WS Studying Goals

Looking to the future, Wayne State College is studying goals for what it should become. A wide-ranging self-study plan went into action last week after several months of preparation, President Lyle Seymour said Friday.

The study will involve faculty, students and area residents serving on nine committees assigned to gather information and ideas on specific subjects.

Charles Stelling, director of college informational services, headed a committee that developed the study plan. The committees, he said, will report by March 28, and the over-all Goals Committee then will condense the reports into a statement of future goals.

Each committee already has a chairperson, some of them two, who will select others to work with them. Stelling said students interested in serving on one of the committees should contact the chairperson as soon as possible.

The leaders and assignments of the committees:

Dean of Students Donald Meriman, dormitories; Student Senator Larry Rabbass and Admissions Director Jim Hummel, recruitment; Geography Prof. Robert Foote, demography and economic growth; Student Senator Tom Carney, the students of WSC committee; Business Prof. Dale Johansen, faculty and administration.

City Council To Consider Street Work

A proposed street improvement plan calling for spending about $251,000 during fiscal year 1974-75 will be considered for adoption by the city council during Tuesday night's regular meeting.

Among the projects proposed during the next fiscal year is concrete paving of approximately five blocks from Highway 35 to the new hospital being built just east of Wayne State College.

Other projects include widening of Logan Street from Fourth to Seventh, storm sewer work on Dearborn Street from Fifth to Sixth, paving of Fairground Avenue from Nebraska to Windom, intersection improvement at Main and Fairground Avenues, and concrete paving on Grainland Road from Maple to Blaine.

Also included are equipment purchases totaling $30,000 and construction of a maintenance building costing $60,000. Equipment being considered includes a used motor patrol, air compressor, and an industrial tractor, backhoe, loader and mower.

The street plan also includes street projects which could be undertaken during the next six years.

Fred Brink, city administrator, said those projects listed for fiscal 1974-75 are the ones he considers should be given highest priority by the council.

The council will review the plan, adopting it as proposed or making changes in it.

Also on the council's agenda is a bid letting on the water line which will be built out to the city's new industrial site east of the city limits.

Brink also will present the council information about how electrical rates in several communities compare with those in Wayne. Brink has obtained information on electricity costs in Plainville, Wakefield, Pender, Lyons, Blair and Wahoo. Rates from Wayne County Public Power District (WCCPD) also have been obtained, according to Brink.

Councilmen also are expected to consider once again a contract with Nebraska Public Power District, which the city may purchase power from once the intertie with WCCPD is completed. It has been several months since the council decided to go ahead with hammering out a contract with the power district.

Checks Await Allen, Pilger Taxpayers

The Internal Revenue Service is trying to locate apparent former residents of Allen and Pilger who overpaid their 1972 or prior year federal income tax but who have not received their refund checks because of changed addresses or incomplete return addresses.

Being sought are Aloysius and Gertrud Weber of Allen and Edward Christensen of Pilger.

Those and other taxpayers being sought across the state should call or write the IRS in the Federal Office Building, 15th and Dodge Sts., Omaha, and establish their identity and right to receive the checks.

Refund checks are not available in Omaha, so persons are advised not to make a trip to Omaha to pick up their refund checks. Checks will be mailed to current addresses.

Those who write to the IRS, should give their social security number, current address and signature as it appeared on the return. If it was a joint return, the social security numbers and signatures of both spouses should be included.

Local Attorney Is Hired To Advise Commission

Wayne attorney Ken Olds has been retained to advise the civil service commission on legal points as it attempts to reach a decision in the case of the firing of police chief Vern Fairchild.

The commission is to hand down a decision either upholding mayor Kent Hall's firing of Fairchild or reinstating Fairchild by Feb. 5.

Dr. Freeman Decker, chairman of the commission, said the decision in the case may be reached early this week.

The three-man commission Tuesday afternoon ended its public hearing on the case.

requested by Fairchild after the commission initially upheld Hall's decision to fire him. The commission had listened for three afternoons to testimony by several witnesses for both sides in the case.

If the commission upholds Hall's firing of the chief, Fairchild is expected to appeal the decision to district court. If the commission orders Fairchild reinstated, mayor Hall is expected to abide by his public statement that he will not fire him for the third time.

Fairchild won reinstatement by district court order in December after being fired by Hall the first time in April last year. The judge ruled the city was required to have civil service for paid members of the police department and that Fairchild had been fired illegally because civil service was not provided in Wayne. He ordered the city to provide civil service and reinstated Fairchild. Fifteen days later, Hall fired Fairchild the second time.

Members of the commission along with Dr. Decker are local businessmen Joe Nuss and Robert Merchant.

Author, Poet to Return to WSC

Author and poet Daniel Lusk will come to Wayne State College Wednesday for a day of visiting with students and townspeople interested in creative writing, and an evening reading his works.

Lusk is South Dakota's poet-in-residence, poetry editor of "Sunday Clothes: a Magazine of the Arts," and is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Arts. The 35-year-old Lusk was well received when he appeared at Wayne State two years ago. His return visit is funded through the college's Special Programs.

Sayre Andersen, WSC English professor responsible for arrangements, said all interested persons and groups are invited to participate. From 2:30 to 5 p.m., Lusk will be available to read and discuss individuals' creative writing in Room 212 of the Humanities Building. At 8 p.m. in the Birch Room of the Student Center, he will read his own poetry.

Lusk's works include a wide range of subjects. He is the author of a book of poetry,

Community Council Sets Second Meeting of Year

Title III Community Council members will meet tonight (Monday) at the Wayne Middle School library. The second meeting of the school year will get underway at 7:00 p.m.

During the first part of the evening, Mrs. K. M. Olds, co-chairman of the volunteer recruitment subcommittee, will serve as moderator for a panel report by volunteer aids from the language arts component of the Title III Project Success program.

Lavae Maciejewski and Marian Rennick, Title I special reading instructors, will report on the use of the newspaper in the eighth grade.

Former target teachers — those who have been specially trained to work with students in the Project Success program — will discuss "SLD Skills — What Are They Worth?"

