International Flavor to Meeting

An informal get-together with international proportions is scheduled for the Wayne High School commons Tuesday night. The public is invited to attend the 7:30 event which will feature several young people from places as far apart as Germany and Chile. Present for the meeting to talk with interested area residents will be Eghon Guzman from Chile, American Field Service exchange student at Wayne High during the 1968-69 school year. Also present will be this year's AFS student, Monika Plehn. See International, page 6

Russell, Wortman File for May 14th Council Election

Two more people, including an incumbent, have filed to run in the May 14th election to determine who will hold four seats on the city council in Wayne. Filing last week were Vernon Russell, councilman from the first ward in the southeast part of the city, and Robert Wortman, candidate for the seat from the fourth ward in the southwest portion of Wayne. Also, Keith Mosley, councilman from the third ward in the northwest quarter of the city, announced Friday he will not seek another term on the council. The two filings bring to four the number of persons seeking posts on the council. Filing earlier were John Vokoc in the fourth ward and Mrs. Carolyn Miller in the second ward. Ending their terms on the council this spring will be Russell, Mosley, Pat Gross in the second ward and Harvey Brasch in the fourth ward. Gross has said he will not run for another term, but Brasch has not said whether he wants his job back. Seeking the mayor's job are Sam Hepburn, a senior at Wayne High School, and Dr. Freeman Decker, professor of education at Wayne State College. Mayor Kent Hall has announced he will not try for a second term. Russell, 42, has lived in Wayne for about four and a half years, moving here from Lincoln to take over operation of the garbage collection business. He and his brother-in-law, Bill Hruza, operate the business. Serving his first term on the council, he and his wife Darlene have three children, Susan, 17, Marshall, 16, and Karen, six. Fourth ward candidate Bob Wortman, 27, is a draftsman and technician at Consolidated Engineers and Architects in Wayne, a firm he has been with for the six years he has lived here. A native of Rosalie and a 1967 graduate of Norfolk Junior College, he and his wife Deb have one child, Shane, a year and a half old. Mosley, ending his first term on the council, said he decided not to run because of increasing family and business demands on his time. A former member of the city's planning commission, Mosley, 37, said his serving on the council "was one of the best things I've ever done." The office permitted him an insight into city government which he would not otherwise have gained, he noted.

March 15 is the deadline for filing for the city election, a task which may be completed either at the city clerk's office or the county clerk's office. Filing fee is $10 for council candidates and $15 for mayor candidates, one per cent of the annual salaries of $1,000 and $1,500 paid holders of those posts. When most of Wayne's small fry participated in the "Tom Thumb Wedding" play at the Opera House? Pre-scholar Joe Jenkins threw his ice-cream dish on the stage floor, then nonchalantly got down with his spoon and ate the ice-cream-up.

Hoskins Board Will Examine Bids Again

The Hoskins town board hopes to trim a bid of $138,000 for new street and sewer improvements tonight (Monday) during a special meeting before deciding to go ahead with the project, originally estimated to cost $117,000. Norfolk firm placed the lowest of three bids during the bid letting at the regular monthly meeting Monday night. The project calls for a two-block stretch of paved streets plus new sewer and water pipes. But the members decided to wait on the project after learning of the increase in construction costs and the $20,000 to be tacked on for engineering. That brings the total bill to about $168,000. Duane Upton, of Consolidated Engineers and Architects of Wayne, which is in charge of the project, said the board will look over the costs and may decide to build the project in a pay-as-you-go plan, eliminating some parts of the project for now, such as street-paving. During the January meeting, the board voted to seek bids after Upton presented the estimated $170,000 cost. Also tonight, the board will study plans for a new sewer treatment plant to be located west of the town. If the members approve, bids will be taken on the $90,000 project. Last month the town learned the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the cost. The state and Hoskins will pay 12 1/2 per cent each.

Top Young Violinist Will Perform at WS

Daniel Heifetz, considered one of the nation's finest young violinists, will perform at Wayne State College Wednesday as the final artist in the college's special program series. The 8 p.m. concert in Ramsey Theatre of the Fine Arts Center is open to the public. All seats are reserved, and tickets, $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for high school students, can be obtained in advance from the college business office in the Hahn Building. Admission is free to WSC students and faculty and children under 12. Heifetz, born in 1948 in Beverly Hills, has been widely acclaimed by audiences, conductors and critics as "one of the most fiery and charismatic violinists of our time." Although he began violin study at the age of six, he was put through normal public schooling and not exposed to public concerts until much later. In 1965 he auditioned for the renowned Elmer Zimbalist and was immediately taken as his student at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. After Zimbalist's retirement, Heifetz studied with Ivan Galamian, described in a Washington Star and Daily News review as "today's unchallenged master teacher of the violin." In 1969 Heifetz won first prize in the Merriweather Post Competition in Washington. This led to his New York debut, where he was hailed by the New York Times for his "dashing, wholly idiomatic performance of the Tschaiikowsky Violin Concerto." No relation to the great violinist Jascha Heifetz, he is the son of eminent neurosurgeon Dr. Milton Heifetz, and his violin is the Elmer Zimbalist Guarnerius del Gesu, dated 1735.

Local Lawyers To Get Boost For School Job

Wayne Carroll superintendent Francis Haun will recommend a local firm for the job of school attorney during the school board's regular meeting tonight (Monday). Haun said he will recommend that the Olds and Swartz law firm get the job, held in recent years by Budd Bornhoff of Wayne, Bornhoff, who also is county attorney, said he would not keep the job after agreeing to become city attorney earlier this year. Also during tonight's meeting, school board members will discuss setting salaries for the school system's three principals, Dery Lawrence, Loren Park and Richard Metzger. The three were re-elected to the board last month but their salaries were not set. In other business, the board will discuss re-hiring teachers in advance of completing salary negotiations, review a list of 14 possible goals for the school and discuss admitting non-resident students into the summer environmental course which will be offered this year. The 14 proposed goals include such ones as a new school at Carroll, individualized math for grades nine through 12, broadening the tax base, guidance director for grades kindergarten through eighth and coordinator for career education. The meeting, which begins at 7:30 p.m. at the high school, is open to the public.

