Wayne Native to Work, Study in Local Hospital

Bruce Ring of Wayne is among 17 second-year medical students at the University of Nebraska Medical Center who will begin four-week Medical Education and Community Orientation (MECO) projects around the state today (Monday).

BRUCE RING

Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ring of rural Wayne, will work at Wayne Hospital.

MECO, which is sponsored by the Student American Medical Association, is a nationally coordinated network of educational programs for pre-clinical medical students. Its objectives include redistribution of physician manpower in the country by exposing students, at an early point in their training, to the health care systems of communities. It also aims to develop a mechanism to facilitate continuing education of the practicing physician and to affect future patterns of health care delivery geared to community needs.

Students are furnished with educational stipends and room and board by their participating hospital or clinic, said George Seberg, a third-year medical student and the Medical Center MECO coordinator. They may receive five hours of elective credit for the projects.

The student's program usually includes rotation through both clinical and non-clinical areas of the facility, observation and participation in physicians' offices and study of the function of health related agencies and institutions in the community.

The study of patient-oriented health care and the relationship of the patient to the total health system is emphasized, Seberg said.

Ring, 21, has completed one year at the NU Medical Center in Omaha after taking three years of pre-medicine study at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. He will receive his medical degree in two more years. A 1970 graduate of Wayne High School, he plans to go into general practice.

Possible Solution Is Found For Hospital Road Problem

Officials may have found a solution to a problem which reportedly could keep the new hospital under construction in Wayne from opening when it is completed in coming months.

The problem is finding some way to pay for the second access road planned to be built from the east end of 10th Street north to the $1.5 million facility.

"When the beautiful walnut grove at the northwest corner of the fairgrounds was very popular with nutpickers and pick neckers?"

Representatives of the city, local hospital foundation and the Missionary Benedictine Sisters of Norfolk, who will own and operate the hospital, hashed out the problem in a special meeting Friday night.

A possible solution to the problem is to move a paved street already planned for construction so it will fit into one built north from 10th Street.

Charles Thomas, administrator of the existing municipal hospital in Wayne, proposed the idea, noting that the city council could then pay for the rest of the road with general tax funds.

After Thomas proposed that solution, Mayor Freeman Decker said, "We haven't sold this [problem], but I think we're making some progress."

The problem arose within the past week when city attorney Rudd Bornhoff advised the council that the road to the hospital would have to be paid for by those property owners benefiting from it and not with general tax funds.

Bornhoff repeated that opinion Friday night, noting that the benefiting properties would likely include the hospital and property owners abutting the road.

He said he would find it difficult to defend the council in court if somebody brought suit against the council for paying for the road out of general tax funds and not by assessing benefiting property owners.

The hospital administrator said those present that he will check with the Sisters and the hospital foundation about the possibility of moving the road already included in the hospital construction plans.

Mayor Decker, who conducted the meeting, asked representatives of the Sisters to find out if the Sisters would be willing to pay for a portion of the road from 10th Street north, possibly as much as $5,000 of the estimated $25,000-$30,000 total cost.

Decker said that if the Sisters would contribute, something toward construction, the city council could possibly be legally justified in paying for the rest through general tax funds.

Bornhoff noted that the more the Sisters contribute toward construction, the less likely somebody could successfully

Dyas: 'People Out Here Being Forgotten'

"People out here think they've been forgotten by the people in Washington," said Hess Dyas, Democratic candidate for the First Congressional District, in an interview Friday morning.

Noted Dyas, "There's no question that the rural areas have lost population, and we just don't have the political clout in Washington which we should have."

Dyas, 37, criticized incumbent Republican Congressman Charles Thone and the state's two Republican senators, Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, for failing to speak out on issues of importance to agricultural states such as Nebraska.

Dyas was on a campaign swing through the congressional district which included a stop in Wayne on his way to Ponca where he was to help lead the parade to kick off that community's Days of '36 celebration.

He admitted that Thone has recently called for such things as government backed loans for farmers and leaders being hurt by current market prices, import quotas and government purchases of agricultural products, but he questioned why it has taken Thone so long to act.

Dyas said he and incumbent Gov. J. J. Exon, also a Democrat, were calling for actions such as those as far back as late last year.

"As early as last March and April, I was talking about (government) loans, import quotas and stepping up government purchases," he noted.

Dyas said he favors an embargo on meat imports for a specified time period, possibly 90 days, in order "to straighten out our own (agricultural) industry." He said quotas are desirable, and will be accepted by other countries, because they See DYAS, page 5

CB's Meet Here Tonight

Wayne area residents who are interested in citizen band radios are invited to the regular meeting of the Wayne CB's tonight (Monday).

The meeting is scheduled for the ASCS office in Wayne at 8 p.m.

The club was organized several months ago, with membership coming primarily from Wayne County. Slightly over 30 members now belong to the group.

2nd Bit of Park Fun Starts Soon

The second three-week session of summer park recreation, in Wayne, originally scheduled to begin today (Monday), will not begin until next Monday, according to Mrs. Mike Karel, in charge of the program.

The session is being postponed a week in order to correspond with the second session of swimming lessons which begin next Monday.

