monday issues of the newspaper will carry news normally carried in the Thursday issues.

New Well at Allen in Use

Allen's new water well went into use last week, supplying residents with about 250 gallons of water a minute, reports village clerk Ken Linafelter.

The well, installed during the summer, is located on the Ben Jackson property just west of Allen. It is 176 feet deep.

Total cost of the project will be over $20,000, according to Linafelter. Financing of the project will be through federal revenue sharing funds.

Linafelter said residents may notice a chlorine taste in their water for the next few days. He said the taste is the result of chemicals put in the water to sterilize the pipes.

State law requires boats to have at least one Coast Guard approved life saving device aboard for each passenger.

odd jobs and putting on fund raising projects, he noted, and the local businessmen were out standing in the promotions they held in their stores and the donations they made.

The band will leave at mid night Friday for the trip to the nationally televised parade and football game between the Nebraska Cornhuskers and the Texas Longhorns.

Wayne's musicians will be the only Nebraska high school band participating in the parade. It was incorrectly reported in a daily newspaper and in the last issue of the Wayne Herald that the Aurora band will be taking part in the Dallas affair. Aurora handsmen will be there, but they will be Missourians, not Nebraskans.

The trip to the Cotton Bowl activities will mark the first time a local band has ever taken part in a major college bowl event. Last year, the band from Wisner Pilger High took part in the Orange Bowl activities at Miami.

During their stay in Dallas, the local musicians will play during a professional ice hockey game and give a concert at the State Fair Park. Several tours are planned also, including one to the site of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

4-Day Weekend Yule Gift for Some Workers

County and federal employees in Wayne will receive a four day weekend as their Christmas present this year.

The Wayne County courthouse will be closed all day today (Monday) as well as on Christmas Day. Also closed today will be the Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home Administration and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services of fices in Wayne.

However, municipal offices in Wayne will remain open all day today, and postal employees will provide regular service.

Postal service on Christmas will be restricted to holiday service, with the lobby remain ing open during the day and mail being distributed to post office boxes. Mail deposited at the post office, and in boxes throughout the city will be collected and dispatched during the day.

Most businesses in Wayne will observe regular working hours today, but they will close on Christmas Day.

Federal employees in Wayne will get a four day weekend over New Year's also. The SCS, FHA and ASCS office will be closed on Monday, Dec. 31, as well as on New Year's Day. Wayne County officials, however, will work on Dec. 31.

TV Notebook

By Larry Turner

Studies of children's reaction to TV have revealed some interesting facts. The kids are not bored by short, lively commercials, even when often repeated. They tend to remember the things they see if repeated frequently in the same show. Kids lose interest rapidly when adults try to speak to them via TV, but they'll watch adults doing things for much longer spans.

Children remember best when they participate by singing or speaking along with what they're hearing on a TV show. Actually, in reviewing how children react, we're struck with the fact that most of us adults respond just like the grown-up kids we are.

Kids from eight to 80 enjoy the sharp, clear pictures on our great new color TV sets. Competitive prices and budget terms—plus—installation and service by our own technicians are the reasons you should get our deal before you buy!

Hartington Takes Battle of Winless Teams

WINSIDE's hustling sophomore Bob Hoffman (white) tries to break through a wall of Hartington defenders Friday night, but his effort falls short as Gene Haberer (23) knocks the ball loose. Getting ready to stop Hoffman are Roland Peterson (41) and Scott Stockwell (45).

By BOB BARTLETT
Winside High and Hartington's basketball game Friday night was a special game of sorts. It matched up two winless teams.
Hartington, 0-2, and Winside, 0-4, had their showdown at the Wildcats' gym, and it was Hartington who ended its losing streak.
Behind the 19-point shooting of senior Gene Haberer and 18 by senior Scott Stockwell, the visitors rocked the Wildcats right out of their own gym with a 63-34 beating.

It wasn't a case of Hartington overpowering coach Korlin Luff's team—just a simple case of cold shooting by the Cats. Winside shot about 20 per cent for the night—one of the worst nights for the home squad this year.

At the start both teams were blazing, with Hartington taking a 17-13 first period lead. But then both clubs suddenly went into a cold spell—colder than the near-zero temperatures hovering in the town of Winside.

Hartington could muster only eight points in the second quarter despite continuous hustling. But even worse was the Cats' scoring—two points.

"I don't know what the answer is," remarked Luff after his team took its fifth loss. "We were shooting the ball and hitting the rim but it just wouldn't go down."

As in past games, Winside had one bad quarter—but this time its cold spell continued on into the third frame when the visitors all but put the game out of reach.

Hartington ripped in 20 points while Winside, still trying to shake off second quarter shivers, barely touched the nets with seven points.
In the hurried pace both teams started clicking once again in the final frame, but by then it was too late for Luff's club to erase a 30-point deficit and pull the game out.

Sophomore Bob Hoffman led his club with 10 points while playing almost the entire game. Senior Larry Weible was next with seven, with another underclassman, sophomore Tyler Frevert, collecting six.
Winside's reserves dropped a 29-25 contest to the visitors after trailing 20-10 at intermission. Leading the host club was Terry Luhr with nine points.

Stiff Challenges Face WSC, Plattsmouth in Holiday Tourney

Defending champions, Wayne State and Plattsmouth High School appear to face stiff challenges when they go after repeat titles Dec. 27-29 in the Wayne State Christmas Holiday Basketball Tournament.

WSC coach Ron Jones figures its an anybody-can-win situation in both the college and the high school divisions.

College action will begin Friday at 3:15 p.m. in Rice Gym when Bemidji State of Minnesota, a 6-0 squares off against Wartburg College of Waverly, Ia., at 6 before a Dec. 22 home game with the University of South Dakota.

Wayne State, 3-6, and Bethel College of St. Paul, Minn., 1-5, will top off Friday action at 8:30 p.m. Bemidji and Bethel already have met — Bemidji winning by nine points in the Minnesota Duluth Tournament finals.

First-round losers will go for third place at 2 p.m. Saturday, the winners clashing for championship at 8:15.

The high school division opens Thursday with fans getting a quick look at the returning champs — Plattsmouth bracketed against Albion at 2:45. After that: game two matching West Point Central Catholic (runner up last year) and Scriber at 4:30; game three, Lincoln Plus X and Syracuse at 6:15; game four, Wayne (third last year) and North Bend Central at 8 p.m.

The Friday prep schedule: game five at 11:30 a.m., losers of games two and three; game six at 1:15, losers of games one and four; game eight at 4:45, winners of games two and three; game seven at 6:30, winners of games one and four.

