Metz Is 'Ugliest,' But That Isn't Any Insult

Science and math students at Wayne State make "ugly" a pretty word every March when they designate the Ugly Professor.

This year the honor went to Dean Metz, associate professor of physics.

Members of Lambda Delta Lambda and Kappa Mu Epsilon, national honoraries in physical science and mathematics, respectively, voted Metz the outstanding teacher for 1974 in the Departments of Science and Mathematics.

Kappa Mu Epsilon also presented its annual award of Outstanding Freshman in Mathematics to David Lashier of Farragut, Ia.

The honors were part of an annual banquet program March 21. The speaker was Del Connealy, a 1969 WSC graduate who is a chemist with the Army Corps of Engineers. His brother Max is president of Kappa Mu Epsilon.

College Merger Idea Facing Senators

The state legislature is expected to decide within the next few days whether to let the people of the state vote on merging the four state colleges with the University of Nebraska system.

The legislature's Constitutional Revision and Recreation Committee Thursday advanced two measures to the floor which would change the structure of higher public education being offered in the state.

One measure is an expanded version of Senator Terry Carpenter's suggestion that Kearney State and Wayne State be merged with the university. The measure as advanced to the full legislature includes the other two state colleges, Peru and Chadron.

The other measure is a proposed constitutional amendment which would put the four state colleges under the statutory control of the legislature, which would then have the power to order a referendum to merge any of the four colleges with the university.

Attending Thursday's public hearing on the merger proposal were several people from Wayne, including four who spoke in favor of merging Wayne State with the university.

Those four were Dr. Freeman Decker, education professor at Wayne State; Sayre Anderson, English teacher at the college; Tom Carney, WS student senate president; and mayor Kent Hall.

Dr. Decker presented a resolution backing the merger which was approved recently by the local Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Hall presented a resolution passed last week by the city council supporting a merger.

The legislative committee was told during the hearing that the governing board of the four state colleges had spent on its vote on whether to support a merger.

Board president Robert Walker of Kearney said he and board members J. Alan Cramer of Wayne and George Egermeyer of Omaha support a merger while board members Ward Reesman of Falls City, James Lane of Ogallala, William Colwell of Hays Springs and state education commissioner Cecil Staley opposed it.

Walker said those opposing the proposal by the Scottsbluff lawmaker feel it came up too fast and needs more consideration before action is taken on it.

Carpenter's proposal was expanded to include the other two state colleges after some people from Peru and Chadron appeared at the hearing to back including those two colleges in any merger efforts.

The state legislature approves, either by both proposals advanced to the floor by the legislative committee will be on the November ballot.

Carpenter, in opening remarks at the hearing, said the state colleges would have more clout with the legislature as part of the university.

And in a summary at the end, Carpenter declared that if the colleges are not merged with UN, they will be "like a lost ball in all we do."

"To me, it would be more exciting to be part of the university complex," the senator said.

He gave this admonition: "We can assure nobody that they will come out of this thing (merger) with as much as they went in. I presume that your curriculum will change. But after all, what difference does that make if you're interested in education and spread education over a broad sector of our population to take care of the needs that might exist?"

Speaking more to the audience — mostly college partisans — than to the committee of five senators, Carpenter termed the merger plan "a chance to stabilize and protect your future."

Future legislatures might be more economy-minded than the present one, Carpenter said.

"Speaking for myself, where the need can be established beyond reasonable doubt, the tax rate ought to be secondary."

He declared this merger opportunity "may never come again."

After Carpenter, the first spokesman for merger was Kermit Hansen, president of the university's board of regents. Though not campaigning for merger, he said, the board unanimously favors it and considers it a major step in coordinating higher education.

Hansen touched on one concern that was to recur several times — can the colleges retain their identity? Saying he spoke only for himself since the regents had not addressed the matter, Hansen declared there is a uniqueness in each college and there is a constituency of students and parents supporting the colleges that need to be preserved.

Dr. Decker commented that some persons may fear the colleges would play second fiddle to the university, "but I would have no fear of that. While we may lose something, I think the gains would far outweigh the losses that might occur."

Decker predicted great possibilities for Wayne State to develop cooperative courses with the Northeast Experimental Station and the new Wayne hospital.

Sayre Anderson, chairman of the WSC Faculty Senate, reported results of a faculty poll on merger: 47 in favor, 3 opposed, 7 with no opinion now.

Student Senate president Tom Carney said a convocation Wednesday indicated that students as a whole favor merger if it can preserve the uniqueness of the college. He mentioned especially the curriculum and the trimester schedule.

Witnesses opposing the merger plan — most of them from the Peru and Chadron areas — generally complained that it was "moving too fast."