Real Estate Course at WS Gets Approval

The Nebraska Real Estate Commission has notified Wayne State College that its business department course titled Principles of Real Estate is approved to satisfy a commission requirement governing real estate salesmen. Dr. Neil Swanson, chairman of the WSC business department, said the course received endorsement as fulfilling a continuing education provision of the Real Estate License Act of 1973. The act requires salesmen to complete satisfactorily 30 in-class hours of real estate education. Dr. Swanson said Wayne State will offer the Principles of Real Estate course in its third term beginning April 24, with Miss Patricia Rhoades as instructor. Before the 1973 act went into effect, licenses of real estate salesmen were renewed automatically each year. Now a salesman must complete 30 class hours of commission-approved courses before the license will be renewed a second time, commission director Paul Quinlan said. Of 49 graduates known to be continuing their education immediately following receipt of their two-year degrees, 33 per cent (16 students) transferred to Wayne State. Going to the University of Nebraska at Lincoln were 26 per cent, while 12 per cent went to the University of Nebraska at Omaha. Ninety seven per cent of the 292 graduates who responded to a series of surveys were either placed in jobs or transferred to other colleges. Eighty per cent of those responding became employed and 17 per cent are continuing their education. Of the 49 transfer students, 43 see NE Tech, page 6.

Concord Sets CIP Supper

A kickoff supper for Concord's community improvement program will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Northeast Station east of Concord. Present for the meeting will be Marcia Strand of Lincoln, who will talk on the Nebraska Community Improvement Program. Concord residents have decided to enter the community betterment program voluntarily to entice towns and cities in Nebraska to spruce up and clean up. The March meeting for those working on the Concord program will be held March 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the town fire hall.

WS Popular With Grads At NE Tech

More 1973 graduates of Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College (NNTCC) transferred to Wayne State College than any other college, it was reported this week by president Dr. Robert Low. Of 49 graduates known to be continuing their education immediately following receipt of their two-year degrees, 33 per cent (16 students) transferred to Wayne State. Going to the University of Nebraska at Lincoln were 26 per cent, while 12 per cent went to the University of Nebraska at Omaha. Beef Weighing Set Thursday

Wayne County 4-H members who will be entering cattle in the 1974 county fair may have their animals weighed anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday at the sale barn in Wayne. Don Spitzer, county agent, said animals will be tagged with special USDA ear tags which will enable youths to get complete carcass information on the animals after they are slaughtered. The tags will cost 50 cents each, he said, and another $1.50 will have to be paid to get complete carcass data. Spitzer reminds 4-Hers that the year's pen contest will be limited to three beef animals instead of five as in past years.

Early Service, Record Hop Part of '74 Hike for HOPE

A sunrise service and evening record hop will be included in this year's Hike for HOPE crusade, according to JoElla Latham, 1974 hike chairman. Hike for Hope, sponsored annually by the Wayne State College Phi Mu Sorority, is a drive for funds to help finance a medical program for underprivileged people throughout the world. Individuals interested in helping with the campaign get sponsors who pledge specific amounts of money for each mile the participants walk during a 20-mile hike planned for March 10. All interested individuals are invited to take part in the hike. Phi Mu members have distributed pledge cards in schools at Wayne, Wisner, Winside, Wakefield, Wynot, Coleridge, Osmond, Norfolk, and Pender. That evening following the hike a disc jockey from Sioux City Radio Station KMNS will be at the city auditorium from 7 to 10 p.m. for a record hop. Dance contest prizes will be awarded by the radio station. Admission will be 25 cents per person. The dance is open to the public. During the past six years, Phi Mu has raised about $200,000 for HOPE nationally. This year's goal for the local organization is $10,000. The 108-bed hospital ship, the S. S. Hope, is a 15,000-ton veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict. Since 1960 it has See Hike, page 6

Marvel: State College System in Nebraska's 'On the Ropes'

By NORVIN HANSEN and DICK MANLEY State Senator Richard Marvel told a small group at Wayne State College Wednesday night that the state college system in Nebraska "has been on the ropes" in recent years and something has to be done soon before the system is damaged even more. "That something is to start pumping money into the state colleges after they have determined exactly what their functions and goals are, he said. The only way the state college system can be upgraded, the Republican candidate for governor said, is for the legislators to work with college administrators, teachers and students to determine what the college should be trying to accomplish. Once those goals can be identified, said Marvel, the college system can be upgraded by using funds to get rid of the "soft spots." Those efforts should be tied into a continuing self-evaluation process by the state colleges to ensure that they continue trying to reach those goals, he added. That plan, which Marvel said he hopes to get through the legislature this term, is better than the governor's idea of letting students attend college without paying tuition in order to fill up the empty chairs in the classrooms. Governor James J. Exon's plan, under which colleges would award several hundred free tuition scholarships each year, is "totally unworkable," said the Hastings senator. Marvel, chairman of the legislature appropriations committee, admitted during his talk before about 25 students, college people and local citizens that the state legislature can't continue appropriating funds for the state colleges on the basis of student enrollment. Enrollment at state colleges has been on the decline in recent years, resulting in less money from the state and consequently cutbacks in teaching staffs and programs. The legislature will have to force the colleges into spelling out its goals, something much easier said than done, according to Marvel. This has to be done because the three systems of higher education in Nebraska — university, state colleges and vocational-technical schools — serve a limited number of people, he said. Each system has to know exactly what direction it is going in order to serve those people, he added. Marvel told the state legislature's normally difficult job of handling hundreds of bills and appropriating millions of dollars is being made even more difficult this year because of the primary and general elections coming up. "The Republican Party in this state is on the ropes," Marvel said. The party has lost five of the last six races for the governor's seat, he noted, and if the race is lost this year, the party is going to be in trouble for the next 10 years. If the governor's race is lost, Republicans can expect to see Senate and House losses in the future because Exon is aiming for the Senate, regardless of what he says publicly, according to Marvel. This is another in a series of articles on major political candidates who visit the Wayne area during their campaign. Comments made by the candidates should prove helpful to area residents when election time rolls around. At a meeting with the faculty following the student public meeting, Senator Marvel fielded this question: What value do you—and the Legislature—see in the state colleges? The senator answered that the state colleges are smaller than the university and are closer to the students. "I might repeat a little joke I tried at the student meeting, and it went over like a lead balloon. At the university, students say the only time the university notices them is when they bend their IBM cards." With the WSC faculty, that joke drew a pretty good laugh. Marvel suggested an idea of organizing regional college systems to coordinate the four-year and two-year colleges under regional governing boards. "It is an idea that has had a little consideration and probably needs more, he said, adding it would take much planning and "some constitutional gymnastics" to accomplish. Marvel theorized that a Northeast See Marvel, page 6