The Saturday wrap-up goes this way: game nine at 11:30 a.m. for seventh place, losers of games five and six; game 10 at 1:15 for fifth place, winners of games five and six; game 11 for third place at 4:45, losers of games seven and eight; and game 12 at 6:30 p.m., winners of games seven and eight, for the high school championship.

Ticket prices for the tournament are $1.50 for adults including college students and $1 for high school students. Each ticket is good for all games on one day — spectators able to go and come whenever they wish.

Neligh Stops Winside's Bid Dual Meet For 18-0 Mark

Winside High's wrestling team is going to have to start all over again in setting a new dual record.

Thursday night a strong Neligh team ended coach Doug Barclay's record at 17-0 over three seasons with a 32-24 win.

"It was a close match all the way," Barclay pointed out. "I even went down to the last match."

With the score 29-24 in favor of Neligh, Wildcat freshman Neil Wagner walked on the mat in the 155-pound contest with one goal in mind — to pin Neligh's Dana Anderson.

"Neil did a good job out there giving up some weight," Barclay pointed out. "He almost had his man pinned, but Anderson got out of the hold and ended up winning by decision, 14-9."

Winside's loss could not be pinned on Wagner, however. Winside had to forfeit the 167-pound class, giving the visitors an automatic six points.

The big wins went to Keith Sueli, Monte Pfeiffer and Brad Brummels, who took their matches in pins. Two other Wildcat grapplers, Gregg Lage and his brother Doug, finished off their opponents by decisions.

Although Winside's dual record isn't perfect anymore, the Cats still are flawless in tournament competition. The Wildcats, led by sophomore Sueli, won their second wrestling tournament, beating nine other opponents at the Stanton Invitational Dec. 15.

Coach Doug Barclay's crew had seven wrestlers in the finals, including two in the consolation finals, but it was Sueli's 4-0 decision in the 105-pound class that helped nail down the victory.

Sueli took first with a victory over last year's tourney winner, Chris Mejschik of Howells after pinning Paul Hansen of Pender in 3:30 and Jerry Anderson of West Point in 3:40. "What really made the win even better," Barclay said, "is that Keith beat a senior who beat him a year ago."

In that 1972 tourney, Howells was the winner. Winside a close second. However, this year the Cats wound up on top with 91-2 points.

"Many of the coaches thought we would win the tournament going away," Barclay said, "but I knew Randolph and West Point would come on strong, especially in the finals."

And both clubs did just that.

South Sioux Grapplers Overpower Devils

Wayne High's wrestling team was firmly convinced that South Sioux deserved second if not first at the Blair Invitational match earlier this month.

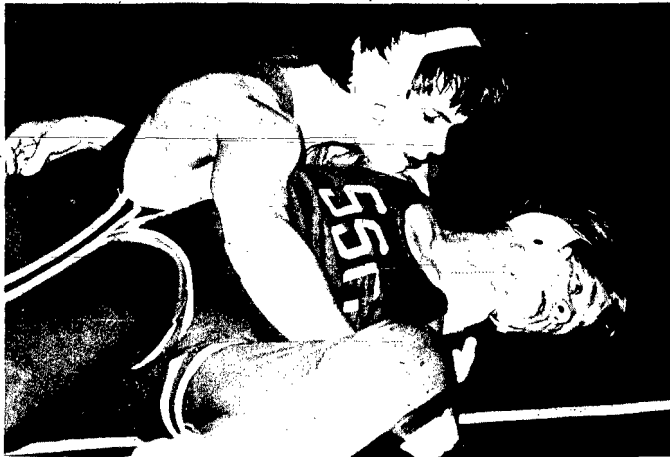

Thursday night the Cardinals proved their power in Wayne's city auditorium with a convincing 40-12 victory over the Blue Devils.

Coach Don Koenig's crew didn't get into match until 132-pound Barry Ruback decided Dan Peitz, 10-2, to make the score, 12-3.

Senior Kevin Heithold put three more points on the score board two matches later when he handed 145 pound Jerry Zich a 6-2 loss for a 33-6 score. Tom Frahm, 8-5, continued the home team's surge with a 6-1 decision over Tony Miller before South Sioux racked up a pair of decisions.

Wayne's final win came when the team's leading wrestler, heavyweight Chuck Brockman, won a 3-1 decision over Ron Stingly.

For Brockman, Thursday's grappling victory was sort of a revenge match. The senior, who holds a 5-1 mark thus far this season, nailed the person who gave him his only loss. "Chuck looked real good in his win," Koenig pointed out, noting that WAYNE HIGH'S Barry Ruback (top) wrestled one of his best matches of the season, said coach Don Koenig, when the 132-pounder decided South Sioux's Dan Peitz, 10-4.

Brockman "kind of keeps them (the team) going."

Ruback's decision boosted his record to 5-2 while for Frahm

Thursday's win was special — his first victory in three matches. For Heithold, his win evened the record at 2-2.

In reserve action, the Devils almost pulled out a win, falling three points short, 33-30.

Wayne will resume dual competition after Christmas break with a Jan. 10 home match against a strong Wisner Pilger club.

Trojans Nip Pender for 1st Dual Win

Waketfield High's wrestling team finally broke into the win column in dual matches with a 30-27 victory over Pender Tuesday night at Pender.

For coach Lyle Trullinger, the initial win was one of many happy moments. The others came when his underclassmen came on strong to take the majority of their matches.

Freshman Jim Allvin took his first match in varsity competition by pinning 138 pound Paul Powley in 2:50, one of the highlights of the Trojan victory. Just as important was sophomore Steve Greve's 2-0 decision victory in the 167 pound class. Like Allvin, that was his first win of the season.

Trullinger added that Kurt Dolph's performance in the 132 class was admirable. "Although he lost the match, he kept off his back," he noted, "and that's a good job for wrestling up a class."

Seniors Steve Sorenson, Roger Gustafson and Ken Dolph continued to improve on their records by collecting wins.

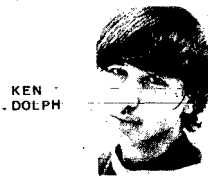

Sorenson, now 8-0 for the season, pinned Gary Dunn in the 155 pound division in 3:59. Another pin went to Gustafson in a quick 44 second match against 145 pound Ken Siebrandt. Dolph completed the trio of senior wins with a 2-0 win over Wes Dunn in the 119 division.

Trullinger's grapplers will take a holiday break before resuming action early in January. The Trojans, now 1-2 in dual play, next meet in Jan. 9 in a home match against Stanton.