Rural Zoning Meeting Stated

Wayne County residents interested in learning more about what rural zoning is all about are invited to a public meeting at Winside Tuesday night at 7:30 in the city auditorium.

The meeting is being scheduled by the "county" committees to give area residents a chance to learn more about rural zoning and to give them a chance to voice an opinion about whether zoning is needed in this county.

Planning to attend the meeting is Steve Martin, director of the Mid-Elkhorh Council of Governments, an organization which Wayne County belongs to.

Carroll School Is Board Topic

Wayne-Carroll school board members will discuss results of the recent meetings at Carroll during their regular meeting tonight (Monday) at the high school.

Superintendent Francis Haun said he and the board members who attended the meetings will report to the rest of the board what Carroll residents think should be done with the elementary school at Carroll.

The board has been considering alternatives as far as the p.m., is discussion of whether to offer contracts to teachers for the 1974-75 school year.

School board members decided at their February meeting not to offer the contracts until more attempts were made at agreeing with the teachers on a salary schedule for the coming year. Little progress has reportedly been made in recent weeks on those negotiations, a topic which is likely to be discussed by the board again tonight.

Meeting in an attempt to work out a schedule agreeable to both the teachers and the board have been committees representing the board and the Wayne Education Association.

Superintendent Haun also will review the state aid to public schools bill passed last week by the state legislature over Gov. J.J. Exon's veto.

Haun said after the bill was passed that it could result in a drop of about 20 mills in the Wayne-Carroll school district by 1977 when it is fully implemented.

The bill promises a major shift in the way funds are collected to operate public schools in the state, throwing more weight on sales and income taxes and less on property tax.

Haun noted that school officials in Nebraska have been saying for many years that property tax carries too big a burden in supporting schools. The bill passed by the legislature helps correct this, he noted, but it doesn't give schools more money with which to operate.

Although there are conflicting estimates, the bill is expected to result in a hike in the sales tax from 2.5 per cent to 3.5 per cent and a hike in the state income tax from 11 per cent to 14 or 15 per cent.

Also scheduled for discussion during the meeting are school district immunization efforts, freshmen grade reports from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and summer maintenance priorities.

Boys State, Girls State Selections Made Locally

Wayne's choices to attend Boys State and Girls State in Lincoln this summer have been announced by the sponsoring organizations.

Named by the American Legion to attend, Boys State was Keith Lykke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lykke.

Named by the American Legion Auxiliary, VFW Auxiliary and the Woman's Club to attend Girls State was Kristy Jech, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jech.

Alternates selected to attend the June 8-14 event in case those two are unable to take part were Bob Keating, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Keating, and Kathy Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson.

The event is held annually to give high school students from across the state an opportunity to find out firsthand how democracy operates. Students taking part set up their organizations, electing representatives similar to the way representatives are elected by the adult population.

Kristy Jech, 16, is involved in Pep Club and German Club along with other activities at Wayne High School. The Boys State selection, Keith Lykke, 17, is in his first year at Wayne High, moving to Wayne from Malvern, Ia., with his parents recently.

All four youths named by their sponsoring groups last week, are juniors at Wayne High School.

Changes Made In the Weekly Bucks Drawing

Two changes have been made in the weekly Birthdays Bucks drawings in Wayne.

Members of the board of directors of the Wayne Retail Association, which sponsors the drawings, voted Wednesday to permit employees working on Thursday evenings to be eligible to win the drawing. Previously, employees working on the nights of the drawings were not eligible to win.

Board members also voted to make all business owners and managers ineligible for the drawings regardless of whether they belong to the Chamber. Business owners and managers who did not belong to the Chamber have been eligible to win in previous drawings.

Board members also voted to hold their annual association meeting in May rather than in February. The association will hold its first meeting this spring.

To be elected to the board in balloting by mail in the next few days will be a replacement for retiring member Dale Gushall.

A nominating committee composed of Clarence Kuhn, Gene Cornett, Al Kern and Al Wittig has nominated Larry King, Larry Turner, Joe Nuss and Neil Dinges as candidates for that three-year post. Counting of the ballots will be done in about two weeks by Ted Bahe, Gene Fredrickson and Jack Manske.

Allen Band Nears Goal

Allen High School's band collected over $100 toward its $1,800 goal to attend the Rapid City band festival during Tuesday night's concert.

About 300 attended the annual musical, titled "Spring Fling," presented by band director Miss Lorna Stamp and junior high and high school band and choir members.

Monday night the Allen band members donated $300 to the fund drive after serving the Dixon-Cedar County Farm Bureau banquet. The school needs to raise $400 more before it can attend the May 21-June 2 program. Bands from across the nation and Canada, will perform during the three-day festival in South Dakota.