'No Pets and That's Final!'

"A horse wouldn't be much trouble, Dad." "Mom, this dog just followed us home." "I would take care of him myself and a canary can't eat much." "Can I please have a goldfish?"

For years we had sternly refused our daughters' entreaties for a pet. All pleas had been turned neatly aside as we explained that pets cost money to buy and feed, need room to run, and require care which no one would be home to provide. We felt pretty proud that we had not weakened.

Our one concession had been in letting the youngsters throw crumbs out for the squirrels and give a name to a tiny wild rabbit which hopped up somewhere in our backyard.

Then, one winter we were adopted by a cat that got stranded under our front porch during a snow storm.

Feeling sorry for the abandoned animal, we gave her a saucer of milk. Father, who had screamed "get that thing away from me!" the last time he'd been approached by a neighbor's Siamese, now grinned as this half starved animal rubbed against his leg, almost as if to say "thank you" before going after the food that was offered her.

The kids named her Heidi.

She never made a nuisance of herself, coming around only in the evening for a handout and spending many mornings sunning herself on the front steps. She wasn't a handsome cat — scraggly would be the most apt description — but she certainly had fine manners. And when she presented us with a family of ugly little kittens, the following spring she would have burst her buttons if she'd had any.

Then, when her young ones were only a few weeks old we had to explain to three tearful children that Heidi had been run over by a car.

And that was only the beginning! Have you ever tried to bottle feed four very, very young kittens four to six times every day?

We survived! More miraculously, so did they! And so, instead of one cat that wasn't much trouble, we had four kittens which were a considerable nuisance. And you know something? It wasn't so bad after all.

WH Musical Cast Chosen

Larry Stratman, vocal director, has announced that this year's musical production, "Bye Bye Birdie," will be presented at the Wayne High School lecture hall Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23.

Assisting Stratman in directing the production are Ron Dalton, band instructor, and Ted Biendernan, drama coach.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is the 1950's story of a popular recording star, Conrad Birdie, who is drafted into the U.S. Army. A scheme is designed by Birdie's manager, Albert Peterson, and a secretary, Rose Alvarez, to make a lot of money on Birdie before he leaves civilian life, and Kim MacAfee is chosen from among thousands of fans to receive Birdie's goodbye kiss.

The arrangement doesn't make Hugo Peabody, Kim's steady, too happy, and the plot thickens before Rose gets Albert and Hugo gets Kim.

The cast includes Doug Temme as Birdie; Mark Cramer as Albert Peterson; Marjie Lundstrom as Rose Alvarez; Kay Pierson as Kim MacAfee; Barry Ruback as Hugo Peabody; Debi Wolke as Albert's mother; Brenda Gaunt as Gloria Rasputin; Kay Pankratz as Ursula; Phil Koerber and Diane Stollenberg as Mr. and Mrs. MacAfee and Bob Bergt as Randall MacAfee.

All seats will be reserved. Tickets, at $1.50 for adults and $1 for students, are on sale now.

Area School Changes Times

Windside school officials will be turning back their time schedule to the regular starting and ending times this Thursday, said Superintendent Don Leighton. The school will go back to its regular times (8:25 a.m. to 3:44 p.m.) because of earlier sun rises. The school moved back its starting time after daylight savings time went into effect in January. Two other area schools are not changing their times as yet. Muri Bellier, superintendent at Wakefield, said the school will not go back to the regular schedule for at least 15 days. Aileen's superintendent, Gail Miller, noted that the school board probably will take up the subject at tonight's (Monday) board meeting.

Ability, Desire Characteristic of Herald's All-Area Club

By BOB BARTLETT
This year's Wayne Herald All-Area Basketball Team doesn't have the height last year's team possessed, but it does have the desire and ability.
Two Wayne High players have shown those qualities along with players from Wakefield, Laurel and Allen who have been named to this year's second annual team picked by the Herald staff and five area coaches.
Blue Devil guards Marty Hansen and Tod Bigelow rank among the area's best along with Scott VonMinden of Allen, Gregg Anderson of Laurel and Keith Siebrandt of Wakefield.
Both Wayne players showed their quickness and effectiveness in ball handling as well as scoring—Hansen, the only junior among the five, averaged about 13 points per game, about one shy of Bigelow's average. As most Wayne High fans know, those two were big keys in the Blue Devils' attacking a 15-6 record.

