

Lions to Sell Dance Tickets

Members of the Wayne Lions Club plan to canvass the community tonight (Thursday) to sell tickets for Saturday night's St. Patrick's Benefit Dance at the national Guard Armory.

Tickets for the dance, featuring The Casinos, cost $1 each, with proceeds from the dance going to help pay for the new hospital under construction on the northeast edge of Wayne.

The dance will begin at 9 p.m., and there will be free popcorn and door prizes given away during the evening.

Holding the dance has become an annual event for members of the local service club.

Warming house, lighting lights, running car is costly.

How much have Wayne County residents been spending annually for the energy needed to keep the house warm, the lights lit and the car running?

Very few of them ever bothered to figure up the total in past years. They were aware that these costs kept going up each year, as did everything else, but felt that the increases were not out of line.

Now, however, they are doing the figuring. Because of the energy shortage and the resultant surge in the prices charged for gasoline, fuel oil, natural gas and the like, their budgets have been thrown out of whack.

Some help in determining what the average family spends per year for energy to run its home and operate its car is provided by the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality, a federal agency.

In Wayne County, on the basis of its general findings, these bills amounted to approximately $743 per family in the past fiscal year. For some families it was more than this and for others, less.

Nearly half of it, an average of $345 per household, went for gasoline for the car, the report states. For the local area as a whole, it came to $1,090,000.

The second biggest expenditure last year was for the energy used for space heating and for water heating. It averaged $214 per household.

Other operating outlays listed include $76 for major electrical appliances and $46 for air conditioning in homes so equipped. The other costs were for cooking and miscellaneous.

'Thanks, Ron Dalton'

WAYNE HIGH band instructor Ron Dalton has received a plaque from the Wayne-Carroll school board for his bringing honor to our schools and our communities through outstanding demonstrations of musical talent, conduct and citizenship. While the band participated in the 1974 Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Board member Mrs. Margaret Lundstrom presented Dalton the surprise honor during transmission of the varsity band performance Tuesday night at the high school.

State Colleges, Army Announce New Program For Attending College

The state colleges of Nebraska and the United States Army this week announced a college open admissions program for service members designed to provide new education opportunities through military service.

Dr. Edwin Nelson, executive secretary of the State College Board of Trustees, called the new program a "dramatic new educational opportunity for young men and women who wish to attend college but are financially or otherwise unable or reluctant to do so."

"Through the open admissions concept," Dr. Nelson said, "the colleges at Wayne, Peru, Kearney and Chadron will admit as students any individuals who enlist in the Armed Forces.

The colleges then will provide academic counseling and maintain credit records for each service person. In addition, the schools will give special academic credits for the service training each person receives.

"The good student can reasonably earn as many as 60 semester hours of college credit to apply toward his degree program in our colleges during a three-year enlistment, or sophomore standing during two years of service," Dr. Nelson said.

While the student is serving, the Army will pay at least 75 percent of the cost of college courses he takes. Then, when he returns to the campus as a veteran, he obtains the benefits of the GI Bill ($220 per month for 36 school months).

Col. John D. Vailte, commander of Army recruiting throughout Nebraska, described See PROGRAM, page 5

Two More File For W-C School Board

Two filings for the Wayne-Carroll school board Wednesday morning assured school district voters of going to the polls during the May primary election.

Filing for the three positions on the board which will have to be filled at the end of this year were Dallas Havener and Dr. Rafael Sosa, both of Wayne.

Their filings brought to seven the number of persons seeking the positions on the school board now held by Mrs. Margaret Lundstrom of Wayne, Morris Sandahl of Carroll and Wilbur Giese of Wayne. Mrs. Lundstrom and Sandahl have already filed for another term on the board.

Those seven candidates, and any others who enter the race before Friday's filing deadline, will be on the ballot for the May 14th primary election, with the top six vote-getters going on to the general election in November.

Had the number of candidates been six or less, there would have been no primary election for the school district voters.

Also filing for the board have been Steve Hall, Dale Stoltenberg and Mrs. Vicky Skokan, all of Wayne.

A farmer near Carroll for 24 years before moving to Wayne recently, Havener, 55, is employed at Sherry's TSC Store in Wayne, a job he has held since last July.

Limits Hiked On Exemption For Elderly

Elderly residents of Wayne County may now earn more money each year and still qualify for a tax exemption on their homes, reports Wayne County assessor Doris Slipp.

She said a recent change in the homestead exemption law now permits single persons 65 years and older to earn up to $3,200 a year instead of $2,800. Couples with one person 65 or over may earn up to $3,850 instead of $3,550, and couples with both persons 65 or older may earn up to $4,800 instead of $4,300.

Those who qualify for the tax exemption will have the first $15,000 of actual valuation of their home exempt from taxation, Mrs. Slipp said.

Deadline for filing for the tax exemption at the county assessor's office is April 1, she emphasized.

2 Carroll Men File for Posts

Two more candidates filed for Carroll's town board, bringing the number to three candidates seeking two positions on the board.

Ronald Otte and Elnor Cook join Terry Davis in running for the positions currently held by chairman Jerry Johnson and Walt Bethwisch.

Carroll residents wishing to run have until Friday to file at the village clerk's office.

College Faculty to Take Salary Cuts

The Wayne State College faculty will take salary cuts ranging up to 40 per cent for teaching during the third term in order to provide as many courses as possible to meet student needs.

This results from an agreement between the administration and the Wayne State Higher Education Association of Nebraska (HEAN). Dr. J. S. Johar, chairman of the HEAN negotiating team, said, "This is an associate professor of chemistry at WSC.

WSC members of HEAN ratified an agreement which provides these salary rates for teaching in the third term, April 24-June 14: For full-time teaching, 15 per cent of the teacher's first and second term total salary; for two-thirds or three-fourths teaching loads, 12 per cent; for half-time load, nine per cent.

In recent years, the faculty received 25 per cent of the two-term salary for full-time duty in third term, Dr. Johar said.

As an illustration, a faculty member whose pay was $12,000 for two terms would have received 25 per cent, or $3,000, for third term under the previous rate. But at the new rate he will receive 15 per cent, or $1,800, a cut of 40 per cent, Dr. Johar said.

The financial crisis at Wayne State was created by two related problems, Dr. Johar said: First, the funding practice of the state, and second, the budget projections on enrollment.

In Nebraska, most of the money for teachers' salaries is supposed to come from tuition income. When the 1973-74 budget was submitted to the Legislature, the college projected an enrollment of 9,972 student credit-hours for the third term and summer of 1974. But a more realistic estimate is 7,500 credit-hours, Dr. Johar said.

This reduction, coupled with enrollment less than projected for fall and winter terms, caused a serious shortage of cash available to pay teachers' salaries, Dr. Johar said.

HEAN, the bargaining agent for Wayne State faculty, agreed to take a pay cut, so more faculty could be hired, and more courses offered, Dr. Johar said.

He suggested that this type of financial emergency could have been avoided had the Nebraska Legislature funded teacher's salaries from general funds and made the main function of the state colleges — instructional services — less dependent on income from tuition.

Council Will Help Finance Business Face-Lift Study

Wayne's city council Tuesday night agreed to financially back a study which could lead to a major facelift in the downtown business district.

Councilmen agreed to pay half the fee for the architectural firm which will do a preliminary study of the business district and recommend ways the area can be improved.

Total fee for the preliminary study is expected to be about $1,500, with half of it being paid by donations from several members of a recently formed group which hopes to get a downtown redevelopment project started.

The group, headed by councilman Darrel Fuebner, earlier Tuesday agreed to hire Kirkham, Michael and Associates from Omaha to do the preliminary study. The report from the architectural firm will include information on traffic patterns, pedestrian traffic and an artist's drawing of what the city's main business area could look like after a major facelift.

The Omaha firm was one of several interviewed recently by the committee about doing the preliminary project.

Committee members agreed to raise half the cost of the study among themselves to show the council they were willing to put money behind the project even though they are not sure they will like what the firm comes up with.

If they do not like the results of the study, they agreed Tuesday, they and the city will have lost only a few hundred dollars.

That is better, they noted, than asking the city council to finance a study of $2,000 or $3,000 to finance a study.