Saturday was another good meet for two of Trullinger's grapplers.

Dolph and Sorenson each won their matches at the North Bend tournament to boost the Trojans to a sixth place showing in the eight team meet.

Sorenson won a 4-0 decision

Sophomore Merrill Hale finished second in his match with heavyweight Wesleys of Weeping Water while 145-pound Roger Gustafson and John Polen won third.

Waketfield finished the match with 71 points. Wisner-Pilger won the meet with 124 points.

Other Trojans wrestling included: 105 Brian Newton, 112 Carl Domsch, 132 Steve Luhr, 138 Jim Allvin, all sixth place; 98 Steve Borg, 167 Steve Greve, all seventh. No Allvin (W) wrestled in the 185-pound category.

Sputtering Cats Get Break Before Meet

Wayne State cagers are taking five days off before returning to the task of prepping to defend championship in their own Christmas Holiday Tournament Dec. 28-29.

The main task will be finding a way to work on all five cylinders an entire game. Thursday at Crete the Wildcats outscored Doane's Tigers 35-34 in the first half and rebounded too.

Then the Wayne machine sputtered against Doane's second-half fast break — a tactic that seldom has work consistently against Wayne defense. Result: a 76-59 Doane decision, lifting the Tigers to 5-5 and slipping Wayne to 2-6.

Cats Rip SD

Wayne State cagers put together balanced scoring and crackling defense to beat South Dakota Springfield, 99-81, here Saturday night.

The first half turned into a shoot-out with Springfield's Lon Nelson swishing 11 fielders from near and far while Wayne's Charlie Henderson poured in eight field shots and Neal Waide six plus a pair of free shots.

The Wildcats jumped to a 16-4 lead within four minutes and surged to a 49-37 half intermission took a bit of edge off the Wildcat attack, and Springfield closed the gap to eight before Wayne recovered and pulled as much as 21 points up.

Nelson finished with 30 Wildcat Ron Jones found the range in second-half action to post his season's high of 25. Waide continued his scoring heroics with 24, including several newly polished hook shots. Henderson totaled 22.

A juggled starting lineup gave senior forward Rod Erwin of Concord his first collegiate call after several games of spunky play. His cousin, senior guard Tom Erwin of Concord, a veteran starter of the past two years, also got his first start of the season. He contributed 10 points, Rod six.

The Wildcats shot a nifty 58 per cent from the field while Springfield also shot well at 46 per cent.

Shooting accuracy made the major difference as Doane hit 49 per cent of its fielders, Wayne 40 per cent. Free throws and rebounding came out almost even.

Junior center Neal Waide of Denison, Ia., the Wayne point leader with 18 against Doane, remains No. 1 for the season with a 20.2 average and rebounding of 10.5. Charlie Henderson, junior guard from Tampa, Fla., rates second in scoring at 16.1. Ronnie Jones, senior forward from Kankakee, Ill., leads in boards with 11.7 grabs per game and is third in scoring at 12.9.

Waide's field shooting pace is a healthy 59 per cent. Senior guard Rod Erwin of Concord has been coming on strong lately, shooting 55 per cent. Coach Ron Jones rates Erwin the team's most aggressive ball mover and quickest penetrator on offense. That combination earned him a starting nod the last games.

Teams 2, 3 Own Lead In Men's Cage Action

Team 3 used Team 2's run and gun tactics to rack the highest point total in city recreation B league basketball action Wednesday night enroute to a 57-43 win, pulling the former league-leader into a 2-1 tie.

Mike Keenan drilled in 18 points with consistent outside shooting to pace Team 3 in the win. Keenan, along with Tom Robert's 15 and Maurice Boeckmann's 11, kept the club in command during the contest.

Darrell Doescher had 20 points for the losers. But only one other player, Steve Hix with 14, was able to break in the double-figure column.

Also Wednesday, Hank Overin and Bill Worbler hit 16 and 14 points, respectively, to guide Team 4 to a 40-36 win over Team 1. Bob Malsen ripped the nets for 12 points in his team's losing cause.

Freshmen Fall To Randolph

Wayne's freshmen will have the Christmas break to try to regroup after Thursday's loss to Randolph before heading to Waketfield Jan. 7.

The locals failed to put together a good second half at Randolph, allowing the home team to win, 45-28.

Tim Koll led coach Duane Blomenkamp's club with 10 points. Wayne, now 1-2, managed to knot the game at 16 all with about two minutes left in the first half, but Randolph powered ahead for a 25-16 lead going into the second half.

"We played pretty good for awhile," Blomenkamp pointed out, "but we were not consistent in the second half."

Score by quarters:

Randolph 12 13 10 10—45

Wayne 8 8 6 6—28

Wayne — Tim Koll 10, Mike Wieseler 8, Jon Ley 6, Arron Nissen 2, Ralph Atkins 2.

Tankers Topple Kearney

For the second straight time Wayne State swimmers salvaged a win over Kearney State with a last event victory that boosted the Wildcats to a 59-54 edge in a dual at Kearney.

The 400 yard freestyle relay of Dave Just, Pekin, Ill., Doug Krecklow, Omaha, Tom Carney, Norfolk, and Bill Walters, Wayne, beat Kearney's quartet by more than eight seconds to collect the go ahead seven points.

Omaha's Bob Floerchinger won three of Wayne's eight firsts, in the 500 and 1,000 yard, the 200 butterfly. Just doubled in the 100 and 200 free. Doug Krecklow of Omaha capped the 50 free. Dan Carney, the 200 individual medley with brother Tom close behind in second.

Kearney gained its firsts in the 400 medley relay, with no Wayne entry. Dan Yost in one meter diving, Mike Fran zago in three meter diving. Dave Wendland in the 200 back stroke and John Vickland in the 200 breaststroke.

A week earlier at South Dakota State's Jack Rabbit Relays, Kearney went into the final event ahead in team scoring. Wayne third, but a Wayne win in the 400 free relay pulled the Wildcats into first, two points ahead of Kearney in a seven-team meet.

As we celebrate Christmas, our thoughts turn to the true meaning and spirit of this Day. Reverently, we commemorate a Holy Night of awe and wonder, when shepherds watched and angels sang. Gov. Exon's Pick for Lieutenant Governor Ends Guessing Game

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN — The lieutenant governor guessing game is over. It was Jerry Whelan all the time.

Governor J. James Exon has finally announced his pick for a 1974 running mate (the governor also announced he would seek re-election himself, but that wasn't much news) and it turned out to be someone who had avoided public speculation.

