Youths From Winside, Wakefield Top Colorers

Youngsters from Winside and Wakefield won top prizes in The Wayne Herald's annual Christmas Coloring Contest. Jeffrey Thies, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thies of Winside, won first place in the division for youths in kindergarten through the third grade. He's a first grader at Winside. Taking top honors in the division for older youths, grades four through eight, was Heidi Munson, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Con Munson of Wakefield. She is in the fifth grade at Wakefield. The two, who colored advertisements placed in the Dec. 24th issue of the newspaper by M & S Oil Co and First National Bank, received cash prizes of $8 each. Taking runner up cash prizes of $5 each were Shelley Emry, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Emry of Wayne, in the younger division and Kim Blecke, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Blecke of rural Wayne, in the older division. Shelley is in the third grade at West Elementary School, and Kim is a fifth grader at District 57. Third place cash prizes of $3 each went to Kristi Willis, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Willis of Wayne, in the younger division and Dennis Fleece, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fleece of rural Wayne. Kristi is a third grader at West Elementary, Dennis an eighth grader at District 54. Youngsters who participated in the coloring contest this year may pick up their entries at the Herald office.

No Date for Hearing On Fairchild Firing

No date has been set for the public hearing which Wayne's former police chief, Vern Fairchild, has requested, so he can attempt to get his job back. The public hearing will be held before the three-man civil service commission which recently upheld Mayor Kent Hall's decision to fire Fairchild for the second time in a little more than eight months. Hall's first attempt to fire Fairchild last April was ruled illegal in December by district judge George Dittrick of Norfolk, and the city was ordered to reinstate Fairchild. Later in the month, Hall fired Fairchild for the second time, this time listing specific reasons for his decision as required under the state's civil service law. The civil service commission, now will have to study the reasons listed by Hall and listen to Fairchild's side of the story during the public hearing. On the commission are Dr. Freeman Decker, professor of education at Wayne State College, and local businessmen Robert Merchant and Joe Nuss. Merchant and Nuss voted Dec. 29 to uphold Hall's second decision to fire Fairchild. Decker was out of town and unable to attend the meeting. The civil service commission must hold the public hearing between 10 and 20 working days after receiving Fairchild's notice that he wants a public hearing on his firing. The commission received that notice Wednesday, according to Nuss. If the commission votes to uphold the firing after the public hearing, Fairchild could appeal the decision to district court. He has said he probably will do that, putting the case before Judge Dittrick for the second time. Dittrick's decision to rule Hall's firing of Fairchild illegal the first time was based on a law which requires cities over 5,000 population to provide civil See Hearing, page 7

Variety Is Accented In WSC Winter Term

Wayne State College's winter term, opening this week, offers a variety of courses, especially in the evening, to interest the public.

Examples: personal finance, energy sources of the future, sky observing, business law, aero science (ground school, that is), orchestra, stage band, instrument repair, properties of wood (for wood workers) meteorology and climatology, radio-television for education, the politics of communism. All of these are offered in the evening, most of them meeting once a week at 6:30 or 7. None requires any previous college courses, and all are undergraduate level, except the radio-television for education, which is for seniors and graduates. Registration is scheduled to day (Monday) for all students who have not already enrolled. Students enrolling only in evening classes may sign up on the evening of the first class, or before the second class session. The registrar's office will be open until 6:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday the next two weeks to enroll night students.

The physical science course on energy sources of the future, new this term, is intended for citizens of the area interested in studying ways to solve the energy shortage. Dean Metz, who will teach this course on Tuesday nights, plans to conduct it as a workshop, with students able to work in their own areas of interest. To help students understand the many influences on environment and energy, Metz will use an Energy-Environment Simulator, a machine recently developed for this purpose.

The politics in communism course, taught by Allen O'Donnell Tuesday nights, will deal with the history, philosophy and practice of governments under communism—with accent on recent developments.

The aero science course, meeting Monday nights with Lionel Moore as instructor will cover subjects that future pilots need — navigation, aerodynamics, weather, aircraft operation.

The business class called personal finance, meeting Wednesday nights with Tim Wilder, covers a variety of topics useful to practically everybody. Other evening classes, with course numbers and meeting nights, abbreviated.

Irrigation Is Subject for Workshop Here

Area farmers interested in learning more about irrigation are invited to a Wayne County irrigation workshop scheduled for the National Guard Armory in Wayne on Wednesday afternoon.

The workshop, which begins at 1:30, will feature John Adlink, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension irrigation specialist; George Rehm, area agronomist at the Northeast Station near Concord, and Don Spitzke, county agricultural agent.

Workshop attendees will get an opportunity to look at records on actual local irrigation management methods, including such information as when crops were irrigated, what kind of fertilizer was used, what kind of plant population existed and the like. The records also will include information on costs and return of irrigation as practiced locally.

"This will be your chance to hear discussion and ask questions on what will and won't work on local irrigation systems," said Spitzke.

Readers 'Speak Out' on Editorial Page

More and better medical services in Wayne should get the most attention from public officials and private individuals, results of a survey of Wayne Herald readers reveal. Twenty-one of 50 readers of the newspaper responding in the recent "Community Attitude Survey" listed medical services as one of the top five areas they think should get highest priority by those wishing to make the community a better place to live. Listed as second most important area of concern was industrial development, mentioned by 19 of those taking part in the sample poll. The need for sidewalks throughout the city was mentioned by 18 readers, making it the third most important area of concern. Sixteen readers responding in the survey listed the need for public restrooms to improve the city, and 12 readers listed law enforcement as an area public officials and private citizens should be concerned with, putting them in fourth and fifth place. Readers ranging in age from 21 to 83 took part in the "Speak Out" survey, conducted by printing a "Community Attitude Survey" form on the editorial page of the newspaper in early December. Persons in the 40-49 age bracket responded more than any other age bracket, with 15 filling out forms and sending them back to the newspaper. See "Speak Out", page 7

Local Woman Wins $50 in Give-Away

Latest person to win in Wayne's weekly Birthdays-Bucks promotion is Mrs. Richard Wurdinger of Wayne. She won $50 in Birthdays-Bucks by being the shopper present with the birthday closest to the date drawn at random for the Dec. 27th drawing. She was shopping in Sav-Mor Drugs when the winning date was announced. The coupons she received in the drawing may be spent just like cash in any participating firm. Another drawing will be held Thursday night with a $300 prize offered for anybody present in one of the stores with a birthday falling on the exact. See Give-Away, page 7

Thone Plans Stop Here Next Week

Residents of Northeast Nebraska will have an opportunity to express their views and discuss problems personally with Congressman Charles Thone on Monday, Jan. 14 when the congressman is scheduled to be at the Wayne County court house from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Thone said he is attempting to make it easier for local citizens to find out what's going on in government, to express their opinions about today's issues and to discuss personal problems and seek help through the meetings. Each person who wishes will be given a few minutes to talk individually with the congressman.