Mrs. Karel said youngsters should register for the park recreation today, at 10 a.m. at Bressler Park. There is no charge.

Youngsters signing up for the program will attend daily sessions at Bressler Park from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Youngsters are taught a variety of crafts and hobbies during the sessions.

Mrs. Karel noted that families which have youngsters visiting them over the summer are invited to enroll them in the program at no cost. Youths entering kindergarten through the eighth grade are eligible for the program.

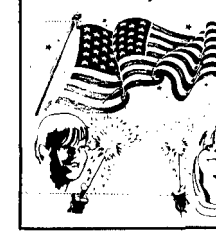

A final one-week park recreation session will be held at the close of the one which starts next week according to Mrs. Karel. That session will be limited to mentally handicapped youngsters, something which has not been done in past years, she said.

Taxes Due

The second half of personal property taxes become delinquent today (Monday) and begin drawing nine per cent interest, reports Wayne County Treasurer Leon Meyer.

Meyer said notices were sent June 21 to taxpayers who owe taxes. Persons who did not receive notices do not owe taxes, he noted.

City Plans 'Firecracker Days'

Wayne area shoppers will be offered some bang-up savings today (Monday) through Wednesday as local businesses observe Firecracker Days.

The first such promotion sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, it will offer special bargains on items worth purchasing at this time of the year. Special buys will be offered on a host of items — everything from lawnmowers to summer dresses to garden tools.

The promotion will give shoppers who might normally be in town Thursday night an opportunity to do their shopping a little early while still saving money.

Local stores will be closed all day Thursday in observance of the Fourth of July. Stores will not be open Thursday night, normal opening night for them.

Winside Youth's Autograph Collection Keeps on Growing

By NORVIN HANSEN
Young Jeff Warnemunde of Winside is getting to know senators and governors all over the country.

He has already received mail from such people as Senators Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska of Nebraska, Senator Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts, Governor Ronald Reagan of California and Governor David Hall of Oklahoma.

He has even heard from the Prince and Princess of Monaco and from the President of Finland.

And right now he's waiting for letters from such people as Emperor Hirohito of Japan and Juan Peron, president of Argentina.

The reason he has been increasing the business at the Winside post office is his hobby of collecting autographs of well known people in government.

That hobby, started last August after an uncle got him interested, has resulted in an album filled with 87 autographs, and more on the way.

"I've got autographs from almost all the senators and governors except some of them in the New England states," says Jeff as he thumbs through his picture-filled collection, connecting names to states with only an occasional stumbling.

The 13 year old says he is learning a lot about government while keeping up with his hobby, and he says he's getting pretty good about spotting phony autographs.

The one he got from Ronald Reagan in California, turned out to be a photograph of Reagan's signature, so Jeff wrote the California governor a letter and asked for a real autograph. He got it . . . and a short note from Reagan to boot.

"It's not easy to pick out the phony autographs, admits the youth, but you can usually spot them by looking closely and running your finger over them.

"It's almost impossible, however, to tell if the writing is really an autograph. You don't know if they signed their name or if their secretary did," he says.

Two of the autographs he is most proud of are probably the real McCoy's, he says, because they are so unique they would be almost impossible to fake by a secretary or press agent. Those signatures came from the Prince and Princess of Monaco.

He has one other signature from a dignitary in a foreign land, Dr. Urho Kekkonen, president of Finland.

Only a few of his autographs he has obtained personally, but he hopes to be able to meet politicians in coming years to fill out his collection. He's a little upset with himself that he had to miss the Republican party gathering in Wayne last week. He was set on getting the autographs of Richard Marvel, governor hopeful, and Mrs. Anne Batchelder, Marvel's running mate for the lieutenant governor's job. A baseball game interferred with that goal, he says.

One thing that's making his hobby a little more expensive than it was when he started it last summer is the hike in postal rates. It costs him a dime each time he mails a letter off nowadays, two pennies more than a few weeks back. He uses special letters to save money when sending mail overseas to get autographs of famous people in other countries.

The Winside youngster is aiming to make his collection as good as that of his uncle, Dennis Warnemunde, a teacher at the University of Northern Colorado at Greeley. "That's not going to be easy, he admits, because his uncle has been at the hobby since he was a teenager and has three books filled with signatures of famous people.

AUTOGRAPH HOUND Jeff Warnemunde of Winside looks over his collection, which includes the autographed picture of California Governor Ronald Reagan.

Letters Seek Donations for Free Barbecue

Letters have been sent out asking for donations to help finance the annual free barbecue to be held during the Wayne County Fair next month.

The barbecue is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 2, the second day of the four day fair.

Headed up this year's free feed is Kurt Otte of Wayne. Individuals and businesses are being asked to make their contributions as soon as possible so donors can be listed in The Wayne Herald.

Donations should be sent to Marilyn Koch or David Ley, both of Wayne.

VA Extending Coverage of Its Insurance

The Veterans Administration is increasing and extending insurance coverage for 6.8 million veterans, servicemen and ready reservists under a new Veterans Insurance Act.

A major provision of the law, according to VA officials, is an automatic increase in maximum coverage from $15,000 to $20,000 for 2.4 million servicemen on active duty.