Carroll Tabs Choice for Girls State

The American Legion Auxiliary and Woman's Club at Carroll have announced their choice for their representative at Girls State in Lincoln in June.

Named to attend the event was Julie Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stephens.

Alternate named in case she is unable to attend was Carol Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson.

Both are juniors at Wayne High School.

Julie, 16, is president of the MYF at the United Methodist Church in Carroll and participates in choir. Carol participates in Pep Club and band and is president of the Walther League at St. Paul's Lutheran.

Wanted: More 'Speak Out' Opinions

Results of The Wayne Herald's latest sampling of public opinion will be printed in next Monday's issue of the newspaper instead of this issue as was previously planned.

Proportioning release of the results will give more people a chance to voice an opinion about whether they think the downtown business district in Wayne needs remodeling. A disappointingly small number of readers, just short of 30, had returned their survey forms by late last week.

Persons who wish to take part in the survey or comment on whether re-vamping of the business district is necessary may do so by filling out the form on the editorial page inside this issue or by jotting down their thoughts on a piece of paper and dropping it off at the newspaper office by next Thursday.

The survey is another in a series of Speak Out questions asked readers in an attempt by the newspaper to give readers a chance to have a say in what is going on around them.

4-H Bike Club To Be Formed Tuesday Night

Wayne County youngsters interested in joining a 4-H bicycle club are invited to attend an organizational meeting at the National Guard Armory in Wayne Tuesday night at 7:30.

The club, which is open to youths who were eight through 11 years of age as of Jan. 1, will include instruction on safety, maintenance and minor repairs of bikes, according to agricultural agent Don Spitzke.

Spitzke said enrollment in the club, first to be organized in the county, will be limited to between 15 and 20 youths.

Leader for the group, which will take part in a bicycle rodeo just before the county fair, will be John Struve of Wayne.

Open House Set At Elementary

The public is invited to attend an open house at West Elementary School Tuesday, April 9, according to elementary principal Richard Mettler.

Classrooms will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. and teachers will be on hand to visit with parents and other guests. Students have decorated the rooms and will have examples of their work on display.

Cookies and coffee will be available.

There are 265 students in the elementary school this year, according to Mettler, and 13 full-time teachers. There are two second-grade classes and three classes each for kindergarten, first, third and fourth grades.

Candidates: Return Forms

Candidates in the Wayne municipal, Wayne-Carroll school board and Wayne County election races which will be decided during spring and fall balloting are reminded to return their questionnaires to the newspaper as soon as possible.

Most of the candidates have returned the forms, sent out by The Wayne Herald to gather information on the candidates; but several have not filled them out.

Information gleaned from the completed forms will be used when the elections draw near to give voters a better picture of the individual candidates.

The brochure explains the training programs, why they are needed, how they fit into the all-volunteer military concept, how the employers benefit from supporting them, what the obligations are and similar things.

Also during this week, a group of several National Guardsmen from different units in the state will be in Wayne to talk with young men about the advantages of joining the National Guard.

One of those team members will be Mike Fluett, staff sergeant in the local National Guard unit.

Hubby, who disgustingly hasn't even noticed there is a generation gap, is talking Harley Davidson to a kid across the table who looks vaguely familiar.

Oh, my gosh, could that be the kid down the street you used to babysit for? Can he be that old already? More to the point, can you be that old already?

Actually, it wasn't the kids' fault that the whole thing turned out to be such a fiasco. I mean, they really tried to make me feel like one of the bunch.

But when they caught me slipping empty plastic wine glasses into my beaded evening bag to take home to the children, I knew somehow I'd failed.

Oh, well, probably lots of people went home at 10:30

Candidates Invited To Address Members of Senior Center

Twenty five members of the Wayne Senior Citizen's Center met with social security representative George Reed Tuesday morning.

The social security representative is at the center the fourth Tuesday of each month from 9 a.m. to noon to assist center members who have questions concerning social security. Center members learned that their social security representative will assist them in filling out medicare papers if their physicians no longer provide that service. Mrs. Marci Thomas from the Wayne Hospital also offered her assistance with Medicare forms.

The Formals Blow Your Cool

There is probably nothing that can make a woman feel more obsolete than having her 36 year old husband quit his job and go back to college.

Sudden re entry into that young, exuberant atmosphere can be near fatal to a woman who has already come to terms with the fact that gray hair and the menopause are inevitable.

Now, it's not exposure to the ordinary, run of the mill college life that gets you down. Any wife can adjust to all that cramming sessions before finals. Some of the convocations are really quite neat, and it's a simple matter to forward all hubby's mail to the college library where he's taken up residence.