The Community Council is composed of subcommittees whose goal is to advance work in various areas of Project Success; an innovative teaching program for students who have difficulty achieving success through more traditional forms of teaching.

Subcommittees are volunteer recruitment, input and ongoing improvements, coordination with external agencies, inter-school coordination, and dissemination.

Project Success is being implemented in West Elementary School, Carroll Elementary School, St. Mary's Catholic School, and most recently, Wayne Middle School and Wayne High School.

Residents of the northeast part of Wayne were without electrical power for several minutes Thursday morning when a line crew accidentally caused a feeder line to shut down.

Checking the Tester

EQUIPMENT INSTALLERS Joe Rothman, front, and Mike Littell, rear, of Des Moines work with local Northwestern Bell employee Harvey Grosse in checking out a master test bank as work progresses toward providing touch-tone dialing to Wayne phone customers. M. D. "Mike" Smith, NW Bell manager in Wayne, said the new dialing system will be available to approximately 1,900 customers in Wayne in about another month. Rothman and Littell are installing new equipment and making extensive modifications of existing equipment in order to provide the speedier dialing service to local customers.

Expert to Tell How To Reduce Accidents

"A home can be a place of peace and joy, or it can be the site of a serious injury or even death.

You can find out how safe your home is by attending a coming workshop at Concord.

Rollie Schnieder, extension safety specialist from the University of Nebraska, will present a program on household safety at 8 p.m. on Feb. 4 at the Northeast Station near Concord.

One of the topics Schnieder will discuss is the dangerous products you may not be aware of that are stored under the kitchen sink or in reach of children. Schnieder will offer some worthwhile tips on getting rid of accident traps in the home.

The council meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Woman's Club room at the city auditorium.

Koester Drive Tops $6,000

Funds for the Danny Koester drive topped the $6,000 mark Saturday morning, according to Bill Snyder of Security State Bank in Allen.

A total of $6,317.51 had been contributed toward the estimated $25,000 needed to help the Duane Koester family of rural Allen pay for a bone-marrow transplant for the youth. Young Koester is suffering from a serious blood disease. He is now hospitalized in Seattle.

Wayne Hosting Cancer Meeting Next Month

The American Cancer Society will hold a crusade workshop in Wayne on Feb. 5, according to Jack Schuetz, state crusade committee chairman.

Schuetz will host the workshop, which begins at 9 a.m. at Les' Steak House.

New training materials have been prepared to assist volunteers in recruitment, solicitation and educating their neighbors about the cancer control activities of the Society. Those attending will return to their own communities and train other volunteers.

"All volunteers involved in crusade, public education and information in Wayne and surrounding counties are urged to attend this workshop," said Schuetz.

Lunch will be served, and the meeting will end at 4 p.m.

Gas Stations Will Cooperate In Emergencies

Service station operators in Wayne have said they will cooperate in providing gasoline to emergency vehicles in the event they need gas during the time the stations are closed over weekends.

Wayne County sheriff Don Weible contacted the station operators last week as part of the effort by the Nebraska Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association to get a list of all the stations in the state which would open in emergencies. The list will be distributed across the state.

Most gas stations in the Wayne area have been closing over the weekends in compliance with President Nixon's orders aimed at cutting the nation's energy consumption.

Drivers of two ambulances found it difficult to purchase gasoline while in Omaha during a weekend recently.

Summer Fun?

EGHON GUZMAN, American Field Service exchange student at Wayne High during the 1968-69 school year, puts together a large snowball after arriving in Wayne last week for a two-month stay. Guzman, now on summer vacation from medical school in Santiago, Chile, is staying with the Kent-Hell family, his host family when he studied at Wayne High several years ago. Friends and former classmates of Guzman are invited to visit him anytime at the Hell home. He will leave Wayne to return to Chile the middle of March. He has three more years of study before he obtains his medical degree.

Oliver Brothers' Estate Going to First Cousins

District county judge Joseph Hunker on Thursday ruled that there are three heirs to an approximately $224,400 estate of three rural Wayne bachelors.

The estate is that left by Charles, John and William Oliver, three brothers who died within a few days of each other late in 1972.

Declared heirs to the estate were Beatrice Elliott of Sterling

Heights, Mich., and Glenn Oliver and Anna Edwards of England, all first cousins of the Oliver brothers. One of the heirs, Anna Edwards, reportedly died after the deaths of the Oliver brothers.

Judge Hunker said another hearing will have to be held to determine the actual inheritance the heirs will receive. The estate includes the brothers' possessions and a 160-acre farm south of Wayne.

Withdrawing its claim to the estate during Thursday's hearing was the state of Nebraska. Had no legal heirs been found, the estate would have reverted to the state under a legal process called escheat. The estate income would have been invested and income from it would have been distributed to school districts in Nebraska. Present for the hearing to represent the state was attorney general Bernard Packett of Lincoln.

Representing the heirs in the case was the Olds and Swarts legal firm in Wayne.

A search for legitimate heirs to the Oliver brothers' estate was started after all three died without provisions in their wills to take care of their property. Charles died in August of 1972, and John and William died after a "deep accident" in September on their way to his funeral.

Another brother, Horace, died about 10 years earlier, but his will provided that his property go to his other three brothers. The wills of Charles, John and William contained the same provisions, but their deaths in such a short time of each other made it impossible to carry them out.

The deaths of the three brothers initiated a search for heirs by Wayne County attorney Budd Bornhoff. He searched through papers left by the brothers and finally found their mother's birth certificate. The certificate included her place of birth, England, but the specific town was illegible. ## SECOND OF FIVE ARTICLES

Many persons who have successfully managed to finish high school or obtain a loan from a bank or sell a house or take out a driver's license consider themselves unable to unravel the mysteries of federal income tax Form 1040. For most, this belief is probably unfounded.

The secret is not to let yourself be cowed by the rows of numbered entries on the 1040. Take them one at a time and they are not so threatening.