There were nearly a dozen Democrats on most speculator lists but hardly anyone — if, indeed, there was anyone — had Gerald Whelan on his roster.

But the Hastings attorney and member of the State Board of Education held a press conference last week and announced he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Exon, who had met previously with many of the candidates hoping for his endorsement and told them they were out of luck, released a statement saying Whelan was his man.

Maybe so, said State Senator Frank Lewis of Bellevue, but Whelan will have competition. Lewis announced he would meet Whelan in the primary election next spring, with the winner becoming Exon's official companion on the general election ballot (assuming Exon is nominated for governor) no matter what preference the governor had indicated earlier.

Exon has said he would be glad to run with whomever the state's Democrats select in the primary. It's just that he would prefer Whelan.

The governor's choice is a 48-year-old lawyer who ran for Congress in 1960 against Republican Phil Weaver — and lost. He was elected to the State Board of Education in 1970, defeating incumbent John Wagener.

Lewis is serving his first term in the Legislature, where he was sent in 1972 from a new district which includes the Bellevue area of Sarpy County.

Legislative Bowl Set
 New Year's Day is a holiday, but the state constitution doesn't care.

New Year's Day is a Nebraska football game day, but the state constitution doesn't care.

The state constitution says the legislature is to launch its sessions at noon on the first Tuesday in January... whether the Huskers are playing Texas in the Cotton Bowl an hour later or not.

It's likely the senators are going to set a new record for brief sessions next Tuesday.

If they do, of course, it will count as one of the 60 days the constitution allows for even-numbered years.

The 1974 session should be loaded with fireworks, with the usual combustible items on the agenda and politics to boot.

Not only is Senator Lewis an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, but Senator Richard D. Marvel of Hastings is a likely candidate for the Republican nod for governor, and Senator Gary Anderson of Axtell is expected to seek the Democratic nomination for some post, possibly treasurer.

There could be more senators announcing for other offices, but, even if there aren't, half the Legislature is up for re-election. The even-numbered districts become vacant.

That means Terry Carpenter (48th District), for example, will have to face election.

The presence of all those politicians — together with a governor who is seeking re-election — should make for an exciting 60 days.

The issues are exciting enough by themselves. Such sure-fire debate generators as school aid, tax rates, highway financing, penal reform, criminal code revision and energy crisis measures will be on the docket.

The school aid proposal which just missed becoming law during the 1973 session will be back before the senators in 1974. The bill is sponsored by Senator Jerome Warner of Waverly who drew 29 votes twice — and needed at least 30 — on the final day of the 1973 meeting when he sought to override the governor's veto.

Warner said the proposal he puts before the new session will be essentially the same.

He will have, however, one new wrinkle. A Warner bill will suggest that school districts share directly in the state income tax. He said a portion of the income tax rate should be labeled as a school tax and the revenue from that levy should be returned to the taxpayer's home school district.

Warner said that would be an answer to critics who claim that property taxes — which traditionally supply the bulk of local school operating revenue — aren't an adequate measure of the district's wealth.

SEASONAL REMINDER

To All Residents of the City of Wayne

With winter hanging over us, the Street Department again urges all residents to comply with the city ordinances regarding snow removal on sidewalks, streets, off-street parking, gas station platforms, etc.

Ordinance No. 17-105 states that all sidewalks must be cleared of snow or ice to full width of sidewalk within twenty-four hours after the storm, or the city will hire personnel to remove it and bill the property owner. Also a summons to appear in court for violation of the ordinance will be issued by the Police Department. All ordinances will be strictly enforced.

In the business district, snow must be thrown into the street at least one foot from curb as soon as possible to permit removal by street crews. Only snow from sidewalk out to the street is permitted to be dumped into the street for city hauling. All snow behind sidewalks, stations, off-street parking, etc. will have to be removed by private operators.

The CITY CLERK'S OFFICE will have on hand a list of private snow removers for those interested. Also anyone interested in scooping or hauling snow may contact the City Clerk's Office.

NU Specialists Outline Energy Conservation Steps for Farmers

Methods farmers can consider to help reduce energy requirements in crop production without sacrificing yields were outlined by University of Nebraska Lincoln Extension specialists in a training conference at Lincoln.

Dr. Alex Martin, extension weed control specialist, discussed the merits of substituting herbicides for tillage operations.

Martin said a 64 per cent savings in energy input can be realized in production of an acre of non-irrigated corn by substituting four pounds of herbicide for the land preparation and cultivation practices of conventional tillage.

The comparison includes the energy required to produce a pound of herbicide versus the energy input of gasoline required to produce a pound of herbicide versus the energy input of gasoline required for the field operations the NU specialist explained. If farmers do not wish to go to what is essentially a zero-tillage system, the substitution of herbicides for two cultivations will reduce the fuel requirement seven to 12 per cent, although the total energy requirement is a trade-off.

One of the problems of reduced tillage systems, using a single disking, is that pre-emergence herbicides may not perform well when applied to a soil surface covered with crop residues, Martin warned. "Atrazine and Bladex are particularly sensitive in this respect," he added, while Lasso performance is not greatly influenced by crop residue.

Using a zero-till system will result in a 75 per cent reduction of fuel requirement over conventional tillage, Martin continued, but weed control is a key factor. He cited two distinct problems:

Weeds present at planting must be controlled with a contact herbicide such as paraquat. A pre-emergence herbicide will be needed to control weeds after planting.

Energy requirements of the wheat fallow rotation used in western Nebraska also can be reduced with herbicides, Martin said.

However, he cautioned that "at present we do not have suitable herbicides registered to replace all of the tillage operations in this rotation."

He recommended an application of 2, 4-d in the spring to eliminate one or perhaps two tillage operations after wheat harvest, by controlling Russian thistle, sunflower, kochia and other broadleaf weeds. "If grasses were also a problem shortly after harvest, tillage would still be required," he said.

Combining herbicide application with tillage or planting would also save trip over the field for wheat producers, he pointed out.

Another potential area of energy conservation is the application of liquid fertilizers with preplant herbicides, the weed control specialist said. However, he advised that correct placement and timing for both the fertilizer and herbicide are important and the two materials must be compatible to avoid problems in application.

Dr. Richard Wiese, Extension soil fertility specialist, forecast shortages of some types of fertilizer, stemming both from a tight supply and the inability to transport and distribute fertilizer nutrients in the areas where they are needed.

He pointed to more restrictive natural gas supplies used to manufacture anhydrous ammonia and shortage of diesel fuel for over the road transportation of fertilizer materials from major barge or rail terminals as trouble spots.