In addition to the Wayne meeting, the congressman will be at the Stanton County court house in Stanton from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. and the Madison County courthouse in Madison from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Thone also is scheduled to address the annual membership meeting of the Cedar County Livestock Feeders Association that evening at the Wagon Wheel Steak House in Laurel.

Allen Boy Continues His Struggle for Life

A 14-year-old Allen boy continues his fight for life this week, but this time his struggle is carrying him to Seattle where he will undergo special treatment for a serious blood disease. Danny Koester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Koester of rural Allen, made the trip to Providence Hospital in Seattle along with his parents and younger brother, Doug, in what may be the last chance to save the life of the second youngest member of the family of eight. Three years ago it was discovered that Danny had paradoxical nocturnal hemoglobinuria—a rare blood disease that stems from the bone marrow's inability to produce enough white corpuscles. As a result, Danny's condition has been weak, and he has been growing worse. Doctors hope that by transferring the bone marrow from a member of the family they can prevent his condition from growing worse and hopefully help restore his health. As of Saturday morning doctors had decided to have Danny's sister, Mrs. John Rastved of Lincoln, flown to Seattle to transplant part of her bone marrow instead of Doug's. Doug and his parents will contribute blood.

But the operation takes a lot of time. In fact, doctors estimate it will be about 100 days before they know if it is a success or failure. In the meantime, both Danny's parents will stay with him while his two other brothers, Jim and Lindy, remain on the farm. His other sister, Joan, is attending the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Grandparents from both sides of the family will watch the farm while the parents are gone. The ordeal is going to cost a lot of money—the earliest estimate is $25,000—and already a fund drive has been started by the Dixon County Farm Bureau to help defray the costs. Friday members voted in a special session to sponsor the drive with the help of every church and organization in town. Paul Fischer of Wakefield will head the drive, with all funds to be held at the Security State Bank in Allen. Fischer noted that those interested in contributing may mail donations to the bank or give them to him. For those wishing to contact the Koester family in Seattle, their address is Providence Apartment No. 106, 17th and Jefferson St. S., Seattle, Wash. 98104.

Dixon PO Boosted

The Dixon post office will regain its third-class rating effective July 1, postmaster Lowell Saunders learned Thursday. In a letter from the district office in Norfolk, it was pointed out that the office's increase in postal receipts is the main reason for its jump in rating.

Last July the district office cited Dixon's smaller receipts as the reason for its dropping to fourth class.

Power Plant's Fuel Crunch Ranks As Top News Story in 1973

By NORVIN HANSEN
The fuel shortage at the municipal power plant in Wayne has been selected the top news story appearing in The Wayne Herald during 1973. It gained that top ranking despite competition from a host of important events during the past 12 months. The fuel shortage wasn't one single story, as were many of the other top events during 1973. Rather, it was a continuing story which repeatedly grabbed major headlines on front pages of the newspaper throughout the year. Also ranking among the top 10 news events during 1973 were:
—Decision by Nebraska Public Power District board of directors in January to build a 230,000-volt, 56-mile transmission line across area farm land from near Dakota City to near Norfolk.

—Resignation in February of W. A. Brandenburg, president of Wayne State College since 1956.
—Selection in April of Wayne-Carroll school district's Project Success as one of the top seven federally funded school projects in the nation.
—Breaking of ground in May for the new hospital which will be constructed next to Wayne State College.
—Firing of Wayne police chief Vern Fairchild by the mayor in April.
—Filing of charges of malfeasance against Wayne County commissioner Floyd Burt in July.

—Winning of the Class B baseball crown by Wakefield's Legion team in August.
—Death of John G. Nelhardt, Nebraska poet laureate, in November.
—Decision in November by the Wayne High marching band to raise money to make a trip to the Cotton Bowl Parade and football game in Dallas on New Year's Day.
—Also ranking among the top news stories during the past year were these:
—Decision in January to name the new science hall at Wayne State in honor of Dr. Walter Benback, longtime medical doctor in Wayne.

—Gutting of The Maxie Cafe in Wayne by fire in January.
—Retirement in February of Wayne County agricultural agent Harold Ingalls after 22 years on that job.
—Regional approval in April of a study which included the recommendation that Wayne County and the city of Wayne combine jail facilities.
—Announcement in April that California doctor William Ingram would come to live and practice in Wayne; he died early in May, ending that possibility of Wayne's gaining another medical doctor.
—Announcement in May that Val Peterson, former Nebraska governor and foreign ambassador, would come to Wayne to live and work after retiring from government service.

—Retiring in May of Henry Arp, Wayne County assessor for 22 years.
—The attempt in May by Wayne councilman Jim Thomas to end the contract with the city's engineering firm. The attempt succeeded in August, but the firm was rehired in November.
—Announcement in May of the decision to close Carroll's only Catholic Church, Our Lady of Sorrows, after 70 years in existence.
—Adoption in May of the city administrator form of government for Wayne.
—Selection in June of Wayne County 4-Hers Linda Baier of Carroll and Rex Hansen of Wakefield for participation in a goodwill tour of Europe.

—Announcement in July of decision to let the contract for hard-surfacing Highway 57 north of Carroll by June 30, 1974.
—Decision by Wayne city council in July to donate $4,000 to help promote Wayne State College in an attempt to reverse dwindling enrollment.
—Death in August of Dr. J. R. Johnson, longtime history instructor at Wayne State.
—Purchase in November by city officials of a 55-acre industrial site on See Top Story, page 7

Survey: 'Medical services are tops . . .'

Dear Editor:

First priority: Medical services. Somebody had better get on the kicker and start looking for more physicians for Wayne. What would happen if one of the present doctors retired?

Second priority: Hospital services. This is a priority but I'm glad to see a new hospital being built.

Third priority: Industrial development. Glad to see some new industry coming to Wayne, but we had better not stop looking for more. The ball is rolling, don't let it run into a stump.

Fourth priority: Public restrooms. A public restroom is needed on main street instead of expecting customers to go looking in the back rooms of businesses.

