Wayne to Get WSC Intern

A Wayne State College student, Terry Bailey, will serve as an intern with the city of Wayne for the next seven weeks to learn more about public administration.

Bailey, 25, will graduate from WS in August with a public service degree.

He and two other students working toward the same degree will intern in Nebraska communities, the second year in a row for the government service intern program.

Bailey, whose wife Makay Jo will graduate next spring with a teaching degree in music, said he will probably work a full 40-hour week with city employees to learn more about how city government operates.

A native of Peterson, Ia., Bailey was approved for the internship when the council Tuesday afternoon agreed to cooperate in the venture. The city, college and federal government will pay his wages.

WH Graduate To Intern at Chicago Today

Jane Owens will intern this summer at Chicago. Today, afternoon edition of the Chicago Tribune.

One of 47 interns selected nationally by the Newspaper Fund, Miss Owens will work as a copy editor in Chicago.

Her intern award also includes a three-week editing course at the University of Nevada in Reno and a $700 scholarship.

Miss Owens is a junior at the University of Nebraska Lincoln majoring in journalism. Currently news editor of the campus newspaper the Daily Nebraskan. She was one of several UNL students initiated last weekend into Kappa Tau Alpha, journalism honorary.

TERRY BAILEY

told the council he expects to have Bailey working on gathering information for the city's budget during the coming weeks.

Mayor Kent Hall told the council during discussion of approving an intern for the city that he likes the program because "not only is the college providing a service to the city, but the city is providing a service to the college."

The council's meeting Tuesday was a special session called to handle two applications for liquor licenses.

Baking Contest Slated for Fair

The Wayne County March of Dimes will hold its second annual all male cake baking contest during the county fair in August, said MOD county chair man Rowan Wilfse of Wayne.

Last year the cake bake was held in March.

Ted Bahe is this year's chairman of the contest, Wilfse said. Persons interested in entering may contact Bahe at the State National Bank and Trust Co. anytime before Aug. 1.

Both applications were approved and forwarded to the state liquor commission with a recommendation they be issued. Seeking one of the licenses was Doug Finn of Wayne who will operate the "liquor store" at Seventh and Main along with Dennis McGonigal of Omaha.

Ken Daht of Wayne was partner in the business previously. Seeking the other license was Richard Korn, who operates the Nu Tavern. He previously operated the business with his brother.

In other action, the council approved

Brink's obtaining estimates on the cost of painting the canopy at the city auditorium.

Paying policemen time and one-half after 40 hours to keep them equal with other city employees who will begin receiving time and one-half on

May 1. Police would have started receiving time and one-half for overtime on Jan. 1 had not the council speeded up the overtime pay, according to the city administrator.

Hiking the price for season tickets at the municipal swimming pool to $7.50 from $6 for individuals and to $20 from $15 for families. Membership includes the right to participate in the free swimming lessons offered each summer.

Accepting the proposal by Jim Thomas to pay $1,500 as his share of the cost of providing sewer lines to the motel he and others are building on the east edge of the community. Thomas, a councilman, told the council any charge higher than that would not be fair to him.

Herald Wins 4 Major Awards in Contests

The Wayne Herald won more first place awards than any other newspaper, either daily or weekly, during last week's annual Nebraska Press Association annual convention in Omaha.

The newspaper won first places for general excellence, best front page and best person column in the association's Better Newspapers Contests. The newspaper also won second place for best advertising idea.

In addition, the Herald won Ak Sar Ben's coveted award for outstanding service to the community by a non daily news paper. The award was for the paper's news, photographs, and editorial coverage throughout the year on the fuel shortages at the city's electrical generating plant and efforts to conserve energy by local businessmen and private citizens.

With Ak Sar Ben's award goes a check for $200 which the newspaper is to donate for community improvement.

The Herald competed with other weekly newspapers of 2,000 or more circulation in winning the three first place and one second place awards in the association's contests. News papers are not broken down into classes based on circulation in the competition for the Ak Sar Ben award for outstanding community service.

The last time the newspaper won the community service award was in 1965 when the newspaper explained the issues in the drive to pass a bond issue to build a new high school.

"Winning the general excellence contest was especially pleasing," said editor Norvin Hansen, "because it means the Missouri newspapermen who judged the contest thought we were doing the best job week after week." The Missouri judges considered a variety of things in judging that class, including quality of photographic reproduction, layout of news and advertising, mechanical excellence, news coverage, use of pictures and the like.

"It also was pleasing to win the Ak Sar Ben award because it means the paper lived up to its responsibility of keeping the public informed on one of the major issues affecting them during 1973," he added.

The shortages at the municipal generating plant resulted in a crew from NBC TV coming to Wayne to film a brief news story on the community's energy problems for a nationally televised evening news program.

All weekly newspapers in the state were automatically entered in the contest to determine which ones are giving their readers the best looking front page. The association picked three publishing dates at random and entered newspapers See AWARDS, page 8.

Chinese chefs have a very special way with pork. They cut it into cubes, coat it with corn starch and broy it in hot corn oil. Prepared this way, pork has a crisp batter coated goodness.

In Sweet and Sour Pineapple Pork, the meat is served in a clear, delicately thickened sauce, pineapple chunks and juice add flavor and the dish is given color accent by the addition of tomato and bits of crisp green pickles.

Sweet and Sour Pineapple Pork

- 1 pound boneless pork, cut into 1-inch cubes
- Corn starch
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 1 cup pineapple chunks
- 3/4 cup pineapple juice
- 1/2 cup cut up sweet pickle
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon corn starch
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1 medium tomato, cut into chunks

Coat pork with corn starch. Heat corn oil in skillet over medium heat. Add meat; saute until browned and tender, about 15 minutes. Add pineapple, pineapple juice, pickle, soy sauce and salt. Paul's Clutch Pitching Halts Eagles Clutch pitching by Wakefield's Bruce Paul overshadowed Tim Hill's home run for Allen Tuesday as Wakefield gave the Eagles their first loss, 3-2.

Paul turned back Allen's chances of going ahead in both the fourth and fifth frames when the home team had the bases loaded. Good pitching and strong fielding eliminated Allen's hopes of picking up its fourth win in as many starts.

In the fourth, Paul walked shortstop Scott VonMinden before right fielder Don Kliver singled to put runners at first and second. VonMinden tried to make it home on center fielder Darwin Rubbeck's single but Wakefield catcher Keith Siebrandt tagged the Allen runner.

Gal Keglars To Honor Top Bowlers

The top individual game and series will be among the awards presented to women bowlers Wednesday night, May 1, at the annual Wayne Women's Bowling Association banquet at Laurel.

Tickets are still on sale for the 6:30 p.m. dinner at $3.50 each, said association secretary-treasurer Vicky Skokan, but deadline for buying tickets is Friday.

Those interested in attending the dinner should contact Doris Daniels, Skokan said.

Besides the high game and series awards, the association will present trophies to women keglers who rolled a 250 or better during the season. So far there are two receiving the awards: Adeline Kienast for a 257 and Sally Schroeder for a 267.

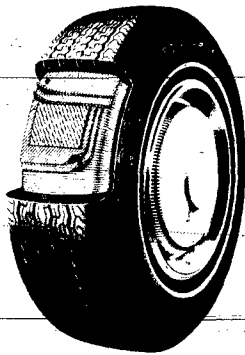

In addition to other awards presented by various leagues, the association will elect officers for the 1974-75 season. Present officers include president G. I. Willoughby, vice president Sally Schroeder, secretary-treasurer and sergeant-at-arms Joan Lackas.

Tickets Still Selling

Persons interested in attending the annual Winside High School athletic banquet have only two days to get tickets from the school's pep club members.

Wayne State football coach Del Stollenberg will be the guest speaker for the 6:30 p.m. Saturday dinner. Also included in the program will be presentation of the outstanding athlete of the year award plus letters and pins to those who lettered in girls and boys sports.

at home. Then Allen's third baseman Loren Book walked to fill the sacks before first baseman Randy Lanser fled out.

Allen's second bases-loaded situation came in the fifth when the Eagles tied the match at 2-2.

Pitcher Roger Anderson walked before advancing on second baseman Tim Hill's single.

Anderson then came home on left fielder Paul Snyder's single before Hill was forced out at third on a fielder's choice by VonMinden. Kliver then walked to load the bases, but Paul struck out Rubbeck to retire the side.

Paul, 1-1, fanned six batters while walking another six. But, as Allen coach Bob Moore said, "It was Paul's clutch pitching that beat us."

Wakefield started out with the game with a 1-0 lead when Sie-brandt doubled and came home on Doug Soderberg's first of two run-scoring singles.

In the bottom half of the second Hill put the Eagles in the game with a booming hit over the left field wall for a 1-1 game. The tie was short-lived as Wakefield struck back with two runs in top of the fifth.

Wayne Blasts Bancroft, 9-1; Face Eagles Today at Home

Prior to Monday's game at Bancroft, Wayne High senior Bill Schwartz had a respectable batting average somewhere in the .460 range. For most high school players that's pretty good but for Schwartz it's not good enough.