The outlook for nitrogen fertilizer supplies is expected to cause the greatest concern in Nebraska," Wiese stated. He termed the extended outlook for manufacturing enough nitrogen fertilizer in the nation as "gloomy."

Alternatives ranging from altering the kinds of fertilizer manufactured, amount of fertilizer applied, method of application, kind of crop grown, to the use of crop residues and animal wastes all must be considered in the long haul, Wiese stated.

Delbert Lane, extension agricultural engineer, discussed energy use in machine operations and other use of farm tractors, but also transport of crops from field to market and fuel required for business and management by farmers.

He summarized that the total diesel fuel equivalent for field operations, transport and management is estimated at 119.6 million gallons, and total gasoline consumption for the same purposes 89.8 million gallons.

Broken down, he estimated 58.7 million gallons of diesel fuel and 21.5 million gallons of gasoline required for field operations.

Nearly 40.5 million gallons of gasoline are needed to keep the business of Nebraska's 72,000 farms running, he said.

In addition to using various systems of reduced or minimum tillage, Lane urged farmers to take a second look at more efficient tractor operation and better tractor maintenance as fuel savers.

The goal in field operations, he said, is to more nearly load an engine to its capacity to achieve more work per gallon of fuel consumed without loading continuously at more than 75 per cent maximum drawbar power. This can be accomplished in field work with lighter loads by shifting up and reducing engine speed.

Lane said tractors with faulty governors have been shown to account for losses of as much as 80 per cent of normal power output. He said a regular maintenance schedule pays off in power and fuel economy which can increase efficiency an average of 14 per cent.

It gives us great pleasure to greet you and to extend our warm, sincere thanks.

End Nearing For Benefits Of GI Bill

Post-Korean veterans are down to about their last semester of eligibility under the GI Bill, but an extra year remains for those interested in farm cooperative training, apprenticeship or on-the-job training and advanced flight training, says the Veterans Administration.

Don Campbell, director of the VA regional office at Lincoln, said the standard eligibility period for GI Bill training for all veterans is eight years after separation from military service. However, post-Korean veterans -- those with service from Feb. 1, 1955 through May 31, 1966 -- were not eligible until the current GI Bill became effective June 1, 1966.

As a result, he said, the eight-year period for this group of veterans expires May 31, 1974, for all but several forms of GI Bill educational training. Campbell said additional educational benefits were added to

OBSERVATIONS

Worth looking into

That suggested solution to the parking problem in downtown Wayne mentioned during last week's city council meeting merits consideration.

The suggestion was that all drivers living and working in the city be issued stickers for their vehicles. Then the city police could ticket those cars and trucks for violating the two-hour parking restriction while letting out of towners park at their leisure while doing business in the city.

As noted at the council meeting, there are a lot of problems which would have to be worked out before the suggestion would be workable. For example, somebody would have to determine how much to charge for the stickers, how to issue them to all drivers would receive them and what penalty to set for those who failed to put them on their cars or trucks.

Also, somebody would have to determine exactly who would receive them. Would persons living just outside the city limits be exempted, for example, or would they also have to have them? And somebody would have to determine what penalty those who violated the two-hour parking restriction would have to pay.

Issuing the stickers is a novel idea, and consequently many people may reject it without giving it fair consideration. We hope the Chamber of Commerce, as the city council suggested last week, takes the idea, weighs it and decides whether or not it might work for Wayne.

The way parking violators are handled currently seems to us fair and equitable. However, that isn't to say there might not be a better way to handle the problem.

He's got a good point

We agree with the local pizza house owner when he argues that it is discriminatory to permit the bottle clubs in Wayne to remain open on Sunday while forcing beer taverns and businesses such as his to close that day.

Regardless of the type of license they have, the liquor establishments are basically in the same kind of business. Some may depend more heavily upon the food they serve; others may depend more heavily on beer and liquor sales. But that aspect should not enter into the argument, for it all boils down to the simple fact that local ordinances presently permit some places to dispense alcoholic beverages on Sunday while others have to close. It's that simple. And that's why it's unfair.

In retrospect, it was unfair for the city to decide several months ago that bottle clubs could stay open on Sundays without permitting the beer taverns to do the same if they wished. That started the current problem, and the problem has been growing in recent months as more and more places have applied for and received bottle club licenses.

We hope the city council takes a hard look at the ordinances governing liquor establishments once the state legislature digs itself out of the mess it got into when it did away with the memberships required for drinking in bottle clubs. The council should be able to come up with some solution that is fairer to all concerned than what now exists.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Harrisville, W. Va., Ritchie Gazette

One of the troubles of our educational system is that young people grow up to get the idea that education is a process that goes on for nine months of the year and twelve years of their lives with intermissions and a conclusion. This is not the way it should be. Education is like a remarkable plant that lives throughout the year and bears fruit every month as it goes along. There should be no intermission or conclusion in the educational process. There is no real end to education. You cannot store up knowledge and use it in the same way you store up money so that you buy everything you want out of this money you have in your possession for all the rest of your life. You can get wisdom only on the installment plan and the installments must go on as long as you live.

So they said

There has been a lot of complaining of late as regards the shrinking paycheck. A lot of people are getting into the act, trying to pinpoint who or what is causing the paycheck to shrink. Which of the so-called necessities is grabbing the biggest bite? Food? Housing? Clothing? According to government figures for the 1967-72 period, the cost of food has increased 26 per cent, housing is up 31 per cent, clothing is up 25 per cent. The biggest bite, however, is gobbled up by Uncle Sam and his kissing cousins at the state and local levels. The cost of government has increased a whopping 60 per cent. As the U. S. Chamber of Commerce observes, "Maybe we consumers are boycotting the wrong thing!"

By Norvin Hansen

EFFORTS by homeowners and businessmen to conserve in heating their homes are paying off.

"People have conserved; there's no doubt about it," says Keith Mosley, manager of Peoples' Natural Gas.

I had Mosley check over the amount of gas he has sold the past few days now that we've finally had some cold weather to see if the publicity given the energy crisis locally has had any results. Although there are a lot of variables to consider (less corn drying going on in local elevators, better weather so far this winter, etc.), he concluded that one of the reasons for his lower sales lately is the decision to turn down thermostats in local stores and homes.

From Nov. 19 to Dec. 19 a year ago a total of 110,900,000 cubic feet of natural gas was burned by Mosley's "firm" customers, those customers such as homeowners and merchants he has to supply with gas day in and day out.