Fifth priority: Maintenance and cleaning of streets. I think the only people that are voting to keep the bricks on main street are the people who sell shock absorbers. As far as cleaning the streets, why does the city street department have to wait two or three days after a snow storm to see if the sun is going to melt the ice before they sand the streets?

Dear Editor:

We can only have one police chief. I don't think a "new position" should be made so we can keep both of them. Wasn't the new chief hired on probation? Maybe mayor (Kent) Hall would like to pay the salary for one of them.

The new hospital is in a ridiculous place. If you'll drive through other towns with new hospitals, you'll see they are located along the highway; therefore, they're very easy to reach. Also, I know personally of several times ambulance service was pathetic.

Our streets are always nice and clean in the summer, but winter could be handled better. A lot of the time the streets get slushy and no one comes along and blades it off. Then it freezes into hard ice ridges and is very dangerous.

There is hardly a store in town that lets the public use their restrooms.

It doesn't do one bit of good to go and register any complaint to Mr. Park (Loren, middle school principal). Right after Halloween there were several "X-rated" sayings written on the sidewalk south of the middle school near the street. They aren't just the ordinary sayings written on walls either. After my child in elementary school had been on that sidewalk, she came home spelling out the words for me and wanted to know what they meant. I went to the school and asked to have the writing removed, but it's still there. Hopefully, the winter weather will erase it.

This city is money spending crazy and has no consideration for the taxpayers.

We do have a very good fire department. They can always be depended upon.

The main reason we remain here is because our children were born here and don't want to move. I certainly hope this foolish money spending ends or, we may be forced to find a cheaper place to live.

Dear Editor:

I agree that except for (Vernon) Russell and (Jim) Thomas, we need a new city council.

We need more restaurants open on Sundays at noon.

If you are a widow living alone, it is almost impossible to get anything repaired without waiting days or often weeks.

I think the city is doing a good job maintaining both streets and parks.

Dear Editor:

We feel more common sense is needed by the council. Councilman (Vernon) Russell is the only one who spoke up about the injustice in firing chief of police (Vern) Fairchild.

Now the city planners, according to an article in The Wayne Herald, met recently and Sherry (Dan, city clerk) said the members are looking into acquiring more land to build additional housing for city equipment. Just recently, the council voted to purchase some 20-plus acres and proceeded to do so. Why, in heaven's name, does the city have to acquire more land when these 20-plus acres are located so close to the other city buildings housing city equipment?

Dear Editor:

In checking the line "Law Enforcement" section of the form, I would like to point out that the Peoples Natural Gas manager (Keith Mosley) has been serving on the city council in conflict with Nebraska law for the last three years and several months. The state legislature just passed a measure that makes this possible.

Also, note that Mr. Prather (Frank, city councilman) has moved from the ward that he was elected to serve in and can no longer serve in the capacity of his office under the present law. I believe we need a new city attorney as well as a new mayor and at least five new councilmen.

Why don't you file for an office on the council next April? I watch the meetings on cable TV and have come to the conclusion that there are a lot more intelligent people seated around the chamber than are seated at the table.

Someone should talk John Vokoc into running for election and at least one woman.

I would like to tell you that I do admire your guts in telling things like they are — I think you are one H... of a good newsman! Keep up the good work.

Dear Editor:

Very poor medical facilities for a town this size. Need is great for more doctors.

It seems that the law which applies for one resident (building sidewalks on his property) does not apply to all residents. It should be enforced!

A public restroom might enhance Wayne shopping. It should be a lounge-type.

"WELCOME BACK, sports fans, we're about ready to give you the blow-by-blow account of the next round in today's sports spectacular — a fight to the finish between Chief Pretty Boy and 'The Boss'."

"We've already seen several rounds in today's crucial confrontation between Pretty Boy, pride of the Sioux, and 'The Boss', who is trying to polish up his public image after some losses by the judge in this fight district early in his career."

"But, first a word from our sponsor. Today's live broadcast from Chamber Auditorium is brought to you over CBS, Consternation Broadcasting System, by Soothe-Away, the little white pills guaranteed to get rid of those headaches which so often bother overworked and underpaid executives and public officials. Take one after most any meeting and you're bound to wake up the next day fresh as dew on new-mown hay."

"Now back to the live action."

"Ready to referee another round is Georgie McDuffrick, brought all the way from South Fork to keep this title match as fair as possible. He's been accused of being blind by some, but from what we've seen of his moves so far, he's anything but that. He's weighed everything that's gone on so far, and his decisions have been far from prejudiced."

"Positioned around the ring are some of the backers of the two contestants in today's fight."

"Sitting right next to me is Patrick 'The Saint' Dross, who has been vocal in his backing of 'The Boss' in past action but who is kind of staying out of today's action. He wants everything to be fair, he said to me before the action began."

"Next to him is Vernie Tussle, a guy who has been in a few ally scraps himself. He hasn't said so, but I get the distinct impression his money is riding on Chief Pretty Boy. Seems there are some strong ties between the two."

"Over on the other side of the ring Reith 'The Gasser' Kosley, proponent of cleaner surroundings during any and all ring action. Also over there is Darrel Gonaway, who missed some of the earlier action but who is back for this round."

"On the other side are Pick-A-Peck Frankie, who some say doesn't do a good job representing himself when he comes into Chamber Auditorium. With him is Ivar 'Silent Man' Peeks. He doesn't say much, but if he does, watch out. He's been known to demolish automobiles for exercise."

"On the other side are Harvey 'The Rock' O'Brasch, who comes from the south end of town by the railroad tracks. Next to him is Jimmy 'Mr. All-American' McThomas. A guy you have to work at disliking."

"Other sparking personalities around ringside are Bobby 'Middle Man' McEvers, who reportedly said he'll take on Chief Pretty Boy if he wins this match."

"Also in the audience is Johnny 'The Book' Raddison, who once was strategy man for 'The Boss' and his following until they reportedly had a falling out a while back. Now they've been calling in other trainers to help with this bout."

"And I'm your friendly broadcaster, Fuzzy O'Riter, who has been bringing you blow-by-blow accounts in local fight circles for quite some time now."

"Some fans say I don't call the shots straight, but I flatly deny that. Oh, I add some color now and then, but when it comes to the big blows, I report it straight like it happens. I've backed Chief Pretty Boy in the past, but now I'll let them and Georgie McDuffrick decide what's going to happen from here on out."

"This is one of the best fights to come along in years, as far as I'm concerned."