The first baseman catcher needs to boost his average if he's going to capture the batting crown now owned by sophomore Paul Mallette with a .588 mark. And after the Bancroft game, the outlook for Schwartz appears brighter, with his average now at .526.

Schwartz unloaded a home run, triple and double to help the Blue Devils smash a strong Bulldog club, 9-1.

The veteran smacked his round tripper in the third to pick up two of his three runs batted in when he drove in Mallette. Mallette, took first on a single which scored pitcher Earle Overin.

Wayne continued scoring in the fourth on a triple by Dave Nuss, doubles by Gordie Cook

Trojan Golfers Down Pender

Wakefield golfers toppled Pender Friday afternoon in a dual at Wayne.

The Trojan four-man team of Alan Johnson, Kerry Bressler, John Polen and Bennett Salmon shot a 198 to Pender's 208.

Johnson led the quartet with a 45 while Bressler and Polen had 49 each and Salmon fired a 54. Wednesday afternoon Wakefield was slated to meet Wisner Pilger at Beemer before playing at Hartington High in a dual Friday.

er Anderson walked first baseman Dan Byers and Paul Singles by second baseman Tim Rouse and Soderberg made the score 3-1.

The Eagles staged a rally in the bottom of the seventh with two out and runners on first and second when right fielder Don Kliver rapped a fly to center. But the rally fell short as Munter grabbed the ball for the third out.

Wakefield, 2-2, will host Homer Friday at 3:30 p.m. while Allen travels to Wapato today (Thursday) for a 1 p.m. rematch with the Blue Devils.

Carhart Bags 2nd Turkey

History almost repeated itself for young Bill Carhart of Wayne. The 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Carhart, he bagged a 19 pound turkey Saturday at Fort Robinson - near the same spot he got his first gobbler last year.

Shortly after the spring season opened Saturday morning Bill, using a 20 gauge shotgun, nabbed the turkey about a half mile from where he got his 14 pounder last year.

According to his father, the bird had an eight-inch beard.

Athlete Of The Week

Bill Schwartz, Wayne High School

Consistency and hard work can best describe this week's "Athlete of the Week," both behind and at the plate.

Wayne High senior Bill Schwartz, this week's recipient, has shown consistency as a catcher and top performance as a hitter.

His batting average went over the .500 mark this week after slugging his first homer of the year. But he didn't stop there, adding a double and triple to boost his average from .467 a week ago to .526.

Although the triple and homer were the first of the year for him, the double was his fifth — tops for his team. Schwartz shares the catcher's position with Mike Meyer, both of whom have teamed up with Wayne hurlers to help build Wayne's present 5.1 mark.

Besides baseball, Schwartz also has played on the football and basketball teams during his high school years.

Off the field, Bill is an honor roll student. Son of Mrs. Dillah Schwartz of Wayne, he made the third quarter B honor roll this year.

Juniors Take Playoff Title

The juniors pounded the seniors to win the playoff championships of the city recreation basketball league, 98-70, Monday night.

Earle Overin and Jack Froehlich ripped the nets for 23 and 20 points respectively to rap up the win. Mike Meyer contributed 19.

The sophomores captured third place in the four-team league with a convincing 80-55 win over the recreation squad.

Monte Lowe poured in 24 points to lead the winners.

Other scoring: Juniors—Rob Mitchell 14, Bob Keating 12, Dave Nuss 10;

Seniors—Kim Baker 25, Bill Schwartz 17, Randy Workman

Wildcats Take 2 Games From Nebraska Wesleyan

Wayne State bounced off a double loss to Morningside Monday to beat Nebraska Wesleyan twice here Tuesday.

The Wildcats accomplished the opening win with an easy 8-1 decision, but they needed a three-hit, two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh to salvage a 2-1 victory.

That uprisal came on a single by Don Hasenkamp of Scribner, a triple by Dean Ott of Hooper and a single by Jim Wetzel of Grand Island. Wildcat bats had managed only one hit before the seventh.

Coach Larry Schultz credited Wayne defense with both wins as the Plainsmen outlived the Wildcats in both games. Starter Scott Sager of Wahoo scattered nine Wesleyan hits in a fullgame game stint. Jim Mergen, junior from Esterville, Ia., playing his first season at Wayne, and making his first start, also went the route, yielding eight hits.

Wayne will take a 12-6 record to Midland for a doubleheader Wednesday, then returns home for a twin clash with Yorkton Friday. Wesleyan, now 17-8, also has four pairs of games this week.

Morningside accomplished what no other team has managed this year — beat Wayne State twice. Playing on a small field in Sioux City, the Chiefs outslugged the Cats with eight home runs in the two games while Wayne tallied three homers.

Wayne remains winless in four meets before a Wednesday home clash with Concordia.

Results: Singles — Vince Emery, Wayne, defeated Lief Neve, 6-1, 6-0. Bob Boettcher, Dana, defeated Rick Noyes, 6-4, 6-2. Tim Johnson, Dana, defeated Dan Rose, 6-0, 6-3. Tom Bock, Dana, defeated Doug Poehlman, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4. Jeff Luce, Dana, defeated Terry McMillen, 6-1, 6-2. Julie Spencer, Wayne, defeated Tom Walker, 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles — Vince Emery-Rick Noyes, Wayne, defeated Jeff Luce, Lief Neve, 6-3, 6-1. Julie Spencer-Terry McMillen, Wayne, defeated Tom Walker, Bob Boettcher, 7-6, 7-6, 6-3. Tim Johnson Tom Bock, Dana, defeated Dan Rose-Doug Poehlman, 7-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Jack Froehlich and Dave Lessman ran the distance in 3.45 for second and the two-mile relay squad of Oslendorf, Brasch, Don Nelson and Pat Dorcay took third with a 9:00.3 time.

Although Wayne's Tom Maier didn't place in the two-mile, he did set a "hot" record. Maier eclipsed the old mark of 11:45.2 held by Mark Smith last year by almost a second.

In the Class C ranks, Winside was eighth with 12 points and Wakefield finished 16th with seven.

Mike Anderson also placed for the Winside team. He took fourth in the discus with a 122.0 performance.

The discus event seemed to be the strong event for all three schools, in addition to Winside and Wayne's placing. Wakefield garnered fifth behind the 120.9 showing by Don Lindstrom.

Two of the area teams will be back in action Friday. Wayne travels to Randolph while Winside goes to the West Point invitational. Saturday Wakefield heads to the Norfolk invitational.

Wayne's varsity will be back in action Saturday when the Blue Devils travel to the Albion invitational. Monday the locals go to Norfolk for a match with Norfolk Catholic's varsity and B teams.

Sportsbeat

By Bob Bartlett

WAYNE'S TOWN TEAM is not going to exist forever on just the donations from local businesses and a few faithful followers. It's going to take the support of the majority of Wayne citizens and area people to make the club a good one.

I don't mean for a bunch of Wayne people to jump out of their chairs and try out for the baseball club. That's ridiculous. But it would help if a few would give the team a little support by attending games.

In the past it generally has been the local businesses donating the majority of funds to keep the program alive. In recent years the cost has risen from $1,500 to an expected $2,000 this year.

Who's going to foot the bill again this year? It would help if more people would attend home games.

It'd be willing to bet the majority of the Northeast Nebraska Baseball League members have more followers at away games than the locals have at their own home meets.

Some have said the reason for the poor attendance is the team. Some claim that Wayne doesn't have the players to be a winner — namely pitchers. But to have a good pitching staff you've got to have the money to pay pitchers. It all boils down to one point: If you want a good team you have to pay for it. That means supporting your team, both through donations and, especially, through team support.

FOR THE first time in Wayne High's history, a member of the football team is on the Shrine Bowl roster.

Congratulations to Mike Dunklau, named to the North squad as an interior lineman. The 6-2, 205-pounder is the only player of the five area schools to have a chance to play in the annual North-South Shrine Game in August.

In checking over the record books, the Husker All Conference player is not the only one to be invited, though. Two years ago another Blue Devil standout, Mike Ginn, was asked to play. Ginn turned down the invitation.

There's only one other Northeast Nebraska player trying out for an interior spot. He's Roger Wacholtz of Plainview. There are three other NEN players included on the roster: Tom Ridder, West Point Central Catholic; Jim Pille, Columbus Lakeview; Rick Benish, Norfolk.

IT'S OFFICIAL. Winside will have an American Legion team entered in the Ralph Bishop League this summer. This is the first time in about three years the area town has fielded a Legion team.

After talking with Winside coach Wayne Dunklau and Wayne coach Hank Overin, verified Winside will have a junior team, but at the cost of a Midget club. Dunklau said there are not enough Midget players to form a club.

As it stands now, League will have six Legion teams instead of the usual five of Wayne, Wakefield, Laurel, Winsider and Pender. The Midgets will drop from eight to seven. Bancroft and Walthill-Lyons also will field Midget teams.