It's those extracurricular activities like fraternally formals, that will really blow your cool. (That's an expression we used in the good old days.)

But, back to fraternally formals, just what's a woman supposed to do when she's struggling to look composed in last year's Christmas dress? Especially when all the other 49 female guests are sporting the sagging, braless look on purpose.

Thank goodness for powder rooms. But you can, after all, only make so many trips per night before the other couples at your table begin to raise their eyebrows.

And even there, despite sniffling and sniffling.

A ruffled hemline from the booth on your left calls out to a pair of five inch platform clogs on your right. "Honestly, since Rags and Jocco got married, they've become positively slobby. Do you know they left the party last weekend before the keg was even half gone?"

Clogs' return is lost in the flush, but evokes uncontained laughter from ruffled hemline, and you slink with eyes lowered to your pointed toes, past the omniscient mirror and back to the rest of the crowd.

TV Notebook
By Larry Turner

If you're in the habit of watching the dinner-time news on TV while eating, you may as well switch to something less likely to ruin your appetite and your digestion. Surveys show that a majority of those who watch the news at that hour cannot recall a single item from the news when questioned only a few hours later.

Age, education and gender have nothing to do with this failure to remember, either it is simply that the viewer is so distracted by his dinner, by the kids, by visitors or by reading while watching that what he sees just fails to register.

Don't let this fail to register. We have a full selection of the finest TV sets and other home entertainment equipment at prices which are often lower than so-called "discount" houses. We invite you to shop and compare!

A 6-cylinder Mercury Comet 2-door sedan got 26.6 mpg.

February 19, 1974. In a 379 mile-highway test through Arizona and California, supervised by General Environmental Corporation, a Comet with standard engine and transmission delivered the kind of gas mileage you'd like to get. The car was broken in the equivalent of 6,000 miles and driven by a non-professional driver, never exceeding 50 mph.

You yourself might actually average less, or for that matter more! Because mileage varies according to maintenance, equipment, total weight, driving habits and road conditions. And no two drivers, or even cars, are exactly the same. Stop in at your Lincoln-Mercury dealer's Mileage Headquarters and see what kind of Mileage you can get.

Winside Teams Split Track Meets

Winside's girls and boys track teams split a pair of meets at home Thursday, with the boys topping Newcastle in a dual and the girls finishing second in a triangular.

The Wildcats beat Newcastle, 65-55, with a strong showing in both track and field events. The girls came in second in their triangular with Newcastle and Pender.

Gregg Lage and Dwight Lienemann were leaders in the running events, with Lage winning the 800-yard run and mile, and Lienemann capturing the 120 low hurdles and 110 high (not enough hurdles for a 100-yard run).

Although Lage's 5:14.4 in the mile wasn't his fastest, coach Carter "Cap" Peterson said the junior ran a respectable time after finishing the 800 in 2:11.9. During an invitational in Omaha Saturday, Lage ran the mile in 4:48—a half-second off the school record set by Dale Vansdall in 1970.

Second in the mile for Winside was Steve Brummels, who won the two mile in 11:14.8—about 20 seconds off his school record set last year.

Lienemann's wins in the hurdles were only part of his performance. The junior got the 800-relay team off to a strong lead before the rest of the quartet—Dave Mann, Norm Libengood, and Jeff Farran—finished the course in 1:41.8 to take first.

Both Mann and Lage were on the distance relay team in Omaha last week which had a 9:17 clocking. Also running were Larry Weible and Paul Barge.

Barge, a freshman, is coming along, Peterson pointed out. Barge finished fourth in the 440 and did a good job in the half mile.

In the field events Doug Bruggeman walked off with firsts in the discus, 119.1, and shot put, 41.67. Adding to Winside's sweep in the shot was Mike Anderson, second, and John Mangels, third.

All told, the Wildcats scored 24 points in field events, 41 in track.

The story was the opposite for the Wildcats. Their strongest showing was in the field events where they picked up with 28 points. The final score read: Pender 56, Winside 33, Newcastle 17.

State qualifier Jill Stenwall, a sophomore, grabbed first in the shot with a school record of 40.2, and won the discus. Her effort in the shot was about four feet farther than her 1973 record.

Placing second for Winside was Barb Longnecker.

In the discus Stenwall won with a toss of 93.2'. Completing the Winside sweep were Longnecker and Barb Ritze.

Gail Grone finished the high jump with a 4.6 mark to complete Winside's first-place winners. Also scoring in the field events was Joni Langenberg, second in the long jump.