Representatives of the Omaha firm will talk with individual businessmen in a six-block area on both sides of Main Street from First to Fourth in order to get an idea about what the businessmen would like to see done with the store fronts, streets, sidewalks, vacant buildings and the like. As soon as that is done, they can start coming up with ideas about how to overhaul the business district so it is attractive and appealing both to the businessmen and the shoppers.

The firm is expected to have its preliminary report completed and back to the committee working on the project within the next several weeks.

Also Tuesday night, councilmen agreed 7-1 to go ahead with installation of public restrooms in the Henry Victor Park under development on the south edge of the community.

The restrooms, which will be concrete block with brick veneer, and several pieces of playground equipment will cost the city approximately $5,200, according to street commissioner Vern Schulz. Schulz told the council that street department employees will be able to install the restrooms this spring. The restrooms will be similar to vandalism-proof units costing several thousand dollars more, he noted.

Voting against installation, which was backed by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors during a Monday night meeting, was Vernon Russell.

Earlier in the evening, councilmen heard Lions Club member Cleo Sharer report on progress which has been made at the club's overnight trailer park near the airport east of the city.

Sharer asked councilmen to review planned projects at the park in order to recommend what should be done this summer. He noted that plans call for installing restrooms at the park this year, a project estimated to cost about $1,700 in 1970. The project would probably cost several hundred dollars more now because of inflation, Sharer noted.

Councilmen agreed they would try to work with the club in further developing the park.

On a 6-2 vote, the council agreed to recommend to the state liquor commission that Frank Woehler's application for a package liquor license be denied. Voting to recommend that the license be issued were Russell and Ivan Beeks.

That vote came after a move to increase from five to six the number of package liquor li-

Top Prize Worth $25 This Week

If there's a grand prize winner in this week's Birthday Bucks drawing, the lucky person will walk away with coupons worth $25 in trade of any participating business.

This is the first week the prize will start climbing each time there is no winner, the result of a vote to change the drawing format by the board of directors of the sponsoring Wayne Retail Association.

In connection with that boost in the grand prize, this week's consolation prize will be worth $25 in coupons.

The grand prize starts climbing this week since there was no top winner a week ago. It will continue climbing each week there is no winner, and there is no limit on how high the jackpot can go. The consolation prize will remain at $25 until there is a grand prize winner, then it will go back to $50 and the grand prize will drop back to $300.

Taking home the $50 prize last week was a Wayne resident, Karen Brockman, who was shopping in Kuhn's when the winning date was announced at 8:15 p.m. last Thursday night. The date had been drawn at random earlier.

No purchases are necessary in order to win either the consolation or grand prize, but a person must be present in one of the participating firms at the time the winning date is announced.

Cancer Meet Set Tuesday

Volunteer workers for the 1974 Wayne County Cancer Crusade will hear Herman Ernst, district Cancer Society supervisor from Lincoln, speak at a kickoff meeting to be held at the Wayne Woman's Club rooms Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

Films will be shown to help volunteers prepare for the drive, and cruise the packets will be distributed to city workers.

Rural workers will pick up their packets today (Thursday), when they meet with rural chairman, Mrs. Lester Hansen.

Wayne County Chairman Mrs. Clifford Johnson is being assisted by Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve. Mrs. Johnson is also city chairman.

The drive will officially get underway in April, with rural workers beginning the first week in April and city volunteers beginning April 15.

The American Cancer Society slogan this year is "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime."

Experiment On Parking Shrinks

Wayne's city council Tuesday night agreed to reduce the number of blocks which may be included in an experiment to see if parallel parking will cut down the number of accidents in the downtown business district.

Councilmen agreed to have the experiment conducted on the north side of Third Street from Pearl to Logan and on the north side of First Street from Pearl to Main. An earlier proposal approved by the council had included the north side of Second from Pearl to Logan.

Councilmen agreed to change after hearing several businessmen comment on the need for parking spaces in the main business area to accommodate shoppers. Among the businessmen speaking in favor of keeping as many parking spaces as possible were:

Rural Man Breaks Jinx, Wins Trip

"This is the first time I've ever won anything in my life," smiled Otto Baier of Wayne after finding out he was the latest winner in the Vagabond Vacation contest sponsored by Wayne businesses.

Baier became the fifth of eight winners in the promotion Monday, earning a two-night stay at an Ramada Inn or Holiday Inn in the United States, Canada or Mexico. In addition, Baier and his wife will get $67.50 in spending money.

A farmer south of Wayne was one of 27 preliminary winners picked at random last week from the names of those registering at the store taking part in the promotion. Baier's name was selected as a preliminary winner at Bob's Farm Service.

Plainview Wins Winside Tournament

Plainview's junior high wrestling team won the first annual Winside Community Club wrestling tournament Saturday, scoring 8 1/2 points in defeating seven other teams.

The Pirates had three first-place winners and two runners-up to lead the school. Curt Hart (72), Mike Spals (120) and Larry Fuetberth (152) bettered their opponents for top honors.

Winside, Wakefield and West Point tied for third with 54 points. Trailing them were Norfolk Catholic with 49, Neligh with 45, Randolph with 32 1/2 and Elgin Pope John with 28.

Wakefield led the two area teams with two first-place finishers. Chuck Scherer (136) and Paul Dahlgren (144) beat their opponents, with Dahlgren pinning Boyd Rempler of Winside in 20 seconds and Scherer defeating Marcus Wieseth of Plainview, 8:2.

Winside's only champion was Ed Morris (104), who handed Dave Weisman of Randolph a 7-1 defeat.

The Cats had two grapplers finishing second. Tom Anderson (88) and Boyd Rempler gave coach Doug Barclay his second-place points. Finishing second for Wakefield coach Lyle Trullinger was 152-pound Dean Sharp.

Winside will travel to Wakefield Monday.

DALE HEIGHTHOFF of Elgin Pope John, top, appears to have the upper hand on Winside's 128-pound LaVerle Miller, but Miller escaped and won his match before finishing fourth in his class.

703 Series Leads Singles Division

Three of last week's four division leaders still hold their top ranking after the second weekend of the St. Mary's Open Bowling Tournament at Melodee Lanes.

The big change this week comes in the singles division where the top five lineup completely changed. Hank Finkhaus, Norfolk, knocked off last week's No. 1 man, Norbert Reusman, by rolling a 643 scratch and collecting 60 pins in handicap for a 703 total. Chuck Meier, Randolph, is close behind with a 695 total, followed by Don Wacker, Winside, 684, Myron Strathman, Randolph, 681, and Randy Cloeter, Norfolk, 678.

Ron Muivvhill, West Point, remains atop the 36 all-events entrants with a 1,667 total. Elning's Sand/Concrete, Wayne, heads a 27-entry team competition with 3,140, and the duo of Clarence Steinhauer, Don Peterson, West Point, leads 60 doubles entries with a 1,326 total.

The five-man team, Sergeant Bluffs Lanes from Sergeant Bluffs, Ia., captured the special $30 prize award by St. Mary's Men's Club for the high team handicap score.

Three Sundays remain for all interested bowlers to sign up for the tournament, said secretary Harold Murray. Bowlers may pick up entry blanks at Melodee Lanes or call for reservations.

Coeds Finish Fifth In Regional Tourney

The Wayne State women's basketball team finished its 1974 season Saturday on a winning note and a fifth-place finish in the Region 6 tournament at Brookings, S.D.

The Wildkittens defeated South Dakota State University, 57-52, after dominating first, second and fourth quarters. They led at the first period by 18-10 and 30-23 at halftime. A South Dakota surge turned things around, but Wayne came off a 45-41 third quarter deficit to win by five points.

Martha Schrick, leading scorer for the season, finished with 27 points, one of the highest ever by a Wayne coed. The 5-11 center from George, Ia., will be back again for one more year of competition.

William Penn College, the Iowa champion which edged Wayne, 49-45, in first-round play, won the tournament over South-west Missouri State, Penn goes on to the women's national tournament at Manhattan, Kan., next week.

Kansas State University, first year's regional winner over Wayne, gained third this time by defeating Dickinson State of North Dakota. Mount Marty College of Yankton defeated Dr. Martin Luther College of New Ulm, Minn., for seventh. Wayne defeated Luther, 71-35, in the second round.

Wayne, state champion the past two years and regional contender for three years, finished its 1974 campaign with a 14-6 record.