Servicemen and ready reservists are insured automatically unless they decline the additional coverage in writing, a VA official said. They may elect to be insured for $5,000, $10,000, $15,000 or not at all.

Another provision effective Aug. 1 is a five-year, non-renewable group life insurance which would provide coverage in amount of $5,000, $10,000, $15,000 and $20,000. Servicemen leaving active duty could convert their coverage to this type without medical examination.

Other highlights of the Veterans Insurance Act of 1974, which was enacted on May 24, include:

- Extension of full-time service coverage to about one million members of the Ready Reserves.
- Provision for service coverage for another 100,000 reservists who are retired or will be retired, have not reached their 61st birthday, or drawing retired pay, and have completed at least 20 years of service creditable for retirement.
- Provision for payment of small dividends, not to begin before January, 1975, to 600,000 veterans who carry special insurance.

Supper guests Sunday in the Ray Loberg home in honor of the host's birthday were the Waldron Bruggers of Winside, the Larry Lindsay family of Wayne, the Merlin Bruggers family and the Reynold Lobergs.

home were Mr. and Mrs. Don Stusse and Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Stusse, all of Hinton, Ia., the Allen Stollenbergs, the Robert Petersons and Russell, and the John Peterson family.

Mrs. Dave Peterson, Norfolk, was an evening guest.

Hosts Slumber Party

Kathy Peterson was honored for her birthday when a slumber party was held in the John Peterson home with Ann Jenness of Wayne, Lori Burback and Kerrienne and Kirsty Ben-shoff attending.

Mrs. Richard Sands was hostess to the Way Out Here Club Tuesday with Mrs. Melvin Magnuson, co-hostess.

Members answered roll call by naming their wedding flower. Receiving door prizes were Mrs. Ray Loberg and Mrs. Merrill Baier. Favors were made for The Sauter Rest Home in Laurel and will be presented the Fourth of July.

Members will not meet during the month of July. Next meeting will be Aug. 27 in the Ron Rohde home with Mrs. Lester Menke assisting.

St. Paul's Lutheran Young People's Society met at the church in Carroll Sunday afternoon. Members went bowling in Norfolk and returned to the John Peterson home for a wienner roast, followed by a song fest. The Rev. G. W. Gotberg accompanied the group on his guitar.

Carol and Larry Peterson were hosts, and Roger Sals was welcomed as a new member.

Guests were Shelly Bowers of Denver, Julie Stephens, Kevin Hansen, and Mrs. Gerald Goldberg and Billie.

This was the final meeting of the season. Meetings will resume in September.

Midgets Still League King After Suffering First Defeat

Just in Time

WINSIDE'S Joni Langenberg slides safely into third as a Norfolk girl grabs a toss in the Winside-Norfolk softball game Thursday night at Winside.

Bancroft Midgets Dip Laurel Record to 2-6

Bancroft continued its surge in the Midget division of the Ralph Bishop League with a victory over Laurel Friday.

Bancroft, led with Pender for second with a 7-2 mark, dropped the area club, 11-1.

Laurel scored its only run in the top of the third when right fielder Dan Hansen hit a fielder's choice, took second when second baseman Cleve Stolpe walked and advanced to third on a Bancroft error before scoring on shortstop Brian Johnson's sacrifice.

Wednesday night Laurel lost to Pender in a much closer contest, 6-6.

Laurel had a 5-1 lead in the fourth before Pender tied the game and gave relief pitcher Brad Erwin his third loss in four starts. Erwin took over from Doug Thompson in the fourth.

Stolpe led Laurel with three singles and two runs batted in.

Pender also walloped Laurel's Legion, 13-3, after Laurel scored three unearned runs in the fourth. Sterling Stolpe was the losing pitcher, dropping his record to 0-3.

Tonight (Monday), Laurel Midget and Legion host Winside.

Paul's 2-Run Homer Leads Wayne Past Wakefield, 5-1

Wayne catcher Dennis Paul hit a two-run homer and knocked in two other runs as the local town team beat Wakefield, 5-1, Thursday night at Wakefield.

Paul connected for the circuit hit in the top of the fourth with pitcher Bob Weisenberg on base for a 2-0 lead. In the next frame he picked up his third RBI after Wakefield second baseman Dave Rouse muffed Paul's line drive. Wayne scored one other run that frame.

Wayne's final tally came in the top of the seventh on Paul's fielder's choice which scored shortstop Terry Luft.

Both Paul and Weisenberg combined to pick up Wayne's

Wayne Midgets scored four runs in the top of the ninth inning to halt Walthill-Lyons' bid to give the locals their second defeat Friday at Walthill.

The Midgets broke a 1-1 deadlock with the aid of doubles by catcher Larry Creighton and first baseman Bob Keating before Walthill's hurler walked five Wayne players.

Wayne, now 8-1 in the Ralph Bishop League, fell behind 1-0 in the third frame. Walthill's pitcher singled, stole second and scored on a double. Wayne knotted the game in the top of the fifth after center fielder Mark Brandt walked, stole second and third, and scored on shortstop Paul Mallette's sacrifice.