During the same period this year, a total of 77,794,000 cubic feet of gas was consumed by those same customers.

That's nearly a 30 per cent reduction, and one of the reasons for the drop is the conservation being practiced in homes and stores, according to Mosley. Many people are cutting back the temperature in their homes and stores a few degrees, shutting off rooms which don't need to be heated, using their gas ranges less and the like.

On Dec. 18 a year ago Mosley's "firm" customers consumed 3,750,000 cubic feet of gas. On the same day this year his customers used 3,166,000 cubic feet of gas. That comparison helps prove Mosley's contention that conservation is paying off because the two days were the same as far as temperature goes.

Add those energy savings to the ones being realized through shutting off street lights and urging residents to use less electricity and you end up with some substantial savings. Late last month city officials estimated that the city may be saving as much as 14,000 gallons of diesel fuel each month because residents are responding to the call for conservation.

The next time you stop in to pay your gas bill at Peoples or your light bill at the city clerk's office, let them know if you are trying to cut back your energy use. And at the same time pick up the little pamphlets available which contain tips on cutting electricity and gas use in your home and business.

THAT'S A major slate of candidates which will be facing voters when they go to the polls in May.

All except one major county office, three spots on the Wayne-Carroll school board, five seats on the Wayne city council and the local mayor's job will be up for grabs.

The county and school board contests will just be preliminary, with the actual selection being done in November, but the city council seats will be filled in that May voting. I look for one of the most interesting city races in recent years. A

YOU AND YOUR CAR
By the Automotive Information Council

STILL FRONT RUNNER
The car buyer of 50 years ago had two alternatives to the gasoline engine to power his automobile — steam and electricity. Will they ever return?

It was the gasoline-powered internal combustion engine that emerged as the standard power plant because it surpassed the other types of engines in performance, efficiency and convenience. But, in efforts to find a cleaner engine, auto manufacturers have renewed their interest in electric and steam power, and, in fact, spent over $75 million in 1972 and $90 million in 1973 on research for a cleaner power source.

The advantage of a battery-powered car over one that is gasoline-powered is noiseless, fumeless operation. The disadvantages, however, currently offset the advantages. In its present state of development the battery-powered car is limited in both cruising range and performance. The car weighs much more than a comparable gasoline fueled car because of the trunk full of batteries required, and the electric car would also be more expensive to produce.

The future of the electric car depends on a major breakthrough in battery technology. Smaller units of a much greater capacity are required. Also required is the availability of vastly expanded clean power generating facilities such as atomic power plants, since the electric cars would have to have their batteries recharged overnight. This could mean plugging the charger into an electrical outlet and would require electrical power stations to produce additional current to cover this new demand.

The power companies are hard-pressed to cover present power requirements, and may even be forced to cut back production because of the current oil shortage. Most power plant generators operate on oil. They can also operate on coal, but this would create an air pollution problem worse than that created by the gasoline-powered automobile.

A different type of propulsion system would also necessitate retraining the hundreds of thousands of technicians required to service these vehicles.

The gasoline engine remains the front-runner in the search for a cleaner engine, even though research into alternate propulsion systems continues and, in time, today's piston engines may be replaced.

Francis Hawn, superintendent of school district, also said the rumor is completely false. And he noted that the school board has not purchased any gift certificates — either in Wayne or in any other community — this holiday season. That should put to rest any variation of the original rumor.

Those people hearing the rumor should realize that the local teachers' group wouldn't be silly enough to snub their noses at local business in such a way. The person who started the rumor probably doesn't have enough sense to realize that. But those are the kind of people who usually ignite this kind of damaging talk. They either don't know the facts... or they choose to ignore them in order to tear down somebody or something they don't like.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

MRS. LAVERNIC Johnson has been presented a plaque for meritorious service as Thurston County welfare director. Mrs. Johnson recently retired as county welfare director after 31 years as a social worker.

She was given the plaque earlier this month by Nate Carpenter, regional director for the state public welfare department. The plaque was signed by Gov. J. James Exon and state public welfare director Lawrence Gram.

CUMING COUNTY will have a second agricultural agent beginning next month.

He is Gerald Hopp, who has been an agent in training at Nemaha County following completion of schooling at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. A native of Talmage, Hopp will work with county agent Daryl Loeppeke.

AN UNDETERMINED AMOUNT of copper wire was stolen from the Elkhorn Rural Public Power District office at Neligh last week.

Power district employees are working at the office when a car with two occupants stopped at the rear of the entrance. One of the persons in the car got out of the vehicle and began loading wire before the employees noticed what was going on.

PIERCE STUDENTS will get a few extra days of vacation this Christmas, the result of the school board's decision to try to conserve heating fuel. Students will return to classes on Jan. 7 rather than on Jan. 3 as had been planned.

The school board is still undecided what it will do if daylight savings time is adopted in the state next month. The board is considering starting school an hour later if DST is adopted.

FRED MEYER of West Point has been elected to the Cuming County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committee and has been named chairman of the board for the coming year.

Serving with Meyer on the board are Leroy Webster of Beemer and Lester Beerbohm of Wisner.

Named alternates to the committee were Kermit Schweers of Wisner and Vernon Mackey of Bancroft.

LARRY COOK will be president of the Coleridge Commercial Club for 1974, replacing Claire Hansen.

Cook, vice president of the group the past year, was named during the group's meeting recently.

Picked to the other offices were Orphious Krie as vice president and Robert Yost as secretary-treasurer. Yost replaces Darrell Henry.

SAYS DICK LINDBERG, publisher of the Cuming County Democrat, in last week's "Nearly News" column: "A Jewish acquaintance laments: 'To think that if Moses had turned the other way, we'd have the oil they'd have the sand.' And... 'One reason there were fewer accidents in the horse and buggy days was because drivers didn't have to depend entirely on their own intelligence.'" lot of people seem plenty concerned with what the local council is and isn't doing, and I just hope that concern results in some competitors filing before the March 15th deadline. It's fine to comment and criticize what's going on locally, but the people doing the commenting and criticizing would be willing to give the job a try.

TIDBITS: Two area girls performed in musical activities at Kearney State College recently. Vicki Chelboun of Pilger was in the college choir's recent third annual Christmas concert, and Marlene Mills of Wakefield performed "Bear Dance" by Barlok during a recent honors recital at KSC. The Merlin Malchow family of rural Carroll is featured in the first issue of "The NEUSletter," monthly publication of the Neu-Cheese Co., at Hartington. The Malchows farm 400 acres of land near Carroll and have a herd of 40 Holstein milk cows. Featured along with the Malchows are the Jerry Hoffarts of Hartington. Jerry is manager of milk procurement for the Hartington company. Nebraska got a plug in "Outdoor America," monthly publication of the Izaak Walton League of America. The 12-page publication devoted its back page to a story and pictures on canoeing down the Niobrara River.