3 City Swimmers Earn Ribbons at Millard

Three members of Wayne's swimming team earned ribbons during their heats during the Millard Shamrock Open last week.

Chris Madaus, Penny James and Kevin Jech won their awards, with Jech taking sixth place in the 100-yard breaststroke in the 15-17 age group.

During swim competition at Ralston two weeks ago, both Jech and Randy Pinkelman won medals for their showing at the Ralston Open.

Madaus finished eighth in the eight and under category of the 25-yard backstroke and Penny was 10th in the 50-yard backstroke for girls 11 and 12.

Doug Marr and Peggy Pinkelman also competed in the meet. Pinkelman came in 17th in the 100-yard breaststroke for 13 and 14 year olds and Marr finished 18th in the 50 yard freestyle for 11 and 12 year olds.

Saturday coach Gary Egler intends to take six of his top swimmers to the Midwest AAU championship meet at Ralston before the local team wraps up the winter season.

On the roster are Tracy Stoltzner, Lesa Barclay, Randy Pinkelman, Bud Meyer, Marr and Jech.

NEN Loop Expands To Ten

The Northeast Nebraska Baseball League has expanded to 10 teams with the addition of Allen Martinsburg, Pender and Walthill.

These three joint holdover members Dakota City, Homer, Newcastle, Ponca, South Sioux City, Wakefield and Wayne. One team, Winnebago, did not re-enter the league for the 1974 season.

Tom Brennan of defending play-off champion Newcastle was elected president. Arnie Green of Wakefield is vice-president, and Merlin "Lefty" Olesen of Wakefield is secretary-treasurer. Named to the appeal board was Gordon Nelson of Ponca.

The league voted to seek an all-star game affiliation with a neighboring league. Plans on that event will be announced later.

The 18 game round robin schedule will open May 26 and continue through July 28. It will be followed by a four-team playoff.

Pairings for opening day match are: South Sioux City at Newcastle, Walthill at Pender, Allen Martinsburg at Homer, Dakota City at Ponca, and Wakefield at Wayne.

Colles Places 6th in NAAIA

Part of a tradition lived for Wayne State wrestlers at the NAAIA national tournament last week. That's the tradition of having a Wildcat mount the players' platform.

Heavyweight Ron Coles kept the string alive for the sixth consecutive year with his sixth place. Had he not sustained injuries to both knees in the semifinals, he might have climbed a step or more higher on the winner's platform.

As it turned out, the third-seeded senior from Indianapolis clashed in the Friday semis with second-seeded Curt Niederbauer of Northern State, S. D. and got pinned at 4:55. That denied Coles a chance in the championship final. But worse, the Niederbauer leg wrestling technique dealt Coles a pair of injured knees, which denied him even a chance at the fifth place match Saturday.

Coles had to default after a doctor discovered torn muscles and/or ligaments. A couple of weeks Saturday would have given Coles a repeat of his third place in 1972.

Anyway, his sixth put Wayne in the record of placers. That's customary. In 11 trips to the NAAIA nationals, Wildcats have placed all but one year. The 1967 year was the only blank. In that time, Wayne grapplers have won 21 places, including five championships.

Another tradition for Wayne suffered this year — that of finishing among the team leaders the past six years. With a team short on experience, Wayne finished pretty well down in standings.

Three wins by Coles and one by Jim Meyer, 126-pounder from Wayne, produced all 10 Wildcat points.

Jim Meyer of Wayne won his first round Thursday when he pinned John Jobit of Fairmont State, W. Va., in 6:43. But in the second round Meyer lost an 11-2 decision to fourth-seeded Glen Guerin of Taylor University.

Wayne's three other entries lost first round scraps. Randy Humpal, 142, was pinned in 1:59 by Herbert Pellinen of Hamline University, George Bisack, 177, lost a 7-3 decision to Jeff Borja of York. Fred Spale, 190, gave up an 11-2 decision to Craig Offen of Augsburg.

Coles won his first three outings in spectacular fashion. First he pinned Bill Boggoff of Huron in 5:36, then Greg Miller of St. John's in 3:10. And in the quarterfinals, Coles battled to a 6-6 tie after three periods against Fred Bockovich of Wisconsin-Whitewater. In overtime, Coles won decisively, 8-2.

THE WAYNE HIGH branch of the Logan Valley Gun Club has a chance to make it three years in a row to win the state district gun shoot April 7 at Norfolk, but it's going to take help from area residents and businessmen to make it possible.

According to club member Dr. Richard DeNaeyer, the cost to send one boy to the annual Regional Cornhusker Trap Shoot is about $35-$40 for entry fee, rest for shells.

"For the past two years Wayne has had an entry in the high school college shoot, but with the increase in costs it has been a pretty tough job to get a full team to go," DeNaeyer pointed out. The total cost this year to send a five man team to Norfolk is about $175.

In the past, shooters usually paid their own way, with the Wayne club offering a practice site and reloading shells. The club hopes to go one step further this year by helping pay the entry fees for two teams.

Hoping to go after their third trophy are last year's winners, Steen Anderson, Steve Jorgensen, Ken Baier, Lane Ostendorf and Greg Swinney.

Anyone wanting to make a contribution can contact high school members or the Logan Valley Gun Club.

ALONG that same line, Allen High is hoping to send a team also. According to Noelyn "Butch" Isom, he and Charlie Haeg, in charge of the Allen team, have been practicing with about 30 students at the shooting range in Wayne every Sunday.

Whether Allen has a team or not, Isom said, depends on the amount of funds the students can raise and contributions.

"We're hoping to form two teams, but we'll know more later," he said.

DURING THE past year there has been considerable increase in Wayne's participation in area and AAU swim meets. Deserving thanks for that is Wayne State senior Gary Egler, who will be leaving the city shortly after spring graduation.

Egler is concerned about what's going to happen to the local swimming program after he leaves. "There are quite a few kids who want to swim in meet competition, and these kids have the talent and desire to make good swimmers," he said.

City clerk Dan Sherry noted that the city is looking for a replacement for Egler, who managed the swimming pool last summer. Anyone wishing to take over should apply to city administrator Fred Brink.

Last summer Egler, from Dixon, Ill., entered his teams in eight meets, including two AAU sponsored events. Winter record so far is five meets.

This is the first year Wayne has had a winter team. Anyone wishing to take over should apply to city administrator Fred Brink.

Cats Pick Jones for MVP Award

For the second time, Ron Jones is the most valuable player in basketball at Wayne State College.

This time, however, it's Ronald G. Jones, senior forward from Kankeake, Ill., elected by his 1973-74 teammates.

The other time it was Ronald E. Jones, senior guard on the 1962-63 Wildcats team, and now head coach at Wayne. He was also most valuable in baseball that year.

Jones of 1973-74 finished his career as the No. 2 rebounder on all time Wayne records, with a total of 937. That's an average of 9.4 per game. He also averaged 9.1 points in his 98 games, of which he started 87.

The honor of most improved player this year belongs to Rod Erwin, senior forward from Concord. Also elected by the team were the honorary season co-captains, Jones and senior guard Tom Erwin of Concord, a cousin of Rod.

allowed to use the college pool when it was free.

A REPEAT BROADCAST of the Nebraska High School Wrestling championships will be aired Sunday at 2-30 p.m. on the Nebraska ETV Network. The two day tournament drew 624 boys from 165 Nebraska high schools and approximately 30,000 fans.

It might be a good time to tune in and see two of 12 area matmen, Doug Lage of Winslow and Steve Sorenson of Wakefield, who won their weight classes during finals of Class C competition.

According to reports, part of Lage's match was televised. I haven't heard anything about Sorenson's match.

TICKETS to the annual Second Guessers' pork feed March 25, honoring both male and female high school and college athletes, are available from four local businesses—State National Bank, First National Bank, Date's Jewelry and Surber's. Cost is $3 for singles, $5 a couple. Proceeds go to the club's athletic scholarship fund for college students.

Choir from Gothenburg Honor Group

The Gothenburg High School choir will take the role of honor choir when Wayne State College sponsors its fourth annual choral festival Saturday.

Gothenburg's choir, directed by Lyman Anderson, was chosen from Nebraska's outstanding choral groups to present a 45 minute concert at 11:15.

The audience including six other high school choirs and the Wayne State choir.