Dave Nuss started on the mound before Mallette relieved him in the fifth, and Dave Hix took over in the eighth.

The Midgets suffered their first loss Wednesday night at Winside, 3-2. Pitcher Paul Mallette took the loss after giving up only four hits and striking out 11.

Wisner struck for two runs in the third and one in the sixth on two errors and a hit.

The local team, which tallied runs in the third and sixth, had scoring chances but left runners on base in the first, fourth and fifth frames.

Center fielder Mike Sharer and shortstop Ritch Workman walked in the first and advanced to third and second before Wisner's pitcher retired the side.

Catcher Larry Creighton and first baseman Bob Keating were left on second and first after each drew a base on balls in the fourth. Mallette, who tripled in the fifth, also failed to score.

Mallette and center fielder Mike Manes led Wayne hitters with a pair of hits in three at bats. Manes had two singles while Mallette added a single to his triple.

The Legion breezed to a 5-0 shutout over Walthill-Lyons Friday for a 6-2 record, with Kim Baker tossing a two-hitter and striking out eight.

Wayne unleashed four runs in the fifth stanza on three hits. With two away, Baker rapped a double and later scored when center fielder Gordie Cook advanced to first on an error.

Catcher Bill Schwartz singled in the second run before third baseman Mike Meyers walked and second baseman Charlie Roland singled for another run. Meyers scored on an error by Walthill's catcher.

Shortstop Randy Nelson scored the final run in the top of the sixth.

Pitcher Earle Overin threw 10 strikeouts as the Legion posted its fifth win Wednesday, 10-1 over Wisner.

Winside Plans Celebration

Members of Winside's Community Club last week began making plans for the annual Old Settler's celebration this summer.

Included on the July 17th agenda will be children's activities and a donkey ball game. Theme for the main parade during the celebration will be "TV Commercials" while "Story Book Characters" will be the theme for the kiddies parade. Named to organize a tractor pull during the reunion was Darrell

Dyas also called for the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, who Dyas said has little feeling for small farmers and feeders.

Unlike Republican Richard Marvel, Exon's opponent in the general election this fall, Dyas said Watergate will play an important role in the coming election.

Recipes Handy? Send 'em In

Housewives in the Wayne area are invited to contribute favorite recipes for use in The Wayne Herald's annual Farmer-Feeder Section, a publication focusing on the agricultural industry in this part of the state.

Recipes will be included in the special supplement in an effort to let women — and men, if they wish — share their favorite dishes with others.

Contributions should be sent to the Herald no later than July 20. The special supplement will be published late in July.

Cheap TV antennas deliver cheap TV reception

With muddy, blurry color TV reception.

Because a TV set's only as good as the signals it receives. And poor antennas pick up interference that ruins TV signals—along with your evening's entertainment.

Now there's an antenna that pays dividends in purer color TV reception—the new Channel Master Quantum. The new Quantum has the blocking power to knock out interference and only deliver the pure, clean signals your color TV needs to operate at its peak capacity.

The Channel Master Quantum costs a bit more, but it's really not much of a price to pay for peak TV reception for years and years to come.

Consider it an investment!

SAFE BIKE, SAFE RIDER

TV Note-book

By Larry Turner

It's a tribute to the story writer's talent that we get so engrossed in the western tale he's telling, we don't notice that we've seen the same sets dozens of times before. Several TV studios have a "Western Street," typifying a western town of about 1870-1880 vintage. The stores, the saloon, the sheriff's office are all there, but only if you see them from the street.

From the rear, these shells provide facilities where props are kept, actors are made up and various equipment is stored. One fake mountain even hides the studio water tower!

There's nothing "fake" about our TV values. We invite you to compare our quality and our prices with anyone, and we deliver, install and adjust your set ourselves to insure your complete satisfaction.

Some people believed that gold was hidden by the sun and that the heat of underground veins wholly burned everything they came into contact with, turning those substances into gold.

Skeleton Going Up

IT'S BRIGHT WORK under a hot sun for workers putting up the steel building which will be the home of Emphasis, Inc., Wayne's new industry going up on the east edge of the community. The firm will produce fiberglass tubs, showers and accessories for marketing in an approximate 500-mile area. Workers for a Norfolk firm began erecting the steel beams for the building Friday, fighting gusty winds and hot temperatures much of the day.

Old-Fashioned Picnic Set For July Fourth

Plans were made for an old-fashioned community picnic July 4 at the Concord Park, when six members of the Concord Betterment Association met Monday evening at the firehall.

Posters will be displayed throughout Concord, and entertainment will consist of games, horseshoe pitching and a softball game, followed by a fireworks display with each family providing their own fireworks.

The public is invited to attend a meeting tonight (Monday) at 8 p.m. at the firehall to discuss final details.

W-C School Board to Act On '74-75 Budget Tonight

Wayne Carroll school board members are expected to approve a budget for the coming fiscal year during their regular meeting tonight (Monday).

Members will consider for adoption a proposed budget calling for raising some $38,000 less through local property taxes than is being raised this year.

If that budget is approved, it would mean a drop in the tax levy of between two and three mills," according to superintendent Francis Hagan.