ONE PERSON who isn't complaining about the calls for energy conservation going out, I've taken too many of those darned pictures of lighting contest winners in weather not fit for the hardest person to knock doing away with those contests. There's no way you can shoot a good picture of a lit Christmas display in black and white.

ONE OF THOSE ugly rumors which does its damage as soon as it starts regardless of attempts to discredit it started in Wayne a few days ago.

The rumor is that the teachers' association in the Wayne-Carroll school district purchased a bunch of gift certificates to hand out this Christmas. The kicker is that the gift certificates were supposedly purchased at some business or shopping center in Norfolk.

Verne Mills, president of the association, flatly denies the rumor... and there's no reason to doubt him. "I can assure you and everybody else that the association has never even considered doing such a thing," he said. The association has not purchased gift certificates at Christmas in past years and has no plans for starting now, he said.

Francis Hawn, superintendent of school district, also said the rumor is completely false. And he noted that the school board has not purchased any gift certificates — either in Wayne or in any other community — this holiday season. That should put to rest any variation of the original rumor.

Those people hearing the rumor should realize that the local teachers' group wouldn't be silly enough to snub their noses at local business in such a way. The person who started the rumor probably doesn't have enough sense to realize that. But those are the kind of people who usually ignite this kind of damaging talk. They either don't know the facts... or they choose to ignore them in order to tear down somebody or something they don't like.

A CHRISTMAS FLOWER
What flower is synonymous in many people's mind with Christmas? The answer is probably the Christmas poinsettia.

Here is some professional advice on caring for this finicky house plant.

The plants are especially sensitive to heat and light and will not tolerate a draft, and most do badly with either too little or too much water.

As soon as you get your poinsettia home, remove foil or any other wrapping around the pot and place the plant in or near a sunny window. During the day, try to keep the plant in a room where the temperature stays between 65 and 70 degrees. The plant needs a cooler spot at night, but no cooler than 60 degrees or your poinsettia will suffer.

PROBLEM SIGNS

If your plant starts to drop leaves, check to see if it is in a draft from a window or a nearby outside door.

Lack of water may be a problem. Touch the soil every day and if it feels dry, pour on enough water to saturate the potting soil. Pour on just enough so it drips out of the drainage hole. Let soil become quite dry before rewatering, and never let your plant stand in water.

Be sure to empty out any water in the saucer or floor pot.

NEXT YEAR'S FLOWERS

For those who want their poinsettia to flower next Christmas, here is some additional advice.

Follow the care instructions discussed earlier until the end of April. Then water the soil a little less each day until the soil is very dry, but not so dry the stems shrivel.

Keep the plant in a well ventilated room where the temperature stays about 60 degrees. Around mid-April you'll need to do some trimming. Cut the poinsettia stems back to six inches above the soil and re-pot the plant. Use a container an inch or two larger in diameter than the poinsettia's original container. A number of potting mixes are available, but you can mix your own. Use two parts soil, one part peat moss, one part perlite.

Water the plant thoroughly and keep it by a sunny window where the temperature stays between 70 and 75 degrees. In a few days you should notice some new growth beginning and you'll need to start fertilizing. Every two weeks put on a water soluble fertilizer as recommended on the label.

SUMMER CARE

In June move your poinsettia to a lightly shaded area in the yard. Cut the stems again between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15, leaving each shoot three or four inches long. Remove the plant from its garden spot, re-pot it, and place it near a sunny window in your home where the temperature is between 65 and 70 degrees. Continue to fertilize it.

Poinsettias flower about 10 weeks after daylight time drops to 11 hours or less. To have it blossom for Christmas you may have to shorten the days for your poinsettia.

Keep the plant in complete darkness from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. starting in October and continuing through Thanksgiving. A closet or a dark basement corner will do.

During the day put the plant back in its sunny window. Continue fertilizing until mid-December. With a little luck your poinsettia should be in full bloom at Christmas.

Is It Real?

IS SANTA CLAUS' beard "the real McCoy?" Jolene Habrock of Emerson tries to find out as she fingers the white, cotton-like stuff on Santa's face. Santa, played by Jim Hepburn of Wayne, joined in during the Youth Association for Retarded Citizens Christmas party Monday night at Wayne. Before Santa arrived, the seven youngsters joined in and sang carols. For Roger Hill of Allen, left photo, the flash of the camera was a complete surprise as he was singing with Marilyn Wiesler of Wayne, a member of YARC. According to association sponsor Mrs. Rhea Sitzman of Wayne, cold weather kept many children from attending the annual party. Others who attended were Karen Lindner and Cindy Sitzman of Wayne, Rick Kenny of Carroll, and Agnes and Howard Hill of Allen.

'Action, Not Reaction' Theme of Annual Meet Of NEN Affairs Council

"Life Is Action — Not Just Reaction" is the theme selected by the Northeast Nebraska Family and Community Affairs Council for their sixth annual meeting scheduled for Jan. 14 at the Laurel city auditorium.

Featured speakers will be Merlin Wright, probation officer for Northeast Nebraska, and John North, director of the Nebraska Division on Alcoholism. Topics of their presentations are "Probation and Youth" and "Alcoholism Prevention — Are We Ever Going to Get Around to It?"

The film "Conspiracy of Silence" will be shown as part of the morning program. This film concerns early recognition of the problem drinker in the family setting.

The morning program is planned for youth and adults. High school counselors are invited to bring representatives from their schools. The public is invited to attend the day's program, which will start at 9 a.m. and end about 2:15. Reservations for noon lunch should be made before Jan. 7 with Mrs. Kendall Martin at Laurel.

The Norfolk Regional Center and the northeast area extension service are cooperating with meeting arrangements and publicity.

Red Cross in Dixon County Okays Bylaws

Bylaws for the newly reorganized Dixon County Red Cross Chapter were adopted at the meeting held recently in Allen. On hand to assist with the organization of the chapter was Dale Cox, national American Red Cross representative from Omaha.

Also present was Ida Killough, American Red Cross director of nursing, who is planning to organize licensed practical nurses and registered nurses in Dixon County into an emergency nursing team. Any nurses interested in assisting in such a program are asked to contact Roy Stehler of Concord, one of the chapter directors.