League action starts June 3.

Area School Records Erased

All four area high school track teams — Wayne, Laurel, Wakefield and Winside — had winners and broke school records in the Plainview invitational track meet Monday.

Winside junior Gregg Lage snapped his mile mark of 4:43 with a 4:39.8 clocking to take first. Wayne's Gordon Emry won the triple jump with an effort of 38.8. Wakefield's 880-yard relay team dashed to first in 1:37, breaking the old meet record of 1:37.4 which the Trojans set last year, and Laurel's two-mile relay team took first with an 8:57.2 time.

In the B division of the Class B and C meet, Wayne had 20 points to finish seventh. The Blue Devils got seconds in the discus and mile relay, and a third in the two-mile relay.

Rod Hoops broke the school record in the discus with a heave of 137.9 to topple Ed Sherry's loss of 131.11's set in 1966. The mile relay foursome of Lane Ostendorf, Jim Brasch, Jack Froehlich and Dave Lessman ran the distance in 3.45 for second and the two-mile relay squad of Oslendorf, Brasch, Don Nelson and Pat Dorcay took third with a 9:00.3 time.

Although Wayne's Tom Maier didn't place in the two-mile, he did set a "hot" record. Maier eclipsed the old mark of 11:45.2 held by Mark Smith last year by almost a second.

In the Class C ranks, Winside was eighth with 12 points and Wakefield finished 16th with seven.

Mike Anderson also placed for the Winside team. He took fourth in the discus with a 122.0 performance.

The discus event seemed to be the strong event for all three schools, in addition to Winside and Wayne's placing. Wakefield garnered fifth behind the 120.9 showing by Don Lindstrom.

GREGG LAGE

GORDON EMRY

Besides his first in the mile, Lage also took second in the two-mile run to establish another school record at 10:00.3, almost 35 seconds better than his previous mark. "Gregg has been coming on strong this year," reflected coach Carter Peterson. "Since the beginning of track season he has shaved almost a minute off the track record."

Laurel's two-mile relay team of Monte Johnson, Mike Darn, Kirk McCoy and Mark McCoy outdistanced the field for first while the mile relay team took fourth.

Two of the area teams will be back in action Friday. Wayne travels to Randolph while Winside goes to the West Point invitational. Saturday Wakefield heads to the Norfolk invitational.

Wayne's varsity will be back in action Saturday when the Blue Devils travel to the Albion invitational. Monday the locals go to Norfolk for a match with Norfolk Catholic's varsity and B teams.

Schram Leads

Local Golfers

Wayne High senior Mark Schram shot a blistering 36 for nine holes Tuesday in leading the Blue Devils over Norfolk and West Point in a triangular at the Wayne Country Club.

Schram, who posted the low for all three teams, edged out two teammates by three strokes to take medalist honors. Seniors Scott Ehlers and Randy Workman each fired 39 with another senior, Robin Kudrna, rounding out the four-man team with a 41.

Norfolk finished second in the meet with a 164 total, nine behind Wayne, while West Point had 183.

Norfolk's B team took first with a 175 total followed by Wayne with a 183 and West Point with a 207.

Tod Bigelow led the B squad with a 42 while sophomore Tom Johansen fired a 46 and freshmen Si Prather and Roger Wacker hit 47 and 49 respectively.

Wayne's varsity will be back in action Saturday when the Blue Devils travel to the Albion invitational. Monday the locals go to Norfolk for a match with Norfolk Catholic's varsity and B teams.

Second at Scottsbluff

THE WAYNE HIGH SCHOOL trap shoot team won high honors again, this time placing second in a shoot at Scottsbluff. The five-member squad of Randy Pinkelman, Steve Jorgensen, Steen Anderson, Ken Baier and Rick Reed broke a total of 693 rocks out of 1,000 to tie for first with a team from Council Bluffs. The Iowa team won top honors in the shootout. Team co-captains Pinkelman, left, and Jorgensen also placed high in Class A individual shooting. Pinkelman placed second, breaking 155 targets out of 200, while Jorgensen came in third with the same score. Ken Baier, the third member to place, was second in Class D competition with a 122 score. Anderson had a 142, Reed a 114. The team recently won the Cornhusker Regional Trap Shoot at Norfolk, claiming its third straight first-place trophy.

Big Game Bag Limits Increased

More hunters will have a better chance to bag their limit during deer and antelope seasons, thanks to the state game and parks commission.

Last week the commission set new regulations for 1974 big game hunting, cottontail and squirrel seasons, which included an increase in both deer and antelope permit numbers as well as changes in eligibility for permits, some new unit boundaries and an increased percentage of either sex permits.

New legislation has provided means to improve odds of getting big game permits for those unlucky in past drawings. This year, persons who had firearm antelope permits in 1972 or 1973 may not apply until after the initial application period and drawing. Those who drew 1973 firearm deer permits in the Blue, Elkhorn, and Wahoo units will be ineligible to apply during the initial application period, also.

If permits remain after drawings, they will be awarded to those whose applications are received between the June 3 drawing and June 7. The commission exempted landowners from ineligibility on the basis of limited permits held in previous years. Those who received regular permits, however, in 1973 for deer in the three oversubscribed units and 1972 and 1973 for antelope will be unable to apply for this year's drawing, and therefore, ineligible to apply for the limited permit.

The firearm deer season this year Nov. 9-12, has been extended by the addition of a total of 1,000 permits. The percentage of the total deer permits to be issued has increased from 32 to 42 percent.

The firearm season Sept. 16-Oct. 9 includes an increase of 900 permits from last year's 1,425 authorized. Antelope hunters in the Blue unit will be hunting a smaller area this year, as the area north of the Nebraska River is closed. A new unit, Dundy, has been added in the southwest corner of the state.

The archery antelope season will run from Aug. 26 through Oct. 31, except for being closed during the firearm season. Permit numbers are again unlimited.

The archery deer season is Sept. 21 through Dec. 31, except during the firearm season. In 1973, there was an increase of some 3,000 archery permits is issued, from 5,700 to 8,700. Archery permit numbers will again be unlimited this year.

Squirrel season has been set for Sept. 1 through Jan. 31. The bag limit is seven and possession is 21.

Cottontail season runs from Sept. 1 through Feb. 28, with the same bag and possession limits as those for squirrel.

The Service Station

Army Sergeant Daniel Jaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Jaeger, of Winside, participated in a mountaineering course held on Mt. Soyo-san, Korea.

During the three day course, Jaeger, 23, learned the basic and advanced forms of rappelling, mountain climbing and rope bridge construction. Instruction consisted of a classroom phase followed by practical applications on the cliffs of Mt. Soyo-san.

Sgt. Jaeger is regularly assigned as a squad leader with the 2nd Infantry Division's Battery C, 2nd Battalion of the 61st Air Defense Artillery at Camp Casey, Korea.

His wife, Gail, lives in Wayne.

Zitek Paces WS Track

Chadron State romped away from visiting Wayne State and South Dakota Tech in a triangular at Chadron Tuesday. A nearly complete sweep of sprints helped the host Eagles add up 104 points to 43 by Tech and 34 by Wayne.

For Wayne, Bob Zitek continued his domination of the hurdles, winning both the 120 highs and 440 intermediates — though not in fast times because of wind.

Chuck Collins finished third in both hurdles and second in the high jump, plus running on the second place 440 relay.

Jerry Kruger won the high jump with a 6.2 best and took second in the triple jump. Other Wayne placings, fourths by Rod Unger in javelin, Bob Steinauer in the 880 and Chip Hagerman in the three mile.

Keith Olsen, sustained what seemed to be minor injury to both legs while pole vaulting.

Driver's License Quiz

1. When traveling downgrade on the highway, you can place your car in neutral and coast?
2. When skidding, always turn your car into the skid?
3. If you have a blowout, apply your brakes immediately?

HOW DID YOU SCORE?

Here are the answers. The driver of a motor vehicle when traveling on a down grade upon any highway shall not coast with the gears of such vehicle in neutral. In a skid turn steering wheel in the direction the rear of the car is skidding. In case of a blowout, take your foot off the gas, letting the car roll to a stop.

ED SOMMERFELD

Shopper Wins $25 in 'Bucks'

A Wayne man, Ed Sommerfeld, won last week's $25 Birth Day Bucks consolation prize. Sommerfeld was at Coryell Auto when the winning date was announced last Thursday evening, and he turned out to be the shopper in one of the participating stores with the birth date closest to the winning date.