Coach Bill Sharpe noted that Marty, 5-10, and Tod, 5-8, made up for the height the team was lacking in the front court by their consistent shooting. "They make our team go," Sharpe pointed out, adding that their ability to press on defense caused other teams to turn the ball over and allowed them to score on quick breaks.
VonMinden, the tallest all area player at 6-7, carries the highest scoring average, 17 points during his team's 18 games. Hitting 51 per cent from the field is one reason his average is so high, as is his 69.5 per cent accuracy from the free throw line.

"Scoring isn't Scott's only asset, however. He was one of Allen's top rebounders, grabbing an average of 10.7 caroms a game."
Wakefield's 5-11 Keith Siebrandt averaged 13 points, eight rebounds and five assists each game—one reason for Wakefield's winning season, 13-6.
The Trojan gave his club the necessary spark to make his team go, says coach Joe Coble. Siebrandt's ability to run with the ball and set up plays made him one of the area's outstanding players.
Just how important Siebrandt is to the team was evident when the Trojans lost two games—to West Point and Allen. At that time the senior was out with a sprained ankle. "The ball club is not the same when he's not in the lineup," the coach added. "He's an all-time man—to tally unselfish when it comes to shooting. He's the kind of person that makes a team."

The lowest man on the scoring totem pole is Laurel's Gregg Anderson with 11.8 points a game. Lowest because that's what coach Joel Parks' game plan calls for—balanced scoring.
"His statistics may seem low," Parks explained, "but that's because we stress balance. Gregg is consistent, though, shooting 40 per cent from the field and 70 per cent from the line."

Anderson, tallest member of the Bear squad at 6-1, garnered 6.10 rebounds a game, a fact that helped make Laurel co-champions in the Northeast Nebraska Activity Conference.
Two of this year's players are not new to the Herald's list of team and honorable mention players. VonMinden made the second string all-area team last year while Bigelow was named to the honorable mention list.
Both also received honors in their own conferences. VonMinden made the Lewis and Clark's top five for the Lewis division and Bigelow was selected to the West Husker's all-conference tournament team along with Hansen and Bob Kealing.

On the second team are Wakefield's Doug Fischer, Allen's Neil Blohm and Chuck Peters. Laurel's Kevin Gade and Wayne's Scott Ehlers. All are seniors. Peters won a spot on the second team last year while Fischer earned honorable mention. This year Fischer also was named to the West Husker all-conference tournament team. Peters made the L-C's second five.
The honorable mention group includes two Winslow players plus selections from Laurel, Wakefield and Wayne.
Bob Hoffman and Tyler Fevert, sophomores who earned places on the Clark second team, are joined by seniors Sam Utech of Wakefield and Tom Anderson of Laurel and junior Bob Kealing.

Laurel: '3 Down, 1 to Go — Let's Take State'

By BOB BARTLETT
The chant of "three down, one to go — let's take state!" echoed through Wayne State's Rice Auditorium Friday night as Laurel beat Wausa for the second annual title and the right to meet West Point in regional basketball play this week.
The Bears' combination of a tough man-to-man defense plus the hot shooting of 6-1 senior Gregg Anderson gave the area squad a 36-46 win over the Vikings and win No. 15.
Anderson, who scored 22 points for the night, sank 12 of the team's 14 points in the third frame to pull the Bears away from a 25-22, halftime lead.
Andersonaced three straight shots to help the area team build a 37-30 lead halfway through the period.
The Viking turned over the ball 14 times during the heated contest which saw Laurel jump off to a 12-2 lead early in the game before the Vixs regrouped and made a game out of it. Sophomore Gary Gunderson collected six points that period to put Wausa back in the game and close the gap to four going into the second quarter, 14-10.
Even playing summed up second period action, but second half action swung towards the bears.
"Our key was to play good defense," pointed out head coach Joel Parks, "and that's what we did." Laurel only allowed 12 points each the final two frames—and only let three Vikings score.
Team leader Kerry Clarkson hit 10 points for a 17 point total while the club's second highest scorer, Neal Seagren, pumped in 12 the second half to end up with 33 on the night. Kim Johnson added a pair of free throws, half his output in the game, to close out Wausa's scoring.
Meanwhile, the Bears continued their charge. Anderson leading the way both offensively and on the boards. Besides his game high 22 points, Anderson grabbed six of the team's 25 rebounds. Wausa also ended up with 25 caroms.

Sophomore Sterling Stolpe hit 12 for the only other Bear in the double figures. Eight of those came in the first half for his team.
Laurel used the same game tactics — press and run — against Ponca Thursday night to defeat the taller Indians, 54-32, after the Vikings upset Coleridge in the first game, to play in district finals.
"Laurel's defense wasn't very deep," Parks explained about coach Larry Buhl's bench, "so our plan was to fire them out with our defensive press."
The Bears' press showed its effects early in the game, limiting Ponca to only 13 points the first half while the Laurel quintet mustered 25. After a sluggish third period, the Bears exploded for 23 points in the last period while Ponca hit only nine.
"We haven't had the height all year — that's a fact of life. So we have to work harder," Parks commented.
The Bears hit 20 of 41 shots that game for 48 per cent accuracy, 12 per cent better than the team's percentage against Wausa.
Rebounding again was Laurel's strength forte, with the team collecting 26 to Ponca's 22. Stolpe led the team with nine. Anderson had six.
According to Parks, both Class C district winners, were to settle the time and place of their regional meeting sometime Saturday. The winner of that game earns a berth in the state basketball tournament March 14-16.

LAUREL's Gregg Anderson draws a lot of attention from Vikings Tim Nelson, center, and Gary Gunderson. The pair tried to slow down Anderson, but the senior veteran ended up with a game high 22 points.