On the agenda for the Jan. 30 meeting is a fund raising campaign. The chapter will meet at 8 p.m. at the Allen Village Inn.

Another Big Winner

HENRY SCHMITZ of Wayne gladly receives the $100 Christmas Bucks from Arnie Reeg, owner of Arnie's supermarket, after the local resident won the coupons in Tuesday's drawing. Schmitz had a ticket with the number matching the first of 25 drawn at random earlier in the day.

Driving Tests Not Available Jan. 2

Persons planning on taking their driver license examinations at the Wayne County courthouse on Jan. 2 will have to make new plans. The examiners who visit the courthouse every Wednesday will not be giving exams that day. Exams are given each Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Nearly 26 million of America's more than 29 million living veterans served during a period the country was involved in war, according to the Veterans Administration.

'Now Good Time To Keep Bonds'

Henry Ley, Wayne County chairman for U.S. savings bonds, reports that now, more than ever before, it pays to hold on to your Savings Bonds. "The new six per cent rate applies both to bonds purchased on and after Dec. 1, 1973, and to those bought before that date and still outstanding. So, there's no reason to redeem any Bonds to benefit from the rate increase. "The higher rate is extremely timely," Ley said. "These days, more and more Americans are finding it prudent to put extra dollars aside into savings. There is no surer, safer, easier way than by buying savings bonds. And the new rate makes them better than ever." Ley pointed out that savings bonds are the least inflationary means the government has for financing the national debt. Dollars derived from savings bonds sales also help pay for ways of protecting our environment and improving our standard of living. "I know of no better way," Ley said, "for most of us to help our country, our neighbors, and ourselves — at one and the same time. Today's higher interest rate should encourage more people to buy bonds, thereby bolstering their individual financial security." "The improved rate," he continued, "should also stimulate our 4-H members, Future Farmers of America members and other young folks, who haven't started saving for their futures, to begin setting dollars aside."

Keating Will Head Heart Fund Drive Again This Year

Jim Keating of Wayne will again head the 1974 Heart Fund campaign in Wayne County. It was announced by Dr. Charles Carignan Jr., president of the Nebraska Heart Association. The campaign will be conducted locally and throughout the nation during February.

Keating has been an Association volunteer for the past two years. Last year under his leadership over $7,800 was raised for the Heart Fund.

Dr. Carignan cited the urgent need in the forthcoming campaign. Heart and blood vessel disease were responsible for more than 50 per cent of all deaths in Nebraska — more than cancer, accidents and all other causes combined.

According to the National Center for Health Statistics, some 27 million living Americans, one out of eight, are afflicted by one or more of the heart and blood vessel diseases. Chief among them are high blood pressure, coronary artery disease, stroke, rheumatic heart disease and congenital heart defects.

Heart Fund volunteers will visit residential areas during February to distribute heart-saving information and collect funds to support research, education and community service programs of the state association.

Hoskins Board To Study Cost Of New Sewer Treatment Plant

Cost of Hoskins' new sewer treatment plant will be the main topic of Friday's town board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Last week the board was notified by Gilmore and Associates of Columbus, the planning firm designing the plant; that there may be an increase in costs. Due to the normal monthly meeting date (fourth Monday of the month) falling on New Year's eve, the members decided to switch the meeting date to Friday.

BIG ENERGY USERS
Did you know that almost one-fifth of all mechanical energy produced in our nation today goes to operate our mechanized homes?

At one time or another, most homes have experienced inconveniences, loss of food and discomfort when there have been short-time power outages due to storms. The energy crisis facing us today may mean severe curtailment of the energy we have come to depend upon and even waste. It becomes important then that homes take serious steps to cut down on unnecessary energy usage.

The big five energy users in the home are furnaces in winter, air conditioners in the summer, hot water heaters, cooking units and refrigeration appliances. These account for 88 per cent of the family's energy budget; the balance is used in drying clothes, lighting and operating the various appliances.

The amount of energy (gas or electrical) used in heating water to keep our clothes, equipment and ourselves clean is second only to that energy used to keep us cool in summer and warm in winter. It takes about one kilowatt hour of electricity to raise the temperature of four gallons of water to 100 degrees F. Use of gas water heaters is almost twice as common as use of electrical water heaters in homes. Gas, too, is in short supply.

Consider the following as ways to conserve:

1. Lower the temperature setting a few degrees.
2. Check the efficiency of the water heater itself as well as its location in the house.
3. Use less hot water by washing clothes and linens at lower temperatures, washing only full loads in the washer or dishwasher, cutting down on time spent in the shower or depth of water in the tub and repairing leaky faucets immediately.
4. Bathe and wash clothes a little less frequently without sacrificing health and appearances too seriously.

We have the challenge raised by this energy crisis to live well while using less of a resource that is part of almost everything we consume. Let us be willing to make changes in our way of living.

Allen VFD To Divide Buildings

Allen's volunteer fire department last week voted to build a partition in the town's old fire hall to convert it into rescue squad facility.

According to Bill Kjer, the members hope to start work sometime this week on the project. Once it is complete the town's rescue unit will be kept in the old fire hall while the fire engine will be moved to the new fire hall.

Christmas Message:

There's A Good Reason Why God Sent Jesus As He Did

Why Christmas? Why did Jesus come to earth as a baby? Why didn't he just come down to earth with a few thousand angels and set this planet straight?

That sounds like a simple solution and it would have been the easy way out for God if he had chosen to do so. If Christ would have come this way, He would have come as judge, and you and I and the entire human race would have been judged guilty of sin and condemned to hell. Thus we see the reason for God sending Jesus to earth as a baby.

The human race is sinful. We are all sinners. I didn't say we are all murderers and crooks, but sinners. A sinner by God's definition is one who disobeys God's will for his life. We have all broken one of the 10 Commandments at one time or another which classifies us as sinners.

A close study of the scriptures reveals that God is a just God (who would want Him to be anything else?), and as a just

God He cannot stand sin. Habakkuk 1:13 tells us, "Thou (God) art of purer eyes than to behold evil (or sin)..." So God must punish sin. Romans 6:23 tells us, "The wages of sin is death..."

That's why God sent Jesus to earth. The reason for God sending Jesus to earth is deeply rooted in His love for us, as expressed in 1 John 4:10, "Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us, and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins." The love of God for us may be better understood when we realize that God loves the sinner, but hates the sin. Jesus came to separate the sinner from the sin, and to perform the hitherto impossible task of separating the sinner from the sin.

Had Jesus come any other way, He would have meant disaster for the human race. Praise God for that!