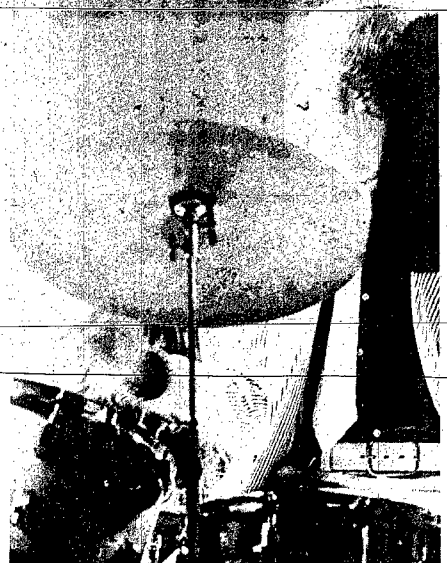

Because there was no grand prize winner last week that prize climbs to $175 for the drawing tonight (Thursday). The shopper in one of the sponsoring stores whose birth date matches the date announced at 8:15 this evening will win $175 in coupons which may be spent just like cash in any participating firm.

If there is no grand prize winner again this evening, another $25 consolation prize will be awarded and the grand prize for next week's drawing will climb to $500.

That Old Ragtime Sound

TUESDAY NIGHT was the night for Wayne citizens to hear the ragtime sounds of the early 20's and 30's, one of the highlights of the Middle School band concert at the high school lecture hall.

Music instructor Larry Stratman turned over the reins to six "accomplished" musicians for a five-minute performance by Don Koonig, Bob Carhart, Dr. George Goblirsch, Orville Braadstetter, Duane Clausen and high school band instructor Ron Dalton as they combined with the seventh and eighth grade locals.

households have participated in the program each month since March of 1972, according to Mrs. Moeller's figures.

This number represents about half the participating households when the program first began five years ago, and is considerably lower than the high of 178 households reached about midway in the five years of county participation.

Mrs. Moeller emphasizes that the program is designed to supplement the family's food budget and thus make balanced diets and higher-nutrition possible.

Eligibility is based on family resources and income in relation to the amount spent on shelter and medical expenses.

What is a BBB?

A Better Business Bureau works to maintain ethical practices in the advertising and selling of products and services by business firms. The BBB also works to combat consumer fraud.

The BBB is not a consumer organization as such. It does not receive financial support from consumer or from tax funds. Business and professional firms which qualify may become members of the Bureau, and with their dues a BBB carries on a program of self-regulation of business in the public interest.

Basically, a BBB's activities may be described as operating in four areas: issuing reports, handling complaints, checking advertising and informing consumers. Some Better Business Bureaus are active in programs of reporting on solicitations made in the name of charity. Consumers may call the BBB for a report on a company, a service free to them. A Bureau report is a summary of how a company operates, according to information in the Bureau's files. The BBB does not endorse or recommend.

If in doubt about a company or a firm, the consumer is urged to consult the BBB before any business is transacted. The BBB would rather help consumers prevent problems than help to correct complaints. The toll free number for the Omaha BBB is 800 442 9332.

Premium ride without premium gas!

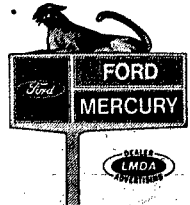

Today a premium ride is not enough. You also need a car you can afford to run. And for 1974 Mercury Marquis is designed to be that kind of car. It uses regular fuel. Its standard steel-belted radials give thousands of extra miles of tread wear over non-radials. And a '74 Mercury is designed to save you an estimated average of 26% on scheduled maintenance costs when compared to a '73 Mercury in 50,000 miles of normal driving. That's due to innovations like solid state ignition. So you see, a premium ride is just not enough. Unless it comes in a car you can afford to operate. We invite you to come drive the Mercury Marquis for 1974—the premium ride that uses regular gas!

Cancer Is Feared, Costly, Deadly

Ruth Longe's job is to make people sit down and think. Sometimes she uses scare tactics, like mentioning the 5,300 Nebraskans expected to become victims of cancer this year. Or she may mention the number of people out of that 5,300 who may find a cure.

Anyhow the Wayne County education chairman for the Cancer Society did make one point understood Monday — cancer kills.

She did it not only through gories given by her and her associates — Mrs. Cliff Johnson, county chairman, and Mrs. Lester Hansen, rural co-chairman — but also with a film presented during Monday's Kwanis meeting.

One out of three cancer victims will be cured, explained Mrs. Hansen. An even brighter outlook is that one out of every two victims can be saved if diagnosed in time by a doctor.

There are seven signs a person can look for in detecting cancer, the volunteer explained. Unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, change in bowel or bladder habits, hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, and change in a wart or mole.

Cancer is not only the most dreaded disease but it is also the most costly, she said. Next to heart disease, cancer is the most deadly.

The death rate for women who have cancer has gone down about eight per cent during the last 10 years, Mrs. Hansen pointed out. The same can't be said for the male population, where the death rate has jumped about 40 per cent during the same period.

During the month of April, designated as national cancer month, Mrs. Longe hopes Wayne County can again rank among the top counties in the state in raising funds to fight cancer.

Last year the county collected $3,065 — $65 over its goal. This year's goal is $3,250.

Thinking of Planting A Tree?

Steps-In Tree Planting

Errors in Planting

If you're planning on planting a tree this spring, you better start now to look for one. You're liable to find a tree that can't stand up and "don't bloom" until Christ-mas, says state and extension forester E. H. Benson.

For the inexperienced land stager, buying and planting a tree can loom formidably over prospects of enjoying Arbor Day. So take one step at a time.

First, decide where you want to put your tree and how much room it should have. This decision will help determine what species of tree you need, said Benson. Your local nursery man can tell you which species grow well in your locality and can help you decide which tree will best fit your situation, he noted.

Once you have the kind of tree picked out, you need to figure out whether you want a bare-rooted or burlap-wrapped tree. Most would rather go along with the bare-rooted smaller tree because it costs less, Benson explained.

How do you tell a good tree buy? Benson said most trees are sold by the root and many inexperienced tree buyers think "the taller the better." Not so, says Benson. A better gauge is the stem caliber—the heavier the stem the stronger the tree. He added, "Get a good sturdy 45 foot tree rather than a tree 10 foot tall and half the diameter of the stem."

Further advice: "Examine the bark at the branch ends. It should be alive and pliable, not dry. If the buds look waxy and ready to pop, that's good. But if they're dry and it looks like next Christmas before they will start growing, you better look for another tree."

Once you're sure you have a live, strong tree of the right species, you're ready to plant it. Take off all the wrapping material and shake off any packing material from the roots. Prune off all roots about a half inch, especially the injured roots. This will expose live root tissue and encourage root development, Benson explained.

As for the size of the hole, it's better to put a $1 tree in a $10 hole than the other way around. In other words, dig the hole large enough and spread out the root system so the roots have space to grow. Tangled roots are apt to girdle each other as they grow larger.

If your soil is dry, dig the hole and fill it up with water and let it soak away. Don't plant the tree until the water has completely soaked away, warned Benson.

Once the tree is in the hole, pack the soil up to within six inches of the top, then add water on top to take the air pockets out and settle the soil. Complete filling of the hole with dry soil and "thoroughly-water-the-tree every 10 days with as much water as the ground will soak up.

It is good to shorten the side branches and top of the tree just a little. The extension forester explained, "You've destroyed some of the root system so you should adjust the size of the top to balance the top with the root system."

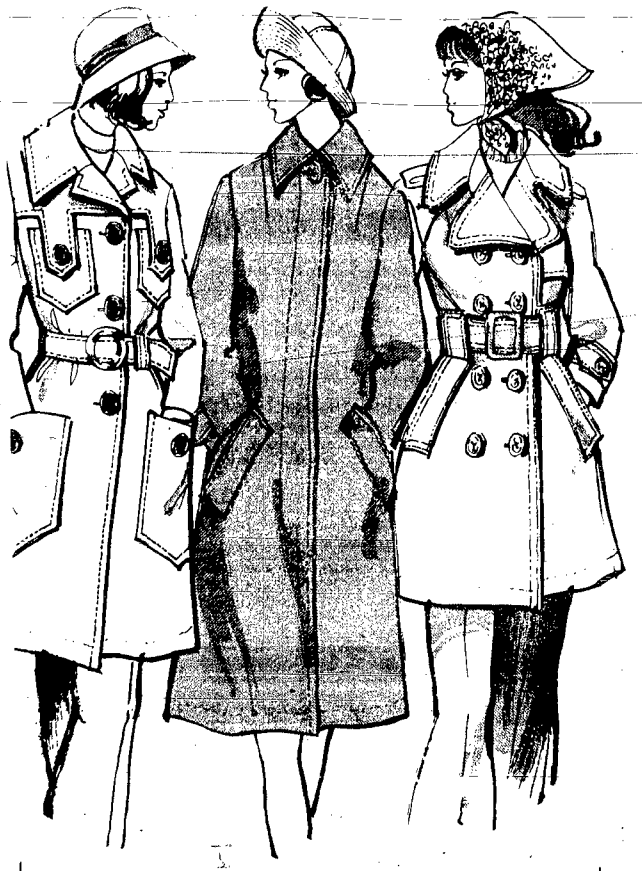

The next step—staking. Benson recommends homeowners stake every new tree. "You plant them without any leaves—but as soon as the leaves come out, the tree will have considerable wind resistance. Your tree must be supported until the roots can anchor themselves in the soil."