West Point's Barage Snuffs Out Wakefield

West Point mounted a 15-point margin during the first quarter over Wakefield Friday night, then kept the Trojans at bay for the rest of the game to claim the Class C district title at Lyons, 43-27.
The catalyst behind the shooting of Lenny Adams with 22, took advantage of Wakefield's cold first quarter shooting for an 18-7 lead, then allowed the Trojans to come within five before shuffling off the area club.
"They're a complete club," coach Joe Coble reflected about coach Steve Miller's 18-5 West Point team. "We hit 43 per cent for the night but they flatly outshot us inside, outside and all over."
Senior Trojan Gary Addink, who also hit 22, kept the area team in the game the first half, connecting for 17 points. "Everything Gary put up in the first half went in," Coble pointed out.
But the second half West Point's man-to-man defense took its toll, stopping the big man and forcing the Trojans to go to the running game.
"We eliminated the Trojans from finals action. But Coble's club came through with a 74-71 victory.

Senior Keith Siebrandt hit 24 points in the fast moving game with Addink next in line with 15 and Fischer had 14.
The game was tied at 71 each with 20 seconds remaining. Siebrandt then stole a pass for layups and a two-point advantage before Pender turned the ball back over to Wakefield.
Pender-players then fouled Sam Utech to send him to the line for the final point.
Wakefield ended its season action with a 15-6 record while West Point is slated to meet Laurel this week in the regional bid for a spot in State Basketball Tournament March 14-16.

Competition
There were heroic performances in opening day events Friday as Wayne State and Kearney State swimmers battled for the Nebraska NAIA swimming crown.
Perhaps the most heroic hero for Wayne had to be Bob Floerchinger. Floerchinger swam an amazing catch up lap in the 400 medley relay. When he hit the water for his third lap butterfly, Floerchinger trailed the Kearney swimmer by at least four yards. With boiling speed, he turned over a two-yard lead to Doug Krecklow for the freestyle final lap. Doug continued to a winning and district record time of 5:29.6.
That put Wayne back in the lead at the end of first day's events: Wayne '96 points, Kearney 93, Chadron 41, Concordia 9. Eight events remained for Saturday.
Six district records fell Friday, five set by Wayne swimmers. But it was a second place performance by Craig Fullerton in one-meter diving that gave the Wildcats an unexpected lift. Injured three weeks ago, he had not practiced until two days ago. In afternoon dives Friday he looked a big ragged, but evening final dives went smoothly, and his second place certainly helped the Wayne cause.
Dave Jusli gained two firsts for Wayne: the 500 freestyle in district—record—time of 5:11.6, and the 200 freestyle in 1:52.2.
Other Wayne winners: Dan Carney, 200 individual medley in district record 2:09.5; Floerchinger in 200 butterfly in district record 2:07.5; and the 800 freestyle relay of Just, Dan Carney, Krecklow and Floerchinger in district record 7:48.06.
Kearney got firsts from Paul Raffaelli in the 100 breaststroke, district record 1:03.2; Dave Kerry in 100 backstroke at 1:02.4; and Dan Yost, one-meter diving.
Tom Carney earned a couple of valuable seconds for Wayne in the 50 free and 100 back. Krecklow scored a third in the 200 individual medley. Then in the next race finished third in the 50 free. Denny Moore added a third in the 100 breaststroke.

PUBLIC NOTICES
BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

Deadline for all legal notices to be published by the Wayne Herald is as follows: 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's newspaper and 3 p.m. Thursday for Monday's newspaper.

NOTICE OF PROBATE OF WILL
County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska
Estate of John Fred Amend, Deceased.
The State of Nebraska, to all concerned.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed for the probate of the will of said deceased, and for the appointment of Olga Amend as executrix thereof. The hearing will be for hearing in this court on March 5, 1974, at 2 o'clock P.M.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ABANDONMENT PURSUANT TO CHAPTER 513, R.S.N.
Notice is hereby given that the Interstate Commerce Commission is being requested to issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting abandonment of the line of railroad of the Chicago and North Western Transportation Company extending from railroad Milepost 7.3 near Dakota City, Dakota County, Nebraska, in a southeasterly direction to railroad Milepost 28.9 near Emerson, Thurston County, Nebraska, and from railroad Milepost 0.9 near Emerson to railroad Milepost 10.1 near Wayne, Nebraska. The total distance of 40.6 miles, all in Dakota, Thurston, Dixon and Wayne Counties, Nebraska. This line is used for the stations of Berwyn, Spur, Hubbard, Emerson, Wakefield and Wayne, Nebraska.

The interest of employees will be protected by the "Burlington Conditions," as described in 257 ICC 700. The reasons for this proposed abandonment are that traffic over the above described line is extremely low, averaging only 16.6 cars per mile for the 12 month period December, 1972 through November, 1973, inclusive. A total of 1,000 cars was handled on the abandonment track in a calendar 1972, in the years 1971 and 1972, respectively, from the operation of this line. The line is in a deteriorated condition and requires a substantial expenditure for upgrading in the future. Continuation of maintenance and operation of the line in the future would constitute an undue burden on interstate commerce, and would deprive applicant and shippers on its lines of other uses of the use of available water of the line. Estimated total net salvage value of the line is $24,000.

The name and address of applicant representative to whom inquiries may be made is Christopher A. Aulis, Commerce Attorney, Chicago and North Western Transportation Company, 400 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will rule on this application without hearings unless protests are received which contain information indicating a need for such hearings. In the opinion of the applicant, the proposed abandonment does not constitute a major federal action which has a significant effect upon the quality of the human environment in accordance with the Commission's regulations (49 CFR 1100.250) in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub No. 45), Implementation National Environmental Policy Act, 1969, 340 ICC 431 (1972). Any protests may include a statement indicating the presence or absence of any effect of the request for Commission action of the quality of the human environment. If any such effect is alleged to be present, the statement shall include information relating to the relevant factors set forth in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub No. 45), supra, Part 11 (1), 350, 431, 431-431.