The current school tax levy is 64.17 mills, or $64.17 on each $1,000 worth of assessed valuation.

Total expenditures during the coming year are expected to increase, however. They will go from this year's $1,153,115 to $1,251,818, an increase of slightly more than $100,000.

The mill levy is expected to drop in spite of that increase in total expenditures partly because of a reduction in the school's cash reserve. The money used to finance the school from the end of the present fiscal year in August until tax funds become available late in the year, according to Hagan. The cash reserve will be reduced from about $411,000 to about $350,000, he said.

Also contributing to that mill levy reduction will be increased revenue from accepting high school students who live outside the Wayne Carroll school district and increased revenue from the government for federally financed programs and classes, according to Hagan.

The public hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. during the board's meeting at the high school. The hearing is an opportunity for persons to comment on the budget.

Also scheduled for tonight's board meeting is discussion of resignations submitted by high school principal Deryl Lawrence and high school business teacher Robert Keilman.

Lawrence is seeking release from his contract for the coming year so he can accept a position at Wayne State College. He has been in the school system since the 1970-71 school year. This is the first year of teaching in the Wayne Carroll school system for Keilman.

Board members also will discuss the delivery date for the bleachers purchased recently for the high school auditorium. The bleachers, expected to be installed in October, will permit the school to hold basketball games and wrestling matches at the high school.

Other items on the board's agenda include discussion of remodeling at the Carroll elementary school, rental fee for facilities at Wayne State College and bids on carpet for the Carroll school.

Tonight's meeting begins at 8 o'clock.

Proposed City Budget Calls for Tax Boost

Wayne's city council will review a proposed budget for the coming year tonight (Monday) in an unofficial council meeting.

The proposed budget calls for expenditures totaling $2,628,954 during the coming fiscal year, some $257,000 more than is expected to be spent the current fiscal year.

City clerk treasurer Dan Sherry said the suggested budget, which may be altered before a public hearing is held on July 9, would require a hike in the property tax from the present 27.70 mills to 26.06 mills.

A mill levy of 26.06 is $26.06 in taxes on each $1,000 worth of assessed valuation.

Sherry said the budget in cludes hikes of one mill for pool maintenance in the park fund, one mill for general obligation funding of projects such as paving and sewer work, and nearly one mill in the police department fund.

He said city officials are anticipating a $100,000 boost in the property valuation in the city. The current valuation of taxable property in the city limits is about $8,600,000, he said.

Legal publications giving detailed information on the city's proposed budget appears elsewhere in this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Tonight's meeting is scheduled for 7 o'clock in the council chambers at the city auditorium.

The public hearing on the budget will be held at 8 p.m. on Tuesday night next week during the council's regular meeting.

Road

challenge the city's expenditure in court.

It had been generally assumed by hospital foundation members, the Sisters and local officials that the city would pay for construction of the road, required by the federal government before the facility can open. That assumption arose after the city council early this year approved a long term purchase agreement to buy the right of way for the road.

Bornhoff's opinion that general tax funds cannot be used for the project left the city and the others involved in constructing the hospital in a dilemma.

'Please, Don't Use Those Dull Needles'

That's only a couple appen declames a month," quipped mayor Freeman Decker after he asked if the Missionary Benevolent Sisters of Norfolk could contribute $5,000 to help build a second access road to the new hospital being built in Wayne.

In response to one of the Sisters' comment that the city should "be nice to us" when it comes time to paying for that road, Decker humorously replied "I'll probably be a patient up there some day, and I don't want one of those dull needles used."

Lifetime Earnings in Wayne County Above The National Average

Under present conditions, the average young man in Wayne County who is just starting out to make a living can expect to earn close to $395,000 in the next 45 years or so.

Such are his lifetime income prospects, based upon the economic environment in which he lives, the amount of schooling he has had, his probable life span and other factors.

Lack of education is a major determinant, according to the conclusions reached in a recent Commerce Department study of the relationship between schooling and lifetime earnings.

From that point of view, the Wayne County resident is in a good position because the local educational level is above that in many areas of the country and is constantly moving upward.

Minimum Wage Is Effective In State Today

Effective today (Monday) the Nebraska Wage and Hour Act will enact its final step program from $1.30 per hour to $1.60 per hour, according to state labor commissioner Gerald Chizek.

Coverage under the Nebraska Wage and Hour Act, also referred to as the state minimum wage, applies to all employers having four or more employees.

A separate wage of 90c per hour may be paid to tipped employees such as waiters, waitresses and ballboys provided those employees can prove tipping is the primary source of compensation for work performed, he said. Under the lower scale, all gratuities are retained by the employee.

When dual coverage by the federal wage and hour regulations and the Nebraska wage and hour act exists, the coverage providing the higher degree of compensation to the employee shall be honored, Chizek said.

Employees should contact Lincoln or Omaha offices of the Department of Labor for information on exemptions and coverage under the state minimum wage regulations.

At the present time, the median amount of schooling being acquired by local men is about 11.6 years, according to the latest Census Bureau findings.

They show that 33.2 per cent of the local male population over age 25 are elementary school graduates, that 27.5 per cent completed high school and 10.6 per cent are college graduates.