Dr. Cornell Runestad, chairman of the WSC music department, said about 500 singers are expected in the visiting choirs. The choirs and their directors: Laurel, Keith Lunde; Beemer, Mrs. Betty VanDyke; Omaha Marian, Sister Mary Callista; Pierce, Don Weiland; Mapleton, Ia., Richard Palmer; and Westwood of Sloan, Ia., Myron Armour.

Each high school choir will perform individually and in the massed choir concert scheduled at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre of the Fine Arts Center. The public is welcome to attend any part of the festival.

For the massed choir concert the choirs will sing "Stomp Your Feet" by Copland, "Nearer My God to Thee" by Gardner, "Go Ahead Tell John" by Pfausch and "The Omen" by Schubert. The latter number featuring a soprano solo by Connie Webber of the WSC music faculty.

Gothenburg singers will be overnight guests in college dormitories, staying with college choir members.

Demo Head: File for County Meet

Kenneth Olds of Wayne, chairman of the Wayne County Democratic Party, and the Wayne County Central Committee urge all Democrats to file for the county convention to be held on June 6.

Deadline for filing with the county clerk is March 15. There is no filing fee.

The Wayne County convention is usually held in the county notes Olds.

The convention elects the delegates to the state convention, which in turn will elect delegates to the National Mid-Term Conference to be held in Kansas City, Mo., in December.

The Mid-Term Conference will write a "constitution" for the National Democratic Party—the first ever for an American political party, according to Olds.

Bank Officer Has Surgery

Albert Kern, vice president of the First National Bank in Wayne, was admitted to Wayne Hospital Saturday evening and was transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Sioux City, Ia., for diagnostic studies Monday morning. He was scheduled for surgery at St. Joseph's Wednesday.

Kern suffered a possible stroke, according to his local physician.

Kern has lived in Wayne and been affiliated with the local bank about 40 years. He has served as vice president since 1958.

Winside Matmen Fall to Pirates

Winside's junior high wrestling team lost its first dual match of the season, falling to Plainville, 37-18, Monday night at Plainville.

The Wildcats won four of 12 matches, but had to forfeit in two weights, 80 and 152 pounds. Winning for coach Doug Barclay's team were Tom Anderson (88), Tom Koll (94), Ed Morris (104) and Kris Koch (110).

Winside's next meet is Monday at Wakefield.

- 72 Curt Hart (110) defeated Jay Koch, 7-2
- 80 Plainville won by forfeit
- 88 Tom Anderson (104) pinned Lynn Aubert (no time)
- 94 Tom Koll (94) defeated Lynn Aubert (no time)
- 104 Ed Morris (104) defeated Murray Anderson, 4-2

Energy Costs — Bank Officer

(Continued from page 1) Energy costs are similar to those in most other parts of the country, the 3,160 local families had bills of approximately $2,348,000 to meet in the year.

Translating the various kinds of energy that are used—natural gas, electricity, oil and coal—into equivalent amounts of gasoline, the survey finds that the average family consumed 2,270 gallons of gasoline, or its equivalent, in the past year.

In Wayne County, on that basis, home fuel consumption represented some 7,173,000 gallons of gasoline.

to the council that it does seem unfair to limit the number of package licenses which can be issued but not to limit the number of bottle club licenses.

Arguing against issuing Wheeler a license were Mike Loofe, who operates Dick's Tavern, and Harlan Farens, who operates the El Toro Lounge.

In other action, the council: —Voted 5-3 (Mosley, Beeks and Gross against) to have a Lincoln attorney give a breakdown of his bill to the city for representing the city in the public hearing on the firing of police chief Vera Farschild. That bill comes to $1,282.50, but at least two councilmen, Russell and Jim Thomas, think mayor Kent Hall acted illegally in hiring the attorney without first consulting the council.

The breakdown is expected to tell the council how much of the bill is for advising the civil service commission and how much is for representing the city in the actual hearing. Russell said Hall was familiar enough with the law that he was wrong in "illegally" spending city funds without consulting the council. If the council decides not to pay the bill and ends up being sued by the Lincoln attorney, the council should then consider suing the mayor, according to Russell. Hall was not present during Tuesday night's meeting.

—Learned from city attorney Bud Barnhoff that the council cannot spend city funds for Chamber of Commerce dues. Council had received a bill earlier this year for $1,800 for this year's dues.

—Failed to get the necessary three-quarter majority to do away with the third reading of the ordinance hiking the police chief's salary from the present $7,400 to $8,000. The ordinance will have to be read a third time at the next council meeting before it can be voted on. In favor of bringing it up for a vote Tuesday night were Russell, Fuetberth and Ted Bahe.

—Tied at 4-4 on an ordinance which would bring two-hour parking zones back into effect in the downtown business district, with violators being fined in county court after three violations in a 90-day period. Voting against the ordinance were Thomas, Brasch, Beeks and Bahe. Since Hall was not present to break the tie, the ordinance could be brought up at the next meeting for another vote.

—Voted 8-0 to approve an ordinance which permits the city to create loading zones in the city.

—Voted 6-2 (Beeks and Brasch objecting) to bring the city building inspection under the authority of the city administrator.

—Voted 5-3 (Fuetberth, Russell and Mosley objecting) to have the city administrator contact an electrical engineer about doing a study of the city's electrical rates. Vote came after the administrator voiced concern that potential industries are seeking rates lower than the city can produce electricity. The study may show how the city can use power from Nebraska Public Power District in order to cut those rates back as far as possible.

possible was Roy Hurd, who noted the community is dependent on the farm families in the area and has to be able to provide parking for them.

The retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce last week voted to ask the council to rescind its earlier approval of the experiment.

The experiment, however, won't go into effect until at least one more reading of an ordinance which the council will have to adopt to put the experiment into effect. The councilmen could vote on the ordinance allowing the experiment at their March 26th meeting, or they could be forced to wait for a vote on it until their April 9th meeting.

City street department employees will paint the parallel parking stripes on the street about the middle of April if the council passes the ordinance. The experiment is expected to last between six months and a year.

The proposal to try the experiment grew out of meetings of the recently organized Selective Localized Accident Prevention committee, a county-wide group named to try to reduce traffic accidents and deaths.

Hearing on Closing RR Is Tonight

Wayne area residents interested in the proposed closing of the railroad between Wayne and Dakota City are invited to a public hearing on the subject tonight (Thursday).

The hearing, being held by the Nebraska Public Service Commission, is scheduled for 7:30 in the Woman's Club room at the city auditorium in Wayne.

Present for the meeting will be Duane Gay of Columbus, commissioner for this part of the state.

He will listen to comments on the proposal by Chicago and North Western Transportation Co. to close the 40.6 mile line.

Officials of the company have cited deficit operation and lack of traffic on the line as their reasons for seeking approval from the Interstate Commerce Commission to close the line. They said they lost more than $62,000 operating the line during 1971 and 1972. Only 642 carloads were handled on the line in 1971 and only 648 in 1972, they said in their request for the ICC's authority to close the line.

the Army's role in the open admissions program. Drafting was a recent report by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, he said that up to 12 percent of current college students are "returning attenders."

"Many really don't know what they want in life," he said. "The commission suggests that high school graduates take time off after high school to travel or work, to gain experience and find out just what they want to do. With the open admissions program, the Army is offering the best of both alternatives. A young man or woman can now take time off from full-time academics and have an opportunity to travel, learn a skill and achieve financial stability and maturity through military service. At the same time, the individual can earn credits toward a college degree," he said.

Individuals desiring more information on the open admissions program should contact local Army recruiters.

Proceeds To Medical Center Building Fund

'Legislature Should Back No. 1 Industry'

If Nebraska's legislature can spend $14 million for a new field house, and possibly another $10 million for a fine arts center, then why can't the lawmakers spend $8 million to help Nebraska's farming and livestock production?

"That's not too much to invest in the state's No. 1 industry," said M. M. Van Kirk, director of public relations for the Nebraska Farm Bureau, at the annual Wayne and Stanton County Farm Bureau banquet Saturday night in Wayne.

Considering that livestock marketing grossed about $2 billion in the state last year, Van Kirk figured $8 million is a small price to pay to build a new research center and diagnostic laboratories to keep the business growing.

Currently before the Unicameral is a bill calling for about $3.3 million in capital construction to build new facilities at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural campus.