Winside's only points in the LeNELL ZOFFKA, Winside, gives it everything she's got to toss the discus during the Winside triangular Thursday.

track events came in the 440 relay where the four-girl team of Langenberg, Sheryl Petersen, Teri Kleinsang and Jan Trautwein came in second.

"I was disappointed in our running," coach Jim Winch said, adding that his top runners Patty Mann was hurt and Lori Jenkins was sick.

Pender's Nancy Johnson hurt both Winside and Newcastle's chances of trying to close the point gap. The Pender girl, who owns the district record in the 800 with a 2:28.3 time, nalled first in the 440 and 880 as well as helping the 440 and 880-yard relay teams to victories.

Today (Monday) both Winside teams will be in action again. The boys travel to the Stanton triangular. The girls host Hartington.

Overtimes Decide Games

It took two overtimes in two games to decide the winners in sixth and seventh grade city recreation basketball last week.

Jeff Dion pumped in 20 points to lead Team 1 past Team 4, 53-47, in the first of two overtime matches. Danny Mitchell was high for the losers with 18 points.

The score was tied at 34-all before each club tied the game once again at 43-43 at the end of the first overtime. However, Team 1 rallied with a 10-point spree while Team 4 only mustered four points.

In the second overtime match, Team 2 nipped Team 3, 40-39, after the teams tied at 35 at the end of regulation play. Balanced scoring by Dave Hamm with 14 and Duane Smith with 12 helped the club post its second win against one loss. High point players for Team 3 were Loren Murray with 17 and Stuart Nissen with 12.

In the standings, Teams 2 and 3 are tied for first with 21 marks while Teams 1 and 4 are tied for third with 1 and 2 records.

Others scoring:
 Team 1—Jay Stollenberg 12, Jerry Goeden 12, Johnson 4, David Dosscher 2, Scott Kudrna 1.
 Team 4—Tim Maier 13, Terry Biggerstaff 6, Robbie Johar 5, Steve Sorenson 5.
 Team 2—Bob Bornhoff 6, Tim Thomas 4, Jeff Sperry 4, Team 3—Robin Turner 4, Mark McCright 2, Scott Wessel 2, Doug Rose 2.

Devils' Chances Appear Strong To Snap Several School Marks

Wayne High's track team may not be boasting its largest squad ever, but it does have possibly the best potential to break school records in a long time.

Twenty-seven students are out for this year's team, paced by what coach Al Hansen believes are three of the best area trackmen.

Senior Lane Ostendorf and juniors Dick Chapman and Gordon Emry are expected to lead the Blue Devils both in the field and track events.

Emry should be strong in the hurdles after competing in last year's state meet in that event, and Hansen figures the junior to be strong in the long jump and triple jump. Ostendorf, labeled as the middle distance runner, will run in the 800 as well as the two-mile relay team. Add Chapman to the sprints and some relays and that, somewhat tells the story of the leadership possibilities.

However, coach Hansen is not overlooking some of his other top prospects that can fashion new records in the 800, two-mile, discus, 880 relay and mile relay.

Junior Rod Hoops is picked to be the leader in the discus, with seniors Chuck Brockman and Mike Dunkula and junior Marty Hansen giving him enough competition.

Brockman and Dunkula also will carry the load in the shot put.

The preliminary sketch of the 880 relay team—Chapman, Hansen, Hoops, Mark Brandt—appears to have a shot at the 1:35.5 record set in 1956. Also having a shot at a relay record is the mile crew of David Lessmann, Jim Brasch, Jack Froehlich and Ken Baier. The record they would have to break is 3:36.4 set in 1965.

The record in the two-mile run, set by Mark Smith last year with a 11:45.2 time, could also be in jeopardy. Mark Powers and Mark Poehlman will be aiming to crack it.

Besides Ostendorf trying to erase the 2:03.8 time in the 880, others giving it a try will be Pat Dorcey, Brockman and Jerry Sievers.

Wayne's first meet is today (Monday) in a triangular at Randolph. Other meets:

April 5—at Wakefield invitational; 9—at Stanton invitational; 16—at Stanton invitational; 22—at Randolph triangular; 28—at Wisner triangular; May 3—at Stanton invitational; 7—at Stanton triangular; 11—at Husker Conference at Wisner.

Tullberg, only a freshman, took first in the 50, 100, and 200 yard dashes and Keagle, a senior, finished first in the 400 yard dash and high jump.

Wakefield had eight first-place finishers, six seconds and four thirds.

Tuesday Wakefield will host Pender in a dual meet.

Coeds Rip Concordia

Women's softball at Wayne State made a notable 1974 entry Thursday as the Wildkittens whipped Concordia, 11-0, on the Wayne diamond.

Mary Gerken picked up where she left off last year as the team's No. 1 pitcher and a potent batter — she pitched a one-hitter, struck out 13, and blasted a home run.