To stake a tree, place a stake on either side of the tree 18 inches from the tree and tie the tree with clothes line or other strong line. Tie the tree in such a place that it can bend with the wind, but when the wind goes down the tree will return to an upright position. Stakes can be removed usually after the tree has been planted one year, as they have served their purpose, observed Benson.

Vets on 'Bill' Are Advised To Return Form

The Veterans Administration has this advice for veterans studying at colleges and universities in Nebraska under the GI Bill:

Return those "cert" cards promptly to insure payment of education allowances for the final month of training. Don Campbell, Director of the VA regional office in Lincoln, explained that the certification of attendance card the veteran receives with his next to final check should be filled out, signed and returned to his VA regional office. Otherwise, the agency can't prepare his final check for the current school year.

For most veterans, final months of training are May or June, and most "cert" cards will be mailed in April. Forms already have been mailed to veterans whose enrollment periods end earlier, however.

Campbell cited another reason veterans should return their "cert" cards promptly. If the card is not returned at the end of the current semester, the veteran cannot automatically be enrolled for upcoming summer or fall sessions, if he plans to continue, he said.

He also pointed out that veterans attending college under the GI Bill must keep VA informed on changes in the number of dependents, changes in education programs, and changes of address.

"At the same time," Campbell said, "college registrars should insure that the veterans' enrollment for the school term is certified promptly to the Veterans Administration to keep his allowance checks coming on time."

Details on education benefits are available at VA offices, local veterans service organizations and veterans county service officers.

Activities Are Slated For 1974 County Fair

The Wayne County Fair will run Thursday through Sunday, Aug. 1-4, this year, according to an announcement made this week by Marilyn Koch of Wayne, secretary manager of the Wayne County Fair Association.

Again this year, Thursday will be Winside, Hoskins and Altona

Day; Friday will be Wayne County Day, said Koch.

Open class and 4-H judging are scheduled throughout the four-day event. The Dale Thomas Shows from Belgrade promise midway excitement, and several free grandstand attractions have been scheduled.

The opening night will feature a junior rodeo, with calf riding, greased pig and greased pole climbing contests for youngsters.

The Friday grandstand show, to begin at 8:15, will be a country western and rock and roll program by the Williams Family, a couple with a 12 year old daughter and three older sons.

The Saturday afternoon pet show for area children is scheduled for the new livestock arena now under construction.

Saturday night will be the tractor pull, with $1,200 in prizes to be given away. During the tractor pull will be the March of Dimes all male cake bake sale. Confectionary creations baked by area men at the commercial building Friday afternoon and Saturday will be sold to the highest bidders, with proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Everyone is urged to attend the church of his choice Sunday morning before attending the Sunday afternoon pony pull. The demolition derby that evening will draw the fair to a close.

Youth Escapes Car Accident With Bruise

A Carroll youth received a bruise on his head when his car went out of control and rolled into a ditch Monday morning just northwest of Sholes.

Patrolman David Headley who investigated the mishap, said Clarence Chapman, 18, lost control of his car about 7:15 a.m. less than a mile from Sholes as he was northbound on a county road. The car, rolled over on its side and ended up in the ditch, he said. The car was a total wreck.

Social Security Questions, Answers

Q My 32 year old son, who has been disabled since birth, lives with me. He has no income, and he doesn't own any property. Would he be eligible for the new Federal assistance payments?

A Since your son doesn't have any income and resources, he might be eligible for supplemental security income payments. However, his payment would be reduced by one third in consideration of the value of the room and board he gets from you.

Q I'm retired, and until 2 years ago my 35-year-old son got social security payments on my work record because he was disabled in childhood. His disability checks were stopped because he started working, but 2 weeks ago his condition got worse and he had to quit his job. Can he get checks based on my work record again?

A Probably. Since your son became disabled again within 7 years after his payments stop, because of his work, he may again get monthly disability payments based on your work record.

Q When I applied for social security disability payments, I was denied for medical reasons. Since I'm still unable to work at my trade, could I get monthly supplemental security income payments?

A No. The disability requirements are now the same for both the social security program and the Federal supplemental security income program. Payments must be severely disabled and unable to do any substantial gainful work for a year or more.

Q I'm 67, and I recently fell and put a deep gash in my arm. I was treated in the emergency room at the hospital, but I didn't stay overnight. Are these services covered under my Medicare medical insurance?

A Yes. Medicare medical insurance helps pay for emergency room services.

Garden Tips

Since garden plants rely on soil as their source of nutrition and support, it's good sense to improve soil conditions by adding organic matter. You can use stable manure, rotted sawdust or compost at the rate of 50-100 lbs. per 100 square feet of garden space.

Fertilizer is important, but it isn't a cure-all. For example, it can't compensate for undesirable soil alkalinity or acidity, undesirable salt content, poor soil structure or poor seeds.

A soil test can help. If this isn't possible, apply two or three lbs. of mixed fertilizer, such as 5-10-10, 12-12-12, or a similar ratio, per 100 square feet of garden space.

Fertilizer should be broadcast over the garden area and incorporated with a rake or rototiller. While the plants are growing, some gardeners add extra nitrogen fertilizer (side dressing) to the row.

Sprinkle one-fourth pound of ammonium nitrate or one to two pounds of your mixed garden fertilizer along 100 feet of row. Put the material next to the foliage and water following application.

McNATT'S

LET'S HAVE A BUS SERVICE

The people of Wayne tell me that we are in great need of bus service. This is my solution.

We can establish a regularly scheduled "jitney" service within Wayne plus a route to Sioux City and Norfolk. These "jitneys" are now in operation in Atlantic City, New Jersey. I have spoken with officials in Atlantic City by telephone and they have sent me full written descriptions of the service. Each "jitney" costs new about $4,500.00 from either one of two major American manufacturers. Each carries seats for ten passengers. "Jitneys" operate at a profit to their private owners.

I estimate that two privately owned "jitneys" in Wayne could operate profitably and offer city-wide transportation as well as service to Norfolk and Sioux City.

As Mayor, I will help interested investors coordinate development of this potentially profitable and useful service.

If you have questions, please write or call me.

Addition Is Planned at Wayne Rendering Plant

Plans are to build an addition onto the existing rendering plant southeast of Wayne to help it serve an enlarged area, according to new owner-manager Wayne Bates.

Bates, 34, said he and the other new owners of Wayne Rendering and By Products Co. plan to construct a concrete block building approximately 60 by 80 feet on the north side of the present rendering plant.

Construction on that addition should be completed sometime this fall, boosting the present work force from six men to about 14, said Bates.

In time, the new owners hope to expand the business even more so pet food under the plant's own name can be produced and distributed in the area. If those plans work out, the work force at the plant would climb to about 50 employees, according to Bates.

Bates was a compliance officer with the United States Department of Agriculture for about two years prior to taking over the Wayne business the first of this month. He worked out of the USDA office in Lincoln, checking on plants to make sure they met government regulations.

He and Sioux City residents Gerald Simon, Dave Delanie and Jay Brouwer bought out Walter Woods, who operated Wayne Rendering Co. for more than 30 years.

Bates, a farmer in Plymouth County in Iowa for 12 years before joining the USDA, and his wife Lorraine have an 11 month old son, Michael. They will live at the home near the rendering plant a mile east and a half mile south of Wayne.

New Business Sets Sights on Concrete Work

A new business, Allied Mobile Concrete, has been started in Wayne and Wisner, offering concrete freshly mixed according to the specifications of the customer.

Concrete is mixed to specifications and metered for quantity through a new machine mounted on a truck, according to Bob Vakoc of Wayne, one of the partners in the business. The concrete materials — cement, sand, stone or gravel and water — are mixed on the job so the concrete is fresh and meets specifications, he said.

Mixing is done by operating the dials on the machine. The dials permit mixing a small amount or a large amount of concrete, and only that amount needed on the job is mixed, Vakoc said. Production is shut off as soon as a pour is completed so there is no waste or overrun, he added.

One truck is already being used and another one will be on the job within several weeks. The trucks will operate out of a gravel pit near Wisner owned by another partner, Albert Kanter. The machines are manufactured in Lancaster, Pa., and have been in use several years. They are now being used in about 40 different states, Canada and several foreign countries.

Carroll Firm Marks 25th

Cunningham Well Co. of Carroll held an open house recently to celebrate the company's 25th year in Carroll.

Prizes were won by Fred Eckert, Northfield, Minn.; Mrs. Glen Clark, Randolph; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Lutt, Wayne; and Carl Janssen, Mrs. Darrell French, Mrs. Ronnie Billheimer, Marvin, Igom, Charles Morris, Mrs. Kenneth Eddie, Pat Morris and Mrs. Anna Hansen, all of Carroll.

Flowers were received from The State National Bank; Ralston Purina, Howard McLain Oil Company, Village Wash, Ron's Bar, Kavanaugh Feed and Trucking, Carroll Feed and Grain, Roberts Body Shop, Litho Speed, Hansco Grocery, Halleen's Barber and Beauty Shop, Marlene's Cafe and Sandahl Repair.