OBSERVATIONS

Some comments on comments

Just a few comments on some of the comments from readers who responded in our survey of attitudes people have toward the community of Wayne:

"We weren't able to print everything readers sent along with their completed surveys. To do so would have taken about twice as much space as we devoted to those we did print, and they take up considerable space as it is."

Those comments that are carried are fairly representative of what those who took part in the survey had to say about Wayne. Some comments were omitted because they seemed, to us at least, to be petty complaints against individuals.

We included many of the comments about our public officials and about our school system because we feel local government and local schools are the property of the taxpayer and rightfully open for criticism.

A surprisingly large number of readers replying in the survey criticized the local government officials for everything from having two chiefs of police (at one time, at least) to being unfair in requiring residents to install sidewalks. That's to be expected. It seems, since citizens across this nation often get very disturbed about what is going on in municipal government. That's good, of course, but it is too bad more of that concern doesn't carry over when it comes time to file an election time.

We doubt if the newspaper editor was that instrumental in getting traffic signs put up at Seventh and Main. City officials had quite some time before the newspaper began criticizing the situation editorially and photographically.

We have criticized the secret meetings by the local city council in the past, and we will continue to do so in the future. We think, however, that words such as dictator and totalitarian when used in speaking about local city government are much, much too harsh.

Finally, it's heartwarming to read the criticisms some people have of this community. . . and then to read a paragraph or two at the end of the letter in which they say the community is a fine one to live in regardless of their complaints. Things could be better . . . but they could also be a heckuva lot worse, they seem to be saying.

'so are welfare, city government, etc. . .'

Dear Editor:

Dental services: Seems like the prices here in Wayne are higher than anywhere else. Before school started we called to see how much it would cost to have our kids' teeth checked. Just checked, nothing done. The price was $7 each. We went to Wisner and had them checked for nothing. Now where would you go next time?

Welfare: Now welfare is good, but I can't see it when people are on the food stamp program and are as fit to work as other people.

Maintenance and cleaning of streets: Snow removal seems to be okay, but I do wish they'd put the blade down a little more. As for cleaning the streets with the sweeper, do they have to do it during the night?

Service and repair facilities: I think it should be a law that any store that sells things like washers and dryers, etc., should have a repairman that knows what he's doing.

Middle school staff: First, I think Wayne has a very good educational system. But something seems to be lacking in the middle school. Their snow removal leaves a lot to be desired. They can't even go out and clean dirty words off the sidewalk after they get a complaint that they're there.

In closing, I think Wayne is a good town, even if I have just got done complaining about some things. There are some things that can be improved, maybe this is the way to get something done.

Dear Editor:

Wayne is a great place to live, but I have one complaint which might be trivial to most. My complaint is the hours the city landfill is open. Dumping the garbage has always been the responsibility of our teenage son, but with the new hours it is impossible because he is in school, and on Saturdays he works and sometimes the weather doesn't permit it on Saturdays. This must also be a problem for working people who work six days a week.

Where are the minors getting their beer and liquor? There are many

Dear Editor:

Try and do something about this totalitarian form of city government. As an example, the city council holds secret meetings.

Do something about better law enforcement. The police seldom solve a crime. They are too busy chasing stray dogs, except those that belong to the hierarchy.

Why are a handful of dictator businessmen allowed to prevent industry coming to Wayne?

Impeach the mayor and city councilmen. Each month matters are becoming deplorable to a point where Wayne is becoming a big laugh to other towns in the area, as well as to the citizens of our town.

Prevent that ex-police chief (Vern Fairchild) from coming back and fire the new one. Get a well trained one, even if it means more tax money.

Provide more and better recreation and entertainment for other citizens. Give free passes to athletic events and other entertainment that most elderly citizens can't afford. Much is done for the youth, which is wonderful, but the elderly are ignored, except the senior citizen center where only a tiny percentage care to go. Many of us live on social security and sit at home with nothing to do. We would enjoy attending athletic events and other entertainment if passes were provided. Make it life-time. We have only a short time left to live. College events, for instance, and summer baseball games.

Investigate our court system. Certain citizens escape fines all because they are members of families of the elite. One man was falsely arrested, denied an attorney at the hearing and fined far more than permitted by law. It was a case of spite against a local citizen. There have been others.

Mr. Editor, you are doing a good job by exposing some things, but you can do more. Don't be afraid of these city dictators or Wayne will suffer, and already has.

Where are the minors getting their beer and liquor? There are many homes where drinking parties go on every week when the teenagers' parents are gone for the weekend. Some complaints to the police are ignored or merely investigated and the residents told to quiet down.

Dear Editor:

Wayne needs: Better law enforcement, a new mayor, industry.

Wayne should have less: Mental health and retardation services, programs such as "Project Success."

Right now Wayne has too many chiefs (police, that is) and not enough Indians!

Dear Editor:

There is great need for bus service to nearby cities, especially to air and rail terminals. Local taxi service is excellent as far as it goes, but it might be expanded to evenings and Sundays.

As a pedestrian, the more sidewalks I find, the better. However, many walks now existing are in need of repair, are uneven, unsafe and muddied by car parking.

Compared with neighboring towns and statewide, Wayne is far behind in support of the local historical society and museum.

Cultural opportunities are marvelous if people only took advantage of all the college has to offer. This lies in with taxi service, as most attractions are on Sundays and evenings.

The work done at the senior citizens center is outstanding, but the space provided is inadequate.

and we need the lights turned back on'

Dear Editor:

We need our lights on again. When driving we cannot see where the corners or drives are. We also need more plumbers in the town. No more bottle clubs, and ban Sunday beer.

RURAL DELIVERY

By AL SMITH

Letter writer: 'City could face suit to redistrict'

Dear Editor:

Prior to the coming elections for Wayne city government officials the incumbent officials ought to redraw the boundaries of the city wards so as to correct the present inequalities of population in these wards and conform with the one man one vote principle.

According to official figures in the office of the Wayne County clerk, in November, there were 739 registered voters in the second ward but only 514 registered voters in the first ward. That is a difference of more than forty per cent, four times what federal officials have ruled is the maximum allowable difference under the one man one vote principle in a community such as Wayne.

In fact, owing to the hundreds of Wayne State College dormitory residents who are not registered Wayne voters, the population difference is even greater. All these dormitory residents, of course, live in the second ward and are part of the census population of Wayne. Hence, even with the precipitous decline in the college enrollment since 1970 — a decline that seems likely to continue and that may actually be intended to continue — between one-third and one-half of the entire census population of Wayne lives in the second ward.