The person setting out to square his annual account with the Internal Revenue Service should first get his income records together — W-2 with holding reports from each employer he has worked for during the year as well as information from banks, brokers and the like on interest and dividend income the taxpayer has received.

If you are going to itemize deductions (and if you are not you may be able to use Form 1040 A — the short form) you will need canceled checks, receipts and other evidence of deductible expenses: taxes and interest paid, medical and dental costs, charitable contributions and unreimbursed business expenses.

Next, you'll need the applicable tax forms — the 1040 plus the schedules for submitting various categories of lists. The IRS usually sends taxpayers the same documents they used the previous year, but if you need new ones this year you can pick them up at almost any bank or post office, or you can write to the nearest IRS office.

One government document that's indispensable is the instruction booklet for Form 1040. Among other things, it tells you what documents you will have to submit and how to fill them out.

Now, with all the needed papers on hand, simply start at the top of page one, with your name and address, occupation, etc. If you are stopped by a question, consult the instruction booklet, which lists 21 steps to be taken, in order, and augments the guidance included in the forms and schedules themselves.

If your financial affairs are too complex to permit you to handle Form 1040 on your own, it will soon become apparent. Persons likely to require professional help in filing their tax returns in most cases are those whose affairs are complicated by factors such as: large capital gains or losses, the selling of a home during the year, a large jump in income over previous years that may suggest income averaging, self-employment with several sources of income and a drastic change in dependency relationships during the year, as through divorce.

But for most people such complications are rare. Millions of us obtain all or most of our incomes in the form of wages, salary or commissions. Our incomes and expenses are not drastically different from those we had last year. Our family relationships have not changed. For the millions in this category — people with at least high school education — there's no reason in the world to be afraid of Form 1040.

WINSIDE HIGH graduate Phil Witt was among the broadcasting students at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln who helped put together a 15-part radio series focusing on the energy crisis which will be broadcast this week on Lincoln's KRNU (90.3 fm).

The series begins today (Monday) and will be broadcast three times each day through Friday, at 10:40 a.m., 5:40 p.m. and 9:40 p.m.

"A Question of Energy" focuses on the current status and future solution of major aspects of the energy situation.

The NU students went to the experts for researching the series, interviewing such people as Paul Sindt, state federal fuel allocation director, and William Peters, state energy director. Also interviewed were NU agricultural experts, economists and a geologist as well as Congressman Charles Thone.

The series is divided into studies of the world-national energy situation; state energy situation; causes of the present crisis; the energy crisis effects on the economy, employment and recreation; two programs on impact on the agriculture industry; the American home; the transportation industry; the airline industry; schools and hospitals; military and governmental agencies; ecology vs. energy; man-on-the-street interviews; legislation, and future solutions.

Witt, a talented 1970 graduate at Winside High, worked this past summer for a television station in Sioux City.

A 22-year-old senior at NU, he will graduate with a degree in broadcasting journalism this spring. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Witt of Winside.

WAYNE AREA RESIDENTS wishing to protest plans to abandon the railroad between Wayne and Dakota City have until Feb. 28 to file their objections with the Interstate Commerce Commission. A former resident of this part of the state has already sent a well written letter protesting the closing, a letter which we printed on the editorial page last Thursday. Would-think the announcement that the railroad company wants to abandon the line would result in a stream of letters from businessmen and others between here and Dakota City.

Protests may be sent to the ICC, Washington, D. C. 20423.

WILL REMIND local residents who are able to pick up programs on Nebraska Educational Television to watch a program Wednesday night featuring Wayne resident Val Peterson.

Peterson is one of the five living former governors of Nebraska who participated in a special reunion last November. The result of his get-together with former governors Robert Crosby, Dwight Burney, Frank Morrison and Norbert Tiemann is "Governor's Reunion," a two-hour program slated for 9 p.m. Wednesday. The former governors talk about their experiences heading the state in a relaxed atmosphere. Could prove to be interesting.

NORTHWESTERN BELL customers in Wayne, Winside, Laurel, Wakefield and Emerson will notice higher charges when they get their next bills early in February.

Because of recent approval by the Nebraska Public Service Commission, here's what Wayne telephone users will be paying on coming monthly bills: Residential one-party service, $5.55 instead of $5.35; residential two-party service, $4.35 instead of $4.15; installation service, $13 instead of $8; one-party business service, $13 instead of $12.50.

Changes at Winside: $4.15 to $4.30 for one-party residential; $3.10 to $3.20 for two-party residential; $8.45 to $8.80 for one-party business.

Changes at Laurel, Wakefield and Emerson: $4.55 to $4.70 for one-party residential; $3.45 to $3.60 for two-party residential; $9.80 to $10.20 for one-party business.

The charge for installation will go from $8 to $13 in all five communities. There will be no charge in the $8 charge for moving a phone within a home or for changing to a different style phone.

No changes have been made in the cost of long distance calls, and the charge for eight-party rural telephone service will remain the same.

The new rates will produce an estimated $2.2 million in additional annual revenue for the telephone company, the amount awarded the company in a commission decision earlier in the month.

Reasons for the different charges in the five communities is the number of calls a person can make without having to call long distance, says M. D. "Mike" Smith, manager of the NW Bell office in Wayne. Persons in larger communities, such as Wayne can make more calls and are therefore charged more than somebody living in Winside, for example.

ANOTHER NOTE about telephone service for Wayne residents: Smith says the touch-tone dialing system should be available in Wayne within a few more

Who wants a course on hog calling?

Dear Editor: Pursuant to the current discussion regarding faculty performance and course content versus program proliferation, I submit, as an experienced educator, that I concur with the opinions of my colleague, T.H. Stevenson.

Even the most rapid administrator or board member would have to admit that regardless of the need for warm bodies no college can aspire to be all things to all people. This merely substitutes image for substance. Carried to its most logical conclusion, such acts might well include such pseudo disciplines as Sand Box Techniques, Hog Calling or Fish Bait Tying.