Sounds of Spring

WINNIE HIGH'S girls glee club sings out one of five tunes the group presented during the annual spring concert at the high school auditorium Monday night. Also performing during the concert were the concert band, swing choir and mixed chorus. A crowd of over 100 people attended the annual event.

Workers Need SS Numbers

Some employers won't hire people unless they have a social security number, so students and others planning to get summer jobs should apply for a number now if they don't already have one, according to Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk.

"Delaying your application might prevent your employment or cause you to lose time and wages in a job requiring a social security number," he said.

"When you don't recall having had a social security number before, your application is screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to you."

"Screening takes time."

"You should apply for your social security number at least several weeks before you need it for a job. You can get information about applying by calling, writing or visiting any social security office."

A worker builds disability, survivors, retirement and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to his social security number. He gets credit if he's paid $50 or more in a 3 month calendar quarter in work covered by social security.

More than nine out of 10 jobs are covered by social security.

"Your social security number is yours, alone and remains the same for life," Branch said.

"When you get a job covered by social security, be sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his records."

People applying for a social security number for the first time may be asked to prove their age, identity and citizenship.

DENTAL FACTS OF THE MONTH

Teeth that are knocked out can often be replanted. The sooner the tooth is replanted into the jaw, the better the chances it will take root.

Wearing dentures does not eliminate the need for periodic examination by the dentist. He checks how the dentures fit and on the condition of gums.

Fever blisters, cold sores and canker sores sometimes appear during an illness or period of physical and emotional stress. The sores usually heal naturally within two weeks. In the meantime, medications soothe the discomfort they cause.

Whose Right Is It?

Journalism's right to print is your right to know, just as the right to speak is also the right to hear. The American press is the communication backbone of this country. It is the measure of our American liberty. Journalism needs young minds and young hands to help keep the American press free. It's hard work. It involves discipline, objectivity, and, above all, the ability to work under pressure. . . pressure of an unrelenting deadline, and pressure from people who want to conceal the truth.

Journalism offers a wide range of careers for young people committed to defending freedom of the press. The opportunities range from editing and photography to public relations. The challenge is endless and the benefits are vastly rewarding. Choose a career in journalism. Help to assure America that its right to know will be protected. OBSERVATIONS

For voters' benefit

Readers might wish to clip out the pictures and information printed above on the candidates for the Wayne Carroll school board. With that many people running for the three posts which will have to be filled, the information could come in handy come election time. We plan to give similar biographical sketches of candidates for the Wayne County offices up for grabs and candidates for the city council and mayor races in Wayne. They will appear in the next two Thursday issues of the news paper, giving our readers some information on which to base the decisions they will have to make when they enter the voting booth May 14. There seems to be quite a bit of interest in the school board and the city council-mayor races, and those county races which are being contested. It will be interesting to see what six candidates the school district voters send on to the general election. There is plenty of variety in that race — everything from a federal employee to a housewife to a college instructor to a laborer. It will be just as interesting to see what the voters in the city do when it comes to replacing the present mayor. One thing for sure, the new mayor will be well-versed in education — one candidate is a high school student, another one just retired from the faculty at Wayne State, one is a teacher in the local school system and the other is a student at Wayne State. Another thing which seems fairly certain is that it's not going to take very many votes to win that race, considering the votes are going to be spread among four hopefuls. There is less anticipation as far as the county elections are concerned, with only two races being contested. Those are the two commissioner posts which have to be filled this time around. Still, it's going to be interesting to see if the two incumbents have done good enough jobs to win another term.

"Many things in our life-style will be changed if and when gas rationing goes into effect. One industry that has been booming will feel a tremendous pinch, that being the rail lung and many faceted industry of tourism. With airlines cutting back flights, and with the threatened shortage of gasoline, diesel fuel etc. it makes you wonder if you'll see a resurgence of rail travel with the reappearance of the steam locomotive. This may be impractical, but it may come to pass as we explore alternate means of travel rather than jumping into the gas gulping, high powered family auto, and zoom 70-80 miles an hour over 4-lane highways. We may still be able to go places, but it may be at a much slower pace."

Behind 2-1, Exon uses final inning to fire vetoes at 9 bills

CAPITOL NEWS.
LINCOLN — The 1974 legislative session went into overtime, but it was an uneven contest because one team had gone home. Governor J. J. Exon had an inning to himself, submitting vetoes the state senators couldn't find because they chose immediate adjournment April 11 instead of taking a week's recess between the 59th and 60th days of the 60-day session. The nine vetoes the governor sent in the days immediately following the legislative departure covered subjects ranging from bar examinations for would-be lawyers to creation of a Department of Records. The governor was probably just as happy to have the lawmakers out of town because they had a rather consistent record this session of rejecting his advice, as expressed through vetoes. In fact, on the last day of the session, the score was 2-1 in favor of the senators. Exon found fault with three of the major budget bills the lawmakers had sent to him the day before, but overrides were successful on two of them. Those two overrides — both achieved with the minimum of 30 votes (or three-fifths of the elected membership) — represented more than $2 million to the University of Nebraska, the agency with the biggest dollar stake in the veto battle. Exon had promised he would have his vetoes ready by late afternoon if the senators chose to adjourn April 11. He did. The messages arrived about 3 p.m., leaving little time for putting together the kind of coalition that it sometimes takes to reach the 30 vote level. There was scurrying on the floor and the override attempt on the first of the three vetoed bills was four votes short. The next one succeeded and the third, although it took two tries (the first was one vote shy), squeaked through as well. Exon was on hand not long afterward to congratulate "the winners," as he put it. He also bid farewell, returned to his desk and started writing the veto messages which came in the next few days. First to feel the gubernatorial veto blade was LB 705, a proposal shepherded by Omaha Senator Ernest Chambers, who seeks to be an attorney and who wanted what he considered to be reforms in the procedures involving bar examinations. The State Supreme Court, however, adopted a rule not long before the Chambers bill was considered on final reading. The court, which has jurisdiction over the practice of law in Nebraska, did substantially what Chambers had wanted done through legislation. Exon said the bill was an invasion into judicial territory. The same day, the governor struck down two more bills — LB 861 and LB 861A. The first would have created a new Department of Public Records and the second would have provided $47,310 to operate the new agency the first year. That bill package had been sponsored by Senator Shirley Marsh of Lincoln. Down, as well, went LB 665, sponsored by Senator Fred Carstens of Beatrice. That bill would have exempted high school students from the state minimum wage. The legislators had said this would help youth get jobs, but Exon said it was a step backwards and could allow some exploitation of our school age citizens. The governor scratched LB 876 and its appropriations companion, LB 828A, because he didn't care for amendments he said would abolish the State Electrical

Board. He said he liked the original bill, which would have provided uniform state electrical codes for mobile homes and recreational vehicles and hoped that portion would be offered as a new bill next session. The sponsor of the two bills was Senator J. W. Burbach of Crofton. The governor's veto pencil went to work on LB 983A, cutting an appropriation the senators set at $500,000 down to $200,000. Exon said the $300,000 reduction was justified because the National Guard didn't need a half-million dollars for rental of barracks. LB 983, sponsored by the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee, set up a bonus program which, with Exon's editing, will amount to $100 per enlistment. LB 1028A also got the governor's line-item attention. He said Attorney General Clarence Meyer agreed with him about $100,000, was adequate to launch the anti-trust activities LB 1028 — a product of the Agriculture Committee, assigned to the State Justice Department. The bill originally appropriated $250,000 to move the department into an anti-trust field farm senators have said needs attention because of meat and fertilizer selling practices. LB 94 was reduced by $368,500 — with a $168,500 slice off the original appropriation for University of Nebraska at Omaha athletic facilities and a $200,000 shrinking of an item for land acquisition and planning for the new Metropolitan Technical-Community College. The original UN-O $353,500 figure was to go for bleachers and dressing room improvements. Exon said university officials concurred the lower amount was "all that is necessary." A $500,000 item for the new Metro College area — a 1974 member of the Omaha and Eastern Nebraska areas — became $300,000 when Exon was finished. He said other funds could be found if more money is needed. Omaha wasn't forgotten, however. Exon announced he had signed into law a bill, Omaha Senator John Cavanaugh's LB 945, which authorizes a state-office building in Omaha costing up to $8 million. Exon also signed a bill, LB 632, which hikes the food sales tax credit from $10 to $15.

3 Communities Vying in Annual NCIP Program

Concord, Wakefield and Wayne are among a record number of 203 Nebraska communities participating in the 1974 Community Improvement Program.

Deadline for entering the program, now in its 11th year, was earlier in April.

The 203 figure consists of 193 towns across Nebraska as well as 10 neighborhoods in Omaha and Lincoln. The previous high number of entrants, 201, was set last year.

"Although our main aim is to help communities become better places in which to work and live and not to break records, it makes all of us working in the program very happy to see the number of entering communities steadily increase from year to year," said Mrs. Marie Arndt, director of the division of community affairs in the Department of Economic Development.