In these circumstances, any resident of the second ward might file suit to have the city redistricted, alleging that under the one man one vote principle he is being denied the equal protection of the laws guaranteed him by the terms of the Fourteenth Amendment.

To forestall this eventuality, city officials should take a census and redraw the ward lines, accordingly. Otherwise they might undergo the embarrassment of having the results of an election thrown out by a court because of one of the wards' convicted-the-court they had been discriminated against.

New Year's Resolutions Proverbs 16:3

JANUARY — "I hereby resolve to start to church this year, but I'll wait till February. Gotta get over the holidays; they take a lot out of a fellow, you know."

FEBRUARY — "Weather is terrible, I'll start when it warms up a bit. My blood is so thin this time of the year."

MARCH — "Lots of sickness just now. Got to keep away from those bugs. A person can't afford to take a chance."

APRIL — Easter — Big crowds. You can't get a decent seat. Anyhow they never miss me. It would look strange if I showed up only at Easter."

MAY — "I've been holed up all winter and now the weather is getting pretty. It's time for reunions, too."

JUNE — "I'll wait until the baby is older. How on earth do some folks bring their babies at two weeks of age and then never miss a Sunday?"

JULY — "Boy! Is the heat terrific! We've got that cabin that we still owe for . . . and that boat for Sunday pleasure."

AUGUST — "Preachers on vacation. He'll never know if I miss this one. Never liked good preachers anyhow, but when the preacher gets back . . ."

SEPTEMBER — "Schools started. Vacation threw me behind with my work. Gotta make one last visit to Grandma's before the snow flies."

OCTOBER — "Leaves are beautiful. I can worship God outdoors anyhow. And the kids will be cooped up all winter."

NOVEMBER — "My heart is bursting with gratitude and Thanksgiving. The Christmas season will be a wonderful time to start back."

DECEMBER — "What a mad house. Right after this is over my family and I will start back to church — the first Sunday in January."

'Sure I Know Mervin Kent Smith'

Hey! Need a cure for insomnia? Discovered one the other night when boredom drove me to the bottom of a box of "choice" books stashed the past 10 years in the far recesses of the attic.

Said cure is accessible to rich and poor, brilliant and not so, young and old, but most reliable perhaps for those who are somewhere past young, and a long way from "over-the-hill." AAA (Aging Arthritic Adults) tells us this junction is located in Mortgage County, right near Teenager Township and across from Insurance Premium Island.

Especially effective on bill-paying or transmission-falling-out days, the insomnia cure not only puts you to sleep in time to catch a decent 40, it also offers the satisfaction of having accomplished something worthwhile at no cost to pocketbook or sanity.

Remember that book Aunt Mildred sent you when you flunked out of college, "How to Conform and Like It," or the one your better half ordered two years ago from a book club, "The Rise of the Western Empire and How It Has Affected the Milk Industry"?

Be glad you didn't succumb the last time the goodwill bag came around. This is your answer to a sound sleep tonight.

A good stiff belt of hot chocolate, Kentucky Club or carrot juice won't hurt a thing. A hot bath is also conducive, but with the luck you've been having, half the kids in the block are probably having a marathon of some sort in your bathroom, so forget that and go on to the next step.

Select the longest title and open the book to the beginning - I mean really the beginning, starting with the preface, introduction, table of contents, the whole bit, and read every word! Don't worry about understanding what you read. This doesn't seem to be essential.

Generally by page two or three (five or six if the type is excessively large) the book drops and you are on your way to dreamland.

Supposing you find the next morning that you have lost your place? Don't fret! So what if you reread 16 chapters of the "Lives of Great-European Composers"!

In the event you one night recognize something you are reading as having danced quite briefly across your sleep-evading conscious once or twice before, console yourself with the thought that you have actually retained a particle, however small, of this worthwhile book (it must be worthwhile, it's got footnotes).

Incidentally, a bonus of this prescription is the reassuring thought that someday, at a cocktail party, PTA meeting or Marine Biology Lovers of '52 convention, you may be able to bat your false eyelashes at some exotic specimen of manhood, and say, "Mervin Kent Smith? Yes, I'm familiar with him. Wrote 'Mesmerism in Ten Easy Lessons,' didn't he?"

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Nygren greeted the 100 guests who attended the reception held following the ceremony at the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. Ed Borowski and Mrs. Richard Payne cut and served the cake and Mrs. Rod Schmidt and Mrs. Cecil Clark poured. Mrs. Ronnie Greve and Kathy Chapman served punch.

Waitresses were Dorothy Paulson, Kim Muhs, Pam Thompson and Janet Lehman. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Gary Lute, Mrs. Verner Madsen, Mrs. Gerry Cunningham, Mrs. Art Lipp and Mrs. Lloyd Wendel.

For her wedding day the bride selected a long dress of white nylon knit, styled with lace bodice, stand up collar, long bishop sleeves caught to lace cuffs and gathered skirt edged with a lace-trimmed self ruffle. Her tulle veil was caught to a lace cap and she carried pink roses, blue baby's breath and white pompons.

Nancy Stohler wore a gown of pink crepe and rose and royal polyester sheer and Miss Kubik wore an identically styled frock of blue crepe and rose and royal polyester sheer. The dresses were styled with scoop necklines, bishop sleeves and gathered bodices.

The bride's mother chose a long dress in a blue and pink Hawaiian print and Mrs. Kubik wore a royal blue knit, also in formal length. They had blue pompon corsages.

The bride was a student at Wayne State College and the bridegroom, a WSC graduate, is a music instructor. The couple will make their first home in Howells.

Scrambling Laurel Belts Stanton, 76-53

Laurel's brand of basketball hasn't changed since its last game with Randolph two weeks ago. The Bears still hustle, shoot well and, above all, win.

The Bears picked up their fifth win against two losses Friday night, dumping visiting Stanton, 76-53, in a wild and fast-breaking contest.

Senior Gregg Anderson led the parade with 22 points after a slow first half. But Anderson didn't have to get hot that first half. Not with a junior teammate simmering the basket. Mark Anderson hit 14 of his 15 points for the night to lead the Bears to a comfortable 36-24 halftime advantage.

The smaller Bears lengthened that margin with a run-and-gun offense after a stiff man-to-man press caused the Mustangs to turn the ball over.

"Our defense really had a good night," coach Joel Parks pointed out. "You might say that our defense saved the game since our offense really didn't click tonight."