The conclusion reached in the government survey is that education pays off handsomely. Each added year of schooling produces greater income for the average person throughout his entire working career.

The current differential between an elementary school graduate and a high school graduate is about $135,000 in lifetime earnings, it finds.

There is a big advantage, also, in going beyond this point and getting a college degree. The prospective lifetime income of the college graduate, based upon current conditions, is estimated to be $279,000 more than that of the high school graduate.

There is evidence that Wayne County's younger people have become aware of this situation and, as a result, are staying in school longer than they did in the recent past.

The adult population, too, has gotten the message. Many of them have been returning to school in their spare time, taking courses to improve their basic knowledge and skills.

The Service Station

Navy Data Systems Technician Third-Class Lamont Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Hartman of Laurel, graduated from the Data Systems Technician Course at Mare Island at Vallejo, Calif. He learned the maintenance and repair of modern high speed digital computers and related equipment which comprises naval tactical data systems.

Marine First Lieutenant David Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldin B. Roberts of rural Wayne, has completed a helicopter systems familiarization course at the Marine Corps Air Station at Santa Ana, Calif.

Roberts received instruction on the operational and control systems of the CH 53 helicopter, which is used to transport heavy equipment and supplies. He is a pilot with Marine Heavy Helicopter Squadron 362, Marine Aircraft Group 26, at the New River Marine Corps Air Station, Jacksonville, N.C.

Roberts participated in "Solid Shield 74," the only annual Atlantic Command exercise which includes forces from all U.S. armed services. He took part in maneuvers off the east coast near the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C., designed to test the control and coordination of forces in a unified command environment.

There is a big advantage, also, in going beyond this point and getting a college degree. The prospective lifetime income of the college graduate, based upon current conditions, is estimated to be $279,000 more than that of the high school graduate.

Center Closed July 4th

The Wayne Senior-Citizen Center will be closed Thursday, July 4. The Spanish class, taught by Mrs. Anthony Garlick, will meet this Wednesday at 2 p.m. instead of Thursday, and there will be no bridge class due to the holiday. Meals will not be delivered at noon July 4 and 5.

On Friday, the center band, "Bobbles and Bubbles," as well as other members of the center, will entertain at the Wayne Care Centre at 7 p.m.

Local Dentist State Chairman

Dr. Wayne Wessel, Wayne dentist, has been appointed by the board of trustees of the Nebraska Dental Association to serve as chairman of the Council on Dental Public Health for the year 1974-1975.

Dr. W. E. Murphy of Neligh president of the state association, said the 19 councils and five committees of the association perform the bulk of the work of the organization. Each is delegated an area of responsibility by the bylaws; board or house of delegates.

OBSERVATIONS

Will you attend?

Next Monday night, July 8, an Omaha architectural firm will unveil its ideas on how businessmen, city officials and interested citizens could improve the downtown business district. We hope there is a large turnout for that meeting, for we have long felt that the city should be taking steps to improve its looks. An improved shopping area would have two results. It would improve the pride local residents have in their city. And it would improve the business for local merchants. Both are desirable. Some of the ideas presented during that meeting may not be what local businessmen and others would like to see done with the city. That's fine, because the ideas to be presented will simply be suggestions on the way the face of the business district could be altered.

Others may sound reasonable and desirable, and those are the ones which are going to have to be latched onto so steps can be taken to bring them out. Too often there are good ideas suggested which die because there is not enough interest to make them a reality. This should not be allowed to happen this time around. The public is invited to Monday night's meeting, scheduled for the city auditorium at 8 o'clock, and we hope many people set aside some time so they can attend. Everybody has a stake in this community. And the driving force of the community is the main shopping district. We should be willing to tackle those tasks which will keep that driving force strong. — Norvin Hansen.

A closer look...

By Norvin Hansen

IF THINGS had worked out better, we would have had a picture or two of the damage hail did in Winside during that storm a few days back. Mrs. Ed Oswald, our correspondent over there, was good enough to take some pictures of the crop damage at the Jack Brockman farm as well as the damage to the Kenneth Fleeher home in Winside. Alas, the pictures didn't turn out good enough to use. That short hail-storm, lasting about 10 minutes, did quite a bit of damage, and some oldtimers said they had never seen hail stones that large. The hail was apparently different in that it had jagged edges rather than the smooth sides and edges you usually see. The hail damaged homes and businesses, breaking windows, tearing up roofs and the like. Gardens in Winside suffered just as heavily as crops out in the country. Hail measuring six inches around was reportedly found on the Brockman farm northwest of Winside. Brad and Danny Brockman noticed a large welt and bruise on the back of one of their milk cows the next morning. Hail is bad enough when the stones are small. When they start getting big enough to hurt a cow, they're downright dangerous.