She added, "We are convinced of the value of the NCIP because participation in this program builds community spirit, coordinates the improvement projects of a town's various organizations and thus brings about greater involvement of people."

The annual community improvement program is co-administered by the Department of Economic Development and the University of Nebraska Extension Division. Staff members from these agencies have begun to visit each entering town and neighborhood to lend assistance to local NCIP committees which coordinate improvement projects.

The NCIP is sponsored by nine natural gas and five telephone companies operating in Nebraska. They provide prize money and underwrite other expenses of the program.

The entering communities are divided into five classes as determined by population and compete for first, second and third place Community Awards in their class. In addition, Special Awards will be given for achievements in each of these nine areas: downtown improvement, economic development, environmental action, farm and ranch development, health and safety programs, public facilities and governmental services, recreation and arts development, social services, tourism promotion and special events.

Other award categories of the NCIP are the neighborhood competition for cities over 50,000, the youth involvement competition and the All-Nebraska Community program.

All certificates, plaques and monetary prizes will be presented at the annual NCIP awards banquet scheduled for Nov. 15.

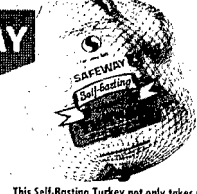

Concord will compete in Class I for communities under 300 population, Wakefield will compete in Class III for communities between 801 and 1,600 population and Wayne will compete in Class V for communities from 5,001 to 50,000 population.

PRICE CONTROLS END ... SAFEWAY VALUES CONTINUE*

*Although the objectives were worthy, everyone now knows that price controls simply did not work, exactly as hoped. Instead they interfered seriously with food production and marketing. Many shortages developed and prices increased. Now, with controls off, and the food business again operating in its normal, freely competitive manner, supply and demand should start to come into balance. Because some foods take longer to produce than others, not everything will become plentiful at the same time. Meanwhile, we will continue to do everything within our power to give you the kind of values you expect to find at Safeway.

We pledge that in your nearby Safeway Store you will continue to find quality foods priced to save you money. We look forward to more abundant supplies of foods and the opportunity to give our customers even better value.

Social Security Questions, Answers

Q: I pay premiums for both the hospital insurance part and the medical insurance part of Medicare. Can I drop one part and still keep the other?

A: You can drop the hospital insurance part of Medicare if you cannot drop the medical insurance part. However, you cannot drop the medical insurance part of Medicare if you have a dependent who is under 18 years of age. Monthly premiums for both also have the same effect.

Thought for Today
By Rowan White

"As a mother, I am often... any consolation."
- Mrs. Chiverton

Envy in small amounts is pardonable, even enjoyable. However, when the desire to assume all responsibilities, where calm and perspective have a tangible effect, a reasonable capacity to envy can often be an effective tool to improvement. It can, when held within sensible bounds, spark a little extra effort in the pursuit of self-improvement and attainment of desired creature comforts.

Japanese-American Cultural Center Perks Right Along

For over seven years, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sorenson and son Steve have shared their home and life with a Japanese student of American agriculture.

Although the student changes annually, the program and procedure remain the same: A participant in the Japanese Agricultural Training Program arrives at the Sorenson farm in December. He has already spent three months at Big Bend College in Washington, developing English proficiency, and another three months working in the Washington fruit orchards, earning money for his United States study and learning more about the American way of life.

The student will be with Sorensons until January, a year later, when he goes to Lincoln for a three-month study of swine at the University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. He will then return to the Sorenson farm for another two months before going back to Japan.

Sorensons, who farm northwest of Wayne, are well-known swine producers, making them excellent hosts for young men planning to raise swine when they return to their own country. The Wayne County family has been active in the program since it began.

The Japanese Agricultural Training Program is sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation. Fourteen of the 58 students in the latest program have been living in Nebraska. Other Japanese students live in other areas of the United States to learn first-hand about beef, dairy, swine or poultry production.

Kiyoshi "Nelson" Ogata has just returned to the Sorenson farm after three months of University studies, and will leave in June for a two-week U. S. trip with other program participants before returning to his home, a 2.5 acre farm near Sendai City in Japan.

Nelson, with another Japanese student in the program, and a third man in Japan, hope to set up a cooperative farming venture in Japan. Cooperative farming is a fairly new idea in Japan, Nelson says.

Nelson, 24, is the oldest son in his family. A brother, 22, works near Tokyo, and a sister, 20, is in college.

Nelson thinks about what he will miss most when he leaves the United States, and Mrs. Sorenson anticipates that it will be apple pie. He agrees that is his favorite American food.

Nelson, who seems anxious to get home and begin using the new ideas he has encountered, notes his appreciation to area people for their friendship and encouragement.

The newest and eighth Japanese member of the Sorenson family is Tetsuaki "Chuck" Yamagami, who arrived last December from the Washington orchards. His studies at the University will begin in January, and he will probably return home to southern Japan to raise swine with his father after he ends his stay in America.

Chuck has a 17-year-old sister. His family's farm is four acres, and in spite of our concern over pollution, energy crisis and use of natural resources, Chuck says he is impressed with the U. S. environment.

Garden Tips

Drainage, irrigation, careful cultivation and regular harvesting are keys to successful gardening in Nebraska. Other factors are variety selection and fertilization.

The necessity for planting vegetables in high broad-shouldered rows with good drainage outlets has been proven in most areas of the state, especially during rainy periods.

During dry spells, vegetables will need added water. Either furrow or sprinkler irrigation can be used.

Keep grass and weeds scraped from rows, but take care not to cultivate too deeply around roots of vegetables. Deep cultivation can damage plants.

When vegetables are harvested as they mature, plants will produce more. Any vegetable that produces more than one fruit such as tomatoes, squash, okra, cucumbers, eggplants and peppers will produce more if the fruit is picked when ripe. Size and quality of the fruit will also benefit. When picked regularly, vegetables will be more tender, will retain more flavor and will be easier to prepare.

Care should be taken in harvesting not to damage plants. Hold the part of the plant that holds the fruit with one hand and then snap off the vegetable. Other methods are to pinch the fruit off with the fingernails or snap it off with a knife or scissors.

Garden fresh vegetables contain more vitamins when prepared soon after harvest than at any other time.

Persons interested in planting a home vegetable garden should obtain the popular extension bulletin titled "Vegetable Gardening in Nebraska," (SB 519). The bulletin and additional information are available free from any county extension agent's office.

Average Investment of Farm Students Close to $250,000, Teacher Reports

The average investment of 50 Northeast Nebraska farm families enrolled in the Nebraska Farm and Ranch Business Management Education Program is $247,800, reports John Corkle, instructor of the program, sponsored by Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College.

The investment of this group is comparable to the average of all 135 enrolled in such management programs offered through 16 schools across Nebraska, he said. The figures are included in the third annual program report recently released by the state board of technical community colleges.

Purpose of the special education project is to provide adult instruction in agriculture to contribute materially to farms and family life which has experienced intensified problems during the past two decades of technological revolution.

The classes, which began in 1972, are held in Norfolk, Wayne and Wausa. Involved in the NNTCC program are farms near Wayne, Concord, Wausa, Plain view, Beemer, Madison, Wakefield, Norfolk, Laurel, Wisner, Oakdale, Orchard and Winside.

The program offers three simultaneous courses which progress through beginning farm records and farm business analysis toward farm reorganization. According to Corkle, the program's main strength is the involvement of the farm operator and his wife in a serious study of the home farm business.

The "students" meet monthly for classes in farm analysis, and the instructor visits the farm monthly to insure accurate record keeping and provide individual instruction.

The farm and ranch management program, developed at the University of Minnesota, is used extensively by community colleges in 10 states. The program, administered through the community services division of the college, also used for students taking the full-time farm and ranch management program at NNTCC.

The average farmer sold $61,251 worth of livestock and livestock products compared to $16,272 in crops. However, 67 per cent of his 1973 income came from crops compared to 58 per cent in 1972. The balance of the income was derived from live stock.

Corkle explained that 1973 was an unusual crop year. The average farmer fed $30,140 of feed to his livestock. "He just couldn't make money on the feeder cattle because of the high production costs in 1973," Corkle commented.

According to the report, the farmer had to spend $58,659 for expensables and $17,033 on depreciable items and land. Of this, $6,377 went for gas, oil, grease, repairs and depreciation to keep his farm power and crop machinery running. He had to spend $6,585 for cash living expenses and owed an average $65,729 at the end of the year.

"The classes are well received and by participation and comparison of information, those in the program can better themselves and their operations," said Corkle.

Over $186,300 in scholarships will be given to 270 4-H winners during the 52nd National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29. The awards are donated by corporations, businesses and foundations in some 43 different programs.

SCS Soil Scientist Gets New Job

Don Kerl, soil scientist with the Soil Conservation Service in Wayne since August of 1962, will leave Wayne next month to take over a similar position in David City.