Although the visitors hit 57 percent for the night, compared to 52 for Laurel, the number of shots better tells the story. The Bears kept the air full with 64 shots while Stanton attempted just 29.

"Laurel has a very poised defense," Stanton coach, Leon Portrey commented after the game. "If they continue to improve I wouldn't doubt if I see them in Lincoln at the state tournament."

The smooth ball handling of guards Kevin Gade and Anderson opened the way for Laurel's fast-moving game. Both also were instrumental in the Mustangs' costly 25 turnovers, 12 more than Laurel.

After a slowed third quarter (Laurel 16, Stanton 13), the Bears started hustling, again, causing the visitors to get into serious foul trouble. Stanton's two top men, Rex Hawkins and Russ Seaman, left the contest with five fouls and just under two minutes left in the game. Seaman, who finished the game with 12 points, put his team within 10 during the final period before leaving. Just a few seconds later Hawkins — with high for the night at 26 — joined him on the bench.

Stanton's little general on the court, senior Art Barr, was missing from the lineup due to illness. But as Portrey put it, "I doubt if he would have made the difference the way Laurel was playing."

The Laurel reserve club set a blizzing pace in its 49-20 romp. The Bears plastered the Colts 74-44 at the half, then proceeded to rack up its fourth win with the help of Gordon Kardell's 12 points. Jon Erwin was the only other Bear in double figures with 10.

The B squad, now 4-1, will take a break until Jan. 18 when the Cubs host Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference foe Neligh.

Meanwhile, the varsity will play Neligh tonight (Monday) in the first night of the NENAC tournament at Neligh.

Winside Tournament 'Could Be Toughest' For 4-0 Cat Grapplers

Winside High's wrestling team possibly could be facing its toughest tournament test this season when the Wildcats host their 10-team invitational Saturday.

But that's okay with head coach Doug Barclay. In fact, it's what the head man wants for his team — plenty of tough competition.

The Cats are sure to get that with such opponents as Plainville, Randolph and the only team that has beaten the Winside crew in dual meets, Neligh, to be there. "I don't want to count out Wakefield," Barclay added. "They will have some strong contenders also."

Also included in the invitational are Norfolk Catholic, Newman Grove, Stanton, Hartington and Niobrara.

The Wildcats will be aiming to master their fifth tournament win against no losses after capturing the Wisner-Pilger four team classic two weeks ago.

There Barclay's crew picked up six firsts, three seconds and three thirds for a total of 98 points. "The best thing about the tournament," Barclay said, "is that none of the wrestlers finished below third place."

Host Wisner-Pilger had five winners to help finish second with 88 points. Hartington High collected 46 points, Columbus Lakeview 22.

Winside finished strong in the first four lower weights, winning at 98 and 105 pounds and coming in second at 112 and 119 pounds. Bob Bowers, (98) dethroned Kevin Klipschut of Wisner-Pilger, 2-0. And 105-pound Keith Surti pinned Grant Wohlman of Hartington in 1:30. Monte Pfeiffer and Brad Brummetts, 112 and 119 respectively, took second.

In the middle through upper weights, the Wildcats again were strong.

Gregg Lage took the 138-pound class with a 4:26 pin over Stan Jones of Hartington. Dwight Lienemann (167), Dan Bowers (185) and heavyweight Mike Anderson rounded out the match with wins.

Both Lienemann and Bowers pinned their opponents before Anderson won his match on a forfeit over Randy Nissen of Wisner-Pilger. Lienemann nailed Rick Heller of Wisner-Pilger in 3:34 and Bowers pinned Lyle Klug of Lakeview in 2:35.

Doug Lage (145) wound up second after Calvin Wiechman of Wisner-Pilger pinned the Winside vet in 51 seconds. Third-place showings went to Lynn Langenberg (126), Bert Schwedhelm (132) and Neil Wagner (155).

Wagner and Langenberg pinned their final foes and Schwedhelm took his match on decision.

Allen Jr. High Takes 2 Games Allen's junior high basketball teams swept a pair of games from Dixon Wednesday night.

The A team, led by Brent Chase's 17 points, ripped Dixon, 44-24, for its first win against two losses. Ray Dowling added another 10 in what coach Keith Simkins said was a good showing for both players. Ryan Lubberstedt was high for Dixon with 12.

The B team did just as well, picking up its second win against one defeat by taking a 34-8 victory. Rich Stewart popped in 13 points for Allen while Curt Saunders paced Dixon with four.

Allen's next game is Tuesday at Wakefield. Scoring: A GAME Allen-Brent Chase 17, Ray Dowling 10, Doug Klaver 4, Ken Ellis 4, Lin Smith 4, Darwin Klaver 3, Mark Creamer 2, Dixon-Ryan Lubberstedt 12, Brad Saunders 5, Dennis White 3, Kenny Strivens 2, Dale White 2

B GAME Allen-Rich Stewart 13, Bart Gotch 6, Ricki Smith 6, Dan Hansen 4, Kevin Kraemer 2, Dale Kellogg 2, Bryce Chapman 1; Dixon-Curt Saunders 4, Duane Nelson 2, Terry Wayman 2

Winside held a 14-10 first quarter advantage before Battle Creek trimmed it to one point, 22-21, at intermission. Then the winners exploded for 18 points in the next frame and 20 in the fourth period while Winside dropped in nine and 10, respectively.

The Cats were slated to meet Osmond for third place Saturday night in the eight-team tournament. Other teams in the meet were Hartington CC, Norfolk Catholic, Elkhorn Valley, Randolph and Pierce.

In Wednesday night action, the area team bombed host Pierce, 50-35.

Hoffman led his teammates with 15 while Libengood popped in 13 and Frevert had 10.

Emperor Titus of Rome once gave an exhibition of gladiators, wild beasts and sea fights that lasted 100 days and in which 10,000 men fought.

LAUREL'S FIRST HALF scoring leader, Mark Anderson, readies to move past Phil Frank of Stanton in Friday's action. The Bears easily handled the taller Mustang club, thanks partly to Anderson's 14 point shooting in the first two quarters.

Bears, Wildcats Vying In Meets

High school basketball tournaments haven't come to a halt even though the holidays are over. For Laurel, action resumes tonight (Monday), while Winside plays Tuesday.

Fresh off a tournament win at Randolph, the Bears head back into Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference action when they take on host Neligh in the third game of the annual NENAC tournament.