But that's only part of the amount needed, according to Van Kirk. It will take about $8 million to complete the project, now in the blueprint stage, he noted.

Millions of dollars have been spent on the University of Nebraska-Omaha medical college as well as the law college in Lincoln, he said. Now the Unicameral has appropriated $14 million for a field house and is considering a $10 million center for the performing arts. "I'm not arguing about the merits of such projects, just the priority of those politically appealing objects," he said.

Van Kirk pointed out that the buildings housing the agricultural research facilities, built between 1909 and 1920, are in adequate for today's needs. Improper air conditioning is one problem still in existence, causing some small animals to die of heat. This could represent six months to a year's time of work gone, he pointed out.

The present research center has made strides in the animal medical field, according to Van Kirk. Among them has been development of a vaccine for calf scours, which in the past cost farmers and feeders $18 to $24 million in cattle deaths, weight losses and labor.

The approximate 250 people who attended the banquet heard 12 Farm Bureau members form their own barber shop singing group, performing such songs as "Strollin' Through the Park" and "Sweet Adeline."

Leading the dozen was office manager Marvin "Bud" Frober ich of Wayne Singing along were Milton Owens, Neil Sandahl, Merle Ring, Bill Yost, Clarke Kai, Bob Meyer, Milton Opler, Lauren Boeckenhauer, Maurice Boeckenhauer, John Rees and Wilbur Giese, with Mrs. Milton Opler directing and Mrs. Merle Ring playing the piano.

Prior to the dinner, the Rev. Gail Axen of Stanton gave the invocation before toastmaster Mike Samuelson of Norfolk introduced Farm Bureau officers

Jean Pippitt Places First In District Competition

A self designed garment, sewn and modeled by Jean Pippitt, Laurel High School senior, took first place blue ribbon honors during the Nebraska Federated Womens Club District III Fine Arts Festival held Saturday in Pender.

Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Pippitt, competed against 15 high school students representing District III clubs. Jean was sponsored by the Tuesday Club of Laurel.

Miss Pippitt is now eligible to enter state wide sewing competition to be held during the NARC state convention April 22-25 at Kearney.

In the student arts division, Eileen Finn of Laurel received a second place honor.

Red ribbon winners in the adult craft division from Laurel were Mary Lou Ross, Lillian Harsh and Donna Ebmeier; third place was Sally Wichman. Laurel music division entrant, Susan Schroeder, was selected as one of the state competition alternates.

Those attending Saturday's activities representing the Laurel club were Lois Potter, Arlys McCorkindale, Julie McCorkindale, Norma Ebmeier, Ann Nelson, Ella Larsen, Ruth Ebmeier, Susan Schroeder, Darlene Schroeder, Vera Ebmeier, Suzie Wacker, Jean Pippitt, Joyce Pippitt and Helen Swanson of Wayne.

Allen Man Urges Joining NE Group

Jim Russell of Allen, president of the Northeast Association for Retarded Citizens (NARC), has announced that March is membership month for the National Association for Retarded Citizens and its 1,500 affiliated units.

The 1974 theme is "Reaching Out."

"I can think of no more satisfying reward than helping a retarded child gain a sense of pride and accomplishment," said Russell of his work with the area group.

The $2.50 per person annual membership fee goes to sponsor such projects as free summer camps for retarded adults and children.

Individuals interested in helping promote the goals of the association through paid membership or volunteer work may contact Mrs. Lawrence Rickett of South Sioux City, NARC membership chairman.

The Northeast Nebraska Association received national recognition for achieving the greatest percentage increase in membership in 1973. Mrs. Rickett is also chairman that year.

The area group serves Dixon, Wayne, Thurston and Dakota Counties. Meetings are held the third Monday of each month in various locations throughout the area.

Elynn Fallesen, head teacher for the recently developed Behavioral Shaping Unit in Wayne, will speak at the meeting to be held Monday evening at the Wayne National Guard Armory.

Some Life-Saving Tips

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN Dean Bruggeman gives young Vicki Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merl Ellis of Wayne, some tips on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation during Monday night's monthly session of the junior fire patrol. Fifth graders have been attending the sessions since last fall and have just two more to go before graduating. Youths have been taught a variety of things relating to fire safety, including use of fire extinguishers, home safety and the like. Monday night's session was the first time the youths got a chance at practicing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on a dummy designed by a Norwegian father after his young daughter drowned.

45 Attend Reunion

A Lorenz family reunion was held Sunday at the Carroll Auditorium with 45 attending. March birthdays and anniversaries were observed.

Those in charge of the no-host dinner and luncheon were Mrs. Ray Peterson, Wayne, Mrs. Ernest Sands, Laurel, and Mrs. Bessie Nettleton and Mrs. Ervin Wittler, Carroll.

Mark Birthdays
The birthdays of Mrs. Ervin Wittler, Mrs. Bessie Nettleton, Mrs. Ernest Sands, Laurel, and Mrs. Carrie Rissor, Norfolk, were observed Saturday when 15 ladies were luncheon guests in the John Hamm home. Mrs. Richard Stelken assisted her mother with serving.

Getting Tips on Furnishings

THESE THREE Wayne County women were among numerous persons from around Northeast Nebraska who took part in 4-H home economics leader training meetings in recent days. The three, from front, Mrs. Warren Baird of Winside, Mrs. James Gustafson of Wakefield and Mrs. Val Dammie of Wayne, listen to Myrtle Anderson explain techniques in furnishing homes during Monday's meeting at the Wayne County courthouse. Also teaching the training meetings, which were held at Wayne, Watfhill, Dakota City, Hartington and the Northeast Station, were Joycelyn Smith and Anna Marie Kreifels. All three are area home economists at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Board members also agreed to the transfer of a quarter section of land from District 83 to Winside's district, agreed to allow a veterans class to be conducted in the trades and industries building if it doesn't conflict with school classes, gave superintendent Don Leighton approval to look for a part-time library aide and agreed to rehire all teachers for the 1974-75 school year with salaries contingent on negotiations currently underway.

Winside School Buys New Bus

The Winside school board voted Monday night to purchase a $4 passenger bus from Harmon Bus Sales in Kansas City for $6,000.

The board members also accepted the resignation of Jean Swanson and Sharon Shaw. Both Mrs. Shaw, a first grade teacher, and Mrs. Swanson, part-time English instructor, have been at Winside for a year.

The members agreed to hire school secretaries Mrs. Norma Brockmoller, elementary, for $3,100 and Mrs. Jean Gahn, board and high school for $3,100.

Guzman Hopes to Help His Country As Doctor

Eghon Guzman knows what it's like to be poor and hungry. The thoughts recur to him as he pursues his ambition to become a doctor.

One day, he related during Monday's Kiwanis meeting, all his family had was water to drink. There was no food. "That night I began to cry because I didn't know why," he said.

Why are there rich people and why are there poor people, he asked himself. The rich in his native country of Chile can afford to get hospital care while those less fortunate have to settle for government hospitalization where the number of doctors is limited.

To the 23-year-old Santiago citizen, there has to be a way to help his people, and the answer, he believes, is to become a doctor.

EGHON GUZMAN speaker for the April 29 dinner, Gov. J. J. Exon, will be able to attend

Area Safety Group To Be Represented At Annual Luncheon

Ray Buitts of Wayne, chairman of the recently organized Wayne County traffic safety group, will attend the annual Nebraska Highway Safety Program Awards Luncheon at Lincoln on March 22.

Speaker for the event will be Vince Toffany, president of the National Safety Council.

Governor J. J. Exon will attend the luncheon to present highway safety program awards to recipients in various categories.

Buitts is chairman of the Selective Localized Accident Prevention (SLAP) committee.

Doggone unhandy

YOU CAN SAY one thing about this fire hydrant — it's in a pretty unhandy place. The hydrant is one of those installed along with the water line leading out to the municipal industrial site on the east edge of the city. The hydrant was installed without an extension to raise it above ground level because the construction firm did not want to wait several weeks until a new hydrant would arrive, according to a city official and a representative of the engineering firm which drew up plans for the project. The hydrant will be raised and installed above ground level, they note. Then it won't be so doggone unhandy.