Commissioners To Look Again At Zoning

Wayne County commissioners will delve further into rural zoning during Tuesday's meeting at the courthouse in Wayne.

The commissioners and about a dozen other persons, including village officials from Winside and Hoskins, listened to a review of what rural zoning is all about during a special meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Giving the group a humbinal sketch of rural zoning was Paul Gessaman, extension economist with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Gessaman noted that rural zoning is simply a method of avoiding conflicting uses of property in an attempt to keep people from getting angry with their neighbors, losing money from drops in land values or ending up in court.

He said about a dozen counties in the state have adopted rural zoning and another eight or nine are moving in that direction.

"One of the primary intentions of rural zoning is to prevent unhappy situations between farmers, and to avoid conflicts between rural and urban areas," he told the group.

Meeting with the commissioners Tuesday will be Steve Martin, director of the Mid-Elkhor Council of Governments, and Gene Sturm of Lincoln, community and regional planner for the State Office of Planning and Programming.

Laurel Rallies To Nip Frosh

Wayne's frosh blew an 11-point lead late in the third quarter, giving Laurel the incentive to defeat the Blue Devils, 60-50 Monday night at Wayne.

The locals held the visitors for most of three periods before running into foul trouble and allowing Laurel to score five charity tosses and make the game 43-36 going into the final period.

There, Laurel freshmen ripped the cords for 24 points while holding Wayne to seven to end Wayne's season at 4-10.

"It was kind of a discouraging game," coach Duane Blomkamp admitted, "to be ahead 11 in the third period, then lose the game when you're far ahead."

Jon Ley led the locals with 21 points while Gordon Kardell hit 19. Wayne's strong man on the boards, Mike Wieseler, left the game in the early going of the third period to leave the frosh without one of their leading rebounders.

Score by quarters:
Laurel 6 22 8 24-60
Wayne 10 23 10 7-50

Wayne—Tim Koll 16, Aaron Nissen, 4, Marc Lawrence 4, St. Prather 3, Mike Wieseler 2, Laurel—Garth Patfilsen 10, Cleve Stolpe 9, Doug Thompson 8, Gary Schultz 8, Mike Dalton 4, Pat Hirschman 2.

POLLUTION IS A MENACE TO ALL AMERICANS ...
NOT JUST THOSE IN THE "WRONG" NEIGHBORHOODS

Out of sight, out of mind. Perhaps ugly scenes like this are never viewed by most of us but they do exist. They are a menace, not just to those who live or work in the vicinity of polluted areas, but to all of us. You can't isolate something like pollution . . . it spreads its insidious filth through every level of society, contaminating our air, water, and land today and threatening disastrous consequences for generations to come. We must all mobilize against the elements that contribute to pollution — beginning with the empty beer can tossed out of a car window, to the conditions that permit rat-infested slum areas. Our environment is a precious heritage . . . let's preserve it for ourselves and for future Americans!

TV Note book

Has TV changed our lives? Well, for one thing, it takes up a lot of our lives, in the average American home. Someone is watching the set for a little over six hours every day. That's 37 per cent of our waking hours, although those late, late shows may be whittling away at our sleeping hours, too.

A baby born today, if he starts watching TV immediately (and most start pretty young), would spend over 17 years of his normal life expectancy viewing TV. Even if TV isn't our favorite indoor activity, it certainly takes more of our time than any other one thing we do except, perhaps, sleep.

When you buy your new TV set from us, it is installed and adjusted by a technician, not a delivery boy. You can buy with confidence from us because we have our own service department to assure your satisfaction.

6,075 Buy Tags, Pay Vehicle Taxes

About 6,075 vehicle owners in Wayne County purchased 1974 license tags and paid their taxes by the March 1st deadline, reports county treasurer Leon Meyer.

Meyer said the number is about 300 more than were licensed a year ago. Wednesday was the busiest day at the treasurer's office, with 302 persons purchasing 1974 tags and paying taxes. A total of 285 persons went through the office on the final day before the license tags program begins.

Vehicle owners who have not purchased tags and paid their taxes may do so anytime. However, those operating their vehicles with 1973 tags may be ticketed by police.

Marvel

Nebraska region might include colleges at Wayne, Norfolk and perhaps Columbus.
How would they be financed? By the state, Marvel suggested. To give the regions their own taxing authority would raise property taxes—and also raise a howl from taxpayers, the senator said.
Asked if he thinks Nebraska residents have become more concerned with the plight of state colleges, Marvel said he doubts there is much widespread change.
"I assume you have created an impression in your area. But state-wide influence for the state colleges must come from the Board of Trustees state office in Lincoln," Marvel said.
What does he think of differing proposals by Gov. J.J. Exon and Sen. David Stahmer to provide free tuition to some state college students?

Marvel made it plain he does not think much of either plan—"probably not fair or constitutional," he said of both.
The Exon plan, which he indicates will become a major campaign issue against Marvel's Republican gubernatorial bid, would grant about 1,200 tuition waivers, divided among the four colleges. The governor would leave selection of waiver recipients to the colleges, but would direct that the waivers go to students intending to study for careers in high demand.
Marvel said he considers this plan "probably unworkable and difficult to administer." He said he could envision students waiting to enroll until the last minute in hopes of getting a tuition waiver.
The Stahmer plan would give free tuition to seniors who had enrolled three years in the state colleges. The Omaha senator proposed the idea a week or so ago and asked for reaction. Marvel said the idea has had little consideration—and none officially by a legislative committee. He said he does not know Stahmer's reasons for choosing seniors for free tuition.