Cheryl Finn also homered.

Wayne coeds were scheduled to play a doubleheader here with Kearney State Saturday afternoon.

The letters and interviews tie in with a nationwide program to ensure support of the employers and those employees who participate in the Guard and Reserve. The week has been designated Employer Support Week by Deputy Secretary of Defense William Clements Jr. Aim of the effort is to increase membership in the military programs. National Guard enrollment in Nebraska has fallen in recent years, and the local unit now has only 76 per cent of its authorized strength. National Guard units in Nebraska, including the one in Wayne, have been notified that they will have to be near 100 per cent of the authorized strength if they wish to stay open. Those which are considerably below their authorized level may be closed, officials have said.

VA Q & A

Q. I am due to get my degree next January but my GI Bill entitlement expires next November. Will the Veterans Administration discontinue my payments after November?

A. No. Since your entitlement expires after the semester has begun, VA will continue payments until the end of the semester.

Q. I plan to move next month. What should I do to make sure I get my Veterans Administration check at my new address?

A. You should notify the VA regional office where your records are filed, giving your claim number and your old and new address. You also should notify your post office, but not the Treasury Department.

Q. The Veterans Administration turned down my disability claim and I would like to contest the decision. How do I go about doing this?

A. Within one year you should file a notice of disagreement with your state VA regional office which will review the claim and provide a statement of facts. If still not satisfied with the decision, you may appeal it to the VA Board of Appeals in Washington. You may appear in person, or have someone or an organization represent you.

Dirt-capped drifts of snow

THIS IS WHAT the speaker at the recent Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District banquet in Wayne was talking about—soil erosion. Wind recently scraped large quantities of top soil off a field on the east edge of Wayne, dumping the valuable soil in a snow filled ditch next to the field. Proper care of the field would probably have cut down the amount of the erosion considerably. One of the speakers at that banquet a couple weeks ago, NRD manager Steve Oltmans of Norfolk, said farmers and others can't go on ruining the soil as they have been in years past. The soil has to be passed on to future generations in a productive condition or we will have difficulty in producing enough food. Once the soil is ruined through poor farming practices and the like, it's ruined for good. There's little that can be done to return it to its former natural productivity.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

SCHOOL BOARD members at West Point have purchased about 15 acres of land northeast of the new school for future development purposes. Cost of the plot of land was $19,600.

The land is to be used for development of the athletic field, a parking lot and other needs of the new school.

A BEATRICE FIRM turned in low base bid of $314,265 for constructing the new 12,000 square foot addition to the Madison elementary school at a bid opening recently.

The board took no action on the nine bids submitted. The bids went as high as the $400,553 base bid turned in by a Schuyler firm.

Including alternates, the Beatrice firm was also low bidder with a bid of $334,485. Voters in the school district recently approved issuing $350,000 in bonds to pay for the addition.

PLANS FOR re-routing Highway 275 around Neligh have been reconsidered by the Department of Roads following a visit by a delegation from that community and receipt of a petition containing signatures of about 300 persons. The Neligh city council also passed a resolution against changing the highway.

A highway department official said a new bridge across the Elkhorn River will now likely be built somewhere near the present bridge. Plans being considered would have rerouted the highway to connect with Highway 14 south of Neligh.

ROBERT MAHER JR., a junior at Emerson-Hubbard High School, has been named by the American Legion Post at Thurston to attend the annual Cornhusker Boys State at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in June. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maher.

JAMES WELSH has resigned from the village board at Pender. He gave up his job in order to file for Thurston County supervisor. A new member to the board will be named during the board's next regular meeting early this month.

CUMING COUNTY schools received more than $73,000 in state aid last week, some $18,000 more than was distributed last year. The school district at West Point received the biggest chunk of the latest payment, $26,451. Wisner-Pilger received $7,217, Beemer received $4,833 and Bancroft received $4,379.

STEVE RUNTY'S basketball all stars defeated Steve Becker's team at Hartington a couple weeks ago, 101-78. The benefit game netted more than $1,000 for the Cedar Catholic Athletic department. Sponsoring the game was the Greater Trojan Association.

HARTINGTON VOTERS will go to the polls Tuesday to elect a mayor and two councilmen. Unopposed in the mayor's race is incumbent Maurice Kniffel. Jim Neu is unopposed in his bid for another term on the board, but incumbent Don Becker is being challenged by Bill Yates.