OBSERVATIONS

One more plug

We've commented in the past that we need more qualified candidates for the county, city and school board positions which will be voted on during the primary and general elections this year. Although the filings have been coming in fast and heavy in recent days, we still would like to see more persons step to the fore and try their hand at winning those positions. It might be helpful to those persons who are considering filing before Friday's deadline to run through the salaries which the county and city officials will receive when they take over their posts. The county clerk, sheriff, treasurer and assessor will receive $9,000 a year starting in January. The county superintendent of schools, clerk of district court and attorney will receive $8,125 annually. Those salaries are 25 per cent higher than they have been for the past four years.

The three commissioners, two of which are up for election this year, will continue receiving $6,500 annually. City councilmen in Wayne receive $1,000 a year, and the mayor of Wayne receives $1,500 annually. The only public officials who do not receive pay for their services are members of the Wayne Carroll school board. State law prohibits school board members from being paid. However, the school board members, like the county and city officials, are reimbursed for conferences, workshops and special meetings they have to attend during their time in office. Persons interested in filing for either county, city or school board offices have until Friday at 5 p.m. to do so. Those who receive a salary for their services must pay one per cent of the salary as a filing fee. There is no filing fee for persons wishing to enter the school board race.

Ah, that's the reason

We knew there had to be a reason for those hikes in postal charges which went into effect earlier this month. Well, it turns out that some of the money the Postal Service gets from those increases will go to help teach elementary school children how to send mail. Nearly 5,000,000 copies of a magazine called Junior Postman, which contains 24 pages of stories, pictures, puzzles and games, are being mailed out across the country in time for "Student Postal Week" later this month. Cost of that little project comes to about $450,000, or about nine and a half cents for each youngster, according to the Postal Service. A longtime critic of the project, Rep. Bill Alexander, Arkansas Democrat, says the project will cost considerably more than that. He says it will cost something like $1 million. "I have never had an experience with the Postal Service that didn't involve a cost overrun of less than 100 per cent," he was quoted as saying. Alexander says he can see no need for a project to teach children how to put a letter in a stamped envelope, address it complete with zip code and drop it into the mailbox. The Postal Service says the project will pay for itself in the long run through increased customer knowledge. We knew there had to be a reason for those postal increases. It does the old heart good to know that they might benefit our youngsters. The kids will probably be able to make good use of what they learn from that project in another 10 years or so. That is, if they haven't forgotten what they learned by then.

'Crowded' race is good for the community

Wayne rare opportunity to make sure their wishes are carried out. I invite all of the citizens of Wayne to offer their ideas and advice to the candidates in order to achieve a "common goal" for Wayne. Only with public concern and cooperation can we direct our city to a more productive and prosperous future. Richard Hall, Candidate for Mayor (Editor's Note: Candidate Hall refers to the headline in Monday's issue of the newspaper. Hall, no relation to the present mayor, was the fourth person to file for the mayor's job. We agree with him, and have said so many times in editorials and personal columns, that the more candidates there are for a public office, the better chance the public has of filling the post with the right one.)

Dear Editor: The headline in your last edition concerning my filing for mayor read "Mayor's Race Is Getting Crowded." This headline was of particular concern to me. Good government can only come about when there is wide public interest and participation. I am personally pleased to be involved in a race containing such a wide variety of personalities and abilities. The leadership a responsive government provides can only be effective when it is representative of the wishes of all the people. Those wishes can only be known when all the issues have been presented and decided upon. Due to the high degree of interest being displayed in this election the citizens of Wayne have a

Talk in ETV wastebasket prompts a blackout move

CAPITOL NEWS
LINCOLN — Those educational television programs recapping each day's events on the legislative floor were jeopardized last week when one senator complained about the discussion which wound up on the TV cutting room floor. Senator Calvin Carsten of Avoca said he was unhappy that the 30-minute ETV show one night hadn't included even a word about debate over LB 1028, which seeks creation of an antitrust division in the State Justice Department. Carsten, a member of the Agriculture Committee which sponsors the bill, said the measure can be one of the most important things accomplished this session. It will help the livestock industry, he said, because packers and food chains appear to be working together on prices and the state needs the tools to combat it. Carsten said the ETV editors chose to carry portions of debate of other bills, but nothing on the LB 1028 discussions. The chief item on the program that night — as a condensation of more than seven hours of floor session into a 30 minute show — was a bill which would put a limit on the amount of money a local school district can spend. Also covered was debate on two veto overrides and an unsuccessful attempt to revive a bill killed in committee (which would have merged Omaha Westside with the Omaha School District).

Joel Fowler, producer of the ETV program, said discussion of LB 1028 wasn't included because he felt likely will be an issue in later legislative days and can be reported on then. Carsten, however, said he was so displeased with the coverage for that one night he wanted the ETV cameras removed for the remainder of the session, although he conceded he hasn't been happy for a long time with the effect the cameras have on politicians. There was a lot of debate about the cameras, but the ETV folks got 26 votes and Carsten and 16 other senators voted for banishment. Supporters contended many constituents have praised the 30-minute nightly shows (10:30 p.m. on the educational channel around the state) as a glimpse of state government they wouldn't have any other way. + + + + + running as a Democrat for state auditor. One of the state's veteran politicians, Senator Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha, gave more than casual thought last week to joining the Democratic race for Congress in the Second District. Mahoney, whose South Omaha organization is one of the most effective in Nebraska politics, declined to dive in unless Douglas County Commissioner Daniel Lynch got out. Lynch wouldn't Mahoney didn't. + + + + +

Veto Victory for Schmit
Governor J. J. Exon suffered another reversal last week when he vetoed a pair of bills sponsored by Senator Loren Schmit of Bellwood. Schmit scored veto victories four times last year when the governor vetoed objections to the senator's bills designed to upgrade the battle against drug abuse. Each time, Schmit engineered an over-ride.

Last week, Schmit legislation established 15 more criminal investigator slots in the State Patrol to help with the drug fight and to provide the money to finance them were enacted over Exon vetoes. The governor complained that the bills were too expensive for a Legislature which has refused to agree with him that the state income tax rate should be set retroactively at 13 per cent. Exon challenger Marvel, a champion of the 11 per cent rate, said that levy can continue through 1975 if the economy continues to grow at the rate and legislative fiscal staff members think it will.

Marvel said the Exon administration is basing its call for an income tax increase on a decline in the pace of the economy. If sales and income don't grow as fast, the revenues on sales and income won't come into the state treasury as fast. Exon has pegged growth at 8.5 per cent in the coming year, while the Marvel guess is for maybe as much as 15 per cent growth in income and about 10 per cent on sales.

WAY BACK WHEN

30 YEARS AGO

March 9, 1944: Because of an urgent need, another drive for papers, magazines and old books is being made through Wayne County schools. Ration point value on land was reduced to 100 by OPA. A coyote hunt for benefit of the Red Cross will be held in Garfield Precinct Sunday. The animals have become quite numerous and threaten to cause loss, especially among sheep. Rollie Longe, Wayne, had 22 head of steers on the Sioux City market last week at $15.50 per cwt. County Agent W. R. Harder will broadcast on the county agent's program Friday over WJAG. Norfolk — Ruth Damme fell at the college Wednesday and cracked a bone beneath her right ankle.

25 YEARS AGO

March 10, 1948: Charles McDermott was elected president of the Wayne Toastmasters Club at the regular meeting Monday evening. The Wayne County AAA office has completed loans on more than a half million bushels of corn. Dr. Victor West, former pastor of the Wayne Methodist Church, has completed 50 years in the ministry. He will be honored by his congregation in a service Sunday at a dinner and open house reception. Wayne residents soon may vote on a proposal calling for a $20,000 bond issue for the repair and enlargement of the city library. Ed Weber has leased his service station south of town to Pate Peterson who will take possession May 1.

20 YEARS AGO

March 11, 1954: Wayne High's Blue Devils received the regional class-B championship trophy Friday night from Supt. E. W. Willert, tournament director. Forty pigs and two sows were killed Thursday afternoon when fire destroyed a hog house on the Jack Osborn farm, Wayne. Burr R. Davis was elected president of the Wayne Country Club Monday night at a meeting of the board of directors, succeeding Fred Dale. The G. D. Hanson clothing store, Wakefield, was sold last week to Warren Bressler and Robert D. Schenck, both of Wakefield. Karl Otto Jr., Wayne, Rudolph Longe and Joseph Anderson, Wakefield, were injured Sunday when their car overturned northwest of Wakefield.