POT SHOTS: Tuesday night's crowd of some 120 people at the Republican gathering in Wayne was the biggest one Richard Marvel and Mrs. Anne Batchelder had run into during their 14-day campaign swing around the state. Marvel, Governor J. J. Exon's challenger, came November 11th, might start filling out that gangling frame of his if he runs into many feeds like that one. The sandwiches made with beef donated by Hervale Farms was delicious. Kind of made the event worth covering for a story. The city auditorium is looking much better now that Andrew Morrison, a genuine Scottish lad, has been dabbling the windows and canopy with paint. Inside, he has painted the two shower rooms. Next project: paint the city-owned house west of the hospital. Three Wakefield youths have received scholarships to Midland College at Fremont. They are Linda Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Swanson; Devon Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fischer, and Cynthia Kai, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kai. Try to attend that meeting next Monday night, July 8, at 8 p.m. at the city auditorium. From what I've heard, there will be some interesting ideas thrown out about how we can change the look of our downtown. Thanks go out to Pat Meierhenry for the tip on Jeff Warnemunde, the Winside youngster who collects autographs for a hobby. Anybody else got some good ideas for stories or picture coverage? If so, drop us a line.

event was Georgia Senator Herman Talmadge, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry. Talmadge told the 400-plus crowd that he was alarmed that many people in agriculture have been forced into bankruptcy because of the disparity between cost of production and return at point of sale. He said the Nixon Administration has to do something quickly to avoid forcing others into financial ruin. The field day was one of a series of 12 regional events being conducted this summer under sponsorship of the national association.

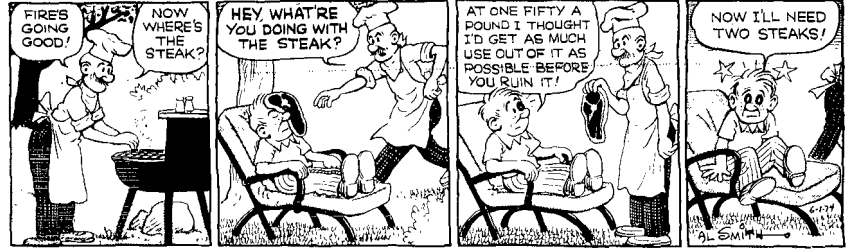

'Salute No. 1 goes to a dedicated man'

By MAYOR FREEMAN DECKER From time to time I would like to use this column to salute some of the unsung heroes of our city, specifically some of our city employees whose services we too often take for granted.

With no particular order in mind, I start out with a person to whom time apparently is no factor. You can see him working day and night, holidays and Sundays. If you see a group of youngsters, boys or girls, participating in a baseball, basketball, volleyball or football game, you will see this person in the middle of things. If you go to a Midget game, a Legion game or a town team game, you will find him on the bench or in the coach's box. If you see the city recreation bus hauling young people to an athletic event, you will find him at the wheel. If you as a parent would name the one person who has been an influence on the lives of your sons and daughters, this person's name invariably pops up.

How can you place a monetary value on such a person's influence? I'm sure that such a dedicated individual does not expect the plaudits of the city, he only asks that you sons and daughters come to him with a sincere desire to become active in his many sponsored activities. Today, I salute that truly dedicated person, Hank Overin.

THE OSMOND HOSPITAL has adopted new visitation regulations. Visiting hours are now from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 8:30 a.m., and only two visitors are permitted for 20 minute periods. The new regulations were adopted during a meeting of the hospital's board of directors last month.

HAIL the size of golf balls and three inches of rain did considerable damage to crops in a stretch of land about six miles wide in Cedar County June 21. The hail storm began north of Crofton and continued southeast to about four miles south of Pleasant Valley. Few farmers in the area escaped without some damage to their crops.

AN ADULT EDUCATION program is to be offered at Harrington at the end of this summer. A new Vista volunteer will coordinate the program, which will enable adults to receive their high school diplomas.

A tornado touched down on the Maurice Dendinger farm near Coleridge during the storm, destroying a cattle shed and chicken house. Pieces of the buildings were driven over six inches into a farm home nearby and many chickens were killed.

Also to be offered will be adult education courses aimed at improving public awareness. Church sponsored, the program will include courses in such areas as revenue sharing, county government, land use planning and corporate involvement in agriculture.

RANDOLPH'S community fair has been suspended this year because of lack of livestock available for the show. There has been a sharp decline in the last five or six years in the 4-H livestock entries, the board noted after making the decision. 'Flouridation is safe, effective and desirable'

Wayne

Dear Editor: Thank you for your editorial on flouridation in the June 17th paper. Your editorial tells it like it is.

The fluoride content of our water in Wayne should be adjusted to the proper level. Fluoride added to the water is tasteless, odorless, safe, effective and inexpensive. If the fluoride content of our water is adjusted to the optimum level, a child drinking that water from birth will have 50 to 60 per cent fewer cavities. This is a fact!

People who are opposed to flouridation say it only helps people under 10 years of age. Yes, they get the maximum benefit and this benefit lasts them all of their life. Once you receive the benefits of flouridation it protects your teeth the rest of your life.

This is a wonderful gift that we can give to our children and grandchildren. The American Medical Association, American Dental Association, American Association of Pediatricians, The World Health Organization, The Mayo Clinic and a long list of other health organizations recommend flouridation of city water supplies.

Opponents of flouridation can always quote someone in New Jersey, Wisconsin or maybe even Hastings, Nebraska, that is opposed to flouridation. They even quote some isolated researchers in England; however, they are quick to ignore the thousands of positive quotes and facts. Water supplies have been flouridated for over 25 years; it is safe.