Laurel, boasting a 4-2 mark after upsetting one of the conference favorites, Randolph, 45-40 in overtime, will play at 9:30 p.m. against the 31 Warriors.

Other pairings include Crofton (10-6) versus Bloomfield (2-4) and O'Neill (3-2) versus Creighton (1-3) in tonight's action.

Tuesday the winner of the Crofton-Bloomfield game will play Randolph (5-1), followed by the Plainville (2-1)-Pierce (3-1) game. Semi-finals are Thursday, finals Friday.

An idle club during the holidays, Winside, won't find its first pairing a breeze when the area team enters Coleridge's invitational during the second night of tournament plays Tuesday.

The Wildcats, sporting an 0-5 mark, face plenty of height in their matchup with a 4-2 Hartington Cedar Catholic club.

The annual invitational includes such caliber of competition as undefeated Coleridge and Hartington High battling tonight in the first game, with Ponca and Newcastle meeting in the second game.

After the Winside-Hartington CC game, Wynot and Osmond will square off before the other winning teams play in semifinal action Thursday night. Consolation and championship rounds are slated for Friday.

Elsewhere around the area, Wakefield travels to Stanton Tuesday night.

If you're fighting flab trying to keep your weight within reasonable limits, have a care what TV shows you watch! Research has discovered that people tend to eat less when they're calm and serene, quit larger portions when they're tense or anxious.

When you're watching a fast moving "who-done-it" with plenty of suspense and action, the excitement stimulates stomach acids which in turn stimulates hunger. So you snack, rapidly, and maybe almost without realizing the caloric intake. Top 72! Watch only travelogues and old Shirley Temple movies!

Whatever TV shows you want to watch, you'll enjoy them more if you let us put your set in like-new condition. Call us for expert TV repair work.

Bemidji Stops Wildcats Bid for Tourney Title

An elusive, third straight Holiday Tournament championship escaped Wayne State's basketball team again this year.

Talented, well-balanced Bemidji State quiet thwarked the Wildcats in their bid for throne in a row Saturday, Dec. 29, with a 71-58 championship decision. The win kept the Beavers from Minnesota undefeated at 8-0.

In the college consolation game, "Warburg—an 82-67 victim of Bemidji in the first round, bombed Bethel of St. Paul, Minn., 95-71, for third place.

Wayne's first round tussle ended with a narrow 57-54 victory over Bethel in a game noted for careful control strategy both ways—neither team trying often for the quick shot.

Coach Ron Jones called Bemidji one of the best-disciplined teams Wayne has faced in a long time, and he rated Bemidji's little 5-foot-10 guard Frank Kopetka an exceptional player, both as shooter and ball handler. Kopetka riddled Warburg with 24 points and Wayne with 20, most of them coming on long jump shots off an amazingly quick set.

The Wildcats did manage to contain Kopetka (six points) in the second half, but balanced Beaver shooting kept up the scoring. The Cats, down 38-30 at the half, never got closer than 10 after trailing by 18 in the second half.

For Wayne, Neal Waide proved as efficient as Kopetka in posting points. He also got 20, several of them on dandy moves eluding Bemidji defense for quick layups.

Chuck Collins, after several games of below-par scoring, came back strong in both tournament games. Though seeing limited action, he hit 10 points in each and also blocked a batch of shots, grabbed some key rebounds.

Warburg, a perennial Iowa power coming into the tourney with a 7-2 record, was stunned by the Bemidji defense, which kept the Knights constantly off balance.

Bethel had the tourney's top college scorer in guard Steve Scroggins, who shot 50 points from all over, but the Royals, lacking balance, could not add enough offense to match Wayne or Warburg. They fell to a 1-7 season.

Wayne came out with a 4-7 char in advance of a crucial Saturday night (7:30) home game against unbeaten (9-0) Hastings. In the 5:30 preliminary game, Wayne's junior varsity was scheduled against Platte College of Columbus.

In 16 holiday tournaments, Wayne has won six, placed second six times. Once before the Cats went into the meet with two consecutive titles behind them, and that time, in 1970, they fell to a Western New Mexico team much like Bemidji's of this tourney. Wayne won in 1971 and 1972.

In the high school ranks, Plattsburgh had its unbeaten string end when West Point Central Catholic took the tourney crown, 66-62.

CC set a torrid pace, hitting 67 per cent of its free throws while dominating the rebounding, 57-24.

An effective 1-3 zone defense kept the Plattsburgh Blue Devils scoring leader, Joe Peitzmeier, out of the middle and to the outside where the lanky 6-3 senior made 14 points. The night before, Peitzmeier racked up 22 points in the team's overtime 67-61 conquest of Wayne.

The big man for Plattsburgh was 6-2 junior Scott Lindstrum with 27 points. That brings his total for two nights to 45 after sinking 18 the night before.

West Point dominated the game for three quarters as its team leader, guard Kevin Mahlborg, went about his way to score 20 points. Tom Ridder was next with 16.

"Plattsburgh made a valiant effort to overcome a 15-point fourth quarter deficit, closing the gap to four as time ran out. Last year Plattsburgh snuffed out the West Point Bluejays' hopes of taking the title, 57-44.

Syracuse controlled the tempo of the third-place game for all but the last six minutes when Wayne came alive for a 56-52 victory.

The Rockets outshot Wayne by three field goals, but a 10-point Blue Devil free throw advantage erased the Syracuse effort from the field.

Wayne's Marty Hansen and Scott Ehlers were perfect from the line. Ehlers dropped in five of five. Hansen, seven of seven.

Both guards also were instrumental in scoring. Each made 13 points—second high to senior Todd Bigelow's 14.

Syracuse showed more aggressiveness throughout three quarters of play, ending the first half with a 26-21 lead and taking a 36-30 advantage into the final frame.

The Devils then took over, with Bigelow pumping from the outside while Ehlers, Bill Schwartz and Hansen slashed the middle.

Wayne, now 3-2, has two home games, Jan. 11 and 12 against Madison and Wisner. Pilger will be traveling to Stanton Jan. 18.

Fifth spot went to Lincoln Plus X after the capital city club's easy 73-44 win over North Bend Central. John Magsamen and Jim Hamersky led the Bolts with 14 each.

Scribner's 82-61 win over Albion earned the Trojans seventh place in the sixth year of the annual high school portion of the WSC tournament.

WAYNE HIGH'S scoring leader against Syracuse, Todd Bigelow, hits another basket in a driving jump shot. Making the break inside for the rebound attempt is Blue Devil Mike Meyer.