Kerl will begin a soil survey of Butler County when he takes over his job in David City the last week in May. He recently completed a similar survey of all soils in Wayne County and has written the soil description report which is to be released by the federal government sometime in the third quarter. The extensive report includes soil maps for the county, soil test data, a section on trees, information on wildlife, data for engineers and the like.

Kerl said he hopes to complete his move from Wayne to David City by July. He and his wife, librarian at

Ready to Fly High

EXPLORER SCOUT advisor Lionel Moore, left, holds down the tail of an airplane so three high school youths in his aviation Explorer Post can wash it in hopes of getting a free ride for their work. The youths are Dave Graeverholt of Laurel, next to Moore, Cary Nordby of Hartington, kneeling, and Lyle George of Dixon, right. All three are juniors and all three completed the ground school course offered at Wayne State College this past term. The Explorer Post, which has a fluctuating number of members, has taken a trip to look over airbase facilities at Sioux City and has inspected the planes at the municipal airport in Wayne. Next step, says Moore, an instructor at Wayne State, is to get them some flying time in the air.

Winside Students Add Poll To Annual Ecology Project

Do you use low phosphate detergents? Do you turn off lights when you leave a room? Was your thermostat 68 degrees or lower this winter?

Those questions, part of a to question survey conducted by students in Winside High's American government class, are aimed at "making Winside residents more aware of what can be done to help the environment," said instructor Carter Peterson.

The poll, part of the school's ecology project, showed that 57 per cent of the people surveyed do use low phosphate detergents, 78 per cent turn off lights when not in use and 59 per cent kept their thermostats at 68 degrees or lower this winter in order to conserve energy.

The seven students in the class also found out that over half of those polled walk or ride a bike whenever possible. About 58 per cent save newspapers for Boy Scouts and a relatively high percentage, 82, encourage family conservation of natural resources.

But the American government class isn't the only group of students involved in promoting ecology and saving energy. High school as well as grade school students at Winside are taking part in the annual event through other projects.

Students in grades kindergarten through eighth currently are making posters to remind residents to do their share to improve the environment. The posters should be on display in local businesses sometime this week, Peterson said. Winners and runners-up will be selected in about a week to 10 days by the Winside Community Club, which sponsors the contest.

Today (Thursday) high school students are slated to continue their two-day cleanup campaign, collecting discarded papers and trash inside Winside and along Highway 35 near town. The project started Wednesday.

Other projects include tree planting near the school, touch-up painting of sideline posts around the football field and repairing trash cans made by the trades and industries class last year and placed throughout town.

This is the second year the high school and grade school students have undertaken the project. Last year Peterson, in cooperation with the community club, started the ecology project, in his American government class. Now it has expanded to the other grades.

the fixer from Goodrich. it won't leave you flat.

Goodrich introduces its new steel-belted radial, the Fixer. The name of the tire is the Golden Lifesaver, but we call it the Fixer, because it's the first steel-belted radial tire ever sold by anyone anywhere that fixes its own punctures.

Now you'll probably never know if you run over nails or other sharp objects up to 1/4" in diameter. Because the Fixer will very quietly, very effectively repair itself, without any inconvenience to you.

Here's how it works: A self-sealing cellular liner system is built into the tire. The instant that a puncture occurs, pressurized air chambers in the liner expand, sealing off the leak. After the object is removed, a poly-lube compound and part of the liner are driven into the hole, completing the seal, with practically no air loss.

In addition to its self-sealing cellular liner system, the Fixer has two steel belts, and a Dynacor® rayon cord body. They help give the Golden Lifesaver its smooth ride, strength and guaranteed 40,000 miles of performance.

And its radial construction means you can expect to get better gas mileage. Tests have shown that radials can deliver as much as 10% fuel savings... although savings may differ according to an individual's driving habits.

Don't forget... the Golden Lifesaver. The first steel-belted radial ever to fix its own puncture.

40,000 mile guarantee. In normal driving, you'll get at least 40,000 miles of treadwear from the Golden Lifesaver on your car. If you don't get 40,000 miles, take the guarantee document back to any BFG retailer. He'll allow you credit for the difference toward the then current exchange/adjustment price of new ones. And add a small service charge.

Hunt Describes Prisons

WAYNE HERALD publisher J. Alan Cramer, left, listens to E. Howard Hunt, convicted Watergate conspirator, after Hunt's talk at last week's Nebraska Press Association awards banquet in Omaha. Cramer ended his year as president of the association. His newspaper won three first place awards in the association's better newspapers contests, earned a second place award and won the coveted Ak-Sar-Ben award for outstanding community service by a weekly newspaper during 1973. Hunt, free on bond pending appeal of his conviction in connection with the Watergate break-in, told the newspapermen about conditions in the nation's prisons. He said he is now dedicated to reforming the outmoded, unsuccessful prison system.

Thank you for using less natural gas

You've cut down on your use of natural gas since last November. And that's great! Sure, we like to sell natural gas. But it's more important to be able to continue to supply your home with this clean, efficient energy far into the future. By using less natural gas, you help conserve a valuable natural resource. And by using less natural gas in your home, or store or office, you make more gas available for commercial and industrial customers who buy gas under interruptible contracts. So think again.

Thank you for turning your thermostat down to 68° or below. Thank you for installing proper insulation. Thank you for keeping your furnace in tip-top shape. Thank you for using the right size pan on the right size burner on your gas range. Thank you for using your dish and clothes washers only when you have a full load. And, of course, thank you for using energy efficient gas appliances. You're doing a great job in helping to meet the energy challenge. Let's keep it up!

Average Family Digs Deep for Finer Things

How high is the standard of living in Wayne County?
How much have local residents been spending annually for big-ticket items such as cars, washing machines, dishwashers, furniture, carpeting and the like?
Some idea of the amount of money that has been going for such equipment may be gleaned from a new government study.
It is based upon data gathered from all areas of the country through a sampling survey conducted by the Department of Commerce.
The purpose was to determine just how much of the average family's income, locally or elsewhere, went for such durables in the five years ending January, 1973.
In Wayne County, according to these and other figures, it was a period of rising incomes, and bigger spending. Families were upgrading their way of life, buying better homes, more expensive cars and spending more for household equipment and leisure-time pursuits than ever before.
With the purchasing power at their command, their outlay for durable goods in the five years averaged approximately $5,585 per household, based upon the overall survey findings and upon local income and spending data.

This compares with $4,319 per family in the United States and with $4,521 in the North Central States.
Of the total, some $3,908 was spent for new and used cars.
Furniture took another $519 per local family, color television sets took $230, and refrigerators and freezers took $131.
The rest went for air conditioners, washing machines, clothes dryers, kitchen ranges, dishwashers and the like.
The enormity of the car market is indicated by the figures in the government report, which show that families throughout the United States spent no less than $125 billion in the five years in the purchase of 40 million new cars and another $67 billion for 68 million used cars.
By way of comparison, all the 13 other kinds of durables covered in the survey totaled only $83 billion.
Annually, on the average, one family out of eight bought a new car during the period and slightly more than one out of five bought a used car.

Parish Fair Attracts 1,000-2,000 to WSC Sunday

The Northeast Nebraska Parish Resource Fair, a pilot project sponsored by cooperating area Lutheran churches, brought between 1,000 and 2,000 persons to Wayne State College Sunday.

About 40 different congregations participated in the afternoon and evening event, and representatives of many other churches were there as spectators.

Fair attractions included booths and special events from various churches; displays by companies, films and a mobile parish resource center. Two students from Dana College at Blair presented a religious drama, and Concordia Teachers College at Seward had a display of materials and showed films on the work of one of their art instructors.

Area participants included Lutheran Church Men from Wayne Redeemer Lutheran Church, served by Rev. S. K. deFreese. The men demonstrated their weekly radio ministry through the local broadcasting station.

Wakefield Salem Lutheran Church, served by Rev. Robert Johnson, had booth presentations and two entries in the special events division. On display were the church newspaper, "The Sprig," banners on the Ten Commandments and their stewardship chest used for special offerings. The Gens, the church's women's trio, sang throughout the day, and the young people from their church gave a "Worship in Motion" demonstration.

Windside Trinity Lutheran Church, served by the Rev. Paul Reimers of Wayne, had on display their serving projects for an African hospital.

Joy Folk Singers from the Wayne State College Cooperative Christian Ministry sang during the day.

Laurel United Lutheran Church, served by Rev. Olin Knudsen, and Laurel Immanuel Lutheran, served by Rev. H. K. Niemann, had banner displays.

Mrs. Darrell Meier, state president of the Nebraska Synod Lutheran Church Women, had charge of a computer booth set up to answer questions about the organization.

Chief coordinators for the fair were Rev. Ed Schlachtenhaufen of York, rural area ministries coordinator, and Rev. Victor Schoonover, Lutheran Metropolitan Ministries in Omaha.

Committee chairmen were Rev. David Powers, First Matthew's, North Bend, publicity; Rev. Don Schoeppler, Immanuel