Don't be frightened by the emotional cries of poison, corrosion and waste. Flouridation is safe, tested and effective. We think Wayne citizens should have the benefit of flouridated water. We urge our patients not to sign the petition to bring this to a vote in November. Your refusal to sign the petition may help us avoid voting on flouridation in November and let us get started with flouridation soon. — Robert Gormley, Gordon Shupe, Wayne Wessel, Richard DeNaeyer and George Gablirsch, Wayne Dentists.

A picnic dinner was held Sunday at the Winside Park to honor the birthday of Warren Jacobsen.

Guests were the Warren Jacobsens and Robbie, Mrs. Thorvald Jacobsen, the Roy Davises, the William Cooper family, Lincoln, the Larry Redel family, Columbus, and the Randy Jacobsen family.

L.Y.E. Team in Winside
The Lutheran Youth Encounter team, a Lutheran resource ministry, arrived in Winside Wednesday.

Hosting the team, which will be at Winside until July 9, is St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Host homes for the group are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Greunke, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vahlkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Froehlich and Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Gottberg.

12 Attend Meet
United Methodist Women met Tuesday afternoon at the church with 12 present.

Mrs. Maurice Lindsay presided, and Mrs. Allen Koch gave the lesson, "Friends."

Eighty-two pennies were collected for the mile of pennies project Mrs. Don Wacker reported on the Winside Community Club supper served Monday evening.

Letters were read of the new cluster meetings being held by United Methodist Women of the northeast district. Ideas for the Old Settlers Reunion parade were discussed.

Cards were sent to Mrs. Charlie Nelson, Mrs. Warren Haltgrew and Mrs. Eva Lewis.

Mrs. Maurice Lindsay was hostess.

The July 9 leader will be Mrs. Elmer Nielsen. A cooperative lunch will be served.

Minor Fire
Wayne's volunteer firemen extinguished a small fire at the Jerry Dorsey farm about a mile west of Wayne Wednesday afternoon. A spark from burning trash started some straw behind the Dorsey house on fire, officials said.

Watch Dealer Passes Course

Dale Gulshall, owner of Dale's Jewelry in Wayne, graduated from a five-day Bulova Accutron training program in Omaha last month, making him qualified to service and repair Accutron watches.

Gulshall was one of about 50 watch repairmen who attended the schooling. Those who passed the course will receive a plaque proclaiming them as Bulova Accutron certified technicians. Accutron is a battery-operated watch which uses a tuning fork. It is guaranteed not to be off more than a minute every month.

Allen Man Attends Co-Op Conference

Kurt Johnson, representing the Farmer's Coop at Allen, attended the employees session of the 1974 Lakes Conferences last week at Lake Okoboji in northwest Iowa.

"The Exploding World of Agriculture" was the theme for the conference, which provided a training program in cooperative business education for personnel of Land O' Lakes-Felco member cooperatives.

Land O'Lakes personnel key noted the session with presentations describing changes that have taken place in agriculture, trends that have been established and importance of agriculture to United States food production and world commerce.

A highlight of the conference was a duo panel confrontation in which a group of farmers and a group of local cooperative managers question each other about their common concerns. Other topics on the agenda include feeder pig cooperatives, the condominium approach, custom services, financing and grain marketing.

School Workers At Convention

Food Service workers in the Wayne-Carroll schools, Betty Morris, Viola Morris, Ila Pryor and Marjorie Summers, attended the workshop and the Nebraska School Food Service convention in Lincoln last week.

Speakers at the workshop included Dr. Ray Steiner, director of school food services for the Department of Education and J. W. Chloupak, supervisor of the donated foods program in the Department of Public Welfare.

Mrs. Lucille Barnett, president of the American School Food Service, spoke at the convention. Allen Elliott, retired director of School Food Service, and Anna Smrha, retired chief nutrition consultant of the Department of Health, were honored for their many years of work.

Living Outdoors Is A Whole New Experience

Outdoor cooking, archery, hikes and singing were just part of the activities at this year's day camp for Wayne and Winside Junior Girl Scouts and Brownies.

About 25 girls from seven Troops combined their talents and skills during the recent week long session at the camp site northwest of Wayne.

For many it was a time to learn new skills — such as cooking different meals and learning how to make decorative candies — from camp director Mrs. Rosalind Meier and her staff. For older members the week was a time to teach new members as well as learn some thing themselves.

Despite the drop in attendance from last year's 65 youngsters, Mrs. Meier said the girls were very enthusiastic about the camp. Girls from Troops 304, 257, 191, 192 and 115, all of Wayne, and 167 and 168 of Winside participated in the annual camp.

Helping out in the camp were Mrs. Sue Upton, Mrs. Connie Neisius, Mrs. Carol Ahmann, Mrs. Ardit Otte and Mrs. Betty King, all of Wayne Senior Girl Scouts assisting were Jo Tomrdie, Wayne Carol Echtenkamp, Fremont, Lisa Thorson, Norfolk, and Sharon Anderson, Wausa