Benjamin B. Bernstein

It's quality, not grades that's important

Dear Editor: In response to the editorial comment that course offerings and not the quality of faculty members provide the chief attraction for college students, I submit the following data to support my position:

In academic 1965-66, while a Wayne State College faculty member, I gave a senior-graduate course, British Empire and Commonwealth. The enrollment was 18. I was just beginning to earn my reputation as the man who gave more Ds and Fs than any other member of the WSC history faculty.

In the next year, academic 1966-67, another faculty member, whom I shall not name, gave this course. The enrollment was four. He had a well-deserved reputation of giving almost no one a grade other than a B or a C. He gave the course at a very popular hour, 9 a.m. Monday-Wednesday-Friday; there were no other advanced history courses at this hour that term, so he had no competition. In the year after that, academic 1967-68 I gave the course again. The enrollment was 40, meaning that the lullions paid by the students were more than the salary I received for giving the course. I was now well known as the man who gave the most Ds and Fs in the entire Division of Social Sciences.

I did not give the course again, nor did the other faculty member cited above. So far as I know, at no time since when the course was given has the enrollment been as much as 40.

There are almost innumerable other demonstrations of the importance of the quality of faculty members, both at WSC and elsewhere.

"Whatever happened to our free enterprise system? Uncle Sam is knocking the legs out from under it for one thing."

The old American way dictates that all citizens have the freedom to pursue their interests and fortunes. Our free enterprise system also has meant that if a person found a way to do something faster, cheaper, more efficiently or in any manner which was more acceptable to the consumer, then that way was the successful one and others fell by the wayside. That is still a pretty good system, but it is not good enough or strong enough to buck the government. That is proven in the federal government and also in the state government with its various price fixing laws of late. It really is bad to have a corporate monopoly, but it is a thousand times worse to have a government one. The citizens just have no recourse it seems when the government itself is the violator of individual rights.

A Walthill area radio operator picked up the distress signal being sent out and, believing it to be the real thing, reported a plane in trouble to authorities. Several hours of search resulted before it was learned where the distress signal had originated from.

Thurston County sheriff Clyde Storie said the youths did not realize the range of the equipment they were using in their school work.

FOR THOSE who get a kick out of some of the governmental red tape required in modern times, here's a little story borrowed from Dick Lindsay's "Nearley News" column in the Cuming County Democrat:

"When Moses arrived at the Red Sea with the Egyptians in hot pursuit, the Lord appeared and told him: 'Moses, I've got some good news and some bad news.

The good news is that I'm going to part the Red Sea waters and let your people through. Then I'm going to destroy the Egyptians when they try to follow."

"Said Moses: 'That's great, Lord. What's the bad news?'"

"The bad news," said the Lord, "is that first you have to file an environmental impact statement."

OBSERVATIONS

Unwieldy but important

The death of the Wakefield senior following a traffic accident in Dixon County recently serves to emphasize the need for quick action by the traffic accident prevention group organized a few weeks ago in Wayne County.

There are altogether too many serious injuries and deaths on roads in Northeast Nebraska, many of them caused by built-in traffic hazards. The Dixon County incident need not be repeated in Wayne County.

The newly organized group carries the unwieldy name of Selective Localized Accident Prevention, and that's why it will be referred to most often simply as SLAP. The initials are indicative of its job since its members are to try to slap down the number of accidents on our roads and highways.

It's one of those groups which occasionally will get publicity for its actions, but most of its work probably will be done without many people knowing about it. That doesn't make the job any less necessary, however. The people who serve on the group have a big and important task before them. We hope they can achieve some worthwhile results.

St. Mary's School Launches New Study Program for '74

St. Mary's Catholic School in Wayne has launched a new program of study for 1974, according to Sister M. Jamesine, principal.

The program will focus on family living, the mission of the church, the neighborhood, the working world, the civic arena and the international scene — areas that individuals become increasingly more involved in as they take their places in society, she said.

The program will be carried out through the use of special speakers, parents' nights, posters, and school liturgical or paratiturgical settings.

Members of the school faculty, church membership, school board and community will be asked to participate in the program along with the students and their families.

The specific theme will change each month, continuing through the summer, Sister Jamesine noted.

The January theme, "Civil Rights," presents such questions as what is the nature of civil rights in America and in the world and what is life without respect for civil rights.

In February the students will look into the history of our governmental system, deciding how tradition can help solve community or international problems. They will learn about Catholic schools as institutions.

Theme for March will be "Aging," with its joys, hopes, frustrations, concerns and fears to be considered along with America's preoccupation with youth.

In April the "Beauty of Life" will be the focus as Easter and Earth Day are observed.

May will focus on "Respect for Law and the Legal Process," including effects the law has on our lives, the lives of children, the middle class, the aging, the poor and the wealthy.

June will find the students concerned with "New Experiences and the Future," asking such questions as does the education process prepare youth for actual situations outside the classrooms.

The value of camps, sports, recreation and teen centers will be emphasized during July and August. The lesson will be "Living With Others Responsibly."

September's theme will be

In February the students will

"The Right To Work," involving also the value of education and good schools.

October's theme will be "Respect Life Month," and students will study America's place in the United Nations, the concept of peace-making and policy-making, development of the Third World, and the need to share resources.

November's theme, "Thanksgiving," will give the pupils an opportunity to consider the wealth of ideas, goods, talents, physical beauty and educational opportunities available in America and the community.

In December the theme will be "Giving." Students will learn about service groups in the community and what can be done for the elderly, the sick and the handicapped.

New PO Service Saves Gasoline

You can save gasoline by ordering stamps by mail rather than driving to a post office, says Wayne postmaster Wilbur Giese.

Many families and businesses are saving fuel by using the convenient stamps by mail service introduced last August in selected post offices throughout the 13 state central region as part of a national program.

For each transaction, the Postal Service charges 40 cents for handling costs, including postage.

Using a handy self-mailer provided by the Postal Service, customers simply check the quantities of stamps and stamped envelopes needed, enclose a check or money order and drop the envelope in the mail. The stamps are delivered in most cases by the second business day.

Initially, the stamps by mail program was introduced to help "shut-ins," working mothers and others who could not conveniently travel to the post office.