Have the junior colleges and tech schools hurt the state colleges? someone asked.
"Yes, they have," the senator said firmly. He mentioned "problems we have" with funding the two-year schools (they get 75 per cent of their money from the state). One problem is determining what is a full-time student, he said. Another problem is accreditation, especially when the junior college and tech school students want to transfer to a four-year college.
Marvel cited Northeastern Nebraska Technical Community College at Norfolk as "perhaps the best example of success."

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

AN EXPLOSION and fire did extensive damage to the Bogner Steak House in Crofton recently.

Fire chief Jerry Steffen said the explosion occurred when a propane bottle valve malfunctioned while being disconnected from a space heater by an employee of a local plumbing firm. The plumber suffered minor hand and face burns.

Crofton and Bloomfield volunteer firemen fought the blaze for about three hours before bringing it under control.

A new kitchen addition to the steak house was considered a total loss and the remainder of the building received heavy smoke damage. There was no damage to the nearby motel. The steak house may be closed another two weeks for clean-up and rebuilding.

WAKEFIELD MAYOR Ed Schnasse has announced he will not seek reelection in the May 14 election. He has been mayor at Wakefield the past six years.

Already filing for mayor was Alfred Benson. Filing for the city council were incumbents Eugene Erb and Phil Rouse. The Rev. Donald Meyer is seeking another term on the school board.

THE ANNUAL free art show sponsored by the West Point Woman's Club and Civic Woman's Club was held Saturday. City and rural students and area adults were invited to enter their work in the show.

BIDS ON the proposed new Pierce County jail and courthouse addition will be opened on March 19.

Plans call for construction of about 16,000 square feet of space for an estimated $500,000.

The new project would replace the present dilapidated jail and give additional needed office space. The structure would include an upstairs living area for the sheriff, main floor office space, vault space and garage. The building would be concrete block and brick. Plans call for work to begin this spring and be completed by March next year. Money for the project will come from a sinking fund in existence for several years and from federal revenue sharing funds allocated to the county.

MRS. BILL HOLLAND was seriously injured in a car-pedestrian accident on the edge of Wisner Feb. 22. She had parked her car on the north side of Highway 273 and was crossing the highway when an eastbound car driven by Gary Lee of Pitzer struck her. She suffered a badly broken right leg and severe head and face cuts.

ANGIE MARSH, Debbie Kimes and David Tingle will represent the Neligh school system in the March 23rd Antelope County spelling contest at Neligh. They won the contest held at Neligh late in February.

MORRIS MOYER, mayor at Madison the past eight years, will not be a candidate in the May 14 election. Also announcing he will not seek another term was councilman Adolph Long. By the middle of last week there had been no filings for Madison city offices which will have to be filled in the coming election.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

Better Gas Mileage

Fuel economy is one subject on everyone's mind these days, including automobile manufacturers. Current vehicle emission controls, safety devices and damageability standards, while they help reduce man-made pollutants, increase safety and reduce cost of minor accidents, also have caused a reduction in fuel economy through less efficient engine operation and increased vehicle weight. As a result, auto engineers have been exploring new approaches that would recover gasoline mileage losses.

One solution is to reduce the weight of the vehicle — without affecting passenger safety — by using materials such as special alloy steels, aluminum and plastics to replace conventional steel and cast iron components now in use. Many of these new materials are still in the development stage but figure to play an increasingly important role in car production in the near future. Strong lightweight materials are essential for fuel economy, especially for the standard-sized cars with the additional trunk space and passenger capacity that may be necessary or desirable because of family size, business use or other reasons.

Transmissions are being studied, too, as engineers evaluate changes in automatic transmission torque converters that would increase fuel savings. Overdrive is being re-considered for cars with manual transmissions. Lowering the rear axle ratio will also result in fuel savings. This involves changing the number of teeth on the set of gears at the rear axle to change the direction of the power coming back from the engine through the driveshaft so that it flows sideways through two axle shafts to the rear wheels.

One of the most interesting approaches to fuel economy is a "Four by Eight" engine. This system employs a conventional V-8 engine with a delicate carburetor control that feeds fresh air, instead of the usual fuel-air mixture, into four of the cylinders during normal highway driving. When the driver requires additional speed, he presses the accelerator beyond the half throttle point and the fuel-air mixture automatically begins flowing into all eight cylinders. This engine would provide four cylinder economy under normal driving conditions and eight cylinder safety in passing situations.

walked into his church to find that new carpeting had been installed on some steps and a landing. He checked around to see if it had been ordered, but nobody knew anything about it. Before long, it came out that the carpeting should have been installed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church a couple blocks away.

The out-of-town workers who put down the carpet apparently got the two churches confused because of their similar red doors.

Doniver Peterson, pastor at St. Paul's, said it was just one of those mistakes that happen. New carpeting has been ordered and should be put down before too long, he noted.

One of the other ministers in town had a quick reply when he heard what had happened: "I'm going downtown and buy a bucket of red paint!"

HERE I'VE been putting away a few dollars now and then into a savings account and now I loan I lost money doing it. I would have been better off spending the money.

Congressman Charles Thone says a dollar saved plus interest had less value at the end of the year than the original dollar did at the start of the year. And even though savers had less buying power at the end of the year than at the beginning, the government taxed their "earnings," says Thone.

Kind of shoots holes through the old idea that you should save for a rainy day. Might as well spend it now because it won't be worth much when it finally does rain anyway.

Elizabeth Honor Dolan, Painter of Murals, Portraits, Frescoes. Nebraska artist Elizabeth Honor Dolan (1887-1948) is recognized in the world of painting from the Midwest to France. Much of her work was done in New York, where she lived for eight years, and in France, where she painted on commission. In Lincoln during the 1920-1930 decades, she found an outlet for her talents in the new Nebraska Capitol building and in structures on the University of Nebraska campus.