15 YEARS AGO

March 12, 1959: Mrs. R. W. Ley and Mrs. J. W. Jones, two charter members of Wayne's PEO chapter, received special recognition at the unit's golden anniversary luncheon last Tuesday. The NE Nebraska Experimental Farm Association has launched a program to raise $25,000 toward construction of an administration building and other facilities at the NE Nebraska Experimental Station, Concord. Wayne High's debate team of Bill Keebel and Garlie Wright went undefeated in the Lincoln, Northeast high school debate tournament Saturday at Lincoln. Richard Waitice, former Wayne resident, has been appointed Anderson, Calif. postmaster by President Eisenhower. Wayne firemen were called to the Russell Pryor farm southwest of Wayne about 5 p.m. Tuesday to extinguish a fire in a haystack.

10 YEARS AGO

March 12, 1964: The Wayne Blue Devils will meet David City Aquinas today (Thursday) at 12 p.m. at the Pershing Auditorium. Regular tourney participants, over the years, this is the first state berth for the Devils in the past three years. Rev. Frank Pedersen, Kenmare, N. D., has accepted a call as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wayne. George W. DeBow, member of the Wayne State education faculty for three years, has accepted the superintendency of schools at Deadwood, S. D., effective May 1. Representing Wayne at Girls' State in Lincoln June 13-19 will be Virginia Witt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Witt. L. William Dedrickson, football and track coach at Winslow, has announced his resignation effective at the end of the school year.

Thoughts for the day

THURSDAY
When Jesus came to this earth, He found a world of impossibility. Matthew 1:21: And you shall call His name Jesus, for it is He who will save His people from their sins.

FRIDAY
True repentance is godly sorrow from your sins. Matthew 3:8: Therefore bring forth fruit in keeping with your repentance.

SATURDAY
We can overcome by reading, quoting and standing on God's word in times of temptation. Matthew 4:4: It is written, Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God.

SUNDAY
There is no distance in prayer. 1 Thessalonians 5:17: Pray without ceasing.

MONDAY
You cannot wish fear away, but you can use your faith against it. God is bigger than your problem. Matthew 10:31: Therefore do not fear, you are of more value than many sparrows.

TUESDAY
God is not moved by the length or loudness of our prayers. Matthew 6:6-8: But when you pray, go into your inner room, and when you have shut your door, pray to your Father who is in secret.

WEDN
It is your magic maker. What is it? It is your smile! Give it to you, so use it for Him! Proverbs 17:17: A friend loves at all times. Hazel Sorensen, Wakefield

Irish Blessing

May there always be work for your hands to do—

May your purse always hold a coin or two—

May the sun always shine on your windowpane—

May a rainbow be certain to follow each rain—

May the hand of a friend always be near you—

May God fill your heart with gladness to cheer you.

YOU AND YOUR CAR

By the Automotive Information Council

Balance Wheels for Comfort, Etc.
Balancing your car's wheels requires a relatively small investment that can provide big dividends in terms of better steering control, extended life for tires and front-end components, and smoother riding. There are two types of out-of-balance conditions — static and dynamic — and both should be checked. Static imbalance means that a heavy spot exists on the circumference of the wheel and tire assembly. By attaching lead weights to the wheel rim opposite the heavy spot, this condition can be corrected. If not corrected, the effect of the heavy spot is magnified as the speed of the car increases, causing the wheel and tire to hop or bounce up and down. This condition is referred to as "wheel tramp" and can occur in the front and rear wheels, causing vibrations throughout the entire car. Dynamic imbalance indicates a heavy spot toward the inner or outer edge of the tire or wheel which causes the wheel assembly to shake from side to side or to shimmy at certain speeds. This condition is transmitted through the steering column to the steering wheel where you can feel the vibration. It is corrected by placing lead weights on the inside or outside of the wheel opposite the heavy spot. Wheels should be balanced every time your tires are rotated or replaced, or when brake drums or discs are replaced or resurfaced. In the latter case, the replacement brake drum or disc brake rotor is assembled with the tire and wheel and all three should be balanced as a unit, either on or off the car. Original equipment drums and rotors are balanced at the factory, so it is normally not necessary to have them balanced with the tire and wheel when the wheels are balanced off the car. While wheel balance is suspect whenever you feel vibration, other items that could cause or contribute to the problem are poorly adjusted or worn bearings, weak absorbers, steering knuckle adjustments, or worn shocks.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Moose Lake, Minn., Star-Gazette
"Will you do yourself a big favor for us? Try to make your life into what you have always hoped it would be to give you happiness. No one else can do it for you... so make up your mind and then get busy! This is our wish for you for 1973."

CURLY DOCK
Ray Butts of Wayne inquired recently about eradication of curly dock at the Lions-roadside park east of Wayne.

Curly dock is not the easiest weed to control. For best results use a mixture of 1 pound 2,4-D (amine) plus 1/2 pound Banvel. The weed should be treated as soon as it greens up in the spring, providing the temperature is above 50 degrees 160 degrees would be even better.

Gardens
There is renewed interest in growing gardens this year, and we have an excellent supply of tree seedlings on gardening. "Variety and Planting Guide for Home Garden Vegetables" has a list of recommended vegetables varieties, when to plant and days to harvest. Other bulletins include ones on growing garden peas, table beets, squash, pumpkin, snap bean, asparagus, rhubarb, horseradish and gourds. A good all-around bulletin on gardening is "Vegetable Gardening in Nebraska." All are available free by calling the extension office, 375-3310.

Partnerships
The present agricultural economy's decline in the number of farms, the cost-price squeeze and a need for more efficient farm units has increased interest in partnerships. My own extension board has mentioned the need for more information on various types of partnerships. A bulletin, "Farm Partnerships for Nebraska," explains partnerships, the contract involved, the rights and duties of partners, and the pros and cons of forming one. Purpose of the circular is to acquaint farmers with the partnership form, but it is not intended to be used as a substitute for an attorney. Only the general characteristics of a partnership are discussed.

Herbicides
Henry Arp of Wayne called me up and wanted to know how deep Essco II granules could be incorporated in the soil and still be effective.

This herbicide should not be incorporated much over one inch in depth. Henry was wanting to list his corn in and was afraid that leveling the ridges too deep would bury the herbicide too deep. It probably would unless he waited about a month so that the herbicide was completely activated.

USDA Announces Interest Increase

The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has announced an increase in the interest rate on commodity loans to grain producers effective with 1974 crop year loans. The increase, from 5 1/2 to 7 1/2 percent per annum, computed on a daily basis, will more nearly reflect borrowing cost of money to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

The USDA said that every six months the CCC will review interest charges for the CCC loan program with the goal of keeping the rate of interest charged to producers in line with CCC borrowing costs from the U. S. Treasury.

Also announced has been an increase in warehouse and farm storage loan service fees to reflect additional costs in processing commodity loans on grains and similarly handled commodities. Warehouse storage loan service fees for grains are increased from $4 to $6 per loan plus $1 for each additional warehouse receipt over one. Service fees on farm stored loans for grain are increased from $8 to $10 per loan, plus $1 for each additional bin over one in the case of grain. These increases will also be effective with 1974 crop year loans. The availability of current crop year loans to producers and producer cooperatives is continued as in past years. The loans provide interim financing for producers to assist them in orderly marketing of their crops.

Dixon County 4-H'ers State's Best

A Dixon County 4-H Club Monday night was officially recognized as the top beef club in the state during 1973.

The Future Feeders 4-H Club, in existence for about 50 years, received a special plaque for winning that honor from the Gooch Feed Mill Corp. of Lincoln. The feed company annually selects the top 4-H club in the state for the award. Members of the club last year were Steve Anderson, Dirk Carlson, Jeff Carlson, Bob Dahlquist, Jim Dahlquist, Brad Erwin, Jean Erwin, John Erwin, Kerl Erwin, Lisa Erwin, Lorrie Erwin, Susan Erwin, Layne Johnson, Denise Magnuson, Dan Nelson, Mary Kay Nelson, Todd Nelson, Ricky Peterson and Lon Swanson. Leaders last year were Ernest Swanson, Pat Erwin and Wallace Magnuson.