Commissioners Take 1st Step For Bridge Work

Wayne County commissioners Tuesday passed a pair of resolutions required to get federal aid in construction of new bridges near Carroll and Winside.

The resolutions, which will be sent to the state roads department for review, concern a bridge a mile and a half west of Carroll which will cost an estimated $20,000 and a bridge five miles south and one east of Winside which will cost an estimated $39,000.

County clerk Norris Weible informed the commissioners during the meeting of a letter he has received from the board of public roads classifications and standards notifying the county that the state will help in paying for replacing the bridge two miles north and two and a half miles east of Wayne.

Weible said the state's share of the cost will come from the state aid-bridge fund. He said the state board did not give an indication when state funds will be available for the project. No estimated cost of the bridge replacement has been obtained, Weible added.

'Macbeth' a Technical Challenge

Stylized settings will be used for the February production of William Shakespeare's "Macbeth," according to Dr. Helen J. Russell, head of the Wayne State College Theater Department.

A series of platforms will be used to create 10 or 15 levels on stage. For scene changes, different props—tapestries, arches, shields and even a forest—will be lowered from above to suggest various scenes.

Special effects for the show will include the sudden appearance and disappearance of apparitions and the three witches. Set designer is Ron Wacholtz and technical director is Dave Borron.

Costumes for the production—close to 50 of them—have been designed by director Nancy Wacholtz and are being made by a crew of about five girls in the theater department. Some of the garments will feature hand embroidery. Becky Miller is costume mistress.

Janet Macktur is assistant director for the classic production and Ed Havilovic is stage manager.

Carrying the lead roles of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth are Dr. Bob Johnson and Dr. Russell.

Others in the cast are Ted Blenderman as Banquo; Noel Rennerfeldt, Duncan; Dennis Winingier, Malcolm; Alonzo Beardshear, Donaldbain; Sam Reynolds, Fleance; Harold Grant, Macduff; Barb Curry, Lady Macduff; John LaPuzza, Macduff's son; Mary Harrison, Mo Persinger, and Lori Adams, three witches.

Thoughts on Things

About once a year, usually in January when the pace slows from "super rush" to merely "quick" I take stock and personally conclude that our society has become too automated.

Where once we were a people totally dependent only on God, ourselves and each other, we now rely on THINGS to such an extent that I shudder to think what would happen if we were thrown out to fend for ourselves.

Not that I think we couldn't make it, but it would be quite an adjustment. Maybe, just to keep us on our toes, it ought to be an annual prerequisite to collecting our vacation pay that we pass a survival test without THINGS.

Let's see, for one week, there would be no THINGS ringing in our ear to tell us the day has begun, no THINGS to perk our coffee or toast our bread, no THINGS to feed us a daily quota of statistics which determine what we will wear, where we will go that day, how we will get there, and to an extent, even which current events we will discuss with our contemporaries.

For one week, other THINGS will not get us to work and once there assist us in our day's responsibilities.

For seven days we will have to do without THINGS which keep our environment climatically comfortable and more THINGS which musically soothe our souls and keep our emotions at a productive level.

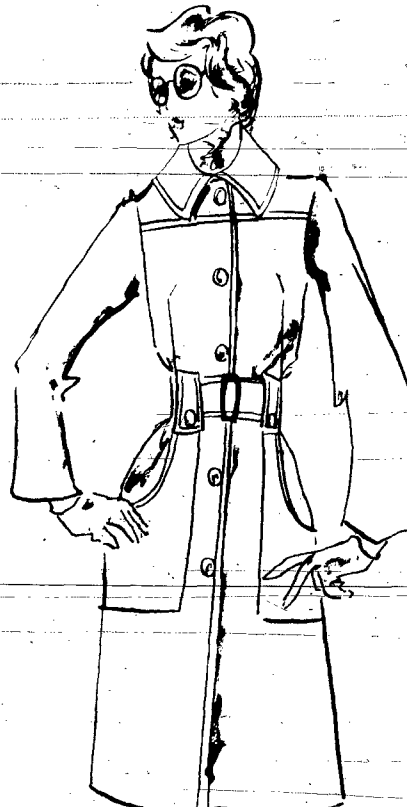

There will be no THINGS to wash our clothes, clean our homes and tend our yards. And when our day's labor is done, there will be no THINGS to provide a choice of entertainment for us.

Such a test, if not practical, would certainly be interesting. I'd bet that esteem for our fellow man would rise considerably during the period, and maybe, just maybe, at the end of the week we'd feel a little less like a computer whose buttons are being pushed by a society of technological accomplishments, rather than the other way around.

If you really want to know, I wouldn't want to take the test either, but it's an interesting thought.

Plan Early for Wedding Pictures

Nearly 2,300,000 brides are expected to walk down the aisle this year and many will have spent months preparing to make their wedding day a very special one. The ceremony and reception are over all too soon, but a wise bride can remember the precious moments forever with candid photos taken by Lyman Photography during that day to remember.

It is with good reason that we are specialists in weddings. Our experience and expertise are invaluable to the bride who wishes to enjoy the day as it happens, knowing she and her new husband will have beautiful photos to share with others and cherish in years to come.

If you plan to be a bride this year, plan early for a total photo coverage of your wedding. About the time you order your gown—a few months before the day of the ceremony—you should book your wedding day with Lyman Photography. When you make the arrangements, consult with us about the type of photographic coverage you will want.

There are the traditional formal portraits—most bridal couples want—a portrait of the bride alone, with her new husband, and with the entire wedding party. In addition, we can take candid photos of the day from ceremony to reception's end.

These so-called candid are really professional photos of the wedding events as they happen. The one exception may be the photos of the wedding service. Because many clergy do not wish the ceremony interrupted, we will often plan to recreate this event with the bridal party later.

Wedding photos have many uses. For years the formal portrait of the bride has been used for the newspaper announcement of the wedding. However, more and more newspapers are now using a professional wedding candid photo of the newlyweds. We will know the requirements of the local newspapers. Check with us.