Perhaps best known in Nebraska are her mural backgrounds in Morrill Hall on the University campus over which Governor Borglum is said to have "exclaimed," "Henry Capitol Library" "worth a claimed," "Henry Taylor Bailey, eminent art teacher, believed her Spirit of the Prairie in the Capitol library "worth a trip to Nebraska."

paint portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morrill, Professor Erwin H. Barbour, and former Chancellor Samuel Avery. The portraits are in Morrill Hall, named for the pioneer philanthropist whose will provided funds for the project. The committee awarded Miss Dolan the contract included Chancellor Edgar Albert Burnett, Professor Paul H. Grummann, Avery, and Barbour.

Notable Dolan works in the East and in Europe include a fresco (her favorite painting) in a 12th century cathedral at Fourqueux, France; a fresco in the theater at Fontainebleau, France; and a stained-glass window at Louis Tiffany in New York.

Miss Dolan was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Dolan at Fort Dodge, Iowa, on May 20, 1887. She came to Tecumseh, Nebraska, with her parents when a child and later moved to Lincoln. Her home was at 815 South 13th at the time of her death in 1948.

She first studied art with Sarah Hayden at the University of Nebraska. After a year's study at Des Moines, she enrolled in the Chicago Art Institute. Four years of study followed at the New York Students Art League under George Bridgman, Louis Mora, and Thomas Fogarty, the illustrator. The Academy of Paris and famous teachers Paul Baudouin, M. Gorguet, and R. Le Montague St. Hubert afforded additional study and inspiration.

In characterizing her Nebraska murals, one critic has said: "(Her work) indicates vision, clarity of emotion, breadth of thought. It seems peculiarly to express the spaces of the West and the newness of the pioneer country."

Late-night thoughts

Some rambling thoughts by an editor as the clock hands creep slowly to midnight a day before publication:

The local council's agreement to go ahead and sign a contract with Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) has come as a relief to a lot of people in the city. . . whether they agree it's a good idea or not.

Only time will tell if the councilmen made the right decision, but regardless of how that turns out, you won't be able to criticize them for making a hasty decision. They probably took more time in deciding to go ahead with that contract than they have taken with any other recent subject. Months and months went by while the council first learned this way, then that way. From a newspaperman's viewpoint, the subject was beginning to pale. Probably from the viewpoint of a lot of other people, too.

One thing should be mentioned about that contract: Norbert Brueger, superintendent at the municipal generating plant was for it, as were other employees there. That simple fact says a lot. If those people favor hooking up with NPPD, the laymen on the council have to give those opinions a lot of weight. They know a heckuva lot more about what goes into generating electricity than do the councilmen or a great many of their constituents.

That was quite a feat by Winside High's wrestlers, taking third place in the state meet at Lincoln. They deserve a compliment for taking on all comers in the journey. . . and handling most of them without too much trouble. A similar compliment goes out to the wrestlers from Wakefield and Wayne who participated in that event. The culmination of a long, tough season. One thing about wrestling, it tests the mettle of an individual. There's nobody else out on the mat except you and your opponent.

If you want a jolt, take a ride on the "Convincer," the Nebraska Highway Safety Program educational exhibit that simulates a front-end automobile collision. The machine, which promises a jolt but not an injury, will be at the city auditorium in Wayne today (Monday) and Tuesday. Buckled up, you ride down a short ramp and come to a quick halt, similar to one you would have in an accident going 10 miles an hour. They say the machine will convince you to buckle up. . . regardless of how short a trip you plan.

Now that we've got women running for the city council and the school board, it sure would be nice if some others of the fairer sex would step forward and try to out some of the men filling seats on those governing bodies. You know, sometimes women can really make a contribution. (That's in jest, of course.)

Allen's drive to raise funds for young Danny Koester should put many a bigger town to shame. Wayne, for instance would have to raise about $240,000 to equal that effort, considering this town is about 17 times larger than Allen. Omaha would have to raise about $16,300,000 to match it. Even Jimmy the Greek wouldn't take book on those cities doing that. Great going, Allen folks.

How many stories on the front page of the last two issues brought you good news and how many brought you bad news? If you say "it was about half and half, you're way off. More than 30 stories were carried on those front pages, and only about five or six could be called "bad news" stories. Just further proof that one of the constant criticisms of the press, that newspapers dwell on the bad things going on, doesn't hold water. There's plenty other criticisms of the press which are just as full of holes as that one. And the people doing the bellyaching are usually well aware of it. They just have to knock somebody, so they end up knocking the people who keep them informed.

Come March 19th, don't be surprised if somebody raps on your door, holds out an egg and asks you how much you want to buy it for. It'll be local high school youths trying to raise a few bucks for the March of Dimes. They call the effort an eggathon. However, don't be surprised if they knock on your door and ask for an egg. That's how they get them to sell them.

There's quite a bit of competition up Dixon County way for the county offices which will be filled come general election time in November. Can't understand why there isn't some opponents in the Wayne County races. You can't say the salaries aren't up there where they're halfway respectable; something they haven't been for quite a few years.

THE GRASSROOTS OPINION

Brownville, Pa., Telegraph
"In three years Saudi Arabia may have greater financial reserves than the United States, Western Europe, and Japan combined." The speaker, a high U. S. official, was underlining the pivotal role played by King Faisal's desert realm in the monetary and energy future of the Western World. In 1971, he said, "Saudi Arabia may earn $15 billion in oil revenues, of which the Saudis can spend only $3 billion on internal development." At that rate, the official went on, the Saudis by the end of this decade may have accumulated $100 billion in reserves, becoming in a real sense the "bankers of the world."