'Good remarks'

Dear Editor:
Your remarks in The Wayne Herald (A Closer Look, March 25) about the proposed merger of the university and Wayne State College are perceptive and laudable. Anyone favoring this merger is terribly shortsighted. In 10 years there would be no WSC — or any Wayne, either. I can give you more details on request to back your position, e.g., what happened in North Dakota.
Dr. T. H. Stevenson

'I'm serious in mayor's race'

Dear Editor:
Thank you for your complimentary editorial and for understanding the purpose of my preliminary campaign activities.

The purpose of my campaign is to explore with the citizens what some issues facing the community are and to seek solutions. These are what we will be working on together. I will be a high school graduate when elected mayor and will have considerable time to devote to civic affairs.

Hopefully, my campaign will convince the community of my serious intent, my ability to learn fast and my dedication to service. People who know me know that I am serious and that I do not stop short of a completed task. It was never my intention to run for this office as a lark; nor do I seek any benefit from campaigning or serving. I believe that I can be a good mayor.

The backbone of my campaign is talking with other concerned citizens so that we can know one another and work together.

I would like to encourage people to write to me, contributing their ideas and suggestions. I will be most happy to answer all their letters.

Samuel B. Hepburn, candidate for mayor of Wayne

OBSERVATIONS

Is rural zoning needed?

If county wide zoning is adopted in Wayne County, there are few residents which would not be affected by it either directly or indirectly.

Zoning regulations would likely come into play when a farmer feeder decided to build a new feedlot down the road. They would likely come into play when a housing developed decided to go outside one of the communities in the county to start a housing development. Regulations which would be adopted under a rural zoning plan similar to those adopted elsewhere in the state would have to be followed in instances such as those and in many more instances.

We are not sure if rural zoning is necessary in Wayne County. It's expensive to adopt, expensive and bothersome to keep updated, and it occasionally makes some people angry at those instrumental in putting it into effect.

However, there are some good points to it. By zoning of the rural land in the country, problems which are likely to develop over the coming years may be avoided. How the land throughout the county can be used is spelled out for all to see, regulations are set, guidelines adopted.

All the residents in the county are the ones who should decide whether rural zoning is needed, and they are being given a chance to make their thoughts known Tuesday night during a public meeting at Winside. The meeting is scheduled for 7-30 in the city auditorium. If you are interested in rural zoning, it would be a good idea to take in the meeting to learn more about the subject and to make your thoughts known to the county commissioners. They will have the final say on whether to go ahead with rural zoning.

YES, I think changes need to be made in the downtown business district to make it a more attractive, appealing part of our community.

NO, I don't think any changes are needed in our downtown business area. The shopping district looks fine like it is.

COMMENTS:

A closer look. . .

By Norvin Hansen

SID COX, one of the officers in the corporation which will be building the new industry on the east edge of Wayne, said he was really surprised at the news coverage given last Tuesday night's city council meeting.

He said he has attended many meetings of the Norfolk city council but has never seen them covered to the extent the Wayne council was covered last week.

Impressing him were the television cameras operated by the Wayne State College students for their live cable television coverage of the meeting and the reporters present from the local radio station and newspaper.

Come to think of it, I'll bet that coverage does impress somebody from outside the community who isn't familiar with the way council meetings are covered. I would bet there's not another city council in the state—regardless of the size of the community—which is covered regularly by the press, radio and television.

What that means is that local citizens should be among the best informed in the state about what's going on as far as city government is concerned. Residents can watch the council meeting live on TV, listen to a brief rundown on the radio the next day or read a detailed report in the next issue of the newspaper. Combine that coverage with editorials and personal column commentary in the newspaper and you end up with possibly the best coverage of local government in the state.

All that coverage probably has given a few councilmen and the mayor some headaches, but it is resulting in a lot more people knowing about what's going on locally. And that's what our kind of society is all about.

approximate 500-mile radius of the community. That's about twice as large a market area as now being served by production at the Emphastis plant in Fremont, according to Cox.

They also are optimistic about the continued success of fiberglass bathroom fixtures. Here's what they say in a picture-filled brochure explaining how their units are produced. "In 1966 two to five per cent of the total units being installed were of fiberglass construction. Today this percentage has increased to nearly 50 per cent. Fiberglass has a future and Emphastis is here."

Fiberglass tubs and showers are seamless, scrubbable, lightweight and molded together all in one piece, officials emphasize in their brochure. Cast iron is durable but heavy, hard to handle and irreplaceable when chipped. Steel is lighter but chips, dents and scratches easily. Both of those materials are costly to ship and use in production and installation. They result in hard water sediment stains and damage when water leaks into installation seams. Fiberglass is a better product, officials say.

IT'S QUITE a feather in Wayne's hat to land this industry, and a lot of local people who backed the corporation with money and hard work deserve some compliments. The list is too long or I would give each one some credit.