Both sets of parents, and other close relatives, would cherish a large framed photo of the bridal couple—or a duplicate wedding album. Either would be a nice way of saying "thank you" to your parents.

A wedding is a day to remember and Lyman Photography is in the memory business. Rely on us to record the memories you will want to keep and share with others.

Trojans Halt Madison '5' For Narrow One-Point Win

By BOB BARTLETT
Madison coach Fred Letheby remembers the good old days before Christmas when his team held a 5-1 mark and looked like a possible contender in the West Husker Conference race.

But he also remembers Friday night when his club, now 5-5, suffered its fourth straight loss. Wakefield handled the Dragons, 53-52.

The Trojans stopped the visitors from taking over in the last seconds of the game with a stall that almost cost them their eighth win against three losses.

Joe Coble's team held a nine-point edge with about three minutes left in the game—a lead that looked pretty comfortable considering the home team had the ball. But when the game took a quick turnabout when Madison started causing the Trojans to cough up the ball on turnovers and fouls.

Madison's second high scorer, 6-1 junior Brian Oswald, went to the foul line with two chances to boost his total of 10 points and put his team one point ahead with seconds left, but neither try went down.

"They're a tough ball club," Coble reflected. "We expected a good game and we got it."

Madison halted Wakefield's running game in the first half, putting the home team down by two at intermission, 30-28. Dragon guards Duane Unger and team leader Dave Freudenberg slowed Wakefield's drive and kept Wakefield outside.

Wakefield, however, countered in the second half with its two guards, seniors Doug Fischer and Doug Soderberg, who combined to stop their counterparts. That was the big difference in Madison's second-half scoring, Coble quickly pointed out.

Freudenberg, who nailed 14 for the night, had 10 in the first two periods before Fischer's City May Offer

Tennis Program

Depending on the availability of courts and instructors, the Wayne recreation board may set up a tennis program this summer.

During their monthly board meeting Monday night, members discussed a tennis program for youths as well as adults.

Also during the meeting, the board learned that 20 boys in grades five through eight currently are enrolled in the city's wrestling program under the direction of Steve Hix.

At the board's February meeting, the members intend to discuss the needs of the Middle Center and the March 28 open house at the Center.

SCRAMBLING is the best way to describe Wakefield Friday night as the Trojans hustled to stop Madison's rally in the final period. Doug Fischer, left, and Keith Siebrandt go after a Madison missed shot.

Friday night the Trojans will step over to the east half of the loop to face a tough West Point club before venturing into Eagle country Saturday night to take on Allen of the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Madison began to feel the pinch of Wakefield's first half man-to-man defense in the foul department. The Dragons had three starters in foul trouble with three each before the second period was over. Bill Best, Bob Jansen and the team's big man, 6-5 Kevin Kratochvil, found a spot on the bench with about two minutes left.

But Wakefield had problems of its own, failing to capitalize on charity shots. In the first half, the Trojans hit four of 12. The Trojans failed to improve in the second half, making five of 10. Madison converted four of 10 for the game.

"Fouls really hurt us early in the game," Letheby said. "I didn't think we would have this problem."

Madison's reserves tacked another loss onto Wakefield's B team, 50-37, in the preliminary game.

Scott Mills put in 10 points for coach Ernie Kovar's 63 club. Tim Rouse finished with nine.

Devils' Full-Court Press Halts Neligh Five, 66-57

Wayne's stiff third quarter man-to-man full court press broke a 24 halftime score and helped push the Blue Devils past Neligh, 66-57, Friday night.

The Devils ran up a 10-point margin in the third frame with the help of fine shooting both from the bench and the starting quintet. Junior guard Marty Hansen ripped off for 16 points for scoring honors. Bob Keating, 6-4 center, had 10.

"The whole team played well," coach Bill Sharpe said, noting that Neligh is a good shooting ball club as well as strong on defense.

Wayne's bench, led by Earle Overin with seven and Kerry Jech with six, gave the starters a breather in the third period. In the fourth period the game turned into mostly a free throw contest, with the Devils again coming out on top. The locals hit 20 of 24 charity tosses—most of those in the last frame— to

Wakefield Matmen Split Dual Meets for 4-3 Mark

Wakefield's matmen split a pair of meets last week, taking Monday's match against Lyons before falling to West Point Tuesday.

The Cadets dropped the Trojan's dual mark to 4-3 with a 35-19 victory. Of coach Lyle Trullinger's three district prospects—Steve Sorenson, Roger Gustafson and Ken Dolph—126-pound senior Dolph lost his match to Tim Schroeder, 4-0; Sorenson (145) and Gustafson (138) took their matches, Roger on a 1-11 pin over Kevin Peterson. Gustafson won a 9-7 decision over Bill Parkinson.

The Trojans picked up three other wins. Monday night the area club handled Lyons, 37-6. According to Trullinger, this is the first year for the Lions in wrestling. The Trojans only lost two of 12 weight classes.

Wildcats Rip Wynot for 1st Win

There was a celebration going on in Winside Friday night after the Wildcats won their first basketball game in nine starts. They did it with a 67 to 51 whipping of Wynot. It was far from a surprise. In their first meeting, Wynot defeated the Cats of their home floor to end the Blue Devils' three-year losing streak.

Helping to reverse Winside's losing role were two sophomore stalwarts — Tyler Frevert and Bob Hoffman. Frevert led the pair with 22 points while Hoffman dumped in 16 to give first-year coach Korlin Luff his first win at Winside.

Luff attributed the win to Winside's use of the full-court press that caused the smaller Wynot club to turn the ball over. Frevert, the coach pointed out, did an excellent job shooting from the field, hitting between

50 to 60 per cent for the night. "He has been shooting consistently in the past four games," Luff noted, "hitting his high point."

Senior Larry Weible, getting back into action after a two-week layoff due to an injury, made his presence known with a 15-point effort that also boosted the team's morale. Another player doing a good job, the coach added, was sophomore Norm Libengood. His board work and good ball handling helped the Cats break loose for quick points.