'Speak Out'

Responses in the other age brackets from 20 to 79 were fairly even, with one person over 80 completing the survey.

Readers rated the need for more restaurants in sixth place behind medical services, industrial development, sidewalks, public restrooms and law enforcement as an area citizens should be doing something about to improve the community. Eleven persons listed it as one of the top areas needing attention.

In seventh place, mentioned by 10 readers participating in the sample survey, was the need for community planning and development.

Eighth most important were the need for better shopping facilities, maintenance and cleaning of streets, and public transportation, all listed by nine readers completing the survey.

Ninth place in the survey went to hospital services, service and repair facilities, recreational opportunities for teenagers, job opportunities for persons under 18, and job opportunities for persons 18 to 39. Eight readers listed each of those areas as needing more attention in attempts to improve the city.

Tenth most important were the general attractiveness of the city and public meeting places for teenagers, each mentioned by six readers completing the survey.

Also mentioned as areas of concern were cultural opportunities, middle school staff, garbage collection, recreational opportunities for older people high school staff, dental services, mental health and retardation services, welfare services, youth services and middle school educational program.

The survey was the third conducted in the Speak Out series initiated by the newspaper last year. Previous surveys asked about the value of competitive girls athletics in high school and the switch in police uniforms by the Wayne police department.

The surveys are not a scientific sampling of public opinion in the community or area, noted Norman Hansen, newspaper editor, but they do give some idea about how a sampling of readers of the newspaper feel about topics of interest to many residents.

Top Story

east edge of Wayne.

The top news story—the fuel shortage at the power plant—had various ramifications during the year. It resulted in the city's decision to install a $100,000 substation so the city could link up with another electrical utility company and the decision to purchase a 300,000 gallon tank to store fuel in an attempt to avoid future shortages.

It also resulted in the city getting national television coverage on NBC. A television crew came into Wayne in November and the news story was broadcast over the nation on Thanksgiving Day.

And it has resulted in continuing efforts by local residents and businessmen to curb energy use in their homes and businesses.

Three Area High Schools To Start Classes Later

Three area high schools are adjusting their schedules to start classes later after day light savings time went into effect Sunday.

Beginning today (Monday) Allen, Wakefield and Winside schools will begin about a half hour later.

Instead of the 8:25 a.m.-8:44 p.m. schedule for Winside, superintendent Don Leighton is switching the times from 9 a.m. to 4:05 p.m.

"The board decided to go this way because most students would be coming to classes in the dark if we started at the same time," Leighton noted. The new schedule will last until the first part of March, he added.

Winside's buses will be starting their runs about 25 minutes later than the normal schedule, Leighton said.

Wakefield and Allen also are starting their school days at 9 a.m.

According to Allen superintendent Gail Miller, school will run from 9 to 3:30 p.m., with buses starting 30 minutes later than usual. Allen's previous schedule was 8:30 a.m.

Wakefield classes will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Instead of 8:30 to 3:45, explained superintendent Murl Beller.

Wakefield students resume classes after an extra-long holiday break. Due to the uncertainty of whether the school would be cut off from its gas supply during extremely cold weather, the school board decided it would not be worthwhile to heat the school last Thursday and Friday so classes could resume then as had been planned.

Wayne and Laurel High Schools are going to keep their regular starting and dismissing times as it was during standard time hours, reports school officials.

Wayne high principal Deryl Lawrence said classes will start and end at their usual times, 8:50 a.m. and 4 p.m. "We do not anticipate any change at this time," he added, noting that bus schedules also will remain the same.

"We're going to stick with the present schedule," said Laurel superintendent James Lofquist, "rather than bochping up bus route times and school activities." Classes at Laurel start at 8:58 a.m. and dismiss at 3:36 p.m.

Thought for Today

By Rowan Wilts

"Common sense is instinct. Enough of it is genius." — George Bernard Shaw

We all possess common sense to some degree, though a few among us seem determined to prove that the amount is not too large. Common sense refined a bit becomes "good judgment." When one has it in quantity, it is, as Shaw observed, a characteristic of geniuses.

Perhaps you might find that each of us possesses more native common sense than we suspect, if we would only follow its dictates. We should be prompt and guided less by whim, habit, prejudice and loyalties of dubious merit, and more by our common sense.

Just as you select your attorney and your doctor in advance of the need, it is equally wise to choose and establish a reassuring relationship with your funeral director. Come in for a "get-acquainted" visit.

Hoskins Sewer Work Depends on EPA

The cost of Hoskins' proposed new sewer treatment plant will jump from $57,000 to an estimated $50,000 if the state of Nebraska has its way, town board members learned during a Dec. 28 meeting.

Bruce Gilmore and Associates, an engineering firm from Columbus, explained at the meeting that additional equipment required by the state is part of the reason for the increase. The group also pointed out that increased costs of labor and materials is another reason.

"Regardless of the cost, we still only have to provide about one-eighth of the cost," said Herman Opler, a member of the board. "The state and federal governments will pick up the rest," he added.

If the federal Environmental Protection Agency approves the plans as they now stand, the town can bypass the state's requirements and build the plant for about the original estimate, Opler pointed out.

During the meeting the members also were notified that in the May primary elections both board chairman George Langenberg and member Lloyd Ave will be up for re-election. Hoskins' next town board meeting will be Jan. 28.

Nuss Gets Probation

A Wayne youth, David Nuss, 16, was placed on one year's probation by district judge George Dietrich Wednesday in Wayne County district court.

Nuss had pleaded nolo contendere — no contest — in December to a charge of breaking and entering a motor vehicle. He was released on his own recognizance after the plea on the felony charge pending a pre sentence investigation by the district probation office.

He also was ordered to pay $45 court costs and to make restitution of $38.70.

Nuss and two other Wayne youths had been charged with breaking and entering a motor vehicle in September. The other two youths were not identified by authorities and were handled in county court as juveniles. They were placed on probation to their parents.

A Unique New Pattern For Easy Sewing

The Sunburst Pattern System, developed last year, enables the home seamstress to easily shape the pattern to individual body requirements as it is being drafted. A complete collection of basic patterns and designs have been worked out allowing a seamstress to sew more easily for herself and family and to design her own fashions.

Jean Wasson, a close associate of the developers, will introduce the new system of pattern design in 90-minute classes which are scheduled. A lecturers fee will be charged.

Co-founders of the newly developed Sunburst Pattern System, C. M. Brook and Helen LeMay.