Cox said he was very pleased with the cooperation received from the city council when company officials were trying to locate the plant here. He said a lot of people have criticized local officials for what they think is lack of interest in attracting industry. That's just not true, he said, and the council, mayor and a lot of others deserve credit for trying to attract industry to the community.

THAT'S THE KIND of guy I like, one who gallops into downtown Lincoln on his horse to file for county commissioner, promising to "put some fun into politics" and abolish the office he's running for.

Dave Hibler, assistant English professor at UN-L, used that novel approach when he filed for office a few days back. He rode the horse to show the changed direction his campaign will take. "A return to fundamental and basic values," he said. "A return to common sense, horse sense."

Just wonder if he wasn't taken up a bit too much when he was reading and teaching about Don Quixote. A windmill's a windmill, whether it's in Lincoln or some other place.

HOPE THE Wayne State Foundation's open letter to the public in Tuesday's issue of the newspaper results in some donations flowing into the organization. The foundation, which exists to promote the college, has a budget of $20,000 this year—nearly $14,000 of which is earmarked for scholarships. Also budgeted is about $2,000 for recruitment, $1,000 for public relations and $800 for on-campus institutes.

Foundation officials think a lot more people ought to be donating to keep the scholarships and the like alive because of the great importance the college plays in the economy of the Wayne area.

If you haven't donated to the foundation, talk to some of the members and find out what it's doing. It'll probably convince you that your donation couldn't go to a much worthier cause.

SALLY McCLUSKEY, former student and teacher at Wayne State College, is hunting for information on "Professor" R (possibly Rukon) Durin, tombstone maker and sculptor who lived in Wayne in the early part of the century.

Persons with information about the "Professor" or with books by John Neihardt they may wish to sell should write to her in care of the English Department at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

SHORT STUFF: John Brandstetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Brandstetter, Wayne, is one of 23 featured soloists among 135 UN-L musicians completing a tour of the state from border to border. Been performing musical salutes to Nebraska author Willa Cather in this centennial year of her birth. Appeared at Sidney, McCook, Scottsbluff, Hastings and Omaha, finish up today (Monday) and Tuesday with performances at Lincoln. Danny Koester of rural Allen is nearing the end of his stay in Seattle following a bone marrow transplant on Jan. 14. Has to stay there for 100 days after the operation to make sure he has built up sufficient immunity. Area residents have raised more than $14,000 to help pay the family's huge medical bills, which have been piling up during the eighth grader's fight against a rare blood disease. Bills are expected to be around $25,000. Young Kirk Echtenkamp, third-place winner in the recent Wayne County spelling bee, is a student of Mrs. Winton Wallin in district 15. We incorrectly reported he attends district five.

could you be an... April Fool?

Frankly, this quiz is designed to "April Fool" you. The statements that follow seem simple to answer, but watch your step and look out for cracks in the sidewalk. If you get even half the statements right, you can be sure of being nobody's fool. But, let's see how true—or false?

1. The earth is closer to the sun in July than in December.
2. The "funnybone" is a tiny bone in the hinge of the elbow.
3. Florida is the most southerly state in the United States.
4. The square root of any number is always smaller than the number itself.
5. No matter what the temperature always will read differently on Fahrenheit and Centigrade thermometers.
6. A quart of wet wheat weighs more than a quart of dry wheat.
7. Gold fish always have a yellow or orange color.
8. If a plant, doubling its height every day, reaches half-way up a fence in one week, it will come to the top of the fence in two weeks.
9. West Penn's power generating capacity has doubled in the last 10 years!
10. If one person faces north and another faces south, they cannot see one another.

Answers

- Sorry, if you've been April fooled, but not a single one of these statements is correct. Each is false because:
1. The earth is millions of miles closer to the sun in December than in July. Summer or winter is determined by which hemisphere is leaning toward the sun, and which away from it.
 2. The funny bone is not a bone at all, it's the ulnar nerve.
 3. The most southerly state is Hawaii.
 4. The square root of a fraction is larger. For instance, the square root of one-ninth is one-third.
 5. No matter what the temperature, the reading will be exactly the same on both Centigrade or Fahrenheit thermometers.
 6. Since water will make the wheat swell, so that the grains will be larger and it will take fewer of them to fill a quart, the wet wheat will weigh less.
 7. Goldfish will lose all color and turn white if kept in a darkened room.
 8. If the plant doubles in height daily, it will reach the top of the fence on the eighth day.
 9. West Penn's power generating capacity has more than doubled in 10 years. Net dependable capacity total in December 1963 was 1292MW—December 1972, 2692.1 MW.
 10. A person facing north and a person facing south can be looking directly at one another.