The reserves also came out on the winning side with a 33-26 victory for a 3-4 mark. Terry Luff led the locals with 13 as Winside held a one-point edge at the half, then rolled to the victory.

Tuesday night the Cats travel to tough Osmond before facing Lewis and Clark powerhouse Coleridge Friday at home.

Wayne Frosh Fall, 30-19

Wayne High's freshmen basketball team suffered a 30-19 defeat at the hands of Wisner Pilger Monday.

Neither team sparked until the final frame when the Gators knocked in 10 points to Wayne's four to drop the local's record to 3-4.

Thursday night's clash with West Point Central Catholic was cancelled. Friday the team will enter the Schuyler invitational.

Bears Nip Crofton, 51-50

There's one way for Laurel coach Joel Parks to describe Friday's game with Crofton — "A good combination of ice hockey and soccer."

To the head mentor that pretty much tells the tale of his 51-50 win over the Warriors after two of Laurel's players suffered injuries which may have kept them out of Saturday night's game with Wakefield.

Seniors Kirk McCoy suffered an injured knee and Tom Anderson may have a broken bone in his foot.

Both injuries took place in the second half as the Bears charged up to erase an eight-point deficit on route to their eighth win in 11 outings. Laurel was able to whittle the lead to three going into the final frame.

Five players collected a total of eight points each by the time the final whistle blew, and senior Gregg Anderson led the team with nine. "I only wish they could have got into the double-figure column," Parks remarked, "if I would have made my job easier."

Crofton's free throw shooting nearly earned the hosts the game. Crofton connected on 14 out of 17 tries while Laurel slumped to nine of 18.

The Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference win put the Bears on top of the league with a 3-0 mark after former league leader Randolph fell to Pierce 53 to 37.

Laurel will get a chance to defend its No. 1 loop standing when it hosts Randolph Tuesday night.

NRD Board Okays 'Lands for Wildlife'

A new "Lands for Wildlife" program initiated by the Lewis & Clark National Resources District offers a payment of $200 per acre to farmers for setting aside non-productive cropland for the purposes of wildlife cover.

In their regular monthly meeting earlier this month the board of directors of the Lewis & Clark NRD voted to adopt the policy as a part of their Land & Water Development Assistance Program. The need for such a program was realized when it was noted that federal policies are geared to all-out production, eliminating much of our fast-dwindling wildlife cover.

Provisions of the program include an acreage limitation of 10 acres minimum and 80 acres maximum. Some farmyards and scattered trees over the lands would qualify, but emphasis will be put on converted cropland and land expiring under CAP. Payment will be $20 per acre per year for a three-year contract period. Public access by foot-traffic must be permitted and the land must be seeded to sweet clover, alfalfa or native grass. Grazing, spraying or mowing is strictly limited.

More than the wildlife will benefit from the program; says NRD officials. People in town

Three Teams Share Lead in H.S. Loop

Three teams — Lamp's Hoops' and Lowe's — share the lead after the first week of high school recreation basketball league Tuesday night.

Lamp's knocked off Manes' team, 71-41, on the hot shooting of Randy Workman, 22 points, Jeff Lamp, 18, and Rob Kudrna, 17. The winners jumped out to a 24-4 first period lead and never trailed.

High scorers for losers were Steve Brandt with 16, Mike Manes with 12 and Kevin Jech with 10.

In a much closer battle, Hoops' team nipped Workman's 44-40. Both team captains paced their clubs, with Rich Workman netting 20, Rod Hoops 19.

Going into the second half, Workman's club was down 19-18, but reversed the lead with a 15-point third frame while Hoops' team collected 10.

In the third game, Lowe's team rallied for a 13-point fourth quarter to stop Magnuson's team, 50-45. Magnuson's had a 40-37 lead going into the final stanza.

Mark Lowe and Mike Foote each scored 12 for the winners while Rob Turner and Brian Magnuson had 17 and 10 points respectively for the losers.

For 20th Year, Ak-Sar-Ben Boosts Fairs

For the 20th consecutive year, Ak-Sar-Ben has provided financial aid to every county fair in Nebraska either by improvement grants or 4-H and FFA premiums. Ak-Sar-Ben's assistant general manager Bob Volk told the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers last week at Lincoln.

"The county fair program and our annual scholarship program are two of the most rewarding undertakings of our entire spectrum of activities," Volk told the fair managers. "Since 1954, Ak-Sar-Ben's contributions to the fairs have surpassed the $3 million mark. Last year's Ak-Sar-Ben aid brings the total to $3,173,997. Nebraska's county fairs are the envy of the nation, and we at Ak-Sar-Ben are proud to lend a helping hand in maintaining that reputation."

In 1973 Ak-Sar-Ben awarded $79,596 for permanent improvement grants as 86 of 87 eligible counties took advantage of the matching grants program. The total provided by Ak-Sar-Ben since 1954 in the category of improvements and spruce-up grants stands at $1,026,553.

Ak-Sar-Ben also provided $31,137 in special premium money for 4-H and FFA exhibitors at all of the county fairs during 1973, bringing that 20-year total to $547,424.

In addition, Ak-Sar-Ben collects a state tax on admissions and individual licenses and pays a daily licensing fee, all of which is earmarked for the state's county fairs. The 1973 total of more than $126,000 has yielded the county fair program in Nebraska since 1954 more than $1,600,000.

PERF-A-LOT
... A Totally New Concept in Feedlot Flooring That Eliminates the Problems Caused by Stress and Increases Livestock Performance.

THE CONCEPT OF PERF-A-LOT!

Perf-A-Lot® has been designed and patented after perforated steel matting that was proven highly successful by the military to provide a durable surface that would support heavy equipment over soft ground, and was fast and easy to install, even under adverse conditions.

Perf-A-Lot® is a perforated steel barrier to the soil, designed to eliminate mud and dust; that flexes with animal weight—reducing hoof and leg problems; and generally, relieves animal stress by providing a dryer lot condition than either dirt or concrete.