Known as the Tri County 4-H Club during the 1930's and 1940's, the club drew members from Cedar, Wayne and Dixon Counties. This has been true in recent years, and current members are sons and daughters of original members.

In 1972 Denise Magnuson had the grand champion animal at the county fair. There have been several other instances of two-generation grand champions in the club. The club has not had a variety of activities since its primary interest has been livestock. Club money earned through premium have been used for such things as taking a trip to the Iowa Beef Processors plant at Denison, Ia., and purchasing clippers for grooming show animals. Although the club is primarily interested in livestock, members have competed in several other activities, including the county song contest.

Wayne Man Is Officer of Area CB Club

Wayne resident Ray Butts was named secretary treasurer of the area citizens band radio club during a meeting at Norfolk on Saturday.

Named president of the group by the board of directors was Verlin Jensen of Laurel. Dan Smith of Lyons was chosen as vice president. Members of the board are Ed Gadenken and Jim Linn, Laurel; Roger Nelson and Alby Helmer, Craig; Fred Brader, Winside; Lyle Grono, Wayne; Laverne Herman, Neligh; Larry Pospishil, Norfolk; Joe Moore and Ben Koza, Columbus; Bob Davies and Chuck Donceski, Madison; Bill Watts and Don Schneider, Stanton; and Ray Seddy and Larry Wetler, Ewing.

One of the purposes of the recently organized club is to assist area groups in forming local citizens band clubs, said Butts, chairman of the Wayne CBERS. A main objective of the area group will be cutting down on the misuse of the emergency channel and call channels, he added. The group also will carry proposals from local clubs to the state organization. Next meeting of the organization will be May 11 at 8 p.m. at the Laurel fire hall. Area groups are asked to bring any proposals they have to the meeting so they can be considered for passing on to the state level, according to Butts.

Pat Finns High At Fremont

The Pat Finn farm family of rural Carroll earned a seventh place showing in the purebred division during the 72nd annual Midwest Market Hog Show last Saturday at Fremont. A total of 467 animals were entered in the show, well over the 408 which were entered in the 1973 show. A record breaking 495 contestants took part in the three divisions of a judging contest held in conjunction with the show. There were 69 FFA and 4-H teams in the junior division, along with 321 individual contestants.

Talk Slated For Hosts Of Japanese

John Orr, associate state 4-H leader from Lincoln, will speak to 11 Wayne County families later this month to give them an idea what to expect from their summer visitors from Japan. Orr will talk to the group on March 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne County courtroom.

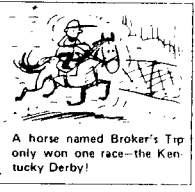

A total of 10 Japanese youths and an adult sponsor will spend three weeks in the county, living with the families in an attempt to better learn the English language. Also hosting Japanese youths in the Nebraska Japanese Exchange Program will be families in Jefferson, Saline, Howard, Polk, Platte, Dundy, Morrill, Deuel and Thomas Counties. Last year Japanese youths lived with families in Pierce, Thurston and several other counties. The youths, who range in age from 12 to 19 years, have studied English in Japan, according to county agent Don Spitz. Before coming to Wayne County to live from July 26 to Aug. 16, they will attend a three-day orientation meeting at the state 4-H camp at Halsey.

Available at the county agent's office is a tape recording designed to help the host families be able to communicate with the youths during their stay. It contains Japanese words and their English equivalents. Under the program, now in its second year, 4-H youths from Nebraska will spend three weeks living with Japanese families this summer. Complete cost to those youths is $775.

Serving as hosts will be the following families: Robert Thomsen, Wakefield; Dwayne Rethwisch, Wayne; Allen Spilliger, Wisner; Melvin Wilson, Pender; Harold Ekberg, Wayne; Frederick Termer, Wayne; Melvin Ueicht, Wayne; Wallace Anderson, Laurel; Walter Jager, Wayne; Robert D. Hansen, Wakefield; and Harold Wittler, Haskins.

Law Is Different For Antique Autos

The Nebraska director of motor vehicles John Sullivan, reminds antique vehicle owners of some of the new rules which apply to the registration and plating of their historic vehicles. Any person who is the owner of a historic or special interest vehicle which is 20 years old may make application to the Department of Motor Vehicles for a registration or transfer of title to an antique status," he noted. A fee of $15 is required for the registration of a vehicle being plated as an antique for the first time. In addition to the $10 fee for cost of issuing a distinct plate and identification for each collector on each vehicle. He also said it is required that previously registered antique vehicles must re-register by Sept. 2, 1975. Sullivan said the new law lowers qualifications for antique status from 30 to 20 years. New and re-registered antiques can be handled by mail by writing to the Department of Motor Vehicles, Box 94789, State Capitol, Lincoln 68509. Be sure to include a copy of your paid tax receipt from your county treasurer and a certified check, money order or bank draft for the amount required. Sullivan noted.

Thought for Today
By Rowan Wiltse
"Beauty is nature's can and must not be hoarded."
Milton
Generally speaking, the beauty of nature is in the public domain and is free to anyone with the sensitivity to appreciate it. However, there is another beauty: That born of a friendly smile and a warm "hello."
People may tend to "hoard" the warm friendliness and understanding that can sweep away hostility. They choose to hide their true feelings behind an outward mask ranging from cool reservation to indifference. The beauty of a friendly spirit is best not hoarded, but spent, freely in the marketplace of everyday living.

Attend Convention
Mr and Mrs. Harry Schwede left Monday for Las Vegas where Mrs. Schwede attended a national merchandise convention. They returned home Friday evening.

Society -

Dorcas Society
Dorcas Society members of Peace United Church of Christ met Thursday afternoon at the church. Guests were Mrs. Edna Puls, Norfolk, and Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, Pastor Dale Coakley led in prayer.

The hostess' favorite song, "The Light of the World is Jesus," was sung, and members answered roll call with a Bible verse. A special offering was taken for missions.

Mrs. Raymond Walker read letters from Mrs. Elisa Franz of Wisconsin and the Nebraska Children's Home in Omaha. A get well card was sent to Mrs. William Wohlteil.

Members will send a case of eggs to the Nebraska Children's Home, Omaha.

The program theme, "Eternal Paradise," was presented by Mrs. Andrew Anderson. Mrs. Andersen also accompanied the singing of "Into My Heart When We All Get to Heaven" and "Heavenly Sunlight."

Pastor Coakley read a meditation and presented a film, "Eternal Paradise."

Some Are Getting Different Checks From Government

Some aged, blind, and disabled residents in the Wayne area are receiving a new kind of check from the Social Security Administration this year. The checks are paid under the supplemental security income program that started Jan. 1. Bankers, retailers and others who cash checks as part of their normal business activity can call the Norfolk social security office if they have any questions about cashing supplemental security income checks, according to Dale Branch, office manager. The new checks are in two forms and can be easily identified, Branch said. They are gold-colored checks for recipients of supplemental security income, and green-colored checks issued as a special advance payment until monthly payments start. "The advance check is the familiar green U.S. government check, but there's one difference," Branch said. "It's made out on the face to several employees of the social security office, rather than to the recipient. We endorse it over to him on the back."

The checks are made out that way so the Treasury Department can make them available to social security offices ahead of time, he explains. Social security may give a recipient more than one advance check to make sure he gets the right amount of money. Supplemental security income is a new program for aged, blind and disabled people who have limited income and resources.

Legion Honors Member for Long Service

A 50-year continuous membership award was presented Charles Sieckman at the 55th birthday supper of the Wayne American Legion Post and Auxiliary last week. The presentation was made by post commander Loren Ellis.

Sieckman is the first local member to receive the honor since 1969, when 50 year awards were made to Paul Mines, now of Sun City, Ariz.; Henry Kugler, John T. Bressler Jr., Frank Heine and Al Swan.

The supper meeting, attended by about 30, was held at the Vets Club. Guests included Mrs. Merle Von Minden of Allen, District III Auxiliary president; and Mrs. Jule Swanson of Allen, District III secretary. Both spoke briefly. "It was announced that the district post and auxiliary meetings will be held March 31 at Dakota City.

Jeanie ON THE GO!

There's an effective, down-to-earth method of removing mud stains. Let mud dry. Brush out most of it and soak in cold water, then launder. If stain remains, use alcohol.