Over the past five years the patented Perf-A-Lot® concept has been researched and proven highly successful in extreme weather conditions varying from 10 to 50 inches of annual rainfall, heavy snowfall, as well as with many types of lot management. Close confinement permitted with the use of Perf-A-Lot® provides reduced feed costs and in many instances faster daily weight gains. Perf-A-Lot® is ideal for conditioning calves just off the range. Weight gains in the first 30 days have been excellent.

How do you feel about TV commercials? Some are better than the shows they interrupt, some are pretty awful. In any event, we hope you enjoy them, because you see a lot of them. Based on six hours per day of TV viewing, the national average per American home, do you have any idea how many commercials you see? Take a guess.

Assuming all the stations you watch subscribe to the TV code governing the frequency of commercials, you'd have about 80 minutes of them each day. Dividing this into the typical mix of 40, 30, 20 and 10 second commercials, you see about 200 per day or some five million in a lifetime.

Even the commercials look great when you have one of our great new color TV sets. We'll make you a very good deal and take your present set in trade, if you wish. Stop in, soon!

FOR A change of pace eighth grade girls and boys at Wayne Middle School recently switched classes for two weeks. For the boys it was "man the bowls and buttons" while the girls grabbed nails, hammers and saws to try their skills at working with wood. Clockwise from top left: Jerry Gooden mixes batter for a cake he put together; Sherri Triggs carefully sandpapers a wooden key cut from a pattern; David Hamm, left, and John Kavanaugh learn to iron clothes; Rochelle Friend uses an electric sander to smooth the edges of her project; Bob Kenny samples some scrambled eggs he helped cook; Deb Langston wipes a coat of lacquer over her wood project.

Mixing, Matching, Cutting, Nailing

For the past two weeks eighth grade students at Wayne Middle School changed classes to get an idea what it would be like to try their hands at home economics and woodworking. The results were interesting and fun, according to the students. If the boys in Mrs. Ron Fink's home economics class already didn't know how to scramble eggs, sew a button or iron a shirt, they got first-hand experience during the daily sessions which ended Friday. And in Al Hansen's shop class, girls first learned about some of the different tools and their uses, then picked projects to work on during the remainder of the two-week period. Usually the girls cut a key pattern out of wood or built a triangular-shaped peg board used as a game. During the sessions, the girls donned their aprons, slipped on their goggles if they were working with machinery, and got ready for a period of sawing, nailing, and varnishing. The girls showed a lot of interest in their work and took it seriously, Hansen said. Although the boys didn't usually put on aprons for cooking, they sharpened their cooking skills in a variety of ways. The program, started three years ago, gives students a chance to learn basic skills in fields where they might not otherwise study. As Mrs. Fink pointed out, it doesn't hurt for a boy to know how to sew on a button or for a girl to know how to repair certain odd jobs around the house. The fact that students in the classes show interest is one reason the teachers enjoy giving the instructions. Mrs. Fink noted that the boys are as eager to learn about the various duties in a household as the girls are to learn how to work with wood and use proper tools. The students won't receive grades on their work as they would normally in their regular classes. But the experience is worth the time and effort several admitted.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ABANDONMENT PURSUANT TO 49 CFR §1.121-21
 Notice is hereby given that the Interstate Commerce Commission is being requested to issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting abandonment of the line of railroad of the Chicago and North Western Transportation Company, extending from railroad Milepost 7.3 near Dakota City, Dakota County, Nebraska in a southwesterly direction to railroad Milepost 28.9 near Emerson, Dakota County, Nebraska, and from railroad Milepost 19.0 near Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska, a total distance of 40.6 miles, all in Dakota, Dixon and Wayne Counties, Nebraska. This line includes the stations of Beermann, Spaul Hubbard, Emerson, Wakefield and Wayne, Nebraska.

The interest of employees will be protected by the "Burlington Conditions," as described in 257 ICC 700. The reasons for this proposed abandonment are that traffic over the above described line is extremely low, averaging only 14.06 cars per mile for the 12 month period December, 1972 through November, 1973, inclusive. A total of 642 cars were handled on the abandonment trackage in calendar 1972, and 646 carsloads were handled in calendar 1973. In the years 1971 and 1972, applicant lost $27,000 and $35,000, respectively, from the operation of this line. The line is in a deteriorated condition and requires a substantial expenditure for upgrading in the future. Continuation of maintenance and operation of the line in the future would constitute an undue burden on interstate commerce, and would deprive applicant and shippers on its lines of other places of the use of salvageable material of the line. Estimated total net salvage value of the line is $240,300.

The name and address of applicant's representative to whom inquiries may be made is Christopher A. Mills, Commerce Attorney, Chicago and North Western Transportation Company, 400 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois 60604.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will rule on this application without hearings unless protests are received which contain information indicating a need for such hearings. In the opinion of the applicant, the proposed abandonment does not constitute a major federal action having a significant effect upon the quality of the human environment. In accordance with the Commission's regulations (49 CFR 1100.25) in Ex. Parte No. 45 (Sub. No. 4), Implementation-National Environmental Policy Act, 1969, 340 ICC 63 (1972), any protests may include a statement indicating the presence or absence of any effect of the requested commission action of the quality of the human environment. If any such effect is alleged to be present, the statement shall include information relating to the relevant factors set forth in Ex. Parte No. 55 (Sub. No. 4), supra, Part (b) (1) (5), 335 ICC 431, 461.

Any protests referring to this notice, No. ABT (Sub. No. 28), shall be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20423, not later than February 28, 1974. (Publ. Jan. 14, 21, 28)

Use Labels

When Sending

Tax Return

Taxpayers should be sure to use the pre-addressed label on the tax package they receive in the mail.

The IRS can quickly process income tax returns with labels, since the labels contain necessary identifying information, said Michael Bilgere, acting district director for Nebraska.

Peel the label from the tax package and place it on your tax return, said Bilgere.

If your name or address has changed, make the necessary corrections on the label and lightly strike through the wrong pre-printed information. If you have a refund due, this will help insure delivery of the check to the correct address.

Taxpayers also should be certain to enter their correct social security number on the label before they file their return. Filing deadline for 1973 tax returns is April 15.
